Education Board To Meet Tonight With Architects

Discussions Center On Possible Vacating Of Echobrook School

Mountainside's Board of Education will meet tonight in private session with representatives of Elsass and Miller, Union architects, to consider a fourth alternative to the three already under study as possible long range solutions to the problem of replacing obsolete Echobrook school.

Tonight's discussions will center around the possibility of abandoning Echobrook for educational purposes and distributing the school body, now around 260, to Beechwood and Deerfield schools, according to Dr. Edward Nolan, publicity chairman for the school board.

The discussions in no way signify that the board has arrived at this decision, Dr. Nolan cautioned. The proposal is only one of four possible solutions which will be thoroughly explored by the board and the architects before any final decision is reached, he said.

Other alternatives previously announced by the Board of Education are the abandonment of Echobrook for educational purposes and building a replacement on a yet undetermined site; building a replacement on the present playing field of the school and using Union County park lands in the rear for a playing field; or remodeling and modernizing the present school buildings.

The last alternative, according to Dr. Nolan and opinions previously expressed by the Board of Education, is not too desirable due to the age of the building and its location on busy and noisy Rt. 22. The original school building was built in 1903 and the annex in 1937. Any adequate modernizing would necessitate air-conditioning and sound-proofing the two buildings.

If the decision is made at some future time to abandon Echobrook and send the students to the two other public grammar schools, additions would have to be made to both Deerfield and Beechwood Schools, Dr. Nolan said.

No matter which of the four alternatives is decided upon, the Board of Education will retain a third site to allow for future expansion, Dr. Nolan stated. Such expansion was reflected in this year's enrollment in borough schools which soared to 1,304, the enrollment expected, according to the school body's projection figure, in 1975. If Echobrook is vacated the school board will retain the land on which it stands unless another adequate site is acquired before that time, Dr. Nolan emphasized.

This insistence on a third school site in the borough was supported by studies conducted by educational experts from the N. J. Board of Education, Rutgers and Harvard Universities. These experts were employed by the local Board of Education last year as part of its attempt to determine the best long range solution for borough schools.

The board is also currently studying ways to bring the facilities of Deerfield School up to the educational standards established by the state for middle schools, Dr. Nolan reported.

PICKWICK PLAYER Bonnie Turner, nine-year-old daughter of the Seymour Turners of Summit rd., Mountainside, displays posters from the pre-Broadway tour of "Pickwick," the David Merrick musical which opened Monday night in New York. Bonnie's skates were her talisman to entry into show world. She and five other students were selected from a Millburn ice skating school to take part in the production.

'Pickwick' Player At Home Trunk (And Clothes) Are Still On Tour

By RITA ZEISS
How does a player prepare for a Broadway opening?

If you're Bonnie Turner, a nine-year-old Mountainside girl who opened Monday night on Broadway in David Merrick's musical "Pickwick," you go shopping.

Bonnie returned last week from a five-month tour with "Pickwick" which took her to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Detroit and Washington, D. C. By Monday of this week Bonnie's clothes were still on tour—her trunks had not yet reached home.

So when the cast was informed Sunday night that there would be a party after Monday night's opening in the 46th Street Theatre, Bonnie literally did not have a thing to wear. She and her mother dashed out shopping after Bonnie's school day at Echo-brook was over for suitable accommodations. It made the time schedule tight since they were due in the theatre by 7 p.m.

Tight schedules are something Bonnie became used to during the tour and they, like opening nights, are something she accepts with aplomb.

According to her mother, Mrs. Seymour Turner of Summit rd., Bonnie and four other

Folding Door Folds

A folding door which divides the rooms used for team-teaching two third grades in Echobrook School, Mountainside, has been replaced at a cost of $1,000, a Board of Education spokesman announced this week. The replaced door was installed in 1927 and, according to the board spokesman, it "just plain wore out."

children who are ice skaters in the musical interpretation of Dickens' "Pickwick Papers," weren't a bit nervous about the big night. After all, they had five opening nights behind them and the audience reception at all of them was tremendous.

"PICKWICK" was originally scheduled to open in New York on Nov. 8. Openings in Philadelphia and Toronto, Canada, were cancelled when the show broke the attendance record during its second week in the Music Center in Los Angeles, beat the record of the original company of "Dolly in Los Angeles and top-

Attorney Hired In Battle To Block Commercial Zone In Mountainside

POLITICAL POT BUBBLES

Dems Say Opponents Deceive; GOP Promises New Library

William C. Seeds, Democratic mayoral hopeful, and Joseph J. Stypa and John A. Wroblesky, candidates for Mountainside's Borough Council, this week charged their Republican opponents with inconsistency in their platform and with an attempt to use "the library project as a wedge to get their municipal complex built."

They also charged that the platform announced last week by their opponents, Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr., Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, was "inconsistent with their actions to date and at variance with some of their stated objectives."

The full text of the Democratic release follows: "We believe that this constitutes a fraudulent approach to the campaign. It's an attempt to deceive the public.

Use As Wedge
"They promise a sound tax rate while they are planning to build a municipal complex after election that will cost at least a half-million dollars. Kaufman and MacMurray, consultants hired by the Mayor and Council, have recommended an expenditure of $631,000 for this purpose.

"They (the Republicans) promise a public library building and program to meet Mountainside's needs when it is known that they are jeopardizing the library project by using it as a wedge to get their municipal complex built. We are for the library but not as a part of the municipal complex. The library merits top priority. Efforts toward making it a reality should not be diluted by making it a part of any other program. A municipal complex, at this time, is utopian thinking.

"They promise a storm drainage program to relieve local problems in a manner equitable to the entire borough. This is another way of saying they will make this such a huge project that nothing will be done. Mayor Wilhelms has said to us for quotation that: "I have no sympathy for those people now faced with a water problem who bought their land at a reduced price because of a creek being on their property and who now expect the borough to bail them out."

"We do not share the Mayor's callous attitude. We will decide upon a course of action aimed at correcting the worst conditions first.

"They (the GOP candidates) promise additional controls over construction of commercial and industrial zones to provide maximum protection for all homeowners. This, they promise, in spite of the fact that they themselves originated and passed an ordinance on first reading to create commercial zones in existing residential areas. Their platform openly contradicts actions they have already taken."

Out of Town
(Editor's note: Mayor Wilhelms was out of town when the rezoning ordinance was introduced at the September meeting. Spain, who was appointed to the Council last spring to replace resigning Councilman Albert Daniels, abstained from voting.)

Voices Concern Over Added Load Of Local Traffic

Henry P. Wester, chairman of the Essex-Union-Somerset Traffic Safety Council, expressed grave concern this week over the additional traffic fed into the intersection of Rt. 22 and New Providence rd., Mountainside, as a result of the closing off of the turn-around at Lawrence av.

Wester, formerly a Mountainside Councilman, stated that the highway at that point and New Providence rd. have had to bear an additional burden of traffic as a result of the elimination of the turn-around.

Wester laid at least a portion of the blame for what he described as "poor traffic planning" on the shoulders of Mayor Frederick Wilhelms. According to Wester, the Mountainside Borough Council, on which he was then serving, had asked the State Highway Department to remove the light at Lawrence av. since it created a traffic hazard because of its proximity to the traffic light at the junction of the road with the Scotch Plains line, about 300 feet away.

The State Department, Wester claims, was prepared to remove the light and to provide a turn-off road which would give the west-bound traffic coming out of Lawrence av. access to the light at the junction.

He charged that Mayor Wilhelms went to Trenton to renegotiate with the Highway Department. As a result of those negotiations plans for the access road were eliminated, Wester stated.

Questioned on the charges, Mayor Wilhelms stated that from a stand point of safety and disruption of neighborhood he felt the solution finally taken was "a far better one" than the original plan.

He claimed that only two minor accidents had occurred in the stretch between the Scotch Plains junction and the New Providence rd. intersection since the Lawrence av. turn-around was removed. Previously there had been a very high incidence of accidents on that portion of the highway, he said.

"We placed safety above convenience," the mayor stated.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr., who is seeking reelection on the Republican ticket, and B. Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, GOP aspirants for seats on Mountainside's Borough Council, this week expanded their position in favor of a new library.

In a joint statement, the three said that borough owned property on New Providence rd., between Rt. 22 and Birch Hill rd., "is a convenient and central location for the library." That also stated that a new library "could soon be able to apply for a federal grant available for library construction."

(Editor's note: Earlier this year the library trustees investigated the possibilities of securing such a loan. Last month they announced they were unable to submit an application before Sept. 15, the deadline date for securing funds in 1966. The trustees indicated at that time that application will be made next year for funds in 1967.)

No Indication
The Republican release did not indicate whether the library would be a separate facility or part of a borough complex. The full text of the candidates' "statement of position," presented Sunday at a meeting of campaign workers, follows:

"We believe that a new public library building is a most desirable and necessary public facility for Mountainside. Our present library, in the basement of the 1903 building at Echobrook School, is hopelessly inadequate.

"From a humble beginning in the early 1930's, our library has had a tremendous growth which parallels the reading habits of our population. Book circulation, though limited by space and inventory, exceeds state and national averages. Adequate service and further growth is impossible under present conditions.

"American Library Association standards indicate we should have a library of 5,000 to 6,000 square feet. A building of this size would provide for more than 25,000 books. Book purchases are now restricted because we lack sufficient space.

"Our present library has 1,600 square feet of floor space, extremely well utilized but poorly located and greatly overcrowded. It is a tribute to our library staff and trustees that they have been able to do so well with such meager facilities.

"A new library building should provide a good collection of books. However, it is not our desire to rival Westfield or Summit. Our library should be a "study center" for our school children. Modern education requires access to reference works and other texts to supplement required course work. Mountainside's high school youth are most neglected by our lack of a good library.

"Our school children of all ages and our adults have overtaxed the generosity of the Westfield library. Many of our residents travel to Summit and other towns for library service. There is no reason for Mountainside not to provide good library service for its residents.

Civic Group Acts After Preventing High Apartments

Will Study Legality Prior To Hearing; 1-Family Homes Goal

Harry Bernstein, a Plainfield attorney, has been hired by the Pembroke Civic Association to give legal counsel in the civic association's battle to prevent any rezoning in Mountainside.

Harry C. Swenson of Evergreen court, president of Pembroke Civic, said this week that Bernstein will represent the club at the Oct. 19 hearing on the rezoning ordinance. The ordinance which would change the zoning of two tracts of land on the north side of Rt. 22 from residential to "preferred, restricted commercial A," was approved 4-1 by the Borough Council on the first reading at the September meeting.

According to Swenson, Bernstein is now studying the ordinance to see if "it holds up legally."

Unanimous Vote
The hiring of Bernstein was approved unanimously by the executive board of Pembroke Civic, Swenson stated. Others serving on the board, in addition to Swenson, are Clyde Van Allen, Jack Susski, Jack Long and William Morrison.

The rezoning of the two tracts, the A. A. Wilson tract which fronts on Rt. 22 almost directly opposite Borough Hall and another large tract between Summit rd. and Central ave. near Corinne ter., was recommended in the borough's master plan.

The Pembroke Civic has opposed any such rezoning whenever it was introduced. The group joined two other civic associations, Robin Hood Estates and Concord Civic Association, last year in a successful bid to keep high rise and garden apartments out of the borough. The three groups, operating as the Civic League Association, collected about 1,600 signatures on a petition opposing the erection of any multiple-dwellings and seeking to maintain the one-family residential character of the borough "as it now exists."

Swenson said this week that his group's current battle against rezoning any land from (Continued on Page 3)

Hunter's Course Set In Borough

Registration is now open for a hunter's safety course to be conducted Oct. 14 and 15 in Mountainside's Borough Hall. The course, which will run from 7 to 9 p.m. both evenings, is sponsored by the Mountainside Recreation Department and the New Jersey Fish and Game Division. Instructors will be from the N.J. Certified Hunters Safety Course.

Would-be hunters between the ages of 14 and 21, may register by sending cards with their name, address and age to the Recreation Department, Rt. 22, Mountainside. Older people may also attend.

The state requires that all hunters must take such a course before securing their first hunting license.

Wilfred H. Brandt

Wilfred H. Brandt, one of the two Republican candidates for Mountainside's Borough Council, is new to politics and new to Mountainside.

He and his slim, brown-eyed wife, Louise, and their two daughters moved to the borough in June 1962. Brandt had been transferred some months before to the New York office of Olin Mathieson, a firm with which he has been associated for 24 years.

Coming to New York alone, leaving his family, who stayed behind in Baltimore, he conducted a systematic three-state search for a home. He worked within a defined radius of the metropolis that took him to Connecticut, Long Island, and New Jersey, as far south as Matawan. He picked a few he liked and Louise joined him to make the final decision.

"Mountainside was it," he says positively while Louise nods her head in agreement. "It had everything we wanted."

THEIR HOUSE at 1203 Wyoming dr. fit their tastes. The children can scoot across the back yard and be in the yard of their school, Our Lady of Lourdes, in seconds. Shopping is near. New York is a short hop away. "It's ideal for us," Brandt says.

Mrs. Brandt has been active in the Newcomers Club, which she describes as the "best Newcomers group" with which she has ever been associated. And she should know!

Brandt joined Olin Mathieson, then Western Cartridge Co., in 1941, shortly after he received his degree in chemistry from St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa. Since then the Brandts have lived in

John Wroblesky

WILFRED H. BRANDT

John Wroblesky, who is running on the Democratic ticket for a seat on Mountainside's Borough Council, says he learned a lot in the Board of Education race early this year, knowledge he feels will be helpful to him in his current campaign.

Involved in the education field for the past 27 years, Wroblesky came in fourth last February in the 10-way school board race. A comparative newcomer to town he feels, although he did not capture one of the three seats, that he made a "credible showing."

But most important, he says, is the fact that he learned a lot about the community. He met many people, became aware of the problems of the community and has been able to determine the wishes of the residents in many areas.

He is most emphatic about his desire and that of his running mates, William

Seeds and Joseph Stypa, to keep the "town residential in nature" and to resist the "encroachment of business and industry into residential areas."

Wroblesky personally has two good reasons for wanting to preserve that residential character — his daughter, Lori, and his son, John Jr. The Wrobleskys moved to their home on Saddle Brook rd. in October, 1962, and all of them, Mrs. Wroblesky included, have found it a delightful place to live.

Former Newark residents, they have found neighbors to be "the best in the world" and the children are delighted with all the playmates and all the play space available to them.

Blonde, blue-eyed Lori entered kindergarten at Beechwood School in September and according to her doting father,

William P. Hourihan of Elizabeth, Democratic candidate from Union County for the N. J. Senate, this week named Michael J. Regan of Scotch Plains as his aide in his campaign.

Regan, an attorney, is a member of the Union County Park Commission and treasurer of the Newark Parking Authority.

Leukemia Society Slates Art Sale To Benefit Fund

Katherine Cantlin, New Jersey State executive director of the Leukemia Society announced this week that a benefit art sale will be held at 1934 Morris ave., Union, from Oct. 1 through 10 between noon and 9 p.m. The proceeds derived from this sale will supplement funds needed to further leukemia research projects now underway at medical centers throughout the state. In addition it will help to provide patient aid financing throughout Union County.

The benefit art sale will consist of over 300 traditional and contemporary paintings in all sizes representing the efforts of over 200 exceptional artists. All paintings will be priced from $5 to $75. Any purchase will be considered a charitable contribution.

Mrs. June Gartling, secretary of the Union County Chapter, commented that "this will be the most exciting art sale ever conducted in Union County." Mrs. Gartling also announced that Guy Calissi, Union prosecutor has accepted chairmanship of the 1965 fund drive in Union County.

Woman Loses Her License On Drunken Driving Charge

A Westfield woman was fined $200 and her license was revoked for two years in Mountainside Municipal Court last week on a drunken driving charge. In the same court session, Magistrate Jacob Bauer revoked the license of a Colonia woman for speeding on Rt. 22.

Barbara A. Cook of Westfield was arrested Sept. 24 by the Union County Police after her auto ran off the road on Tracy dr. in the Watchung Reservation. She was brought into local police headquarters where she was given a drunkometer test by Patrolman Jerome Rice. She was pronounced under the influence of liquor by Dr. Stuart Baron of Mountainside.

The Colonia resident, Geraldine Disand, was fined $15 in addition to the 30-day license revocation on a charge of going 45 miles an hour in the eastbound lane of Rt. 22 on Sept. 11.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

By PHYLLIS GREER
of Rutgers . . . the State University

Specialist in Human Relations

SPACE AND PRIVACY
"A cottage small" may sound romantic to the newlyweds, but in a few years the combination of little space and a growing family will bring problems and necessary adjustments. Many modern homes are substandard in that important factor for mental health — space. Lack of space can be a real frustration because of overcrowding. Everyone needs privacy, a place to go and be absolutely alone at times. When homes are crowded, there is conflict between the desires of various family members. Father may want to read quietly, teen-age Sally wants to watch television, the smaller

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
The 'Lady from Manhattan' was just too much. How can she complain about men wearing shorts when women 'out-wear' us men 50-1 in the short category.

My only suggestion to her is to start a movement to get the shorts off of women in public before she complains about the men.

'A Gentleman.'
Dear Amy:
I agree with 'Carole from Manhattan'. Shorts on men in public look terrible. And putting on a sport jacket and ascot (as I have seen) doesn't help either.

I think the frequent incidence of this blatant dress in public stems from the inflated ego that more men are acquiring lately.

Oh for the good days when men were men! Just sign me... Old Timer

Dear Amy:
As a national manufacturer of men's apparel, including the con-children want to play a noisy game. Yet there just isn't enough space for everyone to go to a different part of the house.

Social obligations become a trial. Parents want to entertain, but so do the children. Both should have a place for their friends, but where?

Problems caused by lack of space may seem small and inconsequential. But they are important. It is the small everyday things happening over and over again that "get on your nerves," and grow into overwhelming problems.

The key to pleasant living is found in understanding, then working out the problem together.

troubling 'dress short,' the only thing wrong with men wearing shorts is the way they do. If they would wear the proper hose (Bernuda length with shorts of the correct length so that only five or six inches of the knee shows), this would solve the unsightly problem.

My shorts are sold in most large department stores, but I prefer to remain anonymous so that your readers won't think this is a 'pitch.'

Aion

Dear Amy:
Well it finally happened. I have been reading your column for over a year now and have never gotten steamed up enough to write about any of your readers' comments, but now is the hour. I am referring to the letter written by a 'Carole Ann Walters' about men wearing shorts.

I noticed that you didn't even make a comment about it, and rightly so, for it is for the attacked party to answer to the righteous attacker.

I feel that I am better qualified than most men who wear shorts because I have revolting legs. My lower extremities are not only hairy but are skinny and bowed to boot. I wear those awful shorts and even with my utterly revolting legs, I am willing to bet that I look better than half of the women who wear them.

Well, Carole Ann, relax because I am going to form a society for hairy-legged men and over-weight women, all of whom like to wear shorts. It will be called the Bernuda Society. The members will be able to be comfortable without having to answer to the criticism of self-appointed beauty contest judges. There is only one thing, though, I don't think anyone will join because, you see, the people who would be eligible just don't care what puritans such as yourself think.
See you at Sardi's in short shorts!

 is not yet sure if she wants to stay.
 "She is," says her father indulgently, "used to so much freedom she is finding it a little difficult to adjust. However, each day she seems a little more willing to accept the discipline, the necessary restraint each of us must learn."
 John Jr. is in his freshman year at Governor Livingston Regional High School and already playing with the school band, quite an achievement for a ninth grader. A clarinetist, young John also plays the piano, an instrument he has been studying for the past four years.
 Wroblewski, principal of Morton street School, Newark, spent this past summer teaching math, remedial reading, and grammar at two summer camps in Maine. The camps were close to Thompson Lake where the Wroblewski's have a log cabin. The family spends as much of the permit in this retreat summer as their schedules where they all enjoy fishing, boating, and swimming. Young John, an excellent swimmer, has become quite adept at water skiing.

 Twenty-eight years of working in public elementary junior and senior high schools, 15 years of which have been spent in administrative work, have given Wroblewski a broad understanding of community problems. It has also given him a warm acceptance of all types and kinds of people. His judgment is slow and tempered, his reactions thoughtful and paced.
 A one-time instructor in political science, he takes a something of an academic approach to any question. He feels that "history will be made in Mountainside in the Nov. 2 election" and that there has been "something of a Renaissance in town in regard to the Democrats."
 "We're in to win," he points out quietly, his long, scholarly face serious, "we'll conduct a very aggressive campaign."

A GRADUATE of Jersey City College, Wroblewski also collected bachelor and master degrees from Montclair College and did graduate work in administration and guidance at the University of Wisconsin, Rutgers and Seton Hall Universities. He has completed all requirements for his doctorate, including the presentation of an outline of his dissertation, at Rutgers.
 It was this educational background, coupled with his teaching and administration experience, urge him to run for the Board of Education. It was this same background that caused the Democrats to seek him when they needed a replacement for Jules Rose, who was withdrawing from the ticket because of business pressures.
 "He adds dignity to the ticket," Joe Stypa says.
 "He's a good man," "Bill" Secds states firmly.
 Wroblewski expects to join Secds and Stypa next week on a door-to-door campaign. He's looking forward to meeting a lot of residents in the time between now and the November election. He's sure he will know a lot of people who will answer his ring, fellow parishioners from Our Lady of Lourdes Church, members of the Rosary Society, to which his wife belongs, old friends from the days when Louise was active in the Newcomers Club.
 "Lots of old friends and, I hope, many new ones," Wroblewski states, smiling confidently.

after a recent court session are, in the usual order, Miss Mary Lou Otto, a driver education teacher, Nancy Daeubler and Marguerite Lamberta.

Juniors Are Sit-Ins At Traffic Sessions

Approximately 200 juniors from Governor Livingston Regional High School will attend a regular session of the traffic court in Berkeley Heights as part of their studies in driver education.
 The first contingent, about 35 in number, attended an evening session on Sept. 27. They met later with the presiding magistrate, Douglas Haberstroh in his chamber.
 The second group will attend next Monday night's hearings. The balance of the driver education students will attend either the Oct. 23 court session or the Nov. 8 one.

According to Miss Mary Lou Otto, a driver education teacher at Governor Livingston, the purpose of the court program is to acquaint the students with court procedures while impressing upon them the need for observing traffic regulations.
 All juniors at the high school are required to take driver education as part of their required health course.

Baptist Teachers Set Series Of Dialogues

The Teachers Fellowship of the First Baptist Church of Westfield will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Christian Education Lounge. This meeting will mark the beginning of a series entitled, "We Hold These Truths". This series will be a creative dialogue of basic theological issues under the direction of the pastor, Rev. William K. Cober. The opening session will be entitled, "How To Determine Belief".

GOP Promises

"The trustees have sought the assistance of the New Jersey State Library Division and soon will be able to apply for federal grant available for library construction. Twenty-five percent of library construction costs are now available to us under federal programs. The trustees will also consider retaining a library consultant to assist in planning."

"Borough owned property on New Providence rd., between Rt. 22 and Birch Hill rd., is a convenient and central location for the library. Title to two adjacent lots will be obtained shortly by the borough. The library would be compatible with the neighborhood and well screened from adjacent homes."

"This much needed improvement could be ready for use in 1966. Certainly the response of our civic clubs and many interested individuals indicate the desire of the community."
 "Wilhelms, Spain and Brandt are dedicated to providing better library facilities in Mountainside. They pledge to work for a new library to meet the needs of the borough. The library that will be adequate and economical in design, construction and operation."

Community Drive Slates Opening

Mountainside will open its 1965 Community Fund Drive on Oct. 23, John Keenan, drive president, announced this week. A goal of $15,700 has been set, Keenan said.

Harold Nelson Jr., who headed the drive last year, will serve as vice-president. Mrs. Gloria Johnson will handle publicity and Walter Degenhardt will direct collections from business and industry.

Appointed as area directors were Mrs. T. C. Ruberti, William VanBlarcom, Rollin Schiefelboin, George Wiech and John Hechtle.

Chemist's Paper Feature Article In Esso Journal

A fundamental research paper co-authored by Dr. Alexis A. Oswald of 1098 Sunny Slope Dr., Mountainside, is featured in Search, an annual journal published this month by Esso Research and Engineering Co., Linden.

Oswald's paper reported on some of his research work on organic sulfur compounds and originally was published in the Journal of the American Chemical Society. The condensation now appears in Search, which is distributed to nearly 15,000 student and professional technical people around the world.

Oswald, a research associate in the company's central basic research laboratory division, joined Esso Research and Engineering in 1960. Previously he had been employed in the research laboratories Imperial Oil Enterprises Ltd. in Canada, an affiliate of the Linden Company, for three years. He has published more than 50 scientific papers and has been issued 35 patents including five in the United States, 17 in Canada and three in Hungary.

Dr. Oswald was educated in Hungary and was awarded his doctorate in organic chemistry at the University of Budapest in 1954. He worked in Hungary for the Hungarian Academy of Sciences and in the Central Chemical Research Institute. After the 1956 Hungarian Revolution, he went to England, where he was employed by Imperial Smelting Ltd.

Star-spangled key to a home of your own

A key to your own home is a mighty nice thing. Especially if it has stars and stripes on it.

The way you get one is to save U. S. Savings Bonds for the down payment. Or if you're beyond that point, for furniture or appliances, or the other things inside a house that make it a home.

A nest egg in Bonds can go a long way towards providing a nest and its contents — because each Series E Bond pays back $4 at maturity for every $3 you save.

Another thing you'll get is a nice red, white and blue feeling. The kind you get by giving your country a financial hand while you're saving.

It's easy to start saving Bonds today. A call to your payroll department, or a visit to your bank will do it.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- ✓ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- ✓ You can get your money when you need it
- ✓ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- ✓ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

Buy E Bonds for growth—H Bonds for current income

Park-Union Deborah Guild Begins Tag Week Sunday

The Park-Union Guild Chapter of Deborah has scheduled its annual Tag Week fund-raising drive in Union, Sunday through Oct. 17.

The group has announced that Deborah Hospital, located in Brown's Mill, is building a new Heart Pavilion. Its completion will depend solely on contributions.

The hospital, which was originated by Deborah Moness Shapiro in 1922 to help tubercular people, was named after the Old Testament prophetess, Deborah, and from the beginning of its existence, two cardinal principles were followed: All treatment and care were provided without cost and no person would be turned away because of his religious convictions or race.

The sanitarium, which started with four wooden bungalows housing 32 beds, grew to a steel and brick building with a 100-bed capacity by 1936 due to volunteer groups and campaigns, and by 1954, the building was expanded, increasing its bed capacity to 166. With the decline of death rates from tuberculosis (resulting from the development of antibiotics and new surgical techniques,) emphasis at Deborah Hospital was placed on heart surgery. In 1962, Deborah Hospital became a fully-accredited hospital specializing in diseases of the chest.

Main support of Deborah comes from the fund-raising efforts of about 210 volunteer chapters, chartered by Deborah

New York World's Fair Recipe Of The Week

This is the tenth in a series of weekly New York World's Fair favorite recipes.

It is a favorite recipe of the people in Venezuela and as popular in that country as bouillabaisse is in France. The following recipe is for a completed meal serving four to six persons. It is a popular Friday dish at the Venezuela Pavilion.

RED SNAPPER WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE
1-1/2 lbs. red snapper fillet
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 onion, chopped
2 tbs. minced green pepper

4 tps. minced parsley
1 tbs. butter or margarine
3 tbs. flour
1/2 cups light dry wine (Chablis or Sauterne)
1 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. salt
2 tbs. lemon juice
1-1/2 cups milk

(Place fillets on a rack in a large pan, add enough water to make 1 inch in the bottom of pan. Cover and steam for 20 minutes. Four cups cooked saffron rice (to make saffron rice, mix three strands Spanish saffron with two tbs. boiling water. Cook two cups converted rice according to package directions, adding saffron solution to cooking water).

Melt butter or margarine in a skillet, then add mushrooms, onion, green pepper and parsley, and saute until tender. Add one more tablespoon of butter and blend in flour. Now stir in milk and light dry wine and heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Add fish, broken into small pieces, and heat thoroughly. Serve over saffron rice.

TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

TURKEY TIME IS ANY TIME SMALL BIRDS MAY BE BROILED

When your club plans its fall banquet, turkey as a main course is sure to be considered. And it is likely to be featured at many celebrations, public and private, long before the later holiday season for several good reasons.

Food shoppers will find turkey more plentiful this year than last, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service. Prices are forecast about as low as a year ago making the cost per serving very attractive.

The size and appearance of the bird lends a festive air and emphasizes the importance of the occasion.

Almost everyone enjoys turkey which nowadays is almost uniformly tender.

For home use, the availability of small turkeys, half turkeys and turkey parts, eliminates the formerly time-consuming and sometimes dreaded aspect of preparing and cooking a very large bird.

If you're in doubt as to how big a bird to buy, for a rough guide allow about 3 1/2 pounds per serving, ready-to-cook weight. Should you want to use the turkey for several meals, select a proper weight accordingly. Remember, the larger the turkey, the greater number of servings possible because the increased proportion of meat to bone and less likelihood of shrinkage. For example, while a young four to eight-pound bird will yield about four to 10 servings, a 20 to 24 pounder will provide 40 to 50 servings.

To shop with assurance, look for the official round Government inspection mark on the label indicating that the poultry has been examined for wholesomeness. When the turkey also shows the USDA Grade A in a shield, you can be sure you're getting a top quality bird certified by a Government grader to meet the highest USDA quality standards.

When buying a frozen turkey, be sure that the wrappers are not torn or broken and the bird is still solidly frozen.

For an easy-to-prepare Broiled Turkey for a small family, use a young bird four pounds or under, ready-to-cook weight, split in half lengthwise. These are the directions:

Snap the two joints in the legs and the wings to keep the bird flat during broiling. For uniform cooking, skewer leg to body and fold wing tip back under wing. If desired, rub broiling pan with cut surface of garlic or onion. Place turkey in broiler pan (without rack). Brush with melted butter, season with salt and pepper and place skin-side down. Broil seven to 10 inches away from heat source. Regulate heat or pan position so that turkey broils slowly and begins to brown lightly in 15 minutes. Turn two or three times during broiling, brushing with additional butter each time. Continue broiling until meaty parts are fork-tender, about 60 minutes. Serve with pan drippings poured over the turkey.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter
ONE BIG IDEA
CLEAR LAWN
If I'm never able to teach anything else, I'll be happy if I can put across this one idea: "Keep the front lawn clear." Speaking was Raymond J. Korobko, landscape design specialist at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science.

plain about now is the way it gets in the way of the mower. And its low limbs hit my tender hand, if I don't duck. It's awkward any way you look at it, and moving the little tree would have been pretty easy a few years ago. Now there aren't enough strong backs in the neighborhood to do the job, even assuming the transplanting operation would be a success. So design principles aside, try to think of the extra work you assign yourself when you plant a tree or a shrub in the front lawn, or build a flower bed that you have to mow and clip around. If you want to design the front yard — the public area — according to sound principles, get a copy of the free Leaflet 97 "How to Landscape Your Home," by the man who's out to sell the idea of a clear lawn. Ask your county agricultural agent for a copy.

THE '66 MODELS ARE IN!!! and

RICHARDS AND THE BOYS... TURN IN TO FRIENDLY GIANT KILLERS

We're after the "Big 3" with a new concept of quality. Quality built in, not added on. And 4 new lines of '66 cars from American Motors.

Ask Jim about our AUTO LEASING All Makes • All Models Cars & Trucks
Jim is a cartoon character holding a sign that says "In your money class."

1. Merita, first full-size sports fastback.
2. Ambassador, a now-size luxury car.
3. Rambler Classic, most exciting Rambler ever.
4. Rambler American, outperforms every car in its class.

Here are 8 built-in quality features, many not even found in Cadillac.
1. Every car we sell has two braking systems, instead of one. You get two chances to stop. Only Cadillac, of all the other U.S. built passenger cars, has Standard dual hydraulic brakes. 2. Coil spring seats in every car. (Like five footers.) Cadillac thinks they're better, too, but they only put them in their most expensive models. 3. A Ceramic-lamored exhaust system, longest lasting on any U.S. car. 4. Ashtrays that roll on ball bearings. Not even Cadillac gets that far. 5. Surplus power. Take our Rambler Classic, for example. Even its smallest Six is bigger than Fords, Chevies, Buicks and Corvets. Want more? Our Rambler American outperforms every standard 6-cylinder engine car in its class. (That includes Corvair, Volkswagens, even Mustangs.) 6. Optional bucket seats (Standard on Rogue, Rebel, and DPL) that recline on BOTH sides. Who else gives you that kind of comfort? Nobody. 7. An optional big and beefy automatic transmission that meets in a sports coupe. You can shift, she can set it on automatic. 8. Deep-Dip roof-railing. See why we're ready to call the Big 3's head? Come see the facts, and think twice about your next car. Our Giant-Killers are giving some very friendly deals.
