Bestowers plan Yule fete to help children, seniors

The Christmas spirit is beginning to be felt in Mountainside—months before the holiday arrives—thanks to a group of dedicated citizens working to make the season brighter for needy children and senior citizens.

The Bestowers of Mountainside, a 40-member committee of local residents, has already begun plans for its 15th annual benefit party, to be held this year from 3 to 6 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 7, at L'Affaire 22 (formerly the Lotus Garden), Rt. 22.

Cocktails and hors-d'oeuvres will be included in the $10 ticket price. Those attending also will be asked to bring a toy or other gift to be donated to a charitable organization.

Last year, the Bestowers collected more than $4,000 and distributed approximately 350 gifts. Recipients included the Runnells Hospital Volunteer Guild, Berkeley Heights; Lift for Learning, Elizabeth; the Westfield Day Care Center; the Children's Specialized Hospital Building Fund; Bonnie Brae Farm for Boys, Millington; St. Peter's Orphanage, Jersey City; New Jersey Boystown, Kearny; Little Sisters of the Poor, Newark; and St. Joseph's School for the Blind, Jersey City.

In addition, over $500 worth of toys and other presents were distributed through a local assistance program to needy families in the the Mountainside area.

Honorary chairman of the Bestowers is Mayor Thomas J. Ricciardi. Coordinators for the 1976 program are Mary and John Post and Nancy and Jim Haughey. Heading the various sub-committees will be: Walter Betyeman, business and professional gifts; Steve Eskoff, prizes; Ruth Spina, tickets; Pat Connolly, table decorations; Donald Jeka, public relations; Emily and Elmer Hoffarth, recipients; and Ron Heymann, raffle.

Discussing the history of the unit, Mrs. Haughey noted, "it started out with parties in people's homes. People came with a present for a specific child in a specific orphanage. Basically it was a way to deliver holiday presents to orphans. Then, as the organization grew, the annual party was moved to a public facility and it was expanded to aid the needy of every age group.

"It also used to be," she continued, "that the donors were told specifically to buy a gift for a boy or a girl, and of what age the child was. This year, they may buy whatever they wish, but we will ask them to specify on the gift whether it is for a boy or girl, and in what age group, or if it is for a senior citizen."

In addition to giving toys, the Bestowers last year contacted several of the organizations and asked what was most needed. One requested athletic equipment and received basketballs.

Gym, slimnastics begin next week at local schools

Women's slimnastics and the high school open gym night are scheduled to begin next week. Both programs are sponsored by the Mountainside Recreation Commission.

Slimnastics will meet on Wednesday evenings from 8-9 in the Beechwood School all-purpose room. The 10-session exercise class is under the instruction of Sandy Everly. The registration fee of $12 per person may be paid at Borough Hall weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

High School open gym, open to students in the ninth-12th grades, will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Deerfield gym. Floor soccer and volleyball will be featured. This activity will meet on Oct. 3 and 17, Nov. 7 and 21, Dec. 5 and 19, Jan. 9 and 23, Feb. 6 and 27, March 5 and 19 and April 9.

For additional information on either of these programs, readers may call the Recreation Office at 232-0015.

Another reported its boys were in need of sneakers. Sizes were recorded, and Bestowers members used a portion of the proceeds to purchase the shoes for every youngster.

Local businesses, as well as individuals, have traditionally supported the Bestowers with tax-deductible donations of cash and prizes.

Anyone interested in helping with this year's gala has been asked to contact either the Haugheys, at 654-4230, or the Posts, 232-2150.

Tickets, which went on sale yesterday, may be obtained at the Mountainside Delicatessen, 895 Mountain ave.; from Mrs. Spina, 232-3657, or from the Haugheys and the Posts.

THE NOVEMBER CANDIDATES Profile -- Donald T. DiFrancesco

Integrity in government and efforts toward helping the state meet its financial obligations are prime among the goals of Donald T. DiFrancesco, Republican candidate for a two-year term in the New Jersey Assembly from the 22nd District.

Discussing the former issue, the 30-year-old candidate stated, "Since the present governor took office, the credibility of his administration and legislature has reached an all-time low, in my opinion. Time and time again, the governor has demonstrated his insincerity with regard to the operation of government—for example, the attempt to abolish the State Commission of Investigation. This is the only time that anyone suggested that a department be abolished because it was doing too much, not because it was not performing its function. This obviously was a result of certain pressure applied by the Democratic legislature.

"The governor held secret conferences with respect to salary increases for high-paid employees. At the same time, he had instituted a wage freeze for all other state employees. The governor himself did not even freeze his own salary, but instead accepted another yearly increase of $5,000.

"The Democratic legislators defied the idea of open government and continued to hold secret caucuses at which major decisions were made without the benefit of the assistance of the Republican minority leaders."

TURNING TO the question of the state's fiscal problems, DiFrancesco said, "The political climate of this past year was not

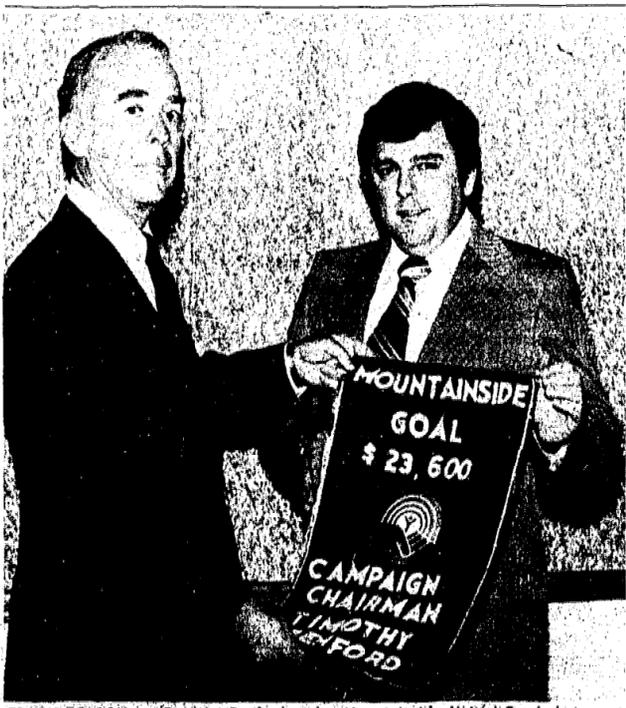

Cars may sport Bicentennial tags

The monthly report for August of the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Department, read at last week's Borough Council meeting by Fire Commissioner Abe Suckno, listed the following calls:

Aug. 2—House fire, Rt. 22-West. Aug. 3—Car fire, Rt. 22-West. Aug. 7—250 Sheffield st. Aug. 15—Brush fire, 1040 Springfield ave. Aug. 19—Fire in clothes dryer, Prospect avenue. Aug. 25—ECHO Lanes, Rt. 22.

Suckno, noting that fires in dryers and television sets, have been averaging "about one a month," requested borough residents to check for faulty wiring in those appliances.

During August, the local firefighters held two drills to receive pumping instructions on all trucks and to learn the proper use of foam in extinguishing blazes. They also tested truck hoses, worked on the street index board in the alarm room, and provided driver training to all new firemen.

proper for the introduction of an income tax as proposed by my incumbent opponent (Betty Wilson). This would be merely burdening the taxpayers with an additional tax and not the relief that they need in other areas. The taxpayers need substantial dollar reductions in their property taxes before they can be convinced that an income tax will be beneficial.

"The state needs tax reform and substantial real property tax relief for all persons," he added.

"In addition, I believe the state must reduce operating expenses," he said. "It is a fact that over 2,000 new employees were added to the state payroll since Gov. Brendan T. Byrne took office. In addition, many new programs were initiated without consideration of the cost of these programs.

"This type of governmental operation has obviously occurred throughout the year, causing the size of the state budget to dramatically increase, not necessarily because of inflation, but more so because of unnecessary state spending. All this has occurred at a time when governors throughout the country are reducing the number of employees and reducing the size of their budgets. Why can't we do the same?"

Cited by the candidate as examples of unnecessary spending were:

'Super sub' no stranger to school tasks

Mrs. Ruffley named to Media Center post

After a decade of trying, the administration at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School has prevailed on its "super sub" to join the starting team.

She is Mrs. Betty Ruffley, now director of the Instructional Media Center after having substituted for virtually every teacher and in virtually every department of the school since 1964.

The classes she has covered, in short-term emergencies and to fill longtime vacancies, have ranged from industrial arts, home economics and physical and health education, to mathematics, just about every science, history and psychology, as well as duty as librarian and attendance officer.

Faculty and students have agreed over the years that the youngsters in her classes have not only enjoyed the experience—a rare thing indeed with a substitute—but have also kept up with the study curriculum and often even moved ahead of schedule.

The former principal, Robert LaVanture, and the present chief executive, Anthony Fioraliso, tried every year to persuade Mrs. Ruffley to accept an appointment in any of the many subjects she is qualified to teach, but until now she declined because of family commitments.

Now she has agreed to take over as head of the Media Center ("library" to the older generation) as successor to Mrs. Dolores Jadus. Mrs. Ruffley lives in Summit with her husband John and three children; Betty and John David attend college and Robert is in high school.

Mrs. Ruffley attended Paterson East Side High School and has a bachelor of science degree in physical science from Douglass science at Hanover High School in Indiana from 1956 to 1958 before returning to New Jersey to raise her family.

THE NEW DIRECTOR has launched a far-reaching program to make the media center meet all the needs of students, staff and the community at large.

Mrs. Ruffley is developing audio-visual materials for class presentations, taping educational TV programs, presenting book talks and reviews of available material, helping teachers and students prepare bibliographies and conducting workshops for the teachers and the taught.

She is also expanding the scope of material on sports and recreational activities, compiling a list of local professionals and others who will speak on their particular fields of interest and training a corps of senior citizens, parents, students and Key Club members to help staff the media center. Utilizing her experience as director last year of the Title I program, she is helping to tutor and advise disadvantaged pupils in special education programs.

Out of school, Mrs. Ruffley is a board member of the Summit YWCA and works with disadvantaged youngsters and children with drug-related problems. A member of the Central Presbyterian Church in Summit, she is a volunteer librarian for the Columbus Boy Choir School in Princeton, where her son Robert is a student.

Besides working for a variety of fund drives in Summit, she is also active in a YWCA resource program to provide speakers for schools, clubs and industrial groups.

A school spokesman summed up: "She's no longer a super sub, but she will keep on using her super energy to do a super job."

College. She holds two master's degrees from Seton Hall University, in media instruction and in administration and supervision. And she has also done graduate work in library science at Columbia University and in elementary and special education at Newark State (now Kean) College. She was a librarian for the M. W. Kellogg Co. in Newark from 1948 to 1954 and then taught

Wildwood Crest, Cape May visited by Springfield seniors

By ELLEN B. CARMICHAEL

A group of 110 Springfield Senior Citizens and friends returned to the Sarah Bailey last Friday afternoon from their visit to Wildwood Crest.

Madeline Lancaster had made the arrangements with Bill and Tony Cangialosi. They housed us at the Town House Motel, the Pyramid Motel and the Blue Marlin Motel. Some members with cars volunteered to drive so that other seniors could be accommodated with bus transportation.

The cost was moderate. The group had its motel, meals, bus transportation for dinner each evening and side trips to Cape May and the Wildwood boardwalk.

Each morning the motel served a continental breakfast and we could also partake of a brunch at the Villa Nova coffee shop until 11 a.m. Dinners were served at Anchor Inn, Uries and Asselta's, with a different menu each evening. I must add there was no tipping; that was taken care of by our hosts. We had a bus trip to Cape May and enjoyed the quaint town and its shopping mall. The senior citizens of Cape May have a beautiful housing building called Victorian Towers, and all are well cared for.

Many of us stopped at Our Lady Star of the Sea church for rest and to offer thanks for our blessings.

Another trip was to the boardwalk. The beaches are so wide and clean. The seniors enjoyed watching the seagulls, for the beaches were mostly theirs at this time of year.

Some active members arranged for the seniors to have two parties. Cost to each member was $125, not at all extravagant. The first party was held Tuesday evening at the Pyramid Motel's recreation room. Madeline Lancaster, our trip chairwoman, was crowned "Miss America." Her crown, cape and flowers were from the most exclusive shops and her throne a thing of beauty.

The men and women formed groups to sing and there was much merriment as to who was best. A fellow member created much laughter as he went through the motions of a lady member at the pool in Springfield getting into the water. Two members with plastic false faces entertained. Closing the evening party, the entire group sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Woman injured in auto accident

A Springfield woman was injured Sunday afternoon after she reportedly fell asleep at the wheel and smashed into a parked car on Morris avenue at Crescent road.

Township police said Carolyn M. Harmon, 55, of Marcy avenue was driving east on Morris shortly before 3 p.m. when her car struck the rear of an unoccupied parked one, owned by Christine Gilmartin of Summit, pushing it onto the sidewalk and into a street sign and some shrubs.

Harmon was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Springfield First Aid Squad for treatment of facial and knee injuries.

3 persons injured in auto accidents

The intersection of Morris and Maple avenues, one of the prime auto accident sites in Springfield, was the scene of three more clashes this week, resulting in injuries to three persons.

The first mishap, a three-car pile-up, occurred at 9:35 p.m. Sept. 18, when, according to police, an auto traveling west on Morris, driven by Harry Mindlin, 65, of Livingston, smashed into one going north on Maple, operated by Donald Lumsden, 36, of Morris Plains. Lumsden's vehicle then struck another northbound car, driven by Richard R. Brueckner, 50, of Florham Park. Those drivers all escaped injury.

A 15-year-old bicyclist suffered foot and leg injuries when he collided with a car at the same intersection at 12:51 p.m. Sunday. Police said Alex Zadrozny of Union was riding across Maple avenue when he ran into the left side of the auto, operated by Stephen Schwartz, 33, of Short Hills, which was travelling north on Maple. Zadrozny was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Springfield First Aid Squad.

A Maplewood woman and her 16-year-old daughter were reported hurt in a two-car collision at 5:26 p.m. Sunday.

According to police, Angela D. Raio, 34, was driving north on Maple when her auto was hit in the left side by one operated by Julius Hollandmoritz, 74, of Irvington, which had been travelling east on Morris. Police said both drivers claimed they had the green light.

Mrs. Raio and her daughter, Michelle, both suffered head injuries and were taken to Overlook by the First Aid Squad.

Wilson on leave from school duty during campaign

Assemblywoman Betty Wilson has announced that she is on an unpaid leave of absence from her teaching duties at Gov. Livingston Regional High School.

"I do not feel that I could adequately fulfill my obligations to my students during an active political campaign," Mrs. Wilson said.

"New Jersey law requires boards of education to pay full salary to teachers who must have time off as a result of their election to the state legislature," she explained.

"However, if I am reelected, I will take a voluntary reduction in salary in consideration of the number of days I must be absent from school. I believe such a reduction is the fairest system for taxpayers in the regional district. I do not wish to continue being paid for the days when I am absent from school to serve in the legislature," Mrs. Wilson stated.

Since the New Jersey legislature is part-time, almost all Assemblymembers and senators hold other jobs. "This situation creates difficulties for many of us," Mrs. Wilson said.

Letters to Editor

STUDENT CANDIDATE
I am seeking the office of president of the freshman class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School this month.

I feel that I am eminently qualified and I will work conscientiously to do honor to the office and to the school. Otherwise, I would not have accepted this challenge.

Since this is probably the first election in which most teenagers will ever have participated, I strongly urge your readers who are Jonathan Dayton freshman to vote. It goes without saying that, after reviewing the candidates, they will cast their important ballot for me.

Lutheran Church to present course on 'Life with God'

"These times are wearing very heavy on people's lives, and there is a growing awareness of people's deep spiritual needs to help them find meaningful purpose and direction and support in their lives...but where and how?" asked the Rev. Joel R. Yoss, pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church, at 639 Mountain ave., Springfield.

He stated this is the motivation for the formation of a new eight-week course entitled "Life with God," which will begin on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Pastor Yoss said that this "adventure in spiritual growth and enlightenment is high octane fuel for the adult, to enable him or her to understand at a practical and exciting level the rich resources and meanings of Christ's teachings concerning all aspects of life."

The eight-week two-hour course will be taught at Holy Cross and is open to all interested members of the surrounding communities. Pastor Yoss stated that interested adults may phone 379-4525 or 467-0219 for more information, and he added that no fees or obligations are involved in the course other than a desire to learn and grow in the spiritual enrichment of one's life.

2 motorists hurt one hour apart

Two motorists were reported injured Friday in accidents which occurred within one hour of each other on Mountainside streets.

The first crash was at 7:50 a.m. on Possum Pass, between Charles street and Briar Hills circle. Borough police said Paul H. Bredlau, 17, of Evergreen court, Mountainside, had just made a right turn from Charles street when he lost control of his car and struck a tree. He suffered facial cuts, but stated he would see his own physician.

At 8:50 a.m., Salvatore Valles, 26, of Westfield, was driving a van south on Summit road near Sunny View road, when a northbound car reportedly cut into his lane, forcing his car off the street and into some trees and shrubs in front of 379 Summit rd. Valles complained of pains in the arm, but also stated he would see his own doctor.

Also last week, on Sept. 16, at 2:19 p.m., a two-car accident was reported on Mountain avenue. Police said one auto, operated by Susan L. Koehler, 19, of Scotch Plains, attempted a U-turn in front of a car driven by William J. Moore, 50, of Westfield, and the vehicles collided. According to police, Moore was hurt but said he would be treated by his own doctor.

Discounts offered on school lunches

The Union County Regional High School District has announced the inauguration of the sale of discount lunch tickets for students. Students may purchase a strip of five lunch tickets, good for a complete Type A lunch, for $3. If purchased individually, the tickets would cost $3.25.

The saving of 25 cents is being offered in an attempt to encourage more students to purchase the Type A lunch which meets the nutritional standards advocated by state education officials for students. A strip of five tickets may be used on any five days of the school year.

Students may purchase the tickets in the cafeterias of the Regional High Schools. The Regional District includes the David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth; Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark; the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and the Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights.

Bulldogs' band vies for trophy

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Bulldog Marching Band will step off in Woodbridge this Sunday to the traditional firing of the Judges gun, as the annual Central New Jersey Marching Band Competition gets under way. A crowd of 2,000 people is expected to attend, according to a band spokesman.

Bands from all over the state will compete for the first place trophy, showing off their marching, maneuvering, and musical skills, as well as band front exhibitions. Along with its new field show, the Dayton group will feature such Spanish tunes as "Quejada" and "El Cumbanchero." Last year, the Bulldogs marched off with a second place trophy in this event.

The new Dayton halftime show will also be featured at the Home News Festival in New Brunswick on Tuesday at 8 p.m. and at the Dayton "Tournament of Champions" to be held at Melsel Field in Springfield on Oct. 26. Other scheduled competitions for the Bulldog Band include the Gov. Livingston Invitational on Oct. 12 and the David Brearley Marching Band Competition on Nov. 9.

Bid to undermine crime fighters hit by Di Francesco

Donald T. DiFrancesco, a Republican candidate for the state Assembly in District 22, said this week he deplores the "conscious effort" of the Byrne administration and the Democratic Assembly leadership "to undermine law enforcement and the crime-fighting State Commission of Investigation."

He called for legislation to mandate the creation of anti-corruption units in all 21 county prosecutor's offices.
"The governor's highly-publicized efforts to scuttle the SCI, the budget cut obviously designed to cripple its operations and his plan to replace its independent chairman with a political hack all bode poorly for crime fighting in our state," De Francesco, a former municipal prosecutor said. "The success of the SCI is rooted in its independence and the governor's intimidation is simply unacceptable."

Di Francesco also criticized one of his opponents, Democratic majority whip Betty Wilson, for her vote against keeping the state's wiretap law alive. "The legal wiretap is an important weapon against organized crime," he said. "Fortunately, Mrs. Wilson was only one of four assemblymen opposed to the extension. If her point of view had prevailed, 20 investigations in progress by the Attorney General's office alone would have ground to a halt," he said.

Di Francesco, a Scotch Plains attorney, said he would introduce legislation to mandate anti-corruption units in every county prosecutor's office. "A major way to restore public confidence in government at all levels is to ferret out official wrongdoers for indictment and prosecution," he said.

Women putting their best feet forward

Soccer pioneers out for some healthy kicks

Had we been wearing those, Overlook Hospital might have had two more customers that afternoon.
No one bothered to keep score on our informal match, but the energetic, eager goalies did get quite a workout. Early in the game, I volunteered to take that position, assuming the neophyte players would send few shots my way and I could rest for awhile. I lasted about five minutes, ready to collapse from exhaustion after chasing innumerable balls which sailed over my head or between my legs and rolled, unhindered and uphill, into the parking lot.

When Sue called a much-needed 15-minute break—and her healthy athletes were camped beneath a tree contentedly puffing away on their cigarettes, I got a chance to find out why they had become involved in this sport.

"The woman who had been first on the scene said, 'I just like sports, whether I'm proficient in them or not. And soccer is such a fast sport, it's much, much better than football.'
Another woman noted she had played the sport in high school. "We didn't have that many games against other schools, because very few had girls' teams. But it was a lot of fun. It's also great exercise. I love to run, but I won't go jogging. But here, running up field and back, you feel like you're doing something."

THE OTHERS had similar comments, most noting their avocations in other sports and their love of exercise. "Actually," Sue said, "I've had about 20 responses to the program. Many of the women couldn't make the first session, but we expect to have more here next week."

Sue explained the idea for the women's program had come about initially from the girls' soccer team. "Last year, at the end of their season, the girls said they wanted to play a game against their mothers. So we rounded up enough women, not all of them mothers. I should note, and had a game. It ended in a tie.
"Then in August, I was at the swimming pool one day surveying the group about activities and someone suggested women's soccer because it had been so enjoyable last fall. I said 'yes,' but I don't think anyone believed me.
"I later asked others in other women's programs and found there was sufficient interest to start a soccer program.

Sue is hopeful that all the women who have expressed interest will sign up for the activity. In addition, several of last week's participants said they had out-of-town friends who are considering joining.

Any other local females who'd like to take part, should show up at Echobrook any Thursday at 1 p.m. And don't be hesitant because of lack of experience—soccer is a lot of fun, and, as Sue commented, "It is a great sport for women, because very few have ever played it before, so everyone is equal."

The team, once it is formally organized and gotten into competition shape, will play the girls' squad and hopefully, a women's team from Summit—the only other Union County community offering a similar program.

For further information, or reassurance, potential players can contact Sue at the Recreation Department in the Borough Hall, 232-0015.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

By DAVID F. MOORE, Executive Director, North Jersey Conservation Foundation

As this is written echoes are still being heard of a Senate hearing on a pair of ludicrous special interest bills which, in simple terms would wrest air pollution regulation from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection.

The proposed legislation is already being dubbed "the cancer bills" by people who are surprised at the lengths combined labor and business interests will go to in order to wreck New Jersey's pioneering pollution control measures.

Big labor in the state, knowing well that members of the Assembly are fearful of its frown in this election year, has seized on environmental controls as a handy scapegoat to account for high unemployment in this state we're in.

Labor seems to forget that there's a recession, along with varying degrees of inflation, throughout the industrialized world. New Jersey's brave efforts to set a good example in environmental protection seem singularly unrelated to economic problems here or elsewhere.

Some critics are beginning to question whether labor isn't intent on using environmental protection as a red herring to attract attention away from damage it may be causing business in this time of fiscal vulnerability—things like featherbedding and inflationary wage demands.

Be that as it may, S-3209, which would permit the legislature to set lower emission standards for industry, and S-3210, to weaken the kinds of controls and equipment used in meeting the softened standards, may yet shrivel under the glare of public attention.

Press reports indicate that the bills (which incidentally have their duplicates in the Assembly, now awaiting a vote by that body) were especially tailored to get southern New Jersey manufacturers off the hook.

A newspaper quoted one glass-maker as saying the legislature should set air standards because of the "utter failure" of the DEP to consider difficulty in meeting its standards.

Maybe the DEP is more concerned with the total New Jersey environment, rather than the special interests of a few flagrant polluters. I certainly hope it is.

Gerald Hansler, administrator of Region II of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, of which New Jersey is a part, testified at the hearing that his agency will fight any legislative attempt to relax existing air pollution controls.

He pointed out also that the federal Clean Air Act is written in such a way that it is geared to joint actions with state environmental departments. Thus, if the legislature monkeys too much with state air pollution controls, it will be flying in the face of federal law.

DRYERS

Wise laundry habits save work, time, money and energy. Here's how:

1. Partial loads of laundry use just as much water, gas and power as full loads. Make it a practice to wait until you have a full load. You'll save time and money as well as the wear and tear of your laundry equipment.
2. Check the amount and type of soil in your laundry, then use cold and warm water settings on your automatic washer when possible.
3. Don't overload your washer or dryer. Your clothes will turn out better and you will save both gas and money.
4. Lint filters on your washer and dryer should be cleaned after each load. This will save gas and money and ensure years of efficient, economical, trouble-free service from your laundry appliances.
5. Over-drying wastes gas and sets hard-to-remove wrinkles. Remove all garments from your dryer as soon as the cycle is finished. This saves you the time and effort of hand ironing.
6. Synthetic and other blends don't require as much time or heat to dry. Check your instruction booklet for proper drying time.
7. New gas dryers have special settings for polyester and other perma press garments. This saves ironing time and gas.
8. Check the dryer exhaust to the outside of your home occasionally to make sure it stays free of lint. If clogged, it may cause lengthened drying time.
9. A build-up of lint on the drum of your dryer cuts down on its efficiency. Wipe the inside of your dryer with a damp cloth occasionally.

Replace Now

Out of the dryer... onto a hanger!

That's how simple it is when you have a new gas dryer with a permanent press cycle. Since most of your washables are probably made with permanent press fabrics, the special cycle can cut your ironing time way down. A modern gas dryer even restores pleats and shakes out wrinkles and creases in permanent press fabrics. You'll also have the right drying temperatures for everything you wash—from gentle drying for summer sheers to instant heat for bath mats.

So if you've been thinking about replacing your old gas dryer, visit the Elizabethtown showroom nearest you and see the latest models of Maytag and Whirlpool dryers on display. And while you're there, ask to see our full line of color-coordinated Maytag washers.

Whether you buy a replacement dryer, the washer, or both... remember prices at Elizabethtown Gas include delivery and normal installation plus a one-year warranty on all parts and service.

"Disclosure that in 1975 a committee, of which Sen. Joseph Merlino (D-Mercer) was a member, spent approximately $25,000 for meals and drinks during their various discussions. Why must we bear this expense?" DiFrancesco queried. "Why must they eat and drink at expensive restaurants while they discuss our alleged financial crisis?"

Listed by DiFrancesco as other issues were the following:
—Unemployment

State services "Examination of the role of state government in providing services to the people of New Jersey and the cost of said services combined with their desirability."

—The Equal Rights Amendment "The program needs a thorough examination of what this is and what effect this would have on the

GOP candidates to hold fund-raiser

Assembly Minority Leader Thomas Kean and District 22 State Sen. Peter J. McDonough will be the guest speakers at a campaign breakfast on Sunday to help raise funds for the Assembly campaigns of Republican aspirants William J. Maguire of Clark and Donald T. DiFrancesco of Scotch Plains. The event is scheduled from 10:30 to 11:30 at the Gran Centurions, 440 Madison Hill rd., in Clark.

A party spokesman said, "The Democrats presently dominate the Assembly with a 64 to 14 edge. Kean is expected to urge the election of a Republican majority and to outline the failures of the State Assembly during the present term. McDonough is expected to urge the return of the District 22 Assembly seats to the Republican column and to outline legislation that has stalled in the Assembly because of the lower house's obsession with new taxation."

Campaign Chairman William Ruocco of Springfield said tickets cost $16 a couple, and they are available from the local municipal chairman and campaign coordinators.

4 motorists fined in municipal court

Four motorists were fined by Judge Jacob R. Bauer at the Sept. 17 session of Mountainside Municipal Court.

Andrew Puszkas of Garwood, ticketed on Sylvan lane, paid $15 for being an unlicensed driver; Paul DiScepolo, also of Garwood, was fined $25 for allowing Puszkas to operate his car.

Robert Blackwell of Plainfield paid $20 for passing on the shoulder of Rt. 22. Failure to have his auto reinspected brought a $15 fine to James E. Young of Elizabeth, who paid an additional $5 contempt of court penalty; he also had been ticketed on Rt. 22.

Mrs. D. Burke; former teacher

A funeral Mass for Mrs. Monica R. Burke of Upland road, Mountainside, will be offered this morning at Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Mrs. Burke, 65, died Sunday in Overlook Hospital in Summit following a long illness.

A native of Elizabeth, Mrs. Burke was a resident of Union before moving to Mountainside in 1955. She was a teacher at Robert Morris School 18 in Elizabeth several years ago. She was also a communicant of Our Lady of Lourdes Church and a member of its Rosary Society.

Mrs. Burke is survived by her husband, Daniel Sr.; a son, Daniel Jr. of Union; a daughter, Patricia at home; a sister, Mrs. Dolores Kuber of Brick Town; a foster brother, Walter Kucoba of Clark, and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were completed by the Leonard Home for Funerals in Elizabeth.

rights of people, and what laws, if any, would be repealed by this measure."

Regarding local issues, DiFrancesco stated, "Flood problems are obviously a major concern in this area. Immediate action must be taken and work must be commenced on county projects to alleviate the flooding that exists. State aid to municipalities must be increased so as to relieve the problems of the real property tax, particularly for senior citizens."

DiFrancesco, a lifelong resident of Scotch Plains, has been president of the Republican Club there for two years and a district committeeman for several. "By following the political scene for two or three years," he noted, "it appears to me that the integrity and sincerity of government officials leaves much to be desired in general."

I do not seek political office for monetary gain," he continued, "but feel sincerely that I can make a contribution to the people of New Jersey, and I will devote whatever time is necessary to satisfy the obligations of the office."

I have become familiar with problems such as the public defender system, office of public advocate, compensation laws and municipal laws. Therefore, I feel I have sufficient background in these areas to examine more closely and perhaps initiate measures that would make them more effective and less costly."

DiFRANCESCO, a graduate of Pennsylvania State University and Seton Hall University Law School, has maintained a law practice in Scotch Plains for three years. Previously he was employed for three years by Somerset County Judge Wilfred Diana at his Plainfield law office. He served as assistant township attorney and prosecutor for Scotch Plains from 1970 to 1974 and is now the attorney for the Municipal Court Clerks Association and the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Italian American Club.

He is a former president and vice-president of the Scotch Plains Community Fund, 1970-71 fund drive chairman, and a former member of the Fund's board of directors. He was 1973 co-chairman of the local Cancer Crusade and an original trustee of the Charles Newman Fund, created last year to aid a high school student paralyzed as a result of a football injury.

DiFrancesco also is a charter member of Scotch Plains-Fanwood UNICO; UNICO attorney for 1974-75; chairman of the 1975 Italian Festival; advocate for Scotch Plains-Fanwood Knights of Columbus, 1973-75, and a member of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Rotary Club and the Plainfield Area Chamber of Commerce.

DiFrancesco and his wife, Diane, are the parents of three daughters—Marie, Tracy and Marcy.

Vandalized auto found abandoned

A stolen Cadillac, with the interior completely vandalized, was found abandoned on Summit lane in Mountainside last week after the driver ran into a fire hydrant at the entrance to the former Nike missile base.

Mountainside police said the 1972 auto, owned by Kathleen R. Smith of Kenilworth, was recovered at 9:28 p.m. on Sept. 17 by Ptl. John Olock Jr. The vehicle's motor was still running, but, police said, no one in the area saw anyone leaving the car.

The car had been reported stolen the same day from the Blue Star Shopping Center in Watchung. Police said the thief had spilled paint over the interior and had slashed the upholstery.

Accident leaves patrolmen unhurt

Two Mountainside policemen escaped injury Tuesday when their patrol car slammed into a utility pole on rained-slicked Rt. 22 in Springfield during a chase after an apparent drunk driver.

A borough police spokesman said Officers John C. Garrett and Alan Kennedy were on patrol near Mountains avenue in Mountainside shortly before 4:30 a.m. when they spotted an auto with its headlights off, travelling east on Rt. 22 "in an erratic manner."

The patrol car driven by Aggrret, began pursuit of the vehicle, but near Dundar road in Springfield it hit a puddle and skidded off the highway into the pole. The other auto did not stop.

Stolen cars recovered

Three autos, stolen the same night from the Tower Steak House parking lot, Rt. 22, Mountainside, were recovered three days later in South Plainfield. Police there have taken a 14-year-old Edison boy into custody in connection with the thefts and are investigating the possibility that four other juveniles were also involved.

The teenager was apprehended Sept. 18 in South Plainfield after he reportedly was seen fleeing from one of the stolen vehicles, a 1973 Buick owned by Geraldine Hirtzel of Cranford. Found nearby, parked in a wooded area, were the other two cars—a 1972 Hornet station wagon, owned by Rosalind Griffith of Basking Ridge, and a 1976 Oldsmobile, registered to National Car Rental System, Flushing, N.Y.

The three cars had been taken from the Mountainside restaurant lot on Sept. 15 after 7 p.m.

Homemaker-healthaide class set for next week

The Visiting Homemaker Service of Central Union County will join with Sage Visiting Homemaker Service of Summit to conduct a 40-hour training course for homemaker-home health aides next week at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside.

Instructors for the classes will include Public Health nurses, a home economist, a social worker, a psychiatric social worker, rehabilitation nurses and a representative from the State Department of Health.

introduced today by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo, R-N.J., 12th District.

The measure severs Congress from provisions of recently enacted legislation establishing an automatic cost-of-living salary escalator for federal judges, Cabinet members and other upper-echelon officers in the executive, judicial and legislative branches.

"I do not feel that members of Congress, or any elected official for that matter, should get automatic pay increases on a cost-of-living escalator basis," said Rinaldo.

"When the necessary unfreezing of top level salaries was approved with the introduction of the cost-of-living escalator, I began looking for the best way to permanently sever members of Congress from the provision. My bill achieves this through an amendment of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946."

Rinaldo said that with the passage of his bill, members of Congress would have to vote openly on any pay increase for themselves. "This is the way it should be," he said. "Escaping such responsibility by using a cost-of-living escalator shirks a vital obligation to the public."

"I favored the increase for federal judges and executive branch officers because their salaries had been frozen since March, 1969 during which time the cost of living rose 48 percent. Had the freeze been maintained, lower grade employees would eventually have been earning as much as officials above them in rank, or even as much as federal judges.

"I could not support a situation in which many career officials were being forced, through a salary freeze, to leave government or judicial service to seek more lucrative salaries in private business. In the long run, such an exodus of qualified personnel would substantially weaken government.

"I object, however, to Congress immunizing its own salaries against the ravages of inflation. For this reason, had the recent raise covered only members of Congress, I would have adamantly opposed it just as I have consistently voted against such measures in the past."

NEW OFFICERS — Dr. Nancy A. Durant, left, of Plainfield, newly-elected president of the Medical Staff at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, looks over plans for a new 60-bed addition, with Dr. Pascal A. Sinnott says Dems renege on women's board promise

Mrs. Rose Marie Sinnott, chairwoman of the Advisory Board on the Status of Women created by the Union County Board of Freeholders nine months ago, this week accused Democratic freeholders of reneging on their promise to extend the life of the advisory board in an attempt to turn that group into a "political football."

Mrs. Sinnott, a former Republican freeholder from Summit running for reelection Nov. 4, said she hopes to maintain the nonpartisan stance of her advisory board by submitting a complete and final report of its work at tonight's meeting of the freeholder board.

The advisory board became bogged down in controversy for the first time in its short life at the last freeholder meeting when the Democratic majority on the board decided to delete a resolution, previously agreed to unanimously in executive session, from the official agenda, which would have extended the life of the advisory board. The county attorney ruled the deletion "improper" and advised the Democrats they could not legally take such unilateral action. The county board is currently comprised of seven Democrats and two Republicans.

The decision to delete the agenda item was made at a secret Democratic caucus preceding the public meeting and without notification to the Republicans.

When questioned about the absence of the agenda item by Freeholder Walter Ulrich, R-Rahway, Freeholder Director Thomas Long,

D.Linden, said the item had been deleted at the request of Democratic freeholder Leda Perseley of Summit, who then explained that she had not taken an interest in the group until her appointment to the county board four weeks ago and wanted additional time to become familiar with its work. Mrs. Perseley, a former county social worker who is seeking election to her post Nov. 4, complained that the advisory board, composed with one exception of working women, traditionally met during the evening and on Saturdays and failed to honor her request for weekday meetings in the early afternoon saying the women could not take such time out from their job responsibilities.

After the county attorney ruled that the unilateral deletion of the agenda item was "improper," the Democratic freeholders immediately voted to table without discussion the resolution which would have extended the life of the advisory board.

"The work of this advisory board is too vital to get bogged down in such political nonsense," said Mrs. Sinnott, a public relations consultant and former school teacher. "The advisory board is composed of women of every political persuasion who have managed these past nine months to put partisan politics aside and get down to the issues. We are not about to allow the advisory board to become anyone's political football."

Freeholders Ulrich and Herbert Heilmann, R-Union, said they would support Mrs. Sinnott in her efforts to keep the work of the advisory board nonpartisan.

Joining Roy and President Robert L. Weeks, vice-president of Exxon Research and Engineering Co., were chairman-major firms Ronald R. Dissinger, area sales manager of New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., and campaign chairmen from 11 local United Way organizations.

Thomas Scanlan, Berkeley Heights; Clinton Crane, Cranford; Miss Ann Galvin, Eastern Union County; Timothy Benford, Mountainside; Donald Roberts, Summit-New Providence Fund; John Gale, Plainfield; Herbert Kiehn, Rahway; James Meyer, Scotch Plains Fund; John Campbell, South Plainfield; Harvey Schramm, Springfield, and Mrs. Robert List, Westfield.

Roy told more than 200 persons from industry, the community, management and labor that "the United Ways in Union County have set a goal higher than ever before in our history—more than $2.5 million ... I have every expectation that we will all achieve our goals (for) 600,000 of our fellow citizens in Union County are counting on us to do just that."

The United Way is the largest contributor of human services across the nation. The Union County campaign, which will run through December, seeks funds for youth, health and programs for the aged and handicapped in 80 agencies across the county.

Neil McGinley, vice-chairman-labor, business agent for Local 461, IUE, AFL-CIO, Singer Co., spoke of the spirit of cooperation that exists between United Way volunteers from both labor and management to meet a common goal.

A multi-media presentation from the United Way of America, highlighting the history of the United Way from its beginning in 1887 to the present in Union County, was shown.

Bulldogs defeat Montville in only preseason match

By LOUIS FASULO
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team won their one and only preseason game by a score of 14-7 over Montville on Saturday. The entire Dayton coaching staff said it was "quite optimistic for the season" after their team's fine performance on the field.

Bjorstad runs to record, leads harrier victory

By AMY GELTZELER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team put their best foot forward this week by winning a meet against Roselle Park. The team posted a 26-30 victory (it should be noted that the team with the lower score wins).

Billy Bjorstad shattered a course record and led the Bulldogs to their victory. Bjorstad ran the 2 1/2 mile Roselle Park course in 13:25. Other Dayton finishers included Charles Kiel (fourth), Bobby Phillips (fifth), Danny Smith (seventh), and Greg Busharsky (ninth).

Although the team was victorious, coach Martin Taglienti felt that the times should have been faster. He said, "everyone is working hard and helping. If the top men do not have any injuries the team can have a winning season."

The freshman harriers also competed against Roselle Park and were victorious. 19-36 Dave Gechlik placed first, Howard Doppelt second, Steven Baranek third, Robert Pink fifth, and Chris Smith, eighth.

Taglienti said, "The boys have come a long way since practice began in the fall. They are learning more about the sport and how to run cross-country. They are all very enthused and have excellent attitudes."

The Harriers were scheduled to compete with Caldwell and Madison on Tuesday in a triangular meet. The team will be running at home, but they will have to run on a new course. The bridge was washed out from severe rains, so Dayton had to make up a new layout. Today the team will run against West Orange and New Providence in a triangular meet. Tomorrow, the Bulldogs will compete with Johnson Regional.

The Bulldogs won the coin toss which gave them the first offensive opportunity of the game, but the drive was cut short by a fumble on the opening play by a Dayton running back.

Montville gained control of the ball and within a few plays scored the first touchdown against the Dayton defensive unit and added the extra point. This early drive by Montville roused the Bulldogs, and on the next set of plays Dayton looked better. The rest of the first quarter was a scoreless battle.

Montville, which seemed to have the advantage in the first quarter, was outplayed in the second as the Bulldogs began to move their offensive unit down field.

The Bulldog offensive line, consisting of center Joe Ragucci, guards Jim Rice and Bob Potomski, tackles Bob McGurty and Greg Lies and tight end Mark Tryon, helped the offense gain 247 yards rushing. Leading in rushing was Mike Flood, who gained 143 yards in 22 carries. Mike powered his way up the center for many long runs, two of which became touchdowns.

The first one was a 10 yard burst in the second quarter, and another run in the fourth quarter provided the Bulldogs with enough points to gain the victory. Flood demonstrated quickness, speed and had one of his most successful days.

Brandon Gambee, the other running back, had 14 carries for 63 yards. Gambee, like Flood, also is fast and has been doing a fine job for the Bulldogs during the preseason. Flood and Gambee should give Dayton a capable and powerful backfield this season, the coaches noted.

Quarterback Joe Graziano stuck to a ground game but did complete three passes for 34 yards, and ran the ball seven times for 50 yards. Receiver Joe Mirto and back Hugh Cole also aided the attack.

The Dayton defense, which seemed unstable in the first quarter, played well during the rest of the game and was able to contain the Montville offense.

The Bulldogs were sparked by a fumble recovery by Steve Pepe which set up one of Mike Flood's touchdown runs.

Defensive linemen Jim Rice and Bob Potomski collected six and seven tackles, respectively. Linebacker Frank Bladis had another strong game with four tackles. Four tackles by Mike Flood, three by Steve Pepe and tackles by Jack Flood, Bill Stadler, Bob McGurty, Joe Mirto, Kevin Michell and Steven Herkalo. Van Vitale and Don Lusardi powered the Bulldog defense.

Dayton's specialty teams showed improvement when Jack Flood ran back a 75-yard punt return for a touchdown that was called back due to a clipping penalty.

Although the Bulldogs have looked good in the preseason game, practices and scrimmages, the season will depend greatly on the overall good health of the players, the coaches said.

Bulldog booters win, 3-1, keep home streak intact

By AMY GELTZELER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team kicked off in the right direction this week by defeating Carteret, 3-1. This game marks the ninth in a row that the Bulldogs have been victorious at home. Today the team will compete with West Orange and on Tuesday the Bulldogs will play Caldwell.

In the Carteret game, Dayton dominated the field and controlled the ball for most of the game. Dayton's Gary Scheick scored the first goal of the game, making the score 1-0 at half time. His goal was unassisted.

Varsity Club lists fund-raising meal

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Varsity Club will sponsor a spaghetti dinner on Saturday, Oct. 4, following the Hillside-Dayton football game. The dinner ($2 per person) will be held in the high school cafeteria.

A Varsity Club spokesman stated: "The annual spaghetti dinner is an important fund-raising event for the Varsity Club. The food is excellent, and the evening an enjoyable one. We hope the people of Springfield will mark this date on their calendars. It is an event they won't want to miss."

Joe Frank scored the second goal with the help of Scheick, and he also scored the third goal, unassisted. The score was 3-0 with about 5 1/2 minutes left to go in the game before Carteret was able to score against the tough Dayton defense. Dayton's goalie, Sid Kaufman, made seven saves.

Coach Arthur Krupp said that the boys played an excellent game. "They went for the ball better than in the scrimmages, and had many scoring opportunities. Good team effort and spirit were also responsible for the victory," he said.

Krupp also noted that a few of the boys played an exceptional game. "Gary Scheick did a fine job, as was expected. Joe Frank was a surprise to the team. Entering the game in the middle of the first period, he was able to score in the end of the third and in the beginning of the fourth quarter. Fullbacks Harry Irwin and Mark Walls did a good job, as did the halfbacks, Jerry Toetfer, Steven Hechtel and Eddie McCaine. Hee Young Lee has improved a great deal since the scrimmages, and Steve Matysek, at fullback, is playing a good game," the coach added.

Krupp said he was pleased that the entire team was able to play in the game. He said, "If the team continues to attack and go for the ball as they did against Carteret, they can look forward to an exceptional season."

Girls' gym team expects upswing

By AMY GELTZELER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School girls' varsity gymnastics team has been working hard in order to shape up for the fall season. The team was scheduled to have its first meet yesterday against Piscataway. On Tuesday, the team will compete with Westfield.

Girls miss star from last year in tennis defeat

The Dayton girls' tennis team played and was defeated on Friday in a match against Johnson Regional. The Dayton netters played a very tough match, but the absence this season of last year's star, Donna Lies, was quite evident. Donna, a Dayton sophomore, is concentrating on tournament play. Coach Ed Jasinski said that Donna's absence caused him to revamp the entire line up.

Although the girls lost the match, they were in superior physical condition. What seemed to be most disturbing, the coach said, was that the girls did not think and play smart tennis.

Senior Cathy Picut won her second singles match thanks to a sharp third set. Picut was quick in getting to the ball for the return shots. She executed many fine net shots and returned every serve in the final set. "If Cathy can play consistently well, the team's hopes for a championship will be advanced," the coach said.

The netters also won their first doubles match, 6-4, 6-4. Jess Einstein and Pam Bieszack played a team-oriented game. They have proved quite capable to fill the spots vacated by last year's graduates. By winning the match, they gave Dayton a final chance to win.

Lori Weeks, who was forced into the top position by Lies' absence, played a fine match against Johnson's top player, Marlene Milkosky, but did lose the match. Sue Ostrich and Debbie Freund lost the toughest match of the day in the second doubles competition. The girls were hampered by the fact that it was their first match playing together. The girls do have the talent to play and do well in the conference.

If the girls work hard and gain a much needed team spirit they will make the other conference teams aware, that they truly want the Suburban Conference title. The team played Millburn Wednesday and will face Summit home tomorrow.

Club host to 100 after scrimmage

The Jonathan Dayton All Sports Booster Club played host to 100 football players on Saturday morning after the practice scrimmage at Meisel Field between Jonathan Dayton's football team and a team from Montville. The club provided drinks and refreshments for both teams. This is one of many functions of the Dayton All Sports Club.

Anyone interested in joining may contact Mrs. Kathleen Conne, 56 Pitt rd., Springfield. The fee is $5 per family. The next meeting of the Booster Club is Oct. 9 at 8 p.m. in the men's teachers' room.

Gymnastics is a physical exercise competition which consists of four events. Floor exercise, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, and vaulting will be performed by the Dayton girls in their meets. Precision and accuracy are key factors in the attainment of excellence in the events.

Four girls compete in each event, and the top three scores count toward the team total. The routines are evaluated by two judges on a 10.0 system. These 10 points are divided into six main categories. Four out of the 10 points constitute the most difficulty category. In order to achieve a 4.0 in difficulty during a match, a performer must execute four medium and two superior moves. The other areas in scoring include originality and combination (1.5 points), composition (.5), technical execution (1.5), amplitude (1.5), and general impression (1.0 points). In vaulting, each vault has a different value depending on how difficult the maneuver is to execute.

The team has a full schedule this year, consisting of 12 meets. They will be competing against teams that range in skill from first-year squads to the northern sectional state champions.

Last year the team's record was 2-5. There were five girls who lettered: Debbie Arcidiacono, Barbara Calamusa, Denise Francis, Moira Halpin and Karen Lenhart. Halpin was chosen to compete in the state sectional championships.

The girls who will be competing in floor exercise are Arcidiacono, captain of the team; Alison Bomberg, Halpin, Ellen Kaplan, Patrice Mostello, Jennifer Pitney, Shari Reich and Carol Wingard. Arcidiacono, Halpin, Kaplan, Mostello and Wingard will perform routines that fall into the 4.0 difficulty range.

Performances on the bars will be executed by Calamusa, Bonnie Geltzeler, Karen Krop, Jill Lipton, JoAnn Magers, Mostello and Wingard. A routine with a 4.0 difficulty will be performed by Calamusa.

Balance beam performances will be done by Arcidiacono, Calamusa and Halpin who will execute stunts with a 4.0 difficulty.

Vaulting will be performed by Francis, Halpin, Lipton, Magers and Wingard.

The team has three managers: Karen Lenhart, Melissa Purkhiser, and Lynn Ross.

Coach Nancy Dougherty said that the team skill had improved a great deal since last year. She said, "The girls are more polished and experienced in their routines. The team has not reached its full potential yet, but the girls are working hard and have a good spirit."

Dougherty also hopes to advance the team scores and performances. She said she is looking forward to a successful season.

SOCCER SCENE

By BILL WILD
The Elizabeth Lancers strengthened its hold on second place in the Major Division South of the GASL last Sunday by defeating the Brooklyn Italians, formerly Palermo, 3-1. Union County SC played Espana to a 0-0 draw. USCSU will play host to the West New York Scots Sunday at 3 p.m. at Farcher's Grove, Union.

After a scoreless first half the Lancers opened up a 2-0 lead on two goals by Jan Swiernak, which gives him four for the season. The first goal was shot out of a crowd in front of the net, and the second was a header. Ed Jijon added the third goal at the 75-minute mark to boost his season's output to three. The Italian eleven scored their lone goal just seconds after Jijon got his.

There was a sea of mud running from goal mouth to goal mouth through the center of the field because of the heavy rains a few hours before game time. It was a fast, well played game despite the mud, and the fans got a few laughs when players were dumped in the muddy area.

There was a fairly large crowd on hand even though it was wet and damp. The Burnet Junior High School soccer team was at the game, with about 30 of the youngsters present and receiving instructions on how the game should be played from their coaches, John Knodel and Richard Reinhardt.

The Lancer Reserve team won its match 3-2. This was the first loss for the Italian reserves in 1 1/2 years.

The Lancers will meet the German Hungarians on Saturday night at 8 in the Metropolitan Oval in Maspeth, Queens. The German Hungarians are the leaders of the Southern Division by one point over the Lancers, with eight points in the victory column and no points in the loss column. The Lancers have three points in the loss column and can go ahead of the Knitters with a triumph on Saturday. Elizabeth has played one more game than the leaders. The German Hungarians have played four games and won each one by a shutout.

A Dalmatian victory over the Philadelphia Ukrainians and a loss by Inter Giuliana to the New York Hungarians put Dalmatian in first place over Inter in the Northern Division. The big surprise in the Northern Division is that the Greek Americans are in next-to-last place in the standings. The New York Apollos broke even with Boston in the home and home series for the championship of the ASA and both were declared co-champions.

Nets and Braves meet in Jersey

Long presented awards last night to the mayors and Bicentennial chairmen of each of the 21 municipalities in Union County and to the Union County Cultural and Heritage Commission.

The officials were honored for their part in making Union County the first in New Jersey to have all of its municipalities designated official "Bicentennial Communities." The ceremonies took place in the Campus Center Theatre at Union College, Cranford.

Union College President Saul Orkin and Board of Trustees Chairman E. Duer Reeves received a Bicentennial flag for becoming a Bicentennial College, the first in the county to achieve this recognition.

The ceremony opened with standard bearers for each of the 21 municipalities and the county placing their Bicentennial flags on the theatre stage. Mrs. Garrett M. Keating, chairman of the Union County Cultural and Heritage Commission, welcomed the nearly 400 guests, including the Board of Chosen Freeholders, the 21 Union County mayors, Bicentennial chairmen and their committees, Union College trustees, faculty and students, municipal liaison representatives to the commission and guest speakers.

Meyner noted that Union County's total involvement in the Bicentennial set an example and goal for the rest of New Jersey. Bernard Bush, executive director of the N.J. Historical Commission, praised the Freeholders for creating and funding the Union County Cultural and Heritage Commission which works with all the county municipalities on cultural and historic programs as well as serving as the county Bicentennial agency.

Hospital creates unit for workers, community help

The creation of a Department of Community and Employee Education Services at Elizabeth General Hospital was announced this week by George F. Billington, president.

Mrs. Barbara Byers, newly appointed director of this department, said "All our functions are and will be geared toward the establishment and maintenance of high health care standards. Because our hospital considers the patient and his or her family the core, all education evolves around the principle of providing the best care in the most efficient manner possible."

Beginning with the new employee's first day on the job, learning can take the form of a video film, a classroom lecture, informal consultation over a cup of coffee or continuing on-the-job training. In all instances, emphasis will be directed toward the development of individual skills and the attainment of individual ambitions among the hospital's 1,186 employees, Mrs. Myers noted.

Mrs. Byers noted: "In many instances, victims of major illnesses or disabling injuries must 'relearn' many functions they once considered routine. Through education, we hope to encourage them to overcome physical and emotional handicaps and return, as much as possible, to a state of normalcy."

UC courses designed to aid job and intellectual growth

Some 80 continuing education and community services courses will open next week at Union College, it was reported by Dr. Frank Dee, dean of educational services.

The courses featuring a variety of professional and personal enrichment programs, will get under way on Monday at the main Cranford Campus and the Urban Educational Centers in Elizabeth and Plainfield.

Courses, which range in length from one-day seminars to 12 sessions, will be offered during day and evening hours and on Saturday mornings.

"All of our courses this fall are designed for adults who are interested in job advancement or personal intellectual growth and discussion," said Dr. Dee. "These courses are not for degree-oriented students since they carry no college credit."

Union College is continuing to offer its popular stand-bys, such as astronomy, tennis, and introductory managerial skills, as well as a number of new courses, including Expectation of Death, Cultural Heritage of Japan, Union County and the American Revolution, and Introduction to the Metric System, Dr. Dee said.

A series of courses aimed at exploring the past and future impact of women is being offered by the Department of Community Services under the heading of "The Ascent of Woman." Participants may take any or all of the courses, which include studies of women in management, history, art, finance, and estate planning.

Other courses include Ballet, Evaluating 20th Century Foods, New Jersey Comes Alive, Psychology of Personal Adjustment, Sculpture Workshop, Tai Chi Chuan (Chinese exercise), Writing to Sell in '75, Crime Prevention, and Watercolor Painting.

Additional information about Union College's fall continuing education or community service programs may be obtained by contacting the Division of Special Services at 276-2600, ext. 239.

In Elizabethtown, the winter of 1779-1780 was one of the worst on record. Cold set in early and storm followed storm, piling up snow in huge mounds. The climax came with the storm of January 3, 1780, the most severe of the season. With this, the snow reached a height of four to six feet, making roads impassable and threatening troops with starvation.

Col. Matthias Ogden was appointed to requisition cattle and grain from the County of Essex, of which Elizabethtown was then a part.

A bitter cold closed up the rivers, the Staten Island Sound, Newark Bay and even the harbor of New York, forming ice of such thickness as to support an army with all its artillery and baggage. Authorities in Elizabethtown, as well as on Staten Island, took greater precautions against invasion, but the weather was no deterrent. The fighting persisted.

In Hatfield's "History of Elizabeth," dated 1868, it is said: "The horrors of that dreadful winter could not be forgotten by that generation. The condition of the people, in their almost defenseless exposure to the barbarian incursions of the rapacious foe, was deplorable in the extreme. But the more they suffered for their country's cause, the more fixed and deep-rooted was their determination never again to submit to the now more than ever hated rule of the cruel and haughty Briton."

"It is surprising that any of the people should have continued, in these circumstances, to reside on the borders of the Sound, especially when it was everywhere frozen over, and could be crossed in perfect safety by the refugee marauders."

Spring brought problems of another nature. With the earth having been frozen to such a great depth, there was muck and mud of such proportions as to keep roads impassable, and prevent spring growth of vegetation. Not a blade of grass was to be seen as late as May in that year.

The winter had seen the burning of First Church - called the Presbyterian Meeting House, and the Courthouse. The year of 1780 found the British occupying Elizabethtown, using fortifications thrown up by Americans more than four years previously.

As the war continued, sentinels were posted in the streets at night to call all passersby to account. In the gloom, they mistakenly shot friends as well as enemies; "Sad scenes were of almost daily occurrence," wrote Hatfield.

The long battling generated a class of desperadoes, thieves and cut-throats, who gave further torment to the populace that was already suffering more than seemingly could be endured.

But there were lighter moments too, which proved the undoing of a group of soldiers in at least one instance. History gives an account of army men being captured by British while attending a "handing" here with their ladies, and of the seizure of their steeds.

The town was headquarters for the exchange of prisoners, with the courthouse being used for this purpose in the early part of the war. Col. Ethan Allen had charge of British captives there for a time as May in that year.

On February 1, 1782, the last foray from Staten Island spelled the end of violence in Elizabethtown, and the war officially came to an end April 19, 1783.

Fugitive patriots, who had transferred their families to safer places, now began to return to their forsaken and desolate homes while loyalists, who long had been at odds with their neighbors, were forced to leave.

Among those who came back was Governor Livingston, and great indeed were the changes he found. "Instead of my quondam agreeable companions," he wrote, "the village now principally consisted of unknown, unrecommended strangers, guilty-looking Tories and very knavish Whigs."

Sales, marketing head appointed at Clearbrook

John G. Andriessen of Englishtown has joined Aaron Cross Construction Co., Inc. as director of sales and marketing for Clearbrook, the adult condominium community which the firm is developing just off exit 8a of the New Jersey Turnpike in Monroe Township.

Andriessen brings to the Aaron Cross organization and Clearbrook 22 years in sales and marketing, including 10 years in the real estate field. His real estate background on a part-time basis began with Hovnanian Enterprises in sales of homes for Holiday Park and Yorktowne Manor, Manalapan Township, and Kingsley Square town houses in Freehold. He also sold town houses, single-family homes and condominium apartments at Twin Rivers in East Windsor, and at the Channel Club Tower in Monmouth Beach, for W.R. Grace Properties.

On a fulltime basis, Andriessen was employed by British Airways in New York City as a sales assistant, sales representative, marketing research officer and as cargo marketing manager.

A native of New York City, Andriessen graduated from Columbia University with a B.A., majoring in public relations. He also took real estate sales courses at Rutgers as well as sales and management courses in London, England, and at the American Management Association in New York City.

Andriessen, who served in the U.S. Air Force since 1951 to 1953, has been active in a number of business and civic activities. He served as chairman of the joint airline committee for International Air Cargo Traffic, as a member of the joint Airline Federal Trade Data Working Group, is chairman of the Grand Central YMCA Program Committee, is past president of Toastmasters International, Midtown Branch and is active in a number of church groups.

He lives in Englishtown with his wife and four children.

Hemlock Farms offers recreation

Established for more than 10 years with over 1,200 vacation and year-round homes already built, Hemlock Farms near Milford, Pa., represents quite a contrast with the usual type of Poconos recreational land development.

Completed facilities include four lakes, two swimming pools, six tennis courts, a family ski area and lodge, marinas, riding stable, adult community center, a teen center designed by Parents Magazine, and much more.

There is a private membership country club, with an 18-hole championship golf course, clubhouse and additional pool and tennis facilities.

One of the things that sets Hemlock Farms apart are the "community services" it provides its property owners—private security force, volunteer fire and ambulance corps, fully paved streets and a central water system.

Homesites range in size from 1/2 acre to over two acres and are priced from $6,900 to $24,000. The location, just 90 miles from the George Washington Bridge—less than 1 1/2 hours away for most northern New Jersey area residents. Two drive out routes are recommended. The northern route is via New York State Thruway to Rt. 17 Quickway toward Monticello, west on I-84 into Pennsylvania to exit 34, then one mile south

Late summer sales hike listed by Village Green

Samuel Fromkin Co. Inc., builders of the 50-home Village Green community on Whale Pond road in West Long Branch, recently reported both traffic and sales have been picking up throughout the summer, especially since mid-August.

According to Fromkin, the buyer today "is sophisticated and knows value and quality when he sees it."

"You cannot fool the public today. They shop around for the best home in the area at the best price, best terms, etc. And we are happy to be able to sell to people today, since they are smart buyers," he said.

Home buyers will find four models to choose from at Village Green, among them the Florham, of traditional colonial design. The home features a front porch running the entire width of the house, with two-story high colonnades and double entry doors. The entry foyer has a guest closet and adjacent powder room. The kitchen features both a separate pantry with custom-built cabinets and a breakfast room.

From the living room and dining room, a sliding door leads to a porch overlooking the back yard. The paneled family room with fireplace has access to kitchen, laundry area and full basement. The separate laundry, with wall-hung cabinets, leads to a two car garage.

On the second floor, there is a master bedroom suite—with dressing room, bathroom, shower, vanity and walk-in-closet—and three other bedrooms and bath.

Other models on view at Village Green are the Rumson, a four-bedroom colonial; the Smithville, a four-bedroom colonial with raised family room; and the Chatsworth, a four-bedroom English Tudor ranch.

Sales are under the direction of Sonya Grill, a Monmouth County realty agent.

To reach Village Green, take Garden State Parkway south to Exit 105. Go east on Rt. 36 to Eatontown Circle (or Rt. 35 to the circle); go around the circle to Wall street. Turn right on Wall and go approximately one mile to Whale Pond road. Turn right to Village Green.

Sterling Thompson tops $8 million sales mark

A record business volume of over $8 million, involving 180 homes, is reported by Sterling Thompson and Associates, Somerset, a central Jersey real estate company, during the month of August.

This is the first time the firm has topped the $8 million mark in any given month in its 17-year history.

Sales associates with the company, which maintains 10 residential sales offices in Monmouth, Ocean, Middlesex and Somerset counties, sold 82 homes, valued at $3,851,950, and successfully marketed an additional 98 homes for $4,167,850 last month.

Larry Finkelstein, corporate marketing director, reports a 45 percent increase in total business volume for the first eight months of 1975, over a comparable period last year, representing a total dollar volume of $46 million, up $15 million over 1974.

The firm sold 478 homes, valued at over $22 million, and, in addition, has marketed 540 homes, topping $23 million, resulting in 1,018 successful real estate transactions since the first of the year, according to Finkelstein.

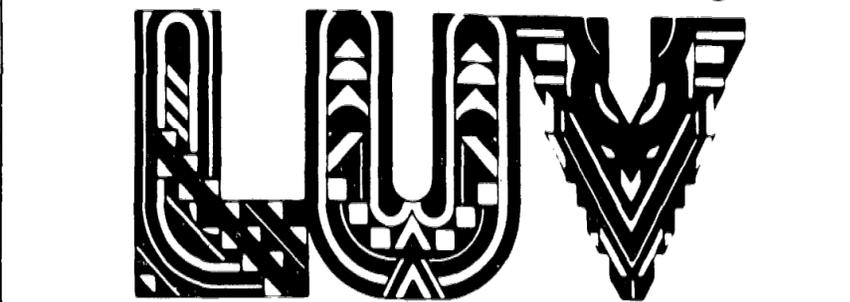

"Interestingly enough, these unprecedented August sales were made during what is generally conceded to be a slow month, with many employees and potential homebuyers on vacation," was the comment of Stan Ellberger, the company's vice-president.

"We attribute this highly successful accomplishment to our 75 professional sales associates who are on the job full-time and who can best be described as 'courteously aggressive.' Due to their efforts, a slow time of year, businesswise, has turned out to be the best month we've ever had."

Sterling Thompson and Associates, with corporate headquarters in Middletown, also maintains offices in Matawan, Manalapan, Marlboro, Howell, Hazlet, Bricktown, Ocean Township, South Brunswick and Somerset.

King-size rooms
finding favor at Claridge House

King-size apartments—in many cases with square footage larger than the average home—are receiving enthusiastic acclaim from visitors viewing model apartments at the rental pavilion of the 12 story Claridge House II on First Mountain in Verona.

Apartment amenities include laundry facilities in each apartment, sliding glass doors to balcony, room-entry foyer, individually controlled central air conditioning, kitchen equipped with automatic dishwasher and dryer, double oven with self-cleaning features, side-by-side no defrost refrigerator with automatic ice maker and custom cabinets.

Each apartment will be monitored whether occupied or not, a feature especially appealing to families who are away traveling.

The building also has a fire alarm system with heat and smoke detectors and connection directly to the Verona Fire Alarm System. In the event of a power failure, an emergency stand-by power system will provide lighting in public areas and elevator service.

Each floor will have two storage rooms with a large private storage locker for each owner. There also are two trash disposal rooms on each floor, separate mail and package rooms for the east and west wings, and separate elevator lobbies with three elevators in each wing.

All utility charges are included in the rent.

Most Americans prefer single family residences according to Kislak poll

Give an American family the choice and almost every one will choose a single family home standing on its own lot as its favorite type of residence. Yet less than half of American families can afford to buy a single-family home.

That represents the collective opinion of a broad sampling of people who should know, real estate brokers in Florida and New Jersey who took part in a recent survey of the real estate market conducted by the J. I. Kislak Mortgage Corporation, the mortgage banking division of the Kislak Organization and one of the nation's largest origiators of home mortgage loans.

According to the Kislak survey, which covered a wide range of real estate subjects, an overwhelming 97 percent of the brokers listed one-family homes when asked, "What type of housing do you think most people prefer?"

Yet only 48 percent of the same brokers said that most people can afford to buy single-family homes. Rental apartments, mobile homes and condominiums together accounted for virtually all of the other responses in the "able to afford" category.

In terms of other preferences, three types of housing took most of the second-place choices. Leading was townhouses (38 percent), followed by two-family duplexes (31 percent), condominiums (28 percent) and rental apartments (15 percent).

The Kislak survey, which is conducted annually, also sought brokers' opinions on the general state of business conditions in the brokers' areas and their expectations regarding new residential construction.

The feeling that the economy would improve over 1974, but not by much, can be seen from the responses about general business conditions. Nearly half of the brokers (43 percent) expect an improvement over 1974, about a third (32 percent) expect conditions to remain about the same, while only a quarter (24 percent) look for business conditions to worsen during the first half of this year.

The same mixed reaction is expressed in the answers to a question on unemployment in their areas. A quarter of the brokers (27 percent) expect

JACK LEMMON

Quality cast seen in film

Jack Lemmon co-stars with Anne Bancroft in the Neil Simon film comedy, "The Prisoner of Second Avenue," produced and directed by Melvin Frank...

Frank explains that because the script is "a sardonic comedy about the awfulness of living in midtown Manhattan and facing hostile neighbors, uncaring bus drivers, ripoff artists and middle-aged unemployment," he very carefully chose Lemmon and Miss Bancroft to play the married couple.

He believes that "without qualities which Lemmon and Miss Bancroft have brought to it, the play would show up on the screen at only half its true value."

"Those two players were born for these particular roles and for each other. Jack likes to work and works a lot, and Anne doesn't like to work very much. They were never around at the same time."

DISC 'N DATA

By MILT HAMMER

Pick of The LPs... LARRY YOUNG'S FUEL (ARISTA AL-4051). This is Larry's debut album for Arista and it's well worth your listening time.

Growing up in New Jersey, Larry began to study music at an early age but wasn't turned off by the rigors of classical training and hours of practice.

"A lot of my friends would stand under my window while I was practicing and laugh at me because they were out playing ball. But that all turns around eventually."

Larry began playing the nightclub circuit during Jimmy Smith's period of influence on all organ players and, as a result, much of Smith's repertoire was required playing at any club gig. Even then, he resisted the pressure to make his style simply derivative.

LARRY YOUNG

most influential figures in the jazz scene. Erick Dolphy, Elvin Jones, Grant Green, Lee Morgan and Joe Henderson were among those with whom he recorded and performed during this period.

Young even had the opportunity to play with the late John Coltrane, though the music was never recorded. "He was reluctant to play with me at first, since he preferred the piano to organ, but one time in New York City he told me, 'You could play a shoestring if you wanted to,' and invited me to play at his house."

Nuclear energy is the one practical alternative to costly foreign oil!

Nearly half of PSE&G's electricity is produced by burning expensive oil, most of which is imported from overseas. We have no other choice but to buy oil from overseas because there are insufficient domestic supplies. Only nuclear generating stations can greatly reduce the consumption of oil for electric power generation. During the first seven months of this year, more than 17% of the electricity consumed by our customers was produced by nuclear energy that saved the equivalent of nearly 210 million gallons of oil. Nuclear power helps keep electric bills down, too. Nuclear power is a great deal cheaper than coal or oil and has already helped to stabilize and even reduce electric bills of PSE&G's customers. PSE&G is currently paying 7 times more for coal and 9 times more for oil than it does for nuclear fuel to produce electricity. The lower costs for nuclear fuel are reflected automatically in lower bills to our customers. Timely completion of nuclear projects is important to New Jersey's economy. There are no valid reasons why nuclear power should not take on a greater responsibility to reliably carry us through until that time in the future when even more sophisticated and desirable methods of producing electricity become practical realities. To continue the trend of more economical electric production, PSE&G's nuclear projects must be completed on schedule. After all, it's money in your pocketbook.

Free Nuclear Energy Information. Return this coupon for a complete Nuclear Energy Checklist. Includes are a new Nuclear Questions and Answers booklet, information about alternate energy sources, and a report on Energy Manifesto signed by 32 Nobel Prize winners. Energy Outlook Kit 10c.
