Girl Scout troops join tomorrow to open cookie sale

It's cookie time in Mountainside as Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts from seven local troops open the 1967 Washington Rock Girl Scout Council cookie sale here tomorrow.

Girl Scouts conduct this annual sale to provide revenue to maintain and further develop the three council-owned campsites and to provide services to local troops.

Major redevelopment of Camp Sinawik in Green Brook and Camp Blue Heron at Sparta has begun this month and will be completed for troop camping in April, Mrs. George S. Dunham, council president, stated.

"Camp Blue Heron will be fully equipped for cabin, round-up tent and primitive camping and, next summer, opened for the first time as an established troop camping site with a director and staff," Mrs. Dunham continued. Two trailers, each equipped for 32 girls, will be kept on the site and available to troops for camping trips.

At Sinawik, a new unit is being developed and will be equipped with new tents, equipment shelter and wash house. The present units are being renovated. A new sailboat will be purchased for Camp Lou Henry Hoover in Middleville.

Council camp sites are open the year around and always filled to capacity, according to Mrs. Alfred Hofsaess, Mountainside Girl Scout Community Association chairman. "We are very happy that cookie receipts can make these added facilities available to the girls," she said.

The cookie sale will continue to Feb. 4. This year, Girl Scouts will be selling directly door-to-door instead of by advanced orders. Cookies will again sell for 50¢ a box, with the Council and troops retaining a major portion of the sale price.

As an extra bonus, a sheet of recipes for desserts, using the Girl Scout cookies, will be tucked in each box.

Homes blacked out as car topples pole

Homes in the Central ave. and Hedge row area of Mountainside were blacked out for a few hours early last Saturday morning when a car driven by Abbet Frost of 374 Old Tote rd, hit a utility pole at that intersection.

The pole was snapped in half by the impact which occurred shortly after 2 a.m. Utility crews were on the scene quickly and power was restored before dawn.

The driver was not injured. No summons was issued, the police said.

Livingston students appear in television show Friday

Students of Governor Livingston Regional High School will be featured on television in a show produced by the New Jersey Education Association in cooperation with the public affairs department of WOR-TV entitled "How Much Homework?"

One of N.J.E.A.'s new television series, "For Parents Only," it can be seen on Channel 9 tomorrow at 9 a.m. According to William Hayward, producer, director and host for the series, N.J.E.A. is attempting to interpret various phases of the public school program for the parents.

"We use as little pre-planning as possible in these programs," Hayward said, "We try to keep the situations as natural as possible."

He explained that the portion featuring Governor Livingston is the second half of a program showing to place of homework in the school life of a child. The first half was filmed at an elementary school in Hillside. Two representative students, Don Hoyer who is following a college preparatory program, and Terry Di Palma, who is in business education, will be followed through a typical

Award drainage work; job to be finished in July

A contract for the storm drainage work in the Summit rd., Darby lane area was awarded Tuesday night by the Borough Council to Kenneth Brennan and Son of Warren Township. Brennan's bid of $92,015.25 was the lowest of those submitted by 15 contractors last month.

The specifications, prepared by Elston Killam Associates, consulting engineers of Millburn, call for completion of the work within six months after the contract is awarded. Remarking on the favorable figure which Brennan is charging for the project, Councilman Robert Ruggiero commented that the delay in initiating the new storm drainage system in the east end of town has "resulted in a substantial savings (for the borough)," a savings which he attributed to "good planning."

Last November the Council authorized the School candidates meet next week at Beechwood forum

The three candidates for the two open seats on Mountainside's Board of Education will have their first and only public confrontation next Thursday night at an open forum sponsored by the borough's Parent-Teachers Association. The program will open at 8 o'clock in the all-purpose room of Beechwood School.

The three, Richard Krebs, an incumbent, Abe Suckno and Anthony Genovese, will be allotted five minutes each to give a resume of their educational and professional backgrounds and to explain their reasons for seeking positions on the school board.

A question and answer period will follow. Donald Peterson, 221 Evergreen ct. will serve as moderator.

The forum was arranged by the PTA president, Mrs. John Hechtle, and the program chairman, John Miller, after Genovese filed as a candidate on Jan. 5, the deadline date.

Traditionally the PTA sponsors a forum for the school board aspirants every year if there is a contest. Suckno and Krebs had both filed before mid-December until Genovese's surprise entrance into the race at the last minute, it was assumed there would be no contest, hence no forum.

All borough residents have been urged to attend the session to meet the candidates who will be seeking their votes in the Feb. 14 election.

school day in which the camera will pick them up with their classmates receiving a typical assignment for the day.

After we have seen the homework pile up in quick shots, we will see our two students as they board the bus for home," Hayward explained. "There we will discuss with them their attitudes about homework."

Later the teachers responsible for the assignments will discuss their philosophies on homework in a round-table presentation. Clifton Robinson and Mrs. Diane de Celis will represent the English department; Mrs. Ruth Perry and Mr. Jack Powell, business education subjects; Miss Mary Grace Grall and Thomas Rosamilla, math; and Jan Lucas, science.

To represent a third point of view, a group of parents will review the film. Their discussion will become part of the T.V. program.

Arrangements for the filming and the scheduling was accomplished under the direction of Frederick Aho, school principal, with the help of vice-principal, Peter Festante.

Modern bath house slated to be built adjacent to pool

Hearing set Tuesday on new budget '67-68 school budget gets airing at Deerfield

A public hearing will be held next Tuesday on a record school budget of $1,159,842 1967-68 which goes to the voters for approval on Feb. 14. The hearing is scheduled to open at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School.

The proposed budget, which was adopted by the Board of Education at its January meeting, is about $76,000 higher than the current year and represents an increase of 7.05 percent.

The total budget includes $1,005,445 for current expenses, up $74,347; $18,400 for capital outlay, up $5,350, and $135,997 for debt service, down $2,921.

The estimated amount to be raised by local taxation is $981,181, a total increase of $83,279 or about 8 1/2 percent over the current tax levy. This includes $840,617 under current expenses; $17,400 under capital outlay and $123,164 for debt service. The first two items are increased a total of $91,085 while the debt service tax share, which is not voted upon by the residents, is down $7,906.

THE DEBT SERVICE decrease is caused by retirement of previous bond issues.

The total figure does not include the $845,000 bonds for the addition to Deerfield School. At its January meeting the board approved a resolution authorizing the issuance of bond anticipation notes, at an interest rate not to exceed 6 percent, for the new construction which was approved by the voters last October.

A decrease of $4,400 from this year's figures is shown in rent, for the board's offices on Rt. 22, tuition for children enrolled in special classes outside the borough and architect's fees.

The major item contributing to the budget increase is an $80,000 hike in teachers' salaries to a total figure of $665,130 as compared to $594,170 for this year. Increases are also shown in administrative salaries, pension and insurance costs, transportation and a fire detection system required by state law for Echobrook School.

The board president, Robert Britton, the secretary, John McDonough, the School Superintendent, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, and the other six members of the school body will be at the hearing to answer questions from the audience.

Letters are being sent out this week to all the voters in the borough inviting them to attend the hearing.

The proposed budget has been reviewed with the Borough Council and been approved by Dr. William H. West, Union County Superintendent of Schools.

SIDNEY MELE

Library board re-elects Mele; names officers

Sidney Mele was re-elected president of the Library Trustees at Monday night's meeting. Harry Devlin, who was re-appointed Jan. 2 to five-year term on the board, was re-elected vice-president.

Mrs. Emma Weber, who has served on the library board since it was first organized on a volunteer basis, switched jobs with Mrs. William Johnson, who was named a trustee last year. Mrs. Weber, long-time secretary, has assumed the duties of treasurer and Mrs. Johnson, who held that post last year, will take over the secretarial role.

The president reappointed Gene Simpson and Devlin to the library redevelopment committee. The school superintendent, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, heads the book committee. Mrs. Weber is finance chairman. Simpson heads the house committee and Mrs. Johnson is publicity chairman.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. serves as the Borough Council's representative to the library board.

THE LIBRARY DIRECTOR, Mrs. Emily Hoffarth, Mrs. Johnson and Devlin, who are serving on a special committee to select furnishings for the new library building, reported that they have been meeting with representatives of supply companies. The three have also visited many libraries in the area in an attempt to determine the furnishings and equipment needed for the new building.

Ground preparation work is proceeding rapidly on the site near the northeast corner of the intersection of New Providence rd. and Rt. 22. The building schedule, which calls for completion in time for the opening of the new library by September of this year, still holds.

A TOTAL OF 47,823 books was circulated during 1966, Mrs. Hoffarth reported, and 511 new members were registered, bringing the

Resigns from post on planning board

Roland Schiefelbein of 309 Garrett rd, has resigned from his seat on Mountainside's Planning Board. Schiefelbein, who was appointed to the board in July, 1965, as a replacement for Walter Rice, is moving from the borough because of a transfer in work, according to the former board chairman, Robert Garrett.

Schiefelbein's resignation was announced at Monday night at the board's re-organizational meeting.

John Dyer, senior member of the planners, was elected to succeed Garrett as chairman for the coming year. Garrett takes over Dyer's former post as secretary. Garrett was also named chairman of the zoning ordinance committee.

The board's new member, Walter Averick, was sworn in. Averick was appointed to the planners on Jan. 2. His resignation was postponed until its next scheduled meeting on Jan. 30.

1,000 Scouts attend Derby; Westfield Twig Patrol wins

Despite a light drizzle and "non-Alaskan" weather, with temperatures hovering near 50 degrees, almost 1,000 Boy Scouts gathered in Watchung Reservation, Mountainside, last Saturday for the annual "Klondike Derby."

Members of Mountainside's troops were among those who participated in the day-long competitions.

Winners in the competitions, which were held in various Scouting skills under adult supervision, were judged on the basis of the number of "gold nuggets" collected in the contests and the length of time recorded for each event.

Overall winner was the Twig Patrol, sponsored by the PTA of Benjamin Franklin School, Westfield, who amassed 318 points, outscoring

Borough to take bids Thursday

1-story building includes sun deck, other facilities

Bids will be accepted next Thursday night for the construction of a permanent bath house for Mountainside's municipal pool. The bids, which are divided into three areas—general construction, plumbing and electrical work—will be received by Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. and the Borough Council at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The plans call for the construction of a one-story building, approximately 30 by 74 feet, with a sun deck on the roof, the installation of a concrete deck around the wading pool and reaching to the main pool, and other supplementary work.

The building was designed by Eggers and Higgins, the New York architectural firm which designed the pool last year.

MAYOR WILHELMs indicated at Tuesday night's meeting of the Borough Council that bidding is expected to be brisk since several contracting firms have picked up the specifications, apparently planning to submit bids on the work.

Councilman Donald Robertson who heads the Recreation Commission, said after the meeting that lockers will be installed in the building. However, he indicated that they probably will not be assigned on a permanent basis to any family or individual members. Experience last summer showed that most pool members did not use the lockers but came to the pool in bathing attire, Robertson said.

A final decision on this and other matters relative to getting ready for the pool opening

President of UJC names local artist to college faculty

HARRY DEVLIN

The appointment of Harry Devlin of 443 Hillside ave., Mountainside, as an art lecturer at Union Junior College was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, UJC president.

Devlin, a free lance artist, will teach an art appreciation course, starting on Feb. 6. "It's a great pleasure for me personally to welcome Mr. Devlin to our faculty as a lecturer in art," Dr. MacKay said. "He has not only assisted the college in cultural matters for many years, but he has long been a friend and supporter of Union Junior College. We welcome his astute appreciation of what is worthwhile and significant in these days of the artificial. It will be a rare privilege for our students to sit in the presence of one who is both a teacher and an artist."

Rep. Dwyer introduces 22 bills on opening day

WASHINGTON — Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-12th Dist.) introduced 22 bills at the opening session of the 90th Congress designed, she told the House, "to call immediate attention to several of the most pressing issues confronting the country."

Among other things, Mrs. Dwyer's bills would increase social security benefits, raise the limitation on earnings of social security beneficiaries, provide a tax credit for expenses of higher education, overcome job discrimination against older workers, improve the administration of federal programs in urban areas, and provide for sharing federal revenues with the states.

Her bills would also establish a commission to propose the reorganization of federal departments and agencies; create a special House "oversight" committee, headed by the minority, to assure better administration and enforcement of the laws when both Congress and the Presidency are controlled by the same political party; improve commuter transportation; establish a commission to study improved methods of systems management for the federal government, and provide tax relief for teachers who pursue their professional educations.

NOTING THAT SHE will devote greater attention to the individual bills in future House speeches, Congresswoman Dwyer said her purpose in introducing the legislation on the first day of the new session was "to focus attention on what I believe is the major challenge facing this Congress; to make the multitude of federal programs and the government itself serve the people of the United States more effectively."

She added: "We are investing billions of dollars in critically important efforts to improve the quality of life in America, but until we eliminate waste and duplication, provide for better coordination of existing programs, and achieve more efficient, economical and responsible administration within the executive branch, the people's needs will not be met and our investment will not produce the dividends our people have the right to expect."

"The 90th can be a history-making Congress if we measure up to these responsibilities. We may not, and perhaps should not, produce the volume of dramatic and flamboyant legislation enacted by the 89th Congress, but by enabling the cumbersome federal bureaucracy to respond more promptly and alertly to the real needs of our people we shall have earned the respect and gratitude of the Nation."

UJC students to assist cerebral palsy appeal

Seventy-five members of fraternities and sororities at Union Junior College have volunteered to participate in the annual Cerebral Palsy telethon by answering telephone calls on Jan. 28 and 29.

The telethon will be telecast by WOR-TV (Channel 9) from 10:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 28, to 6 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 29. Dennis James will be master of ceremonies, and Edie Gorme and Steve Lawrence will be hosts. The Union Junior College students will serve at the telethon headquarters in Newark.

HIS REASON

LONDON (UPI)—Song writer Geoff Stephens, who wrote the pop tune "Winchester Cathedral," gave a three-word explanation when he declined to make a donation to the real Winchester Cathedral fund: "I'm an agnostic."

PAPER SYMBOL—Three 18th century documents from Kenilworth Castle, England, are delivered to Mayor William J. Ahern Jr., right, of Kenilworth, N.J. as a symbol of friendship between the two communities. Julius A. Rippeil of Madison, a personal friend of Lord and Lady Cyril Kenilworth, makes the presentation.

Kenilworth to Kenilworth Old documents given to mayor

Three ancient parchment documents dating from the early 1700s found their way from Kenilworth Castle, England, to the mayor and council of Kenilworth, N.J., this week.

The historic papers were presented to Mayor William J. Ahern Jr. as a symbol of friendship between the two communities from Lord and Lady Cyril Kenilworth, descendants of the founders of Kenilworth Castle, built in 1150. Lord and Lady Kenilworth visited New Jersey in 1958.

To documents, which relate to financial transactions at the Castle in 1716, were given to Mayor Ahern by Julius A. Rippeil of Madison, a personal friend of Lord and Lady Kenilworth, Rippeil is also a director of the Elizabethtown Gas Co.

Mayor Ahern showed special interest in one of the documents which lists the sums of money to be paid to the Castle by the "freemen" of that time for the use of Castle land during 1716-1722. Mayor Ahern is also a Union County freemaker.

Lord and Lady Kenilworth now live on the Channel Islands, but have been active in the 700th anniversary celebration of the historic siege of Kenilworth Castle which was held last year.

Mayor Ahern said that arrangements will be made to put the documents on public display and that he will ask the council to pass a resolution of appreciation to be sent to Lord and Lady Kenilworth.

Scout groups plan service projects to mark Union Council anniversary

Service projects will be high on the list of activities for Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer posts in February as 220 Scout units celebrate the 57th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America in the Union Council.

Ell Levin, chairman of the council activities committee, explained that "a major objective of Scouting is citizenship training. One way of achieving this objective is through the project method in which Scouts actually learn about citizenship through practice and experiences." Levin pointed out that the "Good Turn" helps Scouts to demonstrate through activities and projects that they are prepared to help others as well as themselves.

Other activities for the anniversary month will include demonstrations and window displays, Uniform Day, programs for institutions that use the Scout program and for other community groups, the traditional Cub Scout blue and gold banquets, Boy Scout parents' nights and courts of honor for the presentation of advancement awards, special overnight camps and participation in religious services.

Many institutions that sponsor more than one Scout unit—for example, a Cub Scout pack, Boy Scout troop and Explorer post—will hold combined activities with the general theme "Scouting Rounds a Guy Out."

—Improve your self-image: Psychological research demonstrates that individuals generally accomplish only that which they first believe themselves capable of accomplishing. —Develop interest and enthusiasm: Another key quality apparently possessed in abundance by successful people — and in large measure responsible for their success — is that they are intensely interested in — and genuinely like — what they are doing. —Work hard: There is, contends the Institute, "absolutely no substitute" for this one.

How to succeed--with some trying

NEW YORK (UPI) — Why do some people become successful while others, with apparently equal ability, fail?

An organization which has made a six-year study of that question has come up with a formula of success for 1967, or any year.

First, plan the year carefully, says the New York office of Success Motivation Institute (SMI) of Waco, Tex. Findings indicate that most successful individuals plan and organize their activity toward specific objectives, writing down goals in black and white.

Other guidelines based on research, surveys and work with leading businesses, universities and educators, says SMI, are:

—Adopt a "positive attitude": Studies show that a personal characteristic common to successful men is that they concentrate on their strengths and assets, not their weaknesses and liabilities. They place greater emphasis on the opportunities inherent in each situ-

Boy Scouts launch program of world friendship for year

Members of the Boy Scouts of America in Eastern Union County will join millions of brother Scouts around the world in a year-long "World Friendship" program that is being launched this month.

As a part of the 60th anniversary of world scouting, local Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers are planning special activities that will be climaxed with "Friendship Campfires" and meetings during the week of Aug. 1 to 9 when the XII World Jamboree will be held at Farragut State Park, Idaho, according to William Longstreet Jr., member of the Council Activities Committee for special events. The theme "For Friendship" will be followed by the 2,000 Scouts in this area and will include correspondence, scrapbooks, tape exchanges, projects related to hiking and cooking skills from other countries, and participation in the World Friendship Fund of the Boy Scouts of America.

Henry J. Gruss, chairman of the Union Council World Jamboree Committee, said Union Council will be represented at the XII World Jamboree by seven Scouts—Stephen M. Dole, Donald B. Giegerich, Fred W. Hiers II of Cranford, Michael F. and William Moritz of Roselle Park, Charles Joseph of Linden and Daniel G. Olasin of Union.

Nearly every Scout unit in this area will carry out a world Scouting activity in connection with the 57th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America which will be celebrated from Feb. 7 to 13, Longstreet said.

Response ahead of '66 in alien report program

Dominick F. Rinaldi, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, this week said he is pleased with the response of aliens in this state to address report requirements. The program has been underway for 20 days and the number reporting thus far is well ahead of the number reporting for the same period last year.

Rinaldi reminded non-citizens who have not reported their address this year to do so within the next week. Alien address report forms are available at all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Scouts to promote history, first aid in program for month

"Highways to History" will be the American Heritage theme for Cub Scouts in January, while Boy Scouts will demonstrate and practice first aid as part of their theme "Helping Others."

The January program themes were announced today by Wellesley Siffer, Scout commissioner of the Union Council, Boy Scouts of America, which serves all of Eastern Union County.

"One of the purposes of the Cub Scout program," Siffer said, "is to broaden the horizons of our 3,769 Cub Scouts and give them a better understanding and greater love for their country."

The Cub Scout meetings during January will use skits, special activities and handicraft projects related to historic events in the development of the United States.

The 3,057 Boy Scouts in the Union Council will practice the first aid requirements that are required for the second class and first class ranks. The climax of the month's activities in each troop will be a first aid meet with Scouts preparing and staging realistic first aid problems, Siffer said.

The high-school-age Explorers in this area will select from several suggested activities for their meetings or their special monthly events. Suggested activities include an after-the-game party, a family camping demonstration and a co-ed winter carnival.

Scout units will also be putting the finishing touches on their plans for the observance of the 57th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, Siffer said.

UH?—It's not Silent Cal making an attempt at a political comeback. It's a study by United Advertising Corp. of Newark on what a vice president of the company called "awareness of outdoor advertising." A research company called 1,000 persons before the blue signs with orange lettering were put up in the Union-Essex-Middlesex-Somerset counties area to ask them if they knew who the 30th President was. After the signs had been up for a month, another 1,000 persons will be called and asked the same question, according to United Advertising.

State commission urges new Legislative Building

Citing the inadequate size and insufficient facilities of the present Legislative Wings of the State House, the State Capitol Development Commission this week recommended the construction of a new Legislative Building of 150,000 square feet.

The building, raised from ground level to provide parking for 150 cars, would be located on a site near Rt. 29 behind the State House and across from the War Memorial Building.

The Commission explained in its report that the present Legislative Chambers must be replaced because of "their inadequacy and absence of a sufficient number of committee rooms, telephone facilities, office space for members and staff and the inadequacy of gallery space and facilities for the press, radio and television."

The report also pointed out that the expanded membership of the Senate from 21 to 29 in 1966 "made the situation more critical" and that the "further expansion in 1968 of the Senate to 40 members and of the Assembly from 60 to 80 members will further compound the situation."

The Commission also reaffirmed its belief that "alterations to or expansion of existing space for long-term use to be impractical and unwise."

A new home for the Legislature, the Commission believes, "will serve the State well for many decades and provide an appropriate and important symbol of State Government, not only for the many visitors to the Legislature but to the passersby on the adjacent freeway and city streets."

Designed by Frank Grad & Sons, Newark architects and engineers, the new Legislative Building provides within one building four separate elements containing facilities for the operation of the State Legislature with expanded public areas. The arrangement of the 70,000 square foot horizontal element provides for efficient operation of the Chambers and convenience of members when the Legislature is in session. It contains the chamber floors, related private office areas, work-rooms, conference rooms and lunch rooms.

Rising from the open plaza atop the main element is a rectangular, five-story office building, and two conical elements which rise over the Senate and Assembly Chambers and are joined by a glass-walled public foyer. The foyer serves as a display and exhibit area and provides access to public galleries. The vertical office element contains committee rooms, office and desk space for members and is directly accessible to the public.

PROPOSED NEW CAPITOL—The New Legislative Buildings dominant in construction recommended by the State Capitol Development Commission. Visible from the Freeway and from State St., it would unite the complex of state buildings including the Capitol and Annex, to the north, the Cultural Center and Education Building, to the south, and (not seen) the John Fitch Way Development, to the east. The raised level of the Legislative Building and connecting State House Plaza would provide covered parking for 700 cars.

Announce openings in Newark office of Internal Revenue

Joseph M. Shotz, district director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey, announced this week that there are vacancies in his office for young college graduates with majors in accounting, business administration, finance, economics, law, public administration and related fields. Accountants start at salaries ranging from $6,650 to $9,221 per year while lawyers and majors in other fields start at $6,451 to $7,696 per year, depending on experience or college grades, he said.

Shotz said that immediate job openings for accountants are available in California and Virginia as well as in New Jersey.

Internal Revenue Agents utilize their accounting skills to examine and audit the accounting books and records of individuals, partnerships, fiduciaries and corporations and determine their correct Federal tax liabilities, he said.

Tax Technicians deal with taxpayers in both the office and by correspondence to identify and explain tax issues and determine correct tax liability. They represent the Service in consultations with all kinds of taxpayers or their representatives; businessmen, individual wage earners, attorneys, accountants, farmers and corporation executives, Shotz added.

Estate Tax Examiners, utilizing legal education and background, conduct field examinations to determine value, ownership and taxability of estates and make similar determinations in connection with tax laws on gifts.

Special Agents conduct investigations of alleged criminal violations of Federal tax laws, particularly those relating to income, wagering and gaming devices.

Revenue Officers work primarily with taxpayers outside the office. They call on taxpayers from all walks of life -- the individual wage earner, the small businessman, the executive of a large commercial enterprise, the professional man -- in an effort to resolve delinquencies, he said.

Applications may be filed in Room 542, 1060 Broad St., Newark. For further information, write to College Recruitment Coordinator, Internal Revenue Service, Post Office Box 1261, Newark, 07101, or telephone 201-645-3707 or 201-645-3725, Shotz said.

Colleges plan new programs to solve shortage of teachers

Public and private colleges in New Jersey will be implementing 21 new programs in teacher preparation to help solve the teacher shortage problem that was pointed up in a State Education Department study published in December.

The programs, authorized by the State Board of Education at its January meeting, cover a wide range of teaching categories.

To ease the critical shortage in school librarians, the Board has authorized major teacher-librarian programs in the state colleges at Trenton, Glassboro, Newark and Paterson. These schools already have minor programs in library science. The new program will strengthen the existing department and students will be recruited specifically for work in this field.

Other colleges which have agreed to recruit students for library work include Caldwell College for Women, College of St. Elizabeth and Montclair State College.

Graduate programs were also approved to ease the shortage in the area of student personnel services. These include guidance and school social work at Glassboro, Montclair, Newark, Paterson and Trenton State Colleges, and also at Seton Hall University.

Also authorized were graduate programs in school psychology at Glassboro and Montclair; graduate programs in outdoor education and conservation at Trenton, Glassboro and Montclair, and a graduate program for science teachers at Newark.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS DESIGNED to meet the need for elementary school teachers will be started at St. Peter's College and a program for health education teachers is planned at Trenton State College.

It is expected that the programs will be initiated this fall.

Representatives of the 20 colleges in the state that prepare teachers are conducting a series of meetings to discuss ways and means to meet the teacher shortage as outlined in the Education Department's study report. The report, "Imbalances in Teacher Supply in New Jersey," prepared by the department for the State Board of Education, contained long-range recommendations for solving the shortage problem over the next decade.

Issued last month, the report listed 15 categories of school personnel in critical shortage in New Jersey. These fields were: vocational teaching of all types, school psychology school librarian, teaching of the handicapped, reading specialists, industrial arts, home economics, school social work, elementary teaching particularly in the nursery, kindergarten and primary grades, women physical education teachers, science, mathematics, distributive education, guidance and school nursing.

The report also indicated severe shortages of teachers in the southern, central and northwestern portions of the state over the next 10 years unless additional college expansion takes place in those areas.

Openings reported in swim class at Y

The Five Points YMCA in Union this week reported that there still are openings in the winter swim series class which is held every Thursday afternoon for boys and girls in grade one through six.

"Y" officials reported that transportation is furnished to the Central Building from pick-up points throughout the community.

Persons interested in the program may call 687-5570 to obtain further information and to register.

State museum showing works by Arthur Frost

The New Jersey State Museum is featuring in its main galleries retrospective exhibition of works by Arthur Burdett Frost (1851-1928). The exhibition includes 53 paintings, 14 drawings and 22 prints. It will continue until March 12.

The Museum is open to the public Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 until 5 p.m. Admission is free.

Exams to be given for seasonal work in post office jobs

A nationwide competitive examination for temporary summer, Christmas and other seasonal employment has been scheduled for Feb. 25 and March 4, according to the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

The closing date for filing for the examination is Feb. 9, it was reported.

Persons who qualified in the 1966 seasonal assistant examination must file again for the 1967 examination but may compete for jobs on the basis of their 1966 scores without actually taking the test again.

Young people attending school away from home who want to apply for jobs in their home state may take the test at their temporary school locations.

Persons interested in the exams were urged to contact Michael Steffan, examiner in charge, at Room 18, Ellzabeth Post Office.

COLLEGE EXPERIENCE
NEW YORK (UPI) -- What should a student get out of college? Daniel Bell, professor of sociology at Columbia University, in "The Reforming of General Education," described the college experience this way:

"The college experience...should be the testing years -- the testing of one's self and one's values; the exploration of different fields before settling into a single one; and the experience of belonging to a common intellectual community in which diverse fields of knowledge are commingled."

762 Mountain Ave. Springfield

It may be less grand than most station wagons. But it's also about a grand less.

If you're looking for a miniature moving van, our Squareback Sedan isn't it. Even with its back seat folded down, it only holds half as much as the average station wagon.

Which means you can't lug 30 pieces of luggage. Or a full-sized double bed. But maybe you just need a car that can carry 15 valises. Or a full-sized single bed. Then you can save a lot of money with a Squareback Sedan. It costs only $2295*.

And it not only goes for less than most conventional wagons to begin with, it keeps on going for less. A Squareback travels about 27 miles on a gallon of gas. It takes 5 pints of oil instead of 5 quarts. It never needs an ounce of anti-freeze, because it's cooled by air. It should get a good 35,000 miles on a set of tires. And it avoids repair bills like a... well, like a Volkswagen.

So before you go out and buy some station wagon that has twice as much space as you really need, ask yourself this question: Will all that extra grandness be worth an extra grand?

Apothecary shop reborn

Restores 1890 drugstore

Even before the ice-cream soda was invented, the corner drugstore was a cozy place where small-town Americans could meet their friends, buy such social necessities as cigars and guitar picks, and stock up on pills and elixirs.

For two years now, Dr. John L. Voigt, director of the Rutgers Pharmacy Extension Service, has been helping to restore an 1890 pharmacy, hoping to create an authentic turn-of-the-century mood.

Dr. Voigt has been traveling from his office at the State University's Newark Campus to Smithville in South Jersey to help restore an apothecary at the historic Smithville Inn, a restaurant and tourist attraction. The apothecary, known as the Mortar and Pestle, is one of 29 buildings in a reconstructed village.

"By the time I arrived on the scene in 1965," Dr. Voigt said, "the apothecary shop had been moved to Smithville from nearby Manahawkin, and the shop's fixtures had come from Philadelphia. My job was to research the history of the building and to serve as a consultant in setting up the pharmacy.

"I traced the ownership of the store back to its original proprietor, John Lewis Lane, a native of Tuckerton and an 1888 graduate of Jefferson Medical College. A descendant of Dr. Lane's told us that the building still retains its original colored glass in the front windows," Dr. Voigt said.

"Unearthing the history of the pharmacy was not easy," he comments, "but I found that the one-floor building served as the 'polls' for the Stamford Township, as a U.S. post office and as a Girl Scout Headquarters between 1890 and its purchase by the Inn.

"My first step in checking the authenticity of the reconstruction we were planning," he said, "was to ask the guidance of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy. Dr. Ernest W. Stieb, its executive secretary, suggested that we follow the style of an 1890 apothecary, because it would be almost impossible to get older materials.

"The apothecary jars, bottles and fixtures in the restoration are of handblown glass, as they would have been around 1900. The back room of the apothecary was where the pharmacist and his apprentice compounded their prescriptions," Dr. Voigt notes, "so that's where we set up the bottles with the chemicals, tinctures, pills and elixirs they actually would have used.

"The pharmacy at Smithville also has the traditional glass case where sundries such as cigars, perfumes, cosmetics, violin and guitar strings and guitar picks were sold. The pharmacist carried these notions to serve his customers," he explained, "who otherwise would have had to get them in New York or Philadelphia."

Dr. Voigt says that the soda fountain was born when the pharmacist of the 1890's prepared bitter medicines to be taken in the store. He often provided effervescent water and sweet syrup to cover the taste, a practice which eventually led to the development of sodas.

Although the Mortar and Pestle does not have a soda fountain, Dr. Voigt hopes it will show the 20th century why their 19th century counterparts took such comfort from their community apothecary shops.

REMEMBRANCE OF DRUGSTORES PAST--A reconstruction of a 19th century apothecary shop has been created at the Smithville Inn in South Jersey, with the technical advice of Dr. John L. List benefits in handbook

The third edition of the "Social Security Handbook" containing current and detailed information on all social security programs, including health insurance for the aged (medicare), is now available.

First published in 1960, the "Handbook" is designed to provide a convenient, compact reference to the laws and regulations governing the Federal retirement, survivors, disability, and health insurance programs for persons who require more technical detail than is included in the public information pamphlets.

Lawyers, accountants, personnel managers, union officials, and representatives of various organizations have found this explanation, written in layman's language, valuable in informing clients and members on social security matters.

This latest edition is the first to include extensive changes made in the retirement, survivors, and disability insurance provisions of the social security law enacted in 1965. It also contains full information on the hospital insurance and medical insurance provisions of the medicare program. Each of the 709 district and branch social security offices will have copies of the "Handbook" available for public examination and reference. Copies of this third edition may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 at a cost of $1.50.

Physicians test X-Ray
substitute

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UPI) — Physicians at St. Joseph's Hospital at Albuquerque, N.M., are testing a $15,000 instrument that in the future could replace x-rays in pinpointing brain troubles, cancers and other internal obstructions.

The fully-transistorized instrument called a "transducer" recently was developed at Longmont, Colo. It acts like a radar, locating trouble spots in the body with ultra-sonic waves, according to Dr. James Galloway, head of the hospital's testing program.

In the past, the only way to track down and diagnose brain problems was by x-ray which was time consuming and could be dangerous, or by injecting air into the patient's skull which was extremely painful, Galloway said.

When the sound waves meet an obstruction in the brain or other parts of the body they register as a "mountain peak" on a screen tracing the waves, Galloway said. At other times the lines on the screen are straight, he added.

Galloway said the sound waves are sent from the right side of the patient's head, then the left side and then simultaneously in the case of suspected brain trouble. The waves are photographed by a machine as they are recorded on the screen.

"If a patient has been in an automobile accident, this machine can be taken to his bedside and we can find the blood clot in a matter of minutes," Galloway said.

The machine also can diagnose problems of the spleen, liver, pancreas and the fluid-filled organs such as the stomach as well as detect a cancerous lump on a woman's breast Galloway said.

By running the tiny transducer across a patient's stomach a resulting two dimension picture of an organ on the screen would show where and of what size any space-occupying lesion might be, Galloway said.

He said the University of Colorado currently is using the transducer to determine the number and position of unborn infants in pregnant women.

Lutheran schools enrollment higher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Student enrollments in Lutheran seminaries, colleges and high schools for the 1966-67 academic year stand at 99,768, an increase of 4,274 over the previous year, according to Dr. Gould Wickett, executive director of the National Lutheran Council Educational Conference.

Dr. Wickett emphasized a sharp reversal in a four-year decline in seminary enrollments. Statistics from 21 theological schools indicated a total of 4,145 students, an increase of 209.

Reduce time by starting filing system

Don't let yourself just stuff letters from friends, bills, recipes and checks all together in a drawer or a box, says Mabel G. Stolte, County Home economist. The sooner you start a filing system--the waste paper basket for answered letters and advertisements and an inexpensive cardboard file for papers you want to refer to again, the happier and more efficient you will be as a homemaker.

Many homemakers have found that the money or effort spent for a file of some kind has been a good investment. Your needs will determine whether you want a large or small variety. But make sure you use divisions, marked alphabetically, or otherwise.

Cardboard files have divisions from A to Z. It's a good idea to open papers flat before filing. Then locate them under a letter which is logical for you to remember and associate with the material.

Folders for files -- regardless of the kind of file you have, remember the system you use will make the difference between the time spent hunting and finding. Manila file folders and heavy dividers to mark your main divisions are a must in any size file.

Chaplain has new idea

CHAPT DIX, N.J.(UPI)--An Assemblies of God chaplain has found a way to beat the Sunday evening doldrums for men of the 5th Combat Support Training Brigade here. He is Lt. Col. Talmadge Ford McNabb, who conducts a special kind of chapel every Sunday with emphasis on informality and fun. Billed as "lots of singing, but no preaching," the service starts with prayer and a religious film, followed by group singing and refreshments.

MENTAL HEALTH

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) -- True mental health is an inherent vitality unfettered by destructive hostilities, rather than a mere absence of serious internal conflicts, Dr. Erle Fitz reported at a symposium sponsored by the American College of Neuropsychiatrists here. Dr. Fitz, chairman of the Des Moines, Iowa, College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery's psychiatry department, tagged flexibility and openness toward new experiences as a key to overall mental "wellness."
