School board adopts budget of $2,039,992

Apartment application to council

Board's approval ordered by judge

By ABNER GOLD

The Borough Council will decide next month on the application by Chatham Realty Co. for a zoning variance to permit construction of 21 condominium apartment units on a tract at New Providence road and Rt. 22. Mayor Thomas Ricciardi announced to a dozen citizens in the audience at Tuesday night's council meeting at the Beechwood School.

The Board of Adjustment, which had twice denied a variance, recommended one last month at the direction of Superior Court Judge Cuddie E. Davidson, who retains jurisdiction in the matter, according to Borough Attorney John Post.

He said the judge had issued his order on the basis of information contained in the Board of Adjustment resolution and specifically did not examine the merits of the case. He said the Borough Council, which will hear no witnesses but will study the voluminous records in the case, "retains the power for an independent decision"—but that a denial will be sent to Judge Davidson for further review.

Post added that the case involves two basic issues: validity of the board's denial of a variance and the constitutionality of the zoning ordinance, which forbids multi-family dwellings. He said that by agreement of the lawyers involved, the present action concerns only the first issue—denial of the variance. The second issue—constitutionality of the ordinance—will be resolved only after the ordinance matter is settled.

Key Club renews recycling efforts all day Saturday

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold another Glass-In Saturday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the rear of the Echo Plaza Shopping Center, Rt. 22 and Mountain avenue. This will be the first collection since a fire of suspicious origin destroyed paper for recycling Nov. 16.

In addition to glass, the club is seeking newspapers and aluminum cans. Newspapers should be tied. "Loose paper will not be accepted for any reason, nor will magazines. Paper can not be in cardboard and it must be tied," said a club spokesman.

"Glass will be accepted only if it is sorted by color," he advised. "Simply take two or three bags and put clear in one, green in the second and brown in the third. It will be easier for you to carry and easier for us to deal with. Also, please remove the metal rings around the neck of the bottle."

He asked residents to make sure that only aluminum cans are brought to the recycling station. Steel cans are not accepted. Steel cans will be attracted to magnets.

"Do not bring any garbage whatsoever," said the spokesman. "The Echo Plaza Shopping Center is not a garbage disposal site."

He also announced the Key Club is conducting its membership drive. Dayton Regional freshmen interested in joining should attend a club meeting or come to the Glass-In Saturday.

Three sentenced on drugs charges

Marijuana offenses and motor vehicle violations were on the docket of the Mountainside Municipal Court, with Judge Jacob R. Bauer presiding, on Dec. 10.

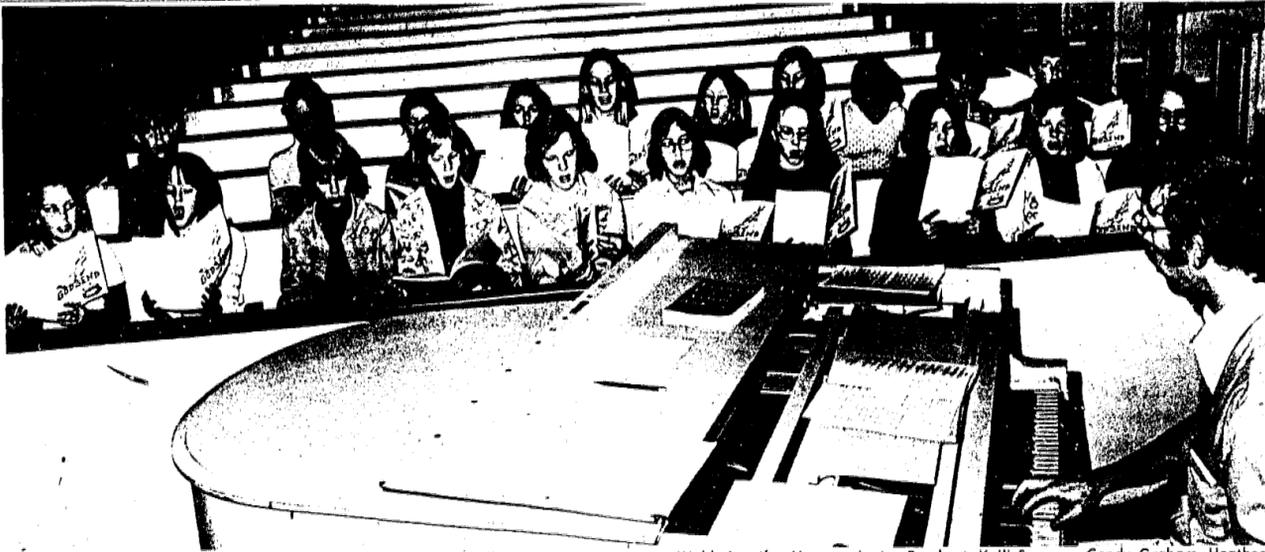

Jon E. Alberto of Winfield, arrested Dec. 2, was fined $65 and placed on six months' probation for possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. That same offense and charges of using or being under the influence of the drug brought six-month probationary terms to Nancy Lynn Salmon of Plainfield and Ronald A. Clarke of Irvington, both of whom were arrested on Oct. 9.

In another case, involving Susan A. Kohnberg of Metuchen, the marijuana possession charge was dismissed; she had been arrested on June 15.

Motorists appearing at the session included Maralyn L. Plastock of Maplewood, fined $25 for passing a stopped school bus on Summit road; Nuncie Luzara of Millford, $25 for passing on the shoulder of Rt. 22; and Adolph Snell of East Orange, $15 for operating an uninspected vehicle on Rt. 22.

Holiday deadlines

Careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday news deadline is urged for material intended for the issues of Dec. 25 and Jan. 1, which will be printed early because of the Christmas and New Year's holidays. All organizational, social and other news items for the Dec. 25 issue should be submitted by tomorrow morning, Dec. 19; and for the Jan. 1 issue, by Dec. 26.

Educators strive to make their offerings both informative and enjoyable, and one class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School that combines those attributes to the media study course taught by Judith Bassett.

Offered by the Dayton English department, the media study program is a one-semester course that utilizes the mass media to improve students' skills in such areas as writing, reading and speech. According to Mrs. Bassett, the course works to make students "visually literate," and it does so in a variety of ways.

Mrs. Bassett breaks the program down into separate units that deal with newspapers, magazines, radio, motion pictures, television and recordings. Each unit lasts about three weeks. A text entitled "Coping with Mass Media" serves as a reference guide for the entire semester. Mrs. Bassett also assigns outside reading, including books that have been made into movies.

While students taking this English course don't have lengthy writing projects assigned to them, they are continually working on shorter pieces, such as scripts, critiques, news stories and editorials.

Supplementing the reading and writing aspects of the course are projects designed to give students experience in working with the mass media. Students studying television recently taped 30-second commercials utilizing the school's videotape equipment.

A studio was set up in the media center and with audio-visual technician Gregory Fallon serving as technical director, the students produced commercials dealing with beverages, vitamins, breakfast foods and toothpaste. Each production crew consisted of actors, cameramen, a director and a student working

This work is written in "a variety of modern styles" of music and employs soloists, small groups and a large choir. Because of the folk rock quality of the work it will be sung in an informal fashion, with soloists being June Ackerman, Nancy Keller, Robert Le Frank, Scotty Reel and Laurie Weeks. Both the Junior and Senior choirs of the church will perform the choral sections.

Members of the Adult Choir are Helen Borchert, June Ackerman, Gloria Brackbill, Sheri Frost, Jill Graham, Erin Harrigan, Evelyn Holcombe, Nancy Keller, Lisa Kissel, Peg Olson, Betty Opyke, Scotty Reel, Sue Silverman, Cindy Sproul, Anne and Bruce Talcott, Cindy White, Kristy and Laurie Weeks, Bette Neroda, Margie Drysdale, Dave Allan, Kurt Christoffers, Byron Dimmick, Randy Holcombe, Bob Le Frank, David Opyke, Bob Rawlins, Tom Krierim, Mark Shearer, Elmer Talcott, Bob Van Voorhies and Ted White.

The concert is part of the Mountainside Community Concert Series and is open to the public. A $1 donation at the door has been requested.

Operations cost put at $1,884,211

OK comes on 5-0 vote with Rupp abstaining

The Mountainside Board of Education, restricted to a state-mandated 2.97 percent increase in its current expense budget for 1976-77, Tuesday night adopted a tentative $2,039,992 overall tally, including $1,884,211 in the operational portion and $155,781 for debt service.

The budget approval—on a 5-0 vote, with Walter Rupp abstaining—came after a three-hour public discussion, during which board president Dr. Irvin Krause fielded questions from many of the approximately 150 persons in attendance at the Deerfield School.

Krause explained that a theoretical current expense budget of $1,977,055, representing an 8.1 percent increase over the 1975-76 figure of $1,829,715, had originally been submitted by the school administrators to the board. When the state, acting under the "thorough and efficient" formula which is a result of the Botter Decision, directed the 2.97 percent maximum, the board was required to cut $92,844 from the proposed tally.

KRAUSE NOTED that a number of reductions, totaling $64,190, have been approved unanimously by the board. Among these are $23,240 in teachers' salaries (resulting from the dropping of one language teacher and one fourth grade instructor); $2,000 in substitute teachers' salaries; $17,450 in transportation contracts (entailing the reduction of school buses from five to three); $6,525 in nurses' salaries; $6,820 in maintenance salaries; $5,600 for upkeep of grounds and $5,000 for building repair.

In addition, the board is considering another $28,810 in cuts, which would entail reductions of $7,000 in the summer school budget; $1,250 in summer custodial services; $10,060 from the consolidation of the instrumental music program; $12,760 from the elimination of typing instruction in the sixth grade; $39,850 as a result of limiting all salary increments to a 2.9 percent increase; $12,260 in cutback of school aides, except those for handicapped children; $5,000 which had been earmarked for roof repairs; approximately $15,000 from the reduction of one school librarian, and $10,500 from the reduction of another foreign language teacher, which would mean the elimination of the foreign language program.

KRAUSE EMPHASIZED that all the proposed cuts, especially the ones in the second group, have not been adopted. "We have not agreed on enough items to be deleted from the budget at this point. We are not ready to submit a line-by-line budget yet," he stated.

He also noted that except for a $1,000 reduction in miscellaneous instructional expenses and $1,250 in instructional equipment, the cuts which were unanimously approved avoided those areas which directly affect education. "Those in the second list, however, do begin to impinge on the instructional area," he commented.

He said there is approximately $22,000 in surplus at present, all of which will be allocated next year. "There is a possibility of ac-

Westfield Y offers gift certificates in half price project

"Family membership in the Westfield YMCA could be the best Christmas gift you ever gave yourself," the Y general director, Walter C. Goldt Jr. suggested this week. "Its benefits of health, physical development, personal growth, fitness and self-fulfillment can last a lifetime."

"Our new half-price program makes it doubly valuable. For the first time, the Y is offering Christmas gift certificates—not only for family memberships, but for individual memberships, fitness programs and classes. "The family membership's a terrific buy because it profits the whole family," said Goldt.

"Our new program works this way: One adult member of the family joins at the full rate. All other members join for one-half the full rate."

"The membership entitles all members of the family to full physical privileges in the Y—from 224 hours of use for 9 to 11-year-olds to 6,813 hours for men and women." He added, "Unlimited use of the facilities during open periods includes daily use of the two pools, two gyms, weight room, handball-paddleball court, steam room. Moreover, the membership entitles all to a 50 per cent reduction for all $17 courses at the Y. That means most courses at the Y are just $8.50 for 10 weeks of instruction."

Procedure listed to close schools for bad weather

The Union County Regional High School District this week informed the parents and students of its six constituent towns of procedures for school closings because of inclement weather.

These procedures will affect the following schools and communities: David Brearley Regional High School (Kenilworth and Garwood), Jonathan Dayton Regional High School (Springfield and Mountainside), Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School (Clark) and Gov. Livingston Regional High School (Berkeley Heights).

The decision to close school will be made no later than 5:20 a.m. The following radio stations will announce school closings after 6 a.m.: WOR, WABC, WNEW, WERA and WVNJ.

Students and parents were reminded that the closing of one of the district schools does not mean that all four schools will be closed. For example, if Arthur L. Johnson students hear that Gov. Livingston is closed, they should continue to listen for the status of their own school. Moreover, the closing of a community's elementary or parochial schools does not automatically mean that the regional high school will be closed as well.

U.S. Senator HARRISON A. WILLIAMS Reports

Just when large numbers of World War II veterans are approaching the age at which they might require veterans home care, these homes may find it necessary to cut back on services and reduce admissions—creating grave hardships for many veterans.

Legislation I recently introduced would better enable our state veterans homes to handle the present and future needs of veterans in a manner they have a right to expect.

New Jersey's two state homes served 500 veterans a day on the average in fiscal year 1975, with 300 more awaiting admission, and state officials project a need for 1,500 places by 1980. But the pressure of rising medical, fuel and other costs on the limited resources of these homes is severely straining their ability to continue their work.

The legislation I proposed would change the funding formula in the present cost-sharing program to more evenly distribute the cost burden. Under the terms of my bill, the federal contribution to New Jersey would nearly double. In addition, an automatic yearly adjustment is included in the measure, which would allow state homes to keep pace with inflation and equip themselves to meet rising demands for care.

The federal government has paid a portion of the cost of maintaining state veterans homes since 1888, but as the years have gone by, the states have been forced to assume an ever-increasing share of the financial burden.

In the long run, my bill could actually result in a savings to the federal government. Greater assistance to the state homes will reduce the number of veterans forced to seek more costly care at VA facilities.

Health care for our veterans is a solemn promise that this nation must keep, and for decades our state veterans homes have made an important contribution to that effort.

If they are to perform their important role, the mounting economic pressures they face must be relieved.

Motor bikes law called premature by Di Francesco

Assemblyman-elect Donald Di Francesco this week criticized the legislature for what he termed "the careless passage of a law concerning the operation of motorized bicycles on public streets."

The bill was signed by the governor despite pleas of additional time for study and comment by the New Jersey Traffic Officers Association, he said.

The bill allows the operation of motorized bicycles by persons 15 or older without any requirement of licensing or registration. "There are absolutely no inspection provisions under the bill," said Di Francesco, "thus creating serious questions of safety."

He added, "The passage of this bill was extremely premature and it was obvious that the legislators did not understand the ramifications of the bill."

Despite the fact that the Division of Motor Vehicles now has recommended amendments to the existing law, they fail to make any mention of uniform inspection procedures. The newly-elected assemblyman indicated he would lobby either for major amendments which would include safety inspections or for repeal of the new law.

Westfield temple will observe 25th anniversary at 4 events

Temple Emanu-El of Westfield will mark its 25th anniversary with four special programs in early 1976: a special Sunday brunch Jan. 11, a "Sabbath of Rededication," Jan. 16; Jan. Peerce in concert, Saturday night, Jan. 31, and in April, a world premier performance of "Circle of Hope," a new, specially written liturgy.

"Will our children be Jewish?" will be answered on Sunday, Jan. 11, at a brunch open to the entire Temple Emanu-El membership sponsored by the Sisterhood and Men's Club. Speaker will be Rabbi Balfour Brickner, director of the New York Federation of Reform Synagogues.

Friday, Jan. 16, has been designated the "Sabbath of Rededication." Rabbi Alexander Schindler, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, will speak on the "The Jewish Agenda: The Next Quarter Century."

Opera star Jan Peerce will perform Saturday night, Jan. 31.

Planned for early spring is the world premier presentation of "Circle of Hope," a liturgy in the "Gates of Prayer" (the new prayer book) sung by Cantor Don Decker, the temple choir, and the entire congregation. This work was commissioned by the Al Finkelstein Choir Fund, in memory of Al D. Finkelstein (former choir member).

Temple Emanu-El was founded in 1950 and received its charter from the Union of American Hebrew Congregations on Jan. 11, 1951. It is located at 756 E. Broad st. in Westfield. Charles A. Kroloff is rabbi of the temple, and the cantor is Don S. Decker. Alan Goldstein is president.

You'll do well with the opposite sex. As a matter of fact, there's some sort of overture or acknowledgement coming your way.

MOONCHILD June 21-July 22
Today, you could be referred to as being—"a soft touch." According to your chart, it's highly probable, that you'll forget about charity beginning at home.

LEO July 23-Aug. 22
Many members of your sign will be asked to do something that is—well—some sort of honor. There is a catch, however, that task will not bring you popularity.

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: "I know this girl, a classmate of mine, who I would love to take out. I can talk to her but I am usually too shy and nervous to say much of anything. What should I do next? Call her up on the telephone—which I am afraid to do? I want to know. What should I do next? I can talk a little to a girl, I'm shy, and I want to date her. Yours truly, Perplexed in the Poconos."

OUR REPLY: Basically all you have to do, is do what you do. Say what you feel like saying to her. Communicate your true feelings. Share with her the fact that you'd like to take her out. Simply walk up to her and say, "Would you like to go out with me?" You're only shy because you think you're shy. Pretend for a day that you're not shy—and make certain she gets your communication. Take responsibility for your own actions. Don't be afraid to utter some words you say you want to utter. Saying them couldn't cause as many problems as thinking about them seems to. Chances are she wants to go out with you as much as you say you want to go out with her. So, take the lead, and ask her out. Let all that other stuff be for awhile and do what you really want to do.

It has been four weeks since I sent a dollar for a premium offer and enclosed the correct number of box tops; I haven't received the advertised offer yet. Have you any similar complaints against this company?

We've had no complaints. Most premium offers include the statement to allow four to six weeks for delivery. If you don't receive the item in another two weeks, write them. If they don't respond, then write us a letter giving full details and we'll take up your complaint with the company.

I'm an amateur collector of art. I heard a radio announcement of art work being shown in one of the major hotels in our area. I have not had the occasion to buy art from dealers who operate out of a hotel suite. Larrie, can you tell me who I should buy from and how much should I pay for canvases?
AMATEUR COLLECTOR

Dear Collector:
You should always buy from a well-known and well established art house. Almost anyone can set up his own art dealership; there are no regulations or qualifications necessary—and this is where the consumer often gets burned. Small time operators who sell from a rented hotel suite very seldom concern themselves with establishing good business ethics. As for price—only you can decide if the price is right.

I received a letter in an envelope marked "Personal and Confidential." The letter asks for a payment of $15 to determine whether I am entitled to money from an unclaimed bank account in state custody, apparently involving an individual with the same surname as mine. By virtue of this, the letter says I may be the owner of legal heir to this unclaimed money. What are the possibilities of my being the legal heir?
HOPEFUL

Dear Hopeful:
While it is possible you might be entitled to the property in question, the possibilities are extremely remote. Groups or individuals who solicit such business depend on the $15 routine search for their income. You have to decide whether you want to gamble with the odds heavily against you.

Children in the church's Family Growth Hour program will sponsor a 'Birthday Party for Jesus' Sunday at 9:30 a.m., at which they will donate toys, games and clothing for underprivileged children of a struggling church in Newark; adult parishioners also have been asked to contribute to this effort, as well as to the food basket project for the needy. On Sunday at 2 p.m., the Family Growth Hour children will present their Christmas pageant, with the pastor, the Rev. Joel Yoss, officiating. (Photo-Graphics) accumulating surplus during the year, but at this point we are not sure of that.

Discussing the reduction in the number of school buses, which would mean institution of a new transportation policy requiring more children to walk to school, Krause noted he has discussed the resulting safety problem with Mayor Thomas Ricciardi. "He is trying to work with the Borough Council and I think they will have to act in some way," Krause said. "We have no jurisdiction over safety on the roads, but we can't abdicate and leave it all up to the council," he added.

Explaining the state-mandated maximum for budget increases, Krause said, "The basis for the law is the Better Decision, maintaining that every child has the right to have equal educational opportunities no matter where he lives in the state." He noted the state has figured a $1,434 maximum cost-per-child yearly expenditure in educational areas, a figure based on the average amount spent in the state last year. In Mountainside, that expenditure had been $1,790 per child.

"They are trying to have every educational jurisdiction spend the same amount per child," Krause continued. "This is fine if a school district had been spending only $900, but while the state is upgrading the education for deprived children, I believe it is squelching educational opportunity for those children who were able to have more spent on education."

He noted that if the school district fails to comply with the mandated maximum increase, it could be penalized by withdrawal of all state aid—approximately $200,000. He also said that if the teachers' contract is settled for more than the amount which has been allocated in the budget, or if the budget is defeated at the polls, additional cuts will have to be made.

A hearing on the proposed budget, at which time a line-by-line explanation will be provided, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Jan. 14 at the Deerfield School.

Also at Tuesday's session, the board again presented for discussion the proposed school reorganization plan which would place kindergarten through third graders in the Beechwood School and make the Deerfield Elementary School a fourth and fifth grade facility, with the exception of one kindergarten class.

The budget proposal is based on maintenance of the status quo in the system, Krause noted, but the reorganization still is being discussed, although it "has low priority."

"Certain board members feel there would be educational advantages to reorganization," he commented, "while others do not, and think it may be disruptive to a system that is already working."

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin B. Hangan added that no appreciable financial savings would result from reorganization next year, but there could be such an effect in the future.

The reorganization and budget are expected to be the major topics for discussion at the next regular board meeting, at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 in the Deerfield School.

Bicentennial vignettes: Swan song for royalty

By JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM

Governor William Franklin of New Jersey admitted to an obsessive fear as the months of 1775 wore on that he would be "seized upon and led like a bear through the country to some place of confinement in New England."

Revolution was in the air. Battles had been fought at Lexington and Concord, at Teonodoga and Bunker Hill. Anyone connected with England, particularly a New Jersey governor appointed by the King, had ample reason for fear.

While Franklin waited in his mansion in Perth Amboy, he surely reflected on the cruel turn of events that had taken place. He had ridden a wave of popular enthusiasm in 1763 when he reached New Jersey to become Royal Governor—the last Royal Governor, as time would show.

There was ample justification for that enthusiasm—the 32-year-old Franklin had good looks, youth, wit, intelligence, wealth and an appealing young bride. Most important, from the viewpoint of the people, William was the son of Benjamin Franklin, America's beloved philosopher, politician and the ultimate architect of independence.

Council meets

O'Connell reported on activities of Dames and Moore, consultants hired to block passage of Rt. 78 through the borough. He said the firm plans a "socio-ecological survey," to determine what effects a superhighway would have on Mountainside people and the environment. The council added that the pollers will visit every home, and that they will have clear identification. Mayor Ricciardi called for full cooperation.

The council introduced an ordinance setting up fees for use of municipal tennis courts. A final hearing will be held at a special meeting Tuesday, Dec. 30, at Borough Hall.

The proposed annual fees are $3 for players 18 and older and $1.50 for those 13 to 17. Younger children would not be charged for their permits. Councilman William Cullen noted that this is the second time such action has been sought by the Recreation Commission, to help defray costs of constructing, maintaining, lighting and policing the courts.

Cullen, as recreation commissioner, and Ricciardi discussed unruly behavior and vandalism at a recent teen dance at Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Cullen declared, "The parents are responsible for the condition in which their children arrive at a dance at 8 p.m."

The mayor added, "Church workers had to go out and pick up all the beer cans and broken bottles in the parking lot and on the grounds. The blame lies squarely with the parents."

Councilman Abe Suckno noted that four architects have been invited to submit proposals for conversion of the Echobrook School for use as a borough hall. He said the council should have their resumes within 10 days, and that it should then be able to make a decision and start the planning process.

The council named Leon Greenberg as consumer affairs local assistance officer to help in mediating consumer complaints.

Action was tabled until next month on two variances sought to provide additional parking facilities. The applicants are Perkins Pancake House and Addressograph-Multigraph.

Another resolution reduced building permit fees for work just started at Children's Specialized Hospital to an "amount more directly proportional to the borough's costs in performing its statutory responsibilities." The fee was cut from $49,000 to $5,000, with provision for added payments if the borough has to employ the services of outside consultants.

The council commended the achievements of its former president, Peter M. Simmons, who resigned earlier this year to direct the state lottery in Delaware.

True, William was an illegitimate son, but father Ben took the boy into his own home after William was born in 1731. The intelligent boy eagerly read everything in sight, matured in good time, and became his father's constant companion and right hand man. Father and son sailed together for the British Isles in 1757 when Benjamin was appointed Colonial Agent at London.

Young Franklin studied law in England and was admitted to the bar in 1758. No doubt his distinguished father opened some doors, but William's charm, intelligence and poise were good openers in themselves. Apparently he won appointment as governor of New Jersey on his own. Thus, when William arrived in New Jersey from England in February 1763, he was his own man.

Historical opinions regarding Franklin's conduct in office differ sharply, revolving entirely around the issue of whether or not he should have thrown his lot in with the revolutionists. Actually, that should never have been an issue; Franklin was a Royal Governor, sworn to uphold England's laws.

Franklin was a good executive under extremely difficult conditions. He sought constantly to work with the New Jersey legislature and wrote often to superiors in England, warning of impending revolution and urging a softening of British attitudes toward the colonies.

But the tides of rebellion were running against him. On Jan. 8, 1776, at 2 a.m., he was "awakened with a violent knocking" at his door. Outside, troops "armed with guns and bayonets" had come to demand Franklin's resignation. He indignantly refused and continued living in the Governor's Mansion at Perth Amboy.

Finally, on June 17, 1776, Franklin was arrested and taken to Burlington under guard. The governor protested violently against

Holiday gift items offered for sale at area post offices

The U.S. Postal Service's "Christmas shopping list" includes a number of colorful and inexpensive gift ideas and "stocking stuffers" for children, professional people and stamp collectors. Westfield Postmaster Dominick J. Cardillo said this week.

"Christmas shoppers, particularly the last-minute variety, should keep the Post Office in mind as a source of these unusual gifts," he said.

Several varieties of postal items are on sale at the Westfield and Mountainside post offices. The products, ranging in price from $2 to $7.50, include souvenir mint sets, the 1975 edition of "Stamps and Stories" and stamp collecting kits.

"There's something for virtually everyone from nearly all walks of life, including doctors, lawyers, engineers, sports and history buffs, bird watchers, animal lovers, scientists, artists and writers. The list is almost endless," said Cardillo.

The postmaster pointed out that, with the exception of stamp dealers, the Post Office is the only source for some of the postal items, such as mint sets, and that some, such as the Boston Tea Party set, have increased in value.

Souvenir mint sets are offered for sale annually by the Postal Service and contain all the special, memorial and commemorative stamps, issued during the year. Space is provided for mounting the stamps, and a brief description of each issue is included.

The 1974 and 1975 mint sets are available and sell for $3.50 each.

The topical stamp collecting kits, priced at $2 each, have subjects ranging from space to sports, and each kit contains enough stamps to start a collection. Also included in each kit is a small album, mounting hinges, insert sheets for additional stamps and a 32-page booklet, entitled "The ABC's of Stamp Collecting."

"Stamps and Stories" is the pocket-size book which tells the stories of more than 2,000 stamps with illustrations and other information, such as current catalog values. It also sells for $2.

"One advantage Christmas shoppers have at the Post Office is that the purchase and mailing of gift items can be done at one location, and the mailing can be accomplished along with their other packages, cards, and letters," Cardillo said.

Bank assails UN on Zionist policy

The board of directors of the Springfield State Bank has passed a resolution denouncing the action of the United Nations General Assembly equating Zionism with racism.

In the resolution, adopted by the board on Nov. 20, the directors stated, "We believe the United Nations General Assembly resolution is in itself racist and contrary to the high purposes and goals of the United Nations."

with Fallon at the control panel.

Before the taping sessions, the students designed their commercials through the use of storyboards and shooting scripts. They will be evaluated on creativity, organization, camera work and the overall appeal of their commercial. Later this month, the class will work on a 10-minute television show. Throughout the year, media study students serve as technicians when Dayton's other academic departments wish to have class projects videotaped.

This semester, Mrs. Bassett has four media study classes with more than 100 students enrolled. Several students have demonstrated an interest in pursuing a career in the media, she said, and "all of them are receiving valuable lessons and experience in an aspect of modern society that affects their lives on a daily basis."

Here's looking at you! Trade Center 'viewer' open

Inviting everyone to "come on up to the top of the world," 200 New York and New Jersey school children this week waved colorful flags from the world's highest open observation platform more than a quarter mile in the sky to dedicate the new observation deck atop The World Trade Center.

At the opening day celebration, 1,377 feet above the Hudson River, Port Authority Chairman William J. Roman said: "I am sure that this spot, at the crossroads of international commerce, will attract thousands upon thousands of visitors from all over the world."

Mayor Abraham D. Beame, who was also present for the festivities, pointed out that "this observation deck tops off the new identifying landmark of the nation's greatest port and the world's most interesting and vital city."

The observation deck, located atop the Trade Center's South Tower Building (Two World Trade Center), includes an enclosed observation gallery on the 107th floor, as well as the open rooftop promenade above the 110th story.

From the observation deck's rooftop promenade, 1,377 feet above mean sea level, and from the 107th floor observation gallery, 1,310 feet high, the views are panoramic.

To the north can be seen all of Manhattan, the skyline, the Hudson and East Rivers, the bridges and other familiar landmarks, the Bronx and even Connecticut.

Lower Manhattan, Brooklyn, John F. Kennedy International and LaGuardia Airports and Long Island lie out to the east.

The industrial hubs of New Jersey, the seaports, Newark International Airport, the cities of Newark and Jersey City and as far as the Watchung Mountains come into view to the west.

To the south, the bi-state harbor, the Statue of Liberty, Staten Island, Coney Island, Sandy Hook and the Atlantic Ocean dominate the vista.

The World Trade Center observation deck also offers a history of Trade exhibit on the 107th floor observation gallery.

Tracing the development of international commerce from ancient times to the present, the multi-media exhibit covers such subjects as the first use of trademarks, the development of money and currencies, patterns of trade in the Port of New York-New Jersey, and predictions for future developments in world trade.

The 107th floor also houses a souvenir gift shop—The Sky Caravan—with items from around the globe. A snack bar and cafe is scheduled to open next summer.

The observation deck is

Rate increases planned for recreation facilities

Some of the charges at the Ash Brook, Galloping Hill and Oak Ridge Golf Courses, operated by the Union County Park Commission, will be increased slightly starting Jan. 1. A few changes have been made in rates at various county park facilities in addition to those affecting golfers, but most fees will remain at previous levels.

Golf identification cards, required of all players, will continue to cost $5 in 1976, but replacement cards will be reduced from $5 to $2.

The new 1976 greens fees are as follows: Union County residents—weekdays, $350; season card holders, $2; Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, $4.50; season card holders, $2.50.

Out-of-county players: weekdays, $7; Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, $9.50. Edison Township players (at Oak Ridge only with an identification card): weekdays, $6; Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, $8.50.

Union County residents who are 62 years of age and older and retired, can continue to play for $1.75 on Mondays through Fridays, except holidays. Players 62 years old, but not yet 65, will need proof of their retirement. Union County residents, 17 years of age and under, will continue to have a special greens fee on Mondays, except holidays, between June 15 and Sept. 15, at a $1.75 rate.

Rental of electric golf cars will rise from $8 to $9, plus tax, for 18 holes, and from $4 to $5 for nine holes.

The Park Commission will continue to set aside 25 cents from each registration fee in improvement reserve funds for projects at each of the three golf courses.

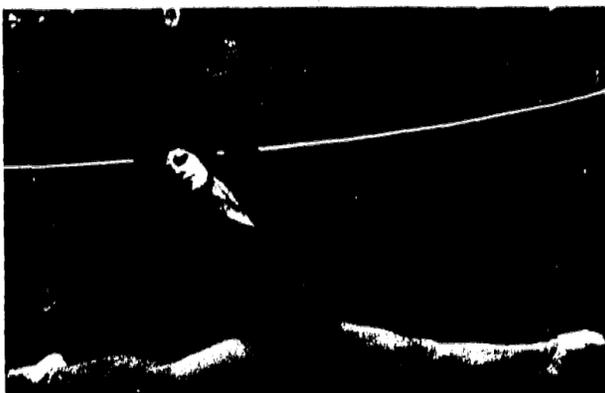

The Park Commission also announced the rate for hiring horses at the Watchung Stable will be $6 per hour, or $4.25 for a half-hour; both including tax. Adult troops will have a $6.50 per hour rate. Increases also will be made in Watchung Troop, Junior and School Troops, as well as for horse shows, and boarding fees also will rise.

Tennis rates per court per hour at Warinaco Park after 3:30 p.m. weekdays and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays will be $2.75.

Changes at the trap and skeet ranges will call for a $2.25 fee, tax included, for 25 clay targets. The rate for rifle and pistol shooting will rise to $2.

Boating rental rates will be $1 per hour on weekdays, $1.25 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays; canoeing, $1.25 on weekdays, $1.50 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

The greater part of fees or charges at various Park Commission facilities remain unchanged, except for those listed.

GYMNASTICS LESSONS—Lori Oates, gymnastics instructor at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union, will be giving lessons in gymnastics during the winter recess program, December 24, 26, 29, 31 and Jan. 2.

Schedule for winter recess announced by Green Lane Y

The Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union, has announced a schedule of events for the junior and day care programs during the winter recess. It was announced by Mrs. Arlene Rubenstein, chairman of the Junior Committee. These activities will involve grades K-7.

Six vacation day programs have been planned for Dec. 24, 26, 29, 31 and Jan. 2 with something for all ages and interests. Swimming will be offered on all vacation days. Lori Oates, Lynn Setteducato and Conna Watkins will instruct in all phases of gymnastics on these days, including use of the trampoline, the balance beam, the uneven parallel bars and tumbling.

Neil Schulman, Junior Program director, listed the following highlights for the vacation days:

Dec. 24, movies, "Treasure Island" and "Pinocchio." Dec. 26, trip to the 2nd street Y to see the play, "Peter Pan and Wendy."

Dec. 29, gymnastics exhibition by the Montclair Y gymnastics team.

AMBASSADOR EMILE NAJJAR

Israeli ambassador to speak at Dinner of State on Sunday

Israeli Ambassador Emile Najjar will be the guest speaker at the Westfield-Clark Israel Dinner of State this Sunday at Temple Emanu-El of Westfield. The event will honor Rabbi Charles A. Kroloff of Temple Emanu-El and Rabbi Jonathan Porath of Temple Beth O'r. Clark, recipients of the Jerusalem award. A cocktail reception will be held at 5:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 6.

Najjar, a ranking member of the permanent delegation of Israel to the UN, previously served as ambassador to Italy and Malta and to Belgium and Luxembourg. He was also minister to Japan and headed Israel's mission to the European Economic Conference. He was a member of the Israeli delegation to the United Nations nine times.

Ambassador Najjar, who was born in Egypt in 1912, was educated in Paris where he studied law and political economy. He migrated to Israel in 1947.

Madame Najjar, who holds a doctorate in clinical psychology with a specialization in the training of retarded children, is a native Israeli, as was her father. Madame Najjar, trained at the Sorbonne and a hospital affiliated with it, also studied advanced psychology in Germany and Switzerland. She is consulting psychologist to the Ministry of Welfare in Jerusalem, organizing institutions for the retarded.

The Israel Dinner of State is in accord with a new tradition in Jewish community life. When Israel celebrated her twenty-fifth anniversary, the late President Zalman Shazar kindled a menorah with 25 branches to mark the milestone. That same menorah will be transported from Israel to be rekindled at this Dinner of State. The Menorah will now bear 27 branches—each branch dedicated to a year of Israel's growth. Reservations may be made by calling either of the temples or 354-5400.

AARON OGDEN Elizabethtown Patriot

Aaron Ogden, the younger brother of Revolutionary War hero, Matthias Ogden, was born in Elizabethtown, December 3, 1756. Upon his graduation from Princeton in 1773 at the age of 17, he became an assistant teacher in Francis Barber's grammar school.

In the winter of 1775, while still teaching, he joined the Elizabethtown volunteers who boarded and captured a Boston-bound vessel, "Blud Mountain Valley," laden with munitions of war and successfully sailed her into Elizabethport.

Ogden, along with the other teachers and pupils of Barber's school, joined the Continental Army in 1777. He was appointed a lieutenant and pay master in the First Regiment and continued throughout the war as aide-de-camp, captain, brigade-major and inspector. He participated in the battles of Brandywine and Springfield where his horse was shot from under him. He was also commended by Washington for his bravery at Yorktown. Here he served as a member of Lafayette's "Corps d'Elite" during all of Lafayette's Virginia campaign.

During his tenure with Lafayette, Ogden was called upon by Washington to perform a delicate and unforgettable service: He was to go within the British lines at Paulus Hook (Jersey City) with an offer to exchange Major John Andre for the traitor, Benedict Arnold, who had deserted to the enemy.

Given a packet of papers addressed to Sir Henry Clinton, Commander of the British troops in New York, which contained an official account of Andre's Trial, the decision of the Board of Inquiry and a letter written by Andre to Clinton, Ogden was ordered to proceed on his mission by first reporting to Lafayette for further instructions. While there he was to arrange for his escort to the British lines being certain that the men he chose were known for their tried fidelity.

Lafayette, who was stationed nearest to the British lines, instructed Ogden to travel slowly in order to reach Paulus Hook late at night so that he would be invited to stay. This he did and, as was anticipated, was invited by the British Commandant to spend the night as his guest.

During the course of the evening Andre became the subject of conversation whereupon the British asked Ogden if there might not be a way of saving Andre's life. He was told that this could be arranged if Clinton would give up Arnold. This was quickly communicated to Sir Henry in New York. His refusal was prompt and to the point. Ogden was told "The British never give up a deserter." This brought the interview to an abrupt end and Ogden was on his way back to the American lines.

In 1783 Aaron Ogden was mustered out of the Army whereupon he returned to Elizabethtown and took up the study of law with his older brother, Robert, and upon completion practiced law with much success.

On January 8, 1789 he was made a Lieutenant-Colonel in command of the 11th U.S. Infantry, and in February, 1800 was promoted to Deputy Quartermaster-General of the U.S. Army. He held this post until the provisional army was disbanded in June of the same year.

In February, 1801 Ogden became a U.S. Senator to succeed James Schureman who had resigned. He held this office for 2 years. In 1812 he was chosen by the Legislature to succeed Joseph Bloomfield as Governor of New Jersey.

During the War of 1812 he was Commander-in-Chief of the New Jersey Militia, and was appointed Major-General in the United States Army, but declined the honor, preferring the State command.

Aside from his career in law, politics and the military, Ogden owned and operated a ferry boat which ran between Elizabethtown and New York. Because of his desire to have the finest steamboat afloat, he borrowed a great deal of money. This plus the money he spent in court over a period of years for navigational rights to New York waters forced him into bankruptcy. While visiting in New York, he was arrested and thrown into debtor's prison.

Through the efforts of his friends, which included Aaron Burr, the New York Legislature passed an act forbidding the imprisonment for debt of Revolutionary soldiers at which time he was released.

The remainder of Aaron Ogden's life was spent pleasantly in Jersey City where he had many visitors and good neighbors. There he died in 1839 at the age of 83 with his family at his bedside when the end came.

Wrestlers drop opener, 39-13, to Roselle Park

By LOUIS FASULO

The Dayton wrestlers opened their season Friday on an unsuccessful note, as they were defeated by Roselle Park, 39-13. Although many of the team members were disappointed with their performances in the meet, they are hoping to stage a comeback by redeeming themselves on Saturday night at Gov. Livingston.

Dayton once again started with its top performances in the lighter classes. This meet was a perfect example of what lies ahead this year unless the team begins gaining the all-important experience that is lacking in the lineup.

In the first match, 161 pound weight class, Rich LoFredo pinned his opponent at 5:22. LoFredo displayed his fine talent and quickness in this match. He represents one of the many fine prospects on the team this year.

Bill Francis, Dayton's pride at 108, was able to squeeze by his opponent by a score of 5-2. Francis seemed to dominate the entire match and was close to a pinning many times.

Junior Alan Layton lost a tight match in the 122 class by a score of 5-4. Layton did an overall good job and looked quite impressive.

Pat Smith and Stuart Huff, wrestling at 129 and 135, respectively, both came through with wins. These wrestlers displayed sincere effort and desire. Huff's match seemed as though it could have been swayed to either side throughout. Coach Rick Iacono predicted that these boys will play a decisive role in the ultimate outcome of the season.

The entire team is quite youthful and inexperienced, especially those in the upper weight classes. In these classes, Dayton did not gain a single point from the 135 class to the heavy weight. The time it takes for these boys to gain experience and mature as wrestlers will be reflected in their performance and progress. They are capable of competing on a higher level than they did last Friday.

7th-graders hand one-sided defeats to Warren, Clark

The Springfield Junior Minuteman basketball team made its season record 3-0 last week by outscoring St. John's of Clark, 53-30, Wednesday and crushing Warren Township, 67-27, Saturday night.

The Springfield seventh graders' strong defense was the key factor in both victories, forcing bad shots and many turnovers by their taller opponents.

Billy Condon had a superb floor game against St. John's, accounting for six steals and four assists. Roy Zitomer had four steals and three assists. Alan Berliner, three steals and four assists, and Don Meixner pulled down 10 rebounds to lead in that department.

Zitomer was the leader on offense with a total of 17. Berliner tossed in 15, Meixner, six. Condon and Jerry Blabolil, four each, Robert Steir, three, Larry Walker, two, and Jack Chin and Todd Leonard each dropped in a foul shot to close out the scoring.

Saturday night's game was one of complete frustration for the Warren Township team which just could not penetrate the Minuteman defense.

After holding their opponents scoreless in the opening period, the Juniors kept widening the margin, finally putting the game out of reach with a rousing 26-point third period.

Zitomer led all rebounders, snagging eight off the boards from his wing position. Walker, Billy Chesley and Steir each had six rebounds in a true team effort. Condon again led the team in steals with four, while Berliner and Steir each had three.

On offense, 11 Minutemen shared in the scoring. Berliner had 18, Condon, 12, Zitomer and Leonard, each 8, Chin and Steir, six apiece. Meixner, Walker, Chesley and Circelli, two each, and Jerry Blabolil added a foul shot.

Jerome (Bubba) Pullum and Dave Geltman each played an excellent floor game to help in the victory.

The Juniors' next game is at home against the Irvington PAL on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Eick wins two events

Graesse and Wisniewski each had five rebounds. Johnson and McNany each had four assists.

Dayton played a strong first quarter, handling the ball well and moving fast. By the end of the first quarter Dayton had the lead, 18-13. The team lost control of the ball and was losing, 27-23 in the second quarter, 41-31 in the third, and 60-41 in the final quarter.

Union County SC advanced to the New Jersey second round of the National Amateur Cup last Sunday at Farcher's Grove by slipping by Paterson Dover SC on penalty shooting.

The Union booters were behind 2-0 at the half but came n strong in the second half to bring the score up to 2-2 at the end of regulation time. Both teams lost a player on red cards in the second half, and it opened the game up with just 10 men on the field for each.

Two overtime periods were played, but the score held at 2-2 and the game had to be decided by penalty shooting.

At the end of five shots apiece, the teams were still tied at four. The Union booters missed the goal on one shot and Paterson hit the goalpost. One more shot was awarded to each team. Paterson's shot was held by the Union goalie, and then the Farcher's Grove booters put the next shot in to win the match.

Elizabeth SC will play host to Ocean County this Sunday at Farcher's Grove in the first round of the National Challenge Cup. Ocean County is from Toms River and must either be a super team or have lots of guts to enter this tournament. I don't know too much about them. Game time will be at 2 p.m.

Action is now under way in the junior division of the GASL, and the Elizabeth Lancers won their first match last week, 1-0 against Gjoa. Brian Penney of Union scored the lone goal.

Big things are coming up at Pratt Institute in January in the form of an indoor tournament. It will go under the name of Metropolitan Indoor Tournament and all the big teams are entered. I will bring you more on this as I get the information.

telt that a couple of the boys played a fine game. He said, "Ted Johnson was the team's outstanding offensive player, leading the fast break. He scored eight of his 16 points in the first quarter. He handled and passed the ball very well. Jack Graesse played a very effective defense, fighting against a tremendous height disadvantage."

Yanehus expressed his disappointment over the loss when he said, "We thought that we had come out ready to play. The team performed well for the first eight minutes, but then the offense began to shoot poorly. The defense played an excellent game, though. Everyone was hustling and charged up about the opening game. If the boys continue to improve and stay out of injuries, the team can look forward to a successful season."

Demons, Hawks, Crusaders score in DIPPER play

The White Demons rallied to eke out a 3-2 victory over the STP Rockets in last week's top game in the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's early morning Daily Intramural Program Physical Education (DIPPER) floor hockey league. The Demons' Joe Ragucci and Brian McNany tied the score in the second period. Tom Graziano drilled in a last-minute 30-foot slap shot from the right side of the court to win the game. Bob Conte, Brian Belliveau, Mike Sternbach and Mark Lamb sparked an offense for the Demons; Kevin Lamb, Rick Weber and Bob Pine excelled in all-round floor play.

Rocket standouts included Mike Bergeski, Ralph Weichel, Bob LoFredo, Mike Flood, Dan Treason, Joe Pulice and Tom Moen.

Ken Fingerhut's goal in the waning seconds enabled the Crusaders to edge the Cougars. The winning shot was Fingerhut's third goal of the game. Bob Schneider tallied the other Crusader goal. Assists were credited to Bill Young and John LaMotta (three), Bob Bohrod, Don Lusardi, Ed Johnson, Frank Pulice and Ron Harmon played well for the Crusaders.

Cougar scoring went to Jeff Davis (one goal and one assist), Tom Bergeski (two goals) and Mike Lemmerman (one assist). Bob Gilbert, Mike Casale, Mike Blackman, Bill Quadrone, Rich Minster and Tom Brennan excelled for the Cougars.

The Silver Bells (3-0) maintained their undefeated status in the DIPPER basketball league as they posted a 48-36 victory over the dangerous STP Five. The Bells outlasted and defeated the Student-Teacher-Player Five behind the shooting of Gregg Prussing 16, Vin Mirabella 11, Andy Armour eight, Joe Mirto five, Frank Bladis four and Jack Flood four. The STP Five scorers included: Ron Nash twelve, Tom Kaptor six, Dave Cowden five, Bob Kozub five, Lou Spirito four and Steve Bumball four. The ball game was lost on the foul line as the STP Five missed repeated one-and-one and two-shot fouls and dropped their record to 1-1.

With Rich Minster scoring 28 points, Wayne Halbsgut 15, Tom Brennan 11, Mike Lemmerman six and Paul Kleinfelder four, the LeMons (1-1) romped to a 64-30 decision over the Red Tigers (0-3). Gino Circelli 17 points, Paul Kananguiser 11 and Doug Grant two did all the scoring for the Red Tigers.

The freshman basketball team will meet the Minutemen at 6 p.m., the junior varsity will play a Varsity Club five and the Varsity will engage the alumni contingent.

Sica played football for one year at Johnson Regional in Clark before coming to Dayton for his final two years. During those two years, the Bulldog record was 14 victories, three losses and one tie. They won the Group IV state title in 1961. Sica was offensive tackle and a middle linebacker on defense. In his senior year, he established a Dayton record with 14 interceptions from his linebacker position. In 1961, he was a first team selection to All-Union County, All Essex County and All State, and was selected by Scholastic Coach Magazine to the High School All-American squad.

Sica played basketball both at Clark and Dayton, lettering at the two schools. He turned to wrestling for his final year and had a dual meet record of 10 victories and two losses. He won the district heavyweight title and placed second in the regionals. Sica placed credit for his success upon the coaching of Herbert H. Palmer, who guided him in football and wrestling. He was also selected "Mr. Regional" in his senior year.

Following graduation in 1962, Sica attended the University of Maryland on a football scholarship for two years before leaving to join the pro ranks. He tried his hand at Canadian football and was drafted by the Green Bay Packers under Vince Lombardi after a successful season with the Newark Bears in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He survived the Packers' training camp until the last cut in 1966. He was picked up by the St. Louis Cardinals and then traveled to the Atlanta Falcons where he played both linebacker and tackle.

He rejoined the Newark Bears in 1967 when they moved to Orlando, Fla. The team won the divisional title with a 12-2 record but lost in the championship game. Sica closed out his playing career with the Elizabeth Tigers in 1970.

Christmas comes 'twice'

Danny is Santa's advance man

For some 500 Union County youngsters, Christmas will be a double-header. In addition to Santa's nocturnal visit on Christmas Eve, Santa's No. 1 back-up man in Union County, Danny Conway of Elizabeth, has been making the rounds at a number of pre-Christmas festivities to add to the joys of the season for disadvantaged and handicapped youngsters. Danny's first stop was the Cerebral Palsy Center in Union where he assisted his former fraternity brothers from Union College's Alpha Phi Omega fraternity in holding their annual Christmas party for children at the center last Monday. Some 90 handicapped children were treated to ice cream and cake, were entertained by Choco, the Magic Clown, and received gifts and candy-filled stockings from Santa Claus.

Faculty exchange by Union College, Seton to continue

A faculty exchange program, established last fall between Union College and other institutions within the Consortium of East Jersey, will be continued this spring between Union College and Seton Hall University, it was reported this week by Dr. Robert Markoff, dean of arts at Union College.

The Rev. William Keller, of South Orange, an associate professor in the history department of Seton Hall University, South Orange, will teach a course in "Western Civilization" at the Cranford two-year college this spring. In turn, Dr. Markoff, a member of Union's Department of Economics, Government, and History, will teach "The Middle East of the Twentieth Century" at Seton Hall.

The faculty exchange program within the Consortium was established to enable member institutions to utilize and benefit from the professional expertise at each institution. It also enables the individual faculty member to broaden his perspective firsthand of students' attitudes and needs as well as educational practices and policies at another institution.

The Consortium of East Jersey consists of Union College, Union County Technical Institute, Kean College of New Jersey, and Seton Hall University.

The faculty exchange program was first conducted last fall involving Kean College and Union College. Prof. Paul Shadler of Kean's English department taught a course in science fiction at Union College while Prof. Timothy McCracken of Union College taught Literature and the Arts at Kean.

Father Keller earned a bachelor of arts degree from Seton Hall University, a doctorate in sacred theology from Catholic University, and a master of arts degree from Fordham University.

Dr. Markoff earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Temple University and a doctorate from the University of Pennsylvania. He has taught previously at Seton Hall and Fairleigh Dickinson Universities and West Chester (Pa.) State College.

Unit to hear talk by Dr. Gasorek

Dr. Kathryn Gasorek, coordinator of learning disabilities at Kean College, Union, will address the annual meeting of the Union County Organization to aid Children With Learning Disabilities tonight. The meeting will be held at the Cranford Community Center, Main and Alden streets, at 8 p.m.

Dr. Gasorek will discuss "Community Resources for Evaluation, Treatment, Education and Training of Your Child." There will be a question and answer period following the program.

A brief business meeting will precede the program including a slide presentation of highlights of Camp Union, 1975 with commentary by Bruce Beyer, Director of Camp Union. Camp Union is the six-week summer program sponsored by the Union County Organization to aid Children With Learning Disabilities.

Refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to the public.

Today, Danny will visit his former elementary school, School 22 in Elizabeth, to distribute toys and stockings to 25 handicapped students.

George Washington School 1 in Elizabethport will be the destination tomorrow when Danny hosts a Christmas party for Mrs. Pat Hughes' students. Mrs. Hughes, he says, has been one of his right hands in his efforts to help others.

Tomorrow afternoon, 100 youngsters from Miravlag Manor, a low-income housing project in Elizabeth where Danny directs a recreation program, will share lunch with Santa Claus, who in turn will present them with gifts, courtesy of Danny. Entertainment by Choco, McSweeney's Cat and Dog Show and Junior Gambino will complete the party.

Michael Demartino's annual Christmas party this Saturday will find Danny providing ice cream for the 350 underprivileged children attending the party.

Danny's Christmas activities will end Christmas Day when he serves a double helping of toys and holiday goodies to youngsters at the Juveniles in Need of Supervision Center at John E. Rumlack Hospital in Berkeley Heights.

Danny, a cerebral palsy victim, has been host at holiday parties for the underprivileged and handicapped since his student days at Union College some six years ago.

Now a community service employment aide with the State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services, the 27-year-old Danny says he finds his pleasure in helping others. However, in the past it led him into serious financial difficulties.

He reports that thanks to the efforts of others who enjoy helping people, his indebtedness is greatly reduced. These same friends, he said, have continued their generosity, donating time, money and gifts for his many parties.

Danny looks at his widening circle of helpers and those in need of help and says, "That's what Christmas is really all about."

Wardlaw-Hartridge School plans for coeducation in '76

The Wardlaw-Hartridge School in Plainfield has launched a building program to prepare two campuses of the previously separate single sex independent schools for coeducation next September.

Dr. Garrett M. Keating of Plainfield and Edward L. Samek of Edison, co-chairmen of the long-range development committee established by the two schools to handle the transition, announced recently bids for the work will be let in mid-December with construction started March 1.

Plainfield architect Charles Detwiler, a member of the board of the Wardlaw Country Day School and a former Hartridge trustee, has drawn the preliminary study plans.

Changes at what will become the co-ed Edison campus for upper school students, grades 8 through 12, include three new classrooms, four offices for administration and development, a senior student lounge and library expansion to serve 300 students.

Now functioning as the Wardlaw upper school for 235 boys in grades 7 through 12, the Edison building needs more library space to hold an expanded collection and serve a larger student body, Keating said.

In addition, the building program will provide an audio-visual room for classes and

LITHUANIAN TOUCH—Young Debbie Didzbalis of Linden and Peter Audenas of Union were among the hundreds of people who turned out recently for the opening of the "Christmas Trees of Many Lands" exhibit now open at the Boy Scouts of America museum in North Brunswick. More than a dozen cultures and different nationalities. Open from Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and on Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m., the exhibit will conclude on Jan. 6. The museum is located off of Routes 1 and 130 in North Brunswick.

Boy Scout museum exhibits Yule trees from many lands

The "Christmas Trees of Many Lands," exhibited at the Johnston Historical Museum of the Boy Scouts of America, North Brunswick, includes trees from countries and regions behind the Iron Curtain.

The display, scheduled to run through Jan. 6, was officially opened last Sunday by Alden G. Barber, chief scout executive, during ceremonies at the museum attended by several hundred residents. Various international groups, attired in traditional costumes, decorated the trees and sang Christmas carols in their native tongues.

Ilmar Pleer, manager of the museum, noted that trees in the exhibit came from West Germany, Estonia, Poland, Latvia, Sweden, Norway, the Ukraine, Lithuania, Hungary, Byelorussia, Finland and the United States. Arranged beneath the trees were crafts and other items illustrative of Christmas in each of these lands.

Within the Iron Curtain countries, Christmas is not observed as widely as in former years, Pleer noted. However, traditions are slow to change and are carried on in America by descendants of immigrants.

The Johnston Historical Museum is located on the grounds of the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America at Routes 1 and 130 in North Brunswick; it is open on Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Job Service lists change in address

The relocation of the Elizabeth Job Service office of the New Jersey State Employment Service was announced this week by Joseph A. Hoffman, commissioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry. The office, on the first floor at 323 North Broad st., formerly was at 1115 East Jersey st.

"The new location in Elizabeth has more modern facilities than the old office and will better serve the public. An important feature of this office is the lack of architectural barriers. A ramp and elevator are provided for the use of the handicapped," Hoffman said.

The Job Service Office includes a Nurses Registry, Under State Employment Service Special Programs, there is a Work Incentive (WIN) Office, recruitment for Job Corps and a working arrangement with the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) prime sponsors for manpower programs.

Morson reelected to committee post

J. Harrison Morson, dean of students at Union College, has been reelected chairman of the School and College Relations Committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The committee's purpose is to maintain a strong line of communication in all areas of education among the member high schools and colleges.

Dean Morson joined Union College in 1969 as director of student activities and assistant to the dean of the College. He was named dean of students in 1970. He was previously principal of Abraham Clark High School, Roselle.

Autumn doctor bills can count toward Medicare deductible

Doctor bills for October, November and December may in some cases count toward the $60 annual deductible for both 1975 and 1976 under the "carryover" provision of Medicare medical insurance, according to Robert E. Willwerth, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth.

Medicare medical insurance doesn't pay for the first $60 in covered medical expenses in a calendar year. "But people who haven't had $60 in covered expenses before October should be sure to send in all the bills for covered services they receive in October, November or December," Willwerth said.

"Any expenses you have during the last three months of the year that can be counted toward your deductible for that year can also be counted toward the deductible for the next year," he said.

The carryover rule helps people who might otherwise have to pay the $60 deductible twice in a short period of time—at the end of one year and at the beginning of the next year.

Bills for covered medical services should be attached to a filled-out Request for Medicare Payment form and sent to Medicare, Prudential Insurance Company, Box 3000, Lanwood, N.J. 08221. Request for Medicare Payment forms are available at any Social Security office and at many doctors' offices.

Medicare medical insurance helps pay for doctor bills and many other medical expenses of people 65 and over, of disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to Social Security benefits for at least 24 consecutive months, and of many people with permanent kidney failure.

Medical insurance is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and Federal general revenues. Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The Union County social security office is at 342 Westminster ave., Elizabeth, 07201; phone 654-4200.

State agency OKs adoption agencies for Union County

Three county adoption agencies have been approved by the N.J. Division of Youth and Family Services (DYFS) to recruit, evaluate and select New Jersey couples who want to adopt a child. James G. Kagen, director, announced this week.

The division is a component of the Department of Institutions and Agencies, which is authorized by state law to issue the certificates of approval each year. The certifications extend to Feb. 29, 1976.

The approved agencies are: The Family and Children's Society, 40 North ave., P.O. Box 314, Elizabeth; Spaulding for Children, 321 Elm st., Westfield and United Family and Children's Society, 305 West Seventh st., Plainfield.

"Certification allows an agency to place children for adoption in New Jersey homes," said Fred Sigafos, chief of the division's Bureau of Resource Development, whose office issued the certificates.

New Jersey law permits adoption of a child in two ways: through a division-certified adoption agency or directly from the child's natural parents or parents by a previous adoption. Any other persons or agencies who do so are guilty of a misdemeanor and liable for punishment by a fine of not more than $1,000, or imprisonment of not more than three years, or both.

The approved agencies have met the standards set forth by the Division, Sigafos explained.

UC's Semiformal slated tomorrow

Both the Queen and Princess will be presented with flowers and a gift from the Student Government Association.

Dr. Saul Orkin, president, and Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean of the college, will attend the Semiformal, along with J. Harrison Morson, dean of students, and Michael B. Villano, director of student activities, and other faculty and administrative staff members.

Jewish Women cancel trip, blame UN Zionist vote

The Westfield Section, National Council of Jewish Women, this week announced cancellation of all Council tours to Mexico, in response to Mexico's support of the United Nations resolution describing Zionism as a form of racism and racial discrimination.

The tour department of NCJW has recommended instead its 10 and 22-day trips to Israel. Additional tours of Israel are available in combination with Italy, the Greek Islands, England, Switzerland, or a Mediterranean cruise.

This winter and spring, Council is sponsoring eight-day Guatemala holiday trips and 15-day trips to Central America. In the spring and summer, NCJW will sponsor an 18-day Scandinavian holiday, a 15-day holiday in Spain, a 23-day Alpine tour, a 23-day classic Greece trip, as well as shorter visits to the European capitals.

For further information, readers may call Mrs. Leon Salz, 232-1671.

Woman's Club supports plan against crime; gifts gathered

The Mountainside Woman's Club, a member of the N.J. State Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, voted at its recent executive board meeting to support "Hands Up," a national volunteer effort of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to halt crime. Mrs. James Goense is chairman for the Mountainside club.

The American home department, at its Christmas meeting, packed 60 batches of homemade cookies in hand-decorated coffee cans to be distributed to organizations and hospitals in New Jersey. This department, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lawrence Murphy, has knitted 19 scarves, seven matching sets of caps and scarves, slipper socks, and mittens. The women are sending 12 cans of jigsaw puzzles to the Skillman School for Boys in time for Christmas. This is a program that will be continued throughout the club year.

The garden department will hold its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Michael Sgarro with an exchange of handmade gifts. This department has been making club meeting centerpieces. The chairman is Mrs. William Cochrane.

Discussing the "Hands Up" program, Mrs. Goense stated:

"The club is one of the 13,067 General Federation of Women's Clubs which are being asked to participate in the crime reduction effort funded under a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, Department of Justice.

"The primary function of the inquiry will be to provide an overview of the work done by private social service agencies (United Way, Legal Aid, etc.). The effort is designed to give both the participating agencies and the public a clear picture of the crime reduction programs that the private sector currently offers the justice support system. This section of the inquiry will also attempt to identify the obstacles these agencies face in their work. It is hoped that the results, when collected nationally, will spotlight future areas of crime prevention emphasis.

"Other portions of the inquiry will assess the attitudes of the general public and the GFWC membership on current crime issues. This community-wide inquiry, combined with those of similar clubs throughout the nation, will become the basis of a national crime "summit" meeting to be held in Washington, D.C. early in 1976."

Time To Spare
By GERALD ANDREWS - Retirement Adviser

RETIREMENT INCOME
The largest single source of retirement income for most Americans is Social Security—provided for under the Social Security Act of 1935 and subsequent amendments. Federal pension plans include veterans' benefits, civil service retirement and railroad retirement. States and municipalities usually provide pensions for employees, too.

There are also many private pension plans provided by employers, labor unions, professional groups, and fraternal organizations. Individuals may purchase annuities during their working years that will yield income during retirement.

Payments of most benefits will not begin until you, the retiree, take the first step. The responsibility rests on you to know what different kinds of benefits you have coming and to get in touch with the offices which handle the benefit programs.

Start finding out about your benefits and procedures many months before your actual retirement—you'll stand a better chance of receiving your first checks shortly after you actually retire.

Representatives of the Social Security Administration are committed to seeing that retired workers and their families get the full benefits to which they are entitled. They will help you in any way possible to get your papers in support of your claim in order. If you're not satisfied with a decision that is made, it is possible to have the decision reexamined within the Social Security agency—and, if necessary, in the courts.

A FEMININE LOOK ...

AT THE WORLD ... AND THINGS

by TRUDINA HOWARD

NOTES ON FRANCO
It was common cocktail party talk in European capitals a few years ago, to comment affectionately that neither Tito, Salazar, nor Franco would ever consent to dying. They just were not the type.

In Madrid there was even a favorite joke on the matter. On the occasion of one birthday, the story goes, Generalissimo Francisco Franco was given a turtle whose life expectancy was 200 years. A few days after the gifting, it was learned that Franco had put the turtle in the bathtub. "Why?" it was asked. "Well," replied Franco, "I want to see if it will be true."

Today it all seems a sad story: for Franco, who would have been 83 on Dec. 2, will not find out.

But another saying in Madrid has it that "the air is so fire in Madrid" (the highest capital city in Europe) "that it will kill a man but cannot blow out a candle."

And perhaps it is so with Franco. Perhaps his fire will live on even though he does not. From a Feminine Look column done several years ago on a Study Mission to Spain, these notes are perhaps of interest today.

"Don Juan, the personal choice of Franco, is the son of King Alfonso XIII of the house of Bourbon who was the last King of Spain up to the year 1931. Reference to Don Juan in three encyclopedias, however, was blank. The facts of succession after Franco complicated, as heard in Madrid, but they go something like this: "Spain became a dictatorship in 1939 when Franco assumed the title of El Caudillo, or leader. In 1947 the National Congress or Spanish Cortes adopted a law which provided that Spain should become a monarchy upon Franco's death, and gave him the new title of "Regent of the Kingdom of Spain." This law gave the Cortes power to elect a king. Until then Franco remains chief of state and head of the Falange party (Nationalists.) The Socialists were overthrown by Franco in 1939. "So a king can succeed Franco, although the possibility does exist that he might only be a titular head if this would be more workable. But a Council of Ministers must meet on Franco's death and choose a successor, and they must do it in three days. If they cannot agree and get a fatification by the Cortes on Don Juan, the law provides for the selecting of a new regent. He must, however, be at least 30 years of age, Spanish and a Catholic.

At the time of the above writing in the sixties, Don Juan resided in Portugal, but he was so popular in Spain that a palace was kept in stately readiness for him in Madrid. Apparently the people approved of Franco's choice.

ANOTHER CHOICE of Franco's concerned the location of his burial.

According to reports obtained in Madrid, Generalissimo Franco wished to be buried at the Valle de Los Caídos, or the Valley of The Fallen.

And that is no small matter. "The Valley of the Fallen" is about 40 miles out of Madrid, but it doesn't look like a valley. It looks, instead, like a mountain range with a bevy of mountains sitting on top of that. Actually, it is a beautiful church built into the soul of one of the mountains. The entrance is man-made but further into the large church, you are under the middle of a mountain. Outside, on top of this hidden church, stands a huge cross. It is so large, an elevator goes up and down within it. This is the place Franco had built and dedicated to all Civil War dead no matter which side, and it is the place, it is said, where he wishes to be buried.

Spain, under Franco, has been one of the most anti-Communist countries in Europe, and we have had some of our largest bases there. When this was written, there were not even any representatives there from any communist country. In fact, Spain was still honoring pre-communist officials such as those from Estonia. But after Franco, then what? Will the switch-over be smooth and calm and will the country stay pro-western? Or will it go as Portugal has gone after Salazar? Or as Yugoslavia might after Tito?

There is still another saying in Madrid that "anything can be done in 24 hours, but miracles take 48." It may take a miracle to keep the status quo.

Editor's note: Francisco Franco was born in 1892. Marshall Tito (Josip Broz) was born 1892. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar was born in 1892.

Landscapers unit selects officers

The North Jersey Landscape Association elected officers for 1976 at its annual dinner-meeting at the Club Bene in Morgan. Elected were Robert Zimmerman Jr. of Mountainside, president; Paul Longo of Roselle, vice-president; Mark Grosso of Roselle Park, secretary, and John Famula of Union, treasurer.

"The North Jersey Landscape Association concerns itself with maintaining high ethical standards of its members," a spokesman said. "All are required to have formal training, a registered business in the landscape field and be fully insured. The monthly meetings are programmed to include a series of lectures by experts in horticulture so that a member's education may be a continuing one."

Landscape gardeners, nurserymen and designers interested in becoming members are asked to call or write Peter A. Bongiovanni, 545 Hort st., Westfield, 232-2851, or contact the county agent for further information.

Agents ask law change

"New Jersey's new motorized bicycle law must be amended before we are faced with the specter of mass deaths and injuries to teenage riders," Charles S. Stults Jr., president of the New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents, said this week.

Stults said, "The new law, in its present form, actually licenses thousands of unlicensed, untrained and untested youngsters to operate a gas-powered two-wheeler on public roads, without regard to their own safety or that of the general public.

"Because of the inherent dangers in this legislation, we are joining with other established safety organizations in petitioning the state Legislature to amend the law before countless highway tragedies occur."

St. Barnabas launches drive to fund expansion, endowment

In an effort to secure needed funds, Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, will launch the "Friends of Saint Barnabas Giving Drive."

The appeal will be for the necessary funds to implement the expansion and long-range program of Saint Barnabas Medical Center, including the purchase of new equipment and technological improvements to meet the needs of rapidly changing medical advances, and to secure support for an endowment fund of, ultimately, $10 million. This money will not supplement the operating fund of the hospital.

Saint Barnabas, now in the 112th year of medical services to more than 20 surrounding communities in the northeastern region of New Jersey, began in Newark and moved to a 62-acre site in Livingston in November 1964. The oldest non-denominational, non-sectarian hospital in New Jersey, it is also known for its educational programs and research projects.

The Medical Center, which is the largest private hospital in number of patient days in New Jersey, has grown to 730 beds with a range of medical services equal to other large medical centers in the country. The administration is constantly on the move to secure well-qualified personnel and acquire the latest in medical equipment to provide high quality medical care for the patients.

Sandy Hook lists events

On both Saturdays and Sundays at 2 p.m., "Naturally the Place" will describe how nature and geography contributed to Sandy Hook's role in American history. Visitors will be taken on a guided tour of many of the historic structures associated with Sandy Hook.

All of the programs originate at the Spermaceti Cove Visitor Center. Information on self-guided nature walks, fishing, seashell collecting and other activities is also available at the center.

The joyous holiday spirit which fills the land with song and laughter is alive and well at New Jersey Public Television. Starting Monday, a week of special Christmas programs will be broadcast on Channels 50 and 51, beginning with a special Christmas edition of Ruth Alampi's popular weekly show "Jerseyfile," which airs at 8:30 p.m. on Monday.

Alampi will welcome the U.S. Steel Choir and feature a special presentation, "A Present For Santa," by the Bag-A-Tale Players, a professional children's theatre company. The group, composed of several New Jersey residents, will present a "fairytale in reverse" with original script, music and lyrics.

"The Nutcracker," the universal Christmas favorite, will be the "Special of the Week" on Tuesday at 8 p.m. Tchaikovsky's engaging classic ballet of the little girl who falls asleep on Christmas Eve and awakes to find her nutcracker has turned into a handsome prince will be performed by Ballet West and the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

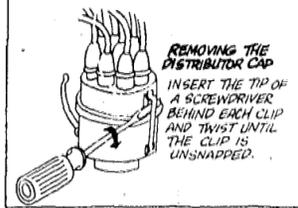

"The Nutcracker" will be followed at 9:30 p.m. by "The Christmas Candlelight Caroling Ceremony," a presentation from Disneyland which brings the yuletide cheer of a 1,000-voice choir singing the traditional music of Christmas. Astronaut Colonel James Irwin narrates the program, which includes 32 choirs from California, bell-ringing ensembles and the Dickens Carolers, accompanied by the Disneyland Orchestra. The program will be repeated Christmas Eve at 7 p.m.

Drivers should prepare for snow emergencies

"Getting caught in a blizzard in an age of unlimited communications is almost inexcusable," says Bill Brown, safety manager of the Allstate Motor Club. "However, there are always isolated instances when communications break down and a fast-moving blizzard entraps thousands of travelers. Many people endanger their lives and some perish either because they are inadequately prepared or because they are not aware of the danger that exists."

To avoid getting caught in a blizzard, Brown offers these tips:

1. Be alert to and heed weather warnings.
2. Call the local highway patrol office for road conditions before making a trip.
3. If traveling during extreme weather conditions cannot be avoided:

1. Keep the gas tank full at all times.
  2. Always travel main roads.
  3. Keep blankets and a small amount of food in the car. In some isolated areas, a small camping stove may come in handy.
  4. If the car is not equipped with snow tires, tire chains should be purchased.
  5. Have a first-aid kit, flares, flashlight and extra batteries available at all times.
  6. Tell others your destination.
- If a stall occurs in an isolated area:
1. Stay in the car and do not attempt to walk for help.
  2. If flares are available, set them out.
  3. Conserve the gasoline by running the engine for short periods of time.
  4. While running the engine, make sure a window is open slightly to guard against deadly carbon monoxide build up in the car.
- "Proper planning and a little common sense can eliminate any problems that might arise," Brown concluded.

Group to hear talk on energy

The Central Area of the New Jersey Federation of Planning Officials will hold an educational meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 6 p.m. at Forsgate Farms Country Club, Jamesburg.

Harry T. Roman, environmental engineer for Public Service Electric and Gas Co., will speak on New Jersey's energy outlook.

Winter monoxide warning issued

Driving around on cold winter days with the windows and vents tightly closed might keep you warm, but it could also threaten your life.

The New Jersey Academy of Family Physicians points out that carbon monoxide—an odorless, colorless, tasteless gas that comes from the auto exhaust—can cause poisoning and death. Each winter brings reports of deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning, when the victim warmed up his engine in the closed garage or became overcome while sitting in the closed car with the motor idling.

No one knows how many auto accidents are caused by motorists whose reaction time is somewhat slowed by a small seepage of carbon monoxide into the auto. If the exhaust and manifold systems are in good condition and fitted tightly, there is little danger. But many people neglect a checkup of these devices until something falls off or rattles under the car.

Always leave a rear window open a crack, never warm up a car in the garage without opening the doors, and have the exhaust system checked and repaired if necessary, said the academy.

Pediatrics department starts 'early intervention' program

An early intervention program for developmentally handicapped children—with special attention to guiding their parents—has been inaugurated by the Department of Pediatrics of the Rutgers Medical School of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey.

The program accepts children from birth to three who are handicapped or developmentally delayed, due to such disabilities as cerebral palsy, mental retardation, temperamental extremes, communication disorders, epilepsy, environmental deprivation, minimal cerebral dysfunction and brain damage at birth.

Mary Lotze, a pediatric nurse practitioner who coordinates the school's Child Development Program, said 10 to 20 infants and toddlers—to age 3—are to receive extensive services based on continuous evaluation of their personal-social, language, cognitive, motor and self-help skills.

Parent training and education is a priority part of the program, she said, with emphasis on helping the parents become their child's teacher. Weekly group meetings for the mothers will explore feelings and mutual understanding and provide education, while for fathers unable to attend day sessions, special group meetings with the staff are scheduled monthly.

Parents will be taught how to cope with situations involving reactions to a handicapped child and will be shown how to help prepare their children to achieve a maximum degree of independence.

Under supervision of a professional staff consisting of a pediatric nurse practitioner, a speech therapist and an occupational therapist, group and individual therapy sessions are also scheduled to teach parents how to improve their child's skills.

Student volunteers to help in the program are being recruited from various disciplines, including psychology, social work, special education, nursing and medicine.

For the children, medical consultation, including neurological evaluation, is available through the services of Dr. Lawrence T. Taft, professor and chairman of the Department of Pediatrics at CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School. Dr. Taft is renowned as an expert in child development and pediatric neurology.

The project is being funded by a grant under the Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act of 1970, as administered by the New Jersey Division of Mental Retardation under policies promulgated by the New Jersey Developmental Disabilities Council.

Parkway ready for snow removal

The New Jersey Highway Authority's "winter warriors" are ready to wage their annual battle against snow and ice on the Garden State Parkway.

The "warriors" are a small army of men from the authority's maintenance division, supported by an array of modern equipment. They are primed for winter action, necessary materials are stockpiled, auxiliary

"troops" have been mustered from among outside contractors, and other steps have been taken to assure a complete state of readiness.

Authority Commissioner Charles E. Starkey said this week.

The vanguard in the annual campaign, Starkey pointed out, will be the authority's own personnel and equipment, including 76 trucks with plows and 55 salt spreaders. This force will be augmented, as deemed necessary, by the outside contractors who have signed agreements to provide assistance when called upon.

When needed, the contractors will supply 84 tandem trucks with plows and eight heavy-duty graders.

The authority's own resources also include four roll-over snow fighters with huge blades and wing plows, three heavy-duty graders, 20 front-end loaders and ten grass-cutting tractors that were converted into snow plows. The tractors are used mainly for work in small areas.

Some 7,000 tons of rock salt, approximately 60 tons of calcium chloride and more than 200 tons of sand will be available. The calcium is used in extreme cold weather.

The Highway Authority, Starkey noted, has jurisdiction over 153 miles of the Parkway. It does not provide maintenance for a 13-mile section in Union and Middlesex County, a four-mile area in Cape May and about 2½ miles in Ocean County. These portions, all toll free, are maintained by the State Department of Transportation.

The authority has six maintenance division districts, with each assigned a specific area for snow clearance and other maintenance work. Each district office, as well as the authority's communications center in Woodbridge, is hooked up by radio with the U.S. Weather Bureau, Starkey pointed out, and thus receives advance notice of changing weather conditions.

As an aid to Parkway patrons, Starkey added, the authority has a telephone answering service via which motorists can obtain up-to-the-minute reports on road and traffic conditions by dialing P-A-R-K-W-A-Y. The service is available 24 hours a day.

Yuletide carols on 'Jerseyfile'

Christmas carols performed by the United States Steel Chorus will highlight "Jerseyfile" next Monday at 8:30 p.m. and Friday, Dec. 26, at 6 p.m. on Channels 50 and 58.

The program will also feature the Bag-A-Tale Players, who will present an original Christmas play, and a visit to the Monmouth Museum for a glimpse of an old-fashioned Christmas.

Va asks opinions on proposed plan for representation

Veterans and their dependents, veteran organizations and the general public have an opportunity between now and next Feb. 24 to comment and make suggestions on the Veterans Administration's proposed consumer representation plan.

Richard L. Roudebush, administrator of Veterans Affairs, said the 19-page VA plan was published in the Federal Register Nov. 26, 1975, and that comments should be directed to Errol D. Clark, Veterans Administration, Washington, D.C., 20420, by Feb. 24.

Copies of the Federal Register are available in public libraries and copies of the VA plan can be obtained at no cost by writing to Clark.

Administrator Roudebush said consumer interest in the VA is primarily centered in the more than 29 million living veterans in America, their immediate families and dependents of deceased veterans—a total of nearly 99 million persons potentially eligible for VA benefits. "We think this war-generated clientele is the most distinguished in the nation, and we are constantly seeking better ways of serving them," he added. "That is why we will welcome comment on our consumer representation plan."

Included in the proposed VA consumer representation plan, Roudebush said, are plans to provide advance notice to an expanded list of veteran organizations of contemplated changes in VA programs, policies and regulations, and a new standard policy of seeking comment by sending draft copies of proposed regulations to veteran-oriented groups.

The plan reports initiation of a new system of in-depth evaluation of VA programs, considerable more far-reaching than any previous appraisal efforts, to determine program effectiveness and impact on veterans.

DISC 'N' DATA
 By MILT HAMMER

Pick Of The LPs... RICHARD DIGANCE (MERCURY SRM-11042). All nine numbers on this very listenable LP were written by the talented Richard Digance. They include: "The Joe Louis Story," "How The West Was Lost," "Drag Queen Blues," "Working Class Millionaire," "Dear River Thames," "Edward Sayer's Brass Band," "Show Me The Door," "I Hear The Press Gang" and "Bless The Evening."

Don't let the fact that most people describe Richard Digance as a folk singer confuse you. That's like saying Marlon Brando is an actor—it doesn't quite tell the whole story.

This is Richard's first American LP and in it he presents both humorous and serious sides, backed by a group comprised of some of England's finest musicians. As is the case with unique talent, Digance's lyrics set him apart from anyone else.

Richard comes from London's East End and is what is popularly known as a "cockney." His musical career started six years ago when he fought boredom by teaching himself the guitar while recuperating in the hospital from an illness. After his recovery, he played with a three-piece folk group called Pieses for two years, recording one album before starting a solo career in British clubs. In early 1974 he recorded his first solo LP in Britain, called "England's Green And Pleasant Land."

Although noted for his wit, both on stage and record, Richard has a serious side which is often reflected in his song writing. In the song "How The West Was Lost," inspired by the book "Bury My Heart At Wounded Knee," he speaks about the plight of the American Indians. This 7-minute song traces the collapse of the Indian nation as the white pioneers moved across the land from east to west and it forms an important part of Richard's stage act. His humorous side is reflected in the numbers, "Working Class Millionaire," which tells of a poor man's fantasy that comes true, and "Drag Queen Blues," in which the singer relates a perplexing problem.

Vegetarians need diet variety, too
 Limiting types of food upsets body balance

Vegetarians and dieters who adhere rigidly to very limited types of food may upset the body chemical balance necessary for good health, according to a biochemist at the New Jersey Medical School of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ).

The biochemist, Dr. Richard H. Marks, is an assistant professor at the medical school and also teaches at the college's Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences, Newark.

"The problem facing strict vegetarians and those who adopt one-food type diets, he said, may not be the quality of their food as such, but that the food may not supply the chemicals, vitamins and minerals the body in turn uses for health purposes.

"The body needs a variety of foods," he said. "Even if plant foods are the only intake, care must be exercised to choose different types, and perhaps to make up for possible deficiencies with vitamin or mineral supplements.

"A single food diet, like the rice-only diet that was popular a few years ago, should be avoided. No single food can provide the body with everything it needs. A diet of only grain or cereal foods can cause problems because it may lack one or two essential nutrients or provide them in a form that the body cannot readily absorb."

Dr. Marks said that a vegetarian diet may result in insufficient intake of certain amino acids, vitamin B-12 and certain trace metals, or amino acids are the "building blocks" from which the body manufactures protein. Approximately 20 different acids must be present in appropriate quantities for the body to produce the protein that it manufactures. Other protein must come from food. Lack of one or more of the amino acids can cause the body to slow down and eventually stop the production of protein.

"Disturbing protein production may, indeed, result in a weight loss, if that is the goal," Dr. Marks said, "but not without the risk of developing other problems. For example production of protein in the body is necessary for healthy skin, hair, nails, bones, and blood."

Vitamin B-12 poses a different problem, since very little is available in plant foods. According to Dr. Marks, a B-12 supplement is almost always necessary in a strict vegetarian diet; a vitamin B-12 deficiency results in anemia.

Small amounts of certain minerals, or trace metals, are also needed by the body for good health, Dr. Marks said. These cannot be manufactured by the body, and in many cases cannot be stored, so that they must come from food on almost a daily basis. For women, iron deficiency is a major problem when diet is restricted, and during pregnancy, the fetus may also be affected.

"When animal products are eliminated from a woman's diet, it's easy for her to slip into a serious iron deficiency," Dr. Marks said, adding:

"All diet deficiency problems are heightened during pregnancy, when the developing fetus draws so heavily upon the chemicals in its mother's body that both the mother and fetus may be put at a loss."

Although vegetables and grains do contain many needed trace metals, they are often of little use in this form because the high fiber content of the food itself and other "complexing agents" make it difficult for the body to absorb them.

Sufficient amounts of trace metals can, however, be obtained from certain vegetables, particularly the green, leafy variety, according to Dr. Marks.

Dr. Marks noted that some religious groups that advocate strict vegetarianism have studied its effects on the body and are aware of the problems involved.

"The real problem is the do-it-yourself faddist," he said.

"Studies have shown that those who turn to vegetarianism on their own often tend to be extremists, sometimes adopting only a single food, often refusing to supplement it with vitamin compounds, and very likely not getting professional help.

"Anyone who contemplates a vegetarian diet should consult a dietician to get a full explanation of the implications of what he or she is doing and how to overcome the problems involved."

Compensation, unemployment benefits to rise

The maximum weekly benefit amount for unemployment insurance and State Plan temporary disability insurance will rise to $96 on Jan. 1, Joseph A. Hoffman, commissioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry, said this week.

"The new rate, a $6 increase over this year's maximum, will affect all new unemployment insurance claims and all disability claims which begin on or after Jan. 1, 1976," the commissioner stated.

He also said that the new maximum weekly workers' compensation benefit rate for temporary total disability, permanent total disability, and death is $128. This new maximum, a $9 increase over this year's maximum, will affect injuries occurring on or after Jan. 1, 1976.

The maximum weekly benefit for unemployment insurance and State Plan temporary disability insurance is established by law at 50 per cent of the average weekly wage figure for 1974. The average for that year was $191.36. Fifty per cent of this is $95.68, which rounds to $96. The law stipulates that for the purpose of these benefits the round should be upwards to the next whole dollar.

The average weekly benefit rate for workers' compensation payments is set by law at two-thirds of the average weekly wages during 1974. In this case two-thirds of $191.36 is $127.57, which rounds to $128.

The 1976 taxable wage base under the Unemployment Compensation Law calls for the wages of any individual with respect to any one employer for the purpose of contributions to include the first $5400 paid during the calendar year 1976.

These rate figures are annually released before Sept. 1 in accordance with state law.

Hoffman said, "Because we are tying these benefits directly to the average weekly wage, we are giving our program's flexibility. It is obvious that if wages go up, the benefits go up. And if wages come down, the benefits will come down."

Reunion of state Y Camps this Sunday at Roller Rink

Hundreds of boys and girls aged 7 to 17 from every part of the state will observe an annual tradition this Sunday by attending the 55th annual reunion of the New Jersey YM-YWHA Camps to be held at the Twin City Roller Rink, 1018 Sherman Ave., Elizabeth, from 10.30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

In announcing the event, John Feltman, president of the N.J. Federation of YM-YWHA's, said, "The children look forward to the reunion as an opportunity to relive their summer experiences, renew camp friendships and reminisce with their counselors and other 'Y' Camp personnel."

He added that another reunion tradition, that of registration for the coming season, will also be observed since many of the parents accompanying their children take advantage of the opportunity to make certain of accommodation for the summer.

Applications for four or eight-week stays are being accepted for each of the 'Y' camps four sleepaway units—Camp Long Lake at Lake Como, Pa., for boys and girls aged 7 to 10 years old; and the three co-ed installations for older age groups at Milford, Pa.: Camp Nah Jee Wah, Cedar Lake Camp and Teen Camp.

Feltman declared that the 'Y' Camps are expecting another successful season. Noting that the New Jersey 'Y' Camps complex is one of the largest and best equipped in the country, he stressed that each camp provides the youngsters with individual attention based on a ratio of one program staff member to five campers in a natural setting.

He added that this experience is intensified because each camp provides a broad variety of athletic, educational, social, cultural and recreational activities designed to satisfy the growth and developmental needs of the campers at their own age levels.

Applications for and information about the community-sponsored, non-profit, professionally supervised camps may also be obtained at local YM-YWHA's or Jewish Community Centers, or at the office of the N.J. YM-YWHA Camps, 589 Central Ave., East Orange.

Parents and children are the 'Y' Camps guests at the reunion. Children are urged to bring their own skates but may also rent them at the arena.

Weather Service offers hints for 'Riding Out Winter Storm'

"Dress For The Season," is one of the winter storm safety rules suggested by the National Weather Service.

Layers of protective clothing are more effective and efficient than single layers of thick clothing; mittens are warmer than gloves and hoods should cover the mouth, to protect lungs from extremely cold air.

According to J. Morgan Van Hise, acting state Civil Defense-Disaster Control director, "Rules for Riding Out Winter Storms" wallet cards are available free at local or county CD-DC offices.

In addition to "Dressing For The Season," here are more common sense suggestions made by the Weather Service:

"Get Independent." Check battery powered equipment, heating fuel, food stock and other supplies.

"Don't Kill Yourself Shoveling Snow." It is extremely hard work and can bring on a heart attack, a major cause of death during and after winter storms.

"Take Winter Driving Seriously." Keep your car winterized. Carry a winter kit containing equipment to help you keep warm, visible, and alive if you are trapped in a winter storm.

"If a Blizzard Traps You," Avoid over-exertion and exposure, stay in your vehicle (but keep it ventilated), exercise, turn on dome light at night, stand watches, don't panic.

Van Hise also praises the wallet card list of definitions related to winter weather, plus a "wind chill" table. Here are some of the "Winter Words of Warning" defined by the Weather Service:

"Ice Storm, Freezing Rain, Freezing Drizzle" means a coating of ice is expected; heavy means the weight of the ice will cause extra damage.

"Snow" means a steady fall unless occasional or intermittent is used.

"Heavy Snow" means a fall of four or more inches is expected in 12 hours or six or more inches in 24 hours. But heavy snow can mean two or three inches where winter storms are infrequent.

"Snow Flurries" means intermittent snowfall that may reduce visibility.

"Snow Squalls" are brief, intense falls of snow, with gusty surface winds.

"Blowing and Drifting Snow" means strong winds and greatly reduce visibility.

"Blizzard" means wind speeds of at least 45 miles per hour, dense snow, and temperatures of 10 degrees or less.

"Cold Wave" means a rapid fall in temperatures within a 24-hour period that will require emergency protective action.

"Watch" means winter storm is approaching.

"Warning" means a winter storm is imminent.
