Following a public hearing Jan. 16, the Mountainside Board of Education approved its proposed budget of $2,009,902 for the 1974-75 term. The resolution was carried by a vote of 4-2, with Trudy Palmer and Patricia Knodel casting the dissenting ballots. James Keating

Approximately 200 borough residents were on hand for the session in the Deerfield School. Although the budget was the primary topic of the meeting, there was also extensive discussion on the board's suggested referendum to shave the total by $15,000 by limiting school bus transportation.

After hearing strong objections to the cut-back, the board settled the matter, for this year at least, by adjourning the session before a vote could be taken to place the referendum on the Voting on the budget will take place Feb. 13, but only a $1,569,875 figure, representing the tax levy on the $1,853,775 current expense portion, will appear on the ballot. Current expenses represent 92.2 percent of the total, and a 1.4 percent increase over the current budget. According to the board, this means a $4.50 increase on the tax bill for a home valued

IN INTRODUCING the budget, board president Grant Lennox explained, "Much effort was made to hold increases to a minimun, consistent with maintaining a system of which we can be proud.

"Last year, many figures were floating around the borough out of context, trying to prove various issues," he stated. "But while they may have had a high degree of shock value, they were relatively meaningless without detailed explanation or correct comparison." Lennox said he hoped to avoid a repetition, and urged that all requests for information be directed to the board office.

The bulk of the current expense portion of the budget, 68 percent, covers instructional costs. Included in the $1,247,200 total are $1,$76,300 for

Regional board OKs $11 million 1974-75 budget

By KAREN STOLL

Following a two-hour public hearing Tuesday night at David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, the Union County Regional High School District Board of Education voted unanimously to approve its $11,490,685 budget

Approximately 200 persons, many of themregional staff members, were on hand for the session, which included extensive explanation of the budget's two major divisions: current expense, at $10,413,593, and capital outlay, $131,821. Of the total, only the capital outlay figure and the $8,719,661 of current expense to be raised by local tax levy will appear on the ballot in the Feb. 5 election.

Also on the ballot will be a special question seeking voter approval of a $450,000 expenditure to build an auxiliary gym at Brearley. That proposal was passed by the board on a vote of 8-1, with Sonya Dorsky of Springfield dissenting.

In introducing the budget presentation, superintendent of schools, Dr. Donald Merachnik noted it is "a low-level budget, with emphasis on basic essentials," allowing for several major instructional program innovations, such as a Learning Resource Center; a revised English curriculum stressing language and writing skills for 9th and 10th grade, more electives for juniors, and a similarly revised art program.

Mountainside Councilman Peter Simmons this week urged borough residents whose homes are located near school bus stops to turn on porch or lawn lights in the early morning hours as a safety precaution for students. Because of the extended Daylight Saving Time period, local youngsters, primarily high school students, are on the streets before dawn.

"If people would turn on a light, this would be a big help in alerting motorists to youths waiting at bus stops," Simmons noted, "although we realize this does not aid the students while they are walking to the stops.' Simmons, who is police commissioner, said he is studying the safety problem "from a police point of view" and is conferring with local schools superintendent Dr. Levin B. "As a candidate for the Mountainside Board of Education, I am compelled to take issue with Mrs. Palmer's claims of "waste" in the proposed Mountainside school budget. The facts must be disclosed because negativism becomes contagious if allowed to flourish unchallenged.

The 1974-75 budget shows a net 48.6 percent ($15,100) increase for heat, far below national forecasts and expected home fuel costs, which have advanced about 35 percent already. Provision is made here for deactivation of Echobrook-as with librarians (down $1,785 or 4.14 percent), electricity (down $600 or 8.1 percent), replacement of instructional equipment (down $1,820 or 25 percent), and purchase of new equipment (down $2,400 or 21

"Reviewing the year, we find a number of very important events occurred," he stated. "In January, an appeal was made to industry for daytime help. Three companies, Beckman Instruments, National Tool, and Wilkinson Sword responded and provided the squad with valuable members who assisted our daytime crews throughout the year.

"The highlight of the year came in June when the new ambulance, a Superior 61 Van, was dedicated. The new rig, equipped with the very latest equipment-much of it purchased with monies donated by individuals and organizations, and a special appropriation from the Borough Council—is one of the best in service in New Jersey. A most significant point is that the squad was able to keep its old rig and for the first time in its 35 year history, has twofully equipped ambulances to serve the needs of the community.

"Coupled with the above was a steady growth in membership, which permitted the regular scheduling of nighttime backup crews. Several

Measles vaccine urged by board

The Mountainside Board of Health this week urged all parents to have their children immunized against measles. A board spokesman

"Although our area has not been affected by the outbreak of measles that has occurred in two of our neighboring cities in North Jersey, it would seem appropriate to call attention to the possibility that our citizens, particularly children, may become exposed. Although the consequences of measles are not usually serious, there can be undesirable complications such as pneumonia, ear infections and encephalitis.

"Even if a non-immunized individual is exposed to measles, it is still possible to prevent problems by giving the measles vaccine along with the administration of human immune serum globulin.

Therefore, your Board of Health suggests it would be appropriate to consult your family physician or pediatrician for recommendations regarding immunization of your family."

I am seeking reelection to the Mountainside School Board because I continue to have an interest in the best education for our children, and I feel my experience on the board, plus a broad background of business and professional experience, will be of help in facing the many problems ahead."

In those words, Orville White summed up the reasons for his candidacy for a three-year term on the board, on which he has served for oneand-a-half years.

"No one can foresee all of the problems which may arise," he continued, "but there are several which are visible now. One of the most important will be the matter of school financing.

"As most people probably know, the state courts have ruled the present system of financing by local property taxes is contrary to the state constitution, and the legislature is now wrestling with the problem and must establish a new system of public school financing. This will undoubtedly transfer part of (local school financial control to the state, and at the same time require the local communities to determine to what extent they will or can provide quality education beyond some state 'norm'— and how it is to be financed locally.

BUDGETSUPPORTED

Mrs. Gertrude's Palmer's defensive concern in the Jan. 17 issue of the Mountainside Echo that Mountainside taxpayers might reflect on her lack of intelligence for voting against the 1974-75 school budget would have been more convincing if her article had not been composed of half-truths and innuendoes.

Any incumbent candidate who casually refers to the ease with which $100,000 to $130,000 of "waste" money can be eliminated from a school budget, with no concrete substantiation, shows me neither intelligence nor courage but mere political grandstanding in an election year. Her one example cannot be dignified as such, for its shows her hostility toward a school administrator which reflects adversely on her as a candidate with an ax to grind.

I question Mrs. Palmer's self-serving suggestion that she spent many hours of deliberation on the budget while the board only spent a total of eight hours. I choose to interpret this to mean that our school administrators made an excellent presentation of the tentative budget to the board. Taxpayers pay administrators to develop budgets and run the day-to-day operations of the schools, while board members are elected to establish policy and to approve or disapprove administrative recommendations.

Mrs. Palmer speaks of irresponsibility, but not even an incumbent board member has the right to say that taxpayers are irresponsible because they do not await her OK before endorsing the budget. Her implication that I am "free spender" or that I support "reckless spending" because I do not support her or her positions is just a little heavy-handed.

She accuses a committee which distributed literature in support of the 1974-75 budget irresponsible because the "budget had not even been voted on or passed by the Board of Education at that date." This statement warrants correction! The literature in question was distributed in early January; the board had already approved the tentative budget on Dec. 11 by a 5-2 vote. Mrs. Palmer was in attendance and voted in the minority, although the majority of the board disagreed with her.

The article closes with the misleading impression that Mountainside taxpayers pay close to $2,000 per child for grammar school education. Since the amount to be raised by taxation is $1,569,875 and an enrollment of 1,000 is projected for 1974-75, Mrs. Palmer's calculations are obviously in error. A taxpayer cost of $1,569.88 per child is not close to $2,000

I believe that Mrs. Palmer's popularity in Mountainside is well-deserved. But, in her own words, "a school is a big business and should be run efficiently." As a stockholder in the Mountainside school sytem, I have no intention

BACKS PALMER, SPETH

I note that three former members of the school board are on the executive committee of the committee to dump Mrs. Palmer. Could it be that these members are pushing for the passage of the budget to avoid embarrassment? They are partly responsible for bringing the cost per pupil to the astronomical figure of $2,000. Since the two women, Mrs. Trudy Palmer and Mrs. Pat Knodel, have been on the board, costs have been held downwitness the new budget that the board president boasts is so low. Would it have been as low without the two female members?

I was one of the many people called by the Committee of Concerned Citizens (to dump Mrs. Palmer) to join their group. I, too, am a concerned citizen, but I believe this committee to be what they say—"a special interest group"—but as pawns for the superintendent who feels his power threatened.

I am delighted to see Charles Speth running for the board. I have seen him at school board meetings for six or seven years and know him from these meetings to be a knowledgeable and truly concerned citizen (not as some candidates who have never attended a meeting until they decided to sun.)

HANIGAN DEFENDED

I was in attendance at the Mountainside Board of Education meeting held Jan. 16 in the Deerfield Middle School cafeteria and feel the necessity to express some thoughts regarding this particular meeting.

The right to dissent is a cherished prerogative in the United States. It provides a powerful check on runaway ideologies. Here in Mountainside we are concerned about the school budget, its passage or defeat and the quality of education in our community. The budget, presumably a product of all school board members, should be hammered out before it is presented to the townspeople.

I, as a member of the community, find it distressing to be presented with a budget which some members of the school board wish to see defeated. This guarantees a hostile climate and sets the town up for bitter feelings before the people can decide on the merits of the budget. It is a misuse of the public trust to campaign for the defeat of a product of one's own making. When a bill comes out of a committee in Congress, it is endorsed by all the committee members. It is the best bill that the members of the committee could agree upon. It is then up to Congress to pass judgment on the bill and to vote for or against it.

Perhaps what hurts our community most is the kind of character defamation that was witnessed at the Board of Education meeting. At no time should any member of the board, presumably all honorable individuals, be reduced to maligning the character of any other board member.

I am referring specifically to the exchange between Mrs. Knodel and Dr. Hanigan in which Mrs. Knodel refused to accept as authentic a graph from Dr. West's office provided by Dr. Hanigan.

To defame the honesty and integrity of our school superintendent, who works tirelessly to provide Mountainside with high quality education, is to impugn the integrity of Mrs. Knodel, herself, and to destroy the foundation of the Mountainside school system.

ROBIN S. BIRNHAK, 1393 Outlook dr., West

·MUTUAL TRUST

It was a great shock to me at a recent budget hearing meeting to hear a member of the Board of Education, Mrs. Knodel, question the integrity of the superintendent of schools of Mountainside. I think we all have a right to our own opinion but when someone questions the validity of a document which has been presented and accuses the Superintendent of possibly misrepresenting facts, I think we have come to a sorry pass.

I hope there will be an apology for this occurrence. I think if our board and our superintendent cannot be trusted to act from honest motives we are in a bad way in this

The world is built on our trust and love for our fellowman. Only those who basically rely on this mutual trust and love should be elected to prepare policy for our schools in Mountainside.

'QUALITY EDUCATION'

Mrs. Palmer, in a recent article, referred to a group of hard-working and concerned citizens as a "paper committee." This is only one of the half-truths and distortions marring this newspaper account. Far from being merely a "paper committee," the Committee for Better Education is a grass roots group formed by necessity to try to counteract the negative, destructive attitude of some members of the school board.

The proposed school budget has been on public record for many weeks now. The tentative budget was voted on in public in December by the school board. The CBE flyer endorsing the budget was distributed on Jan. 12. Thus, it is another twist of the truth by Mrs. Palmer to say that the CBE has endorsed "a budget that had not even been voted on" by the board or one whose contents we "did not fully know." Perhaps Mrs. Palmer votes negatively so often at school board meetings that she has forgotten that she voted ("no," again) on the budget way back in December.

By coming out in favor of the budget the CBE members are not being "free spenders," but are trying to maintain quality education in a time of inflation. If Mrs. Palmer were being truly honest with Mountainside citizens, she would let them know that the increase in the budget is due to the increased fixed expenditures and that, in fact, there is some decrease in the purchasing power of the amount of money alloted to each child, due to inflation and despite the closing of Echobrook

What "frills" in this budget does Mrs. Palmer wish to cut? Transportation? Text books? Teaching supplies? These are her only choices. Everything else is fixed by the state, contract or the cost of maintenance.

If Mrs. Palmer were being truly honest with Mountainside citizens, she would not have been able to publish her "no vote" budget statement on Jan. 17, the morning after the budget vote by the board. Printing schedules forced her to present her statement to the press before the public hearing. This should show the voters that Mrs. Palmer had no intention of being responsive to public opinion as presented at this open public forum.

I am confident that the Mountainside voter will be able to separate fact from fiction and vote accordingly Feb. 13 vote accordingly Feb. 13.

"As one step in recognition of this problem, our current board has decided to phase out Echobrook School and effect substantial savings in plant operation. White, who has held a managerial position with the Esso Research and Refining Co. for more than 30 years, noted this business experience will be of importance in dealing with these major questions. The methods by which the school system will approach the state's mandate for equal education he sees "as requiring a new financial approach. It will be more a business question than an educational Registration forms will be distributed and tryout dates will be announced at the meeting, according to Ed Steel, president of the Little League.

Continuing his discussion of problems faced by the board, the candidate explained another concerns teachers and staff, "especially in regard to salary negotiations and general working conditions, Almost 80 percent of our costs are salary-related, and it is obvious that overall school costs are strongly influenced by whatever decisions are made in this area."

"Another matter of increasing concern," he continued, "is board relations with the public. I feel we should make more use of the talents of our citizens in helping to solve some of our special problems. I think the school board ought to involve the public more in its activities. Our citizenry includes experts in many fields, but we sometimes overlook them. We should draw on the experience and the expertise of these people."

WHITE ALSO criticized the board for "sometimes getting too involved in administrative details," thus hindering its work in more educationally-oriented aspects of its dutic... "An area to which I would hope the board can devote more time is a study of modern educational trends," he stated. "We must equip our children with the best possible education to face today's world. At the same time, we must recognize the financial strain on our taxpayers, especially citizens with more or less fixed incomes."

"I suspect there is no perfect background for a school board member," White noted, explaining that his own includes a degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Kentucky, with graduate study at Columbia University.

Two banks pool assets

Robert B. Barlow, president of the Central Jersey Bank and Trust Company, Freehold, has announced that the Mid State Bank and Trust Company of East Bruinswick formally joined the Central Jersey Bank last Thursday. The combined institution, which will operate under the title of the Central Jersey Bank and Trust Company, has assets of just over $450 million. ... "The union of the two banks has the advantages of providing customers of Mid State with the services of a larger banking institution, including making available the Central Jersey Bank computer center with greater savings of operating expenses," said Barlow. "And it enables The Central Jersey Bank to expand its service area into Middlesex County."

Mid State, which began operations in 1914 as the South River Trust Company, has long been one of the leading banking institutions in an area of more than 50,000 persons. Its primary trading area extends from South River and East Brunswick to Sayreville, Milltown, Spotswood, Helmetta, Jamesburg, Madison and Monroe town-

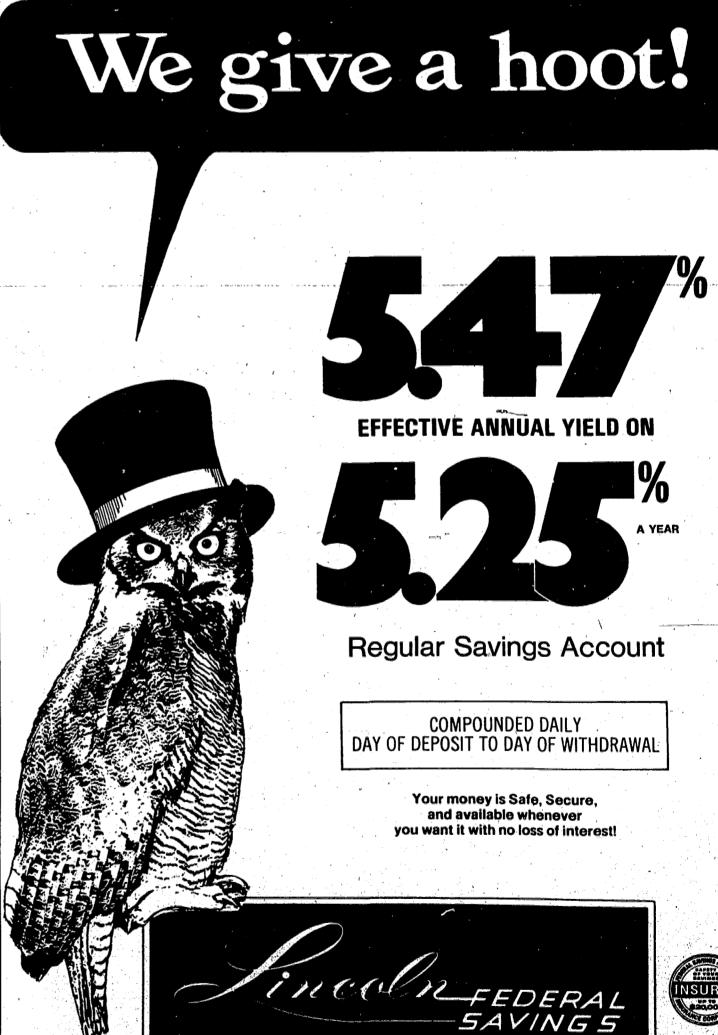

With the addition of the bank's three offices, the Central Jersey Bank now has 27 regional and branch offices serving the public in Middlesex, Monmouth and Union counties. The new offices are at Rt. 18 and Arthur street and 589 Cranbury rd., East Brunswick, and 25 Main st., South River.

library books is zero and for textbooks is 20 cents, despite a fairly consistent 10 percent per year inflationary trend for instructional materials "I applaud the board's effort on the budget, for it follows a least-cost line without loss of quality-as all board members agree. But then, examine it for yourself. Don't accept anyone's opinion without verification and explanation. "2. The $2,605 or five percent increase under 'Superintendent's Office' includes the office staff and Dr. (Levin) Hanigan. To imply that the leader of our school system does not contribute to the quality of a child's education is unjust and irresponsible, particularly coming from a board member.

"3. Mrs. Palmer failed to state, concerning board time spent on the budget, that for nearly two years a computerized planned budgeting program has been utilized, producing monthly up-to-date statements. With such a streamlined system, final or annualized figures can be adjusted to forecast the future. Well-organized businesses function in this manner for purposes of budgets, forecasts, expenses, inventories, etc. How much preliminary data was secured by the board business administrator to maximize board efficiency? Since when is the accuracy or feasibility of budgets determined solely by time expended to create them? (Incidentally, eight hours times seven board members equals 56 man-hours.)

"4. The accusation of 'blind budget acceptance' by Mrs. Palmer is obvious idle fancy. Copies were available (by line item) at the public library as of Jan. 1, 1974, providing ample time for analysis.

'5. $2,000 per child in Mountainside is certtainly expensive-and inaccurate. Properly calculated, the per child gross cost of education would be $2,009,902 total budget) minus $156,127 (debt service) minus $62,650 (transportation) equals $1,791,125, divided by 1,000 equals $1,791. Let's compare apples with apples-not pumpkins.

'In summary, Mrs. Palmer's statement is a self-serving distortion of oversimplified halftruths, misrepresenting her colleagues' efforts and misleading her fellow citizens. In order to be published on Jan. 17, Mrs. Palmer's statement had to meet the newspaper deadlines of Jan. 14, before the budget hearing. This can only indicate her indifference to the public comments offered at the hearing and her disrespect for the voters and taxpayers who came to the hearing to express their opinions. You, the citizen, must decide where loyal service and honest representation begin.'

A direct result of the energy crisis was seen in the number of outdoor Christmas lights reported stolen, which decreased from 20 to two. Street lights reported out totalled 253, up from 226.

Things apparently were a lot quieter at the Municipal Pool last summer, or there are more music lovers in town. Only five complaints vere received about loud music emanating from the facility, compared to 18 the previous Truancy dropped tremendously, with only two hooky-players being picked up in 1973; fifteen were apprehended in 1972. Five runaway children were apprehended, and 19 missing persons, the total number reported, were found and returned home. Police also apprehended one escaped mental patient.

There was only one indecent exposure case recorded, down from three the previous year. and there was also a decrease, from 49 to 31, in suspicious and obscene phone calls.

The number of assault and battery cases reported was the same for both years, three. Also remaining static was the number of stolen automobiles reported, 29; eight vehicles were recovered. Drops were recorded in stolen bicycles, from 41 to 35, and stolen property, from 130 to 114.

DRIVERS APPARENTLY are learning to keep on the borough roads. In 1972, two complaints were received about motorists driving across lawns, but last year there were none. Local deer also fared better; only one was struck and killed by a car, compared to five in Categories which had listings for 1972, but none in 1973, included accidental deaths; children struck by cars; children injured while sleigh riding; children injured at the pool; malicious damage at the pool and the recreation skating area; child abuse; worthless checks; attempted auto theft; bomb threats; larceny from persons, and malicious damage at Echobrook School.

Police checked a total of 600 burglar alarms found ringing in business places, up from 449 in 1972. According to Mullin, the calls resulted either from malfunctioning devices or because people forgot to turn off the alarm before they entered the building. Police also were called to local firms 142 times when doors and windows were discovered open. Calls to assist other police departments jumped from a total of 14 in 1972 to 56 last year.

Thirty firearms identication cards were issued; 58 permits were issued to purchase pistols, five to carry the weapons. One person was reported shot. Permits to carry pistols are usually issued to persons, such as bank guards, who would have a large amount of money or valuables in their possession, a police spokesman explained. Permits to purchase pistols are required for guns used for target practice or hunting; these may be carried by the owners only if they are checks; giving a false police report; possession kept in plain view, he noted.

THE REPORT INCLUDED a separate sheet just for dogs. There were 125 animals reported lost; 95 strays picked up by the SPCA; and 156 complaints on dogs received. Twenty-one persons were bitten by dogs, and 21 dogs were hit by autos.

The total number of arrests of adults made by local officers during 1973 was 175 compared to 152 for the previous year. The category showing the highest number of arrests was marijuana possession, with 26 in 1973, 22 in 1972. Second on the list was arrests of persons for driving while their licenses were revoked. showing a tally of 23. In 1972, there were 12.

Other drug-related charges included: ossession of dangerous drugs, 10, up from five in 1972; intent to sell marijuana, two: sale of marijuana, one; possession of hashish, one; possession of cocaine, one; being under the influence of drugs, four; intent to selldangerous drugs, three. Categories which showed arrests in 1972, but had none in 1973. were use of marijuana, being under the influence of marijuana, and possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Increases in arrests were noted in the following categories: Carrying concealed weapons, from three in 1972 to four in 1973; possession of burglar tools, from two to four: break and entry, from six to 11; assault and battery, from two to four; possession of stolen property, from one to 11; possession of stolen automobile, from two to six; trespassing, from one to five; persons arrested for other authorities, from 12 to 15.

Categories which showed no arrests in 1972, but did have tallies for 1973 included: loitering with intent to steal, two; illegal immigrants, three; fraud, one; conspiracy to defraud, two; embezzlement, one; possession of a firearm, two; abusive language, two; drunk and dis orderly, three; failure to give a good account of self, five; bookmaking, one; loitering, four; being AWOL, one; desertion and non-support,

THE MOST STRIKING DECREASE in arrests was persons picked up for being disorderly, which dropped from 22 to three. Other decreases were in arrests for larceny, which dropped from six to two, and drunk driving, from 12 to five. Categories which remained static, with one arrest in each year. were assault on a police officer; leaving the scene of an accident: child abuse, threatening to take a life; assault with a deadly weapon; and eluding a police officer.

Arrest listings which showed figures in 1972. but had none for 1973 were: automobile theft; attempted larceny of auto; passing worthless of alcoholic beverages; being a fugitive from

Of all adults arrested, one was committed to Marlboro State Hospital; 19 were held for the Grand Jury, and 20 were committed to the county jail.

The number of juveniles arrested more than doubled, going from 27 in 1972 to 58 last year. The largest increase was for loitering, with 10 youths picked up in 1973. No arrests were recorded on that charge in 1972. Other increases were in the number of juveniles arrested for larceny, up from one to eight; for malicious damage to property, from two to five; for break and entry, from two to four: for possession of stolen auto, from one to four; possession of marijuana, from five to six; disorderly persons, from one to two.

CATEGORIES WHICH SHOWED no arrests in 1972 had the following figures for '73: Being under the influence of liquor, one; making obscene phone calls, three; trespassing at the pool, six; possession of burglar tools, one; unaways (picked up for state agencies), one,

Decreases recorded in juvenile arrests were for use of marijuana, down from four to three; and for possession of alcoholic beverages, from hree to two. No arrests were recorded for larceny of automobile; attempted larceny of auto; possession of narcotics paraphernalia, or for being under the influence of drugs-all of which had listings in 1972. Fourteen complaints were sent to the County Juvenile Court, and one youth was committed to the Juvenile Detention

The police report also recorded the number of ambulance calls received, 422, up from 368 in 1972; and the number of fire calls answered 100, up from 61. Funds received by the department included $9,909 from fines and $1,440 for accident reports.

"The squad wishes to publicly acknowledge the many generous private donations received during the year from individuals and organizations," Brandt stated. "Such financial assistance plays an important role in the group's ability to continue to improve the service provided to the citizens of Mountainside.

"Thus came to a close an eventful year in the history of the organization. The squad and its officers pledge to strive to provide even better service to the citizens in 1974.'

expenses, and represents a $4,075 increase. Included are $86,700 for salaries; $14,930 for contracted services and $11,325 for other costs.

Attendance and health services and transportation costs represent five percent of current expenses. Attendance and health, totalling $37,520, is up $2,100. Included in the allocation are the salaries for the attendance office, doctor, dentist, psychiatrist and nurse, and health supplies.

TRANSPORTATION, at $62,650, is down $2,840. Mrs. Knodel noted the decrease is a result of other school systems' offers to transport Mountainside's handicapped youngsters for a nominal fee, as well as board trans-portation contracts made directly with parents of some of these children.

Operation and maintenance carries a $168,945 appropriation, up $11,780. "The lion's share in this line item is for heat, reflecting the anticipated increase in the cost of fuel oil,"... Lennox noted. That item has jumped from $31,100 to $46,200. Also covered in the category are custodial salaries, utilities, supplies and contracted services.

Plant maintenance costs, tallied at $88,785. have risen $10,685, with the largest portion, $41,900, going for contracted services. "We are in the process of building our own maintenance crew to eliminate the need for private contractors," Lennox explained, "but in the interim, while the men are being trained, there must be allocations for both." The total in this category covers those maintenance salaries. repair and replacement of equipment and repairs to buildings and grounds, including continuation of roofing projects.

Fixed charges, covering pensions, Social Security, property and liability insurance, employee benefits and tuition, have risen $10,530 to $117,420. Student activity costs are up $1,580 to $8,300, while summer school funds have decreased $8,000 to $10,000.

Discussing the latter area, Walter Rupp cited the failure of enrollment to develop to the level of previous estimates as a reason for the lower allocation. "There has been comment that the gas shortage will result in higher attendance in summer school this year and the board will review this matter carefully," he said. "Later in the year, a survey will be in order to see if this is the case." Parents would share summer school costs on a 50-50 basis with the board.

Cited as sources of revenue for the total budget are: local tax, $1,569,875, up $14,276; surplus, $50,000, down $20,201; state aid, $227,900, up $37,100; tuition, $5,000, down $4,000; and miscellaneous revenue, $1,000. Also included is an additional $156,127 in local taxes covering debt service. This figure is not placed on the ballot since it was previously voted on when the bond issue was approved.

FOLLOWING THE budget presentation, the meeting was opened to audience comment. with most of the initial questions directed to the possible transportation referendum. A statement by Mrs. Knodel that one of the reasons for the proposition was the energy crisis drew criticism that a cutback in buses would mean an increase in "driving mothers," and would therefore result in more, not less, fuel consumption.

Another resident, discussing the $15,000 saving that would result from limiting buses. noted this would be more than offset if the borough decided to put in sidewalks as a safety measure for the children. He stated that walks placed along the 33 miles of municipal streets would mean an expenditure of $6 million.

Another question was directed at plans for the Echobrook School, which will be closed this September. Lennox noted the board is considering the possibility of gaining revenue from it, possibly through rental, "but not to the point where we can anticipate revenue at this time. Therefore the budget must cover limited maintenance for the facility." Lennox added the school would be maintained in a "stand-by condition," promising, "We will not let it degenerate into a hulk on the highway."

After the budget resolution was passed, both Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Knodel made statements explaining their negative votes.

Mrs. Palmer commented, "Although current expenses increased 3.2 percent, which seems like a small amount of money, the expenses should be decreased. This is because we are closing one school, and enrollment has dropped 10 percent. There is nothing wrong with lowering costs if we can do it without affecting the education of our youngsters."

Charging waste in the budget, she added, "I am willing and have so voted to spend top dollar for teachers in order to give our children the finest education, buy good books and equipment. However, there comes a point when someone should call a halt to needless spending. A limit should be put on purchase of equipment, audio-visual aids etc., and only the cessities bought."

Mrs. Knodel, also citing the enrollment decrease and the Echobrook closing, questioned the 3.2 percent increase and noted she objects "strongly" to the method of purchasing and the lack of strong policies governing all expenditures made by this

She also commented on the Botter decision, which mandates the state to develop a new system of school funding, noting "It is highly unlikely the state will provide $2,000 per pupil. Therefore, Mountainside must economize. We have overspent for years. We must tighten our belts now so that when the Botter decision is implemented, it will not wreak havoc with our school system.

Undefeated Minutemen beat Florham, Carteret

The undefeated Springfield Minutemen registered two more victories last week to raise their basketball season victory total to 13. The Springfield team traveled to Florham Park last Wednesday for a 63-38 victory, Saturday evening at the Gaudineer School, the Minutemen had their toughest game of the season but downed Carteret, 55-50.

The Minutemen will be host to Warren Township Saturday evening at the Gaudineer

The strong Springfield defense and board control held Florham Park at bay. Kevin Doty paced the team in both departments; he blocked shots, swept the boards at both ends and finished with 20 rebounds. Willie Wilburn grabbed 19 rebounds and registered eight steals. Willie scored 11 points, Doty eight. Kenny Fingerhut paced the scoring for the Minutemen with 28 points. Kenny was held to nine by a strong Florham Park defense in the first half but broke loose in the second half.

Kenny Feld directed the attack from the point position and added to his assist total by passing for nine baskets. Skip Liguori, with seven points, was particularly effective in the second half as he put some needed spark in the

Harvey Kaisch also scored for Springfield in the contest. Other boys playing included Kenny Bernstein, Ronnie Scoppettuluo, Jimmy Siegal and Dave Ironson

The Springfield Minutemen were put to their hardest test of the season by the Nathan Hale School of Carteret, The Minutemen started fast, building up a 20-8 lead at the end of the first period. Carteret rallied and narrowed the to seven points at halftime. The Minutemen again pulled away in the third period, gaining a 16-point lead but Carteret put on a furious last-period rally before time ran

The Minutemen received balanced scoring in this contest. Feld played a brilliant game for Springfield, directing the attack with poise. Feld was tough on defense, paced the team in steals and scored eight points."

Fingerhut paced the attack with 18 points. Fingerhut hit three consecutive shots at the start of the second half. Doty again was tough for Springfield; he pulled in 15 rebounds and netted 14 points in the heavy going under the Wilburn also pulled in 15 rebounds and scored seven points. Baskin played one of his better games with nine rebounds and six points.

Red Devils to face Flyers in battle for floor hockey lead

The league-leading Red Devils and Silver Flyers are awaiting their showdown battle for first place (at 7:15 a.m. Thursday, Jan 31) in the early morning Dayton Intramural Program Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) floor hockey. In fourth round play, the Red Devils (4-0) shut out the Green Rockets (1-3) in an 11-0 rout while the Flyers handed the White Demons an 8-1 defeat. In other games the Black Hawks (0-3-1) played a 2-2 tie with the Blue Rebels (2-1-1).

Goalie Jerry Ragonese recorded the Devils' shutout behind the aggressive defensive and offensive play of Carmen Scoppettuolo (four goals, two assists), Joe Natiello (two goals, 1 assist), Derek Nardone (two goals, 1 assist), Larry Maxwell (two goals, four assists), John Montata (one goal, three assists) and Ed McNany. Rockets goalie Tom Jacques valiantly tried to stem the Devils attack with the aid of Bill Bjorstad, Gary Treasone, Frank Geiger, Tom Lovett, Bob Maguire and Jon Fisher.

Tom Russoniello sparked the Flyers with three goals and two assists. Jim Lofredo and John Pyar were credited with two goals and one assist. Mark Ronco tallied the other Flyers assist. Brian Belliveau scored the Demons' tally on a nice rebound shot. Joe Ragucci, Larry Dry, Mike Sternback, John Kelly and Jeff Bromberg played well for the Demons.

The Hawks' deadlock with the Rebels was highlighted by some excellent defense and shooting. Greg Prussing and Bob Potamski tallied for the Hawks on accurate slap shots from the 20 foot line. The Rebels' goal came on Tom Martino's bullet from the mid court area and Scott Grayson's rebound shot. Bob Lofredo and Vin Mirabelli were credited with assists as were fom Moen and Scott Grayson DIPPER Director John Swedish announced that the six-man team floor ball soccer league will begin play tomorrow with games slated Tuesday and Fridays at 7:15 a.m. Tomorrow the Red Raiders play the Blue Blazers and Tuesday the Green Hornets face the Gold Fingers. Additional teams will be formed if interest warrants. Each team will play 12 games with the winners receiving a trophy.

Bulldogs fall to W. Orange;

The third quarter was dominated by Morrison, who scored 14 points in the period after only six in the first half, and kept Dayton from penetrating the lane on defense. West Orange regained the lead at 40-38 on a Morrison turnaround jumper. Conte knotted the score at 42 apiece, but five straight West Orange points, four by Morrison, put the visitors ahead for good. The Cowboy lead stretched to 57-48 at the end of the period, and Dayton was unable to lower the margin in the final quarter.

The Bulldogs had all five starters scoring in double figures for the first time this year. Pepe led with 16 points on 8-13 shooting; Drew had 15, Palazzi and Conte 13 each, Widom 10 and Ted Johnson two, Steve Brumer and Bob Hydock played, but didn't score. Morrison lead the owboys with 28 points; Williams added 22.

Dayton hit on 24 of 56 field goal attempts for 43 percent, but West Orange shot at a 55 percent

The first half of the conference season ends tomorrow against New Providence and the Bulldogs hope to be 5-2 in the conference with losses to Verona (57-54) and West Orange, Next Tuesday's contest against Verona will be very important; Verona has a seven-game streak against the Bulldogs, and the Bulldogs need a victory to keep within striking distance of West Orange. Dayton currently is fourth in the conference, behind Summit and Verona (each 1) and West Orange. The Bulldogs have three "must" games in the next few weeks all on the road. After Verona, they face Summit and West Orange Feb. 12.

If the Bulldogs hope to win the conference title, they must defeat these teams and avoid upsets by the conference tailenders.

Woman charged in lottery released on $2,500 bail

Municipal Court Judge Jacob R. Bauer has forwarded to the Union County Grand Jury the case of a Rahway woman charged with possession of lottery paraphernalia.

Judge Bauer set bail at $2,500 at last Wednesday night's court session for Carnelle Arrington, who was apprehended on Jan. 3 on the lottery charge. Two other lottery-related charges were dismissed, but she also faces action on a disorderly persons count for possession of a prescription legend drug, Darvon. Bail was set at $100 on the disorderly

In other court action, Judge Bauer referred to the grand jury the cases of three persons arrested Dec. 30 in Echo Lake Park for possession of marijuana. Bail of $1,000 was set for Thomas B. Randall of Surf City, who was charged with possession of more than 25 grams of marijauan and possession of more than 25 grams of marijauan with intent to distribute. Lois E. Sutter, also of Surf City, and Dorothy Ann Sprafkin of Roselle Park were released on

$250 bail each for possession of more than 25

Cranberry Hill community opens new section of lots

A new section of 48 lots has been opened up at Cranberry Hill on Lacey road in Forked River, about a half-mile from Exit 74 of the Garden State Parkway, according to Joseph Billhimer, marketing director of The Mayer Corporation, developer of the community.

These lots, located in heavily-wooded areas, are provided with underground electric and telephone service.

Purchasers of lots have a wide variety of Colonial and contemporary Mayer-built homes to choose from, priced from $38,750. The existing built-up sections of Cranberry Hill are made up of three- and four-bedroom homes which are grouped around park-like courts in a winding pattern through 145 acres of natural woodland.

Popular models here include: The Lacey, with its spacious living room, one and baths, three one-half dining room, laundry and attached garage; the two-bedroom, one-bath Kent, with a front porch and optional rear patio, laundry room and attached garage; the Mermaid, with two bedrooms, living room, dining room, one and one-half baths, entry, screened porch, laundry room and attached room', laundry room and attached garage. The L-shaped Roxboro features three bedrooms, two baths, living room, dining room, family room, laundry room and twocar garage. All of these are single story.

Then there is the two-story Colonial, the Windsor, which has four bedrooms, two baths and a powder room, a large family room, living room, dining room, laundry room, and attached garage. All the homes at Cranberry

Hill, Billhimer said, include spacious rooms and convenient layout, colorful ceramic tile bathrooms, Hotpoint all-electric kitchens with attractive wooden cabinets and self-edged plastic-laminated counters, wall-to-wall carpeting, electric baseboard heat with individual controls in every room, fully insulated walls and ceilings, white bakedenamel aluminum triple-track combination windows, white seamless gutters and downspouts, and 110-220 volt, 150- in the Singer Shop-Rite group amp circuit breakers with under the direction of copanel service and many owners Sidney and Martin outlets.

Cranberry Hill attracts year-round residents, Billhimer pointed out, because of its Ocean County location with nearby boating, swimming and fishing. Cranberry Hill can be reached from the Garden State Parkway to Exit 74, left

A FEMININE LOOK ... AT THE WORLD ... AND THINGS

OF BANGKOK-AND WATS Eleventh In a Series

"As I was saying..." In the heat of summer I went to the Orient. It was a mistake because it was hotter than all Hades in the Orient too. And that is hotter than New Jersey.

But so it was. At least the scenery was "cool." Our itinerary called for five cities in Japan, then Taipei, Manila, Hong Kong, Chiong Mai. Singapore, Macao, Bangkok, Chieng Mai, Singapore, Denpasar (Bali) and the glorious Hawaiian Islands; and that's not bad scenery material, you must admit. Alsaka, the one stop on the way over, is no slouch either. It is grand.

Taipei, Hong Kong, Macao and Singapore were discussed in a previous Feminine Look column, and now we go to Muang Thai, meaning "land of the free," which is what the people lovingly call their country. We used to call it Sim and now, Thailand.

Bangkok, the capital of Thailand, is a "twin" city full of old, exquisite, fairy-tale colored temples and palaces on one side of the river (Thonburi), and plush, new, concrete-and-steel hotels and office buildings on the other. So much so that one almost feels as though they are competing with one another, and that, perhaps overnight, a whole new "field" of temples will flower, or a whole "forest" of hotels will thrust up, all trying to outdo each

At first glance it is disappointing. It looks too Western. It sounds too modern, particularly when you first arrive at your very new, sleek hotel int he new section. Even with a good old Thai name like "Dusti Thani," which means "State of Paradise;" the hotel feels as though it could be in New York. Except, I will admit, that when you look out of the window, even from the 18th floor, and see a pet elephant sashaying about the front garden, gently nudging all the tourists, it helps dispel the New York mood.

At second glance, too, it is also true that when you go on the klongs in the early morning and see the old-houses along the water and watch the floating markets and smile with the enchanting, sweet Thai people, you really are in the world of the Orient and sampans and strange hats and Eastern looks.

Then you hear that there is a planafoot to cover the klongs with a paved highway, and away flies the Oriental mood again.

THONBURI and Bangkok are separated by the river called Chao Phraya (which Carries the the gorgeous teak down from the north) but Thonburi is include under "Bangkok." Rather the same as New York City with its Brooklyn, etc., etc. The smaller Thonburi side, which is on the right bank, is where most of the famous temples, or "wats", are located. There are some 400 wats in "Bangkok," some of the most famous of which are the Temple of the Reclining Buddha (Wat Po), the high-towered Temple of the Dawn (Wat Arun) and perhaps the most famous of all, the Wat Phra Kawo, the King's place of worship. Here is housed the twofoot-high Emerald Buddha, a single piece of carved, green jasper enthroned on a high golden atlat. This buddha has three changes of clothes, one for each of the seasons in Thailand: hot, cool and rainy.
But HIS clothes are Something Else.

Not only are they solid gold but they are trimmed with precious jewels. And who changes them? Who else? The King of Siam, of course! Himself. In great ceremony too.

THE TEMPLE of the Emrald Buddha is surrounded on the external base with monkeys and demons, 220 of them altogether. The ones with shoes are demons, those without shoes, monkeys. And, if you are one of the lucky ones who has one of those old "rubbings" of the Siamese dancers, this is the temple from which they come. They are in a row, in squares near the base, with figures depicting the steps of the dance, in relief. They are about 15 inches square, rather similar to framed pictures, and very high. It is relatively easy for an artist or anyone, to take rice paper, a colored crayon or chalky pencil, and rub the pencil back and forth and get a good copy of one of the squares. That is, it used to be easy. Nowadays it is taboo. So many people were rubbing the poor dancers, they were getting worn down. Now most of the rubbings are commercially printed from master models, on rather thick paper, and the end result is no where near the same.

Splended as the Emrald Buddha is, my favorite is the Golden Buddha at the Wat Trai Mit. Perhaps it is its story. Or perhaps it is simply that I like gold. But so much?

FIVE AND A HALF TONS worth, would you believe?

'Cry of the Wild' arrives at Park

"Cry of the Wild," American National film for adults and children, arrived yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park,

The picture, photographed in color in the wilds of Canada, is a home-movie type documentary of Canadian wolves, offering intimate, informative glimpses of the wild and tame wolves.

Directed and photographed by Bill Mason (who took his family to Canada to study the animals), the movie is highlighted by some photo shots of the Canadian Northwest, the caribou-wolf relationship and interesting commentary on the lives of the wild animals.

The initial episodes in the desolate wilderness provide a background to the tender scenes of the animals in captivity.

Operalogue planned on Monday evening

Maestro Alfredo Silipini will conduct an operalogue at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, Monday at 8 p.m., on the opera, Ponchiellie's "La Gioconda." The opera will be performed by the Opera Theater of New Jer-sey, Women's Committee of Mountainside, at the Symphony Hall, Newark, Sunday evening Feb. 10. Grace Bumbry of the Metropolitan Opera will sing the lead role with Richard Tucker and Antonia Kitsopoulos.

An operlogue is an in depth study of the story of the opera. The intentions of the composer are explained and defined by the maestro, who incorporates arias sung or played by the Opera Theater singers or the chorus.

A reception will be held after the performance in the lobby and refreshments will be served. The public is invited to attend record, "Americans" began as an editorial by Gordon Sinclair, a Canadian writer and owner of radio station CFRB in Toronto. Proclaiming Americans as one of the world's most unappreciated and unjustly maligned peoples, the editorial was reprinted in many newspapers.

MacGregor, news director of station CKLW in Detroit, read it on the air during a newscast. The enormous response the station resceived-a record 3,500 phone calls-prompted Westbound to record MacGregor reading "Americans" with an instrumental backing by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra of "America The Beautiful." The combination produced an instantaneous smash.

MacGregor and Peter Scheurmier, producer of the record, are donating their royalties from "Americans" to the American Red Cross. One of the points raised in "Americans" is that the U.S. always provides assistance in major world disasters but foreign countries never reciprocate. As a result, the Red Cross was bankrupt halfway through its fiscal year.

Dinner will follow Montoya concert

A limited number of patron's tickets have been made available for the Feb. 2 Theater-onthe-Hill concert by renowned flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya, and a gala patrons' party with dinner and dancing to the music of Peter Duchin and his orchestra.

Patron tickets, normally sold to season subscribers only, will be sold on a one-night basis for this performance, Mrs. Emmett B. Dunn, chairman, announced this week. Tickets ($50 per couple) include preferred seating for the Montoya concert. Patrons are invited to a pre-therter coctail party as well as the post-theater buffet. Tickets may be reserved by calling 228-4424

Cliburn postpones Union appearance after death of father

Van Cliburn has postponed his Feb. 23 ap-pearance at Union High School with Recital Stage, and all other engagements in the near feature, because of the death of his father

Ruth Slenczynska, noted American planist, has agreed to replace Cliburn on short notice. according to Dr. Jerome Erman. president of Recital Stage. "We deeply regret Cliburn's postponement," Dr. Erman said, "but we will do everything in our power to satisfy those who hold tickets for his concert."

Cliburn's recital has been rescheduled for a Saturday in the fall of 1974, Dr. Erman said, and all tickets purchased for the Feb. 23 concert will be honored at the later date. In addition, ticket-holders for the Cliburn concert will be Recital Stage's guests at the Ruth Slenczynska concert, her first in the New York area in 15 years.

Miss Slenczynska was world-famous as a child prodigy, and made her debut in Berlin at the age of seven, Paris at eight and New York (at Carnegie Hall) at the same age. She studied with Arthur Schnabel, Sergel Rachmaninoff and Nadia Boulanger, among other noted teachers and performers. As a prodigy, she was noted for her easy handling of difficult works and her ability to give complete recitals of classical and romantic works without

She made many tours with the Boston Pops Orchestra and Arthur Fiedler, including two tours of South America, three of Europe, two of the Far East, and one of Africa. Over the years she has made many radio and television appearances, including most talk shows, and made many successful recordings. In recent years she has been artist-in-residence at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill.

Additional tickets for Miss Slenzcynska's conncert, which will begin at 8 p.m. may be purchased at $4, $5 and $6. Remaining tickets for the rescheduled Van Cliburn concert are still available at $10 and $12.50. Information may be obtained from Recital Stage, by calling 688-1617 or writing P.O. Box 25, Union.

Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater to the Recital Stage at Union High School, Feb. 16 at 8 p.m., has, for the past 28 years, presented grand opera in English to all parts of the United

His company, composed of more than 70 youthful performers, will stage two one act comic operas, Mozart's "The Impressario" and Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief.", Recital Stage is sponsored by the Foundation for the Performing Arts.

During the nearly three decades of Goldovsky's career, people such as Phyllis Curtin, Mildred Miller, Paul Franke, Sherill Milnes, Adele Addison and Roslind Elias, made their operative debut with the Goldovsky company.

Presented in fluent English versions, the theater's productions include full orchestra, staging, lighting and costuming.

The company's first production in 1946 was "The Marriage of Figaro," followed by "Rigoletto," "Carmen" and "The Barber of Seville." Goldovsky, a firm believer in Mozart as the foremost operatic composer, has unearthed and produced other lesser-known works by the master including "La Finta Giardiniera" and for the company's concert, Feb. 16 in Union, "The Impresario."

Over the years, the company has made in-novations in technical handling of operatic

Allen comedy now

Woody Allen's stage comedy, "Play It Again, Sam," opened yesterday at the Paper Mili Playhouse, Millburn, starring Tony Roberts, Marcia Rodd and Mark Shapiro.

The play will run through Feb. 17, with performances Wednesday, Thursday, Friday at 8:30 p.m.; Saturday at 5 and 9:30 p.m., Sunday at 7:30 p.m., with a Thursday matinee at 2 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at the box office or by calling 376-4343.

Frank Carrington, producer of the Paper Mill Playhouse, has announced two musicals for the 1974 spring season.

Ann Miller will star in Cole Porter's "Anything Goes," opening March 27 and running through May 12. Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" with Betsy Palmer and Jerome Hines follows on May 15 through June 30.

It was announced that subscriptions to both plays are available for a 10 percent reduction, and single tickets and gift subscriptions can be bought from the box office.

Following "Play It Again, Sam," Neil Simon's "The Prisoner of Second Avenue," starring Jerry Stiller and Anne Meara, will open Feb. 20 and will run through March 24.

Additional information on the concert can be obtained by calling 688-1617 or by writing Recital Stage, P.O. Box 25, Union.

MICHAEL MORIATY

Michael Moriarty plays an ace pitcher in "Bang The Drum Slowly," film version of the classic American novel by Mark Harris that explores human friendships using the backdrop of professional baseball.

The picture opened yesterday at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth, on a double bill with Woody Allen's film, "Play It Again, Sam," starring Allen, and written and directed by Allen.

If Moriarty appears at home in his role as a baseball player, he attributes the familiarity to his grandfather, the late George Moriarty, a professional baseball player, who spent 65 of his 82 years in the sport, as a player, an umpire, a manager and a scout.

The picture, in color, which was directed by Oscar-winner John Hancock, also stars Robert DeNiro, Phil Foster, Selma Diamond, Vincent Gardenia, Ann Wedgeworth and Heather MacRae.

Dear Pat and Marilyn:

I go to college and am on a limited budget. The problem is Barbara. She expects me to take her to expensive restaurants and entertain her afterwards. I simply don't have that kind of money. When I suggest a hamburger, she insists on steak. This means I eat beans all week. I finally laid it on the line and told her I only had a certain amount to spend; and that if she wanted a more expensive evening, she'd have to foot a part of the bill. Much to my_suprise, she agreed. Now I feel like a kept man. What's your opinion?

I'm certain you are in-formed regarding the hazards of cigarette smoking. TV commercials, the health program in our public schools, plus literature published by the American Cancer Society and the Heart Association has done a great deal to bring facts to the public. To smoke or not to smoke is your decision. Why not make the right one?

FOLK DANCERS — The Moshiko dancers will perform traditional Israeli, Oriental Yemenite, Habani and Bukharian folk dances in costume for Monday's 'Israeli

'Israeli Evening' will feature Moshiko dancers, folksinger

"An Israeli Evening," a program of folk song and dance, film and lectures, will be presented at Seton Hall University in South Orange Monday, at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Center. Sponsored by the School of Education in connection with its scheduled study-tour of Israel planned for May, the event is open to the public free of charge, especially those who may be interested in participating in the tour.

The program will feature Israeli folksinger Elinoar Moav and the Moshiko dancers. Miss Moav, who has performed throughout Israel and Europe, sings folk songs and ballads in both Hebrew and English, accompanying herself on the guitar.

The repertoire of the Moshiko dancers includes Oriental-style dances and modern Israeli folk dances choreographed by Moshiko, who is well known in Israel and Europe as an accomplished dancer, choreographer and teacher of Israeli folk dance. Yemenite, Habani and Bukharian dances will be performed in the traditional -style in- native dress with ac-companiment by Oriental flute and drom. Zvi Dagan of the Israel Ministry of Tourism

Jan 31 is deadline for alien reports

Dominic F. Rinaldi, New Jersey District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, reminded aliens in New Jersey today that Thursday, Jan. 31, is the deadline for filing address report forms as required under provisions of the Immigration and Naturalization Act.

The immigration official urged aliens who have not yet filed their address reports to do so immediately to avoid possible penalities. Rinaldi said the law requires every alien, except those having diplomatic status and representatives of certain international organizations, to file the address report during January of each year.

He said an estimated 285,000 aliens in this state have filed address reports so far this January. A total of 266,000 filed address reports in New Jersey last year. Reports for 1974 are expected to total near 290,000.

HARD OF HEARING RESIDENTS OFFERED FREE BOOKLET

WILMINGTON, DEL. - A free United States Government booklet entitled 'Hearing Loss - Hope Through Research,' is now available to persons suffering a hearing loss.

Published by the U.S. Dept. of Public Health, Education and Welfare for use by the hard-of-hearing, the booklet covers such facts as inherited deafness, discovering early trouble, selecting a hearing aid, noise damaging and adults's hearing, and the main types of hearing loss.

Free copies of the booklet are available by writing to "Government Booklet," Independence Mall, Suite 65, 1601 Concore and historic sites of Israel, including some of the sites to be visited during the Seton Hall trip in May. The study group will tour Israel and attend seminars in conjunction with the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Further information and material concerning the study tour will be available during "An Israeli Evening."

Sandy Hook Park conveyed by state for U.S. operation

Richard J. Sullivan, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), and Joseph Antosca, superintendent of Gateway National Recreation Area, this week jointly announced the recent conveyance of Sandy Hook State Park to the federal government.

Sandy Hook park will be the first operational unit of the Gateway project which eventually will have four other units-at Jamaica Bay, Breezy Point, Staten Island, and the Hoffman-Swinburne Islands. Gateway will be the first major urban national recreation area in the

A special use permit was issued by the DEP's Bureau of Parks authorizing the National Park Service to operate, maintain and protect the property until a formal takeover has been arranged. It is required that legislation be adopted authorizing the conveyance of these particular state-owned lands and improvements to the federal government as part of Gateway. The formal changeover will take place after appropriate legislative action.

Dale Engquist, area manager of the Sandy Hook unit of Gateway, said that in the first year, during the initial planning and land acquisition stages, the National Park Service will operate the park in generally the same manner as New Jersey has done. Sandy Hook State Park was established in 1962 when New Jersey purchased 10 acres of riparian lands located immediately south of the military reservation and leased 745 acres from the Department of the Army. The state constructed two ocean bathing units and in the more than 6,716,000 visitors came to the park. The area is used extensively for surf fishing, ocean bathing and nature

An outdoor nature center was established with an old Coast Guard station serving as headquarters for classrooms and laboratories. Thousands of students from schools and colleges utilized the facilities to gain a first-hand knowledge of the local plant and animal life and natural forces existing in a barrier beach environment.
