Council awards drainage work Tuesday night

Summit rd.-Darby lane area is expected to be awarded to Kenneth J. Brenn of Warren at next Tuesday night's meeting of the Borough Council. Brenn, with a figure of $92,596,05, was the lowest of 15 contractors who submitted bids on the work last month.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. and Borough Engineer Robert Koser both confirmed earlier this week that the contract would go to Brenn. Brenn's bid was challeneged by several of the other bidders at the December meeting who claimed that his specifications included one item which had been deleted in additional addenda. However, Withelms and Koser said this week that it was a "proper" bid and the contract will be awarded to Brenn as the lowest bidder.

The bids went up to $208,822 with most of them in the $130,000 to $140,000 range. Speaking for the Borough Council, Mayor Wilhelms said that it "looks as though we'll save some

The Borough Council has authorized the expenditure of a maximum of $200,000 for the storm drainage work in the Summit rd.-Darby lane area. The Brenn bid indicates that the final figure will be considerably less

According to specifications supplied by the consulting engineers, Elston Killam Associates of Millburn, the work must be completed within six months after the contracts are awarded.

in the ordinance, include assisting the Borough Treasurer and performing all duties of the Treasurer when that official is absent, No hours or salary are provided in the ordinance; these will be set in a future ordinance.

Mayor Wilhelms said on Monday of this week that no appointment will be made in the immediate future. According to the mayor, the Borough Council is now in the process of studying the duties and assignments of the various paid employees in Borough Hall. The duties and assignments of the assistant borough treasurer will depend in large measure on the result of that study, he indicated.

School election a contest as 3rd man enters race

Contrary to expectations, there will be a contest for the two seats at stake in the Board of Education election on Feb. 14. The third candidate, Anthony J. Genovese, filed last Thursday afternoon, about an hour before the deadline. The other two candidates, Richard Krebs, an incumbent, and Abe Suckno, filed their petitions last month.

The three will be competing for the seats which will be vacated next month by Krebs and Bernard Seligman. Seligman is not seeking re-election. Krebs was appointed to the board last fall as a replacement for former board president Roger Thwing who resigned because of a change in position.

Health body installs Hall; Dr. Langheinz heads group again

Roland S. Hall was installed as a member of Mountainside's Board of Health at the re-organizational meeting Monday night. Hall was appointed by Mayor Frederick Wilhelms to a three-year term, effective Jan. 1. He succeeds Dr. Irwin Greenbaum whose term expired at the end of 1966.

The president, Dr. Henry W. Langheinz, and the vice-president, Col. Jacob Eisen, were re-elected to their posts.

Langheinz, with the confirmation of the board, reappointed Charles F. Dotto as health officer. Other health board re-appointments include: Mrs. Maxine F. Buck, secretary and registrar of vital statistics; Mrs. Doris Carson, depúty registrar; Mrs. Elaine Graf, public health nurse; Daniel J. Harmett, plumbing inspector; Charles C. Honecker, assistant plumbing inspector; Dr. Stuart Baron, Hartnett, Honecker and Woodrow Simonelli were named to the plumbing examining board. Dr. John P. Fenton was appointed chairman of the health code committee which will include Harold Becker and Dotto. Eisen will head the legal committee. Hall will head the public relations committee and serve on the legal committee. Becker was named chairman of the finance committee. Dr. Fenton will also serve as a member of the finance committee and Eisen as a member of the public relations The board's meeting date was set for the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in Borough Hall. Dr. Fenton, who headed the health committee in 1966, presented a rough draft of a proposed ordinance to ban all open burning. The draft will be forwarded to the Borough Council for consideration and adoption. Dr. Fenton explained that the ordinance, if passed by Council, would provide one means of aiding in the control of air pollution. Noting that the board has studied the feasibility of recommending such an ordinance for several years, Dr. Langheinz pointed out that the board tabled such an ordinance last year because of court decisions nullifying similar legislation in other communities. However since appeals are now pending which may upset those court rulings, the board voted to forward the proposal to the Borough Coun-(Continued from page 8) 'Tony the mailman' praised had difficulty locating the man. Invited to public hearing at Deerfield Jan. 28

A opy of the proposed school budget for the 1967-68 year, which goes to the voters for approval on Feb. 14, will be sent to every taxpayer in the borough next week. An explanatory letter from the Board of Education will accompany the budget copy. The letter will also invite the taxpayers to attend the public hearing on the budget Jan. 24 at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School.

The proposed budget totals $1,159,842.50, $76,470 or 7.05 percent over the current year's figures. The voters will cast their vote only on $858,017 of that total, $840,617 for current expenses and $17,400 for capital outlay.

Most of the increase in instructional salaries which are $665,130 as compared to $594,170 for this year. Administration salaries are upped $5,320, from $46,880 to $52,300.

Other items showing increases are pensions, Social Security and insurance costs, transportation, and a fire detection system (for Echobrook School) which is required by state law. Expenditures will be decreased for rent, tuition, architect fees and debt service.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Education, it was emphasized that salary increases are needed to keep the borough's school system competitive with surrounding districts. In face of the current demand for teachers, the school board feels the proposed rdary guides will improve the borough's relative standing with neighboring commun-

THE BOARD APPROVED the hiring of Miss Donna Dearing as a third fifth grade teacher in Beechwood School. A legal resident of Westfield, Miss Dearing has been teaching in Saginaw, Mich. She is scheduled to begin work here the last week in January. Her salary will be prorated on the annual base salary of $5,500.

Miss Dearing was hired at the request of D. Levin B. Hanigan, school superinten-tent, who reported at the December meeting that an additional faculty member was needed to assist the teachers of the two fifth grades which have 35 and 34 students enrolled. no room is available for use as a third fifth grade, Miss Dearing will work with the existing classes, assisting the teachers by concentrating on small groups or individual stu-dents who may need more personalized instruction than can be given in such large

DR. HANIGAN also reported that a math clinic, with study carrels, has been estab-lished in a portion of the hall area near the library in Deerfield School. PREPARES FOR SNOW: "Candy Ahlquist, a kindergartner in Echobrook School, holds her ears as protection against the wailing sound of the Civil Defense siren. A move to launch a Senior Citizens Club was announced last Sunday at all three churches of the borough, Mountainside Union Chapel, Community Presbyterian Church and Our Lady ing will be held Jan. 25 at 8 p.m. in the all-purpose room of Deerfield School, In case of snow, the session will be postponed until Feb. 3. same time and same place. All borough residents over 60 are invited to attend. Guest speaker will be Joseph Walsh of Cranford, a member of the National Council of Senior Citizens Clubs,

The movement has the strong support of William Ditzel, chairman of the borough's Recreation Commission,

The push for such an organization was Started in large part by the Christian Family Movement of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Two members of that group, Mr. and Mrs. C. Emmet King of 1276 Cedar ave., helped in the formation of a Senior Citizen Club in their former home in a small town in Pennsylvania. The club, which had only 10 members at the time of organization, has grown to 90 active-members in three years, the Kings report.

Walsh is expected to outline similar experiences in neighboring towns -- Kenilworth, Plainfield, etc. He is himself an excellent example of the worth of such groups, according to Mrs. King, since he, a golden ager himself, has been very active in helping many communities organize clubs.

Strong and enthusiastic support was given to the project by the Chapel and Community Church when they were approached by members of the Christian Family Movement, All three churches offered their facilities for the meetings but since the club is to be borough-wide and not affiliated with any other group those offers were not accepted.

The use of Deerfield School will be temporary, the committee hopes. If enough interest is demonstrated, efforts will be made to locare a meeting place which will be open all day for use of the senior citizens, the committee in-

'66 construction totals almost $2,000,000

A total of $1,871,054 in new buildings and additions were added to Mountainside's ratables during 1966 according to figures supplied by the office of the building inspector, Chester

Construction of new homes represented about half, $956,300, of that figure, additions adding another $81,394 to the residential construction. Additions to industry represented $475,600 and new industrial construction $475,600. New commercial buildings amounted to $75,000 and commercial additions and alterations added up to $127,000. Residential pools represented a total of $35,760. School Superintendent, announced, The blast will also mean 'no school today' for students of Our Lady of Lourdes School, the pastor, Rev. Gerard McGarry, stated since the parochial students ride the same school buses.

Permission to use the sired as a "no school signal" was given by the State and local Civil Defense Departments and the Police Commissioner.

Dr. Hanigan cautioned parents and other residents not to call the Police Department for information on the closing of schools. He reminded parents that the siren blast is an addition to radio announcements on "no school" bulletins. The closing of borough schools has been and will continue to be announced on four radio stations, WOR, WVNJ, WNEW and WERA.

PTA neighborhood methers will continue as the sources from whom to gain information on the closing of schools, Dr. Hanigan said.

The superintendent urged parents to cooperate by not calling the police to inquire about school closings.

Scout cookie sale to open Jan. 20; new procedure set

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale will open. Jan. 20 in Mountainside and continue through Feb. 4. Mrs. Kenneth Moore of 286 Indian trail has been appointed sale chairman by Mrs. Alfred Hofsaess, Mountainside Girl Scout community association chairman.

The Girl Scouts, members of the local Junior, Cadette and Senior Troops, will par-ticipate in the door-to-door sale. The cookies will be sold directly without taking advance orders as in previous years, Mrs. Hofsaess stated. This will eliminate the call back for delivery and collection, Cookies will sell for 50 cents a box, as in previous years.

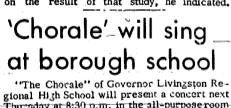

Cookies will be stored in the homes of the "cupboard" chairmen, Mrs. Donald Robertson of Corrinne ter., Mrs. Henry Piriender of Pembrook rd. and Mrs. Thomas Keis of Dunn pkwy.

Revenue from the cookie sale is used for the development and maintenance of camp sites owned by the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council and to provide services to the member troops. Each troop retains a percentage of the profits to help finance troop projects.

The leaders of the troops participating in the sale and all those serving on the cookie sale committees met Monday afternoon at the Community Presbyterian Church with representatives of the ...ashington Rock Council and of the firm which supplies the cookies. Procedures for conducting the door-to-door sale were explained at that time.

ADD FLARE TO YOUR TUNA CASSEROLE By: ANNE L. SHEELEN COUNTY HOME ECONOMIST

Attractive and economical are the key words that should be used to describe Tuna Puff. A quick dish to prepare, Tuna Puff is a basic tuna casserole to which a topping of beaten eggs have been added for a souffle effect. It is an ideal way to add variety to your daily meals and to give a family favorite a different flare.

The ingredients needed are ones that are ordinarily found on your pantry shelf or in your refrigerator. Canned tuna, a can of cream of mushroom soup, peas, dried pimiento, if you like and seasonings, are all that is needed for the bottom layer. After this is combined and baked for about ten minutes, a topping of beaten eggs is added and grated cheese spooned on top of this. The casserole is then returned to the oven for twenty minutes, so to set the cream of mushroom soup 1 can (6 1/2 or 7 oz.) tuna in vegetable

1 tablespoon diced pimiento 1/8 teaspoon each thyme and savory

2 tablespoons instant onion flakes

l tablespoon lemon juice 4 eggs, separated

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 cup grated cheddar cheese Drain peas; combine one-third cup of the pea liquid with mushroom soup in a buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole. Stir in drained peas, na, pimiento, herbs, onion flakes and juice. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. While mixture is baking, beat egg yolks with salt until thick and lemon-colored; stir in cheese. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold in egg yolk mixture. Spoon on top of heated tuna layer. Return to oven and bake 20 minutes longer

Professional troupe presents 'Babu' Saturday in Deerfield

MOUNTAINSIDE (N.J.) ECHO-Thursday, Jan. 12, 1967-3

'Babu,' a comedy-drama which had its premiere in Town Hall, New York City, will be presented Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium of Deerfield School, Mountainside, by the Children's Theatre International, The production is sponsored by the borough's Parent-Teacher Association.

Saturday's presentation is a replacement for the "Christmas Carol" show, scheduled Dec. 3, which was cancelled because of illness in the theatrical group, the Rockefeller Players. Tickets, at 75 cents each, may be obtained by calling the PTA chairman, Mrs. George G. Crane, 233-6185; they may also be purchased at the door.

"Babu," written by an English playright, James Ambrose Brown, has been translated into many languages and performed all over the world, it tells the adventures of an indian boy, a fruit seller outside a roadside temple who eats magic mango leaves given to him by the God of the temple.

WILLIAM SCHILL DIRECTS the troupe, all members of the Children's Theatre International, which was organized in 1961. The troupe includes all professional adult actors who have been especially trained to present children's theatre. Schill, who also directs summer stock in Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Vera Stilling, who presents plays for the Westchester Children's Theatre, are the producers of Children's Theatre.

It would be well for all of you who are of retirement age to understand two things: One is that nobody really knows which investment will do what, and for how long., and if anybody ries to tell you he knows he's probably trying to sell you something. The second is that a return on your savings of 4 1/2 to 5 per cent is a sensible return on retirement savings, and everybody should be skeptical of most offers below or above that.

James K. Hudson, who retired a year ago with good savings and a little more sense than most about investments, has pretty well been through the mill on his savings. "I had about all I owned in sound common stocks when I retired," he says, "Then last Febru-ary the market began dropping, and before December roughly one dollar in every three I had just vanished.

I've had it. Enough is enough. - And the last super-straw came last Sunday (a not too super one) when CBS presented what turned out to be a two and a half-hour commerical for the Super Bowl. The saccarine tones of the announcers telling us all about Super Sunday was interrupted once in a while a football game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Baltimore Colts, the not to super also-ran in their respective leagues. After flinching through the first half of last Sunday's game, I came up with a super idea— forming a club, whose members would make a point not to watch this Sunday's game.

We have all but been told directly, that if we don't shove the kids out of the house and switch on the TV set Sunday afternoon, we're un-American. We're against mom's apple pie and hot dogs. This game is the greatest thing since Cracker Jack, we're led to believe, My super-idea was not to watch the Super Bowl, My idea was to use the time to better advantage, like working the crossword puzzle in the New York Times, or trying to figure out how to win one of those ridiculous contests at the local gas station, Anything, but watch the game.

When I mentioned the possibility of taking the kids out for a drive this Sunday, my wife looked up and asked:
"What about the game?"

"What game, dear?," I asked as if I didn't know.

"The Super Bowl game of course, I'm sending the kids to the movies so we can have little peace. We can't miss the game."

Like I said, my super idea was just an idea. But wouldn't it be satisfying to go to work Monday with the knowledge that you didn't watch the game, that you refused to be a conformist, that you, for once in your life, refused to be mesmorized into thinking that if you didn't watch the game you might become an outcast at Monday's coffee breaks?

Make your dimes march a long way

Americans seem to be interested in health as never Newspapers and magazines report more on this subject than almost any other and government funds are pouring into a broadening array of health programs. This, in turn, raises the question of the role of voluntary agencies like the March of Dimes whose traditional fund drive is in progress during January. Can these groups still make important contributions to medical progress?

One answer has come from a top government scientist, Dr. Richard Masland, director of the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness. He told a Congressional committee:

"I have repeatedly heard...

now that the federal government is putting so much money into research, there isn't any need for the voluntary agencies. I think this is a tragic error...we rely very heavily on the cooperation of these agencies...it is not easy for us to start something...in other words to create the programs...I think it will be a very sad day if the only place a scientist can go for support is to the government."

We aggree with Dr. Masland and we believe The National Foundation - March of Dimes has always performed the functions he considers so important. The organization demonstrated this in the conquest of polio. It is now proving the point again in its fight against birth defects.

By focusing public attention on the incalculable human damage, physical and mental, being caused each year through the birth of a quartermillion children with birth defects, the March of Dimeshas brought about a resurgence of medical interest in a field once shrouded in superstition and bereft of hope.

It has established a nationwide network of 77 centers and clinics where teams of medical experts provide treatment which enables birth defect victims to lead useful lives, Contributions to the March of Dimes also help support medical-scientific research that has made significant progress in the detection and control of certain defects.

The local fund drive is underway. Join the march against birth defects.

Topic: School District Organization, just what is the various differences

This is another in a series of articles New Jersey now has 55 Chapter 6 districts. prepared by the New Jersey Federation of District Boards of Education on "What Do You Know About Your Schools?"

Do you live in a Chapter 6, Chapter 7 or Chapter 8 school district? You don't know? Don't be too embarrassed; neither, according to a recent survey, do another 50 per cent of your fellow citizens.

Actually, there are four types of school districts in New Jersey. They are known as Chapter 6, 7, 8 or 15 according to the chapter of the New Jersey Education Code in which they are described.

Generally speaking, most large cities are organized under Chapter 6; towns, townships and boroughs fall into the Chapter 7 cate-gory; regional school districts are governed by Chapter 8, and special education setups such as county vocational schools and adult evening schools, come under Chapter 15. What are the differences between the various districts? There are two outstanding differences between Chapter 6 and Chapter districts. In Chapter 6 districts school board members are appointed, not elected, and the school budget is determined by a board of school estimate, not by the voters. In Chapter 7 districts board members are elected by the citizens and citizens vote on the budget.

There are 467 Chapter 7 districts in the State.

Chapter 8, or regional districts, are districts where two or more school districts have combined to provide better school facilities than they could provide singly. Chapter 8 districts also elect their school board members and vote on the budget. The State has 56 Chapter 8 districts. Chapter 15 districts, as previously mentioned, are_organized to serve special educational purposes. County vocational school districts, for example, fall into this category. The State now has 15 county vocational school districts.

It might be well to point out here that although a school district may have the same boundaries as a city or town, or several cities or towns, it is a completely separate and independent legal body, and is not subject to the control or supervision of the municipality or municipalities in which it is lo-

And don't forget - if you live in a Chapter 7 or Chapter 8 sehool district you have the privilege and the responsibility of choosing your board members and you can have a say on the budget, If you fail to exercise this privilege, don't complain about the way your schools are run.

RECOMMENDS REFORMS IN WORLD'S BIGGEST BUDGET

As taxpayers face the annual deluge of demands centained in new budgets for school, municipal, county and state governments, an appeal for a "return to old-fashioned fiscal responsibility." provides timely advice for the architects of the World's biggest spending program - the hundred billion dollar, plus, Federal Government budget now in preparation at Washington. This was pointed out today by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association in citing the call for reforms in the Federal budget document to regain spending control sounded by Maurice H. Stans at the recent 18th National Tax Conference sponsored by The Tax Foundation. The former Federal budget director indicted "accounting inconsistencies," "misleading totals" and "gimmicks" which make the Federal budget "seem less spendthrift than

Stans urged restoration of "the somewhat tarnished reputation of the budget," declaring:
"After all, the budget of the United States is a document of vital significance to every-one in the nation, it affects every citizen's well being, his environment, and his taxes. It is used by economists to project the direc-tion of the economy and to evaluate the soundness of national fiscal and monetary policy. It is studied by foreign nations who judge from it our strength of character and our power to meet international monetary and military situations.

"For these reasons, the Federal budget must be impeccably sound in its accounting principles and beyond reproach in its integrity, Accordingly, I believe the President sh appoint a high quality, non-partisan Commission for Budget Reform to conduct a detailed study of budget accounting policies and applications, and to make recommen-dations for improvement.

"Such a commission of private experts could make an inestimable contribution to public understanding of government finances by laying down guidelines for the classification and presentation of budget data and for inclusion of additional important data,

"This is no time for half-way measures is we are to regain control of government property have been rising by more than $50 million a year, says NJEA. This year, the increase was only $10 million -- a 1.5 percent increase. The national average was 6.2 percent, according to figures compiled by the National Education Association.

Until now, an outdated State-school-aid for-mula forced the local taxpayer to pay most of these increases. However, a new formula and other technical changes this school year gave New Jersey districts $128 million more in State aid than they received last year. In addition, federal school-aid funds have increased by $8 million.

Despite the reduced tax pressure on local property, total public school expenditures in New Jersey exceeded $1 billion for the first time, climbing to $1,094 billion from last year's $984.5 million.

A new influence just beginning to increase annual public-school spending in New Jersey is the cost of running county colleges. Four of these schools opened in September, and expenditures for such services as county colleges and adult education rose this year by $5 million. At 1.33 million, pupil enrollment in New Jersey 18 up 3.1 percent. New Jersey's total number of public-school classroom teachers is about 59,000, up 5.5 percent -- 3,051 more teachers for 39,629 added pupils.

Nationally, the estimated cost of public education this year is about $27 billion, an increase of 9.3 percent; school enrollment has passed 42.9 million, up a million from 1965-66; and the number of classroom teachers has reached 1.8 million.

The national trend toward a greater proportion of male teachers continued this year. Men now make up 32 percent of the total American teaching force. In New Jersey, the proportion of men teachers remained at 35

School costs have been rising since enrollments began a steady climb after the end of World War II. More buildings and classrooms were needed to house school children and more teachers, equipment and materials to instruct them. Three other factors have helped push school costs steadily upward: public demand for educational improvement after Russia launched its first Sputnik in 1957; efforts to provide greater educational opportunity to deprived children, especially in the big cities; and general inflation.

Rinaldo named chairman of Heart Fund campaign

Appointment of Matthew J. Rinaldo of 142 Headley ter., Union, as chairman of the 1967 Heart Fund campaign in Union County was announced this week by Dr. Harold Wasserman of Westfield, president of the Union County Heart Association. The campaign will be conducted throughout February in the 21 Union County communities.

The Heart Fund drive will reach its high point Feb. 26 when Heart Sunday volunteers in all residential areas will visit their neighbors to deliver educational information on how to reduce the risk of heart attacks and to receive Heart Fund contributions.

There can be no doubt that diseases of the heart and circulatory system, accounting for about 54 percent of all deaths, consti-tute our nation's foremost health problem," Rinaldo stated, "Apart from this, the latest statistics show that 14,600,000 persons suffer from heart disease. Another 13,000,000 are suspected to have some form of heart disease. An additional 6,900,000 persons suffer from

Trailside to show film on universe

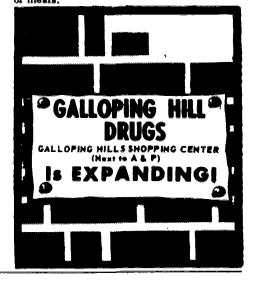

"Universe" a color, sound film will be shown at The Union County Park Commis-sion's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchun, Reservation, on Sunday at 3

The film takes the viewer on a tour of the universe with Dr. Donald Dunlap as narrator. The moon, nearby planets, the rings of Saturn, and the world of galaxies are shown. The film is a simple presentation of the structure of the Universe, giving impressions of the immensity of time and space, with discussions by the narrator, a spokesman said.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, Jan. 19, at 4 p.m. each day, Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic selected for the four days is "Frogs, Toads, and Salamanders." The lectures will be illustrated with color slides.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, view the thousands of indoor exhibits, and posterious in the acceptable. and participate in the scheduled programs.

Practical nurses offered opportunity in U.S. Army

The United States Army now offers men and women who are licensed practical nurses an opportunity to enlist in the Army as practical nurses, by Sgt, Chester G. Rice, local Army recruiter, said this

This guarantee program of-fers the qualified individual an opportunity to practice nursing in some of the most modern medical facilities in the world, he said.

Those who qualify and enlist for this program, Sgt. Rice pointed out, will complete eight weeks of basic training. Female applicants will attend the Women's Army Corps Center at Fort McClellan, Al-abama, Male applicants will attend basic at an Army post, dependent on their place of en-

Sgt. Rice said that upon successful completion of basic training, applicants will attend a 10-week technical training course for medical corpsmen at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

SAVE UP TO 22%

of this training the licensed practical nurse will be assigned duties with the Army in one of many medical facilities in the United States or worldwide, he said.

In outlining requirements for this program, Sgt. Rice stated that applicants must be graduates of a state-approved one-year course in practical nursing, be between 17 and 34 years of age (females - 18 through 34), currently hcensed as practical nurses, citizens of the United States or aliens who have been admitted to the United States for per hanent residence, meet physical fitness standards and other qualifications required by Department of the Army, and possess high moral and personnel qualifications. Female applicants must be single with no dependents under 18 years of age. Non-prior service males may have one dependent.

Further information and application forms are available from Sgt. Rice, whose office is located in Room 203, 9 Caldwell pl., Elizabeth.

Meeting set at Trailside

The Trailside Mineral Club will hold its first meeting of the current year tonight at 8 in the auditorium of The Union County Park Commis-sion's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation.

The speaker for the evening will be Miss Edna Doughty, of Westfield, who will speak on ''Cinnabar Mining in the Big Bend Country. Doughty, whose special field of interest is nature study, Jersey and New York school systems, and was a principal in the New York City school system for several years. She is a graduate of Trenton Normal College (now Trenton State) and did graduate work at Fordham, Columbia and Rutgers Universities. The Trailside Mineral Club offers the mineral hobbyist fellowship with others having similar interests and provides opportunities to attend and participate in educational programs on mineralogy, geol-ogy, lapidary work, and related subjects, and to go on field trips to various collecting areas. Recently, trips were made by club members to the Kibblehouse quarry and the Wheatley mine in Pennsylvania. The public has been invited to this and subsequent meetings of the Trailside Mineral Club. Regular meetings are held on the second Thursday of every month.

Warns on 'breath of death' in homes; gives precautions

Carbon monoxide, the "breath of death," is not found only in the exhaust fumes of automobiles and trucks. It is present wherever fuel is burned indoors or out - in charcoal hibachi grills, fireplaces, gas ranges or refrigerators, appliances and incinerators. And it kills more than 1,000 people in the United States and Canada each year, Charles F. Dotto, Mountainside's liealth officer, warned this

Two causes are necessary to create poisoning; improper burning of fuel and insufficient ventilation. If one happens without the other, the victim may escape death. When both happen together, he's trapped, Dotto cautions.

Some victims die quickly and some die slowly. Persons who have frequent headaches and dizziness or whose vision is affected or who feel tired and sleepy and unable to focus their attention on anything may be suffering from mild cases of carbon monoxide poisoning. The victim is not aware he is being poisoned unless he's alert to these symptoms.

How does carbon monoxide kill? When the gas from burning substances is inhaled and combined with hemoglobin in the blood, it forms carboxyhemoglobin. Instead of delivering oxygen to the body's cells, the blood distributes this toxic substance. The degree of poisoning is measured in terms of blood saturation - 70 to 80% being lethal.

Dotto supplied the following simple precautions homeowners can take against carbon monoxide poisoning.

1. Be sure the draft is adequate when using a

2. Have gas refrigerators and stoves serviced and checked at least once yearly.

ing in autos include:

1. Have the exhaust system checked at least once a year, or oftener.

2. Never sit in a parked car with the motor running.

3. Don:t run the automobile engine in a garage even if the door is open.

4. If you back into a snowdrift, move away and get out of the car to make sure the tail-

Poisoning by carbon monoxide, the invisible killer, can be prevented if proper measures are taken. Prevention can save you and your family the tragedy of needless illness and death, Dotto concluded.

3. Have your furnace checked once a year. 4. Make sure all gas appliances are vented

6. If you're using a hibachi grill, place it within the fireplace or near an open window. Running an automobile in a closed garage causes carbon monoxide to build up. Many drivers fall asleep at the wheel or hit something because they are befuddled by the inhalation or relatively low concentrations of carbon monoxide. The concentration of carbon monoxide can build up even though a car is moving. Exhaust fumes can seep into a car through small holes or cracks in the firewall and up through the floor from a damaged

While not revealing the total figures, Dr. Langheinz stated that extra money has been included in the 1967 budget request to cover the cost of a study of homes not connected to the sanitary sewers. Despite this extra cost, a non-recurring one, the 1967 budget will be slightly lower than 1966, the board president inicated. Dr. Langheinz also reviewed the board's progress on the updating of the sanitary code and the plumbing code, a portion of the codification program of all borough ordinances now being carried out. He also referred to the rodent problem which continues to exist because of rubbish accumulations on private property and feeding of birds and dogs. He stated that the educational program on this problem will be continued by the board, its health officer and the exterminator but cited the difficulties caused by citizens who do not recognize that "they are themselves partly responsible for the problem.

The board president expressed himself as well satisfied with the change in the public health nurse program in 1965. Because of increased fees, the board discontinued the services of the District Nursing Association as of June 30, 1965. A qualified public health nurse was hired as of July 1, 1965.

'All borough health services were uninterupted by this change and continued in a most satisfactory manner. This new program has proven itself very gratifying, as the board now has complete control and records and receives a monthly report from the nurse," Dr. Langheinz stated.

Anticipation notes to be issued soon for school addition

A resolution authorizing the issuance of bond anticipation notes for the construction of the addition to Deerfield School was anproved Tuesday night by Mountainside's Board of Education. The notes can be issued up to the amount of $845,000, the figure approved by the voters last October, at a rate not to exceed six percent per year. They will become due within a year.

The resolution, prepared by the board's attorney, Charles Jerome, allows the issuance of the total amount at one time or in varying amounts at different times as required to carry out the construction program.

It was brought out during board discussion that, although the resolution allows a maximum of six percent interest, the board has been assured by a local banking institution that the interest rate will be set at fourand-one-quarter percent.

The issuance of the anticipation notes is in line with the board's previously announced plan of securing short-term financing for the work until the bond market becomes more favorable.

Bids for the construction will probably be accepted in late April or May, after the State Board of Education has approved the final plans and specifications of Elsasser and Miller, the Union architectural firm which designed the addition. According to a previously announced timetable, work will start sometime proving successful. Students are averaging 10 words a minute after 13 weeks of limited instruction and the quicker students are up to 20 words, he said.

The typing course, according to previously announced plans, will be switched to fifth graders around March 1.

Enrollment figures in the school are currently at 1325, 616 in Deerfield, 453 in Beechwood and 256 in Echobrook. In addition the school system in conducting classes for an average of 15 children in the Children's Specialized Hospital.

THE BOARD PRESIDENT, Robert Britton, called the board's attention to an award made to Dr. Hanigan by the State PTA citing him for his superior service to education in six areas, particularly school libraries, remedial reading programs and the transitional class in Beechwood School. Britton called for a resolution commending Dr. Hanigan for his outstanding service to the borough schools. It was approved unanimously.

Another board member, Mrs. Mary K. Rosenquest, called attention to an article by Dr. Hanigan which appears in the current issue of the State PTA bulletin. The article, entitled "A Bouquet for PTA," praises the local PTA for the strong support given to the school administration's programs, particularly the school libraries.

Tom had been trying to figure out a way to adapt standard telephone equipment for use by one of his customers; Jim Miller, a paralyzed veteran confined to bed and only able to move a portion of his thumb. The telephone engineer found the answer when he stepped on a floor mat that automatically opens super market doors.

Maule figured that if he could set up a similar device—but one requiring only a few ounces of pressure—he would be able to help Jim Miller. After locating the manufacturer of automatic door openers, Tom learned that he could obtain a ribbon-like switch that operated on the same principles, but required only 8 ounces of pressure.

With the ribbon-switch attached to a Bell "hands-free" Speakphone that permits conversation without lifting a receiver, Jim Miller is now able to use his telephone as easily as Tom Maule is a member of New Jersey Bell's engineering

Celebrates Its Tenth Anniversary

Just a decade ago . . . The Manor began with one dining room and two small banquet rooms. Over the past ten years, The Manor has grown into a gracious Georgian Colonial mansion with many distinctive ballrooms for daily dining and private parties. Created in the image of a famous Southern plantation, surrounded by acres of formal gardens, The Manor reflects the "return to elegance" era of our colonial heritage when gracious dining was an art. The Manor offers the ultimate in cuisine, decor and service for guests enjoyment and dining pleasure.

The Manor Room - Candlelight Buffet - Thurs. and Sun. The Terrace Lounge — Cocktails, Luncheon, Dinner - daily — Dancing - Wed. thru Sun. evenings Adventures in Dining -- Continental-American cuisine -- Mon. thru Sun.

Prospect Avenue, West Orange, N. J. - 731-2360

The Manor — where Gracious Dining has become Tradition

The publicity committee of the Union County Home Economics Extension Service and County Home economist Mabel G. Stolte will conduct a program from 1 to 2:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 19, in the Elizabethtown Gas Co. auditorium, I Elizabethtown Plaza (West st. near Broad st.) for publicity chairmen of local organizations. The program will be held to aid publicity chairmen in preparing their news

A panel discussion will highlight the program and will attempt to offer a better understanding between organizations and local newspapers. Russell Stanton, associate director of Agricultural Communications, Rutgers University, will serve as panel moderator.

Members of the panel representing their various newspapers will be Miss Bea Smith, social editor, representing the Suburban Publishing Co.; Miss Jean Rae Turner, Daily Journal; Stewart Smith, Courier News; and James Nolan, Newark Star Ledger,

A question and answer period will conclude the program.

All women's organizations within the county are requested to send representatives. A special invitation has been offered by Mrs. Robert Coulter of Roselle Park, publicity committee

This program is designed to start a trend toward improved relations between editors and publicity chairmen.

A business center for homemakers will save energy

Comments such as "I can't find a piece of paper!" or "Who saw the bill for our elec-tric mixer?", are heard around many homes at one time or another. To help reduce the number of times this happens, one of every homemaker's New Year's resolutions should be to create a business center in her home, says Mabel G. Stolte, County Home Economist, "Homemaking," is often carried on with the fewest number of business methods employed. The top drawer, a cookie jar, or the space behind the clock, is often the file for many precious business letters and guarantees. Keeping records and writing letters can be made much less of a chore when records, supplies, and a writing surface are conveniently located.

If space permits, a standard desk is the best arrangement. If more than one person uses the desk, it is wise to divide the space for the use of each person.

Simplify storage space by organizing the drawer space.

A few pigeonholes for various papers and supplies help too. If pigeonholes are lacking, divide the space within a drawer or two. Wooden divisions, pieces of cardboard or highsided boxes are excellent.

One small compartment usually can serve for unpaid bills, another for unanswered letters and still another for stationery, Check books and an account book may be pigeonholed too. Use small boxes in drawers to separate pens, pencils, paper clips, elas-tics, and other small equipment.

If a standard desk is not available or you don't have the storage space for a desk, your attic or a second hand store may yield a table or an old wash stand you could convert. Try hanging shelves above the writing surface to add to the convenience. Book space and 'pigeonholes' can also be added easily to hanging shelves.

Remember, whatever space you set aside and organize for your business center, it will be time and space well used. It will your bookkeeping less of a chore than you'd ever dreamed possible.

Lady Leatherneck starts boot training The U.S. Marine Corps recruiting office in

Elizabeth has announced the enlistment of Dorothy Gay Elliott, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy C. Barkalow of 16 Caldwell pl., Springfield. According to Sgt. Lynne Rutter, Miss Elliott has elected a four-year enlistment, and desires to work in the data processing field. She recently completed a course at the Automation Institute in Newark. A 1966 graduate

Elliott was active in sports and played on the girls' basketball team. Pvt. Elliott was sworn into the Marine Corps at a ceremony at the Armed Forces Examining Station in Newark on Dec. 28, and departed for recruit training at Parris Island,

S.C., the same day by plane.

of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Miss

Upon completion of her training at Parris Island, the new Marine will report to one of the many Marine Corps bases in the California area. A voice in selection of the area of duty upon completion of boot training is available to all Women Marines prior to their enlist-

Casting scheduled for temple's revue

Casting for the musical revue to be presented this spring at Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, will take place Tuesday evening and next Thursday evening at 8:30 in the temple social hall. Shelley Wolfe, producer for the show, appealed particularly for temple men to take part in the stage crew.

The director is Mrs. Evelyn Orbach, noted for her work at the Newark YMHA. She asked that all temple members trying out for singing parts bring their own sheet music for the auditions.

Mrs. Orbach also declared that any temple member who tries out for show will be given a part, large or small. She added, "Anyone who has ever wanted to be on the stage is urged to show up on either one of these nights." Mrs. Dene Gross of Union will be in charge of choreography for the show,

54 acres of Summit land transferred to Passaic River county park project called a "major step forward" toward the final realization of the Passaic River Park project at a special meeting Monday. The Park Commission completed the necessary arrangements to accept the transfer from the City of Summit of approximately 54 acres of municipally-owned lands to be included in the Passaic River County Park project.

Loizeaux praised the "courage, wisdom and foresight" of the Summit officials == the mayor and the members of City Council -- in taking this action, "It now puts the trusteeship of these lands forever in the hands of a commis-Sion whose sole purpose is to maintain and conserve open spaces for the future enjoyment and Valley Freservation Council, recreation of the citizens of Summit and the County of Union," he said,

Summit and the acceptance by the park commis-sion, Torzeaux, said is the "end of a dream of the city fathers of Sument" which started 38 years ago when Olmstee Bretter, I and cape Architects of Brookline, Massa, were retained by the city to develop a tentative plan for a park along the Passaic River, As a result of the Olmsted study the city began to acquire lands along the river to be used eventually for a park project, Over the year chie city acquired several parcels of rivertront land,

Under the terms of State's Green Acres Act of 1961, the Commission is being reimbursed up to 50 percent of the cost of the land acquisition, and is receiving up to 20 percent of the ost from the federal government under Title VII of the Housing Act of 1961. The park commission is hopeful that it may not have to use any further tax funds from the county for the land acquisition program.

Loizeaux stressed the fact that no sharing by the state or federal governments is made in appraisal and legal costs of land acquisition, all of which has come from Commission funds,

The cost of the land acquired to date has amounted to $1,112,359, which includes 52 parcels of land totaling 133.2 acres from private owners in Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights. To date $569,111.30 has been reimbursed by state and federal agencies and applications for additional reimbursements are now pending with these agencies.
