Bestowers Yule party this Sunday

The 18th annual Bestowers Christmas party will be held Sunday at the Mountainside Inn, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mountainside Bestowers is a group of residents who share with others less fortunate. Over the past 17 years, annual Christmas parties have generated more than $54,000 and 4,500 gifts have been distributed to un-derprivileged children and senior citizens. This year's affair will be a memorial tribute to Laura Massa, former owner of the Mountainside Inn.

Past recipients have included Runnell's Hospital, senior citizens, Boystown of Kearny, Little Sisters of the Poor, Lift for Learning, Mountainside Public Assistance, Children's Specialized Hospital, St. Joseph's School for the Blind, Westfield Day Care Center, St. Peter's Orphanage, Bonnie Brae Farm for Boys, Janet Memorial Home, Beth Israel Medical Center, Jewish Family Service Agency, Overlook Hospital and Kohler Day Care

Tickets are limited but can be obtained at the Mountainside Deli or by calling Phil LaFon at 654-5205 or Richard Benninger at 232-9428. The donation ($12 per couple) includes hors d'oeuvres, cocktails and music by The Wayne Halbsgut group.

Stolen vehicle

A 1973 Chevrolet, which was later confirmed as a stolen vehicle was found abandoned on Mill lane near Rutgers road in Mountainside last Wednesday. The car, from North Attleboro, Mass., was found with the keys still in the ignition and had extensive damage to the front end and rear end. Police said an unknown driver had fled the scene before they arrived.

A no parking sign was knocked down and several trees and shrubs were damaged when the car reportedly drove off the road, hitting a catch basin and the sign before it was left aban-

Council defers action for a zoning ordinance

By BARBARA WALCOFF

No action on the proposed zoning ordinance was taken by the Mountainside Borough Council at a special meeting Tuesday night because of legal provisions regarding the advertising of the meeting, but the council expects to vote on the ordinance at another special meeting next week.

Three other ordinances were introduced with 6-0 approval this week. They would raise the salary of the chief of police, increase the clothing allowance to firemen and extend eligibility for firemen to live outside the borough.

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, after listening to suggestions given by residents, instructed Bob Ringelheim of Robert Catlin and Associates, the planning consultant for Mountainside, to give a written report at next Tuesday night's special meeting on all the possible options the council may take for the controversial zoning on Mill lane and Springfield avenue. Ricciardi said that the council will vote to amend or adopt the zoning ordinance at the next meeting.

The majority of residents who spoke at the meeting this week were concerned with the proposed rezoning of two lots on Mill lane, tentatively scheduled to change from a residential 2 zone (R-2) to an office building (OB) section, and seven lots along Springfield avenue which are to be included in the OB zone.

Ringelheim said that the two lots on Mill lane were included in the OB zone because they "fit in with the OB zone. The major point," he added, "is the geometry of the lots. The office buildings would have to be serviced off of Mill lane." He also said that the OB would upgrade the land with an OB zone permitting less obnoxious uses than the limited industrial. Ringelheim, stating that the housing on Glen road goes in a northerly direction, told the council that the two lots on Mill Lane would provide a good transition between the R-2 zone on Glen road and Springfield

"We want a zoning ordinance that you can live with, the courts can live with and the community can live with," the Catlin representative said. "You must consider the other towns. Zoning in the surrounding towns is a large consideration in the courts.'

Dorothea Rowley, whose property is one of the two lots to be rezoned on Mill lane said, "I do not object to the OB on that corner (Mill lane and Springfield avenue), but would not like them to include my property in that OB zone. There's no sense in gobbling me up.'

Donna Gilligan of Sunrise Parkway said, "That change to OB is better than an L-1. We must save the Mill lane entrance. If it were residential just along there, that would save that corner from traffic."

Ted Miller of Mill lane agreed, saying, "Let's make it all residential except that corner."

John Esparza, who resides in the house at the corner of Mill lane and Glen road, told the council that they must take an interest in the safety of the community. Don't open any more OB on Mill lane. That just brings in that many more people. We're going to have a terrible accident there."

"It's easy for council to say OK," John Post, borough attorney, said. "The safest thing to do is what the Planning Board recommended. There's a risk factor involved when a departure is made from the Planning Board decision." Post added that any option can be taken by the council but if Catlin says residential is a viable alternative, it is very helpful in a legal defense of the council's decision.

Another legal aspect not previously considered by some residents was verified by Post. "In a non-conforming use (a home in an OB zone), beyond a certain percentage (50 percent o damage to the property) an owner is no longer entitled to restore as a matter of right. They must go to the Board of Adjustment." Aside from restorations, the Board of Adjustment must also approve all additions and improvements to buildings classified as non-conforming.

Co-sponsors are the Mountainside Music Association and the Recreation Commission.

Pupils perform well on assessment tests

Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendant of schools, has announced that results are now in for the state testing program conducted last April. Mountainside children as well as all other third and sixth graders statewide were tested in both reading and math.

Hanigan said, "Mountainside has reason to be proud of the achievements of its youngsters. With math and reading basic skills being the center of spirited controversy on the state and level, our local will be welcomed by parents, teachers, children, and interested community members."

The superintendent said that in grade three reading, only three children out of 82 fell below the state cut off point of 65 percent. One of these students is classified as learning disabled and one is in a small group class because of acknowledged academic deficiency. This means, according to Hanigan, that only one child from regular third grade classes fell below the cut off point, or 98.75 percent exceeded the state cut off. "In third grade math, 10 children out of 76 fell below the state cut off, but six of the 10 are classified as learning group class for children with academic deficiencies, and the other two are in regular third grade classes. If the eight children with known learning problems are removed from the statistics, only two children out of 68 fell below the state cut, or 97.1 percent of the third graders exceeded the State cut off in math, " Hanigan stated.

Of the 109 sixth graders who took the state test, eleven fell below the cut off. However the superintendent said, six of the 11 are classified, as learning disabled, and one is a foreign child with a language (English) problem, leaving 102 bona fide sixth graders, only four students fell below the cut off making 98 percent exceeding it.

"In sixth grade math," Hanigan said "15 fell below the cut off point, but 11 of these are classified as learning disabled, and one has a language (English) problem. Only three out of the remaining 97 children fell below the cut off point or 97 percent exceeded it."

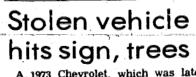

"The Mountainside school district is very pleased with these test results, especially when the average score of the learning disabled children was between 60 and 74 percent," Hanigan

At the next meeting, the council will consider a resolution instituting changes in the zoning ordinance recommended by construction official Chester Johnson. They include the equalization of business restrictions in all residential zones, the definition of van in the context of garage use, a restriction on occupancy of a building before all phases of work have been completed and the way a fence faces residential property. At last Tuesday's meeting, the Council proposed a pay increase for the chief of police retroactive to Jan. 1978. making the salary $21,009 for a oneyear period. A $25 clothing allowance increase for all 32 members of the volunteer department was also introduced.

The council voted 6-0 in favor of authorizing the participation of volunteer firemen who no longer live in Mountainside Thomas Spina, the council liaison to the fire department. said that it is very difficult to get good firemen and five or six men now reside outside the community

There is a reasonable limitation of distance, as men must reside within three miles of the firehouse and they must also maintain 60 percent attendance in work periods, drills and Spina said. "There are a number of men who have moved out of town for various reasons and we are trying to maintain the volunteer fire department," he added.,

Several weeks ago I introduced a resolution calling for a constitutional invention to propose an amendment to the U.S. Constitution that would require the federal government to have a balanced budge: If this or similar legislation passes 34 state legislatures, the U.S. Congress must call a convention to draft a balanced federal budget amendment to the Constitution. Twenty-two states have already passed such resolutions This method of amending the U.S. Constitution is not widely known or understood. Most people think of a constitutional amendment as harpering the other way around; that is. first proposed and passed in both houses of Congress, and then sent to the states for ratification by two-thirds of the state legislatures. This is the process by which all 25 amendments have been adopted, and the method by which the Equa Rights Amendment is being considered

During the entire history of the United States, the states have never forced a constitutional convention on any issue, even though Article V of the Constitution clearly provides for the states' authority to initiate a convention. Over the past 190 years, we have had more than 100 calls from the states for amendments. None, however, passed the necessary two-thirds majority of state legislatures.

SINCE A RESOLUTION calling for a balanced federal budget involves such serious constitutional procedures. I gave careful thought to the matter before drafting my legislation. After many months of study and discussion. I decided that the issue was vital enough to petition Congress to call a conventional and propose an amendment to limit government spending.

If this resolution passes in the New Jersey legislature, only 11 more states will be needed to force Congress to act. We have reached the point where something must be done to hold down

McDonough has bill to ease federal cuts

State Sen, Peter J. McDonaugh R-22 District: said this week he will sponsor legislation to help ease the burden of the loss of federal anti-recession funds by the state's cities and counties. He said the state will lose more than $50 million next year because Congress failed to extend the anti-recession fiscal assistance program.

"My plan is to sponsor legislation that would remove the replacement revenue for the defunct federal program from the restraints of the state's caps law," he said, "This move will not provide the actual dollars but will allow the cities to use locally available surplus monies without consuming their allowable spending leeway under the caps law."

McDonough, the Senate's assistant minority leader, said many cities have already announced layoffs, hiring freezes and furloughs as a result of the lost federal funds. He said he is "not at all optimistic" that the program will be reinstituted by Congress. "My bill will allow replacement revenue to be uncapped on a four-year descending scale, "McDonough said. "In 1979. 90 percent of the replacement revenue would be uncapped. In 1980, 75 percent would be affected, the following year 50 percent and 25 percent in the fourth year. The program would either die or be reviewed by the legislature at McDonough said his bill will specify that available surplus monies can be used as replacement revenue for the federal program but that tax rates may not be raised for this purpose. believe in the caps law and will not circumvent it with legislation that would raise local property tax rates." he said. "under my bill, accumulated surplus monies could be appropriated without cap restrictions, but property taxes could not be raised."

Part of the college's Continuing Education program, the course in "College Study Skills" will be held in two sessions on Thursday evenings,

The sessions are aimed at those adults who have been out of school for several years and are uncertain about learning techniques. They will learn how to take notes from texts and teachers, utilize the resources of the library, conquer tests, eliminate concerns about writing and develop Registration for the course must be extension 206 or 238, between 8:30 a.m.

Carole Reynolds of Roselle and L. Thomas Snead of Linden, chairmen of the Union effort, said that the association needs everyone's help to maintain and expand its programs and services.

"Before people become completely involved in holiday activities," the chairmen said, "we urge them to take a few minutes to write a check for Christmas Seals and return it to the Lung Association.

Reynolds and Snead said follow-up mailings to those who have not yet returned their annual donation are now being delivered by area postmen.

The chairmen noted that the public should not regard the follow-up notes as a bill but rather as a reminder to those who have put off mailing in their donatins.

"The Christmas Seal campaign," they said, "is the association's primary source of income to support its yearround nationt and community services. public and professional education and anti-smoking efforts."

Anyone who has not received Christmas Seals may contact the Central New Jersey Lung Association, 1457 Raritan rd., Clark 07066.

Gift certificates are for classes College, Vo-Tech schools team up

Santa's elves are busy with an unusual assignment at Union College this month. Hard at work in the college's print shop, the holiday team is intent on turning out enough gift certificates to match the growing popularity of its holiday course certificate program. In a collaborative project with Union County Technical Institute and Vocational Center, the college is offering gift certificates for about 200 credit and non-credit courses at the two institutions.

The gift of an eight-week, non-credit course in "Indoor Gardening," or a 15week, three-credit course in music appreciation or cultural anthropology, represents a unique gesture that can please someone in a lasting way, according to Patricia Kurisko, director of admissions and records at Union College. At the vocational center, John Dolinaj, supervisor of adult education, said the gift certificates have started people on new, life-expanding experiences.

Give Her A Gift Of ...

Cost of the certificates to Union County residents depends on the tuition for the specific course and ranges from $35 for an eight-week, non-credit course to $60 for a 15-week, three-credit

How-to courses in auto mechanics, air conditioner repair and gourmet cooking are offered at the Technical Institute and Vocational Center. Details on these and other courses is available from Dolinaj at 889-2000, Monday through Friday, from 2 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Information on credit courses at the institute is available from Mrs. Elizabeth Colaneri, director of admissions, at 889-2000, extension 325, Monday through Friday, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Information on Union College's credit courses may be obtained from Kurisko at 276-2600, Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Information on non-credit courses at the college may be obtained from Dr. Frank Dee, dean of special services, at 276-2600, extension 206 or 238, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Winter sports ban announced at country club

During the last 50 years Echo Lake Country Club has allowed the club property to be used by the public for sled riding, skiing, tobogganing and ice skating, the board of trustees announced this week.

The statement added "Echo Lake has had a number of accidents on our slopes over the years, as have other clubs in the state, causing judgments to be placed against the country clubs. The insurance industry has taken a close look at such activities, and in order to maintain the club's insurance and legal protection, the board of trustees finds it necessary to prohibit sleigh riding and all non-golfing activities.

"We know these activities have been enjoyed by members and non-members alike, but this action has been taken to protect the club from exposure to liability for injuries."

"Notices of the ban will be posted at the club entrance and a police guard will be on duty to stop all persons from using the club property during periods of snow.

The trustees concluded by saying: 'We hope you will agree that this decision has been made in the best interests of all, and all local residents will support it by refraining from use of the Echo Lake property for sledding and other non-golfing activities."

Dayton five faces Clark in opener

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity basketball team will make its season debut in a home game against Arthur L Johnson of Clark

With the loss of many outstanding athletes from last year's squad only four lettermen return—the Bulldogs have been working hard to make up the deficit. The team has been put to the test in pre-season scrimmages against Kerniwerth, Berkeley Heights, Pingry. Green Brook, and Plainfield.

neturning from last years 12-12 roster are seniors Mike Meixner. Dave Laubeff. Ed McGrady and Steve Geltman. Seeing the most action will be guards Tyrone Parker and Mitch tian, who bring needed experience to the varsity. Meixner, a quick and agile athlete starting at center, will be backed up by senior Kevin Englebard: another versatile player.

Lauhoff and McGrady bring power and ability to the team as forwards. Augmenting these fine athletes will be juniors Tony Circelli, Bill Ventura and Craig Clickenger. This group, full of potential, will be a key to the success of the season

Other new stars include Toby Lasofsky, Ken Klebous and Tony Gargullo.

Because you can't test drive a BMW 320i on the great race circuits where it was perfected— Le Mans, Monte Carlo or the Nürburgring, for example—we'd like to suggest you put it to almost as perilous a test: the thoroughfares of metropolitan New York.

Whether you're passing eighteen-wheel trucks on a two lane highway, jockeying for the lead position out of a toll booth or weaving nimbly through the traffic and potholes so uniquely indigenous to our area, the BMW 320ifuel-injected, with independent suspension—reacts with a speed and agility that will spoil you for any other car.

If our offer of an unusual test drive intrigues you, call us and we'll arrange one at your convenience.

Of the children waiting, 20 are white, two are black and seven are Hispanic. Zeltser said that because there is a scarcity of white children available for adoption, many people have the misconception that the same scarcity applies to white children needing foster

"There are hundreds of families waiting to adopt white children, yet children of all races and ages, who need foster homes as desperately as others need permanent ones, are sitting in shelters because of the lack of foster families," she added. "The mutual need of parents to parent and children to have parents is going unmet because of an under-estimation of the rewards of foster parenting,"

Foster parents are needed for children of all ages and races. Zeltser said, but especially for teenagers in Union and Essex Counties. The Division of Youth and Family Services pay a monthly stipend to cover the cost of room and board and clothing for the child. All medical costs related to the child are also covered under Medicaid.

York is named doctor of year

Dr. Jack S. York of Verona, former director of the tumor clinic at Beth Israel Medical Center in Newark, has been chosen New Jersey Physician of the Year by the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society. Dr. York will be presented with the 1978 Physician's Award at a dinner Dec. 19, at L'Affaire Restaurant, Route 22,

A specialist in chest diseases, Dr. York in recent years has concentrated on the treatment of cancer. Himself a laryngectomee, having had his larynx removed because of cancer more than 20 years ago, Dr. York also has con-tributed to the development of rehabilitation programs for those similarly stricken. Two years ago he was medical consultant for the National American Cancer Society's film on first aid for laryngectomees.

In addition to his hospital affiliations in Essex County and elsewhere, Dr. York developed a free tumor clinic for inner city residents of Newark. He also is clinical associate professor of medicine at the College of Medicine and Dentistry in Newark.

SPECIAL SURPRISES!

AND WEDNESDAY

in South Orange. The all-day symposium, "Ethnicity—A Humanistic Perspective," is sponsored by the New Jersey Historical Society. Panel discussions begin at 9:45 a.m. after a coffee hour and will continue through 4 p.m.

Seton program

on ethnicity set

by historic unit

The first statewide symposium on the growing significance of ethnicity will be held Saturday at Seton Hall University

The program, to be held in the Bishop Dougherty Student Center, is free to the public. The symposium will be taped by WBGO, a Newark FM radio station, for broadcast in future weeks.

"In sharing this in-depth discussion of ethnicity with the public," said Dr. Clifford L. Lord, director of the New Jersey Historical Society, "we have brought together some of the leading academic authorities in the field as well as ethnic activists to explore a subject that is of increasing importance in the social and cultural life of our state."

Irving M. Levine, director of the Institute on Pluralism and Group Identity of the American Jewish Committee, will give the keynote address. The roster of some 20 panelists or moderators will include:

-Nathan Heard, black novelist and commentator on black and urban af-

Francesco Cordasco, sociologist and author of books on immigration and bilingual education.

—Dr. Thaddeus V. Gromada, history professor who is head of the multi-ethnic studies at Jersey City State

-Vitaut Kipel, Byelorussian immigrant who heads the state's Ethnic Advisory Council.

The symposium will cover such topics as the ethnic family, the ethnic and education, interaction among ethnic groups and the expression of ethnicity. There will be a question and answer period after each panel discussion.

For those wishing lunch at the symposium there will be a $6 fee; advance registration can be made through the New Jersey Historical Society, 30 Broadway, Newark.

Human rights talk to be given Monday

R. Spencer Oliver, staff director and general counsel of the U.S. Helsinki Monitoring Commission, who has made 40 trips to the Soviet Union, will be the featured speaker at this year's Interfaith Women's Plea for Soviet Jewry. The 1978 Women's Plea is scheduled for 12:30 p.m., Monday at Temple B'nai Abraham, Livingston.

SCULPTOR TONY TRIANO, artist-in-residence at Seton Hall University, demonstrates clay modeling technique for art major Terry Hughes. A recent sculpture by Triano will be on display at the Seton Hall Art Center Gallery in South Orange, Dec. 15 and 16.

Old-time Santa will visit kids

A Victorian Santa will pay a visit as young people from around the state gather on Saturday at the headquarters of the New Jersey Historical Society for their annual crafts mart and holiday party. The event is sponsored by the Jerseymen, the student program of the society. The society headquarters is located at 230 Broadway in Newark.

Activities will get under way at 1:30 p.m. as the crafts mart opens. Students will display arts and crafts of Victorian and Colonial America. Many participants also will be dressed in the costumes of the eras.

At 2:30, the Jerseymen will present

DOT prepared to battle snows on state roads

Thursday, December 7, 1978

The Department of Transportation's Bureau of Maintenance has 1,400 employees and more than 600 plow trucks, graders and loaders available to remove snow and ice from the 2,217 miles of roadway in the state highway

The Department also has $1,115,000 for payment to private contractors to help state crews clear the roads when needed. These private contractors add almost 1,000 pieces of equipment to the NJDOT snowfighting capability.

A total of 35,300 tone of pre-mix calcium chloride and sodium chloride (rock salt), 12,600 tons of sodium chloride, 3,156 tons of calcium chloride and 12,840 tons of abrasives (sand and grit) have been stockpiled in maintenance yards throughout the state to remove snow and ice.

The Department also operates a "Snow Room" near its Ewing Township headquarters to coordinate statewide snow removal equipment, communications, chemicals and other supplies, snow fences and the availability of private contractors. The results of "Operation Check Out" indicated the readiness of the 100 NJDOT audience at the regional high school,

The public performance series moves from Bridgewater to Holmdel High School for performances next Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m. The Scottish Rite Cathedral Theater in Lincoln Park will house the Caravan's Nuteracker for two matinees on Dec. 16 and 17 at 2:00 p.m. Highlighting the tour will be the performances in home base Newark Symphony Hall, scheduled for Dec. 22 at 8 p.m. and Dec. 23 at 2:30 p.m. with orchestra conducted by Fedor Kabalin. During Christmas week, the "Nutcracker" will travel to Dwight Morrow High in Englewood for two performances on Dec. 27 at 2:30 and 8 p.m. The grand finale is set for Dec. 30 in Chatham Township High School, sponsored by the Chatham Township Library with two performances at 2:30 and 8 p.m.

Chereography credits include Fred and Evelyn Danieli for the party and transformation scenes. Danieli's life size puppets Punch, Judy and the Policemen were extracted from the original choreography of his critically acclaimed "Punch and the Child" commissioned by New York City Ballet's forerunner, Ballet Society, when he was a principal dancer and choreographer under George Balanchine. Aside from Fred and Evelyn to show 'Nutcracker' luminous choreographer Wilma Curley has shaped a new cottony Snowflake divertissement, an intriguing Arabian dance and the sylvan Waltz of the Flowers. Danieli's former colleague in the New York City Ballet, Lew Christensen has contributed the sumptuous climax of the Caravan's Nutcracker, the Grand Pas de Deux. Christensen is today founder-director of the San Francisco Ballet.

Cost seminars at med schools

Senior medical students from the New Jersey Medical School (NJMS) of the college of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) are spending one afternoon during their senior year at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey to learn more about the economics of health care.

A series of seminars has been set up for the students, through the cooperation of CMDNJ-NJMS and Blue Shield officials. The primary emphasis of the seminars is discussion of the physician's role in health care cost containment. The students are free to question the Blue Shield and Blue Cross officials who lead the seminar to encourage the exchange ideas.

Labor Department finds minimum wage violations

A total of 8,231 workers in New Jersey was underpaid $2,829,036 in violation of the minimum wage, overtime, equal pay and child labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, and he Age Discrimination in Employment Act, during fiscal year 1978, the U.S.

Labor Department has announced. Frank B. Mercurio, regional administrator of the U.S. Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration, who is in charge of all wage hour investigations in the region, said the wage underpayments and illegal employment of 86 minors in New Jersey industry were discovered through investigations of business

The Fair Labor Standards Act, popularly known as the Federal Wage and Hour Law, applies to employees engaged in interstate commerce, of the production of goods for interstate commerce, or to employees of certain retail or other enterprises. The Federal Wage and Hour Law requires these employees generally be paid a rate not less than $2.65 an hour for hours worked $2.90 beginning Jan. 1, 1979.) For hours worked in excess of 40 in any workweek, such employees must receive at least time and one-half whatever the employees' regular rate of pay happens to be unless there is a specific exemption or exception from such overtime

Most of the underpayments ($945,867)

were due to the failure of employers to pay time and one-half for overtime work. Minimum wage underpayments for the year came to $519.139.

requirement The Fair Labor Standards Act also requires equal pay for equal wo: for both sexes, and restricts child is bor. The Age Discrimination Employment Act prohibits discrimination in employment of persons aged 40 to 65

Vigil will seek Byrne's help

Morven, Gov. Brendan Byrne's home in Princeton, will be the scene of an interfaith candlelight vigil on Tuesday as clergy and lay people seek to persuade the governor to grant executive clemency to George Merritt before the cliebrations of Christmas and Hanukkah.

Merritt, who has served nine years of a life sentence in Rahway State Prison, Woodbridge, has been convicted three times of participating in the fatal beating of Plainfield police officer John V. Gleason during a riot in 1967, but his conviction has been reversed twice. The Committee for Clemency, sponsor of the vigil, claims that Merritt has never had a fair trial.

Vigilers will assemble at 2 p.m. at the chapel of Princeton Theological Seminary to hear pleas for clemency from the Rev. Arthur S. Jones, president of the New Jersey Council of Churches; the Most Rev. Joseph A. Francis, an Episcopal Vicar of the Archdiocese of Newark; the Rev. Donald Oliver of Bethel United Presbyterian Church, Plainfield; Rabbi Israel Dresner of Temple Beth Tikvah, Wayne; the Rev. Jerome McKenna, Passionist Social Concerns Center in Union City; and the Rev. Paul L. Stagg, general secretary of the New Jersey Council of Churches. Those assembled will walk in procession to Morven, the governor's mansion, and maintain a prayer vigil until 5 p.m.

Museum head plans to retire

Kathryn E. Gamble, director of the Montclair Art Museum, has announced she will retire next year from the institution which she has headed for more than 25 years. Her resignation will be effective Dec. 31, 1979.

S. Barksdale Penick. Jr., president of the museum, said a "Kathryn Gamble Celebration" in honor of the retiring will take director place next fall. A committee is being formed now, Penick said, to begin planning a series of events commemorating Miss Gamble's many years of service to the museum.
