Police, borough agree to sign 3-year contract

By BARBARA WALCOFF
The execution and signing of a contract between the borough and Local 126 of the Policemen's Benevolent Association (PBA), representing the 18 policemen of Mountainside, was tabled Tuesday until the February session of the Mountainside Borough Council because the contract, agreed upon by both sides, was not in its completed form.
A police spokesman said the pact, which allows for a five percent wage increase in 1978, 6 percent in 1979 and seven percent in 1980, was scheduled for first reading but Abraham Suckno, police commissioner, requested the entire issue be tabled until the Borough Council can take time to review the contract.
Suckno said that work on the contract had been completed and the contract was just waiting to be typed up. The contract, which has been rescheduled for a first reading in February, must be signed by Mayor Thomas Ricciardi and PBA President James Debbie.
Suckno presented the year-end report for 1978 for the police department which showed increases in the overall demand for police service. Calls for police service jumped from 6,701 in 1977 to 6,977 in 1978. Reportable motor vehicle accidents went from 305 to 328, while minor accidents dropped from 166 to 110. Hit-and-run incidents climbed from 24 in 1977 to 33 in 1978.

Break and entry of homes more than doubled from one year to the next as the figure jumped from 19 to 54. Suckno said that 33 of these calls were within separate one-week and two-week periods. Suckno reported to the Council (Continued on page 2)

Teachers 'observe' holiday, close schools

Mountainside schools closed at 1 p.m. on Monday, Martin Luther King Day, because almost all tenured teachers did not report for work. Although the Board of Education called it a "walkout," Bill Ortolf, president of the Mountainside Teachers' Association (MTA) said the teachers were "exercising their right to observe the birthday of this great man."
"I'm sure it is an effort to try to bring some pressure on the board," Scott Schmedel, Board of Education president, said. "It is a pressure we will not yield to," he added. Schmedel's comments referred to 1978-79 contract negotiations between the Board and the MTA.
Schmedel, reading a statement by the Board of Education, said, "The schools were opened in spite of the union action. Martin Luther King's birthday is not a holiday for Mountainside schools, and the union has not sought in the current negotiations to make it a holiday."
Although the MTA does not yet have a contract for the 1978-79 school year, individual contracts with each teacher have been signed. The Board of Education called the walkout "a violation of their individual employment contracts."
"We have never used the word strike or walk-out," Ortolf said on Monday. "That is not what today is." The MTA president said that at a meeting Friday, the majority of the teachers said they wanted to observe Monday, as a legal holiday. Ortolf had no comment concerning whether or not this action had anything to do with the contract negotiations which resumed Monday (Continued on page 2)

Walsh to head recreation unit for third year

John G. Walsh of Rising Way was reelected for a third year as chairman of the Mountainside Recreation Commission at the board's organization meeting on Jan. 4. Walsh is president-elect of the 50,000 member Citizen Board Member Branch of the National Recreation and Park Association.
Scheduled to take office in October 1979 at the national meeting in New Orleans, Walsh will serve as the top national officer for one year. The Mountainside resident served for more than 10 years on the board of directors.
Comparing the group to the national teachers' association, Walsh said this "organization of recreation people" takes in all the recreation commissions in the United States and Canada. The Citizen Board Member Branch helps all town, city, county, state and federal recreation committees, Walsh added.
Other action at the Mountainside Recreation organization meeting included the re-election of William Texas Jackson as chairman of the pool committee. Susan Winans has been reappointed recreation director. Other members of the Recreation Commission are Sandra Burdige, John Connolly, William Cullen, Adele Magnolia and Regina Picut.

PIPING HOT—That's the way students in Angela Blanda's kindergarten class at Our Lady of Lourdes School had pancakes last week. With all 14 classmates taking part in the measuring, stirring and pouring of the batter, most of the students enjoyed at least two pancakes. The children also passed a jar of heavy cream around, shaking it into a lump of homemade butter. Pictured from left to right are Paula Kukan, Chris Maresca and Richard Antonacci. Registration for the 1979-80 school year will be held on Feb. 6 and 7 and the week of Feb. 11 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. (Photo: Graphics)

MTA, board talks stalled over 'steps'

No progress has been reported at the latest negotiating session between the Mountainside Teachers' Association (MTA) and the Board of Education concerning the two-year pact for the school year now in session and next year's academic year. Talks have been stalled on one issue, the salary guide. All points, including the amount of money concerned, have been agreed to by both sides.
"We're not getting anywhere the way it is," Dr. Levin Hanigan said. The only point everyone agreed upon, he added, was to schedule another negotiating session with Samuel Ranhand, the Public Employment Relations Commission appointed fact finder for next Thursday, Jan. 25.
"The mediator tried to mediate," Bill Ortolf, president of MTA said. "They (the board) were a little upset because the teachers took the holiday."
Scott Schmedel, Board of Education president, said no new proposals came from either party and, with the two sides sitting in different rooms, little was discussed jointly. The last meeting between the two sides was on Dec. 11 and was described as unproductive by Irene Buchner, chairperson of the MTA negotiating team.
Hanigan said the disagreement lies in how the money should be appropriated within the guide. The board wants to add another step to the guide, making it 18 steps or 19 years until a teacher can reach the top of the scale. The MTA wants the guide to remain at 18 years with 17 steps, and divide the additional money between all the steps, Ortolf said.
The salary guide proposed by the Board of Education, Ortolf said, would provide people at the top with the lowest (Continued on page 2)

Club's Glass-In slated Saturday

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club in Springfield will hold its monthly Glass-In Saturday. Residents of area communities are urged to bring glass bottles, sorted by color and newspapers, tied in bundles.
The Glass-In will be held in the front parking lot of the high school between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Library starts reading hours

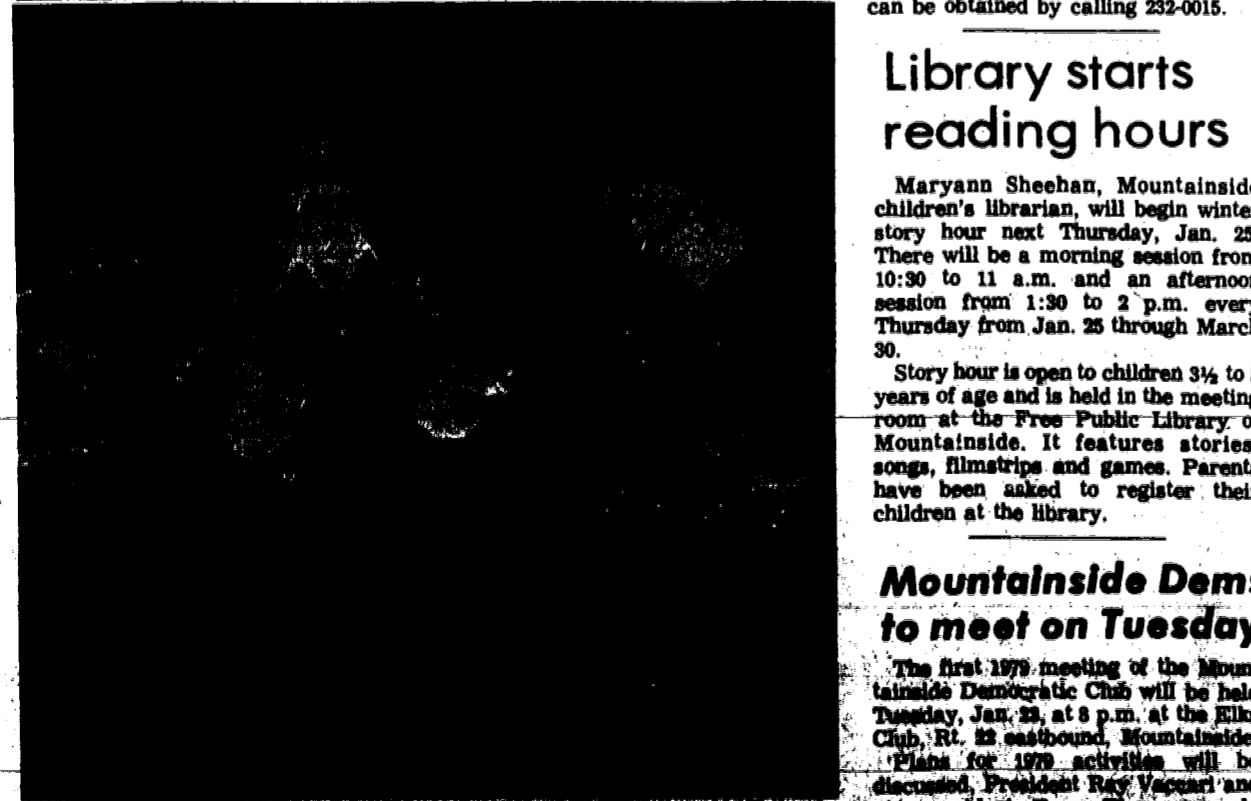

Maryann Sheehan, Mountainside children's librarian, will begin winter story hour next Thursday, Jan. 25. There will be a morning session from 10:30 to 11 a.m. and an afternoon session from 1:30 to 2 p.m. every Thursday from Jan. 25 through March 30.
Story hour is open to children 3 1/2 to 5 years of age and is held in the meeting room at the Free Public Library of Mountainside. It features stories, songs, filmstrips and games. Parents have been asked to register their children at the library.

Mountainside Dems to meet on Tuesday

The first 1979 meeting of the Mountainside Democratic Club will be held Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m. at the Elks Club, Rt. 22 eastbound, Mountainside. Plans for 1979 activities will be discussed. President Ray Vespari and vice-president Fran Ezman, newly elected president and vice-president have invited prospective members to join and "become a part of a special year for Mountainside Democrats."

Westfield board to get dead end plan Feb. 5

A proposal to make Sherwood Parkway a dead end at the Mountainside-Westfield border will come before the Westfield Planning Board at the Feb. 5 session of the board.
The Westfield board, presented with petitions from residents for and against the proposal, put off any action on the proposal until it hears a report from the police department. A letter from Fire Chief Norman J. Ruerup stated that he can foresee no problems from an operational standpoint that a cul-de-sac might impose.
Westfield Mayor Allen Chin said that before any changes in the status of the street can be made, county and state involvement is necessary. Whether or not Mountainside officials must be involved in the decision is not clear, Mountainside Planning Board attorney (Continued on page 2)

Club chairman offers winter motoring tips

The Mountainside Woman's Club safety chairman, Frances Frank, from time to time has been giving her fellow club members tips on safe winter driving.

She stated: "First, make sure your car is mechanically sound. Install snow tires early and have wheels balanced. Have brakes, exhaust system and anti-freeze checked. Be sure your heater, defroster and windshield wipers are in proper working order.

"The following is a list of apparatus to be kept in the trunk of your car: flares, tire chains, booster cable, shovel, work gloves, flashlight, blanket, sand or rock salt and tow strap. During the winter we experience many different kinds of driving conditions. Use low beams for fog, rain and snow. On slippery roads drive slowly and keep a clear distance ahead. Apply gas and brakes gradually. If you should skid—don't panic—don't oversteer—don't jam on the brakes. Remove your foot from the accelerator. Turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid, eg., if the rear end of the car is skidding toward the right, turn the steering wheel to the right.

"Some tips on getting out of a stall in deep snow:

- "1. Keep front wheels straight.
 - "2. Put sand or rock salt or any rough material under and in front and back of the rear wheels.
 - "3. Apply power gently with front wheels straight. If you have standard transmission use second gear.
 - "4. If car does not move forward, try backing out in the same tracks just made.
 - "5. If car is still stuck—try rocking it out by shifting rapidly from reverse to low gear.
- "Should you be stopped in traffic for an extended period of time, conserve the battery and gasoline supply. Don't abandon your vehicle. Use a blanket to keep warm.
- "Before leaving for any destination, remove all snow and ice from the windows and lights on your car. Buckle up and have a safe drive."

Drivers unhurt in two highway hit-run mishaps

Two hit and run accidents early Sunday morning on Rt. 22 resulted in no injuries. David N. Perrin of Poothill way told police he was traveling east on the highway at 2:30 a.m. when an unidentified vehicle struck the right front quarter of his car. Perrin's car hit the concrete divider, and the other car reportedly left the scene.

Fifteen minutes earlier, at 2:15 a.m., John S. Cardose of Elizabeth was going east on Rt. 22 in the left lane when a car in the right lane struck his vehicle in the right rear side, police reports said. The car in the right lane, registered to Darlene Tanis of Fair Lawn, had its directional signal on and was attempting to make a left turn onto Mountain avenue when the accident occurred, according to reports.

The car owned by Tanis allegedly was driven from the scene, and Cardose supplied the license plate number to police, the report added.

Following an accident at 1:55 a.m. on Sunday, James Gregor of Elizabeth complained of pain in his lower leg but told police that he would see his own doctor. Gregor, according to police reports, was eastbound on Rt. 22 when a car driven by Eileen E. Sayer of Basking Ridge entered the highway from Cornell parkway into the path of Gregor's car. Gregor told police that he cut the wheel sharply but the car was struck by Sayer in the right side.

Y's camp talk is for families

Parents and children will discuss the New Jersey YMHA-YWHA camps at an open meeting to take place at the YM-YWHA of Greater Westfield, 305 Elm st., Westfield, on Wednesday, Jan. 31, at 8 p.m.

According to Penny Margolis, branch director, a series of slides describing the facilities and program will be presented by David Margolis, assistant director of the residential camp complex.

The YM-YWHA of Greater Westfield, 232-5514, is one of 19 area Y's which are affiliated with the New Jersey YM-YWHA Camps.

Council meets

(Continued from page 1) that in both cases, persons believed involved in the burglaries have been caught. Break and entries of business were cut in half, dropping from 20 to 10.

Assault and batteries reportedly stayed the same at 21, and arrests for the charge climbed from six to 15. Other arrests included: carrying a concealed deadly weapon, which jumped from two to 15; larceny, which dropped from six in 1977 to four in 1978; possession of marijuana, up to 32 from 21; possession of a controlled dangerous substance, 14 as compared to 1977's three.

There were no trespassing arrests in 1977 but there were seven last year; assault on a police officer rose from three to four; arrests for conspiracy jumped from one to seven; drunk driving arrests dropped from 15 to 12 and driving with license suspended declined from 117 to 80. The number of arrests made for other police departments dropped from 23 in 1977 to 11 in 1978. Total adult arrests in 1977 were 422 while the total dropped to 396 last year.

Juvenile arrests made during the year were referred to the proper authorities with four committed to the detention center and 28 complaints sent to the county court. Topping the list for juvenile arrests in 1978 was trespassing with 24, up from one during 1977. Others high in number were possession of alcoholic beverages climbing from two to 10; possession of marijuana down from nine in 1977 to five during last year; seven arrests for riding minibikes, a figure that remained steady; eight for malicious damage to property—there were no juvenile arrests in this category during 1977. Arrests for larceny dipped from 13 to 4. Juvenile arrests totaled 130 during 1978 while 1977 figures stood at 121.

Some statistics Suckno noted were encouraging, showing that Mountainsiders were calling police to investigate anything out of the ordinary. These included 122 calls to report suspicious persons, up from 86 in 1977; 367 calls for suspicious motor vehicles, jumping from 204, while reports of prowlers remained steady at 40.

Stolen property reports came down during last year from 168 to 95, and the property recovered increased from 24 to 38. Mountainside police gave assistance to other police departments 88 times last year. The total traffic summonses issued during the year rose from 951 in 1977 to 1,054 but the amount of miles traveled declined going from 196,122 to 193,357. Fire calls received totaled 87, falling from 91 the year before.

"This does show that Mountainside is becoming busier as far as police work is concerned," Suckno said. "We are below the norm though and that is due to the men in the cars."

Police reported 426 calls for the Rescue Squad, up from 336 the year

"We thought he (King) stood for nonviolence which is what we are trying to do here," Orloff commented.

New Jersey State law 18A:25-3 provides, "No teaching staff member shall be required to perform his duties on any day declared by law to be a public holiday... Monday was declared a legal holiday in New Jersey in observance of Martin Luther King's birthday.

Schmedel said that if teachers are not observing the established school calendar, they were in violation of their contracts.

Unofficial figures from Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, show that of the 62 employees who are MTA members, 47 did not come to work on Monday. The board hired 10 substitutes to cover Deerfield and Beechwood schools.

School talks

percentage increase, perhaps four percent, while teachers in the middle would get more, for example five percent, and the employees at the bottom of the guide would receive the greatest increase, somewhere around seven to nine percent. Orloff said these figures are only examples, not the actual ones concerned. The total percentage increase, he added, would be less than seven percent. "The percentage would be lower as we go through the guide."

"With the additional step, it's going to take people in the middle of the guide longer to reach the top. About one third of our teachers are at the top of the guide," Orloff added.

"The board has sought a concession from the union affecting one step of the salary guide, so that teachers at that step will not receive percentage pay increases that are double those received by other teachers," Schmedel said. "The union has demanded a salary guide that would give lower raises to most teachers than the board has offered. The union demand would benefit one person—a member of the union leadership—in the 1979-80 school year and several others—including another member of the union leadership—in the next school year."

Orloff said that the Board is trying to change a concept, a philosophy, and the fact-finder is having a difficult time because he is used to discussing facts, not concepts.

"I would like to have the salary guide set up in the same way it has always been set up," the president said. In the past, Orloff said, the superintendent and the chairman of the MTA salary committee would work out the distribution after the increase was agreed upon.

"The board wants to say where the money should be distributed. They offered us less than seven percent. We wanted it distributed so that we retain 17 steps," Orloff said. "I don't even think they've looked at the guide. They don't like the way it is set up."

"The board, for the first time, wants to say how this money should be distributed... What do they care?" Orloff said. As long as teachers stay within the allowed percentage increase, he said, the Board should not care how it is distributed through the guide.

"Right now, all I'm saying is, let's get to the table and go through this. Let's get down to the problem. If we don't, they'll find ways to get even and we'll find ways to get even," Orloff added.

All but one tenured instructor stayed out Monday, several teachers who worked Monday said. Although they refused to be identified, several teachers said that most if not all un-tenured teachers reported for work on Monday. One teacher said, "The un-tenured teachers must worry about job security."

"Every class was covered by a certified person," Hanigan said. "We were able to get by with a defensible program."

Hanigan added that it is harder to cover the middle school because the students move around from class to class. The superintendent said he would have preferred to have more substitutes but that a reasonable program under the circumstances was provided.

As all art, music, shop, home economics and physical education teachers were out, one to four classes were placed together in the cafeteria and gymnasium in Deerfield with Principal Herbert Brown and Vice-Principal Allan Shapiro in charge. Films, exams and compositions were substituted for the regular classroom work. Hanigan reported that most children attended school on Monday. There are only two blacks, one teacher and one student, in the system.

Mountainside PTA President Peggy Wilson said, "Obviously they handled it. It was not a productive day, but the children were not in any danger."

The PTA, in an emergency meeting called Saturday, Wilson said, decided that schools shouldn't be open unless they were adequately staffed. The PTA decided to turn down two Board of Education requests—one asking PTA members to man classrooms Monday and the other asking the PTA to begin a chain calling procedure to inform parents about the teachers' action, Wilson said. Calls to each family were made on Sunday starting at 6:30 p.m. simply informing parents that schools would close at 1 p.m. Monday.

"I resented being put in this position. It is an administrative problem," Wilson said. "We will remain impartial. We want to be doing what is best for the children. Unfortunately, the kids have been used as a pawn."

Schmedel said, "The issue becomes: Is the board going to be intimidated by a strike... even a one-day strike. If we make any movement now, it would appear that we are yielding."

"The walk-out was all the more regrettable, because a meeting of union and board negotiators with a fact-finder is scheduled for this evening (Monday) at 8 p.m. We cannot ignore what has happened. The teachers have shown a contempt for the fact-finding process. It will set a precedent for negotiations in the future. Under the circumstances, it makes it very difficult to try to reach a compromise," Schmedel said.

Orloff said he hoped that Monday's action would not affect the negotiations and that the teachers would act in good faith at all negotiating sessions. The MTA, which has taken an advertisement on page two, also plans to send a letter to every parent in the district sometime in the future.

Dead end

Susan Mullen said. Robert Koser, borough engineer, has been asked by the local Planning Board to study the proposal.

The proposal requested in December by some Westfield residents who felt a need for the barrier, was signed by some of the same people whose signatures were among 100 names representing opposition to the request, Joan Munz, Westfield Planning Board member, said.

The primary reasons stated in the petition requesting the change are: "A severe safety hazard for the children has been created on Sherwood Parkway and connecting arteries by increased vehicular traffic traveling to and from the Mountainside business area" and "the residential character of the Sherwood Parkway area of Westfield is being eroded by the expanding usage of the commercial zone."

The Planning Board, which meets in the Westfield Town Hall, 425 E. Broad st. will discuss the request at its 9 p.m. meeting on Feb. 5. If the Board votes in favor of the request, it will then go to the Town Council which must pass an ordinance to enact the change.

before. Tim Benford said the Rescue Squad responded to a total of 515 calls for assistance, which represented an increase of approximately 10 percent. Benford added that the squad is still in dire need of daytime members. A campaign through local industry has added one person during four days each month. The councilman expressed concern about the daytime squad; if called for two emergencies at the same time, it would not have the staff to respond to both.

The council unanimously approved a resolution making Feb. 2 Red Cross Blood Bank Day. The event, sponsored by the Red Cross of Greater Westfield-Mountainside will be held in Our Lady of Lourdes between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Some municipal employees have already volunteered to participate.

FRIDAY DEADLINE

All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE TAXPAYERS OF MOUNTAINSIDE

!!!! WE ARE FRUSTRATED !!!!

Other communities are now negotiating a 1979-80 contract with their teachers

Mountainside teachers still have no contract for 1978-79

MONEY IS NOT THE BASIS OF THE CONFLICT

DISTRIBUTION IS

The Board of Education wants to stretch out an already long salary schedule even further.

The Board of Education refuses to negotiate in good faith--It wishes to impose a unilateral decision.

TEACHER FRUSTRATIONS

1. 7 years of starting the school year without a contract.
2. 18 months of negotiation and mediation on this contract without agreement.
3. Mountainside is the only school district in Union County without a 1978-79 contract.
4. Already a longer time to reach maximum salary than in 98% of New Jersey Communities.
5. The Board of Education seems to put a very low priority on the solution of this issue.

WON'T YOU ASK YOUR BOARD OF EDUCATION TO PROMPTLY NEGOTIATE

THE DISTRIBUTION OF ALREADY BUDGETED MONEY?

Fanwood man unhurt when auto hits trailer

A Fanwood man escaped injury when his car hit a trailer parked on the side of Cole Avenue and rolled over once, ending up in an upright position.

John T. Orleb reportedly told police that he was blinded by the sun when he was traveling west on Coles Avenue at 4:15 p.m. last Thursday and was unable to see the parked trailer. The trailer, owned by Benjamin Dellain of Berkeley Heights, was about two feet on the roadway, according to police reports. Orleb's Volkswagen hit the trailer with its right front end and then with the right rear, rolled over once and came to rest in an upright position, reports indicated. Orleb, who told police that he was wearing a lap belt, complained of pain over his entire body but said he was not injured.

Kenneth Hale of East Orange was arrested on Jan. 10 for driving under the influence of alcohol after being involved in a three-car accident on Rt. 22. According to police reports, Hale's car, headed east on the highway at 5:57 p.m., struck the car driven by Helen Marchese of Union, which was in front of his. This, police said, caused Marchese's car to strike Manuel D. Santiago's car. Santiago, of Irvington, was driving in front of Marchese. Witnesses told police that the car driven by Hale was being operated in a reckless manner moments before the accident occurred.

Complaining of pain in his lower arm, John C. Baker of Stony Brook Lane said he would see his own physician after his car went off the roadway and hit a tree. Baker reportedly told police that his brakes failed as he was approaching the traffic circle on Summit Lane at 1:43 a.m. on Jan. 10. Police reports said that Baker turned to avoid a vehicle in front of him and ran off the roadway.

In a two-car accident on Rt. 22 at 8:28 a.m. on Jan. 10, Charles Snell of Plainfield complained of pain in his lower arm and neck but refused medical treatment saying he would see his own doctor. Donna A. Spence of South Plainfield had stopped for a car that had stopped short in front of her when her car was struck in the rear by Snell's vehicle.

A Brooklyn driver reportedly told police that she did not know what happened when her car ran into a public service pole at 2:37 a.m. last Thursday. Mildred Charmatz, traveling through the west-to-east U-turn on Rt. 22, was, according to reports, apparently making the turn too fast when her car left the roadway.

No injuries were reported in two hit-and-run accidents in parking lots on Jan. 10. A car owned by David N. Cowden of Fanwood had damage done to the right front side, the door and fender when a vehicle sideswiped his car at 6:20 p.m. in the Echo Lodge parking lot on Rt. 22. At 10:42 p.m., a car driven by an unknown woman struck another vehicle parked in the 7-11 parking lot. The car, owned by Herbert R. Otto Jr. of Westfield, began to pull away, reports indicate when Thomas E. Sullivan 3rd yelled at her to stop. Sullivan, the owner of the car that was hit, told police that the woman told him not to worry about it and drove away.

Franks tells of intent to get assembly seat

Robert D. Franks of Berkeley Heights has declared that he will seek the Republican nomination for the state assembly from the 22nd District. The district, which includes Springfield, Mountainside and Kenilworth, may lose one of its two incumbent assemblymen this fall since both have announced their intention to seek the state senate seat formerly held by Peter J. McDonough, who resigned last week.

Planning unit reelects slate

All officers of the Mountainside Planning Board were reelected for another year at the organizational meeting of the board.

Donald Jeka will serve as the head of the Planning Board while Melvin E. Lemmershirt was given the nod as vice-chairman for 1979. The other elected position, secretary, was retained by George Ramsey. Susan Mullen was reappointed as attorney.

Other members making up the nine-person board are Mayor Thomas J. Ricciardi, Borough Engineer Robert Koser, Councilman Bruce A. Geiger, Michael Sgarro, Theorore Nugent and Shirley Horner.

Despite some protests by local residents, Dr. David Brailovsky's request to open a practice on Ravenswood was approved. Neighbors told the board that there were a number of doctors living on the same street. Ruth Osbah, municipal clerk-stenographer said.

Dr. Brailovsky, a cardiologist, will be the only one of the group who will practice out of the Ravenswood locations, Osbah added.

Franks, 27, has been active in Republican politics for more than 10 years. He served as a county-wide coordinator last fall for Union County Surrogate Walter Ulrich and Union County Register Richard Hatfield.

He also served as an advisor to U.S. Rep. James A. Courter, (R-13th) the only New Jersey Republican Congressional candidate to unseat a Democratic incumbent in the 1978 election.

A DePauw University graduate, Franks received a law degree from Southern Methodist University and is vice president of Med Data, Inc., a publishing firm in Summit.

"It is my sincere hope," Franks said, "that I will be recognized as the unifying element of the Republican party in the 22nd District and I look forward to running an aggressive campaign with the other nominees that are selected in the primary election."

Loot from burglaries awaits identification

Quite a bit of the loot taken during a series of burglaries in Mountainside, Springfield, Berkeley Heights and Scotch Plains has been identified and claimed by homeowners whose houses were burglarized, Mountainside detectives have revealed. But still many of the estimated $25-$30,000 worth of items confiscated from a Newark apartment on Dec. 14 remain in the Mountainside headquarters.

Police are attempting to locate the owners and people are still viewing the merchandise for identification. Part of the problem, Mountainside detectives Walter Betyeman and Jerry Rice said, is that the members of the burglary ring probably worked houses outside of the four primary towns involved. Apprehended in the case are three persons, one adult, Francisco Rivas Cruz, and two juveniles. Charged in Union County court with suspicion of breaking and entering, receiving a vehicle knowing it to be stolen, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and possession of burglary tools, Cruz is awaiting Grand Jury action. The two juveniles, ages 12 and 15, have also been charged with break and entry and have been referred to the juvenile authorities.

Two other suspects, Gladys and Carmelo Colon, have not been taken into custody by police, although warrants have been issued for the husband and wife, who allegedly worked as part of the team.

The Colons, picked up by police on Nov. 20, reportedly said that they were a 16 and 17-year-old brother and sister. Betyeman said that they are in fact adults, both 19, and are husband and wife.

It was at the Colon apartment in Newark where Betyeman, Rice and representatives from the Newark, Springfield, Scotch Plains and Berkeley Heights police departments executed a search warrant and confiscated the loot that was believed to have been taken in the series of burglaries. There was no one in the apartment and no arrests were made at the time.

The burglaries took place between late October and early December, when police got a break in the case. The break in the seven week long investigation came on Dec. 8, Betyeman said, when he arrested Velasquez and the two juveniles for allegedly being in possession of a stolen vehicle.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that an Ordinance of the Borough of Mountainside, New Jersey, was introduced, read and passed on first reading by the Board of Health of the Borough of Mountainside at a meeting on the 16th day of January, 1979, and that the Council of the Borough of Mountainside at a meeting on the 20th day of February, 1979, at the Municipal Building, Mountainside, New Jersey, at 8:00 p.m., at which time and place any persons who may be interested therein will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning such Ordinance.

PERMITTED BY LAW. All matters with respect to said bonds, not determined by this ordinance, shall be determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted.

SECTION 7. To finance said purpose, bond anticipation notes of said Borough of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $2,500,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said local bond law in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds. Said notes shall bear interest at a rate which shall not exceed the maximum permitted by law and may be renewed from time to time pursuant to and within the limitations prescribed by said law. All matters with respect to said notes shall be determined by this ordinance, the aggregate amount of such notes to be issued shall be reduced by an amount equal to the principal amount of the bonds so issued. If the aggregate amount of outstanding bonds and notes issued pursuant to this ordinance shall at any time exceed the sum first mentioned in this section, the amount of such excess shall be applied to the payment of such notes then outstanding.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE NO. 569-79
AN ORDINANCE TO AUTHORIZE THE CONSTRUCTION OF A SANITARY SEWER ON HIGH POINT DRIVE IN THE BOROUGH OF MOUNTAINSIDE, NEW JERSEY.
BE IT ORDAINED by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Mountainside, County of Union, State of New Jersey, as follows:
Section 1. For the purpose of improving the sanitary sewer system of the Borough of Mountainside, the Borough shall construct a sanitary sewer known as the "High Point Sanitary Sewer".

SECTION 4. It is hereby determined and stated that (1) the Borough will contribute no part of the cost of said purpose, it being expected that the special assessment levied will equal $10,000.00 and (2) special assessments for said purpose have been levied or confirmed, and (3) such special assessments may be paid in ten (10) installments.

SECTION 8. It is hereby determined and stated that (1) the period of usefulness of said purpose according to its reasonable life is a period of forty (40) years, computed from the date of said bonds. Section 9. It is hereby determined and stated that the supplemental Debt Statement required by a local bond law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Borough Clerk of said Borough, and that such statement so filed shows that the gross debt of said Borough, as defined in Section 40:1-7a of said local bond law, is increased by this ordinance by the amount of $2,500.00 and that the issuance of said bonds and notes is permitted by said local bond law.

SECTION 2. The sanitary sewer authorized to be constructed in accordance with this Ordinance shall consist of a sanitary sewer together with appurtenances necessary for the operation thereof, on Lots 36, 37 and 38 of Block 7-A, as designated on the Tax Map of the Borough of Mountainside, New Jersey. The above-referenced properties encompass an area situated on the north side of High Point Drive, bounded on the east by the Springfield - Mountainside boundary line; on the west by Summit Road; on the south by High Point Drive; and on the north by the Springfield - Mountainside boundary line.

SECTION 5. It is hereby determined and stated that (1) the estimated cost of said purpose as hereinbefore stated includes the sum of $300.00 which is estimated to be necessary to finance (a) engineering and inspection costs and legal expenses, and (b) the cost of issuing the bonds in the amount of $2,500.00 and that the amount of said local bond law.

SECTION 10. This ordinance shall take effect twenty (20) days after the first publication thereof after final passage as provided by said local bond law.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that an Ordinance of the Borough of Mountainside, New Jersey, was introduced, read and passed on first reading by the Board of Health of the Borough of Mountainside at a meeting on the 8th day of January, 1979, and that the Council of the Borough of Mountainside at a meeting on the 12th day of February, 1979, at the Municipal Building, Mountainside, New Jersey, at 7:30 p.m., at which time and place any persons who may be interested therein will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning such Ordinance.

SECTION 6. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency.

SECTION 7. If an Ordinance or part thereof shall be declared to be invalid or inoperative, shall not be affected thereby, and shall be enforced and effectuated.

SECTION 8. This Ordinance shall take effect upon its final passage and publication according to law.

AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING SUPERVISORS OF FOOD SERVICE PERSONNEL ENGAGED IN THE COMMERCIAL PREPARATION, PROMOTION AND SALE OF FOOD OR DRINK INTENDED FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION.
BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Health of the Borough of Mountainside, County of Union, State of New Jersey, as follows:
SECTION 1. "Food" shall include any substance used or intended to be used as food or drink for human consumption.
2. "Food Handler's Certificate" shall mean a certificate issued by the Mountainside Health Department or any other agency recognized by the Mountainside Health Department.
3. "Supervisor" shall mean any person charged with overseeing operations at an establishment engaged in the preparation, processing and sale of food or drink intended for human consumption, be it for on or off premises consumption.

SECTION 9. If an Ordinance or part thereof shall be declared to be invalid or inoperative, shall not be affected thereby, and shall be enforced and effectuated.

SECTION 2. Within six months of enactment of this ordinance no establishments shall be open for business in the preparation, processing and sale of food or drink intended for human consumption without having a supervisor on the premises who has a food handler's certificate. In the event such an establishment operates more than one shift a day, at least one person on each shift shall complete the aforesaid course.

SECTION 10. This ordinance shall take effect twenty (20) days after the first publication thereof after final passage as provided by said local bond law.
Mtsde Echo, Jan. 18, 1979 (Fee: $29.19)

SECTION 3. No establishment shall operate more than 45 days without the supervisor employed in that establishment applying for a food handler's certificate. No establishment shall operate more than three months after the date upon which the supervisor (a) theretofore made application for a food handler's certificate without such supervisor (a) having completed an approved course of instruction in food handling techniques.

SECTION 4. No person whose food handler's certificate is issued or granted shall give, loan, transfer or permit the same to be used by any other person, for any purpose whatsoever.

What makes Volkswagen such a great value in the long run, is that it runs so long.

Shopping for a new car is an exciting, expensive thing to do. But the thrill wears off as rapidly as the new wears out. That's why Volkswagen has the reputation of building a car that lasts. So you won't have to replace it every few years. We build the Rabbit, Dasher and Scirocco for keeping. So we put things in them that are important now. And will be even more important in the future.

For example, our Volkswagens are fuel-injected to get the most from regular gasoline. We build the most economical car engine in America for our Diesel Rabbit—delivering 50 mpg highway, 40 mpg city! And, one of the important requirements that every car will have to have by 1984, is the kind of passive restraint seatbelt system the VW Rabbit* has now.

Based on 1979 EPA estimates with manual transmission. Actual mileage may vary depending on when and how you drive. See your car's condition and overall equipment. Model 1: Rabbit.

Dayton keglers strike a victory in league match

Strikes dominated the second round of play in the Suburban Conference Bowling League as the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School keglers posted a 3-0 victory over tough New Providence at Madison Lanes last Monday but "splits" haunted the Bulldog bowlers as Caldwell scored a 2-1 Thursday over the second-place Bulldogs (6-3).

Harry Sherman's 227-614 series catapulted the Bulldogs to victory over the Pioneers (3-6) with Mike Steinberg (203-614), Steve Klein (448), Rich Zerkel (477) and Mike Pine (462) making up the 2515 game series. Bob Landry bowled a 200-541 series for the Pioneers.

Thursday's series could be considered a "split" decision. Team captain Mike Steinberg was a steady anchor man as he posted a 218-570 series but Klein (408), Zerkel (477), Pike (422), and Sherman (461) fell way below their average. Caldwell's Bill Cooper (202-559) and Bill Page (184-509) led the Chiefs to the victory. Caldwell (3-3) posted a 2570 series; the Bulldogs rolled 2428.

The Bulldogs take on league-leading Summit (5-1) this afternoon and Verona (5 1/2-3 1/2) Monday. Coach Vinnie Albano's Brearley Regional High School keglers continued their fine exhibition showing against Suburban opponents as a 3-0 victory over West Orange (1-5) boosted Kenilworth's record to 7-2.

The Dayton alternates (3-6) dropped a 1-2 series to Summit and took a 2-1 victory from Kenilworth last week. Ted Nugent, Jeff Rosenberg, Ron Zerkel, Eric Seth, Dave Lerner and Scott Semel are alternates to the varsity five.

Minutemen take pair, increase streak to 10

By CRAIG CLICKENGER
After dropping their season opener to Morristown, the Springfield Senior Minutemen have extended their winning streak to 10 with victories over Maplewood and Warren last week.

Four Seniors reached double figures Wednesday as a good team effort turning back a strong Maplewood squad, 57-49. Maplewood is only the third team this year to score 49 points or more against the Seniors. Springfield took a 34-18 first-half lead and built it to 55-32 in the third-quarter to put the game out of reach.

Thomas Ard led with 15 points, five assists and five steals. Ard and Kyle Hudgins each had 13 rebounds. Hudgins and David Johnson each scored 13 points and Hudgins led with six steals.

Ron Fusco had 10 points and four assists; Richard Hivley added six points and four steals. Michael Berliner contributed and two points.

David Kadish (three points), Louis Jenkins (two points and three rebounds), Tim Walker (two points) and Carlos Rivera (foul shot) rounded out the Springfield scoring. David Gold aided the cause.

The Warren All-stars were beaten 89-40, Saturday night.

Johnson and Berliner combined for 18 first-quarter points as the Seniors took a 39-19 halftime advantage. In the third quarter, Springfield outscored its opponents, 29-7.

Hudgins scored 20 points added 18. Hudgins had 15 rebounds, second to Ard who grabbed 20. Ard and Berliner each scored 12 points and Ard added 10 assists and five steals.

Fusco recorded five assists and five steals, scored four points and grabbed six rebounds. Joe Roessner added 10 points while Hinkley and Steve Srednick each in a pair of baskets.

David Kadish (3) and David Gold (2) rounded out the Senior scoring. Gold also recorded two steals and two assists. Carlos Rivera, Louis Jenkins and Tim Walker also played. Victor Gutierrez has been out all week due to illness.

Small Fry duo keep perfect records in tact

The Raiders and the Bullets remain unbeaten in Springfield Small Fry League play. The Pistons and the Billikens also chalked up victories in Saturday's games at the Chisholm School gym.

The Celtics tied the Raiders at halftime, 8-8. Eric Storch scored 6 second-period points to lead the Celtics but the rally was thwarted in the third quarter by the Raiders Adam Miller who knocked in all 7 points. The Raiders won, 21-14. Kenny Gargiulo had 6 and Jason Weisholtz, 4, were two top scorers for the victors. Jason Mcneecce and Chris Kharr finished Raider scoring with two points each. Eric Schobel and Felice Bartel contributed to the win.

Storch, with eight points, and Greg Wioland, six points, led the Celtics. Greg Walsh, Staci Weirnerman and Rusty Simon were leading Celtics performers.

The Bullets won their second game outscoring their opponents 10-4 in the first half. The Bullets won, 14-8.

The Jets lost their first game, John Sekella hit for six points and was the Bullets' top rebounder. Adam Cummis and Glenn Baltush both connected for four. Roger Bassin and Stanley Federobitch played well for the Bullets.

The Jets' Mike Bowen led his team with four points. Fred Carchman and Mike Gallaro hit two points apiece. Mat Magee and Fumuran Bayrasli were top defensive performers.

The Pistons got eight last-quarter points to defeat the Rockets, 12-6. Lenny Saia worked off the backboards and on his floor game to accumulate six points and three steals. Baskets also were made by Andy Wasserman, Peter Sadin and Andy Gausler. Jason Sharenow and Chris Monoco did a good offensive job for the Piston squad and Chris Verchione added his defensive skills.

Adam Cohen's four points led the Rockets and was followed by two from Jon Maier. John Sentner, Dominick Barone, and Andy Zidel played well.

The Billikens handed the Lakers a 12-6 defeat. The teams played to a 6-6 tie until the fourth quarter when the Billikens scored six more points. Robert DeRonde exploded for a 10-point performance to lead the Billikens. Bruce Schneider completed the scoring with a bucket. Chris Wickham, Kenny French, and Jimmy Ruban helped.

Danny Francis connected for six tallies as the only Laker scorer. Marc Morris, Mike Elson, and Mark Winarsky were contributors to the Lakers' showing.

Commarato takes title in West Point high jump

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School winter track team posted two impressive victories last week as it remained undefeated in dual meets. The Bulldogs downed sister schools Berkeley Heights and Clark by wide margins to keep their unmarred record intact.

Also displaying talent over the week was sophomore Paul Commarato who represented Dayton at the West Point invitational track and field meet held at the U.S. Military Academy field house. Commarato competing in the high jump, captured the event clearing the bar at 6 feet four inches.

Against Clark, the boys triumphed, 72-5, while the girls took their division, 47-11. Sweeping all three places in five of the nine events the squad also went on to win the mile-relay. The girls won their mile relay as they shut out the opposition in three events.

Dayton dominated the high jump and high hurdles with performances led by sophomore Commarato. Nick Caricato, not far behind, took second in the high hurdles and placed third in the high jump. Second in the high jump was taken by Wayne Lewis as Dan Pepe ended in third in the hurdles.

Dayton also took the sprints. Both the 60 yard dash and quarter-mile were won by senior captain Jeff Vargas. In the 60-yard dash, Pete Keramas and Commarato finished second and third in the 440. The half-mile was swept as senior Dave Barnes led Keith Hanigan and Jim Melkowitz to the finish. The mile and two mile were grabbed by Jeff Knowles. Second in the mile went to sophomore Kevin King, while Jay Bruder was second in the two-mile. Dan Pepe was unequaled in the shot as Dan Dommaratzky found third in the weight event.

The girls had all places in the 60, 440, and shot put. Winning the 60 and 440 was Trish Taylor who brought in Susan Kuperstein and Laura Clarke to seal the events. The shot put was taken by Maria Sanino, placing ahead of Debbie Scelfo, and MaryAnne Booger.

Irene Zervakos was second in the hurdles as sophomore Dana Levinson was second in the mile. The half-mile was won by Kathy Kelley as she led home Rosenbaum in second.

The Dayton squad shattered Berkeley Heights just as badly as they shut out the girls' division and took the boys events by a score of 77-7. The meet followed pretty much the same pattern as the previous one.

Caricato, Commarato and Pepe finished one, two and three in the high hurdles, while Commarato won the high jump ahead of teammate Wayne Lewis in third.

The 60 yard dash was swept by Vargas, Keramas, and Commarato, as Knowles, King, and Bruder led in the mile. Vargas also took the 880, finishing ahead of Lou Salemy. The team finished in another one-two combination in the quarter-mile as Keramas and Barnes took the field. Dayton swept the shot put with throws by Pepe, Dommaratzky, and Joseph. The two mile was taken by Knowles and King while Dayton won the mile relay.

The girls swept their entire meet. Sanino, Booger and Scelfo again won the shot put. Ogintz, B. Taylor and Scuderi did the same in the mile. Taylor, Keller and S. Clarke won the quarter mile as the girls were also victorious with their mile relay team. Kelly and Rosenbaum placed first and second in the 880 yard run.

Carol Wingard captured first in both the 60-yard dash and the hurdles. Other place finishers were Zervakos and Brenner, two and three, in the hurdles, and Taylor and S. Clarke in the 60.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

When a soccer team has a good season we hear so much about the good coaching and the outstanding players that made it all possible. Let's just take the Union Lancer midget team for instance. They ended the first half of the regular season undefeated. The Lancers are now playing indoor soccer at the Elizabeth Armory and are undefeated in their first three starts.

This all sounds great. The boys are all doing their part and the coaches are looking out to spot weaknesses and correcting them before goals are scored against them or finding ways to score more goals.

We have never given much credit to a group of individuals without whom there wouldn't even be a team. This group I am talking about are the soccer mothers.

When the kids play two or three times a week, most of the time it falls upon the mothers to get them out of the house on time and even to the various fields where the game is to be played. It doesn't matter to the mothers if they are playing up in Clarkstown, N.Y., or over in Staten Island or right here in Farther's Grove, the mothers are there. The players don't mind the rain or the cold, and the mothers are standing on the sidelines cheering them on.

Last Sunday was a typical day in the life of a soccer mother. The team had an indoor practice from 3:30 until 5:15. I got back to the gym at 5 to pick up our son Otto from the practice. Most of the mothers were still there waiting and watching their youngsters. I told my wife I should be back around 5:30 so the potatoes were already being mashed. I sat on the bench watching practice as the time ticked away. The players were all tired and sweating but would play another two hours if they let them.

The coach's daughter came into the gym and announced that her mom was hungry and had to go home to start supper. I looked at my watch and saw it was 5:45, and I knew my supper was cold. Believe it or not they played one more game after that, and all received a big cheer from the soccer mothers waiting in the lobby when practice was over.

The moms will tell you how difficult it is, but none of them will have it any other way. That is another reason why soccer will take its rightful place in American sports.

Juniors shade Maplewood on late foul shots

By CRAIG CLICKENGER

The Springfield Minutemen split two contests last week, squeezing by Maplewood, 47-45, and losing to a tall Warren squad, 60-52. Their season record now stands at 8-3.

Defense and poor outside shooting marked the first period Wednesday as Maplewood took an 8-6 lead over the Juniors. A second-quarter Minutemen press gave Springfield a 30-25 lead which they almost lost in the closing minutes when they missed on several free throw attempts. Robert Daniels came through with the winning margin, however, sinking two fouls.

Andy Rosenthal led the Juniors in scoring (15) and rebounding (16). The junior center also recorded two thefts. Mike Graziano netted 12 points and led in assists (4) and steals (3). Eric Miguelino had eight points six rebounds and three assists.

Mike McNany and Neal Kesselica both had four points for the Juniors. Daniels pulled in seven rebounds. Doug Colandrea (2) also scored for Springfield. Danny Spotts, Gary Schlager and David Cole participated.

The Juniors Saturday couldn't overcome the tall and talented all-stars from Warren. The Minutemen, down 28-27 at the midway point, were not able to overtake their adversaries.

Rosenthal led in all statistical categories with 16 points, 18 rebounds, four assists and six steals. Miguelino scored eight, pulled in 10 rebounds and made four assists. Colandrea hit seven points while Jay Siegel had six. Siegel, the sparkplug to the Juniors' second quarter surge, had four assists.

Graziano had five points Cole four, Daniels four and McNany two.

Kean gridders receive honors

The Kean College football team placed nine players on the All-New Jersey State College Conference teams, including two on the first team.

Pete Kowalsky, a standout defensive back, who also was selected on the ECAC New York-New Jersey squad, was named to the first team, along with freshman Ray Scott of Florence, who made it as the kick return specialist.

Mike Thomas, a junior tight end from Somerset gained second team recognition, as well as guard Larry Duffell, a senior from Somerville and tackle Fred Hemsey, a freshman from West Paterson.

Dan Deneher, a freshman from Pequannock and an ECAC first team pick, was the second kicker selected as was punter Bill Buoni, a freshman from Clark.

Ron Panucci, a junior from West Orange, was the second team choice at middle guard, while linebacker Frank Travisano, a senior from Irvington, also was selected.

THE HORSES are at the starting gate for the American Cancer Society's ninth annual Crimson Ball, to be held at the Meadowlands Sports Complex in April. The Union County Unit's ball will take place in the new Pegasus Room, which is scheduled for completion in February. From left, Richard Thomas, Sports Complex; Mrs. Edward Mayer of Mountainside, co-chairman of the Ball; Michelle Morosy, Sports Complex; Mrs. Charles E. Dooley Jr., of Mountainside, Ball chairman, and Phillip Dunn of the Sports Complex meet to coordinate events for the fund-raising affair.

Watson elected to run program of health co-op

Patricia Watson, director of in-service education at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, has been elected to chair the Union County Health Manpower Education Co-Op.

The new vice-chairperson is Sal Citarella director of staff development at Overlook Hospital in Summit; secretary-treasurer is John Zauber, audio-visual coordinator at Rahway Hospital.

Mrs. Watson succeeds Daniel Devaney, media specialist at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth.

The Co-Op coordinates and provides educational programs for health care personnel in Union County health institutions and agencies. It is composed of representatives of Union College, Union County Technical Institute and Alexian Brothers, Children's Specialized, Overlook, Memorial General, Rahway and Saint Elizabeth Hospitals. The Co-Op houses its audio-visual library at Union College and holds its monthly meetings on the college's Cranford campus.

Mrs. Watson holds a master's degree in parent-child nursing from New York University, a bachelor's degree in nursing from Seton Hall University, and a diploma in nursing from the Ann May School of Nursing, Neptune.

Before joining the staff of Children's Specialized Hospital, Mrs. Watson was an instructor in parent-child nursing and nursing leadership at Skidmore College. She has also taught at the Mountainside Hospital School of Nursing, Montclair, and the Fitkin Memorial Hospital, Neptune.

Clinic will aid seniors with health insurance

The Senior Citizens Council of Union County and the Union County Department of Human Resources, Division on Aging, will cosponsor a clinic and workshop on health insurance from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26, at Holy Spirit Church, Morris avenue and Suburban road, Union.

Evelyn Frank, council president, said a principal topic will be how supplemental insurance fills the gap left by Medicare.

Y art show panel named

Committee members were announced this week for the 20th Annual Eastern Union County YM-YWHA Art Show on March 4.

Herbert Levenberg, president of the Y board, named Hannah Keselman—of Hillside and Pat Pittius of Union, art committee; Andrei Spivak and Jean Snyder, both of Union, gala opening and Deborah Cooper of Hillside and Myrna Rubin of Union, patrons and sponsors.

An opening night gala will be held on Saturday, March 3, with a preview of the show followed by a light supper. All patrons and sponsors will be invited free. The show will be open to the public from Sunday, March 4 to Sunday March 11, except Saturday, March 10.

Counselors will be on hand to give senior citizens private assistance. "If you will bring in your policies," she said, "we will try to help you understand what coverage you now have and whether you possibly might have duplication of coverage in two or three different policies," Frank said.

The council president said the New Jersey Department of Insurance has issued a booklet, "A Shopper's Guide to Life and Health Insurance for Senior Citizens." It also has conducted training sessions and developed a teaching kit for use with the guide, she said. Council representatives and senior citizens coordinators are among those who have taken the training.

Additional information on the clinic and workshop is available from Frank at the council office, 964-7555, or Theresa Reger at the Division on Aging, 525-4870.

Self-portrait show

"Insights," an exhibit of self-portraits by New Jersey artists, will be shown at the Community Gallery, 1140 E. Jersey st., Elizabeth, beginning Feb. 2. The exhibit, which features drawings, photographs, sculpture and multi-media images, will be on view through Feb. 28.

Jewish Y association slates first elections

A brunch celebrating the first membership meeting and election of officers and board directors of the Jewish Association of Centers and Y's of Central New Jersey (JACY) will be held on Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Plainfield Jewish Community Center, 403 W. 7th st., Plainfield.

JACY is the new agency which is the result of the merger of the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Plainfield Jewish Community Center, and the YM-YWHA of Greater Westfield. The brunch will honor the members of a joint merger committee who, with the backing of the Jewish Federation, worked for the unification of the three agencies for more than two years.

Those being honored are: Donald Whitken, chairman of the committee, Mrs. Ruth Brewster, Herbert Levenberg, Alvin Eglow, Irving Chvat, Alfred Gelfand, Nathaniel Yohalem, Dr. Susan Fuhrman, Mrs. Judi Kronick, Charles Feldman, Irving Tanzer, Herbert Steinberg, James Shrager, Dr. Howard J. Alfrandre, David Tannenbaum and Al Dobrof of the Jewish Welfare Board and the executive directors and presidents of the three agencies involved.

Brunch will be followed by entertainment by Judy Steel, international singer and guitarist, who will perform traditional folk songs in Hebrew, English and Yiddish.

The new agency, under the direction of Irving Tanzer, president, and Barry Shandler, executive director, will serve 15 municipalities in Union County and an additional eight municipalities in the surrounding areas.

EDWARD BAPTISTA

Realty board picks president

Edward Baptista, owner of the King Realty in Roselle Park, was installed as president of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors on Jan. 12 at the Chanticleer in Millburn. The organization includes Realtors serving Elizabeth, Linden, Union, Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth and part of Hillside.

Also installed were George Paton Jr., as vice-president; Oneida Duran, secretary, and Pasquale Lombardi as treasurer. The new officers will serve for 1979.

DOROTHY COOPER

Cooper named center leader

Dorothy Cooper of West Orange has been named director of Union College's Women's Center, according to Ronald Nakashima, director of counseling at the college.

Cooper, who will serve as center director on a part-time basis, is adjunct professor of psychology at both Seton Hall University and Montclair State College.

The center will begin its program with an emphasis on counseling aimed at helping the college's women students determine and reach personal, educational and career goals, and will offer workshops, seminars and other activities for the public as well. Cooper holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Kean College and a master's in psychology from Columbia University.

College shows art by Georges

An exhibit of new paintings by Paul Georges will be featured in the Tomasulo Gallery at Union College, Cranford, in February.

The exhibit will open on Thursday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m., with a reception for the New York artist, and will continue through Feb. 27.

The seven large paintings on exhibit (one measures 14 by 9 feet) have never before been shown. The Union College exhibit is the first Georges show in two years.

The works, grouped under the series name "About Freedom," demonstrate an expressionistic treatment of figures. The paintings recall former times when life was lived with greater abandon.

The gallery is open to the public, free of charge, Monday through Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. and Monday through Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Open house set Monday

Mother Seton Regional High School will hold an informal open house on Monday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for all interested eighth grade girls and their friends. The program is designed to provide information for students who are planning to enter high school in the fall.

The school is located at Exit 135 on the Garden State Parkway.

Energy saving ideas eligible for U.S. aid

New Jersey residents have until Feb. 23 to submit energy conservation ideas that could earn them a federal grant of up to $50,000. It was announced this week by the New Jersey Energy Department's Office of Alternate Technology.

Cosponsored by the New Jersey Department of Energy and the U.S. Department of Energy, the "Appropriate Technology Small Grants Program" could bring an approximate quarter-million dollars into the state for projects which make use of renewable energy resources such as solar power, wind or wood. The program is based on the belief that a balanced energy approach should promote conservation and reduce our dependence on fossil fuels, while seeking out the talents of individual inventors and small businesses.

Project ideas submitted to the program must be geared to the local environment. Depending on the scale of accepted proposals, the grants range from several hundred to several thousand dollars each.

The "Appropriate Technology Small Grants Program" is open to individuals, small businesses, non-profit organizations, state and local government agencies and American Indian tribes.

Projects that have been funded during the program's pilot phase on the West Coast include: a water wheel in Hawaii that will generate electricity for a small community of farmers who have no power or lights; a mini-solar utility in California which will provide space heating and hot water from one location to as many as 14 surrounding homes on a city block, and the use of a lagoon for primary anaerobic treatment of wastewater to produce methane gas for supplementary heating.

To date, there have been more than 5,000 requests for applications from state residents.

Requests for applications should be made to Caren Lee Freyer N.J. Department of Energy, Office of Alternate Technology, 101 Commerce St., Newark 07102.

Further information is available by calling the N.J. DOE's toll-free Energy Information line, 800-492-4242, or by contacting Freyer or Jack Bronson, program coordinator, U.S. Department of Energy, Office of Conservation, 26 Federal Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10007.

College seeks youngsters for math program

The Kean College Arithmetic Center is seeking elementary school children to participate in a program for teachers who are studying diagnosis and remediation techniques in school mathematics. The children will receive diagnosis and remediation from in-service teacher-specialists supervised by Dr. Phyllis Kavett of Kean's Educational Arts and Systems Department.

The program will begin in early March, participants meeting Tuesdays from 5 to 7 p.m. for a minimum of eight weeks. Selected child participants may be invited to continue in a similar program during the college's summer session. While there is no fee for the instruction, there will be a charge of $10 to cover the cost of paper and materials. Children between the ages of 8 and 12 will have preference, but others may apply and will be accepted on a space-available basis.

Children must be escorted to the Arithmetic Center by an adult. No reports to schools will be available as a result of this program, and privacy laws will be complied with. Parents may request any results of tests or information acquired as a result of diagnostic techniques.

Interested parents who feel their child could benefit from the program may phone the college at 527-2175 or 527-2176 for an application. Applications should be completed and returned to the college by Feb. 15. Parents will be notified of their child's acceptance by March 1.

Kean to offer dance premiere, Soviet chamber group concert

The spring season of performing arts programs scheduled at Kean College will feature the world premiere performance of a work by an award-winning choreographer, a concert by the Soviet Union's Wilnus Chamber Orchestra and two full-length presentations by the Kean College Theatre Guild.

The season will open Feb. 18 with the dance performance of "Copernicus," a new work by the Valerie Hammer Project. Other dance troupes to appear at Kean this spring are the Fred Benjamin Company, April 3; the Ballet Repertory Company, May 8 and the Kean College Dance Theatre, May 25 and 26.

The Wilnus Chamber Orchestra will play variations on a Lithuanian Folk Song and other selections Feb. 16 Tashi, featuring Peter Serkin on piano, will perform March 20, and Kean's Chamber Orchestra, Woodwind Ensemble and Concert Band will appear periodically throughout the spring. The Kean College Jazz Series, which will showcase the talents of amateur jazz composers on March 28, will offer free Monday night entertainment throughout the semester.

The Kean Theatre Guild will present "The House of Blue Leaves" March 7 to 11 and 14 to 18 and "Hot L Baltimore"

May 3-5. Student directors will present one-act plays at noon in the College's Luncheon Series and evenings for the Director's Workshop Productions, May 21 to 24.

All programs are open to the public; tickets are required for particular events. Further information is available by calling the Kean College Information Center, 527-2660.

Brenner work at N.Y. gallery

The latest paintings by Leonard Brenner, a life-long New Jersey resident, are now on display at the Ingber Gallery, 3 East 78th st., Manhattan. His one-man show, titled "Oils & Paper," will continue until Jan. 24.

Brenner, whose art career started at Irvington High School, studied at the Arts Student League in New York City and the Academie De La Grande Chaumiere in Paris. He has had his work exhibited at many one-man and group shows, including the Newark Museum, the Salon De L'Art Libre in Paris, the Guggenheim Museum, the Leonard Hutton Galleries, the Silvermine Annual and the Sachs Gallery.

He is represented in the permanent collections of the Guggenheim Museum and the museums of New York University, Notre Dame University, the Art Students League, Cornell University and Syracuse University.

Ensemble lists Kean concert

The Lithuanian Chamber Orchestra of Wilnus, founded in 1960 by Saulius Sondeckis, will appear at Kean College in Union on Friday, Feb. 16.

Making its first U.S. tour this season, the ensemble has performed in many countries including England, Canada, Poland and the Mediterranean countries. Renowned soloists Isaac Stern, Vladimir Spivakov and Leonid Kogan have played with the Orchestra.

The program will consist of works by Purcell, Ciurlionis, Concerto No. 1 in D minor for Piano and Orchestra by Bach, Chamber Symphony for String Orchestra by Shostakovich and Toccato by Bayaras.

Tickets will be $6 for orchestra and $5 for mezzanine. Further information may be obtained by calling the college music department at 527-2107. The concert will be held in the Wilkins Theatre for the Performing Arts at 8 p.m.

Study trip is planned

The Gill-St. Bernard's High School in Gladstone will direct a six-week archeological and historical study tour of Israel from March 1 through April 15.

This travel-study program is made possible through the school's system of intensive education called the Unit Plan. The system allows for the study of one subject for seven-week periods or units.

In the past Gill-St. Bernard's has offered trips to Russia, Egypt, France, Italy, Mexico, Jamaica and places within the United States.

Entitled "Israel, Ancient and Modern," this credit course will also be open to outside students and adults.

Folk dancing to begin at Y

A new international folk dancing group will begin at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey Monday under the direction of Miriam Handler, a folk dance teacher and choreographer.

The group will meet every Monday evening throughout the year at the Y, 760 Northfield ave., West Orange. The first hour from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. will be devoted to beginner dancers, and from 8:30 to 9:30 will be for intermediate and advanced students. A request session will follow for the final hour, from 9:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Ski tour is planned

A hike and ski tour are scheduled on Sunday for members of the Union County Hiking Club and their guests.

Hikers will meet at Locust Grove at 10:30 a.m. for the South Mountain Reservation Hike. Ray Carriere will lead this six-mile event.

Bob and Anne Vogel will lead the Allemuchy Ski Tour. Participants will meet at the Livingston Mall near Herman's at 8:20 a.m. If snow conditions do not permit skiing, the event will be a hike.

MIDNIGHT EXPRESS—Brad Davis (with hands raised) plays American college student Billy Hayes, who is arrested in Istanbul airport charged with trying to smuggle hashish out of the country. The film drama continues its run at the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood.

Tolkien's trilogy seen on screen at Bellevue

J.R.R. Tolkien's epic masterpiece, "The Lord of the Rings" trilogy, was fashioned to the screen by director Ralph Bakshi and producer Saul Zaentz. The picture, which is being held over at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, is released by United Artists.

The books became an underground phenomenon in the 1960s, when fan clubs were organized and members spoke to each other using some of the Elish and Dwarvish language invited by Tolkien. Bakshi, at that time, was a teenager, starting out as an animator at Terrytoons in New York. Zaentz was working at Fantasy Records, a company, he later bought and build into the "home" for jazz music. From the beginning, both men understood the film potential for the books but were unable to act upon it together until the early 1976.

The story of the peregrination of "The Lord of the Rings" through Hollywood until its rescue to Bakshi and Zaentz nearly parallels the perilousness of Frodo the Hobbit's own journey with the One Ring.

During the 1960s, Tolkien's creations, Middle-earth, Frodo and the other Hobbits, their Shire, the Wizard Gandalf, the great warrior Boromir, the Dark Lord Sauron and all the elves, dwarves, orcs and other fantasy characters and lands became symbols for young people involved in the mass peace movement of the 1960s.

Public acceptance was translated into buttons and bumper stickers and other paraphernalia which proclaimed "Frodo Lives," or "Gandalf for President;" new "head shops" opened under such names as "Middle-earth," "Hobbit" and "Mithril" (the substance more precious than silver).

The universal theme of the moral choice between good and evil in the story told by Tolkien within the boundaries of exotic settings reach out to a mass readership that was in the midst of its own questioning and revolt against values which they felt had become distorted and corrupted.

The popularity of the books has extended throughout much of the industrialized, non-English-speaking world and has become a particular favorite of the Japanese, the Dutch and the Scandinavians.

'Smoke' is billed

"Up in Smoke," which came to the Castle Theater, Irvington Center, yesterday on a double bill with "The One and Only," will open tomorrow at the Old Rahway Theater, Rahway on a single bill.

"Harper Valley PTA" will end its run today at the Old Rahway.

"Up in Smoke," a film comedy, starring Cheech Marin and Tommy Chong as spaced out smugglers of a van made of marijuana, was directed by Lou Adler.

"The One and Only," starring Henry Winkler, Kim Darby, Gene Saks and Harvey Villechize, tells a story about a maniacal would-be actor, who becomes a successful wrestler. Carl Reiner directed the film.

"The Adventures of the Wilderness Family, Part II," will be shown Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 1:30 at the Old Rahway.

'Planet Earth' has opening

"The Late Great Planet Earth," quasi-documentary film, narrated by Orson Welles, opened yesterday at Linden Twin One Theater, the Sanford Theater, Irvington Center, and the Five Points Cinema, Union.

The picture explores the Biblical prophesy of Armageddon, with Welles telling a story of the seven year countdown to the end of the world.

Film held in Union

"Bread and Chocolate," which continues its run at the Lost Picture Show, Union, is a Franco Brusati international award winner. It stars Nino Manfredi and Anna Karina.

The picture, which was selected for showing at film festivals throughout the world and accumulated a dozen international prizes for "Best Picture," "Best Director" and "Best Actor" including the Silver Bear at Berlin, is based on an original story by Brusati, its director. Manfredi collaborated in the screenplay with Brusati and Iain Fairst.

It tells a story of the indomitable spirit of an Italian guest-worker in Switzerland and his efforts to assimilate. Miss Karina co-stars as a Greek guest-worker, who has brought her son in illegally.

"Bread and Chocolate" was photographed in color.

ALL IN ONE

One sage described a community fund as an organization which puts all of its eggs into one basket.

JOHN TRAVOLTA dances in "Grease," film musical being held over for another week at Elmora Theater, Elizabeth, on double bill with "You Light Up My Life."

Amusement News

RACHEL GURNEY, star of TV's "Upstairs, Downstairs," will appear in "No Sex Please, We're British," opening the winter season at Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, Jan. 31. It will run through Feb. 1.

'Foul Play' now at Park

"Foul Play," starring Goldie Hawn and Chevy Chase, opened yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park, on a double bill with "The One and Only," starring Henry Winkler and Kim Darby. "Foul Play," a comedy-thriller about an innocent bystander, who is caught in a scheme to assassinate the Pope in San Francisco, also stars Burgess Meredith.

Carl Reiner directed "The One and Only," film about a would-be actor, who becomes a successful wrestler.

Identification day slated at Museum Wednesday

"Identification Day" will be held at the Newark Museum next Wednesday, Jan. 24. From noon to 3 p.m., visitors may bring up to three objects (paintings, sculpture, prints, decorative arts items, oriental artifacts, coins or classical antiquities) for identification by the museum's curators.

The limit of three objects per person has been established to accommodate all who attend this popular program. Museum curators who will be present on Jan. 24 are Fearn Thurlow, curator of painting and sculpture; Valrae Reynolds, curator of oriental art; Dorothy Budd Bartle, curator of the coin collection; Phillip Curtis, curator of decorative arts; Anne Spencer, curator of ethnology, and Susan Auth, curator of classical antiquities.

The purpose of the Newark Museum's monthly Identification Day program is to consolidate the many inquiries received each month. In keeping with museum policy, no estimates of value can be provided.

The Newark Museum is located at 49 Washington st., in downtown Newark, with parking available in the adjacent lot at the corner of University and Central avenues. The Museum is open every day from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is free.

DEP has grants for spill studies

The state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has announced the availability of approximately $300,000 for oil and chemical spill research and the development of improved spill prevention and removal techniques.

DEP is seeking research proposals from academic, private and government sectors to explore a wide range of potential topics in oil and hazardous chemical spill research. Funds for the project come from the interest accrued in the New Jersey Spill Compensation Fund, implemented by the Byrne administration in April 1977.

The deadline for receiving proposals is March 1. Proposals for up to $25,000 of state funding will be accepted; projects with multiple sponsors and participants also are welcome. Final notification on accepted proposals will be made about May 1.

Spring events announced by Upsala College

Upsala College, East Orange, has announced a diversified schedule of spring cultural events ranging from a concert by the Korean National Symphony to a production of a musical comedy that was a Broadway hit.

All of the events are open to the public. Some are free and others are nominally priced.

The spring schedule gets underway on Sunday night, Feb. 4, when the National Symphony makes its only New Jersey appearance in Viking Memorial Hall at 8 p.m. The symphony, which will play music by Rachmaninoff and Paganini, is stopping in New Jersey as part of a national tour that includes concerts in Carnegie Hall in New York City and the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Also scheduled for the spring are: Monday, Feb. 11, musical revue, "A One Way Ticket to Broadway," 8 p.m., in the chapel auditorium; Thursday, March 1, Wetzig Dance Company in contemporary dance recital, 8 p.m., Viking Memorial Hall; Thursday, March 8, Edmunds and Curley, comedy team, 11 a.m., College Center, and 11:45 a.m., College Pub; Friday-Sunday, March 9-11, and Wednesday-Saturday, March 14-17, Workshop 90 production of "Veronica's Room" in Upsala Theatre, with all performances at 8 p.m. except Sunday, March 11, at 2:30 p.m.; Tuesday, April 24, classical guitarist Mario Escardero in Upsala chapel at 8 p.m. and Friday-Sunday, April 27-29, Workshop 90 production of "A Little Night Music" with all performances at 8 p.m. except Sunday, April 29, at 2:30 p.m.

Your Guide To Better Living in the SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE MART

NEW AT CRESTWOOD—The Sherborne, new two-bedroom model at Crestwood Village, provides the economy of twin construction. Interior features include many of the amenities of a single-family home—spacious layout, L-shaped living-dining room and an optional fireplace. The Sherborne is among 12 models, priced $21,990 to $54,490, at the adult community, 10 miles west of Toms River Exit of the Garden State Parkway.

Williamsburg Square offering '78 prices

Most families who are in the market for a new home want to move into their newly-purchased residence as quickly as possible.

Some wish to do so because the family has outgrown its present accommodations and needs more room. Others have no urgency to move quickly but are doing so to avoid future price increases.

There are, however, a significant number of families who would like to avoid future price increases but whose finances won't permit them to purchase and take title to a new home within the normal 90 to 120 days. To accommodate those families, Williamsburg Square, the townhome community in Hillsborough Township, has a unique offering which they call their price protection plan.

This plan allows the buyer to purchase a home now at the current 1978 prices but take title to his home and move in anytime between April and October 1979, thereby locking in a 1978 price.

According to Kenneth Pizzo, a principal in Menhaden House, Inc., developers of Williamsburg Square, the plan has proved to be very attractive to a great many families.

"After all," he explained, "most middle-income people buy a house with savings they have accumulated slowly. But the rate of inflation in the price of homes and various moving expenses is outpacing the rate of savings. By locking in the 1978 price and providing an additional six to 12 months for savings accumulation, we're making it considerably easier for the average wage earner to buy a home at an affordable price."

"Some people," added Pizzo, "are suspicious when they first hear about the plan. They can't understand why the developer is willing to let them wait until 1979 to take title and move in, yet guarantee the 1978 price."

"The answer is really simple," he said. "Our sales have been phenomenal. They're running well ahead of our construction schedule. And I won't compromise on the quality of our construction by speeding up the schedule."

Right now, there are a few homes that can be delivered within 90 to 120 days but the sales quota is just about completely filled until next spring.

Pizzo attributes the unusual activity to the architectural beauty of the community and the exceptional value in the homes themselves.

Available at an extra cost are such items as a finished basement, a burglar alarm system, an intercom and a central vacuum-cleaner system.

The exterior look of the community resembles a colonial village with a mix of clapboard, wood and stone. All streets are paved with curbs made of Belgian block. All wiring is underground.

Williamsburg Square is located in Somerset County, about 30 minutes north of Princeton, less than an hour from the industrial and commercial centers of Northern New Jersey and New York City. Although it has a decided country atmosphere, residents are not isolated. Schools, houses of worship and shopping are nearby.

Visitors may reach Williamsburg Square by taking their choice of Routes 22, 206 or 287 to the Somerville traffic circle. Then south on Rt. 206 for approximately 5 1/2 miles to New Amwell road. Turn right and go 1/2 mile to Williamsburg Square entrance.

Models and information center are open weekdays from 1 to 5 p.m., weekends from noon to 5 p.m. Appointments may be made by calling (201) 526-2230.

New name for agency

It has been announced that the Faith B. Gardiner Division of LJR Advertising is now Faith B. Gardiner & Associates.

The agency is still located at 744 Broad st., Newark. Telephone number is 623-5950.

Reinhart is new counsel

The appointment of Peter S. Reinhart of Atlantic Highlands as corporate counsel for Hovnanian Enterprises Inc., one of the nation's leading privately owned residential developers, was announced by Kevork S. Hovnanian, president of the Red Bank-headquartered company.

Reinhart, recently elected president of the Red Bank Jaycees, will be responsible for legal functions in connection with the administration of contracts and closings for the company's two adult-recreation communities in the state, Shadow Lake Village in Middletown and Covered Bridge off Rt. 9 in Manalapan, as well as all in-house legal direction and advice with regard to acquisition and disposal of properties, Hovnanian said.

Reinhart will report directly to Hovnanian and executive vice-president John A. Strama.

A graduate of J.P. Stevens High School in 1967, Reinhart received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Franklin & Marshall College in 1971 and was graduated from Rutgers-Camden Law School in 1975. He is active in the Atlantic Highlands Lions Club and is a member of the Monmouth County, New Jersey and American Bar associations.

Reinhart and his wife, the former Gale McElroy, have a daughter, Amy, 7. Hovnanian Enterprises, among New Jersey's most respected builders, currently also is marketing adult condominium communities in Georgia, Florida and Texas, as well as a newly opened luxury single-family home community in Pennsylvania. The corporate offices are in a beautifully designed, Hovnanian-constructed building beside the Navesink River at 10 Rt. 35, Red Bank.

FRIDAY DEADLINE. All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Buyers at La Pinata get 'grand' incentive

La Pinata Condominiums at Pine Ridge, Hovnanian's adult condominium community in the Lake Worth section of the Palm Beaches, is attracting buyers and stirring up excitement in the Florida real estate market by offering some compelling financial incentives on its brand new models.

Spearheading the Pine Ridge marketing strategy is a "Beat-The-Carpenter's" sale, which ends Dec. 31. Detailed floor-plans and renderings of La Pinata at Pine Ridge's new home designs, as well as photographs of the existing community and the neighboring amenities, are available for inspection at two convenient exhibit locations in New Jersey, according to Del Purscell and Gil Greene, New Jersey sales managers for La Pinata at Pine Ridge.

"Homeseekers with a little imagination can picture exactly how their home will look, and the features that will be included. And that imagination will save them important dollars, because if they buy during our Pre-Construction Sale, we'll deduct $1,000 from the price of each La Pinata at Pine Ridge home," Purscell commented.

As a further financial incentive, La Pinata at Pine Ridge is providing all residents and new buyers with a written guarantee that the modest monthly maintenance cost of $23 will stay the same for at least the next five years. At a time when operating costs are constantly escalating, this guarantee represents an important assurance against inflation, particularly to households on a fixed income.

Models and information center are open weekdays from 1 to 5 p.m., weekends from noon to 5 p.m. Appointments may be made by calling (201) 526-2230.

Five different one and two-bedroom models are featured, with prices ranging from $29,500 to $34,500 before the pre-construction discount. Each home includes such quality features as carpeting, central air-conditioning, screened porches and modern, equipped kitchens. La Pinata at Pine Ridge also boasts its own lake, a private swim club, picnic areas, barbecue pits, bike trails and shuffleboard courts.

New Jersey buyers can enjoy another financial bonus, according to Greene. "If a New Jersey resident buys a La Pinata at Pine Ridge home, we'll credit the cost of the flight against the house's purchase price. We expect La Pinata at Pine Ridge to be as successful for us in Florida as Shadow Lake Village and Covered Bridge are in New Jersey."

Winning models at Fawn Lakes

Buyer response was immediate and almost overwhelming after the introduction of two new home models at Fawn Lakes, year-round leisure living community on Rt. 72 west of Long Beach Island in Ocean Township. Sales Manager Bill McCleary, who personally had a hand in the design of the new models, reports that nine sales contracts were received in just a week for The Birch and Birch II models. The seven Fawn Lakes single-family duplex and quad home models are priced from $29,990.

"The new homes were designed purely and simply to give more of exactly what buyers are looking for," McCleary said. "These modifications include a larger kitchen and a second bath in the master suite with a three-foot shower stall."

At no extra cost, all Fawn Lakes homes come complete with features such as wood, vinyl double-hung thermopane Anderson windows, all-aluminum maintenance-free finished exteriors and insulated crawl space. In addition, extras such as self-cleaning oven, range, dishwasher, self-defrosting refrigerator, ceramic tile bath floor, smoke detector unit and wall-to-wall carpeting are standard.

Located eight miles from the sands of Long Beach Island and only 28 miles from Atlantic City, Fawn Lakes is offering 30-day delivery on selected models.

The Fawn Lakes sales office is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. To reach the community, take the Garden State Parkway south to Exit 63. Take the first U-turn and proceed west following the hospital signs. The entrance on Rt. 72 is one mile past the Wawa supermarket.

Museum will present styles of '20s, '30s

"As You Were," an exhibition of women's fashions from American and France in the 1920's and 1930's, will open at the Newark Museum on Saturday. Twenty high-fashion costumes, including both day and evening wear, will be displayed with accompanying hats, shoes and handbags from the era.

The exhibition will focus on the changing feminine silhouette and hemline length during the two decades, changes which echoed the evolution in women's roles. During both decades, Paris was the fashion and culture center of the world.

Youthful, boyish silhouettes were the fashion standard of the 1920's, a period when women increasingly began to assume roles outside the home. Motion and speed were important, and were reflected in the cut of clothes. Hemlines reached their shortest point, just above the knee, in 1927.

Education jobs program slated

Seton Hall University Education Alumni Association will present a free career night program for university education seniors and alumni Feb. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Bishop Dougherty Student Center Galleon Room on the South Orange Campus.

Five prominent New Jersey educators will discuss job opportunities in the field of education and alternative career choices available to those who have a degree in education. The discussion of the general job market situation will be followed by a question-and-answer period on specific job opportunities, according to Kathy and Til Dallavalle co-chairpersons.

Speakers will include Dr. John Callan, dean of the Seton Hall School of Education; Dr. Till Dallavalle, vice-principal of North Junior High in Bloomfield and an adjunct professor of education at Seton Hall; Allan Riley, chairman of the Social Studies Department at Carteret High School; Mrs. Bebe Sellers, deputy superintendent of East Orange schools and John Sheehy, superintendent of Parsippany-Troy Hills Schools.

Handcraft meeting

The Handcraft Guild of Central Jersey will meet on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the East Brunswick High School library.

The 1920's costumes in the exhibition include American and French short formal dresses, made of georgette crepe fabric beaded with crystal, pearls and gold or silver droplets. A lame opera cape is fashioned with silver thread designs on vari-colored bands of silk, brocade and velvet.

A full-length formal dress with matching coat is made of gold silk and velvet, embellished with silver and set off by side panels of pink Fortuny pleating. Other outfits, such as the shrimp-colored sheer crepe short formal with a low-waisted tunic top, emphasize the geometric cut prevalent in designs of the period.

The fast pace of the 1920's slackened after the economic collapse of 1929. Hemlines dropped, and an elegant, more mature, style came into vogue.

In the 1930's, evening dresses became romantic, almost gay, and more closely fitted, while tailored suits with padded shoulders became the accepted day wear. The development of man-made fibers during this period and improved techniques of mass-production made high-fashion clothes available to a wider economic group.

Dresses representative of the 1930's include a brown and white silk print afternoon dress with a reverse print matching coat. A full-length evening dress from the mid-1930's is of fan-pleated green velvet with a gold kid leather belt. Grey chiffon floats over another full-length evening dress of yellow silk.

"As You Were, Fashions of the 1920's and 1930's" will be on view through March 4. The Newark Museum is located at 49 Washington st., Newark, with parking available in the adjacent lot at the corner of University and Central avenues. Admission is free. The museum is open every day from noon to 5 p.m.

Catholic Alumni unit to kick off campaign

The Catholic Alumni Club of North Jersey, with members from Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Passaic, Morris and Middlesex counties, will kick off its winter membership drive tomorrow evening at its winter festival dance, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the White Eagle Manor, Broughton avenue, Bloomfield.

Eileen Brady of Roselle Park, club publicity chairman, said "Anyone interested in becoming a member can get more information by calling 376-0009 or writing to CAC, Box 1613, Bloomfield. Membership is $12 per year."

Films and talks will deal with WPA era art

A series of lectures and films about art and culture during the Works Progress Administration (WPA) era of the 1930s will be sponsored by the Newark Museum on Sundays through March. The programs are being presented in conjunction with the museum's current exhibition of "Murals Without Walls, Arshile Gorky's Newark Aviation Murals Rediscovered."

This Sunday, art historian Francis V. O'Connor will lecture at 3:30 p.m. on "The Abstract Mural in the Realist 1930s." A specialist in the era of the WPA federal arts projects, O'Connor has published several books on the subject. In 1966 he organized the first comprehensive exhibition of art from the New Deal patronage programs. He will discuss the continuities and contradictions inherent in the American mural tradition, one which was given a major impetus through WPA funding.

Three landmark films of the 1930s reflecting contemporary social comment, "The Plow That Broke the Plains," "The River" and "The City," will be shown at 3 p.m. Jan. 28.

The special programs continue on Feb. 4 when art historian Jim M. Jordan will give a 3:30 p.m. lecture, "The Art of Arshile Gorky in Relation to His Contemporaries." Social historian Jerre Mangione will lecture on cultural aspects of the 1930s, including WPA art, music, writing and theatre projects, at 3:30 p.m. March 4.

The exhibition "Murals Without Walls" features two recovered mural panels painted by Gorky for the Newark Airport terminal building in 1936-37. The murals were painted under a commission from the WPA Federal Art Project. Lost from view during the early 1940s, they were rediscovered at the urging of art historian Ruth Bowman, guest curator of the exhibition. After it closes in Newark on March 11, "Murals Without Walls" will travel under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts to five other major American museums.

The Newark Museum is located at 49 Washington st., in downtown Newark, with parking available in at the corner of University and Central avenues. The museum is open daily from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is free.

'Bookworks' museum exhibit

"Visual and Sculptural Bookworks," an exhibition of one-of-a-kind books by artists from all over the United States, will run at the Montclair Art Museum through March 11. The public has been invited to the opening reception, from 5 to 7 p.m., to meet the artists.

Many of the books are directly involved with paper-handmade, cut, crumpled, painted, printed, embossed or coated. Others are made of fabric. Some works invite the viewer to "please touch."

The exhibition was organized by Jacki Apple and Howard Goldstein of Franklin Furnace, New York City, an archive for artists' books. Museum hours are Tuesday-Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday 2 to 5. Admission is free.

Classmates sought

The Weequahic High School class of June 1949 will hold a 30th reunion May 20 at the Shackamaxon Country Club in Scotch Plains. More information can be obtained from the reunion committee, 736-2514 or 686-1176.

Sale set at Y of Jewish art

Judaica II, an exhibit and sale of contemporary Jewish art for home and synagogue, will be held at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey, 760 Northfield ave., West Orange, Feb. 11 through March 11.

Works in a wide range of media and prices will be exhibited by 55 American and Israeli artists, including four from the Tobe Pascher Workshop of the Jewish Museum, New York City.

She's combination: Army nurse, wife, mom, counselor, student

As a captain in the United States Army Nursing Corps, a graduate student at Rutgers University's College of Nursing, a psychiatric counselor, the mother of an infant and the wife of an attorney, Pamela Jo Wilkinson Cross life is a study in constant motion.

The 27-year-old did manage to take a few hours off from her tight schedule to receive an Army Commendation Medal for her work as the head emergency room nurse at Paterson Army Hospital, Fort Monmouth. The medal, approved by the U.S. Surgeon General's office, was presented to her by Lt. Col. Peter J. Blazes at the Army ROTC building on the university's New Brunswick campus.

The Georgia native was cited by the Army for the way in which she educated her staff by implementing standardized procedures which could be performed quickly and expertly.

"In civilian life, the nurse is a double minority being both a nurse and a woman. In the Army, there is a lot more collegiality because the channels of power are different.

"I think the Army allows you to use your judgment more," she continued, "people would look to me for my expertise and they would back me up."

Capt. Cross, who left her job in the emergency room a week before her son was born last August, has since been reassigned to Rutgers so that she can finish her studies for a master's degree in clinical psychiatric nursing. She is technically stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., like all Army personnel pursuing medical training on a fulltime basis.

"This is the first year I was accepted into the long-term civilian education program," said the Toms River resident. "I started the program independently of the Army, though it was paid for by the GI Bill, and I would go to class after duty.

Now in her fifth year of the program, the 1973 graduate of the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta expects to receive her degree this spring. Her thesis, written at home in snatches two days a week while the baby is sleeping, will examine the different grieving processes of families of sudden death victims.

"My great love in clinical nursing is emergency room nursing," she commented. "I've always felt psychiatric nursing is the one field that touches all fields of nursing. I'm very interested in crisis nursing."

She sometimes drives with her husband, David, who has a law practice in South Plainfield. They met while he was stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Before Jeffrey was born, Cross polled her professors and fellow students to make sure they would not be disturbed by the baby's presence. She even talked personally to the male student in her class, who assured her that he would not be bothered.

"They are all nurses; they are all in the graduate program," remarked Capt. Cross, who intends to pursue a Ph.D. degree after earning her master's. "It's a close-knit group in here." In addition to their classwork, the graduate students are expected to counsel families and individuals in psychotherapy for at least two years. "There is a tremendous amount of clinical work and in-depth supervision involved," she noted. "I never thought I'd be able to manage this before I had the baby, but I just do. "I think something in this program makes one an over-achiever," she said. "I had major stomach surgery for suspected cancer about a year ago, but I was back at work three weeks later. Who else but someone in this program would do that?"

WONDER WOMAN — With almost superhuman energy, Pamela Jo Cross, shown here counseling a patient, manages to excel at her many roles as captain in the U.S. Army Nursing Corps, graduate student at Rutgers University, psychiatric counselor, mother and wife. She has received an Army Commendation Medal for her outstanding work as head emergency room nurse at Fort Monmouth's hospital.
