Board leadership reelected; revision of calendar weighed

By KAREN ZAUTYK The three recently elected members of the Mountainside Board of Education-Patricia Knodel, R. Charles Speth and Dr. Arthur G. Williams were sworn into their threeyear terms at the board's organization meeting Tuesday night in the Deerfield

Approximately 15 persons were in attendance at the session, which also saw the reelections, on unanimous votes, of William Biunno and Ronald Wood as president and vice-president, respectively.

John McDonough was again named board secretary, and Ruth Gibadio, custodian of school monies, but votes on the appointment of a board attorney and an auditor were postponed until the May meeting to give the new members additional time to discuss those items.

Postponed until the next regular meeting were the president's appointments of board members to various standing committees and as representatives to other organizations. That session will be held at 8 p.m. April 19 in the Deerfield School instead of April 12, which falls during the spring school vacation.

At a work meeting following the rganization session, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin B. Hanigan reported the board is considering a plan to revise its 1977-78 school calendar by splitting the spring recess into two parts. Since Easter will fall in March, the board would like to equalize school sessions between winter and spring vacations by giving the students a holiday on Good Friday and deferring the remainder of the recess until April 17-21.

Hanigan said the teachers back the '100 percent'' but implementation would require a similar change in the calendar of the Regional High School district. The matter is to be discussed with the Constituent Boards of Education of the Regional District at an April 20 meeting in Mountainside.

The superintendent also reported that the PTA has proposed a plan whereby it

North Carolina pupils on stage

Sixteen high school seniors from Greensboro, N.C., will present five oneact plays Tuesday evening at the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside. The group is under the direction of Daniel Seeman, a former resident of Mountainside and a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, who did his graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

The five plays—"Bird Bath," "Ario D'capo," "Where Have All the Lightning Bugs Gone?" "The Darkest Afternoon in the Year" and an anthology of their own creation-will be performed by the members of the group beginning at 7:30.

The young actors were given this trip to the New York area because they won state dramatic production championships in 1975 and 1976. They also received the 10-state Southern regional award for dramatic excellence.

The students will also perform "Godspell" at St. Philomena's Roman Catholic Church in Livingston on April

District teachers fear increase in class load

Anticipated reductions in pupil population and faculty size may lead to heavier burdens on teachers, Regina Rice, president of the Regional Teachers Association, warned the Regional High School District Board of Education at its monthly meeting Tuesday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

Miss Rice voiced strong objections to reports that teacher leaders, in English, social studies and other subjects at each of the four high schools, will have their teaching duties increased from four classes a day to five: She said this will leave them less time to provide supervision and guidance for the other teachers.

Miss Rice also noted that at least one teacher had been notified she will have five classes a day next year - with seven preparations required. This is because two years of language instruction will be combined into one

The Teacher Association president added, "While it may be economical to double up, with some classes as large as 28 to 30 students, the students in our schools will not get the same quality of education"

Charles Vitale of Kenilworth, board president, said her remarks will be referred to the district administration for study

In other business, board members discussed problems of arranging a 1977-78 calendar that will be basically the same as those in the elementary schools of all six constituent districts.

Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools, said the basic problem is that the school boards in Berkeley Heights and Clark object to having a midwinter vacation. He noted some minor problems in coordinating schedules with Mountainside, but said those are less difficult. Merachnik added that one possible solution would be to have the local boards schedule a long winter weekend, with the elementary and high schools out of synchronization for only a few days.

Library shows movie program, first-day covers

Three movies will be shown Wed nesday at the Free Public Library of Mountainside for boys and girls in grades 1 through 6. Admission is free to the two showings, at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Films to be presented are Laurel and Hardy's "Another Fine Mess," the Little Rascals in "Night 'N' Gales" and "A Boy and His Boa."

Patrons of the Public Library have been viewing the United Nations firstday covers from 1952-1954 from the stamp collection of Milton Smith of Mountainside. He has replaced this collection with the requirements for the Boy Scout's Stamp collecting merit badge and some of the items and stamps he used toward earning the badge.

Examples typography, photogravure, offset lithography, overprint, semipostal and "Space on Stamps" are among the items on display for the month of April.

Also on display for April are decorated eggs and rabbits done by Peg Olson, of Mountainside. Mrs. Olson teaches a craft course at the Community Presbyterian Church.

Vitale reminded the 30 members of the audience that, by contract with the teachers, the board must complete its calendar by May 1.

The board approved his suggestion that the matter be presented for a final solution at the April 20 meeting of Regional representatives with board members from all six constituent districts.

Merachnik commented on the importance of keeping all four high schools on the same calendar. He (Continued on page 2

Robert Hose; was president of school board Private funeral services were held in

Duxbury, Mass., for Robert H. Hose, 62, of Park Slope, Mountainside, who died March 30 in Overlook Hospital, Summit, after a short illness

Mr. Hose, a borough resident for 35 years, was a member of the Mountainside Board of Education from 1949 to 1954 and served as its president in 1952-53. During that period, the original section of the Deerfield School was planned and designed. Mr. Hose, an industrial design consultant, was largely responsible for the introduction of the one-story school with outside exists from each classroom. Deerfield became a model for other new schools throughout New Jersey.

For 16 years, Mr. Hose was the owner of Robert Hose Associates of Summit. He was twice president of the national organization of professional industrial designers, once when it was the American Society of Industrial Designers and again after its merger with another group to become the Industrial Designers Society of America.

Mr. Hose was a graduate of the University of Minnesota and held a master's degree in architecture from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Born in Minnesota, he resided in New York before moving to Mountainside. The family has had a summer residence in Duxbury.

Mr. Hose is survived by his wife, Anne Hose; a son, John R. Hose of The Bronx; two daughters, Miss Judith Hose of Fanwood and Mrs. Barbara Chupko of Mountainside, and two grandsons.

(Continued from page 1) and the board would jointly finance a mini-grant program for teachers who have innovative educational projects they want to implement in the school

Linda Esemplare of the PTA reported on a survey that had been conducted among students' parents on the grouping of pupils according to educational ability or potential.

Of 266 questionnaires sent out by the Beechwood School Advisory Council, 137 were returned, she said. Of these, 68 of the respondents favored homogeneous grouping; 15 favored complete heterogeneous grouping; 47 favored small classes heterogeneous grouping for the remainder of students, and seven had no opinion.

The work session also brought an encounter between board members Scott Schmedel and Speth. Schmedel read a prepared statement (which will be printed in full in next week's issue) in which he blasted the defeat at the polls of the 1977-78 school budget and criticized "two members of our present board" who "led the attack on the school system by distorting the truth," Speth and Mrs. Knodel had run on an anti-budget platform.

Schmedel said the budget was defeated by people who accepted the increase in the Regional High School budget, who did not attend the local budget hearing, and "who did not make the effort to find out why this is a good budget-fair for both the schoolchild and the taxpayer.'

He also said the "two board members" had presented inaccurate figures concerning the expected drop in enrollment, and the teacher-child ratio. and he denied that the board has given the superintendent a six percent pay hike for next year. Speth defended the figures he and Mrs. Knodel had used in their campaign flyer as "the absolute truth." He said the teacher-child ratio was obtained by dividing the total number of students by the total number of leachers (including specialty teachers, i.e. physical education, home economics, etc.) and that the school enrollment was expected to drop by 100. not 50, from one budget year to the next. He also claimed that the six percent increase for Dr. Hanigan's salary was included in the 1977-78

Mrs. Knodel declined to make any additional comment on Schmedel's statement at the meeting, noting "It's

STATE EMPLOYMENT INCREASED NEARLY 5600 IN THREE YEARS

The number of full-time state government employees in New Jersey has increased 5,597 over the three-year period between November 1973 and December 1976, to a total of more than 60,700. This represents a 10 percent increase above the 55,142 full-time personnel on the state's payroll in late 1973, reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association from official figures prepared by the State Department of Civil Service. The data are the product of a new personnel reporting system which completely revised and superseded a system in effect since the early 1950s. The new reports do not permit valid comparison with prior em-

Funding for the positions comes primarily from state and federal sources, with a small-amount (less than 1 percent) derived from private funds. While the state funding covered so percent of the positions in November 1973, the state, at the end of calendar year 1976, was financing 77 percent of the total number of positions. Federal funds were supporting an increasing number and proportion of total employees, an increase of more than 3,300 employees-from 19 percent of total in 1973 to 23 percent in 1976, mainly in unemployment insurance and various public assistance programs.

Executive branch departments recording the largest increases are the Department of Labor and Industry, up 1,574 employees (29.5 percent) mainly due to increased hiring in the federallyfunded Unemployment Insurance Division; the Department of Institutions and Agencies, which was separated into the Department of Corrections and the Department of Human Services in 1976 and had a combined increase of 1,246 employees; the Department of Public Advocate, created in May 1974 (with the Office of Public Defender transferred from Institutions and Agencies) and staffed by 737 employees. Most significant decrease was in employees of miscellaneous Executive commissions, down 96. The Departments of Agriculture and Defense each had a 20 percent reduction in employees during the period covered by the report. Largest of the 19 executive department employers are Human Services, More than 17,000 employees; Higher Education, more than 8,600 excluding Rutgers, N.J. Medical College and Newark Institute of Technology; Labor & Industry, more than 6,900; and Law & Public Safety, more than 6,000.

Smallest executive department employers in state government are State and Banking, each under 150. The Insurance, Defense and Agriculture departments each employ fewer than

Matthew Rinaldo

12th District

New Jerseyans have good cause to complain about being shortchanged in the distribution of federal tax dollars.

Only 66 cents of every tax dollar sent to Washington from New Jersey finds its way back to our state. In contrast, 35 states receive more than they contibute. Twenty-seven reap more than $1.15 for each tax dollar. Booming Alaska gets a mammoth return of $2.60 on the dollar.

Ever since I was first elected to Congress in 1972, I have been fighting to reverse this inequity. It has not been an easy fight. Solid Southern voting blocs in Congress have managed to keep the fiscal scales tipped in their direction. But it has been encouraging to see a steady year-by-year improvement in favor of New Jersey.

Reports issued by the Department of the Treasury show that since 1972, New Jersey has moved from 45th to 38th place among all 50 states in federal grant-in-aid dollars. In fiscal 1976, New Jersey received the eighth highest amount nationally. The total for New Jersey - $1.8 billion - represented a 14.2 percent increase over the previous year, compared with a nationwide average increase of 10 percent. In dollars and cents, the distribution of grants-in-aid during fiscal 1976 was equal to $254.34 for each man, woman and child in New Jersey. In the previous year, the per capita amount in New Jersey was $222.86, a 25 percent gain that gave New Jersey the 8th highest percentage increase in federal dollars.

In comparison, the per capita share for New Jersey in fiscal 1973 was $163. This means that the increase in New Jersey in the past three years has been equal to $91.34 for each resident of the state - an amount almost double this year's scheduled tax rebate.

Another useful yardstick in judging the equity of federal outlays is provided in a state-by-state breakdown of all federal spending, including contracts, wages and pensions. These figures show that New Jersey now ranks sixth in total federal outlays, receiving $13.2 billion in fiscal 1976. In the previous fiscal year, New Jersey ranked seventh nationally with a total federal income of $11.6 billion. While the state has been gaining in both its receipt of grants-in-aid and its share of total federal spending during recent years, many Southern states have been experiencing proportionate declines. This is encouraging. But it is no justification to relax efforts in Congress to provide New Jersey with more federal assistance in the form of grants and government spending. If a fair share of federal spending isn't funneled into New Jersey, the tax dollars will go to other states. Allowing New Jersey to get less than its equitable share doesn't save dollars or cut federal spending. It merely tolerates an unfair distribution of federal funds.

Pressure to balance the federal fiscal scales clearly has to be continued in Congress. Members of Congress from 16 northeast and midwest states hit by economic problems similar to those in New Jersey have banded together to fight for a bigger regional share of the federal tax dollar.

This new organization is known as the Northeast-Midwest Economic Advancement Coalition. The states represented in the coalition have 204 members in the House representing some 90 million people. Last year they paid $31 billion in taxes over and above what they received back in federal spending.

As New Jersey's delegate-at-large on the coalition, I am working to use the muscle of the organization as effectively as possible to give the Garden State every federal cent to which it is entitled and every possible economic and social benefit from federal services and programs.

New Jersey deserves nothing less.

Two transit projects are under serious consideration for the Plainfield-Newark corridor in New Jersey. One is the PATH Extension, a proposal to run a ground-level subway 17 miles from Newark to Plainfield. This would cost $347 million. The other project is to upgrade the Central Railroad of New Jersey, estimated to cost between $124 million and $174 million.

The PATH Extension would be a new system, extending out from the present Newark terminus. But the present CNJ rail service already extends beyond Plainfield on an established right of

After reviewing the Draft Environmental Impact Statement on PATH, I have several observations.

First, the estimates presented in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement show that when all capital and operating costs are considered, the yearly costs attributed to the substantially upgraded Central Railroad of New Jersey are less than on PATH That is, on the basis of the anticipated life of the system, the CNJ alternative is a more cost effective use of funds. Further, the labor costs given for PATH do not include management and

Disabled wives are eligible for social security

Working wives who become disabled sometimes don't realize that they may be eligible for social security disability payments even though their husbands are working, according to Robert E. Willwerth, social security district manager in Elizabeth.

"Under the law," Willwerth said, "a wife and her children can get social security disability payments on her work record regardless of her husband's earnings — if she has worked long enough in jobs covered by social security.

"The children can get payments until they're 18, or 22 if they're full-time students in school and remain unmarried. A working wife facing a longterm disability should get in touch with a social security office without delay to get information about applying for disability benefits," he said.

Social Security pays monthly benefits to eligible workers under 65 and their families if the worker is severly disabled and not expected to be able to do any substantial work for a year or more. Payment generally starts with the sixth full month of disability.

To be eligible for social security disability payments, most workers need 61/2 years of work under social security with five years of it in the 10 years before they became disabled. For workers disabled before 31, the requirement ranges down to as little as 11/2 years of work, depending on age.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The Elizabeth Social Security Office is located at 342 Westminster ave., Elizabeth, 07201. The telephone number administrative personnel and overhead expenses for which we will have to pay, one way or the other.

Finally, the ridership on the upgraded CNJ is assumed to increase only marginally while that of the PATH system shows a substantial increase over current CNJ ridership.

The ridership assumption is to a large degree based on the fact that workrelated trips to Manhattan will greatly increase over the time frame considered in the study. Yet this increase is only reflected for the PATH alternative. Additional ridership would be realized if the CNJ was rerouted over the proposed PATH alignment through

The public should also be aware that the $347 million in capital costs for PATH does not include the millions required for parking facilities and the yearly operating deficit that would be incurred in providing service west of

Neither the capital nor the operating expenses presented in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement accurately reflect the costs that we as taxpayers must ultimately bear.

Two additional issues were, in my opinion, not given adequate attention in the Draft EIS. The first concerns passenger comfort. The study acknowledges that PATH will result in a much rougher ride than the heavier CNJ cars. The second issue has to do with passenger security. The additional employees working on the CNJ afford the traveling public the protection so necessary for the operation of a successful transit system.

Another problem bound to arise with the PATH Extension project is the issue of land use control. I do not believe that extending PATH the 17 miles to Plainfield can fail to stimulate development along the service corridor. There can be no assurance that the pleasant neighborhoods which we now know along the CNJ will not be replaced by urban sprawl.

Beyond these failings, I think, is the broad question of what funneling so much into the PATH project does to the rest of the State's transportation needs, which have received little attention and little money during the past several

Some examples of this are mass transit service from Bayonne to Jersey City; rehabilitation of the Pascack Valley line of the Erie-Lackawanna: mass transit access for Newark Airport, a badly under-utilized facility; an intermodal terminal for Camden. All of the above projects could be completed with money that would be saved from upgrading the CNJ rather than building

This brings us to the question of adequate public hearings. One of the reasons I believe that we have come to this juncture on the corridor improvement project is that there has been inadequate involvement of the public in the decision-making process, particularly at certain critical stages.

I will gladly support $400 million or twice that for worthy New Jersey transportation projects, and I look forward to the day when the state will have a mass transit plan that benefits all regions to the detriment of none.

'Caps' harm schools, teachers are warned

good schools down to levels of mediocrity instead of bringing all schools to the highest level," the county's teachers were warned Saturday.

The restrictions, called budget 'caps," came under fire at the annual legislative luncheon of the Union County Education Association at the Town and Campus Restaurant, Union.

Frederick L. Hipp, executive director of the New Jersey Education Association, warned that the caps are keeping communities from making necessary increases in school spending and in some cases are even preventing districts from meeting statutory requirements to make public education "thorough and efficient.

Although the state constitution has mandated "a thorough and efficient system of free public schools" in every district in the state since 1875, the legislature did not even make a pretense of complying with that mandate until 100 years later, Dr. Hipp

The N.J. Public Education Act of 1975, the so-called "T&E" law, contains both a mandate for better schools and 'cap" provisions, even though these two are contradictory.

"Cap will ruin our schools unless we act now," Dr. Hipp warned. "They make 'T&E' impossible for kids in both cities and suburbs. Their effect is to force good schools down to levels of mediocrity instead of bringing all schools up to the highest level as the law intends. With caps, we can't improve our schools as 'T&E' requires.'

As a result of these state restrictions, Dr. Hipp said, class size is increasing, school buildings are being closed, fewer courses are being offered and even remedial reading is being reduced.

In many communities, Dr. Hipp stated the cost-of-living increase is larger than increases allowed by caps. "And with the possibility of tighter caps next year, the kids will take an even bigger beating," Dr. Hipp declared.

The NJEA official noted that the teachers' association fought caps in the legislature, of which Dr. Hipp said: "It (the legislature) gave us caps and assigned to educators the job of producing quality education. This can never happen under the conditions established by the legislature. If it had set out to weaken the public schools, the NJEA is still working to have the caps restrictions repealed. But, Dr. Hipp noted, the campaign's success depends on the involvement of teachers in political action

'Now more than ever we must overcome those who discourage teacher activity in political action, Dr. Hipp warned. "More importantly, we must assist proven friends of education in the coming election. To advance the cause of teacher rights, to improve pension benefits, and to continue making progress in the areas of child and school advocacy, we must have a strong NJEA Political Action Committee.'

Hydrants to get spring cleaning

Fire hydrants on area's streets are going to get a "spring cleaning" during April, the Elizabethtown Water Co. announced this week.

In many cases, the hydrants will be flushed to clear out corrosion which may have accumulated during the winter. This will be done between the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. to minimize traffic interruptions and eliminate the possibility of young children playing near the hydrants during the flushing

Norbert Wagner, Elizabethtown's director of transmission and distribution, said customers in some areas might notice a bit of discolored water the morning after flushing but said this would disappear within a few hours.

There are almost 10 000 fire hydrants in the 44 communities served by Elizabethtown Water, and during the course of the year each one is inspected by the utility's crews to insure that all equipment is in good working order.

"Some hydrants in the Elizabethtown Water system can deliver up to 5,000 gallons a minute, more than 500 times the rate supplied by the kitchen sink faucet," Wagner said. Wagner pointed out that the hydrant system not only provides large volumes of water in case of fire but also means lower house insurance rates for

WASHINGTON, D.C. - A new round of federal revenue-sharing getting under way this week will push the total distributed in New Jersey above the $1 billion mark, according Congressman Mathew J. Rinaldo.

Municipalities'

revenue share

Thursday, April 7, 1977-

The Union County Republican, sponsor of a bill that prevented revenue-sharing from lapsing at the end of last year, says the newlyapproved distribution of funds will funnel $155,568,593 to New Jersey. The payments will be made on a quarterly basis with checks scheduled to go out this week, the first week of July and in October. The payments will raise the total for the state over a 512-year period to $1,099,279,440.

Rinaldo said Union County and its municipalities, under the new distribution, will get $5.3 million. The newly-allocated funds are for a ninemonth period from January through September of this year.

Rinaldo said the allocation of federal funds to local government units with few strings attached help to maintain essential community services and to hold down local property taxes.

The newly-approved payments, with totals for the past 512 years listed in parenthesis, are:

Act to halt overpass

rock toss

Children throwing rocks and other objects from the overpasses have become a serious and dangerous problem on the Garden State Parkway, according to Commissioner William F. Smith of the New Jersey Highway Authority, who announced that an intensified campaign is now under way to stop the practice.

The state police, in the last eight months, have made 21 separate arrests regard to rock throwing. They have had the cooperation of many motorists who notify the nearest toll taker of the overpass where the rock throwing is taking place.

F. Joseph Carragher, executive director of the New Jersey Highway Authority, added, "The Garden State Parkway and the State Police are instituting a policy of education and sureillance of the road to prevent this extremely dangerous activity from continuing."

Carragher pointed out that at high speeds any debris can become a dangerous missile capable of shattering windshields and raining glass on the occupants. Often the motorist, suffering from shock, will lose control of his automobile and involve other nearby cars in an accident.

The State Police will begin an educational program in the schools to acquaint youngsters with the dangers of throwing things at passing cars.
Parents will be reminded to warn their children against this type of activity. Additionally, motorists and pedestrians witnessing any instance of rock throwing or the like

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

Every thing is coming up roses for the soccer teams in the area.

The Union County SC hosted Bedford Hills last Sunday and because of the 4-2 win gained two points on league leader.

Polonia, which lost to Espana. This puts the Union County booters in the driver's seat in the Second Division North of the GASL. They are just two points behind Polonia but have three games to make up and can vault into first place with Just two wins.

Eintracht is now the closest to Union County because they are only three points behind them in the loss column. Polonia is four points out.

The Elizabeth Lancers knocked off the Turkish SC, 3-2. The Turks have 17 points in the loss column and can end up in the cellar of the Major Division South. The Lancers are in first place with 19 points—only 5 in the loss column-over Pancyprians' 14 and 12 in the loss column

The Lancers still must play the top I two teams in the Northern Division the Brooklyn Italians and Inter-Guiliana. With this in mind I do not feel com-Tortable with just a one goal win over the Turks. The Lancers can lose three games and still stay in first place in their division but they must play the leader of the Northern Division for the Eleague championship and this will be quite a task for the team as it is now.

When you are dealing with roses you must expect to come across a thorn sonce in a while and our thorn this time is the 5-3 loss of Union County's junior team to Willingsboro in a National Junior Challenge Cup match, Our local boys missed a few chances to score and $\footnote{\tau}$ that made the difference in the game.

Bullets and Demons win DIPPER playoff games

Intramural Program Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) playoff championship finals in basketball and floor hockey began last week as the Lead Bullets streaked by the STP-5 by a 40-30 margin to take a 1-0 lead in the best of three series while the White Demons posted a 3-2 thrilling win over the Red Crusaders for a 1-0-1 edge in that best of three. Two weeks ago the two teams tugged to a classic 2-2 tie in the opening round.

A tight man-to-man defense and a balanced scoring attack enabled the Bullets to eke out a 40-30 clutch victory over a tenacious STP-5. Every Bullets player scored in the team victory with Andy Herkalo's 12 points and leading the way. Other Bullet scorers were Rick Weber, nine, John Kronert four, Bob Conte four, Carmine Appicella three, Jim Stadler two, Dan Pepe two, Peter Episcopo four and Jay

Lou Spirito, Dave Cowden and Tony Falzone scored six points each for the STP-5 while Joel Gelwarg, Rollie Marionni and Bob Cardwell chipped in with five, five and two

The Demons darted to a 1-0 lead as Joe Ragucci scored coming from behind the goal in the opening minute of play. Ed Johnson evened score with a line drive shot that whistled by goalie John Kelly. Dave Falcone and Rick Weber lashed in the final two goals for the Demons that Crusaders goalie Scott Worswick found too hot to handle. Ed Johnson slammed in his second goal but missed a chance at tying the game.

times during the rain-soaked game. John Kronert led off the first inning with a single, stole second but was left stranded as the next three batters went down in order. In the fifth inning Peter Episcopo walked with one down and followed with a steal of second. But once again he was held there as the following two hitters could not deliver a hit. Dayton's best scoring chance came in the sixth and final inning when Kronert walked to lead off the frame. Henry Daas sacrified him over to second but John was unable to score as the next two batters went down swinging. The Bulldogs were held to one single and three walks in what turned out to be a pitchers' duel in the rainy conditions.

Dayton netters open play today

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School boys' varsity tennis team will launch its 1977 season today at Union Catholic. Coach Richard Iacono explained that the team will play seven men in each dual match.

There will be three singles events and two doubles matches against each opposing school. Each contest will be for the best two sets out of three. All varsity matches will be decided on a five-point basis, with one point awarded for a victory in either singles or doubles. Most of the competition will be against Suburban Conference opponents.

is practically yours.

There's nothing less practical than an old car past its prime. It eats gas. It eats money. And it eats away at you.

Of course, if you're already saddled with an over-the-hill car, we don't have to tell you how impractical they are. As a matter of fact, you've probably already picked just the new car you want. And all it takes to put you in the driver's seat is cash.

Which is where UCTC comes in with some practical advice. To wit: Apply for a UCTC Auto Loan. With our new increased loan limits, we can now lend you up to $10,000 and give you extended repayment terms. Which means you can buy practically any car that makes sense to you.

So don't let-that old car run wild any longer. Stop by any UCTC office today and apply for a UCTC Auto Loan. Once that's done the new car you want is practically yours.

Practical loans for practically anything. Serving you locally at Echo Plaza & Route 22 & Hillside Av., Springfield

'Functionally retarded' gain Kohler unit works to assist children

Helping "functionally" retarded youngsters—those whose handicaps can be overcome—is one of the aims of the Kohler Child Development Center

The center, an arm of the Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, offers the Preschool Readiness Enrichment Program (PREP) to help these youngsters reach their potential, according to Betty McGhee, executive director of the unit.

'These children can move up as far as their intelligence is concerned," said Mrs. McGhee. The Kohler Center, she added, also provides services for retarded children whose problems are organic (like Downs Syndrome) and cannot be expected to live normal lives.

The youngsters enrolled in PREP, she said, are "socially handicapped. They demonstrate a developmental lag in social and educational growth. One of the prime objectives of the Kohler Center is to promote the growth of these children through early identification and treatment.

Each child who enters the program, she expalined, is given an array of tests to assess developmental level. After the testing, the teacher is presented with a "prescription" which shows the weaknesses and strengths of the child. In the program children receive "vast stimulation in the areas of socialization, education, verbalization and cultivation of fine and gross motor skills," said Mrs. McGhee. Specialists work with the children who have learning disabilities. Team work by the teachers and specialists, said Mrs. McGhee, enhances the growth and development of the preschoolers, enabling them to enter a regular school system at a much higher level than if they were not receiving the services.

"Those children in PREP who display a significant developmental growth through the stimulation program will enter a regular kindergarten class," she said. "The staff workers at Kohler work collectively to cut down on the institutionalization of the children, thereby keeping the family together as a unit."

. FREE PICK-UP & DELIVERY

The Kohler program, she said, "offers as much stimulation as possible all year round. But our summer program is in jeopardy because of funding problems. Right now we're experiencing a transportation problem, and unless it is resolved by June it may mean a cutback in services.

Orient Bound

Dear Larrie: A. My husband and I have been contemplating a trip to the Orient and visited a travel agency. After discussing our plans, the agent said he would require a certain percentage of the cost of the trip before he could make up our itinerary. Wouldn't you say this is rather an unusual request for a travel agency to make before arranging an itinerary for a custom-made trip?

Dear Bound:

! There is nothing unusual in such a request. Because of the obvious work involved, many/agents require a deposit prior to tailoring a custommade itinerary. A statement of terms and conditions should be obtained in advance so that you know what your obligations are. You should familiarize yourself with the conditions of the contract-whether they relate to deposits, refunds, additional costs for additional services-and all conditions should be in writing.

All responsible travel agents will gladly provide a copy of the terms and conditions and explain them to you. Larry O'Farrell

Dear Larrie:

If garments or other possessions have been cleaned often without damage. and then damage occurs, what might be the reason? I was very upset when this happened twice to me in the past few months, and feel at a loss for a possible cause for this problem.

An Answer Needed Dear Answer:

There are several factors which might be the reason. One is age, and how much the garment has been worn or used. All merchandise eventually wears out.

Chemical damage is responsible for many complaints traceable to your own medicine cabinet, cosmetics, perspiration, etc.

Celluloid or other plastics containing netrocellulose can cause damage. Another possibility is moth or carpet beetle damage. No damage is apparent at first, but when the garment comes back from the cleaner, it is full of holes. Larrie O'Farrell

Public TV Festival film on view--now and 2076

"To you, the viewer of 2076" is dedicated the celebration film, "Ten Crucial Days Festival, '76-'77", produced by Louis Presti of New Jersey Public Television. To be shown to 1977 viewers on Sunday at 8:30 p.m. and repeated Monday at 6:30 p.m., the film will be buried in a time capsule by the New Jersey Bicentennial Commission, and will be opened in 2075.

The unusual program documents the events of New Jersey's Bicentennial celebration of the turning point of the American Revolution in the Garden State. The 10-Day festival took place last Dec. 25 through Jan. 3. In addition to reenactments of the battles of Trenton and Princeton cultural performances which reflect the event through art and music have been included in the film. Historians will also discuss the significance of the Ten Crucial Days when the Continental Army was victorious for the first time in the War of Independence. Filmmaker Presti notes that the production is designed to tell people 100 years from now about society and its problems, today. However, the 'telling'' is done by participants and observers since there is no announcer or narrator. Sights and sounds of bystanders at the reenactments, soldiers acting out the events, Governor Brendan Byrne's appearance and newspaper headlines of the day reflect the attitudes and the feelings of the world in 1976-77.

Price index up, says Bienstock

Largely reflecting a sharp 2.9 percent increase in grocery prices, the New York-Northeastern New Jersey Consumer Price Index rose 0.9 percent between January and February, it was reported by Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Since February 1976, area consumer prices have risen 5.0

The sharp food-at-home or grocery price rise primarily reflected increases for fresh produce, related to weather reduced supplies. The fruits and vegetables index was up 10.3 percent over the month and 16.1 percent over the year, more than triple the overall rate of consumer price increase. Higher prices were also reported for coffee and eggs, resulting in a 3.8 percent over the month rise in the other foods-at-home component, and the meats, poultry and fish index was up 1.2

Council to fund art in buildings

The New Jersey State Council on the Arts has announced that it will provide $50,000 in matching grants to help finance the cost of creating works of art in public buildings throughout the state.

Alvin E. Gershen, chairman of the State Arts Council, said the grants represent a major effort to help spearhead development of such work for public buildings where the maximum possible number of people can appreciate them.

Criteria for the program are now being drafted by the State Arts Council's grants committee headed by artist Harry Devlin of Westfield.

The council will make the challenge of matching grants to municipal and county governing bodies and similar agencies for part of the cost of creating sculpture, murals, and a variety of other works by New Jersey artists,' Devlin said.

The works of art would be on display permanently in public or governmental buildings, schools, hospitals, in-stitutions and similar sites.

How do you speak without a voice box?

How does a woman live without a breast? The operation's over. Now you need the kind of help you can only get from some-one who has been through the same thing.

A woman who has had a breast removed reassures another woman who has just had the same operation. A man who has lost his voice box helps another man to speak again.

"How can you possibly know what it's like?"
"I've been there."

That's our program of rehabilitation.

Musical at Kean

The National Theatre Company will present "Feelin' Good " a musical tribute to the black entertainer in America, Tuesday at 1:40 p.m. at the Little Theatre of Kean College.

From the minstrel tunes of the 19th Century, to the rock and roll explostion of today, American music owes a debt to that indefinable musical quality that came to America from Africa—that quality we call "soul." Black music, some 300 years in the making, is a music that was once a matter of life and death representing the struggles, heroism and history of a people. Through song, dance and humor. "Feelin' Good" traces the black's contribution to the world of American musical entertainment. It is the story of a syncopated beat; a rhythm that became the pulse of America; a sound that was re-shaped, re-formed. re-written and expanded into virtually every modern musical form. "Feelin' Good" is a panorama that traces a tradition and culture to the pinnacles of artistic achievement in our time.

Further information is available at 527-2044. This program is free and open to the public.

TV: best of Kovacs New Jersey Public

Television will present the work of a zany comic genius in "The Best of Ernie Kovacs" beginning Sunday, April 17, at 9 p.m. Kovacs wife, Edie Somehow Kovacs knew television was the outlet for his unusual talents and it was this that led him from a job as a cigar store clerk in downtown Trenton to the fame and glitter of Hollywood in only one decade.

State bar group calls for merging of courts

The New Jersey State Bar Association has urged the adoption and speedy implementation of two proposed constitutional amendments which would merge the trial-level courts throughout the state.

Speaking before the Assembly Judiciary Law, Public Safety and Defense Committee recently, State Bar Association President Donald R. Conway endorsed ACR-41 and ACR-66, proposed amendments to merge the Superior Court and the county courts.

Conway expressed the association's unqualified suport for such a merger. He cited the 1975 interim report of the State Bar Association's Committee on Court Modernization which called for a single trial-level court throughout the state, as well as the American Bar Association Stardards for Court Organization which recommends one unified court of original jurisdiction.

"The New Jersey State Bar Association is genuinely concerned that the New Jersey Court system is both respected and understood by the public," Conway said. "Concurrent jurisdiction is a subject which is difficult to understand," he continued. "Duplicity of record-

The court system must eventually be fully funded, controlled, and administered by the state, according to Conway. "This will ease not only caseloads and calendar problems, but also the burden on county budgets," he

Kean plans films, talks for April 21 Soup Day

Kean College will participate in the national observance of Food Day, sponsored by the Center for Science in the Public Interest, Thursday, April 21. Locally it will be known as "Soup Day"—only soup and beverages will be sold by campus food services that day.

The purposes of Soup Day are to raise consciousness among the entire community regarding hunger in America and abroad; to collect money, particularly money saved by not purchasing food that day, to feed the hungry and to collect non-perishable food items for distribution in Newark and Elizabeth.

A college faculty panel will host David Burgess, a representative of UNICEF, and will discuss the problem of hunger in our society at 11 a.m. at the College Center.

Films to be shown throughout the day will include "Hunger," recipient of an award at the Cannes Film Festival, "Survival in the Sahel" and "Bangladesh, Beginning or End," both produced by the Agency for International Development, "Beyond the Next Harvest," a CROP film, and "Struggle for Survival,"

The public may join in the observance of Soup Day at Kean College. Information is available at 527-2294.

A new 'family' TV series looks at real-life issues

A new series on New Jersey Public Television. "Six American Families," will explore real-life experiences of a variety of families in the United States, beginning Saturday at 4 p.m.

Each segment will last one hour and will include a playback technique in which each family views its own program and then comments on its own statements and attitudes.

In the first program, series host Paul Wilkes, who lived for several weeks with each family, will introduce the Pasciaks of Chicago, a Polish family whose traditions and ethnic background are threatened by the new lifestyles of the children. Conflicting views between the two generations culminate into young Gary Pasciak's leaving his home to seek a career as an actor in Hollywood. His father, a member of the city sanitation department, must deal with his own frustrations, having always hoped his son would also join the civil service

Future programs visit a Mill Valley, Calif., couple, with two children, whose marital difficulties have resulted in separation; a family in Albuquerque, N.M., who have three children, one of them mentally retarded; a New York City policeman, his wife and teenagers; an Iowa farm fimily with six children; and a poor but proud family of 12 in one begets, the other bears children.

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, who took over her job last July, agrees with Plato that the only difference between men and women is one of physical function-

"Apart from that, Plato believed both sexes can and should follow the same range of occupations and perform the same functions, and consequently should receive the same education, in order for society to get the best value from both," she said.

"If Douglass can show its students the value and relevancy of a liberal arts education to the careers that are open to them, we will be returning to the basics of Western thought."

Dean Cobb says she has a special commitment to seeing the science programs at the college continue to grow. "It is a priority of mine to stimulate more of our students to move into this field where women are currently underrepresented," said Dr. Cobb, whose specialty is cell biology.

"In a public university there is a need for a Douglass College, as a women's college of high academic caliber, to provide the special environment for the maximum development of talented young women who are going to be our future leaders," she said.

She notes that a majority of the professors at Douglass are women, and that they serve as role models for the students. The percentage of female professors in coeducational institutions averages only about 21 percent, which is actually lower than in 1920, she ob-

The deal also observes that female undergraduates comprise a disproportionately small percentage of the student leadership in coeducational colleges. "Societal experiences prior to college have programmed women to discourage them in these leadership roles," she says, pointing out that the concept of a leader tends to be masculinized in our society. Consequently, young women need "supportive networks" around them to enable them to achieve their full

"We have to correct the socialization factors that have occurred to make our students hesitate and doubtful about themselves," she comments. "We have to reverse the earlier lack of expectation for success.

"Breaking down stereotypes takes lots and lots of talking; it takes lots of time."

A 1944 graduate of Talladega College in Alabama, Dr. Dobb holds a master's degree and a Ph.D. in cell biology from New York University.

She has conducted basic research in cell biology under grants from the National Cancer Institute, Her areas of specialization include the genetic control of pigment formation and the effects of such agents as chemotherapeutic drugs and hormones on cells.
