930 youngsters poised to answer school bell's ring

As Labor Day approaches, Mountainsiders are making plans for the last long weekend of the summer—but those of school age also are looking ahead a few more days, when school bells will herald the start of a new term.

Children attending the Mountainside public schools will have a half-day of classes next Wednesday with the full schedule beginning next Thursday. Staff members begin their jobs a bit earlier, on Tuesday.

According to Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools, the estimated enrollment is 930, down from a 987 June figure. Approximately 630 youngsters are set to attend the Deerfield School complex, a kindergarten-through-8th grade facility, while another 300 are signed up for Beechwood School, K-5th grade.

The list of approximately 80 professional staff members includes two new names this year: Ralph Most, a physical education instructor, and Hope Grabowski, who will teach a special 4th grade group of students requiring more individualized instruction.

Students at Our Lady of Lourdes School will not begin a full-day of classes until Sept. 8, although 1st graders will come in for a half-day session on Sept. 5.

Enrollment at the parochial facility, including those youngsters in the multi-age group (a combined preschool-kindergarten program), stands at 170—an increase of 20 over September 1974 registrations.

OLL lists 16 fulltime and parttime professional staff members—all of whom begin their fall terms next Wednesday. The only new instructor is Alice Glennon, who will be an 8th grade homeroom teacher and an instructor in mathematics and social studies for the 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

All Mountainside high school students are now attending Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield, which has an approximate enrollment of 1,500—up from 1,440 in June. Freshmen will attend a half-day orientation program on Sept. 2, with all students beginning classes on Sept. 3.

The 95-member professional staff includes four new members: Betty Ruffley, a librarian in the Instructional Media Center; Louis Spirito, English instructor; Kim Martinelli, vocal music teacher, and Gregory Fallon, audio-visual technician in the IMC.

According to Dr. Martin Siegel, director of instruction, there will be one major curriculum change in the high school program—the offering of alternate-year courses in the English, social studies and science departments.

"What this means, basically," he explained, "is that instead of offering some courses each year in all four schools, a course would be offered one year in one school, and the next year at another school. Or it might be offered in all four schools one year, and in one the following year. Some type of alternate scheduling is involved."

"For instance, English Literature to 1800, a

DONALD HALBSGUT

GOP leaders pick Halbsgut for council seat

Donald Halbsgut of 1025 Ledgewood road has been proposed by the Mountainside Republican Committee to fill the Borough Council seat vacated last week by Peter M. Simmons and to be a candidate for a three-year term on the governing body in the November election.

Halbsgut, president and owner of Halbsgut Art Studios in Roselle, has been a Mountainside resident for four years and a member of the GOP Committee for two. In announcing the selection last week, committee chairman Ed Gibadlo commented, "I am very happy with the choice. I feel this falls into the continuous flow of people who are interested in the welfare of the community. I know he will do a fine job, just as the Republican party and administration have done in the past."

The new councilman was picked over two other applicants for the council post. Timothy Benford of Whipoorwill way and Marilyn Hart of Summit road. "Any one of these would have done a good job," Gibadlo said.

Halbsgut, 40, is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art. In addition to his service as a Republican County Committeeman from the 10th District, he has been active in local recreational programs, serving as a manager in the Senior League and an umpire in the Little League. He is a member of Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield.

Halbsgut and his wife, the former Elsa Wagner of Mountainside, have four children: Glenn, 18, a student at Rutgers University; Wayne, 17, a senior at Jonathan Dayton; Susan, 13, an 8th grader at the Deerfield School; and Christa, 4.

Simmons, a councilman for nearly six years, announced his resignation at last week's meeting of the governing body. He is leaving his present job as deputy director of the New Jersey State Lottery Commission to become director of a new state lottery in Delaware.

Registration open for midget football

Registration for the Mountainside Jets football team is still being taken for the 1975 season. Boys 9 years old (by Sept. 1) to 14½ (boys must not have entered ninth grade) are eligible to participate in this competitive program. There will again be three teams this year—lightweight, middleweight and heavyweight squads. Each team will play a full schedule.

The clinic (no contact) teaching 7 and 8-year-olds the fundamentals of football will be repeated this season. For further information readers may call the registration chairman, George Fischer, at 233-5199.

Dayton principal announces community involvement aims

Students returning to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield next week will find some changes, according to Anthony J. Fioraliso, principal. In a statement issued this week, Fioraliso said a committee of students, parents and staff will be formed to help in reviewing school goals. A principal's advisory committee of parents will also be established.

Following is a full text of Fioraliso's statement.

It would please me to write a long commentary on the accomplishments at Jonathan Dayton during the 1974-75 school year since there have been many which have provided an improved quality of education for our students. To do so, however, would require more space than available here and also be of lesser importance because we would be speaking of what is the past. In all fairness to you and your youngsters, today and tomorrow must be considered more relevant since we will endeavor to build upon what currently exists in order to continue to improve services.

Although not so with all program modifications for the 1975-76 school year, the primary thrust will be to increase community involvement in the school. Plans in this direction include:

—A monthly newsletter to the parents to keep them informed of current happenings in the school. The first issue will be mailed in October 1975.

—A committee of students, parents and staff will be established to review the goals of the school.

—In addition to the freshman parent orientation, parents of sophomores, juniors and seniors will be randomly invited to attend one of a series of evening sessions dealing with the school and its programs.

—The manner in which college representatives visit the school will be modified to have a minimum of six representatives in the school at a single time. Special sessions will be scheduled and parents will be invited to attend.

—A principal's advisory committee of parents will be established.

—Administrative reorganization will take place to the degree possible to move some paperwork out of the guidance office and thereby give counselors more time to work with students and parents.

—A Learning Resource Center will be established to better meet the special needs of individual students.

—An expanded Independent Study program will be instituted on a pilot basis in the spring of 1976 for seniors who meet the criteria in a further attempt to meet individual needs and to have students working with the community.

—We will decrease our lunch periods from four to three for next year, thereby eliminating the early lunch period.

—Our new seniors, juniors and sophomores will have utilized arena scheduling during June 1975 in order to have greater input into their individual schedules for the 1975-76 school year.

—Volleyball will be added as the fourth girls'

Kresge Foundation pledges $50,000 to outdoor center

A $50,000 "challenge grant" was pledged last week by the Kresge Foundation of Troy, Mich., to help finance $799,594 in anticipated capital costs for the Four Seasons Outdoor Center operated by the Westfield YMCA in Hunterdon County.

To earn the grant, the center must raise

COOKING TEACHER — Mrs. Vivian Collyer of Mountainside will teach Continental Cooking at Temple Emanu-El of Westfield's adult day school, which starts Sept. 29. Other courses will be offered in opera, acrylic painting, estate planning and decoupage. More information may be obtained by calling 654-4543 or by writing to 22 Genesee Trail, Westfield 07090.

$200,000, the balance of development costs, by Nov. 15, 1976.

Announcement of the grant was made by Norbert A. Weldon, co-chairman of the Center Committee of Management and a chief fund raiser for the project.

"The Kresge Foundation's handsome gift represents a fine investment in the future," said Weldon, in accepting the challenge. "Moreover, it constitutes national recognition of the merits of the project. We will work hard to meet the conditions of this generous grant. The Outdoor Center is rich in meaning for all of the citizens of northern and central New Jersey and metropolitan New York," said Weldon.

The 153-acre tract—one of those rare pieces of land farmed by the same family since pre-Revolutionary days—is being developed by the YMCA and YWCA of Westfield as an outdoor recreational and environmental study center.

One of the most exciting aspects is a "living school" of 32 environmental stations spread around the center's fields and streams, offering youngsters the opportunity to know nature by studying the piece of it closest to them.

History comes alive for them through the old pioneer farm with its colonial road, hand-hewn bridge, stone hedge rows, handsome two-century-old farmhouse, and two-hundred-year-old barns.

A new three-acre pond provides an area for swimming and boating for family recreation, and seven campsites are available for camping.

Total capital costs include purchase of the 153-acre former farm located in rural Lebanon Township, development of the center, land improvement, construction of a handsome 15-room conference center, and restoration of the old stone farmhouse as a small item museum and meeting center.

"Previous gifts from individuals, corporations and foundations totaling $349,700 have underscored the wide appeal of the center," said Weldon.

"YMCA National Camping Director, Charles A. Kujawa reminded us at our dedication in June that every boy or girl who uses this facility is part of the 21st Century. What they do and learn here thus has a vital impact on the future."

Woman is injured as auto rams pole

A 26-year-old Union woman was injured Sunday night when her car skidded into a utility pole on rain-slicked Summit road in Mountainside.

Borough police said Kathleen Crescenzi was driving south on Summit near Heckel drive at 11:20 p.m. when the mishap occurred. She suffered facial cuts and was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Mountainside Rescue Squad.

The following morning, at 8:15 a two-car crash on Rt. 22 left two persons injured. Police reported a car operated by August W. Stahnke, 60, of Clark, was turning into Drewette's Nursery, off the eastbound lanes, when it was hit in the rear by one driven by Chester H. King, 18, of Cedar avenue, Mountainside. Two impact sent Stahnke's auto into a tree and a scate used by the nursery.

According to police, King complained of head pains. A passenger in his vehicle, Edward M. Soltysik, 50, complained of leg pains; both said they would see their own physicians.

Jewelry, TV set stolen from home

A color Television set, camera equipment and jewelry—worth a total of approximately $1,500—were reported stolen Friday from a New Providence road home.

Mountainside police said burglars gained entry to the residence between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. by ripping the screen from an unlocked window. Several rooms were ransacked.

The thieves, who also stole a 16-inch hunting knife, apparently made their escape on foot through woods leading into Watchung Reservation, police said.

Strobino named to corporate post

Edward D. Strobino of Mountainside has been named corporate controller at Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick.

Strobino joined Ethicon, Inc., a Johnson & Johnson affiliate located in Bridgewater, in 1959. He advanced through various positions, being named treasurer in 1970 and vice president of finance in 1974.

A native of Paterson, Strobino graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson University in 1958. He earned an M.B.A. degree there in 1962.

Report from Washington

By Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo

A method of painlessly reducing dependence on foreign oil producers—and in so doing create new business opportunities and combat pollution—has been overlooked as the United States struggles to cope with its energy problems.

It is through re-refining of waste oil—a process extensively utilized in Europe, but one that has never really caught on in America.

With the White House and Congress looking at all sorts of complex ways to reduce the nation's dependence on foreign oil producers, I believe the time has arrived to encourage production and use of recycled oil.

In my view, reasonable tax incentives for recycling oil, and a federal policy creating a basic market for recycled oil through a requirement that it be used in all government vehicles, would be amply justified.

With federal incentives of this kind, I can foresee the private operation of oil recycling centers in every state—a trend providing a massive oil saving for the nation, opportunities for small business entrepreneurs, and an end to wasteful and harmful dumping of used oil products.

Studies made by the Federal Energy Administration provide ample justification for such an industry. The FEA studies show, for instance, that 1.1 billion gallons of refinable oil are generated each year from U.S. automobile and industrial sources.

That amounts, in bulk, to no more than one percent of the nation's annual petroleum consumption. But it equates to more than 70,000 barrels of oil a day—or seven percent of President Ford's energy conservation goal for 1975. Saving that amount of oil would go a long way toward making our country independent of foreign oil producers.

The 1.1 billion gallons of waste oil available annually for re-refining has been listed by the FEA as the recoverable part of 2.2 billion gallons of lubricant oil sold each year.

What happens to the other 1.1 billion gallons? The answer, according to the FEA, is that it is consumed in use, lost through leakages, or absorbed in filter cartridges.

A particularly troublesome aspect of the waste of used oil is that more than 500 million gallons a year are being discarded in ways that damage the environment. It is being dumped in back yards or woods—and in time pollutes rivers, streams and drinking water supplies.

Wasteful and environmentally dangerous aspects of dumping used oil are particularly acute in New Jersey, which is among the top 10 oil consuming states in the nation. FEA records show that the Garden State generated more than 36 million gallons of waste oil last year.

It is an unfortunate paradox that re-refining of waste oil is receiving less support now than it did before the United States became embroiled in an energy crisis.

In the early 1960s there were about 150 re-refining centers in the United States producing an estimated 300 million gallons of oil a year. By 1972 the number had dwindled to less than 40 with a production of less than 100 million gallons a year. The decline has since continued with production steadily dropping.

The Federal Energy Administration tells me that one reason for the decline has been technological advances requiring less frequent automotive oil changes. While aiding motorists, this advance resulted in a heavier concentration of additives and impurities in oil drained from automobiles—and that in turn made re-refining more costly.

Another factor tending to discourage re-refining has been the removal of a six percent excise tax on virgin nonautomotive lubricating oil. This change deprived re-refiners of a small but necessary tax advantage.

Given renewed encouragement at federal level—including restoration of reasonable tax breaks and an assured government market—re-refining of waste oil could become an economically viable industry.

It could not meet all our energy needs. But it would be a significant step in that direction.

Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE Reports

Complaints emanating from the Executive Branch that Congress is improperly "meddling" in American foreign policy are being heard with increasing frequency. But such complaints must not deter Congress from performing its proper constitutional role in shaping our relationships with other nations. There is nothing new in Executive Branch criticism of efforts by Congress to fulfill its constitutional role in foreign policy. Similar criticism was voiced by some Johnson and Nixon Administration officials and their supporters when Congress voted to curb, and eventually end, America's military involvement in the tragic Indochina conflict. In that issue, the press and the academic community, alike strongly urged Congress to exercise its constitutional responsibilities.

Minister leaving; reception Sunday

The Rev. William L. Frederickson Jr., minister of education at the First Baptist Church of Westfield since 1973, has announced his resignation effective Monday. Mr. Frederickson has accepted an invitation to become chaplain and instructor in religion at the Wayland Academy in Beaver Dam, Wisc. In the two years Mr. Frederickson served in Westfield, he was active in the Youth Guidance Council and the Friends of Youth and was secretary-treasurer of the Westfield Ministerium. A reception for him will be held Sunday following the 10 a.m. worship service. Lorene Sherman is in charge of arrangements.

Rinaldo praised for help in getting Echo Lake funds

Cooperation provided by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo, R-N.J., 12th District, was praised by a Union County Park Commission official this week when a supplementary federal grant of $713,583 was announced for the replacement of storm-damaged bridges and dams in Echo Lake Park, Mountainside.

"We are very happy with this funding and appreciate the cooperation of Congressman Rinaldo who worked with us to obtain it," said George T. Cron, secretary and general superintendent of the park commission.

The additional grant, approved by the Federal Disaster Assistance Agency, brings total funding for the park work to $870,977.

Rinaldo intervened to aid the county when delay and other problems affecting the supplementary grant application were experienced earlier this year. He negotiated with FDAA to expedite the funding.

The Union County lawmaker said the grant would cover virtually the entire cost of replacing three bridges and two dams demolished in a 1973 storm that caused heavy flooding in the area.

"The reconstruction work has been under way since early this year and is expected to be completed in a few weeks," he said. "The new bridges and dams have been built to withstand a 100-year intensity flood and because of this the structures are stronger and safer than those they replace."

Raymond J. Tornabene of Elizabeth for three offenses on Mill Lane: operating an unregistered vehicle, misuse of license plates and failure to have a valid driver's license in his possession.

James D. Bowen of Durham, N.H., paid $30 for speeding 55 mph in a 35-mile zone on Deerpath, and $15 for failure to have current inspection on his vehicle. A total of $40 was paid by Antonio Deimedeci of Newark, ticketed on Rt. 22 for operating a truck with bald tires, no tail lights, a noisy muffler and a wired-on license plate.

Also charged with exceeding the 35 mph speed limit on Deerpath were Linda I. Vail of Cranford, fined $30 for traveling 56 mph; Edward R. Edmon of Watchung, $30 for 55 mph, and William D. Goodrich of Warren, $25 for 52 mph. James C. Barnhill of Summit paid $30 for speeding 56 mph in a 35-mile zone on New Providence road.

Other drivers, their offenses and penalties were as follows: Maria P. Cognetti of Short drive, Mountainside, expired registration, Rt. 22, $15; Richard J. Rondeau of Summit, operating a motor vehicle on a bridge path in the Watchung Reservation, $10, contempt of court, $5; Susan Morga of Old Bridge, expired driver's license, Rt. 22, $15, and operating an unregistered vehicle, $15.

Also: Marlon J. Roach of Plainfield, passing in a no-passing zone, Rt. 22, $20; Albert Williamson of Newark, no registration in possession, Park drive, $15 contempt, $10; Joseph D. Barry of Plainfield, without current inspection on his motorcycle, New Providence road, $15; Kathleen D. Begley of Union, failure to keep right, Rt. 22, $15; Aaron Granger of Newark, expired driver's license, Rt. 22, $15.

program for juniors and seniors, will be available at Dayton and at Gov. Livingston in 1975-'76, and at all four schools in '76-'77. Man in Revolt is listed for '76-'77, but will not be offered this year.

"In social studies, we will offer a new course, Indiana and Chinese Literature and Culture, in all schools this year. In '76-'77, it will be replaced by Russian and Japanese Literature and Culture.

"The purpose of this alternate scheduling," he continued, "is to provide more opportunities for the youngsters, but at the same time to cut down on the number of electives during any one year, we offer 50 courses, we may not make the minimum enrollment in one or more, which would mean these would be cancelled. The fewer the number of courses, the more likely it is the enrollment quota will be met."

In addition to the Indian-Chinese Literature and Culture class, other new programs at Dayton include needlecraft and piano and organ instruction. U.S. History, a required course, has been expanded from a one-semester program to a full-year one.

The only other curriculum changes at Dayton are in the home economics department. Previously, courses in the "foods" and "clothing" categories were offered on a "1-2-3-4" basis. Now, they will be presented as Food 1, 2, Advanced; Clothing 1, 2, Advanced—providing additional semester work and enabling the student to take up to eight courses in each program. The Home Management course, has been retitled Personal and Family Living, and the format changed to cover those topics.

Union College awaits record 5,000 for opening of 42nd year Tuesday

Union College will open its 42nd academic year on Tuesday with a record enrollment of more than 5,000 students, the expansion of programs serving non-English speaking adults and the scheduling of courses at off-campus locations in Cranford, Elizabeth and New Providence, according to Dr. Saul Orkin, president.

Union College will not increase tuition for the fall semester, Dr. Orkin said. "Despite some budget cutbacks, Union College will maintain its current tuition rate, which is one of the lowest in New Jersey," he commented.

Tuition at Union College is $175 per semester or $14 per credit per semester. Dr. Orkin stated that although the economic picture for the coming year is uncertain, "Union College will not sacrifice its quality or commitment to serve the community college needs of Union County residents."

Union College anticipates its largest registration ever for the fall semester, Dr. Orkin said. Reports indicate that some 2,200 students will register for fulltime study this fall and 3,300 will be enrolled parttime. Students will attend Union College's main campus in Cranford as well as its Urban Educational Centers in Elizabeth and Plainfield. A limited number of these students will also attend Union College at four off-campus sites, Dr. Orkin said.

In order to accommodate adults and mature high school students who might find it inconvenient or difficult to travel to Union College's campuses, the college will offer credit courses during the late afternoon and evening at New Providence High School, Washington School One and Jefferson High School, both in Elizabeth, and the Cranford Public Library.

"This move to off-campus locations is designed to serve the professional and personal educational needs of the broadest range of Union County's population," Dr. Orkin said. "We hope to expand the course offerings as well as locations if these pilot projects are successful."

UNION COLLEGE is also expanding its institute for Intensive English Language Learning to accommodate the schedules of its adult students. The institute, headquartered at the Elizabeth Urban Center, will begin offering its concentrated program of instruction for non-English speaking people during the evening. Prior to this semester, the institute offered classes during the morning only from 9 a.m. until noon. Classes will now be conducted from 6 until 9 p.m. as well. Students attend the institute four days per week, Mondays through Thursdays.

"During the past year, students from Russia, Japan, Vietnam, Turkey, Iran, Israel, Greece, Italy, Cuba and many South American countries attended the institute," Dr. Orkin noted.

In a related development, Dr. Orkin reported that a Title I grant which supports Union College's Community Bilingual Educational and Vocational Counseling Center has been expanded for the 1975-76 school year.

Mrs. Martha Suarez, director, has been instrumental in making Hispanic residents aware of the college and career-oriented opportunities that are available to them throughout Union County, Dr. Orkin pointed out. She will be assisted in the coming year by an additional counselor whose area of specialization will be vocational and technical education.

Union College will add a new dimension to its educational offerings with the establishment of an option in early childhood education. The program combines a traditional liberal arts program with an emphasis on education, psychology and sociology and specialized courses in child development and education techniques that are taken at Kean College, Union. The program leads to an associate degree and students may transfer with advanced standing to a four-year college or university to complete work on a baccalaureate program.

For adults who seek the intellectual stimulation of a college environment or professional enrichment in a special area rather than degree-oriented programs, Union College conducts an extensive program of continuing education and community services courses, seminars and workshops. This year some 80 programs in the areas of management, psychology and human relations, fine arts, humanities and public affairs will be offered. Lecture series in the areas of consumer education, health, divorce and rape and self-defense are scheduled for the public as well.

The Department of Continuing Education is also offering for the first time a program leading to Union College certification as an administrative assistant. Students will learn the principles of management and the fundamentals of accounting and computers and may choose from a wide variety of electives which fit their particular needs and work experience.

N.J. birds topic of lecture series at Adult School

"Birding in New Jersey," a 10-week series of illustrated lectures on birds that can be seen in the Garden State, will be offered by the Cranford Adult School in its fall semester, which begins Tuesday, Sept. 30, at Cranford High School. The course is held in cooperation with the New Jersey Audubon Society and is offered Tuesdays from 8 to 9 p.m.

Prof. Farris S. Swackhamer, a member of the Chemistry Department at Union College and noted ornithologist, will be the instructor.

Two classes will be conducted at Union College to take advantage of the college's audio-visual facilities. In addition, there will be two weekend field trips to the Jersey shore and Nomahegan Park. These will be scheduled at the convenience of the class.

New Jersey, according to Prof. Swackhamer, is one of the finest bird watching states in the country. Some of the topics to be covered include: migration, navigation, identification, evolution of birds, behavior, courtship, territorial protection, seasonal changes and bird photography.

Prof. Swackhamer, author of a monthly bird column in many New Jersey newspapers, also teaches ornithology courses during the summer at the South Jersey Wetlands Institute in Stone Harbor, an extension campus operated by Lehigh University. He is a volunteer observer for the bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the U.S. Department of the Interior and an active member of the American Ornithologists Union, the National Audubon Society, the Northeastern Bird Banding Association and the Cooper Ornithological Society.

Prospective students may register by mail prior to Sept. 25 or in person at the high school on Thursday, Sept. 25; Monday, Sept. 29, and Tuesday, Sept. 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. A brochure describing all courses to be offered at the Cranford Adult School and an application blank may be obtained by contacting Channing Rudd, director.

Grants approved for transportation

Senior citizen transportation grants of $15,000 each have been awarded to Springfield, Linden and Cranford under the Older Americans Act. It was announced this week by Walter E. Boright, chairman of the Union County Board of Freeholders Health and Social Services Committee.

In addition, the county has approved another $3,333 grant from the same source for a program for visually impaired senior citizens which will be conducted from Sept. 1 through Dec. 31 by Mount Carmel Guild.

Boright said that the transportation grants to the three communities will assist them in providing transportation for their older residents, thus meeting what he called "one of the major problems of our older Americans."

The programs for the visually impaired which will be conducted countywide by Mount Carmel Guild will be designed "to promote social and personal skills" and to provide recreational activities, Boright said. Details are available at the Union County Office on Aging in Elizabeth, he added.

Women's groups join to back era

The Union County coalition of women's groups united to work for the Equal Rights Amendment on the November ballot will meet Monday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Cranford Community Center, Miln avenue, Cranford.

Organizing to support the referendum are the League of Women Voters, Union County Women's Political Caucus and the National Organization of Women, county chapters.

Marti Allen of Summit, coordinating the county drive, said "through a campaign focusing on the issues, many misconceptions and fears concerning the ERA will be dispelled. We hope that with an awareness of the real issues, voters of Union County will see that the ERA will benefit all citizens."

Ann V. Galvin to chair drive by United Way

MISS ANN V. GALVIN

Miss Ann V. Galvin, vice-president of Anchor Corp., has been named general campaign chairman for the United Way of Eastern Union County 1975-76 annual fund drive, according to Carl Herold, president.

Miss Galvin, the first woman to hold this office in the United Way's 43-year history, as chairman last year produced a record result in the industrial and commercial divisions. A vice-president of the United Way of Eastern Union County board of trustees, she also serves on its executive committee and nominating committee.

Vice-president of the underwriting division of Anchor Corp., an Elizabeth-based national financial services organization, Miss Galvin has held positions there as statistician, chief statistician and assistant vice-president. She supervises the operation of design and printing production of shareholder reports, fund literature and sales aids. Miss Galvin is also a judging analyst of Financial World Magazine, Annual Report Review.

Active in community affairs, Miss Galvin is a member of the executive committee and board of directors of the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce. A past president of the woman's division, she is one of the originators and coordinators of the Chamber of Commerce Yearbook to be published in September. She spearheaded the dialogue between industry and the educational community at Kean College for curricula development.

She is also a member of the Elizabeth Chapter of the Soroptimist Club.

Miss Galvin pointed out, in accepting the general chairmanship, that the objective of the United Way drive is to support the 34 voluntary agencies providing services to youth, families, the aged and the handicapped.

"The once-a-year campaign extending from September through December will provide money to help thousands of people in the eight communities of Eastern Union County—Clark, Elizabeth, Garwood, Hillside, Linden, Roselle, Roselle Park and Union."

She said, "The need this year is greater than ever, but I am confident, given the generosity of local residents, the members of our business and industrial community, we will continue to respond to the call for help from her neighbors."

Miss Galvin went on to say, "They need our help now. The economic climate of 1975 has made it even more imperative to provide our services to those who have suffered most... and can least afford to provide for themselves. Our neighbors are calling out for our assistance, and we cannot ignore their plea."

Volunteers sought by retarded unit

Volunteers are being sought for a one-to-one program of working with retarded children with cerebral palsy and epilepsy sponsored by the Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children.

The citizen advocacy program, according to Linda Schultz, coordinator, has "the same basic concept as the Big Brother movement: it is that sense of commitment and caring about the welfare of another person."

The participating volunteers (advocates) meet regularly with an individual. "The advocate recognizes the needs of his friend and finds activities he feels important, useful or pleasant," said the program coordinator. "The advocate instructs his friend in matters in which he may need guidance—transportation, use of leisure time, making purchases and budgeting. But above all he is a friend and advisor."

Miss Schultz said knowledge of mental retardation or previous work with the mentally retarded is not needed to participate. Persons wishing to volunteer may contact Miss Schultz at the unit's headquarters, 562 Boulevard, Kenilworth, or by calling 276-6792.

Entries open for flower show in Reservation Sept. 13, 14

Competitive entries are being accepted for the annual Fall Flower Show to be conducted at the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation next month.

The show, on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 13 and 14, from 11 to 5 p.m., is under the direction of the Men's Garden Club of Westfield, and is sponsored by the Union County Park Commission. The exhibition is open to the public without admission charge.

Exhibitors are limited to amateurs who are residents of Union County or members of Garden Clubs located in the county.

Competitive entries may be made in more than 100 different classes, including annuals, perennials, bulbous or tuberous flowers, roses, berries or flowered vines or shrubs, garden displays. A new award will be for the finest house plant exhibited in the show. Eleven classes will be open to juniors, in age group 7 to 16.

The show committee of the Men's Garden Club is headed by Wilbur Piper of Springfield with other club members responsible for staging and managing various aspects of the show.

Horticultural experts from other clubs in the area will serve as judges. At the discretion of the judges, first, second and third places and honorable mention will receive ribbons in each class. In addition, a tri-color award to an outstanding entry in each of several groups of classes may be given by the judges, who may make a junior award for an outstanding entry in the junior section. The flower show committee will present a sweepstakes award to the exhibitor receiving the greatest number of blue ribbons in the show.

Body weight increase

A man will weigh about a pound more if he steps on the bathroom scales after taking a shower but before he dries off. That's due to the film of water, one-fiftieth of an inch thick, that remains on the body after bathing. Also, the average human body contains enough fat to make about seven or eight bars of soap.

October outing to N.Y. winery

A bus trip to the Hudson Valley Wine Village in Highland, N.Y., will be held Saturday, Oct. 11, by the Union County Legal Secretaries Association to benefit its scholarship and education fund.

Ticket cost is $14 and includes bus fare from Elizabeth, a tour of the winery, and luncheon at the Manor House overlooking the Hudson River Valley. Interested persons may contact Marilyn Morris at 352-1335 after 6 p.m. for further details.

Conference slated at Grossinger's by Jewish Fund

George Geller, president of the New Jersey and Rockland County Region of the Jewish National Fund, announced this week that the organization's 34th annual conference will be held Friday, Oct. 17, through Sunday, Oct. 19, at Grossinger's Hotel in the Catskills.

Geller added that the conference will initiate a year-long drive toward the establishment of the American Bicentennial project in Israel. This undertaking will reclaim an area 25 miles southwest of Jerusalem. Its purpose is to draw eight individual rural settlements into a unified region. Blueprints call for arterial roads between the settlements and Jerusalem, reclaiming large tracts of land for agriculture, installing recreation facilities and planting one million trees.

The conference program will feature prominent American and Israeli speakers and seminars dealing with current problems facing Israel.

The highlight of the weekend will be a testimonial banquet on Saturday night honoring outgoing president Geller.

Members of the conference committee include Arie Halpern, Jack Neubauer and Dr. Millard Spialter, all of Union, and Morris Levine of Linden.

Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling the Jewish National Fund at 623-3023.

MRS. JOHN KAMINSKI
Church ceremony for Miss Pagano, John Kaminski

The wedding of Mary Ann Pagano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pagano of Sunrise parkway, Mountaineers, to John Kaminski, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaminski of Dunmore, Pa., took place Aug. 16 in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountaineers.
The Rev. Charles Urnick officiated at the afternoon ceremony. A reception followed at the Mountaineers Inn.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose her sister, Alice Sabino of Roselle Park, as her matron of honor. Mary Ann Kaminski of Dunmore, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. David Bird of Mountaineers were bridesmaids. The bride's niece, Audra Sabino of Roselle Park, was flower girl.
Anthony Fanucci of Peckville, Pa., served as best man. Ushers were Vincent Pagano of Plainfield, brother of the bride, and Jim Wasko of Mountaineers. Frank Falcone of Dunmore, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.
Both the bride and bridegroom graduated in June from Bethel College in McKenzie, Tenn. She also is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; he, of Dunmore High School. He is employed as an engineering technician by the RCA Corp., Dunmore.
Following a honeymoon in the Poconos, the couple will reside in Dunmore.

Needlework, cooking classes offered

The Summit YWCA will offer a variety of needlework and cooking classes in its adult Education Department this fall.
Martha Gibb returns to teach her popular crewel class in which students can create a wall hanging, pillow, or chair seat. Not kit work, but individual designing with individual instruction is featured.
Nan Carter continues her needlepoint and quilting classes. Needlepoint students put their own designs on canvas and work in different stitches and colors. Quilting students learn various methods of designing and completing quilted items.

Peggy Patrick helps students save time and money by teaching them factory techniques to sew on knit fabrics. This "knit magic" course is preceded by her basic sewing so that non-sewers can learn to sew on knits.
The cooking classes include Chinese Cooking, International Cooking Workshop and Bread-baking Workshop.
Jean Yueh returns for her eighth year of teaching Chinese cooking at the YWCA. The beginner course includes Mandarin, Cantonese and Shanghai dishes, with an optional shopping and luncheon trip to Chinatown.
The breadbaking workshop, initiated last year and repeated several times to accommodate demand, will be repeated by Beas Bowditch and Gerri Harter. Students learn to work with yeast by baking their own bread.

A new offering, International Cooking Workshop, will be coordinated by Sandra Long. Foods from Germany, France, China, and Japan will be included with experts in each field leading demonstrations. Liz Baker, Germany; Sandy Long, France; Jean Yueh, China; and Shiyu Polak, Japan will be the instructors. Students can sign up for any of the sessions or for the whole series.
Classes begin the week of Sept. 15. For more information, readers may call Barbara Park at the Summit YWCA, 273-4242.

Bridge, dancing, golf among plans of Woman's Club

The steering committee for activities of the Mountaineers Woman's Club spent a busy summer planning for the fall-winter season. Mrs. Robert W. Thompson, chairman, will hold a meeting Tuesday at 10 a.m. at her home, 142 Greenwood rd., Mountaineers.
Golf lessons—a beginner and refresher course—will begin Thursday, Sept. 11, under the direction of James Blalock at the Plainfield club. Reservations are now being accepted by Mrs. Edward Kaczka (232-3626) and her co-chairman, Mrs. Edwin Oels (233-3382).
Bridge games with Mrs. Emanuel Cominos as instructor (232-4495) will start Oct. 2 at 319 Cherry Hill rd., Mountaineers. Couples' evening "brush-up" bridge, beginning Tuesday evening, Oct. 7 with Marg Jan of Clark, a certified director in duplicate bridge, will be eight two-hour sessions. Round-robin chairman, Mrs. Nicholas Cremedas (232-7668) and Mrs. Paul Meirdierck (232-7460) are drawing the plans for an October opening.
Two-hour sessions of ballroom dancing commence Monday evening, Oct. 6. They are designed to teach the latest dance steps as well as improve present steps.
An exercise program including a plunge at the YWCA is still under consideration. Information on any program can be obtained from Mrs. Thompson at 232-2046 or the listed chairman.

Bronson-Rust wedding held Saturday in Westfield church

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield, was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Phoebe Drake Bronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley O. Bronson of Bridle Path, Mountaineers, to Gordon Whitaker Rust of Henniker, N.H., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Rust of Peterborough, N.H., formerly of Scotch Plains.
The Rev. Hugh Livengood officiated at the evening ceremony. A reception followed at the Plainfield Country Club.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by Melanie Wheeler of Ellcott City, Md., as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Debra Holman of Overland Park, Kan.; Margaret Bronson, sister-in-law of the bride, of Plainfield; Cordelia Rust, sister of the bridegroom, of Peterborough, and Susan Arundale, cousin of the bride, of South Yarmouth, Mass.
Thomas F. Smith of Warren served as best man. Ushers were David Allen of St. Augustine Beach, Fla.; Philip Bronson, brother of the bride, of Plainfield; Philip Rust and David Rust, brothers of the bridegroom, both of Peterborough.

MRS. GORDON W. RUST

The bride's niece and nephew, Rebecca Bronson and Jesse Bronson, both of Plainfield, served as flower girl and ring bearer. Mrs. Erving Arundale of South Yarmouth, the bride's aunt, was soloist.
Mrs. Rust a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, attended West Virginia Wesleyan College and was employed as a hydrotherapist at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountaineers.
Mr. Rust graduated from Wardlaw Country Day School, Plainfield, and attended Rutgers College in New Brunswick. He is employed by G.T.E. Sylvania in Hillsboro, N.H.
Following a honeymoon in Bermuda, the couple will reside in Henniker.

Sisterhood starts season Sept. 8

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, will begin its fall season of meetings on Monday, Sept. 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the social hall of the temple.
Mrs. Saul Schwab, president, will conduct the regular business meeting. Plans for the coming year will be announced by Mrs. Richard Kaveberg, ways and means vice-president; Mrs. Marvin Steinberg, membership vice-president, and Mrs. Robert Moss, administrative vice-president.
Mrs. Fred Kaufman, program vice-president, will introduce the program for that evening, which will be a musical presentation by Atara Chazzan, organist, guitarist and singer.
Mrs. Yetta Brody, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of refreshments.

Church services slate guest soloist

Max Mitchell of Williamsport, Pa., will be the guest soloist at the 10 a.m. Emanuel United Methodist and the Springfield Presbyterian Churches union service Sunday.
Mitchell is a member of the South Williamsport United Methodist Church, and has participated in the choir of the Valley of Williamsport Consistory. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are well known in the Central Pennsylvania area where they frequently present concerts of sacred music to churches and church retirement homes.

Kathleen Phillips to wed next June

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Phillips, of Acton, Mass., formerly of Mountaineers, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Joan of Collegeville, Pa., to James W. Spivey Jr. of Philadelphia.
The bride-to-be attended Ursinus College and is now employed at the Collegeville Flag and Mfg. Co. Mr. Spivey is a senior at Ursinus College.
A June 1976 wedding is planned.

Good health during the senior years is maintained through proper nutrition. Older people, particularly if they live alone, just don't bother always to prepare proper meals.
Such individuals tend to live on snacks, with too many carbohydrates such as bread and jam, and too little of the essential proteins—fats, fresh fruits and vegetables which provide vitamin C.
The well-balanced diet includes adequate protein in the form of meat, poultry, fish, eggs and milk. Carbohydrates are needed, but an excessive intake of refined sugars and candy should be avoided since they have little nutritive value and may contribute to arterial disease.
Some older people need smaller, more frequent meals since eating too much may be as harmful as not eating enough. Overweight individuals are more likely to develop high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, strokes and diabetes.
An exercise program developed before retirement will keep leg muscles from deteriorating. Walking is good exercise; so is golf, curling, lawn bowling, gardening and swimming.
Consult your doctor about your diet and your exercise habits.

State Police arranging for 'saturation' patrols

Colonel Eugene Olaff, superintendent of State Police, ordered troop commanders to have all available personnel assigned to traffic patrol duty during the long Labor Day weekend.

State Police plans for the weekend, beginning tomorrow evening, through Tuesday morning, are as follows:

College compiling women's art list

Women artists who live or work in New Jersey have been asked to submit slides of their work to the Mabel Smith Douglass Library at Douglass and Cook Colleges, Rutgers University.

Lynn Miller, reference librarian at the Mabel Smith Douglass Library, said the registry, established two years ago, has been used by arts councils, women's organizations, college classes and the Douglass Alumnae Association. "It also forms the basis for a mailing list of people to receive announcement of events related to women in the arts which the library sponsors," said the librarian. "In addition, we hope to develop the registry into a comprehensive directory of New Jersey women artists, which will be published," she said.

She asked women artists to submit three slides of current work with the artist's name, address, phone number, title of work, medium, dimensions and date on each slide. Resumes are also requested. Slides submitted will be considered for a May 1976 exhibit from the library's holdings. Slides and resumes may be sent to Ms. Miller at the Mabel Smith Douglass Library, Chapel drive, Douglass College, New Brunswick 08903. More information may be obtained by calling Ms. Miller at 932-9407.

detectives and other specialists, five State Police helicopters will patrol over the state's heavily traveled traffic corridors to assist ground patrols in spotting trouble areas and coordinating the free flow of traffic. Troopers will also fly as observers in the Turnpike and Parkway helicopters.

Schedules have been arranged to provide saturation coverage by tactical patrol units, task force, radar, VASCAR and breathalyzer operators with special emphasis on the critical hours between 5 p.m. and 2 a.m. when most fatal accidents occur.

Marked patrol cars will be used to the fullest advantage, particularly where traffic flow is heavy. Dismounted posts will be taken at strategic locations and troopers will make personal contact with motorists and pedestrians as required to help the public get where they are going safely.

Troopers will concentrate enforcement on the drinking driver and accident-producing violations such as driving too fast for conditions, following too closely, failure to keep right, improper passing, disregard of stop signs, improper left turns and improper crossing or walking on the roadway.

The alcohol factor continues to be present in more than 50 percent of all fatal accidents. This means that driver or pedestrian impairment contributes to the majority of causes, emphasizing the need to be mentally and physically alert.

Highway fatalities on a statewide basis are up 29 compared to last year's total of 668 as of Aug. 20. Since there is no "acceptable" number of highway fatalities, every motorist should be working to help reduce this statistic to zero, Olaff said.

CONNIE WOODRUFF

Official of union will be honored at dinner on Sept 11

Connie Woodruff, director of community relations for the Eastern Region of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, AFL-CIO, will be honored at a testimonial dinner Sept. 11 at the Clinton Manor in Union. Local and state officials, including Gov. Brendan Byrne, are expected to attend.

Proceeds from the program will go to the United Negro College Fund, a national organization providing financial support to 41 private colleges and universities.

Earlier this year, Gov. Byrne appointed Mrs. Woodruff chairperson of the state's Advisory Commission on the Status of Women, and she also was elected Democratic National Committeewoman representing the state.

She is a former member of the Advisory Committee on Judicial Conduct, a position to which she was appointed by Chief Justice Richard J. Hughes of the New Jersey Supreme Court. She also is a former state secretary for the State Democratic Committee.

Prior to her involvement with the AFL-CIO, Mrs. Woodruff was a political columnist for the Forum and Nite Lite, two weekly publications in New Jersey; an editor for the New Jersey Herald News and a New Jersey correspondent for the New York Amsterdam News and New York Age.

Assistant conductor assigned to chorus

Terence Shook has joined the staff of the Newark Boys Chorus, now in its eighth year, as assistant conductor to Jon Quinn. They will keep the basic "Renaissance to Rock" program with new repertoire in the classical and popular fields.

Price index up sharply in July for food, energy

The Consumer Price Index for the New York-Northeastern New Jersey area rose sharply by 0.8 percent in July, according to Herbert Binstock, the U.S. Department of Labor's Assistant Regional Director for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, who heads the BLS office in New York.

The July rise primarily reflected higher prices for meats and fresh fruits and vegetables, which accounted for about two-thirds of the overall net increase. Higher prices for energy (gasoline, fuel oil, natural gas and electricity) and medical care also contributed notably to the rise. Since July 1974, the index has risen 7.8 percent.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the New York-Northeastern New Jersey CPI rose sharply by 1.2 percent in July, the largest monthly increase since August 1974 when the index rose 1.3 percent. The sharp July rise was in contrast with the moderation evident earlier this year. During the first half of 1975, monthly consumer price increases averaged 0.4 percent, less than half the average rise for the last six months of 1974. The moderation earlier in 1975 was more pronounced in the first quarter, with increases averaging 0.2 percent; the second quarter average rise was 0.5 percent.

The food price index rose sharply by 2.4 percent in July, exceeding seasonal expectations. The food index typically rises in July reflecting seasonal increases in meat and produce prices. Since July 1974, the food index has risen 10.8 percent, substantially more than the all-items index increase. Prices of food purchased for home consumption were up 12.1 percent over the year, markedly higher than the 6.9 percent rise in restaurant meal prices.

Career program offered at Upsala

A career development program will be started at Upsala College, East Orange, in September to help students find the relationship between a liberal arts education and the world of employment.

"We want our students to graduate with a strong sense of direction intellectually, morally and vocationally," said Upsala Dean Aaron Nierenberg in announcing the new program. "We want our graduates to know where they are going."

Nierenberg pointed out the need for such a program has grown in recent years due to increased competition among college graduates in the job market. Some students, he said, graduate and "don't have the slightest idea about all the avenues available to them." He cited as examples English majors who may think that only journalism students are accepted for employment in the public media. In actuality, he pointed out, many areas of journalism prefer English majors who have had the benefit of a broad liberal arts education. He added there are many other areas similarly applicable.

A sentimental journey Museum sponsors train trip

Area residents will have the opportunity to relive the "good old days" of steam railroading, when the Morris County Central-Mid-Atlantic Railway Museum sponsors its seventh annual Shortline Ramble on Sunday, Sept. 28.

The museum, a nonprofit organization chartered for educational purposes, maintains a collection of railroad memorabilia in the Jersey Central Railroad. The ride will feature the steep grades west of Whippany, the Passaic High Trestle, and four photo stops. Return to Whippany is scheduled for about noon.

Tickets—$5 for adults, $3 for children—may be obtained by sending a check or money order in the name of Morris County Central Railroad Museum to: Fantrip, Box 237, Cedar Grove 07009. A self-addressed stamped envelope should be included.

Whippany road, at 9 a.m. for a nostalgic 23-mile tour of the Morristown & Erie mainline between Morristown and Roseland.

Though the M&E is strictly a freight hauling common carrier today, the ride will recreate a passenger service that actually existed until 1928. The coaches will be open-windowed, wood paneled, 1920-era ones, which formerly ran on the Jersey Central Railroad. The ride will feature the steep grades west of Whippany, the Passaic High Trestle, and four photo stops. Return to Whippany is scheduled for about noon.

Tickets—$5 for adults, $3 for children—may be obtained by sending a check or money order in the name of Morris County Central Railroad Museum to: Fantrip, Box 237, Cedar Grove 07009. A self-addressed stamped envelope should be included.

Walk to be held to aid retarded

Hand in Hand, a volunteer organization which raises funds for the mentally retarded, has announced plans for a walk-a-thon through Edison Township and South Plainfield Oct. 5.

The organization, which has headquarters at 145 Plainfield rd., Metuchen, also has established a committee to acquire gifts for Woodbridge State School residents. David Bixel and Jack Fusco, assistant directors for the 1976 Festival for the Mentally Retarded, are in charge.

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

Wilmington, Del. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words, has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Beltone Model, Independence Mall, 1601 Concord Pike, Suite 65, Wilmington, Del. 19803.

GW Bridge level to be resurfaced

The upper level of the George Washington Bridge will be completely resurfaced at an estimated cost of $37 million, it was announced this week by Dr. William J. Ronan, chairman of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey. The construction was authorized by the Board of Commissioners of the bi-state agency.

The rehabilitation work, expected to be finished within three years, will begin this fall and will mark the first total renewal of the original bridge deck in the 44-year life of the span.

The two-stage project, which will also improve toll facilities at the bridge, is scheduled to begin with development of an engineering design which will minimize work-time and inconvenience to traffic. The first construction phase involves improvements to the bridge approaches to maximize the capacity of the six-lane lower level roadway while work proceeds on the upper level.

Some fuel use down

Domestic production and consumption of oil, coal and gas fuels declined 3.0 and 3.1 respectively in 1974, according to a Federal Energy Administration Quarterly Report issued to Congress.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the ordinance set forth below was introduced at a meeting of the Township Committee of the Township of Union in the County of Union held on Aug. 26, 1975, and that the said ordinance will be further considered for final passage at a meeting of the said Township Committee at Municipal Headquarters, Friberger Park, Morris Avenue, Union, New Jersey, on Sep. 9, 1975, at 8 o'clock P.M.

MARY T. LIOTTA Township Clerk

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING AN ORDINANCE ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE REGULATING ENCROACHMENTS AND LAND USE IN FLOODWAYS AND FLOOD HAZARD AREAS, AND ESTABLISHING SETBACK REQUIREMENTS WITHIN THE TOWNSHIP OF UNION IN THE COUNTY OF UNION AND STATE OF NEW JERSEY."

BE IT ORDAINED by the Township of Union in the County of Union:

Section 1. The first paragraph of Section IV. A. of the above entitled ordinance be and the same shall be amended to read as follows:

Section IV. A. No construction, subdivision or development, except detached single or two family dwellings and their accessory buildings on one lot of one acre or less shall take place within the municipal boundaries unless a site plan and any other required information shall have been submitted to the Planning Board for its review and approval.

Section 2. Section IV. B. of the above entitled ordinance be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section IV. B. Reviewing any proposed construction, subdivision or development, the Planning Board of the Township of Union shall be reasonably assured that any structure, when built or altered, can be occupied without peril to the health or safety of the occupants and that the proposed land use:

1. Has an inherent low flood damage potential;
2. Either acting alone or in combination with existing or future uses, does not obstruct flood flows or increase flood heights and/or velocities;
3. Does not affect adversely the water carrying capacity of any delineated floodway and/or channel;
4. Does not increase local runoff and erosion;
5. Does not unduly stress the natural environment of the flood plain or degrade the quality of surface water or the quality and quantity of ground waters;
6. Does not require channel modification or relocation. The Planning Board shall act upon any Site Plan provided for in Section IV within sixty (60) days of the date of filing thereof or the date of approval by the Department whichever is later, or other extension of time agreed to by the applicant. Failure of the Planning Board to act within the time limit or limits shall be deemed a denial.

of any Site Plan submitted under this ordinance. Planning Board disapproval shall include written findings upon any Site Plan element found contrary to the provisions or intent of this ordinance.

Section 3. Section IV. C. of the above entitled ordinance be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section IV. C. No land area except detached single family or two family dwellings and their accessory buildings on one lot of one acre or less shall be developed by any person such that:

1. The volume and/or rate of storm water runoff occurring at the area is increased over what occurs there under existing conditions;
2. The drainage of adjacent areas is adversely affected;
3. Soil erosion during and after development is increased over what naturally occurs there;
4. Soil absorption and ground water recharge capacity of the area is decreased below what occurs there under existing conditions; and
5. The natural drainage pattern of the area is significantly altered.

Section 4. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 5. This ordinance shall take effect immediately after publication in the manner provided by law.

TV essay on Whitman

A visual essay on the works of Walt Whitman entitled "In Saucer Hours" will be broadcast Monday, Sept. 8, at 8:30 p.m. and Wednesday, Sept. 10 at 9:30 p.m. on Channels 50 and 58.

Narrated by actor Gary Merrill, the program focuses on the words of the poet. Visual visits to the Whitman home in Camden and the Whitman grave are contrasted with modern settings in New Jersey today.

From old New Jersey towns and historical sites to today's ghettos and rural areas, "In Saucer Hours" supports the view that Whitman's ideas as expressed through his writings are alive in America.

LABOR DAY

The Spirit Of Work Is Part of Our American Heritage

Hard-working pioneers have left us many remembrances of their labor. They have bestowed on us a nation ... founded on physical and mental work. They tamed a wilderness ... farmed virgin soil ... laid the foundations of our great cities. Like us, they had chosen vocations, and like us, they had set goals.

Today, as we celebrate Labor Day, let's remember how essential each one of us is in the further development of our country. Through our love, dedication and toil, we have maintained its greatness. Let's work together with a sense of achievement.

Pick Of The LP's... HIGH STREET: by Hustler (A&M RECORDS SP-4504). Selections include: "Just Leave A Good Man," "Piranhas," "Let The Wind Blow," "Uptight Tonight," "Get Outa Me 'Ouse," "Jack The Lad," "Midnight Seducer," "Miranda," and "The Hustler."

This is the debut LP album of Hustler, a young hard-nosed Cockney rock & roll band and sometime street gang. Singer Steve Haynes (23), and drummer Mick Llewellyn (19), keyboard player Kenny Daughters (25), bassist Kenny "Tigger" Lyons (23) and drummer Tony Beard (20), have made their name on the English club circuit, where they regularly demolished audiences with their funky, funny, and furious stage show. Llewellyn describes the Hustler approach:

"We like to play for anyone who likes to dance, who likes to laugh, who wants to hear a good bit of rock & roll music. We play serious music, but at the same time, if anyone wants to get up and have a giggle with us, we're always there. We respect our crowds, and we give them something they can identify with."

In order to capture the raw energy Hustler generates on stage, producer Pete Gage and the band members decided to record the tracks live in the studio, and most—Daughters recalls—are second or third takes. "The take we've chosen," he says, "isn't always the most musically correct, but it's the one that felt the best." Some of the tracks, particularly the group's anthem, the aptly-titled "Hustler," are reminiscent of another tough and precocious London band, Free.

Haynes (who's actually a transplanted American) has a gritty vocal style well-suited to the band's personality; guitarist Llewellyn likes to tear off his chords in happy abandon, and keyboard man Daughters adds a dash of sophistication to the proceedings. This is music for people who—in Mick's unminced words—"Like to stand up and enjoy themselves, not (expletive deleted) sit down. Know what I mean?"

HUSTLER, a Cockney rock band which has gained widespread popularity on the English club circuit, is now making a bid for American fans with their first LP, 'High Street.'

WILLIAM HOLDEN — Star is one of many in 'The Towering Inferno,' Irwin Allen's suspense drama, which opened yesterday at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth.

Rehearsal for chorus Wednesday

Activities sponsored by the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation and open to the public will resume beginning next Wednesday evening, with the first rehearsal of the new season by the Masterwork Chorus conducted by David Randolph at County College of Morris, Randolph.

New members of the chorus are sought in every voice category in preparation for appearances during the fall and winter. The annual series of New York concerts of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented at Carnegie Hall and at Avery Fisher Hall in Lincoln Center again this December.

The Masterwork Boychoir, conducted by Stephen Alcock, will begin rehearsals Wednesday, Sept. 10, at the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation, Morris County Park Commission Cultural Center, 300 Mendham road, Morristown. Boys between the ages of 8 and 14 whose voices have not yet changed are invited to join.

The Masterwork School of the Arts offers instruction to children and adults in musical instruments, voice, dance, theory, drama, and photography as well as the Yamaha Music Course for young children.

The Garbieri Chamber Orchestra, conducted by Jerzy Garbieri, also rehearses weekly at the Masterwork Foundation. More information about any Masterwork activities is available from the Masterwork Foundation office at 538-1860, between 9 a.m. and noon.

Odets' drama on Jersey TV

An encore performance of "Paradise Lost," Clifford Odets' moving and sensitive portrait of a middle-class American family's struggle to hold itself together during the Depression will be collocated on "Theatre In America" Saturday, Sept. 13, at 9 p.m. on Channels 50 and 58.

Eli Wallach stars as the idealistic father and Jo Van Fleet portrays his more realistic wife.

Tax deductions, 'carefree' style at Laurel in Pines

While there are no age limitations at Laurel in the Pines off North Lake drive in Lakewood, "the community is especially appropriate for today's young, growing family."

That's the view of Ron Ponsini, marketing director for the distinctive condominium community. "Buyers are increasingly sophisticated about the unique combination of benefits that can be enjoyed in our community," says Ponsini. "The advantages of tax deductions and carefree living are especially important to the young family."

Since residents own their apartment-homes, they are entitled to deduct real estate taxes and mortgage interest in preparing federal tax returns. In these inflationary times, this traditional right is especially valuable. This is one reason that many young couples now make their first home in a condominium community rather than an apartment.

Aside from the tax consideration, a condominium home is also an important investment. Residents gain equity in their homes with each passing month. And assuming a continuation of historic real estate trends, each home can be expected to become more valuable in the future.

"Some young marrieds indicate that they see condominium living as a very important stepping stone toward eventual purchase of a traditional detached home," says Ponsini. "But many will undoubtedly change their minds when they realize that the concept also frees them from all exterior maintenance worries."

At Laurel in the Pines, there are no worries about unsightly weeds, fast-growing grass or even snow-covered driveways. These and all similar outside jobs are performed by professionals for a modest monthly fee.

With gasoline prices on the rise, buyers are showing great interest in the community's onsite recreation complex and the many facilities to be found in the area. Residents have their own swimming pool, shuffleboard court and even a putting green. There are also two barbecue areas. The clubhouse offers game and card tables, a large fireplace, billiards, a meeting room and saunas.

Nearby, just a few yards from the entrance to the community, Lake Carasajal provides swimming, beaches and boating. There's also an amphitheatre that serves as the location for summer entertainment programs. Laurel in the Pines is only five minutes away from country clubs and 20 minutes from the Atlantic Ocean with its many beaches and marinas.

"At Laurel in the Pines," says Ponsini, "families not only have well-planned, spacious homes, they also have a broad selection of the many amenities of modern living that have really become necessities."

Homes are available with from one to three bedrooms, and in two or three living levels. The smallest garden home provides over 985 square feet of space. Other designs range up to more than 1,800 square feet, such as the six-room townhomes. Prices range from $27,990 to $49,990 with excellent financing.

Every unit features a self-defrosting refrigerator-freezer, a self-cleaning wall oven and hooded range, and a dishwasher. Most units are available with recreation or family rooms and many have built-in garages.

Laurel in the Pines may be reached via Exit 91 of the Garden State Parkway. From there, take Rt. 549 south to Rt. 88. Turn right (west) onto Rt. 88 and continue to the intersection of Rt. 9. Turn left at the traffic light and make an immediate right turn onto North Lake Drive. Laurel in the Pines is on the right.

ICBO fall classes to begin Sept. 29

The Interracial Council for Business Opportunity (ICBO) of New Jersey announced this week that the fall semester classes that make up the ICBO business education program will be given at the Rutgers Newark campus starting the week of Sept. 29.

These free courses are directed principally at the minority business owner but are open to others according to available space. Since the courses are always over-subscribed, interested parties should apply at once. Individual courses in record keeping, bookkeeping and business management will be presented one night per week for 10 weeks. Certificates are awarded to those who meet the requirements. Over the past six years, 1,923 certificates have been given to graduates.

Applicants can enroll by mail or telephone by contacting Bernard H. Saperstein, education director, at the ICBO office, 24 Commerce St., Newark or by calling 622-4771.

Classes to begin on college boards

The College Review Center announced this week that it is accepting registrations from high school students who wish to prepare for the College Board Examinations to be given in November.

For the coming semester, the Center is offering review courses on Wednesday and Friday afternoons as well as on Saturday mornings. Each course will meet once a week, starting the last week in September.

The Center, now in its nineteenth year of operation, assists students in developing skills, concepts and techniques needed for improving scores on both the verbal and mathematics aptitude tests. The mathematics classes will again be taught by Morton Seltzer, chairman of the mathematics department of Weequahic High School. The English classes will be taught by Irving J. Goldberg, former director of the Education Center For Youth.

Registration forms and additional information about the courses may be obtained by calling 731-3995.

Arts Council gets school aid grant

The New Jersey State Council on the Arts announced this week it has received a $100,000 grant to continue placing artists who work directly with the state's school children in their classrooms.

Alvin E. Gershen, chairman of the State Council, said the grant under the Emergency School Aid Act (ESAA) will permit the council to sponsor intercultural classes, workshops, lecture-demonstrations and performances by teams of artists in the schools for the second year.

The program will cover the visual arts and design, dance-movement, creative drama, crafts and children's theatre, creative writing and filmmaking; and will enable the state's young people, regardless of background or economic status, to develop their personal creative ability under expert guidance.

Bicentennial film offered

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) has produced a 13-minute color movie explaining the themes and goals of the nation's 200th anniversary commemoration and offering glimpses of Bicentennial activities taking place across the country.

"Bicentennial USA" can be rented or purchased. The 16mm film is suitable for showing to groups and a video tape, cassette version is available for television.

Fine arts display to feature festival of Scandinavians

The biggest display of fine arts ever arranged in connection with a heritage event at the Garden State Arts Center will augment the Scandinavian-American Festival '75 there on Saturday, Sept. 6. More than 120 works of art, all created by people of Scandinavian backgrounds, will be shown under a huge, colorful tent on the Arts Center grounds from 1 to 5 p.m.

"All of the exhibitors were invited to participate because of their established reputations. Many of them have won awards in various parts of the country," said a spokesman.

"A person doesn't have to be Danish, Swedish, Finnish, Norwegian or Icelandic to appreciate the arts works to be shown or enjoy the entertainment that will be featured in the Scandinavian Festival," general chairman A. Thorsten Karlsson commented today. "There will be plenty of attractions to satisfy many interests."

On display in the arts exhibit will be oils, water colors, sculpture, acrylics, pastels, mixed media, wood carvings, copper works, enamels, pottery, other clay products, silk screens, drawings, unusual photographs, etchings, handicrafts and other forms of creativity.

The works will be offered for sale, with a percentage of the purchase prices to go to the Garden State Arts Center Cultural Fund, beneficiary of the festival and sponsor of free programs for senior citizens, young people, disabled veterans and the blind.

Other items of Scandinavian motif, including handwoven and embroidered articles, also will be on sale. Foods linked to Scandinavian countries will be offered too.

Outside the tent on the Arts Center mall, there will be a full afternoon of activity featuring folk festivities, gymnastics, dancing and a soccer match between the Danish Athletic Club and the crew of the Norwegian training ship "Christian Radich."

Institute students complete training

A class of 20 young men will complete a 12-week pre-apprenticeship training program Sept. 19 at the New Jersey Tooling and Machining Institute in Irvington.

The graduates will begin four-year on-the-job apprenticeships Sept. 22 in the shops of members of the New Jersey Tool, Die and Precision Machining Association in seven northern New Jersey counties.

Enrollment for the next course at the institute is now under way. Students receive stipends from the U.S. Department of Labor and the course is funded under a contract between the National Tool, Die and Precision Machining Association and the Labor Department. The local sponsor is the New Jersey Tool, Die and Precision Machining Association, 2165 Morris ave., Union.

Voter drive at Kean

Kean College of New Jersey's Union campus will conduct a weekday voter registration drive next Wednesday through Wednesday, Sept. 10, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the lobby of the Student Affairs (Bookstore) Building.

Kingswood has bi-level homes

Kingswood Estates in Toms River, which offers six different bi-level home plans in addition to ranch and two-story colonial designs, has announced the opening of a new 22-home section to be called Kingswood Grove.

The bi-level home plan, according to Kingswood developer Patrick L. Bottazzi, is a tremendous money saver on space, allowing the versatility of two-to-five-or more bedrooms, plus full living areas in the "raised ranch" portion of the home and the possibility of recreation room(s) on the lower level as well as utility, storage and garage.

Only half a dozen sites remain in the original Kingswood section, which—like the new Kingswood Grove—is located in the prestigious Cedar Grove area of Toms River. Preference for the bi-level as a family home has shown as six-to-one over other type houses during recent Kingswood sales. The Kingswood office is located at 902 Ulah drive, Toms River.

Skating marathon to benefit charity

A Jerry Lewis Skate-A-Thon to help fight muscular dystrophy will be held at the Livingston Roller Rink in Livingston this Sunday from noon to midnight.

Games and prizes will highlight the event, as will live entertainment and an appearance by Miss Teenage New Jersey. All ages have been invited to participate. Sponsorship forms and additional information may be obtained from the rink.

The skating marathon, held annually in conjunction with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, is part of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association of America's pledge to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Last year, RSROA members raised more than $800,000 for the association and have pledged $1-million for this year.

Proceeds raised at Livingston will be used to assist the Northern New Jersey Chapter of MDA in providing various patient and community service programs, including the operation of an MDA clinic at the United Hospitals Orthopedic Center in Newark.

More babies born

Births in the United States during 1974 totalled an estimated 3,166,000 (15 per 1,000 population). This surpassed the 1973 figures of 3,136,965 and 14.9 per 1,000. 1974's increases were due to more women being in the child-bearing years—which offset an actual decline in the rate of childbearing.
