Early Bell Slated For All Teachers Tuesday Morning

The general staff meeting will be held on Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. All teachers are expected to attend. The meeting will discuss the upcoming school year and administrative matters.

Members of the various civic groups met for a special meeting at the home of [Name]. The meeting was held to discuss the formation of the Civic League and its goals.

In the past the board of adjustments has "ignored" the wishes of residents in granting variances, according to Simon. Only vigorous action taken by the civic associations, principally the Pembroke Association, has prevented the rezoning of [Area].

A long-range aim of the Civic Association League is an increase in the minimum lot size, which is now 100 by 150 feet. The erection of big ranch houses, which occupy a large part of such a parcel of land, and the installation of pools in many back yards make the present minimum lot size inadequate.

Pembroke, Sherwood Forest and Concord Estates Associations have been actively opposing a recommendation reported to be included in a master plan now being prepared by Herbert H. Smith Associates, which calls for erection of multiple dwellings.

Hello Neighbor...

We'd like to pause for a moment in the midst of a busy season to express our sincere appreciation for the warm reception we have received here in Springfield. Since we opened our Aunt Jemima's Kitchen on March 30th, we have made many friends and met many neighbors.

We appreciate the welcome we have received and we thoroughly enjoy our role as a new member of this community. We look forward to meeting more of you at breakfast or throughout the day, or perhaps as you wind-up your evening with a late snack. Thank you for making us part of your community. And for saying such nice things about our food and service.

Till we can show our appreciation personally...

Sincerely,

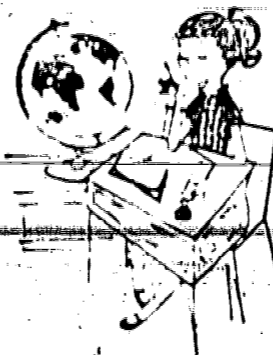

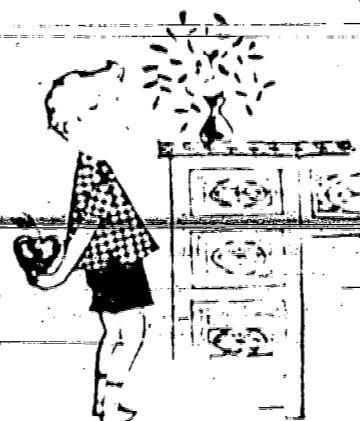

Dan Hirsch

'If The Grass Is Always Greener...' See County 'Farm Agent' Peterson

By BARBARA GIBBONS
 "What's wrong with my lawn?"
 If that's been bothering you, Mr. Suburbanite, take comfort in the knowledge that you are not alone. In fact, the same question is probably on the minds of your neighbors. In fact, according to grass expert Eric H. Peterson, the Union County Agricultural Agent.

Peterson notes that a nationwide survey of agricultural agents in suburban areas has demonstrated that more people want to know "What's wrong with my lawn?" than all other gardening questions combined.

Most people ask their neighbors, but an increasing number of knowledgeable suburbanites are asking the County agricultural agent for his expert advice about their lawn's growing problems. Free and rare advice is just one of the many services of this public agency.

NATURALLY, PETERSON ISN'T about to take a trip out to your quarter-acre to make a personal investigation of the brown grass around your patio — but he'll do the next best thing. He'll listen to your problems on the phone, or read your letter if you write to him, and based on what you tell him, he'll diagnose your lawn's ailment and prescribe the appropriate remedy, if there is one.

Another of the county agricultural agent's free services is the free pH test of your soil — a chemical procedure to determine the alkalinity or acidity of your dirt. The results will tell you what to add in order to make your soil a comfortable habitat for the plants you plan to grow.

To make this test, Peterson will need about a pint of soil from your property, preferably from a variety of locations mixed together. Before you mail him a chunk of dirt, however, Peterson advises you to send for a leaflet giving complete directions for taking soil samples. (Write to County Agricultural Agent, Eric H. Peterson, Elizabeth, and include your home address.) The soil sample is properly prepared, he can't make the test.

Peterson reports that several occasions he has been homeowning fridges into his office with enough of a plant Christmas tree. Peterson, a man and his neighbor, piled into his office holding a garbage can full of dirt for a soil test. At the other extreme, his secretary has opened

SEEKS VOLUNTEER FOR DRAMA UNIT
 The Union County Agricultural Agent is seeking a volunteer to lead a drama unit for the county. The unit will be made up of students from the county's schools and will perform plays at various schools and community centers. The volunteer will be responsible for selecting plays, rehearsing the unit, and leading the performances. The unit will meet on a regular basis and will be active throughout the year. For information, contact the Union County Agricultural Agent, Elizabeth, N. J., or call EL 2-1100.

PLASMA, the stuff of life and all other bright stars, has been created by machine at Columbia University. These pieces of the sun or plasmalets, created by a special generator, burn freely in the open air, creating temperatures above 2000 degrees Fahrenheit. They are believed to be the most intense world's brightest sustained light source.

SCHOOL DROPOUTS are the largest group of children and teenagers who are not in school. They are often found in the streets, in the homes of their parents, or in the homes of their friends. They are often the result of economic hardship, lack of interest in school, or a combination of factors.

THE FEMININE LOOK

Commentary on a recent National Editorial Association Round the World Newspaper Study Mission
 By TRUDINA HOWARD

Number 11
 CLAYTON H.
 The woman's look is a reflection of the times. It is a mirror that shows the changes in society, in fashion, and in the way women view themselves. The feminine look is not just about appearance; it is about attitude, confidence, and the way a woman carries herself. In the past, women were often seen as passive and dependent. Today, they are more assertive and independent. This change is reflected in their clothing, their hairstyles, and their overall demeanor. The feminine look is a statement of self-worth and a sign of progress.
