Undefeated Mountainside swimmers top Cranford, 79-53, 3rd in row

The Mountainside Swim Team was victorious again in a meet at the municipal pool last Saturday, beating Cranford Swim Club, 79-53. In the third successive victory for the unbeaten Mountainside swimmers, 17 pool records were broken. Dick Joyce, swim coach, said, "These kids swam their very best and dedicated their victory to Bob Anderson, pool manager, who is presently confined at Overlook Hospital."

In 10 relays, the borough swimmers captured nine first places; they had 14 firsts in other events, 14 second places and four thirds. Actually, they placed third in 14 of the races, but according to racing rules, no swim club can make a clean sweep. In such a case, the third place ribbon and points are given to the opposing team.

Swimmers in the winning relays included: 8 and under boys - John Irwin, Brian Phillips, Sean Loftus and Robert Ventura, 8 and under girls - Sharon Grace, Susan Heller, Christine Picut and Lindsay Weeks. 9-10 boys - Richard Coe, Cary Levitt, Michael Platoff and Matt Horan.

9-10 girls - Gail Bieszcak, Donna Lamberta, Mary Alice Keenan and Cathy Picut, 11-12 boys - Bruce Geide, Robert Picut, Gary Badge and Tom Phillips.

11-12 girls - Carol Saltyzik, Debbie Robertson, Jacqueline Picut and Kristy Weeks. 13-14 boys - Tom Coughlin, Ron Johnson, Don Wagner and Dave Wagner.

13-14 girls - Janis Heimlick, Kathy Wishbow, Pat Keenan and Sue Schmidt. 15-17 boys - Larry Mohns, Dave Johnson, Kevin Leist and Robert Taylor.

IN 8 AND UNDER freestyle division, Robert Ventura took first; John Irwin, second, Sharon Grace captured first spot; Susan Heller, second. 9-10 age division - Gary Levitt placed first in butterfly; Mike Platoff, second. Richard Coe took first in freestyle; Matt Horan, second.

Gail Bieszcak captured first in backstroke; Cathy Picut, second. Laurie Weeks placed first in breaststroke; Cathy Picut, second. 11-12 age division - Gary Badge placed first in both the freestyle and butterfly races. Robert Picut placed second in the butterfly, and Tom Phillips placed second in the freestyle. Kristy Weeks took first in breaststroke; Jackie Picut, second. Kristy took second in backstroke; Jackie, third.

13-14 age division - Don Wagner placed first in freestyle; Kurt Mohns, third. Don placed second in butterfly. Janice Heimlick placed first in backstroke; Patty Keenan, second. Kathleen Weeks placed second in breaststroke.

15-17 age division - Bob Taylor placed first in both the butterfly and freestyle races.

Accident mars end of a perfect day

A compound fracture of the right leg was the last thing Patrolman Alan Kennedy of the Mountainside Police Department would have imagined would mar his off-duty day, when he departed last week for Manasquan.

According to police, Kennedy, who has a summer home at the shore community, was pulling out of his driveway there when the throttle of his motorcycle got stuck and prevented him from slowing down. The vehicle skidded on the sand and hit a parked car. The officer's foot hit the rear bumper of the car, resulting in the compound fracture.

He was taken to the Jersey Shore Memorial Center (Fitkin Hospital) in Neptune, where his condition was reported as satisfactory. Kennedy, who resides here on Mountain Avenue, has been with the Police Department for one and a half years.

Juncker to attend Scout conference at Colorado State

Stan Juncker of 1138 Saw Mill rd., Mountainside, has been selected as an alternate to attend the fourth national Explorer delegate conference and the 13th national training conference at Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colo., Aug. 18 through 22.

The 15-year-old scout is a member of Explorer Post 360 sponsored by Overlook Hospital. He earned his Webelos rank as a Cub Scout and Life rank as a Boy Scout.

He has camped at several different council camps over a period of years and has taken part in a Philmont Scout Range expedition. He is interested in Indian lore, archery and cycling.

As an alternate, Juncker will represent all the Explorers in his council. A total of 2,500 Explorers will attend the delegate conference.

More than 6,000 professional scouters, their wives and children are expected to attend the training conference.

On his way to the conference site he will visit his brothers in Minnesota and California.

Pool manager ill; swim coach fills in

Bob Anderson, manager of the Mountainside Community pool, was taken ill unexpectedly last week while on duty at his post and was removed to Overlook Hospital for diagnosis, according to William Detzel, chairman of the recreation committee.

Detzel said that Dick Joyce, swim coach at the pool, was filling in for Anderson and "we are confident that Bob's illness will prove minor and that he will be returning to us soon."

Irwin cites action by state to meet urban problems

Specific programs to deal with New Jersey's urban school problems were a major achievement of the spring session of the state legislature, according to Charles J. Irwin of Mountainside, who has just concluded his first session as a member of the Assembly.

The journey from Brooklyn, where he was born, to Mountainside, from a boy from a modest middle class beginning to Syracuse University, from working as a student writer to help himself through college and then on to Harvard Law School, from the earnings of a young lawyer to the status of a successful attorney—are all things long gone by.

But when the time came for Charles J. Irwin to journey from being a member of the Borough Council of a small community to a membership in the state's General Assembly, the things he learned on his travels have not only been helpful, but he has utilized every bit of knowledge gleaned during those years.

This reporter set out to find out what the local man has accomplished in his more than seven months as a member of the Assembly and what he had to overcome as a freshman legislator. We were quickly informed that freshman legislator is a misused term, "because when a man is elected to this office he is required to do a job. Just as a young lawyer admitted to the bar association is expected to know and administer the law equally as well as the old-timers, so it is with young-to-the-field legislators."

"YOU KNOW," this earnest young man went on, "I found that the new legislators are highly motivated and well informed. Of course, in the beginning, and even up to this point, there is naturally a problem with leadership. It takes a period of time for the cream to rise to the top, just as it takes time to get to know a man, that is, to get to know what a man is really made of."

"Perhaps that is why it appears we move slowly in the beginning, and as a matter of fact, the leadership question is still evolving, but, despite the short time I have been there, I am of the firm belief we have accomplished a program which has sound policies."

Giving credit where it is due, the assemblyman said, "As beginners, we had an advantage because we had a majority and did not have to literally fight tooth and nail, but with the problem so enormous, and none of us at first, really able to envision the magnitude of them, the task was of tremendous proportions."

"For instance, the first thing we discovered was that the budget was out of balance by $78 million, and we set about with a determination to balance it, which we did. Still, as a member of the appropriations committee, I, and the other members, sat for 30 days before we finally got it balanced.

"In the meantime, before we did get the budget matter settled, Gov. Hughes came out with his urban program which pushed upon us another expenditure of more than $100 million dollars. It immediately occurred to the committee that some action was going to have to be taken in respect to the 20 years of neglect in the fields of higher education, institutions and agencies, water policy and sewerage. The governor's message, together with the report of the capital needs commission, made it very clear, we could not waste a moment. Something—some action—had to be done."

In a reflective mood, with his mind apparently reliving the experience, Irwin went on to say that despite meeting after meeting discussing the matter, it would be an impossibility for this session to solve all these imperative matters. Thus, he said, "we finally hit upon a program which we called the 'Foundation for the Future.'"

Known as bill A-792, of which Irwin was the prime sponsor, it was signed into law by Gov. Hughes last Friday.

Newcomers Club gets a strike with candlelight bowling

The Mountainside Newcomers Club held a candlelight bowling party at the Garwood Lanes. Twenty-four couples bowled on alleys lit only by candlelight toward brightly lit pins in the distance.

The evening afforded newcomers an opportunity to improve bowling skills and socialize at the same time. After making two strikes in a row, Newcomer bowler Bob Greeley spent a few anxious moments when a foul line buzzer sounded as he approached the foul line for the third time. At the end of the evening, "It was unanimously agreed that a good time was had by all," according to a club spokesman.

A trophy was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Tramontin of Garfield, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mazzarella of Mountainside, who were top bowlers for the evening. Other bowlers receiving awards included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Pelt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Geiger, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Seidenfrau.

The evening ended with a buffet supper.

PROFILE--Mrs. Veronica Leonard

"You can preach a better sermon with your life than with your lips."

This quotation from the works of Oliver Goldsmith is a favorite one of Mrs. Veronica Leonard of 1305 Orchard ter., Linden, who is the Democratic candidate for Union County surrogate. Mrs. Leonard's desire to "preach a better sermon" has inspired her in all her activities as a wife and a mother, as an attorney and as a member of organizations devoted to working in behalf of her fellow citizens.

The desire to contribute something toward the common good led her to accept the offer of the county's Democratic leaders of the party's nomination for surrogate. Mrs. Leonard hopes that she will be elected surrogate at the general election on Nov. 5 so that she may use her legal training and her experience in law, as well as a deep understanding of people and their problems, to serve the citizens of the county. Mrs. Leonard added, "My daily dedication to serving my fellow man in various ways is a qualification I bring to my candidacy for office."

granting letters of administration where there is no will, granting letters of guardianship for minors and issuing letters of testamentary trusteeship.

"My promise is to secure efficiency, speed and economy in administration of estates and my aim is to approach problems from a legal and objective standpoint rather than a personal or political standpoint," Mrs. Leonard said. She added that she does not believe in a "do-it-yourself" attitude in preparation of wills or administration of estates as they can be time consuming and costly as well as a source of litigation. "The services of an attorney should be sought as the best security and services of trust officers of banks are available and very helpful to the attorney and client," Mrs. Leonard explained. "I still feel the many problems arising in administration of estates, guardianship and trusteeship require a person with legal knowledge and training."

MRS. LEONARD also is interested in a change in the law which would simplify the transfer of property on death and changes which would provide uniform laws throughout the states. She also said "the Legislature should initiate changes in the law with regard to declarations of mental incompetents who have a very small estate, placing a limit of $1,000 or $1,500, and proceeding by affidavit to have a guardian appointed without court action."

The attractive, gracious candidate pointed out that although this is the first time she has

THROUGHOUT HER lifetime Mrs. Leonard has maintained the common touch. As a lawyer, she has been called upon to render services voluntarily for indigent persons. She has assisted alien citizens to enter the United States and to become American citizens. Twenty-two years of motherhood, combined with the legal profession have given Mrs. Leonard practical experience and broad understanding in the field of domestic relations. Her deep feeling for the families she represents has enabled her to place domestic issues in their proper perspective when husband and wife have reached an impasse. She has long advocated a family court where domestic problems can be handled with the least possible delay.

Mrs. Leonard said she accepted the Democratic Party leaders' offer to select her as the candidate for surrogate when urged to do so by other lawyers.

"Many attorneys urged me to seek the office because it is a position similar to a judge's position and should be filled by an attorney," Mrs. Leonard stated.

The candidate, a lifelong Democrat, said that she believes she can be a full-time surrogate without sacrificing any of the duties required by that position and without neglecting any of her duties to her family. She pointed out that she has been a full-time partner with her husband, Charles E. Leonard, in the law firm of Leonard & Leonard at 715 N. Wood ave. for eight years. Her practice of law has included appearances in court in behalf of clients.

"I BELIEVE there would be no difficulty in my fulfilling the duties of surrogate and also taking care of my family," Mrs. Leonard declared. "It just boils down to the old saying: If you want a job done, get a busy person to do it."

When asked about her ideas concerning the position of surrogate, Mrs. Leonard said she has some opinions about the office which is responsible for admitting wills to probate,

County unit serving retarded children plans camp season

Camp Star, sponsored by the Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, will open its residential camp on Sunday, Aug. 18, for a two-week session at the Newark YMCA campus, Camp McDonald, located in the Kittatinny Mountains at the edge of Stokes State Forest.

Campers will live in modern screened cabins and participate in a varied program of activities which include swimming, horseback riding, archery, nature study, arts and crafts, tennis, boating, complete gymnasium and numerous other sports.

A large dining hall with fireplace, craft and nature bank, infirmary, staff quarters and washrooms and showers located near the cabins comprise available facilities.

Although most of the registrations are now in, there are still a few openings left. Parents interested in giving their children and young adults an opportunity to attend this camp may contact the camp director, Dennis D'Appolito, at the Unit office in Kenilworth (276-9292) or the recreation chairman, Mrs. Richard Olsen (276-4810).

FRIDAY DEADLINE

Evening session deadline Aug. 16

George P. Lynes, director of admissions, said Friday, Aug. 16, will be the deadline for prospective students to submit applications for the fall semester of Union College's evening session.

Lynes said the deadline to apply for the day session was last spring.

The only exception to the Aug. 16 deadline will be servicemen returning from overseas, Lynes said.

The admissions director urged all students interested in attending Union College's Evening Session in the fall to submit their applications complete with all supporting credentials as soon as possible. Lynes said all applicants must be high school graduates.

LORETTA JANKOWSKI

Youthful composer wins award in national contest

Miss Loretta Jankowski, 17, of Mountainside, has won the honorable mention award in the category for Creative Youth, an original composition contest held annually by the National Federation of Music Clubs. She won the award on the basis of two compositions: "The Listeners," a choral piece based on the poem by Walter De La Mare, and "Three Pieces for Flute and Piano," which were rated excellent and superior, respectively.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jankowski of 291 Ravens Wood, Mountainside, Loretta is a 1968 graduate of Governor Livingston High School. For her senior year she was awarded the Lincoln Center Music Award, and upon graduation received the PTA Music Award. Maintaining a B average she was a member of the National Honor Society, and was active in the school chorus and band.

For the last eight years she has studied piano with Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Ferri of Union, and composition privately for six years at the J. Howard School of Music. Her compositions for band have already won her distinction in school, in exchange programs, her "Eminent 1825" and "Happosly for Piano and Flute" were presented, the latter for which she played the piano part. As a pianist she won a Gold Certificate rating in the annual Music Educators' Association of N.J. Auditions. She has done extensive accompanying for her school choir and has been regular organist at Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

In addition to composition and piano, Loretta has played bassoon in the school symphonic band, of which she was vice president. As a consequence she earned positions in the All State Band and the Young Artists Chamber Orchestra of New Jersey of Short Hills.

Miss Jankowski will enter the Lastman School of Music this fall as a composition major, where she expects to expand her media of composing to encompass all types of instrumentation and orchestration. She is currently composing a sonata for trumpet and piano.

'Music Man' production at Rahway Junior High

"The Music Man" will be presented Aug. 8, 9 and 10 at 8 p.m. at Rahway Junior High School under the sponsorship of the Ladies Auxiliary of Mulvey Post 681, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The cast will be composed of young people from Rahway and the surrounding area.

Tickets for the show may be obtained from cast members, members of the VFW, at the door the night of the show, or from the Rahway Recreation Department at 1670 Irving St., Rahway.

make up all high school deficiencies," Union College's acting president said. "They will be enrolled in a non-credit English Review course, and a non-credit mathematics review course if necessary. They also will take a new experimental course we are calling 'Contemporary Problems,' which will be problem-oriented rather than subject-oriented, and one credit course in the science area."

Additional information on Union College's Educational Opportunity Fund Project can be obtained from Mrs. James Walsh in the admissions office. Dr. Iversen said all inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Walsh.

Disadvantaged youth project established at Union College

Union College, Cranford, will sponsor a project under New Jersey's new Educational Opportunity Fund for about 20 educationally and economically disadvantaged young people during the 1968-69 academic year, it was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president.

The Educational Opportunity Fund was established in a bill adopted by the State Legislature and signed by Gov. Richard J. Hughes, and is administered by the State Department of Higher Education under Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan. Dr. Iversen urged school officials, civic and service organizations, and individuals to bring to Union College's attention students who they believe are educationally and economically disadvantaged and have a potential to do college work.

The Educational Opportunity Fund will provide financial assistance of up to $1,000 an academic year to students accepted into this special program, Dr. Iversen said. He pointed out that the $1,000 is above and beyond whatever other financial aid may be available such as federal Economic Opportunity Grants, loans, scholarships, and work-study programs, as well as $600 available to Union County residents under the Tuition Aid Plan sponsored by the Union County Board of Freeholders and Union College.

"The $1,000 grants under the Educational Opportunity Fund can be used for tuition, fees, books, travel expenses, clothing and just about everything else necessary to make a college career possible," Dr. Iversen said.

Union College will waive all entrance requirements for students in the Educational Opportunity Fund Project except that they must be high school graduates or hold equivalent certificates, Dr. Iversen said.

"The students will have the opportunity under this special experimental program to 300 attend 'Y' course

More than 300 children ranging in age from 5 to 12 are studying the great outdoors, including plant and animal life, in a summer nature course being offered campers at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA in Green Lane, Union.

The program is directed by Miss Edythe Margulies, head of the "Y's" nature department which has a list of exhibits including seven gerbils, an Asian desert rodent; a 15-inch long boa-constrictor, a non-poisonous reptile that is satisfied with one meal, a mouse, once a month; several rabbits, a miniature alligator that is thriving on a diet of fish and chopmeat, two guinea pigs and a large bowl of guppies.

Also on display are varied nature craft work fashioned by the campers, including a rock collection, an insect collection, scrap books detailing various animals, and fossils made by the children of plaster paris.

The children also are taught how to catch and mount butterflies and how to make boxes for displaying their catches.

The nature department program, which opened July 1, will continue through August. It is one of the specialized services of Camp Y-HO-CA.

Jobless up on growth in labor force

Employment advanced in June but unemployment rose as the labor force expanded substantially, the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported. The unemployment rate moved up from 3.5 to 3.8 percent as a result of an increase in unemployment among teenagers and 20-24 year-olds.

Agricultural employment increased by 500,000 slightly less than seasonally expected. Total employment at 77.3 million in June, was up 1.3 million from May.

A one-cent rise in the average hourly earnings of all workers on private payrolls, together with a 0.4 hour increase in the work-week, boosted weekly earnings to $108.20, up $1.51 from May. Over the year, weekly earnings rose by $6.47 (6 percent).

There were 3.6 million unemployed persons in June, an increase of 1.3 million from the May level. With many young people entering the job market at the close of school, teenagers accounted for 1.0 million of this rise. Joblessness among 20-24 year-olds increased by 300,000.

After seasonal adjustment, the teenage unemployment rate increased from 12.6 percent in May to 13.6 percent in June; for 20-24 year-olds the rate rose from 5.3 to 6.5 percent. The unemployment rate for non-white workers increased from 6.4 to 7.2 percent over the month, primarily reflecting a sharp rise in the unemployment rate for non-white youth.

bulletin entitled "How to Teach Library Research Skills in Secondary School Social Studies"—number 23 in the "How to Do It Series" written by Pauline A. Keith, social studies coordinator for the Regional High School District, and Paul J. Karish, teacher of social studies at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

In explaining why the teaching of research skills in social studies is so important, Miss Keith said:

"Simple library research projects can make a significant contribution to the quality of social studies programs. Through research, students can be introduced to new and exact modes of inquiry; they can become able to handle the independent inquiry and self-direction which college and scholarly work demands and they can enhance their ability to organize and present findings in an acceptable library style. In addition, familiarity with the methods employed by scholars in history and the social sciences encourages greater penetration into vital issues and, ultimately, a mature and responsible approach to the problems which face adult citizens."

"THERE IN THE Union County Regional High School District Number One, we believe that it is important for students to acquire an orderly sequence of planning and operation in their investigations so that library research skills will be developed step-by-step in a logical progression. The use of correct research techniques is basic to social studies instruction and provides students with valuable skills for their academic work."

The bulletin is divided into two major sections. Part one contains directions for students, and part two contains suggestions on how to arrange a sequential research skills program within the high school social studies curriculum. Although most of the examples are related to social studies, the same general approach may be applied to research done in any course.

Miss Keith received her AB degree from Syracuse University, her master's from the University of Colorado and has done her post-master's work at Colorado and New York University. She is a member of the NEA, NJEA and the National, Middle States and New Jersey councils for the social studies, and is currently on the executive board of the New Jersey Council for the Social Studies, and chairman of the curriculum committee on world cultures.

Karish received his AB degree from Adelphi College and his master's from Columbia. Recently he resigned from Dayton to become associate professor of history at Bergen Community College.

Airman completes AFROTC course

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. — Douglas J. Uhlig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Uhlig of 289 Timberline rd., Mountainside, N.J., recently completed a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) field training encampment at Pease AFB, N.H.

During the encampment, cadets became familiar with the life and activities on Air Force bases and examined career opportunities in which they might wish to serve as officers. Other highlights of the course included survival training, aircraft and aircrew indoctrination, small arms training and visits to other Air Forces.

Cadet Uhlig, a 1965 graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, is a member of the AFROTC unit at the University of Virginia.

'Friendly Visitors' give aid to shut-ins

Volunteer Friendly Visitors is a service which assigns trained men and women to visit regularly, on a voluntary basis, with persons deprived of normal friendly contacts through illness or other disability. It is sponsored nationally by the American Medical Association Women's Auxiliary, and the local coordinating agency is SAGE, 50 DeForest ave., Summit.

The New Jersey State Department of Health provides an orientation course consisting of talks by qualified professionals in the areas of physical and mental health, understanding the elderly and children, diversional therapy and community resources. The 14-hour course is divided into four sessions.

Anyone interested in becoming a Volunteer Friendly Visitor or in obtaining a visitor for a friend, neighbor or family member may call 273-5550.

Mrs. Edith Solek; retired seamstress

Services were conducted Friday at the Haeberle and Barth Colonial Home, 1110 Pine ave., Union, for Mrs. Edith M. Solek of 94 Main st., Springfield, widow of Frank A. Solek. She died Tuesday, July 16 in Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Mrs. Solek, who was born in London, lived in Toronto, Maplewood and Mountainside, before moving to Springfield eight months ago. She had been employed as a seamstress for 10 years by Betty Telfer Interior Decorators, Short Hills, until her retirement in 1963.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church, Westfield, and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Mountainside Elks. Mrs. Solek is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Irene Suto of Elizabeth, and Mrs. Margaret Smith of Irvington; a brother, Albert Elliott of Phillipsburg, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Graham of Toronto; three grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Irwin reports

I was told after several visits, from all I had said and indicated, that I would be successful in a field where I could be of some kind of service.

"That I had the personality for and the subconscious desire to be useful to other people. It was suggested I think in terms of becoming a minister, a lawyer or a doctor. I did not feel I was suited for the ministry and to become a doctor would mean I would have to begin my education all over, so the more I thought about it, the more I felt the profession of law would fill my spiritual and financial needs.

"You see, I had met Diana Dann from Mountainside, who was also a student at Syracuse, and I wanted to marry her and that meant making a living. And so I went on to study law. After I was admitted to the bar, Diana and I went to live in Madison Township, where I practiced law.

"IN THE MEANTIME, we had started a family (the Irwins have five children now, ranging from 2 to 12 years), and four years ago, we came back to Mountainside and I bought Diana's family home on Sherwood parkway.

"I had often thought through the years that entering politics could fulfill my overriding necessity to be of service and I was not wrong, for politics does satisfy it for me. However, Diana opposed my entering the field because, like all wives and mothers, she knew the sacrifices involved and knew that it would mean being away a great deal from her and the children.

"But when I was asked to fill the vacancy on the Borough Council in June, 1966, despite the fact I had never been active in politics in any way, not even as a member of the Republican Club before that time, and she saw that I wanted to accept, she said if that was what I really wanted and it would make me happy, she would go all out to help me.

"My wife," he said fondly, "is the kind that gets things done. She is an enthusiastic active woman and she has been of invaluable help to me.

"I enjoyed every minute of time I served on the council and might very well have stayed, except that I was approached by friends and others to run for a county office. My election meant a great deal to me, and I intend to prove concretely, the trust and confidence the voters placed in me."

The answer to the second question was a simple one: "I have another year to go, I want to do the very best I can for my constituents and I want, when the time comes, to be reelected."

PROFILE--Mrs. Veronica Leonard

sought public office she was involved in a campaign when her husband ran for office. She also has been interested in government for 21 years, as long as she has been a Linden resident, when she joined the League of Women Voters. She served as president of the Linden League in 1952. Her other activities have included attendance of workshops and meetings which provided a broad view of all phases of government and writing the chapter about government for the LWV's first book, "This is Linden," published in 1950. At present she is serving as the league's legislative chairman.

"WE URGE WOMEN to work for the party of their choice," Mrs. Leonard stated. "More women should become involved in helping the community and bring peace to the world. A fully lived life is what we are looking for to make this a better place to live for future generations." She added that the subjects selected by the league for study "are almost a college course" in that subject.

Mrs. Leonard holds memberships in the Linden, Union County and New Jersey Bar Associations, and the National Association of Women Lawyers. She has been active in St. Theresa's Auxiliary of the Catholic War Veterans, in Parent-Teacher Association and on the executive board of Mother Seton Regional High School, Clark. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Linden and Sororist International of Elizabeth, and legal advisor to the Linden Debutant Scholarship Foundation. Mrs. Leonard is a former director of Union County Chapter, Mental Health Association, The Linden woman also has found time to work for various charity drives and fund campaigns.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, who were married in 1945, have five children. Charles, 21, is a student at Emerson College, Boston, Mass., where he is studying for a degree in the theater and communications. He also is an announcer for a television station, WHDH, Channel 5, 88.5, in Boston. John, 19, will start his junior year at Notre Dame University in September. Victoria, 16, is a junior at Mother Seton Regional High School and Steven, 11, and Robert, 8, are pupils in St. Theresa's School, Linden.

A NATIVE OF Perth Amboy, the former Veronica C. Gadomski was only 21 when she passed her bar examination. She had graduated from St. Mary's High School in her hometown and the Newark School of Law, now a part of Rutgers University. She was a clerk for the law firm of Andrew and James White in Perth Amboy. While under the tutelage of Judge Samuel Sladkus, a Perth Amboy attorney and Madison Township magistrate, Mrs. Leonard became interested in tax work, estate planning and domestic relations matters. She was able to continue her interest in such matters of law while at home raising a family. Her first position was with the New Jersey Shipbuilding Co., manufacturer of landing craft, LST's and LST's, which employed her as legal department head. A few years ago she was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Leonards have stressed activities they can pursue as a family. Vacations were planned to include the children. Mrs. Leonard likes to swim, a sport in which she participates with her children at the "Y" during the winter months.

In her appearances as a speaker before organizations and youth, Mrs. Leonard emphasizes "planning a life and making it a work of art so you can look back with pride of accomplishment." She usually adds, "We have to work in our spring and summer years to reap harvest in autumn and winter years."

THE LEONARDS' home life during the holidays centers on family traditions, such as the age-old Polish observance of Christmas Eve as the time for the "wilija" supper, a feast to commemorate the birth of the Child of God. Mrs. Leonard finds the time for the Old World customs often lost in the rush of modern life and the other members of the family and visitors to their home benefit from the happiness generated by the observance.

Mrs. Leonard returned to her candidacy and to her desire to serve the people of Union County.

"We each must contribute a little something to those in need—something for which we get no return but the pleasure of giving—for we do not live in a world all our own," she declared. The candidate said it is this wish to contribute that has led her to seek public office and to be of service to the community. And Mrs. Leonard feels that as a attorney she has the training needed to qualify her as surrogate and that as a

Ask Amy

By

Dear Amy:
I'm 52 years young and have been married to the same woman for 26 years. We got along just fine until I got sick back in 1959 when I had a nervous condition and spent 6 months in a mental hospital. I was advised by the hospital to apply for Social Security under its disability features. I did and received a large amount of money. We bought a home. Eight years later I felt that I was well and able to go back to work, but my wife disagreed (she has control of all the money we get from Social Security and my Veteran's Pension).
Every time I start to work, she has a commitment proceeding started at the local Court House and gets two doctors and the Judge to sign it and has me locked up in jail and tries her best to have me committed in a mental institution.
So far, I'm free. Believe me,

Amy, I need some advice from someone. My wife has all the checks come to her P.O. Box and I don't see them and haven't for the past year and a half. She signs my name (which I think is wrong.) I'm beginning to think I have come to the end of my rope. She even has our phone unlisted and only gives the number to those people she wants to have it but refuses to tell me what it is. What am I to do?

Mr. L.D.

Dear Mr. L.D.:
I, too, think you need your head examined -- but for a different reason. How you have been putting up with this for all these years is beyond me. Get yourself to a lawyer and let him represent your interests. Good Luck!

PERSONAL TO B.K. (Detroit):
Ignore the man in question and if he persists in this third degree report him to your police department. He could be dangerous!

Dear Amy:
Concerning the views expressed by a 16 year old girl on the "going steady" subject, I agree with her entirely.
I am a 16 year old boy and I feel there are two other aspects which adults tend to fall back on in opposition to teenagers going steady.
The first is that parents insist that the teenager is too young to be going steady at the age of 15, 16, or 17. I feel that since everyone is a unique human being, this depends on the individual. Parents often reply that all teenagers are the same. This is false. There are no two people on this earth who are the same. Nevertheless, parents use this as an excuse against going steady because they feel that since a few teenagers are immature, all are, and therefore incapable of knowing the meaning of companionship at this age.
Secondly, parents constantly believe that teenagers are incapable of loving or admiring (whichever term they wish to use) someone of the same age level. They feel that it is impossible for someone 15, 16 or 17 to accomplish this. Again I say that we are all individuals, and I ask parents, "Who can judge what everyone of us in the world is capable, or not capable, of doing."

Also, parents think that teenagers are rushing things when they go steady. There are many teenagers, I feel, who are sensible and honestly know what they're doing when they go steady. These teenagers aren't rushing a marriage as soon as they get out of high school, but instead wait till they finish college or the service.
N.Z., An individual

13 locomotives ordered for CNJ
The State Department of Transportation has approved the acquisition of 13 locomotives from General Motors for improving commuter operations on the Central Railroad of New Jersey.
The 3,000 horsepower locomotives will be purchased from GM's Electro-Motive Division (EMD) by the Norfolk & Western Chesapeake & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio Railroads and leased through the state to CNJ.
They are expected to be placed in service late this year.
Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg said selection was made on the basis of competitive bids, promised delivery dates and certain operating advantages. CNJ acquired 21 locomotives of this type in the past three years.

IRS alters dates for special exams

The Internal Revenue Service Special Enrollment Examination will be given on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 26 and 27, rather than on Sept. 25 and 26 as previously announced. This examination must be passed by tax practitioners who are not attorneys or Certified Public Accountants before they are allowed to practice before the Internal Revenue Service.

Applications are available in Room 103 or the Federal Office Building at 970 Broad St., in Newark. Mail requests should be sent to the Special Enrollment Clerk, P.O. Box 60, Newark, 07101.

Completed applications, accompanied by a check or money order for $25 payable to the Internal Revenue Service, should be mailed to the Director, Audit Division, IRS, 1111 Constitution Ave., Washington, D.C. 20224, by Aug. 31.

The examination will be given in the Federal Office Building at 970 Broad St., Newark.

SKIN OVEREXPOSURE:
Skin cancer is caused mostly by over-exposure to sunlight. So if you are under the sun for long periods, use protective creams on exposed skin, the American Cancer Society warns. If you work outdoors, wear a hat and protective clothing as well.

How to cool it during long, hot drives

The current heat wave poses special problems for motorists, especially those planning to drive extensively, warned Edward Loeffler, service manager of the New Jersey Auto Club-AAA.

Loeffler suggested that every motorist whose water cooling system has not been cleaned recently set aside a little time to have the job done.

He pointed out that long trips at high speeds in heavy traffic will very often mean overheating, and a result could be steaming and boiling over that will cause severe delays waiting for help.

Loeffler added, "towing is especially costly on a toll road."

Delays and cost are, of course, above and beyond the grim possibility of having or causing accidents," said Loeffler.

"WHILE YOUR MECHANIC is cleaning the cooling system," Loeffler added, "it is very important that either you yourself or he visually check for other problem areas."

"For example, does the fan belt show signs of wear?" Are heater and radiator hoses in need of replacement? Is the pressure in the radiator cap what it should be? Check around the radiator for signs of leakage at seams and beneath the car for leaking water. Remember, too, that extreme hot weather is just as bad for battery cells as extreme cold weather. Has the water in your battery evaporated?

The New Jersey Auto Club service manager said that one of the most serious accidents that can result from auto trouble in hot weather driving is the scalding of a motorist who opens his radiator while the engine is hot or steaming.

"Never, under any circumstances, remove the radiator cap while the engine is hot," said Loeffler.

"THE FIRST STEP is to raise the hood, let the engine cool for a few minutes, then twist the radiator cap only a little until noise of the escaping steam stops, then you may safely remove the cap."

"Another very common problem," said Loeffler, "is that of cars boiling over in bumper to bumper traffic."

"Much of this can be avoided, if the motorist will shift into neutral while stopped and at the same time depress the accelerator to permit the engine to idle fast."

"This causes the fan to rotate at a faster speed and thus cool the engine more effectively."

Loeffler offered one final note of caution to motorists who develop any kind of trouble while driving in a fast lane.

"Always," he said, "move slowly into a slower lane, and then pull safely off the highway where the hood can be raised and other necessary steps taken."

SKIN CANCER CASES
 Skin cancer is the most common form of cancer in America. According to the American Cancer Society there are some 105,000 cases a year. Skin cancer, however, is the most curable of cancers. A total of 90 out of 100 are cured.

State slates award fete

New Jersey citizens are again being urged to participate in honoring the State's leading conservationists of the year by Commissioner Robert B. Howarth, Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The fourth annual State Conservation Awards Program is being sponsored by the New Jersey State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs in cooperation with the Sears Roebuck Foundation and the National Wildlife Federation. Citizens concerned with preservation of the State's natural resources can take part by submitting nominations for awards and by attending the Awards Banquet.

Winners in each category will be eligible for national awards. New Jersey has had two national winners during the three years of the program: Dr. Eugene Vivian of Glassboro State College, last year's national Conservation Educator, and the Upper Raritan Watershed Association, Conservation Organization of 1965.

Nomination forms and brochures may be obtained from any County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs or the State Division of Fish and Game.

Twenty healthy Orientals and 20 healthy Caucasians were fed lactose and their reactions were compared. While 19 of the 20 Orientals showed symptoms of lactose intolerance within four hours, only two of the Caucasians subjects did. Blood tests showed that the milk sugar given to the Oriental subjects was not converted to simple sugars and absorbed into the blood stream as readily as in the Caucasians, presumably because of a genetically controlled deficiency in intestinal lactase. Oddly enough this "deficiency" does not commonly appear in Oriental infants.

Gospel concert set at Evangel Baptist on Sunday evening

Dick Anthony, gospel recording artist, will present a concert at Evangel Baptist Church, 742 Shumple rd., Springfield, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Anthony, a baritone soloist, organist, pianist and conductor, has appeared on network television and radio and has given sacred music concerts throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and the Orient. He also has made recordings with Bill Pearce.

Formerly staff musician on the Moody Bible Institute's radio station in Chicago, he is now executive producer of "The Hour of Discovery," the Television Division of Radio Bible Class. These weekly gospel telecasts originate in St. Petersburg, Fla., and are aired nationally in color. In addition, Anthony writes a record review column in Moody Monthly magazine.

In the Springfield program, Anthony will be assisted by his wife, Dotti, a concert harpist.

Zimmerman to give lecture, demonstration next Sunday

Perry Zimmerman of Cranford, New Jersey artist and an Executive Board member of Artists Equity of New Jersey will present a lecture and demonstration at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, at the Pavilion Building in Echo Lake Park in Mountainside.

The program, which is one of the bi-monthly summer activities sponsored by Academic Artists, Inc., is open to the public at no charge. On display inside the building will be work accomplished by students who have attended Zimmerman's classes at the Pavilion during the summer.

Zimmerman, who has done restoration work for many museums and private collections, will utilize an old painting and demonstrate some of the methods and techniques involved in conservation and preservation. He will also allow time for a question and answer period on the proper care of paintings.

Zimmerman is a member of the Executive Board of Academic Artists, Inc., as well as an instructor of oil painting, pastels and drawing for their summer art classes. These are held at the Pavilion Building in Echo Lake Park, through the cooperation of the Union County Park Commission.

A final five week session will begin Monday, and will include classes in water colors and sculpture, in addition to those previously mentioned. Weekly classes, which are open to the public, are held mornings, afternoons and evenings, and are offered to both adults and juniors (ages 8-14) at modest fees. Academic Artists, Inc. is a volunteer, non-profit group of over 300 members, presented in every town in Union County as well as other counties in North Central Jersey. Further information may be obtained by telephoning one of the following numbers: 276-3610 or 272-6189.

18 students are invited to star gaze

Eighteen high school students have been invited to participate in a Summer Institute in Astronomy and Space Sciences at the Sperry Observatory on the Union College campus in Cranford, it was announced this week by Patrick J. White, director.

The Summer Institute will open Aug. 12 and continue through Aug. 23 under the sponsorship of the Cranford public school system.

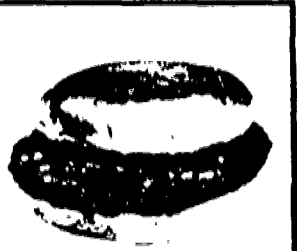

The project is part of "Operational Astronomy: the Earth and Beyond," which is financed with a federal grant under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

White said each student will develop an original project in astronomy during the two-week institute.

"The aim of the institute is to determine the scientific interest of each student, to provide an opportunity to go into one aspect of astronomy in some detail, and to become acquainted with equipment available in an astronomical observatory," White said.

Each high school in Union County was invited to nominate a student to participate in the institute.

Students from the following schools will participate: Cranford High School; Benedictine Academy, Elizabeth; Union Catholic Regional High School for Girls, Scotch Plains; Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; Hillside High School; David Breakley Regional High School, Kenilworth; Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark; Plainfield High School; Linden High School, Thomas Jefferson High School, Elizabeth; Jewish Educational Center, Elizabeth, and St. Patrick's High School, Elizabeth.

Volvo has a very efficient cooling system for its engine.

The one for its passengers isn't bad either.

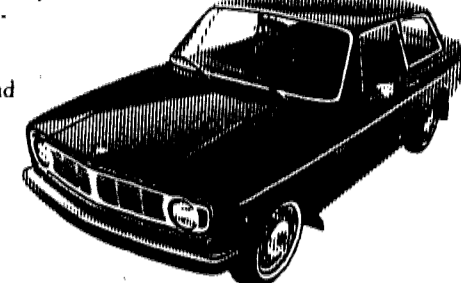

Volvo's sealed cooling system comes with a built-in expansion tank, to keep the engine from overheating.

Volvo is also available with an optional air conditioner, to do the same for the driver and passengers. This makes sense when you consider that people have much lower boiling points than radiators.

The Volvo air conditioner is rated at 12,000 BTUs. Which is one or two thousand BTUs more powerful than the air conditioners you'll find in the rooms of some houses.

Of course, if you happen to like the hot weather we're having now, we'll be glad to sell you a new Volvo without air conditioning. Or if you're already a Volvo owner, and you hate being hot, we'll be equally glad to sell you air conditioning without selling you a new Volvo.

Scientists see danger in shortage of oxygen

When the rate of carbon-dioxide producing combustion exceeds the rate of oxygen-producing photosynthesis of plants, the oxygen content of our atmosphere will decrease, writes Dr. Lambert C. Cole in "Bioscience," monthly journal of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

If this occurred gradually, man's ability to breathe would gradually be impaired. Some scientists, however, believe atmospheric depletion of oxygen may occur suddenly and thus disastrously.

The population explosion is the root cause of our ecology problem. Not only are too many people being born, but far too many live longer than formerly because of advances in medical science. Populations thus continue to grow at astronomical rates, outstripping all efforts to produce sufficient food to feed them.

Land, this has cut down on plant life and has meant less photosynthesis - with resultant diminished oxygen production. In addition, we are dumping larger amounts of pollutants into our oceans which are the world's major source of oxygen production, accounting for more than 70 per cent. How adversely they affect the photosynthetic process of the oceans' plant life is not known precisely. These ocean pollutants, however, ultimately could seriously affect the atmosphere's oxygen content. Homes, autos, industrial plants and airplanes are burning more and more fossil fuels each year. They spew carbon dioxide out into the atmosphere in such vast amounts that it is doubtful that our plants and oceans can continue to assimilate them. In summary, man is accelerating the recombination of fossil carbon with oxygen while reducing the rate at which oxygen in the atmosphere is regenerated.

TESTING TELEPHONE transmission are Miss Mary Ann Straley, 18, and Miss Renee Britt, 19, of New Jersey Bell at the telephone company's "Communicade". The displays in the air-conditioned trailer tell the story of the telephone business. In the event of a disaster, the 35-foot trailer can be quickly converted into a communications center and moved to the affected area.

'Communicade' goes on tour to tell story of the telephone

New Jersey Bell's traveling communications show - "Communicade" - will hit the road today. "Communicade" is a new 35-foot trailer featuring exhibits and displays which tell the story of some significant aspects of the telephone business. It is designed for use at locations such as shopping centers, fairs, civic events, schools and the like. The air-conditioned trailer is equipped with 10 telephone lines. In the event of a disaster the unit can be converted quickly into a communications center and moved to the affected area for emergency use.

The modern blue and white unit features displays on technical innovations such as electronic switching and data communications, as well as the wide variety of telephone services currently available. One exhibit describes the role Bell System people play in serving the communications needs of the people of New Jersey. Of topical interest in today's "mini" world is an exhibit on miniature cars, new microscopic building blocks which are changing the architecture of electronics. Visitors also may get a glimpse of new telephone services being developed for the added convenience of customers in the future.

County fairs will exhibit fish displays

The exhibit on New Jersey fish and wildlife recreation and management will be shown at an expanded schedule of fairs and shows in late summer and fall, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Passaic County Fair, Aug. 1-3 in Wayne, is a new addition to the summer circuit of county and fall fairs. Other late summer appearances include: Burlington County, July 25-27; Sussex County, Aug. 1-10; Warren County, Aug. 14-17; Morris County, Aug. 18-25; Flemington, Aug. 27-Sept. 2.

Live animals are a popular feature of display. This year, a baby grey fox is featured, together with a life history of the species and a conservation message urging citizens to leave young wildlife in its natural environment.

Large county transparencies of Garden State hunting and fishing scenes are surrounded by black and white pictures of the extensive management activities to improve outdoor recreation. These include wildlife habitat improvement, game bird stocking, trout stocking, pollution abatement, conservation law enforcement and outdoor education. Many of these contribute to the public health and safety as well as many forms of recreation besides hunting and angling.

Related to these management activities is a large graph comparing the stable license revenue to finance the program with the general rise in the cost of living. Hunting and fishing licenses will be available, providing a "share" in the state conservation program as well as extensive recreational oppor-ties. Subscriptions to "New Jersey Outdoors" will also be available, and personnel of the Division of Fish and Game will be on hand to answer questions.

An expanded exhibit, including live fish and additional animals, will be shown at the State Fair in Trenton, Sept. 14-22. It will be housed in the Fish and Game building, directly opposite the state building where other state agencies including the Department of Conservation and Economic Development provide one of the Fair's educational highlights.

Two other shows have been added to the fall schedule, the Labor statistics desk reference

A handy desk reference on labor statistics has been issued by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The "Handbook of Labor Statistics" is available at Cooper Mart and Horse Show at Garden State Park, Sept. 20-29, and the Alloway Creek Sportsmen's Show, Oct. 9-12. These will give additional citizens an opportunity to learn about management, practices and activities to provide outdoor recreation in New Jersey.

"Statistics 1968" is intended for labor leaders, businessmen, researchers, students, and the general public.

The book contains 152 tables covering historic as well as current developments in fields such as manpower, compensation, productivity, prices, cost of living, and industrial relations. Similar tables for a number of foreign countries are also included.

The 1968 edition has 350 pages. It is available for $2.50 from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Dip in swim pool fatal for sixteen

Sixteen persons between the ages of 8 and 25 years died of meningitis in Northern Bohemia between 1962 and 1965. The deaths were caused by an overwhelming anebic infection connected from a common source of infection -- an indoor swimming pool -- say Czech scientists L. V. Cerna and K. Novak in "Science."

The disease occurred in small outbreaks during the summer and autumn, and completely resisted treatment with sulfonamides and antibiotics.

Perk up winter meals by freezing fruit pies

By ANNE L. SHELEN
County Home Economist
With an abundance of fresh fruits now available, plan to set aside time to prepare and freeze fresh fruit pies for next winter's meals. Most pies freeze well, but fruit varieties are especially successful.

Crust for frozen pies may be made as usual or may be from cookies, cereal flakes, coconut, or graham cracker crumbs.

The crust may be frozen with or without the filling. When apple is prepared with the filling, a soaked bottom crust can be prevented by freezing the crust and brushing it with egg white before adding the filling. A crust frozen separately requires careful handling and considerable freezer space.

When preparing the ingredients for the filling, it is wise to go easy with the spices. Spices, especially cloves, may become bitter and cause the fruit to discolor when frozen.

A pie that will be frozen may be put into a tin, aluminum foil, or a special paper freezer pie plate. To wrap the pie, cover it with a paper or aluminum foil pie plate to protect the crust. Fasten the plate in place with tape.

Place the covered pie in a plastic film bag or wrap it in freezer wrap, label, and seal. The pie will be further protected if placed in a waxed box.

For unbaked double crust fruit pies, omit the steam vents, and bake the frozen pie as usual, adding 10-15 minutes to the baking time.

To prepare frozen baked pies for serving, heat in a 375 degrees F. oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

Both baked and unbaked pies may be stored up to three months if they are properly wrapped and if the freezer maintains 0 degrees F.

Apple or Peach Pie Filling for Freezing

- One 9-inch two crust pie
- 5 cups apples or peaches
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon ascorbic acid
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 1/4 tablespoons cornstarch

Mix sugar and ascorbic acid. Peel and slice fruit. Add sugar and acid mixture and coat thoroughly with it. Let stand 30 minutes. Line pan with pastry. Brush with melted butter and chill. Add 1/2 cup water to 1 1/4 tablespoons cornstarch and cook until clear. Cool slightly. Mix with fruit and fill crust. Dot with butter. Moisten edge and add top crust. Do not slit top crust. Wrap, seal and freeze.

To serve: Bake frozen pie at 450 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Remove and prick top crust, particularly around edge. Bake 50 minutes longer.

To bake before freezing, prick crust and bake 45 minutes at 450 degrees F. Cool, wrap, and freeze. Store at 0 degrees F. or below.

To serve: Thaw and heat 25 to 30 minutes in 450 degrees F. oven.

Guide helps you save on season sales

Everywhere we turn we can see sale signs: "Sale -- one third off Prices slashed!" These terms are used because they have been known to be words the average consumer can't resist.

Wise consumers can forecast when prices will be cut on numerous items months in advance. There's no need for a gypsy's tea leaves or witchcraft, just the yearly calendar.

Seasonal and annual sales are actually scheduled on a regular calendar basis each year to save you 15 percent to 30 percent. So if you watch your calendar and plan to buy items you will be needing according to the calendar's best buys of the month, you will be bound to save.

Below is a calendar guide to expected bargains to help you plan ahead:

August - summer clothing, furs, back-to-school specials, garden equipment, fall fashions, furniture.

September - back-to-school specials, housewares, home furnishings, china and glassware.

October - Columbus Day specials, fur fashions.

November - Veterans Day specials, fur fashions.

December - winter clothing specials late in the month, toy and gift items after Christmas.

January - linens and towels, silver, store-wide clearances, resort wear, furs, furniture.

February - furniture, home furnishings.

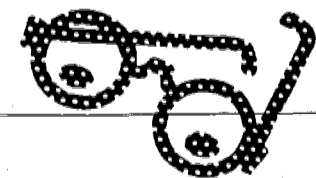

March - housewares, china, silver, garden supplies, luggage.

April - spring cleaning supplies, fur storage, garden supplies, men's and boy's clothing.

May - television, lingerie, handbags.

June - sportswear, camp clothes, storm windows, refrigerators, rug cleaning.

Following the list above, remember the efficient home manager considers a "bargain" only a "savings" when she or her family will be able to use the item.

WHEN YOU USE THE CLASSIFIED PAGES TO SELL ITEMS YOU NO LONGER NEED.

Mr. Burt Lancaster

Learn the seven warning signals of cancer. You'll be in good company.

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.

6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.

7. Change in a wart or mole.

If a signal lasts longer than two weeks, see your doctor without delay.

It makes sense to know the seven warning signals of cancer.
It makes sense to give to the American Cancer Society.

ALPINE LAKE CALLED "THE QUIET ONE"

Although the year 'round Pocono vacation community of Alpine Lake has been referred to, by those who have bought there, as the "quiet one" it is far from being remote. Actually Alpine Lake, which is located on route 715 just north of route 611 in Tannersville, Pa., is in the heart of the Pocono Vacationland. It is situated only a few minutes from famous Camelback Ski Area and many well known fun spots. The reason for the term "quiet one" is that Alpine is one of the smaller Pocono developments. It is completely private. It has its own spring-fed mountain lake, sand beaches, cabanas, picnic areas and children's playground. Because of its size, all homesites are within a two block walk of the lake.

Alpine Lake is heavily wooded with tall evergreen and hardwood. It enjoys a high elevation. The developers are offering half-acre homesites from $1600 with all lake privileges. According to Mr. Howard Sawford, sales manager for the community, the new section "C" which has just opened has some of the finest homesites in the entire development for the construction of vacation homes.

The trend to earlier retirement and more leisure time has led to a surging "second home" market in New Jersey and neighboring states.

This is evidenced by lake and shore communities offering weekend or vacation living...or all-year living for many retired persons.

A selection of these homes and homesites will be featured each week for the next few months in this newspaper.
