Board discusses cuts and effect on students

Monday night the Mountainside Board of Education held the first of at least two discussions on the effects of the staff reductions made in the district last spring.

The meeting, which attracted about 30 teachers and parents, was scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m. but began about 9 because only three board members came. A fourth later constituted a quorum, but the meeting was adjourned at about 11:15 p.m. to a later date, as yet undetermined. This discussion will be held in executive session because personnel matters will be involved.

The primary issues discussed Monday night dealt with cutbacks in the library, physical education and art programs.

The audience consensus on the library reductions was concern that the fourth and fifth grade students at Deerfield school are not receiving the full benefits the library could offer. The media center, which is the updated name for the library, is open only four days a week and closes early on a couple of those days.

Librarian Grace Schulman, who is this year on seven-tenths time, felt scheduling children for two full library periods a week, "robbed the students" of what is called "flexible time." Last year the children had one library period and were allowed to use the flexible time to go in small groups for research and small group instruction.

Mrs. Schulman also said the time for assignments was being extended because the library is not available at all times and, so, teachers are not able to cover the amount of material they would like to during the year.

At Beechwood school, librarian Susan Collier has 14 periods scheduled for specific classes and 16 periods left for flexible use. The library is open full-time.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin Hanigan said he would meet with the fourth and fifth grade teachers and the librarians to determine which method is the most advantageous to the students and staff.

The director of special services, Gwen McCarthy, suggested the remedial reading program could also use some of the time that was cut last spring.

This year there is one remedial reading group in third, fourth and fifth grades. She said last year, a class was held for second graders needing extra attention and there were two groups for each of the other levels.

Mrs. McCarthy felt an additional one and one-half hours of supplemental instruction was needed now.

Mrs. McCarthy also said more time was needed in the physical education program for adaptive instruction.

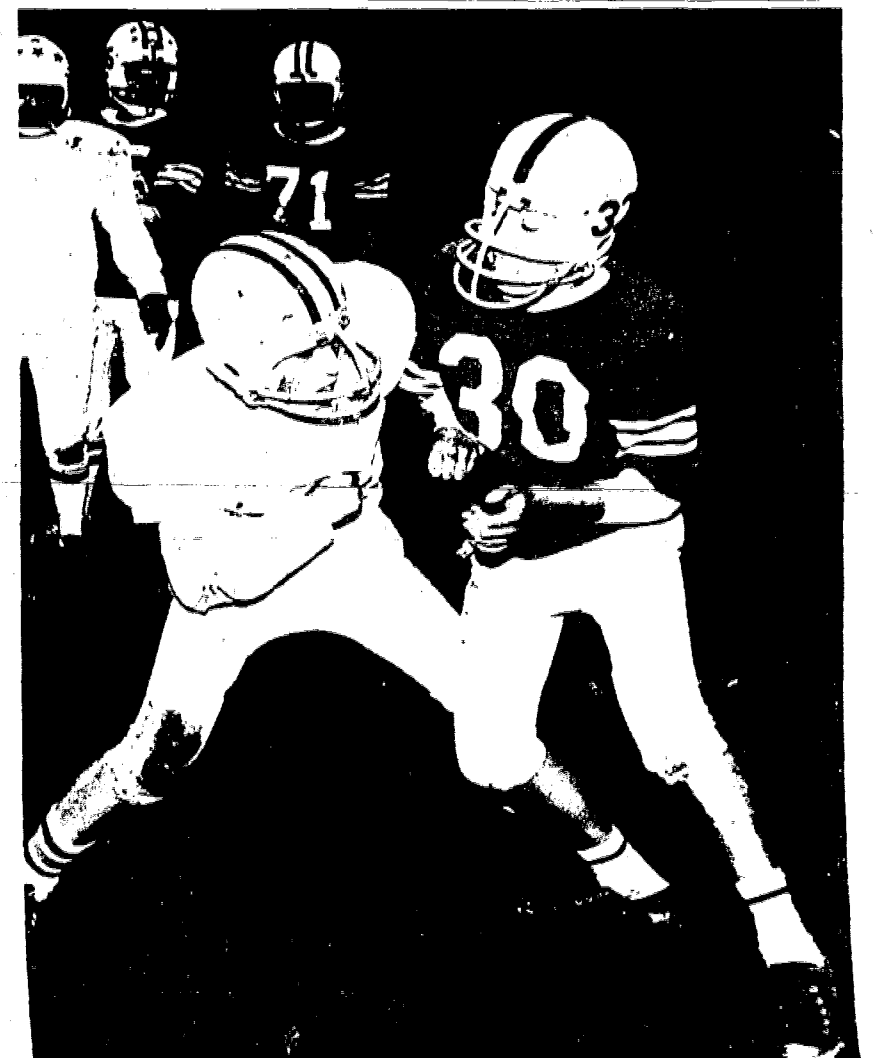

that is, specialized help for those students who needed additional training in motor skills.

She said there is less time scheduled this year at Beechwood school and no time at all set aside at Deerfield. Herb Brown, principal of Deerfield, said last year four periods were scheduled for adaptive training, but that they were not utilized.

Though mainstreaming these children (putting them into average classes) is the end goal, Mrs. McCarthy

Judge wants to view property before decision in Chatam case

By DENISE RENNER MARTIN

New Jersey Superior Court Judge Milton Feller has decided to withhold his decision on whether or not the 21-unit condominium project proposed by the Chatam Realty Co. for the northwest corner of Rt. 22 and New Providence road will be built until he can view the property and once again review the testimony given before the borough Board of Adjustment.

Last Thursday borough attorney John Post and the realty firm's attorney, Franz Skok, appeared for oral arguments before Feller. At that time, the judge denied the firm's motion for a summary judgment and ruled he must decide whether there are genuine issues of fact left to be determined.

One such issue is whether or not the effect of the construction on the community has been resolved. Plaintiff

Chatam Realty's contention is that such a project, priced in the $40,000 range, is needed for young couples who do not have a high enough income to buy a home in Mountainside and for older citizens who no longer wish to be strapped with homeowner responsibilities.

The borough contends a potential buyer would need to have approximately a $20,000-a-year income and anyone in that classification could already afford to live in Mountainside.

The case has been under discussion at one level or another since 1973, with Chatam Realty's first appearance before the borough Board of Adjustment. It has been forwarded to the borough council, which denied the petition; the Superior Court, which ruled the adjustment board must recommend the project to borough council, and to Feller's court on appeal.

Post said, "the judge's decision is a further basis for expectation that Judge Feller will ultimately decide in favor of the borough."

Neither attorney expects to present any more oral arguments and anticipates the case will be decided on its present merits.

Feller has not yet set a date for inspecting the property in question, but a spokesman from his office said it will probably be in the next couple of weeks.

Still at stake, though, is the question of constitutionality of the Mountainside zoning ordinance which specifically rules out apartments in the community. This issue is not expected to come to light until the basic question of building is resolved.

'Freak-in' night slated Oct. 31

The annual Halloween "Freak-In" sponsored by the Mountainside Recreation Commission, will be held on Monday evening, Oct. 31, at 7 p.m. in the Deerfield School gym. The event is for borough residents of all ages.

Recreation staff members "Ichabod Twombly" and "Morticia Wombat" said they expect a large turn-out of preschoolers through "grave dwellers" for the costume contest. Awards will be presented for the prettiest, scariest, funniest, most original and best group in each age division. An award for cutest will also be given in the preschool and kindergarten groups.

Costume judging is scheduled to begin at 7, and will be followed by the presentation of awards.

Horner named aide to GOP candidates

Republican candidates Tim Benford, Bruce Geiger and Ruth Gibadlo have named Shirley Horner their campaign manager to coordinate campaign efforts for the Nov. 8 election.

Horner, author and lecturer, has been a resident of Mountainside since 1961. Previously co-chairman of the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee, she is now chairman of promotion and liaison for the Mountainside Historical Preservation Committee.

"Since challenging issues face our

Monitors sought for PTA study of TV violence

The Mountainside PTA is joining with PTAs throughout the nation in a campaign against violence on TV. Volunteers will be monitoring TV programs on the three major networks from 7 to 11 p.m. the week of October 23-30.

A spokesman said, "We need volunteers who would be able to monitor a minimum of one hour of TV during those hours and tally incidents of violence on a pre-printed form."

Chairman Mrs. Harold R. Burdge Jr. stressed the need for a representative cross-section of community members to participate in this project. "It is not necessary to be a parent or a teacher to participate. This will be an opportunity for the 'grass roots' to have their ideas and opinions registered on a state and national basis," she said.

Anyone interested in helping was asked to call Mrs. Burdge at 232-4373 or Diane Harrison at 232-3431.

Candidate profile For Borough Council

Timothy Benford, the new member of the Republican trio seeking election to borough office this year, is seeking to fill the slot vacated by Borough Councilman William Cullen, who is not running for reelection.

This is Benford's initial venture into public office in Mountainside, but he has been on the Republican Municipal Committee for the last three years and serves as the delegate to the County Republican Executive Committee. He is the secretary of the borough Republican Club.

Benford is a trustee and past chairman of the Mountainside Community Fund, a member of the Knights of Columbus and a member of the Mountainside Honorary PBA.

An 18-year veteran of publishing and journalism, Benford is the managing editor of Travel Trade Publications, a group of weekly, monthly and annual newspapers, magazines, guides and directories distributed within the industry. He is a trustee and past president of the North Jersey Press Association and was New Jersey media chairman for the Easter Seals Telethon in 1975. He is included in the current edition of the "Who's Who in Journalism."

Benford was educated in the Bayonne school system and attended Rutgers University, the New York School of Printing and the New Process School of Graphics.

He and his wife, Marilyn, who is the out-going president of the Newcomers Club in this community, have two children: Susan, 13, and Timmy, 9.

Benford said he is fortunate to be running with Tax Collector Ruth Gibadlo, who is seeking reelection for a second term, and Borough Council president Bruce Geiger. He said "I'm looking forward to contributing my best efforts to the borough's administration."

SBA loans available to women in business

Andrew P. Lynch, district director of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) announced this week that the Newark District Office, which serves the entire state of New Jersey, has embarked upon an all-out effort to increase the ownership of small, profitable businesses by New Jersey women.

"This will be done through a combination of financial assistance, management assistance, procurement assistance and advocacy," Lynch said.

The efforts are part of SBA's National Women's Business Ownership Campaign which was recently announced at a White House Press Conference by SBA Administrator, A. Vernon Weaver, and Pat Cloherty, SBA deputy administrator-designate.

Lynch pointed out that New Jersey has a big jump on the rest of the country in this campaign as his office has been promoting pre-business workshops and other management training programs for women for a number of years; has led the country in the recruitment of women to serve in SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) and ACE (Active Corps of Executives), and has long been working with various Women's Organizations in New Jersey to promote entrepreneurial programs for women.

To get the Women's Business Ownership Campaign underway the SBA has targeted $100-million for guaranteed business loans to women in the first quarter of fiscal year, 1978.

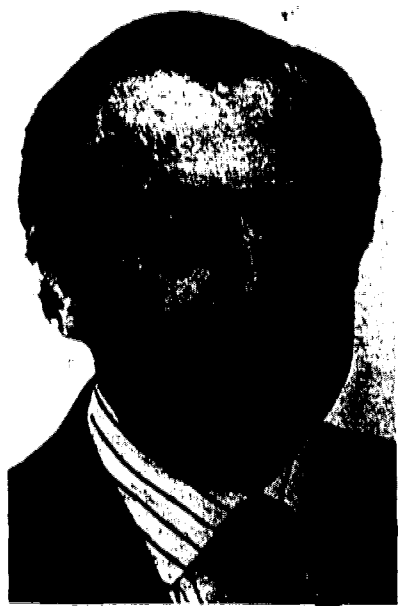

Among the SBA programs which are available immediately are the following:

Financial Assistance—SBA offers a broad range of loan programs for small businesses needing money that cannot be borrowed from conventional lenders. SBA loan officers are being encouraged to seek opportunities to involve women in business through the lending programs.

Management Assistance—This program is extensive and diversified. It includes Pre-Business Workshops for women and others who are considering the possibility of going into business, as well as Courses, Conferences, and Problem Clinics for those already in business. It includes FREE management counseling by retired and active business executives (SCORE-ACE) and a host of FREE publications covering many different aspects of starting or managing a business of your own.

Assistance in Securing Contracts—Specialists in this field counsel small businesses on how to prepare bids and obtain prime contracts and sub-contracts. A systematic and deliberate search is being instituted to locate and add to source files the names of eligible women-owned small businesses. Those interested, will be assisted in the mechanics of securing federal contracts for goods and services.

Information is available from Betty Solewater at 645-2532.

FRED HECHINGER, president of the New York Times Foundation, will be the keynote speaker at the Kean College Department of Communication's 14th annual reading conference and workshop Saturday.

Fall workshops for seniors at Kean College

Kean College's Whiteman Center for Lifelong Learning has begun its fall program of non-credit workshops and activities for older adults.

Three workshops in the arts and crafts have been scheduled at the center. "Fundamentals of Art," taught by Karen Bokart, is held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings and is limited to beginners. "Introduction to Oil Painting," on Wednesday mornings with Kenneth Redler, is for those who have previously completed the beginning fundamentals program. A new workshop in crewel stitching, taught by Eleanor Budde, meets Wednesday afternoons.

Two workshops are being conducted for older adults by resident Kean College faculty. "Physical Fitness for Older Persons" will meet Wednesdays and Fridays with Dr. Walter Andzel of the college's Physical Education Department and "Interpersonal Communication," conducted by Dr. Margaret Dunn, assistant professor in the English department, is scheduled for Tuesday afternoons.

Additional programs include "Focus on Music," scheduled for Monday mornings and conducted by Philip Gold; "French Conversation," with Bella Silber, and "Hebrew Conversation," with Mr. Yitzhak Rabinowitz. On Monday afternoons a variety of lectures will be offered under the Whiteman Facts Forum program. During October the forum will include talks on "Will Planning" by John Wood Goldsack from the Plainfield law firm of King & King; "Estate Planning" by Kenneth More of the National Bank of New Jersey, Westfield branch, and "America Joins the Metric World" by John DiSimone of SEEC (Square Ecumenical Education Center).

Registration in each program is limited but additional information can be obtained by calling the Whiteman Center for Lifelong Learning, 527-2616.

College library acquires Jersey history collection

The Nancy Thompson Library at Kean College of New Jersey in Union has made a major addition to its New Jersey Collection through the acquisition of the Jack E. Boucher Library of New Jerseyana and related historical materials.

Boucher, of Linwood is an architectural photographer. He is supervisor of photography and pictorial records for the Office of Archaeology of the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior. Boucher is also a writer and lecturer. Of his four books on New Jersey, the best-known is "Absegami Yesterday," published in 1964.

The Boucher Library consists of about 350 volumes and a large number of pamphlets, broadsides, prints and maps. Among the more significant items are Charles Steadman's two-volume "History of the Origin, Progress and Termination of the American War" (1794), generally considered the best contemporary account of the American Revolution written by an Englishman, and a first-edition of Leaming and Spicers "The Grants, Concessions and Original Constitutions of the Province of New Jersey" (1752).

Among other important works in the collection are a first-edition of Samuel Smith's "History of Nova Caesara" (1765), Samuel Allinson's "Acts of the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey" (1776), and Jonathan Edwards' "An Account of the Life of the Late Reverend Mr. David Brainerd" (1749).

Citation publishes book by Hennings

Dr. Dorothy Grant Hennings, professor of education at Kean College of New Jersey, has had her most recent book published in paperback by Citation Press-Scholastic. Her new work, "Words, Sounds and Thoughts: More Activities to Enrich Children's Communication-Skill," is a companion volume to her 1974 Citation Press title: "Smiles and Pauses," which concentrated on nonverbal elements of language learning.

Concert set

Elly Stone, singer and narrator, will open the second annual Community Jewish Book Festival on Saturday, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m. at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey. Tickets for the Stone concert, at $5 each, are now available at the Y Box Office, 760 Northfield ave., West Orange.

Mental Health

The drug phencyclidine ("PCP" as it is commonly called) has been blamed for the hospitalization of at least 1,000 young persons in one major U.S. city during the last three years.

The young people showed schizophrenia-like symptoms after use of PCP and described its effects as sensations of numbness, extreme suspiciousness, feelings of isolation and an inability to control their thoughts and actions.

Phencyclidine was originally developed as an anesthetic in the late 1950s, but its use was abandoned because of the drug's erratic and unpleasant side effects.

According to a report issued by the National Institute on Drug Abuse, the illicit drug can cause visual and auditory hallucinations, feelings of apathy and estrangement, drowsiness, inability to speak, delirium, abdominal cramps, vomiting and, in some instances, coma and death.

The drug today is legally restricted to use as an animal tranquilizer.

Depending on the amount taken, PCP may act as a stimulant, depressant or hallucinogen. Frequently, the purchaser of PCP believes he is buying another drug — it is often sold as or mixed with other drugs such as mescaline, LSD, or cocaine, or sprinkled on marijuana. When sold in capsules, PCP is called "peace pill" or "hog." In powder form it is called "angel dust."

Unlike the usual schizophrenics, PCP users generally have no history of psychosis and respond much slower to treatment.

According to a federal report, PCP has replaced LSD as the primary hallucinogen sought by drug abusers. First observed in San Francisco in 1967, PCP under a variety of labels had spread to New York and other major cities by 1969. Today, the dangerous PCP is available in most parts of the United States.

Income tax relief important issue: Carone

Dr. John J. Carone, independent State Senate candidate from the 22nd District, this week said, "Tax relief is the most important issue of the campaign, but there are many others crying for solutions." He says there shouldn't be an income tax without a state referendum and constitutional restraints.

Carone said, "Everyone involved with its (the income tax) enactment accepted current spending levels for education as a base for funding without challenging their propriety."

He said, "All spending indicators show that a continuation of the current approach to education will eventually bankrupt us." "Dramatic changes in attitudes and approaches are required to save public and private education from collapse."

Carone, a lifelong resident of Plainfield, is a chiropractor. He was educated in the Plainfield schools, Rutgers University, St. Louis University and Lincoln Chiropractic College.

He was chairman of the Plainfield Republican City committee for two terms and was a legislative aide to Senator Peter McDonough when McDonough was in the Assembly.

Carone was the founder and original president of Health Information Services, Inc., and has done research and development of health care systems for New Jersey Blue Cross.

He and his wife, Patricia, have 10 children.

Council meets

Education and a Mountainside resident for about 14 years. He is in the insurance business and will assume the same duties O'Connell had.

Judge Bauer advised the council that effective Jan. 1, he is retiring as municipal court judge with one year left of his three-year term.

Ricciardi said he will nominate someone who has a legal background to fill the slot. The mayor said whomever he picks definitely will be a Mountainside resident.

Bauer, who also lives in the community, has been municipal court judge for 24 years. He receives $4,500 a year to preside over the weekly court. Ricciardi said he doesn't know yet what the salary offered the new appointee will be.

Ricciardi called the resignation of Gutman from the Board of Adjustment a "tremendous loss." Gutman, who has been on the board for 13 years, said he couldn't attend all the meetings and felt it wasn't fair to people appearing before the board not to be there all the time.

Peter Simmons, a councilman from 1970 to 1975, was presented with a plaque in appreciation of his services. Simmons moved away from the community and is once again a local resident.

Council also passed a resolution expressing its appreciation to Powers for his service on the recreation committee.

In other board action, Councilman Geiger reported the residents affected by the so-called Charles street-Briar Hills flood project packed a room last Wednesday to hear the plans explained to them. The proposal involves constructing a retention basin on the grounds of the Baltusrol Country Club to catch flood waters. About a dozen temporary and permanent easement rights need to be acquired from Mountainside residents to complete the project in conjunction with Springfield and Union County.

Geiger said the homeowners will be submitting letters to borough engineer Robert Koser with questions on the project, and a complete report will be compiled within a month. At that time another meeting will be held with the homeowners.

Highway chase ends in Watchung collision

Mountainside police, aiding Union and Roselle Park police, joined a high-speed chase on Rt. 22 west early Monday morning which ended in a four-car collision in Watchung.

Roselle Park police said the chase began a little after midnight when a car driven by Salvatore Caudo of Roselle Park collided with a parked car. Officers chased the Caudo car into Union and onto the highway.

When the chase reached the Somerset Bus Co., police said Caudo tried to force Union police off the roadway, causing a collision. The cars resumed the chase on Rt. 22 and Mountainside Officer Jose Pires joined the pursuit at the Echo Lanes Bowling Alley.

The three police cars continued chasing Caudo onto Plainfield avenue and Valley road in Watchung where, according to reports, the Union squad car ran into Caudo's car, which hit the Roselle Park radio car and bounced off to hit the Mountainside police car.

According to Mountainside Lt. Joe Mazur, about $500 worth of damage was done to the borough police car.

Caudo was charged, according to police, with leaving the scene of an accident in Mountainside and various other charges in the other municipalities. He was taken to the Roselle Park jail.

Break-ins hit Mountainside over weekend

Three break and entries and thefts were reported to the Mountainside police over the weekend.

A Rising Way homeowner reported Sunday night he found a rear kitchen window broken and an undetermined amount of jewelry, clocks and a clock radio were missing.

Police determined the thief removed the screen and opened the unlocked window. Reports said the intruder left by way of a rear sliding door. The detective bureau is investigating.

On the same day, just a few doors down from the Rising Way home, a resident reported a rear window had been broken and the house had been ransacked. The homeowner is still determining the extent of the missing articles.

Last Saturday police investigated a break-in at a house under construction on Central avenue. Reports said the thief had put masking tape on a window before kicking it in.

Eight boxes of flooring, a medicine cabinet and a ceiling light fixture were missing. A witness told police he saw a white male carrying boxes out of the house and another man sitting in a car.

School cuts

said neither the slower children nor those in average classes are "being optimally served with the present way of blending the two groups."

Other parents and teachers also noted the Deerfield students who were receiving physical education instruction under two different teachers were not pleased with the split. Principal Brown said he took a poll of the students and received no complaints.

Another area where cutbacks are being felt is in the art department. Teacher Judy Hreno said the board "has taken a full-time job and cut the time to seven-tenths, but the responsibilities remain the same." She said she needs an extra two hours a week to finish the required work.

Some art classes will still be a combination of slower learners and average classes even if she obtains the additional time, Mrs. Hreno said this was not advantageous to either group because she could not give enough individual attention.

Last March, board president William Biunno said the cuts were implemented because of reduced enrollment. The Mountainside enrollment has steadily been declining over the past 10 years and will most likely continue.

At the Monday night meeting, the audience was told to prepare for more of the same type of cuts because of this speculation. It has been discussed previously that one school may be closed by 1980.

The next meeting, to continue discussing the staff reductions, will deal with the reading and math programs.

Past Presidents Club names new officers

New officers and chairmen were announced recently by Mrs. Norman Ferrara, president of the Past Presidents' Club of the Sixth District of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Among them were Mrs. Joseph A. Wargo of Union and Mrs. H. Arthur Tonnesen of Mountainside.

Members will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the organization on Wednesday at Federation headquarters in New Brunswick. There are 32 clubs in the Sixth District.

Meeting cancelled by regional board

Two in Bogota to view eclipse

Roger and Robert Tuthill, both of Tanglewood lane, Mountainside, were among 65 members of Amateur Astronomers Inc., who traveled to Bogota, Colombia, to view the Oct. 12 eclipse.

The AAI charter group includes members from some 15 states, Canada and Colombia itself, according to the Rev. Allen Tinker of Summit, trip coordinator.

Many members of the Bogota trip are veterans of the AAI expedition to Mauritania, Africa, in 1973. On their return from Colombia they will begin planning for the Feb. 26, 1979, eclipse in Montana and the Feb. 16, 1980, eclipse in Nairobi, Kenya.

hit the Grant car. Osterhoud was taken to Overlook by the borough Rescue Squad and treated for cuts on the head.

Candidates endorse zero-based budget

Harry Pappas, Jim Spagnoli and Mel Chlewich, Democratic candidates for the state legislature in District 22, this week vowed to press for creation of a zero-based budgeting system in Trenton.

Pappas, the state senatorial candidate from Springfield, and his Assembly running mates, Spagnoli of Scotch Plains and Chlewich of Clark, said they regarded zero-based budgeting as "one of the fiscal reforms that must be instituted if we are ever to bring state spending into line."

Pappas, the former Union County Purchasing Agent, said while in office he had seen "first-hand how easy it is for government at any level to lose sight of the fiscal realities that confront every householder, regardless of income. As purchasing agent, I was able to save $500,000 on goods and services bought by Union County."

Spagnoli, a former assistant Union County prosecutor seeking his first elective office, said zero-based budgeting "holds out the hope of realizing significant savings. By forcing every department head to justify the expenditure of every penny in his budget request—and sticking to the resolve to reduce or eliminate any unnecessary projects, we can turn the corner toward fiscal sanity in government."

Noting that nearly every public opinion poll indicates a sharp decline in public confidence in government, Chlewich attributed the drop to "a growing conviction on the part of many people that government simply does not know how to spend money wisely." The attorney from Clark added that he agreed with this prevailing public sentiment. "State government—or government at any level, for that matter—cannot continue adding percentages to budget requests automatically each year," Chlewich said.

Pappas, Spagnoli and Chlewich said they shared the concerns of critics of runaway government spending. "People no longer accept the politicians' assurances that these expenditures are vital," the Democrats asserted. "We don't accept them either, and this is why we want to put New Jersey on a zero-based budgeting system."

Republicans pledge to cut 'patronage jobs'

The state payroll will be cut by 8,000 employees by July 1979 "with unclassified patronage jobs the first to go" if the Republicans are elected, according to State Senator Peter J. McDonough and his running mates, Assemblymen William J. Maguire and Donald T. DiFrancesco.

"If we are elected and if the people elect Republican majorities in the legislature, we will take advantage of the 16 percent annual attrition rate among state employees and not re-hire simply because a slot appears on an organization chart," the District 22 Republicans said.

Brendan Byrne and his Democratic colleagues have added 8,000 jobs to the state payroll in the past four years. By a selective jobs freeze we will reduce the payroll by that number with 18 months. We will give particular emphasis to the elimination of payroll padding, an often-used ploy by Brendan Byrne to pay political debts with public funds."

McDonough, the Senate sponsor of "sunset" legislation, said his bill would force every agency of the state government to re-justify its existence every six years "or simply go out of business." Maguire and DiFrancesco are the Assembly sponsors of the bill.

"There are agencies in our state government that have salaried staffs and office space but have never met," the three Republicans said. "Other agencies are self-serving bureaucracies dominated by members of the professions being regulated, and the sunset legislation will weed these out and force a positive action by the legislature to continue their existence."

McDonough, Maguire and DiFrancesco said an example of the "bloated bureaucracy" is evident in the number of new employees hired to administer the Thorough and Efficient Education Act.

"We share the public concern for the poor output product of our public school system," they said. "We plan to give meaning to the phrase 'put the basics back into education.'"

Music award for Kean prof

Professor Herbert Golub of Mountainside, chairman of the department of music at Kean College in Union, will be presented with a music achievement award Oct. 30 at an all-day convention at the Little Theatre in Kean College's Student Center. The award is for outstanding college work and community leadership with the music department concert series.

Golub formerly taught in the Union school system.

The convention, which is jointly sponsored by the New Jersey Music Teachers Association and the Music Educators Association of New Jersey, will feature lectures by eminent figures in the music world as well as other related activities.

Luisa Stojowska will lecture on the art of practicing, and Jafcha Zayde will speak on the art of accompanying. A master class will be conducted by Eugene List, and he will lecture and perform in recital.

'Road' booked in Whippany

The Garden State Theater Company's production of Jack Kirkland's adaptation of Erskine Caldwell's classic novel, "Tobacco Road," will be staged Nov. 3, 4, and 5 at the Garden State Theater's Home Theater, in the old Whippany school building, 45 Highland ave., Whippany. Curtain is at 8:30 p.m.

The performances will be sponsored by the Memorial Junior School Parent-Teacher Association of Hanover Township.

TIM WALDRIP appears with Ed Ames in the stage musical, "Shenandoah," opening Wednesday at Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn. Show will run through Dec. 18.

Theater will open

The Phoenix Community Theater, a professional acting company, will stage the Broadway musical, "Inner City," Saturday and Sunday at the Multi-Service Center, 1149 East St. Georges ave., Roselle. The play will open officially Oct. 28 at the Abraham Clark High School, Sixth avenue and Chestnut street, Roselle. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

PCT, a function of Union County Services, has actors, singers, dancers and musicians, who will bring theatrical and cultural arts to the community. Church and school tours are being arranged.

Among those in the cast are Elaine Parsons, Roxanne Percell and Scott Dashiell, all of Roselle; Jo-Ann Williams of Newark and Marshall Sampson of Linden. Additional information may be obtained by calling 241-6336.

SCENE FROM MUSICAL — David Squibb, left, portrays Tevye, and Charles Hettinger is Lazar Wolf, the butcher, in "Fiddler on the Roof," continuing its run at Meadowbrook Dinner Theater, Cedar Grove, through Nov. 13. Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians will be attraction, Monday, Nov. 14, for one night only.

3 Democrats attack park panel autonomy

Union County Freeholder Walter E. Bright of Scotch Plains, Springfield Mayor Joanne Rajoppi and Thomas Dillon of Elizabeth, the three Democratic candidates for the Union County Board of Freeholders, this week criticized their Republican opponents for refusing to heed the mandate of the people to abolish the autonomy of the Park Commission.

Bright stated, "When the voters of Union County passed the referendum to institute the county manager form of government three years ago, it was repeatedly stated that the autonomous agencies in the county such as the Park Commission, would be taken over to save tax dollars."

"When the voters consider the record," Rajoppi said, "that the consolidation of other county departments has saved $175,000 in administrative costs and the elimination of more than 100 jobs from the county payroll without layoffs, we do not see how they can condone the Republican's attitude to keep the Park Commission autonomous."

Dillon added, "The autonomy of the Park Commission is not in the realm of politics but a matter of conscience. The taxpayers voted to take it over, and the Park Commission for two years has been using the taxpayers' money to thwart the will of the electorate by fighting this matter in the courts. We cannot and do not condone this disgraceful action."

Bright, Rajoppi and Dillon listed several glaring examples of the irresponsiveness of the Park Commission to the community's needs. They include swimming pool facilities in Linden and Hanway that have been allowed to deteriorate; Lenape Park in Kenilworth, Cranford, Westfield and Springfield is a public disgrace; Black Brook Park in Kenilworth, and finally Wampanoac Stadium in the Roselle-Linden, Elizabeth area, which has literally been allowed to disintegrate to the point of almost being unsalvageable.

Breast cancer to be discussed

The Reach to Recovery volunteers of the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society will sponsor their second annual Reach to Recovery workshop on Tuesday from 8 to 10 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 170 Elm St., Westfield. The free workshop will feature guest speakers Dr. Charles Leff and Emid Barton.

Dr. Leff, a medical oncologist of Plainfield, will discuss "The Current Concepts of Breast Cancer." Barton, of Westfield, will speak on the society's Cancer Adjustment Program (CAP) which includes group counseling

GOP candidates call for sunset ordinance

The Union County Republican Freeholder candidates, Herbert Heimann, Robert Morgan and William Ruocco, this week called for the immediate adoption of a sunset ordinance by the Board of Freeholders.

Roselle Park Councilman Morgan stated, "There is a lot of fat in the sessions to help cancer patients and their families deal with the emotional and social problems that arise from cancer."

county budget. There are a lot of Democratic freeholders who have pet projects and who do all in their power to fund those pet projects despite the fact that those projects benefit a few."

Former Springfield Mayor Ruocco stated, "A time has come to set personal likes and dislikes aside. What Union County needs is a complete reevaluation of every single project and program presently being sponsored." The GOP candidates pointed to Freeholder Walter Bright's recent politicization of the elderly, the battered wives and the mentally retarded," stating that while Bright "has done virtually nothing but sponsor laudatory resolutions during his term on the board, he issues releases that capture headlines with sensational proposals."

Morgan stated that public officials throughout the country "are held in low esteem and in some cases in disrepute, simply because they promise more than they can deliver, because they abuse the public trust by making false and morally deficient claims. A man should not promise more than he can produce, and a man should be required to produce what he promises."

Seniors' council plans open house

The Senior Citizens Council of Union County will hold an open house at its new office at 2163 Morris Ave. from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Evelyn Frank, council president, said the time for the formal program on Saturday has been changed to 11 a.m., and invitations are being extended to congressmen, Governor Byrne, state legislators, Union County freeholders and mayors.

Black officers back Froehlich

The Kinsmen of Union County Inc., organization of black police officers, deputy sheriffs and correction officers from Union County announced this week they have unanimously voted to support Democrat Ralph Froehlich for Union County sheriff.

Arnie Higginson, president of the Kinsmen, said the members feel that Froehlich's 15 years in law enforcement, including his background in administration and community relations, makes him the most qualified candidate for the office.

The Kinsmen is a fraternal and charitable organization interested in promoting good relations between law enforcement personnel and the civilian community.

Byrne coordinator

Governor Brendan T. Byrne and Union County Democratic chairman George Woody have announced the appointment of Elizabeth City Council President Casimir Kowalczyk as coordinator of Union County Citizens for Byrne.

Activities begin at Runnells unit

Fall activities are beginning at John E. Runnells Hospital, Berkeley Heights, and volunteers are needed to assist with various programs, according to a spokesman.

The recreation department uses volunteers to supplement the staff in providing programs such as arts and crafts, ceramics, sewing music, plant therapy and bingo.

A new "Back to Reality" Program has openings for one or two volunteers. Teen-agers, 14 years of age or older, who are interested in a health career, can benefit by volunteering evenings and week-ends.

Drama unit presents annual 'masque ball'

Super heroes and heroines will throng Union College's Tommaso Art Gallery on Friday, Oct. 28, when the college Drama Society has its annual "masque ball."

Guests will come as their favorite hero or heroine, according to Prof. Donald Julian, chairman of the fine arts department and director of the Drama Society. Prizes will be awarded for best costume.

CONGRATULATIONS—Rep. Matthew Rinaldo, center, congratulates Amos Chalf, former New Jersey state president of the Air Force Association and currently president of the Union-Morris chapter, at a recent AFA convention and its Salute to Congress. The convention held in Washington, picked New Jersey as the top AFA state organization in the nation.

Program aided by United Way

The infant stimulation program of the Cerebral Palsy Center of Union County, 373 Clermont Ter., Union, is among the many activities benefiting from contributions to the United Way.

The infant stimulation program, given to infants and children under 3 who have been diagnosed as having cerebral palsy, teaches the child fine motor skills through occupational therapy—to zip and unzip clothing, learn left from right and other basic skills. Neuro-developmental techniques also are used. A great part of the therapy depends on parental training. Parents learn from the staff therapists and technicians so that the learning process continues at home for the child. The purpose of the training is to normalize the impaired motor functions of the children.

Three medical clinics are held per month, attended by an orthopedist, pediatrician and a pediatric neurologist. A full-time speech therapist is employed. Teachers, aides and volunteers operate with the students on as close to a one-to-one basis as possible.

David Hirsch, director of the center, is eager to help those benefiting from the activities of the center and visitors. Conducting a special tour of the center for United Way volunteer groups, he stated, "The Cerebral Palsy Center of Union County is one of the oldest in the country; it began in 1948 and has been a United Way agency for many years. We could not have gotten as far as we have without the United Way."

Significant of a living vital environment are the vast windows, brightly-colored walls of the large playrooms and classrooms, green plants in evidence everywhere, wide corridors and doors, barrier-free designs—all designed so that the 60 daily students who attend the center can identify with the outside environment, as well as the inside.

New chief at hospital

Sister Ellen Patricia Meade, S.C., chief executive officer of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth, for 20 years has announced her retirement and the appointment of Sister Margaret Doherty, S.C., who has been an assistant administrator of St. Elizabeth since 1975—to her office. Sister Margaret will become the chief executive officer on Jan. 1.

Sister Ellen Patricia was born in New York City, graduated from Saint Elizabeth College, Convent Station, and received her M.H.A. from St. Louis University. She was administrative assistant—Office of Mother General, Sisters of Charity of St. Elizabeth, before becoming assistant administrator of the hospital in 1954. In 1957, she was named chief executive officer. She is also a fellow of the American College of Hospital Administrators and a past president and treasurer of the St. Louis University Alumni Association.

Sister Margaret Doherty, a native of Elizabeth, is a graduate from the College of St. Elizabeth.

Dip noted for jobless in region

The unemployment rate for the 18-county New York-Northeastern New Jersey area declined from 8.8 percent in July to 8.4 percent in August, its lowest level this year, it was reported by Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner, U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. The area's jobless rate in August was one-fifth below its year-ago level of 10.5 percent, reflecting a drop of 155,000 in the number of unemployed area residents.

Between August 1976 and August 1977, the jobless rate fell by more than 2 percentage points in both the New York and New Jersey portions of the area. In the New York sector, the number of unemployed was down 22 percent, 110,000 over the year. In Northeastern New Jersey 20 percent, 44,000.

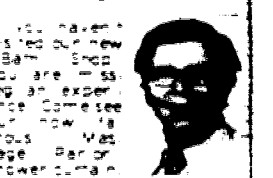

Based on national patterns, Bienstock noted that the unemployment rate typically declines in August. Between July and August, the unadjusted national jobless rate went from 7.9 percent to 6.8 percent, after adjustment it edged up from 6.9 percent to 7.1 percent. Seasonally-adjusted estimates are not currently available for the area. The unadjusted August rate was down 0.4 points in the area compared with a 0.2 percentage point decline nationally.

In Northeastern New Jersey, the unemployment rate declined from 8.8 percent to 8.4 percent between July and August, with drops of 0.6 percentage points or more in the Jersey City, Paterson-Clifton-Passaic and Perth Amboy areas.

A BRAZILIAN NIGHT SCENE overlooking Rio is the subject of the newest Kodak Colorama on display at Grand Central Station through Nov. 21. The impressive scene of hills and valleys, illuminated by moonlight and twinkling city lights, was taken on Kodak Vericolor II film by Kodak photographer Neil Montanus. The Colorama, measuring 18 by 60 feet, is the world's largest color transparency. It consists of 20 panels, 18 feet high by three feet wide, which are spliced together and placed on an 18-foot spool.

Concert series offered at FDU

A series of four Monday evening concerts will be presented during 1977-78 by Fairleigh Dickinson University in a new association with the North Jersey Cultural Council. Reservations for the entire series are being accepted now.

Flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya will be the attraction on Nov. 7. The Waverly Consort, performing Renaissance music, will perform Dec. 5. On Jan. 30, flutist Paula Robison and harpsichordist William Tim Read will present music from the time of Bach and Handel. Popular singer-pianist Bobby Short will be featured on Feb. 27. All performances will begin at 8 p.m. in the Orrie de Nooyer Auditorium, 200 Hackensack Ave., Hackensack.

Archdiocese energy symposium planned Oct. 27 at Mother Seton

Practical tips on energy saving will be offered to representatives of some 400 parishes and institutions when the Archdiocese of Newark holds its Energy New symposium Oct. 27 at Mother Seton Regional High School.

Addresses and exhibits will highlight the conference, which is designed to explore modern methods of managing a total energy program.

Charles Baxter, regional representative of the National Energy Research and Development Administration, will be one of the principal speakers, as will Joel R. Jacobson, N.J. Commissioner of Energy.

The business community will be represented by James J. Graham, manager of public affairs for Exxon U.S.A. Linda J. Kirschen, of Princeton University's Center will be welcomed by Archbishop Peter L. Gerety.

Audio and visual displays will supplement the speeches. Various energy conservation methods will be an exhibit.

The conference will include several workshop presentations, one of which will feature an examination of Madonna Parish in Fort Lee. Last year, directors there cut simple ways of examining large buildings to improve energy efficiency.

Representatives from the clergy and parish councils will attend, along with hospital and school administrators and plant managers. The idea of saving money through energy conservation will be emphasized to the participants.

"Many vital educational, medical and social services are delivered in these institutions," said Msgr. Harold

A Murray, Newark archdiocesan director of administration and chairman of the Energy New committee. "We want to continue to serve the community, but in the most energy-efficient way." He added he hopes "our schools, hospitals, and institutions will do all they can to assist in the national effort to conserve energy."

The conference is the first of its kind to be sponsored by the Newark Archdiocese. It is open to the general public. Reservations $2 can be made by writing Energy New, Archdiocese of Newark, 31 Mulberry St., Newark, N.J. 07102.

Business course offered to women

Caldwell College's Office of Concurrent Curriculum has initiated a business certificate program for women in the business world and for men interested in changing careers or improving their business acumen.

Seton fete for Voigt

Prof. Virginia Voigt of Livingston, longtime faculty member at Seton Hall University, who retired in August, will be honored by her colleagues and former students with a testimonial dinner on Nov. 4 in the Galileo Room of the Student Center. A social hour will begin at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:30.

Professor Borg was with the School of Education at Seton Hall for almost three decades, serving as chairperson of the Department of General Professional Education for over half that time.

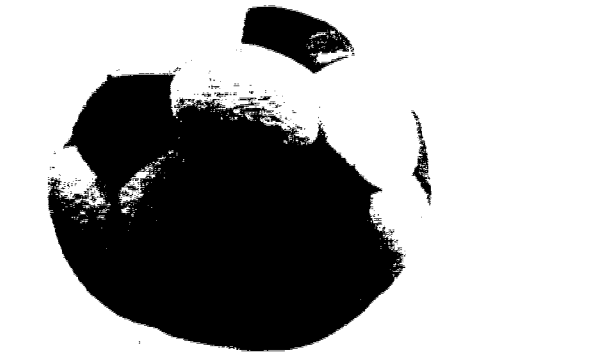

Further information and details on the dinner and reservations are available from Prof. Joseph F.X. Cunningham of the Seton Hall School of Education, South Orange.

Dayton falls to Caldwell in 33-0 game

By KIRK KUBACH
Caldwell, sporting a 4-0 record, defeated the Dayton Regional Bulldogs at home on Saturday handing Dayton its fourth straight loss. Still looking for a victory Dayton will face Madison away on Saturday.

Dayton received the opening kickoff with a return to its own 25-yard line from Larry Irene. The team was unsuccessful the following three downs and had to punt. Caldwell managed to bring the ball to the Dayton two-yard line where they inevitably scored on a run by Charlie Martin.

Despite a successful draw play by Dayton, Caldwell forced the offense to punt. Caldwell then scored on the third down with Dave Verschleiser breaking loose for 49 yards.

With many carries from Dave Flood, Dayton still failed to set up a scoring drive. Caldwell dominated the rest of the half although good defensive efforts were made by Pat Picciuto, Dave Vargas and Anthony Circelli.

Dayton's second half defense led by John Ferry held the opposition to one more touchdown as Caldwell's Ed MacDermott struggled for more. In the fourth quarter Pat Picciuto intercepted but Dayton's offense, now led by Ken Kebous, was unable to overcome Caldwell's defenders.

Bulldog pups drop 2 games

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football freshmen recently dropped two games, one to Summit, the other to Caldwell.

The Bulldogs pups went down to Summit, 22-0, and to Caldwell by a 30-20 score.

Against the young Summit team, which is undefeated and handily won over Westfield, quarterback Tyrone Hayes and runners Ed Francis and Mike Caricato showed some improvement in moving the ball.

On defense, Fran Clemson, Caricato, Paul D'Andrea, Ron Buthman and Bill Meyer continued to excel.

In action against the young Caldwell Chiefs, the quarterback was under constant pressure from the opponent's front four.

Defensively, Meyer, Bob Dooley, Caricato and Francis were standouts.

FRIDAY DEADLINE

All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Chatham loses, 7-6, to Minutemen C team

The Springfield Minutemen C team beat Chatham Township under the lights, 7-6, Thursday night at the Pool Field. It was the Springfield team's first victory. Springfield won the toss and Glen Scheider ran up the middle on two consecutive plays totaling 20 yards. Reid Jones took a handoff from quarterback Chris Clemson 32 yards to score Springfield's first touchdown through holes provided by Donny Larrzleer, Christian Petino, Kenny Burroughs, Dan Klingner and Peter Petino. Glen Scheider made the extra point for Springfield.

In the second quarter, Chatham scored on a 25-yard sweep play, but the extra point attempt was stopped by Glen Scheider and Reid Jones, giving Springfield a 7-6 lead. In the third quarter, a fired-up Springfield defense led by David Salsido, Michael Bonocore, Tom Kisch and Anthony Graziano—stopped the Chatham offense.

A 25-yard punt return by Anthony Romano, giving the Minutemen great field position, was wasted when the Minutemen missed a first down inside the Chatham 20 by less than an inch. Contributing to Springfield's first victory were John Baber, Gary LaLavee, Danny Spots, Michael Pisanio, Mitchel Nenner, Brian Cole, Timmy Trivett, Frankie Romano, Mark Gross, Anthony Boffa, Eddie Cardinal and Joe Graziano, who broke his wrist on the morning of the first game of the season.

The Springfield team lost a 6-0 heartbreaker to the Chatham Cardinals on a 55-yard punt return after completely dominating the game at the Cardinals' field.

The Minutemen defense, led by Michael Bonocore, Danny Klingner, Kenny Burroughs, Anthony Romano and John Baber, limited the Chatham Cardinals to just one first down on the muddy field. David Salsido had an interception and 14-yard return.

Springfield's offense completed five passes and picked up big yardage on offensive sweeps by Frankie Romano and Reid Jones.

Jets B squad downs Summit to even record

Playing their first game at home, the Mountside Jets B team won its first game of the year over Summit, 12-0, after suffering an opening game loss to Chatham Borough.

The impetus was taken away from Summit on the first series of plays by the defense when Robby Martinetti broke through the center of the line to cause a loss of yardage on three successive plays. Throughout the game, Martignetti, Fred Alholm, John Alder, Jeff Lischin, Jim Dascoli and Tim Reardon, members of the defensive line, and Alex Caoli and John Caricato kept the opposition in its own territory. Summit had minus yardage for the game.

The offense, led by the sparkling ball handling of Stuart Jurczak at quarterback, moved the ball, getting three yards per carry. Key plays leading up to the two scores were runs by fullback Caricato, wingback Ben Caoli and tailbacks Bob Sefack and Doug Adams.

The blocking on the offensive line opened up large holes, led by Damion O'Donnell, Ed Mayer, Alex Caoli, Martignetti, Bill Carthy, Alholm, Bill Kellet, John Seeman, Mike Poole, Drew Sullivan and David Baron.

The first score was set up on a pass play from Jurczak to O'Donnell for a 15-yard gain. The same play was repeated as Jurczak put the ball on O'Donnell's fingertips in the end zone, but the extra point failed. The second score was a 35-yard off-tackle play with Doug Adams outrunning the defense. Leading the play were Ben Caoli and John Caricato. The extra point, a pass from Sefack to Alholm, failed.

Other key plays in the game were a pass from Sefack to Bill Carthy after a fine fake by Jurczak. Fumbles were recovered by Alex Caiola, Mike Poole and John Smith.

Dayton grads try out at UC

Eric Walker of Diven street, and Thomas Wisniewski of Baltusrol avenue, both Springfield, are among 25 candidates for Union College's varsity basketball team, which began practice sessions last week under Coach Irwin Wynn Phillips.

Walker, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, is a freshman majoring in business at Union. Wisniewski, who won three varsity letters at Dayton Regional, is also a freshman majoring in business.

Youth takes trophy

Jim Pabst of Springfield received the second-place trophy in the 13-year-old group of the local National Football League Punt, Pass and Kick contest held Oct. 1 at Swanstrom Park, Union. The competition was sponsored by Doran Ford of Union.

Summit eleven edges Regional JV squad

The Jonathan Dayton junior varsity football team lost a heartbreaker to Summit recently by a 15-6 score, and went down to Caldwell, 20-0.

The JV team fell behind, 9-0, at half-time after a successful Summit screen pass and a safety. Then the young Dayton Bulldogs carried the attack to the Hilltoppers. Dayton scored at the mid-point of the third quarter on a 14-yard pass from Ken Klebous to Steve Kessler, who made a leaping catch. Klebous was thwarted on his attempt for a two-point conversion.

Summit returned the kick-off for an 80-yard touchdown. The Bulldogs scrambled to score again but failed.

Klebous looked good at quarterback, hitting on successful passes to Bill Ventura, Dave Vargas, Kessler and Bob Irene. The offensive line of Lou Herkolo, Ed Johnson, John Halpin, Chris Dillemath and Bob Ruff provided

Runners showing improvement in Madison, Millburn triumphs

By KIRK KUBACH

Running on their home course, Dayton's harriers defeated Madison, 24-31 and Millburn, 22-33, widening the margin of earlier victories over both teams indicating an improvement in Dayton's runners.

The school's record stands at 9-1 for dual meets. Summit, with the same Suburban Conference record, challenges Dayton at home on Tuesday.

Dayton's coaches, Martin Taglienti and William Jones, are more than satisfied with the way the team has been steadily improving. Brad Weiner and Greg Rusbarsky, captains of the team, have done a superior job in leading the team as they each had their best races against Millburn and Madison. Jeff Knowles also had his best race, placing third behind Rusbarsky and Weiner and finishing ahead of three Madison runners that had earlier beat him.

Russell Lausten continues to give a fine performance. He has pretty much held the team together in the last three meets. The biggest surprise of the year is freshman Kevin King, who has finished in the top seven the past three meets.

Pete Keramas, another surprise known previously for his fine performances in the quarter mile, has turned out to be a key runner on the cross-country team. Jay Bruder, another fine runner, continues to improve his times.

Art Salman, out for the first time, has adjusted nicely to the sport and like Bill Solosy, continues to aid the team. Harvey Kaish, who came out to get in shape for indoor track, has come a long way in helping the team. Howard Doppelt and Dave Gechlik improve during every race and Jon Fingerhut, a sophomore, has done a fine job for the team.

Dan Smith and Rich Simon, although seniors, are improving as they better their times. Freshman Steven Wright shows signs of developing into an excellent runner in future years. Mitch Krasnoff is hoping to get back into things as he returns after an illness. Glen Horwood, Rob Fink, Ira Tauber and Sid Schlein all have adjusted to cross-country and are gaining experience for the future. Taglienti and Jones say they are pleased with the spirit, attitude and closeness of the team, which makes the season a pleasure.

Booters lose twice, to face Verona today

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Dayton Regional soccer team, plummeting to a 1-7-1 record, was shut out, 2-0, by New Providence and trampled, 6-0, by the powerful Summit Hilltoppers.

Coach Jim Skabo's young Bulldogs, who have scored only four goals while surrendering 25, will travel to Verona today in hopes of winning their second victory.

At New Providence, the Dayton defensive alignment sparked in defeat. Team leaders were goaltender Steven Shindler, fullbacks Marc Meskin and Mike Wittenberg and halfback Jay Hanigan, who made some neat traps.

Dayton was totally outplayed in the Summit contest, but there were a few bright spots for the Bulldogs. Meskin, a tenacious fullback who tends to improve as each game goes along, was in the finest form of his brief varsity career and won recognition from the referees for his outstanding play. Helping him on defense were Dave Lauhoff and Tony Sangregorio. Tony's brother Joe, a Dayton co-captain, excelled on the offensive end of the field.

A large crop of reserves was employed in both contests, with both Tom Ragno and Michael Jacob proving their worth. Coach Skabo made one noticeable lineup change in the Summit game, inserting left-footed junior Mitchell Feuer at a wing slot. Feuer responded well.

The junior varsity squad also was beaten twice, but this group of 10th and 11th graders is starting to shape up under Coach Scott Shallock, a fiery young leader. The New Providence Pioneers won, 5-0, and the Summit Hilltoppers, 4-1. Offensive standout of the week for the Dayton jayvees was Mike O'Connell, who tallied the lone goal, while George Smith and Mike King led in defense.

Coach Art Krupp's freshman squadron fell by identical 3-0 scores to New Providence and Summit. The fresh season log slipped to 3-4. Standouts in the gloomy week were Donald Meixner and Paul Commarato.

Dazzling Dayton wins 2 more in gymnastics

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School gymnastics team crushed Scotch Plains, 81.10-66.20, and followed this impressive victory with a 77.95-77.65 trimming of Kenilworth's David Brearley Regional High.

Coach Nancy Dougherty's Dayton gymnasts now enjoy a season record of six victories with only one setback.

Against Scotch Plains, the Dayton girls swept all four events. Moira Halpin was the big winner, taking first place in the floor-exercise category and outdistancing all competitors on the balance beam. Junior Carol Wingard recorded a score in the high sevens as she placed first on the vaulting horse. Co-captain Barbara Calamusa was the ace performer on the uneven parallel bars.

The Brearley match was by far the closest of the season, with the outcome declared amidst controversy. The Kenilworth girls thought they had won until the final scores were tallied. The Springfield team won on the balance beam, where Halpin led the pack, and on the uneven parallel bars, where agile junior Jill Lipton dazzled the judges with her difficult routine. The Dayton girls also finished second in floor exercises, where Halpin scored an 8.15, and in vaulting, where Wingard set the pace.

The powerful Dayton squad will travel to Elizabeth for its next meet tomorrow.

SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE MART

Home buyers given a choice by Fromkins

Les and Lou Fromkin, Monmouth County builders for 25 years, have put together a complex of developments in different areas of Monmouth County to give buyers real freedom of choice...in locales as well as in the wide choice of homes in various price ranges.

The Fromkin "freedom of choice" concept allows the buyer to choose a home already built or a complete custom home in any area, from the customer's plans or one of the hundreds of elevations the Fromkins have used in past and present construction. This "freedom of choice" offers homes to fit almost every budget...from popular-priced homes to expensive and more luxurious residences.

For many years the Fromkins built their homes with an eye for modernization and improvement and the research continues with new and improved ways of energy-saving incorporated into every home they build. Working closely with government agencies, Fromkin developers, the "energy-conscious builders," are quick to apply the newest, most modern methods of saving energy. Les and Lou are involved in solar heat and heat pumps to protect buyers; every home they build is covered by homeowners warranty insurance.

Surrey Hill is off Green Grove road in Ocean Township. Buttermere Estates is in Tinton Falls. Village Green at West Long Branch is near Monmouth road. Parkwood Estates in Wall Township is near the Garden State Parkway and 18th avenue.

All locations are close to the Garden State Parkway and other major highways. Low down payments and 8 1/4 percent mortgages are available. There are lots with plenty of trees and unwooded lots for solar exposure.

Developments have city sewers, sidewalks, city water and underground utilities—in and paid for. The Clayton Agency of Wall Township which handles the sales, is open weekends and for appointments during the week.

Conservation in lawn care

By being aware of signs that lawns need watering, homeowners not only can cultivate a beautiful yard, but maximize water conservation, suggests the National Association of Realtors.

When grass turns a dull grey-green or when footprints remain, it's time to water. But if the grass is only grey-green in spots or near concrete persons should root-water or hand-water only the dry areas.

Holly Park condos built for a long life

Special consideration to shore area weather can add long life and value to a home at no extra cost to the homeowner.

In fact, building with non-corrosive materials and temperature-protective materials makes for lower costs according to Joseph Courter, an architect who is now directing both construction and sales at the Holly Lake Park condominium community located less than a mile from bay waters, on Great Bay Blvd., Tuckerton.

Holly Lake Park offers one and two-bedroom ranch style carriage homes priced from under $30,000, including a carport and rear patio.

Blending with the natural woodlands of the site, the homes are clustered in courtyards, with all-wood exteriors becoming visual extension of the preserved native shrubbery and trees.

Special factors of construction make the value difference. For one, Courter said, elimination of painting maintenance on exteriors of all homes. To avoid the possibility of peeling or blistering paint at any time—when homes are new or old—siding of stained natural wood is used and windows and sliding doors (to patios) are in vinyl-coated perma-shield frames. Both these features are designed to eliminate future maintenance work and costs.

Another weather-resistant feature is the exterior door hardware. Non-corrosive brushed aluminum for all exterior door hardware has been designated for Holly Lake Park homes, not only for the insulated sliding glass doors but also for the Pease-paneled and insulated steel-clad front doors.

Holly Lake Park homes have nine-inch ceiling insulation, engineered roof trusses, 1/2-inch sheathing, 15 lb. builders felt and 235-lb. selfseal wind resistant shingles on the roof.

Exterior walls are given 3 1/2-inch full thickness insulation, one-half-inch gypsum board interior and five-eighths-inch natural wood siding. The homes are set with 24-inch concrete footing. Poly-ethylene vapor barriers are used under the homes, then eight-inch concrete blocks beneath the aluminum termite shield and six-inch floor insulation, all specified for optimal protection in the wooded shore area tract.

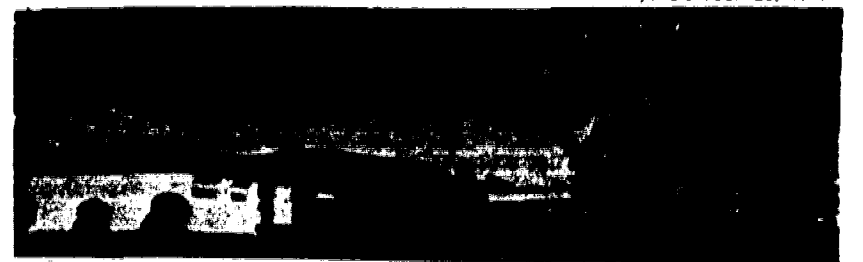

Each home is centrally air conditioned as well as heated by the Lenox heat pump system, which—combined with positive insulation—provides economical fuel usage and comfort through all seasons.

Add to these such specialty decisions as the discontinuance of jalousie windows except at buyer's option, and then suggested only for southern exposures. Also, the use of louvered doors on closets within the homes to provide fullest air circulation.

In the same way, carports are provided to protect cars from year-round changing coastal area weather, and garages are optional at slight additional expense.

There is no reason, according to Courter, to offer less than well-thought-out materials for best value to the homeowner at reasonable purchase price. And for continued cost savings through years of good living.

The Holly Lake Park sales and information office is open seven days a week and evenings by appointment, a few blocks within the main entry to the community on Great Bay Blvd., and near the nine-hole golf course, swimming pool, clubhouse-social hall and 18-acre spring-fed lake. Holly Lake Park is approximately a half-hour from Atlantic City and only moments from Exit 58 of the Garden State Parkway.

STREET SCENE lawns and landscaping dominate Laurel Brook, a condominium community in Brick Town where one and two-bedroom "expandable" ranch-style homes are priced from $28,990. The community was built in 1970, but was not released for sale until last summer, when many former renters became immediate purchasers.

Laurel Brook offers homes from $28,990

Laurel Brook, a condominium community of one and two-bedroom "expandable" homes with garages, is located on Rt. 88, in Brick Town, with access to northern areas of the state, but only a few miles inland from Barnegat Bay and the Atlantic Ocean.

The homes, priced from $28,990 are increased by a lower level reached by a wrought-iron railed estimated to cost approximately $40,000 if they were built today. The homes were offered for sale during the summer of last year and many renters were among the first purchasers.

Each home has a private doorway in a secluded porchway A garage for each home is built into the structure. The homes were built in 1970 and have been by appointment.

Retire to full time living

You get a lot to like at Greenbriar.

A lot of pleasure right at home. In addition to a swimming pool, park and playgrounds, you'll find a private lot for your home. Your home has a separate and detached garage and a full kitchen. And plenty of living space including separate central air conditioning and GE appliances. Don't worry about the maintenance. The Greenbriar Association handles all the details. So why settle for a home that's just a house? See the Greenbriar homes in Wall Township, New Jersey. Five detached models priced in the mid $40's.

This is not an offering, which can be made by formal prospectus only.

Mardi Gras; easy commute

Mardi Gras Development located on Sand Hill road in South Brunswick, reports a favorable sales schedule in part because of the convenience of commuting to New York or southern New Jersey areas. The Park & Ride system which is only five minutes from the new development affords commuters transportation into New York every 15 minutes. Major highways such as Route 1, Route 27 and the New Jersey Turnpike are all minutes away.

Major shopping, schools and churches are in the area which also prides itself on its low taxes.

The Mardi Gras Development will have its own homeowners association and it has two park areas.

Seven models are featured at the South Brunswick development and prices range from $54,900 to $69,900. All the homes feature extra insulation and include Magic Chef self-cleaning oven and dishwashers, plush shag carpeting, smoke detector, marble top vanities and many custom features.

Mardi Gras Development is open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and can be reached by taking the New Jersey Turnpike to exit 9, rt. 1 south to right on Sand Hill road and one mile to the preview sales office.

Buyer's listings

A nationwide attempt by a major developer and builder of adult condominium communities in New Jersey to assist new buyers of their homes with the sale of their old homes prior to moving into their new ones, was announced by John G. Andriessen, Director of Sales & Marketing for Guardian Development Corporation, developers of Rossmoor and Clearbrook, adjacent communities located in Monroe Township, off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike.

Recognizing the need for buyers of new homes to first dispose of their present ones, Guardian Development has entered into an agreement with "Gallery of Homes," the nationwide network of licensed real estate firms, to list the addresses and descriptions of homes available for sale by future Rossmoor and Clearbrook residents. Under this plan, an automatic listing of the homes available is circulated to "Gallery of Homes" affiliate member offices throughout the United States. Listing and description, and only if the home is sold by an affiliate member, is the regular Real Estate Broker commission paid.

Berg Agency opens West Orange office

Local civic and business leaders recently joined key executives of the Berg Agency of New Jersey for a ribbon cutting which marked the debut of the real estate firm in West Orange.

Officiating at the ceremonies were West Orange Mayor William F. Cuozi Jr. and Kenneth Berg, board chairman of Berg Enterprises Inc., parent company of the Berg Agency.

The new Berg office is located at 555 Northfield avenue at the Turtle Brook. In front of the office is a large parking area for visitors. Landscaping rings the property, and a pillared portico leads into the office. The floors are carpeted in gold and orange colors. Oak paneling predominates on the walls, and a collection of original oil paintings is on display.

"I anticipate extremely fine results from our recent move here..." Berg said. "The West Orange office is located at the hub of many fine residential communities, and it is our intention to serve them all with the same commitment to professionalism that characterizes our activities in other sections of New Jersey."

Jerry Salomone, the agency's president, said the parent company "is national in scope and is the second largest of its kind in the U.S. We have more than 100 offices coast-to-coast, and this is an important advantage for homebuyers relocating from a different part of the country or for sellers looking for the widest possible market for their homes."

Joseph Cosenza, senior vice-president and director of northern New Jersey operations for Berg, said the new office "is one of our largest." He said the staff includes 20 associates "under the direction of one of our strongest Berg managers, Anthony Della Pelle, who has had a most distinguished career in real estate in this area."

Those at the ribbon cutting attended a coffee reception in the new of-ice. Guests included, officers of the Board of Realtors, officers of the West Orange Chamber of Commerce, representatives of mortgage and commercial banking firms and local attorneys.

Della Pelle has more than seven years of experience as a sales counselor, manager and a corporate officer. He is a full vice president of the Berg Agency of New Jersey.

Della Pelle said his 20 sales associates are graduates of the Berg School for Real Estate. The Berg Agency is part of Berg Enterprises Inc., a public company listed on the American Stock Exchange. It conducts business in eight states and is engaged in residential, industrial and commercial real estate, mortgage banking and brokerage, insurance and other related areas, according to Della Pelle.

Conservation booklet offered by Crestwood

David S. Wolff, marketing director at Crestwood Communities, Whiting has released for publication a new booklet, "How to Conserve Energy and Dollars in Retirement." Ten thousand copies are being delivered free to persons who have visited the Ocean County active adult communities and requested facts and figures regarding property and maintenance costs in residences such as those under construction at Crestwood.

He said, "Homewoners are confused about heating-fuel economy and energy conservation because there is more misinformation on these subjects than hard, honest facts. What every property owner—and every potential homebuyer—needs are the costs, the options and available charges relating to a specific residence, not vague and general data which never apply to any specific home.

"For example, a slight change in thermostat setting can reduce fuel consumption up to 20 percent. Another minor change in the water heater control-setting can reduce fuel consumption another 9 percent. And too much insulation can cost a homeowner more in terms of long range investment than it saves in fuel conservation. Property owners need down-to-earth information like this now, not pie-in-the-sky promises that solar heating will solve all problems 'some day.'"

The 12-page booklet include such subject headings as: Home Heating—how to cut down on fuel costs; Transportation—automobiles and energy waste; Maintenance and Repairs; Recreation; Taxes and Medical Costs. The data was compiled over 18 months by engineers on Crestwood's staff, in consultation with heating-fuel experts, manufacturers of insulation, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, residential construction and heating industry research sources. In addition, statistics and findings were abstracted from Professional Builder, Country Journal, Newsweek, Forbes and New York Times, among other publications.

"We talk with thousands of retirees and potential retirees every year," Wolff stated. "They have certain basic questions which we try to help them answer: 'Should we move? Should we buy a smaller home? What is my present property worth? How will my retirement income cover living expenses?'"

"We urge them not to make decisions regarding where to live in retirement until they possess dollars-and-cents information about all property and living costs where they presently live versus the same complete data anywhere they might consider moving to. Compiling all the factors pertinent to that research was the basic commitment we undertook in starting work on our new booklet."

Wolff added that copies of the energy booklet are available, free of charge, upon request by writing to Crestwood, Box 166, Whiting, 08759.

The Choice Is Yours at Panther Valley

Actual photographs taken at Panther Valley.

The great outdoors...the great indoors all yours to enjoy at Panther Valley. Security. Choice of lifestyle. Escape!

Our 18 hole golf course was designed by Robert Trent Jones. A beautiful championship course with magnificent scenic views on all sides. And of course there's a clubhouse and pro shop. There are tennis courts, lighted for night play. Paddle tennis too. Three swimming pools, with poolside lounging areas for you to soak up the sun. And there are acres of private community countryside for you to stroll as a resident. The choice of leisure activity is yours!

A wide choice of fine homes as well.

You don't have to compromise on your choice of houses either when you come to Panther Valley. There are a variety of single family homes and exciting townhouses to select from. All are quite different, roomy, prestigious and fun to live in. The prices of these two to five bedroom homes, on this beautiful old estate property run from $57,000 to $107,000. The choice is yours.

See Panther Valley in all its splendor now. You won't believe you're only a little more than 50 miles from the George Washington Bridge and Newark Airport.

With a guard at the gatehouse and private patrol of the community streets, Panther Valley is a Shangri-La you really must see for yourself. Secure. Out of the way. Picturesque.

COLUMBIA AT OAKFIELD—The 3-bedroom ranch home offers more than 2000 square feet of living space including a master suite separate from children's wing. The Lacey Township community.

Oakfield, offers a variety of individualized ranch and 2-story colonial models priced from $45,500 to $65,900. The Columbia's price is $65,900.

Oakfield model features suite

A large 3-bedroom home — the Columbia — is setting the pace in living at Oakfield, a new residential community of individualized family homes set on a woodland tract in Lacey Township. Oakfield offers a variety of six ranch and 2-story Colonial homes priced from $45,500 to $65,900 in this township with the lowest taxes in Ocean County.

The Columbia, priced at $65,900, offers more than 2,000 square feet of living space in a design that features four living areas, including a separate master suite that has both a bedroom and private sitting room.

The Columbia's front door opens to a spacious entry foyer with powder room and coat closet nearby. To one side of the foyer, is the master suite of two rooms plus bath and closets. Directly ahead is the living room and dining room arrangement, with a designer-planned V-shaped wall setting the tone for the entire house and separating the formal living quarters from a long gallery that runs the depth of the Columbia, past the enclosed kitchen area and to the large family room.

The same V-shape is used for kitchen design, yet the spacious countertops and cabinets that offer excellent working area are both separate and convenient to other sections of this ranch.

The children's wing, set beyond the family room, includes two bedrooms and main bath. A utility room is nearer the front of the house, adjacent to the garage.

Oakfield is located on Western Boulevard, in Lacey Township, with entry to the community approximately 1 mile from Exit 74 of the Parkway, and only about seven miles south of Toms River. Decorated model and sales office are open seven days a week and evenings by appointment through J. Paul Taylor Agency, Lacey Road, sales manager for the community.

Company in move

Unex Conveyor Systems of Toms River, manufacturers of material handling systems for industry, has signed a lease for 20,500 square feet in the Northeast Corridor Industrial Park, located on I 195 in Jackson Township.

Unex president, Frank Newirth said, "The company is experiencing a growth trend which necessitated the move to larger quarters. Another factor in our decision in selecting NCIP as a home base was the proximity to I 195 and the New Jersey Turnpike and the Rt. 9 connection which will be completed in 1978."

Unex has been in business for 15 years as designers, manufacturers and installers of conveyor product and systems.

Plastic made from castor oil Replaces some petrochemicals

On-going research at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., has resulted in development of tough plastics and reinforced rubbery materials by using castor oil, a readily-available vegetable product, as a partial substitute for the petrochemicals ordinarily used to manufacture such materials.

Castor oil and other vegetable oils, such as linseed oil, have long been used to manufacture paints and adhesives but the current energy crisis has spurred research to find new uses for these renewable resources. A Lehigh research team, working in cooperation with researchers in Colombia, South America, has found that castor oil can be polymerized to form surprisingly-tough rubbery materials, making it an ideal replacement for petroleum-based components.

The research activity, now entering its fourth year, is supported at Lehigh by the National Science Foundation, and by Coleciencias in Colombia. Dr. Leslie H. Sperling and Dr. John A. Manson of the Materials Research Center (MRC) at Lehigh and Dr. Alfonso Conde of Santander University in Bucaramanga, Colombia, are the principal investigators.

Napoleon Devia, a Colombian national now working toward his Ph.D. at Lehigh, is studying the castor oil problem in MRC, and has prepared samples of tough plastics containing castor oil and an elastomer made entirely from castor oil.

Dr. Sperling believes these materials produced in the Lehigh lab using castor oil could be used, in reinforced versions, in commercial production of many practical items—shoe heels, for instance. Such commercial application of elastomers and plastics made from vegetable oils would be of considerable economic benefit to countries where oil-producing plants thrive, such as Colombia. Explains Dr. Sperling:

"We are confident that if anyone should have tire trouble hundreds of miles from home, these new spare tires will get them back home, or to a tire repair shop just as safely and dependably as the spares people have been accustomed to," Estes said. He also stressed the convenient aspect, pointing out that the lighter weight spares will be easier to get out of the trunk and change on the road, when necessary.

Drivers using a compact spare for the first time may notice that the corner of the car on which it is installed is slightly lower. "However," he emphasized, "In all other respects—such as handling, control response and traction—the new space saving spares compare very favorably with a conventional tire." Because of the 60-pound inflation pressure, this tire provides a "stiffer" ride than a conventional one.

GM line to introduce small spares in '78

General Motors will have new compact spare tires on its redesigned 1978 mid-size cars—saving weight, trunk space and making the tire easier to change.

The spare will be stowed vertically (except in station wagons) on one side of the luggage compartment, freeing the enter trunk floor for other items. They will be carried inflated to their normal operating pressure of 60 psi. Although the sidewalls of the compact spares will be clearly marked, "Temporary Use Only," they will be good for 1,000 to 3,000 miles of total service, depending on road conditions and driving habits.

GM President E. M. Estes, in announcing the step which he said was made possible by a "major advance in tire technology," said the new compact spares will reduce car weight by 11 to 14 pounds and take up only half the space required for the conventional spare tire and wheel assemblies they replace. The new spares are of four-ply bias construction. They will be compatible with the conventional radial tires supplied as original equipment on the cars.

Cooperative development work with three tire companies—Firestone, General and Uniroyal—and thorough road testing by both General Motors and the tire suppliers, convinced GM that the move to the compact spares in the 1978 GM intermediate-sized cars will result in "real consumer benefits," Estes said.

Words-to-film told in series

How filmmakers translate verbal metaphors of written material into visual metaphors of the motion picture is demonstrated in "19 Century Literature," a new five-part series to air on New Jersey Public Television, Channels 23, 50, 52 and 58, beginning Tuesday, Nov. 1, at noon. It will be repeated Thursdays at 9 a.m.

Based on the works of Ambrose Bierce and other 19th Century authors, the 30-minute programs are designed for grades seven to 12 and college students.

Appeal for help

The National Huntington's Disease Association (New Jersey Chapter) this week called for public support to help raise money for research. Bonus gift coupons, cigarette coupons, all trading stamps and coupons for health and beauty aids may be sent to Box 632, Westfield 07090.

Huntington's Disease is a fatal hereditary illness manifesting any time between ages of 6 and 65, changing a healthy person into a "vegetable" with mental illness. Death occurs within five to 15 years.

Each child in the afflicted family has a 50-50 chance of inheriting this disease. There is no control drug or therapy to help.

The organization has offered to give a free educational program and film as a public service to any interested group.

Merit Solving Smoker Dilemma.

'Enriched Flavor' breakthrough ends search for "low tar, good taste" cigarette.

For years, smokers had to choose between real tobacco flavor or low tar. Until MERIT.

Until a breakthrough in tobacco science resulted in a way to boost natural tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT and MERIT 100's were packed with this special tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

The results proved conclusively that 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco does boost taste without the usual increase in tar.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

Medical school plans program on bond issue

A program to inform the public about the proposed education facilities bond issue was announced this week by Dr. Stanley S. Bergen Jr., president of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey CMDNJ.

The informational program will disseminate written materials and make available speakers from CMDNJ to explain details of the bond issue, Dr. Bergen said.

The bond issue will appear as Public Question No. 2 on the ballot in the Nov. 8 general election.

"As a state institution we are anxious that the people of New Jersey be aware of what the $120 million bond issue will mean to them in increased health care facilities and medical education in the state," he explained.

He said that $56 million in savings would be realized by replacing a 1974 revenue bond issue of $109 million to finance construction of the CMDNJ College Hospital in Newark with $95 million of State of New Jersey general obligation bonds to be sold at between 5 and 5.25 percent interest. The 1974 revenue bonds were sold at an average 7.7 percent interest.

The refinancing is possible, Bergen said, because of the lower interest rates now prevailing and because of the excellent credit rating which New Jersey bonds enjoy in the current market. In addition, the general obligation bond issue would not require the reserve funds that added to the cost of the previous bond issue.

From the savings, he said, the New Jersey Commission on Capital Budget and Planning has approved the use of some $25 million to finance the construction of other CMDNJ educational and health care facilities.

Executive-in-residence in new Upsala program

An executive-in-residence program has been started at Upsala College, East Orange to bring close together the worlds of business and academia.

The first appointee in the pilot program is Paul Stefanik of Montclair, retired marketing executive for the Mobil Oil Corporation.

Stefanik will lecture at Upsala classes on such subjects as "World Food" and "International Trade" and

Autumn foliage brochure ready

A brochure, "New Jersey - Color It Beautiful" has just been published by the state Department of Environmental Protection. DEP to guide persons wishing to view New Jersey's autumn foliage.

Specific directions for five tours are given, along with simplified road maps and brief descriptions of the woodlands, types of trees and coloration.

Copies of "New Jersey - Color It Beautiful" will be available at New Jersey state park and forest field offices, state historic sites, visitors centers on the Garden State Parkway and New Jersey Turnpike, and in numerous state offices and field stations.

Motorists reminded on insurance cards

Motor Vehicles Director John A. Waddington issued a reminder this week to all New Jersey motorists that the New Jersey Compulsory Insurance Law requires that Insurance Identification Card must be with the vehicle at all times while it is being driven.

Without the New Jersey Insurance Identification Card, it is possible that the operator may be charged with driving an uninsured vehicle.

also will talk at meetings of faculty members.

Dr. Kurt Nathan, director of Upsala's multinational corporate studies program, said the new program has been started because of a growing interest among students in the world of business.

"In the Vietnam war years there was militant skepticism about the business world," Nathan said. "That skepticism, although still there, has subsided somewhat and there is growing curiosity among students about the mystique of the world of business."

Nathan said Stefanik will welcome from the students "hard-hitting questions" about the corporate world and it is hoped that informative dialogue will result between students and Stefanik. His services will be made available to students of all disciplines, not just those in business courses.

Stefanik, who speaks five languages, had been with Mobil Oil Corporation for 40 years until his retirement in 1975. His last special assignment was to study individual and religious freedoms in the Iron Curtain country of Czechoslovakia. During his tenure with Mobil he traveled extensively in 50 nations, organizing international training, technical and marketing meetings throughout Europe, Asia and Latin America.

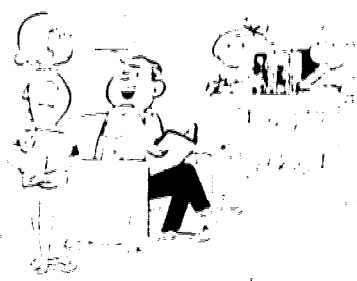

He has spent the past year lecturing on the campuses of Lutheran colleges including Wittenberg, Pacific Lutheran and Muhlenberg.

Railroaders meet monthly

The Retired Railroaders Club will meet Saturday, Nov. 5 at 11 a.m. in the Senior Citizen Center, 1306 Esterbrook ave., Rahway. All men and women who have retired from any railroad are invited to join the club, which meets the first Saturday of every month.

Zeppelin talk next Thursday

F. W. Von Meister, a zeppelin company representative during the 1930's, will speak at the Oct. 27 meeting of the Union-Morris Chapter of the Air Force Association. The meeting will be held at the William Pitt Restaurant in Chatham. Von Meister will lecture and show a film on the history of zeppelins in commercial aviation.

"They kept bothering me, so I gave them something to do."

Work will start on NJIT dorm

New Jersey Institute of Technology will break ground for construction of a 210-bed student dormitory this fall, it was announced by Charles R. Bergmann, president.

Cost of the building will be $1.8 million, funded by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Economic Development Authority.

According to Bergmann, agreement with the federal agency was signed Aug. 25, calling for ground-breaking to take place within 90 days of that time. Occupancy is expected for September 1979.

The Institute plan to construct the six-story facility on part of an existing parking lot within its campus boundaries. The building will abut Bleeker street at the north and will extend south parallel to the Institute's tennis courts at Bleeker and Lock streets.

Cancer group sponsors Fleming ice skate show

"America on Ice II," starring Peggy Fleming, is coming to the South Mountain Arena in West Orange for three days, Nov. 4, 5 and 6. The ice show, a presentation of the South Mountain Figure Skating Club, will benefit ACT - Abolish Cancer Today, a charitable organization that raises funds for cancer research.

There will be performances Friday, Nov. 4, at 7 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 5, at 7 p.m.; and Sunday, Nov. 6, at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are now available at the South Mountain Arena box office.

Peggy Fleming is the 1968 Winter Olympics gold medal winner in figure skating.

ACT, formed last year, contributes all of the funds it raises to the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research. Three Livingston women - Ellen Goldberg is president, Diane Berwick and Carolyn Fefferman - vice-presidents of the charitable group. Other ACT ice program coordinators are Sue Fershing, Caren Ford and Joan Fierstein.

Reserved seats are $7.50 for adults and $5 for children under 14. Patron section seats are available at $15.

"High-quality sound, low-down price!"

- Toshiba SA-220C AM/FM Stereo Receiver
- B*1*C 920 Belt-Drive Record Changer
- Two Jensen 20 2-Way Speaker Systems

This price is just about as low as you can go in order to enjoy the benefits of top-quality stereo performance.

Toshiba's SA-220C is loaded to capacity with fine features that are normally found in more expensive models. The sophisticated tuner section delivers a world of ear-tinging FM sound, while keeping distortion to the barest minimum. There's a loudness switch to boost bass and treble at low listening levels, and an input jack for full mic mixing. FM tuning is made simple with the center-null tuning meter.

B*1*C's ever-popular 920 turntable, equipped with a sensitive Shure cartridge, features belt-drive for quiet operation. It also has cueing and anti-skating controls to prevent scratching.

And these two Jensen 20's are really something else. For bookshelf speakers, they give you the kind of sock and realism you'd expect from bigger, more expensive systems. You'll love this dynamic duo!

All in all, a super-sounding system... at a super-low Goody price.

HANK AARON VISITS LIVINGSTON MALL

Hank Aaron, baseball's homerun king, visited the Livingston Mall - as the guest of Sam Gordon's—on Wednesday, October 5th. He was greeted by a crowd estimated at 2500, including many little leaguers. Aaron received a certificate of honorary citizenship in Livingston from Mayor Don Coburn. Rick Brous, vice president of Sam Gordon's and a Livingston resident—presented HANK AARON Little League Louisville Slugger Baseball Bats to several enthusiastic youngsters.

Autographed pictures were handed out to almost 1000 excited youngsters, but Brous reports the crowd was so much larger than anticipated that Sam Gordon's ran out of souvenir pictures. Rick Brous announced to the throngs of well wishers that more autographed pictures would be flown in from Magnavox headquarters in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Magnavox co-sponsored the Hank Aaron goodwill tour to Livingston.

Sam Gordon's was proud to bring Hank Aaron to Livingston and was pleased to have been able to thrill so many youngsters with a chance to see and hear their hero. The pictures are now available at Sam Gordon's. Fans are invited to stop in the store for their free Hank Aaron photograph.

dial 'n pay is here.

Pay bills or transfer between accounts by phone—any phone, any where

Pay your bills by phone

It's fast, it's convenient, and it's easy. Dial 'N Pay is a new Howard service that lets you pay your regular bills with a simple phone call. Bills such as department stores, utilities, credit cards, your mortgage or personal loan, even payments to other bank accounts. No checks to write. No stamps to buy and lick. No envelopes to scrounge. Just call Dial 'N Pay, tell us who you want to pay and how much. We take it from there.

Transfer money between your accounts by phone

No frenzied dash to the bank to transfer money from your savings account into your checking account, or to pay your savings account from your checking account. Just call Dial 'N Pay and tell us. It's done the same day.

Here's what you need to use Dial 'N Pay

A Scotfree checking account and a Howard Regular 5 1/4% pass-book savings account. If you already have these Howard accounts, you may designate them as your Dial 'N Pay accounts. Prefer a separate Dial 'N Pay savings account? It's easy to open one.

We'll also ask you to sign an authorization form listing who you will want to pay through Dial 'N Pay. For your protection, these will be the only accounts you can pay through Dial 'N Pay. The list may be added to at any time. You may even pre-authorize regular, set-amount payments and we'll do it automatically.

It costs less than a postage stamp!

For each Dial 'N Pay transaction you make — to pay a bill or transfer money — there's a 10c service charge. Less than the cost of a postage stamp — to say nothing of the time and aggravation you save!

No minimum balance

For your Scotfree checking or for your Dial 'N Pay savings account. And there's no minimum or maximum amount which you may pay or transfer, either!

It's completely safe and in your control

Only you know who you owe, how much, and when it's due. Nobody gets paid unless you call and tell us. And, since your account number and personal number are as unique to your account as your signature, only you can tell us who to pay.

Any phone, any where, most any time

Call from home. From work. From a phone booth on the highway. And if you're calling from anywhere in New Jersey, the call is toll-free! Hours are 8 am to 8 pm, Mon-Fri., and 9 am to 2 pm Saturdays. You can even tell us to send a payment or make a transfer as many as 30 days after you call.

How to get the convenience of Dial 'N Pay

Stop by any Howard office, or send us the coupon, or call 201-456-5900 and we'll send you full details and a sign-up kit. No obligation, of course!
