Music in modern key to share stage at MMA concert on Sunday afternoon

The Atlantic Jazz Quintette, a group of young men aged 16 to 21, will present compositions by Herbie Hancock and Horace Silver when they perform at the Deerfield School on Sunday afternoon. The program, sponsored by the Mountainside Music Association, will also feature the Virginia State College Symphonic Band.

Youngest member of the combo is Alan Pasqua, who does most of the arranging and has composed a dozen or more songs. Two of his compositions, "Three Plus Two" and "Boss Groove," will be included in Sunday's program, with Alan at the piano. The young man also plays the vibes, trombone, tuba and organ.

His father plays string bass and his older brother plays piano, so he grew up with music around him and began studying piano when he was seven. He plays in the school band at Roselle Park High School, where he is also a Key Club member. He plans to attend Indiana State University as a music major, with writing and arranging his career goal.

Trumpeter Warren Vache, co-leader of the quintet with Alan, is a senior at Rahway High School. "I play the vibes too, and flugelhorn, piano and a bit of bass, but when I began, to force me every inch of the way," he says.

Warren's father plays bass and does club dates as a sideline to his job as a musical instrument salesman, Jimmy Fitzpatrick, of Hal Kemp's famed band, was Warren's first teacher. Playing professionally is Warren's aim, but he plans to pursue a degree in music at Montclair State College so that he has a sound basis for his vocation.

Kenny Szeliga joins Warren in the repartee the boys exchange during practice sessions. He, too, started his musical training early and has had nine years of lessons on the sax. Encouraged by his father, a drummer, he learned to play flute, clarinet and tenor, alto and baritone sax. His original composition, "Run," will be one of the group's selections. Kenny attends David Brearley High School in Kenilworth and plans to attend Manhattan School of Music, then play professionally.

John Delloiacano, percussionist, and Kirk Schmidt, bass player, are students at Rutgers, where John is a freshman and Kirk a junior. John graduated from Roselle Park High School where he was a member of the Honor Society and Key Club. Next year, when he chooses his major, he thinks it will be in languages, "but I'll always play the drums." John's father had a friend who was a drummer, and John began lessons with him when he was nine.

Kirk is the newest member of the group and, unlike the others, is self-taught. He plays tuba, piano, trombone, string bass and fender bass and confesses the "self-taught" does not apply to the piano, since his father teaches piano and saw to it that Kirk started at an early age. Kirk is a graduate of Union High School and is a music major at college.

THE YOUNG MUSICIANS chose their name because there already is a Pacific Jazz Quintet.

School, recreation units to discuss tennis courts

Representatives from the Mountainside Board of Recreation Commissioners and the Board of Education will meet this week to further investigate the possibility of adding two more tennis courts in the borough.

The courts would be built in the Deerfield School-Lady of Lourdes area, hopefully in time for the summer, a spokesman for the recreation board said.

The Board of Recreation Commissioners has already met twice with Our Lady of Lourdes officials and once with the Board of Education, but the exact site of the courts has not been resolved.

The courts would give the borough a total of four. There are two courts in the Echobrook School area.

The board spokesman also said that the commissioners are considering the initiation of tennis instruction for children this summer.

In other recent Board of Recreation Commissioners' action, plans were announced for the Canadian-New Jersey International AAU diving meet to be held at the borough pool this year. The date is Monday, June 30.

The annual meet was once scheduled to be held here in 1967, but bad weather forced its adjournment to the indoor facilities at the Westfield YMCA. A rain date has been set this year. In case of inclement weather, the meet will be held Tuesday, July 1.

Representatives from both Canada and New Jersey particularly praised the diving tank and boards in selecting the Mountainside pool, a recreation commissioner said.

Swimming pool membership cards will be more durable this year. The Board of Recreation Commissioners has ordered the ID cards to be completely encased in plastic for the 1969 season.

Last year, according to a recreation board spokesman, the cards were ordered in laminated sheets which subsequently had to be cut up, thereby exposing the cardboard edges.

The cards will be mailed some time after the April 1, due date for yearly membership.

State will eliminate grade crossing at Rt. 22 in borough

The elimination of the at-grade crossing of New Providence rd. at Rt. 22 will be one of the first major projects when the state begins a construction program which would improve 14-1/2 miles of the highway which bisects Mountainside.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. and members of the Borough Council learned this last week on a visit to the state transportation department in Trenton.

Mayor Wilhelms said that although the borough representatives were shown a variety of plans for the improvement of the intersection and the widening of the highway, all were quite preliminary and in no way suggested what the final plans for the highway would be in the borough.

However, the New Providence road crossing would be either an underpass or an overpass.

Mayor Wilhelms said that either an underpass or an overpass would "take up more room than the present grade crossing" and that "there might be some relocation of housing."

Mayor Wilhelms said that work on the highway would begin as soon as all design work is completed and after public hearings in each community affected are held. The hearings, the mayor estimated, would begin this spring. There is no present timetable on when work would begin or end.

The improvements extend from Union west to Green Brook, the mayor said.

Work by student artists in exhibition at library

Art work by students of the Deerfield Middle School is featured in a current display at the Mountainside Public Library.

The exhibit also includes arts and crafts projects by youngsters from the Deerfield and Echobrook elementary schools, prepared under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Judith Worsham and Mrs. Lois Radding.

PTA pulls off a 'kaper' Fair planned for 'kalico' cutups

All the flavor of a traditional country fair will be recaptured by the Mountainside PTA during "Kalico Kapers" at the Deerfield School on Saturday, May 10, from noon to 5 p.m. Youngsters may try their luck at any of the 12 games being planned. There will be prizes galore for the winners, pony rides and a real fire engine excursion. At the fair, anyone can create a unique abstract painting on the "paint wheel."

There will be booths where a gift for mom can be purchased, or a homemade toy, or homemade cakes, hot dogs, snow cones and popcorn are among the refreshments.

Teens and pre-teens can dance to the music of "The Odd Beginning," in the school gym from 3 to 4:30 p.m. A dance contest will take place at 4.

Girls in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are eligible to enter the cake bake contest to be held at 2 p.m. Prizes and blue ribbons will be awarded by an expert baker.

AN EXHIBIT OF local professional and semi-professional artists' is planned for adult fairgoers. An auction will follow.

To highlight "Kalico Kapers," there will be a square dance demonstration by the "Teen Promenaders" of Berkeley Heights, with Dick Lighthipe as caller. This performance will be presented at 1 p.m. and will be immediately followed by "Mr. Magic" of Fanwood.

Regional expansion report will be issued 'any day now'

By ABNER GOLD

The Regional High School District Board of Education will release its consultant's report on its expansion needs within the next week or so, Avery Ward, board president, announced at the regular meeting Tuesday night at the Lincoln School in Garwood.

He said that copies of the report, by Dr. Henry Risetto of Columbia University, were being printed and would be distributed to newspapers, local school boards and libraries as soon as they are received, which should be "any day now."

After the report is distributed, Ward added, there will be several public meetings at which the public can discuss the recommendations with board members. He said that the board had been hopeful of holding a referendum on its expansion proposal before the summer, but that delay in getting the report from Dr. Risetto was dimming those hopes.

The board president declined to discuss suggestions made by Dr. Risetto in a recent oral presentation to the board.

THE BOARD POLICY of busing students to school over distances of 2 to 2.5 miles barely survived a move to have it dropped, by a tie vote of 4-4. The policy was adopted earlier this year after several Springfield residents had criticized the board for busing Berkeley Heights and Clark students who live closer to school than two miles. The state pays most of the costs for bus rides longer than 2.5 miles. The board must pay the full cost for all rides shorter than that.

Board members had defended the earlier policy, in Berkeley Heights and Clark, on grounds of perilous traffic conditions. Following the first protests, they dropped the distance for all riders to two miles, adding a number of students in Springfield. The bus transportation, for distances less than two miles, will cost the board an estimated $50,000 next year.

The motion to end bus rides shorter than 2.5 miles failed, 4-4, since it did not gain a majority. Supporting the motion, and against the shorter bus rides, were Mrs. Natalie Waldt and Dr. Benjamin Josephson of Springfield. (Continued on page 2)

Police beef up patrols at night to cut burglaries

Reacting quickly to residents pleas for more protection from an outbreak of break and entries, the Mountainside Police Department has switched its regular day shift to evening hours and the smaller evening shift to the daytime, and ordered its men to increase the amount of patrolling in the borough's streets.

This means that instead of two cars prowling the borough during the "high-incidence" hours of 6 p.m. to 2 a.m., there will now be four cars.

The action came in the wake of discussions between the Borough Council and a group of more than 60 residents last week at the monthly meeting of the Borough Council.

The citizens told council of suspicious and overt incidents all over the borough ticked off a number of solutions they thought would bring the number of burglaries into line.

There was a significant increase in break and entries in the borough during January and February. Councilman Robert Ruggiero, who is also police commissioner, said there were 12 break and entries in January and eight in February.

As to the method of operation of the burglars, Councilman Ruggiero made several things clear: most of the burglaries occurred during the evening hours; no one was home in any of the victimized residences and there had to be an automobile involved in all cases, because "they can't very well run through the streets

Police disclose more burglaries

Break and entry incidents continued to plague the borough this week as police reported "several" more cases as of Tuesday night, according to Borough Councilman Robert Ruggiero, police commissioner.

The public's preoccupation with the crime wave came to a head at the last regular meeting of the borough council, Tuesday night, March 18, when almost 70 persons confronted the governing body with pleas for help.

The burglaries since then have involved amounts of money and general merchandise. They were all within two blocks of Rt. 22.

Under Dr. Davis' direction, he will have general charge of the total district-wide public information program of the four high schools in the regional district.

Easter egg hunt Saturday at 9

The Mountainside Kiwanis Club will hold its annual Easter egg hunt Saturday at 9 a.m. at Echobrook School. All local children 12 and younger are eligible to take part.

Starting with a siren signal by the Rescue Squad ambulance, all the children will search for candy eggs which have been hidden in the area. Those finding eggs with special markings will receive prizes. Peter Von Nessi of 1413 Deer path is chairman.

Additional candy eggs will be taken to youngsters at Children's Specialized Hospital. In case of rain, the egg hunt will be postponed to April 5.

Local editor has new assignment

Several staff changes affecting this newspaper and other Union County publications of the Suburban Publishing Corp. and its affiliates were announced this week by Les Malamut, news and editorial director.

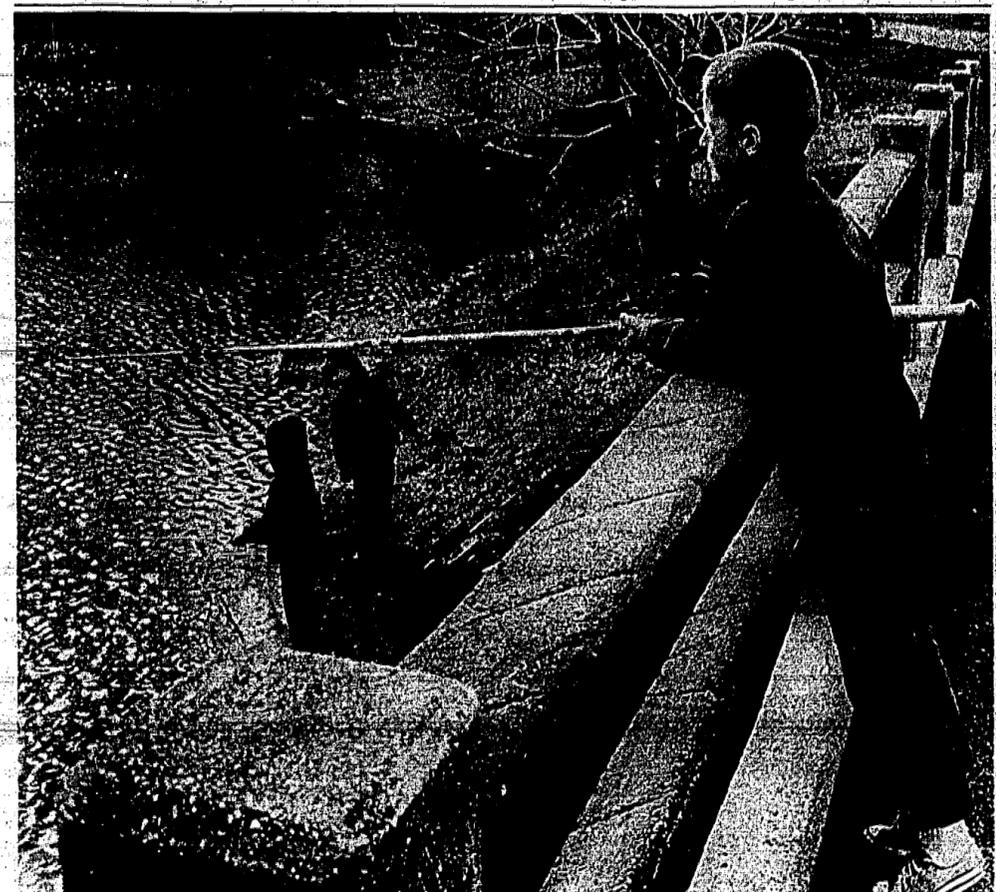

Abner Gold, editor of the Springfield Leader and Mountainside Echo, was named assistant to the news and editorial director. He will continue as editor for Springfield and Mountainside. Erwin Falkenheim, editor of the Union Leader and assistant to the news and editorial director for the past five years, has resigned to direct public information activities of the Union County Regional High School District.

Ada Brunner, a staff member for the past four years, is now city editor of the Union Leader. William French becomes chief of the copy desk, serving all of the company's Union County publications. Hartland Mershon continues as editor of the Spectator of the Roselles and the Linden Leader.

PTA panel looking at teen pressures

Bernard Carr, director of guidance at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, will moderate a discussion entitled "Teen-Age Pressures—Are They Undesirable?" at a meeting of the school's PTA tonight at 8 in the cafeteria.

The discussion will feature Mary Nightingale and C. Robert Isleib, both parents of teenagers; Dale Forsman, a youth minister of the Westfield Methodist Church; Thomas Rosemilla, of the high school faculty, and Beverly Braun and George Schulman, students.

Lake Park in Mountainside. The two lads at the left apparently believe in taking an even closer look at the situation.

When Mr. Shaffer visited his married daughter in Baltimore, his grandson wanted to know why he put drops in his eyes every morning.

My doctor says that he discovered by glaucoma early, so he doesn't think I will lose any vision at all. Of course I will have to use eye drops faithfully for the rest of my life, and see my doctor for regular checkups. But that's a small price to pay for my vision.

Union College students 'summoned' to theatre

There are a lot of summonses being issued in and around the Union College campus in Cranford these days and no one seems the least bit disturbed to get one.

The official looking documents summon the bearer to appear at the Union College Theatre to witness the production of "Night of January 16th."

The unusual tickets to the all-student production of the three-act comedy-drama by Ayn Rand are in keeping with the theme of the play. The murder mystery calls on members of the audience to serve as the jury and it is with their verdict that the play ends. "Night of January 16th" will be presented April 11, 12 and 13 at 8:30 p.m. by the Union College Drama Club.

FRIDAY DEADLINE
All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Catholic Young Adults sponsor paper drives

The Union County Catholic Young Adult Club is sponsoring a series of newspaper drives. The first was held March 1 and the next will be April 5 and May 10.

Residents of Union, Kenilworth and Springfield are being asked to bring their newspapers to St. Michael's Church parking lot, Kelly street and Vauxhall road, Union; residents of Linden and Clark to Mother Seton Regional High School parking lot, Valley road, Clark (at Parkway Exit 135); residents of Roselle, Roselle Park, Cranford and Garwood to St. Anne's Church parking lot, Second avenue, Garwood; residents of Rahway and Elizabeth to St. Mary's School parking lot Central avenue, Rahway.

Elizabeth Y slates tour to Niagara

The Adult Department of the Elizabeth YWCA is sponsoring a bus trip to Niagara Falls and Canada June 3-6. Overnight reservations have been made at the Sheraton Brock Hotel with all rooms facing the Falls. The itinerary will include side trips to Prospect Point and Goat Island, Niagara Power Project, Barge Canal Lock at Lock Port, N.Y., and the Maid of the Mist, tour of the Park in Canada and the Floral Clock, and Great Gorge, Wieland Canal, Hamilton's open market and Botanical Gardens and the Skylon Tower. Evenings will be left free. On the way back, the tour will visit the Rose Garden at Newark, N.Y.

Reservation is open for all adults and may be made in person or by mail. A $10 deposit is required. All available vacancies must be filled by the middle of April. All expenses, less meals, are kept very low. For more information call the YWCA, EL 5-1500.

ROTC PRODUCTIVE
The Reserve Officer Training Corps program has produced 79 percent of all Army officers entering on active duty during the past 10 years.

Members of the CYAC will be on hand to receive the newspapers which must be tied in bundles. Papers may be dropped off between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Magazines or books may not be accepted.

The purpose of the drive is to raise funds for the CYAC's orphanage trip to Turtle Back Zoo, West Orange, planned for May. A similar drive last November succeeded in raising $112 toward the initial cost of the trip.

The CYAC is a singles club composed of about 250 members ages 18 to 26 whose purpose is to introduce young adults to new people through various activities. Some of the activities the CYAC has planned for this spring include ski trips, boat cruises, camping weekends, dances, theater outings, donkey baseball game, fund raising events and many more.

Young adults, regardless of faith, who would like to join the CYAC or obtain additional information, may contact Rich Brinton, chairman, at 688-7857.

He's honor roll student, a new skier -- and he's blind!

College is opening up new horizons for Edward Kochanowski. Majoring in Slavic languages and specializing in Russian, the Alliance College (Cambridge Springs, Pa.) freshman was recently named to the honor roll with a 3.2 average.

Also, he recently went skiing for the first time. So what? you ask. Big deal, you say. Well, consider the fact that the Kentworth resident has been blind since birth. Alliance College is nine hours by car or an overnight trip by train away from his 14 N. 22nd st. home where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kochanowski, reside. Edward chose the school, Mrs. Kochanowski said, because of its excellent program in Slavic languages. He hopes to be a government translator some day. "Communication is better than escalation", the blind boy once said in a paper on "Why I Want to Go to College."

For Edward and his parents his education has been a series of decisions and adjustments on the way to Cambridge Springs. Edward started off in St. Theresa's attending kindergarten and first grade there. Mr. and Mrs. Kochanowski, however, transferred Edward to St. Joseph's School for the Blind in Jersey City in the second grade. He stayed there for three years until tutors from the N.J. Commission for the Blind and representatives from the Mt. Carmel School for the Blind persuaded the Kochanowski to return Edward to a school with sighted children.

"They explained that he'll have to live and work with sighted people after he gets out of school," Mrs. Kochanowski said, "and the best time to start learning how is in school."

He returned to St. Theresa's in the fifth grade, graduated and went to Roselle Catholic High School. David Brearley opened as his junior year was getting underway.

Mrs. Kochanowski explains: "I had to drive him to school every day at Roselle Catholic.

When Brearley opened he walked to school with his cane." Edward has developed a high-level of self sufficiency and often makes the train trip home from college by himself. He also travelled to Poland two years ago with his two grandmothers. He speaks Polish which is a catalyst for his Slavic language studies. Edward studies in braille, but hands his assignments to his teachers typewritten in Russian. "We bought a typewriter used by a sighted student only three months," Mrs. Kochanowski said, as she explained how the family got a price break on it at $85.

Concerning his skiing, Mrs. Kochanowski said the college ski club invited him along one recent weekend and he enjoyed it thoroughly. It was his first venture into outdoor athletics. He took gym in high school. He would like to participate in some activities at Alliance as he did at Brearley with Junior Achievement. But, Mrs. Kochanowski said, "Right now it's pretty hard to join a language club next year."

Registration for Y camps

Registration for all five units of the New Jersey YMHA-YWHA Camps is well ahead of previous years, Clarence Reisen, president, reported this week. The Y program expanded for 1969 with the establishment of Camps Round and Long Lake at Lake Como, Pa. All July placements for boys have been filled and only a few places remain for girls. There is still room for boys and girls for all season, or for the month beginning July 29.

Parents may obtain application forms and more information about the five 'Y' Camps by writing to the camp office, 589 Central Ave., East Orange, 07018, or by contacting Mitchell Jaffe, executive director of the YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union.

FDU slates China study

A summer program of Chinese study in Taiwan is being offered by the Florham-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University. Conducted from July 1 through Aug. 27, the program offers nine credits to be elected from four courses: Chinese Literature and Poetry, Chinese Culture, Chinese History, and Chinese Language (Mandarin). Because all courses will be taught in English by Chinese professors, there will not be a language requirement.

The schedule includes approximately one week in Hong Kong, one week in Japan and six weeks in Taiwan. Students will be afforded the opportunity to engage in serious study in the cultural milieu of each area. In addition, field trips, guest lecturers, cultural programs and a voluntary tutorial English program for Chinese students will be included in the eight week period.

The program fee includes tuition, housing, transportation, and food expenses. Applications may be obtained from Nishan J. Najarian, director, Southeast Asian Summer Institute - Taiwan, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Madison, 07940. The application deadline is April 20.

THE ROBERT F. KENNEDY THEATRE FOR CHILDREN
By ROBERT LYONS
It is appropriate that a permanent young people's theatre will be known as The Robert F. Kennedy Theatre for Children, Robert Kennedy universally established himself as a man who found children irresistible.

One of my vivid memories of Robert Kennedy was a new film of him emerging from a schoolhouse in the Mississippi Delta and finding himself up to his elbows in children who led, followed, and surrounded him.

Theatre Tip: Seating children a few rows in front of you, thereby leaving them somewhat on their own during performance, can add to their theatre-going pleasure.

PETER DUCHIN will appear with his orchestra at the New Jersey Symphony's 'Jewel Ball' on Saturday, April 19, at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark.

'Firemen's Ball' heads bill at Art

The Academy Award nominee, 'The Firemen's Ball,' Czech comedy, opened yesterday at the Art Theater, Irvington Center.

The associate film at the Art is Claude Lelouch's 'Live For Life,' starring Yves Montand and Candice Bergen.

Princeton theater to offer 'Privilege'
McCart Theatre's International Film Series will host another Princeton Premiere on Tuesday, April 1, at 8 p.m., with the first local showing of the 1967 English film, 'Privilege.' Directed by Peter Watkins, who earned an Academy Award last year for his documentary 'The War Game,' 'Privilege' deals with the surge of the youth, music, religion, and politics.
The story chronicles the rise of pop-rock singing idol Stephen Shorter (played by real-life singer Paul Jones), who acquires power, women (Jean Shrimpton) and money, but is uncertain what to do with any of them. Part-satire and part-cynical, 'Privilege' has been called England's answer to the American film 'Wild in the Streets,' which also deals with the rise and fall of an unscrupulous popular singing star and the problems brought on by his sudden fame and fortune. In the words of one critic 'Privilege' is an 'outspoken, anti-establishment polemic.'

ALL CLAMMED UP---Dr. Adel Hamwi, who is now director of Syria's first marine biology laboratory, spent nearly four years at Rutgers studying the respiratory and pumping rates of clams.

'Happy as a clam,' but why? Marine research completed

What conditions make a clam feel "happy as a clam"? Adel Hamwi, a Syrian with a new Rutgers doctorate in marine biology, spent the better part of four years trying to find out.

His research should prove invaluable to state underwater farmers. It also netted the former high school instructor a new job when he returns to his native Syria.

He has been named director of a new marine biology laboratory, Syria's first, at the University of Damascus in building at Latakia on the shore of the Mediterranean.

For four years Adel has spent seemingly endless hours staring into an aquarium in the Rutgers Shellfish Research Laboratory in Monmouth Beach trying to coax a secret or two from the proverbially silent clam.

The purpose of his project was to measure the respiratory and pumping rates of the hard clam.

In Dr. Hamwi's aquarium were a half-dozen clams buried up to their twin necks in sand. On both sides of the aquarium and extending into it was an array of glass tubing connected to recording instruments and an assortment of electrical components.

DR. HAMWI'S CLAMS put on a great underwater show, "and in color." He worked out a way to move two glass tubes into place over a clam.

From his reservoir of aerated sea water, colored bright green with vegetable dye, and with its temperature carefully controlled, would come a stream aimed directly at the in-current siphon of the clam. And then with the other tube he could collect the expelled water and measure its oxygen content.

Under just-right conditions, a clam in the tank almost seemed to pump on command, taking green water into one siphon and expelling greenish water and rejected particles from the other.

Other shellfish scientists have suggested that a clam pumps water through its gills primarily to feed, with the breathing function somewhat secondary.

Using his captive clams and elaborate apparatus for the control of temperature, salinity, oxygen and other factors, Dr. Hamwi concluded that a clam "pumps" to get both oxygen and food.

It's easy to surmise what this means to the millions of clams trying to survive on the bottom of pollution-choked Raritan Bay, for example, where there is likely to be much more food than oxygen.

For the shellfish industry this could mean that the more a clam "breathes" pure water the more food it absorbs and converts into meat.

Exposition of mobile homes set

New Jersey's first Mobilehome Village Exposition will be held at the Freehold Raceway on May 2, 3, and 4 at the same time as the State Spring Camping and Trailer Show.

In a separate area of the raceway, a dozen mobilehomes will be displayed in a setting simulating a mobilehome community. Homes will be displayed along "streets" complete with trees, flowers, outdoor furniture and sod lawns.

This is a completely new concept, in mobilehome shows," according to Seymour Silver, president of the New Jersey Mobilehome Association, the show's sponsor.

For years, NJMA members displayed their homes along the street at a seaside resort area. Although people were impressed with the inside of the homes, we had no way of showing how attractive mobilehome communities can be.

"After a mobilehome is delivered to a mobilehome park, it is not complete until "skirting" is added for the look of a foundation, an awning goes up as a porch and the extra refinements of the family gardener take shape.

"This year's mobilehome show at Freehold Raceway will show how attractive mobilehomes can be - inside and out."

Dr. Davis named to state committee on educational TV

Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools of the Union County Regional High School District, has been named to the State Department of Education's television advisory committee, it was announced this week.

The newly created 15-man committee, made up of educators from throughout New Jersey, will act as an advisory group to State Commissioner of Education Carl L. Marburger, a member of the Public Broadcasting Authority.

The authority was established by state law to administer the proposed State Public Broadcasting Network, which will be comprised of four UHF transmitters and studios in locations in the state. The network will also include two large production centers and mobile units.

Dr. Davis will attend the first meeting of the advisory committee on Tuesday in Trenton. Among the suggested responsibilities of Dr. Davis and his colleagues will be:

1. To gather information about the types of in-school programming desired by administrators.
2. To suggest program ideas for in-school telecasting.
3. To advise the commissioner on the types of teacher guides and other printed program materials needed to enable them to effectively use state TV.
4. To suggest educators capable of writing creative TV scripts.
5. To collect evaluative information about in-school TV programs.
6. To consider appropriate programming for out-of-school television for children of school age.

Roger Love joins Barrett & Crain

R. R. Barrett Jr., president of Barrett & Crain, Inc., realtors, with offices in Westfield and Mountainside, announced this week that Roger D. Love Jr. has become associated with the firm as a member of the residential sales staff at the Barrett & Crain Mountainside office, which serves the adjoining communities of Westfield, Scotch Plains and Fanwood as well as Mountainside.

A fourth generation Westfield resident and graduate of Springfield College and Westfield High School, Love comes to Barrett & Crain with a background of four years' experience as a salesman for Clements Bros. Fuel Co.

Love has been active in a number of community organizations, including the Methodist Church and the Westfield YMCA, where he served as vice-president of the Y's Men's Club.

Barrett also announced that Alfred George Rogers Jr. of Mountainside had been made an officer of the firm and that Herbert J. Irlon of Westfield had been promoted to vice-president. Guy D. Mulford was designated vice-president in charge of Barrett & Crain's new industrial division.

Exhibit will include residents' paintings

Four Mountainside residents are among 157 New Jersey artists whose paintings will be exhibited at the Westfield Art Association's eighth annual state-wide exhibition, which will open Sunday in the Campus Center at Union College, Cranford. They were selected from nearly 600 entries.

The show is open to the public from Sunday to April 5 from 1 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m., and on April 6 from 1 to 5 p.m. Original paintings in oils, watercolors and pastel graphics will be exhibited.

Mountainside residents whose paintings will be exhibited at the Westfield Art Association's exhibition are: Jane Crow of 1461 Woodacres dr., "Looking Glass," an oil; Harry Devlin of 443 Hillside ave., "Last in the Row," an oil; Joseph Domarek of 1482 Fox trail, "Rue," an oil, and Julian Rockmore of Wild Hedge lane, "Waiting for the E. Train," an oil.

Air Force officer awarded his wings

DEL RIO, Texas—Second Lt. Richard E. Gaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gaiser, 1151 S. Federal Hwy., Pompano Beach, Fla., has been awarded pilot wings upon graduation at Laughlin AFB here.

Following specialized aircrew training at other bases, he will be assigned to Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam.

His wife, Ruth, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cavill, 2 Westover ct., Mountainside, N.J.

Church dramatizing communion service

A special Holy Thursday Communion service will be offered at the First Baptist Church of Westfield April 3 at 8 p.m. The conclusion of the service is the extinguishing of the lights, as scripture and song recall the flight of the disciples and the loneliness of Christ as he faced arrest, trial, judgment and death.

The candlelight service ends in darkness as the mood of sorrow and rejection is expressed, in preparation for the contrast of victory on Easter morning. The chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Bleeke will sing.
