Mullin acting police chief; Council will replace Fritz

By JACK PFANNE

The police committee of the Mountainside Borough Council has not yet set a meeting date to determine who will take the place of former police chief Christian Fritz, who retired last week after 33 years of service.

Capt. Edward J. Mullin has been appointed acting chief. Fritz's resignation came in the midst of an apparent wave of break and entries in the borough. Borough residents, alarmed at what has amounted to a break and entry increase of 50 percent for the first three months of 1969 over the similar period in the two previous years, asked the council for better protection at its monthly meeting March 18.

Councilman Robert Ruggiero, who is also police commissioner, said that this past weekend there were no break and entries in the borough. The previous weekend there had been four break and entries. Councilman Ruggiero said that 90 percent of the break and entries occurred during the weekend.

RUGGIERO ATTRIBUTED the decline to increased patrolling by the police department and to cooperation by borough residents in keeping their house lights on during the evening hours and their doors locked.

Ruggiero had "no comment" when questioned as to whether the crime wave and Fritz's sudden resignation were related.

As Fritz retired, Ruggiero lauded the chief for his service to the borough. During his career, Ruggiero pointed out, the force grew from three policemen to 19.

Under acting chief Mullin, there are now two lieutenants and two sergeants.

The police committee which will review Mullin's qualifications for chief is headed by Ruggiero and also consists of Councilmen Wilfred H. Brandt and Frank Swingle.

Capt. Mullin is a life-long resident of Mountainside and resides at 317 New Providence rd. He and his wife, Betty, have two children, Kathy, 14, and Diana, 11.

CAPT. MULLIN joined the force in 1948. He was promoted to sergeant in 1958; to lieutenant in 1960 and to captain two years ago.

While serving with the Second Infantry Division during World War II, the acting chief received a Purple Heart, a Bronze Star and four battle stars. He fought in the Battle of the Bulge, the Rhinlands and the Ardennes Forest.

He still serves as a sergeant major in the 5th Armored Division of the National Guard. Capt. Mullins has attended the New Jersey Police Chiefs Academy and the FBI Firearms School and has taken advanced fingerprinting and photography courses in the State Investigation School.

He has been active in the Mountainside Men's Bowling League for more than 20 years. He is also a target shooting enthusiast.

Miss Cleaveland returning home

Christine Cleaveland of 369 Summit rd., Mountainside, is scheduled to return home this month from Chiapas, Mexico, where she has been working with Wycliffe Bible Translators as a missionary teacher. In September, she plans to return to the New Providence school system, where she taught for three years.

Miss Cleaveland was graduated cum laud from Gordon College, Wenham, Mass., where she received a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. She was a member of Phi Alpha Chi honor society.

She is an active member of Long Hill Chapel, Chatham, which supports the teaching services in the Jungle Training Camp at Chiapas.

Col. Kelly will tell Y about state cops' program for youth

Col. David B. Kelly, superintendent of the New Jersey State Police, will be the honored guest and speaker at the Westfield YMCA's 4th anniversary dinner on Tuesday, April 15, at the YMCA, Arthur C. Fried, chairman of the annual meeting planning committee, made the announcement this week.

Col. Kelly's address will stress youth involvement in constructive programs and projects at municipal and state levels. Particular reference will be made to the "Youth Week" project conducted by the State Police each summer, which exposes teen-agers to the rigorous training and discipline that is part of the total training program of the New Jersey State Police.

Col. Kelly is a career officer of the New Jersey State Police, having graduated from the State Police Academy in 1946. He later became executive officer of Troop C, stationed in Princeton, and in 1962 was elevated to the rank of captain and assigned as commander of Troop D, New Jersey Turnpike. He became superintendent in 1965.

Col. Kelly is a veteran of World War II and served with the 8th Armored Division in

Symphonic band, jazz combo play 400 applaud musicians at Deerfield School

An audience of more than 400 rose to its feet in a spontaneous ovation at the close of one of the most exciting concerts which Mountainside has ever had the privilege of hearing. "Music for a Sunday Afternoon," sponsored by the Mountainside Music Association, featured the Virginia State College Symphonic Band and the Atlantic Jazz Quintette in a Palm Sunday afternoon concert at the Deerfield School auditorium.

Virginia State is the only Negro college which emphasizes symphonic music in its curriculum and one of the few small colleges which gives a master's degree in music. Every one of the 44 instrumentalists in the band is a music major with plans for a career in either teaching or playing at the philharmonic level. This was evident in their expert handling of the demanding program.

The founder and conductor, Dr. F. Nathaniel Gatlin, is a man of deep conviction about the importance of great music in the lives of his young students. "You can do what you want with a piece of music if you first use your vital process--think through what you want to achieve, including all the details, and only then allow yourself to try it," he said. He feels strongly about humanity's responsibility to humanity and he stresses this in his contacts with his students.

The opening number, "Finale from Symphony of the New World," with its intertwining themes, seemed to be woven right before our eyes into a colorful tapestry of sound under the expert direction of Dr. Gatlin. Watching his graceful and meaningful conducting was a great part of the pleasure of listening to the Symphonic Band.

This piece was followed by Wagner's triumphal "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral," and then by the typically Western-plains sound of "American Overture," a piece written originally for strings in which the woodwinds took over in this stringless symphonic band.

The second section of the program was conducted by Calborne T. Richardson, associate professor of music at the college. "Fanfare

Panel to discuss teen center need

On Thursday, April 17, at 8:15 p.m. at the Deerfield School, the Mountainside PTA will hold its second general meeting. A panel of Mountainside residents will discuss the topic, "Does Mountainside Need a Teenage Recreation Center?"

Addressing themselves to this question will be Mrs. William Gutman; William Ditzel, chairman of the Recreation Commission; Detective Sgt. Rice, Mountainside police force; and the Rev. E. A. Talcott, pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church.

Teenagers will be represented by Jim Harbaugh, a sophomore at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, and Jonathan Jones, president of the Student Council of Deerfield School. Mayor Fred Wilhelm will moderate. Following a brief presentation by each of the panel members, the subject will be opened to the audience for a question and answer period.

Teen summer study project spiced with French dressing

Seventeen students in the Union County Regional High School District will travel to Europe this summer to participate in a four-week French language and civilization study program. It was announced this week.

According to August Caprio, coordinator of foreign languages for the Regional District, the students will attend the University of Dijon, in Dijon, France. The University, about 180 miles southeast of Paris, has an enrollment of more than 10,000.

The students will combine classroom work including lectures on French civilization and literature, with such extracurricular activities as French cuisine classes, visits to French families in the surrounding countryside and weekly receptions.

Taking part in the study program from the Regional District are:

Jonathan Dayton; Kathi Summerer, 307 Hillside ave; Anne Appar, 70 Morrison rd.; Jill Gecker, 62 Country Club lane; Nick Di Liberto, 77 Twin Oaks Rd.; Lucy Hardgrove, 30 Ronald ter.; Ruth Popolillo, 256 Short Hills ave.; Jill Mendelsohn, 1 S Derby rd.; Mindy Schreiber, 93 Remer ave., and Donna Marsh, 104 Remer ave., all of Springfield.

Miss Maitland to retire 40 years as school dietitian

Hot dogs, spaghetti and meat loaf are just as popular with students today as they were 32 years ago when Margaret Maitland came to the Union County Regional High School District as director of cafeterias. Miss Maitland will end a 40-year career as a dietitian in June, when she retires.

She came to the Regional High School District when there was only one school, Jonathan Dayton in Springfield, with a student population of about 400.

Miss Maitland now supervises the cafeterias in the district's four high schools: Jonathan Dayton, Arthur L. Johnson in Clark, Gov. Livingston in Berkeley Heights and David Brearley in Kentlworth.

"Just look at the growth in student population," she said, "from that original 400 to over 5,300. We serve lunch to about 90 percent of those.

"When I first came to the district the lunches were simple and they were served a la carte. There was no federally-subsidized program then. And, the lunch periods were shorter --15 minutes.

"Now we have the convenience foods and frozen foods and we can offer a more varied menu that includes such dishes as chicken, fried fish and veal parmesan. The students like it better, I know," Miss Maitland said.

PROFILE--Leokadia D. Stawick

LEOKADIA D. STAWICK

Leokadia D. Stawick will be graduating from Glassboro State College in June, and some lucky high school is going to get an exceptional art instructor in September.

"I can't wait to start teaching," Leokadia says, fingering a highly-polished sterling silver ring which she cast herself. "Instead of having my students do just play projects in class," she continues turning serious, "I want to make them more aware of the world around them."

Leokadia will preach what she practices. Her own awareness has made her the senior class president at Glassboro, a member of the student-faculty advisory board, an honor society choice and dean's list regular, and has put her on the rolls of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

She recently closed a one-man art show in the college's Bosshart Hall Gallery. Leokadia's media range from oil and acrylic painting to wood constructions to ceramic sculpture to jewelry. Her favorite, though, is graphic prints-- silk screening, linoleum and wood cuts and etchings.

Leokadia takes her memes from "many different places," she explains, "from things people say and from looking around."

Portraits are a part of her repertoire and one of her 13-year-old brother, Edmund, and another commissioned by a Glassboro woman of her grandson drew particular praise at Leokadia's recent art show.

LOUIS MUNCH

$700 grant given to Munch for study

Louis Munch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Munch of 1417 Orchard rd., Mountainside, recently received a $700 grant to assist him in his graduate work. Munch is working towards his doctorate in physical education. He is a student at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

Munch is a graduate of Rutgers University in New Brunswick, and he received his MS degree from Springfield College in 1963. He has received letters in both wrestling and football. He studied at Trenton State College during the summer in order to receive a teaching degree in driver education. He has also received many swimming awards, taught swimming at the Woodside Swim Club in Edison and managed a swim club last summer in Massachusetts.

After teaching and coaching at the Maloney High School, Meriden, Conn., for two years, Munch returned to Springfield College to teach and coach there while studying in order to complete his doctorate work. He plans to receive his Ph.D. this May.

Davey Jones Locker lures students Regional high school to offer oceanography

A group of students in the Union County Regional High School District No. 1, will begin exploring the silent world in September. Described as a natural extension of the physical and biological sciences, the study of oceanography as a separate course, will be offered on an experimental basis for one semester at David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth.

The teacher who launched the project, Jerome Mandel of MacArthur H.S., Linden, says that it is the first in the school district and believed to be one of the first of its kind in New Jersey.

Working closely with the school district's science coordinator, Walter Hohn, preliminary planning was launched this year and the course has received the go-ahead for full implementation in the Fall.

"Most of the scientific evidence available indicates that man will have to probe the ocean depths for what he needs in the future," Hohn said.

Mandel noted that the world's population is expected to double by the year 2000. "The land covers only about 30 percent of the earth's surface and it can't possibly support such an increase in population. We have to turn to the sea in a search for such things as food and power," he said.

INTEREST AMONG sophomore boys at Brearley this year was so high, that 67 signed up for the course immediately. This number has been cut to a select 15 through the cooperation of the high school's guidance department. The final group will spend one full period a day in the course.

"You will be hearing more about oceanography in the next three years than you are hearing about the space program now," Mandel said.

The considerable interest in the course by the students prompted Hohn to contact Ogden Technology Laboratories on Long Island, who have developed a course of study on the high school level.

"I called the head of their educational systems division one time, and was put through to him on one of their research vessels somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean," Mandel said.

Mandel said the course would be an extension of the study of earth science and "will enable the student to delve deeply into this main branch of the earth sciences."

The students would study both the physical and biological aspects of oceanography. There would be a combination of lectures and discussions, films, laboratory work and field trips.

A TENTATIVE LIST of field trips includes visits to research vessels in port and study of marine life at nearby beaches.

The course is expected to contain such subjects as: Man's need for the ocean, the origin of continents, chemistry of the sea, the possibility of getting food and power from the oceans, and water pollution.

Mandel also hopes to take advantage of a "mini-ocean," a device that creates ocean waves and currents.

According to Hohn, there's the possibility of also offering the elective course at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

"The future needs of mankind could very well lie below the sea," Hohn said. "We think it's important to give our students the opportunity to explore this new frontier with this pilot program."

Go-go Highlanders' nine will open schedule today

The 1969 Gov. Livingston baseball team promises to be a fast, scrambling one -- hoping to squeeze out a few runs and then fall back on excellent pitching and a fine defense in order to win. Regional will open the season today when it travels to South Plainfield.

Coaching baseball for the first time at Gov. Livingston will be Frank Petrucci, who was also the JV basketball coach. Assisting Petrucci will be Dave Cito, who will double as JV baseball coach, and freshman coach John Tucek.

"We will definitely improve on last year's mark of 4-15," stated Petrucci, who set Regional's goal as a .500 record and a place in the Union County tournament.

Although most of last year's varsity has graduated, there are enough returnees to form a solid nucleus for this season combined with a lot of talent from last year's junior varsity. A .500 mark is not impossible, even though there is not too much depth on the team.

On the Highlanders' style of play, Petrucci commented: "We will emphasize good defense and try to play an aggressive game. I expect we will hunt a lot, and attempt plenty of hit-and-runs and steals."

Pitching will have to be the strong point of the Highlander nine despite the loss of ace Joe Dowling. As of now, Gov. Livingston has four pitchers of good caliber in Rich Weiss, Kyle McCormick, Doug Rau and John Adriance, who is the only varsity holdover.

Greg Speck at catcher and Al Kline at first base are the only two sure starters in the infield while Peter Dry has almost nailed down the job at third. Shortstop and second base are still undecided, with Chuck Rundlet, Sam Mangano, Weiss and Rau battling it out for the two remaining berths.

The outfield has one returnee from last season, centerfielder John Piccirillo. John Shenk and Adriance will fill the other two outfield positions, with Rich Whitescarver substituting.

Others expected to fill in include Rich Kohl, Chris Lombardi, Jay Friedman, Craig Magley and Tom Zemla.

The main competition for the Watching Conference title will probably come from Cranford, Westfield and Scotch Plains. The Highlanders will play each of these teams twice during the course of the season.

Five students win DAR essay prizes

Five Mountainside students were among 13 area winners in the historical essay contest sponsored by the Westfield chapter of DAR. Susan Grace and Joyce Papik won first prizes in the seventh and eighth grades at Our Lady of Lourdes School, Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Grace of 324 Timberline road and Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Papik of 160 Sunrise park.

Second prizes were awarded to Kevin Callahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Callahan of 271-Bridge-path, and to John Kuntz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuntz of 1112 Sylvan lane.

At Deerfield Middle School, Barbara Middlekauff won a first-prize award. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Middlekauff of 355 Rolling Rock road.

The subject for this year's essay was "Heroines of the American Revolution." Seventy-eight essays were entered. Judges for the contest were Ann Schneider, Mrs. Kingsley Blake, Mrs. Osborne Ayers and Arthur Fried. The first-prize winners will be interviewed on WERA during the DAR program, "New Jersey Journal," on Sunday.

College teachers

The outlook for the profession of college teacher is especially good right now, according to the Department of Labor. With college enrollments increasing from 3.6 million in 1960 to a projected 9 million by 1975, the need for teachers is expected to expand from 200,000 in 1960 to an estimated 450,000 in 1975.

REHABILITATION PIONEER Rehabilitation of handicapped veterans makes the Veterans Administration the foremost pioneer in development of artificial limbs and other prosthetic appliances.

CHOCOLATE DIPPED COOKIES

SAY HAPPY EASTER

Chocolate dipped egg and bunny shaped cookies say Happy Easter in the most delightful way.

The children will be thrilled to find these cookies in their Easter Baskets and the whole family can enjoy them for dessert or snack-time.

To prepare these cookies, select your favorite butter cookie recipe or packaged cookie mix. After you have mixed the dough, roll it out to 1/8 of an inch thick. Use a bunny and egg cutter or prepare your own from cardboard which can be easily traced on the dough with the tip of a sharp knife. Bake the cookies and cool thoroughly.

The next step is to dip each cooled cookie into the chocolate glaze recipe given below. As each cookie is dipped, scrape the glaze from the back of the cookie. Place them on a cake rack which is over waxed paper. When the chocolate is set, decorate the cookies with your children's names or any Easter motif you desire with the Ornamental Frosting recipe which is also given below.

CHOCOLATE GLAZE

1 6 oz. package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 tablespoon shortening
1/3 cup evaporated milk
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels and shortening over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat; stir in evaporated milk and confectioners' sugar. Beat until smooth. Turn into measuring cup; place over low heat in saucpan of hot water. Stir frosting occasionally while dipping.

YIELD: Enough to dip 4 dozen medium cookies.

ORNAMENTAL FROSTING

1-1/4 to 1-1/2 cups confectioners' sugar
1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 egg white
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together confectioners' sugar and cream of tartar; add egg white and vanilla. Beat in electric mixer until frosting holds its shape. Cover with damp cloth when not in use.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

I'd tell you what happened if you'd promise not to laugh.

Linkin re-elected adult school head

Harry Linkin, director of Regional Adult Schools, has been re-elected president of the Union County Adult Education Leaders.

Also elected at a recent meeting at Union College, Cranford, were Edward Hirschman, director of the Rahway Adult School, vice chairman; Mrs. Mary L. Slavitt of Newark State College Extension Division, secretary, and Edward Gottlieb, director of the Hillside Adult School, treasurer.

Hirschman succeeds Abe Benjamin of the Elizabeth Adult School, and Mrs. Slavitt succeeds Mrs. Lois Marshall of the Plainfield Adult School. The post of treasurer is newly created.

Linkin is director of adult schools operated by the Union County Regional High School district No. 1 in Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark; David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, and Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo

The State Assembly has adopted and sent to the Senate a bill designed to permit the City of Newark to impose a head tax on passengers using Newark Airport. The bill, which would raise between $10 and $12 million a year, has been written to permit Newark to keep 98 percent of the funds.

Union County legislators of both parties have expressed strong opposition to this measure because it falls to give Elizabeth a fair share of the revenues, despite the fact that 38 percent of the airport property lies within the City of Elizabeth.

I have urged the members of the Senate to delay action on this measure until and unless it is amended to give Elizabeth an equitable portion of the revenues that would be raised under the proposed tax.

As approved by the Assembly, Elizabeth would receive only two percent of the money. The sponsors of the bill have based their defense of this absurd distribution on a claim that Elizabeth's 810-acre portion of the airport property is worth $300,000. However, it should be pointed out that this figure has been set by Newark's tax assessors, who, if given the opportunity to tax the property, might conceivably place a much higher price tag on this land, which is in fact one of the most valuable pieces of real estate in the nation.

The simple fact of the matter is that Elizabeth makes a major contribution to the continued viability of Newark Airport—not only in the land that is used by the facility, but in the services it provides there. Elizabeth cooperates in giving police and fire protection at the airport. Union County expends large sums of money in exterminating mosquitoes and maintaining drainage projects on airport property.

At the same time, the residents of Elizabeth suffer far more than their counterparts in Newark as a result of noise and air pollution generated by landings and takeoffs, all of which pass over Newark Bay and Elizabeth. There can be no denying that most of the major buildings and work areas of the airport are sited within the city limits of Newark. By the same token, it is an incontrovertible fact that the airport could not exist without the land area of Elizabeth, and I am not satisfied with the token payment that has been approved by the Assembly.

The need of Newark for additional funds cannot be denied, nor can Elizabeth's financial needs be ignored, which is what the proposed head tax would do. The Union County seat has grave problems of its own, and these problems could be ameliorated by an equitable share of the head tax revenues. However, even if the distribution formula in the bill is amended, I still have deep reservations as to the constitutionality of this particular measure and whether the state should permit municipalities to resort to this type of taxation.

While I am keenly aware of the acute problems of the cities and their immediate need for financial aid, I am nevertheless reluctant to vote for any bill that establishes a new tax. As I have consistently maintained, a thorough revision of our entire tax structure is required. This bill emphasizes that need. In any event, I am definitely opposed to this bill in its present form.

Slimnastics, jogging set

Classes in jogging and slimmastics will be offered by the Summit YWCA this spring. Jogging will be held at Memorial Field, Summit, on Mondays at 9 a.m., starting April 28 and ending on June 2. The fitness and conditioning activity will be under the direction of Mrs. Arthur D'Asaro, who has training in both modern dance and physical education and has taught exercise classes at YWCAs and privately.

Two slimmastics classes will be offered, one to be held on Mondays from 9:45 to 10:45 a.m., starting April 28, and the second on Thursdays from 9:45-10:45, starting May 1. Various forms of exercise technique, such as isometrics, modern dance, basic exercise, will be used. Mrs. D'Asaro, who has a graduate degree in nutrition, will instruct and will provide information on menu planning, decalorizing recipes, and other areas related to nutrition.

Since registration in all classes is limited, persons interested in attending should contact the YWCA as soon as possible. Further information may be had by telephoning Linda Johnson, health, physical education and recreation director, at the YWCA, 273-4242.

The transmission main will bring additional water to Hillside and Union and strengthen supplies to Westfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth and Cranford.

Artifacts display at public library

An exhibit of artifacts from various ancient civilizations is on display in the main area of the Mountainside Public Library. The relics are on loan from the Trailside Nature and Science Center and were arranged for display by Donald W. Mayer, director. An Egyptian burial image, dating to 1800 B.C., is of great interest to the children. A Roman oil lamp made of terra-cotta, used by early Christians and found in ancient tombs, probably dates to the 4th and 7th centuries A.D. This is shown with a Bible which is open to the Parable of the Ten Virgins, Matthew 25 beginning Verse 1. The exhibit will remain at the library until April 11.

Men's garden club will elect officers

The Men's Garden Club of Westfield will hold its annual meeting and election of officers Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the First Congregational Church, Westfield. The slate of nominees includes Walter Christoffers, president; Roger Winters, vice-president; Frank Willis, treasurer; John F. Hanko Jr., secretary; and Marion B. Glaser and Thomas Carron, directors. There will also be nominations from the floor. Several past presidents will speak on topics related to gardening. They are Robert W. Nottore, Gustav Lieske, Robert E. Mumford, Joseph F. Nelson, Henry D. Wilson, Joseph Cazeneuve and William B. Bell. Refreshments will be served.

'Y-Zing Up' musical play at Y dinner

Kevin Farrell of New Providence and Chase Newhart of Summit will present an original musical review, "Y-Zing Up," on the occasion of the Summit Area YMCA's annual dinner to be held at the Hotel Suburban on Monday evening, April 14, at 7. The dinner will mark the Y's 83rd anniversary in Summit.

Farrell and Newhart, directors of the YMCA's Metropolitan Musical Theater for their second season, are known for their MMT productions of "Annie Get Your Gun" and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" last summer. Newhart is a junior at New York University's School of the Arts, Film and Television Institute, studying directing. A graduate of Summit High where he played lead roles in "Fiorello" and "The Diary of Ann Frank," and directed "The Bald Soprano," Newhart furthered his acting and directing experience at Hamilton College and in summer stock.

Farrell is a graduate of Delbarton School where he began composing scores for musical comedies at the age of 12. Musical director of MMT since 1968, Farrell is also musical director of Stony Hill Players and has been active with other groups as choral coach and accompanist, also. He is a junior at Manhattan School of Music and organist-choir director of Our Lady of Peace Church, New Providence.

Edward J. Boorujy is chairman of the annual dinner committee, which consists of John W. Closs, Gilbert E. Owen, and Dr. Howard Swarnen. Members and friends of the Y, representatives of business and industry, and community leaders have been invited to attend. Reservations may be made by calling the YMCA, 273-3330.

14 Latin students to visit Italy in Easter vacation study trip

Fourteen Latin students in the Union County Regional High School District will spend their Easter vacation in Italy, studying the Roman influence on modern times through a combination of lectures, discussions and field trips. The students are scheduled to leave for Rome tomorrow and return on Monday, April 13. They will be chaperoned by Bonnie Fisher, Latin teacher at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The 10-day spring study-tour is sponsored by the Foreign Study League, a private educational institution which provides young Americans with the opportunity to study abroad, according to August Caprio, coordinator of foreign languages in the regional district. Students going from the four high schools are: Jonathan Dayton: Robin Rose, Adele Kranich, Susan Moschella and Sandra Pittenger, all of Mountainside, and Eugene Davis and Sandra March, both of Springfield. David Brearley: Stephen Staruch and Kevin Bermingham, both of Garwood. Arthur L. Johnson: James Fifield, Joseph Granata and Jill Garrity, all of Clark. Governor Livingston: Jonathan Snyder of Murray Hill, Clayton Hall of Berkeley Heights and Frank Grimaldi of Springfield. Caprio said that although course emphasis will be placed on Roman times, sufficient academic exposure to cultural development since the fall of the Roman Empire will show the impact of Roman influence on modern times. The academic material will be presented both on location and through evening lectures and discussion groups. The students will receive a minimum of 10 hours of lectures and discussions, and there will be at least 35 hours of organized field studies. Students pay all their own tuition.

and "Allegro" by Williams, featuring the tympani, which was the backbone of the other orchestral sounds and came through clear and clean, was followed by the lovely, melodic "Manx Overture." Prof. Richardson, too, showed himself to be a conductor who understands his music and his musicians. He rose from the trombone section to take his place on the podium.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN an anticlimax when compared to the excellence of the Virginia State Band, was, on the contrary, a remarkable display of virtuosity by five young musicians, the Atlantic Jazz Quintette. Alan Pasqua, piano; Warren Vache, trumpet and flugelhorn; Kenny Szeliga, sax and flute; Kirk Schmidt, bass; and John Delloiacono, drums, played four selections, two of them original compositions by Alan and one by Kenny, as well as one by Herby Hancock. Each of these high school and college students is an outstanding soloist on his own instrument with a sophistication and competence way beyond his years. The influence of Miles Davis was evident in the great trumpet solo, and the pianist has much of the quality of those in the forefront of the new jazz. The closing number, Hancock's "Watermelon Man," gave each player a chance to take off on a brief solo and in each case, he was greeted by wholehearted applause. After a brief intermission, Dr. Gatlin returned to the podium to conduct the final selections. "Milli Atan," an impressionistic symphonic number in unusual 7/4 time, built around an Afghan folk tune, followed by Shostakovich's "Festive Overture," characterized by a driving rhythm and featuring the trumpet and trombone sections. The closing number, "Rumbalero," as well as the enthusiastically demanded encore, "Beguine Agalin," were both exciting, colorful compositions with strong dance rhythms.

One band member expressed his feelings thusly, "As we travel around we can tell how much importance a community places on music—it shows in the school system. We can tell how much Mountainside loves music." Dr. Gatlin told his students, "You are playing for an informed audience. I'm sure you can feel it."

"The Board of Education has done a wonderful job keeping the kitchen equipment up to date. The schools have thermic ovens that cook the food much quicker," she noted. Miss Maitland orders the food for the four high schools three weeks in advance. "Look, I'm already doing the planning for the fall," she said. Her job, among other things, also includes interviewing prospective employees, purchasing and arranging for repair of equipment. What are her plans after June 30? "I'm going to take a vacation and go into part-time work," she said with a grin. "As a dietitian? Miss Maitland laughed.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY

"As I am about to graduate this June from school, I would like to know now of the work opportunities in the property and liability insurance business," a reader writes.

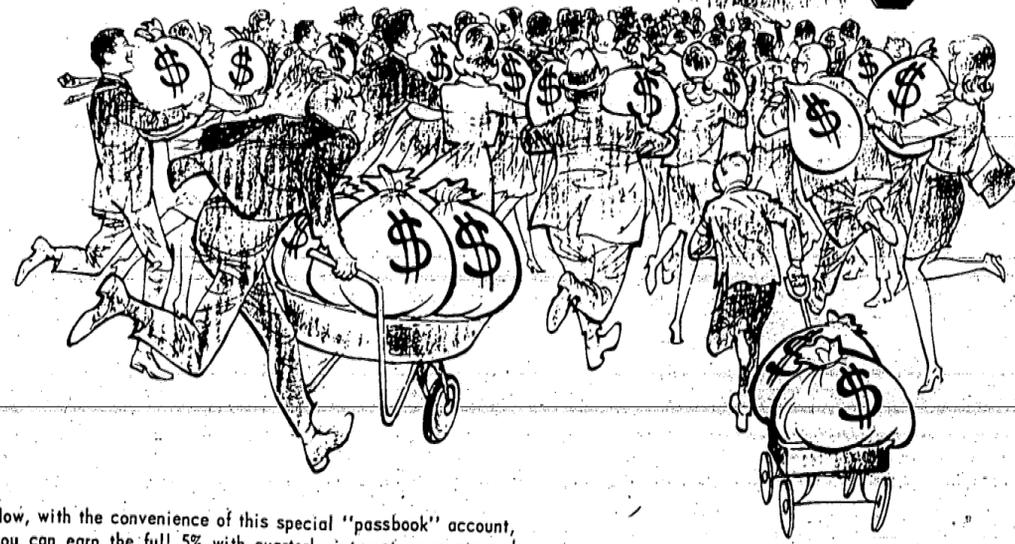

Although the letter does not specify whether the writer is graduating from high school or college, it's a safe bet to say there are many, many opportunities in the insurance industry for both high school and college graduates — and that includes both young men and women. The property and liability insurance business includes more than 3,000 companies and — if we add in agents and brokers — employs 540,000 people. For those who are ambitious and willing to learn and develop the skills needed in this broad-gauge industry, there are excellent career opportunities. Widely diversified work categories enlist the talents of almost every educational background. Among the skills required are those of actuaries, lawyers, accountants and statisticians. For those who are sales-oriented, positions as agents and brokers can be challenging and rewarding. For a career in insurance, a person can also begin as a typist, secretary, file clerk or bookkeeper. Many have advanced to management-level positions as underwriters, safety experts or claim examiners. For advancement, a comprehensive knowledge of insurance is needed. This can be gained on the job, through insurance courses at college, or, usually, a combination of both. As in any business, advancement is geared to the initiative of the individual as well as the development of his skills.

50 NSC freshmen breathing easier

Finish first team of special college course

The second semester for some 50 freshmen at Newark State College, Union, is indication that they've got their second wind. The first semester was tough for many of them, but they all made it, and somehow college seems easier now.

They are enrolled in a program for black students who would not otherwise have gone to college, a program made possible by the New Jersey Educational Opportunity Act of 1968, which underwrites it with both federal and state funds.

At Newark State, the program is called "About Time," a slogan that reflects the opinion of Dr. Eugene G. Wilkins, president of the college, who has said, "The growth of our nation into an even greater democracy might very well depend upon the success of programs such as this one."

Many of the students do not have the academic background that qualified other students for college, but the quality they do have is potential. It was for their potential that they were selected for participation in this program, a quality determined primarily by their motivation for learning. Their chances for success, in spite of handicaps, are considered good on this basis.

They are enrolled in a full program of regular college classes, but, in addition to these, they take brush-up courses in mathematics, biology and English. Other special classes will be added in the future. In addition to regular and special classes, volunteer student tutors offer personal understanding of difficulties encountered with courses they themselves have taken.

Last summer, most of the group was enrolled in a preparatory program designed to strengthen skills in verbal expression, both written and oral. Other features included field trips to the Museum of Modern Art, Lincoln Center and the Garden State Art Center.

THEIR FULL-TIME FRIEND, tutor and counselor is Wilmoth Roberts, director of the program. The students gather in the large classroom, which is his office, and study quietly, while he ponders their problems and offers his gentle but consistent help and encouragement.

"Mr. Roberts never says 'no,'" a student told a visitor to this classroom recently. "Whatever we ask him to do for us, he does. He helps us with our class work and with our personal problems, too."

Roberts is well prepared for the job he is doing. He previously served as director of "The Leaguers" of Newark, a non-profit organization that provides after-school cultural, remedial and social activities for disadvantaged black children. Other previous positions include vocational counselor for mentally and physically disabled persons at the New Jersey Rehabilitation Commission, vocational counselor at the Essex County Occupational Center, both in Newark, and supervisor of job development for (COPE), Newark's anti-poverty program. He holds a B.A. degree in psychology from Morgan State College, Baltimore, Md. and a M.A. degree in vocational rehabilitation counseling from New York University.

Robert's expression is serious when he talks of his present charge. "They are deeply concerned about their progress," he said of his students.

The students, too, are quiet and serious when they discuss this program. Their backgrounds and aspirations are varied, but all of them, if they are questioned, reveal that they care.

A young woman, who had once attended Charleton Street School in Newark, said that she hopes to return to teach at that school. "I must go back there," she said, "because my dedication is to poor black children. I want to help them make more money so they can have a better life."

A YOUNG MAN, who grew up in the Bedford Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, said that his teachers in the public schools "didn't care" about him. "I told my counselor I wanted to go to college, but I didn't get any encouragement from him. I don't want special attention in college either, though. I think it's my duty to get a good education, and I'm willing to work for it," he said.

Another young man, when asked what he thought of the program, said merely, "The program is beautiful."

A few of the students are cynical about the program. "I don't know whether it was really designed to help black students or whether it's here so people can say that black students were given a chance," one of them said frankly. Another said that the black students are often defensive, because they feel some white professors and students stereotype them.

Ask Amy

By

Dear Amy:
We were married 9 months ago and since our marriage, we hit a streak of bad luck. The apartment we have leased so badly that the roof fell in and did considerable damage to our furniture. The landlord wouldn't pay for our losses. We had trouble with our hospitalization. For 6 months we weren't covered. We had an auto accident that took close to $125 a month for doctors for my husband and me. I was expecting and that was more money.
We had such bills that my husband had to work 6 days a week and all the overtime he could to keep us going.

I almost had a miscarriage and was put on total bed rest. I was run down from going to doctors 5 days a week and for therapy plus house work and so much more.
To make a long story short, our so-called friends don't know what it's like to be sick or have bills or feel just plain tired and because we couldn't visit or run around with them like before, they have forgotten us. I feel we're better off without these friends. Am I wrong?

around me.
I have had two affairs with the guy I love. He is very kind to me and I want him.
What can I do?
M.P.
Dear M.P.:
You made a horrible mistake marrying a man you did not love. You made another mistake when you became pregnant and you will make a worse mistake if you do not get the "other guy" out of your mind.
I don't think you're mature enough to know what you want, and further, since you are married to this man and you are going to have his baby, I think you should try to love him and be a good wife and mother.

You are not in a position at this time to make any other decision.
Dear Amy:
You have helped me before and I know you will again. My father works some 142 miles from our home. He comes home on the weekends and sometimes on Wednesday nights.
My father and my mom let my 10 year old brother and I go to the skating rink on Friday night. Every time I return home from skating, my father blames me for being with a boy and doing things I don't even think about.
My mom thinks she is expecting a baby, My Dad does, too, but he says it's by some other man. I know it's not true.

Amy, he also drinks and runs around.
Melissa
Dear Melissa:
Your father has no right to say things like that about your mother or you. These accusations and unpleasanties are not conducive to the good and welfare of a happy family.
Since he does not live an exemplary life and only visits his family on a part-time basis, it seems to me there is something very wrong with the relationship that your parents share.
Your parents must resolve to do something about the situation by seeking help from their clergyman or a marriage counsellor.

The Baby Sitter, new Bell movie
A new color film, "The Baby Sitter," dramatizing the proper technique of baby-sitting, is now available for general public showings, New Jersey Bell's motion picture bureau announced today.
The 15-minute, 16mm film covers more than 30 points on baby-sitting which can be grouped under three main headings: baby-sitter's responsibilities; parents' responsibilities; and baby-sitting tips.
The film was produced by the Bell System in cooperation with the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, the National Parent-Teachers Association and the National Safety Council as a basis for group discussion and instruction on the techniques and problems of baby-sitting.
Schools, particularly at the junior high level, parent-teacher and church organizations and other adult groups desiring prints of the film may arrange to borrow them, without charge, from their local telephone company business office.

Music, art series to be presented at Eastern Union 'Y'

"Music in the Romantic Period," an adult-education music series, will be presented by Prof. Herbert Golub of Newark State College on six Wednesday evenings beginning at 8:15 on April 16 at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union.

Under sponsorship of the Y Women's Division, Prof. Golub will trace the development of the art song and chamber music of the 19th Century by various composers.

The Women's Division will also sponsor "Living With Art," six lectures on six Wednesday evenings beginning at 8:15 on April 16 by Thomas Brown Wilber, a noted art historian, author and art collector.

Distinctions between the fine and applied arts will be considered, as well as the relationship between what is "good" and what one "likes." An important part of the discussion will be consideration of the choice, purchase and collecting of the arts and the various reasons and purposes involved.

Prof. Wilber, a Women's Division spokesman said, "has been a most successful lecturer in our series on 'Art in History' for the past three years."

Course in baby sitting at YMCA next week

A baby sitting course will be offered by the Five Points YMCA for students in the 7th to 10th grades next Monday and Tuesday during spring vacation. The course will be held at the YMCA building, 218 Salem rd., Union.

"A number of resource persons have volunteered their time and will offer the required skills and knowledge to help students be better prepared to meet baby sitting requests," Howard Merrick, branch executive said. Robert Donnelly of the Union Police Department, Mrs. Patricia Nape of the Visiting Nurses Association, Capt. Ed Hamtl of the Union Fire Department, Mrs. Hamilton McGriffin, nursery school teacher, Mrs. Jordan Price of YES (Youth Employment Service) and Dr. Earl Wanzer, county school psychologist, will conduct segments of the course. Mrs. Paula McElroy will be moderator of the program.

The course will be held Monday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. A coke and pizza lunch is included in the registration fee. The course will conclude Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon. Participants will be given special cards in recognition of completing the course. In addition, special notation will be made on enrollee's YES application.

"The course will not only better prepare students for baby sitting jobs, but will give insight to family life education," Merrick said.

For information and registration interested persons should call 687-5570, he said.

If the Big Bands ever come back, they just might do it in a Volkswagen Station Wagon. After all, what other wagon could take on 9 guys, instruments and 15 pieces of luggage at the same time?

What other wagon could do all that while averaging 23 miles to the gallon and using pints of oil instead of quarts?

Where else could a piano player (with his piano) and without the rest of the band fit through a side door?

Or how about the bass giving out with a great big Blues number through a great big hole in the roof?

Then there's the winter circuit. (The VW is the only wagon around with rear engine traction and an engine that doesn't dig antifreeze now.)

2 more concerts on cancellation list of N.J. Symphony

The continuation of differences between the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and Local 16 of the American Federation of Musicians has made necessary the cancellation of the Symphony's concerts with the Rutgers University Choir scheduled next Wednesday in New Brunswick and Sunday April 12, in Newark.

The new cancellations were announced at the Symphony office in Newark. The two musical organizations were to have presented Mendelssohn's Oratorio, "Elijah," with Henry Lewis, the Symphony's music director, conducting.

Letters announcing the cancellations are being sent this week to subscribers of both the Rutgers and Newark concerts. Refunds are being offered.

According to a Symphony spokesman, the impasse with the union involves the question of whether the union local or the Symphony's music director should have the authority to set standards of quality for the orchestra personnel, and the authority to determine which musicians are qualified to meet those standards.

Henry P. Becton, president of the New Jersey Symphony, said that talks with the union on the issues are continuing. "We will continue to make every possible effort to arrive at a solution satisfactory to both parties," he stated.

A FEMININE LOOK ... At The USA This Time

(Commentary on a "Study Mission" to Washington and Cape Kennedy)

by TRUDINA HOWARD

AMERICA REVISITED
This is the story of a very special trip. Instead of going abroad on a Study Mission this winter and meeting foreign dignitaries and studying foreign problems and touring foreign cities, I went to Washington, D.C., and Cape Kennedy and met some USA "royalty" and studied home ground for a change.

The Washington trip was to attend a National Newspaper Association (NNA) program called the "Government Relations Workshop" which is arranged for members once a year. I call it the "Washington Study Mission." It was held this year in mid-March and included individual meetings with respective senators and congressmen and congresswomen, group briefings with senators, representatives, cabinet members, and National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) officials, reception, dinners and visits to embassies, committee meetings, the Senate and the House.

The Cape Kennedy trip was to see Apollo 9 lift off and was by invitation from NASA through the newspaper association.

And, even as nice as Washington was, it was Cape Kennedy that stole the show.

BRIEFLY, THE GREATEST show on earth is no longer the circus. It is the launching of a rocket. Wow.

It is, however, the shortest show on earth. The invited guests at Cape Kennedy waited one to three hours in their seats for the curtain to go up, to see a show that lasted a scant three-quarters of a minute! After that, the missile bowed out into a curtain of clouds and the show continued at, shall we say, a theatre further up town?

It was, however, worth every minute of the wait at the Kennedy set.

There is no describing the sight, marvelous? Wonderful? Glorious? Spectacular? Inspiring? Breathtaking? It is all of them and more, in the full sense of each word. Viewing the launch on television is stunning enough, but to see it in person is a revelation. "Launch" is a many-splendored thing indeed. All I can say is that there was a gasp of awe from everyone—and some tears. It was that thrilling.

We were seated in three bleachers called the VIP grandstands. They were in the open, 3 1/2 miles from the launch pad. Nothing is closer than 3 1/2 miles at the time of final countdown. The sun shone when we arrived, but by launch time it was cloudy and chilly and rain was about to upstage Apollo. But it held back. The vice President of the U.S., was in the wings in the nearby VAB (Vehicle Assembly Building), the only thing resembling a block house in the vicinity, and all other visitors, including the Vice President's personal guest, Jack Benny, were in the grandstand bleachers.

THE VAB is where Apollo 9 was assembled and it is the largest building, by volume, in the world. It is sort of a giant hangar. Giant? Gargantuan. The center of it is 54 stories of hollowness where rockets can be assembled and rolled out without being dismantled. The doors alone take 45 minutes to open, and if the United Nations were on wheels it could be rolled in. Besides the aforementioned impressive facts, hear this: clouds can gather in it, without any outside help at all, and produce rain inside the building! I like that one. When you can have natural clouds and rain inside your own building, you've got something, believe me.

Yes, it's L-A-R-G-E. It's almost as the NASA official from Washington, Robert Ruhl, said to me the night before when I noted that someone had said the rocket would make a considerable amount of noise. "Well," said he, "it's impressive!"

HA! It can be heard as far away as Jacksonville and that is 150 miles away. We were 3-1/2. Yes, it was—impressive.

The invitation to the launch came from NASA and NASA claims there were 1,000 guests. Actually, there were 1,001 for there were 1,000 of us and Jack Benny. You might almost say he was large too. Before lift-off he stole the show from governors, senators, congressmen, astronauts, the Vice President of the U.S., and as glamorous a looking crowd of important and unimportant people as you might find anywhere.

ALL THE INVITED guests were given name cards to wear which read: "Viewing stand guest, Apollo 9 NASA, John F. Kennedy Space Center" and the individual's name across the top. But they might as well all have said "Little Jack Horner." No one sat still long enough, it seemed, to be able to read any of them. Jack Benny's was on upside down and on him it looked good. One didn't have to read his to know who he was. Crowds milled about him seeking his autograph. Said he, "If I knew we would have to wait so long I would have brought my violin and made some money." I wonder why he didn't think of selling his autographs. He would have made a fortune.

I have never seen such a noisy crowd in my life. Cameras clicked all over, people were taking pictures of people, as well as of Jack Benny and Apollo 9, and reporters stalked all over the place. The story goes that one reporter, on the search for persons to interview, spotted a nice looking young man and asked if he would give him some opinions. The man agreed and the reporter asked him if he had ever been at the VII site before. "Well, no," replied the man but yes, he had seen a launch. After several more questions, the reporter asked for his name. "I'm Bill Anders," said the astronaut who flew around the moon in Apollo 8.

It is said the reporter simply melted away.

So who-was-who was the question. Not all VIPs have such well-known faces as Jack Benny, and the crowd seemed mad to know who else was present. Was that the governor of Florida or was that "Which one was Borman" Was that a senator? But beware, the film is running out. Make sure it is a celebratory time before taking one more picture. Read the tag! The tension rose. There all of a sudden there was a hush.

A voice said, "three...two...one" and...and...and shot off a rocket!

It was L-A-R-G-E too.

The invitation to the launch came from NASA and NASA claims there were 1,000 guests. Actually, there were 1,001 for there were 1,000 of us and Jack Benny. You might almost say he was large too. Before lift-off he stole the show from governors, senators, congressmen, astronauts, the Vice President of the U.S., and as glamorous a looking crowd of important and unimportant people as you might find anywhere.

Retail, wholesale prices are still on the escalator

WASHINGTON--Retail and wholesale prices continued to rise in February, the United States Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has announced. Preliminary data for March show a further increase in wholesale prices.

The February Consumer Price Index was up 0.4 percent, despite a small decline in food prices. This advance was about the same as the monthly average increase in 1968. At 124.6 (1957-59 equal 100), the index was 4.7 percent above a year ago. Most of the February increase was caused by higher prices for used cars, homeownership, and apparel.

The Wholesale Price Index rose 0.4 percent in February, mostly because of a 0.5-percent increase for industrial commodities. Lumber and plywood advanced sharply, and machinery prices continued to climb. Prices were higher for aluminum and other nonferrous metals. At 111.1 (1957-59 equal 100), the Wholesale Price Index was 2.9 percent above a year ago.

ary, reversing the steep declines of the preceding two months.

UJA chairwoman: fund needs urgent

On March 27, at the women's Pacesetter luncheon of the United Jewish Appeal drive, Mrs. Louis Kessler of Westfield, general chairman, expressed the hope that this year's urgent need for welfare funds will be met. The United Jewish Appeal is the major American agency aiding immigrants to Israel, and refugees and distressed Jews overseas. UJA aid programs are carried out by its three member agencies: The United Israel Appeal-Jewish Agency for Israel, Inc., which helps to receive, settle and absorb immigrants to Israel; the Joint Distribution Committee, which aids Jews in 30 countries, including Israel, where it conducts a special welfare program for aged, chronically ill and handicapped immigrants; and the New York Association for New Americans, which assists Jewish refugees to the United States. The United Hias Service, which provides for the resettlement of Jewish refugees to countries other than Israel, also benefits from the UJA campaign.

2 thefts reported from parked cars over the weekend

Two cars were burglarized on Troy drive in Springfield on either last Friday or Saturday.

L.B. Day, of 38C Troy dr., reported to township police that an AM-FM radio was taken from his car, which was parked on the street. Day valued the radio at $39.95. Ann Marie Kenny, of 78 Troy dr., reported that a pair of eyeglasses and a travel clock were taken from her auto, also parked on the street. Neither person was sure of the date of burglary.

Also unsure of the date of burglary, either Friday or Saturday, is a resident of Mountain Avenue, who reported to police that his house was ransacked while he was out of town. He told police that $600 in cash was taken from the house.

A mortar mixer, valued at $450, was reported missing from in front of the Dutch Maid Motel on Rt. 22. The mixer was reported as missing either in February or March. A resident of Alvin terrace reported a 24-foot aluminum extension ladder was missing from his rear yard. The ladder, according to the report, was valued at $52 and was taken during the winter.

Churches joining in Holy Day service

A one-hour service will mark Good Friday tomorrow when many local Protestant groups will sponsor an observance at the First Methodist Church of Westfield from noon to 1 p.m. The Rev. James Cole of The Presbyterian Church will preach on "Good Friday Today." The Rev. D. Thomas Andrews of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will give the Call to Worship and Invocation; the Rev. Robert W. Thatcher of First Baptist Church will lead the Litany and give the Scripture reading, and the Rev. A.E. Garnette of St. Luke's Zion A.M.E. Church will give the closing dedication.

Youth will participate in the service and a combined youth choir will sing under the direction of the Rev. Philip Dietterich of First Methodist Church. Sponsoring churches include: Bethel Baptist, Community Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Congregational, First Methodist, St. Paul's Episcopal, The Presbyterian Church, and St. Luke's Zion A.M.E.

Lissner is named to pharmacist unit

Robert A. Lissner of Clark, who is adviser to the narcotics division of the police department at Springfield, has been elected to membership by the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association, it was announced this week by Alvin N. Geser, Association secretary. A native of Newark, Lissner was graduated from Irvington High School in 1962 and received his bachelor of science and pharmacy degrees from Rutgers. He was registered by the state in August, 1968, and now is employed at the Springfield Pharmacy.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit plans parties, sales, tea, luncheon

Card party chairman of Connecticut Farms Unit 35, American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. John Pailay, is completing arrangements for the forthcoming unit card party to be held April 24 at the American Legion hall, Bond Drive, Union. Tickets may be purchased now and will be on sale at the door. The card party is open to the public. Mrs. Pailay may be reached at 686-9118 for further details.

Another hospital party is planned for April 15 to be held for the veterans at Lyons Hosppital. A Monte Carlo night is planned, and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Leroy Moran is chairman of rehabilitation for the unit this year.

The Easter sale of cookies is underway and may be obtained by contacting chairman, Mrs. Charles Frazier, at 688-3522.

The Gold Star Mothers will be contacted by Mrs. Henry Mueller, chairman for the unit, on the forthcoming Gold Star Mother tea to be held May 25 in Hillside. Further plans will be announced later.

A report on the shelters and equipment in Union to be used in case of an emergency is being prepared for a future meeting by Mrs. Robert Kosnick, civil defense chairman.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Charles Frazier (688-3522), in connection with the American Legion Auxiliary National President's luncheon to be held at the Sheraton-Deauville Hotel and Motor Inn in Atlantic City, May 19. The bus will stop at the Masonic Temple in Union for passengers.

Miss Barbara Banks, first vice-president, reported that the Unit has 100 percent participation.

Collection of nylon by chairman, Mrs. Michael Canonico, and coupons by chairman, Mrs. Henry Miller, is underway. These are used for the purchase of items used in the veterans hospitals.

A delegation from the Connecticut unit will attend the Past Presidents party luncheon, April 26 at the Town and Campus lounge in Union. Reservations are being taken by chairman, Mrs. Robert Gargullo (686-7551).

NON-STICK

Some manufacturers now offer non-stick coated oven liners. These can be removed and cleaned easily by washing in the sink with sudsy water. Also some range models have removable or drop down doors to make cleaning easier.

MISS JOYCE KOZNOWICZ

Koznowicz-Staph engagement is told

Mr. Joseph Koznowicz of 263 Vermont ave., Irvington, has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Joyce Koznowicz, to Fred Staph Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Staph of 340 Durham St., Union. Miss Koznowicz also is the daughter of the late Mrs. Olga Koznowicz.

The bride-elect, who was graduated from Martland Medical Center School of Nursing, is employed by the Passaic Day Care Center for the Mentally Retarded.

Her fiancé, who attended Lebanon Valley College and Newark College of Engineering, is employed by Fleissner and Miller, architects.

Farms Women set benefit luncheon Tuesday afternoon

Mrs. Michael Permison, chairman of the international relation department of the Woman's Club of Connecticut Farms, Union, will entertain members of the club at her home in Short Hills for an international pot-luck luncheon, Tuesday at 12 p.m. Proceeds of the luncheon will benefit "Meals for Millions," a world-wide federation project. This year the proceeds will be sent to help feed the American Indians.

Mrs. Frank R. Tell, president of the Woman's Club of Connecticut Farms, entertained members of the executive board at a dinner at her home March 27. A regular meeting followed.

Reservations for the seventh district spring conference and creative arts day scheduled April 14 at the Patricia in Livingston, may be made by contacting Mrs. Charles Eren.

The home and garden department will meet at the home of Mrs. Lenatus Herling on April 16 at 12:30 p.m. A demonstration on the art of making paper flowers will be given by the chairman, Mrs. Joseph Eren.

Chairman named for Starlight Ball

Mrs. M. Michael Belkoff of Elizabeth has been named general chairman of the Memorial General Hospital "Starlight Ball," the annual major fund raising event for the non-profit Union Township hospital.

The ball, scheduled for April 19 in the Manor, West Orange, is co-sponsored by the Auxiliary to the Union County Osteopathic Society and the Memorial General Hospital Volunteer Guild.

Mrs. Belkoff served as general chairman last year when a total of $6,000 was raised from ticket sales and the souvenir journal which was prepared by the Volunteer Guild.

Flavor, nutrients in one-dish meals

By Anne L. Sheldon, County Home Economist

Do appetites in your family need boosting after the long winter season? Favorite foods, served in a tasty and colorful one-dish meal, may be the answer.

One-dish meals help to reduce the loss of vitamins and minerals because the basic liquid is used for the cooking of all ingredients and not thrown away.

The dish meals can be a great time-saver tool. The busy homemaker can prepare the main course the day before, store it in the refrigerator, and need only place it in the oven for heating before serving. Another short cut is to double the recipe and freeze half the quantity for a future time.

So start with a salad, bread, dessert, and beverage, the essential meal will make a nutritious and appetizing meal. An extra time relish or garnish such as pickled beets or dandelion salad would also add color and flavor.

Try the "Turkey Dinner" or the "Beef Roll Dinner" which follow.

TURKEY DINNER
1 1/2 lbs. cooked turkey
1 lb. hot cooked broccoli
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup, undiluted
1 1/2 cup grated processed American Cheddar or Parmesan cheese

Makes 4 servings.

Time to repot plants

Give your larger house plants a spring tonic before warmer weather sets in. If they've taken on added growth during the winter it's wise to repot them into new, larger clay pots, and add sterilized soil mix.

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN MALE

Meat with a generous amount of fat covering tends to cook faster than leaner meats, because melting fat conducts heat well.

You can enhance the flavor of lamb or fish chowder by adding 1/4 teaspoon thyme.

A half teaspoon cinnamon added to milk and eggs used for French toast gives added flavor.

The best cucumbers are firm, glossy, of good green color and long slender shape. White or yellow skin and a puffy appearance indicate over-maturity.

Dry beans should be boiled two minutes in soaking water first, to help prevent fermentation and hardening of skins while soaking.

Add a dash of nutmeg to chicken and cream soups, a pinch of ginger to bean soup.

(For 8 sandwiches)
1 cup ground leftover meat (any type)
1 chopped, shelled, hard-cooked egg
1/2 cup grated raw carrots
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/8 teaspoon pepper

Blend all together until spreading consistency. Use with or without lettuce.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

SUNDAY'S SERMON EASTER

It is fitting that Easter comes at this time of the year. Everywhere one looks, the earth is greening up and there is evidence of new life, new color.

For Easter is the season of hope. It is a time when Christians reaffirm their faith and belief. It is a time when we are reminded of the lasting example of One Great Life upon earth.

From the life and death of Christ, and with the Resurrection, came the strength of faith and purpose disciples and followers needed to believe and to practice according to the examples and the words of the teacher.

The message of Easter is hope. Hope for mankind. Institutions, nations, civilizations may fall; yet we may believe that the soul of man will survive the crash.

In spirit, we may all visit the empty tomb and hear the words of the radiant angel: "He is risen. He is not here."

Summer job project for needy youth to be tested by U.S. at N.J. site

WASHINGTON -- A low-cost, grass-roots approach to developing summer jobs for disadvantaged high school students will be tested under a $30,000 experimental and demonstration proposal approved recently by the U.S. Department of Labor.

High school students in 15 states including New Jersey, will be trained to serve as volunteers in registering and developing jobs for their less fortunate colleagues under a trial program called Summer Opportunities for Students (SOS).

The $30,000 allotted by the Labor Department under the Manpower Development and Training Act will pay the salaries of two student program leaders in each of the 15 areas selected for the experimental project. Program leaders will recruit about four student volunteers at each school for training in job development and placement techniques at local employment services offices.

Supervision of the summer job placement program and follow-up services will be the responsibility of the Program Leaders who will be placed on the payroll of sponsoring State Employment Security agencies April 1 through Aug. 31.

The SOS program will be conducted in El Centro, Calif.; Lakeland, Fla.; Dalton, Ga.; Jacksonville, Ill.; Inton, Ind.; Hammond, La.; Alliance, Neb.; Laconia, N.H.; Cumberland County, N.J.; The Smaller Communities Program Area and Las Vegas, N. Mex.; Logan, Ohio; McAlister, Okla.; Bristol, Va.; Yakima County, Wash.; and the Smaller Communities Program Area, Wisc.

Major objectives of the experimental program will be: -- to demonstrate that manpower services offered by the Federal-State Employment Service system can be expanded through the use of organized volunteers; -- to demonstrate that a summer placement program can be staffed and operated effectively by high school students;

-- to demonstrate an increased acceptance by employers of young peoples' abilities and willingness to work; -- to demonstrate that a student self-run placement program will increase the young peoples' understanding of the attitudes and aptitudes required to succeed in the world of work; and -- to determine whether a summer job program for youth, using volunteers and a small amount of money, can be useful enough to deserve the establishment of such programs in all Employment Service offices throughout the Nation.

NIH THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH

A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH

BETHESDA, MARYLAND

RETINITIS PIGMENTOSA

Retinitis pigmentosa is an inherited disease that usually produces its first symptom--night blindness--in children. Over a lifetime the disease gradually decreases the ability to see at night and cuts down on the amount of side vision, until the effect is similar to that of blinders used on horses, or what has been called "gun barrel vision." The loss is caused by changes in the retina, the innermost layer of the eye which receives light and generates nerve impulses.

The disease can be diagnosed by an ophthalmologist using an instrument called an ophthalmoscope. Looking into the interior of the eye, if the disease is present, he can see many black pigment deposits scattered throughout the retina, but particularly around its edges. This extra pigment is characteristic of the disease, as the name retinitis pigmentosa suggests, but in rare cases the pigment may be absent.

A useful tool that enables scientists to distinguish retinitis pigmentosa from other diseases of the retina is the electro-retinogram (ERG). This device records electrical impulses that the retina gives off when light strikes it. Electronic computers used with the ERG help pick up even the weakest electrical signals of a retina damaged by retinitis pigmentosa.

Many scientists are conducting research to find out how retinitis pigmentosa affects retinal tissue. They have observed that the rods and cones, which are the specialized light-receiving cells of the retina, become less active. Those used for peripheral or side vision are particularly affected. Because there is greater damage to the rods, which are used to detect shades of black and white in dim light, night vision is also damaged.

The deteriorated light-receptor cells are replaced by an overgrowth of the supporting connective tissue. The invasion of connective tissue accompanies atrophy, or wasting away, of the blood vessels and the part of the optic nerve that passes through the retina. This atrophy further damages the ability of the retina to function.

Why these changes occur is still unknown. Some abnormality in the biochemistry of the eye or of the body's metabolism may be responsible. Some scientists think the disease is due primarily to a change in the pigment-producing tissue of the retina, or to changes in the small blood vessels that supply nourishment to the outer layers of the retina. Once the cause is pinpointed through research, it may be possible to find ways to prevent the disease or stop its progress.

The National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Stroke (NINDS), one of the National Institutes of Health, conducts research in retinitis pigmentosa at its laboratories in Bethesda, Md., and supports other studies in research centers in various parts of the United States.

NSC students seek support for lowering voting age to 18

Students at Newark State College, Union, are urging area residents to ask their senators and congressmen to lower the voting age in New Jersey to 18.

They are asking support for concurrent Senate and House bills now pending in the legislature that would amend the state constitution to enfranchise 18-year-olds.

Leading the Newark State drive is Christopher J. Muzikar of Elizabethtown, a senior at Newark State and chairman of the Northern Regional Chapter of the Voting Age Coalition (VAC).

Supporting the effort is Dr. Eugene G. Wilkins, president of the college, who said he identifies with the movement because he remembers his own frustration at being unable to vote at 18, although he had already been graduated from college and was holding a responsible position as a teacher.

"As a society we have been prone to prolonging unduly the dependence -- yes, almost infancy -- of our children. It is difficult for us to remember that this nation was founded by young people and that the West was won by youth. Youth responds to responsibility," Dr. Wilkins has said.

Muzikar has sent a letter to every member of the Newark State faculty, asking for help with the drive.

"The youth of America are trying to find better answers to the problems facing all of us. Students from Newark State College feel that change can be accomplished without outward extremes, social upheaval or civil disobedience. The vote allows all citizens to express themselves within the system of government, not in overt behavior against that system," he said.

Sponsors of the proposed legislation are Senators McDermott, Rinaldo, LaCorte, Schiavo and Lynch; sponsors of the House bill are Assemblymen Hirkala, Capers, Fekey, Fav, Gavin and Higgins.

AAA opposing bill for feasibility study of toll road project

The Public Affairs Council of the AAA Auto Clubs of New Jersey, representing more than a quarter of a million motorists, today announced its opposition to any proposed extension of the Garden State Parkway or the New Jersey Turnpike into Warren, Sussex, or Hunterdon Counties.

Specifically, the AAA urged the defeat of Assembly Bill 326, which calls for a feasibility study by the Department of Transportation to determine the practicability of extending either of the toll roads into Warren and Sussex Counties in anticipation of the construction of the Tocks Island National Recreation area.

William K. Duncan, chairman of the AAA Public Affairs Council and executive vice president of the Shore Motor Club of South Jersey, Atlantic City, said the Council's opposition was voiced on the recommendation of Jack Staskewicz, executive vice president of the West Jersey Motor Club of Phillipsburg, Duncan declared: "The AAA Public Affairs Council agrees that the development of Tocks Island by the mid 1970's demands new multi-lane highways in Warren, Sussex and Hunterdon Counties. We believe too that the lack of such highways in this area of the state places limitations upon economic development, deprives the citizens of New Jersey of the full advantages to be derived from existing and planned recreational facilities, and threatens to place an ever-increasing burden on already inadequate local roads in this tri-county area.

"We insist, however, that this network of new roads should be free roads. We will oppose with every proper means at our disposal any attempt to extend toll roads into this area for the simple reason that the motorists of these three counties and all the motorists of New Jersey are already paying in highway user taxes sufficient monies to finance such projects.

"We remind the members of the Legislature that New Jersey has diverted more than $1 billion of its gasoline and motor vehicle tax revenue in the last 30 years. Based on past experience, we believe that more than $150,000,000 of gasoline and motor vehicle tax revenue will be diverted to non-highway purposes this year alone.

"Furthermore, the motorists of this state were 'just hit' last year with a one cent increase in the gasoline tax to finance the $640 million transportation bond issue.

"In conclusion we believe that the new roads needed to service the Tocks Island development can be free roads and can be financed out of existing gasoline and motor vehicle tax revenue or bond money."

Duncan said the AAA opposition to A-326 has been made known to the legislative leadership in both the Assembly and Senate and the individual members of the Transportation Committees in both houses.

'Nearly new' sale aids St. Barnabas heart lab

The Guild of Saint Barnabas Medical Center will hold a thrift sale of "nearly new, good as new" items on Monday, April 21 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Medical Center.

All proceeds will go to the Guild's goal of $100,000 toward the medical center's new heart catheterization laboratory in the new addition now under construction. The public is invited to attend.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN (Diamond Cleaners)

EASTER GREETING

Have you ever stood on a hilltop in the cold grey light of an Easter dawn, waiting for the strains of the Hallelujah Chorus and first bold fingers of the sun?

If you haven't, I heartily recommend it. For certainly nothing else expresses the spirit of hope so stirring, choir and audience alike forget icy feet and fingers as the "dawn comes up like thunder" on this day of days.

Surely prejudice and hatred must be blotted out for anyone who participates in so awe-inspiring an occasion. It is a never-to-be-forgotten experience which leaves little room for the little thoughts of man.

May you and yours -- regardless of race, color or creed -- enjoy the rich blessings of the season and a life in which hope springs eternal.

HAPPY EASTER! HAPPY PASSOVER!

Notes eligibility for GI insurance

Disabled veterans separated from active duty on or after September 29, 1965, may be entitled to a combined total of $20,000 worth of life insurance under certain conditions, it was announced this week by Paul M. Nugent, manager of the New Jersey Veterans Administration Regional Office in Newark.

Veterans separated from active duty after September 29, 1965, have 120 days after date of separation in which to convert their Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to a permanent plan with a qualified commercial life insurance company without a medical examination. The face value of these policies are generally $10,000.

In addition, these veterans who have also established a service connected disability with the Veterans Administration may be entitled to seven different plans of life insurance up to $10,000. These policies are issued by the Veterans Administration and the disabled veteran must make his application within one year from the date of his initial rating of disability by the VA.

Additional details may be obtained by writing or telephoning the VA at 645-2150.

Earnings reported up at Stop & Shop

BOSTON, MASS.--Stop & Shop Inc. this week reported sales and earnings for the company's recently completed fourth quarter and fiscal year set new records for the company. For the 53 weeks ended February 1, sales advanced 15.62% to $654,822,234 from the $566,361,363 reported for the fiscal year ended January 27, 1968, a 52-week year.

Pre-tax earnings for 1968 climbed to $11,810,964, representing a 22.46 percent increase over the $9,644,775 reported in 1967.

Earnings after taxes in this year advanced 10.19 percent to $6,735, 813 or $22.22 per share compared to $6,112,722 or $2.02 per share reported for 1967. Per share results are based on 3,036,371 average shares outstanding during the 1968 period and 3,024,793 average shares outstanding for 1967. Federal sur-tax reduced 1968 results by $524,312 of $0.17 per share.

County group plans Sandman $ dinner

Plans for a fund-raising dinner were discussed by the Citizens With Sandman at a meeting on Sunday at the home of the Union County chairman, Mrs. Norma Fleitman of 600 Cranford ave., Linden. The dinner is being planned for April. The CWS was organized to support the candidacy of Rep. Charles W. Sandman Jr. of Erma Park for the Republican nomination for governor.

Other municipalities of the county were represented at Sunday's meeting in addition to Linden's members of the CWS.

Mrs. Fleitman was scheduled to appoint coordinators for the CWS efforts in the various municipalities at another meeting in her home last night. Mrs. Fleitman announced that any person who wishes to work for the CWS may notify her at 486-3828.

Queen to be named at dance on May 3

2 deadlines for some taxpayers

Some New Jersey residents have two federal tax deadlines on Tuesday, April 15. They must file a 1969 Declaration of Estimated Income Tax as well as a 1968 Income Tax Return.

Self-employed individuals and others who will owe $40 or more on April 15, 1970 and whose 1969 income will include more than $200 not subject to tax withholding must file declarations. They must pay at least 25% of their estimated tax bill with their declaration.

IRS has already mailed estimated tax forms and instructions to all taxpayers who filed or should have filed declarations last year.

Taxpayers who receive a major portion of their income from salaries or wages may ask their employers to increase the amount of income tax withheld from their earnings. If the increased withholding will cover their entire tax, they will not have to file a declaration of estimated income tax.

Detailed information on Declarations of Estimated Tax is published in IRS Publication 505. This booklet, worksheets to help taxpayers determine whether or not they are required to file these returns and declaration forms are all available at IRS offices.

Declarations should be filed under the same name or names and social security number or numbers as the corresponding 1969 income tax return will be filed. Signed declarations should be mailed to Internal Revenue Service 11601 Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, Pa. 19155.

CHILDREN DIE
About 4,500 children under 15 died of cancer last year according to the American Cancer Society. Help cut this toll by supporting the Society's April Crusade.

READY FOR OPENING — Osgood the rabbit, one of the many boarders at the Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange, with one of his friends, Ellen Lenox, 18, a pretty zooette, who got together for this picture to remind everyone the zoo reopens today. Ellen, who attends Springfield College in Massachusetts, has been a zooette for the last two years for the Essex County Park Commission's facility.

Lewis to produce 'War'

HOLLYWOOD — "Fortunes of War," a motion picture for which Nunnally Johnson will write the script, will be produced by Robert Lewis under a contract he has signed with Warner Bros.-Seven Arts, Lewis, who was co-producer of "Fahrenheit 451," has moved his headquarters from London to the Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Studios in Burbank, Calif., to begin preparing "Fortunes of War."

Osgood greets and meets
On hand for zoo opening today

Osgood the rabbit, known to millions of children throughout New Jersey for his personal appearances in schools over the last several years, will be on hand at Turtle Back Zoo's spring opening today in West Orange, to greet all his admirers—and just in time for Easter.

The zoo, famous for its large turtle collection—with 55 species, it is the second largest collection in the nation—also boasts of having 188 species of other animals, large and small, ferocious and tame.

Turtle Back Zoo, operated by the Essex County Park Commission, is now in its seventh year. As young as it is, it ranks in the top 40 percent in terms of size among all 170 zoos in the United States. Last year more than 735,000 children and adults, many of them from out of state, visited the facility which is located in a natural surrounding of woods and lakes in the 2,000-acre South Mountain Park Reservation.

To answer questions and guide the visitor through the maze of trails and the animal houses, there are 40 pretty girls, called zooettes, especially trained for the job.

LUNG CANCER
Lung cancer will kill 59,000 Americans this year, but the American Cancer Society says it could be largely prevented if no one smoked cigarettes.

The zoo schedule from opening day until Oct. 19 is: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays; 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sundays and holidays. Admission remains at 25 cents, and children under a year old will be admitted free. Special rates are available for school groups that make advance reservations.

'Bye, Bye Birdie'
school production

Leo W. Rindler, director of music education of Union Schools, has completed arrangements for the production of the Broadway musical, "Bye, Bye Birdie," by the Teenage Theatre during July. The theatre is sponsored by the dramatics department of the Union Music School which will hold its session in Connecticut Farms School, Union, June 27 to Aug. 1.

Mrs. Ula Mae Greenspan has been appointed production director of "Bye, Bye Birdie." The music by Charles Strouse, lyrics by Leo Adams, and book by Michael Stewart give the musical strong entertainment appeal. Mortimer Geist, director of the Teenage Theatre, will coordinate production activities and direct the show band.

Stamp exhibition slated in Bergen

Bergen County's annual stamp exhibition, will be held in the Civic Auditorium of the Garden State Plaza, Routes 4 & 17, Paramus, April 24-26, from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. on the first two days and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the closing day.

Two-hundred frames will be exhibited. A dealer's bourse of 12 booths will offer stamps, covers and accessories for beginners as well as the advanced collector.

Ormont screens 'Faces' picture

John Cassavetes' "Faces," which won five awards at the Venice Film Festival, and awards at the San Francisco and New York Film Festivals, opened yesterday at the Ormont Theater, East Orange. The independently made picture explores the complex problems of marriage.

John Marley, Gena Rowlands, Lynn Carlin, Seymour Cassel and Fred Draper have stellar roles in "Faces."

Cassavetes, actor-turned writer-director, and his crew, spent six months in the actual filming of the picture and another three-and-a-half years in editing and completing "Faces." Cassavetes, who won an Academy Award, turned from acting to directing 10 years ago.

ACADEMY AWARD NOMINEES—Katharine Hepburn and Peter O'Toole take time out from their verbal attacks in scene from "The Lion in Winter," on screen at the Millburn Cinema, Millburn. Picture was nominated for seven Oscars.

The Theatre Seen

DOUBLE BILL By ROBERT LYONS

Liaise May, of the comedy team Mike Nichols and Elaine May, has scored a hit with two one-act plays at the Greenwich Mews Theatre, 141 West 17th st., in New York.

The first "Adaptation," is written and directed by Miss May. It is a rapid-fire presentation of the life cycle played in the format of an absurd television game show. A contestant is put through all the life-making decisions aided by two assistants and a Games Master, who play all the people in his life. He experiences setbacks, suffers advancement and endures success. But essentially he moves laterally, never given the chance to evolve and grow, only to decide. As the pressures and choices get horrifyingly complex, the contestant, in an aside to the audience that evokes a shivering laugh, says, "This is a tough game."

"Adaptation" is rollickingly cerebral. There is no trace of the usual rapid, masochism of game show audiences watching a fellow man being dissected.

Gabriel Dell plays the contestant. He is rubber-faced, agile and deprecatingly cooperative in a performance that is a marvel of split second confusion.

THE SECOND PLAY is "Next," by Terence McNally, with Miss May directing. A 48-year-old man has received his draft notice and must suffer the indignities of the entire physical, mental and emotional examination of induction so that he may be officially rejected. James Coco gives an exacting performance. At first it is casually humorous and relaxed, but at the end becomes a furiously spent tornado. Elaine Shore plays an examining officer with all the insolence of office possible. Whether bashing away at a typewriter, stapling memos, or asking personal questions impersonally ("Mother's age at death?"), that droning clarity is always evident.

Though the plays differ in style they hold together by depicting the dehumanizing aspects of life. And they question our patience for submitting to public indignity and remind us that we rarely fight back. The plays bite, but you'll laugh.

'The Fixer' now on Union screen

"The Fixer," film version of the best-selling novel by Bernard Malamud, starring Alan Bates, Academy-award nominee for "Best Actor," opened yesterday at the Union Theater, Union Center.

The picture, which has Dirk Bogarde, Georgia Brown, Hugh Griffin, Elizabeth Hartman and Carol White in stellar roles, was directed by John Frankenheimer in color.

It concerns a Jew in Czarist Russia, framed on an anti-Semitic charge of ritual child murder, who faces endless brutality in his struggle for survival.

LOUIS MONTE—Recording artist will appear with London Lee at Larry Dixon's Flagship, Route 22, Union, Saturday, for one night only. New Jerseyans, Monte hails from Lyndhurst, and Lee is from Closter.

By MILT HAMMER

TURNTABLE TREATS (good listening) DOING MY THING: by Paul Mauriat and His Orchestra. On this LP album, the "Love Is Blue" man adds new instrumental dimensions to five current chart-toppers: "Hey Jude," "Those Were the Days," "I Say a Little Prayer," "Abraham, Martin and John" and "Eleanor." Additional numbers include "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," "Siffler Sur La Coline" (Whistle On The Hill), "Irresistiblement" (Irresistibly), "Ne Sols Pa Triste" (Don't Be Sad), "Cent Mille Chansons (100,000 Songs) and "Ma Maison Et La Riviere" (My House And The River). In a nut shell, b-b-beautiful music (PHILIPS PHS 600-292)

A TASTE OF VICKY. An even-dozen of vocals by a gal who ear-pleases from the first note with the selections - "Free Again," "Dance With Me Until Tomorrow," "Lonely Last Rose," "My House," "The Sun Is Gone" (Le Soleil A Quitte Ma Maison), "Give Me Your Hand," "Flowers In The City," "Although You're Gone," "White House," "The Girl Who Loves You" (La Fille Qui T'Aime), "Something's Gotten Hold Of My Heart" and "Vicky Starts things off in a fine, world-weary fashion, then breaks things up with a rocking second chorus that brings the standard up-to-date and out front. (PHILIPS PHS 600-285)

On the FONTANA piano, HITS, HITS, HITS! by Joe Henderson, Piano and His orchestra. Here's one LP that's sure to please both listener and dancer alike. Joe's 10 fantastic fingers are kept busy on the 88's with 11 numbers.

'Jerusalem' film on Art screen

"A Journey to Jerusalem," starring Leonard Bernstein and Isaac Stern opened yesterday at the Art Theater, Irvington Center, on a double bill with "The Fifth Horseman Is Fear."

"Journey," a film documentary, showing the Mount Scopus concert commemorating the Israeli reunification of Jerusalem three weeks after the six day war, also features Jennie Tourel, the Israel Philharmonic and the Tel Aviv Philharmonic Choir. It was directed by Michael Mindin Jr. in color.

Boy Scout executive resigns; takes similar New York post

Hurdon R. Hastings Jr., district Scout executive of the Southern District of Union County, Boy Scouts of America, resigned Tuesday to accept a similar position with the Mohawk District, Otetiana Council, Rochester, N.Y., noted John J. Radigan, Union Council President.

While in Union Council, Hastings served as adviser to a number of council operating committees including, Camping, Camp Development, Sea Exploring Squadron, Advancement, Leadership Training, Jewish and Protestant Relationships, Order of the Arrow and Council Activities Committee. He served as Camp Director of Winnebago Scout Reservation four years, 1963-1966.

As a Boy Scout, Hastings received the Eagle Scout Award and God and Country Religious emblem. Before coming to Union County, he served as district Scout executive in Geneva and Syracuse, New York. A graduate of Utica College of Syracuse University in 1955, he entered the U.S. Army in 1956 and served as a neuro-physiologic technician in the Valley Forge Army Hospital before entering professional Scouting.

Hastings, his wife Roneta, and four children expect, to move to the Rochester area shortly after assuming duties with that council.

HURDON R. HASTINGS JR.

Theater Six present rock concert Saturday

Theater Six will hold a rock concert and dance on Saturday from 7 to 11 p.m. at its auditorium, Main street and Middlesex avenue, Metuchen. Funds raised will go toward the theater's drive to raise $30,000 "to insure the continuation of a professional regional theater in the Central Jersey area."

Three bands will be in continuous performance. The groups will be "Dandelion Wine" (now recording its first album for London), "The Great Society" and "The Respass Blues Band." The price is 75 cents per person. Further information can be obtained by calling 548-2550.

Traffic deaths cut 50 percent

Out of New Jersey's 21 counties, Union County was 10th highest in traffic fatalities from January 1 to March 23, according to the New Jersey State Safety Council.

Traffic deaths were cut in half for the same period from last year, however, 1968 auto deaths until March 23 were 20, this year they are 10.

Two fatalities were reported in Elizabeth, Hillside and Plainfield, Roselle, Summit, Union and Westfield reported one fatality each up to March 23. Half of the 10 traffic fatalities were pedestrians. Three involved a single vehicle, two involved two or more vehicles.

Bergen County leads the traffic death race in the state, the safety council reported. The state traffic fatality rate is behind last year's total, 229, to 275, a reduction of 16.7 percent.

First spring project: medical checkup

Should precede heavy house or yard work

The arrival of spring brings with it the temptation to rush into traditional seasonal activities. And these are the days that try men's hearts, the Union County Heart Association notes.

Whether it is cleaning up the garden, taking down the storm windows or slapping a coat of paint on the shingles, the Heart Association has a word of advice for the man of the house. If you've been sedentary during the winter, or if you have a history of heart illness, don't do it -- until you get a medical checkup. The advice can serve the housewife, too, before she starts the annual check-out binge.

Sprucing up for spring is at least as important to an individual's health as it is to his property, the Heart Association says. A physical exam should precede the taking on of strenuous chores after a long winter by the fireside. It is vitally important for anyone with heart disease or who is suspected of having a developing heart condition.

Inactive individuals may find that an interval of recommended conditioning -- a regimen of regular physical activity -- is all that is needed to get them in shape to do the job safely and with greater efficiency.

The heart patient, too, may get a go-ahead, after an examination by his physician, who can determine how often and to what lengths the patient's condition will permit him to participate in the spring roundup.

But even the healthy individual is warned not to overdo things. He should stop when he tires, the Union County Heart Association stresses. Home, to twist an old phrase, doesn't have to be rebuilt or cleaned in a day. A final warning concerns dress -- neither too much to bring on over-heating, nor too little to bring on a chill. The spring cleaner may find himself frequently shifting from indoors to outdoors. Unusual exertion at extreme temperatures can precipitate a heart attack in susceptible individuals.

Following the above advice can leave homeowners in as good shape as their bettered homes, and gardens when Spring turns that corner.

LOOKING FOR A JOB?

Those little classified ads in the back of the paper may be your answer. Each week it's different. Make reading the classified a 'must' this week and every week.

Y softball organizing

Boys interested in forming either a softball league or a baseball league are urged to sign up with Harry Katz, athletic director, at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union, it was announced this week.

A coaching clinic will be set up for the week of April 21 as follows:

Monday, April 21, boys 9-10, 3:45 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, April 22, boys 11-12, 3:45 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, April 23, boys 13-14, 3:45 to 5 p.m.

Areas to be covered include batting, fielding, throwing, outfield and infield play, catching and pitching. Players are to meet at the Y with their own baseball or gloves, Katz said.

Unit to hear psychologist

A psychologist with the Union school system, Mrs. Gwendolyn McCarthy, will speak on the topic "What Should Parents Expect from the Psychological Evaluation of Their Child?" at a meeting of the Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children Thursday, April 10 at 8:30 p.m. at St. Luke's parish hall, Fourth avenue and Walnut street, Roselle. The public is welcome.

Mrs. Richard Olsen, recreation chairman, has announced that registration is under way for Camp Star, the unit-operated summer day camp for mentally retarded children and adults. Registration forms and information can be obtained from the association's office in Kenilworth.

CANCER CASES

There will be 600,000 new cases of cancer this year and half can be cured by early diagnosis and proper treatment, according to the American Cancer Society. You can help by supporting the Cancer Crusade.

Corn cobs in the grass seed State warns against mixture. It's corn-cobs-in-the-grass-seed time again. About this time last year, the State Department of Agriculture warned homeowners that a brand of "grass seed" was being distributed in New Jersey which, on analysis, proved to be only about one-half grass seed; the other half was finely ground corn cobs. Now, the same brand has showed up again in several New Jersey discount drug stores. According to Miss Jennie Bloodgood, State seed analyst, the distributor, an out-of-state firm, is not breaking the New Jersey seed law because the package does bear a statement that 42.80 percent of the contents is "inert material." "However," Miss Bloodgood continued, "the obvious intent is to deceive the consumer. Many people do not read the fine print and most purchasers, on a casual examination of the package, would assume they were buying five pounds of grass seed. Actually, those who buy this brand are getting only a little over 2 1/2 pounds of grass seed and about 2 1/2 pounds of useless weight." Miss Bloodgood had two cautions for the prospective buyer of lawn or, for that matter, any type of seed: "First, if the package appears to be very inexpensive, beware: it's probably priced very cheaply for a good reason. Secondly, be sure to read the label carefully before completing a purchase." The New Jersey State Seed Law requires that a statement of the ingredients appear on each package. A good lawn grass mixture may contain some inert material but the proportion should never approach the 42.80 percent level. Department of Agriculture seed inspectors regularly make the rounds of retail outlets where seed is sold and collect samples to be analyzed in the laboratory to see that the "truth in labeling" law is being complied with.
