'Bantam Market' Gains Approval Of Planning Bd.

Convenience Shop
Intends To Locate
On Mountain Ave.

A "bantam food market" geared to a quick shopping, short order concept, received approval from the Planning Board Monday.

The store will be located on business property on the west side of Mountain ave. some 50 feet north of the Barrett and Crain real estate office on the corner of New Providence rd., owned by Robert R. Barrett Jr. of Barrett and Crain.

The Planning Board also approved plans for a $40,000 brick and plate glass building to be constructed on the property, subject to conditions stipulated by the Board and approval of the commerce committee.

Application was made by Barrett and Walter Selover, real estate representative for the Southland Corp. in Dallas, Tex., which operates a chain of some 1,400 similar stores throughout the United States, 50 of them in New Jersey, under the trade name 7-Eleven. The stores are open from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week. Selover said.

'General Store'
The 60-by-40 foot one-story building with a wide front porch would be set back some 50 feet from the property line. Parking would be in the front of the building.

Selover described the operation as a modernized version of the old-fashioned general store where housewives, who need only a few items, can purchase them quickly without waiting in supermarket checkout lines.

Conditions imposed for approval of the project include stipulations that parking facilities be located 15 feet from the curb, a four-foot green sidewalk be constructed to join an existing sidewalk in front of Barrett and Crain, low plantings be installed between the sidewalk and curb, curbing conform with county regulations and a rear access driveway be installed on the north side of the building.

Parking Provisions

Dimensions of the property are roughly 100 feet across the front by 200 feet deep, according to Barrett.

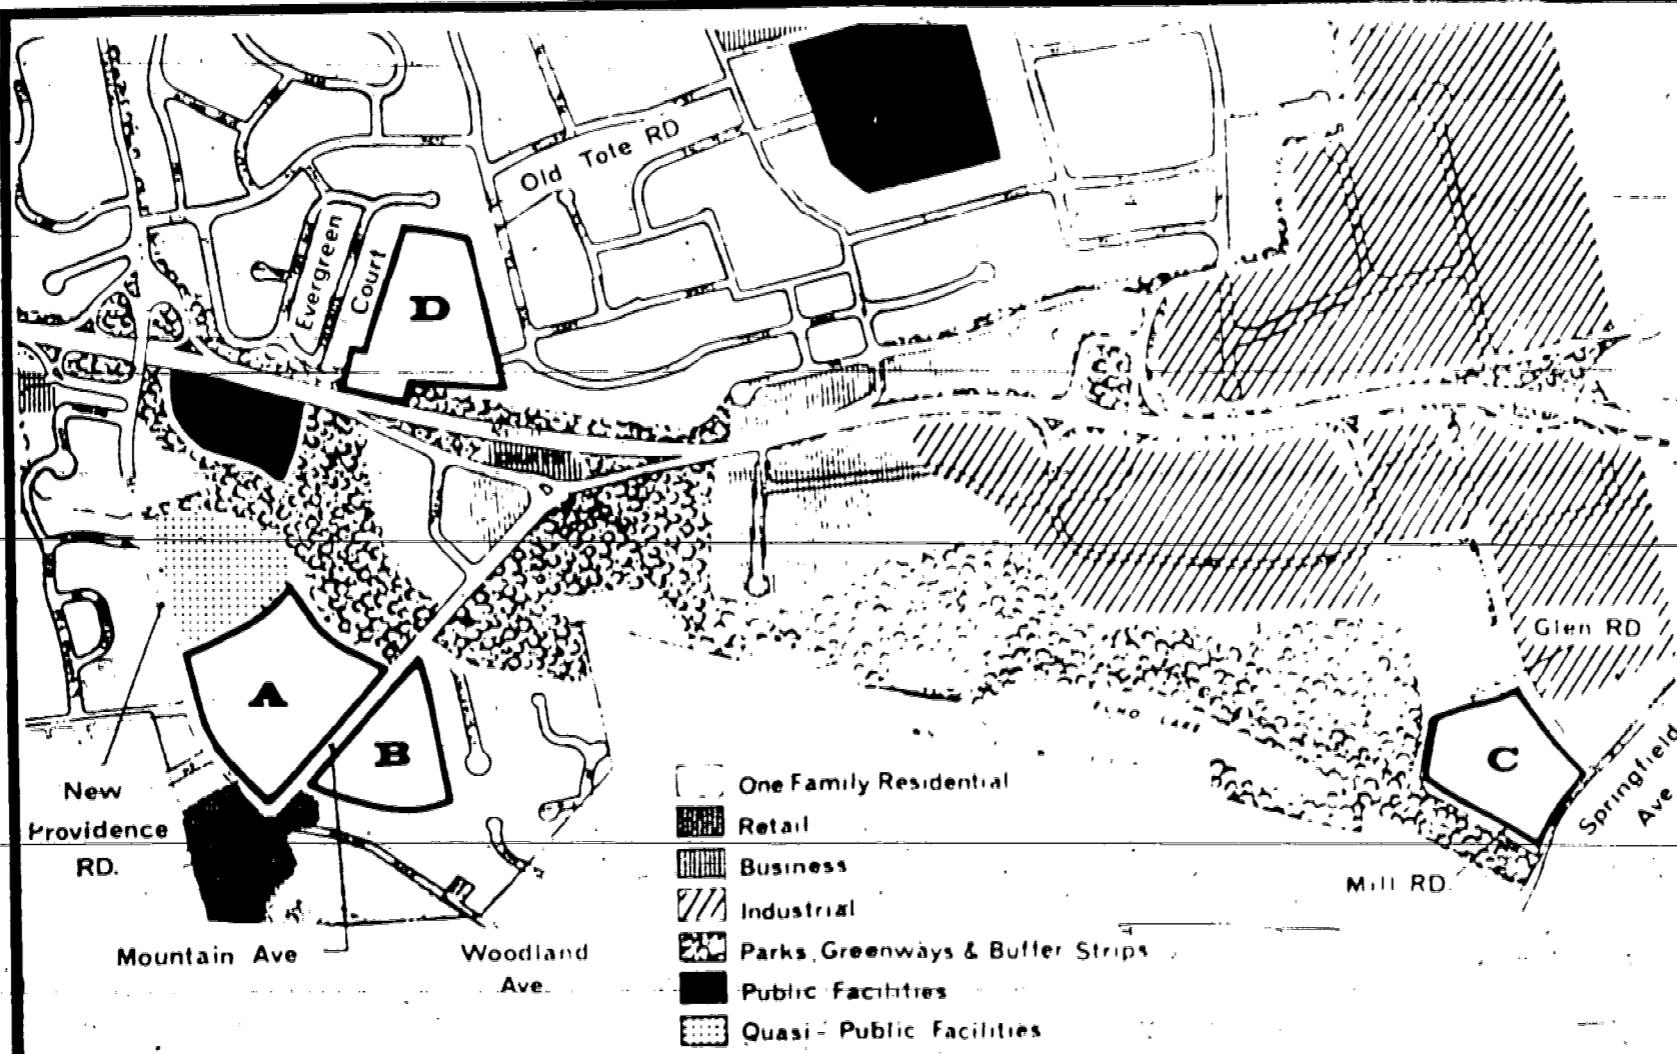

A discussion concerning the legality of parking provisions in the front of the building was resolved when Planning Board Chairman Albert Hartung pointed out that parking in a business zone, according to terms of the zoning ordinance, is restricted to the area behind the building line, which is not the same thing as behind the building.

The Board also approved a change in lot line requested by Harry Devlin of 443 Hillside ave. that would increase frontage on his property from 20 ft. to 40 ft. and a minor subdivision of one lot into two asked by Harold G. Schrumpf of 326 New Providence rd.

Scouts Describe Trip During Parents' Night

Boy Scout Troop 177 held its first "Parents' Night" this week in Community Presbyterian Church, Deer Path, Mountainside.

Three members of the troop used slides and photographs to illustrate discussions on their trip this summer to Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, N.M.

LAND MAP shows areas recommended by planning consultants Herbert H. Smith Associates of Trenton, as sites for multiple dwellings. Tract A, which is bounded by New Providence rd., Mountain ave. and Echo Brook Park, is in the area recommended by the consultants for the erection of high rise apartment houses. Tracts B, C and D, near Woodland ave., Old Tole rd. and Mill rd., should be considered as sites for garden apartments according to the consultants report.

Fireman Hurt In Freak Accident

Fireman Fabian Vincent, who was hurt in a freak accident which occurred early last Thursday morning in the Mountainside Fire House, is recovering at home after confinement and treatment at Overlook Hospital.

Vincent, who completed 25 years with the volunteer department last August, was helping clean up the fire fighting apparatus after a brush fire in Echo Lake Park. A window, which opens inward, shattered the apparatus room and the office came down on Vincent's head, splintering the glass. Thirty-four students were required to close the wound. Fire Chief Ryk said.

Several evenings a week, after downing a quick dinner at the family home at 1372 Mohawk dr., Kit dashes into Union where he is studying for his master's degree at Newark State College.

During the summer, Kit works as head counsellor and water front director at Camp Nelson, a boy's camp in Cazenovia, Me., a vacation post he held before his graduation from Muskingum in June, 1963.

A sturdy, quick-moving youth with a fresh, well-scrubbed look, Kit was delighted when a gym teacher's post opened in Mountaintop last year. He has sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys in his physical education classes at Echobrook School. In addition he coaches the soccer, basketball and baseball teams, a chore that keeps him during most of the school year on duty each day, well beyond the closing bell.

3 GOP Candidates Oppose Rezoning For Apartments

The three Republican candidates for positions in the local government this week announced that they will oppose any zoning changes that would allow apartments in Mountainside.

William M. Clegg, candidate for the Mountain City Council, pointed out that this stand is a reaffirmation of the position they took in the primaries when they came out in favor of maintaining the single-family residence as the character of the community.

Maureen E. Neal, a member of the New Jersey State Assembly, also supported the position which he was recently appointed to take.

John G. Stawick and his wife, Lenka, residents of Mountainside, as members of the choir, Mrs. Stawick was secretary for the group and Mr. Stawick president.

John G. Stawick, a resident and vice-president of the Polish Singers of America, Emery L. Young Jr., 32, of Newark, was fined $200 by the Mountainside Municipal Court last week for driving while a reduced seat and $13 for a traffic signal violation.

He appeared Sept. 23 before Magistrate Jacob Baier. State police arrested him Aug. 13 on Rt. 22 in a panel truck owned by Vendo Vending of Newark.

Emery L. Young Jr., 32, of Newark, was fined $200 by the Mountainside Municipal Court last week for driving while a reduced seat and $13 for a traffic signal violation.

Michael P. Riccio, 19, of 333 Short St., Mountainside, was fined $35 for reckless driving July 15 on Summit rd.

The GMD Trucking Corp. of Brooklyn, N. Y., was fined $100 for an inspection violation, $30 for using plates other than those belonging to the vehicle being driven and a suspended fine plus $5 court costs for an unregistered vehicle.

Other motor vehicle violations listed follow:

Allen J. Muhigan, 34, New Haven, licensing license, $15; Herkula Mason Supply Co., Hillsdale, incorrect markings on a truck, $30; George R. Brown, 50, Jersey City, failure to yield to an overtaking vehicle on Rt. 22, $15; Joseph R. Costanzo, 34, Somerville, traffic signal violation, $13; Dennis E. Nordin, 35, Springfield Gardens, no registration in possession, $10; Beverly A. Day, 22, 1923 Woolley ave., Union, stop sign violation, $10; Kurt Butenhoff, 34, Westfield, passing on the right shoulder of the road, $10; Robert R. Dowd, 37, Hermon, Va., no registration in possession, $10; and Thomas B. Lupo, 18, West Caldwell, no license in possession, $10.

Tickets for the festival are now on sale and are obtainable from any member of the Mountainside Music Association.

Mountainside for comparable one-family dwellings," Lehn contends. "Even more significant, Mountainsiders prefer the one-family suburban character of their community. In the appearance of neighboring communities that have fallen for the illusion of lower taxes via multiple dwellings.

"The consensus of the overwhelming majority of Mountainside residents, more than 1,600 of whom recently petitioned the borough government for the strict observance and retention of the one-family zoning ordinance and firm exclusion of multiple dwellings, emphasizes the importance which homeowners' attach to the aesthetic benefits of the rural-suburban setting of Mountainside and their determination to keep it that way."

"It is a disservice to Mountainside homeowners to pit them with the fiction of more families and lower taxes as economic benefits of multiple dwellings."

"The record, to date, shows there is less likelihood of significant tax increases in Mountainside with its single family dwellings than in neighboring communities with multiple dwellings. A good example of the downgrading of a community that succumbs to the illusion of plush apartments as high rentals is the City of East Orange.

"If principal concern is for the welfare of the many families who prefer apartment residence, then let the Smith Associates plan for more apartments in those communities whose zoning regulations permit multiple dwellings," he added.

order to protect the precious lives of children, going to and from school!

Here are some of the ways that you can help make our streets safe for school children and grown-ups, too:

1. Be sure that your car is mechanically safe. Check brakes, steering, lights, wheel balance and alignment, tires at frequent intervals.

2. Watch out for School Zone signs and adhere strictly to the speed restrictions in these areas.

3. Watch out for and obey school safety procedures.

4. Never pass a school bus loading or discharging passengers.

5. Watch for children darting out into the street. In fact, watch out for children EVERYWHERE and ALL the time!

Autos, Fashion, Home Decorating Among Topics Interesting 4H-ers

This is 4-H week to more than 300 Union County youngsters who are devoting their Heads, Hearts, Hands and Health to some fairly urban pursuits these days.

Auto mechanics, fashion photography and home decorating are just a few of the non-agricultural topics currently of interest to 4-H members. Union County 4-H agent Norman Cohn relates that there are 26 clubs throughout the county, under the leadership of 30 volunteers. But the potential number of clubs is limited only by the number of volunteers.

Persons Who Are Hard-Of-Hearing Now Given Help

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 1 — "hearing loss" hereditary?

At least one third of the time, the answer is "yes." Often this is when hearing loss results from otosclerosis, a growth of bone in the middle ear. In many cases, this condition can be corrected by a delicate operation.

But in a great majority of men and women, hearing loss is caused by deterioration of the nerve cells of the ear. This is especially true of older people.

Regardless of what is causing your hearing problem, or the hearing problem of a friend or loved one, the important first step is an electronic hearing test.

After this test is made, then it can be determined what should be done about the problem. But even when a hearing impairment is serious, there is no reason to despair. Almost any correctable hearing loss can be helped with a tiny BELTONE hearing aid. This very small Beltone aid will provide full power for clearer hearing, and yet be so inconspicuous it will go unnoticed by one's closest friends.

Persons concerned about their hearing can now receive an electronic hearing test at no cost by simply contacting Mr. Myron Caine, Certified Hearing Aid Audiologist, at BELTONE HEARING SERVICE, 8 So. Broad St., Elizabeth, N. J., or by calling EL 3-7886 for a FREE hearing test to determine your hearing loss problem.

If you are in the neighborhood of 8 So. Broad St., Elizabeth, stop in for a free consultation with Mr. Caine. He will diagnose his degree and nature of your hearing loss. Or, if you prefer, he will consult with you in the convenience and privacy of your home.

For your appointment, at no cost or obligation to you, call EL 3-7886.

Shanley Blasts Williams' Attack On GOP Hopefuls

Republican Senate candidate Bernard M. Shanley this week continued his attack on his Democratic opponent, calling upon U.S. Sen. Harrison Williams to "come out from under that 10-gallon hat and discuss the basic issues of your sorry performance in Washington for the last five-and-a-half years."

In a day-long sweep through Essex, Union, Somerset and Middlesex counties, Shanley emphasized that Williams "is running behind LBJ for all he's worth, but he will find out on Nov. 3 that he is running far behind Johnson and that both are running behind the Goldwater-Miller ticket."

Shanley declared that "Williams' personal attacks on Goldwater are putting him in hot water with New Jersey voters of both parties who are sincerely interested in the respective merits and qualifications of the men seeking to represent them for the next six years."

Declaring that New Jersey's "overburdened taxpayers" would join the so-called war on poverty as "disabled victims, if Williams has his way," Shanley described his opponent as "a fiscal Robin Hood who wants to increase your Federal tax burdens and hit you with a state income tax besides."

"If the Democrat junior senator has his way," said Shanley, "in Essex—GOP really, you won't have to worry about take-home pay, you can merely split your check and send half to Washington and the other to Trenton. Williams' sponsorship of bills that would add thirty billion dollars to our present tax load, and his advocacy of a state example of his obvious belief in income tax, are two glaring examples of his 'big brother' government. He makes our billion dollar bond issue Governor look like a piker by comparison."

Such a garden club in the Springfield-Kenilworth area. Such a group could devote its attention to either flowers, indoor gardening, landscaping—or to all three, depending on what prospective members might want. He is looking for a volunteer to run the group—the leader doesn't have to be an "expert" on horticulture; just someone who's interested in some phase of gardening and is willing to share his or her enthusiasm with a group of youngsters. Such a volunteer might already be active in one of the adult gardening groups in the area.

If — or when — such a group is formed, it will be open to both boys and girls. The club will pick its own name and will hold meetings in members' homes. Depending on the youngsters' ages and their eagerness, the members might even decide to build their own greenhouse, or they might take on some civic beautification project.

Some of the active groups in this area include the "Buck Beavers" in Linden, a group of girls who design and sew their own clothing; the Union County Beekeepers Association headed by Conrad Oberle of Union, and the "Hoofbeats"—a club of horse-owners in Rahway and Mountainside. A number of youngsters in nearby towns are volunteer dog-raisers for the Seeing Eye Foundation in Morristown. These youngsters raise pedigreed German shepherds from puppyhood to the age of 14 months when the dogs are old enough to begin their schooling as the eyes of blind people.

Union County's growing 4-H program is under the guidance of a former engineer who gave up his technical job to make a career of what was once his hobby. A resident of Mount Holly, Cohn had served as a volunteer leader of several 4-H clubs in Burlington County before making it a profession. His wife is still the leader of a Burlington county dog-training club.

The Cohns hope to sell their three-and-a-half acre "farm" in Burlington county and move here, if they can find a place big enough for them. The Cohns have three sons, as well as three children of their own: German shepherds, 8 cats & 6 Jackass, a carriage, a donkey, the presented skunk, 8 turkeys, 11 ducks and 2 ducks.

Any Union county resident who would like information about joining or starting a 4-H club may phone County 4-H agent Norman Cohn at Elizabeth 2-5000 ext. 287.

Wester Appoints Campaign Heads In Freeholder Bid

Hank P. Wester, Mountain-side councilman and Republican candidate for a seat on the Union County Board of chosen Freeholders, has named Miss Elizabeth Johnson of Cranford, LaGrange, New Jersey, of whose Plaistow, to manage his campaign. It was announced this evening.

Mrs. Johnson, a secretary to the president of an Elizabeth chapter, is co-director of Section 2 of the Young Republican National Federation. She has served as chairman of the New Jersey Young Republican Committee and national chairman of the National Young Republican Committee in 1960.

Johnson, a graduate of Bucknell University and chemical engineer with the National Lead Co. in Newark, is a member of the executive committee of the Union County GOP. He recently served as chairman of the Union County Young Republican Club and of the Westfield Area Young Republican Club. Last spring he headed the New Jersey campaign for Pennsylvania Governor William Scranton.

People who drive RI 22 will be asked to thank Hank Wester for his不懈努力 to make that hazardous highway a safer place to drive. New Jersey and Election to the Board of Freeholders will enable him to step up his fight for greater highway safety. Mrs. Johnson said his "background as Mounts' side make him well-qualified to serve as freeholder."

EX-PIG FARMER STUMPS AT UJC FOR TOP OFFICE

One of the candidates for the presidency of the United States will speak Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Union Junior College, Cranford. It won't be President Lyndon B. Johnson, nor will it be Sen. Barry Goldwater. It will be the candidate of the Poor Man's Party, Henry J. Krajewski of Secaucus. He'll speak at a College Hour program sponsored by the Day Session Student Council in the theatre of the campus center.

Jerry Jones of North Plainfield, president of the Day Session Student Council, said the public is invited to hear Krajewski speak.

Krajewski, who was the American Third Party candidate for governor in 1961, has run for everything from mayor of Secaucus to president of the United States, but has never been elected to office. He claims he was responsible for U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case's election in 1954 when he polled 25,000 votes in Democratic Hudson County and for President Kennedy's victory in New Jersey in 1960.

Krajewski operates a tavern in Secaucus and formerly operated a pig farm there.

Adams Exchange Telephone Area Expansion Given

Local calling area for residents of the Adams telephone exchange will be increased to include Elizabeth, effective Nov. 1, according to officials of the Public Utilities Commission. There will be no increase in rate.

The area increase continues two years of negotiations by the increase in scope for Adams Exchange Committee, comprised of Mountainside and Westfield residents and headed by Herbert Ross of Mountainside. Harry Simon, also of Mountainside, served as volunteer attorney for the group.

Some 2000 area residents signed petitions asking the PUC and the Bell Telephone Co. to act on whether a request for an increase in scope. Ross and Simon were among those who lobbied city and county PUC and telephone company representatives to prevent their case.

The group's original request was that the Clingers, Maplewood, Newark and Elizabeth be included in the new calling area. Ross said the work he will continue to press for inclusion of the Essex County communities, although he has had the decision of PUC to prevent his case.

A spokesman for PUC said that 200,000 telephones are now included in the Adams calling area. Six dollars a month for a residential telephone is charged in a bidding scale determined by the number of phones reached within an area. Designation of the local area continues to be a "rate buster" problem.

Communities reached without additional charge by Adams exchange phones are Cranford, Fanwood, Linden, Midburn, Roselle, Plainfield, Rahway, Roselle Park, Springfield, Unionville, Westfield College, W. Va., and this September, and Mountainside. Next April, it is expected that Elizabeth will be added to the exchange at Jonathan Street.
