Play area to open on Monday

Schedule includes softball and tennis

Monday will be opening day for the Mountainside Recreation Commission's summer playground. Tennis instruction, the youth tennis team and the Women's Softball League are also scheduled to begin.

The playground, for children who will enter first grade or above in the fall, is open weekdays from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 4 p. m. The program is held at the Echobrook field. Arts and crafts, four-square, nok-hockey, games, special events and a variety of activities are offered. There is no registration fee, but parents must register their children. Registrations will be accepted during playground hours beginning on Monday.

The first session of tennis lessons for both adults and youths will also start on Monday at the Echobrook courts. At press time, there were still openings in all levels of classes, from beginner to intermediate. The registration fee for the six 45-minute lessons is $9 for youths (ages 10-16) and $14 for adults. Session I will run from June 27 to July 8. Three other sessions follow. There are openings in all of the remaining sessions.

The youth tennis team will commence practice on Tuesday. The team is for players aged 10-16 with intermediate and advanced tennis skills. Matches are scheduled with other communities. The registration fee is $5 per person.

Carol Moffit will coach the team, as well as conduct the lessons with Nancy Harter. Carol teaches in Elizabeth and has extensive tennis experience. She was assistant pro at the Ashbrook Indoor Tennis Club, and has directed tennis programs in Westfield, Scotch Plains, and South Plainfield. She replaces Jim Farrell, who has accepted the fulltime position of director of adult education and recreation in Bordentown.

Women's Softball League games are scheduled for Monday through Thursday evenings at the Deerfield School. Game time is 6:30.

Registrations are also being accepted

THE VICTOR'S SPOILS—Coach Martin Taglienti looks over some of the trophies Dayton athletes have garnered over the years. Taglienti, who coaches the Dayton track program, recently won the 300th dual meet of his career.

By JEFF FEINGOLD

People say that when one of the members of the Dayton track team finishes an event—it doesn't matter if he finishes first or last—a coach of the team will go over to the athlete and explain to him what he did right and what he did wrong.

Which tells something about the philosophy of Martin Taglienti, the head coach of the track team. This season, Taglienti said, 108 boys and girls tried out for the team, and of those 108, anyone who wanted was encouraged to participate as a member of the team. "We don't cut kids," Taglienti said. "Everyone who comes out will participate, all we ask is that the kids put time and effort into the sport. I just want kids to try and achieve a goal, no matter how great or small the goal is."

Taglienti, who recently won his 300th dual meet as a head coach, has been in that job for nine years. He came to Dayton in 1958 to teach English and in 1959 he became an assistant to the then head coach Robert Lummer. In 1965, he formed cross-country and winter track teams and since 1968 has coached three teams during the school year.

"I'm very fortunate to have a wife and children who are my biggest fans. Because of the amount of time I have to put into those teams, I don't eat many dinners with my family during the season. But my wife backs me, although you might say by being a coach you have to neglect your family in a certain way."

But Taglienti wouldn't consider not spending so much time with his team—

he holds practices three to four hours after school during the season, and he has a practice on Saturday. "For any coach to be successful," he said, "he has to have dedication. He has to be willing to give up all of his extra time. He can't take short cuts."

AND TAGLIENTI is successful. His record as a coach now stands at 300 victories, 45 losses and two ties—an .869 winning percentage. He has captured eight conference championships, nine invitational championships, six state sectional championships, one county championship, two state group championships and one state group relay championship.

But he is more proud of the "kids" who grow as athletes and as people—especially the 50 athletes—over the years—who won conference, sectional, group and state championships. Taglienti will not, when asked, name one athlete of the hundreds he has coached as his most outstanding athlete. But, he will talk about Bruce Heide, "the one person who has gone farthest during my coaching career." Heide was the only New Jersey boy in 1975 to win an Eastern States championship.

To maintain a winning record, Taglienti said, a coach must have complete confidence in his knowledge of the sport—the kind of confidence the athletes can sense. "I need to have a special rapport with my team. Not the 'buddy-buddy' kind that some coaches have, where the kids call them by their first names. If you have a relationship

Ordinance introduced for municipal complex

By KAREN ZAUTYK

A $75,000 bond ordinance for additional renovation of the Echobrook School into a municipal complex was introduced by the Mountainside Borough Council at its monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Beechwood School.

Also at the session, it was reported that the borough has begun preliminary work on a new master plan, the first drawn up for the community since 1965.

There was no discussion on the new bond ordinance, but the funds reportedly are to be used primarily for the police headquarters. A total of $200,000 previously was appropriated for that work. A public hearing on the ordinance will be held at the council's July 19 meeting.

Public Works Commissioner Bruce Geiger reported that the Planning Board attorney, Susan Mullen, last week was authorized to negotiate a contract with Robert Catlin & Associates of Denville, planning consultants, for preparation of a new master plan, portions of which are required under the new state municipal land use law. The previous master plan was passed by the Planning Board in April 1965, but never was implemented by the council.

Borough attorney John Post noted the new plan will not be ready for public hearings until mid- or late-1978. Borough Engineer Robert Koser must first collect data, he noted, and Catlin Associates will require at least a year to complete a draft of the plan.

At the session, council awarded a $33,700 contract to Brookside Contractors Inc., Union, for construction of a new parking lot and landscaping at the municipal building. Recreation Commissioner William Cullen, noting that the summer playground program will open at the Echobrook field on Monday, received assurances that the contractor will receive notice to take all

Spina named campaign chief of fund drive

The trustees of the Mountainside Community Fund this week announced that Tom Spina has agreed to be chairman of the 1977-78 campaign. Mable Young, retiring chairperson, said, "He was the unanimous choice of the trustees to head Mountainside's campaign next year."

She added, "We wish to thank all the residents of Mountainside who contributed to the 1976-1977 fund for their generous support. We did not reach our goal this year, but we look forward to a better year in 1977-1978."

"We'll be contacting all residents in October and hope they will respond as generously as possible. Business establishments in Mountainside will also be asked to contribute to this worthwhile project. The Rescue Squad is our biggest recipient and we all know their value to the community," commented Young. "So, let's all back up Tom and push next year's drive right over the top."

Brewers win crown; All-Star team picked

By RICH REITER

This week marks the end of one season and the beginning of another for the Mountainside Little League. Regular season play has just about drawn to a close, and the All-Star team, the Mountainside Mountaineers, has been chosen.

The American League Brewers outlasted the Yankees, 2-1, in the championship game. The Brewers took a 1-0 lead on a home run by Myles Carter, and kept that lead behind the pitching of Tim Van Name and Matthew Miller and the strong fielding of shortstop Jason Johnson. The Yankees' Brian Daily hit a home run but the Brewers snapped the tie with two out in the last inning when Louis Caiola drove in Brett Stolz with the winning run.

In a Major League game, the Twins topped the Braves 12-10. M. J. Castelo and Bill Carthy combined on the mound. Scott Burdge and Castelo drove in three runs apiece and Carthy batted in two.

In a Pony League quarterfinal playoff game, the Pintos beat the Mustangs, 8-4. John Baumgartner went the distance to pick up the victory, striking out 13, and drove in two runs.

The Broncos eliminated the Mavericks from the Pony playoffs, 12-8, on 11 hits. Mike Baumgartner allowed only two hits and two runs in four innings of relief work. In addition, he hit a

First adult party to be held July 2

The borough's first annual adult party will be held on Saturday night, July 2, at the Mountainside Community Pool. Admission to the party is $1 per couple and couples are being asked to bring their own food setups and drinks. The party will start at 8:30 p. m. and music will be provided by tapes.

Deerfield grads get awards

Members of the graduating class of Deerfield School who received awards at commencement exercises on Monday were:

Thomas Hobbib, valedictorian, from the Mountainside Cultural Heritage Committee; Dana Levinson, salutatorian, from the Sanford Family; Denis Souders and Joelle Haughey, citizenship awards from the American Legion; Hobbib and Haughey, service citation from the Rotary Club of Mountainside.

Also, Keith Hanigan and Maureen Reiley, citizenship awards from the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution; David Klingler, history award from the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution; Mary Esmplare, service honor from the American Red Cross; Erik Jaffe, an award in creative writing, and Amy Julian, an award in creative art from the Parent-Teachers Association, and Jessica Fine, vocal award, and Klingler, instrumental award, from the Mountainside Music Association.

Summer schedule

The Free Public Library of Mountainside will be closed Saturdays during July and August. The library also will be closed Monday, July 4, in observance of Independence Day.

The top job for Torborg

Jeff Torborg of Mountainside was named Sunday as manager of the Cleveland Indians, succeeding Frank Robinson. At 35, he becomes the youngest manager in major league baseball.

A star at Rutgers University, Torborg spent 10 years in the major leagues as a catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the California Angels. He has been a coach with Cleveland for 2½ years. Torborg has signed to manage the Indians through the 1978 season.

Funds granted for work-study at 5 institutions

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Federal awards for five Union County institutions participating in college work-study programs have been announced by Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-N.J.).

The grants went to Kean College, Union, $282,993; Union College, Cranford, $20,755; Elizabeth General Hospital School of Nursing, Elizabeth, $18,688; Lincoln Technical Institute, Union, $9,645, and Union Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, $3,887.

Rinaldo said the grants are based on the estimated number of students eligible for work-study programs. There are 643 at Kean College, 47 at Union College, 42 at Elizabeth General Hospital School of Nursing, 22 at Lincoln Technical Institute and nine at Union Technical Institute.

Additionally, four institutions in the county received federal funding for participation in student loan programs.

They are Kean College, $234,386; Lincoln Technical Institute, $59,783; Robert Walsh Business School, Union, $40,422, and Sawyer School, Elizabeth, $15,960.

Supplemental education opportunity grants for seven Union County institutions also were announced. They are:

Kean College, $70,031; Robert Walsh Business School, $47,972; Lincoln Technical Institute, $39,640; Sawyer School, $28,155; Elizabeth General Hospital School of Nursing, $14,364; Muhlenberg Hospital School of Nursing, Plainfield, $7,079, and Union County Technical Institute, $2,509.

The grants and funding approvals were made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

British and patriots to reenact the 1777 battle of Short Hills

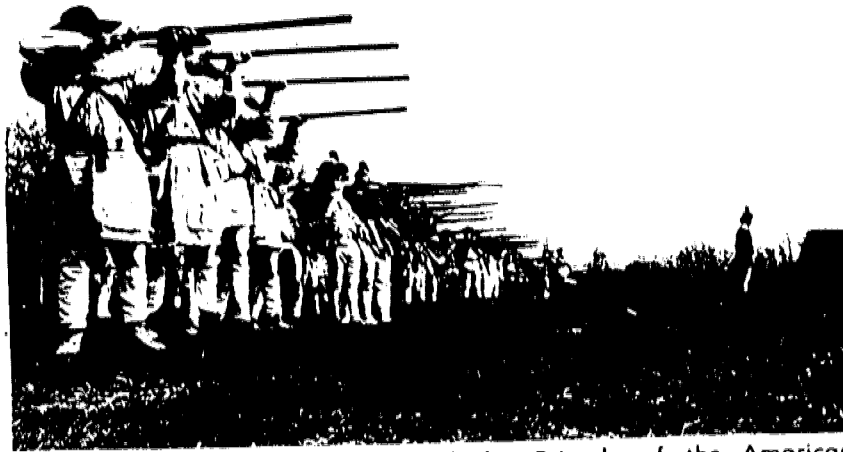

The rattle of musketry and the roar of cannon will echo through the countryside Saturday and Sunday when British Redcoats once again invade Union County. But there is no cause for alarm. The Patriot Forces came out on top in 1777, and they are expected to again, when the Brigade of the American Revolution reenacts the Battle of the Short Hills.

A two-day program commemorating the 200th anniversary of the battle will be presented by the Union County Cultural and Heritage Board, an agency of the Board of Freeholders. The commemoration will be held in conjunction with the Union County Technical Institute and the Union County Park Commission. The program will be held on the grounds of the institute and the adjoining Ashbrook Reservation in Scotch Plains.

More than 25 units of the Brigade of the American Revolution will have members present to demonstrate 18th century crafts, perform military drills and tactical demonstrations, and participate in the battle reenactment. Among the many colorful units on hand will be the killed 42nd Royal Highland Regiment of Foot and the Hessian Regiment von Dittfurth, representing the forces of His Majesty, George III; the white-uniformed 18th Gatinois Regiment, representing America's French allies; Captain Samuel Nicholas' Battalion of the Continental Marines; U.S. plumed-helmeted Corps of Light Infantry, the Daniel Morgan Rifle Company and the Third New Jersey Regiment (the famous Jersey Blues), all representing the patriots.

Other units include: the 23rd and 43rd Regiments of Foot (British line units); Hessian Jaegers; Butler's Rangers; Billopp's Corp of Staten Island Militia and Delancy's Brigade (Loyalist Units); the third and fourth New York Regiments, the first Massachusetts Regiment of the (Continental line units); the Essex County and the 13th Albany County Militia and Lamb's Artillery and the New York Company of Artillery — Alexander Hamilton's Train.

Ironically, although the Brigade of the American Revolution has participated in numerous battle reenactments in the past several years throughout the eastern United States and Canada, this will be the first time the 18th century soldiers have not fought on manicured lawns. According to Robert Fridlington, professor of

STAND FOR FREEDOM—Members of the Brigade of the American Revolution prepare to fire a volley at British Redcoats as part of a reenactment of the Battle of the Short Hills. The battle will be remembered on its 200th anniversary in programs Saturday and Sunday on the Union County Technical Institute and Ashbrook Reservation grounds in Scotch Plains.

American History at Kean College and chairman of the Battle Advisory Committee, the Battle of the Short Hills will be reenacted on an undeveloped portion of Park Commission land in the Ashbrook Reservation, over terrain quite similar to that which existed 200 years ago. Fridlington also added, "the reenactment will take place just a short distance from the scene of the heaviest fighting in the original battle."

Some 20th century Boy Scouts are assisting the 18th century soldiers in preparing for the battle. Ensign John Kolaya of Plainfield, Brigade Liaison Officer, has announced that scouts from Troops 33 and 111 in Fanwood, 72 in Westfield, and 130 and 203 in Scotch Plains will assist in setting up the camp and will provide guide service during the two-day event. Among the scouts' other contributions will be the construction of garrisons, a form of Revolutionary-era fortifications.

The Cultural and Heritage Board has struck a special medal to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the battle. The medals will be sold during the program.

In a related activity, the Scotch Plains Bicentennial Committee will dedicate a Short Hills Battle Monument at the entrance of the Ashbrook Golf Course, a Union County Park facility, on Sunday, at 11 a.m. William G. Binnewies of the National Park Service, will be the featured speaker at the dedication ceremonies.

Training offered by CETA

Training for 60 unemployed persons will be made available this fall by the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program operated by the Union County Division of Employment and Training.

Larry J. Lockhart, director of the Department of Human Resources, said all programs would begin next September at no cost to participants. Applications may be obtained at the Eastern Center office of the division at 20 E. Elizabeth ave., Linden, for residents of Linden, Union, Roselle, Roselle Park, Winfield and Kenilworth (call 925-3200). Residents of Springfield and Mountaintop may apply through the Western Center at 128 W. Seventh st., Plainfield (call 757-9090).

The application deadline is Sept. 30. High school diplomas are required.

The training will be offered in 22 career fields at Union County Vocational Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, and at a facility to be designated after contracts are awarded by the county. Training areas include clerical-typing, basic auto mechanics, health careers and business careers, engineering technologies, vocational certificate programs

The Coves opens in federal wildlife area

After a generation of success and steady growth, Village Harbour, the seashore community on the bay across from Long Beach Island, in Manahawkin, has embarked on a new project: an all new waterfront community called The Coves.

The "New Seashore," as the Coves has been dubbed, is being created on a 4,000-acre federal wildlife preserve. According to William Tynan, project director at Village Harbour for Lincoln Property Co., the developer, "The opening of the Coves marks the beginning of a new era for us here. That's one reason we're calling it the New Seashore."

Tynan said the key to the future success of the Coves lies in delivering the kinds of homes people want. "Everything we have learned over the past several years about building what today's homebuyer wants, and can afford, is being utilized at the Coves. So far, consumer response has been phenomenal."

New home and lot sales at the Coves are expected to reach 200 by the end of the year. Tynan reported that within the last several weeks, 57 contracts and deposits have been made by buyers. A record year for sales is anticipated. Much of the success enjoyed by Village Harbour is due to the fact that waterfront property at the seashore is at a minimum. "Village Harbour can be considered one of the last of the great waterfront communities," said Tynan.

Considering the scarcity of waterfront land in New Jersey that is suitable for building, the prices at the Coves have been kept down. For example, homes sell for $34,900 to $42,900. Comparable homes on the bay in Long Beach Island are in the $75,000 to $100,000 range. Tynan pointed out, however, that due to rising construction costs, consumers can expect a general price increase at the Coves by mid-July.

The Coves is an entirely new section of houses separated by water from the major portion of the Village Harbour community. A separate private entrance from Rt. 72 to the Coves has been constructed that passes two fresh water lakes and crosses Mill Creek. A large wooded area and the surrounding wildlife preserve gives the Coves a quiet, secluded feeling.

Another important difference between the Coves and the original section of Village Harbour is lot size. Building lots at the Coves are 50 percent larger and all lots are fully bulkheaded. The homes are on the public sewer and water systems and all streets are paved and curbed.

A package has been put together this year that makes buying a home at the Coves affordable. Right now, 8 1/2 percent financing is available to qualified buyers.

'Glen' site at shore

Jordan Glen Homes has announced that construction is continuing on ranches, colonials and Dutch bi-levels in Brick Town, with first occupancies to begin July 1. Lot sizes are a quarter of an acre, with curbs, sidewalks, paved driveways and underground utilities. Many lots are wooded. Homes will have 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 baths, three to four bedrooms, family room living room, dining room, kitchen, utility room and garage.

Standard features include electric range hood, dishwasher, 150-amp electric service, oil heat ductwork installed for central air conditioning, full six inch insulation in ceiling and four inches in walls,

Merit Cigarette Sets New Taste Standard.

Tests confirm low tar MERIT delivers flavor of higher tar cigarettes.

There is a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

Technology created it.

Taste tests proved it.

Smokers are confirming it.

In fact, 75% of all MERIT smokers are former high tar cigarette smokers—the toughest taste critics of low tar smoking.

MERIT—the cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco—seems to be solving the smoker dilemma of having to choose between high tar or low taste.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Tests Prove Taste

MERIT and MERIT 100's were both tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes. The results proved conclusively that 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco does boost taste without the usual increase in tar.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.
