

Y.E.S. Gets Space At Borough Hall— Plus Free Phone

New Local Chapter Asks Clarification Of Previous Request

Mountainside, N.J., (The Press) — The Young Executive Society (Y.E.S.) has secured space at Borough Hall for its new local chapter. The chapter, which was organized last month, is now meeting in the second floor of the building. The chapter has also secured a free phone for its use.

The chapter is headed by Mrs. J. Edgar Smith, president. Other officers include Mrs. J. Edgar Smith, vice president; Mrs. J. Edgar Smith, secretary; and Mrs. J. Edgar Smith, treasurer.

The chapter is open to all young executives in the area. The chapter meets on the second floor of Borough Hall, Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Ask Amy
BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Mrs. A. W. —
Some people are quick to talk about their problems, but listen to them. They are often in a state of confusion and do not know how to try to change them. Disregard your own feelings in the matter of your husband. Advise them that you are satisfied with your own life and do not want to let him know that you are not.

Dear D.H. —
I am usually very understanding, but on your question of being a Conservator, it is not important what you do. It is important what you feel. I read that you are not sure of your own mind and do not know what to do.

Dear F.R. —
What you should do is very clear. Your husband wants your only job to be taking care of him, your son and your home. Give him a big kiss and do your job well.

Dear E.L. —
I don't think about it. Don't speak of it and don't re-peat it.

To A Young Reader

Confidentially received. This will be a test of your courage. Don't wait another day to tell a responsible adult about your problem. Tell your parents, clergyman, doctor or teacher — whichever one you find easiest to talk to. The person you tell will probably not be as harsh as you imagine and you'll get the help you must have immediately. Once you have found the courage to tell, you will have surmounted the first and most difficult hurdle, and you'll learn that people can be very kind. By accepting responsibility, you'll have taken a big step toward growing up. It won't be easy, but others have faced this before you. The Editors.

Holiday Deadline

Next week's issue of this newspaper will be published two days early because of the Thanksgiving Holiday. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline tomorrow will be necessary to insure publication.

you get one of these in every room with

ELECTRIC HEAT

Yes, one big advantage of Electric Heat is room-by-room temperature control. Because each room has its own thermostat every member of the family can choose their own comfort level. This means that baby's room can be kept extra warm, the kitchen cooler, the living room just right. Room-by-room temperature control is just another in a long list of "extras" you get with Electric Heat. It is quiet, dependable, automatic, clean. If you are building or buying a new home, insist on modern Electric Heat. Now, thanks to Public Service's special new low rate for heating your entire home electrically, Electric Heat is more economical than ever before. Call Public Service right now for full details. We'll also be glad to help you plan your new Electric Heat system, without charge.

PART-TIME JOBS

Law Protects Teenager In Holiday Work

With the expected boom in retail sales, young people may have an opportunity for part-time employment during the holiday season, Regional Director Frank B. Mercurio of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division pointed out in issuing a reminder of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Mercurio said that the law permits boys and girls 16 and 17 years of age to work in an occupation which has been declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. Even 14- and 15-year-olds may work in a variety of occupations in retail stores, but only in establishments which are not engaged in interstate or foreign commerce.

During weeks when school is in session, they may work no more than one hour for each calendar week, and no more than three hours a week during school hours. They may not work in night hours, and may not be employed in any of the occupations listed in the Fair Labor Standards Act and many state child-labor laws.

How important it is to keep teenagers out of the hazardous work has been pointed out by the U. S. Department of Labor. It said that in the past, many teenagers have been found particularly dangerous in which they are employed. In the local area, such certificates are issued by local public school officials.

Mercurio reminded employers and young job-seekers that some jobs do not come under the Fair Labor Standards Act, since they apply to employees engaged in interstate commerce, in the production of goods for commerce or in certain large enterprises engaged in commerce or the production of goods for commerce. In these cases, employers should obtain and keep on file an age employment certificate showing the minor to be at least the minimum age for the occupation and production of goods for commerce.

In order to protect themselves against unintentional violation of the law, employers should obtain and keep on file an age employment certificate showing the minor to be at least the minimum age for the occupation and production of goods for commerce.

Industrial Engineers To Meet In Newark

Robert C. Scott, vice president of Eddy-Rucker-Nickels Co., of Cambridge, Mass., will speak at the dinner-meeting of the Metropolitan New Jersey Chapter, American Institute of Industrial Engineers, at the Essex House, Newark, tonight.

Scott's subject will be "The Rucker Plan," a program designed to give management an effective approach to cost reduction and improved employee productivity.

Additional information on the Fair Labor Standards Act is available at the regional office of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division—office, Room 201 Federal Building, Federal Square, Newark, N. J.

Don't you want me to get a mechanical pencil made?

What's wrong with the pencil? It's not a pencil, it's a mechanical pencil. It's not a pencil, it's a mechanical pencil. It's not a pencil, it's a mechanical pencil.
