Berkeley Heights, Summit held to ties by Jets' lightweights, middleweights

The Mountainside Jets' lightweight and middleweight teams were tied last Sunday as they duelled Berkeley Heights and Summit in defensive battles.

The Mountainside Jets C team played the Berkeley Heights Knights to a scoreless tie, and the middleweight had a similar deadlock against Summit.

After a hard-fought first half, Mountainside rped the only serious threat of the game with Bamian O'Donnell completed a 15-yard pass to David Gibadlo. Mike Kontra bulled his way for 10 yards in two carries, then Gibadlo raced for 30 yards before he was tackled on the three-yard line. Mountainside fumbled two plays later to halt the threat, however.

The Mountainside defense was outstanding for the third week in a row, not allowing a single first down. Leading the charge up front were Joe Sefack, Ron Martignetti, Alex Caiola and Steve Scholes. Outstanding as linebackers were Mike Dougherty, Mike Kontra, Damian O'Donnell and Jeff Wilde, who led the team in tackles.

The rivalry between the Mountainside middleweight team and Summit goes back to two years ago when the Jets upset a heavily favored Summit team by the score of 7-0. Last year, the Hilltoppers returned the favor by handing the Jets their only regular season loss, 7-0. With the stage set, both teams Sunday were inspired to play a hard-fought football game.

The first half was dominated by the defensive units, with the Jets getting the better scoring opportunities. Early in the second period, the Green Machine moved smartly downfield on the fine running of Charley Bunin and Tommy Fischer. However, the drive stalled on the Summit 18-yard line when the Jets failed to make a first down by inches.

The deadlock continued in the second half, until midway through the fourth quarter a Hilltopper punt was fumbled by the Jets and recovered by Summit on the Jet three-yard line. On the next play, Summit moved to the one-foot line. Here the Mountainside defensive

"Our PTA meetings and programs will keep you up to date on the objectives, curriculums and achievements of our schools. As a member of our PTA, you will have a voice and a renewed interest in our schools and for the enrichment of our school programs in general."

Board, borough announce pact for use of Echobrook

By KAREN ZAUTYK

The Echobrook School, closed in June 1974 because of dropping enrollment, will soon be converted into a municipal building, thanks to an agreement reached by the Mountainside Board of Education and Borough Council.

According to an announcement read by Mayor Thomas Ricciardi at Tuesday night's board meeting in the Deerfield School, the Board of Education will continue to utilize the 1903 section of the building for its offices, while the other buildings and property will be leased to the borough as a borough hall and for recreational purposes.

"The initial term of the lease will be for 10 years, and the borough will have the right to renew the lease for an additional term of 10 years," the official statement read. "In consideration of the lease, the borough will defray all costs entailed in operating and maintaining both buildings and the surrounding grounds. The attorneys for each body have been directed to prepare an appropriate lease as quickly as possible."

Although the board gave a unanimous vote of endorsement to the tentative agreement, reached after more than a year of negotiations, two members, Walter Rupp and Patricia Knodel, noted objections. Rupp, in charge of long-range planning for the board, projected a student population increase by 1985, possibly necessitating additional classroom space. He said he would have preferred a five or 10-year renewable lease.

Mrs. Knodel stated she would like to see the board purchase the borough-owned Barnes Tract in case a new school had to be constructed. "But I'm satisfied with half a loaf," she added.

Approximately 45 persons were in attendance at the session, during which a report was given on the present state of contract negotiations with board employees. William Biunno said the 1974-75 principals' agreement has been settled, and mediation has been completed on the 1975-76 negotiations, which are at impasse. Also at impasse are the talks with the Mountainside Teachers Association on the 1975-76 contracts. The next step for both groups will be fact-finding.

"We have had two meetings with the MTA on 1975-76 contract," he said. "The demands are on the table, and there is a possibility we could settle both contracts at the same time."

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin B. Hanigan reported on vandalism at the Deerfield School. During the past three weeks, he said, a total of 23 large windows were broken in the complex and a break-in occurred at relocatable classroom, with approximately $1,000 in equipment, mostly musical instruments, being stolen.

The board authorized the hiring of lawyer Gerald L. Dorf of Rahway, at the rate of $60 per hour through Dec. 31, to act as special counsel. (Continued on page 2) in negotiations with all employee units. Also approved was a $1,500 advance retainer, but a motion on a request by Dorf for a $70 per hour fee beginning Jan. 1 failed to carry.

Trudy Palmer reported that talks with the school custodians on the 1975-76 contract also are at impasse. A meeting on the 1976-77 agreement was to be held some time this week.

Dr. Hanigan also noted that police had to be summoned to the school three times on Monday, Columbus Day, when high school students entered the building and disrupted classes by running through the halls. The youths also damaged a restroom, tearing down ceiling tiles.

Parents of youths known to have been involved in Monday's incidents have been contacted, he said. He warned that if there are additional incidents, disorderly persons charges will be filed.

The board approved expenditures of $1,416 to send fourth and fifth graders to the Outdoor Education Center, and of $1,201 for seventh and eighth grade musical programs, but tabled a request by Hanigan for $1,550 for Metropolitan Opera educational programs for seventh and eighth graders. One audience member raised objections to the subsidizing of out-of-state groups, when student-oriented cultural programs are available in New Jersey. The board will discuss the possibility of utilizing Garden State facilities, as well as broadening the cultural program to include symphony and ballet performances, as well as the opera.

Also approved was the annual request by Our Lady of Lourdes School for a shared services program with the public school system in home economics, industrial arts, and special services. The program does not result in any additional cost to the board, since the parochial school youngsters are absorbed into regular class schedule at the Deerfield School. As for the special services, no guarantee is given as to the number of children accommodated or the amount of time available.

Blood drive set; Red Cross cites need for donors

Mrs. Edward W. Love, chairman of the blood program for the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross, this week issued an urgent appeal for blood donors at the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain ave., Westfield, on Wednesday 1:30 to 6:30 p.m.

"Blood is needed continually," Mrs. Love said, "and people are the only source. There is no substitute for human blood."

A pint of blood can be separated into five components that could save the lives of different people: burn and shock victims; accident victims who are bleeding heavily; leukemia and hemophilia sufferers and people who have anemia. Blood is also essential for many operations. A pint of blood could mean the difference between life and death, Mrs. Love added.

Donors between the ages of 17 and 66 can give blood every two months, but not more than five times a year. Seventeen-year-olds must have permission slips signed by a parent or guardian. These slips are available at the chapter house, 321 Elm St., Westfield. An appointment for donating blood may be made by telephoning 232-7090.

REVEREND JAMES CALDWELL

"The Fighting Parson"

During the Revolutionary period, the Presbyterian Church (now First Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth) was the largest, most impressive looking edifice in Elizabethtown, and in 1762 was destined to receive as its rector, a man who was to become its most famous minister, the Reverend James Caldwell.

Caldwell was born in Virginia in 1734, and, after graduating from Princeton, spent many years preaching in the South. At age 25, his calling brought him to Elizabethtown to assume new ministerial duties.

Because of his enthusiasm and devotion to his duties, his congregation steadily grew in number. He was an ardent house caller, and never missed a chance to invite new people to attend services. Despite the many hours he spent on church business, Caldwell was a devoted family man. A good deal of time was allotted for his family and working in his garden.

He was also an ardent patriot who used every means at his command, including his sermons and prayers, to condemn the tyrannical acts of King George and his ministers against the common people. It was his contention that the common man had a dignity before God, and that oppression from earthly powers was not in accordance with God's law.

When war broke out he joined the Continental Army as a Chaplain and later became a deputy quartermaster. Although his parishioners were sorry to see him leave, they were consoled knowing he would be with their boys since most of the Elizabethtown men who enlisted were members of the Presbyterian church.

Whenever it was safe to do so, Rev. Caldwell would return to the church to conduct services and visit with the people. It is said he carried two pistols which he would lay on his pulpit cushions while he preached during which time sentinels kept watch at the doors for the enemy.

During the Battle of Springfield when Caldwell heard the Continental soldiers were exhausting their supply of wadding, for their rifles, confiscated a stack of Watts Hymnals from the Springfield church. As he tore out the pages to substitute in place of wadding, kept shouting "Give 'em Watts, boys, Give 'em Watts."

In the meantime, while the battle was raging, Mrs. Hannah Caldwell, with some neighbors, was back of the parsonage of the Connecticut Farms Church awaiting news of the fighting. It was at this time a British soldier fired into the house where Mrs. Caldwell was sitting. She was hit and died instantly.

Rev. Caldwell who was away with the American Army at the time of his wife's death, arrived back at the parsonage the next day, and read the burial service for his wife.

Word of her death spread over the countryside, and almost nothing during the Revolution angered or created a craving for revenge among the Colonists, as did this unwarranted killing.

To put a stop to the illegal trading of goods between the Americans in Elizabethtown and the British stationed on Staten Island, General Washington gave orders to post sentries at deHart's Point, and to arrest anyone caught engaged in this act.

It was here that the Reverend Mr. Caldwell met his death at the hands of an American Soldier.

Caldwell's purpose for being at the Point was to help a young lady who had come to Elizabethtown to visit her sister. After escorting her to a carriage, he went back to the boat to get a package. As he was returning with it, a guard, James Morgan, shot and killed him.

Morgan was held for murder, tried, convicted and executed.

At his trial Morgan based his defense on the fact that Caldwell failed to stop when ordered to halt. His superior officer testified that Morgan was not on duty at the time of the shooting, and had been bribed to kill the minister.

Sometime later a monument was erected to the Reverend and Mrs. Caldwell, and now stands in the First Presbyterian Church graveyard on Broad Street where they both lie buried.

Jonathan Dickinson of the Presbyterian Church in Elizabethtown was successful in obtaining a royal charter to establish a college, the purpose being to prepare young men for the ministry. The College of New Jersey, as it was called, was convened on Rahway Road, south of Cherry Street. Mr. Caleb, working with Mr. Dickinson, was the first tutor. The college was later relocated and became Princeton University.

Two Carteret men were arrested in Mountainside Oct. 9 after the borough officers were alerted by Berkeley Heights police that occupants of a car fitting their auto's description had been waving what appeared to be a pistol out the window of the vehicle on Rt. 22.

Mountainside officers Herman Hafeken and Jack Yerich were on patrol on the highway when they heard the radio report, and at 1 a.m. they halted the auto near Echo Lake Park. A search of the vehicle allegedly revealed an air pistol, under the front console, and a small quantity of marijuana.

MICHAEL J. COOPER

Mortarman to Okinawa

Michael J. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie V. Cooper of Chapel Hill, Mountainside, has completed his advanced training course as a Mortarman at the Infantry Training School, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif., after completing his basic training in May at Parris Island, S. C.

After a two-week leave, PFC Cooper was assigned to the 2nd Marine Infantry Division for a 13-month tour of duty at Okinawa in the Pacific.

Mrs. Harrison named coordinator for Wilson

Mrs. Diane Harrison, a volunteer worker in the office of Assemblywoman Betty Wilson, has been named a district coordinator for the Wilson reelection campaign in Mountainside.

A former president of the Westfield Area League of Women Voters, Mrs. Harrison last January began to spend one day a week in Mrs.

Wilson's Scotch Plains district office to get some practical political experience.

As a result of that, and of preparing a study of Mrs. Wilson's record on 25 major issues, Mrs. Harrison said, "I think it's very important that Betty get reelected. She's one of the most intelligent and most articulate legislators in Trenton, and she deserves all the help she can get."

Mrs. Harrison's appointment to the local campaign post was announced by Ms. Billie Jean Tulchin, Mountainside coordinator for the campaign.

For Mrs. Harrison, the overriding issues are fiscal policy and the job market. "Betty is one of the most persevering supporters of tax reform," Mrs. Harrison said. "She understands that it's a vital part of the war on unemployment—something that has to be done to give New Jersey a favorable climate for business and therefore for jobs."

"Betty has won respect in Trenton for her business-like way," Mrs. Harrison continued. "She doesn't mince words, and she doesn't play games. She knows the priority needs of this district, and she has a good grasp of the needs of the whole state."

THE SILENT ONE

Director of Consumer Information Elizabethtown Gas

No other household appliance is called upon to do as big a job, with so little attention, as an automatic gas-fired water heater. Just set the thermostat at the desired temperature, and you should get years of satisfactory service without interruption.

Selecting the proper location for your automatic gas water heater is a matter for careful study. Whether you are building a new home, remodeling an older home, or replacing an old water heater, these are the most important things to remember about the location of your water heater:

1. It should be as close as possible to hot water outlets for economy and efficiency. For homes with long pipe runs, insulation of the pipes is recommended.
2. It should be readily accessible, for servicing and to permit good housekeeping.
3. It must conform to local codes as to surrounding wall clearances, so that there is a free circulation of air.
4. It should be located as close as possible to the vertical vent.
5. Your water heater should always rest on a strong, firm floor or base.
6. Water piping should be of adequate size, capable of delivering a satisfactory flow of hot water to meet your requirements.

In weighing the value of the water heater, there is no escaping the old axiom that you get pretty much what you pay for. A quality appliance should give you greater longevity, a minimum of service calls, more satisfactory operation and better operating temperature control devices.

Soccer team improving, ties New Providence

By AMY GELTZELER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team tied New Providence, 2-2, this week. The team also lost to Summit, 2-0. Their current record is 2-4-1. The next games are today at Verona and Tuesday at home against West Orange.

The team played an excellent game against New Providence. Coach Arthur Krupp said that this was the boys' best game of the season. Alan Layton, assisted by Gary Scheich, scored in the second quarter to give Dayton a 1-0 lead. New Providence came back in the third quarter and scored a goal to tie up the game.

With seven minutes left in the fourth quarter Scheich was able to score a goal giving the Bulldogs a 2-1 lead. In the final few minutes of the game Dayton unfortunately scored a goal for New Providence to tie up the game 2-2. Krupp said, "The boys should have won the game. Although New Providence is undefeated in the Suburban Conference, Dayton dominated the game. The defense played an excellent game, allowing New Providence only six shots at the goal."

"David Batten excelled on defense in this game. Halfbacks Jerry Toepfer, Steve Matysek, and Steve Hechtle played an exceptional game, dominating the play in the middle of the field. Scheich and goalie Sid Kaufman also played an excellent game. Although the offense had only 13 shots at the goal, they played a fine game."

In the Summit game the Dayton team seemed to be playing in a rut. Krupp felt that this was the boys' worst game of the season. Summit scored in the first and in the fourth quarter. They dominated much of the game. The Dayton team did not play aggressively.

Coach Krupp said, "The team did not look for the open spaces, and the passing seemed to be blind. The team depended too much on Scheich who was bottled up by the Summit team and therefore unable to score. Sid Kaufman was the outstanding player of the game. He kept Dayton in the game by guarding the goal and playing an exceptional game. Steve Matysek also played an excellent game at center half-back."

Last year at this time in the season the team also has a 2-4-1 record. They were able to play exceptional games from there on and have a successful season. The team is looking forward to upholding this standard for this year. Krupp said, "All of the boys have a great attitude. They are not giving up and are all working very hard. As they continue to improve, so will their season."

Regional harriers outspeed Verona, W. Orange teams

By AMY GELTZELER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team increased its record to 7-2 last week by defeating Verona and West Orange. The Bulldogs are in second place in the Suburban Conference.

With a 24-31 score against Verona, Dayton's Billy Bjorstad placed first. He was followed by Charles Kiel who placed second. Other Dayton finishers included Bobby Phillips (fifth), Brad Weiner (seventh), Danny Smith (ninth), Gary Sherman (11th) and Bobby Gilbert (12th).

Bjorstad also placed first in the West Orange meet to help lead the Bulldogs to their 26-29 victory. Kiel placed third; Phillips, fifth, Smith, eighth, and Weiner, ninth.

Coaches Martin Taglienti and William Jones said they are extremely pleased with the performance of the team. Taglienti said, "The times are improving every day, which means that the boys have not yet reached their full potential. Everyone is in good health and working very hard. Greg Rusbarsky, who was out with an injury, will be returning to the team this week. The scores in the meets have been extremely close and the Suburban Conference championship will pose a tough challenge."

The conference meet will be held on Nov. 4. The team was scheduled to pace Millburn, Tuesday. This was expected to be a tough meet for the Bulldogs because the last time they ran against Millburn the teams had a one-point difference in their scores. Today, the harriers will compete against New Providence.

Madison floods Dayton on a swampy gridiron

By LOUIS FASULO
Through the puddles at Twombly Field in Madison, the top-rated Madison football team sloshed to a 37-0 victory, last Saturday over the ill-fated Bulldogs from Dayton Regional. The Dayton attack, which was so successful the previous week, was completely subdued by the Madison defense. Now with a record of 1-2, Dayton will play host to New Providence this Saturday.

The Bulldog offense, which is based on a hard-nosed running attack, was hampered by the periodic rain last Saturday that caused numerous slips and fumbles by the backfield. The line, consisting of Bob Conte, Bob Potomski, Joe Ragucci, Greg Lies and Bob McGurty, did its best to help the offense. Quarterback Joe Graziano, who was 6-12 for 40 yards, attempted to generate an attack. However, each drive seemed halted by a fumble, penalty against the Bulldogs or a missed catch by the ends.

The Dayton defense seemed to be intimidated by the size and overall power of Madison in the first quarter. They did come back to play a fair game in the other periods. The defense seemed to be on the field the entire game trying to withstand the powerful Madison attack. They were successful many times, but Madison did put together a few very long scoring drives.

This week's defense was led by Jim Rice and Bob Potomski, who faced a pair of the toughest linemen in the state. The defensive linebacking unit was led by Jack Flood, Frank Bladis and Mike Flood, and all three played good games. Other key defensive players included Steve Merkelbach, Kevin Mitchell, Van and Vic Vitale and the backfield of Carmen Apicella, who had an interception, Brian McNany and Steve Pepe.

The offensive backfield of Mike Flood and Brandon Gambee gained a total of 83 yards. Hugh Cole and Ted Parker also ran the ball from handoffs from quarterback Bryant Burke.

Tennis varsity beats Verona, N. Providence

By AMY GELTZELER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School girls' tennis team last week was victorious over Verona, 3-2, and New Providence, 4-1. The team lost to Madison, 3-2, Caldwell, 5-0, and Millburn, 5-0. Yesterday the team was scheduled to play West Orange. Today the team will compete with New Providence, and on Monday the team will play Verona.

In the victory over Verona, Laurie Weeks was successful in first singles, 6-0, 6-2. Cathy Picut, playing second singles, also won 6-0, 6-2. The first doubles team of Debbie Freund and Sue Ostrich won in three sets, 6-0, 1-6, 6-3. Playing second doubles, Jessica Einstein and Pam Biesczack lost in a tough match.

Dayton had fine performances in the New Providence victory. Weeks won her first singles match, 6-1, 6-1, while Picut was successful in second singles, 6-0, 6-1. Sandy Crain played an excellent game but lost her third singles match, 5-7, 4-6. Ostrich and Freund won in first doubles, and Einstein and Biesczack were victorious in second doubles.

In the Madison game, Picut and Crain were both successful. Picut won a tough match, 6-4, 6-1, and Sandy Crain played a fine match, 6-3, 7-5. Weeks lost a tight match at first singles, as did the two doubles teams.

In the Caldwell contest and in the Millburn match, all the players were unsuccessful. Weeks lost her singles match against Caldwell, 6-0, 6-3, and she lost against Millburn 6-0, 6-4. Picut at second singles, and Sandy Crain, third singles, were unsuccessful in both matches. The first doubles team, Sue Wallace and Randy Kessler, and the second doubles team, Barbara Martino and Lori Gabay, both lost to Caldwell. Kessler and Einstein lost their first doubles match against Millburn, as did Gabay and Biesczack at second doubles.

Coach Edward Jasinski said, "The girls have faced the top teams in the circuit. Caldwell is undefeated. Millburn has had only one loss and that was to Caldwell. Cathy Picut is playing extremely well, as is Sandy Crain, who has shown great improvement each time out. Laurie Weeks has been facing the top singles players in the conference. The doubles teams had been disappointing. It seems that a winning combination will be hard to find. When the correct pairing is found, the team will improve a great deal."

Gymnasts whip Kearny for year's first victory

By LOUIS FASULO
Victory was the key word as the Dayton girls' gymnastics team rolled to its first triumph of the current season. The girls completely out did themselves as they scored 63.20 points to Kearny's score of 39.00 last Friday. Their constant improvement finally paid off as their score was the highest in their history. Coach Nancy Dougherty was extremely pleased as she stated, "The girls all were great and their scores are an example of their capabilities. All of them performed excellently."

The vaulting unit, which was the weak point for the team at the start of the season, gained first and second place finishes. Carol Wingard's performance gave her an outstanding score of 7.25. She was also the first girl to win this event all season for Dayton. Jill Lipton did a fine job with a second place finish in this event.

The next event Dayton competed in was the uneven parallel bars. The girls swept all three places. First place went to Barbara Calamusa, second was Jill Lipton, and captain Debbie Arcidiacono finished third. All three girls performed well as they shocked the entire Kearny team with their performance.

In the balance beam competition Moira Halpin did a fine job scoring 6.74, which was good for a first place finish. Barbara Calamusa took second.

The final competition was the floor exercises. Dayton's Halpin scored 7.3, which was the best in the team's history. She performed her routine with "sheer eloquence and perfection," the coach said. Not far behind her was Wingard, second with a score of 6.30.

Dayton completely dominated the opposition, which has had the same experience as far as years in competition are concerned. "Our girls took first and second in every event. There is not too much more I can expect. I am extremely satisfied with the team thus far," exclaimed Dougherty.

The girls competed in a tough meet against Scotch Plains on Monday and will play host to state champ Bridgewater Wednesday at home.

Hassard to teach ski conditioning at 5 Points YMCA

A pre-season ski conditioning program will be offered at the Five Points Branch YMCA. The seven-week course, beginning Oct. 23, is scheduled on Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. The program is available to both teenagers and adults, and will be held in the gymnasium.

Thomas Hassard of Union will be the instructor for the conditioning program. With 25 years ski experience, he coached the U.S. Deaf Olympic Ski Team in the International Alpine Championships in 1971 and is an active coach for the Eastern Ski Association Coaches System, state chairman of the National Racing Committee and has been a member of the Watchung Amateur Ski Club for 23 years.

The program will consist of a variety of exercises and drills designed to physically condition the skier before the season begins. Circuit exercise training, flexibility exercises and simulation ski drills will comprise the bulk of the training program. Paul Doeringer, a spokesman for the Y, said, "This will be the first time we have offered such a program, and we hope many people will take advantage of this opportunity." He went on to say, "This course, being designed to physically prepare the skier, should minimize the chance of accidents on the slopes and make for more proficient and more enjoyable skiing."

The Branch Y has limited enrollment in the program. Interested persons are urged to register immediately by dropping in at the Y or calling 687-5570. The Five Points Branch YMCA is located at 201 Tucker ave., Union, serving Union, Kenilworth, Roselle and Roselle Park.

Alcoholism group to sponsor dinner in Union tonight

Mrs. Geraldine O. Delaney, director of Alina Lodge in Blairstown, and Dr. Paul Fagan, director of the Alcoholism Unit at Mountainside Hospital, Montclair, will speak at the annual dinner sponsored by the Union County Division of the National Council on Alcoholism, North Jersey Area.

The dinner will be held tonight in the Town and Campus Restaurant, Morris avenue, Union, beginning at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Teresa McGeary, director of the Union County Division, NCA, said, "Mrs. Delaney is one of the foremost authorities on the problems of alcoholism and she will discuss some of the very real problems of the female alcoholic in New Jersey. Dr. Fagan, whose specialty is treating alcoholics, will talk about the most recent medical findings in treating this disease."

Mrs. McGeary said that there are 450,000 active alcoholic men and women in New Jersey and alcoholism costs business, industry and government in New Jersey some $500 million annually in lost time and diminished production. The dinner is held each year to raise funds for the Union County Division, NCA.

The Union County Division, NCA is located at 300 North avenue E., Westfield. The National Council on Alcoholism is the only voluntary health agency in the country devoted entirely to the problem of alcoholism.

In endorsing the GOP freeholder team, Rinaldo said they "have a proven record of honesty, integrity and competence in government and in representing the people of Union County."

GOP blasts street widening in residential neighborhoods

The three Republican candidates for Union County Board of Freeholders announced this week they will continue their long-standing campaign against road widening which alters the residential nature of neighborhoods throughout the county.

The pledge was made by Freeholders Walter Ulrich of Rahway and Herbert Heilmann of Union and former Freeholder Rose Marie Sinnott of Summit.

Ulrich, during his 12-year service on the Board of Freeholders, has consistently been in the forefront of the battle against road widening projects which would dump commercial traffic on residential streets.

"We have enough main roads to carry commercial traffic without making short cuts through our residential neighborhoods which our residents have worked over the years to make the best living areas in the county," said Ulrich.

Referring to the county's residential neighborhoods, green belts and landscaped industry, Ulrich added, "We're an industrial county but with the cooperation of government and the private sector we have made this county a model for gracious living throughout the country. I am not going to see that destroyed."

Among the street widening projects that Ulrich has successfully fought over the years have been the proposed widening of Inman, Lake and Randolph avenues.

Heilmann, during his three years on the board, successfully prevailed upon freeholders "to get away from their maps and actually go out and survey the neighborhood in which there were proposed street widening projects."

"Looking at a map and talking about street widening isn't a very personal approach," he said, "because all you're really seeing is a line and a map that you plan to make a little wider."

He added, "It's a far different thing going into that neighborhood and seeing first hand the effort the residents have made to build it up. And, how a decision by the board members to widen that road is going to tear down years of effort."

It was Heilmann who successfully led the fight to stop a street widening project already under way on Galloping Hill Road and restore the street to its original condition.

Mrs. Sinnott also has a long history of fighting street widening projects which would undermine the residential character of neighborhoods. She is currently in the forefront of the fight to stop a number of proposed street widening projects in Summit.

Ulrich added, "We're an industrial county but with the cooperation of government and the private sector we have made this county a model for gracious living throughout the country. I am not going to see that destroyed."

3 Dem freeholder candidates hit park commission defiance

Democratic freeholder candidates Leda Perselay, Anthony Amalfe and Abe Rosensweig this week accused the Union County Park Commission of attempting to remain autonomous, in defiance of the new form of county government scheduled to go into effect in 1976.

Mrs. Perselay, Amalfe and Rosensweig said if the Park Commission continues to abide by its resolution of January 1974, in which it declared itself autonomous, this would have the effect of reversing the mandate of the people and would be defiance of the new law.

"When the voters of Union County went to the polls in 1974 and approved the change to the county manager form of government, they also accepted the recommendations of the Charter Study Commission," Mrs. Perselay said, "including the basic stipulation that all county agencies be reorganized as departments under the direct supervision of the county manager."

"Now that the transition to new government is actually under way, the Park Commission, as well as all other county departments, must bow to the will of the people and adhere to the new administrative code," Amalfe added.

The candidates called recent criticism of the creation of a county department of finance under the new administrative code another attempt to reverse the mandate of the people.

"The Park Commission and the recent critics of the transition to new government fail to realize that they no longer have any option in the matter," Rosensweig said. "The 1974 vote to go to the county manager form of government is now the law. Therefore, all departments, commissions, etc., must co-operate in forming the new government. The Park Commission can no longer remain autonomous; and the existing county departments must prepare for reorganization under the new code."

Workshop series in outdoor biology listed at Trailside

One of the workshops in a series arranged by the Outdoor Biology Instructional Strategies (OBIS) will be conducted Saturday, Oct. 25 from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation.

OBIS, a program developed under grants from the National Science Foundation, seeks to provide environmental awareness for America's future decision-makers by involving the leadership of youth groups such as 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, as well as recreation and playground specialists and others.

Similar workshops for the leadership program will continue at various locations until May 1, 1976. Registrants are required to attend only one training session, although in making application they should indicate as many dates (at various locations) as possible. All participants will be selected in compliance with Title VI, Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The OBIS leadership training program is conducted by the Conservation and Environmental Studies Center, Inc., Browns Mills. The program director is Dr. V. Eugene Vivian, professor of environmental studies and former chairman of the science department at Glassboro State College.

Applications may be obtained at Trailside, at Coles avenue and New Providence road, Mountainside.

Rainfall in September was record-breaking

Into everyone's life, a little rain must fall, but does it have to break records?

The September 1975 rainfall in the Union County area did, according to the monthly summary to the National Weather Service issued by Dr. Anthony Galatola of Union College's meteorological station, a cooperative station of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

A total of 10.07 inches of rain fell during a period of 12 days in September, Dr. Galatola noted. This is 5.55 inches above normal. The greatest amount of rainfall during a 24-hour period was 2.35 inches on Sept. 26. Fog and thunder were noted on Sept. 20 and 21. The driest September on record at the Union College station was 1972 with only 1.16 inches recorded.

The total rainfall for 1975 now measures 52.22 inches. At this time last year it measured 37.84 inches.

Temperatures during September ranged from a maximum of 81 degrees on Sept. 5 and 20 to a minimum of 36 degrees on Sept. 15 and 29. The mean temperature for the month was 58 degrees, which is 8.3 degrees above normal. The highest daily average for the month was 74 degrees on Sept. 20, while the lowest was 51 degrees on Sept. 14. The hottest September day on record at the Union College station was Sept. 4, 1973, when the mercury hit 96 degrees. The coldest were Sept. 25, 1963, and Sept. 24, 1974, when 33 degrees was recorded. Degree days for the heating season, which begins annually on Sept. 1, totalled 19.

Total planning stressed in Whittier Oaks homes

The steady growth of Whittier Oaks in Freehold shows the popularity of well-planned, fully-equipped homes. That's the opinion of William Steinfield, vice-president for marketing with U.S. Home of New Jersey, developer of the community. "There's no cutting corners, skipping or unfinished work in a Whittier Oaks home," said Steinfield. "When a buyer moves in, every aspect of the home has been carefully prepared and is ready to play its part in providing a full residential environment." Steinfield noted some families have been prompted to settle for less than the whole package by the "do-it-yourself" bug. But unfortunately, in his view, this approach seldom produces the economies expected by the buyer in the original mortgage.

"It really is much easier to have everything included in the original mortgage right at the outset," said Steinfield. "That way an owner can budget his funds with some predictability. He also doesn't have to worry about constantly postponing finishing his home because of rising prices for labor and material."

"Some families have found that unfinished sections in a house make a wonderful playroom for the children. But when the children get older, many a family is ready to move to another house. The unfinished 'playroom' becomes a negative feature and could prevent selling the house for its full value."

"In short, a family should 'do it right' the first time when buying a home; the most important purchase most of us ever make. It is too serious a step to be made by halves."

More than 1,300 families have already subscribed to Steinfield's viewpoint at Whittier Oaks. In addition, sales are off to a strong start in the latest section of the community, where buyers are selecting their homes on the basis of plans and the reputation of U.S. Home.

The Seabrook, a three-bedroom split level, is typical of the houses being offered in that phase of the community. Priced at $49,990, the Seabrook includes 2½ baths, living room, equipped kitchen, a formal dining room and a basement.

Homesites at Whittier Oaks are at least one-half acre. Options include central air-conditioning and fireplaces. All homes are heated by oil. Mortgages are available for qualified buyers at 7½ percent.

The award-winning community is complemented by its location. It is adjacent to a new public elementary school and only minutes from local and regional shopping facilities. There is express bus service on Rt. 9 to Newark and New York City, and the Garden State Parkway and the New Jersey Turnpike offer alternate means of reaching business and cultural centers. The seashore, with all its recreational opportunities, is approximately 16 miles away.

Homes at Whittier Oaks are delivered with buyer's choice of decorator colors, hardwood floors, and a selection of interior and exterior color schemes. Sites are provided with sanitary sewers, city water, sidewalks and curbs.

To reach the sales area, take the Garden State Parkway to Exit 123 or the New Jersey Turnpike to Exit 11. Continue south on Rt. 9 for approximately 13 miles. The office is open from noon until 5 p.m., except Thursday, and from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Sundays.

GREENBRIAR, the adult community under development by U.S. Home Corporation of New Jersey, features individual homes on tree-lined streets. The steadily growing community is near Exit 91 of the Garden State Parkway in Brick Town. Already over 1,500 people live here, and building goes on steadily to meet home buyers' demand. Shown here is Greenbriar Lake bordered with homes. Residents like its tranquil beauty, and ducks and other wild life are regular visitors.

THE NEWCASTLE has been the fastest selling single-family-home design at Panther Valley in Warren County. Priced at $80,900, it features two-story brick front, foyer, sunken living room, elevated dining room, kitchen with breakfast area, four bedrooms, 2½ baths, paneled family room, laundry area and two-car garage. Single-family three-bedroom houses at the community, off Rt. 517, are priced from $79,500.

Panther Valley reports $2.6 million in pre-sales

The preview showing of family design at Panther townhomes and single family Valley is the Newcastle, a four-bedroom two-story colonial with 2½ baths and a sales during the first 12 weeks, front, sheltered portico and according to Raymond S. Samanic, marketing manager, breezeway proved to be major selling points. Of particular interest is the location of the smallest bedroom, which is convenient to the master bedroom suite and can function as a study or sewing room.

"In response to our introductory program, we have been able to generate over 40 sales," he said. "The response to what the management at Panther Valley believes to be the most innovative home designs introduced in the state of New Jersey is very rewarding."

This strong sales pace was even accomplished without the use of models. Furnished, decorated models have just been opened to the public.

Two organizations have combined their talents to create Panther Valley, located on the eastern edge of Warren County. While the community is owned by the Travelers Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., its development and management is entrusted to Mathews-Phillips, Inc. A company headquartered in Pittsburgh, Mathews-Phillips is engaged in all phases of real estate development—including the planning, engineering, financing, construction and management of residential communities throughout the United States. CAMPING COUNTRYSITE - The "cluster concept," placing campsites into "village" areas rather than spreading them over the entire acreage, is being utilized at Tall Timbers, a condominium campsite community in Vernon Township, Sussex County. Greenbelts of trees separate each site and contribute to the natural beauty of the area.

Tall Timbers preserves woodland beauty of sites

Tall Timbers, New Jersey's first and only condominium campsite community, located in Vernon Township, Sussex County, is using the environmentally popular "cluster concept" in developing individual sites on the 250-acre, heavily wooded preserve.

Cluster developing, in preserving the vegetation indigenous to the area, also sustains the natural wildlife. "This concept has proven itself to be a sound method of achieving preservation of the natural resources, and the utilization of the natural environment for family enjoyment," a Tall Timbers spokesman said.

Rather than random placement of campsites, the countrysites will be clustered into "villages." Each "village" is separated from neighboring clusters by natural greenbelts. "Villages" will be distinctive, as each develops its own character and blends into its natural terrain... lake view, mountain view or nestled in the timbers.

Even the roads have been "cluster planned." Only one main road traverses the property. Winding country trails provide access to the "villages," and individual spur trails lead to each condominium campsite. Tall Timbers will not follow a grid pattern of 50-foot wide roads which would spoil the natural beauty of the property.

"The owner of a condominium countrysite will be the beneficiary of the cluster concept. He will be assured of maximum privacy, and that the natural environment of the project will be preserved. In addition, he will have central water and electric to this site... an engineering accomplishment achieved without disturbing the natural terrain," the spokesman explained.

Tall Timbers has 27 miles of trails on the property exclusively for hiking and cross-country skiing. In addition, there are a lake, pool, picnic grove, and other recreational facilities... all on common ground and surrounded by natural woodland. There are a limited number of countrysites for camping at Tall Timbers. Additional information or a free brochure may be obtained by writing or calling: Tall Timbers, RD 2, Box 488, Sussex 07461. Public Service lists earnings

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has reported that earnings for the eight months ended Aug. 31 were $84,640,000, or $1.58 an average share, compared with $84,594,000, or $1.64 an average share in the corresponding period of last year.

The decline in share earnings was attributed by Robert I. Smith, president, principally to a significant drop in electric and gas industrial sales, reduced amounts of allowance for funds during construction, higher depreciation and interest costs and increased costs for gas supply.

Although total kilowatt-hour sales of electricity in the eight-month period of 1975 were 2.6 percent below the same period last year, residential and commercial sales of electricity were up 3.8 percent and 4.0 percent respectively; industrial sales, however, were off 12.1 percent. Similarly, total therm sales of gas declined 5.4 percent in the eight months, largely the result of a 27.6 percent drop in industrial sales. Residential gas sales increased 2.5 percent and commercial sales, excluding the effect of a small amount of interruptible sales, were up 1.8 percent.

4 bond proposals given support by manufacturer unit

Support for all four state bond issue proposals on the Nov. 4 ballot was given by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association this week. NJMA President Leonard C. Johnson announced that the Association's board of trustees had voted support following recommendations from both its tax and environmental quality committees.

"Approval of the transportation, housing, human services and water resources bond issues will help us to reemploy thousands of New Jersey citizens while accomplishing many essential and long-delayed projects," Johnson stated. "Borrowing is the only realistic means of supporting the immediate increase in construction activity New Jersey needs so badly."

"It is estimated that the bond issues could provide jobs for more than 100,000 persons now on unemployment rolls. Providing these people profitable jobs working on needed projects is far superior to subsidizing their inactivity."

Johnson also cited major steps in long-range capital planning which distinguish the 1975 bond issues from prior bond proposals. The 1975 borrowing proposals have resulted from a lengthy study and recommendations of the Governor's blue ribbon capital needs commission. The Commission, composed largely of business executives, recommended nearly twice the borrowing sought in the 1975 bond proposals.

"We support the bond issues," Johnson said, "because the need for proposed construction has been well documented, there is presently no other way to fund such construction and, above all, we must act now to reduce unemployment."

Bicentennial to be conference topic of Jewish Fund

Pennsylvania Governor Milton Shapp will inaugurate the New Jersey and Rockland County campaign for the American Bicentennial Project in Israel at the opening session of the 34th annual conference of the N.J. and Rockland Jewish National Fund tomorrow at Grossinger's Hotel. The JNF Bicentennial Project, officially recognized by the United States, is the second largest in the world.

Governor Shapp recently entered the 1976 presidential race. George Geller, regional president of JNF, declared, "It is appropriate that the governor of Pennsylvania, where the United States declared its independence 200 years ago, should kick off this vast land reclamation project."

The weekend conference will conclude with election of officers Sunday morning and installation at the Sunday luncheon.

Meyer Pesin, national president, will serve as the principal speaker at the Saturday evening banquet and will review Jewish National Fund accomplishments over the past year and outline the details for the construction of the American Bicentennial Project in Israel.

Local members of the conference committee include Ari Halpern, Union, and Morris Levine, Linden.

Reservations for the conference may be made by contacting Jewish National Fund, 545 Cedar lane, Teaneck, 07666.

When he turned 20, Ronnie decided to try his luck and go out on his own. He accepted an offer to play mandolin, guitar and sing with the Osborne Brothers. During the time Ronnie was with them, the Osborne won the coveted Vocal Group of the Year Award from the Country Music Association.

Ronnie with wife, Debby, and son, Brandon, lives near Nashville, Tenn.

Early in 1973, Ronnie was signed to perform with the Merle Haggard Show and it wasn't long before he was named opening artist. Ronnie was also selected to sing harmony and play guitar on Merle's records. After listening to Ronnie perform, it was natural for Merle to ask Ronnie Reno to sign with his Tally Records, a label distributed by MCA Records.

When he was only 10 years old, Ronnie started his career in music. He stepped on stage to perform with his famous father, Don Reno, the acknowledged king of the five-string banjo and Ronnie has been singing and strumming ever since.

B'nai B'rith head will speak tonight at unit installation

David M. Blumberg, international president of B'nai B'rith, will address the annual installation dinner of that organization's Career and Counseling Agency tonight at the Short Hills in Millburn.

The Knoxville, Tenn. resident, the 19th president of the 600,000-member Jewish service organization, has just returned from a visit abroad during which he met with heads of state and representatives of governments. His meetings in this country with high level administrative persons have been frequent and recent. At the dinner, which will honor Rabbi Mortimer J. Rubin of Hillside, Blumberg is expected to discuss the complex political and economic situation as it relates to the United States and Israel.

The Career and Counseling Department of B'nai B'rith serves youth and adults by professional testing and counseling procedures. The New Jersey office, under the direction of Dr. Joel Goldberg, is at 1767 Morris ave., Union, and annually guides more than 2,500 young people in making educational and career choices.

Officers to be installed tonight include: chairman, Mrs. Milton Lane of Union; vice-chairman, Dr. Kenneth Bloom of Dumont; secretary, Mrs. Robert Cameron of Fort Lee and treasurer, Morris Hoberg of Newark.

White collar jobs are key to N.J. economic future

New Jersey's economic future is tied to high level white-collar employment not industrial jobs, the Regional Plan Association this week told the Governor's Commission on Economic Recovery at a public hearing in Newark.

Sheldon Pollack, information director, pointed out that during the economic decline between 1970 and 1975, the New Jersey sector of the Tri-State Region lost 125,000 industrial jobs while white-collar employment showed only a minor decline after climbing by 440,000 jobs between 1960 and 1974.

The earlier growth in blue-collar jobs represented on the whole relocation from New York City and not a significant increase for the Tri-State Region. Since then, much of the loss in New Jersey represented factories that moved out of the region, consistent with the national pattern of industrial relocation from the Northeast. There is little chance of regaining them, Pollack stated.

On the other hand, Pollack emphasized, the region—and New Jersey—have two great strengths to build on in expanding white-collar

Blood bank accredited

Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, announced this week that accreditation for its blood bank has been received from the American Association for Blood Banks for another two years.

This certifies that the level of technical and administrative performance within the blood bank or transfusion service meets or exceeds the standards established by the AABB.

Dr. Hebert F. Polesky, president of the AABB, congratulated the board of trustees and staff and added, "The recognition by the AABB is assurance of your continued interest in providing the highest quality medical care to the patients you serve."
