Community Fund to launch annual campaign

Goal is set at $27,300 for this year

All areas to be visited from Oct. 23 to Nov. 7

All residents, businesses and industries will be asked to contribute to the Mountainide Community Fund, which will hold its annual fund-raising campaign from Oct. 23 through Nov. 7 to reach this year's goal of $27,300, according to Henry H. Zibbro, chairman.

The fund is an amalgamation of the fund-raising campaigns of 10 participating agencies. They include the Mountainide Rescue Squad, the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, the Watchung Area Council Boy Scouts, the Youth Employment Service, the United Services Organization, the Union County Psychiatric Center, the Youth and Family Counseling Service, the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, Mental Health Association and Visiting Nurse and Health Service.

Zibbro said these agencies provide a variety of services to the people of Mountainide and Union County.

The Mountainide Rescue Squad provides round-the-clock services for emergencies and accidents, and transportation to and from hospitals—for those who have no other special equipment of an ambulance.

The Youth Employment Service is an employment service staffed by volunteers to help youngsters find part-time employment to fill the "many necessary and unusual job openings in home and local businesses."

"The Washington Rock Girl Scout Council and Watchung Area Boy Scout Council of America involve about 100 young people from age 7 through 17 who participate in the various educational and recreational programs in town.

"The United Services Organization looks out for the spiritual, morale and welfare needs of our men and women in uniform at home and abroad.

"The Union County Psychiatric Center provides testing, consultation, evaluation and treatment for children and adults with psychiatric problems.

"The Mental Health Association of Union County Inc. maintains the Willow School for severely emotionally disturbed children, and Bridgeway House, with programs for rehabilitation, after-care, and specialization for county residents who have undergone treatment for mental disorders. The association spends much time and effort in counseling the public and maintains a referral service as a guide for those seeking help as well.

"Visiting Nurse and Health Services brings bedside nursing, special treatments, rehabilitation, baby care, education and instruction.

Board appoints Merachnik

Donald Merachnik was named superintendent of schools of the Union County Regional High School District by a unanimous vote of the Regional Board of Education Tuesday night at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Dr. Merachnik, 42, had been acting superintendent since August, when Dr. Warren M. Davis left the post to become associate professor of education at Lehigh University.

In other business, the board voted to authorize preparation of a lease for some 2,000 square feet of office space in the Keyes Martin Building on Mountain Avenue, Springfield, for an annual rental of $15,000.

The offices, expected to be occupied within 90 days, will house the superintendent and top administrators of the district. This will make available for classroom use the board offices at Dayton Regional. Dayton is now overcrowded, and the pressure will increase over the next several years, during construction of new facilities at Dayton and at other Regional schools.

FOLLOWING APPOINTMENT of Dr. Merachnik, Dr. Fred Hagedorn, board president, issued the following statement:

"In selecting Dr. Donald Merachnik to be superintendent of schools, the Regional Board of Education is confident of his success. Dr. Merachnik's talents, leadership, and dedication to fulfillment of educational opportunity for each child have long been recognized within the Regional District. The board believes that these and the many other outstanding characteristics which Dr. Merachnik's caliber and capabilities to serve as acting superintendent while the board evaluated applications from more than 100 candidates for the superintendency.

"As has been previously announced, the board did not doubt in favor of one of three candidates. But it would not have been possible to make a permanent appointment to the superintendency.

"Among the more important factors which entered into the board's decision were Dr. Merachnik's diverse and extensive experience, his first-class performance in his previous assignments, his demonstrated leadership and his detailed knowledge of the Regional District. The board believes that these and the many other outstanding characteristics which Dr. Merachnik's caliber and capabilities to serve as acting

Suckno reviews civic activities of Ricciardi, Geiger and Cullen

In a recent gathering of Mountainide citizens interested in assuring the continuance of good local government, Albe Suckno, campaign manager for incumbent Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, and Republican Borough Council candidates Bruce Geiger and William Cullen, reviewed the many civic and social activities of the candidates.

Speaking at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hochman, Suckno pointed out the "importance of a past record of involvement in community affairs in better equipping those in office to be aware of the pulse of the people. Cullen, who for the severance has resided in Mountainide has been actively a part of Boy Scout Troop No. 177, the Mountainide Little League, and the 1890 Community Fund Drive, stated, "My experience while working with these representative groups, including work with the Citizens to Preserve Mountainide committee, has provided me with an insight

Loftus urges dose of new leadership in attack on GOP

"Mountainide needs a 'dose' of administration in the '70s instead of the '60s' present administration," Thomas P. Loftus, Democratic candidate for mayor, said in addressing the Democratic Club at its home on Tuesday at the Tower Steak House.

Local 126 to hold annual dance Saturday

Edward G. Reisdorf — PROFILE — Bruce A. Geiger

Edward Gary Reisdorf, Democratic candidate for the Mountainide Borough Council, said he is worried about the leadership crisis in the Union County.

He commented, "One of the main reasons I entered politics is because I'm very concerned about the leadership crisis facing this country. There is either an unwillingness, or perhaps an inability, of our political leaders to exercise the responsibilities of their office."

Reisdorf stated that he believes we need leaders at every level of our society who will exercise a renewed interest in politics. He added that youths have "turned off" politics because most of the politicians have failed to protect the sincerity and dedication that is expected of men in their offices.

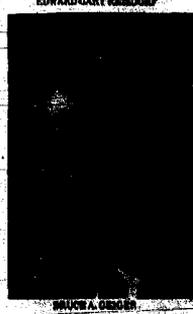

EDWARD GARY REISDORF

Bruce A. Geiger says he believes strongly in serving the community. This is why, he is seeking a seat on the Borough Council as a Republican.

He explained, "I believe that every person in our society should be interested in our government and in the betterment of our community in a constructive manner. We are fortunate to have an excellent local government in Mountainide and my desire is to preserve the representative leadership that will bring a community that adds to the joy of living."

"I think Mountainide has turned out to be a very solid residential community. This has helped during the Republican inaction. The GOP candidate will not have to be down town through the past 7-year period that the borough has existed here in full production."

Membership drive by PTA to be held during this month

This month has been designated as PTA membership month and to begin its membership drive, Lois Allen, Mountaineer PTA membership chairman, has announced that letters will be given to all parents, teachers and principals inviting them to join the PTA.

A spokesman said, "Although some communities have increased their membership dues, the Mountaineer PTA dues remain at 30 cents per individual and $1 per family. Of this amount 25 cents must be sent to the state organization. The balance of the membership dues consists of a profit from the annual PTA fair, is used by the local PTA for such purposes as college scholarships, summer school scholarships, music programs for school assemblies, speakers for general PTA meetings, parent and family committee discussions, the printing of the PTA handbook which is given to every family with school age children and the printing of the PTA newspaper."

"The goal of the Mountaineer PTA is to enroll 100 percent of the parents, principals, teachers and other citizens interested in the education and welfare of the children of Mountaineer. Emphasis is placed on those classes achieving 100 percent membership. Therefore, parents are urged to join PTA and to help their child to participate in its activities for the coming year."

Dr. Lorber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lorber of 361 Racoon Hollow, Mountaineer, was elected vice-president of the freshman class of Mountaineer High School. He is a history major and a starting fullback on the college's soccer team.

THIS WEEK'S HEALTH NEWS

By FRED GREENBERG, R.P.

There are some who still preserve the old ways about accidents. "You will not sick the following year if you dip your head in the ocean on January 1." That is a sample of one of these myths. "A baby will not grow if a hat is placed upon his head before he is a year old" is another example of these superstitions preserved by many people and handed from one generation to another. Of course, the only intelligent way to handle these myths is to use your common sense, and then, if still in doubt, ask your doctor.

our present mayor expressed concern over the road of reconstruction that has been followed in the past. This was not a new problem but was brought out from hiding three years ago by the Democrats and their campaign and has continued to rise to the present level. The basis for the concealment of the fact three years ago was to give our town a bad image and may invite more robberies. Obviously that tactic didn't succeed. "I was saying 'A good piece in the best defense,' applies to leadership of this community. In similar circumstances, I would make as dramatic attempt to educate the community, show residents how to make their homes safer without spending a great deal of money by installing burglar alarms. I would work to promote a partnership with the police and residents to work together to reduce the breaking and entry. "This could be accomplished by a crime prevention unit going door to door canvassing around and organizing block conferences where police and citizens can deal with the problem on a neighborhood basis. The community has to be involved and we have to get the police and the people together on the solution. The police cannot do it alone, they need co-operation." Loftus continued, "People look to the mayor for help and leadership and the answer that he is a victim isn't an education to the citizens. Residents wanting to see if they will be next on the list." Loftus called for a town meeting on security to educate the citizens to need for crime prevention, he said. "Publish the facts come up with a plan and work to eliminate the problem with a partnership of the police and the citizens." He said that in his door-to-door campaigning he learned that a major priority on everyone's list is the environment and what Mountainide is doing about it. He said, "I was appalled by a recent report in a question by one of our residents at the last Borough Council meeting setting it the town was going to do anything about collecting solid waste and bringing it to a central point. The resident was told that the 'blue-down' had investigated the possibility of recycling programs with other neighboring towns and that it was not successful. "I don't believe," Loftus said, "that any environmentalist suggests that recycling is the only answer to the pollution problem or that it is the only means to control the problem, but it is one step closer to keeping Mountainide clean for years to come. Just this week we talked to Mrs. Weinstock from Scotch Plains who heads up the recycling program in their community. "It has been successful due to the efforts of teenagers, sub-teens, mothers and grandmothers and actually makes money! I would foster individual initiative of this kind and support it where it is possible. If the administration takes a positive approach to our environment there won't be one to worry about." Loftus continued, "Whenever our citizens generally meet with ridicule and intimidation, particularly if they come from Democrats. Of hailback Tom Quilan and fullback Rudy Rouan, gained considerable yardage during the defense. Their running combined with the passing and running of quarterback Gary Adams, provided the offense for the Highlanders. The Highlanders offense, led by quarterback Tom Corigan, worked well at times. Corigan connected with receivers Jeff Kelly, Bruce Hoescher and Rich Wood for occasional gains but running attacks failed. Depending almost entirely upon the passing of Corigan, G.I. could mount only one scoring drive. This drive, generated by pass completion by Corigan, ended in a 25-yard touchdown pass from Corigan to Wood in the second quarter, making the score 16-0. G.I. regained possession shortly after this score and headed for another touchdown but this pass fell incomplete in the end zone, the half ended. Next Saturday the Highlanders will undefeated Westfield at Westfield. The cross country team continued its winning ways by bumping Roselle. The team has turned around since its first meet and now appears to be a formidable opponent for Merchak has shown will serve him and the district well in providing educational leadership necessary for the 1970's. A RESIDENT of Berkeley Heights, Dr. Merchak received his bachelor's degree from the first full-time reading specialist at the Jonathan Dayton school. He later became school principal and was appointed director of special services for the district in 1957. In 1969 Merchak was appointed assistant superintendent for pupil personnel services, a post he held until the present.

A graduate of Irvington High School, Dr. Merchak received his bachelor's degree from the City College of New York. He was awarded his Ph.D. in psychology from New York University in 1961.

Before coming to the Regional District, Merchak worked in the field of psychology and was later named school psychologist in the Irvington public schools.

There have been incidents of abuse of power in the past. I discovered that many of them had sold larger homes in other communities and found smaller ones here in a matter of a few weeks at a low sale rate. Now most of these senior citizens are concerned that the reevaluation of their homes will result in a sell and a loss of money. The services they receive have not gone up at all with the rising tax rate and they do not have children in the schools. They are faced with the continuing rise. I say, appointing the mayor plan with senior citizens in mind, devise ways of keeping their taxes in line and allow the relief of small town with well-meaning problems. But they too are discovering that they are not the only ones in Jersey City if controlled by one party for too long. They may have thought they didn't have to be concerned about their taxes but now with the rate of burglaries reaching one a day, indifference toward their continuing tax rise without compensating services, they will take another look at what's running Mountainide and this year will say, "It's time for a change!"

Most residents are not political. Many of them have come from very political cities and they welcomed the relief of small town with well-meaning problems. But they too are discovering that they are not the only ones in Jersey City if controlled by one party for too long. Mayor Richards agreed that community involvement should be one of the basic elements in representing the borough citizens. As a member of chairman of boards of local government, I have developed the opportunity of working with those who really care, with all the cross-section of people who make up our community. As a result, I know of their desire to keep Mountainide as a truly fine place in which to live and raise their families.

This has had the effect of making me determined to do my part in preserving our community. I have the open feeling and openness to do the best job I can. I feel that by being a member of the Borough Council, I can accomplish much.

with the feeling, hopes, and wishes of my fellow residents. It is only by becoming a part of the plans and problems of a community that one can have a feeling of accomplishment and satisfaction. You can hear or read about these things, but unless you personally take the time and effort to become a part of them, you can't experience first-hand involvement."

Corigan, who for many years has served as a volunteer with the Mountainide Fire Department, and a now fire chief, pointed out, "I have had the opportunity of working with those who really care, with all the cross-section of people who make up our community. As a result, I know of their desire to keep Mountainide as a truly fine place in which to live and raise their families."

This has had the effect of making me determined to do my part in preserving our community. I have the open feeling and openness to do the best job I can. I feel that by being a member of the Borough Council, I can accomplish much.

Four facing drug courts

Four young men from North Mountainide were arrested by Mountainide police on Monday afternoon and charged with possession of narcotics. The youths are scheduled to appear in Mountainide Municipal Court on Wednesday.

The four arrested are William Koempfe, 21; Wayne McDowd, 22; Gerald Ott, 22; and Jeffrey Whitford, 22. All stated that they were employed as roofers for a firm in Plainfield during the last four weeks of the school year.

The four were arrested at 1:35 p.m. behind Terry's Sea Food on Rt. 22 by Ptl. Jack Yench and Detective Steve Senekovic. Police said that Yench, on routine patrol, discovered hashish and narcotic paraphernalia in a car operated by one of the youths.

Barman's penny savings aids Children's Hospital

How much is 36,000 pennies? About 18 gallons. And it is all yours. It's the result of a campaign by Charles Hahneman of North Plainfield has donated to Children's Hospital, Mountainide.

Charles Hahneman, a resident of Sleepy Hollow Inn on Hartman road in Scotch Plains for the last seven years, Hahneman's hobby is saving pennies—a lot of pennies—and then donating them for a donation.

"I just enjoy doing it," states Hahneman. "Besides," he states, "I know the kids up there can really use some help."

It explains he converts a few dollars of his tips into pennies every day then takes them home and counts them up in glass jars. His donation to Children's Hospital required five million water jar and three three-and-a-half-gallon jugs.

"I've been doing this for about five years," he states, "and by now some of my regular customers make a habit of leaving all the pennies they have in their pockets. It's really added up the time takes to get enough together for a donation."

believe that if we do the right thing for the majority in town, the 18-year-olds will benefit."

Geiger resigned in 1967 to become a member of the "program now has been developed by the Recreation Commission. The Recreation Commission is a part of the commission, which should have the responsibility of running the program."

"The council of the council's business is financial control of the community. This is its primary function. Through this it influences all programs."

"It is important that recreation cuts across all age groups so that people get to know each other and that the recreation program in Mountaintainside be a bedroom community where people just sleep."

"The council of the council's business is financial control of the community. This is its primary function. Through this it influences all programs."

"As CHIEF, I feel the fire house should be on the north side of the highway and away from it. The logical location would be to permit average. Central avenue or New Providence road, because most people live on that side of the highway."

The candidate mentioned on that point that he has been in the borough. "The town council has been very successful in the town that are highly visible."

As chief of the fire department, Geiger says he is unhappy with the present location of the fire house. "The site on Rt. 2 is dangerous to the people driving on the highway and those responding to alarms."

PROFILE—Edward G. Reisdorf

was named a defendant in the suit and thereby had an excellent opportunity to use the Federal courts and to see what the actual motives of the state are concerning the expansion of Rt. 22 and proposed in the town of Mountaintainside. That opportunity should not have been wasted."

"I suggest that the borough examine closely the financial condition of the town for the benefit of Mountaintainside residents and that it oppose the condemnation. At the very least, we should exercise the opportunity to examine all plans of the Department of Transportation concerning Rt. 22."

Reisdorf said that there is a general attitude in the borough that the residents should be satisfied with the way the town is being run. "I know that I am presently the treasurer, called Friends of the Fire Department and we stopped a proposed highway through the Watchung Reservation."

"ANOTHER CITIZENS' group in South Jersey has recently obtained a court decision stopping the New Jersey Turnpike. The official attitude has turned against the 'over care' program and Mountaintainside must take advantage of that enlightened attitude. It would be a good idea to offer to propose any widening and increased use of Rt. 22 which would have an adverse effect on the citizens of Mountaintainside."

The Democrat commented that he thinks Reisdorf's attitude is a good one. "Mountaintainside needs a master plan with a definite approach toward all of our problems. This plan would include a discussion of waste disposal, recycling of waste, recreation, transportation, education, security—including fire, police and health services—and the relation to the rest of Union County, Jersey and Watchung area and that this planning and examination of the problems must be done now, not when each problem is already at hand and emergency is being dictated to us."

He explained that the total picture of the borough, which is located in the heart of one of the most densely populated urban areas in the nation, must be examined. "Revenue sharing and our relationship with the inner cities require reevaluation. We cannot afford to be in a position where solutions are situation will come up in the campaign. Reisdorf should keep in mind that Mountaintainside is a bedroom community and the recreational school system.

"Many are not happy about what has been done, especially about the expansion of the road. There's not too much we can do about it. There are opportunities are far superior to those in most towns."

"Regarding solid waste disposal, the borough should be a bedroom community. The disposal system is the job of the borough and we have four competing scavengers who do a good job. The people can make their own contracts with them."

"Concerning ecology, Geiger stated, 'Mountaintainside has been taken over by people and there is no wildlife. The town is organized to take care of people. We have the normal problems of a suburb and a bedroom community. It is a very good idea that people are working on and studying this problem. Now we can live without ruining things for our children.'

"The problem of ecology will have to be tackled on a broad front to cover help on all angles. This will take the efforts of lots of people. We have to be concerned about the effect of land use and everything that is done."

Geiger's interest in politics and community participation comes naturally. His father was a politician and has been taken over by people and I grew up in it. The politician was born in Westfield and lived in Mountaintainside. He was a member of the South Jersey Assembly and was one house away forced upon us. We must have positive answers of our own.

Geiger plans to make every effort to examine these issues and directly face the hard problems ahead of Mountaintainside. He challenges the other candidates to present a solid plan for the borough and openly debate its merits.

Reisdorf was born in Milwaukee and graduated from high school there. He received his bachelor of science degree from the U.S. Forest Academy in 1948. He received a law degree from Georgetown Law Center, Washington, D.C.

THE CANDIDATE, who specialized in international relations at the Air Force Academy, became interested in politics while attending undergraduate school. He said, "I became interested through one of the professors who interested me in international politics, which led to local politics."

Reisdorf was in the Air Force for four years as a government contracting officer in charge of purchasing for Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D.C. and for special Pentagon projects. He resigned with the rank of captain.

Following his discharge, Reisdorf worked as a stock broker and was a vice president and manager of a subsidiary of the brokerage firm which did estate planning for clients of stock brokers on national basis. He then practiced law in Summit and now is a partner in the law firm of Reisdorf and Jaffe with offices in Springfield and Newark.

Reisdorf is interested in business affairs and is a director in more than 10 corporations. He is also a director of and counsel to the Union County Urban League.

Reisdorf and his wife, the former Nell Cassio of Mountaintainside, live at 1444 Deer Path. He is interested in all forms of athletics, including football and handball. He said he is especially interested in skiing with his wife and daughter Rachel, 7, who is a student at the Oak Hill School, Summit.

Reisdorf concluded, "My leadership training and my ability to use the methods of the legal and business worlds to solve the present and future problems of Mountaintainside are the biggest assets I can offer the voters. I hope the voters will ask me to use these assets for their benefit on Nov. 2."

from Mountaintainside, he stated.

He attended public school in Springfield and went to the Mountaintainside Regional High School in 1947. He attended the New School in New York City and Rutgers University where he took several financial and business courses.

Geiger and his wife, the former Veronique Filion of Mountaintainside, have lived at 120 Beddbrook Rd. for the past nine years. They have three children, of whom all attend the Beechwood School. Lorraine, 8, is in the 6th grade. Bruce, 7, is a third grader, and Judith, 5, is in kindergarten.

Geiger served in the Air Force as a staff sergeant for 3 1/2 years as a senior procurement specialist. During that time he was stationed in Germany, and completed his accounting training through correspondence course.

your week ahead
BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: October 11 - October 18

ARIES Oct. 21 - Apr. 19	Many members of your sign must take a week of constant tension and sudden surprises. Do try to keep your commitments equally spread - don't overload your schedule!
Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20	It seems that most of your astons will be worked on a scale of ambition. At one point this week, you'll be justifying it with your own mind.
GEMINI May 21 - June 20	You are old hand at getting involved in new undertakings. It is the 10th grade and a seemingly harmless obligation you have overlooked.
MOONCHILD June 21 - July 22	Be excruciating with the words you utter; demand a casual conversation between you and a member of the opposite sex. Repercussions show in your career.
LEO July 23 - Aug. 22	Misplacing a valuable article, that you might not mind losing, is indicated in your stellar patterns. So take care.
VIROGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22	Arm yourself with the "gifts of complacency." In nice words there will be no substance to your own sense in authority.
LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22	Apparently, a member of the opposite sex will not be happy with the company that you have been keeping.
SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21	Hold it, Scorpio! It seems as though you have been riding side saddle with a troublemaker. Take a quick glenker look at your associates.
SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21	Being fantasized by a "get rich" scheme is a probability for most members of your sign.
CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19	An overdeveloped sense of uneasiness, could be your problem, during the present cosmic cycle. In nice words there will be no substance to your own sense in authority.
AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18	More than likely, there is little wrong with you can do for the next few days. Incidentally, you are at a peak with your associates.
PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20	There's a difference, a big difference between opportunity and temptation. It's unlikely that you will control your impulses entirely. None the less, don't trade off all of your tomorrow's for one today.

War on narcotics declared by Dem Senate candidates

"An all-out war on narcotics" was declared this week by John T. Connor Jr., Carmine J. Linta, Christopher Dietz and Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald Edinger, Democratic State Senate candidates from Union County.

"We greatly threaten narcotics' lives than the enormous growth of drug abuse," said Dietz. "The national and state administrations have failed to concentrate on the root of the crisis." Dietz pointed out that every town in Union County has drug problems. "Many magazines and newspapers, but they occur," he stated.

Connor explained that since 1970 every school district in New Jersey must give 10 hours of instruction on drugs and narcotics on treatment in the Union County Regional School District the drug education program used to disseminate information to parents, students, teachers and others in the six municipalities comprising the district. In the Elizabeth District, for example, the drug education program stresses education, pharmacology and rehabilitation.

"We feel that the programs that have been effective should serve as models," stated Connor. "Obviously, an important aspect of the fight against drug abuse is the education and involvement to help get through to the kids and to get them to respond favorably. More community education programs should be developed."

Linta noted that Assembly Majority Leader Thomas Ryan described "Assault on Opium" as the Democratic Party Platform's recommendation that residents boycott products manufactured by drug companies. Connor with international drug traffic. Despite what Mr. Ryan thought, threatening economic sanctions against Turkey is exactly what President Nixon did. This approach proved successful, recently Turkey agreed to crack down on drug manufacturers and exporters. Linta also argued that apprehension and swift prosecution of dealers and suppliers should be the primary aim of the State drug program.

Rubin is hospitalized by respiratory group

Murray J. Rubin, executive director of Memorial General Hospital, Union, was reported president of the Union County Hospital Society last week at the monthly meeting of the organization of the county's eight voluntary hospitals.

Also elected were John Yoder, director of Newark Hospital, vice-president and Harvey S. Spector, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth, executive secretary; and Joseph J. DiStefano, administrator of Mulhoberg Hospital, Plainfield, recording secretary.

CRUSADE RECORD — Arthur C. Fried of Westfield, chairman of the Union County Crusade for the American Cancer Society shows George J. Randall of Plainfield president of the Union County Unit, the record-breaking final total of the 1971 campaign.

Cancer Crusade sets record in county; raises $191,333.

Arthur C. Fried, Union County Crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society, has announced that the Unit's goal of $191,333 was surpassed by $88,333 at the end of the 1971 campaign. The $191,333 total is the largest amount raised in one year in the American Cancer Society's 25 year history in Union County. Last year's figure of $175,221 was the previous record.

Only Bergen and Essex counties, with larger populations, topped the amount raised in Union County. "I find it extremely gratifying that the communities in our county gave so generously in a period of economic restraint," he said. "The amount of concern and the determination of our residents to wipe out cancer is unquestionably clear," said Fried.

The 36 chairman and co-chairman in our 21 communities deserve the highest praise "for their continual efforts to reach every resident of every community." Fried stated he also lauded each district captain and block worker for the hard work displayed all year. These funds will enable the Union County Unit to continue and expand its work in aiding cancer patients, by providing dressings, hospital beds, bed pans, wheel chairs and other home care items. The program of financially assisting the medically indigent can also be continued.

In addition to backing the service program, the funds will support the Union County...

State-wide property tax draws Pollitt's criticism

Van Dyke J. Pollitt, the Republican candidate for the unexpired term in the State Senate, has announced his opposition to the concept of a state-wide property tax for education. He noted that several bills are pending in the Legislature calling for that taxing plan and that he is being "sold as a panacea" to relieve the burdensome property tax.

"The taxpayers of Union County could suffer more if they had a plan like this," Pollitt said. He is in an attempt to equalize educational programs throughout the state, the school districts which have made financial sacrifices in the past to build modern schools for their children, would find themselves paying for similar or more modern school facilities in those communities elsewhere in the State where the taxpayers have not made the same sacrifice.

Pollitt said that, under the state-wide property tax plan, "every property taxpayer in the state would pay an equalized tax rate with all funds flowing into a state agency. The funds would then be divided back to all school districts in the state.

"A second and obvious disadvantage of the plan is that local control of educational programs would be sacrificed," Pollitt said. "I can't imagine the State paying the total cost of education without also detaching schools'...

Dwyer acts to ease limits on flood loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-N.J.) has introduced legislation to ease restrictions on federal flood insurance and disaster loans which deny help to some property owners facing heavy losses from floods.

Dwyer said she introduced the bill because of the large numbers of people left out of coverage as a result of Tropical Storm Dora and subsequent heavy rains. The bill was jointly sponsored by Rep. William B. Forsythe (R-N.J.) and Mrs. J. Robert Clifton (D-N.J.).

The amendments provide: — Extension of flood insurance coverage to all residential dwellings, instead of the present limitation to structures having up to four families; — A two-year extension providing coverage for 300,000 blocks swept flooded which pledge to adopt land use and control measures.

Congresswoman Dwyer illustrated the need by referring to Elizabeth, where 100,000 blocks were flooded in late August by Dora's heavy rains. It is an area including 10,000 dwelling units, only 20 flood insurance policies had been issued. Under the present statute, the noted, property owners without the insurance could only obtain disaster loans after paying disaster loans for their homes, for the cost of damage which could have been insured.

Collapsing net

Rather than vault the tennis racket after a match, a winning player can walk until the net falls down. Combining the traditional game and the parking meter has created the collapsible tennis net.

Dropping money into the net's post raises the net for play. Sixty minutes later, the net goes down, and the player is free to play. Players from exceeding their rental hour.

The favorable impact of the college and Green Acres programs on job opportunities highlighted another statement from Charles E. and Marciano, president of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

Hospitals combine children's services for Elizabeth area

The consolidation of children's hospital services for the Elizabeth area at the Elizabeth General Hospital and Dispensary is proceeding smoothly, it was announced this week at a joint meeting of representatives of St. Elizabeth Hospital and Elizabeth General Hospital.

Spoken for the group expressed the feeling that the move "will be of great benefit to the community" as it will concentrate facilities, equipment, and medical and nursing staffs in one location. All pediatric services will be at Elizabeth General Hospital, including clinics, emergency service, in-patient service and an intensive care nursery.

Both hospitals will maintain wards for children who require tonalistic departments and will retain their obstetric departments and newborn nurseries.

Sister Ellen Patricia Meade, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, said that from now on parents in the Elizabeth area and surrounding communities should take their sick and injured children directly to the Elizabeth General Hospital emergency department. Pediatric clinics services are now provided only at Elizabeth General, and the in-patient unit has been expanded to accommodate the increased admissions.

At the joint meeting held at St. Elizabeth Hospital, representatives of the boards of trustees, administration and medical staffs of the two hospitals expressed support for the project as an important forward stride in the quality of health care available to children.

Spray to avoid apple maggots

Ornamental, mistletoe and damaged apples harvested this year by home gardeners in the result of apple maggots who started their dirty work in the early part of August.

Unfortunately, it's too late to do anything about them now. Backyard apple growers will just have to chalk it up to a frustrating experience and have to declare war on the destructive pest next year.

To control apple maggots you have to spray the leaves and developing fruits before the adult maggot (flies) lay their eggs beneath the skin of the apples.

This should be done with an insecticide containing carbaryl (Gorin) at seven to 10-day intervals, before early July and mid-August. Sprays like Dr. Peterson Jr., senior county agent.

Rutgers University Extension publication, "Apple and Quince Spray Schedule for New Jersey Home Orchard," gives all the details. You can get copies from the County Extension Office, 300 North Ave., E., Westfield 07090.

HELPING HANDS — State Senator Frank X. McDermott (R-Union) accepts the endorsement of New Jersey Governor William T. Cahill for reelection.

President, Cahill support McDermott in bid for reelection

Both President Richard Nixon and Governor William T. Cahill have endorsed State Senator Frank X. McDermott (R-Union) in his bid for reelection to the New Jersey State Legislature. Senator McDermott has "brought the people of Union County dynamic representation" over the years," President Nixon said.

"Your steady advancement in positions of leadership in the New Jersey Senate is certainly a measure of the esteem your colleagues," the President's message to the senior senator from Union County, said. "It is a pleasure to applaud your contributions and to tell you how much I personally appreciate the hard work and loyalty you have displayed. Your achievements are a prime example for all my fellow citizens."

Governor Cahill, appearing at a testimonial dinner honoring Senator McDermott, said the Republican controlled legislature for its accomplishments and urged the return of Senator McDermott to the executive system.

McDermott, who was elected to the New Jersey State Assembly in 1961, held many leadership positions in the Assembly before his election to the Senate in 1967. As a senator, he served as majority leader, Senate president, acting governor in the absence of former Governor Richard J. Hughes, and is now president pro tempore of the Senate.

Schoel is critical of Connor's views

The election of John T. Connor Jr. and implementation of his radical schemes would drastically alter Union County as we know it," charged C. School, county Republican chairman, charged this week.

Referred to an interview published in several Union County newspapers on Sept. 25, School said Connor was "naïve and naive" in the wishes and aspirations of Union County voters. Connor has publicly advocated abolition of home rule, attached local control of zoning, and has called for elimination of the "boards-of-freeholders" and its subsequent replacement by a single executive system.

According to Connor, "one must have real power." The sophistic, almost despotic attitude toward the representative process, has convinced me that Connor would be a dangerous man to represent this district in the New Jersey State Senate," School asserted.

Brandt uncorks opinion on Dem champagne fest

Borough Council President Wilfred H. Brandt, this week released a public statement concerning the circumstances which led to the relocation of the campaign party recently conducted by the Mountainide Democrats.

Brandt, a councilman for six years, is now a candidate for reelection and is a member of the Republican Party. The text of his statement follows:

"I had hoped that a public statement such as this would not be necessary. However, since Democrat leaders and candidates continue their efforts to obtain unfair gains from their 'champagne blunder,' it is urgent that all residents of Mountainide, and particularly parishioners of Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church, know the correct circumstances.

"The Democrats obtained use of the social hall at Our Lady of Lourdes Church to conduct a fund-raising campaign party at which alcoholic beverages could be sold on payment of an admission charge.

"State of New Jersey Alcoholic Beverage Control regulations require that a permit be obtained and a fee paid for such an affair. The Democrats had sufficient time to obtain such a permit through normal ABC channels but failed to do so. Russ Carbone and Steve Salsko, Democrat leaders, are very familiar with this procedure.

"Police Chief Mullin learned of the possible violation of law a few hours before the scheduled event on complaint of a resident. His responsibility was clear. To spare Our Lady of Lourdes and the Democrats needless embarrassment, Chief Mullin advised the Democrats of the jeopardy in which they placed Our Lady of Lourdes and themselves.

"Mayor Ricciardi, on learning of the problem, called Father Gerald McGarry, Democrat leaders Robert Jaffe, Cardone, Salsko, John Palmer and Tom Lofano to meet with him at Borough Hall in an attempt to resolve the problem.

"Mayor Ricciardi obtained Borough Council approval to permit the party if state ABC permission could be obtained.

"Chief Mullin obtained state ABC permission from an ABC representative by calling him at his home. Permission was granted provided an application was made early on Monday following the party.

"Within a few hours Mayor Ricciardi, the Borough Council and the state ABC provided the necessary cooperation to make the party at Our Lady of Lourdes possible. This was accomplished one hour prior to the scheduled start of the party.

4 Good reasons why it makes sense to buy a new car now.

Suburban Trust explains why it is a very smart idea for you to buy a new car now. And save money!

For 79 years we've been lending money to people for useful things like starting a business, buying a home, modernizing a kitchen, buying a car and so on. We know what people look for when they sign up for a loan. It's simple. They want the most favorable conditions and rates they can get.

This is particularly true when buying an automobile... usually the second largest investment they make.

In all the years we've been helping people with their loans, there has never been a better time to buy a new car... especially if your present car is growing older or is in constant need of repair.

Here are the four sound financial reasons we say this:

1. The repeal of the excise tax on automobiles will mean an automatic savings of 7 percent on the price of any new car. This will mean an average price cut of as much as $200.
2. We're at the end of the 1971 model year and most every dealer is offering substantial bargains to move cars out.
3. The '72 models are now entering dealer showrooms and prices are being held at '71 levels during the price freeze.
4. Perhaps most important of all, Suburban Trust is now offering the lowest cost car loans in the area. Read the following chart and see exactly how much you pay.

24 MONTHS
AMOUNT OF LOAN	AMOUNT OF RATE	FINANCE CHARGE	MONTHLY PAYMENT	ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE
$2,000	$2,199.84	$199.84	$91.66	12.75
$3,000	3,300.00	300.00	137.50	12.75
4,000	4,399.92	399.92	183.33	12.75
30 MONTHS
$2,000	$2,250.00	$250.00	$75.00	12.75
3,000	3,375.00	375.00	112.50	12.75
4,000	4,500.00	500.00	150.00	12.75
36 MONTHS
$2,000	$2,299.88	$299.88	$63.88	12.75
3,000	3,449.88	449.88	95.83	12.75
4,000	4,599.72	599.72	127.73	12.75

PLEASE NOTE: When borrowing money it is important to recognize that the Annual Percent Rate (APR) is the actual rate you pay. Suburban Trust's APR is the lowest in the area.

You can conveniently secure your new car loan by applying at one of our offices listed below... by completing the coupon... or (and this will speed things along) by phoning our loan department directly.

One last thing. At Suburban Trust you may not need a down payment. In many cases we will loan you the full amount of the purchase price.

Talented Denise Lor brings 'Plaza Suite' to comedy peak

By HEA SMITH
Denise Lor is the answer to every comedy writer's dream—her timing is razor-sharp, her stage-delivery a director's dream-coming from her facial comical expressions are priceless and her physical movements are a joy to behold. In short, she is a vehicle for comedies, and her versatility and talents are boundlessly evident in a stage comedy such as "Plaza Suite."

One would imagine that Neil Nelson the genius to be everywhere had written "Plaza Suite" expressly for Denise Lor. There is no evidence, however, that he had, but the nature of the stage play, currently at the Meadowbrook Theater-Restaurant, in Cedar Grove, makes and drives every ounce of hilarity from his three roles as Karen Nash in Act One's "Valer From Manhattan," Marcel Tate in Act Two's "Valer From Hollywood" and Norm Hickey in Act Three's "Visitor From Forest Hills."

A reviewer wonders "who taught who" about comedy when Miss Lor worked with an unknown, yet so-popular Simon years ago on the Garry Moore show?

Bury Nelson, as the star of "Plaza Suite," has a natural talent for comedy, too. Nelson and Miss Lor complement each other in all three plays, which take place in the same suite of the Plaza Hotel in New York City.

Carol Mayo Jenkins, Richard Allerman and John Kelly are the actor's three "Visitors From Forest Hills."

Neil Nelson, as the star of "Plaza Suite," has a natural talent for comedy, too. Nelson and Miss Lor complement each other in all three plays, which take place in the same suite of the Plaza Hotel in New York City.

Cliff Gorman plays Lenny and he is superb. Mr. Gorman never forgets that he is in a theatre giving a night club performance and he constantly reminds himself that he is a theatre performer. The informality and slight comedy we expect—in fact, expect—in a night club, Gorman's acting is highly sensitive; especially in a scene having a picnic with his mother, which he has in a hospital with his mother. He is so stage all evening and must get into these acting scenes without breaking the mood or pace of the show.

Another principal role is played by Jane Housie as Lenny's wife, Rusty. Miss Housie combines a little girl fascination with a big girl spirit. She manages a shallow voice that is also touchingly warm.

JOE SILVER PLAYS several roles, the main one being a public toilet of our famous political comedian. The one who turned to the lucrative barkeep and bottle collector years ago. Here he is always trying to get Lenny to clean up his act while being able to figure the Lenny's personal life is one of the most solid in U.S. show business. That ironic confrontation alone says most of what show is to be seen and prescribes who are able to expect themselves from practicing what they preach because the

The Theater Seen

LENNY

By ROBERT LYONS
There appears to be two audiences getting along very well at performances of "Lenny," a retrospective of the rise and fall of Lenny Bruce, who was being more widely recognized as a brilliant social satirist. One audience is made up of those who were fans and are moved and saddened, and yet oddly vindicated as they laugh from memory. As a member of that group, I am envious of the second bunch who did not know him or see him perform and are just having a terrific good time at the Brooks Atkinson Theatre.

One of the important things Lenny Bruce discovered—and it has been great help for comedians who came after—was that night club audiences were not stupid. Lockyer room stories were not for Lenny. He went for the jugular in exposing hypocrisy and double standards and people who set themselves up as tastemakers.

The show, which is directed in a bizarre and mis-cast manner by Tom O'Horgan, takes place over the last 15 years of Lenny's life. Bruce hit the heights in the late '50s and then steadily faded for about the last six years. While many of the sketches and scenes of the show retain the sharpness and hilarity they did originally, the real life of the evening is the oppression Bruce incurred which even resulted in his having to abandon his act by explaining it at his trials for obscenity. In one great scene at the end he is pleading to the hollow world (a courtroom) to listen to the "form." For it was not his performance that got him his work permit and meaning.

5 gas turbine units are being installed by Public Service

Public Service Electric and Gas Co. is adding five more gas turbine units to its system, which will generate 1,000 kilowatts of electricity from 2,500,000 kilowatts of this type generating equipment, probably more than of any other utility in the nation. The first unit, which is natural gas or low sulfur oil at which is nearly pollution-free.

The company said it will install three new 160,000 kilowatt gas turbine units at its Burlington Generating Station next year. In addition, a 40,000 kilowatt steam plant, which will use part of the hot exhaust from one of the gas turbine units. The exhaust will be run through boilers to create steam which will be used to generate electricity. This will increase efficiency and lower production costs. It will be the first such application by Public Service. The additions to Burlington will double capacity there from 500,000 to 1,000,000 kilowatts.

The company this year has installed two gas turbines at its Essex Generating Station in Newark with a total capacity of 218,000 kilowatts, and three units with a total capacity of 480,000 kilowatts at its Edison Generating Station. Two more 160,000 kilowatt gas turbine units are being installed at the Essex station and will be in service early next year.

Turbo Power and Marine Systems, Inc., a division of Allied Aircraft Corp., will supply the new gas turbine units as well as the add-on steam plant.

League calls state income from taxes 'not enough' for necessary services

(This is the third in a series of articles prepared by the League of Women Voters.)

State income tax is the largest source of money for many New Jersey citizens as the burden of the sales tax on his purchases. But if the money he pays out for the sales tax—and that is the other state taxes—would be returned to him in the form of services rendered to him, his family, and his fellow citizens.

State income tax is the largest source of money that we pay too much in taxes, but that not enough tax revenue flows into the public coffers at the state level to pay for the necessary services and state aid to local government. In this era of burgeoning population and rising costs, it took a 10 percent increase in the state budget over the decade 1960-1970 (from $412 million in 1960 to $1,309 million in 1970) just to keep up with providing essential services and to start meeting a large backlog of unmet needs. This hike in the state's expenditures was not met by a 10 percent increase in the state sales tax in 1966 and by the increase in the rate to 8 percent last year.

Rates cannot be increased indefinitely, and if the budget continues to go up, we will soon need to find another source of revenue. Already the budgets for 1971 and 1972 have had to be balanced by speeding up collections and cutting back on unneeded funds in departmental budgets. The Economic Policy Council has estimated that with the budget increases at the present rate, and using present sources of revenue, New Jersey will face an operating deficit of about $200 million in 1976, rising to over $700 million in 1985. A budget that truly reflected the needs of the state would lead to an even greater "revenue gap."

EVERYONE HAS WONDERED at some time or another just what the state does with that money. Let's take a look at the breakdown of the $1,309 million budget for fiscal 1971-72. The lion's share, amounting to 44 percent of every dollar, has been allocated for education. This category includes both higher education and the expenses of colleges and the state colleges, which are borne entirely by the state—and state aid to local public school districts. In the rest of the state New Jersey will follow the national average. There are a few places in the state's colleges that more than half New Jersey's college students attend out-of-state schools, compared with 31 percent nationwide. State aid to public education is about 27 percent in New Jersey while the national average is over 40 percent. No chance of cutting down here—there is no doubt that these expenditures will continue to increase.

Welfare, accounting for 18 cents of every dollar, is the next largest expense. Although the payment per recipient is high, since New Jersey is a high-cost area, not as many families as some people think receive aid. In 1968 the statewide average was 4.5 recipients per 100 population, although of course the proportion was higher in some areas (207 in Newark, for example). New Jersey's per capita expenditure for public welfare in 1968-69 was $11.8, compared to a national average of $8.97. This expense is shared by the county and the state. If the June 1971 recommendations of the Governor's Task Force on Welfare are adopted, the state would assume the total burden.

Transportation, including the state's share of federal highway matching funds, takes up seven cents of every dollar. Other major expenses are state hospitals (one cent), police and law enforcement (three and one-half cents), natural resources (two and one-half cents), prisons (two cents), health services (one cent), regulatory functions (one cent), the court system (one cent), and all other expenses (ten cents).

ANOTHER WAY OF LOOKING at the budget is to break it down into operations, capital

A case for boating with safety extras'

GOVERNORS ISLAND, N.Y. Federal law does not require a pleasure boat owner to carry a paddle on board his small craft, but during an emergency, which might warrant its use, it would be funny if he was "up a river" without one.

The absence of an oar, paddle or some other type of manual propulsion could leave the small craft operator few alternatives if that craft is stranded in the water. The Boating Safety Branch of the Third Coast Guard District gave this message to your small craft runs out of gasoline within sight of land, while a storm is in the making, and there's no other boat in the vicinity to lend assistance: "where do you go from there? Anchor? Wait out the storm? Hope someone else comes along to offer help? Swim to land and leave your boat to the elements? Hope the water will shallow enough, so you can get out and push your craft ashore? Send up "Mayday" for help?"

What happens if you don't have an anchor and line? Not required by law, neither are distress flares, flaresights or the carrying of extra gasoline.

During the off-season for boating, the Auxiliary offers classes in boating safety periodically in local areas. Information on classes may be obtained by phoning (312) 266-0906.

Information on boating safety rules and regulations is available from Chief, Boating Safety Branch, 3rd Coast Guard District, Building S, Governors Island, N.Y. 10004.

Workshop offered at NSC on public sector bargaining

A three-day workshop on public employment collective negotiations will be held at Newark State College, Union, on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 14 and 15, with the final session on Saturday, Dec. 11, all from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The workshop is being offered through the college's Center for Continuing Education and will be conducted by Robert H. Beckel in Downs Hall.

The workshops designed for representatives of public employers and public employees organizations in municipal, county and state governments, will deal with practical problems of public sector bargaining and acquire familiarity with the law as presently applied of Chapter 56 of the Public Laws of 1961.

Participants will reconvene for the final session to assess the application of information and testimony presented during the initial sessions.

Beckel, a member of the mediation and fact finding panel of the New York State Public Employment Relations Board, is presently special assistant to the chancellor of higher education of New Jersey.

The course fee is $100, including tuition, registration fees, luncheon and academic materials. Registration may be by mail. Additional information is available from the Center for Continuing Education, 52-5087.

Oil supply adequate

WASHINGTON, D.C. Domestic supplies of home-heating oil No. 2 oil are expected to be adequate to meet demand this winter, a Humble Oil Refining Co. official said this week.

"If weather is normal, we expect demand for No. 2 oil to be about 10 percent above last year, which had near-normal weather," L. G. Ravel, a vice-president of Humble, said in testimony before the Small Business Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs.

In the event of a colder-than-normal winter, industry

719 of 1,023 NSC grads have jobs

Joseph Vitale, Director of placement at Newark State College, Union, said this week that more than 74 percent of last year's graduating class (719 out of 1,023 graduates) are now employed. This figure represents a 26 percent increase over figures released in July, and, according to Vitale, shows optimistic trends that as many as 80 percent of the 1971 class will be employed by the end of the year.

With the shortage of teacher openings, graduates from the School of Education (16 out of state and 19 in substitute teaching) however, a total of 119 education graduates are in non-educational occupations at the time.

Nearly half of the graduates from the new school of Arts and Sciences have found suitable employment (24 out of 54), and are engaged in entry level positions in government, business and labor.

In the area of education, the largest number of teachers placed were graduates in elementary education and fine arts. The highest percentage of liberal arts graduates placed were graduates in psychology and sociology.

A total of 33 students from the graduating class have entered into full-time graduate studies programs in colleges and universities across the country.

The Laurence A. Dorr, vice-president of the National Education Association, is consistently updating its course offerings.

methods of instruction and anticipating future employment trends so graduates of the future can find viable careers. This year new majors in chemistry, industrial studies, industrial technology, art history and computer science have been added, and new majors in management science, urban studies, environmental science and public affairs are soon to be added. "Each year the trends are clearer, and needs become more specific," Dorr added. Newark State College is meeting to meet those needs and is preparing to help students who can successfully compete for positions in any type of market.

Warinanco Skating Rink opens season tomorrow

The Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center, located at the site of the 1971-1972 season at 6 p.m. tomorrow it was announced by the Union County Park Commission.

The rink will open with a "family night" session from 6 to 8. At this session only children accompanied by a parent will be admitted to the ice center. The first general session for all skaters will be held on Friday from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The ice skating center, with its own ice-making equipment, will enable skating enthusiasts to enjoy their favorite pastime without waiting for the necessary ice to form on the lakes, streams and ponds throughout the Union County Park System.

Three years ago a pool was built over the skating area to enable many additional days of skating. Weather is no longer a factor in determining whether or not sessions will be held.

Lan, Gavan issue call for road safety reform

Assemblyman Henry F. Gavan of Linden and his running mate for the 9th Assembly District, Donald Lan of Springfield, this week criticized the "chaos and confusion" in New Jersey's road safety program.

The Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center opened to the public in 1961, played host to almost 500,000 skaters during the past ten years.

A public facilities building offers the skaters a modern warming room featuring an open hearth fireplace, snack-bar, skate shop, locker room and sanitary facilities.

In addition to general skating sessions, a complete instruction program is planned for adults and children. Instruction classes for girls 8-to-12 merit badges and a hockey clinic will also be offered to children.

Skating parties are welcome at the ice center. The recreation department of the park commission will provide information and special group rates. Skaters may rent ice skates at the Skating Center.

General skating sessions will be held every weekday morning, including Saturdays, except Mondays, from 9:30 to noon and on Sundays from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Bank will continue to offer credit card

First-New Jersey Bank will continue marketing its Master Charge card, Frank M. Pitt, chairman of the board, and Oliver F. Hertzig, president, said this week.

Pitt and Hertzig said First New Jersey's Master Charge accounts were handled directly by the Eastern State Bank Association, which will continue to process the Union Township-based bank's accounts.

"First New Jersey has been a charter member of the Eastern State Bank Association," Pitt and Hertzig continued. "At no time has our bank worked through a New York City bank. Our Master Charge department has grown successfully. We invite those people whose Master Charge cards are being terminated elsewhere to apply for a second account at any of our seven offices.

Pitt and Hertzig explained that their announcement was made to allay concerns of bank customers that may have been generated by reports that the interests of New Jersey banks might be adversely affected by the decision of two New York City banks to drop Master Charge processing for other financial institutions.

Parents plan dance

"A South Sea Misadventure" is the theme of a dance to be sponsored by the Parents Guild Saturday, Oct. 16, at Union Catholic Boys School, Scotch Plains. The program will start with a buffet supper at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the school office.

Engleke to speak to Garden Club

The Men's Garden Club of Westfield will hold its first meeting of the season on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Loomis Hall, First Congregational Church of Westfield, 125 Elmer St.

John Engleke, of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., will give a color slide presentation on "New Jersey Know Your State." Engleke is a public relations representative of New Jersey Bell and his talk will cover agriculture, industry and recreation from High Point to Cape May.

Error is noted in date for clinic

The Union County Extension Service has noted an error in an announcement of a pattern alteration clinic at the auditorium on 30 E. North Ave., Westfield. The clinic was held on Sept. 16 and will not be held on Oct. 16, as announced.

Information about sewing clinics is available from Mrs. Carolyn Yukens, county economist, at the county office in Westfield.
