Teachers approve 'contract'

The Mountainside Teachers Association (MTA) voted overwhelmingly Tuesday afternoon to approve the controversial memo of understanding and salary guide initiated last month by negotiators for the teachers and the Board of Education.

MTA president F. William Ortolf said 52 teachers voted "yes," three did not vote because they were new to the district and eight abstained.

Ortolf said there was no discussion at the teachers' meeting, and the educators had no questions about the proposed salary hikes. The MTA president said he presented the background of the memo to the teachers and "sold it to them." Ortolf said the teachers "felt we had done the job" the negotiators had set out to do.

Ortolf said he has not had any discussions with the school board. He said, "The ball is in their court," and added that the teachers will wait to see what the board decides at their regular meeting Tuesday.

Board negotiations chairman Ron Wood called a special meeting last Thursday to lay the facts concerning the snag in settling this year's teacher's contracts before the board. The meeting, originally intended to be open to the public, was held in executive session because a quorum was unattainable.

Board president William Biunno said Friday he would not discuss what had happened at that meeting and that he has instructed board members they are under a "gag order" not to talk about the negotiations.

The controversy surrounding the memo of understanding and salary guide began three weeks ago when the board found it had made a mistake in the computations for total salary increases.

The two sides had initialled the memo accepting salary increases on Aug. 15 and both apparently thought the negotiations were completed. After Wood had signed the memo, he said he

Area residents may register in-person at any of the four Regional High Schools next Thursday, Sept. 15, from 6 to 9 p.m.

New courses this term include duplicate bridge, magic, rare books, advanced oil painting, water coloring, Spanish III, party fare, studio painting, Hawaiian hula and Tahitian dancing, techniques in alterations, slip covering, Ceramics II, Irish history and culture, Antique Restoring I and II and pattern alteration.

Among the programs returning this fall are foreign languages, yoga, memory, assertive training, SAT review, slimnastics, volleyball, guitar, piano, aviation ground school, arts and crafts courses, golf, dancing, tennis, office practice and vocational education courses, sewing, needlecrafts, quilt making and a variety of cooking courses.

Interested persons should refer to the adult-community continuing education brochure which was mailed to all area residents for information regarding class listings, descriptions and schedules. For additional information, they may call the office of adult and continuing education at 376-6300.

Red Cross unit to elect officers

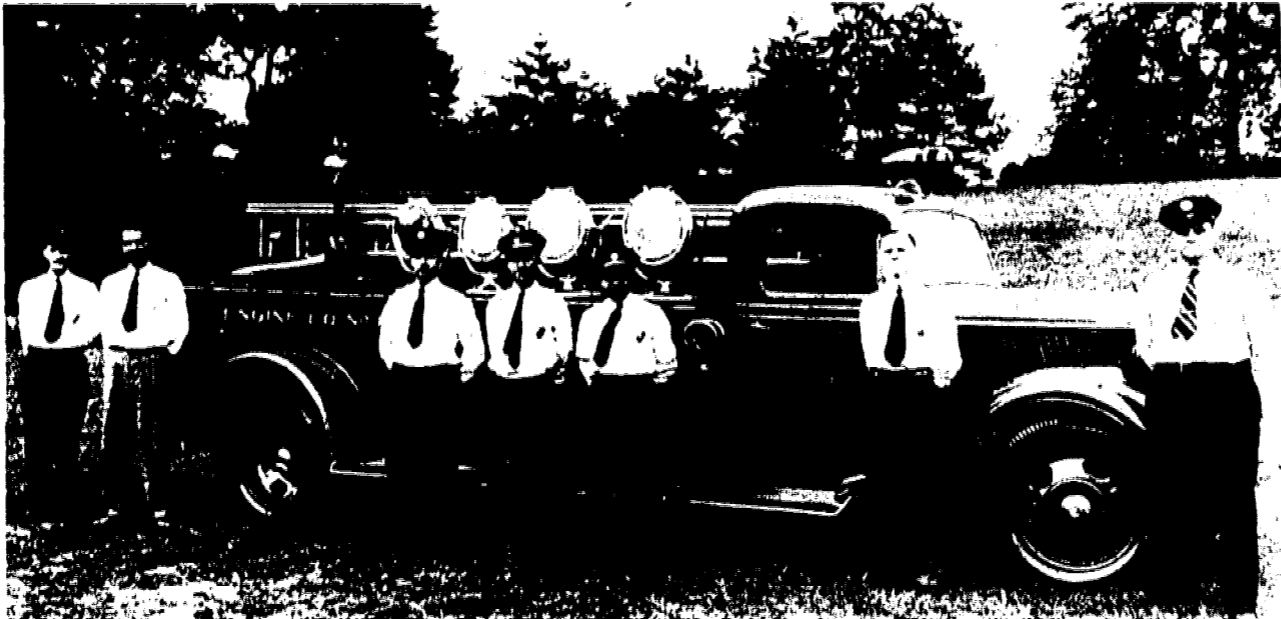

The annual meeting of the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in the chapter house, 321 Elm st., Westfield.

Election of officers will take place and service awards given to volunteers. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

In addition, Henry Schnoirer of New Jersey Blood Services will show slides and movies explaining the Red Cross blood program.

Guard sought

The Mountainside Police Department is still in need of one more school crossing guard for the 1977-78 school year. The part-time position pays $3.50 an hour. Interested applicants should apply at police headquarters.

How to construct a government Hoffarth was first local administrator

Second of a Series

BY DENISE RENNER MARTIN

If Elmer and Emily Hoffarth had not gotten lost while looking for a home in the area in 1940, Mountainside would have missed two of the greatest contributors to the borough.

Hoffarth had been transferred to the Linden GM plant from Tarrytown, N.Y., and the couple was searching for a home within commuting distance of Hoffarth's new job. They had almost decided on a Westfield home, but got lost off Rt. 22 and stumbled upon Mountainside, where they have lived ever since.

Hoffarth was supervisor in chassis material handling at GM, but in 1949 he resigned his position for health reasons. At the same time, the borough tax collector was retiring and Hoffarth applied for and then was elected to fill the vacancy.

Hoffarth then became the first full-time municipal employee in Mountainside, except for the police department. He was also appointed assistant borough clerk and treasurer. He rose to the borough clerk's position in 1958 when Robert Laing retired, and he held that position until 1972.

When the former borough clerk began his government career, he was all alone and was at one time not only clerk and tax collector, but also treasurer, court clerk, custodian of school funds and business administrator. Later a part-time aide was added and eventually the staff began to grow.

BUT EVEN BEFORE Hoffarth began as an employee of the borough, he was involved in civic endeavors. During World War II, even though he was overage, Hoffarth joined the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Department and remained on the force for 12 years. He and seven others who manned the fire truck during the war years bought a Ford chassis and built a body on it to carry water hoses up the steep inclines throughout the borough.

Hoffarth was also on the district board of education for 12 years and was instrumental in acquiring acreage for the Deerfield and Beechwood schools.

In a recent interview, Mrs. Hoffarth proudly chimed in that her husband was the only board member to be given a dinner by the teachers upon his retirement from the board. He was also presented with the same diploma given students graduating from the elementary schools.

There were only about 1,000 people in Mountainside when the Hoffarths moved to the borough, and they have seen the community develop from primarily farm land to its present state.

Registration starts for sports program

Registrations are now being accepted for a number of fall programs and events being sponsored by the Mountainside Recreation Commission. Among the activities scheduled are boys' and girls' soccer, the Sept. 27 Yankee Stadium trip, the Oct. 1st Pele farewell trip, men's and women's open gym and Slimnastics.

Soccer begins this Saturday for both boys and girls. Fourth to sixth grade boys will meet from 10 a.m. to noon at Deerfield, and seventh and eighth grade boys will meet from 2 to 4 p.m.

The younger boys will participate in instructional clinics for the first three weeks. All participants will then be placed on teams and league play will commence in October. All registrants will play in at least two quarters of each game.

The seventh and eighth grade boys will also have an instructional clinic for 3 weeks, and then will participate in the Union County Soccer League. The registration fee for each boy is $4.

The girls' program will meet at Echobrook at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday. An instructional clinic will be held for several weeks, and then play in the Tri-County Girls' Soccer League will begin. The league includes two divisions: Fourth to sixth grades and seventh and eighth grades. All registrants will participate in league games. The registration fee is $4 per person.

A trip to Yankee Stadium is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Sept. 27, for the Yankee-Cleveland game. The Indians are managed by Jeff Torborg of Mountainside. The bus for the game will leave Deerfield School at 5:45 p.m. Children must be accompanied by adults. The registration fee is $8.50 per person.

On Saturday, Oct. 1, a trip to Giant Stadium is planned for the farewell game of soccer superstar Pele. The game features the Cosmos against Santos, Pele's Brazilian team. The bus will leave Deerfield School at 11:30 a.m. Children must be accompanied by adults. The registration fee is $8.50 per person.

Men's and women's open gym nights are scheduled to begin on Sept. 21 and 26, respectively. The men's program is for borough residents aged 18 and above and is scheduled for Wednesday evenings at the Deerfield gym. Basketball may be played between 6 and 10 p.m. and volleyball from 8 to 10 p.m.

The women's program will meet Mondays at the Deerfield gym.

District board hears plea on job-training

By HELEN REYNOLDS

The Union County Regional High School District should consider offering a comprehensive job-training program at every campus for the growing percentage of students who do not want a four-year college degree, a district Board of Education member said Tuesday.

"We don't require a kid to leave his 'home school' if he wants to take courses that will get him into a four-year college," according to board member Roland Hecker of Berkeley Heights. "Maybe it's time to take the same approach toward courses leading to an entry level job."

Hecker pointed out that students from the Springfield-Mountainside area must transfer away from their "home school," Jonathan Dayton High, if they want to take advantage of district offerings in cosmetology or auto mechanics. These two courses are offered at David Brearley High in Kenilworth and Arthur Johnson High in Clark, but not at the other Regional campuses: Dayton in Springfield and Gov. Livingston High in Berkeley Heights. Similarly, students from the other campuses must transfer to Dayton for graphic arts and to Gov. Livingston for electronics.

"This made sense when 90 percent of our kids planned to go to a four-year college, but it might not make any sense today," said Hecker. In his own area, Berkeley Heights, the 90-percent figure "has dropped to 60 percent in the last seven years," Hecker continued, "and I imagine the statistics are about the same in the rest of the district. I think we have to reexamine a lot of our goals."

HECKER'S FAR-RANGING PROPOSAL was an offshoot of a "home school" discussion sparked by parents demanding assurance that student musicians will not be thrown out of a district-wide orchestra unless they transfer from the other three schools to Gov. Livingston.

The school board approved plans Aug. 2 for a classroom orchestra at Gov. Livingston, including any students willing to transfer there from the other three schools on a half-time or a full-time basis.

George Schlenker of Kenilworth, father of a young musician, said students from all four schools last year proved their willingness to rehearse after class, to provide their own transportation and to perform in concert—all without receiving any extra credit toward graduation.

"You had a good thing started," said Schlenker about the extra-curricular orchestra, and students "deserve a clear assurance that it will be vigorously continued."

Board members, in turn, demanded the assurance from the district coordinator of cultural arts, Edward Brown, who gave it—more or less.

Brown said the orchestra course at Gov. Livingston is planned as an addition to the district's music program, "not as replacement of anything else."

A part-time instructor, Mariann Anecchino, has been hired for the expansion.

"I envision that everything else will remain the same," said Brown, but he pointed out that string instructor Walter Both last year donated after-class time for the volunteer orchestra. "I have no reason to doubt that the donations will continue, but I can't make promises with somebody else's time."

During the discussion about the orchestra, district officials conceded that students are deeply reluctant to leave their home campuses for programs elsewhere—even if they want the programs enough to volunteer time after class.

Board secretary John O'Hara said that only 54 students, in a district of more than 5,000, currently take advantage of non-vocational programs offered for those willing to travel between campuses. Hecker suggested vocational programs would also be far more popular if students could take them without leaving their hometown friends and loyalties.

"This is something I've been thinking about for quite some time," Hecker said after the meeting. "It's just plain fact that fewer kids plan to go to a four-year college, and, at the same time, about 99 percent don't want to make intra-district transfers for vocational programs. Maybe we should start offering these courses at all the campuses."

Traffic light in search of a location

If any residents of Mountainside know where a new traffic light is to be installed in the borough, perhaps they can let state, county and local officials, as well as this publication, know.

A news release from the New Jersey Department of Transportation (DOT) said an advertisement for bids had been placed by the department for the installation of a traffic signal in the borough of Mountainside. A check with the traffic engineering department at DOT yielded no location information. They had never heard of the project.

Walter Gardner of the Union County Planning Board said he had never heard of it, and Robert Koser, borough engineer, was not familiar with what it could be.

Neither Borough Clerk Helena Dunn nor officers in the police department knew of any new traffic light to be installed in Mountainside. Even the public relations department at DOT that issued the release couldn't find any information to substantiate the project. If anyone sees any signal construction, feel free to call.

The State We're In

N.J. Conservation Foundation

My first reaction to a scheme to permit a commercial amusement area into Liberty Park, being created with Green Acres money along the Jersey City waterfront, was amazement bordering on amusement. My amusement vanished only slightly faster than my amazement.

The idea of twisting the legal and moral rationale for a badly needed public parkland in the most built-up and decaying area of the country's most densely populated state is so ludicrous that it's almost funny. Not really, though.

And who should be amazed at the things powerful, moneyed interests can accomplish by tugging on the right strings and unleashing clever propaganda? Nobody in this state we're in, surely.

Of course, what's being proposed by a coalition of businessmen headed by interests responsible for the "Great Adventure" amusement park in the Pine Barrens isn't your run-of-the-mill tacky amusement park. Of course not. It's some sort of a "theme park," already inflating into a world's fair kind of thing.

Murmurings of "how else can the state afford to create Liberty Park?" are being selectively leaked from certain sectors of state government in Trenton. Mrs. Audrey Zapp, a dedicated member of the new Liberty State Park Commission, points out: "No other suburban or rural park in New Jersey has to worry about financing its operation." She asks: "Why should Liberty Park be different?"

I'm afraid the answer to her question is that never before has it been to the advantage of powerful special interests to manufacture such an issue.

New Jersey taxpayers (otherwise known as voters) may have some clear responses to the idea of their helping to finance somebody's amusement park, even indirectly. Their repeated support of Green Acres bond issues has stemmed from honest awareness of the urgent need for more public (not commercial) open space recreation opportunities.

Mrs. Zapp may be in the minority on the new nine-member Park Commission, created by Gov. Brendan Byrne last May. Its chairman, Brian J. Strum, has been quoted in the press as stating that a master-plan for the park "is very flexible" and that "we can act independently of it."

Talk being generated for a "permanent" world's fair type of attraction is nothing short of fanciful, although it probably raises enough visions of sugarplums among the right people to serve its immediate purpose.

Gigantic and costly productions like this have a way of becoming a sudden and expensive bore to the general public. They lose money. So do overly ambitious amusement parks of lesser pretensions. The record in New Jersey is already well established with the recent demise of Jungle Habitat.

But their environmental destruction lingers on long after they are gone. Something like that in a public park is definitely not a good idea.

Reaction to this oncoming mess has been quick and decisive. We at the New Jersey Conservation Foundation have aligned ourselves with some two dozen civic and environmental groups to form "The Coalition to Save Liberty State Park," to campaign against use of the site by private interests.

Fires cost billions

Fires cost the United States approximately $4.4 billion last year. This means the average annual price of fire waste is about $20 for every man, woman and child in the nation. Fire's victims are children about 30 percent of the time. Some 3,500 youngsters through age 15 perish from fire each year. And an estimated 25 percent of the tragedies take place when the children are alone or without proper supervision.

WORRIED AND WEARY—A young flood victim and his mother show the strain of their ordeal resulting from recent severe flooding in Southwestern Pennsylvania. The Red Cross set up disaster assistance centers to aid victims of the floods. TEETH TOO
Orating on hell-fire, the minister vividly described the sufferings of the damned. The congregation sat in rapt attention as he eloquently described Dante's Inferno. At the end of his sermon, he quoted from the gospel: "On that day, there will be a weeping and a wailing and a gnashing of teeth." "But some of us have no teeth," interjected the toothless senior citizen in the back pew. "On that day," predicted the minister, "teeth will be provided."

SMOKE DETECTORS
Smoke detectors are a good investment—providing you know what you are buying and how it works. Three basic types are currently on the market, two of which are highly recommended.

In the ion chamber detector, smoke or combustion particles reduce an electrical flow and set off the alarm.

The photo-electric detector has a sensor which activates an alarm when smoke deflects a light beam in a sensing chamber.

Detectors may operate through connection to the existing home electrical system or by battery. In most house fires, the electrical current does not fail before the detector sounds its alarm. Batteries in all detectors should be changed at least once a year, sometimes more often.

If your house has more than one level, you may need more than one detector. As a minimum requirement, one detector should be placed in the area where your family will be sleeping. It should be installed on the ceiling, several feet from each bedroom door.

Teen Talk

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I am 15 years old. My problem is with my friends. We have lots of fun, most of the time. Once in a while, however, someone suggests a beer party or a drive to a nearby city to "egg" someone's home or car. This is when I bow out. I've been caught once in a car full of teenagers and beer and I can't stand another rap. My friends act as if they might "dump" me if I don't go along with them all the time. "What should I do?"

OUR REPLY: You're doing it right. Stick to your guns. If your friends "dump" you because you don't want to go around asking for trouble and hardship, they aren't friends. Let them accept you the way you are, for what you are, or let them go their merry way.

6 juveniles, 5 others
facing drug charges

Eleven persons, including six juveniles, were arrested in Mountainside over the weekend for possession of various drugs.

Milton Bradby of Jersey City was stopped Saturday for speeding on Rt. 22 eastbound. Patrolman Jack Yerrich arrested the 18-year-old and then found seven envelopes of what was later determined to be marijuana.

Bradby, who was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, was released on $100 bail and is scheduled to appear in borough municipal court on Sept. 21. Two juveniles who were passengers in the car were released to the custody of their parents.

Also on Saturday, four juveniles, two aged 17 and two aged 15, were charged with possession of the controlled dangerous substance, Polyicillin. Police reports said seven capsules were found in an unmarked glass jar. The reports also said the youths had taken the car they were using without the owner's permission. One of the juveniles was charged with being an unlicensed driver. They were released to their parents.

Four adults were arrested Sunday for possession of under 25 grams of marijuana. Officers William Alden and John O'Lock said they stopped a car driven by Garfield Moore, of East Orange for a motor vehicle check and found two small envelopes of marijuana. Moore, age 30, and the passengers, Dennis Evans of Wilson, N.C., Brenda Johnson of Newark and Grady Green of Graceville, Fla., were all charged with possession of the drug. Moore was also charged with operating a car while his license was suspended.

Here, as on the appropriations side, changes in budget format preclude absolute comparability.

The sales and use tax is still the major source of State revenue with an estimated yield of $968 million, nearly 31 percent of anticipated current income and surplus. The projected increase of $66 million or 7.3 percent in fiscal year 1977-78, is smaller than the previous year due to repeal of the sales tax on business machinery and equipment effective Jan. 1, 1978.

Tax collection experience through April caused an upward revision of revenue estimates of corporate business taxes on net income and net worth of more than $40 million to a total of $530 million, nearly 17 percent of budgeted revenues in fiscal year 1978.

Other major sources of revenue are motor fuels tax, estimated $297 million; motor vehicle fees, $227 million; cigarette tax, $168 million; departmental fees, $249.4 million; lottery revenues, $80.7 million; and Federal General Revenue Sharing funds, $72.9 million.

As in the past several fiscal years, current income as originally projected in the 1978 Appropriations Law is considerably short of total appropriations. Including the supplemental salary-benefits appropriation, the deficit or excess of appropriations over current income stands at nearly $75 million. Budget balancing is financed by an estimated beginning surplus of $90.2 million on July 1, 1977. In view of the small and dwindling projected surplus for fiscal year 1978 and the large number of bills providing for additional supplemental appropriations advancing through the Legislature, NJTA recently urged the Legislature to establish procedures for more comprehensive fiscal analysis of new programs which have an impact on State Government finances.

—Confirmed that a controversial athletic-reorganization plan threatens the jobs of one or two untenured teachers whose assignments would be taken by former athletic directors displaced in the shakeup. But board president Charles E. Vitale Jr. of Kenilworth said there is also a chance the displaced directors can take jobs of other tenured teachers who resign before the reorganization is complete. The threat affects "one and one-eighth (positions) as of this moment," Vitale said. Teacher spokesman Regina Rice, who had opposed the entire reorganization, called it "cruel" to keep untenured faculty on tenterhooks.

The board conceded that the policy will not go far in meeting seniors' transportation needs, but said the restrictions are dictated by state law.

Wood and the other board member who initiated the agreement, Scott Schmedel, said last week they feel "morally and perhaps legally" bound to vote "yes" when the topic comes up for a vote next week, but none of the other five board members is under any obligation to do so. The board is not expected to approve the package. If the memo of understanding agreeing to recommend the salary boasts is not accepted by the board, it is possible negotiations could resume.

influences they felt would be undesirable to the area, yet made plans to incorporate an industrial area to lower tax rates for residents. Residential lots were not allowed to be smaller than 150 x 100 feet, and apartments were not allowed from the beginning.

Hoffarth said the boards kept "the ordinances tight" and kept out of Mountainside the long miles of billboards that appear along other stretches of Rt. 22. Hoffarth said there were no political factions in the early days of the borough and it was easier to get things done.

The 70-year-old former borough clerk has amassed a collage of awards which are displayed along two stair walls in his Evergreen court home. Hoffarth is a charter member and first president of the Rotary Club, a silver life member of the New Jersey Policemen's Benevolent Association, former treasurer of the Bestowers' and on the parish council of Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

As active as Hoffarth was in the community, it was his wife, Emily, who was the driving force behind the building of the Mountainside Library. The next part of this series will focus on Mrs. Hoffarth.

Marijuana expensive for 2 hailed into court

Mountainside municipal court Judge Jacob Bauer has ordered two men to pay $65 apiece for possessing less than 25 grams of marijuana. Richard Gold of Union and William Wineglass of Charleston, S.C., faced Bauer last week in court.

In traffic court, three Plainfield men were each fined a total of $215 for driving while their licenses were suspended. The three were James Bradley, Fred Banks, who was also fined $35 for using plates issued to another vehicle, and Alex Kerr, who paid an additional $20 for failure to report an address change.

Richard Laird of Springfield was ordered to pay $60 for having an unregistered vehicle, driving on an expired registration and having an overdue inspection sticker.

Judge Bauer fined Gregory Thiel of Mountainside $30, including court costs, for the careless driving while making a right turn on red.

A Jersey City man, Duane Simon, was ordered to pay $55 for driving an unregistered vehicle and using plates not authorized for that car.

James Bradley of Plainfield was fined $40 including costs for driving without registration or insurance cards in his possession.

A Kearny man was fined a total of $40 for failing to make repairs to his vehicle. Victor Donofrio was also found guilty of being an unlicensed driver.

Union County Park Police filed a complaint against a Westfield man for trespassing. Bauer found Paul Elmdorf guilty of climbing over the security fence surrounding the Watchung Reservation water tower and fined him $20.

DiFrancesco
of 'lifeline' bill

Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco (R-Union-Morris) this week called for immediate action on "lifeline" legislation that would give residential gas and electric customers the lowest possible rates for a minimum amount of energy used each month.

In expressing his support for Assembly Bill 1830, scheduled for consideration when the legislature reconvenes, DiFrancesco said, "A certain amount of energy is necessary for heating, lighting, and cooking. When senior citizens and others on fixed or low incomes must choose between paying the utility bill and putting food on the table, it is time for action."

The 22nd District assemblyman said early passage of the lifeline bill is essential to ease the economic burden on New Jersey residents this winter.

DiFrancesco noted that the lifeline legislation would also encourage energy conservation. "By providing minimum electricity and gas at lower rates, we will also provide incentives for minimum energy use," the Assemblyman said.

The lifeline bill would direct the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners to determine the minimum energy needs of the average residential consumer, and to designate that amount as eligible for a "lifeline rate," which would be the utility company's lowest rate.

LETTER OF THANKS

Gary Clover's great smile is missing now.

Our family has made the adjustment superficially, realizing Gary won't be with us any more.

We would have lost all else, too, if it had not been for Mildred Pastore, who gathered the churches, temples, schools, businesses and people of Mountainside and surrounding towns together to save us from eminent financial disaster.

We shall never forget the warmth, generosity and compassion displayed.

More than anything else, we want to say, "Thank you, God, for giving Gary a friend called Father Charlie."

CITY FEDERAL SAVINGS

Now: Pay Bills...earn Interest! Later! Checking...with Interest!

New Jersey's Billion Dollar Family Financial Center Brings You Maximum Convenience in Banking.

Now—is a fantastic new type of account because... it enables you to pay bills and at the same time earn interest.
And... LATER... it will become your checking account that will continue to earn interest for you.

Now—is a new banking concept that will enable you to control your finances more conveniently and safely and earn interest at the same time.

Your Now—account will enable you to pay all your bills with one quick phone call. Simply call us toll free 800-492-4099 and tell us whom you want to pay and how much. City Federal will handle everything.

You can pay any bill with Now. Yes—you can pay your credit cards—your utilities—your department store charges.

Even if you have a fixed payment to make, like your monthly mortgage or rent, or even a weekly contribution to your place of worship, just tell us once, how much and when and we'll do it automatically for you—We'll even forward a check for you at any time, just tell us how much.

Now—saves you time—by eliminating futile search for envelopes and stamps. It also eliminates check writing and trips to the post office and mailbox. You simply call us, tell us who to pay, how much and when we should make payments. One short phone call takes care of it all.

You will get a complete easy-to-read monthly record showing all payments made, including the date of the payments, the payee, the amount paid, plus all your deposits and withdrawals, and the interest you earned for the period. What could be simpler? And the cost? Only 10¢ charge for each payment. That's cheaper than buying stamps and writing checks, not to mention the 5% interest your Now account will earn.

THAT'S RIGHT—Your Now account will earn 5% interest from day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal. Interest is compounded and credited monthly. If your monthly average balance falls below $300, there's a nominal charge of 50¢, but you continue to earn at the annual rate of 5% (no interest is earned for the period if your average monthly balance falls below $50).

Of course, you can make deposits and withdrawals at any one of our 65 conveniently located offices throughout New Jersey.

With your Now account, you'll also receive a complete annual review summarizing the total amount sent to each payee for the year. You'll have a complete record of your annual expenditures for tax purposes and planning your budget for the following year.

Now—you can have a payroll, social security, retirement or dividend check deposited automatically to your Now account.

Now—you can make free transfers from your Now account to your checking account—just let us know how much.

Now—you can make withdrawals and cash checks at more than 2,000 participating financial institutions across the nation.

LATER—your Now account will also provide check writing privileges and continue to earn 5% interest (or at the rate stated by law). That's right—as soon as City Federal Savings is given the authority to offer checking accounts, we'll automatically send you imprinted checks. You'll be the first to have a checking account with interest—without lifting a finger.

LATER—if the law allows—your Now account will also have overdraft privileges. LATER—you'll be able to pay for your groceries or other merchandise at select stores with your CITY card.

Your Now account has been designed for this future convenience.

Now and LATER—the Now account will lead to a complete Family Financial Management Program.

Now—a bill paying convenience that pays interest. LATER—a checking account that will earn interest and provide overdraft privileges.

There's No Other Way! Be the first to earn interest on checking!

QUITE A CLAIM

Some weeks after receiving a $10,000 check for the loss of her jewelry, a woman informed her insurance company that she had found the missing items. In a postscript, she added nonchalantly: "I didn't think it would be fair to keep both the jewels and the money, so I sent the $10,000 to my favorite charity."

Prepare for year's big blows County parks fall activities are lined up

John Hopkins, disaster chairman for the Eastern Union County Red Cross this week advised area residents that "hurricanes pose a potential threat for this area in that they generally have winds in excess of 75 miles per hour and are accompanied by heavy rains, often resulting in serious flooding."

The Red Cross suggested that area residents take at least the following preliminary precautions to reduce hurricane related damage and injuries:

"Check the grounds around your home. Remove dead or dying trees and shrubs. Anchor objects to the ground that cannot be moved inside, such as garbage cans, lawn chairs, picnic tables and dog houses.

"Check the outside of your home. Repair loose shingles and shutters. Secure television antennas. Repair shaky chimneys and rain gutters.

"Stock up on food and water, especially foods that can be eaten with little preparation.

"Make sure that your flashlights and battery-powered radios are in good working order.

"Above all, if a hurricane strikes the Union County area, stay indoors and listen to local radio or television for the latest information."

Further information regarding hurricane precautions is available from the Red Cross at 353-2500.

Dems: day care needed for aged

The three Democratic candidates for the Union County Board of Freeholders—Freeholder Walter Boright of Scotch Plains, Mayor Joanne Rajoppi of Springfield and Thomas Dillon of Elizabeth—this week called for county cooperation in the establishment of geriatric day-care facilities in Union County.

Boright noted that "Union County is one of the most densely populated counties in the state and a significant segment of our population is elderly. Certainly we must address ourselves to the social, medical and other requirements for the elderly in every way that we can. State and federal funding is available to subsidize such programs," he said.

"Such day-care facilities would allow elderly men and women to be cared for during the day while other members of their family go to work," Boright added.

"It could help prevent many elderly people from being relegated to nursing homes simply because there is no one available to care for them during certain hours of the day."

Mayor Rajoppi, a strong advocate of senior citizen programs in Springfield, said, "Geriatric day-care programs would incorporate recreational, educational, nutritional, medical and other services.

"We should also realize," she said, "that daily visits to such facilities could provide more frequently spaced medical examinations for these people. For many who are unable to afford private physicians, these medical exams are critical to help monitor their health."

Dillon said, "The majority of the communities in Union County already have senior citizens mini-buses. These could be utilized to provide free transportation to and from day-care facilities."

"In addition to mini-buses," he said, "we propose a system of free tokens for use by senior citizens on public transportation to and from such geriatric facilities. Just establishing a program doesn't solve the problem unless we can get the people there."

Boright, Rajoppi and Dillon concluded by stating: "These geriatric day-care facilities could be located at key points throughout the county utilizing county facilities such as Runnells Hospital and private and charitable agencies' facilities. The elderly of Union County," they said, "are deserving of the best services that county government can help supply."

Holy day message

DR. REUBEN R. LEVINE
Temple Beth Ahm

As the Jewish New Year (Rosh Hashana) and the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) approach, we are reminded of the beautiful legend of the "Book of Life." It is imagined that a person's deeds are inscribed in a divine book which not only records his or her deeds, but also determines the individual's future. The significant aspect of this tradition is that each person's book of life is in his own handwriting.

This is the Jewish tradition's way of expressing the belief that we are not the passive objects of a pre-determined fate, but that it is within our human capacity to exercise self-determination. Whereas, some religious philosophies speak of pre-destination, karma or unalterable fate, Judaism tries to impress its followers with the insistence that we are creatures capable of choice, especially moral choice. We therefore have, both as individuals and as a collective society, the ability to create better standards and a better life for ourselves.

Essex Green Villa

California style town houses

for information call 589-3124

DIGGING IN — Ground breaking for Essex Green Villas, a 10-acre luxury townhouse development in West Orange, is conducted by the project's developers, Arthur and Sanford Borinsky. Comprised of 80 California style villas with five one, two and three-bedroom models, Essex Green Villas has already taken deposits on a number of leases. Occupancy is scheduled for early 1978.

Essex Green Villas has all-around luxury

Ground was broken recently and construction officially begun on Essex Green Villas, an 80-unit luxury rental complex in West Orange. According to the project's developer, Sanford Borinsky, occupancy is scheduled for early 1978. He noted that a number of lease deposits have already been accepted and an "inordinate amount of interest has been evidenced by people who have an expressed desire to rent a luxury villa with all the benefits of a private home."

"Essex Green Villas is a unique concept," Borinsky said at the ground breaking ceremony, "because it is the only luxury development offering tenants privacy, security, a magnificent centrally air conditioned and heated home and all collateral services without the worry or concern for problems that go hand in hand with owning one's own residence. It actually combines the care-free advantages of apartment living with the quiet comfort and prestige of a private home."

Located on Mount Pleasant avenue in West Orange, Essex Green Villas is situated directly across from the venerable Essex County Country Club and is adjacent to one of the area's major shopping centers. The eighty California style villas will be nestled amid 10 acres of natural wooded countryside. While the area's rolling topography will remain virtually undisturbed, private roads, a swimming pool and lounge area will be incorporated into the enclave.

Five units are available for rent including one, two and three bedroom homes, each with its own attic, den and wood-burning fireplace. Each villa features a complete line of General Electric appliances including a double oven — a microwave above and a self-cleaning oven below — a five cycle automatic dishwasher, an 18.9 cubic foot refrigerator-freezer, a built-in trash compactor, and each tenant's own automatic washer and dryer. Huge walk-in closets, weather protected insulated glass throughout and thermal double insulated patio doors are also standard.

Additional features include: parquet living room floors, quarry tile entry foyers, designer selected interior lighting fixtures by Lightolier for the entrance foyer, dressing area and dining room, complete landscaping and comfort controlled central heating and air conditioning.

To be eligible for a nomination to a service academy, applicants must be at least 17 years old and not have reached their 22nd birthday by July 1, 1978.

Heed skin changes

If you have a fair complexion that sunburns rather than tans; if you have to be (or wish to be) out in the sun all the time — watch out for skin cancer, warns the American Cancer Society. If local changes occur on your skin — most often face, hands or lips — see your doctor if they do not clear up in two weeks.

Ads by accountants OK'd by association

The National Society of Public Accountants has taken action to modify its rules prohibiting an accountant from advertising professional services.

The NSPA move to lift the ban on advertising is the first such action adopted by a national accounting organization. It is based on the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision which ruled the prohibition on newspaper ads by attorneys to be unconstitutional.

Merit Breakthrough Remains Unduplicated.

'Enriched Flavor' tobacco makes MERIT unique among low tar cigarettes.

Since the introduction of MERIT, a number of other low tar brands have come along. But MERIT remains unique — the only low tar cigarette with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT delivers what others can only promise: the flavor of higher tar cigarettes. The kind of flavor made possible by a breakthrough in tobacco technology.

Here's how it was done:

By cracking cigarette smoke down into separate elements, researchers were able to isolate certain flavor-rich ingredients that delivered

© Philip Morris Inc. 1977

Kings: 8 mg. "tar," 0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec. '76 100's: 12 mg. "tar," 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

taste way out of proportion to tar.

These flavor essentials were then packed into MERIT, giving it extraordinary flavor.

Taste tests against a number of higher tar cigarettes proved it.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested. Cigarettes with up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

And you can taste it.

Newark plans distance race for women only

New Jersey's first women-only distance race, the Newark Olympic Run will take place on Saturday, Oct. 1. The starting gun will sound at 10 a.m. at the Ice Arena in Branch Brook Park, Newark.

Top women runners are expected, including Nina Kuscsik, first winner of the Women's Division of the Boston Marathon, according to Sally Bailey, director.

Designed for joggers and racers, the Newark Olympic Run will be two events in one—a 4.35 mile race and a 9.3 mile race.

"Although records are expected in each event, the race should be equally attractive to women new to competitive running," said Bailey.

The Newark Chamber of Commerce and the Newark business community are backing the event. For every woman who crosses the finish line, businessmen will contribute to the Newark Olympic Fund, Bailey said. The fund is designed to help young Newark athletes in their quest for spots for the 1980 Olympics.

Bailey said each woman who enters will receive a T-shirt. Prizes to top winners and awards by age groups will also be presented.

A prospective contestant may get more information by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Newark Olympic Run, 27 College ave., Upper Montclair, 07043.

Boosters to meet

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Booster Club will hold its first meeting of the new year next Thursday, Sept. 15, at 8 p.m. in the boys' gym.

The Springfield Recreation Department has announced that registration for the cross-country program will be held on Monday at 3:15 p.m. at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, 30 Church Mall. A registration fee of $3 will be charged.

Y swim team to hold tryouts

Tryouts for the Summit Area YMCA boys' and girls' swim teams will be held Monday through next Thursday, with make-up on Sept. 19. Diving team tryouts are set for Sept. 20 and 21, according to Marjorie M. Murphy, aquatic director. Henry Buntin, beginning his 14th year as coach of the Summit Y Seals, stated there will be an opportunity for boys and girls aged 8-17 to compete during the 1977-78 season.

The three Summit YM teams will participate in area, regional, and national meets during the season, with dual meets beginning Dec. 3. All interested swimmers have been invited to try out (last year's team members are also required to try out). Swimmers' ages are determined by age on Dec. 1.

The teams practice three hours weekly with meets held on Saturday afternoons. YMCA membership is required and a coaching fee is charged. Those interested may call the YMCA, 2373-3330, for further information.

Cancer of the colon (the large intestine) and rectum (its lower end) is diagnosed in approximately 100,000 Americans annually.

Second only to skin cancer in frequency, it affects both men and women equally. More than 90 percent of patients are past the age of 40 when the disease is discovered.

Certain warning symptoms may signal the presence of cancer in the colon or rectum. These include any change in bowel habits, such as persistent constipation or diarrhea, the occurrence of blood in the stools (which may appear bright red or black), and abdominal pain.

Anyone with symptoms lasting longer than two weeks should consult a physician.

As in all cancers, early diagnosis is the key to higher cure rates and longer survival. Doctors can detect cancer in the rectum and the lower adjoining portion, or sigmoid section, of the colon by means of the rectal examination and by proctosigmoidoscopy, an instrument that can be inserted to a maximum of 10 inches into the colon.

This lighted tube affords a clear view of the interior of the lower colon and rectum and also can be used to remove suspicious growths and thus prevent some cancers.

Many cancers, however, start in the upper four-fifths of the colon, beyond the range of the conventional proctosigmoidoscopy.

Formerly, tumors in this region could only be detected by the barium X-ray examination. Now two new techniques are available for detecting early cancerous or precancerous growths anywhere in the colon. These are an improved occult blood test and the colonoscopy.

The improved occult blood test is a simple, inexpensive test that a person does at home once a year for the presence of occult blood (blood not visible to the naked eye) in the stool. Such an indication of intestinal bleeding may be due to any of a number of conditions, but cancer is one of them.

Some cases of colon cancer start in polyps, cherry-like growths on the intestinal wall. Polyps are usually benign but some may become cancerous in time if not removed.

When a polyp is spotted by the colonoscopy, it can usually be entirely removed, easily and safely through the colonoscopy. Instead of involving extensive surgery and a hospital stay, the procedure can be done in a single visit to the doctor's office.

When the removed polyp proves to be benign or has just superficial or surface signs of cancer, no further treatment is required. The patient is just checked annually to see that the polyps do not recur. If they do, they are removed again.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

Congratulations go out to Manny Schellscheidt and the New Jersey Americans. The Wall Stadium-based soccer team won the American Soccer League championship last Sunday at Rutgers Stadium by downing the Sacramento Spirits, 3-0. This marks the second championship for coach Manny Schellscheidt in the ASL. He did it with Rhode Island a few years ago. This gives Manny a championship, every time he has coached in the ASL.

New Jersey has always been big on the soccer map but, professionally speaking, it can't get any better because the Garden State now has both pro league champions. The Cosmos are champs of the NASL. Watch out, St. Louis here comes New Jersey.

You all read the reports of the match by now but I must say that the first goal scored by Ringo Cantillo was worth the price of admission alone. It was shot from the left corner of the box directly into the upper right hand corner of the goal. Goalie Gary Allison leaped to his left but the ball was in before his feet even got off the ground.

Every once in a while we hear things such as, "let's have the Americans play the Cosmos in an exhibition match." There are a few players on the Americans that I think the Cosmos wished they had—especially up front—

Deer permits close Monday

New Jersey sportsmen have until Monday to apply for a permit to hunt on the special-deer season day, Dec. 14.

The Division of Fish, Game, and Shellfisheries said application forms for special deer permits, as well as 1977-78 New Jersey Deer Guides containing information and instructions, are obtainable from hunting license issuing agents.

The division said applicants should follow the instructions carefully and be sure to include the "Special Deer Season 1977" stub from the 1977 Firearm Hunting License, show the deer management zone desired, select a zone that is open for the special day.

No money should be sent with the application.

New Jersey sportsmen will have about two months for rail and gallinule hunting this fall.

The division announced that the hunting seasons for clapper rail, Florida gallinule, sora rail, and Virginia rail run through Nov. 9. All other rail species, such as black, yellow, and king rails, are protected in New Jersey and may not be hunted.

The bag limits on clapper rail and gallinule are 10 of each species daily and 20 of each species in possession. The bag limits on sora rail and Virginia rail are 25 singly or in the aggregate, daily or in possession.

Adult French course offered at Kean

"French for Fun or Travel," an informal course for adults whose French is rusty or out-of-date, is being offered for the first time this fall at Kean College, in Union by the Center for Continuing Education.

The 11-week, non-credit course will be taught by Mrs. Simone Mokrauer of Westfield, a native of Alsace on the French German border.

Classes will be held on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon, starting Oct. 1. Registration deadline is Sept. 23 and the fee is $40. Further information can be obtained by calling the Continuing Education office, 527-2163.

Mrs. Mokrauer hopes to encourage people who do not regularly use their French to become more at ease in the language by emphasizing fluency and accent rather than grammar, in a casual classroom atmosphere. Educated at the Sorbonne in Paris, Mrs. Mokrauer has traveled widely. Before coming to the United States she lived for several years in Lebanon in the Middle East where she taught English. In New Jersey, she has taught French at the Hartridge School in Plainfield, as well as at adult school classes in Westfield, Plainfield and Rahway.

Jobs plan beginning

Gov. Brendan Byrne has named John J. Horn, commissioner of the state's Department of Labor and Industry, as coordinator of the Youth Employment and Demonstration Projects Act of 1977.

The first program to be implemented under this new legislation is the Youth-Adult Conservation Corps which is expected to provide jobs for unemployed youths between the ages of 16 and 23 for conservation work and other projects of a public nature on public lands and waters.

"Commissioner Horn will be dealing with all state departments and with all prime sponsors of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act not only to coordinate the statewide effort in youth employment but also to provide services that will be needed to implement the program," Byrne said.

Artists study

Registration opened last week for all art classes — adult and young people's — at the Montclair Art Museum, and the new fall brochure listing all offerings is now available. Classes begin the week of Sept. 27.

Money-saving tips about your auto insurance

Of course, your auto insurance costs are high. You know it. So does your auto insurance company.

New Jersey's auto insurance crisis has lasted for months. No one knows how long it will be before it ends.

Meanwhile, here are some tips for you to help hold down your auto insurance premiums.

1. Increase the deductible on your collision and comprehensive insurance coverages. A $250 deductible can save you 10% over a $200 deductible. A $500 deductible can save even more.
2. If your car is four or five years old, consider dropping collision and comprehensive coverages altogether. Unless your car is in extraordinarily good condition, it depreciates rapidly with age and its "blue-book" value is low after five years.
3. If you have been driving to work every day, what about joining up with a car pool—or using public transportation? Cutting down on the use of your car for driving to work may put you into a lower-rated insurance class.
4. Be sure to take advantage of the discounts offered by insurers for two or more cars on the same policy—for young drivers who have had driver-training courses—for students at college more than 100 miles from home (where the family car is garaged)—and for other reasons.
5. If you're planning to trade in your old vehicle on a new car, be aware of the What's behind New Jersey's auto insurance crisis?

All over the country inflation has driven auto insurance rates up and up. Yet despite the increases, auto insurance prices have not kept pace with the skyrocketing costs of everything auto insurance pays for.

In New Jersey, other factors add even more to your costs...a faulty no-fault system that encourages lawsuits from auto accidents...court awards that rise to unreasonable levels...limits on the freedom of insurers to compete in price and service.

Until New Jersey's auto insurance system is changed for the better the auto insurance you need may continue to be hard to obtain.

fact that insurance premiums are higher for new luxury models and high-powered sports cars.

6. You pay for car thefts. Everyone does. Because the claims for stolen cars drive up the premiums for every insured driver. So always lock your car—the doors as well as the ignition—and take the keys with you. Don't park where you might invite theft. Don't invite theft by leaving packages inside your car.

Check with your insurance agent or broker about these and other possible savings.

Above all, be a careful and "defensive" driver. Maintaining your "safe-driver" rating can save you hundreds of dollars on insurance premiums over the years.
