CUTTING UP—John Della Valle completes work on his Origami, cut paper, circus, now on display as a National Library Week feature at the Mountainside Public Library.

Library to display paper-circus-made by local youngster

The circus has come to the Mountainside Public Library and will remain on exhibit as a feature, during National Library Week, starting April 20.

This is a very special circus—the cages, animals and birds are all depicted in Origami. Origami is the Oriental art of paper folding. There are two types of Origami, traditional and modern. The traditional is done entirely by folding; the modern permits the use of scissors, glue or tape.

The circus was conceived and executed by John Della Valle of 1221 Wyoming dr., Mountainside. John, who is 14 and a freshman at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, first became interested in the ancient Japanese art about four years ago. He further developed the interest while his family was living in Seattle, where the interest in Origami is widespread and the supplies and assortment of paper abundant.

The Della Valle family returned to Mountainside last week.

Daily tennis instruction to be offered by borough

The Recreation Commission tennis program planned for this year will provide increased facilities and broader participation in tennis play for all Mountainside residents. These plans include the construction of two additional courts, as reported in last week's Mountainside Echo, providing a total of four public courts within the borough. In addition, plans are under way to offer group tennis instruction at these public courts.

A Recreation Commission spokesman added: "The tennis instructional program which will be offered this summer is planned as a daytime program for girls and boys between the ages of 10 and 15. Borough court facilities adjacent to the Mountainside Swimming Pool will be scheduled for tennis instruction on a daily basis, Monday to Friday, with experienced staff instruction available.

"The major objective in this first year will be on teaching the basic skills and fundamentals of tennis at the beginner level. Advancement from there will go to intermediate play and lead to competitive play, with emphasis on the word 'play'.

"By the end of the season we should see the development of many natural talents for tennis among our youngsters, even among those who have never played before. Further details on this program, for which there will be a nominal charge, will be announced within the next few weeks.

"What about tennis instruction for adult residents of the borough? We believe there may also be many adults who are interested in tennis instruction, not to mention those parents of the budding young tennis stars who will want to stay ahead.

"If sufficient interest exists, a professionally instructed program may also be made available for adults, possibly on a one day per week basis during the late afternoon hours. All residents interested in participating in such a program are invited to call Harry Nash, 232-5841, weekdays until 5 p.m.

"In the meantime, the Recreation Commission reminds all youngsters and adults interested in tennis that annual permits are required for the use of public courts.

"Permits will be issued by Borough Hall, at no charge to residents. Those residents who have already applied for their 1969 permits are urged to call in their names and addresses to Borough Hall, to receive announcements on new developments in our expanding tennis program."

'Highest priority,' but no date for building Rt. 22 overpass

Construction of a Rt. 22 overpass at New Providence road, Mountainside, has been given "highest priority" by the N.J. Department of Transportation—but no date has been set for the actual work to be done.

This was disclosed in a letter from Trenton to a North Plainfield resident who had written to state officials complaining about long delays he encountered getting to his job in Springfield. The long-suffering commuter, Jack O'Keefe, this week released the text of a reply he received from D. J. Henderson, the state's director of traffic engineering.

Henderson declared in his letter: "The Department of Transportation shares equally the concern of motorists who use Route U.S. 22 over the traffic conditions on this overcrowded highway. We have long recognized that the condition at the New Providence road intersection in Mountainside is one of the most serious.

"We have done somewhat more than send investigators. We have endeavored to make adjustments in the timing of the traffic signal and have made some suggestions to the borough of Mountainside concerning some widening of Mountain avenue, which enters the east side of the highway, and the possible relocation of the entrance to the school, since traffic entering and leaving the existing school entrance compounds the problem during rush hours.

"It is understandable that the borough did not favor the suggestions since it was aware that an overpass would ultimately be constructed at this intersection.

"The Department of Transportation has carried on a continuing program of improving the land service road system, to increase capacity and safety, as rapidly as funds would permit. Unfortunately, the lack of funds has not permitted us to prosecute this program as rapidly and as widely as we would like.

"However, I am pleased that I am able now to inform you that with the recent passage of the bond issue, a grade separation at Route U.S. 22 and New Providence road is among the projects that have been given highest priority. The project is presently in the first stage of design.

"Although, at present, a firm date for construction of this project can not be set, I can assure you that there will be no delay in the work of design, acquisition of necessary right-of-way, preparation of contract, and subsequent construction."

BRIAN HEUER

Heuer may spark Bethany track rise

Brian Heuer of Mountainside, one of the top freshman prospects at Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., will compete this season in weight events for the college's varsity track and field team. Heuer, who will compete in the javelin, shot put and discus events, already has bettered—in practice—javelin marks set in the 1968 Presidents Athletic Conference championships.

Bethany's track and field team faces an uphill fight to regain PAC prestige after three straight cellar finishes. Only five returnees are back from last year's squad, which finished with an 0-6 record and was last in the PAC championships.

"I am pleased that I am able now to inform you that with the recent passage of the bond issue, a grade separation at Route U.S. 22 and New Providence road is among the projects that have been given highest priority. The project is presently in the first stage of design.

"Although, at present, a firm date for construction of this project can not be set, I can assure you that there will be no delay in the work of design, acquisition of necessary right-of-way, preparation of contract, and subsequent construction."

William Parkhurst, 83, former member of Borough Council

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Gray Funeral Home, Westfield, for William A. Parkhurst, 83, a former member of the Mountainside Borough Council.

Parkhurst, who lived at 102 Mill lane, died last Thursday at home after a brief illness. He was a lifelong resident of Mountainside.

A Republican, Mr. Parkhurst served on the council for 12 years in the late 1930s and early 1940s. He was president of William A. Parkhurst & Sons Inc., a paving firm which he founded 54 years ago.

Mr. Parkhurst was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Westfield.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Helen Tomlinson Parkhurst; four sons, William A. Jr. of Westfield, Philip L. of Plainfield, Roger W. of Scotch Plains and Ritner T. of Fanwood; a sister, Miss E. Marietta Parkhurst of Mountainside, and eight grandchildren.

Driver uninjured as car strikes tree

A 22-year-old New Providence girl walked away uninjured Saturday morning after her car struck a tree in the Mountainside area of Watchung reservation, Union County park police reported.

Judith Shadak of 1283 Springfield rd, was headed west on Tracy drive at 5:45 a.m. when her car swerved across the road and struck a tree, police said. She walked away from the car and refused medical attention, police said. The car was demolished in the accident, according to police.

Patrolman Peter Elmont investigated.

Borough Council accepts bid to make Mountainside drier

By JACK PFANNE

The Borough Council Tuesday night awarded the contract for the second phase of the community's storm sewer improvement program to the Union Paving and Construction Co. of Union. Work is expected to begin by May 1 on drainage in the area of the Nemehegan Brook from upper Central avenue at New Providence road almost to Rt. 22.

The Union company won the contract on a bid of $168,830. The council had appropriated $300,000 for the job earlier this year. Work is expected to be completed by the end of the summer.

The first step in the three-part program was completed in 1967 in the area of Summit road. That project was funded for $200,000 but cost only $139,000.

The third and final phase of the project will be begun in 1971. It will improve the surface water drainage west of New Providence road and south of Rt. 22.

Also at the council's regular monthly meeting Tuesday at the Beechwood School the contract for a new fire engine was awarded to Hahn Motors of Hamburg, Pa. The bid for the new pumper was $46,910.

The annual road maintenance contract was awarded to the Peters Construction Co. on a bid of $28,046, a portion of which is reimbursed by the state.

Edward L. Caribon of 222 Summit road was certified as a volunteer fireman at the meeting.

An ordinance was introduced to spend $3,000 for improvement of the municipal pool. The money will be used to build a concrete walk to the pool from an auxiliary parking lot at the Echobrook School. It will also be used to erect a metal storage shed at the pool and for some landscaping.

MAYOR FREDERICK WILHELMS JR. pointed out that there are a number of pool memberships open. Tuesday night was the deadline for the return of pool dues for this year, and as the meeting began Tuesday night only 650 memberships were in, leaving 125 unfilled.

Mayor Wilhelms also announced that recommendations of the borough's Safety Advisory Committee, formed last November, were being put into effect. These included more speed limit signs in Deer Path, where complaints of the residents first stirred the community to organize the committee.

Mayor Wilhelms said that before the end of

Deerfield gets vice-principal for coming year

The Mountainside Board of Education this week named Allan J. Shapiro of Irvington vice-principal of the Deerfield Middle School, filling a newly created post for next year. The board also appointed Mrs. Gwendolyn McCarthy of Basking Ridge as borough school psychologist and director of special services, also for 1969-70.

Shapiro is currently coordinator of social studies at Arts High School, Newark, a post he has held for 22 years. He is a graduate of New York University, with a master's degree from Seton Hall University and sufficient courses for a doctorate in guidance from Seton Hall.

The new post was created, according to Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, to deal with increasing enrollment at Deerfield. An assistant principal is recommended by educational authorities when there are more than 400 students. Deerfield now has 505.

Shapiro will relieve administrative burden of the principal, Herbert Brown. He will also deal with all questions and complaints from students and parents before presenting them to the principal.

Mrs. McCarthy succeeds Diane Oberlin, who is retiring after 15 years in the local schools. Mrs. McCarthy is now a school psychologist in Union and teaches at Seton Hall University. She holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Montclair State College and is a candidate for a Ph.D. from Cornell University.

Sculptors selected for art show, sale at temple in Westfield

Mrs. Murray Staub of Short drive, Mountainside, chairman of the sculpture selection committee, has released a list of sculptors to be represented in the Westfield-Mountainside Hadassah art show and sale, being held at Temple Emanu-El, Westfield, Saturday through Tuesday.

Sculptors will be Louis Cannitzer, Joseph Domarecki, Chaim Gross, Eugene Gauss, Arlene Haller, Philip Orlando, Meyers Rohovsky, Jean Schonwaller, Lillian Schwartz, Florence Silverman, Louis Spindler and Michelle Stuart.

Gauss has donated a sculpture to be used for a door prize, eligible to anyone attending the show. The drawing for the prize will take place Tuesday at 9 p.m.

More than 200 works in all media, ranging from traditional to abstract, will be available at the show, at prices that will suit the modest budget as well as that of the affluent art collector, Mrs. Staub said. Many items will be included in the portfolio category, of which the "increasingly popular graphics will constitute a good percentage," she added.

The previous list of New Jersey artists has been considerably augmented. Among those included are: Hella Batlin, L. Cannitzer, Helen

PROFILE -- Christine Cleaveland

Christine Cleaveland is suffering from culture shock. She has just returned home to Mountainside from seven months in Mexico, where she taught missionary children at a jungle training school.

"Everything is so healthy here," Miss Cleaveland said as she relaxed in her parents' home at 369 Summit rd. on Saturday. "There we had to cook our meat and eggs until they were well done because of the worms and typhoid and boil all of our water because of the amoebas."

Christine is still getting adjusted to the running water and electricity here and hasn't even turned on the television yet. "The radio sounds good," she said, "but just the music, not the news."

The jungle training school is "in an open clearing in the middle of a mountain range" in Chiapas, a Mexican state bordering on Guatemala.

Christine lived in a room in a mud hut shared with four other girls. The outpost is supplied by air, but raises its own cattle and buys an occasional pig or turkey from the local Indians.

"THERE WERE PLENTY of crawling insects and snakes, too," Christine said, "but they didn't seem to bother me. It's more of a problem adapting to the environment coming out of the jungle than going in," she said.

The jungle training school is operated by the Wycliffe Bible Translators, a non-denominational missionary group headquartered in Santa Ana, Calif. In Mexico, it is known as the Summer Institute of Linguistics. Christine said, and its purpose is to translate the Bible into local Indian languages, have it printed and then teach the Indians to read from the text.

The training school is the last jump-off for the Wycliffe missionaries and their families before entering their remote areas of operation.

"We taught the children a regular academic program," Christine said, "and also some courses on how to survive in the wilderness—like hiking, swimming and how to slaughter a cow and butcher it for food."

"The kids adjusted to the jungle beautifully," Christine said, "I was particularly surprised in how interested they were in the butchering."

CHRISTINE TAUGHT in the Roberts School in New Providence for three years before joining Wycliffe and going to Mexico. "I heard about it from another teacher who had

PTA planning program today on teen center

"Are you in favor of a recreation center for teenagers in Mountainside? Are you opposed to one?" These are the questions that will be covered by a panel of Mountainsiders tonight at 8:15 in the Deerfield School gym.

This meeting, sponsored by the PTA, is intended to be of interest to all Mountainside residents. Moderator will be Mayor Fred Wilhelms. The members of the panel represent a cross-section of thought and opinion.

Mrs. William Gutman, will present her views as the mother of teenagers and a woman who has worked closely with various youth groups. William Gutman is the minister to youth at the Community Presbyterian Church. William Ditzel is the chairman of the Recreation Commission and Detective Sgt. Jerome Rice is a member of Mountainside's police force.

Local teenagers will be represented by Jim Harbaugh, a sophomore at Gov. Livingston Regional High School and Jonathan Jones, president of the Student Council of Deerfield School.

Following a brief presentation by each of the panel members the subject will be opened to the audience for a question and answer period.

Burglaries down; Nike reveals rise

The wave of break and entries in the borough has been virtually eliminated with increased surveillance by both police and residents, and the apprehension in Bayonne of three alleged drug addicts found with property stolen from Mountainside homes.

However, a new problem has popped up for borough residents in the area of the abandoned Nike site.

A resident of Saddle Brook road told the Borough Council Tuesday night at its regular monthly meeting that teenagers were leaving their cars on that street while they spent time in the Nike site buildings or at least on that property.

She said that there was also at least one instance where the teenagers saw a neighbor of hers leave her home on Saddle Brook road and then, she supposed, tried to break in. "When my neighbor got home," the woman said, "her door was scratched up as if someone tried to force it open."

The woman's remarks were given added weight by the disclosure that Saturday a carload of "college age" youths were arrested at the Nike site as they apparently were making a movie.

One of the youths, according to acting police chief Capt. Edward J. Mullin, was charged with possession of narcotics and the others with trespassing. Two were from Springfield. They were all released on $900 bail posted by the parents of one of the Springfield youths.

Capt. Mullin said that when the youths were apprehended one was dressed in the uniform of a German soldier complete with a helmet

'SANCTUARY'—Sculptor Joseph Domarecki of Mountainside discusses the technique involved in creating his metal sculpture, 'Sanctuary,' with Mrs. Murray Staub, also of Mountainside, sculpture selection chairman for the Westfield-Mountainside Hadassah art show and sale. Student chosen for trip To spend summer in Japan

BARBARA J. HARRIS

Barbara Jane Harris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Donald Harris, 300 Bridle path, Mountainside, N.J., has been selected by The Experiment in International Living to live abroad with a family in Japan this summer. She is currently a senior at Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa. Miss Harris will begin graduate studies in entomology next fall at Cornell University.

The Experiment has been engaged in international educational exchange since its founder, Dr. Donald B. Watt, first introduced a group of American youths to their French and German-speaking counterparts in Switzerland in 1932.

It is now the most well-established program of its type in the world with representatives in more than 60 countries involved in the annual exchange of some 5,000 young men and women between the United States and 100 nations around the globe. The private, nonprofit organization maintains its U.S. headquarters in Putney, Vt.

The Experiment recognizes that "communication is the key to understanding another people and its culture." Consequently, it requires its participants to have basic conversational ability in the language of their host country.

To enhance her summer in Japan Miss Harris will enroll in a special 17-day course in oral Japanese, given by the Experiment just prior to the beginning of the program. These 100 hours of instruction, when combined with the experience abroad, have consistently placed Experimenters in the upper percentile of national norms.

During the language course, Miss Harris will meet the 10 other members of her Experiment group.

Following their arrival in the host community abroad, Miss Harris and her fellow Experimenters will live with individual families for one month. This firsthand opportunity to develop friendships, to learn the customs and traditions, to use the language, and to participate in the activities of the host country from the vantage point of a family environment, is the heart of the Experiment program.

During her last three weeks in Japan, Miss Harris and her group will invite members of their host families to join them for an extensive travel period throughout Japan. Seeing the host nation through the eyes of its nationals is a special feature of Experiment programs.

Program marks gift to county of planetarium at Trailside

The Trailside Museum Association formally presented the Trailside Planetarium to the Union County Park Commission for the people of Union County at a dedication program Sunday. The Planetarium is adjacent to the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watching Reservation.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Hall, Westfield, directors of the Trailside Museum Association, presented this gift to the president of the Union County Park Commission, John G. Walsh of Mountainside, who accepted the Planetarium -- with sincere appreciation of the efforts of the members of the Trailside Museum Association -- in behalf of the people of Union County. He noted that on May 3, 1941, at the original dedication program of the Trailside facility, the late president of the Union County Park Commission, Arthur R. Wendell of Summit, expressed the hope that the museum would grow in size and interest. Walsh said that hope has been fulfilled by the attendance, exhibits and programs now being offered at the Trailside Center and with the opening of the Planetarium.

Dr. Arthur L. Levine, executive officer of the Goddard Institute of Space Studies, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in New York City, said Union County is fortunate in having a planetarium available for its people. He indicated that the NASA organization is particularly interested in this type of facility, calling it a major means of exposing adults and children to the study of the skies, thus making it possible for the general public to learn of the activities of the NASA programs. Dr. Levine noted a recent decline in the enrollment in the various science programs at the universities, possibly because students fear that the study of science is not as interesting as some other fields.

He called the overall Trailside facility an asset to the community and to the overall science program because the Trailside facility relates the various sciences to each other and also attempts to show the interesting facets of these studies. The planetarium he said, is an ideal way to acquaint the public with the relationship of the skies above to the earth. He indicated that the space science program is a new field of study starting its second decade and he indicated that in the study of space all of the sciences have a part.

The invocation at the dedication program was delivered by the Reverend Clark W. Hunt of the First Methodist Church, Westfield. George T. Cron, the park commission's superintendent of recreation, served as master of ceremonies at the program. Donald W. Mayer, director of the Trailside Nature and Science Center, presented a program in the Planetarium for those present.

Crestmont sets record

Crestmont Savings and Loan Association's net earnings for the first quarter of 1969 reached a record $975,244, reflecting a 13.8 percent increase over the similar 1968 period. The figures were released by Victor Neumark, president of the association.

Total savings capital held by the association was $75,849,752, up $5,511,466, over a year ago. Quarterly dividends were paid in the amount distributed during the first quarter of 1969. Despite the larger dividend payment, Crestmont transferred 17.64 percent of net operating income to reserve accounts. Total assets were $86,542,842 as of March 31. Crestmont maintains six offices in Morristown, Madison, Maplewood and Springfield in the tri-county area of Essex, Morris and Union.

A 'Week' at YWCAs

National YWCA Week, an annual observance of the YWCA, will be celebrated during the coming week, beginning with the traditional Sunday-in-the-churches, when members of the Summit Association will join with those across the country in attending the churches of their choice.

For the occasion, churches of many denominations in the area will distribute 5,000 inserts emphasizing the theme of the national observance: "Be Yourself - You Do Count!"

"We believe that this theme stresses what is at the base of all YWCA programs," says Mrs. George E. Schindler Jr., president of the board of trustees. "That is, concern for the individual girl or woman who wants to find a place where she can develop her own potential and contribute to her community, nation and world."

Women and girls in the area have been invited to visit the Summit Association during the week to get a first-hand look at the kind of program available to them.

DRIVERS URGED TO INSURE ABOVE MINIMUM LIMITS

"In this state the minimum automobile liability insurance limits are $10,000 for bodily injury to a single person, $20,000 for bodily injury in a single accident and $5,000 for property damage," a reader informs us. "My neighbor suggests I buy much higher coverage. Do you agree?"

We certainly do. Every state has laws requiring drivers to prove they are financially able to pay claims, up to certain minimum limits, if they should become involved in an auto accident for which they are found legally responsible.

Many drivers carry much higher automobile liability insurance limits. These motorists understand that accidents often result in serious injury to one or more persons. If the driver who is at fault possesses only the legal minimum in liability coverages, he may have to pay thousands of dollars of his own money to the injured party.

In recent years, juries have tended to increase the amount of money awarded victims of serious automobile accidents, when the driver is found negligent. Motorists should understand that they can buy an increased margin of protection for very few premium dollars.

In most states, for example, a driver can buy two-and-one-half times the basic bodily injury liability coverage for less than a 20 percent increase in his bodily injury insurance premium. Or he can buy five times the minimum bodily injury protection for less than a 30 percent increase.

It's a small price to pay for peace of mind.

Singer...dancer...preacher... mailer...painter...truck driver

During the day Willard T. Reese supervises the operations of the mailroom on the Newark campus of Rutgers University. At night, he keeps watch at the Old First Church in this city. In between, he could be doing any number of things.

Singer, dancer, truck driver, preacher, watchman, writer, poet, painter, Willard Reese has little time for idleness.

Weekends, Reese sings solos at church and also preaches. Weekdays, during his busy lunch hour, he may be found putting some finishing touches to any one of several paintings or collages he's got under way in the Rutgers mailroom.

Between the mailroom's weight scale and the package conveyor belt there are a number of Reese works, including a large colorful piece, composed of broken glass, framed and backed with electric lighting.

Not so long ago, Reese could have been found "hoofing in every hotel, theater and nightclub in the United States and Canada," as he describes it. His dancing career also covered a six-month stint with the USO in Alaska.

"I try not to waste any time," Reese said in a master stroke of understatement.

It is clear that he wastes no time at all. The few minutes of his waking hours he does not spend mailing, watching, painting, writing, singing or preaching, he spends reading. Books and articles about unidentified flying objects are his main reading fare.

The painting stage of Reese's life began just 30 months ago. Since then, he has completed 63 pieces of art and is currently at work on several more.

"Of these 26 paintings," Reese says proudly, "46 already have been sold." Many of his landscapes and abstracts hang in Rutgers administrative offices and at the School of Law here.

Dr. Charles Taub, a dentist with offices in Newark, has purchased four of Reese's oils.

"Being the proud owner of Reese works is doubly gratifying," Taub says, "when my patients make so many comments about the paintings in the office."

As a show business troupier, Reese was a member of a group called "The Daydreamers." He says he left show business because he felt the strain of demands made upon himself and his family.

"It was a simple case of either my marriage or my job," he says candidly. He said another reason for giving up that vocation was his conviction that he had gone as far as he ever would in the business.

Reese lives in East Orange with his wife of "30 delightful years," Gladys. The couple has one daughter, an alumna of the Rutgers Graduate School of Library Service who is married and lives in California.

Reese's philosophy about life is, in a very real sense, related to what he terms a "time" element, and is an outgrowth of his affiliation with the Christian Science Church. Just completing nine years as a soloist with a Westfield church, Reese is also a reader (preacher) in East Orange.

He has recorded two LP's, one entitled "Ten Beloved Hymns" and the other "A Closer Walk with God," an album of sacred solos. The records, distributed through the Christian Science Monitor, are sold all over the world.

"Everything happens for the best in its own right time," Reese observes. "When things go wrong, it's very often bad timing, but when a thing is right, then it moves forward almost like it's compelled from the outside; it needn't be pushed."

His paintings must come under the "things going right" category, because he finds no difficulty getting them displayed, borrowed or bought. The mailroom is splashed with the colors of Reese florals, woods scenes and brilliant abstracts. On walls, over pigeon holes and on counters, wherever there is not mail in the mailroom, there are Reese works of art.

Willard Reese works at personal happiness, and radiates the result of his effort.

A BUSY MAN—Supervisor of mailing at Rutgers-Newark by day, watchman by night, Willard T. Reese also finds time to actively pursue a number of artistic endeavors. Creations like this one, which stands by the conveyor belt in the mailroom, can be found in many of the college's administrative offices.

Full employment in U.S. possible, says official

WASHINGTON—The American economy has the ability to provide jobs for everyone willing and able to work, according to Arnold R. Weber, assistant Secretary of Labor for Manpower.

Weber's views on the "realistic possibility of full U. S. employment under the present economy" are featured in an article appearing in the February-March issue of the Labor Department's magazine "Manpower," first published in January of this year.

In another article appearing in the new publication, Mrs. Rose Welner of the department's Office of Manpower

Research takes personnel managers to task for insisting upon unrealistic educational requirements in hiring or promoting many workers.

"The implications of the 'diploma demand' on the hard-core unemployed are exceedingly grave," Mrs. Welner states, "particularly when the diploma requirement is applied without thought as to its usefulness in selecting workers that are to be filled."

"Manpower" magazine, the official monthly journal of the Manpower Administration, is available on subscription at $7.50 a year (single copies 65 cents).

Program set as memorial

The 26th anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising will be commemorated in a memorial program at Weequahic High School, Newark, on Sunday at 1 p.m. Admission is free.

The commemoration program will include Rabbi Martin Freedman, president, American Jewish Congress; Abraham Janofsky, executive secretary, N. J. Yiddisher Cultur Farband; Sharon Bayer, president, Metropolitan Council, B'nai Brith Girls; Misha Slatkin, cello soloist; the New Hazomir Chorus of the YM-YWHA of Essex County and the Jewish Folk Chorus of Newark will furnish the musical portion. A candle-lighting ceremony in memory of the six million fallen Jews, as well as memorial prayers chanted by Cantor Morris Levinson of Temple Beth El, South Orange, will conclude the program.

Hughes to speak at Dems' dinner

Gov. Richard J. Hughes will be the guest of honor at the Democratic State Committee's annual dinner, to be held May 8 at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark.

State Committee chairman Robert J. Burkhardt, who made the announcement, also said that each of the Democratic aspirants in this year's gubernatorial election will be invited to address the dinner guests.

About 1,000 party supporters are expected to attend the $250-a-plate dinner.

Williams has master plan to fight the drug problem

WASHINGTON - In a comprehensive attack on the nation's mounting drug abuse crisis, Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr., (D-N.J.) this week offered legislation to establish addict rehabilitation centers and to provide training for rehabilitation personnel.

Sen. Williams said that the proposals are aimed at the most immediate needs in the drug abuse dilemma - more adequately trained personnel and better facilities for treatment.

The bill, the Drug Abuse Prevention and Rehabilitation Act, would provide grants to states and private agencies for the establishment of prevention, treatment and rehabilitation centers. Half of the funds under the legislation would be committed to experiments in rehabilitation; some centers would explore the community and environmental causes of drug abuse, others would do research on rehabilitation technique. The bill would also provide for training of medical and professional personnel in drug problems and would authorize a high-level review of federal drug abuse policies.

SEN. WILLIAMS POINTED TO the increasing experimentation with potentially dangerous drugs and said that the sudden acceleration of illegal drug traffic poses the real threat of "social damage." He cited as evidence of the increase a report that 30 per cent of the nation's college students have experimented with marijuana; a New York Times estimate that 100 million Americans use some form of mind-altering drug, and the fact that 35 tons of illegal drugs were seized at U. S. borders in 1968.

Sen. Williams emphasized that such a dramatic increase in drug activity will outrun the slow, laborious changes in the law which must ultimately take place. "There is a realistic and more important task we can begin now," he noted -- understanding, education and rehabilitation.

He said that frequent newspaper headlines which announce narcotics raids have led to an unproductive "we got 'em" attitude. "Instead of concentrating so much of our energy on nabbing 14-year-old drug offenders and congratulating ourselves on a victory over crime," Sen. Williams asserted, "we should spend at least an equal amount of energy and resources on understanding and rehabilitating these troubled young people."

The rehabilitation proposal came about, in part, because of recent visits Senator Williams made to two drug self-help projects: a National Institute of Mental Health center in Philadelphia and the nonprofit Odyssey House on New York's lower east side.

"REHABILITATION CENTERS must be an integral part of the scene," Senator Williams affirmed. Under the bill, intensive patient care and therapy -- medically oriented -- would be augmented at some centers by a community approach, which would focus on the causes of addiction as well as the cure.

Sen. Williams acknowledged that many physicians and social counselors have little or no knowledge of drug practices -- or even drug "lingo" -- yet attempt to offer guidance. "When it comes to classifying dexies, A's, footballs, barbs, goofballs, cubes, acids as either stimulants, depressants of hallucinogens," he asked, "who among us can do it without guessing?"

The New Jersey lawmaker pointed out that in too many cases local police are the only source of drug information and guidance. He said that doctors and social workers could provide a valuable drug-counseling service, if professional schools were equipped to train them for this specialized function.

Governor hopefuls to address dinner

The number of New Jersey gubernatorial possibilities agreeing to address a meeting of state businessmen next Wednesday has risen to eight, with an acceptance by Rep. Henry Helstoski (D., 9th Congressional District), a declared candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Their views of the issues at stake in the November election will be heard at the seventh annual dinner-meeting of the Employer-Legislative Committees of New Jersey in the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark.

Others who have agreed to share the speaker's platform at the meeting include: Rep. William T. Cahill (R., 6th Congressional District); State Senator Frank X. McDermott (R., Union); Public Utility Commissioner

Mother's Day custom: CARE-giving popular

Last year, 10,000 American women received a Mother's Day message informing them that CARE packages had been sent in their name to help needy mothers and children overseas.

The special tribute, which started spontaneously a few years ago among donors' families with CARE's work, has grown to such proportions the agency now has attractive gift-greeting cards to notify the mothers who are honored in this way.

Gift contributions may be mailed to: Mother's Day Plan, CARE, 660 First Ave., New York, 10016. Make checks payable to CARE, Inc. Give name and address, and the name and address of the mother (or mothers) to whom the cards are to be sent.

Mail orders should be received by May 5, to permit CARE to sign the name and send the cards in time for Mother's Day, May 11. Unless donors state a preference, CARE will decide whether to send food or other needed assistance in the name of the mothers who are being honored.

State offering local officials orientation on data equipment

Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development this week announced the publication of a 279-page reference entitled, "The Story of New Jersey's Civil Boundaries, 1606-1968," by John P. Snyder of Madison.

The hard-cover, 8-1/2" x 11" book, issued as Bulletin 67 by the Bureau of Geology and Topography, lists in detail or outlines all the known boundary changes of the province, state, counties and municipalities from the earliest charters involving the New Jersey area to the present time. There are 37 full-page maps prepared by the author and 11 pages of reproductions of old maps and deeds. It is the first time that a work of this scope has been prepared in the state. The volume is expected to be of considerable interest and assistance to surveyors, lawyers, historians and other individuals who research old boundary lines.

Other factual data included in the book is the history of New Jersey as related to civil divisions which is detailed in Chapter I. County boundaries, early municipal boundaries and laws controlling municipal incorporations and boundary changes are quoted in Chapter II.

Titled "Municipal Incorporations and Boundaries Changes," Chapter III cites laws, in chronological sequence, for all the known boundaries in New Jersey's history. Miscellaneous tables in Chapter IV contain information of general interest within the scope of the book.

Snyder is a project engineer with CIBA Corporation, Summit. A licensed professional engineer in New Jersey and Ohio, he holds a BS degree in chemical engineering from Purdue University and a master's degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Research on this boundary project began in 1963 and agreement to publish was reached in 1966 when Snyder had essentially completed his research. The format design and management of publication is credited to Harold Barker Jr., supervising topographic engineer in the State Conservation Department's Bureau of Geology, who worked with the author to turn the manuscript into printed form.

A copy may be obtained by sending $10 to the Bureau of Geology, New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development, P.O. Box 1889, Trenton, New Jersey 08625.

Businesses up for sale listed by Council to aid minorities

The Interracial Council for Business Opportunity of New Jersey has launched "Project Transfer," a listing of businesses for sale in the greater Newark area.

The list, sent to nearly 3,000 local minority group members and organizations, outlines pertinent financial facts about each for-sale business.

"Our idea," says ICBO executive director Malcolm L. Corrin, "is that it is easier for the new business man to successfully operate an established business than to build a new one from the ground up."

Interested black and Spanish-speaking residents not listed with the organization may visit 24 Commerce st., Newark, Suite 721, or call 622-4771. Questions should be directed to Bernard H. Saperstein, ICBO educational director, in charge of the program.

The business community is also being asked to notify ICBO of businesses for sale. Appointments between prospective buyers and sellers will be arranged by the organization.

The ICBO is a voluntary organization formed to help minority group members organize and operate their own businesses. ICBO attempts to offer practical assistance for going into business.

R&S marks 50th year by opening 45th store

R & S, a division of Roth-Schlenger, Union, operators of stores in a five-state area, will add a 45th R & S Home & Auto Store to its growing chain today to highlight R & S Stores 50th anniversary.

The first R & S Store in Mercer County, at the Lawrence Shopping Center, Route #1, Trenton, will be opened at 10 a.m. today.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony and grand opening festivities will be attended by Herman Schlenger, chairman of the board, and Donald Schlenger, president. Balloons will be given away and an antique car will be parked outside the store for customers who would like to take pictures of their families and friends in front of a historic automobile.

The large, modern R & S store includes a complete six-bay auto service center, featuring the latest in automotive service facilities, staffed with experienced, factory-trained mechanics. The store will include the largest automotive parts and accessories selection in the area -- featuring complete automotive, audio, chrome and speed departments -- and an extensive sporting goods department, appliances, television, bicycles, hardware, paint, housewares, hobbies and toys.

A complete and separate outdoor living and garden center is on the R & S premises. R & S Stores, founded in 1919 by Herman Schlenger, in the past 50 years has become the oldest and largest home and auto chain in New Jersey. As part of R & S Stores' 50th Anniversary, the company has planned several events, each offering prizes. During March free driving tests were given all over the state. In April and May high school students will compete in a Safe Driving Road Rally for scholarships and trophies.

In May R & S will sponsor a free Antique Auto Show at the Union store. June will find fishermen competing for trophies in four Fishing Derbies. Over 550 prizes, including a 1969 Toyota, will be offered in a June drawing. In September another Antique Auto Show will be held in Trenton.

A Junior Football Tournament will be held in two locations in October. In November R & S will sponsor a football pool with cash prizes offered.

Mexican pageant

A big new attraction, Mexican pageant, will open soon in downtown Mexico City, providing south of the border visitors with a 90-minute spectacle of Mexican music and dance, a meal at its 800-seat restaurant whose menu will be international as well as Mexican, a show of mock bullfights and rope-twirling and the opportunity to watch top-flight artisans at work creating handicrafts which can be bought at low, controlled prices.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: Other people, I'm sure, have written about a problem of this nature. Maybe you have an answer.

Anon

Dear Anon: I could give you a hand for what you are doing to yourself and your family, or I could feel sorry that a young man who has everything to live for is throwing his life away for a cheap bottle of booze. But I would rather think that you do love that family of yours and that you do want to help yourself or you wouldn't have written me in the first place. Because I know I can help you, I am going to ask you to do me a favor. Pick up your telephone and call ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS. Find out when the next meeting is and go. If you cannot go alone, request a "friend" to pick you up.

Go once and I think you will be compelled to go again. You will find men there like yourself who understand your problem: who have lived through it; who have conquered... and who will help you to conquer.

Good luck!

Dear Amy: Regarding the lady "Mrs. M." who asked for help in getting price stickers off of glassware, boxes, cartons, etc., I find using lighter fluid does the trick for me. It takes a little effort but will do the job. They of course wash off

In detergent. Mrs. S. Gross (Hollister, Mo.)

Dear Amy: In reply to "Mrs. M's" problem pertaining to "sticky" price tags on plastics, china, etc., perhaps my simple solution will help her out.

I simply take any brand of nail polish remover, apply, let stand for a few minutes and all traces of sticky substance will disappear. This is not injurious to the finest articles. S. R. Staffles (Cicero, Ill.)

Dear Amy: Help! I have a problem about school. You see, my marks are a terror. So bad that I flunked U.S. History and Math. Although I have never been good at any of these, I have to improve in order to go to New York City with a friend. My parents said okay but only if I pass. But I can never -- no matter how hard I try. My reputation isn't exactly great either. I want to go to N.Y.C. but report cards come out the same time the trip is planned.

Any suggestions on how I can shut up and pass with flying cleets?

Bad Penny

Dear Penny: If you want to go to New York as much as you say you do, you will straighten out and fly right. You can start out by talking to your History and Math teachers and asking for additional help to understand and do better in those subjects.

Your reputation is another story! Don't improve that to go to New York but do so for your own self-respect and for your future. And you can do it!

A FEMININE LOOK

...At The USA This Time

(Commentary on a "Study Mission" to Washington and Cape Kennedy)
by TRUDINA HOWARD

Third in A Series

WASHINGTON

Washington was warm in mid-March. And so were members of the sub-committee that met to ponder the Anti Ballistics Missile matter. It was not only a case of heated discussions, particularly when Senator J. W. Fulbright was doing the questioning, but also a matter of just plain-honest to goodness heat from some plain old "kleig" lights that constantly flooded the room for the benefit of the TV cameras. Actually, the room seemed burdened with heat and brilliance and television hardware. It was a large room and must once have been quite elegant, but from what was left to be seen, one could hardly tell. It was further cluttered with chairs and tables for the press, folding chairs for the general public placed in the center of the room, and a constant flow of people. The room, indeed, was chock full of stuff, and the general public was not the least of it.

But besides the cram, and the interesting dialogue going on, it was the look of the general public in the room that was almost the most interesting of all.

It was Young, capital Y. Of the approximate 100 people in the audience, at least 90 were under 20. A great many seemed under 10. I felt like Grandma Moses and I am not all that old. But it was interesting, I stayed.

No conclusions were reached that day, but it was an experience to watch Senator Fulbright at work. He was a dilly. There was quite a feast besides the peppery senator too. There was New Jersey Senator Clifford P. Case, tall and hand-hewn looking—but polished; Senators Jacob Javits, the Eagle-eyed, Frank Church the Handsome and Albert Gore the Suave, Also General Wheeler and Secretary of Defense Laird and their assistants who were being interrogated. Secretary Laird handled the Fulbright cross-examining agly and coolly, and it wasn't easy, I'm sure.

I was in the room by the grace of Senator Case who is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee and of the sub-committee concerned with the ABM matter, and the ranking Republican of it too; and I was in Washington in the first place because of the National Newspaper Association program called the "Government Relations Workshop" which I like to call the "Washington Study Mission."

While Cape Kennedy was thrilling with its stunning Apollo 9 take-off, Washington was a joy with its excitement and hospitality. Besides a considerate invitation by Senator Case to visit at his office and attend the ABM hearings, his secretary also arranged for a pre-"General Public" visit to the White House; and Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer whose District includes Union, Springfield, Mountain-side, Kenilworth, Roselle and Roselle Park, and Congressman Joseph C. Minish whose District includes Irvington and Vailsburg were a delight. They were both gracious and friendly. What a dynamo Mrs. Dwyer is! And I think I must call Congressman Minish "Gentleman Joe." The senators and representatives at the briefings and receptions, including "Ted" Kennedy and the Speaker of the House, were also cooperative with humor and warmth. But, as always, there were a few to spoil the record. There are always some officials who are rather constantly "unavailable" for one reason or another. Perhaps for good solid reasons, perhaps for not such solid ones, too. So, on rather sad reflection, it seems easier—and nicer—to meet the King or Prime Minister or even Emperor of a foreign country than some of our own senators and congressmen. King Hussein of Jordan, for instance, who is true royalty and a veritable doll, was a pleasure to meet. He was gracious and hospitable. And so was Emperor Haile Selassie, King Hassan II of Morocco, Prime Minister Ian Smith of Rhodesia, President Bourguiba of Tunisia and many other heads of state.

"The bigger they are the nicer they are" seems very true in many cases.

ANNOUNCEMENT FROM ABROAD

In a release from SATI (Societe' Pour L'Accroissement du Tourisme International or the Society for the Development of International Tourism) comes the following announcement:

"In cooperation with hotels and tourist organizations of eight European countries, the SATI has disposed an enquiry on preferences of American tourists in spending their holidays in Europe. There were scheduled 5000 cruises by air and land in Europe for two persons, for the duration of 21 days, as better specified below."

"The names of the persons entitled to these cruises will be regularly drawn out among all people who will send a simple card to the SATI, Enquiries Service U.S.A. Via Pandolfo I, n. 8 - 00162 ROMA, indicating their names, surnames, addresses and professions; they should also declare whether they visited already Europe or not and point out the periods in which they would like to make their travels, specifying the reasons of the periods chosen."

"The people whose names will be drawn out will be advised immediately by registered letter, by which they will get also all informations useful to program their travels."

"The drawings will take place on the 1st and the 15th December 1969 and January, February, March and April 1970."

To receive award

Albert H. Acken of Orange, executive vice-president of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, will be the recipient of the 1969 New Jersey Arthritis Foundation Humanitarian Award at a dinner in the Hotel Robert Treat, Newark, on May 6.

Auditions planned by musicians local

The eleventh annual scholarship auditions of the A.F. of M., Local 16, will be held on Thursday, May 8, at 3 p.m., in Symphony Hall, Newark. The winner will be Local 16's selection to participate in the Congress of Strings, which will be held at Saratoga Performing Arts Centre, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., and at the University of Southern California Los Angeles. The New York program will run from June 30 to Aug. 15 and the California program will run from June 23 to Aug. 21.

THIS IS A USED CONTINENTAL
THE ONLY CAR FINER IS A NEW CONTINENTAL

You might say the biggest difference between a late-model Continental and a brand-new one is that one has been road-tested a bit longer than the other.

You can scarcely tell that it is not brand-new. The classic look has not changed. The car has been restored to prime condition in both appearance and performance.

Why not make this your year to move up to a LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

Riding bike? right is right

Parents should teach their children to ride bicycles on the right side of the road, says R.J. Vialle, general manager of the New Jersey Auto Club, AAA. According to law a bicycle is a vehicle, not a toy, and every person riding a bicycle on a roadway "shall be granted all the rights and shall be subject to all of the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle," except those that obviously don't apply.

Thus, says Vialle, bicycle drivers should ride as close to the right side of the road as practical. They should be alert for car doors opening in their path, and for cars pulling out of parking spots.

As for equipment, every bike should have a horn or other signaling device and head tail lights. Reflectors may be used, but the law says they are to be "in addition to the red lamp". Rearview mirrors add to safety, as the cyclist doesn't have to turn his head, risking "loss of balance," to see what's behind him.

An automobile driver would be hard-pressed to stop if he rounded a curve and found somebody on a bicycle coming at him from the opposite direction. Reaction time and braking time at 35 mph would eat up 100 feet before the car could stop, and the bike could travel 25 feet in the same time, giving the car driver the impossible job of stopping in 75 feet at 35 mph.

Closing speed is slower if both car and bike are going in the same direction, giving the car driver an extra couple of precious seconds in which to do something. So, says the AAA official, for protection of both bicycle and car drivers, all vehicles—two wheeled or four—should be driven on the right side of the road.

UNION SPRINGFIELD AVE. NEAR VAUXHALL RD. NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS

Amusement News

'Fisherman' film held at Bellevue

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's wide-screen big scale production of "The Shoes of the Fisherman," continues on screen at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

The highly-dramatic, picturesque road show attraction, is set in the future when a starvation-wracked China threatens to fight for food and money.

Anthony Quinn stars as a Russian Pontiff at the Vatican. The cast includes Laurence Olivier, Oskar Werner, David Janssen, Vittorio De Sica, Leo McKern and Sir John Gielgud. It was filmed in color and directed by Michael Anderson from the best selling novel by Morris West.

'The Fixer' drama remains in Union

Alan Bates, who was nominated for an Oscar for his role in "The Fixer," now in its third week at the Union Theater, Union Center, plays a Jew in Czarist Russia, framed on an anti-Semitic charge of ritual child murder and faces endless brutalities in his struggle for survival, endless brutalities in his struggle for survival, both mentally and physically.

The film, which was based on the best selling novel by Bernard Malamud, also stars Dirk Bogarde, Georgia Brown, Hugh Griffith, Elizabeth Hartman and Carol White. The picture was filmed in color and directed by John Frankenheimer.

'Faces' continues on Ormont screen

Oscar-nominated "Faces," continues at the Ormont Theater, East Orange, for another week. John Cassavetes directed the picture, which takes a merciless look into the private lives of an unhappy couple and the persons who cross their path.

John Marley, Gene Rowlands, Lynn Carlin and Fred Draper have stellar roles.

VETERAN STARS CHAT -- Ray Milland, left, and Coley Worth, discuss their respective roles of Nat Miller and Sid, brothers-in-law in the musical comedy, "Take Me Along," at the Meadowbrook Dinner Theater, Cedar Grove, derived from Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness," and set in Centerville, Conn., 1910.

Old pros are still charmers in musical at Meadowbrook

Girls—tell your escorts and husbands to "take me along" if they're planning an evening out between now and the middle of May—to the Meadowbrook Dinner Theater, Cedar Grove, to see that still-handsome, distinguished-looking veteran actor, Ray Milland, do some snappy song and dance routines in "Take Me Along."

The "Americanized" Milland (an occasional British accent breaks charmingly through) "talks" his way through the numbers in the musical version of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness," and the audience loves every minute of it.

In fact, Milland's co-star, Coley Worth, another veteran performer, who plays the role of the alcohol-sodden Sid, who comes home to his small town in Connecticut to reform and to marry his old sweetheart, also does a bit of "talking" and prancing about. When the two get together, in a song-and-dance routine, the old pros are most charming.

The rest of the cast, including Marijane Marlice, Ronnie Cunningham, Dallas Johann (loudly reminiscent of Mickey Rooney), Virginia Seidel and LaRue Watts, are excellent and contribute some gala entertainment to "Take Me Along." They do justice to the songs and lyrics by Bob Merrill, and the book by Joseph Stein and Robert Russell—and to the original play itself.

The Theatre Seen

By Robert Lyons

Now that the Hollywood Oscar awards are over the theatre steps into the spotlight this Sunday at 10 p.m. on NBC-TV Channel 4 with its annual Tony Awards for excellence on the legitimate stage.

And you'll get to see more of that excellence this year because scenes from plays as well as musicals will be shown during the presentations.

Here is a list for those of you who want to keep score. Since you will be able to see many of the acting nominees, choreographers, set designers, directors and costumers, may I suggest that it might add to your enjoyment to make your choices while the show is on. I'm going to stick my neck out today; in each category the first name is my personal choice. There are 15 categories. If you get nine or more correct you are a star.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN
(Diamond Cleaners)

Old-Fashioned stain removal remedies

Let Grandma tell you how to bake a cake or how to behave or how to raise a child. But beware of her spot removal recipes. Not that her spot removal techniques don't remove the stains. They do. But unfortunately they often remove the garment's color...and sometimes even a part of the garment.

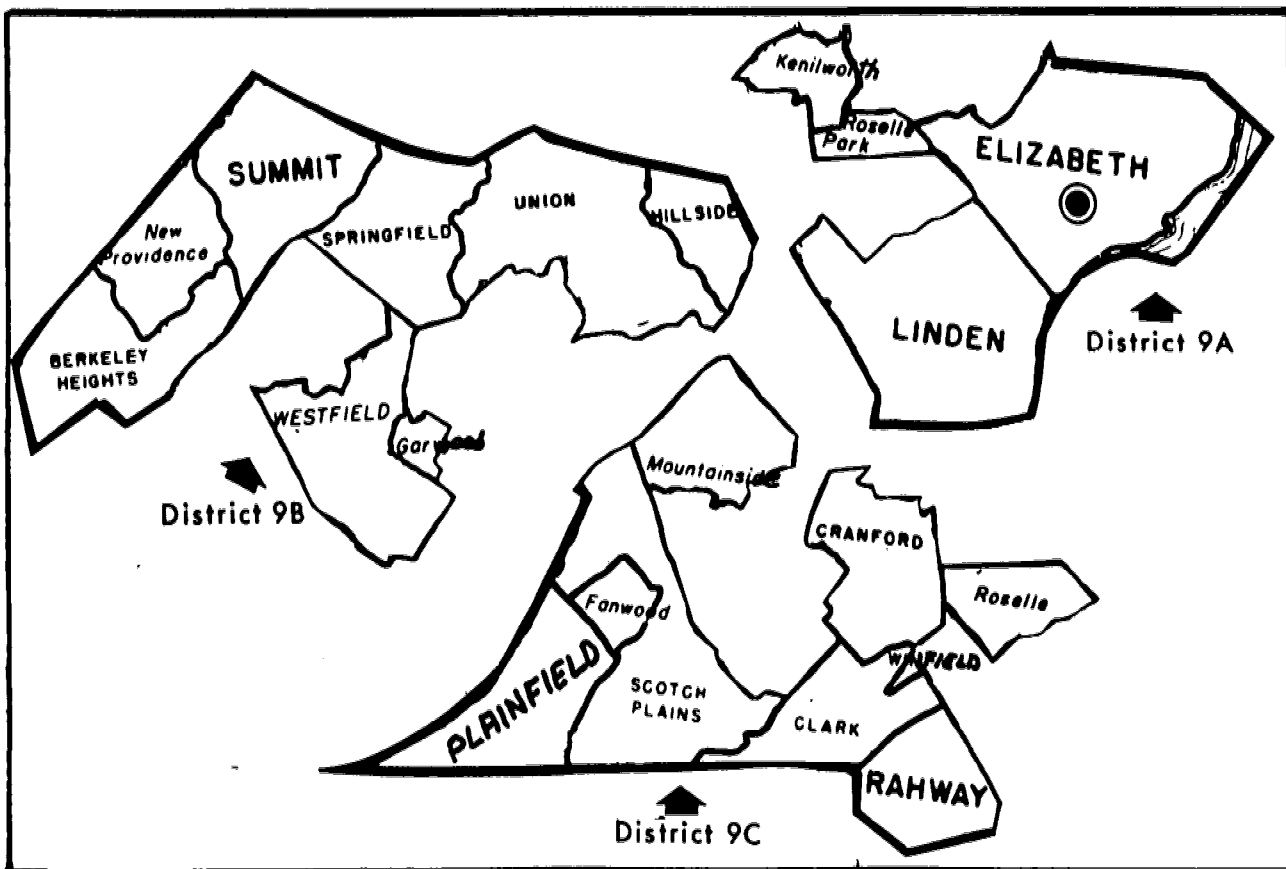

But don't blame Grandma. Fabrics and dyes have changed and therefore react differently from those of former years. For example, the old rust stain remedy of lemon juice and sun could very easily bleach modern fabrics. And the sun can bleach some dyes in a matter of hours. Salt, too, can discolor garments. In fact, it often deteriorates fabrics—particularly silks.

Immediate action with a good spot remover or a little non-alkaline detergent is the only safe way. And if that doesn't work, hustle the soiled garment to a professional cleaner, such as DIAMOND CLEANERS. And from now on, take Grandma's home cleaning remedies with a grain of salt—rather, without one.

NEW ASSEMBLY DISTRICTS for Union County have been established by the State Apportionment Commission after a computer provided the information for drawing the district lines. The new districts, changed radically from those established in 1966 when the county's 21 municipalities were divided into Assembly Districts 9-A, 9-B and 9-C, are shown above. The three sections are separated here to clarify the boundaries of the three districts. Under the present system, each of the three districts elects two assemblymen and an additional assemblyman is elected at-large.

'Scouting-in-Action' theme of Expo May 23 to 25 at Elizabeth Armory

The 1969 Union Council, Boy Scouts of America Expo will be held May 23, 24 and 25 in the Elizabeth Armory, it was announced this week by Victor W. Clark, general chairman of the event. Clark, who lives in Scotch Plains, is vice-president of the Summit and Elizabeth Trust Co. Theme of the biennial will be "Scouting-in-Action." Clark also announced the appointment of activity chairmen for the event. According to the general chairman, the more than 11,000 boys and adult leaders in 220 scouting units from Clark, Cranford, Elizabeth, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield, Union and Winfield are eligible to participate in the Expo.

In 1967, more than half of the eligible units in Union Council set up booths and displays in the Elizabeth Armory. "Only space limitations precluded the participation of other units," Clark said.

As in the past, he added, participation in the Expo is limited to those units making the earliest applications for booths. "Since we can accommodate only so many, it is important that each unit make its application at the earliest possible date."

Clark said this year's edition of Expo is intended to showcase the activities of the various units in Union Council. In the past, unit demonstrations have included such skills as railroad-making, cycling, canoeing, life saving, knots, rope-making, plaster-casting, bottle craft, riflery, wood carving, copper craft and physical fitness.

In addition to permitting a large number of youngsters to demonstrate their skills to parents, relatives, friends and neighbors, the Expo provides participating units with an opportunity to develop jobs, business acumen and the chance to gain recognition, prizes and awards, Clark said.

TICKET SALES WILL BEGIN at a kick-off dinner scheduled for Tuesday at Bristol Myers in Hillside. Scouting leaders will receive complete information on ticket sales at the dinner. Appointments of volunteer committee chairmen announced this week include:

Vice-chairman -- John J. Lussen, Elizabeth, of A. B. Murray Co., Inc., Elizabeth.

Physical arrangements -- Charles Pickard, Elizabeth, of Pickard Plumbing and Heating, Elizabeth, and Andrew J. Bryant, Rahway, of Union County Narcotics Clinic, Rahway.

Special events -- Albert M. Gessler, Cranford, of Esso Research and Engineering Co., Linden.

Participation -- Wellesley R. Slifer, Union, of Internal Revenue Service.

Activities -- Eli Levine, Union, of National Business Service, Elizabeth.

Special guests -- N. J. Senator Frank X. McDermott of Westfield.

Ticket sales -- Richard J. Hanley, Union, a printing sales representative and Sidney Scherr, Roselle Park, of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Public Relations -- Lou Vetter, Mountain-side, and Jerry Enis, Union, both of Herbert George Associates, Union.

Robert W. Zadina, assistant scout executive with Union Council, will be the show advisor. Noting that the "Scouting-in-Action" Expo will be the climax to months of preparation by scouts and their adult advisors, Clark said the Union Council hoped for a record attendance during the three-day event. "The boys are eager to prove the vitality of the theme, 'Scouting-in-Action,'" he concluded. "And they will go all out to provide an interesting, entertaining and enlightening show."

The National State Bank, Elizabeth, reported assets of $227,196,884.90 for the period ending March 31. This reflected a considerable increase from the assets totaling $204,984,307.82 for the same period in 1968.

Deposits were reported at $181,544,593.94 and outstanding loans were stated totaling $129,221,729.21. Net operating earnings increased from $534,509.52 to $661,780.78. This resulted in an earnings per share of $.66 as compared to $.53 at the end of March, 1968, and being an increase of 24 1/2 percent.

SAFETY TIPS

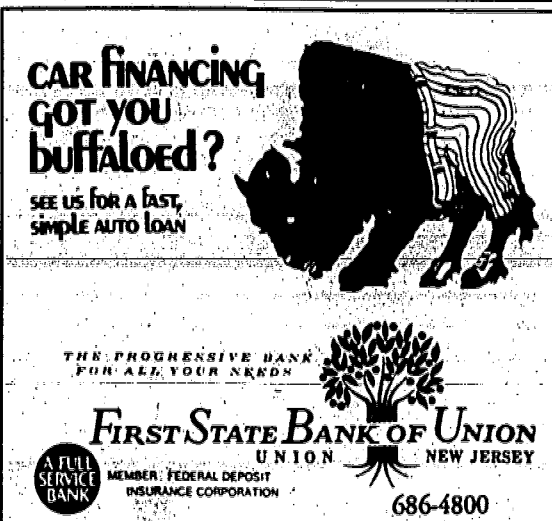

TO JAYWALK

Jaywalkers are a double danger; not only do they risk their own safety, but they also cause traffic jams and vehicle collisions. Taking the time to cross only at corners may mean saving your life and the lives of others. Deborah White, Cass Technical High School, Detroit, Michigan, drew this prize winning poster in the AAA School Traffic Safety Poster Contest.

the junior literary magazine, "Expression," and the senior yearbook, "Trinitas."

The second recipient is Miss Debra Ann Riker of Garwood, senior at Abraham Clark High School, Roselle. She plans to enter the Nancy Taylor Business Institute. While in high school she has been a member of Future Business Leaders of America, Drama Club, Twirling Club, Savings Plan, Library Council, Yearbook Staff, Business Club, Japanese Club and a member of Sing-Out Roselle.

Speakers at the executive luncheon will be Dr. Kenneth Iverson, acting president of Union College in Cranford. Employers as well as their secretaries will be feted at the luncheon.

'Sing-Out' group at college

"Sing-Out Nutley," a program of song by some 100 high school students from that town, will be presented at the Newark State College Theater for the Performing Arts, Union, at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The program is being presented by the Campus School Association of Parents and Teachers to raise money for a week-long camping trip in May planned for children in grades four through six.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students. They are available now at the Campus School, the College Center Information desk, or from members of the Nu Delta Pi and Alpha Sigma Nu fraternities and the Alpha Theta Pi sorority.

"Sing-Out Nutley" is part of the national "Up With People" program, which has as its purpose presenting what many young people feel is the true image and direction of American youth.

APPEARING IN WESTFIELD--The Indiana University Chamber Singers, directed by Don Moses (right), will present a masterworks concert in the Westfield High School auditorium on Saturday, April 26, at 8:30 p.m.

Choral concert set for April 26

The Chamber Singers of Indiana University will appear in Westfield High School on Saturday, April 26, at 8:30 p.m. Advance tickets may be purchased at the Bandstand Music Corp., 138 E. Broad st., or the Westfield YMCA.

The 24 members of the group all are students, with their class rank ranging from freshman to doctoral candidate. They are directed by Don Moses, a member of the music faculty, who holds a doctorate in music from Indiana University. The Chamber Singers perform music of all eras, with particular emphasis on the 16th and 20th centuries.

The concert is co-sponsored by the Indiana University Alumni Club of New Jersey and the Y's Men's Club of Westfield. Any proceeds will benefit the Y's Men's Welfare Fund and the Alumni Club Scholarship Fund.

Pershing Rifles initiate Andreas

CHESTER, PA. -- John Andreas of 242 Apple Tree lane, Mountainside, N.J., a freshman in Pennsylvania Military College of PMC Colleges, Chester, was recently initiated into the 15th regimental headquarters of Pershing Rifles.

Pershing Rifles is a national honorary military society. The 15th regimental headquarters at PMC has staff responsibility for those units attached to colleges and universities located in northern Virginia, Maryland, eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Included among the 15th regimental headquarters' activities is sponsorship of the annual East Coast Invitational drill meet. More than 20 units attached to colleges and universities normally perform at the meet.

Letters to Editor

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writer's name will not be withheld if the letter is of a political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

GARBAGE COLLECTION FEES
It is not often that one supports an idea to increase his household expenses. However, the instance has arisen, and I ask the support of the Mountainside homeowners.

May I first say I am not a refuse collector, nor am I in any way related to one.

Refuse collecting is one of the most vital services to each and every one of us in the borough from a health standpoint, and yet few of us realize this.

We are not plagued by strikes; there is no call-off of service because of a storm. Though it may be a day late, they still maintain their two pick-ups a week.

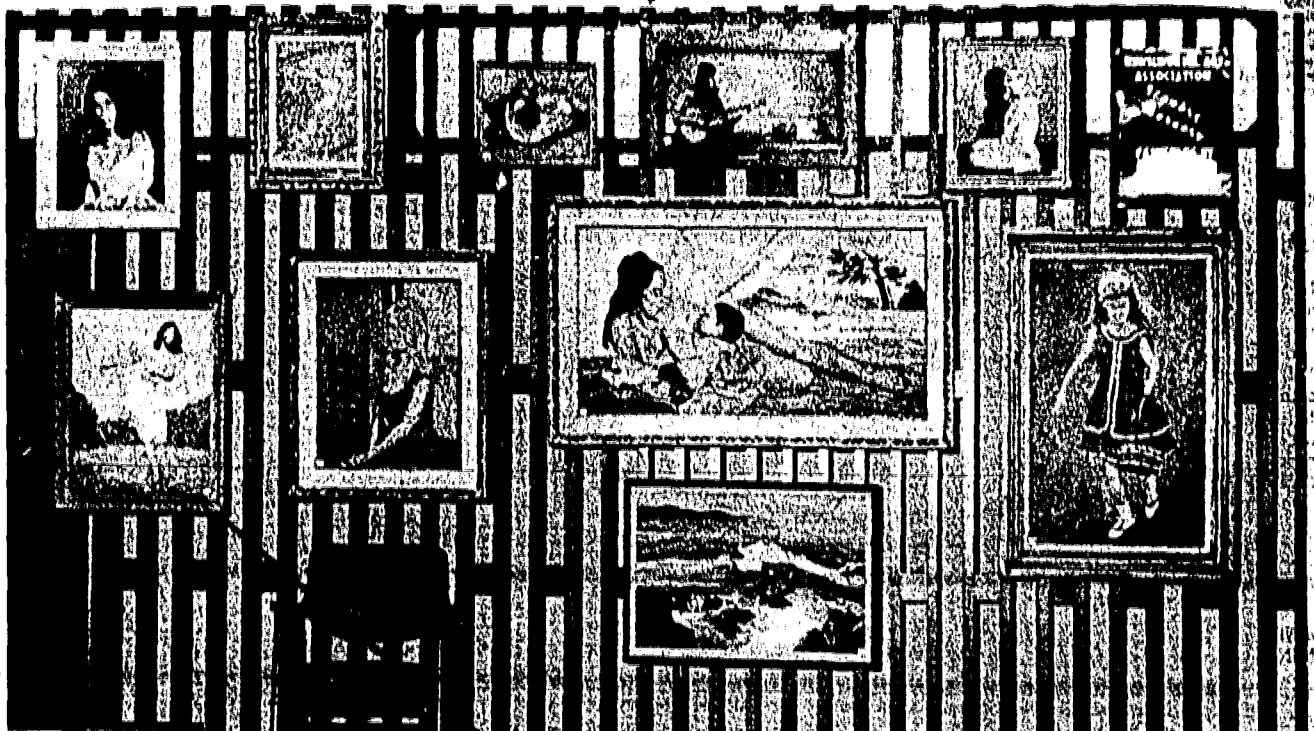

Ninety-nine percent of the homes in this area receive this service for $3 per month. This, if you search, is a ridiculous charge for the amount of labor and service extended.

Recently, one of these men had to have a major overhaul on his truck at a cost of $2,000. The burden on him is that he now must pick up at 5 1/2 houses for 10 years to recover this outlay.

Surveying neighboring towns that have private service, I find Berkeley Heights paying $6 per month; Chatham, $6; Westfield, $4, and Plainfield, $4, with a limit of three cans or they pay extra.

In summing all this up, I implore the people of Mountainside and the mayor and council to grant these men an increase of at least a dollar a month (a fraction more than three cents a day to us), and thereby enable them to continue to maintain the fine service they have given us in the past.

ART DISPLAY -- A display of paintings by Mrs. Carole S. Sterling of 320 Summit rd., Mountainside, is currently featured at the National State Bank, 533 Boulevard, Kenilworth. The one-man show will continue until May 2. Mrs. Sterling has studied at Rutgers University, Newark; the Arts Council, Winston-Salem, N.C.; University of Virginia, Newark State College and with Vinciate of Italy. The exhibit includes an oil painting of last year's winner of the Miss Union County beauty pageant.

Concert planned by HS vocalists

The vocal music department at Governor Livingston Regional High School will present its annual spring concert on Friday, April 25, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. It will be directed by Albert Dorhout.

Music ranging from a traditional medieval mass to contemporary show tunes will be sung by the Chorus, Concert Choir, Chansons, Vocal Workshop and Barbershop Quartet.

Highlanders rip Pingry, drop 2 to Scotch Plains

BY BILL LOVETT

Following a 16-2 opening day loss to South Plainfield, the Highlanders of Gov. Livingston bombed Pingry, 11-0, then were stopped twice by the superb pitching of Jim McDede and Dave Klastava in dropping a pair to Scotch Plains, 8-1 and 4-1.

Regional, with a 1-3 mark, has four games this week -- at North Plainfield today, at home against Clark Saturday, at Westfield Tuesday and at New Providence Wednesday.

The Highlanders were able to stay close to South Plainfield until the Tigers scored four runs in the third, two in the fourth and nine in the sixth. Wayne Carella belted a two-run homer and pitcher Frank Mihovich helped his own cause with a two-run double. In the nine-run sixth inning, Bob Strani smashed a bases-loaded triple, and Larry Stoner, Licio Pennise and Pete Rea each had two RBIs. While the Tigers were spraying hits off the Highlander moundsmen, Mihovich held Regional to four hits, two each by Al Kline and John Piccirillo.

The Pingry - Gov. Livingston clash was quite a different story as the Highlanders won behind Doug Rau's two-hit pitching, 11-0. Rau went five innings in earning the victory before being relieved by John Adriance.

Paul Dry led the Livingston attack as he collected three runs and two RBIs. Chuck Rindler also had two RBIs while Greg Speck scored three runs.

In the doubleheader against Scotch Plains, Regional was held to a total of four hits by McDede and Klastava.

Council meets the school year there would be a "substantial departure from the regular traffic patterns" in the vicinity of Deerfield and Our Lady of Lourdes schools. He said that there would also be modifications to the traffic flow in the Beechwood School area.

The mayor commended the committee "which has worked long and diligently in its efforts."

The council approved two fund-raising drives in the borough this spring. Multiple Sclerosis will hold its drive from May 11 to June 15, and Cerebral Palsy, from May 3 to May 10. A new Chinese restaurant will be built on the site of the old Chi-Am Chateau. The council approved an application by the Gee Chin Realty Corp. to construct a restaurant with banquet facilities at the site of the old borough landmark burned last year.

In other business, Mayor Wilhelms noted that next year will be the borough's 75th anniversary and appropriate steps should be taken to celebrate it. He said he would begin getting a committee together.

"Maybe," he added with a laugh, "it would even require the mayor and council to grow beards."

237 in upper three grades on regional high's honor roll

A total of 237 students in the upper three grades at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, were named to the honor roll for the fourth marking period for having grades of B or better in all subjects. Freshmen honor students are not listed here because no freshmen from Mountainside attended Gov. Livingston.

Of those cited, 69 were seniors, 77 were juniors and 91 were sophomores. They are:

of World War Two vintage. Obscene slogans has been scrawled on the walls of the buildings, Capt. Mullin said. He said police confiscated the film and were having it developed to determine if there were any other violations of the law at the Nike site last Saturday. Members of the council assured Saddle Brook road residents that local police would increase their surveillance of the Nike area. The council also said it would ask the Union County Park Police to increase its surveillance of the site.

The new disturbances came on the heels of statistics revealed by Police Commissioner Robert Ruggiero Tuesday night indicating a startling drop in the wave of break and entries which had been plaguing the borough.

The statistics showed that there has been only one residential break and entry this month. There were 13 in March, of which only four occurred after March 18 when police went on a special alert. "And those four," Councilman Ruggiero said, "occurred one Saturday night in between 6 and 10 in one specific section of town."

The arrest of three persons in Bayonne in a narcotics raid two weeks ago has also contributed to the decline in break and entries in the borough. Ruggiero said the three were found to have property stolen in Mountainside in their possession. Bayonne police charged them with possession of stolen property at the time of their arrest.

The three, two of them husband and wife, supported narcotics habits themselves, Ruggiero said, amounting to $100 a day a piece. They were released on bail, Ruggiero said, and later in the week were picked up again in Morris Plains robbing a home there. Again, Ruggiero said, the trio were let go on bail, charged with breaking and entering larceny and possession of narcotics.

The suspects used a gray Volkswagen car which, Ruggiero said, had long been suspected here of being involved in the robberies.

applied to go down there with his wife," she said. "I felt I had a little more to give than just working in a school system."

"I ALSO WANTED to look into something like this as a full-time venture," she added, "I may go back some day to either Mexico or South America-- somewhere in the tropics -- to stay."

Asked whether the Peace Corps might be suitable, Christine retorted, "The Peace Corps is too wishy washy. It has to be something deeper than that."

Christine will teach summer school next and then return to the New Providence system for a year. Then it will be off again to the "sticks."

"It's a new kind of life. It's different," she said. "If I got married I wouldn't mind raising my kids there."

Christine is a summa cum laude graduate of Gordon College, Wenham, Mass., where she received a BS degree in elementary education. She was a member of the Phi Alpha Chi honorary society.

She is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School.

FAMILY POT LUCK
BY HELEN HALE

Shrimp salad bowl is a good one dish salad. Cut 1 cup ripe olives in large pieces. Break 2 quarts crisp salad greens into bite size. Sprinkle olives over greens, add 1 cup cleaned shrimp, 1/2 cup cheese silvers. Toss lightly with French dressing, add salt and pepper to taste. Garnish with sliced eggs and tomato.

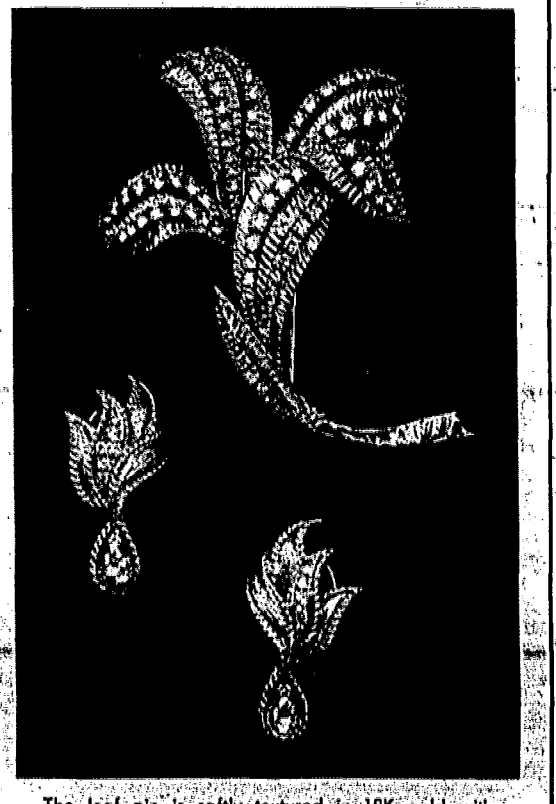

For an unexpected treat, try cloves on vegetables such as squash, sweet potatoes, beans and beets.

For a Norway Sardine Sandwich, butter required number of white sandwich bread slices. Add Norway Sardines. Top with one row sliced hard cooked egg. Season lightly. Boneless roasts are more compact and usually require longer cooking time per pound. Other factors which determine necessary cooking time are shape of the cut, ratio of lean to fat and the temperature of the meat when placed in the oven.

Shrimp Creole Filling (For 8 sandwiches)
1/2 cup canned or cooked shrimp, minced
1/4 cup butter or substitute
1/2 teaspoon minced onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons minced stuffed olives.

Remove black vein from shrimp before cutting fine. Cream butter until soft, then add all remaining ingredients, blending until of good consistency for spreading.

Teachers' group urges broadening of admissions policy at state schools

New Jersey has always taken the "narrow path" in public higher education, says the New Jersey Education Association, but now the time has come for the state to "reconsider." Broader admissions policies elsewhere open the doors of public colleges to almost every graduate of a high school in other states, says an editorial in the NJEA Review, the professional journal of the Association. Such "open-door" policies are common throughout the West and Midwest, the editorial said.

In New Jersey, Rutgers and the six State Colleges turn away more high school graduates than they can admit. New Jersey provides higher education for a smaller proportion of its students -- 46 per cent -- than any other state in the nation.

The recent decision by the Rutgers University Board of Governors to open its doors to all graduates of high schools in New Brunswick, Newark, and Camden is but a partial step to lift New Jersey from last place, says the NJEA.

Until Rutgers made its "open door" decision, says the NJEA Review, New Jersey had shown no intention of changing its restrictive pattern of public higher education. In recent actions, the N.J. State Board of Higher Education, acting on the recommendation of Higher Education Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan:

1. Ruled that students could no longer be admitted to the state colleges unless they had taken full college-preparatory courses in high school. This action brought protest from the Association of New Jersey State College Faculties that the policy "tends to cater to the intellectually elite" and "will seriously reduce the number of students admitted to college from lower socio-economic groups."

2. Cut $800,000 from state funds going to Rutgers University for special instructional help to disadvantaged students. Commenting on this Nov. 15 action, Dungan suggested that disadvantaged students requiring remedial help be sent to prep schools rather than admitted to college.

Moreover, last October, the N.J. Board of Higher Education received a master plan containing recommendations reducing previously approved goals for expanding public higher education. The reductions included:

--Delaying enrollment increases previously set for 1975. The new target date is "1975-80."

--Eliminating plans to cut the number of New Jersey high school graduates pushed out of state. Instead, the preliminary master plan recommends that this number -- currently about 75,000 -- be "75,000 to 96,000" a year.

--Denying the value of enlarging the Rutgers campus in Newark, because of "relatively little growth of demand within commuting range."

The NJEA says it hopes the State Board of Higher Education will reverse this course and, instead, provide low-cost public education for all New Jersey youth, a goal NJEA has long sought. The editorial comments:

"The reputation of any college, any university, or any state system of public higher education should be built on how well it produces significant numbers of educated graduates, not on how selective it is in turning students away."

Newark business opportunity to be discussed by panel

Four organizations will sponsor a panel discussion on Newark business opportunity Sunday at the Newark Rutgers University Campus Center, 350 High St., Newark, beginning at 3 p.m.

The Interracial Council for Business Opportunity, the Urban Coalition, the New Jersey Federation of Republican Women and the Rutgers University Graduate School of Business Administration are the co-sponsors of the discussion, which features black and Spanish-speaking owners of Newark businesses telling how they developed their businesses.

After a welcome from Malcolm Corrin, the executive director of the ICBO, and Gustave Henningburg, director of the Urban Coalition, eight businessmen will speak about their own firms and Newark business, in general. The panelists are Horace Brown, furniture store; Sanuel Brown, printer; Ken Buchanan, cleaners; Benjamin Joseph, laundromat; Norris Knott, seafood; Ramon Perez, clothing; Don M. Thomas, automobiles; William Wright, grocery store.

Following the panel discussion, a refreshment intermission will be held, with Mrs. Marian Jackson and Mrs. Margaret Bland acting as hostesses. The audience will be able to talk individually to the businessmen during this period.

A question-and-answer period will follow the intermission.

Repairs causing Turnpike delays

Essential repairs which were started Monday, on concrete bridge decks will result in a lane closing and traffic delays on the New Jersey Turnpike between Interchanges 14 and 16-18 Complex, it was announced by Turnpike Authority Chairman Joseph Morecraft Jr.

The delays will occur during the rush hours from 6 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 7 p.m. on weekdays. There will be a lane closing in each direction until all repairs are completed the second week in May.

Turnpike patrols were urged to avoid the area if possible, using alternate routes or travel during non-rush hours.

There will be no delays during weekends, when all lanes will be available.

Peace Corps tests slated Saturday

Area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday in Room B-89, Federal Building, Newark, or at main post offices in Montclair, Morristown and Plainfield.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an application if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test. Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D.C. 20525.

15,000 weathermen participate in BOMEX

A 15,000-man scientific task force will launch a three-month study east of Barbados in the Caribbean next month to crack the secret of how air and water mix to shape the world's weather.

Ten marine vessels, 24 aircraft and several earth-orbiting satellites will be thrown into the project, code-named BOMEX. Although it is an American venture, BOMEX ties in with the United Nations-sponsored World Weather Watch, a global data-gathering operation coordinated by the World Meteorological Organization.

BOMEX, an $18 million program, will focus on a 90,000-square-mile ocean area and the atmosphere above. One weather satellite, currently orbiting 23,000 miles above the equator, will be shifted to a new position over the Barbados region to cooperate in the meteorological probe. The study is aimed at pinpointing the sea-air interaction, which affects all weather, all climate and ultimately all earth life.

Thrift sale slated at St. Barnabas

The Guild of Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, will hold a public thrift sale of "nearly new", "good as new" items on Monday, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Medical Center.

The large auditorium will feature a variety of booths with attic treasures, white elephants, women's and children's clothing, toys and games, jewelry, linens and leather goods including hand bags. It will be the first project of its kind the Guild has sponsored. All proceeds will go to the Guild's goal of $100,000 towards the Medical Center's new Heart Catheterization Laboratory in the new addition now under construction.

Here's your chance to 'Sing Out'

Members sought by new youth chorus

By PAT BAIRD
 "Up with People," or "Sing Out," is an organization run on the pure, driving enthusiasm of the young people who participate.

According to the booklet "How to Create a Sing Out" the groups "are not here to tell people more about crisis in the world but to inspire a new creativity that could sweep the earth. We believe Up with People is a world-wide people's experiment moving beyond mere protest to positive participation in reshaping society."

Lynn Goleme, who is trying to form a Sing Out Linden, is having a lot of trouble sparking that kind of enthusiasm in local teenagers.

"The Mayor's Cultural Affairs Committee asked me to attend a performance of the Sing Out Roselle on the steps of City Hall," she said. "I was really impressed with them. They smiled through the whole thing. I don't care how good an actor you are, if you can keep a smile through a performance you must love what you're doing."

After the performance the committee asked Lynn, a music major at Douglass College, if she would be in charge of forming a similar group in Linden. She agreed and several weeks later the Roselle group performed at two assembly programs at Linden High School.

"We asked students to sign up if they were interested," she said, "and 150 did. We were amazed."

Just being able to get 150 teenagers to agree to join was a big step, but it has been a downhill slide ever since.

Lynn was able to talk some of her college friends into helping, including several jazz musicians and artists, but by the time the first meeting was held at the PAL, only 80 teenagers were still interested.

"We were still enthusiastic," she said, "but then we started having problems with places to rehearse and every meeting less would come."

Lynn said that she now has 10 people who show up regularly, "15 if I get every person possible" and she said that "one is my sister and four others are her friends."

Lynn is naturally discouraged and feels that the group has been "blackballed" by the students at Linden High.

2 delegates chosen by Linden League for state convention

Mrs. Samuel Lease and Mrs. Jerome Panzer will be the official delegates of the Linden League of Women Voters to the 38th biennial state convention in Atlantic City next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The convention will feature exhibits and displays by local leagues about activities in their communities. Numerous league publications about town government, schools and libraries will be available.

The speaker at the banquet Wednesday will be Terry Sanford, former governor of North Carolina and author of the book "Storm over the States."

At the Thursday luncheon, the speaker will be Mrs. Maxwell Barus, former state league president and former member of the league's national board.

ALL MEMBERS OF THE New Jersey Legislature and their wives have been invited to the banquet.

One of the prime objectives of the delegates will be to adopt a meaningful and workable state program for the next two years. To assist the delegates at this year's convention, Tuesday evening has been designated "Caucus Night" for informal program discussion.

Some of the proposed subjects for discussion and debate are facilities for higher education, school district reorganization, state revenue system, state legislative procedures, regional planning, water, juvenile courts and state election laws. These items were all proposed by the local leagues.

The final program adopted will be the focus of league attention in New Jersey for the next two years.

The annual luncheon of the Linden League of Women Voters will be held at the Town and Campus Restaurant on Morris Avenue Union, on May 3, it was announced by Mrs. Vincent Pierdinock, chairman. Mrs. John Ford, former state education chairman and now a member of the State Board of Higher Education, will be the speaker.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Albert Carhart, 423 Birchwood rd., Linden, or by calling 486-0738.

Kaplowitz

however, by our interpretation of the facts and law as then present," Prosecutor Kaplowitz stated. He pointed out that if a change in the form of the city government is the goal of the organization, a change could be accomplished through a referendum "directed toward the citizens of the community seeking a change in government, and not through the vehicle of a costly Grand Jury investigation."

THE REQUEST to Prosecutor Kaplowitz was made by the Concerned Parents, Linden Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Fourth Ward Political Club, Fifth Ward Political Club and Seventh Ward Political Club.

Mayor Gregorio has denied that there is racism in the Police Department and that illegal arrests were made by policemen.

"The undersigned organizations... are requesting a Grand Jury investigation of the Linden Police Department," the five groups wrote in their letter to the prosecutor. "The punitive action taken against black citizens strengthens our belief there is racism within the department. There have been a number of illegal arrests made by policemen at the mayor's request." The letter also stated that in 1965 the Grand Jury recommended the removal of politics from the Police Department.

The letter to Prosecutor Kaplowitz was sent by the organizations after Police Sgt. Sterling West, a Negro, was relieved from duty and James York, also a Negro, was charged with trespassing at the mayor's home. A closed hearing of the charges, which have not been disclosed, against Sgt. West was commenced on Monday.

Planning Board

Caggiano and Robbins; Zoning, city Engineer John Zieman, Swionkowski and Caggiano; legal, Zieman, Swionkowski and Caggiano; public relations, Councilman Alexander Lee, Hergert and Robbins; and capital improvements, Zieman, Taranto and Caggiano.

Zieman, as chairman of the zoning committee, reported to the Board that the final proof of the proposed zoning ordinance, which would establish buffer areas between industrial and residential areas, was submitted recently to Council.

Taranto stated that "progress was being made with regard to the choice of a planning consultant to help the Board execute the Master Plan for the City of Linden."

At the meeting, four minor subdivisions were reported approved by Council. These were for work by C.M. and R.J. Wade Inc., Lozowick Service Corp., John E. Kiseli and Schoenberg Brothers-applications.

Two other improvements were sent to Council for further action. These subdivisions were reported to be for land to be deeded to the City of Linden via exchange. One of these is for the proposed municipal garage, while the other is for an extension of the city dump.

"This doesn't have to be an ultra-patriotic or conservative group," she explained. "I told them that they could do any songs they liked."

The Sing Out idea was started several years ago at a Michigan convention of the League for Moral Rearmament. The official songbook includes titles such as "Freedom Isn't Free," "Which Way America?" and "What Color Is God's Skin?" Lynn said, however, that they could do songs such as "Aquarius" from Broadway's "Hair" or any other contemporary songs.

"I know there are kids in Linden who write songs," she said, "and we'd be happy to do them. I just want to get them involved. Let's face it, it's going to be their world someday and they should start learning what working with other people is like. The world is so melancholy and unresponsive now. This is an attempt at setting people into action as opposed to total apathy."

CO-ORDINATORS—State Senate president Frank X. McDermott has announced that Karl Asch and Mrs. Ann Mikiewicz will act as his campaign co-ordinators in Linden. McDermott is seeking the Republican nomination for governor. The announcement was made recently at a cocktail party at the home of James Watson of West-

OSCAR BELINSKY

Oscar Belinsky; appliance dealer

Funeral services for Oscar Belinsky, 54, of 1407 Kent pl., Linden, were held Friday in the "Suburban Jewish Center." Mr. Belinsky died at home of an apparent heart attack.

Born in Chicago, Mr. Belinsky had lived here since 1925. He was a part owner of Bell Appliance Co., Union, for 20 years.

He was a member of Cornerstone Lodge, F&M, Linden; Scottish Rite, Valley of Jersey City; Suburban Square Club of Linden, and was a 32nd Degree Mason in Salaam Temple, Livingston. He was one of the founders of the Suburban Jewish Center of Linden.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Alice Schwartz Belinsky; a son, Ira, at home; a daughter, Miss Judith Belinsky of Washington, D.C.; his mother, Mrs. Anna Belinsky of Linden and three brothers, Hyman and Louis of Linden and Lawrence of Freehold.

crew. According to its pilot, the helicopter attains a top speed of 200 m.p.h. For the cross-country trip, a longer flight than normal, the craft carried an added-on internal gas tank.

On their return to the helicopter, the crew of helicopter 119 took a cab to their ship, which they explained was often called an "air taxi." Under their direction, the cab driver, seemingly unfamiliar with fares to the airport, drove his customers right up to the door of the helicopter, traveling through the airport gates, across parking areas and down the runway to reach the craft parked on a grass area.

Capt. LaRocca asked his crew what they thought of Linden.

"It's a nice place to have lunch," one of the soldiers answered.

Two mini-bikes stolen in Honda break-entry

Two miniature motorcycles were taken from the Honda, Inc., building at 1051 E. Elizabeth ave., Linden, last weekend.

According to police, entry was made through a west side window and the burglars drove out the building's overhead doors on mini-bikes valued at $210 and $150. It was also reported that several motorcycle jackets and crash helmets were taken from the building. The jackets are valued at $20 each, while the helmets were reported to cost $30 apiece.

MAP DEPICTS TEN-MILE SIERRA HIKING TRAIL IN WATCHUNG RESERVATION

Hiking trail established in Watchung

A ten-mile hiking trail has been marked in the 2,000 acre Watchung Reservation and is available for use by hikers, family groups and Scout groups.

The 10-mile trail, known as the "Sierra" trail, can be divided into two five-mile loops. Using the Trailside Nature and Science Center as the starting point and following the trail markers, a white "X" painted on trees, the trail to the right takes one by Lake Surprise and the water tower. Turning left the trails pass the Deserted Village, Seeley's Pond, Hemlock Grove and the old copper mine.

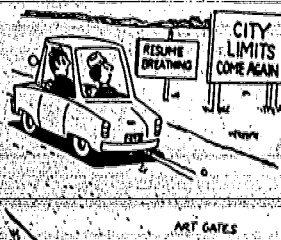

The marking of the trail was accomplished under the supervision of Walter C. Wells of Summit, a member of the Sierra Club and the Union County Hiking Club, with the cooperation of the Union County Park Commission, Robert Ginsburg, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 66 in Summit; Robert Ginsburg Jr., age 14, and Marty Martin, age 16, also of Troop 66, assisted Wells in the trail-marking program. The marking of the trails took two weekends. Wells indicated that the ten-mile trail can be hiked in about four hours, each of the five mile trails will take about two hours.

Zois to give talk at NSC

Constantine N. Zois, a member of the earth science faculty at Newark State College, Union, will speak on the topic, "Some Aspects of the Hurricane," at 4:30 p.m. today. The lecture - the second in a series on the earth sciences - will be held in Room 104, Bruce Hall. The public is invited.

Before joining the Newark State faculty in September 1967, Zois worked as a research meteorologist with the Scientific Services Division of the United States Weather Bureau, Eastern Region. His special field of interest is the development of atmospheric storms.

Zois holds a BA degree in meteorology from Florida State University. He teaches astronomy and meteorology at Newark State.

Bavarian show set for Ritz on Monday

Herbert Hise's Bavarian Show of 1969 will be presented at the Ritz Theater, Elizabeth, on Monday evening at 8.

Germany's biggest stars of stage and screen will appear on stage in person. Heading the stage show is Herbert Hise, who has been awarded six golden disc awards; supported by Marlon Hellwig the "Yodeler Queen"; Frank Ramond, Europe's star pro and the "3 Mooschers" one of the best loved German singing and musical groups.

Tickets may be obtained at the Ritz Theater, Elizabeth, and the Sanford Theater, Irvington.

Oscar-winner star of 'Charly' at Art

Cliff Robertson won the Academy Award Monday night for Best Actor of the Year for his starring role in "Charly," an emotional drama of a mentally retarded man which came to the Art Theater screen yesterday.

Robertson shares acting honors with Claire Bloom, Leon Jenny and Lilla Skala. Ralph Nelson directed the film, which was produced in color.

State offering local officials orientation on data equipment

The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs is conducting a series of orientation sessions designed to acquaint local government officials with the latest information on computers and automatic data processing equipment.

The sessions, sponsored by the department's Division of Local Finance, will be held in various locations throughout the state beginning Saturday, April 26, and continuing for the remainder of the year. The dates and locations of the remaining sessions will be announced in May.

The first sessions will be held at community colleges in Essex, Middlesex, Mercer and Camden counties. They will be open to municipal and county employees and officials, especially those with little or no experience in the use of computers or EDP equipment.

"With the constantly increasing daily burdens that local governments are facing, it is impossible to keep abreast of complex areas like the computer field without periodic updating," said James A. Alloway, director of local finance. "Communities often must decide whether to purchase expensive, sophisticated technical equipment which their personnel may not be equipped to operate."

Alloway said the orientation sessions would "try to provide these local officials with a basic understanding of computers and EDP equipment and terminology and offer some guidelines about how to assess their value to a local government operation."

The training sessions will be offered at no cost to participating municipalities or individuals. They will be financed by the department through $12,000 in state training funds, which serve as matching money for grants received under Title VIII of the federal Housing Act of 1964.

Alloway said the session would be held every Saturday and possibly on one night each week, for three weeks. Each session will accommodate about 25 enrollees.

Applications for the sessions will be handled on a first-come, first-served basis, but applicants who are closed out of the first sessions will be given advance reservations for future sessions. There is no limit on the number of enrollees from a given community.

Interested local officials should send letters of application immediately to: Department of Community Affairs, Division of Local Finance, P.O. Box 1959, Trenton 08625. The letters should include the applicant's name and title, the community he represents and the preference of meeting sites.

Rutgers to be host to high schoolers at science program

They'll take a taste test, see the effects of air pollutants on plants, find out about the problems a molecular biologist faces, and discover how a landscape architect helps to shape man's environment.

Who are they?

The 2,200 high school students who will descend on the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science next Friday, April 25, for the annual science program sponsored by students at the college.

These select science students from more than 70 high schools will learn about education for scores of new and different careers.

Fourteen group activities and tours, and 10 talks will acquaint sophomores and juniors with opportunities in plant science, meteorology, entomology and economic zoology, biochemistry, earth sciences, food science, animal sciences, chemistry, environmental sciences, and agriscience.

On April 26, parents of students at the college and alumni will visit the campus. After a welcome by Leland G. Merrill Jr.,

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Is that another call for me?"

Directory published on architects schools

A directory of architectural schools and scholarships available in the United States and Canada has been published by the New Jersey Society of Architects.

Also included in the book are qualifications for admission, courses and degree requirements, tuition and costs. A complete list of accredited and provisional schools of architecture are included as well as member schools of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture.

Available to the public, the directory can be obtained for $2 to cover postage and handling from the New Jersey Society of Architects, 120 Halsted St., East Orange, 07018.

Oscar-studded film in 3rd Castle week

The Oscar-studded "Gone With the Wind," (10 Academy Awards), continues for a third week at the Castle Theater, Irvington Center, tomorrow.

The film classic, produced by David O. Selznick and MGM, based on Margaret Mitchell's novel about the Civil War.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

The answer to this question should be a resounding, "Yes!"

Strong evidence shows that former mental patients not only are employable, but also make better than average workers.

Employers and communities that take in an individual who has suffered from mental illness aren't "taking a big chance." Far and away the odds are that the person will do well.

This has long been proved. But now and then incidents occur which indicate that the 20th Century hasn't yet arrived everywhere. They point up the fact that everyone, and certainly every employer, should learn the real facts about mental illness.

Just outside our Nation's Capital two employees resigned from their jobs. They had suffered attacks of mental illness previously in their lives.

Witch hunts were carried on in the Dark Ages, then, mentally ill were systematically hunted down and persecuted.

These practices are thought to have ended long ago. The two employees who lost their jobs would have difficulty in believing this.

The witch hunt in their case was the physical examination required of employees.

The two people had interviewed and employed and, from reports, were doing good work. Since physical exams often can't be given immediately, it was six weeks after they were on the job before they were called for the examinations.

Their past history of having had a mental illness was disclosed in response to part of the exam. It was reported that they then resigned after being told that they failed to meet medical standards.

When newspapers broke the story, moves came to help. "It is incredible that our county should act like that," a county council member said. "If past mental illness forecloses future employment, we will never solve any mental health problems."

The incident shows that the struggle against prejudice and misinformation must be constantly carried on.

MRS. RONALD ROBINSON

Lourdes wedding of Miss Filippone, Ronald Robinson

The marriage of Miss Stephanie Filippone to Ronald Robinson took place March 29 at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountaine. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Filippone of 1279 Old Farm rd., Mountaine, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Robinson of 350 Central ave., Mountaine.

The Rev. Gerard Whelan officiated at the wedding. A reception followed at the Blue Shutter Inn, Union.

Mrs. Mary Anne Szymanski was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ann Robinson, Joanne Meek, Mary Enders and Nancy Mason. Thomas Robinson was best man. Ushers were William H. Robinson, Wesley J. Robinson, Salvatore Filippone and Richard Szymanski.

Other attendants were Carol Ellen Conger, junior bridesmaid; Susan Filippone, flower girl; Stephen Filippone Jr., junior usher, and Richard Szymanski, ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are both graduates of Gov. Livingston Regional High School. Following the wedding, they left for a honeymoon in Bermuda.

Club hears maker of beaded flowers

The Foothill Club of Mountaine held its April meeting at the Mountaine Inn last Thursday, featuring a lecture on the art of beaded flower making by Mrs. Edward Powers. The table arrangements were in keeping with the theme of the program, since students of Mrs. Powers provided their personal projects to be used as displays.

Mrs. William Ayers, president of the Foothill Club, announced the decision of the nominating committee for the next year's board. The slate was as follows: president, Mrs. Angelo Di Giorgio; vice-president, Mrs. Eugene Kelly; treasurer, Mrs. William Kubach; recording secretary, Mrs. L. O. Brown; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Cochrane.

The Foothill Club held its annual spring dance recently at the Mountaine Inn. Mrs. Frank Torma was chairman, and Mrs. Paul Mueller, co-chairman. Mrs. Richard Kapke was in charge of decorations. A midnight buffet was served. Two hundred and ten tickets were sold, the proceeds of which will be donated to charity.
