Crime figures remain low

Mountainside continued to be a low crime rate community in 1968 as only slight rises in some major categories, coupled with declines in others, marked the annual police report prepared by Police Chief Christian F. Fritzi and submitted by Councilman Robert A. Ruggiero, police commissioner.

The annual fire report also showed similar rises and dips by outgoing volunteer Fire Chief Theodore Byk and Councilman Fred A. Swingle, fire commissioner.

The total number of police calls answered was 4,015. Last year's total was 3,750. The total number of alarms answered by the fire department was 74, 12 more than last year.

Breaking down the police report, 46 break and entry cases were reported this year, just six more than in 1967.

There was a decline in attempted break and entries reported from 10 in 1967 to only eight in 1968.

Along the same lines, there were only 81 cases of prowlers reported and investigated, while in the previous year there were 94.

There were 14 automobiles reported stolen, four more over 1967, and 16 cases of stolen bicycles reported, six more than 1967.

The total number of incidents of stolen property reported declined measurably, from 110 in 1967 to 86 in 1968.

Malicious property damage reports rose from 62 to 70 cases.

Malicious damage reports to schools declined from eight to three incidents.

TWO HOLD-UP cases were reported and investigated. There was only one in 1967. There was one accidental death reported. Complaints of indecent exposure cases from four in 1967 to six in 1968. Complaints of suspicious and obscene telephone calls climbed from 38 to 45.

PTA board asks budget approval

The executive board of the Mountainside PTA has urged approval of the proposed Board of Education budget by the voting public next Tuesday.

The executive board, meeting Monday, heard Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools; Grant H. Lennox, president of the Board of Education; and William J. Blunno of the Board of Education speak on behalf of the proposed Board of Education budget for 1969-1970.

The entire budget was thoroughly explained in detail to the PTA board, the proposed budget was then voted upon and accepted by the executive board.

The Board of Education and the executive board agree that it is essential that the budget be approved at this time. The two boards agree that, in order to attract the best teachers available, Mountainside must keep on a competitive scale with and retain the same standards as neighboring communities. The great need, is for more facilities and equipment and to replace the outmoded.

The PTA executive board urged Mountainside to give full support to this budget so the borough can continue to maintain its excellence in education.

Grant H. Lennox and William J. Blunno are running unopposed for reelection.

Irwin appointed '69 chairman for Heart Fund

CHARLES J. IRWIN

Assemblyman Charles J. Irwin has been named Mountainside chairman for the Union County Heart Association's 1969 drive for funds. The announcement was made by State Sen. Matthew J. Rinaldo, chairman of the county drive. Irwin was Mountainside chairman last year.

Irwin, who lives at 600 Sherwood pkwy., is an attorney with offices in Westfield. He received a bachelor's degree in economics from Syracuse University and a law degree from Harvard Law School in 1960.

The Heart Association municipal chairman previously served on the Mountainside Borough Council and is presently serving as borough attorney. In the Assembly, he is a member of the appropriations, conference and labor committees.

Irwin, who three times was United States AAU skating champion, served as an officer at the Army's Radiological Warfare School in Nevada.

He is a member of the Westfield Community Players, the New Jersey Bar Association, the Republican Club of Mountainside, and the Westfield Presbyterian Church.

Irwin and his wife Diana have five children, Catherine, 12; Christian, 11; Cynthia, 9; Sharon, 7; and Justin, 3.

In accepting the Mountainside chairmanship again, Irwin said he was "conscious of the tremendous need for funds to fight our nation's number one killer, heart disease, can be conquered if we can raise enough money." He urged Mountainside residents to be generous when Heart Association volunteers make their appeals for funds this month.

Recreation group plans final ski trip

The Mountainside Recreation Commission has announced that the last ski trip of the season will be made Saturday, Feb. 15, to Great Gorge, McAfee. A bus will leave from Deerfield School at 7 a.m. and return at 7 p.m., a Recreation Commission spokesman said.

He said a limited number of seats is still available. Those interested in taking the trip can register with E. J. Moore, 1363 Stony Brook lane, by this Saturday. Additional information may be obtained by calling AD 2-8635 between 7 and 8 p.m.

Cookie sale to be started by borough Girl Scouts

Tomorrow doorbells will be ringing all over town as Mountainside Girl Scouts open the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council cookie sale.

A major portion of the sale price remains with the Council and participating troops. Council proceeds are used for maintenance and development of the Council's three camps and to supplement income from federated funds to provide services to troops. Troops budget their profits to carry out special projects.

This past year, Washington Rock purchased 78 additional acres for Camp Lou Henry Hoover which will extend the Council's year round out-of-door camping program. At Camp Blue Heron, the cabins were winterized and kitchen facilities were added in the hostel. Another stage of redevelopment was completed at Camp Sinawik. All three camps are open for year round camping. Last year 7,500 used the sites for troop camping. Almost 700 girls attended Camp Hoover in the summer, with another 850 attending Council summer day camps.

This past year, 150 Washington Rock Senior Scouts were selected for regional, national and international Girl Scout events. Profits made by Senior Scouts this year from the cookie sale will go directly into the Council Girl Opportunity Fund which provides financial help to qualified Seniors selected for opportunities beyond the Council.

Nine professional staff members work directly with volunteers in the administration of Scouting and bring Council services to the 24 Washington Rock communities.

Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts will be selling cookies through Feb. 22.

Regional budget wins by margin of more than 2-1

The Regional High School District current operating expense budget of $7,535,969 for the next school year won by a margin of more than two to one Tuesday in the six communities making up the Regional District. Margins almost as large were recorded in favor of the capital expense budget and a proposal to buy land in Kentworth for future expansion of David Brearley Regional High School.

The operating budget won by a margin of 1,246 to 618, carrying every voting district in the six communities. The town-by-town totals were: Springfield, 253 to 133; Mountainside, 235 to 55; Berkeley Heights, 472 to 280; Clark, 167 to 70; Garwood, 40 to 20; Kentworth, 79 to 60.

The capital expense item also carried every district in the six towns to win, 1,221 to 626. The land purchase item, $45,000 for a half-acre site, carried all districts but two. The total was 1,014 to 629.

In the only contested election for membership on the Regional Board of Education, Fred Hagedorn, a write-in candidate, upset three candidates who were on the ballot in Berkeley Heights.

Three incumbent members ran unopposed. They were Avery Ward, board president, in

Auto accidents show increase

There were 214 automobile accidents investigated by the Mountainside Police Department during 1968, according to the annual report, with 160 persons injured and one killed.

The accident total represents a slight rise from 192 in 1967.

The number of injuries also rose from 126 in 1967, while the number of deaths declined from two the previous year.

The report also lists a rise in the number of children injured while riding bicycles. There were 10 such incidents in 1968 and only three in 1967.

One child was struck by an auto while bicycle riding. There were two such incidents in 1967.

One child not on a bike was struck by an auto, the same figure as for the previous year.

In other traffic statistics, there were six cases of autos striking fire hydrants, 20 of autos striking utility poles and three of autos striking traffic light poles.

Library board names Devlin new president

Harry Devlin last week was elected president of the Board of Trustees of the Mountainside Public Library. Devlin served as vice-president and succeeds Sidney C. Mele, who served as president from 1964 through 1968.

Other officers for 1969 are: Gene Simpson, vice-president; Mrs. H. C. Weber, treasurer, and Mrs. W. V. Johnson, secretary.

Mele, who will remain on the Board of Trustees, thanked the trustees for their cooperation during his term of office. He cited the extra meetings, time and energy necessary to complete the planning and construction of the new building. He complimented all for their dedication to the library.

Devlin, in assuming the duties of president, thanked Mele for his service to the community. He noted that an officer's term is usually for two one-year terms but that the experience which Mele brought to the building program was so valuable the trustees prevailed upon him to remain in office until the building was completed.

He further stated it is the goal of the trustees to expand services and to increase the book and phono-record collection.

Mountainside Open Door Chilean gets warm welcome

By JACK PFANNE

Last year during his summer vacation from Gov. Livingston Regional High School, 15-year-old Richard Weeks visited Santiago, Chile, as Mountainside's first participant in the Open Door program sponsored by a private student exchange group.

While there he was hosted by 16-year-old Ignacio Guerrero and family and was given a grand tour of that South American land. Now it's Ignacio's turn to do the town--or, in this case, the country--and the reunited pair are living it up.

Using Richard's house at 368 Longview dr. as a base of operations, the enthusiastic visitor and his guide have pin-pointed New York City as their favorite target, Greenwich Village was first on the list there, of course, and next came Chinatown, a couple of other popular attractions and a viewing of Man of La Mancha.

A highlight was a party in Somerville given by the family of the Chilean ambassador to the United Nations just recently.

Before Ignacio goes home in March and back to the Verbo Divino School where he is a junior, he is scheduled to go the Colonial Williamsburg, Va., with his group of 100 students from South America.

In between their adventures, Ignacio and Richard have given talks on Chile to students in Gov. Livingston and Deerfield schools.

IGNACIO IS THE SECOND from his family to visit the United States through the Open Door program. Last year his brother, Mariano, 17, visited this country--and stayed--with a family in Roselle Park.

Ignacio is hoping that another brother, Carlos, 14, can visit here next year and he is recommending he try to get to stay with a family in Mountainside.

Coincidentally, both Ignacio's and Richard's families are the same size. Besides Mariano and Carlos, Ignacio explains, there are Fernando, 12; Magdalena, 10; and Augustin, 8.

Richard's brothers and sisters are Elizabeth, 13; Thomas, 12; Robert, 11; Carolyn, 8; and Christopher, 3.

Although Richard is the first Mountainside resident to visit Chile under the Open Door program, Ignacio is the second Chilean to visit Mountainside. Last year, Leopoldo Razo stayed with the William Gutman family, Leopoldo, Ignacio said, is a friend of his in Santiago.

"It's funny," Richard said, "more girls go down to South America in the program and more boys come up. What is needed is more boys applying to Open Door to visit South America. They'd be a 'shoo in' to get selected and then there would be more boys' homes to choose from in the exchange program."

RICHARD EMPHASIZED that an applicant needn't speak Spanish to become an Open Door candidate.

"Although it was actually winter down there when I went last year," Richard said, "the coldest it got was 50 degrees and the highest

Highlanders surprise St. Mary's, fall to Dayton

By BILL LOVETT
The Governor Livingston Regional High School basketball team kept up its winning record by downing St. Mary's, 58-50, after coming within a silly millimeter of upsetting Watchung Conference leader Dayton Regional, losing by just one point, 63-62. Regional hosts Westfield on Tuesday and travels to Scotch Plains on Feb. 14.

The Highlanders led by four points against Dayton when, with 34 seconds remaining, Dayton's Dave Margulies hit on a basket. Seconds later, Dan D'Andrea put one in and then, with eight seconds left, D'Andrea was fouled. With the outcome of the game riding on his shot, D'Andrea sank it to win the game for Dayton.

Jeff Burdette led all scorers with 21 points, while teammates Mike Rugen and John McElginn tallied 15 and 10, respectively. Ralph Losano had 16 for Dayton, with D'Andrea and Margulies having 11 each.

ST. MARY'S, which entered the contest at 12-1, could not overcome a 31-17 halftime lead. The decision was in doubt all the way, however, and in the closing moments, St. Mary's tied it at 48.

But Rich Weiss pulled it out for the Highlanders, when, after Governor Livingston had gone ahead by two, he made a three-point play to assure victory. Jeff Burdette, with 17 points and John McElginn with 16 led the Highlander scorers, while John Sadlosca had 10 for the losers.

Coming up next week are two important contests in regard to both pride and post-season play, because, if Regional can win either of these games, they are almost assured of a winning record. Scotch Plains and Westfield are both tough teams and each beat Gov. Livingston earlier this year.

The key in both games appears to be how well Regional's front line of Mike Rugen and Eric Wichelhaus can hold off Scotch Plains' Jim McDede and Westfield's Tom Scott, two tall (both are 6-5) high-scoring centers.

Each did well against Governor Livingston the first time around early in the season, but, as other teams have discovered, the Highlanders are a vastly improved team.

On a slice of toast which has been spread with mayonnaise, arrange slices of tomato. Cover with 8 whole Norway sardines and top with egg salad. Press second slice of toast firmly on top. Cut into bite-size sandwiches and serve with your favorite cocktails.

Leftover meat stew becomes a delicious pie when topped with biscuits. Put stew in baking dish, top with biscuits and bake until brown.

Ground mace adds an exotic flavor to pound and yellow cakes, chocolate dishes, and is excellent for sauces and pies, especially peach and cherry.

For a tasty spread, blend together 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 3 tablespoons drained sweet pickle relish, 1/4 cup deviled ham, 2 cups shredded American cheese and 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing. Makes 2 cups of sandwich spread.

LUNCHBOX PUDDING

  - 3 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 2 cups milk

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

NEW EXAMPLES TO TEACH BY

Do you find your youngsters are leaving their wheeled toys, including bicycles, lying around where people fall over them? Or, do you find your youngster is failing in school because he is not following the teacher's instructions?

To help your three and four year old remember to put away their wheeled toys try designating one section of your garage as a private parking lot for these items. You can paint slots along one side of the garage floor and post printed signs at the head of each space to show which toys are to be placed in each slot. For example, paint one sign "Blue Wagon," and next to it a sign labeled "Three Wheeler." See how much pride and pleasure your youngsters take in learning to read the signs and parking their vehicles correctly, "Just like Daddy or Mommy does."

Has your youngster's teacher contacted you because of failure on his part to read directions or listen to oral instructions? Has he, instead, been found to plunge headlong into working at the task before knowing how to proceed?

YOU, HIS PARENTS, can help the school by setting a good example and helping him to practice and improve his ability to follow instructions.

Both parents can start by providing your child more precise directions than you have been used to giving. For example, "Please get me my pink silk scarf from the back left hand corner of the bottom left drawer of the dresser in my room. You can also have him either help follow the directions with mother for preparing a cake or pancake mix, or have him help father to follow instructions for mixing glue and repairing a piece of furniture, or doing some other do-it-yourself chore around the house.

If you wish to reward success buy a do-it-yourself plane, dress-making kit or some other surprise to encourage greater progress. It will take time and patience on the part of parents and children but it will pay off!

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a problem. I am going with a guy who is the same age as I am. We have been going together for over a year. Everyone feels that we'd be better off if we broke up. Neither of us want to break up. Could you please tell me what you feel I should do?"

OUR REPLY: Why do your friends think you should break up? And, how would you be better off? You should know the answers to these questions, evaluate all the factors and then decide for yourself if you would be better off. No one can make this decision for you--and you will make the right decision, probably, only if you are completely honest with yourself. One important consideration is your age. If you are a teenager, and go steady just because everyone else does, it is possible to get into a "rut" and miss a lot of the fun of growing up by spending all of your time with one person. On the other hand, if you are old enough, and mature enough, to be seriously considering marriage, don't let the opinions of others influence you. You owe it to yourself to choose the person you intend to spend the rest of your life with.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

PLAN THE ROUTE
Planning your route ahead of time is one of the most practical ways to minimize the winter weather hazard, according to the Allstate Motor Club. By selecting familiar roads, anticipating trouble spots along the way, and allowing for more travel time, accident producing conflicts can be avoided.

Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE Reports

The first few weeks of a new Congress are normally given over to organization, and the 91st has been no exception.

Although the Senate and the House remain under Democratic control, committee ratios have been changed to reflect the expanded ranks of Republicans in both chambers.

The Senate's membership now consists of 57 Democrats and 43 Republicans, and while our 17 standing committees vary in size each has a similar proportion of members from each party.

This has made for some changes in the two committees on which I continue to serve-- Foreign Relations and Appropriations.

The Foreign Relations Committee has been reduced in size from 19 to 15 members, of whom nine are Democrats and six Republicans. My position as third-ranking minority member means that I will be serving more often as a Senate conferee in reaching agreement with the House on legislation sponsored by the Committee.

The Appropriations Committee was also reduced in size, from 26 to 24 members, with a ratio of 14 Democrats to ten Republicans among whom I am seventh ranking.

Another development of the opening days was the election of new assistant floor leaders in the Senate--Senator Edward Kennedy for the Democrats and Senator Hugh Scott for the Republicans. Senator Scott's election, which I supported, gives appropriate recognition to the Northeast's representation among Senate Republicans.

THE FIRST MAJOR ISSUE to be debated by the Senate concerned the rule which requires a two-thirds vote of the Senate to curb debate. For many years a bipartisan group of Senators, of whom I have been one since coming to the Senate, has been trying to change that requirement. We want to make it somewhat easier to put an end to filibuster, that is, endless talking to keep the Senate from acting on a measure.

This year, we proposed reducing the number of votes needed to close debate on any matter from two-thirds to three-fifths of the Senate--60 votes if all Senators were present. Although a majority of the members indicated they supported the change, they refused to take the action necessary to make that support effective.

This came about when, following a vote of 51 to 47 to take up the resolution amending the rule, Vice President Humphrey ruled that since, under the Constitution, a majority of the Senate had the power to change the rules at the outset of a new Congress, a majority had the power to close debate on the motion to consider the rules change, and that, therefore, debate was closed. When this ruling was appealed, however, a majority of the Senate voted not to support the Vice President; six of the votes that had earlier been cast for closing debate were finally cast against actually imposing such closure.

Thus the Senate continues to be governed by a rule which permits a minority of one-third to block action by a majority of two-thirds. But support for a change in the filibuster rule has been gaining over the years, and I am convinced a change will yet be made.

THE SENATE WAS ALSO occupied in the opening days with the confirmation of President Nixon's appointments to his Cabinet. In keeping with the practice adopted with the change of Administrations in 1953 and again in 1961, Senate committees questioned the nominees before Mr. Nixon took office and formally submitted their nominations, in order to expedite action.

Along with many other Senators who were concerned about Governor Hickenlooper's views on conservation, I voted for his confirmation as Secretary of the Interior on grounds that the President is entitled to a Cabinet of his own choice, barring evidence that a nominee is demonstrably unqualified. The Secretary's actions in office will be subject to close scrutiny by the Congress, I am sure, and the President's other Cabinet choices were confirmed unanimously.

Overlook Hospital to open new clinic for family planning

A new family planning clinic will open at Overlook Hospital next Monday, bringing a new dimension of community service to the Overlook area.

To be held three Monday mornings each month from 9 to 12, and one evening (the second Monday of each month from 6 to 7:30), the family planning clinic will be under the direction of Dr. Jessie D. Read, Westfield obstetrician and gynecologist.

The family planning clinic will offer a number of services, including birth control methods, infertility studies, and other related problems.

"The family planning clinic's services will be provided free to families in the lower income categories and on a sliding payment scale for families who are able to pay partial fees. Patients interested in making an appointment should call the family planning clinic in Overlook's out-patient department, 273-8100, Ext. 425.

Mrs. Genevieve Kirby, Overlook's special family planning nurse, has recently completed intensive training in this specialized field through Planned Parenthood, Essex County, which has served as consultant in establishing this new clinic at Overlook.

"In other family planning clinics it has been found that many women feel easier talking to a female nurse about birth control matters than they do to a male physician, especially where the nurse is well trained in the field of family planning," commented L. Stephen Hartford, director of ambulatory services at Overlook, who is in overall charge of the hospital's out-patient facilities.

"Patients will thus have their first consultation with the family planning nurse, discuss their problems, determine their financial status, then move on to class lectures and demonstrations, followed by individual interviews with the family planning physician," Hartford explained.

Periodic physical examinations and other tests such as the Papanicolaou smear for cancer screening will be a regular part of the clinic's routine.

The family planning clinic's educational program will be extended to patients attending the Overlook obstetrical and gynecological clinics, also to mothers of patients attending the Overlook pediatric clinic, as well as to in-patients in the women's division of the hospital.

"JOIN THE SMILE-IN" is the slogan for this week's National Children's Dental Health Week, and little 7-year old Parloria, a patient at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, is right in tune. She's the first child at the hospital to receive an apple from the Plainfield Dental Society, a branch of the American Dental Association which is sponsoring the National Children's Dental Health Week. Robert F. Ardrey (left), associate administrator of Children's Specialized Hospital, accepted the donation of apples from Frank Geiger (right), owner of Geiger's Cider Mill and Restaurant, Inc., Wustfield.

was 80. It was a lot like Southern California. Side trips on Richard's visit included Valparaiso and the Vina Del Mar resort in southern Chile's lake district.

Richard was particularly impressed with the friendliness of the people in Chile and the possibilities for recreational pursuits. "You can swim in the Pacific," Richard said, "and in an hour be skiing in the Andes."

Both Richard and Ignacio like soccer, besides sharing an interest in swimming and skiing, Richard also runs track.

The entire trip costs about $690, which is not bad, explained Richard, since the round trip fare alone is normally $600. Before Richard left he received a $100 scholarship for expenses from the Gov. Livingston student council.

Other South American countries which participate in the Open Door program, Richard said, are Colombia, Ecuador, Brazil, Peru, Argentina, Nicaragua, El Salvador, Honduras and Guatemala.

Drive co-chairmen named by League

Mrs. Russell H. Tandy Jr. of Westfield, and Mrs. Albert B. Diss of Plainfield will be the co-chairmen for the campaign this year of the Planned Parenthood Tri-County League.

The drive in Mountainside will be headed by Mrs. Murray Staub, with Mrs. Paul Grant and Mrs. Zigmund Gottlieb as aides. Planned Parenthood has invited anyone interested in working with them in their goal of having "every child a wanted child" to join. Readers may call Mrs. Staub of Short dr., Mountainside, if they would like to participate. The League will be seeking much greater support for their clinics in Plainfield and Elizabeth. A third clinic in New Brunswick will be in the offering shortly.

New board officers and committee assignments will be designated at the board's organization meeting Monday night at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. One item of business will be election of a new vice-president to succeed Robert Powers of Berkeley Heights, who did not run for reelection.

The new budget of $7,535,969 represents an 18 percent increase over the figures for the present year. The Regional District comprises four high schools for the six communities.

Police, fire

There was one case of arson reported and investigated.

Halloween was a little less hard on borough residents, as the number of complaints about children declined from 38 in 1967 to 24 in 1968.

Disorderly persons led the arrest rolls again with 16, a gain of three over 1967. In arrests for automobile violations, 64 persons were arrested for driving while their licenses were suspended. In 1967, there were 78 such arrests.

Four categories remained the same: there were four arrests for assault and battery, one for atrocious assault and battery, four for possession of stolen property and nine for passing worthless checks.

Among other arrests were: possession of a stolen auto, six; larceny, eight; malicious damage to property, six; fraud, four; hold-up and robbery, four; indecent lewd acts, three; forgery, two; drunken driving, eight, and canvassing without a permit, four.

A big dip was reported in traffic summonses to 1,846 in 1968 from 2,568 in 1967. The money received in payment of fines during the year was $6,314.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT JUVENILES declined to 40 over the year from 46 in 1967. Leading the decline were the number of arrests for possession of stolen automobiles, dropping from 10 to two. Also diminished was the total of arrests for juveniles in possession of alcoholic beverages from 11 to eight. Another, for glue sniffing, dropped from three to two.

Three juvenile categories were opened up last year after a clean year in 1967. They were shop-lifting, five arrests; narcotics conspiracy, one arrest, and possession of marijuana, two arrests.

Juvenile arrests on the rise were larceny, from three to four; break and entry, from two to six, and malicious damage to property, from five to six.

There were 20 dogs killed by auto in the borough and three deer, both figures equaling the number last year.

IN THE 1967 FIRE REPORT, brush, house and vehicle fires again led the list with the largest numbers of calls.

Three were 39 brush fires last year, up from 20 in 1967.

Commissioner Swingle said, however, that since the Borough Council instituted an ordinance two years ago prohibiting the burning of leaves, this category has declined 40 percent.

House fires rose from 13 to 15. Vehicle fire calls declined from 21 to nine.

Peak fire month last year was April, with 16 calls. Peak fire month in 1967 was May.

Boy Scout anniversary to be observed locally

Cub Scouts in 26 packs in this area will follow a theme of "Cub Scout Spirit" as they observe the 59th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during February, according to

Lester Friedman, Scout executive of the Colonial District, Watchung Area Council. Thirty-four Boy Scout troops will carry out the theme, "Scout Citizens," with a highlight of "Our Government in Action."

Friedman said that nearly every Cub Scout pack will hold its annual blue and gold banquet to observe Boy Scout Week in February. Special program items for these traditional affairs will include skits depicting moments or events in the history of the pack, history of Cub Scouting, and how Cub Scouting helps to develop character, good citizenship, and physical fitness.

In addition to Boy Scout activities in February related to the Citizenship merit badge, each Boy Scout troop will hold special activities to celebrate Boy Scout Week. Among the events will be parents' nights, dinners, courts of honor, and hobby shows that are the special 1969 suggested activity for Boy Scout Week.

Another highlight in February for Boy Scout troops will be a visit to a local department of government to learn about the services, costs, and methods used in administering government at the local level. Scout units will have window displays during Boy Scout Week.

Exploring, a division of the Boy Scouts of America for high-school-age boys, offers a varied program of activities for February and for the celebration of anniversary week. A ski trip is planned for Explorers.

In addition to holding an open house and confirming plans for summer super-activity, many Explorer posts will carry out service projects during the month.

By AMY ADAMS

In response to a recent letter pertaining to the care of poinsettias, my desk is overflowing with information from many readers. My thanks to you all and to the Extension Service of Rutgers University. To all those who would like to keep those gorgeous holiday plants, the following information will be helpful:

After the leaves have fallen, rest the plant by moving it into a basement or attic and place it in a well-ventilated spot where the temperature will range from 45 to 55 degrees F. Each week give it only about a cup of water to keep in earnest. Continue to water the plant moderately, do not get the soil too wet.

When the weather becomes settled and no more cold or frosty days are expected, set the plant out into the garden, burying it in the soil up to its rim. Water and feed the plant through the summer so it makes good growth.

When the weather starts to get cool in the fall, bring the plant back into the house and keep it in an airy room where the plant will get plenty of sunlight. The best room temperature is 60 to 70 degrees F. Keep the temperature from varying and keep the plant out of drafts.

Dates set for beginning of college board course

The College Review Center this week announced the starting dates for its courses preparing high school juniors for the May Scholastic Aptitude Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. The Saturday morning class will have its first session on March 8; the Friday afternoon class will hold its first meeting on March 7.

The Center, now completing its 11th year of operation, specializes in preparing students for the College Board examinations. It is staffed by a faculty with many years of experience in this field. The mathematics courses are under the direction of Morton Seltzer, chairman of the mathematics department of Weequahic High School, Irving J. Goldberg, director of the Education Center For Youth, will be in charge of the verbal skills program.

At present, the school is conducting courses for those who plan to take the March Boards. The next course, in preparation for the May Boards, will finish just prior to the examinations which will be held on May 3. Registration forms and additional information may be obtained by calling 731-3995.

VA benefits in new law

Paul M. Nugent, manager of the New Jersey Veterans Administration Regional Office, Newark, said this week that under a new law that went into effect Dec. 1, veterans with at least 18 months of service after Jan. 31, 1955, are entitled to the maximum of 36 months of VA educational assistance. Those with less than 18 months service are entitled to one-and-one-half months of assistance for each month of service.

Veterans now in training will be credited automatically by VA with whatever additional entitlement under this new law may be due them. They need not apply for a new certificate.

Nugent also said that veterans who dropped out of training or who exhausted their previous entitlement but now have additional entitlement because of the new law are being notified of the specific, individual additional educational assistance from VA for which they are eligible. However, they must apply to the VA regional office, Newark, for a new certificate of eligibility if they wish to re-enter training under the Post-Korean G.I. Bill.

Training under this program must be completed within eight years after separation from service, or before June 1, 1974, whichever is later.

Nugent urged veterans to contact the VA Regional Office, Newark, for additional information. Telephone 201-645-2150.

State publishes 1969 road map

Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg this week announced the release of advance copies of the 1969 New Jersey Highway map and said the map will be available for mass and individual distribution within a week.

The Commissioner added that the Department will seek a wide distribution of the map in the hope of providing residents and visitors up-to-date travel information. In past years, state and national authorities and agencies have obtained large quantities, as well as civic, business and resort organizations.

Commissioner Goldberg explained that the map serves purposes other than tracing the state highway and road system. "It is a single reference source for the status of additions to the highway system completed or under construction, and the location of new highways to be constructed. In addition," he added, "it shows the location of other important transportation facilities such as the commuter railroad system and commercial and general aviation airports. It also locates state agencies, parks, state police and motor vehicle inspection stations for the convenience of the motoring public."

Requests for the maps should be addressed to the Department's Bureau of Public Information, 1035 Parkway Ave., Trenton, 08625.

College schedules workshop on palsy

The Jersey City State College Department of Special Education will conduct an all-day statewide workshop conference on the cerebral palsied child on Saturday, March 22. Theme of the conference will be "What's New in Cerebral Palsy."

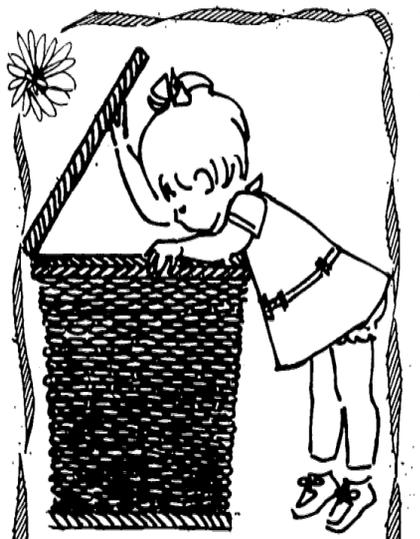

Eight panels and a general session that will be highlighted by an address by Dr. Brewster S. Miller, medical director of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Inc., and research director of United Cerebral Palsy Research and Educational Foundation, will be included in the all-day conference.

School has new home

The Suburban Cambridge Prep School is now being operated at Temple B'nai Israel, Irvington, sponsored by a board of parents whose children had attended the former Cambridge Prep School and Regent School of Business, Millburn.

According to Lawrence R. Leveto, principal, operations of the former school were discontinued suddenly at the beginning of January for financial reasons. Working with a committee of parents, and with the guidance of the State Department of Education, Leveto was able to find classrooms for the students at Temple B'nai Israel.

The school, now known as the Suburban Cambridge and Suburban Regent School of Business, will continue to hold classes at the synagogue, Leveto said, until a more suitable location can be found.

Arts-Humanities Workshop to feature leading educators

Three of New Jersey's leading authorities in the field of arts-humanities education will be featured speakers in the initial session of a combined Arts-Humanities Leadership Training Institute scheduled to begin tomorrow at Newark State College, Union. The combined group will consist of institutes from Newark State and Montclair State Colleges.

Dr. Max Bogart, director of the Center for the Humanities of the New Jersey State Department of Education, will open the session at 9:30 A.M. Later in the morning, Dr. Samuel Pratt, chairman of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, will address the group. Robert Seltzer, assistant commissioner of the New Jersey State Department of Education, will keynote the afternoon segment of the program.

Seventy-eight teachers and administrators will participate in the combined Arts-Humanities Leadership Institute which will include 15 day-long sessions. The institutes, to be conducted at Newark State by Classroom Renaissance, a unique statewide project in the arts sponsored by the New Jersey State Department of Education and the New Jersey Art Education Association, have been established to keep New Jersey educators abreast of the latest developments and teaching techniques. Classroom Renaissance, headquartered at 930 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, is directed by Dr. Thelma Newman. The project is funded under Title III through the Dover Board of Education.

Both the Newark State and Montclair State groups will participate in the first three sessions of the Institute, tomorrow, Saturday and Friday, Feb. 14, which will be conducted at Newark State College. Separate schedules and programs will follow after Feb. 14.

Dr. Bogart, who will open tomorrow's session, is a professor of English education at New York University prior to coming to New Jersey. He also has been a visiting professor of English at UCLA and John Hopkins University. He is presently on the advisory council of the English Department at Princeton University and has served as a consultant to the U.S. Office of Education, the Governor's Commission to Study Arts in New Jersey and on several committees of the National Council of Teachers of English. Dr. Bogart's latest book, "The Jazz Age," a review of the literature of the 1920's, will be published this year by Charles Scribner's and Sons.

Seltzer, who was appointed second in command of the state department of education last November, is well known for the innovative approach to education he exhibited as superintendent of schools in East Orange for eight years.

Dr. Rudolph Arnheim, professor of the Psychology of Art at Harvard University, will be the keynote speaker of Saturday's Institute session at Newark State. Dr. Arnheim, whose psychological studies on the forms and functions of art are published in several languages, was born in Germany and holds a Ph.D. from the University of Berlin. He held Guggenheim Fellowships in 1942 and 1943 and was a Fulbright Lecturer at Ochanomizu University, Tokyo, Japan, in 1959 and 1960. From 1966 to 1968 he held a research grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

Firms told to check out Navy needs

Manufacturers throughout the State, both large and small were urged this week by Robert A. Roe, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development, to ascertain whether they can supply specific items needed by the United States Navy.

Commissioner Roe said his department has cooperated for several years in furthering the Navy's parts procurement program. He noted that the required items cover such a wide product range that opportunities have been opened for manufacturers throughout the state to supply these needs.

Noting that a number of the products can be mass produced without specialized facilities, Commissioner Roe pointed out this offers an excellent opportunity for New Jersey manufacturers to increase their respective production schedules.

The latest list of materials needed, including the various Naval purchasing offices, is available to interested firms from the Bureau of Commerce, Division of Economic Development, Box 1880, Trenton, 08625.

Lakewood plans winter program

Lakewood has announced that the Winter Queen Pageant and Ice Show will be revived to its status of bygone-years when the winter resort celebrates Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, according to Robert A. Roe, commissioner of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

This event featuring an ice show at the Lakewood Ice Skating Rink capped by the crowning of a Winter Queen, is sponsored jointly by the Lakewood Chamber of Commerce, Hotel and Motel Association and the township.

Flower show lists poster art contest

The New Jersey Flower and Garden Show is looking for high school artists throughout the state with green thumbs.

Their entries in the annual Flower and Garden Show Poster Contest can result in more greenery, in the form of hundreds of dollars in prize money for the top winners.

The contest will be climaxed at the Flower and Garden Show itself, which will once again be held in Morristown National Guard Armory, from March 14 through March 20.

Herbert Kale, president of the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen and chairman of the contest committee, said high school art departments throughout the state will be notified of the contest and their cooperation will be sought in stimulating interest among their students.

Judging will take place during the Flower and Garden Show, with Mrs. Ben Shah, noted artist and illustrator, heading the panel of judges.

Best-of-show winner will be awarded a $100 United States Savings Bond plus an appropriate ribbon. Second prize is a $50 bond and third prize is a $25 bond, with all winners, including those given honorable mentions, also receiving appropriate ribbons.

In addition, Kale said, every entry will receive a free adult ticket to the Flower and Garden Show. Adult admission normally is $2.25.

The contest guidelines call for posters created in any medium, but all in standard size of 22 x 28. They should carry the theme idea of "Enjoy Leisure Living in Your Own Backyard" and the words "New Jersey Flower and Garden Show, Morristown Armory, March 14-20."

All posters should be designated as an original work of art by the student's teacher or parent. Posters must be submitted by March 1 to Kale's Nursery, RD 3, Carter road, Princeton.

"Poster Contest Guidelines", also has been prepared listing full rules and requirements for the contest. It may be obtained by contacting Mr. Kale at the above address.

All posters become the property of the New Jersey Flower and Garden Show and none can be returned.

Dartmouth club to sing in county

In its only New Jersey appearance of the season, the Dartmouth College Glee Club will present a special program honoring the New England college's bicentennial at Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School Sunday afternoon, March 2.

The program is being presented under the auspices of the Tri-County Dartmouth Club, which draws its membership from Union, Somerset, Middlesex and adjacent counties. Proceeds will go to the club's scholarship fund being accumulated for the college's use in granting financial assistance to students from this area.

Tickets for the program, scheduled for 2:30 p.m., are available from many members of the club, including John B. McCloskey, president, Scotch Plains, (phone 889-5559); Victor E. D. King, Plainfield, (phone 754-3945).

SUNDAY'S SERMON

That minority in the ranks of today's youth so out of step with the rest of the world and so out of touch with reality must be in great part an outgrowth of parental negligence.

These few children attempt to excuse their laziness, and their brashness, by saying they do not like the world that has been created by their ancestors. Their efforts to effect change, however, are poorly directed and non-constructive. They attempt to prove some nebulous point either by attempting to destroy established institutions or by almost complete withdrawal from society. The first method usually brings about destruction of public property; the second often leads to a loss of human dignity, even to self-destruction.

There can be no doubt that the nation needs a strengthening of the family circle. There is no substitute for parental guidance. There is no reason for a parent to become so "busy" that he or she loses touch with the needs of a child struggling for identity and for a sense of purpose.

The hope and promise of a better world must lie within the reach and responsibility of today's parents. There is a framework, in the principles of Christian living, in the security and the happiness of a family life based upon such not really old-fashioned things as love, faith, obedience, trust, guidance, understanding.

New extension courses offered by Seton Hall

Seton Hall University will offer four new courses through its Center of Continuing Education beginning Feb. 18. The offerings will be presented in the evening and will be open to the general public on a non-credit basis.

Artists and Art, to be presented on Tuesdays (8:20 - 10:30), will be taught by Don Merrick, a painter himself and will be a dialogue of the relationship between the artist's personal and professional life.

The Philosophy of Contemporary Painting, Wednesday evenings (8:20 - 10:50), will be a discussion workshop under the aegis of artist George Mueller consisting of a practical investigation of contemporary trends in art.

Cynthia Tyson, assistant professor of English at Seton Hall, will present Drama as Experience, Friday evenings (8:30-10:40), will study the playwright as the communicator of basic human experiences.

The final course offering, Moral Values in a Revolutionary Age, Wednesday evenings (8:20 - 10:30), to be presented by William J. Radtke, assistant professor of philosophy, will be an open investigation of contemporary moral problems. The course will raise questions concerning the emergence of new values in a world in which man's conception of himself and his institutions are undergoing radical change.

All subjects are being presented under the auspices of the Office of Humanistic Studies and further information on registration may be obtained by calling 762-9000 ext. 509.

NH Research For Health

A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH
BETHESDA, MARYLAND

An estimated 400,000 Americans each year suffer the personal tragedy of a major stroke. About 200,000 of these victims die as a result of stroke and the others may enter long periods of disability and dependency.

To better understand strokes and to more effectively combat such diseases of the brain, the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Stroke has been supporting multidisciplinary research centers for cerebrovascular diseases. Today, there are 17 stroke research centers throughout the United States.

Research being conducted at these centers and by scientists whose work is supported by NINDS is seeking better means of prevention of stroke and more effective treatment and therapy for stroke patients.

Major strokes are usually preceded by some forewarning such as one or more "little" strokes. Recognition of these little strokes as an urgent warning may help the victim avoid other little strokes and may head off a major stroke.

Strokes are caused by stoppage of the blood flow to parts of the brain. This can result from a narrowing of the arteries causing a limited flow of blood and increasing the danger of blockage, or from the rupture of a cerebral blood vessel with bleeding in the brain.

When the blood flow to a section of the brain is stopped for about five minutes, that part of the brain is injured. The function it directed, such as control of an arm or leg, speech, vision, or any of hundreds of abilities, is damaged or destroyed.

Stroke is more common among persons over 50 and in those who are overweight or have high blood pressure. Many also may have had minor heart problems. These traits speed up atherosclerosis, the artery-clogging disease which leads to impaired blood circulation.

A little stroke can come as an attack of dizziness, vomiting, blackout, or falling which may leave the victim with a temporary disability but with no permanent damage. On the other hand, a little stroke may leave the patient with marked changes in his health, ability, character, personality, judgment, and appearance.

If a person suspects he has had a little stroke, he should seek medical advice immediately. Depending on the cause of the stroke, a physician may recommend surgery (which can often correct narrowing of the blood vessels), prescribe drugs to treat hypertension, or recommend a special diet, suitable exercise, and recreation to help the patient avoid further strokes.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN (Diamond Cleaners)

CORDUROY CARE Love that corduroy! It's rich looking... wears well... and the wide range of wales makes it eminently suitable for everyone from toddlers on up.

Frankly, I can't remember a time when corduroy hasn't been in style, and today it's more popular than ever. It's a wonderful fabric for anyone who is allergic to wool-- and the colors this year are marvelous. In fact, I just saw a yummy three-piece suit in a glowing print.

I know, too, that it's marvelously practical... and some of us just toss it into the washing machine and forget it. And that's fine with standard colors. But unfortunately, some of the most luscious dyes "come out in the wash." Others are sensitive to the alkalies in perspiration, food stains and beverages.

So, don't take chances with high fashion corduroys. Here again, it takes professional care such as you get at Diamond Cleaners to keep colors bright and glowing, the yarns soft and unmattd.

One thing more. Don't expect miracles... but very often your dry cleaner's steam finishing process will restore corduroy with matted pile to deep rich beauty. Pressing at home just mats it further.

Rights conference speakers include Channing Phillips

The first black man ever placed in nomination for the presidency at a major party convention will return to his alma mater this month as one of four speakers honoring the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Rev. Channing E. Phillips, who is currently a member of both the Democratic National Committee and the militant Washington, D.C., Black United Front, will speak on "Getting to the Nitty-Gritty: From Social and Economic Rights to Human Rights" at the annual Charter Day observance of Drew University, Madison.

The two-day "Conference on Human Rights" will begin on next Wednesday, the 101st anniversary of the granting of Drew's New Jersey charter, with a 4 p.m. address by Yale University philosopher John Wild.

A specialist on Marxist thought and the author of many books, Wild will provide a comparative base for the conference discussions with his talk on the Marxist human rights stand, titled "The Rights of Man and the Other Person."

At 8 p.m. Feb. 12, Dr. Quentin Quade, acting dean of Marquette University's Graduate School, will speak on "Human Rights: The Church Speaking to Politics."

The director of the United Nations Office of the B'nai B'rith International Council, Dr. William Korey, will begin the conference's second day on Feb. 13 with a 4 p.m. address on "Human Rights at the UN: Illusion and Reality."

At 8 p.m. that night, the Rev. Phillips, who is currently on leave as pastor of the Lincoln Temple in Washington, D.C., to serve as president of the non-profit Housing Development Corporation, will close the Conference with his address.

All four conference sessions are free and open-to-the-public.

RAIN MORE RISKY

Rain can make driving more risky than snow, says the Allstate Motor Club. The changes that occur during snow are apparent to most drivers, but the hazards of rain, such as reduced visibility and traction, are not generally recognized as dangerous.

JUST HORING AROUND--The horse with the bag over his nose is a gentle standardbred named "Stan" who seems to placidly enjoy taking part in a study of horse metabolism at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science.

Feeding is Stan's bag Out to solve nagging problems

Now that he's retired to the suburbs, Stan has it made. He eats well, exercises moderately and has a promising new career in research. If it weren't for that bag over his nose, life would be perfect.

Stan, who happens to be a horse, is a standardbred with a career at the trotting tracks behind him. He's being used by Paul V. Fomesbeck of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science to find the feed requirements of suburban horses used for occasional riding.

Dr. Fomesbeck, research professor of animal science, explains that 90 per cent or so of the 25,000 horses in New Jersey are used primarily for recreation. Often, their owners incorrectly estimate how much feed a horse really needs, and so the horses become underfed or overfed. The old formulas for feeding work horses are no longer reliable now that horses are living easier lives.

What about that bag on Stan's nose? "The purpose of the bag," Dr. Fomesbeck says, "is to measure the volume of air the horse exhales while he stands, walks, and trots. From this, the amount of oxygen he consumes and carbon dioxide he produces can be measured. The energy he expends during the exercise can be calculated."

Electronic instruments measure rate of breathing and heartbeat along with volume of exhalation during the experiments. A turnstile-like device leads the horse around at a predetermined rate.

Dr. Fomesbeck is currently working on a way of electrically measuring the horse's breathing while at full gallop, which the turnstile does not permit.

"When this system is completed, we should be able to establish a complete table of energy expended during various types of exercise," he says.

From the table will be developed formulas for feeding which Dr. Fomesbeck hopes will assist in revising the feeding standards published in a booklet, entitled "Nutrient Requirements of Horses." This will become available from the National Academy of Sciences in Washington.

Dr. Fomesbeck is training a thoroughbred which may join "Stan" in the project. The research, partially supported by the Graydon Foundation, began last winter.

Dr. Fomesbeck has been concerned with animal nutrition and metabolism since doing graduate work at Utah State University, where he received M.S. and Ph.D. degrees. He joined the Rutgers staff in 1963.

THE ARMY OF HUMANITARIANS

Now, which European institution would you say has made the transition to America most effectively, and without loss of its distinctive character? That question might not seem particularly seasonal. But in my book it is, because my choice would be--the Salvation Army. No time of the year is as appropriate as Christmas-time for a discussion of this Americanized organization founded by a Victorian Englishman.

William Booth wanted to carry martial virtues over into the field of Christian humanitarianism. He planned to form a great army of dedicated soldiers, marching not to war, but to the aid of the poor, the suffering, and the oppressed.

General Booth succeeded. We're all familiar with the military titles, the uniforms, the rousing music, and the disciplined energy of the Salvation Army.

Some of its commanders stand out more clearly than fighting generals. Who could ever forget that grand lady of an illustrious family, Evangeline Booth? She came from England, and made the Salvation Army an indispensable part of the American scene.

Today it's one of our most important humanitarian agencies, with services that run from social work in the slums to the maintenance of low cost housing for seniors. These services are, needless to say, conducted the year round.

Still, Christmas is the season when the Salvation Army becomes especially noticeable to most of us. We can hardly think of Christmas Eve without those street corner groups in uniform, banging tambourines, tooting jolly songs and carols, suggesting in the nicest way that passers-by remember the less fortunate members of our society.

The Salvation Army reminds us that the holiday is a holy day. That's one reason why so many of us reach into our pockets for a coin or a bill when we see a collection kettle ahead.

Another reason is the colorful display. I think it's worth a modest donation to make sure that we'll have the Salvation Army adding to the joyous occasion each December.

Merry Christmas!

Dick Gregory set to talk at Fairleigh

Civil rights activist and comedian Dick Gregory will speak on the Florman-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Recreation Building.

Once a comedian, Dick Gregory became active in the civil rights movement in 1962. Since then he has crosscussed the nation marching and speaking to further the cause of his race.

Labeling himself as "militant but humble," Gregory prefers the boycott to the riot as a tactical weapon. "People will get mad at boycotts, but afterwards buildings will still be standing, fireman won't be getting shot and Negroes won't be dead," Gregory has written several books on civil rights including: "From The Back of The Bus, Nigger, What's Happening?"

A question and answer period will follow the lecture which is open to the public.

Bad advice on winter driving can prove costly to your car

Any driver seeking advice on winter car care usually can find plenty -- and much of it is incorrect, warns Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Motor Club.

To help drivers steer clear of bad winter driving advice, Costa lists the following winter driving myths and compares them with what automotive engineers and fleet operators say:

1. "An engine should idle and warm up before the car is driven, especially in cold weather." Not so, say the experts. The best way to warm up an engine to peak operating efficiency is to drive the car easily. Just idling the engine keeps the choke closed longer.

2. "Pump the accelerator a few times before using the starter so the engine will start the first time and prevent flooding." Pumping the accelerator more than once on cars with automatic transmissions may flood the engine. The proper method is to depress the pedal slightly, hold it there and start the motor. If the engine is flooded, a motorist should floor the gas pedal and hold it there while he tries to start the engine.

If the motor doesn't start, wait a few minutes and try again, repeating this method every few minutes until the car starts.

3. "Power brakes make your car safer; you can stop quicker." Not necessarily, says the Allstate expert. Power brakes make you stop with less effort, but not in less distance. They give some drivers a false sense of security, because like power steering, they don't give the driver enough feel of the pavement. On wet or icy pavement this is dangerous.

Periodic inspection should be made of the brake fluid in the master cylinder, of the air and oil filters, steering system, shock absorbers, the under-carriage and the exhaust system, to name a few. Tires should always be carefully inspected. The Allstate Motor Club reminds car owners of bad advice. Talk is cheap, but repair bills and accidents resulting from taking bad advice are not.

STRICTLY DEFENSIVE. It's a lock, not a zipper, being shown by Sandia Corporation's Solla Candelaria. The doughnut-shaped rings are made of a ceramic that expands or contracts depending upon the direction of the electrical field applied through them. To unlock the rings after they have been inserted in the cylinder on the right, you must know the exact combination of electrical signals. And the more times you guess wrong, the more difficult the lock becomes to open. Not only is it better than mechanical locks in resisting picking -- it is superior to electronic memory locks because of less sensitivity to high magnetic fields. The new piezoelectric lock was invented by Dr. Omar Smetzer of Sandia, a subsidiary of Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System.

Long list of foods slated to be plentiful this month

By ANNE L. SHEELAN, County Home Economist Good news! A long and varied list of foods is expected to be plentiful in February.

Broiler-fryers, green split peas, pork, canned salmon, potatoes, onions, canned tomatoes and tomato products, canned and frozen sweet corn, fresh oranges, fresh grapefruit and canned juice, and dried prunes are the items as listed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

When the list of plentiful foods includes such a number of items, it presents a great opportunity for achieving variety in your menu plans and at the same time buying the specially priced items in the market.

To be a wise shopper, give special attention to the food advertisements and watch the prices on the items which are predicted to be plentiful. Because the supply of these items is high, it should cause them to be reduced in price and specially featured. Planning your meals around the foods which are specially priced usually results in a substantial savings in your food budget.

Another way to use the plentiful list to best advantage is to serve these foods in a new and different way. Such a system will help to make family meals more interesting and more appealing. Check your favorite cookbook for ideas on how these plentiful items can be served.

For a recipe suggestion, try the quick deep dish salmon pie which follows:

QUICK DEEP DISH SALMON PIE
2 10 1/2 ounce cans pea or asparagus soup
1 lb. can salmon
1/2 cup milk or cream
1 lb. can small potatoes, drained
1 lb. can small onions, drained
1/8 tsp. white pepper
1/4 tsp. oregano
1/4 tsp. sweet basil
1 pkg. refrigerator buttermilk biscuits

In saucepan combine soup, liquid from can of salmon and the milk or cream. Stir in salmon, potatoes, onions and seasonings. Heat until sauce begins to simmer, stirring occasionally. Empty into a 2-quart casserole or baking dish. Top with biscuits. Bake in preheated 400 degree F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes, or until biscuits are brown. Garnish with water cream. Makes 4 servings.

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has filed a petition with the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners for authority to issue and sell $75,000,000 principal amount of its First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, to be dated April 1, 1969, and to mature April 1, 1999. It is planned to open bids for the Bonds on April 1.

The proceeds from the sale will be added to the general funds of the company and will be used for general corporate purposes, including the payment of a portion of the cost of its current construction program.

The REV. EDWARD H. FLANNERY

Catholic priest to be speaker in synagogue lecture series

A Catholic priest will speak on "Anti-Semitism" in the final offering of the 1968-69 Congregation Beth Shalom of Union lecture series on Sunday.

The Rev. Edward H. Flannery, director of the Institute of Judaean-Christian Studies at Seton Hall University and author of the first history of anti-semitism by a Catholic priest, will begin his lecture at 8 p.m. in the Congregation's Bardsy Hall at Vauxhall road and Plane street, Union.

Father Flannery's book, "The Anguish of the Jews: 23 Centuries of Anti-Semitism," has received six awards, and is being translated into French, Spanish and Portuguese. The premise of the book is that division between Christians and Jews has come not only from anti-semitism but also from the "Christians' ignorance of Jewish history."

The priest, born in Rhode Island in 1912, was editor of "The Providence Visitor," a diocesan weekly, from 1957 until 1967. He has received the National Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Award of the Rhode Island Unit of the American Jewish Committee, the Sixth Annual Edith Stein Award, the National Catholic Book Award and the Jewish War Veterans Brotherhood Award, all in 1965.

Father Flannery studied at LaSalle Academy in Rhode Island, St. Charles College, Baltimore, and the Seimaire St. Sulpice, France. He has translated several works from French to English.

He is the executive secretary of the Secretariat for Catholic-Jewish Relations of the Bishops' Committee for Ecumenical and Inter-religious Affairs, with offices at Seton Hall. Tickets for the lecture, which cost $2.50, will be available at the door.

Bellevue books 'Fisherman' film

"The Shoes of the Fisherman," which the National Board of Review named the "Best Picture of the Year," opens Tuesday at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair. The George Englund production, released through MGM, and directed by Michael Anderson, is set in the future, with a poverty-stricken China threatening to fight for food, and the Vatican attempting to prevent war and destruction. Anthony Quinn portrays a Russian Pontiff at the Vatican. Others starred in "The Shoes of the Fisherman" are Laurence Olivier, Oskar Werner, David Janssen, Vittorio De Sica, Leo McKern and John Gielgud. The picture, filmed in color, was derived from Morris West's best-selling novel. "Stari," starring Julie Andrews, continues to run at the Bellevue through Monday.

Station Breaks

TV STAR BLASTS KIDDIE PROGRAMING. "I think what children are seeing now is abominable, but it's the parents' fault. I'm talking about any of the cartoon shows on Saturday and Sunday mornings. They're nothing but violence and mayhem and mayhem and violence." So says Soupy Sales, who has been in the medium since 1949, went on to say that the fault lies equally divided between the networks' "abysmal lack of creativity" in this area and the parents who permit their children to watch that kind of show, thereby insuring high ratings. Obviously, Sales believes that "The Pied Piper of Astroworld," which is his latest video venture (ABC-TV), and taped entirely by Judge Roy Hofheinz' vast family amusement park next to the famous Houston Astro-dome, is the kind of children's program needed to fill the creativity gap. "I think it will eventually be shown on nighttime TV," said Soupy, "because it turned out better than they thought it would. It's just as good as 'Heidi,' and look at the success they had with that." Sales, who played the Pied Piper in a kind of musical fable set in Astroworld, was attired in blue jeans, brilliant orange cowboy boots, a multi-colored shirt, and a broad-brimmed Western hat (white, naturally -- he played the good guy) and spoke with admiration of the Astroworld wardrobe department; "You should see it -- It looks like the basement at Macy's. And it's a good thing, too. I had to make about 10 costume changes during the show." Then the inevitable question: Where did you pick up a name like Soupy? "It's an old nickname, since I was a kid," he patiently explained. "There were three of us kids -- Chicken Bone, Ham Bone, and Soup Bone, which was me. Somehow it got narrowed down to Soupy, and I got used to it and finally had it legalized."

'Catherine,' 'Lion' keeping O'Toole in the limelight

Versatile and talented Peter O'Toole is making his presence quite well known on the New Jersey screens these days. While (as a clean-shaven, handsome British captain) he is fighting off the seductive charms of Jeanne Moreau, a Russian empress in "The Great Catherine" on the Union and Ormont screen, he is, at the same time (as a bearded, 50-year-old English king), matching verbal, biting wits with Katharine Hepburn in "The Lion in Winter" on the Millburn Cinema screen.

O'Toole has a lot of himself to offer to New Jerseyans, and he's having a ball doing it. He seems to have more fun, however, in "The Great Catherine," the British comedy, which he co-produced and which was directed by Gordon Flemying, who manages to wring the most out of every one of his long, wild, productive comedic scenes.

"The Great Catherine," which is based on a play by George Bernard Shaw, is a big production with colorful costumes, risque scenes and an efficient cast featuring Zero Mostel, Jack Hawkins and Akim Tamiroff. It is naughty, boisterous, sexy, and loaded with Shaw's intellectual witticisms. And it contains some really ingeniously funny scenes.

The background music provided by Dimitri Tiomkin is effectively presented.

And O'Toole, clean-shaven or bearded, is never hard to take.

Joanne Woodward is 'Rachel' at Art

"Rachel, Rachel," starring Joanne Woodward as a restless, unhappy, 35-year-old school teacher, opened yesterday at the Art Theater, Irvington Center, on a double bill with "The Family Way."

Paul Newman makes his directorial bow in "Rachel, Rachel," and the film in color has Estelle Parsons, Kate Harrington, James Olson and Geraldine Fitzgerald in stellar roles. "The Family Way," an adult British film drama, based on the play, "All in Good Time" by Bill Naughton, stars Hayley Mills, as a young, unhappy bride; and John Mills, Hywel Bennett and Marjorie Rhodes. Paul McCartney provided the music and Roy Boulting directed the picture in color.
