Deerfield School scholars display a variety of techniques for getting along when the weatherman fails to cooperate.

School enrollment remains on plateau

The borough school system opened up the year with 1,235 students, according to figures released by Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools, at the first meeting of the new academic year of the Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night in the Deerfield School.

Dr. Hanigan said that, as usual, the total enrollment will climb to about 1,280 or 1,290 by the end of the year.

"We're currently on a plateau that will last until about 1975," Dr. Hanigan said, the population of the school children in the borough is expected to begin declining at that time.

The most overcrowding this year, Dr. Hanigan said, is in the seventh (174 students) and eighth (171 students) grades.

Dr. Hanigan also reported that during the rainy conditions of the first few days of school last week, "there were many beginning problems" among both car and bus drivers adapting to the new traffic pattern around Deerfield School. But, Dr. Hanigan added, the new pattern is now "working reasonably well."

Also at the meeting Tuesday night, the board approved a contract with a Westfield security firm to provide guards at the Deerfield School to protect the facility against vandals. The agreement puts guards on duty at the school from 3 to 11 p.m. at a cost of $3.50 per hour.

Grant Lennox, president of the board, explained that the board hired the guards for the summer months and there was a letdown in vandalism with them on duty. The guards first went on duty July 20.

There is a record of vandalism to the Deerfield School in past years.

In other business, Dr. Hanigan asked the board to recognize the Mountainside Principals' Association as the bargaining agent for the four school principals in the borough.

Dr. Hanigan explained that since principals are required to evaluate teachers and determine their levels of performance and thereby recommend their contracts, the principals' membership in the Mountainside Teachers' Association of the New Jersey Education Association was "inconsistent." There is no state-wide bargaining organization for principals.

In additional business, the formal substitute teacher list was approved as were the salaries of two teacher aides.

Funds were also approved to send the fifth grades to Camp Minnisink later this month and the sixth grades to Stokes State Forest next April.

Students honored by board for aiding handicapped kids

Several boys and girls were honored with special citations at the meeting of the Mountainside Board of Education at the Deerfield School on Tuesday for their service to the children in the Title VI program for the multiple handicapped at the Children's Specialized Hospital this summer.

These young people, most of whom are June 1969 graduates of the Deerfield Middle School, attended the daily session of the program at the hospital, having volunteered their services to help work with the teachers.

Those who received citations were Jamie Tulchin of 336 Longview dr., Sandy Langham of 114 New Providence rd., Sandy is a 1968 graduate of the Deerfield School, Kathleen Mullin of 317 New Providence rd., Nancy Caffrey of 347 Turnabout Circle, Brian Ruff of 328 Longview dr., Virginia Sprout of 1422 Wood acre dr., Richard Newill of 345 Turnabout circle and David Leggett of 1463 Force dr.

Mountainside YES presents fall schedule

The Youth Employment Service of Mountainside has changed its summer schedule to after-school hours. YES may be reached by calling 232-3975 at the Borough Hall from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. R. A. Dunlap is the chairman of volunteers. She said the group is in need of more adult volunteers. Any wishing to help may call Mrs. Dunlap at 232-9107.

PROFILE--Herbert H. Kiehn

Changes in the boundaries of the three Assembly districts in Union County have made it necessary for Assemblyman Herbert H. Kiehn of Rahway to campaign extensively in his battle for re-election. Kiehn has the task of making his name and his legislative record known to the voters in Roselle, Mountainside, Plainfield, Scotch Plains and Fanwood in addition to the four municipalities he has been representing, Rahway, Cranford, Clark and Winfield.

At present, Kiehn represents District 9-B. That district has Roselle Park, Rahway, Cranford, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Union, Hillside and Winfield within its boundary. He is running as a Republican Party candidate in the new District 9-C. His GOP running mate in District 9-C is Assemblyman Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield.

The problems of the municipalities in his district as well as those of the county and the state are the subjects of study by Assemblyman Kiehn. He said that he endeavors to give his constituents good representation and is proud of the fact that since he became an assemblyman in January, 1968, he has not missed a session of the Legislature. The assemblyman estimates that he spends about 35 hours a week working as a legislator and notes that the Legislature this year has held ten weekly sessions, most of the year and that there are numerous committee meet-

INITIAL GIFT—David J. Mytelka presents Mrs. Nicholas Byron with the first contribution in the Mountainside fund drive of the Westfield League of Women Voters.

LWV official: Campaign getting off to good start

When Mrs. Nicholas Byron of Indian Trail, Mountainside, sets up a list of prospective contributors for an annual finance drive of the League of Women Voters of Westfield she considers most carefully the first person to be contacted.

"It's not exactly superstition," says Mrs. Byron, "but somehow I believe the initial contact can be extremely important in sparking off a successful campaign." Mrs. Byron speaks with the authority that comes from years of experience in such drives. She has served as a finance officer of the League, was chairman of the 1968 campaign, and is an active member of this year's committee.

Currently, the League of Women Voters is celebrating the 50th anniversary of its founding. The Westfield League, just a few months younger than the national, is one of the oldest Leagues in New Jersey and in the United States. The goal of the 50th anniversary campaign is to raise $11,000,000 nationally. This means a greatly increased quota for local leagues like Westfield. Mrs. Byron said, "Former contributors are being asked to increase contributions and many new supporters are sought."

Tryouts being held for show in parish

Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside, will present its annual parish show, "Broadway Hit 'Girl Crazy,'" with permission of Tams-Witmark Music Library, New York, on Nov. 16, 21 and 22 in the parish school auditorium.

Tryouts were conducted on Monday and will continue this Tuesday in the school auditorium. Rehearsals are scheduled to be held on Tuesday evenings at 8 starting next week, in the auditorium. Rehearsals for the chorus, singers and dancers will be held also at the same time and place.

The show will be directed by Walter Howell, assisted by Michael Kluczewicz, Mrs. Mary Pannullo and Mrs. Nancy Serio. The producer and general chairman will be the Rev. Gerard B. Whelan, assistant pastor.

Mrs. Byron's first prospect, David J. Mytelka of New Providence road, Mountainside, is one of the League's best friends, she said. Aside from his business activities as president of D.J. Mytelka and Associates in Scotch Plains and as founder and director of First National Bank of Scotch Plains, he is a trustee of Newark State College and chairman of the building and budget committee for the college.

Mrs. Byron remarked, "Not only did I come (Continued on page 2)

Foes of cloverleaf ask Council probe

By JACK PFANNE
The Citizens to Preserve Mountainside went on the offensive Monday night in their fight against the state's proposal to construct a cloverleaf interchange at New Providence road and Rt. 22.

The group passed a resolution which requests

Local Democrats plan party to honor Meyner and wife

Local Democrats this week announced that the spot to be seen Saturday will be at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Noe of 361 Greenbrier ct., Mountainside. The couple will be hosts at a champagne party for the Mountainside-Independent Democrats who are honoring present and past Democratic candidates in the borough.

Former Governor and Mrs. Robert Meyner will be the special guests of honor at the lawn social. The governor will make a statement at the party on the overpass (cloverleaf) threat at the intersection of Route 22 and New Providence road. The statement should be of great interest to all concerned Mountainside citizens, ticket chairman, Joseph Stypa, said. He added that "the ticket returns so far indicate the governor will have a large audience."

The present candidates being honored are: Jack Walsh, candidate for mayor, Beth Loftus and Jack Palmer, council candidates. Former candidates include Arthur Goldberg, Robert Sacharow, John Medeville, Harry Nash, Karl Heinze, Steven Susko, Peter Tausig, William Seeds, Joseph Stypa, John Wroblecky, Jules Rose, Elias Hoffman, Frank Magnolia, Leo Genova, Robert Spagna, Austin Johnson, Eugene Sauerborn, Peter Dunn, William Schryba, Harvey Slovik, William McJames, Donald Caldwell, Thomas Burgess, Herbert Oesterle, Arthur Sauerborn, Jean Hershey, Henry Schoenfish and Minor C.K. Jones.

the Borough Council to exercise its statutory power of forming an investigative committee and holding a hearing not later than February, 1970, on the ramifications of the cloverleaf upon the community.

"Instead of waiting for the state's public hearing, we'll have our own public hearing," Robert Jaffee, co-chairman of the CTPM's legal committee, told about 75 persons in the Beechwood School.

He said that the power of the local governing body includes the right to subpoena witnesses to the hearing. In these matters, it was added, the subpoena power usually amounts to an invitation to appear before the investigative body.

Besides setting down a firm legal base for future arguments against the construction of the cloverleaf, Jaffee explained, the hearing would be a prime publicity vehicle. "We'd like to immediately invite some of the persons currently running for office, like Meyner and Cahill, to make sure that they would take public stands on the issue," Jaffee said. This would ostensibly create even more publicity for the cause.

The meeting Monday night was the first held since July by the CTPM. The next meeting, it was announced by chairman Ed Kuebler, is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 17, in Beechwood School.

A HIGHLIGHT of this week's meeting was a report given by Arthur Manners, Union County freeholder and former mayor of Berkeley Heights.

Manners detailed that community's successful fight against the incursion of the proposed Rt. 78 path through the center of that town 10 years ago.

He also indicated that the area connector road between Rt. 22 and Rt. 78 would be roughly along Diamond Hill road in Watchung rather than New Providence road in Mountainside as was feared by residents here.

The Diamond Hill road connector link has been approved and encouraged by the Somerset and Union county planning boards, Manners said, and is favored by such communities as his own Berkeley Heights, Plainfield, Fanwood, Scotch Plains, South Plainfield and others.

"If they didn't have the Diamond Hill road connection," Manners said, "they'd have to go all the way to Hillcrest road in Warren Township to get on the new highway."

Manners said that the next connection and major interchange in an easterly direction is currently under construction near Morris

Grubel wins fifth county tennis title

Sy Grubel of 1164 Wyoming dr., Mountainside, won the Union County men's singles tennis tournament this month for the fifth time, the fourth in a row. Grubel also won this year's county men's senior title.

Grubel has also won championships in Asbury Park, four years in a row; at the Arlington Players Club in Kearny, singles and doubles, and in the Montclair municipal tourney. In this year's county finals, he defeated Ed Faulkner of Cranford.

Grubel was captain of his tennis teams at Irvington High School and Newark Colleges of Rutgers University. He is a cost analyst for Raytheon in Murray Hill.

Registration extended

The Municipal Building of the borough of Mountainside will be open for extended hours for voter registration on the following days: Sept. 11, 18, 19, 22, 23, 24 and 25. The extended hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sept. 25 will be the final day of voter registration in the borough for the Nov. 4 general election.

'Independents' unit supports Connor in bid for Assembly

Nicholas Conover English of Summit and Dr. Max Tishler of Westfield, neither a registered Democrat, this week announced the formation of "Independents for Connor" to promote the candidacy of John T. Connor Jr. of Cranford, Democratic candidate for assemblyman at large in Union County.

English is senior partner in the Newark law firm of McCarter and English. Dr. Tishler is senior vice-president and director of Merck and Co., Rahway.

A resident of Summit for 39 years, English is a graduate of Pingry School, Princeton University and Harvard Law School. He is a former president of the Summit YMCA and is currently vice-chairman of the National Board of YMCA's. He is president of the board of trustees of Kent Place School and is also a trustee of Pingry School. He is a member of the board of managers of the American Bible Society, of the American Law Institute and formerly served as a trustee of the New Jersey State Bar Association and as a member of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association.

Dr. Tishler, one of the nation's leading scientists in his own right, coordinates all Merck's research and development activities in the United States and abroad. A member of the National Academy of Sciences, he is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Tufts University, which he now serves as a life trustee and member of the Executive Committee. He received his Ph.D. and taught at Harvard before coming to Merck.

Many major discoveries have been made at Merck under Dr. Tishler, whose work includes collaboration with Dr. Selman A. Waksman, Rutgers' Nobel Laureate. He also collaborated with Dr. Waksman and with Harvard's Dr. James B. Conant in the writing of chemistry textbooks. He has received numerous honorary degrees and, among other affiliations, is a trustee of Union College in Cranford.

The executive director of "Citizens for Connor" is Patrick J. Kealy of Cranford. A graduate of Loyola Academy and the University of Notre Dame, he is an associate with A.G. Becker & Co., New York. He is married to the former Christine Keenan of Westfield, is a director of the Notre Dame Alumni Association of New Jersey and a member of the Cardinal's Committee of the Laity.

The group's treasurer is James C. Kellogg IV of Summit, an associate with the New York law firm of Shearman & Sterling.

15 persons join school staff in Mountainside for '69-70

Fifteen new staff members are serving in Mountainside public schools during the 1969-70 year.

They include Allan J. Shapiro, vice-principal at Deerfield Middle School and formerly a teacher and coordinator of social studies in Newark Arts High School. He received a BA degree in history from New York University, MA from Seton Hall University and doctor's equivalency in guidance from Seton Hall.

Stephen Berkowitz, formerly of Atlanta, Ga., teaches eighth grade social studies at Deerfield. He has a BA in political science from the University of North Carolina and took education courses at Georgia State College.

Mrs. Marilyn Kierspe, who has a BA in home economics from Ohio Wesleyan University, will teach home economics at Deerfield.

A new seventh grade social studies teacher at Deerfield is Mrs. Carol Moran, who has a BA in history from Queens College and an MS in secondary education and social studies from the same school. She taught for one year in Franklin Square, L.I.

Mrs. Henrice Oliver is a new seventh grade science teacher at Deerfield. She holds a BS in math and science from Prairie View A. & M. College and taught last year in Houston, Tex.

William Ortolf, new eighth grade English teacher at Deerfield, received a bachelor's degree in English and history from Alderson-Broaddus College and certification from Newark State College.

Donna Keil is physical education teacher in Beechwood School. She received a BA in physical education and health from Paterson State College in June.

Mrs. Carmen Suggs, first grade teacher in Echobrook School, formerly taught first and second grades in Waukegan, Ill., and Kōhala, Hawaii. She has a BE degree in elementary education from National College of Education, Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Gertrude Rockett is new fourth grade teacher in Deerfield Elementary School. She was graduated in June from Newark State College with a BA in elementary education.

Ann Mullman teaches physical education at Deerfield Elementary and Echobrook. She received a BS in physical education from Sargent College in May.

Howard Kravitz is instrumental music teacher. A teacher in Hillside for 12 years, he received a BS from Juilliard and an MA in music education from Columbia University.

New special services staff members are: Mrs. Gwendolyn McCarthy, director of special services and school psychologist. She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from Montclair State College; is a candidate for her Ph.D. at Cornell University, and has taken courses in psychology, special education and administration at Seton Hall. She formerly was with Union public schools.

Mrs. Elaine Hanay, teacher of the third special class for multiply handicapped children at Children's Specialized Hospital. She has her BS in elementary education from New Paltz State University and a master's in special education from Teachers' College, Columbia. Her teaching experience has been in New York State.

Donna Puchinsky, speech correctionist. She was graduated from Montclair State College in June with a BA in speech therapy.

Mrs. Laurel Sproul, learning disabilities specialist. She has a BS degree from Trenton State in elementary education, and a master's in educational psychology from Rutgers University. She had her teaching experience at Rahway, and has been learning disabilities specialist there for two years.

avenue in Springfield.

Manners said that the Union County Board of Freeholders was also in favor of reducing the size of the cloverleaf interchange at the intersection of Rt. 22 and New Providence road. He said, however, that the freeholders were in favor of an overpass across the highway for reasons of safety.

In response to a question from the audience, Manners indicated that the bridge and access ramps in this type of project would probably not mean wholesale condemnations of residences in the affected areas.

Manners appeared at the meeting through the efforts of John H. Palmer Jr., chairman of the methods study committee.

IN ANOTHER REPORT Tom Ingate, chairman of the engineering and alternatives committee, said that the following alternative plan to the cloverleaf interchange would be forwarded to the Borough Council at the appropriate time.

"The traffic light at New Providence road would be kept, but loops would be constructed on the north and south side of the highway to eliminate left-hand turns in the middle of the highway; Chapel Island then would be the hub of the overpass/underpass system crossing the highway.

"This proposal would cause the least amount of disturbance to the property owners of Mountainside," Ingate said.

Dr. Jack Howard, who heads the inter-community relations committee, said that Westfield was considering the passage of a resolution similar to Mountainside's condemning the interchange here.

Bill Cutler, public relations man for the group, said that plans were afoot to advertise in local papers to bring the message of the interchange to the residents of Westfield and enlist members of that community in the fight.

CTPM chairman Kuebler, in reporting for the absent Bill Klebos, head of the finance committee, announced that the fund drive would be extended two more weeks until the end of September. Kuebler especially emphasized that "the costs are high, especially in the field of publicity, and we also have other things to do. Your money will be prudently spent," he said.

"The easiest way to defeat a program," Kuebler said, "is to just let it slide along long enough and then those who oppose you will succeed."

away with a generous check, first for this year's campaign and a substantial increase over last year, but his laudatory remarks about League are still ringing in my ears."

TODAY 75 MEMBERS of the League are going out into the community to raise funds for the campaign. They have each attended a training session with experienced leaders like Mrs. Byron. They are armed with kits containing information and literature qualifying them to answer such questions as why the League has undertaken to raise this sum of money and how it is to be expended in expanding the effectiveness of the League.

A League spokesman stated:

"The issues that confront the League today may well come up for discussion such as: (1) increased efforts to help resolve the growing problems of our cities; (2) increasing the political effectiveness of all citizens; (3) helping in progress towards improved management of our water, land and air resources; (4) expansion of voters' service which has been known for clarifying issues and supplying non-partisan information on candidates; (5) working towards reform of the electoral college system; (6) reviewing state fiscal policy and legislative procedures.

"From the faith of the women's suffrage movement and the shock of the first world war came a great idea—that a non-partisan organization could provide political education and experience which would contribute to the growth of the citizen. In the past 50 years the League has succeeded to a considerable extent in fulfilling this purpose.

"It now seeks to enlist the support of the citizens of this area in continuing to be an effective force in strengthening government on all levels."

Special citations were awarded to several staff members of the Board of Education at a luncheon last week.

Elaine G. Welbel was cited for her efforts and diligence in diagnosing children's learning problems in mathematics.

SUSAN D. COLLIER was praised for contributions as an innovative teacher-librarian, efforts in inspiring the children in the area of reading and study, and the effective use of improved audio-visual equipment and the parent volunteers in the library-learning center.

Alleta B. Bork was honored for her success in receiving a 1968-69 state migrant which resulted in an individualized instructional program that interested children and improved classroom performance.

Alston W. Collins was cited for his success in accepting responsibility of the many far-ranging activities of the eighth graders.

Oliver C. Beane Jr. was cited for his reputation as a stimulating mathematics teacher, for his success in helping the Mountainside ninth graders to achieve a reputation as good mathematics students, and for his "inspired and competent" coaching of soccer. Joyce H. McCobb was cited at the luncheon for her devoted teaching and guidance of the eighth graders, and her self-improvement through graduate work and extracurricular activities.

Financial aid to the hard-pressed municipalities has been advocated by Assemblyman Kiehn. He supported the bill to give aid to the cities and also the bill which distributed $25 million to municipalities to reduce local taxes. The bill which gave school districts $25 a pupil from sales tax money also was supported by the Union County assemblyman.

The Legislature will face many important challenges in the years ahead, Kiehn believes. He holds the opinion that education will be a big problem and that the state should undertake a study to determine the causes of unrest in the colleges.

Assemblyman Kiehn is concerned about the transportation problem and has written to State Transportation Commissioner David Goldberg about the dangerous conditions on Rt. 1. The assemblyman would like to see Rt. 1 and other highways improved to make them safer for motorists. Highways should receive high priority if the bond issue for improvement of transportation is approved.

"I WOULD HONESTLY LIKE to see more people use the trains whenever possible," Assemblyman Kiehn stated. "The congestion on the roads would be decreased and there would be a reduction in air pollution. I believe that better rail transportation provides a good solution to our transportation problem." He also said that a subsidy to bus lines which are threatened by financial losses should be considered. Many persons would be prevented from going to their jobs if buses fail to run and then the welfare rolls would increase, Assemblyman Kiehn commented. He added that he is "concerned about persons who are unable to afford automobiles and who must use buses for transportation to and from work."

His background as a businessman, homeowner, civic-minded worker and parent give Assemblyman Kiehn the knowledge, desire and experience required for a legislator. He is the owner of the Metal Office Equipment Co., Rahway, and editor of Office Economist magazine, published in "Jamestown, N.Y." His efforts in the advertising field resulted in his being listed in "Who's Who in Advertising."

Assemblyman Kiehn and his wife, Ida, reside at 823 Midwood dr., Rahway. They have two sons, Herbert Jr., a Rutgers University graduate, and Richard, a Bucknell University graduate. Both are married. Assemblyman and Mrs. Kiehn have a grandson and a granddaughter.

For 30 years Assemblyman Kiehn served the Board of Adjustment of his home town.

Overlook to give free eye exams

"One pair of eyes is all we get," an Overlook Hospital spokesman said in urging all members of the community over 35 to have their eyes checked.

A free clinic to detect glaucoma or other eye disease will be held at Overlook for three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 2 to 3 p.m., with staff ophthalmologists contributing their skill and time to this public service. Participants should use the separate out-patient clinic entrance on Beauvoir avenue.

Last year some 200 local residents took advantage of Overlook's free eye clinic, jointly sponsored by the hospital, the Medical Society of New Jersey, the New Jersey Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, the New Jersey State Commission for the Blind, the State Department of Health and the New Jersey Hospital Association.

Three Democrats ask postponement of action on police salary increases

In a policy statement released this week, John Walsh, Democratic candidate for mayor of Mountainside, and Mrs. Thomas (Beth) Loftus and John H. Palmer Jr., Democratic candidates for Borough Council, declared their present opposition to the proposal for a 10 percent salary raise for the Mountainside Police Department to be authorized by special ordinance.

They requested a postponement of any consideration of general police raises until early next year when the 1970 municipal budget, taking into account all borough service costs, had been drawn up for public presentations.

The ordinance incorporating the proposed raise, a raise equal to that granted by special ordinance last September, will be the subject of a public hearing at the next Tuesday's meeting of the Borough Council. The Democratic candidates expressed the hope that other Mountainside residents with similar opposing views would talk in opposition at the Borough Council meeting.

The Democratic statement said: "Any member of a governing body that advocates action which will add fuel to the fires of rising prices and rising taxes during a time of inflation is out of touch with the problems of our Mountainside residents. Such a governing body is the present mayor and council as well as those Republican candidates who seek borough office this fall and who have indicated their support for this untimely special ordinance.

"The Democratic candidates for mayor and Borough Council recognize the need for adequately paid policemen in our community. However, we do not believe that the policemen who join the Mountainside Police Department should expect a 10 percent increase in general salaries each year. They should first look to the salary increase received as a result of promotion and seniority.

"Last year at this time, the Mountainside Police Department was granted a 10 percent general increase as part of a special ordinance. The Democratic Party supported that increase in the community interest. But 20 percent in two years is too much.

"In addition to the proposed 10 percent raise, the ordinance in question also calls for annual longevity bonuses of two to 10 percent on completion of five to 25 years of service. Thus, the proposed special ordinance contains a hidden extra salary percentage increase above the indicated two-year, 20 percent increase.

"The Democratic candidates for mayor and Borough Council propose that any salary increases for the Mountainside Police Department be considered as part of the 1970 municipal budget presented early next year. Thus, any proposed raise would be viewed together with salary requirements of all municipal departments including your school system.

"If the proposed special ordinance is passed, patrolman on our police force will receive starting salaries in excess of that offered our starting teachers. The increasing operating costs of our school system are the greatest demand factor in our rising real estate taxes. A desire on the part of our starting teachers to keep up with starting salaries of our Police Department will have a disastrous effect on tax rates which have already risen more than 20 percent over the past two years. Once again, 20 percent in two years is too much!

"We ask that all Mountainside residents who desire to see inflation controlled and our taxes held down on all levels of government join us in opposing the special ordinance providing for police raises at this time. We ask that as many Mountainside residents as possible join Democratic candidates Walsh, Loftus and Palmer in requesting a postponement of any consideration of general raises for our Mountainside Police Department until the new 1970 municipal budget is drawn up next January."

ings which must be attended by a conscientious legislator.

Assemblyman Kiehn holds membership on the Air and Water Pollution and Public Health Committee and on that committee's Subcommittee on Cleaner Air and Water. He also is a member of the Committee for Commerce, Industry and Professions and two of its sub-units, Professional and Business Licensing, and Business and Industrial Relations.

THE LEGISLATIVE RECORD of the active and hard-working assemblyman is an impressive one. He supported the bill, enacted into law, which eliminated from the Unemployment Compensation Law the benefits given to strikers. He also supported Senate Bill 754 which caused the state to assume 75 per cent of welfare costs to relieve local taxpayers. He is sponsor of Assembly Concurrent Resolution 66 last year and ACR 67 this year. The bills would create a watchdog committee to establish priorities for expenditures of the $990 million bond issue funds.

Bills which would help the authorities in the battle against waterfront crime have been supported by Assemblyman Kiehn. S-705 requires licensing and registration in the Waterfront Commission Act as a guard against crime. S-708 gives the commission investigators "added muscle to combat crime," according to the assemblyman.

Assemblyman Kiehn is hopeful that A-619 will be passed by the Legislature. He said it "provides effectually for financial responsibility and indemnification of victims in connection with damages caused by operation of motor vehicles." The bill, if enacted, would make it compulsory for automobile owners to have insurance. Another bill which he supports is A-495, which would permit any lease for a term of one or more years to be terminated in the event of the death of the spouse. Assemblyman Kiehn pointed out that landlords frequently refuse to cancel a lease under such circumstances. The bill has been released for party conference, he noted. He is the sponsor of A-558 which forbids willful disrespect by any person toward the American flag and he is pushing to get the bill out of committee.

The amendment to the State Constitution, proposed in ACR-35, would prohibit the Legislature from imposing a personal income tax. Assemblyman Kiehn is a cosponsor of the measure.

For the future, Kiehn would like to see the creation of a bipartisan commission to study property taxes. He said that new sources of tax money might be found by taxing organizations and societies which are tax exempt now but which have income-producing properties not taxed. A resolution requesting Congress to assume the operation of the welfare program is favored by Assemblyman Kiehn.

"This should equalize aid throughout the United States and not place a burden on certain states due to migration," Assemblyman Kiehn said. He noted that this is in line with suggestions made this summer by President Richard M. Nixon.

KIEHN WOULD LIKE to see a survey of the Rahway River and its branches which have been subjected to extensive flooding. The legislator also would like to see a formula worked out by the state to control rent increases. He pointed out that the cost of maintenance and taxes have increased but that he has received telephone calls about increases which seem to be out of proportion to the landlord's costs.

Financial aid to the hard-pressed municipalities has been advocated by Assemblyman Kiehn. He supported the bill to give aid to the cities and also the bill which distributed $25 million to municipalities to reduce local taxes. The bill which gave school districts $25 a pupil from sales tax money also was supported by the Union County assemblyman.

The Legislature will face many important challenges in the years ahead, Kiehn believes. He holds the opinion that education will be a big problem and that the state should undertake a study to determine the causes of unrest in the colleges.

Assemblyman Kiehn is concerned about the transportation problem and has written to State Transportation Commissioner David Goldberg about the dangerous conditions on Rt. 1. The assemblyman would like to see Rt. 1 and other highways improved to make them safer for motorists. Highways should receive high priority if the bond issue for improvement of transportation is approved.

"I WOULD HONESTLY LIKE to see more people use the trains whenever possible," Assemblyman Kiehn stated. "The congestion on the roads would be decreased and there would be a reduction in air pollution. I believe that better rail transportation provides a good solution to our transportation problem." He also said that a subsidy to bus lines which are threatened by financial losses should be considered. Many persons would be prevented from going to their jobs if buses fail to run and then the welfare rolls would increase, Assemblyman Kiehn commented. He added that he is "concerned about persons who are unable to afford automobiles and who must use buses for transportation to and from work."

His background as a businessman, homeowner, civic-minded worker and parent give Assemblyman Kiehn the knowledge, desire and experience required for a legislator. He is the owner of the Metal Office Equipment Co., Rahway, and editor of Office Economist magazine, published in "Jamestown, N.Y." His efforts in the advertising field resulted in his being listed in "Who's Who in Advertising."

Assemblyman Kiehn and his wife, Ida, reside at 823 Midwood dr., Rahway. They have two sons, Herbert Jr., a Rutgers University graduate, and Richard, a Bucknell University graduate. Both are married. Assemblyman and Mrs. Kiehn have a grandson and a granddaughter.

For 30 years Assemblyman Kiehn served the Board of Adjustment of his home town.

Community service was rendered by Assemblyman Kiehn during his years as a director of the Church Athletic League and as a president of the Rahway High School Parent-Teacher Association. The Order of DeMolay for Boys recognized his service to youth by conferring its Legion of Honor upon him. Local 31, Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, has made him an honorary member. Born in New York City, he was raised in Rahway and attended the public schools there.

"My hobby is Trenton," Assemblyman Kiehn replied when asked about his recreational activities. He added that he and his wife enjoy visiting their sons, daughters-in-law and grandchildren, and also boating at the family's "weekend retreat" on the New Jersey coast. Assemblyman Kiehn is working hard, campaigning with the idea of convincing the voters of District 9-C that he should represent them in Trenton. He said he has found public service as an assemblyman intensely rewarding and that he has sought to give the people the type of representation they want on the state level.

General Election Day, Nov. 4, will determine whether the voting public has decided that Assemblyman Kiehn's qualifications and record in the legislature entitle him to devote another two years of his life to serving the people. Assemblyman Kiehn is hoping that the voters' decision will favor him.

Cahill pledges action on cities and mass transit at rally here

Congressman William Cahill concluded a day-long campaign swing through Union County Monday with a rally at Weiland's Steak House, Route 22, Mountainside.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate

Letters to Editor

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and must be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writer's name will not be withheld if the letter is of a political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

'HIGHWAY BINGE'
I am, quoting, as so many people have done before, "America is on a highway binge," the end of which is headache, lost homes, traffic and choking fumes.

The highway program accurately reflects the nation's love affair with the automobile and the deterioration of public transit, for buses are rare. Expressways have ruined parklands and destroyed neighborhoods in a way that can never be undone.

Highway planners with their blueprints have also tended to thrust routes through slum areas (Newark), displacing persons who have nowhere to go except into even more crowded ghettos. Out in the open spaces, the bulldozer runs roads through wilderness lands on the theory that these are worthless if there are no access routes over which people can drive to see them. There will be nothing left to see!

In short, America is being torn apart by the highway mania which stems from the profits to contractors, oil companies and auto makers.

Mountainside can say "Stop!" Return to the days of leisurely travel by bus, train and car to see woodland scenery. We don't need more roads and overpasses. They would only bring more problems without traffic solutions, houses torn down and the countryside ruined. Keep Mountainside a place of beauty. There isn't enough of it any more.

VOTE NO ON BOND
A $747,000 bond issue and the follow-up cost of interest, and additional features that will go with it, will increase our school facilities that do not need to be materially increased at this time by the disposal of the Echobrook school.

Administration and educators have wonderful ideals that we endorse to the degree which we can afford to underwrite, but not to extravagances.

Should the Echobrook School be disposed of, it should be advertised and sold to the highest bidder, which would in some way reduce the cost of the bond issue and further school expenses.

This would prove to the advantage of the taxpayer, of which you and I are participants.

DON MAXWELL

made the rally his last stop on an itinerary that took him to Roselle Park, Cranford, Westfield, Scotch Plains and Union before he reached Mountainside.

In his talk at Weiland's, which was the candidate's major address of the day, Cahill pledged action what he called "the dual problem of New Jersey's dying cities and deplorable mass transit systems," calling them "ghosts of the past that are haunting citizens today."

Cahill also praised Senator Clifford P. Case and State Senator Frank X. McDermott for "their service to New Jersey and their active role in solving problems."

Singling out McDermott, whom he defeated in the GOP primary last June, Cahill declared: "The tireless efforts of Frank McDermott in the Legislature are a credit to this state. With men like Frank and a Republican governor, the State and Union County will have leadership it needs."

"Although there have been some transportation improvements in the recent past, they are insignificant when compared to the magnitude of the problem," he stated. "While our children are preparing for interplanetary travel, commuters are forced to cope with antiquated bus and rail service that are deplorable and unreliable."

Calling for new programs, including electrification of major rail service, Cahill stated that the next governor must make a firm commitment to clear up the mass transit mess.

Turning to the problems of the state's big cities, Cahill charged that "the politicians of yesterday have had their chance and failed miserably."

He added, "New ratables, new jobs and new hope must be brought to cities like Elizabeth and Newark. Pouring more money into old programs is not the answer. We must have new and dynamic leadership that can bring to this state a working partnership of government, labor and business and industry."

Cahill concluded: "The residents of this state have paid long enough for the apathy and shortsightedness of the past 16 years of Democratic control in Trenton. It is time to exercise the ghosts of the past that are haunting our state today."

Resident of Plainfield fined in borough court

A Plainfield man was fined $45 and $20 court costs by Judge Jacob Bauer at the weekly session of the Mountainside Borough court last Wednesday for failure to display a name and address on a commercial vehicle. The defendant in the action was Roberto Benitez, who pleaded not guilty.

A Westfield woman, Abigail Dunn, received a $5 fine and a reprimand as a penalty for leaving the scene of an accident.

Overlook to give free eye exams

"One pair of eyes is all we get," an Overlook Hospital spokesman said in urging all members of the community over 35 to have their eyes checked.

A free clinic to detect glaucoma or other eye disease will be held at Overlook for three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 2 to 3 p.m., with staff ophthalmologists contributing their skill and time to this public service. Participants should use the separate out-patient clinic entrance on Beauvoir avenue.

Last year some 200 local residents took advantage of Overlook's free eye clinic, jointly sponsored by the hospital, the Medical Society of New Jersey, the New Jersey Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, the New Jersey State Commission for the Blind, the State Department of Health and the New Jersey Hospital Association.

New director for special services Mrs. McCarthy starts work in Mountainside

By LORRI BOSTWICK
"It's delightful -- to be working in so fine a school system as Mountainside," was the sentiment expressed by Mountainside's newly appointed school psychologist and director of special services, Mrs. Gwen McCarthy. The newcomer to the professional staff of the Mountainside school system has just begun her work with the new full school term from her official office at the Deerfield School.

Two hospitalized, two others treated after car accidents

Three persons were taken to the Overlook Hospital in Summit as a result of an accident which occurred in Mountainside last Thursday at 2 a.m. The accident involved a vehicle driven by John McGroarty, 20, of Westfield. The driver and the passengers, Constance Marshall, and David Tandy, also of Westfield, were taken to the hospital through the assistance of the Mountainside Rescue Squad. The driver was reported in satisfactory condition after being treated for facial lacerations. Miss Marshall was also reported in satisfactory condition after being treated for abdominal injuries. David Tandy was treated for cuts and bruises and then released.

The vehicle involved sustained severe front end damage. The driver maintained, according to the police report, that while he was proceeding west on Rt. 22 in the right lane, a large tractor trailer in the left lane began edging into the right lane, causing the driver of the car to apply his brakes. Upon coming into a flooded area, the vehicle began to skid and the rear of the car went into a tailspin. The car then hit the curb, shot across the highway, hit the center divider, shot back across the highway, and finally hit a utility pole.

Another accident occurred on Rt. 22 east, last Wednesday, at 1:17 a.m., when three vehicles became involved in a collision. A tractor trailer driven by Roy C. Ober, 39, of Elizabethtown, Pa., and owned by M & M Transport Co. of Cambridge, Mass., collided with a car driven by Carol Walker of Linden, N.J., and then struck another car driven by John Kaufman, 32, of Union. The tractor trailer sustained heavy damage. Miss Walker's car received damage to the driver's door, and Kaufman's vehicle was removed from the scene of the accident for repairs to the front end.

Kaufman received several cuts and bruises, and was treated for bleeding by the Rescue Squad. Neither of the other two drivers suffered any visible injuries, the report added.

there in a fellowship program which aided her in continuing her studies.

Mrs. McCarthy's teaching experience is also quite varied. She taught mathematics at Madison High School and was school psychologist in the Cumberland County, Pa., school district. She has taught on the university level at Seton Hall, where she specialized in special education courses and worked also in the counseling and guidance department.

In 1962, Mrs. McCarthy joined the Union school system in the capacity of school psychologist. Mrs. McCarthy was a member of the staff of the Title III perceptual development project, which dealt with children in the grades kindergarten through second who appeared to show perceptual problems. The program continued for three years to provide a prolonged study of the special education of these students. Mrs. McCarthy, as a member of the team of specialists on this project, played her role in working with parents of the children involved in the program.

Another Union project in which Mrs. McCarthy was involved was the occupational conditioning center. This project served to deal with moderately to severely handicapped teenagers in an attempt to teach them skills and prepare them either for entrance into the Union County Rehabilitation Workshop or for moving directly into outside vocational employment.

Mrs. McCarthy served as a counselor in interviewing parents and students during admission procedures, and also in evaluating students who were participating.

IN DISCUSSING her duties in the Mountainside school system, Mrs. McCarthy described her job as that of both a school psychologist and the director and coordinator of all special services in the system.

As the special services coordinator, it is her job to oversee the education of children with special problems, and to bring together the various specialists who will be involved with each particular child. The speech specialists, the reading teacher, the social worker, the learning disability specialist, the part-time supplemental instructor and the consulting psychiatrist--all will be a part of Mrs. McCarthy's network of operations in the care and education of the child with special problems.

The people on the staff of Mrs. McCarthy's department are known as the child-study team. Each specialist works with the child in question on a one-to-one basis in an attempt to evaluate and analyze specific problems.

The members of Mrs. McCarthy's child-study team are: Mrs. Laurel Sproul, learning disability specialist; Mrs. Mary Jaspers and Mrs. Helen Sutter, reading specialists; Donna Puchinsky, speech specialist; Marianne Beckers, social worker; Mrs. Helen Hoffert, part-time supplemental instructor, and Dr. Albert Bromberg, consulting psychiatrist.

Working with the child-study team is a program conducted at the Children's Specialized Hospital. Three teachers are employed at the hospital in classes planned in coordination with the hospital's speech and physical therapists. The teachers who are working at the hospital, as an extension of the school system proper, are Edward Hartnett, Mrs. Elaine Hanay and Carolyn La Corte. The program at the hospital also utilizes the hospital's volunteer program. Volunteers from the surrounding communities come once a week and aid the teachers in conducting the special classes.

At present, the Mountainside school system has three special classes in progress at the Children's Specialized Hospital. These classes deal with multiply-handicapped children. The classes are the first of their kind in this area and are funded jointly by the school district and Title VI funds from the State Board of Education in Trenton.

In the schools, the role of the supplemental instructor is an especially important one. She works with children on a personalized, one-to-one basis. The children are scheduled for appointments four times each week. During each session, the instructor works with the individual child in the areas in which he most needs help.

The supplemental instructor accepts children on recommendations of school records, teachers, parents, principals and the school nurse. Mrs. McCarthy said the program would be able to encompass more children on a more intensive basis now that a special supplemental instructor has been added to the staff. The add of the full-time learning disability specialist is also a great step forward, she added.

ANOTHER PROJECT which Mrs. McCarthy's department is now viewing as a possible endeavor is the establishment of a "transition first grade" which would emphasize work with children in smaller classes, and may prove more beneficial and effective in early education.

The advanced child has most certainly not been forgotten under the Mountainside systems program. Mrs. McCarthy pointed out, The Deerfield Junior School has in progress a special program devoted intensively to the education of the fast learner.

Mrs. McCarthy stressed her pleasure with the Mountainside program and emphasized that "with a larger staff, there will now be a more intensive follow-up of children and classroom teachers."

At this time, Mrs. McCarthy and her staff are deeply involved in the evaluation of all new entrants to the Mountainside schools--a program unique to the area.

WHEN ASKED for her comments on the Mountainside school system as a whole, Mrs. McCarthy replied, "I have been extremely impressed by the parents' interest in and the staff's emphasis on quality education. The parents I have met have shown very sincere concern for their children to get the best education and have been more than cooperative, both the established residents and the newcomers to the community."

In discussing the budget allowed for the special education department, Mrs. McCarthy stated, "At this point we have been given no rigid limitations on our budget; supplies are of the finest quality, and money and educational policies are very liberal. Dr. Hanigan (the superintendent of schools) is a very fine educator and has set the tone for the special education department policies. Mountainside is very fortunate."

ON THE JOB--Mrs. Gwen McCarthy, left, new director of special services for the borough's schools, talks over a student's problems with Mrs. Laurel Sproul, learning disabilities specialist.

Superintendent: crowding problems mar school year

A year of accomplishment and some problems has been forecast for the new school year by Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools for the Union County Regional High School District.

Speaking to a combined meeting last week of the staffs of all four high schools, Dr. Davis said the problems centered around overcrowding.

Noting that the Regional district is being forced to use temporary classroom buildings at two of the schools for the first time in its history to alleviate overcrowding, Dr. Davis told the staff that a building program is being planned to add facilities at all four schools.

Dr. Davis said the greatest single building deficiency is the lack of space and space distribution for instructional materials.

"For the most part, each library is centered around a room which was too small from its inception. With the development of instructional materials centers which will include vastly larger libraries, and which will also include study carrels, and all of the other audio-visual aids in a single complex, we shall be in a good position to add another educational dimension to our learning situation," he said.

Dr. Davis said development of the instructional materials center "is only one step in the qualitative upgrading of our schools envisioned by the referendum. Planned, also, are large and small teaching stations, where greater use may be made of team teaching, of small group instruction, and of individual independent study.

"ALSO PLANNED are additional facilities for the physically handicapped at the David Brearley Regional High School, and some additional auxiliary gym space at certain schools," Dr. Davis said.

The superintendent also noted that this will be the first year the Regional district will have a fulltime instructional media specialist, and a department of pupil personnel services under the direction of an assistant superintendent, among other innovations.

"I call upon the members of the staff to actively engage in further learning in their own and other fields of inquiry, to continue to work toward the development of better ways of teaching and better use of the instruments of teaching. I ask for the better development of the inquiring mind. I ask that joint effort be made so that we all learn together from each other," Dr. Davis also said.

Library program for preschoolers

The Mountainside Public Library will hold a weekly preschool picture book program on Thursday mornings from 10:30 to 11, beginning Oct. 2. The fall series will include ten sessions - Oct. 2 through Dec. 18, except Nov. 27 and Dec. 4.

The program will be offered to children who have attained their fourth birthday and to preschool five-year-olds. Registration will begin Wednesday and will be limited to 20 children. Parents are asked to register children in person. When registration is completed for the fall series, applications will be taken for the spring series which will begin March 5 and end May 14.

Selected picture books will be read and shown to the group by Mrs. Helen M. Kelly, children's librarian.

College readiness certificates earned

Ken Koszowski of 1614 Rising way, and Daniel Pastore Jr., of 167 Mountainview dr., both of Mountainside, were among 77 recent high school graduates awarded certificates for their active participation in Union College's eighth annual college readiness program, held on the Union College campus in Cranford June 26 to July 23.

The program was designed to give recent high school graduates an orientation to college life and an opportunity to improve their basic skills in reading, composition, and problem solving, according to Prof. Gunars Salins, director.

Nearly half of the young men and women who enter college freshman classes never complete the four-year program, Prof. Salins said.

Koszowski plans to attend Alfred University, Alfred, N.Y., while Pastore plans to attend Union College. They are graduates of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights.

Band Parents plan meeting Tuesday

The first meeting of the Band Parents Organization of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, for the new school year will be held in the music room at the high school Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. In addition to the parents of the band members, the organization includes the parents of the twirlers and the color guard.

The main function of the organization is to give recognition to the efforts of these young people who are so much a part of high school life today," club spokesman said.

The officers for the new school year are Jack Quinn, president; Dave Brown and Joseph Zuckerberg, vice-presidents; Mrs. Harry Alper, recording secretary; Mrs. Herman Horowitz, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William McDonald, treasurer.

Rehearsals are started by barbershop singers

Rehearsals for the fall and winter programs are starting at the Westfield Chapter of Barbershop Quartet Singers. Seventy active members in four parts, tenor, lead, baritone and bass, provide a nucleus for new voices. Neither voice training or musical training is a prerequisite.

The International Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America has over 30,000 members.

The Logopedics Institute of Wichita, Kansas, a hospital for the treatment of speech and hearing defects of children has, for many years, been partially supported by the donations from over 300 Barbershop Chapters. Unrestricted donations of over $300,000 have helped procure equipment and services.

Conventions are held on area, district and national levels, with competitions for quartets and choruses.

Men who have never participated in Barbershop singing and former members who have relocated their homes from other areas of the country have been asked to phone Harry Youngman, 303 Partridge Run, Mountainside, 233-0243.

Job help at YWCA

"Back to Work?" an all-day forum designed to aid mature women who might be questioning what to do with present or future time, will be sponsored by the Summit YWCA on Wednesday, Sept. 24, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The woman who is considering returning to work will be informed about opportunities in the fields of retailing, nursing, teaching, social services, clerical, nursery school and child care, food services and real estate. Panelists will describe opportunities and the preparation required.

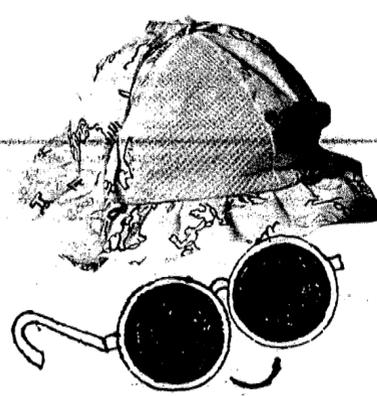

An address by a keynote speaker will be followed by the panel discussion. After lunch (persons attending are asked to bring a sandwich; beverage and dessert will be provided), workshops will be conducted by representatives from all the fields mentioned. Those planning to attend the forum should make reservations in advance by telephoning the YWCA. Further information about the program may be obtained by calling Mrs. J.J. Hennessey, adult program director at the YWCA, 273-4242.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

ABOUT GROWTH
For many, there is satisfaction in placing a seed in the ground, nurturing the soil and the sprout with the tender care needed to produce something worthwhile.

Happiness, too, can come from a minute seed. A kind word, properly planted, can bring forth fruits of joy to some hungry soul. A good deed, however small can spread with the winds and blossom, and magnify.

One smile can light up a hundred other faces. Just as good seed planted in good soil will bear fruit, so will bad seed rot upon the rocky ground. Such is the way of things. It follows that successful living becomes a matter of selective choosing. An individual who would reap the benefits of a happy living chooses to live a life of value, chooses to do some good works today to insure that the fruits of tomorrow equally good.

Volcano film to be shown

The Trailside Mineral Club will have its first meeting of the new season tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation. A movie will be shown about the eruption of a volcano off the coast of Iceland. This volcano has become an island called "The Isle of Surtsey" and is still active. Prepared under the direction of a team of geologists the movie will show not only the eruption of the volcano, but also the types of rocks thrown and the type of gases involved. Persons wishing to become members of the Trailside Mineral Club may attend this meeting.

Union accountants list dinner-meeting

The Union County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will hold its first dinner-meeting of the year next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Winfield Scott Hotel, Elizabeth. Miss Mary Kanane, Union County surrogate, will speak on "Estates and the Protection of the Family."

Miss Kanane, a resident of Union Township, was elected surrogate in 1963 and is the first woman to serve in this capacity in Union County. She was formerly a member of the Board of Chosen Freeholders. Interested persons are welcome to attend.

Installation planned by group assisting retarded children

The Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children will install new officers at St. Luke's Parish Hall, Fourth avenue and Walnut street, Roselle, at 8 p.m. today. The meeting will include an informal covered dish supper.

Those to be installed are: president, Betram Schwartz of Westfield; first vice-president, Richard Olsen of Cranford; second vice president, Cedric Alley of Berkeley Heights; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Mosler of Elizabeth; recording secretary, Mrs. John Moreno of Rahway; and treasurer, Jerome Hirschhorn of Hillside.

Also to be installed are five trustees: John Turney of Berkeley Heights, Arthur Fried of Westfield, Mrs. Richard Olsen of Cranford, John Wywrot of Berkeley Heights and H. Van Duesen Pullon of Westfield. Representatives to the State Council of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children for the coming year are: Dr. Samuel Goldstein of Springfield; Robert Allen of Westfield, Martin Stern of Scotch Plains and John Killoran of Westfield.

Auditions will be held by Suburban Symphony

Instrumental auditions for new members of the Suburban Symphony will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Cranford High School Auditorium. It was awarded by Henry Bloch, music director. Instrumentalists may obtain an appointment to audition by sending their name, address, phone number and instrument to: Personnel Manager, Suburban Symphony, P.O. Box 176, Cranford, 07016.

Rinaldo pledges fight to save reduced P.A. commuter tolls

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-Union) has sharply criticized a proposal by Theodore Kheel to eliminate commuter reductions on Port of New York Authority bridges and tunnels. Calling Kheel's proposal "another attempt to tap the unfortunate little man," Rinaldo pledged to lead a legislative battle against the plan should it come before the New Jersey Senate. Kheel was recently appointed by Mayor

Lindsay to head a committee seeking ways to save New York City's 20-cent subway fare. "I see no reason why the hard-pressed commuters of New Jersey should be forced to subsidize the subway and get Mayor Lindsay out of a financial hole," Senator Rinaldo declared. Rinaldo noted that both Republican gubernatorial candidate William Cahill and his Democratic opponent, Robert Meyner, had pledged to oppose the Kheel suggestion. "I am pleased that both candidates have expressed their intention to halt this bad idea in its tracks," he said.

August report: hot, wet, cloudy

August was not the month to take a vacation, judging from the monthly meteorological summary issued this week by Harold D. Duffoco, meteorologist at the U.S. Cooperative Weather Station at Union College, Cranford. Duffoco reports only 11 clear days for the month with 13 partly cloudy and seven cloudy days. Thunderstorms marred six days.

August temperatures ranged from a high of 91 degrees on the 25th to a minimum of 49 degrees on the 22nd. The average temperature for the month was 74.5 degrees, which was 1.8 degrees above normal. The highest daily average was 81 degrees on Aug. 17 and the lowest was 64 degrees on the 21st.

If August was cloudy, it was also wet with a total precipitation of 4.73 inches, 1.39 inches above normal. High water mark in 12 days of measurable rainfall was reached Aug. 15 and 16 when 1.53 inches of rain fell during a 24-hour period.

August's rains bring the total for this year to 31.96 inches, an increase of 4.96 inches over this point last year. No weather records were set last month. Aug. 7, 1968, still holds the title for highest temperatures recorded for the month, 94 degrees, and August, 1962, holds the record for the most rainfall with 6.16 inches recorded. Driest August on record was in 1964 when rainfall measured only 0.48 inches.

RINALDO NOTED THAT the Kheel proposal was "sweetened by the promise of New Jersey getting a share of the $8 million that commuters would pay if reduced rate tolls were eliminated. I say this is a financial Loachet that holds out the false promise of something for nothing. The only reason the hope of increased aid had been dangled before New Jersey is because our state must approve any such reductions before they are put into effect."

The Union County legislator noted that the commuter has already been hit by increased costs of gasoline as one of many inflationary pressures. "Why should we remove one of the few areas in which he can have a chance to save a few pennies?" Rinaldo pointed out that he has been attempting to force the New Jersey Highway Authority to institute reduced toll travel for regular users of the Garden State Parkway. "The authority has fought my bill tooth and nail," he said. "And judging by its all-out fight against this small break for the little man, I would be willing to predict that once the tolls on bridges and tunnels are eliminated, they would never come back again." Rinaldo's toll reduction bill was passed by the Senate and the Assembly earlier this year. "I intend to press Governor Hughes to sign this constructive measure into law so the little man can get one of the few financial breaks open to him," he asserted.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the ordinance set forth below was introduced at a meeting of the Township Committee of the Township of Union in the County of Union, held on Sept. 5, 1969, and that the said ordinance will be further considered for final passage at a meeting of the said Township Committee at Municipal Headquarters, Friberg Park, Morris Avenue, Union, New Jersey, on September 23, 1969, at 8 o'clock P.M.

MARY E. MILLER Township Clerk
 AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF CERTAIN EQUIPMENT FOR THE USE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STREETS AND HIGHWAYS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF UNION IN THE COUNTY OF UNION AND TO PROVIDE FOR THE FINANCING OF THE COST THEREOF BY THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS AND BOND ANTICIPATION NOTES.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Township Committee of the Township of Union in the County of Union as follows: Section 1. Authority is hereby given for the purchase by the Township of Union in the County of Union of one heavy duty truck together with snow plow and radio equipment for the use of the Department of Streets and Highways of said Township. Section 2. The sum of $9,500.00 is hereby appropriated to the purchase of the cost of such improvement. The sum so appropriated shall be met from the proceeds of bonds authorized and the down payment appropriated by this ordinance. No part of the cost of such improvement shall be assessed against property specially benefited.

Section 3. It is hereby determined and stated that (1) the making of such improvement (hereinafter referred to as "purpose") is not a current expense of said Township, and (2) it is necessary to finance said purpose by issuance of obligations of said Township pursuant to the Local Bond Law of New Jersey, and (3) the estimated cost of said purpose is $9,500.00, and (4) $500.00 of said sum is to be provided by the down payment heretofore appropriated to finance said purpose, and (5) the estimated maximum amount of bonds or notes necessary to be issued for said purpose is $9,000.00, and (6) the cost of such purpose as hereinafore stated, including the aggregate amount of $1,000.00 which is estimated to be necessary to finance the cost of such purpose, including architect's fees, accounting, engineering and inspection costs, legal expenses and other expenses, including interest on such obligations to the extent permitted by Section 40A:2-3 of the Local Bond Law.

Section 4. It is hereby determined and stated that moneys exceeding $500.00, appropriated for down payment on capital improvements or for the capital improvement fund in budgets heretofore adopted for said Township are available to finance said purpose. The sum of $500.00 is hereby appropriated from such moneys to the payment of the cost of said purpose.

Section 5. To finance said purpose, bonds of said Township of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $9,000.00 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law. Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate per annum as may be hereafter determined within the limitations prescribed by law. All matters with respect to said bonds not determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted.

Section 6. To finance said purpose, bond anticipation notes of said Township of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $9,000.00 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds. In the event that bonds are issued pursuant to this ordinance, the aggregate amount of notes hereby authorized to be issued shall be reduced by an amount equal to the principal amount of the bonds so issued. If the aggregate amount of outstanding bond anticipation notes issued pursuant to this ordinance shall at any time exceed the sum first mentioned in this section, the moneys raised by the issuance of said bonds shall, to not less than the amount of such excess, be applied to the payment of such notes then outstanding.

Section 7. Each bond anticipation note issued pursuant to this ordinance shall be dated on or about the date of its issuance and shall be payable not more than one year from its date, shall bear interest at a rate per annum as may be hereafter determined by law and may be renewed from time to time pursuant to and within the limitations prescribed by the Local Bond Law. Each of said notes shall be signed by the Chairman of the Township Committee and shall be under the seal of said Township and attested by the Township Clerk. Said officers are hereby authorized to execute said notes and to issue said notes in such form as they may find to be in conformity with law. The power to determine any matters with respect to said notes not determined by this ordinance and also the power to sell said notes, is hereby delegated to the governing body who is hereby authorized to sell said notes either at one time or from time to time in the manner provided by law.

Section 8. It is hereby determined and declared that the period of usefulness of said purpose, according to its reasonable life, is a period of five years computed from the date of completion thereof.

Section 9. It is hereby determined and stated that the Supplemental Debt Statement of said Township of Union, New Jersey, has been duly made and filed in the office of the Township Clerk of said Township, and that such statement so filed shows that the gross debt of said Township, as defined in Section 40A:2-2 of the Local Bond Law, is increased by this ordinance by $9,000.00 and that the issuance of the bonds or notes authorized by this ordinance will be within all debt limitations prescribed by said Local Bond Law.

Section 10. This ordinance shall take effect twenty days after the first publication thereof in a newspaper of general circulation in this Township, on Sept. 11, 1969 (Fee $38.16). EARLY COPY: Publicity chairmen are urged to observe the Friday deadline for other than spot news. Include your name, address and phone number.

Ask Amy

By

the lives of people you've never even met before.

Sex outside of marriage for your generation is acceptable as long as you don't get caught. What disturbs you so much is the fact that we are honest about it.

Diane in Detroit

Dear Diane:
I have never evaded an issue and I'll not start now!

No one in their right mind would compare a dog license to a marriage license, God didn't plan woman to conceive a child without man, but for a sex relationship to be meaningful, there must be the desire for decency and respectability, love... and license (the sense to live by God's laws and man's).

If a female makes her own rules, she will end up spent, empty and ill and bring heartache to those who love her and the generation she will bring into this world.

Guns, drugs and prostitution are also available. All you have to do is overlook a few laws. But who other than an emotionally ill person or a degenerate would stoop to such depths.

If you think my generation has hang-ups, they are nothing compared to what your generation has brought upon itself.

I invite you to sit behind my desk and read the mail that pours in every day. It's not only sad, it's sickening! Sure, you can write all the letters you want; mouth off about what irks you and enjoy (?) your illicit, irresponsible love making because you think the pill, like a crutch, will protect you... but let me put you wise to its shortcomings: In many women it has produced Phlebitis, migraine headaches, acne, overweight and blood clots, etc. Any girl who would put her health in jeopardy to participate in some motel room sex-making from which there are no rewards, probably deserves what she gets.

Dear Amy:
I wish to commend you for your stand on the "pill" for single girls. While it is true you may not be able to influence girls who have these immoral ideas, on Judgment Day; when the books are opened to your page, I am sure God will have written — "Amy Tried!"

Sincerely,
Mrs. R.H.H.

Adult School at Weequahic lists courses

Registration for the 64th consecutive term of the Weequahic Adult School will be held Sept. 16 and 18 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Weequahic High School, 279 Chancellor ave., Newark.

Among the new courses offered this term, which begins Sept. 23, is an expanded high school equivalency program Including courses in interpretation of reading materials in social studies and the natural sciences. Other new courses are record keeping for home and small businesses; review course for secretaries, dental assistant and receptionist; practical law for the informed citizen and small businessman; basic math for everyday living; effective public speaking; introduction to art, and dancing for today's music. The school meets on Tuesday evenings and continues until Dec. 9. The Weequahic Adult School is a cooperative project sponsored by the Newark Board of Education.

Upsala set for busy school year

Upsala College opens its fall semester today with academic and social activities that rank among the most ambitious in its 76-year history. The 1969-1970 school year will include the anticipated completion of the first unit of a $3 million college center, the introduction of a new curriculum for day and evening students, a lecture by a famous show business personality and the student presentation of a Broadway musical.

Some 1,400 day students, including 300 freshmen, have arrived at the East Orange campus in preparation for the formal opening of the term today. Approximately 70 per cent of the students are from New Jersey.

Evening sessions in the General Studies Division begin tonight with attendance expected to be over 50 per cent higher than last spring's semester of 400 students.

The college's evening operations have been reorganized into a new Division of General Studies which will make available greater opportunities for adults to pursue college level work.

Ground was broken last spring for the first unit of Upsala's new college center which will be a site for consolidation of many of the school's activities, now housed in various other buildings. The first unit, constructed at a cost of $1.6 million, will include several lounges and dining facilities for the entire student body. To follow is the construction of a second unit, at a cost of $1.4 million, which will include recreational facilities, a book store, offices for student organizations and additional dining accommodations.

Under the new curriculum, the normal student load requisite will be only four courses per semester instead of five. To graduate now, a student must pass 32 courses instead of 40, as heretofore.

While students will undertake fewer subjects per semester, they now will be afforded an opportunity to study their selected courses in greater depth, Dean Perkins said.

Outside the classroom, there will be much activity. Robert Montgomery, actor, director and producer, will give his views on television in a talk Oct. 8. The public is invited. "Workshop 90," the college's drama group, will present the hit revue "Guys and Dolls," on Nov. 6, 7 and 8 at the school theatre.

Occupational unit plans open house

The Occupational Center of Union County will celebrate its tenth anniversary next Wednesday with an open house at the center, 706 West Grand st., Elizabeth. The center will be open to the public from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 10 p.m. Visitors will be able to observe the different phases of the industrial rehabilitation program for handicapped young adults.

During its ten years in Elizabeth, the center has served thousands of persons. A satellite workshop at Berkeley Heights is a recent addition to the center's total program. The program is geared to enabling the handicapped individual become a productive member of society.

More than 200 trainees are serviced each day in the OCUC program. The center has placed in excess of 200 trainees in competitive employment.

College art gallery to open on Monday

The Bloomfield College Art Gallery will open the 1969-70 season with a one-man show by Helen Matteo Howes of Chatham from Monday through Sept. 26. A reception for the artist will be held Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

The gallery is open Mondays through Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Saturdays from 2 to 5 p.m. It is located in Westminster Hall at Franklin and Fremont streets.

The Howes show will open a series of nine monthly exhibitions ranging from one-man shows to group shows.

Helen Matteo Howes, a New Jersey-born artist, studied at Hardin Simmons University, Fairleigh Dickinson University, International Art Summer Seminars, with Tosun Bayrak of New York City, Mary Bayne Dugbird of Summit and Joachim Loeber of Westfield. She is an exhibiting artist at the Morristown Art-arama and a member of the Drew University Art Club. She has had shows at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Short Hills; Goldman Hotel,

Diesel school revs for debut

Engine City Technical Institute, Route 22, Union, opens Sept. 22 with a new approach to diesel instruction. The school reverses the previous ratio of classroom-to-shop instruction and concentrates on practical work experience.

ECTI, which has been approved by the New Jersey State Department of Education, is currently accepting applications. Operating out of a modern, two-story building,

New Hampshire House; West Essex Art Association; Chatham Trust Company; Summit YWCA; Sloane House, New York City, and Fairleigh Dickinson University Gallery.

ing, the school is offering a 75 week, 600-hour course which will concentrate on practical experience with engines, featuring a 2-1 ratio of shop activity to classroom theory. "This type of programming is designed to satisfy the specific needs of the engine industry," according to Vincent DiGiovanni, school director, "and to introduce the diesel field to ambitious young men who might otherwise turn elsewhere for a career."

A full range of highly technical diagnostic equipment has been acquired by the school. The institute is open to all high school graduates or applicants who have a high school equivalency certificate or who can demonstrate an interest in and aptitude for diesel engines.

Seton Hall gets grant

Seton Hall University has been awarded a grant of $42,279 by the U. S. Office of Education for the preparation of textbooks dealing with an introduction to literary Chinese, according to John A. Cole, director of institutional research.

The project will be under the direction of Fred Fangyu Wang, professor of Asian Studies, and is intended to fill a gap currently existing in Chinese language teaching when a student of Chinese makes the transition from modern spoken Chinese to literary Chinese.

The completed project will provide an introductory reader in literary Chinese with exercises designed to teach literary Chinese using spoken Chinese as the intermediary rather than English.

Exhibit scheduled by Chinese artist

An exhibit of paintings by Chang Dai-chien, who has been called the greatest contemporary Chinese artist, will be shown today through Oct. 12 at the New York Cultural Center (formerly the Gallery of Modern Art). The showing is comprised of some 60 works with themes closely akin to nature.

Chang Dai-chien, however, developed his own distinctive style, called "p'o sui" in which he gives expression to his own genius and the spirit of the age, over and above the mastery of the traditional Chinese art with which he was inculcated as a young student.

A war(ah choo)ning Bumper crop of ragweed

Ragweed is spreading much more mischief than usual this year. It is causing acute 'hay fever' suffering among an estimated quarter of a million persons in New Jersey who are allergic to its pollen.

Specialists at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, Rutgers University, say that abundant rainfall has encouraged a bumper crop of both common and giant ragweed.

Roadsides and vacant lots where the weeds flourish are sources of irritating pollen that causes such acute misery.

In spite of all the educational campaigns to reduce the ragweed crop in past years, many otherwise well-informed persons do not recognize ragweed. And so they do not destroy it.

New co-chairman elected by ICBO

The board of directors of the Interracial Council For Business Opportunity of New Jersey has announced the election of Don M. Thomas, president of Newark Chrysler Plymouth Inc., as co-chairman. He shares this position with Robert B. Meyner, former governor of New Jersey, and replaces Dr. Clifford C. Davis, chairman of the board of Riverton Laboratories, who is now president of the National I.C.B.O. organization.

Thomas is the first negro Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in the Eastern United States. The I.C.B.O. is a voluntary organization formed to help minority group members to organize their own businesses. Through the use of volunteers from the business community, applicants are given one-to-one counseling in a specific area of business. This service is provided free as well as aid in obtaining financial assistance and a business educational program.

John A. Meade, specialist in weed control at the college, says that common ragweed grows to five feet high. The stem is hairy and much branched. The leaves are only slightly hairy, strongly indented or parted, and mostly opposite on the stem and branches.

Giant ragweed, true to its name, grows as high as 15 feet. Stems are erect, rank, coarse, and hairy with many branches. The lower leaves are three-lobed or simple, or all one piece. Leaves are very hairy.

The inconspicuous flower parts at the tips of the branches look like little heads. They produce the light pollen that the wind can carry several miles.

Ragweed can be controlled by cutting, mowing, pulling or hoeing, as well as by spraying with 2, 4-D.

County agricultural agents offer a free leaflet, "Ragweed and Its Control." The Communications Center at the College of Agriculture, Rutgers, also will send it on request.

Tropical plant exhibit at flower show in N.Y.

Tropical plants from all parts of the world will be featured in the New York Botanical Garden's exhibit at the Oct. 2-7 Flower Show in Bryant Park. The tropical garden will occupy 500 square feet in the center of the Flower Show which will be entirely under canvas.

Since its incorporation in 1891 the Botanical Garden has presented more than 430 botanical expeditions.

Horticulturist Louis P. Politi, a perennial prize winner at the International Flower Show, has planned a dual exhibit which will face east and west with a rock wall in the center. Water will cascade down both sides into pools bordered by ferns, orchids and tropical foliage plants.

Hours will be 10:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Programs offered in basic education, equivalency class

Among the 91 courses offered this fall in the South Orange-Maplewood Adult School, Columbia High School, Maplewood, are free courses, federally supported, in adult basic education, and tuition high school equivalency courses.

Both these programs meet 7:50 to 10 on Monday and Thursday evenings. New candidates for these courses should register in person on Tuesday, Sept. 23, 8 to 9 p.m., at Columbia High School, where they will meet their counselors and be assigned to classes appropriate to their present needs. The classes start Monday, Sept. 29. Former basic education students should come on opening night, a school spokesman said.

Candidates for adult basic education may call John Kerrigan at 762-5600 between 3 and 4 p.m. daily if they need further information before registering. These classes are for native-born adults with less than a ninth grade schooling and for the foreign born with no or little knowledge of English. Candidates for high school equivalency must be 18 or over, have started but not finished high school, and have been out of school for at least a year. An application for this course is required and may be had upon request by calling 762-5600 between 10 and 11 a.m., or 1 and 3 p.m. Tuition for the course is $40.

Tiny Tim slated to appear at fair

Tiny Tim will appear at the 82nd New Jersey State Fair, to be held Sept. 12-21 in Trenton. He will entertain at two free grandstand shows on Ladies Day on Wednesday, Sept. 17, at 4 and 9 p.m.

Also appearing on Ladies Day will be Ed Harvey's House Party (gifts by Acme Stores) in the afternoon; two E.J. Korvette fashion shows; the Golden Knights U.S. parachuting team.

Think you're an eggshell Parking car safely not simple Legally parked is not enough, warns the Institute for Safer Living. The question to answer is -- are you parked safely?

A defensive driver never relies upon the correct and skillful action of others in safeguarding his own vehicle from damage. He had to look ahead so that he won't become involved as a part of somebody else's error.

According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, if your car was an egg -- or your head was where your bumper is -- it is quite probable that you'd quickly acquire a space-age concept as to where and how you parked your vehicle. Which would be most important then, the fact that you were parked correctly within the yellow lines, in accordance with the letter of the law, or that you had enough space cushion around you to make the skillful action of adjacent vehicle drivers less important as a factor of your own safety?

The action of a driver who parks his vehicle across the street from somebody's driveway, parks in back of docked vehicles or cars parks diagonally at a curb, just doesn't compute with concepts of defensive driving. Neither do the actions of the driver who parks his vehicle on a grade, illegally, without using wheel blocks, setting his brakes or turning his wheels into the road edge downhill or away from the road edge uphill.

Lack of foresight and good judgment are also evident in the actions of the driver who legally parks his vehicle close to a blind intersection, adjacent to construction equipment or a building undergoing repair. Defensive drivers continuously analyze their surroundings, recognize the development of potential hazards and always seek a safer alternative to the acceptance of a known risk.

Hadassah opening fall season with a meeting on Monday

The Westfield Chapter of Hadassah will open the fall season with a general meeting on Monday at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Warren Eisenberg, 880 Pennsylvania ave., Westfield. The chapter embraces Mountain-side, Scotch Plains and Westfield, Mrs. Peter Fleischmann is president. Mrs. Arthur Sommerfeld, program vice-president, has announced that the program for this meeting is a script depicting the meaning of Hadassah and its ties with Israel. It is entitled "Identity: Hadassah; Focus: Israel." The program has been adapted by Mrs. Sommerfeld, and will be narrated by Mrs. Henry Arkus and Mrs. Herbert Seidel of Mountain-side. Women interested in joining Hadassah but unable to attend this meeting may call Mrs. Gilbert Silver, membership vice-president at 233-5408.

The play, "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" will be the first social event of the fall season to include husbands and wives. Seats have been reserved at the Paper Mill Playhouse for Sunday evening, Oct. 5. The theater party will be rounded off with a social hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Seidel, 364 Longview dr., Mountain-side. Reservations can be made with Mrs. Laurence Ford, fund-raising vice-president, 233-6531, or by calling any member of Hadassah.

Miss Goelz plans Nov. 29 wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Jules Christian Goelz of Kendall Park have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marcia Cornelia, to John Robert Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson Moore of 75 Lyons pl., Springfield.

The bride-to-be graduated from the Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University, where she was elected to Theta Sigma Phi and Kappa Tau Alpha honorary societies. She received her master's degree in journalism from Columbia University, and is a field editor with Lehman-Friedman Publications in New York.

The prospective bridegroom, a member of the class of 1963 at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, graduated with a major in economics from Cornell University, where he was secretary of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and a member of the Glee Club. At a Graduate School of Business at Columbia University, Mr. Moore was on the rugby team and was president of the Accounting Association. He received his MBA degree and is on the audit staff of Arthur Young and Company in New York. He is a member of the Cornell Club of New York.

Talk on housing to be presented

Aileen Cavanagh of the Department of Community Affairs of the State of New Jersey will be guest speaker at the opening meeting of the League of Women Voters of Westfield Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Woman's Club, 308 South Euclid ave., Westfield.

Miss Cavanagh will discuss various ways communities have attempted to solve housing problems. She will point out why some have worked and some have not and there will be an opportunity for questions and discussion.

Mrs. John Thatcher, president will present the officers and committee chairmen for 1969-70. These include the following Mountain-side women: Mrs. Martin Simon, bulletin; Mrs. Robert Britton, membership; Mrs. Harry Nash, elementary, secondary and higher education.

Guests are welcome, and they should call Mrs. Britton before the meeting, the statement added.

Women's group to hold luncheon, fashion show

The Springfield Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will hold a reception for new residents of the township and other interested women at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in Temple Shalom.

Mrs. Sidney Piller, president, said the program will include a dessert luncheon and a designer fashion show. Plans for the event were made at the first fall meeting held recently.

Duplicate Bridge Club names recent winners

The Mountain-side Couples Duplicate Bridge Club, which plays at the Westfield Y.M.C.A. on the first Friday of each month at 8:30, has announced the winners for September. They are: North-South, Kim and John Halkowich, East-West, Lois and Gene Martin. The group invites interested couples to attend the next session or call the Martins between 6 and 8 p.m. at 322-4425.

Local resident begins study for pilot training

Douglas A. Charty of 1091 Sunny Slope dr., Mountain-side has been accepted for admission and training as a professional pilot at the Aerospace Technical Institute, Melbourne, Fla., an affiliate of the Florida Institute of Technology.

Charity will begin his training this month and will combine regular college study with pilot training for the Federal Aviation Administration license for commercial pilot.

MRS. FRANCIS MONTEMURO Carol A. Parker, F. P. Montemurno married Saturday

Carol A. Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Parker of 1114 Maple court, Mountainside, was married to Francis Paul Montem-urno Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Montemurno of Parsippany, Saturday at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside. The Rev. Raymond Amack celebrated the nuptial mass.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Far Hills Inn, Somerville.

The maid of honor was Roberta Montemurno, sister of the groom. Bridesmaids were Carol Walter, Louise Montemurno and Mrs. Elizabeth Pinkowsky.

Robert Montemurno, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were George Voget,
Tom Mautone and John Gaudioso.

The bride is a nurse at Orange Memorial Hospital. She graduated in June from the hospital's nursing school.

Miss Keller wed to Ronald Givens Saturday morning

MRS. RONALD D. GIVENS

Miss Elizabeth Ann Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Keller Jr. of 85 Meisel ave., Springfield, was married Saturday to Ronald D. Givens Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs.
Ronald D. Givens of Kearny.

The Rev. Edward Oehling officiated at the nuptial mass at St. James Church, Springfield.
A reception followed at the Rock Spring Inn.
Bernadette Keller, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Leslie Keller of Roselle, sister-in-law of the bride, and Sandra Grossa of Orange were bridesmaids.

Walter McNicholas of North Arlington was best man. George Keller of Roselle, the bride's brother, and William McDonough of North Arlington were ushers.

Mrs. Keller, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, is employed by the Prudential Insurance Company in Maplewood. Her husband, a graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, is employed by the brokerage firm of E. F. Hutton. He served for two years with the U.S. Army.

Following a honeymoon to Bermuda, the couple will reside in North Arlington.

District chairmen to attend workshop

District chairmen of American home departments of the Northern Area clubs of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs will attend a briefing seminar and workshop today at the home of Mrs. Richard W. Kapke of Mountainide, northern vice-chairman, Mrs.
Edward C. Preston, state chairman, will attend and promote the fashion designs for the hand-capped contest sponsored by the General
Federation of Women's Clubs and co-sponsored by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

The home life department focus this year will be "State of the Family" keeping up to date on such questions as: What is the family like today? What are some of the changes that will help shape families of the future?
The program outlines some of the broad changes affecting families today, the technological changes which are going to make a difference to women as homemakers and as club women and the implications of those changes for clubs and club members.

Presbyterian Ladies will hear of Basking Ridge 'service desk'

Helping hands, not across the sea but within the community, will be the theme of the opening meeting of the Ladies' Evening Group of the Springfield Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening at 8:15 in the Presbyterian Parish House.

Two members of the Presbyterian Church in Basking Ridge, Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan and Mrs. Robert Mann, will explain the work of the Christian Commitment Corps (more informally known as the "service desk") within that church. Since 1966 this group has more or less coordinated all of the volunteer work available within the community.

Prime among their objectives is the manning of a special telephone to cope with help needed in any type of emergency, whether it be family counseling, psychiatric care, legal aid or assistance in finding a nursing home. In addition, volunteer work in hospitals, in the church office, through the Red Cross and other agencies, is carried out. As Mrs. Sullivan stated,
"In other words, where a need exists, information and assistance are available through the "service desk."

Local garden club presents program on terrariums

Mountainide Garden Club's first regular meeting of the 1969-70 season will be a program on "Terrariums" to be given by Mrs.
Frank Hammond at the home of Mrs. Roy T.
Forsberg, 4 Breeze Knoll dr., Westfield, on Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Hammond, a professional with her own terrarium business each fall season, has written on the subject in the Brooklyn Botanic Handbook. She is an honorary member of both the Garden Club of Mountain Lakes and the Rockaway Valley Garden Club. She is director of the Wild Flower Trail in the Tourney Park of Bonton, and the Harvard
Herbarium has credited her with having discovered a new wild flower.

Assisting Mrs. Forsberg as hostesses will be Mrs. George A. Lewis and Mrs. Curtis
G. Eves, and pouring at tea will be Mrs.
Samuel M. Kinney and Mrs. Frank H. Whitaker.
Mrs. Fred E. Rosenstiel, president, will welcome Mrs. Robert Rullison of Rahway as a new member.

4 on Caldwell staff will address PTA

The first meeting of the James Caldwell PTA of Springfield will take place on Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Caldwell School auditorium. It was announced by Mrs. John Dysart, PTA president.

Featured will be a program entitled "The Most Important Reading." Mrs. Robert Powers, principal, will present four speakers from the Caldwell faculty, Mrs. Paula Eisen, Mrs. Shirley Kurnos, Mrs. Mary Lou Volkman and Fred Natfali, who will discuss the reading programs used at Caldwell School.

A reception for the teachers will follow, and parents will have an opportunity to meet informally with the staff of the school.

Fiber glass draperies resistant to sun damage

Fiber glass is a favorite material for draperies and curtains, says Carolyn F. Yukus, Senior County Home economist. One of the most important properties of fiber glass is that it is resistant to sun damage.

Along with resistance to sun fading and deterioration, other important features are that fiber glass will not shrink, is not affected by mildew or moths, and is easy to care for, does not wrinkle, and is fire resistant.

Although improvement has been made in the production of fiber glass, it must be remembered that this fiber cannot withstand excessive abrasion. Constant rubbing will cause the fiber to split. Care of fiber glass is generally easy if some different techniques are used. First of all, it must be realized that fiber glass fiber is non-absorptive. Therefore, dust and dirt do not actually penetrate the fiber. This feature means that fiber glass draperies can be restored to freshness if aired or vacuum cleaned before they become too soiled.

When washing becomes necessary, fiber glass should be washed with detergent and water. It should never be dry cleaned. Depending upon the size of draperies or curtains, the best method of washing is either in laundry tubs or a bath tub. A short soaking period and thorough rinsing is about all that is needed to remove the surface dirt.

Fiber glass does not need, nor should it be pressed. Hems may be straightened while curtains or draperies are still damp.

Under no circumstances should fiber glass be washed with other fabrics. Fiber glass "lints off" like any other fabric, and actually small slivers of glass become imbedded into other fabrics, and the result is a disastrous itching. This means that other garments washed with fiber glass are totally unwearable.

Even when hanging fiber glass draperies or curtains, it is wise to wear a long sleeved blouse to protect the arms from the lint.

Livingston College open

Educational experiment begins

About 700 young men and women will attend their first classes at Livingston College of Rutgers today knowing they are pioneers in an educational experiment which may help shape the future of higher education.

They are pioneers in tangible ways—the first class in a new liberal arts college, enrolled in a curriculum which is innovative and living and studying in facilities which are not yet completely finished.

But more important, they are pioneers in discovering whether it is possible to design a substantially new relationship between students and their college. They will have far more freedom than has been the usual pattern, and great responsibility for ensuring that their education is personally meaningful.

"When we began planning for the college four years ago," explains Dean Ernest A. Lynton, "we consciously set out to remedy some conditions which then were just beginning to cause student unrest. We felt that students wanted and deserved a much larger role in setting the policies under which they live."

REFLECTING THIS VIEW, Livingston students will be represented on all policy committees of the college and will be able to determine their own dormitory regulations. They also will have voting rights on the college assembly which incorporates students, faculty and administrators into one legislative body. "We hope to see the development of a close relationship between students and faculty," Dr. Lynton explains. "In fact, the success of the college will hinge crucially upon the ability of the faculty to provide an extraordinary kind of guidance and intellectual stimulation."

Among the Livingston faculty are many scholars of outstanding reputation. Such men as psychologist Silvan S. Tomkins, who holds a lifetime career award for research from the National Institutes for Mental Health, anthropologists Roy D'Andrade, Robin Fox and Lionel Tiger, historian Gerald Grob, Victorian literature specialist George Levine and sociologist Irving L. Horowitz are members of the Livingston faculty.

Horowitz is also the editor of "Transaction" magazine, one of the nation's largest circulation social science publications, which has moved its entire editorial operation to Livingston College.

The existence of the magazine as an integral part of the Livingston campus reflects the new school's philosophy that the college must extend the traditional campus boundaries.

"We hope to involve our students with the community, and bring the community into Livingston College, in a whole range of new ways," Dean Lynton says. The college will place heavy emphasis on urban affairs in its curriculum through its Division of Urban Studies and Community Development headed by Dr. Lawrence D. Mann.

"After the years of planning, it is vastly exciting to see Livingston College open," Dr. Lynton sums up. "We will be trying out many new ideas, not all of which will be viable. But the characteristic of the college is going to be that it is willing to attempt new educational ideas and forms and to test whether they work."

CHIEF SCHOOL OFFICER
The commissioner of education is the chief state school officer. He is appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the state senate, for a term of five years.

MV stations on winter hours

Beginning Monday, Sept. 15, the winter hours of the state's motor vehicle inspection stations go into effect. The stations will be open Tuesday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

However, some stations will be open for a six-day week from Monday through Saturday. Local stations open six days a week are Rahway, Perth Amboy, Union, Westfield, North Brunswick, Plainfield and Highland Park.

All stations will remain open to 9 p.m. on their regularly assigned nights. Owners of commercial vehicles are urged by the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, June Strelecki, to have their vehicles inspected at the earliest practicable date to avoid the December deadline. The division of Motor Vehicles suggests the second and third week of each month for these inspections because the waiting time is at a minimum during these periods.

Besides the local stations listed, other motor vehicle inspection stations which will be opened six-days a week are Atco, Camden, Eatontown, Freehold, Hackensack, Livingston, Lodi, Morristown, Mount Holly, Newark, Newton, Paramus, Ridgewood, Rutherford, Saddle Brook, Somerville, Toms River, Trenton and Wayne.

"The big thing about Gas Heat for us is that there are never any fuel deliveries to worry about."

Says Mr. John West Paterson, New Jersey

Modern Gas Heat has lots of advantages over ordinary fuels. A big one, which Mr. John West of Paterson finds very important, is the peace of mind you get from not having to worry about fuel delivery trucks getting through in bad weather...or running short of fuel. Gas is always there the instant you need it. It's piped to you underground in all kinds of weather. There are no bulky fuel storage tanks or bins to take up precious living space either. Be wise. Convert now to clean, quiet, economical Gas Heat. Call your plumbing contractor, heating installer or Public Service for a FREE heating survey of your home. Then get rid of heating worries by converting to reliable Gas Heat.

Williams asks care with new guidelines for urban renewal

WASHINGTON. — U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-N.J.), in a telegram urged Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George W. Romney not to make any changes in urban renewal program guidelines which could cause "substantial hardship" to communities which have already committed themselves to renewal programs.

The senator said he recognized the desirability of upgrading guidelines but warned against the imposition of standards which would harm local renewal projects.

Changes in the guidelines are being considered by HUD and the Bureau of the Budget. The text of the telegram is:

"I understand that you are considering changes in the guidelines for federally-assisted urban redevelopment programs, including the Neighborhood Development Program. One change reportedly being considered is a 20-acre size limitation on all NDP projects. Much of the redevelopment work underway or planned falls under the Neighborhood Development Program. Many of the programs exceed 20 acres in size. I have been informed by local planning officials that the limitation could have serious repercussions on urban redevelopment in New Jersey.

"Therefore, I would like immediately information on just what changes are planned."

A WEEKLY FEATURE

PEOPLE, PLACES, THINGS

By JOE BELFORD

EVERY SUNDAY during the football season millions and millions of fans from coast to coast, watch football in the stadiums, or in the comfort of their homes. During recent years the kick (or foot) has come back in football, and the Gogolak Brothers, and others have made kicking their specialty.

Is this New?...Not to James Hexall, Mark Payne, or Albert Braga...

Who were they?
James Hexall kicked the longest field goal ever recorded in collegiate play...65 yards, back in 1882.

MARK PAYNE?... All this gentleman did, playing for Dakota Wesleyan in 1915 was to DROP KICK a field goal of 63 yards... and Albert Braga?...Albert played for San Francisco, and in 1937 he really put up a kick...He punted the football 89 yards in the air. These three men really put the foot in football and their records are not likely to be forgotten.

NSC picks three new profs for executive faculty posts

Newark State College, Union, takes on an international aspect as a result of three new faculty members entering executive positions at the college this month. The three are: Dr. Louis Nagy, newly appointed head librarian, Dr. Fedor Kabalin, chairman of the music department, and Dr. Cayetano Socarras, chairman of the modern languages department.

Dr. Nagy was born in Hungary, received his bachelor of arts degree from the College of the Hungarian Reformed Church in Budapest in 1934, and in 1937 earned a divinity degree there. From Hungary, he studied at St. Andrew's University in Scotland and in 1939 received his master of theology degree.

Returning to Budapest he resumed his studies at the Peter Panzamy University, and in 1943 received his doctor of philosophy degree. From 1939 through 1946 he served as an instructor at the Budapest Junior College and simultaneously served as the assistant pastor of the Church of Scotland Mission to the Jews in Budapest.

In 1946 Dr. Nagy again left Hungary for England, serving for two years in London as the First Secretary of the Hungarian Embassy. In 1948 he became pastor of the Hungarian Reformed Church in London, and during that time served as a free-lance contributor to the British Broadcasting Company.

In 1950 he became pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Niles, Ohio, moving east and returning to school. Dr. Nagy earned a master of library science degree from Columbia University. He has worked as a reference librarian in the New York Public Library and at the Columbia University Library. Before his appointment as head librarian at Newark State, Dr. Nagy was the associate librarian of the New York Theological Seminary. Dr. Nagy presently lives with his wife in New York.

DR. KABALIN, conductor of the Midland Symphony Orchestra and composer-in-residence at Delta College, joins the faculty of the college as the chairman of the music department.

Born in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, he received a master of music degree from the Music Academy of Vienna. He later earned an additional master of music degree from the Eastman School of Music in Rochester.

During the World War II Dr. Kabalin served as a civilian employe of the United States Army. After the war he became an instructor of music at the Catholic University of Santiago, Chile, and at the St. Augustine Seminary in Santiago, From Chile, he assumed the post of music department chairman at the Margaret Hall School in Versailles, Ky. He then became the director of the rehearsal department of the San Francisco Opera, and chairman of the music department of the Music and Arts Institute in San Francisco.

Dr. Kabalin conducted the Detroit Symphony, guest-conducted the Chilton Symphony Orchestra, and has conducted sound track recordings for film studios. He also appeared as composer-conductor in Carmel, Calif., Rochester, N.Y., and with the Chicago Chamber Orchestra. He has instructed master classes in conducting with the Peninsula Festival Orchestra, the Florida State University Orchestra and with the Oakland University Orchestra at the Meadow Brook Festival.

His musical compositions have been performed in Europe, South America and in the United States by the Zagreb Philharmonic and the Detroit, Louisville and Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestras. Dr. Kabalin has received many musical awards and favorable critical acclaim from leading musicians for his "Reflections for Orchestra." He has also published and performed his "Divertimento for Wind Septet" and "Poems and Rhythms for Viola and Piano." As a writer he has contributed to the "Opera News" and "Musical America" magazines. He was a music critic for a Zagreb newspaper, a correspondent of the Chilean Weekly "Pro Arte," and had a weekly music column in the "Midland Daily News."

A citizen of the United States, married and the father of two daughters, Dr. Kabalin is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, the national music honor society, and of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the national music fraternity. He is also a member of Mensa, an organization which has as its prerequisite for membership a near genius IQ. He has been listed in Who's Who in the East and Midwest, The Music Encyclopedia, and the Dictionary of International Biography.

ADDING TO THE international aspect of the new faculty members at Newark State is Dr. Socarras, the chairman of the modern languages department at the college. Born in Cuba, he earned a pre-law degree from the Institute del Vedada in Havana, in 1944 he earned a doctor of laws degree from the University of Havana, later earning his professional licenses in diplomacy and public administration from the university in 1952.

Navy Reserve exams Dec. 13

The Navy has announced that the 24th annual national competitive examination for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) will be given on Dec. 13.

The Regular NROTC Program prepares a young man for a Navy or Marine Corps commission while he is studying at one of the many civilian colleges and universities where NROTC Units are established. All tuition, fees, uniforms and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives $50 per month subsistence pay for not more than four years.

During the summers between academic years, the student participates in at-sea training periods as a midshipman. After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course and all military requirements, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps.

Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before Nov. 14. Application forms are available from high school counselors, the nearest Navy Recruiting Station which is listed in your telephone directory, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington, D.C. 20370.

We don't have to start from scratch each year.

We've been making the same basic VW for so long now, you'd think we'd be bored with the whole thing. But the fact is, we're still learning. For no matter how perfect we think one year's model is, there's always an engineer who wants to make it more perfect. You see, at the Volkswagen factory we spend 100% of our time making our car work better and 0% making it look better. Any change is an improvement. And when we do make new parts we try to make them fit older models: So there's nothing to stop Volkswagen from running forever. (Which may explain why Volkswagens are worth so much at trade-in time.) Starting from scratch each year can get in the way of all that. Just when they've ironed out the kinks in the current model, they have to face the kinks in the next. We'll never understand all the hoopla over the "big changes" for next year's models. Weren't they proud of this year's?

NSC approves majors in sociology, economics

At a recent meeting of the Newark State College board of trustees, chairman John Kean announced the approval in principle of the creation of two undergraduate majors at the college, one in economics and one in sociology. The economics major gives the student an opportunity to acquire academic background in the operation of business, industry or in national and international organizations. Designed to provide for the successful operation, ownership or control of a business, courses are offered in money and banking, intermediate price analysis, economics and employment, and descriptive statistics. Electives include public finance, government and business, labor economics, business cycle theory, history of economic thought, economic development, comparative economic systems, urban and regional economics, international economics and introductory econometrics. Both the growing role of Newark State College in urban affairs and a pending major in urban studies at the college will benefit from the new sociology major offered in the liberal arts program. It has proven to be one of the most popular majors at colleges and universities throughout the nation. Course work in sociology has been offered at Newark State for more than thirty years, but according to Dr. John Hutchinson, a professor of sociology at the college, "professional programs that are designed to meet the challenges of the cities need the kind of understanding that come through the formal study of sociology." The training a sociology major receives can serve as preparation for government positions, business or industry, and as a background for the study of law. Specialized course offerings in industrial sociology, the subculture of poverty, urban sociology, crime and delinquency and other required courses in sociology and research form the basic course of study. According to Dr. Nathan Weiss, acting president of Newark State, "the addition of the economics and sociology majors expand the multipurpose function of the college, and add measurably the services the college can render to the community." Both economics and sociology majors will become effective at the beginning of the 1970-1971 academic year.

Rail Bus returns Rolls in Morris Co.

Who says the Rail Bus is a brand new concept of mass transit? We had one in 1908! Back in the days of the "Peanut Roaster" and the advent of the Horseless Carriage, the Morristown & Erie introduced what looked like a school bus on iron wheels. And for the doubter, the Rail Bus that faded out in 1928 was back last week on iron wheels, causing kids to cheer and parents to sigh. The two-ton, 19-passenger Rail Bus chugged visitors along at the lightning speed of 20 miles per hour as it rolled from Whippany past the river and back on a three-mile run. The trip started at the Morristown & Erie Railroad Station, Whippany Road and Route 10.

At the controls was Earl Gil, president of the Morris County Central Railroad, which runs steam excursion trips from Whippany to Roseland every weekend until Nov. 2. The railroad has recreated a complete reminiscence of the era of the Iron Horse, when railroads were used not only for long distance travel, but for transportation between adjoining towns as well. Gil, who lives in Parsippany, was in charge of restoring the Rail Bus. "We'll be operating on schedule every weekend in between our regular steam excursions, or every half hour," he said. The bus made its last run in 1928, when the bus body was taken off back in the remaining deck used as a trailer with a crane on it, Gil explained. The Morris County Central Railroad bought the frame from the Morristown & Erie, then purchased a 1925 fire truck from Frank Tarzian of East Hanover, said Gil. "We bought the bus body at a local salvage yard and put it all together. It runs on a four-cylinder gasoline engine and has a bell and headlights."

Gil built a turntable under the body that drops to the tracks, hoists the bus, and allows it to turn completely around to go back in the other direction. The turntable will be used every weekend on the regular run. "In the old days there was a turntable right on the tracks," said Gil. The Rail Bus is 20 ft. long, eight ft. wide, and 10 ft. high. The steam excursion along the Whippany Trail features old fashioned wood paneled coaches; one of the oldest steam locomotives still in operation — a 1907 engine built by Baldwin for the Southern Railway; a special open flat car; Jersey Central Business Car; hand pump section car, and for the kids a little red caboose.

There is also a complete Museum of Railroadiana. Says the Morris County Central Railroad's brochure: "The train is not a miniature, a replica, nor a reconstruction; rather, it receives a passenger service that actually did run over this route until 1928." Rain or shine, September to Nov. 2, the Rail Bus and its parent steam locomotive will

Jobs open for trainees

The Interagency Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners for New Jersey has announced an examination for worker trainees. The pay for the jobs to be filled ranges from $2.48 to $2.97 per hour. No written test is required. For those positions requiring no experience, applicants will be rated on willingness to do the kind of work assigned; for those higher level jobs requiring some experience, applicants will be rated according to past work history. Work may be marking and stacking clothes in a laundry; assisting in cafeteria work; filing papers; cleaning offices; dusting furniture and sweeping floors; delivering messages and mail in an office.

Interested persons should obtain an application form for worker trainee from the Federal Job Information Center, Room 134, 970 Broad St., Newark, 07102, or a main post office.

Children's Aid plans fund event

Plans for the second annual fund-raising event in behalf of youngsters served by the Children's Aid and Adoption Society of New Jersey, were discussed at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. William K. Hutchinson of Short Hills, Mrs. John F. Muller Jr., chairman, and Mrs. Hutchinson, co-chairman, announced that the Governor Morris Inn in Morristown has been selected as the site for the event to be held Sunday, Oct. 19. Committee chairmen include Mrs. Ronald Heyman of 35 Ackerman ave., Mountainside, Invitations.
