A crowd of 350 spectators turned out for the opening of the program Sunday morning. Many left later in the day, however, when a downpour interrupted the AAU meet and forced officials to move the final event, the open diving, to the Westfield YMCA.

The New Jersey divers took first place in seven of the 10 events. Five points were scored for each first place, three for second, two for third and one for fourth. Mountainside's Rob Collins came in second in the boys' 15-17 year age group five required dives and five optional behind Don Mutz of Westfield. Warn Deerfield parents on construction situation

The 1967-68 school year will begin with a half day session next Wednesday for an estimated 1,327 Mountainside public school children--about the same number as the total enrolled at the end of the last school year.

Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, schools superintendent reported that first through eighth graders will attend classes from 9:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. on the first day of school. The schedule for the first day for kindergartners has been announced in letters to parents, he said. Pointing out that site clearance has been started for an addition to the Deerfield School Dr. Hanigan appealed to parents of youngsters attending that school "to have the children walk or if you take them by car, drop them off at the corner of Central avenue and School drive until construction problems are cleared up."

A crossing guard will be stationed at the intersection, which Dr. Hanigan said, is about 50 yards from the school.

The schools superintendent noted that heavy rains have plagued construction crews since earth moving began about four weeks ago. Caldwell Construction Co., general contractor for the 10-room addition, was about two weeks late in starting work at the Deerfield site "because the weather held them up on their previous job," Dr. Hanigan said.

MORE RAIN in the past few weeks has caused continued delays, he added. "Work on the foundations should have been started by now," Dr. Hanigan said. However, as a result of the weather, it is not expected to begin until the end of this week or sometime next week.

In preparation for the opening of the school year, Dr. Hanigan also announced the schedule for lunch periods starting next Thursday. At Beechwood and Echobrook, lunch periods will run from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and 12:25 to 1:10 p.m., at Deerfield, they will run from 11:40 a.m. to 12:25 p.m. and 12:25 to 1:10 p.m.

"All first and second graders at Deerfield are expected to go home for lunch," the schools superintendent said. "All other children at Beechwood, Echobrook and Deerfield who live within a half mile of their school also are expected to go home for lunch."

He reported that bus passes for children eligible for transportation have been mailed out and should arrive by tomorrow. He said information on bus routes and schedules is contained in letters accompanying the passes.

HE REPORTED one change in the school allocation policy announced last week for grammar school children.

Affected by the change is District 7. (For district lines, see map on page 3.) Kindergarten, first and second grade pupils will attend Deerfield. All third and fifth graders in the district will attend Echobrook. Fourth graders who live on an west of Central ave. from Wood Valley rd. south to Rt. 22 plus those who live on Blazo ter. Iris dr. and Corrinne ter. will go to Echobrook; other fourth graders will attend Beechwood.

Assignments for other districts are:

District 1: Students from kindergarten through fifth grade will attend Beechwood.

District 2: Kindergartners will attend Echobrook; first, second and third graders, Beechwood, and fourth and fifth graders, Echobrook.

District 3: Kindergartners will attend Echobrook; first, second and third graders, Beechwood and fourth and fifth graders, Echobrook.

District 4: Kindergartners through fifth graders will attend Beechwood.

District 5: Kindergartners through fifth graders will attend Beechwood.

District 6: Kindergartners will attend Echobrook and first through fifth graders, Beechwood.

All sixth, seventh and eighth grade students in the borough will attend Deerfield School.

Hearing to be held

ROB TUTHILL OF Tanglewood way, Mountainside, demonstrates the his family's "water-trotter," an unsinkable device which enables the rider to walk on water, even to ride the crest of the ocean waves.

High spot of picnic: Walking on water Tuthill family 'having a ball' with plastic bubble

Family picnics are fun--especially the ones the Roger Tuthills of Tanglewood way run. The Tuthills' backyard get-togethers offer a special treat--a walk on water.

Assorted nephews, nieces and other kin had that unique experience Sunday when the Tuthills interrupted the barbecue festivities to rundle their famous "water trotter," a huge 450-lb plastic bubble, to a nearby waterway so each of the guests could have a turn at riding the unique device.

The "water trotter," which looks something like a misplaced space capsule, is simple to manipulate and great fun. The rider enters through one of two cylindrical hatches on the giant bubble. (The hatches are not sealed since water cannot enter because of air pressure.) He sets it in motion by grasping two hand grips which are mounted on swivels and walking or trotting in position--"like a squirrel in a cage." As the bubble turns plastic paddles, mounted on the outside propel the "trotter." The faster the rider trots, the faster the odd craft goes.

Turning is simple. The rider just leans in the direction he wants to go. Quick reversals are made by the rider either turning around in the craft or by walking backward.

SUNDAY'S VISITORS "had a ball," the Tuthills report.

The ride to and from the waterway was almost as much fun as the ride, as the Tuthills discovered on previous excursions.

Other motorists gasp in astonishment. Many of them think the "bubble" is part of some secret government project. Others are convinced it's a UFO, (an unidentified flying object) which, for some strange reason, has taken to surface travel.

By way of explanation, the Tuthills have attached a huge sign to the trailer which tows the "water trotter" which states positively "not a flying saucer." But they have not as yet affixed any explanation as to what it is. "It's too much fun this way," Mrs. Tuthill explained.

The Tuthills have maneuvered their craft on the Delaware River, the Atlantic Ocean, via Long Island and New Jersey beaches, and other main waterways. Many of their water trotting outings are preceded by long discussions with local police, usually summoned by concerned citizens. Once the police are convinced the Tuthills are not a vanguard of a Martian invasion, they have to be also convinced that the trotter is seaworthy.

TUTHILL, AN ENGINEER and general manager of engineering equipment at Air Reduction Co. Inc. of Union, says it's "the world's safest vehicle for use on water." Made of a tough plastic material mounted on a frame of huge

Grubel to compete in national contest

Sy Grubel of Wyoming ave., Mountainside, has been invited to compete in the national championship tennis matches which open today at Forest Hill, Long Island, N.Y. Grubel, currently Union County singles champion for the men over 35, is among only 32 men in the country invited to play in that age division. The championship matches will continue through Sept. 10.

Grubel, who played on the Rutgers-Newark net team during college days, is ranked seventh in his division in the eastern region by the Lawn Tennis Association.

WHAT IS IT? Marine Patrolman George Koschker of Lebanon Township asked the usual question of Roger Tuthill when the Tuthills hauled their odd looking vehicle to Spruce Run recently. The question has become so standard that the owners attached the legend, "Not a flying saucer," to the trailer that carts the giant beach ball.

Four teenagers facing charges

Mountainside police last week picked up four teenagers whom they accused of going on a "shopping spree" with stolen credit cards.

Scheduled to appear before Magistrate Jacob Bauer last night were George K. Mazeika, 18, of 427 Coles ave., Mountainside, charged with possession of property under fraudulent means and break and entry, and Richard E. Whitcomb, 19, of 1607 Deer Path, Mountainside, charged with possession of property under fraudulent means.

Two 17-year-olds, one from Mountainside and one from Berkeley Heights, are being held for juvenile authorities on break and entry charges.

Police Chief Christian Fritz reported that the four youths were picked up Friday following a break-in at a Chapel Hill home the previous Wednesday. A quantity of jewelry and credit cards from two department stores, Saks Fifth Ave. and Bambergers, were taken, Fritz said.

He reported that store authorities were alerted and the youths were picked up by security guards at Bambergers in Plainfield. The investigation was conducted by Detective Lt. James Herrick and Detective Jerry Rice of the Mountainside police, who were commended by the chief.

Evening registration set

Evening hours for registration for the Nov. 7 general election are scheduled this evening in Mountainside's Borough Hall on Rt. 22. The borough clerk's office will be open until 9 this evening for registration.

Evening hours will also be held Sept. 7, 14, 21, 28, 25, 26, 27 and 28. The borough clerk's office will be open on each of those days from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Holiday deadline

Because this office will be closed on Monday, Labor Day, particularly careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday news deadline is urged for all material intended for the Sept. 7 issue. All organizational, social and other news releases for the issue of Sept. 7 should be submitted by tomorrow.

TOP AWARD WINNERS -- Outstanding competitors in the annual diving meet between New Jersey and Canada, held in the rain, Sunday at the Mountainside pool, were, left to right, Don Mutz of Westfield, third-place; Rob Collins of Mountainside, second-place, and Doug Darling of Canada, first place. changes for last year or this year. (Prior to last year, schools opened at 9 a.m.)

"After some difficulty arose last year as a result of changes in time schedule and bus stops, Board Members Mr. (Bernard) Seligman and Mr. (William) Biunno, Commissioners (Charles) Irwin, (Gilbert) Pittenger and (B. Dean) Spain and I met in my office to discuss solutions to the problems.

"At the meeting, I expressed my disapproval of the early a.m. opening of schools, inasmuch as the children were traveling to school during the busy commuter hour. At that time I also suggested that any major changes be discussed with me in advance rather than after they had been put into effect.

"However, my first knowledge of the time change for 1967-68 was on Aug. 21, when I was asked by the Echo reporter to comment on it. But my official notice from the superintendent of schools was not received until Aug. 28.

"Naturally I was pleased with a later opening of schools because of the safety factor. But I would have been equally pleased if the schedule which was in effect prior to 1966-67 had been resumed."

Novel craft

aluminum rings, it is "unsinkable," he says. Tuthill acquired the trotter a few years ago when the designer of the craft, a close friend, died.

The family recently acquired a space suit, an addition that adds to the confusion when they attempt to launch their craft. The Tuthill offspring, Bruce, 20, Betty, 18, Rob, 13, and Tom, 6, remember with glee the consternation with which the space-suited rider of the water trotter is greeted.

The space suit has a practical purpose though. It provides warmth for the rider so he can use the unsinkable craft in all kinds of weather.

SUNDAY'S GUESTS FOUND the "walk on water" exhilarating and ride to and from the launching site an hilarious adventure.

The Tuthills had another special treat for their relatives, Tuthill, a well-known amateur astronomer, escorted the more daring ones up to his private observation tower, a wide-walk type structure he built on top of the house. Access is gained by two precariously placed ladders. Once on top, the breathless visitors viewed through the 21-inch telescope (the largest of about 13 which Tuthill has constructed) the stars.

As was stated previously, family picnics at the Tuthills are unique.

GARY'S CORNER

WEEKLY SPORTS FEATURE

by GARY LESSING, Manager SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE

What can you tell us about the famous Miller engines?

This query was prompted following our article last week on the Indianapolis 500. The visitor to our shop certainly wasn't old enough to have witnessed the 1922 Jimmy Murphy Indianapolis victory, but he's from a family that loved auto racing as other families love baseball or football.

His question resulted in quite an extensive discussion in our shop of the glorious Harry Miller years, the era when names like Tommy Milton, Ira Vall, Harry Hartz were in headlines. This was the time when the Miller engine utilized the best features of Ballot, Peugeot and Duesenberg. The bloodline of the purebred Miller engine got underway in the 1922 Race.

Stories have it that Milton and Vall brought a Duesenberg-8 engine to Harry Miller's plant and the three copied every one of its top features, then added their own improvements on the design. The Miller-1B3 was a synthesis of every advanced idea.

What kind of tires did the Miller-driven cars use??? FIRESTONE, of course.

The tire that's still tops in Indianapolis 500 races. At SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, RT. 22 at Springfield rd., Union, we have a top selection of these fine tires; plus CLIMATIC-AIR Auto-truck air conditioners. The latter are going at final close-out prices. Stop in this weekend and pick-ups up at a rock-bottom price. We're open 9-9 daily, 9-4 Saturdays. Our phone number is MU.8-5620.

WHAT TO DO AFTER A FIRE?
Fires have damaged, and in some cases destroyed, many a happy home. Each year one out of every 98 American homes suffer some fire damage.

Although most fires can be prevented, the problem for a family which has suffered fire damage is not fire prevention, but cure. After the fire department has extinguished the blaze, the question for fire victims is "What now?"

Assuming you have fire insurance coverage, here are some answers to that question:

Get in touch with your insurance agent or broker at once. He can give you good advice on avoiding further damage. Furthermore, he will also help you find temporary quarters for your family, if necessary.

Get in touch with your utility company to make sure gas is turned off. You may also want to run an emergency electric line into the house.

Make temporary repairs to protect against weather damage. Then choose a competent contractor to do the complete repair job.

The smart homeowner can take one more step -- long in advance of any fire. He should make an inventory of everything of value in each room of his house. One copy goes to the agent; the other, to a safe place outside the house.

A list of damaged or destroyed items must be provided to collect on insurance for contents. Don't depend on your memory alone.

But remember -- prevention of fire is still worth many times the cure.

Pfaltz warns state on auto congestion

Concern over added traffic congestion in Springfield from the new Route 78 spill-off was voiced this week by Hugo M. Pfaltz, one of two regular organization Republican candidates for State Assembly from District 9C, which includes Springfield and Mountainside. He called for immediate state action to avoid anticipated auto congestion on local streets. "When this highway is completed there will be a fantastic increase in the volume of traffic passing through our communities," he said. "Springfield has suffered already from the direct impact of Route 78 and it would be a shame if the community must suffer further when traffic spills off at the interchange at Morris Avenue and onto local Springfield roads," Pfaltz added. "It would be foolhardy," he said, "for us not to anticipate that a significant portion of this traffic will spill off the highway and on to local streets of adjacent communities."

Ballet school to move to new Orange location

The New Jersey School of Ballet and the New Jersey Ballet Company of West Orange this week announced that the ballet will move to new quarters at 174 Main St., Orange. Matt Mattox and Carolyn Clark, directors of the ballet, said registration for the fall season will begin tomorrow. Classes will begin on Monday, Sept. 18. Courses are offered in ballet, modern jazz, toe, variations and adagio for children and adults at beginning through professional levels.

White says attitude is more important than 'model cities'

Republican Assembly candidate Ken White of Plainfield said this week that "sound public attitudes will be far more important than any amount of government aid in improving conditions in New Jersey cities. "For a long time," the candidate added, "we have been told that only millions or billions of dollars in government tax money can solve the problem of the cities. Yet the so-called 'model city' of New Haven, where federal urban renewal grants have come to about $800 for every man, woman and child in the city, has been torn by the same kind of disturbance that has occurred in New Jersey and elsewhere."

The candidate said that President Johnson admitted the federal government could not really do the job in the cities, and that local communities, officials and people will finally have to solve their problems relying on local initiative and locally raised money. "This is one of the reasons," White said, "I publicly oppose the ill-conceived and wasteful federal 'model cities' program which is now thoroughly bogged down in Washington." White said there is a need for reorganization, "despite the harmful and unrealistic promises of the 'Great Society,' which have created widespread frustration, that it is up to each of us to act constructively in building the kind of community and state we want to live in. He said much more attention should be paid to property maintenance codes and tenant cooperation in building cleanliness and upkeep. He added that "we should also consider possible tax or other incentives for owner-occupied multiple dwellings, which provide a more favorable environment than buildings owned by absentee landlords."

A FEMININE LOOK ...At AFRICA 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Nineteenth In A Series
SOUTH AFRICA
As for the black African (Bantu) vote: most of the Bantu are not ready to vote and need the educating they are now beginning to get from the Republic of South Africa.

Nevertheless, in this field lies a real flaw. Speaking of education however, the Republic of South Africa has done such a good job and has such high goals (see Feminine Look Aug. 3) that I am reluctant to even suggest a flaw in the field of education. But, in endeavoring to give both sides of the story, there are perhaps two. The first is in the past and cannot now be altered and that is that the Bantu did not have a wider educational system sooner. The other is in the present, but admittedly it is being changed.

According to a booklet on South African facts, there are "just under 52,000 students enrolled at South African universities" (including white students). There are 756 Bantu attending Bantu universities, 392 coloreds attending colored universities and 973 Asiatics attending the university for Asiatics. Interestingly enough there are 4,139 non-whites attending WHITE universities. Not many persons believe this is possible in South Africa, but it is so. Nevertheless, that is a total of 6,260 non-whites enrolled at universities, as against 48,000 to 52,000 whites, and with a population of 14 1/2 million non-whites and only three and a half million whites, that is a tidy differential.

It must also be admitted, that not all courses are available at Bantu schools as yet. To the credit of the South African government, it must be added however, that both these flaws are being remedied, and even at that, more Bantu can read and write in South Africa than anywhere else in Africa and the country produces more Bantu university graduates than anywhere else.

Even so, progress is still underway. More and more Bantu are attending universities each year and plans are underway for the Bantu institutions to have equal facilities. As it is, for those Bantu who qualify for courses not available at the Bantu universities, the courses are open to them at the white schools.

It is also a notable fact, that fees for university education are considerably lower for the Bantu than the whites, and the Bantu receive a great deal more financial aid and loans from the government, the universities themselves, the provincial authorities, private persons and business firms, not to mention various bursaries, (scholarships) than white students do.

IN THE MATTER OF VOTING itself, a great many of the older Bantu are uneducated, and still others are in the bush unaware of the entire voting system, so the vote is rather lost on them. But more and more are getting to know, and what can hurt, is legislation on a Bantu matter that no Bantu ever gets to vote on.

"When they are ready, they shall govern themselves," the South African government does say. One entire Bantu section of the country in the Transkei already is under its own leadership it is true. Aha, BUT! Yes, they can eventually all govern themselves in their areas when they are fit, and vote up their own laws, governors, councilmen or whatever, BUT they cannot vote in a South African federal election or vote in a white "township" election -- say Johannesburg -- ever. And the white South Africans flatly say so.

ONE OF THE GOVERNMENTAL MATTERS which the Bantu apparently had to say about, for instance, is the matter of movement. Having a job seems to be the key passport for a Bantu--as well as having an identification card. All persons in South Africa are required, by law, to carry an identification card and must show it on request. But the Bantu have to supply more information on their cards, and it is usually a white man who requests the black man for his card, and not vice-versa. If a Bantu is employed and can show a legitimate reason for being in the area he is in, he can go about freely. If his behavior is proper; if he can afford it, and if he has an identification card, (as is true with the white man also) he can go where he wants. (not to live, of course.) The townships are not fenced in, or policed-in, or in any sense a prison. The Bantu in the Johannesburg area can go in and out of the city freely, night and day--with an identification card that is.

The identification cards also enable the South African government to keep an eye on the movement of people and maintain "influx control" to prevent overcrowding. This sort of "in-passport" system is also used in Tanzania, a nearby black station.

But the flaw in this seems to be that while the Bantu can go about freely in his own particular neck of the nation, he may not go to a new neck of the nation if he wants to--unless the government sanctions it. And, if his neck of the woods is getting crowded, perhaps he is subject to being sent to another neck of the woods--at the government's decision. Or, at the very least, prevented, by law, from moving to another township if it should be crowded. All of which, could be humiliating to an educated Bantu.

YET WITH IT ALL, the black man and the white man seem to get along very well together in South Africa. The government official who took us through the Bantu township near Johannesburg seemed most welcome and there seemed to be a genuine friendliness toward him. The children were a delight. They were gay and playful as children should be, and healthy looking. There was no friction or resentment in the Bantu attitude, nor fear or haughty domineering in the white man's behavior.

Yet the Bantu ride Bantu buses, sit on Bantu beaches, go to Bantu schools, churches, etc. and are definitely segregated. But the ones I saw looked happy.

The coloreds do the same, the Asiatics do the same, and frankly some of them said they like it that way better. It was interesting to hear that with the segregation of the Asiatics, a great deal of troublesome situations usually encountered were lessened. It seems the Asiatics and the Bantu have more problems between them than the whites and the Bantu.

Robert Kennedy wrote a scathing report upon his return from South Africa on all this segregation leaning heavily toward the dim side; almost as though it was deep torture for a blackman to be with a blackman--even in heaven. He called his article, "Suppose God is Black".

Well yes, supposing she is? Next: Tourist South Africa

Senators to speak at Legion convention next week at shore

The New Jersey American Legion and its Women's Auxiliary will hold their individual Annual Conventions simultaneously at Wildwood, next Thursday. Advance reservations and early registration of delegates indicate that this year's conventions of the State's largest veterans' organization will exceed that of any previous year.

U. S. Senators Case and Williams, Governor Richard J. Hughes, the American Legion National Commander, and several State Senators will head a list of national state officials addressing the conventions. Directors and Superintendents of Federal and State Veterans Hospitals and Homes will also address the Legionnaires. The Armed Forces will be represented by the Commanding Officers of Fort Dix, McGuire Air Force Base, the N. J. Army National Guard, the U. S. Coast Guard Training Center (Cape May) Aviation Supply Office (Phila. Pa.), U. S. Marine Corps Reserve (Trenton) and the U. S. Army Electronics Command (Ft. Monmouth).

Matters affecting the health and economic security of veterans will come before the conventions. Other pertinent matters in the fields of Americanism, Child Welfare, National Security and Community Service will also be on the agenda.

Dear Amy:
My problem is my only daughter. She wants to marry a man whom we know nothing about except his opinion that he was the perfect husband and his former wife was not a perfect wife.
We told him to go back to his wife and child, but he says he hates her and that he is free. When we question him about his divorce papers (which he never produced), he says it's none of our business. Since our daughter is involved, we think it is our business. He also claims he doesn't pay any money to his former wife or child which we find hard to believe. There are two sides to every story, and we don't believe his. What can we do?
Worried Parents

Dear Parents:
There is little you can do if your daughter has reached her legal maturity, and doesn't need your written consent or want your advice. Perhaps he won't prove his divorce to you because he resents your disapproval of him. But your daughter (for her own protection) should demand to see these divorce papers and she should also check into his dental of support for his child. Unless there are extenuating circumstances, he's one big liar and she is letting herself in for trouble with a capital T.

Dear Amy:
I have been happily married for 23 years, I love my husband and he loves me. I shouldn't have a worry in the world but here is my problem: I am 50 years old and my husband is 46. All of a sudden I am afraid of the difference in our ages. When he is ready to retire at 65, I will be 69. I am worried I won't be able to take care of him. Do I have a problem or am I creating one?
Sometimes I think I should get a divorce but I have no reason except the one I told you about. Am I being silly? We have no children.
Mrs. F.R.

Dear Mrs. F.R.:
It amazes me how people create problems where none exist. Of course you're being silly. But if you want to make yourself sick worrying what's going to happen 15 years from now, go ahead. Then your husband will have the problem of wondering how to take care of YOU!

PERSONAL TO Mr. Watson:
It's elementary, my dear Watson, if speeders knew they were driving to jail, they wouldn't be in such a hurry!

State Department notice on travel to U.S.S.R.

NEW YORK (UPI) --Obeying the laws of the land is the obligation of every American traveler abroad, even more so than at home. Ignorance of local rules and regulations is no excuse and even the innocent visitor can find himself in a serious jam, especially in the Soviet Union which ironically is pushing a tourist promotion campaign in the United States.

The dangers are pointed up in a special notice distributed recently by the State Department which stresses:

"It is the responsibility of each prospective traveler to the U.S.S.R. to inform himself, to the fullest extent possible, of pertinent Soviet laws and regulations and to comply scrupulously with them."
The notice emphasizes Soviet laws often are "very different" than our own, are "strictly enforced," and even unknowing violators "run serious risks of arrest, trial, fine or imprisonment."

"Only a few of the some 18,000 Americans who visit the U.S.S.R. annually have reported molestation or harassment," it added. "But recent cases of harsh treatment of American travelers accused of violating Soviet laws illustrate the danger."

No specific incidents were cited. However, the official warning apparently was inspired by severe punishment meted out by a Leningrad court to two American tourists on charges of violating Soviet laws.

Both spent several months in solitary confinement in jail before trial. One was convicted of black market money dealings and fined $1,000. His companion was guilty on the same charge of theft for taking a statuette of a bear from his hotel as a souvenir. He was sentenced to three years in a forced labor camp but the sentence was commuted later on appeal to a $5,000 fine and loss of his $2,500 automobile.

The State Department said the American tourist could become a pawn in Russian cloak-and-dagger operations.

"There have been indications of Soviet interest in exchanging imprisoned American tourists for Soviet citizens convicted of espionage in the United States," the notice said.

The notice includes the following list of DO's and DON'Ts for the American traveler to Russia:

- DO
- Strictly observe Soviet currency controls and customs regulations.
- Bring a substantial reserve of money.
- Think before taking photographs.
- Follow approved travel plans.
- Have confirmed hotel accommodations or lodging before traveling.
- Write down passport number, and embassy address and telephone number.

- DON'T
- Buy rubles privately or sell clothing.
- Pick up "souvenirs" from Soviet hotels however insignificant in value they may appear to you.
- Bring in or take out of the country packages or letters for others.
- Attempt to bring in religious objects or publications, except for your personal use.
- Attempt to take photographs of slums, the poor, military installations or border areas.
- Attempt to deviate from approved itineraries.

The notice urges all Americans to check in with the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and provide details of their itinerary and other information. Such data, it notes, "can prove useful," should the American encounter difficulties which require the intervention of the U.S. government.

Miss Francis G. Knight, Director of the Passport Office, said the notices are being distributed through Passport Field Agencies and members of the American Society of Travel Agents.

Bank deposits hit new state record

Total deposits in New Jersey's 251 banks topped 13 billion dollars for the first time during the first half of 1967. W. Robert Davis, president of the New Jersey Bankers Association, and president of Camden Trust Company said this week.

According to figures released by the Regional Administrator of National Banks and the New Jersey Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, deposits in New Jersey banks totaled $13.2 billion on June 30, 1967.

SUPPER SUGGESTIONS
Keep sliced ham, tongue and corned beef in the freezer for times when you want a quick cold supper. All to well with kidney bean or potato salad which can be mixed in quick time with canned potatoes or beans.

A quick, tasty supper can be crabmeat creamed with cream of celery soup, seasoned with onion and sliced ripe olives to go over toast wedges.

Season ground beef with salt, garlic salt, prepared mustard, Worcestershire sauce and catsup. Spread on buns and broil for a few minutes before serving.

Here's a good way to fix squash: halve, bake as usual, fill centers with miniature meat balls just before serving.

Helen's Favorite
Banana Cream Dessert (Makes 2 1/2 cups, or 4 serv.)

1 package instant vanilla pudding mix
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup cold milk
3/4 cup mashed bananas
1 teaspoon instant coffee

Combine all ingredients in small mixer bowl. Beat slowly until ingredients are well blended. Spoon into sherbet glasses; chill. Serve plain or top with a dollop of sour or whipped cream.

Salvador Dali jewel exhibition

Mrs. Robert J. Daeschler of Short Hills ave., is the Springfield area chairman for the exhibit of Salvador Dali's Art-In-Jewels collection in the Short Hills Room at the Mall in Short Hills from Sept. 24 through Oct. 14.
The world famous collection, valued at $5,000,000 is owned by the Owen Cheatham Foundation of New York, which lends it to religious, charitable and educational institutions for fund raising purposes. The Mall showing will benefit the scholarship fund of Kent Place School, Summit.
A total of 33 pieces make up the collection, which includes Dali's latest creation, "Daphne," never before seen in the metropolitan area. Four of the jewels have moving parts driven by tiny electric motors. All are executed in diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other precious gems. Dali personally selected every stone used in the jewels, choosing them not merely for color and quality but for specific atmosphere and connotation.
Art-In-Jewels can be visited weekdays from noon to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.; Thursdays from noon to 9 p.m.; Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays from 1 to 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door.

An added attraction at the Mall along with the Dali exhibit will be a preview of the 100th anniversary portrait exhibition of the Bachrach Studio. The show will include photographs from 1868 to the present.

'Woman' remains for 10th Art week

The Art Theater, Irvington Center, is holding "I, A Woman" for a 10th week as of yesterday. The Danish-Swedish adult film stars Essy Persson.

A Peter Sellers featurette is the associate bill at the Art.

The theater will have a special showing of "I, A Woman" on Labor Day. Performances will be continuous.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—James Gregory has signed for a key role with Elvis Presley in "Clambake" for United Artists.

Film in 5th week at Plaza, Ormont

James Clavell, who produced and directed "To Sir, With Love," in Technicolor, also wrote the screenplay for the Columbia Pictures release, based on the book by E. R. Braithwaite.

Starring Sidney Poitier as a teacher in a tough East End of London School, "To Sir, With Love," begins its fifth week at the Plaza Theater, Linden, and the Ormont Theater, East Orange.

The picture is Clavell's fourth multiple-talent screen assignment, and his most important. He is the author of such best-sellers as "Tah Pan" and "King Rat," and before tackling film production and direction, he wrote screenplays for such films as "Squadron 633" and "The Great Escape."

Station Breaks

CHANNEL CHATTER TELEBRITIES: Everyone was pleased as punch with Barbara Streisand's "Hello of 14th Street" until they saw the videotape of her newsmaking concert in Central Park, which had regular sponsor Monsanto, quickly claimed for CBS. Now they have the delightful dilemma of which special to run on their Oct. 11 airdate - decision imminent.

Though Dustin Hoffman's starred on Broadway, and has completed one film (Eli Wallach's "The Tiger Makes Out"), and is co-starring with Ann Bancroft in another ("The Graduate"), he says: "I'm still not known to the public as an actor, but as the guy tooling around in his VW fastback sedan in the TV commercials." Sandy Dennis, whose role in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" won her an Oscar, broke into show business playing small roles on various TV dramatic shows years ago.

Asked how she feels when she sees those programs being rerun today, Sandy smiles: "It's like watching a kid sister who's got to take a side and point out all the things she did wrong!" Robert Morse may co-star with Jimmy Durante in a TV spec of the classic "Pinocchio." Morse says all the details haven't been ironed out yet, and he doesn't know who'll play the title role. "Maybe I'll play Pinocchio wearing Durante's nose," he grinned.

TV TOPICS: When a lion cub was born at Florida's Lion Country Safari, Harry Shuster christened it "Androcles" since his friend, director Joe Layton, had just that day begun rehearsals in New York for the upcoming NBC-TV special, "Androcles and the Lion." When "Apple Tree" star Barbara Harris asked for $7,500 to appear on the Ed Sullivan Show, "Smiley" said no.

'Fantasticks' in Millburn to run through Sept. 10 "The Fantasticks," starring John Gouley, broke attendance records for any opening week of a musical production presented at the Paper Mill Playhouse stage in Millburn during the last decade. The musical continues through Sept. 10.

Producers Frank Carrington and Angelo Del Rossi have announced that "The Fantasticks" has been playing to standing room audiences every night since the play opened.

Pennsylvania Dutch life is topic of farm festival The quiet hamlet of Kempton in upper Berks County, will digress nearly 100 years of history as it makes way for the second annual Pennsylvania Dutch Farm Festival, Sept. 9 and 10.

LAST WEEKS ANSWER

'Pebbles' in final weeks on screen at Bellevue

"The Sand Pebbles," starring Steve McQueen and Candice Bergen, is now in its final weeks at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

The Robert Wise panoramic screen production, filmed in wide screen and color, is based on the best-selling novel about American gunboat diplomacy in the seething China of the 1920s. It is a saga of seamen caught in a web of fruitless, super-patriotic reliance on force by the United States in Asia.

'Night Must Fall' plays 3 shows in Middlesex

Emlyn Williams' stage mystery, "Night Must Fall" will play its last three performances at the Foothill Playhouse, Middlesex tonight, tomorrow and Saturday at 8:40. The final offering of the season at the Playhouse will be a recent Broadway comedy success, opening Wednesday for an eight night two week run. Reservations may be made for both productions by writing the Playhouse in Middlesex, or calling the box office at 356-0462.

When we talk about recreation, it means more than "play money" to New Jersey

Vacationers come from all over the country to enjoy New Jersey's famed resort areas and cultural facilities. And so do industries. It's an accepted fact that business locates in areas where there are abundant and varied recreational facilities for their employees.

Public Service has been conducting national advertising campaigns to be sure that America's business community is fully aware of the good life to be found in the Garden State. We feel it's an important function because when a firm moves into our state, new jobs immediately open up, "new" money circulates and New Jersey's entire economy is stimulated. It's as simple as that.
