

Mobile library opens; new maternity benefit

Mothers of infants born at St. Elizabeth Hospital are receiving instructions in child care through a Mobile Maternity Library operated by the hospital's Maternity Guild. Mrs. Meridiano-Faxas of Linden, newly elected president of the guild, said the library was made possible by a grant from the Hoffmann-La Roche Inc.

The library material includes publications in English and Spanish. Guild members wheel the cart daily through the Maternity Department and the Prenatal Clinic. The Elizabeth hospital's five nurse-midwives suggest proper reading and video material for each patient.

Special video material for teen-age mothers is available. At present, about 60 high school girls are in the Prenatal Clinic program each year.

Because of the hospital's nurse-midwifery program, more physicians are referring their maternity patients to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Memorial General Hospital in Union, phasing out its maternity department, will refer patients to Saint Elizabeth Hospital. The mobile library is under the direction of nurse-midwife Margaret Marshall, who reports directly to Dr. Donald A. Frichione, chief of obstetrics and gynecology. Others who assist in the total education program are Dr. Amira Khatib, a neonatologist; Dr. Michael Frattarola, a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, and Dr. Myrosla Choma, house physician.

Stamp, coin show to be held Sunday

The Central Jersey Stamp and Coin Exchange will hold a stamp and coin show and sale Sunday at the Ramada Inn, 36 Valley rd., Clark, at Garden State Parkway Exit 135.

Show hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no charge for admission or parking.

UC will reopen doors Monday for the summer

Union College's Summer Session II will open Monday with an anticipated enrollment of 1,500 students, according to its director, Prof. John Wheeler.

The six-week summer session will offer some 60 college credit courses in the arts, sciences, business, engineering and criminal justice, paralleling freshmen and sophomore offerings at four-year colleges and universities.

In addition, developmental courses in the sciences, reading and math will be conducted for those who need additional preparation before taking college-level courses.

Enrollment is open to current college students, high school juniors and seniors and adults.

Classes meet Monday through Thursday in day and evening sessions. Students attending Summer Session II may earn up to 12 college credits.

Students may still register for Summer Session II, Wheeler stated. Information on registration procedures may be obtained by calling the Office of Admissions, 276-2600, Ext. 262.

Rajoppi is appointed to tri-state task force

Union County Freeholder Joanne Rajoppi of Springfield, head of the board's social services committee, has been appointed to direct a tri-state task force on domestic violence, it was announced today.

The task force, which is sponsored by the Metropolitan Regional Council, Inc., includes elected officials in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey.

"The task force will serve several purposes," Rajoppi said. "We intend to provide information on how to establish new programs for battered women, combining government and private groups as well as informing the public as to the social needs for such programs. In addition we will provide liaison to legislative bodies on the need for legislative action; evaluate existing services, propose some model arrangements and discuss and report on longrange planning needs for programs to combat domestic violence and the causes of domestic violence."

"Our primary concern is to help counties and municipalities, who do not presently have programs dealing with this problem, to document the problem and start programs. We are going to show them how to do it in an economical way," she said.

Rajoppi said that such programs will include not only methods of shelter for battered women, but also supportive social services like counseling, advocacy, legal service and job training among others. Training for police also will be available since law enforcement officials are usually the first to encounter incidents of battering.

Rajoppi said the task force will meet on a monthly basis.

3-ring circus coming to Cranford school

The Roberts Brothers 3-Ring Circus will bring its big top to Cranford on Saturday when it will perform at the Hillside Avenue Middle School at 2 and 5 p.m.

The circus performance is sponsored by the Suburban Symphony Society of New Jersey and proceeds will benefit the symphony's 1978-79 concert season, according to Aaron Cohen of Union, vice-president of the society.

"Free tickets to the circus," Cohen stated, "will be made available to area service organizations through the generous contributions of the business community." Those benefiting will include: the Retired

Senior Volunteer Program of Union County, Senior Citizens Council of Union County, the Union County Mental Health Association, the Cranford Welfare Association, the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center of Union and Special Education Students in Cranford.

.6 percent rise in price index for May noted

With higher prices for food, housing, transportation, medical care and apparel, the Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers in the 18-county New York-Northeastern New Jersey area rose 0.6 percent between April and May, it was reported by Herbert Bienstock, who directs the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Middle Atlantic Region. Over the year ending in May 1978, consumer prices rose 5.4 percent, according to Bienstock.

The revised CPI for urban wage earners and clerical workers was up 0.5 percent between April and May, 4.9 percent from a year ago. Bienstock pointed out that changes in the two indexes need not be the same because of differences in coverage as well as sampling variability.

Seasonally adjusted, the area CPI rose 0.7 percent in May, following increases of 0.8 percent in April and 0.9 percent in March. Bienstock indicated that in the first five months of 1978 increases averaged 0.7 percent a month, compared to an average monthly rise of 0.2 percent in the last half of 1977.

With the Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers at 194.6 (1967-100), $19.46 was required in April to buy what $10 could in the 1967 base period. According to Bienstock, the purchasing power of the dollar was 51.4 cents in 1967 dollars, 43.2 cents in 1957-59 dollars.

Bienstock noted that more than two fifths the overall April to May rise reflected a 1.0 percent increase for food and beverages. The food at home or grocery store component, typically stable in May, rose 1.3 percent. Restaurant prices increased 0.4 percent and the alcoholic beverages index rose 1.1 percent between April and May.

Within the food-at-home component, the meats, poultry and fish index rose sharply by 1.8 percent, largely resulting from higher beef prices. The fruits and vegetables index was up 3.3 percent, with sharply higher May prices for fresh fruits and lettuce reported by Bienstock. The cereals and bakery products index rose 1.6 percent over the month reflecting increases in bread prices. In contrast, prices turned down for eggs and coffee.

Between May 1977 and May 1978, area food prices rose 8.6 percent. Bienstock pointed out that this was more than one and a half times the overall rate of price increase of 5.4 percent. The sharpest increases were in the meats, poultry and fish and fruits and vegetables components, up 13.9 percent and 13.0 percent, respectively. The cereals and bakery products index, up 9.8 percent, also rose sharply over the year.

'Rip-offs' seen in solar energy

Adam K. Levin, director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs, recently called for "a vigorous nationwide program of enforcement and education to keep the solar energy free of consumer fraud."

Levin said "one key to speeding the use of solar energy" is assuring consumers that "government will not tolerate solar energy rip-offs."

"There are dangers lurking in a developing field in which relatively new technology is being offered to consumers who lack the sophistication, know-how or information to evaluate critically the claims and promises of sellers of home solar energy systems," Levin said.

Levin cited cases in which sellers of home solar energy systems have misrepresented their own technical expertise, the efficiency of the equipment and information concerning the qualifications for government grants.

"Already, the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs has started taking action in the solar energy field," Levin said, citing a recently filed administrative complaint against a solar energy firm.

The complaint charges that the firm, which sells solar hot water systems, made misrepresentations to consumers and installed "grossly defective" systems.

"A wide ranging consumer education effort is needed on the state and federal level so that consumers will be able to act as their own guardians when buying solar heating systems," Levin said.

Levin urged that such an educational effort stress the following consumer tips and warnings, advising consumers to:

—Require written estimates showing the bottom line of total costs for materials, labor, permits, fees and service contracts;

—Get a written estimate of the system's performance;

—Get knowledgeable, independent engineering advice;

—Shop around and get proposals or feasibility studies from several contractors;

—Check the references on the contractor with local or state consumer agencies, friends and other consumers who have had the same work performed by the same contractor.

N.J. Ballet to dance 'Trilogy'

"Trilogy," a ballet which is the result of a creative collaboration between Fairleigh Dickinson University professor of music Dr. Louis B. Gordon and New Jersey Ballet Company jazz choreographer Jay Norman, will be featured at the New Jersey State Council on the Arts Summer Festival '78 performance Saturday at Chatham Borough High School.

It also is scheduled to be performed by the ballet company on July 17 at Kean College in Union. "Trilogy" is 11 minutes long and is in three movements. "My music combines an unusual rhythmic treatment of jazz—with more obvious rhythms reflecting today's disco music," Dr. Gordon explains. "The same can be said for the choreography on stage. There is no plot, but the abstract ballet reflects life in the city scene today."

The first performance of "Trilogy" was an April 8 benefit for Overlook Hospital held at Millburn High School. As with that performance, the F.D.U. Jazz Band will be in the orchestra pit Saturday under Dr. Gordon's direction to accompany the ballet.

The program by the New Jersey Ballet Co. also will include "Serenade" and "Corsair." Saturday's performance is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5, with special $3 tickets for students and senior citizens, and are available through the Arts Council, which is located in Embury Hall at Drew University, Madison. Further information is available at 377-6622.

Gospel singer opens series

Gospel singer Steve Boalt will kick off Northeastern Bible College's Summer Festival of the Arts on Saturday, July 15 at 7 p.m.

The concert is the first in a series of six Saturday evening performances featuring well-known Christian artists, and will be held in the college's new student center.

A buffet supper at 5:30 p.m. will precede each presentation. Supper tickets cost $5.75.

Bennett, Legrand to team up

Tony Bennett will return to New Jersey in a six-day engagement, Aug. 21 to 26, at the Garden State Art Center in Holmdel. With Bennett will be composer-pianist-singer Michel Jean Legrand.

Drawing from his impressive repertoire of 600 recorded songs, Bennett will offer material which is contemporary yet grounded in the melodic, rhythmic patterns of traditional pop music.

Frank Sinatra once said, "For my money, Tony Bennett is the best singer in the business."

Legrand has composed, conducted and orchestrated the scores for 50 motion pictures. With 100 record albums to his credit, he has completed a ballet, an opera, and is working on a Mass to be celebrated in Notre Dame in Paris.

SHADOW WOODS OF MORRIS PLAINS

THE MONTCLAIR, a two-bedroom, two-bath home at Mystic Shores in Tuckerton features carefree exterior aluminum siding and stone facing. Situated in the woodlands between Great Bay and the Mullica River, the home is designed for comfort. It has large living room, dining room, country-style kitchen with adjoining family room and rear patio. Mystic Shores offers seven model home styles for adults and massive recreation complex.

Mystic Development can show you HOW

Andrew G. Yatsko, sales manager for Mystic Development Corporation, a Little Egg Harbor Township based builder, has announced inauguration of New Jersey's first Federal Housing Administration (FHA) new home commitments to be officially backed by a 10-year Home Owner Warranty program (HOW) in cooperation with Kennedy Mortgage Company of Cherry Hill. A total of 22 individual conditional commitments were issued to Mystic Development through Kennedy Mortgage by the Camden Branch of the FHA, a division of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. As issued, these special commitments permit 22 homes to be built at "Mystic Islands," as part of a 4000-home tract currently under construction in Little Egg Harbor Township.

Under the program, builders who are offering their homebuyers the benefits of a 10-year insurance policy covering the various mechanical and structural components will be entitled to special consideration from FHA in the administration of its inspection program. Previously, builders had to submit to a lengthy interim inspection system imposed by FHA.

FHA will require that construction exhibits, be approved in advance, that the warranty be furnished at no cost to the homebuyer, and that the builder maintain a good quality workmanship rating with the Camden FHA office.

The initial commitments issued to Mystic Development Corp. through Kennedy Mortgage are expected to result in a savings of both time and money. These savings will benefit the public and additionally assure homebuyers of a fair and speedy method of handling disagreements over major structural defects.

The first builder to benefit from this program, Mystic Development, has built 4,000 waterfront and upland homes at Mystic Islands since 1959. As one of the charter members of Home Owners Warranty Corp. of New Jersey, all of their homes built since March 1977 have received HOW protection backed by the American Bankers Insurance Co. of Florida, which insures the third to 10th years of the policy. To date, this is the only 10-year warranty plan approved by the FHA.

Participating builders must agree to build all homes according to HOW's approved standards.

TOMS RIVER TUDOR—Shown here is a rendering of the Coventry English tudor being built in the 14-home Oak Park subdivision on Church road in Toms River. The Coventry includes four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, artist's studio with skylights and cathedral ceiling, extensive closet space, custom pantry, full basement and dropped ceilings and special lighting in the bathrooms.

Custom development opens at Toms River

Oak Park, a small community of 14 custom homes, is being developed on 16 1/2 acres of heavily wooded lots in North Dover Township at Toms River.

Oak Park, which has city water and sewers and underground utilities, "is offering homes which normally would have a starting price tag of $95,000 at a grand-opening price of $79,900," according to Sarkis (Sark) Krikorian, owner and developer. The project is located on Church road off Rt. 549.

"We have been extremely excited about the development of these homes," Krikorian said, "because they offer a beautiful classic design and excellent value."

The custom homes have flexible design plans that are in many cases available at no additional cost, Krikorian said.

"We don't charge for extras like insulated thermo windows, full basements, central air-conditioning, ect." he added. "Every amenity that I would want for myself, I tried to incorporate into every design."

Each Oak Park home has a two-car garage, expansion attic, minimum of 2 1/2 baths. There are special touches such as a wet bar and custom pantry, individualized to each home. Variations of colonials, tudors and ranches are included in the initial phase of development. Some exteriors feature large quantities of stone or brick and glass.

"Since we started, we've been getting large numbers of prospective buyers, and a sellout seems certain for 1978. Five homes were sold before our official grand opening," Krikorian said.

Oak Park can be reached by taking the Garden State Parkway to exit 88, turning right onto Rt. 70 West, turning left onto New Hampshire avenue, following Hampshire about three miles, turning left onto Church road and continuing about two miles on Church to the development on the left side of the road. A model home is open daily from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Property sale made

Gebroe-Hammer Associates, the Livingston-based investment real estate sales organization, has arranged the sale of the 1 W. Harriet Street apartment building in Palisades Park, the first time the property has changed hands in 25 years, according to Robert Ploshnick, the firm's area representative. Ploshnick said that Gebroe-Hammer helped arrange long- and short-term financing "to cope with the tax problems inherent with long-term ownership" in order to gain maximum advantages for both the buyer and seller in the transaction. The sellers were the Scheffrin and Troy families, represented by attorney Robert Scheffrin of Passaic. The purchaser was West Harriet Avenue Corp., represented by Mario LaBarbera, New Milford attorney. Gebroe-Hammer has headquarters in the Gebroe-Hammer Building at Roosevelt Plaza.

Do you know what you're missing?

It may be the last, luxury, oceanfront condominium to be built on the entire Jersey shore. And it's almost gone.

It is probably the last great oceanfront buy within 90 minutes of Manhattan. And it's almost bought out.

It is definitely the golden opportunity you only get once. And it's almost passed you by.

And you're still waiting to hear a good enough reason to get in your car and come today?

Do yourself a favor. Take in a little fresh air, warm sun, and cool surf this weekend. And find out how you can become one of the fortunate few who bought here when they still had the chance.

Because these are luxury oceanfront homes like you'll never see again. With all the amenities, from an indoor pool to your personal boardwalk. And we're selling them almost as fast as we can write the contracts.

And since we only have a few left, we're selling them at closeout prices.

Does it sound like we're exaggerating? Does it sound too good to be true? If you wait another week to find out, it won't matter. Because we'll probably be sold out.

Or you can come today. And find out why over 100 buyers are already enjoying what you've been missing.

Today. Because you'll never get another chance like this one.

The Towers at Monmouth Beach.
