Pay Hike For Police Expected To Get OK

The Borough Council is expected to approve a 4.5 percent pay scale that will raise the average salary for 1962 through this year.

HENRY P. WESTER

Wester said the Council is attempting to avoid a referendum similar to one held two years ago in which police union pay raises for 1962 through this year.

If the new scale is adopted it will be effective Jan. 1, Wester said. It has the unanimous approval of the Police Committee.

Wester said it would be unwise to change the scales in the proposed scale unit. It has official sanction. Present police salaries range from $5,500 to $6,700 over a five-year period.

Other officers are all at maximum pay: sergeants, $7,350; lieutenants, $7,900; and chief, $9,600.

Wester said the Police Committee and PBA feel the proposed scale will hold and attract high caliber people to the job of law enforcement.

"We expect the best performance of police officers in the protection of residents and industrial and business establishments and efficient enforcement of vehicular laws on our major highways. We hope to establish through wages a built-in incentive for years of faithful service that will induce pride in doing an outstanding job," Wester said.

Local Artist Has Many Talents

But Motherhood Comes First

Mrs. Gloria Johnson of 1358 Birch Hill rd., winner of the recent Mountainside Teen-Lance Committee seal contest, is a free-lance industrial designer, painter, amateur actress and mother of three sons.

Perhaps her most significant accomplishment is the fact that she has achieved a balance of living which has enabled her to be a mother first and foremost without sacrificing her talents as expressed through her talents.

It is a feat that cannot be viewed lightly by anyone who has ever tried it.

Part of her success is due to the fact that she has been able to obtain free-lance assignments that are challenging and still leave ample time in between for uninterrupted family living. A part also is due to her own philosophy.

"THE YEARNING TO CREATE never diminishes," she said last week. "First it was the children, but as their needs consumed less time other avenues of expression began to present themselves. It began with a little painting now and then."

Mrs. Johnson is the mother of Douglas, 14; David, 11; and Ronald, 9. Her husband, Robert A. Johnson, died eight years ago.

She makes her children a part of all she does. When she was named Mrs. New Jersey in 1962, she took the boys with her to Florida for the Mrs. America contest, using the trip to broaden their experience as well as her own.

The boys take an interest in painting, too. David will exhibit oil paintings at the Trailside Show this fall. Asked if she teaches them, she replied that painting cannot be taught. One can be taught to draw, but painting is a personal thing, she said.

A NATIVE OF WILMETHY

Mrs. Johnson has a B.S.A. degree in industrial design from the University of Illinois. She worked for Lippincott and Margulies, an industrial designing firm in New York City, before she returned to her family.

Free-lance assignments since that time have included work on appliances, furniture and letter heads. She has drawn designs for slides of products that cannot be photographed because they have not yet been manufactured. A recent example includes a food processing process under development by Helton Inc. of Springfield.

A resident of Mountainside for 13 years, Mrs. Johnson is a member of the Westfield Art Association and has exhibited and sold impressionistic oil paintings in Westfield, Cranford, Plainfield and Summit.

She has helped with and completed religious designs such as the altar for Our Lady of Lourdes Church, and a stained glass window of the brick church on Mt. Carmel Road in Summit.

She has designed custom furniture for home interiors.

A member of the Westfield Community Players, Mrs. Johnson has designed sets and performed leading roles in plays that have included "Spartina" and "Anastasia." She has participated in American Women's scholarship plays and worked as assistant to the set designer of the Paper Mill Playhouse.

Working for the Paper Mill gave her the opportunity to compare professional and amateur theatrical procedures. Asked for one piece she said, "Amateurs are much more fun."

The Mrs. New Jersey title was awarded to her in a competition involving homemaking skills. For the benefit of young mothers, she desired to know criteria upon which an ideal homemaker is judged. Mrs. Johnson was required to demonstrate ability in baking a cake, cooking a chicken dinner, selecting and modeling clothes for various occasions and arranging flowers.

"SHE HAS BEEN on two television quiz shows. "Concentration," on which she won a cash prize and a trip to Las Vegas, which she traded for a trip to Puerto Rico, and "Password," on which she won $350.

The winning seal which Mrs. Johnson designed for the Tercentenary Committee is a symbolical depiction of the borough, consisting of a family grouping, mountains and a locust tree. The $20 prize for the seal was presented by Donald McDouglass, chairman of the seal design contest at last week's Borough Council meeting.

Second prize of $10 was awarded to Mrs. Robert G. Hornes of 1375 Brookside rd. for a final design with the Latin phrase, "Locus Pulcher," meaning place of beauty.

Mrs. Johnson and her boys are currently vacationing in Maine. She summarizes her life this way: "I'm an artist by profession, and an actress by avocation. But I would never sacrifice my family for a career."

AFTER GRADUATION from high school he turned down a football scholarship at Seton Hall University in favor of getting his education at the time he worked his first as a municipal inspector at the Coughlin Steel Co. and later for Western Electric in Newark, where he is now an engineer.

His career was interrupted during World War II for service with the Army Signal Corps in the Ceylon, Singapore and Malaya area. He was a master sergeant.

After his marriage in 1940 to the former Dorothy Fallon of Jersey City, a two-week honeymoon touring Nova Scotia included fishing trips during which he caught a 635 pound bluefish, tuna, whitefish, and a 462-pound tuna, and the previous year he caught one weighing 433 pounds.

The family still enjoys vacations out-of-doors and plans a 10-day camping trip to Maine, Niagara Falls and the Adirondacks this year.

During the early years of their marriage, while Douglas was working as a secretary, Herrgott co-operated with household chores and developed culinary skills which his wife prizes lavishly. "He makes the most wonderful stuffed pork chops," she said.

Soon after their marriage the couple moved from Newark to Scotch Plains, where Herrgott organized a civic association in his neighborhood and was named its president. The organization grew out of a successful two-year fight for reassessment by an outside appraisal firm and rapidly expanded to include 80 members.

A by-product of his success in this endeavor was that he was asked to run for the Township Council. By that time, however, the family had its eye on a lot in Mountainside and soon had plans under way to build a dream house.

THE HOUSE was built at 333 Landa rd., where they still live. At that time there were only two other houses on the street and deer were frequent backyard visitors.

Involvement began right away for he was elected president of the Sunnyslope Civic Council and made co-chairman with Thomas Harding of the local branch of the Jersey Jetport Association.

The purpose of the local group was to raise funds for the state association to use in defeating the Jetport proposal. Herrgott and Harding worked for two years on the project, circulated petitions, and through a group of 12 people raised $2,928. The co-chairman stayed up late into the night during this period, organizing their efforts and writing articles involving the drive, which were published in the Mountainside Echo.

He has two scrap books of newspaper clippings documenting his efforts. A sentimental person, he keeps scrap books of every sort, including pictures of his fishing trips and family photos. Of course, there's the collection of athletic medals and trophies.

IN 1961 he and Henry Wester defeated three other candidates to win seats on the Borough Council. Like others interviewed by this paper, he prefers not to talk about previous election fights. "We're trying to get along harmoniously in Mountainside," he says. "That's the important thing."

A side interest—beside sports, politics, business and family—has been a "Democracy in Action" course he taught for Western Electric employees. A

Elizabeth told a reporter for a company magazine that his involvement in politics came about because he was "stimulated by the course taught by Ray Herrgott."

He feels that one of his primary achievements as a member of the Borough Council has been the replacement of a part-time engineer and part-time tax assessor with one individual who is on duty all the time.

Robert Koenig, superintendent of the Department of Public Works and secretary to the Board of Assessors.

Another achievement has been the surface drainage program for which a study has been made by Elton T. Kilham Associates and an advance on an interest-free loan has been authorized by the federal government.

He has instituted a maintenance program for sanitary sewers through purchase of a sanitary sewer cleaning machine. It saves much money, he said, and is operated by three employees, who are also responsible for the storm sewer and lead maintenance and the erection of street signs.

HE IS OPPOSED to the idea of his home to construction of apartments in the borough, and is in favor of the zoning ordinance as it now stands.

He feels that future plans for the municipality should include more space for the Police Department and facilities for public works equipment.

The borough will have to take steps to house the public library, he said, as its circumstances are worsening rapidly.

He is in favor of long range planning, day-as-you-go government and continued efforts to solve problems involving Route 22.

He also thinks the borough should consider changing its form of government to one which would include a larger number of governing officials and where in the mayor would be elected by the governing body.

Asked about his future plans, he said the only item on his agenda once his term on the Council expires is to finish the recreation room he is building in his basement.

14 Mountainsiders End Summer Studies

Fourteen Mountainside residents will be among 500 students who will complete their studies tomorrow in Union Junior College's largest summer session in its 31-year history.

The total includes 188 students from more than 100 colleges and universities throughout the country, 275 students who are regularly enrolled at Union Junior College in Cranford and 147 students who are in college for the first time.

Six courses will be offered at a four-week intersession beginning Monday. They are Chemistry 104, French 102, German 102, Physics 204, Spanish 102 and Spanish 104. These classes will be conducted in the evenings, Monday through Friday, a spokesman said.

Drainage

(Continued from Page 1) Herrgott has said that in order to avoid losing too much time through submission of plans to the federal agency, the Summit rd. area will be undertaken separately. Funds of $62,000 promised by the county and $8,000 contributed by the builder of the Sprinthout development prompted an immediate beginning in this area, he said.

The agreement with the government agency culminates in a year's effort to obtain the government loan for an attempt to acquire matching funds through the Accelerated Public Works program was unsuccessful.

Assumes Position At Weston Corp.

The appointment of Horace R. Carlson, of 126 Street 13, Mountainside, as secretary and general manager of Weston Industries Inc., a subsidiary of S. J. Bergeron Industries, was announced this week from Weston, N. J.

Carlson, the father of six children, has been serving as full-time secretary since 1962 and has been with Weston since 1952. He is a graduate of the University of Scranton, Pa., and the University of Pennsylvania Law School in Philadelphia, Pa.

A former U. S. Navy officer who served in both World War II and the Korean War, Carlson is a member of the Federal Bar Association and Lackawanna Professional Bar Association. He also is a member of the National Security Industrial Association and its Procurement Administration Committee. He also is a member of the American Association of Corporate Secretaries.

RESCUE WORKERS STILL NEEDED BY LOCAL SQUAD

The Mountainside Rescue Squad still suffers a critical shortage of daytime members, according to Mrs. Joanne De Sessa, publicity chairman. There has been no response to its plea for help during the past week.

At present there are four trained and four relatively new untrained daytime members. As four members are needed for call each day, at least 20 members should be available for weekday duty, she pointed out.

Volunteers are asked to call Ronnie Mays, president, AD 3-1520 or Mrs. De Sessa, AD 3-1363.

Playground Boys, Girls Decorate Bikes, Wagons

Boys and girls will decorate bikes and wagons for a "wheels day" tomorrow afternoon at the summer playground program at District School in Mountainside. There will be races for the bikes. There will be Legue's games and crafts. Boys will be signing up for checker and domino tournaments to the next Friday.

Tennis instruction will continue through the Friday morning sessions and Thursday afternoon activities will include basketball training for boys and tumbling and trampolines for girls.

These games will be held through Wednesday. That afternoon the signing will be held for the bikes and there will be a very exciting singing tour at the school.

The registration for teenagers interested for Thursday afternoon.

Friday, August 7, there will be checker and checkers tournaments in the morning and a basketball game in the afternoon. Arts and crafts are held daily.

Last week boys in the nine through 14 age group beat a team from Springfield in both games of a softball doubleheader. Scores were 3-4 and 4-0. In the first game Bob Ruff broke a 4-4 tie with a home run for Mountainside. Winning pitchers for the afternoon were Tom Zemla and John Barry. Hitting stars of the game were Ron Resnic, Skip Torgan and John Mirano.

Last week's ping pong tournament winners were Skip Torgan, Sal Timo, Sue Barklow, Marilyn Pettit, Maureen Holler and Elie Britton and Lisa Coughlin.

In a color war last week the green team, headed by Randy Orr and Nancy Crom, beat the white team, headed by Sal Timo and Darlene Costello, by 59 to 37. Activities included kickball, ping pong, four shooting, bombardment and horseshoe.

Pool

(Continued from Page 1) a five-acre strip of land adjoining Echo Brook Park that is owned by the State Highway Department, and the feasibility of acquiring land on the former Nike site that might not be needed by Regional High School, he said.

Councilman William Ditzel said at the last Council meeting that a study of the possibility of a pool for Mountainside, including site investigation, is already under way by the Recreation Commission.

Ross said that the Borough Council should follow the example of Springfield, Hillsdale, New Providence, Cedar Grove and Morris Plains by hiring a consulting firm to study cost, financing, design, construction and program.

Proposals for construction of a municipal pool have come in the past from the Lions Club, the Footbills Club and the Concord Estates Civic Club. Borough Council President Raymond Herrgott said this week that he participated in the Lions Club study and is still in favor of a pool for the borough.

Ross said that a study of the issue by the Concord Estates Civic Club, of which he is a past president, indicates that the cost of joining a pool would be in the neighborhood of $50 to $75 per family.

He said that state law involving self-liquidating utilities permits a municipality to issue bonds without adding to its debt limit. The cost would be borne exclusively by member families and would not affect the tax rate, Ross said.

Councilman Ditzel said last week that a municipal pool would be self-sustaining on a membership basis and would not be paid for by general taxation. "We should get started immediately so we can have what other communities in Union County are enjoying," Ross said.

"I don't know if we're underappreciated," he asked.
