In-school suspension approved for unruly

Administrators in the Mountainside school system have been given permission by the Board of Education to suspend students with special discipline problems from regular classes, but to make them stay at school.

The in-school suspension would be another option for administrators, who already have authority to send a misbehaving child home until the parents come to school for a conference.

A substitute teacher, hired for a minimum cost of $25 per day, would take charge of students given in-school suspension. The school board suggested that suspended students also be barred from participating in after-school athletics.

"If word gets around that they're going to have to spend time in a 'cell block,' you'll see a drastic reduction in the number of suspensions," predicted board member Pat Knodel. "The youngsters are not punished when they are sent home."

Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, said an in-school suspension might prove a more effective deterrent to misbehavior than an at-home suspension.

"Sometimes during a (home) suspension," he said, "it's a real ball for the student. With in-school suspensions, we can make the student work all day long," Hanigan said.

He said four students got at-home suspensions during the past month.

In other matters at a board meeting last week:
—Dr. Hanigan said he will ask the board to take action soon, probably in May or June, on the county school superintendent's order to restore $17,000 to the special-services budget. Dr. Hanigan said the board is delaying action only until the child-study team completes evaluations of children who may require special services.

—A tentative date of May 3 was set for a special public meeting to discuss the future of Beechwood School. The session, set before two board members-elect take office, will serve as an informational session; the board will not make any decisions.

—The local board learned it will have to advertise for bids for bus transportation for 1979-80. The Stockholm Bus Company has sent notice it will not seek renewal of its 1978-79 contract. This was the first year that this company had the Mountainside contract.

Club's 'glass-in' to be conducted

The Key Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will hold its monthly "glass-in" from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday on the front parking lot of the school. Club members urged area residents to bring glass bottles, sorted by color, and newspapers tied into bundles, for the recycling project.

Ricciardi running again; council candidates named

By BARBARA WALCOFF

Local Republicans and Democrats this week selected names which will appear on the June primary ballot for three positions. Only one incumbent, Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, will be in the running. The two Republican councilmen whose terms expire at the end of this year are Nick Bradshaw and Abe Suckno. Bradshaw chose not to seek reelection, and Suckno said that although he was "very much in the running," he failed to receive the backing of the Republican leadership. Seeking the GOP nomination for the November election are Ricciardi for mayor, and Marilyn Hart and Monroe B. Nestler for Borough Council. The support of party leaders for the June primary virtually guarantees a candidate's nomination for the general election.

The Mountainside Democratic Club gave the nod to Ray Vaccari and Frances M. Ehman for the two seats on the Borough Council. The Democratic mayoral choice, Vaccari said, should be made within the next week.

Vaccari, who ran unsuccessfully for tax collector last year, said, "This shows that we are not quitters. I am optimistic and it looks like the people are ready for a change. In the election last November, I placed a close second. I feel that it is my responsibility to the residents to take on this challenge. A Democratic has not been elected as a public officer in the history of the borough and I and my running mate, Frances Ehman, will speak out on the council where the people have not had a voice for so long a time."

Vaccari, who has lived with his parents in their Summit road home since moving to the borough in 1971, was married to Lydia Dwiborocynn on July 4, 1976. He is employed as a senior process engineer.

Ehman, who has been a teacher and learning disabilities teacher-consultant for the Hillside Board of Education, for the past 27 years, made an unsuccessful bid for a Borough Council seat last November. She is a 23-year resident of Mountainside.

"I look forward to meeting the people and hearing from them so that I may work toward serving them in a responsive fashion. We need to look closely at our local government to be sure that the needs of all the people are being considered and that all avenues are being explored to have tax dollars spent wisely," she said.

THE REPUBLICAN choices for the council, Hart and Nestler, are not newcomers to local politics. Ed Gibadlo, GOP chairman said Nestler, a 12-year resident of the borough, has served as vice-president of the Mountainside Republican Club for two terms. He has also been the district chairman of the Mountainside Community Fund drive and is an officer in the local Veterans of Foreign Wars. Nestler is the director of guidance in the David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth.

Marilyn Hart, the Mountainside representative to the Regional Board of Education since 1976, will give up that seat in May when her husband David, who was elected last month, is sworn into office. A Mountainside resident since 1934, Dr. Hart is an assistant

Police force promotes 2, hires 2 men

The Mountainside Borough Council hired two new officers, honored recent retirees from the police department and approved the promotion of two patrolmen to the rank of sergeant Tuesday night.

Richard J. Osieja, 20, of Irvington, and Wesley Moore Jr., 32, of Westfield were unanimously accepted as the two new patrolmen. Osieja, who was the top scorer in both oral and written tests, has been a policeman for the past year in Irvington, where he received two commendations for bravery. Moore, who also has been the recipient of several commendations, is leaving the Westfield police department after spending six years there.

The two new patrolmen were among 85 hopefuls—including two women—who took the written exam for the job. Those who passed then took an oral test. A police committee interviewed 11 finalists. The committee and Chief Edward Mullen said references and backgrounds were carefully checked, according to Councilman Abe Suckno, the police commissioner.

Suckno said a seven-step process led to the selection of Herman Hafeken and William Alder for promotions to the rank of sergeant. Alder has been with the Mountainside department for 12 years. Hafeken has served for 10 years.

Hafeken and Alder were given the promotions in the wake of the retirements of two long time dispatchers with the force—Lt. James Herrick and Sgt. Blair Murphy. Herrick received a plaque for 28 years of service and Blair, for 25 years.

The detective bureau, now manned with two police officers, will not be assigned a replacement for Det. Sgt.

Police probing four break-ins

Mountainside police reported four break and entries during the past week—two which occurred in private homes and two in commercial buildings within the borough.

A Tanager Way home, vacant for more than seven days, was broken into sometime between 3:45 p.m. April 7 and 9:40 a.m. Saturday, police said. Reports indicate that entry was gained by forcing open the outside door with a jimmy and then smashing open the inner door leading to the kitchen. Police discovered that all rooms in the house were ransacked except one bedroom. A list of missing items has not yet been submitted to the police.

Detective Steven Semancik, who is handling the investigation of the string of burglaries, said he has not determined if any of the recent break-ins are

Deer is killed, runs into car on Route 22

A large deer was killed after it ran onto Rt. 22 at 5:35 p.m. Sunday. Arnold B. Dampieri of Columbia Md. told police he was traveling west on the highway when the deer ran out in front of his car. He was unable to stop and struck the animal.

Police reported considerable damage to the car, which had to be towed to the Mountainside Exxon. The deer was taken away by the SPCA.

Willie M. Powell Jr. Of Piscataway was issued two summonses after he lost control of his car and drove into a catch basin on the grassy shoulder of Rt. 22 at 9:23 a.m. Friday.

Powell told police he was traveling east in the left lane when another vehicle moved into his lane, cutting him off. When he turned to the right to avoid hitting the other car, he lost control of the car and went off the highway into the catch basin, police said. Powell was charged with operating an unregistered vehicle and having no insurance card in his possession.

related. The other residential break and entry, reports said, occurred on Old Grove road sometime between 5 p.m. on Friday and 9 p.m. Sunday. The burglar or burglars, who gained entry by forcing the rear kitchen window open with a screwdriver, took approximately $60 in cash and a set of tie tac and cufflinks valued at $30, police said.

Two calculators and a 35 mm camera, which have an estimated value of $575, were discovered missing at the Klingelhoffer Corporation on Mill lane. The break-in police believe, occurred sometime between 9:30 p.m. Monday and 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained through a ground floor window which was broken and police said that three offices in the building had been ransacked.

The Klingelhoffer break-in and the second commercial burglary—at Verona Corporation on Globe avenue—Semancik said, may be related, but no substantial leads have been reported.

Responding to an alarm which was set off in Verona Moboy Corp., police discovered an unlocked door and a pane from a window which had been removed from the Globe avenue building. Two typewriters and four adding machines are known to be missing.

Malicious damage to the A.K. Tool Company building on Rt. 22, police believe, occurred between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 9:55 a.m. Saturday. A front window on the upper floor appeared to be broken by a rock, but police said no rock was found.

—The board also adopted a resolution urging the Borough Council to prohibit the sale, display and distribution of drug paraphernalia within Mountainside. Although state legislation is pending on this subject, the local board wants a safeguard for the town until the legislation goes into effect.

—A request for installation of a water fountain outside Deerfield School was approved by the board on condition that the Recreation Commission provide, install and maintain the fountain.

New riding season trots, gallops along

Each day groups of youngsters in uniform ride horseback in the practice rings of the Watchung Stable. These youngsters, all members of the Watchung Troop, are being taught according to Union County's instructional horseback riding tradition which is based on the "learn while you ride" theory.

"We demonstrate the skills and correct the riders' mistakes," explained Bob Luhn, manager of the Watchung Stable which is a facility of the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation. "Youngsters learn best from each other's example and encouragement."

T. N. Tully initiated this program, now in its 34th year, to teach the fundamentals of practical horsemanship, promote good sportsmanship, and furnish a life-long recreational activity. Special emphasis was always placed on youth.

Luhn, a professional rider and teacher for 40 years, including 30 on the stable staff, also believes that children want to do as well as others in a group. "We incorporate this desire into our teaching method," he said.

Each troop consists of four different squads of about 10 riders apiece. Squad members are the same age and at the same skill level.

Troop members practice in the three riding rings adjacent to the stable in the Summit area of Watchung Reservation. From the first lesson, riders control their own horses through position and use of legs, weight, hands and, of course, voice.

"Beginners learn the care and basic skills that make the rider and the animal comfortable with each other," the stable manager said. "These are skills you never forget and build on."

The beginner rider advances to the novice level, expanding on beginner skills and adding trotting and cantering. Intermediate equestrians are assigned horses that add challenge to their ride, while advanced riders walk, trot, canter, gallop and jump.

Although most instruction is in the rings, advanced troop members learn to ride up and down the hilly terrain of the reservation, which has 20 miles of bridle paths.

Fifteen horseback-riding instructors provide one-hour lessons. Ten-lesson sessions are held each spring, summer and fall. Highlight is the Watchung Troop Show, one of the larger children's horse shows in the nation. The six leading riders in each division are judged for their riding expertise in jumping low fences, bareback horsemanship, trotting, cantering and performing through a timed obstacle course.

The Junior Essex Troop B of Cavalry, an affiliated group, competes in each troop show. Members of this military-style organization, open to youth 11 to 18 years of age, meet each Saturday from September through June.

The spring program has begun for both the junior troop, open to children 9 and older with or without riding experience, and the senior troop for those 13 and older with riding experience. Late registrants can make up missed one-hour lessons, held Monday through Saturday at various times. Information is available at 273-5547.

Tire-slashing, break-in listed

A Mill lane home was broken into last Thursday, Mountainside police reported. They also listed malicious damage to government vehicles parked in the post office lot on April 10.

Police say that the burglar gained entry to the Mill lane home by forcing open a rear cellar window some time between 8:15 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. The residents reported jewelry missing from the master bedroom but no estimate of value was given. An inventory of missing items will be given to the police.

Five tires were reported slashed on two post office vehicles some time between 5:30 p.m. April 10 and 7 a.m. the following morning. Authorities say that the tires are valued at $200.

Consumers warned against chain letters

Adam K. Levin, director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs, has advised consumers not to participate in chain letter schemes currently widespread throughout the state.

The Division of Consumer Affairs is investigating widespread sales of chain letters, including one scheme called "the Circle of Gold."

"Despite all the claims and stories to the contrary, chain letter schemes are not a magical way to instant wealth. In the short term, some people who buy these chain letters and participate in the scheme do reap a quick return. But that gain is at the expense of many more consumers who buy into the chain and come up empty-handed," Levin said.

"We have received reports of persons buying chain letters and sending cash to persons listed on the letter, only to find that no money comes rolling in and that they cannot recoup their 'investment' by selling the letter to others," Levin said.

The typical scheme, according to Levin, involves the sale of a letter or memorandum to a consumer at a fixed price, usually $50. The purchaser of the letter then sends $50 to the person whose name appears at the top of a list. The purchaser is told to place his name on the list and sell the letter to two other people.

"We are disturbed at statements which are made in these letters promising as much as $200,000 in a matter of days. This appears to be a misrepresentation of a material fact on which consumers rely when purchasing the letters," Levin said.

Misrepresentations of material facts in connection with consumer transactions are illegal under the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act. Civil penalties for a first violation could be as high as $2,000 and as high as $5,000 for subsequent violations.

Sellers of the chain letters are told to stress that the scheme is not illegal because the mails are not used to solicit. The federal criminal mail fraud statute, however, applies to any use of the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. The seller is told to represent that he knows the scheme has received the approval of legal counsel, but sellers have no such first-hand knowledge, Levin noted.

L. BELMONT ROWE, a district manager in New Jersey Bell Telephone's Newark office, has been named general chairman for Scout World '79 to be held May 19 and 20 at the South Mountain Arena, West Orange. More than 20,000 people are expected to attend Scout World '79, which features more than 150 displays of scout activities. The show is sponsored by the Essex Council of the Boy Scouts of America. 'Soft Energy Expo-79' to open at Newark Museum Sun Day

"Soft Energy Expo-79," a major exploration of alternative energy resources funded by New Jersey foundations, opens at the Newark Museum on Sunday, April 29. Sun Day observances and the lighting of a solar-powered sign in the museum garden will mark the exhibit opening. The public is invited to attend the opening ceremonies, which will feature speaker Denis Hayes of Worldwatch Institute, a major solar energy proponent and the originator of last year's Sun Day observances.

According to energy consultant Jack Greenspan, organizer of the expo, "among an increasing number of involved people there is a growing belief that a genuine energy shortage exists, that the nuclear solution is a dead end street and that the answer to our needs lies in the rapid development of soft, or solar, technologies."

The "Soft Energy Expo" will describe alternative energy technology on three levels, beginning with forms of energy that can be adapted to individual homes and buildings. The expo also will investigate working, community-based alternative energy systems and large-scale research-level projects.

Conservation techniques for the home may be as simple as the use of new, pulsating shower heads that limit the flow of hot water and hydro-heat fireplace assemblies that recycle heat.

Information also will be provided about do-it-yourself home insulation and window double glazing, as well as the installation of solar collecting panels, all steps in making individuals energy self-sufficient.

Aquaculture, farming in solar algae ponds that generate both heat and a food source, will be conducted in the exhibit. On a wider level, examples of functioning, community-based alternative energy systems include a Native American Indian village in Tucson, Ariz., that collects necessary electricity for lighting, refrigeration and hot water directly from the sun through photo cells.

A series of workshops will be offered in conjunction with the expo, focusing on such topics as auditing buildings for energy loss, retrofitting older buildings for use of energy-saving techniques and "do-it-yourself" window glazing and home insulation. A fall symposium will be offered on photo voltaics.

The first workshop, from noon to 4 p.m. on May 19 will be a hands-on demonstration of a new method of insulating house walls from inside the building.

"Soft Energy Expo-79" will be on view at the Newark Museum through Nov. 30. Support for the exhibition has been provided by the Victoria Foundation, Inc., The Florence and John Schumann Foundation and the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation, Inc. Design architect is Joseph Clinton, professor at Kean College in Union.

The Newark Museum is located at 49 Washington st. in Newark, with parking available in the adjacent lot at the corner of University and Central avenues. The Museum is open daily from noon to 5 p.m. and admission is free.

Cancer group voices support of smoking ban

The American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division supports the regulations on smoking in public places adopted by the state's Public Health Council, Raymond J. Donahue, the division's president, said this week.

"We believe the regulations will contribute to the physical health, comfort and well being of persons who, by necessity or choice, frequent the public places that come within scope of the regulations."

"Even the physical changes that may be required to improve ventilation in restaurants seating more than 50 persons should not be economically burdensome since they are subject to modifications on a local or one-to-one basis. It also would seem to be good business for a proprietor to accommodate the desires and comfort of a majority of his customers. And nonsmokers are in the majority by nearly two to one."

Dr. George M. Gill, chairman of the New Jersey Division's Professional Education Committee and director of Overlook Hospital's Children's Cancer Clinic (Valerie Fund Clinic), said:

"There is no question that second-hand smoke can be injurious to persons who have respiratory ailments or who suffer from allergies. There is new evidence that such smoke affects the lining of the bronchial tree, making it more susceptible to invasion by bacteria. In the case of children, this can lead to increased frequency of respiratory infections."

In line with its belief that persuasion can be more effective than prohibition, the American Cancer Society conducts a broad range of educational programs aimed at reducing the incidence of lung cancer by discouraging smoking. In schools such programs begin as early as kindergarten with special teaching aids for use in the classroom. Similar programs for adults are available to organizations and clubs.

Pick of The LPs... MISPLACED IDEALS: by Sad Cafe (A&M RECORDS SP-4737).

Sad Cafe emerged from two English Manchester bands, Gyro and Mandala, and took its name from the title of Carson McCuller's book, "The Ballad of The Sad Cafe," a three-cornered tragedy involving a frustrated spinster, a hunchback dwarf and their boy friend.

Their first album, released in England in 1977, earned heavy critical praise. Misplaced Ideals, released in England this spring, cemented their standing as one of the outstanding new English bands on the scene.

Lead vocalist and chief songwriter, Paul Young, worked with several bands, recorded as a solo artist, formed a group called the Paul Young Paradox, and in 1975 joined Gyro. In 1976, he became a founding member of Sad Cafe. The singers he most admires are Van Morrison and Stevie Wonder.

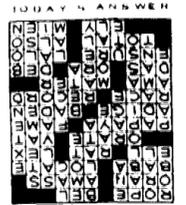

Lead guitarist Ashley Mulford quit school at 15, bounced from one job to the next, worked as a musician in U.S. bases in Germany, joined Mandala and then Sad Cafe. His guitar licks recall two of his favorite masters: Jimi Hendrix and Jeff Beck. Keyboard man Victor Emerson and bass guitarist John Stimpson also moved to Sad Cafe after playing with Mandala. Emerson is a master of electronics, a fan of Chick Corea and Jeff Beck, and contributes to Sad Cafe as writer and arranger. Stimpson is co-author of "Black Rose," "Shellshock," and "On With The Show."

Ian Wilson, vocalist and guitarist, met Paul Young in 1973, played with him in several bands, did extensive work as a session musician, and is another of the band's gifted writers. Drummer Dave Irving played with a Liverpool band, Supercharge, and has played with Dusty Springfield, Kiki Dee and Madeline Bell. He joined Sad Cafe in 1978.

"We reflect the music of our times," says Paul Young. "We are mirror men."

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

Several things took shape in my mind while watching the Cosmos defeat the Washington Dips last Sunday on the tube.

I must repeat what I said last week. Werner Roth has a future up in the broadcasting booth. He added much to the color coverage of the game, and it is nice to know what is running through the mind of an active player almost every minute of the game.

The next thing that impressed me was the shootout. If a soccer game in any given league cannot end in a tie, the shootout is the best way to settle the matter. I still would rather have the teams split the points because that is the game of soccer. Many teams in the top pro leagues in Europe will play for a tie on the road and not complain. The shootout between the Cosmos and the Dips was one of the most exciting soccer moments I have seen in the NASL. And the ending was to our liking also.

The shootout showed that it takes the two old reliable pros, Carlos Alberto and Franz Beckenbauer, to show the flashy forwards how the real masters control the ball and put it in the net.

During the halftime interview, Beckenbauer said that he is a little concerned about the fast rate of soccer expansion and the large number of young boys and girls that are now registered in soccer programs. Not because of the number of youngsters but he is concerned about the coaching of these youngsters. This point really struck home.

THE TEAMS IN THE UNION Lancer program on Tuesday and Wednesday nights are pretty well set and have just a few more games to go in the regular season. This does not mean that a youngster popping in on a practice night will be turned away. The youngster will be fit into his or her age group and taught soccer by men who play the game and men who were trained to teach the game all under the watchful eye of Manny Schellscheidt, who needs no introduction to any of us.

There are too many men picking up a whistle and taking over a group of youngsters and saying, "Now we are a team," and sending these players on a field without proper training or, worse yet, without proper conditioning to prevent injury. There should be some kind of control over this.

The youngsters who pop in on a practice session are banded together and sometimes play against another team in a neighboring town because they are the future players when some of the regulars move up into another age group.

The Union area is lucky to have two great systems going for it because the Union County S.C. has the same type of program at Farcher's Grove on Thursday evenings.

THE UNION LANCER teams have been handed some raw deals these past few months not only over in New York during cup games but right in neighboring South Orange during tournaments. It all comes down to the fact that the coaches must win even if they must invent technicalities to do so after their teams have been beaten on the field. Some of these older men should "butt out" of the youngsters games, and politics should be forbidden.

Nettes' record stands at 6-8

A strong and tough first place Maplewood team closed the Springfield Nettes' season (6-8) with a 45-16 victory for the club at its home court at Columbia High School in Maplewood. Maplewood put on a clinic for the Springfield team in all facets of the game taking a 21-6 lead at the half. The pace continued in the second half with the Nettes not reciprocating.

Jill Demark and Michele Kennedy led the Springfield cause with 4 points each. Jill who concluded the season averaging 11 points a game was held well below her average. Carol Tarantula, Traci Karr, Elinor Sadin, and Beth Teitelbaum each added two points. Other players to see action were: Carmella Carpenter, Mary Pat Parducci, Kathy Meixner, Maria Furner, Joanna Circelli, Kathy Drummond, Maureen Smith and Lori Pohlman.

Any way you cut it... it's a snap with a SNAPPER!

That's because a SNAPPER is a top quality, superior performing machine which is easy to maintain and will deliver years of dependable service. It's designed to get your work done faster and to perform more functions than its name suggests. Before you buy a mower, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more, and its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

SNAPPER walk-behind mowers can broadcast or vacuum, and with inexpensive, optional attachments you can mulch cuttings for lawn food and won't have to rake or shred leaves so the catcher will hold over twice as many. SNAPPER extra "High Vacuum" riders can broadcast, bag and vacuum cuttings, leaves and other light litter, even during high moisture conditions.

GOING SKIING?

If you're headed to the ski slopes this winter and spring some new developments might prove of interest. The "assumption of risk" factor has changed a bit and perhaps deserves some clarification.

Previously, the operator of the ski slope was responsible for your safe trip uphill but the one down was on you—legally speaking—to make it down safely. But a ruling in Vermont in 1977 upset that state's legal tradition and has sent legal experts scurrying across the country.

While the final outcome has yet to be determined, the Vermont judge ruled that ski area operators no longer could rely on the assumption of risk doctrine because of today's "sophisticated trail maintenance programs." Appeals in that state were upheld in 1978, but an uncertain legal climate quickly spread to other states.

Since ski insurance is a specialty form of insurance coverage, make sure yours is in order before taking that skiing vacation. The issue hasn't been settled yet, and the best recommendation is for you to get fully covered—both with insurance and clothing before beginning to enjoy yourself.

Know Your Government

N.J. Taxpayers Association

BILLS BANNING DUAL JOB HOLDING ADVANCE
Should a governmental official be permitted to hold more than one elective office?

Should one person be allowed to hold more than one paid governmental office, either elected or appointed?

Should there be specific limitations on dual job holding or only broad limitations?

Should prohibitions on multiple office holding be detailed in the State Constitution or in law?

These are some of the questions which legislators must answer when considering legislation to control dual job holding.

Historic New Jersey practice of simultaneously holding more than one public office has been extensive. The New Jersey Constitution contains few limitations on multiple office holding. A legislator may not be nominated, elected or appointed to any statutory salaried state civil office or position if it has been created during his term of office or the salary thereof has been created during his term of office. A Congressman may not also be governor. The governor cannot hold any salaried state of federal office while he is governor. New Jersey law further prohibits dual holding of the office of U.S. Congressman, state legislator, and county clerk, register, surrogate or sheriff.

New Jerseyans and their legislators generally have accepted the practice of municipal officials holding county positions, or state legislators holding municipal or county elected or appointed office.

Essex Green villas spur family interest

Essex Green Villas, an 80-unit condominium community located in suburban West Orange, recently kicked off its sales program, according to Sanford Borinsky, EGV's owner-developer.

"The tremendous interest and the numbers of families that visited our models were better than expected," Borinsky said. "People who care about privacy, luxury, square footage and quality construction will go out of their way to examine townhouses that offer these hard-to-find features. We saw evidence of that at our opening."

Borinsky noted that deposits already have been taken on six villas. Designed as a private enclave and located within a half-mile of shopping, recreation and transportation, Essex Green offers the buyer a choice of one-, two- or three-bedroom villas.

APARTMENTS IN DEMAND—A stepped-up construction schedule for Golf View Commons, Lakewood, has been necessitated by a surge in applications for apartment rentals.

Golf View Commons speeds construction

A surge of tenant applications has dictated a stepped-up construction schedule for the completion of the next section of apartments at Golf View Commons, Lakewood.

"With skyrocketing fuel costs and interest rates, renting an apartment at this particular time offers certain advantages, according to Woodrow Saland, spokesman for Golf View Commons. This outstanding apartment project is located at Joe Parker road in Lakewood, overlooking Woodlake Golf Course.

"Since we are including heat in our fixed monthly rental for a period of one year, it obviously becomes necessary for us to absorb the anticipated increase in fuel costs. The tenant, consequently, is the recipient of a guaranteed heating cost even though our fuel cost is continuously climbing. This is in contrast to a homeowner who is regularly being charged increased prices for heating, whether it be gas, oil or electricity."

Bergen deals are completed

Elmer Schwartz, president of the East Orange-based Archie Schwartz Company, New Jersey's largest realtor specializing in industrial real estate, office and income producing properties, reports that the Investment Division under the direction of the Senior vice-president, Anthony Tamburro, and vice-president, Howard Friedman, recently completed two transactions in Bergen County. Area sales representative Tom Glerum, who was named "Salesman of the Quarter" for his accomplishments, was responsible for negotiating both deals which involved purchase money mortgages.

One of these transactions was the sale of a modern garden complex located in a prime residential area of Hackensack for owner Gordon Halls. This building contains all one-bedroom suites and is fully air-conditioned.

In Ridgefield Park, Glerum was instrumental in the sale of a block-front garden development adjacent to Rt. 80 for Jennie Sall, who owned the property for more than Mrs. Sall was represented by Barry Cohen of the law firm of Beattie & Padovano as legal counsel.

"Meadow's Edge has the best homes, location, prices and terms in New Jersey. That's why we moved here."

"We just moved into our new home at Meadow's Edge. And we love it here. Sure, we looked at a number of other homes and communities. But Meadow's Edge just had more going for it.

Take our home, the Foxcroft model, for instance. It's not at all the typical three-bedroom. It's so different. So spacious and luxurious. And so well laid out. It offers a lot more value for the money, to our way of thinking.

Features? Our home has more of them than most builders are giving. All we had to do was move our furniture in, and start living. The carpeting was on the floors. The refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher, range and vent hood were in the kitchen. We just drove our cars into our 2-car garage, put our storage goods in our basement, and began to enjoy our new home.

Frankly, another reason we bought here was the location. I work in Northern New Jersey and the commute is really easy to live with. We're close to Route 9, Route 18, the Turnpike, and the Parkway. So great shopping's all around us. Yet it still feels like we're in the country. And that's a nice feeling.

Where can you find the best luxury housing buy in New Jersey? That's easy to answer. Start by checking out prices and mortgage interest rates around the State. Then compare floorplans, features. And locations.

If you consider everything, like we did, you'll probably become our neighbors at Meadow's Edge. It comes out ahead, on every score. Take it from us, you couldn't make a smarter home buying decision today.

To reach Meadow's Edge, take the Garden State Parkway south to Exit 123. Then go south on Route 9 for about 12 miles to Symmes Road (Steinbach's). Turn right to the sales center and furnished models. Meadow's Edge is open 10-5 on weekdays, 10-6 weekends. The sales office phone is (201) 780-4747."

Four new 3, 4 and 5 bedroom models. 2 1/2 baths. 2-car garages. From $88,900.

9 1/2% mortgages to qualified buyers.

40-year mortgages available to a maximum of $75,000.

The second section at Landing Lane Estates in Old Bridge is now open for sales. The section was not to open until later this spring. "We are happy to say that the sales activity in the first section has forced us to move up our planning," a spokesman said.

Landing Lane Estates, designed and built by the Donald Kiken companies, features four models. The choice of Colonial and split level homes includes Tudor, Mediterranean, colonial and contemporary front elevations. Providing the supplied plans meet the rigid specifications of the development, custom building is also available, a spokesman said.

This planned community of 60 home sites has half acre lots with 120-foot frontages at the building set-back line, which helps preserve the natural woodland in which these homes are located. Landing Lane Estates models are priced from $84,000 and are conveniently located. The information center is open from noon to 5 p.m. daily, except Wednesday, and may be reached by telephone at 679-6363.

For inspection of the models, exit from the Garden State Parkway at 123 (Rt. 9 South) and continue south on Rt. 9, bearing right at the exit for Throckmorton lane-Tickettown road (Glenwood Diner) and proceed to traffic light. Turn left and continue to Norman Lane (second right turn). Turn right and continue two blocks to Ellen court, then right to models.

SAILOR'S HAVEN OF LARGE FAMILY HOMES—Laguna Village, Point Pleasant, offers a waterfront vista at the rear of large family homes now priced from $96,900. The community features custom construction of three, four and five bedroom homes on large sites with space for pool or patio between house and waterway. Trend Homes Inc., longtime shore area custom builder, is the developer. Waterway shown above is bulkheaded with finest Swedish processed materials. Tide differential of only about six inches year-round adds to value of attractive and safe at-home harbor for residents who can easily go out to Barnegat Bay or to the Atlantic Ocean via the Point Pleasant Canal and Manasquan Inlet. Lagoons are wide, deep and navigable for the largest of private pleasure craft. The Laguna Village-Trend Homes Inc. sales and information office is at 2133 Bridge ave., Point Pleasant, just opposite entry to the waterfront tract.

River Rise features a 'total concept' plan

River Rise, a custom home community in Toms River, is featuring its central location and proximity to area amenities as major buyer attractions, reports Robert L. Karnell, president of the Karnell Group, developer of the project.

Karnell said, "The River Rise community's basic appeal lies with the total concept of area, environment and individual attention to each home which is stressed here. Location is the central focus, and Toms River, as the hub of the desirable shore area, is a most affordable yet extremely desirable suburban community. This community atmosphere makes River Rise attractive to the most discriminating of residents."

River Rise consists of 32 custom homes priced from the mid $90s, with each home individually designed and constructed and set in the heart of Toms River's finest residential area.

Within walking distance, residents may choose from a host of recreational amenities such as golf, swimming or racket sports at the Toms River Country Club. Minutes away are ocean and bay beaches and the Toms River water way for sun, surf, fishing or year around sport for the powerboat or said enthusiast. Regional shopping facilities or exclusive boutiques, outstanding schools, commercial, professional and industrial activities are all near yet discreet so not to impair the total residential atmosphere.

integrated within the River Rise community, Karnell said. The center of Ocean County government, including administrative and court facilities are also within walking distance, as is the central business district of Toms River.

Hospital and peripheral medical facilities are close at hand with the recently expanded regional Memorial Hospital complex.

Karnell continued that many of River Rise's prospective homebuyers are from the Toms River area. "Many local individuals seeking the convenience of location and quality of product offered here are choosing to relocate to River Rise from other areas of the township. This is most gratifying, knowing that local residents, who are generally most critical and can best evaluate comparative values, are weighing workmanship and site value of the River Rise community against other residential developments and choosing our community for their home."

Homes at River Rise begin with basic plans, modified again and again to fully reflect the taste and lifestyle of each resident. Karnell cites his attention to detail as an integral part of the construction of each residence. He said, "A combined effort of builder and buyer to the specifications of design, material, craftsmanship and dedication to customer satisfaction are the hallmarks of our community."

River Rise currently has two sample homes, a spacious split level design and a formally elegant center hall colonial, both available for immediate occupancy. Each is priced just over $100,000.

The community is located at Washington st. and Clifton avenue in Toms River and may be reached via Garden State Parkway exit 82 to Rt. 37

READY FOR ENTERTAINMENT is a living room within one of the successful country home models of Barclay Woods, the new Countrywide Development Corp. community in the woodlands of Brielle. There are four Barclay Woods home models priced from $73,900 to $84,900.

Young and old alike go to Barclay Woods

With the greatest shares the two seemingly divergent groups of young Woodies being comprised of marrieds and adult couples referred to as "empty nesters," it became natural to wonder what common interests of the two groups are represented at the new country home community off Old Bridge Road in Brielle. The community's creator, Countrywide Development Corp. (CDC) reports that of the $1 million in sales recorded even before the models were constructed the young and older couples dominated the buyer list.

"We had anticipated the adult market's response and had therefore designed the four models priced from $73,900 as extra-spacious since they might be used to such roominess in their former residences, and we built into the community private recreational facilities that would complement the overall area recreational opportunities," said Bill Steinfeld, CDC vice-president for sales and marketing. "But, perhaps, we had underestimated the other values of the community's location and condominium structure."

Although adjacent to both an undisturbed natural area known as Owl Woods, which is home to the great horned owl rarely seen at the shore and numerous other bird, plant and animal species, and Manasquan River Golf Club, Barclay Woods is five minutes from the train station for rail service to Newark and New York City. Gambony gets a certification

Commissioner Joseph A. LaFante, Department of Community Affairs has certified Frank A. Gambony, of Basking Ridge, as the first home builder registered under the New Home Warranty and Builder Registration Act. The act, sponsored by Assemblyman Martin Herman, of Woodbury, requires that all home builders register with the Department of Community Affairs and provide purchasers of new homes with a ten-year warranty against major defects in their homes.

Gambony, a past president of the New Jersey Builders Association, and the current president of the Home Owners Warranty Corporation of New Jersey, noted that, "It is indeed an honor to be the first registered builder in New Jersey. Both the Home Owners Warranty Corporation and the New Jersey Builders Association worked long and hard to see that positive, consumer oriented legislation of this sort was enacted. The benefits of our labors will now be realized by the home buying public who can now rest assured that the home they purchase will be free from defects."

Implementation of the warranty act comes in the wake of a recent New Jersey Supreme Court decision which stated that there is an implied warranty of habitability in new housing. That decision awarded a Morris County couple $32,000 in damages because the home they purchased had a deficient water supply. "It's situations like this that we are trying to avoid," Gambony said, "if a home is defective, it should be fixed...it's as simple as that."

The Home Owners Warranty Corporation has provided coverage of the sort required by the new law to over 8,700 homes in the four years since its founding in New Jersey. The corporation, the first of its kind in the state, provides that the builder will correct any defects within the first two years after purchase. For the third through the 10th year an insurance carrier insures the home against any major structural defects. The HOW warranty-insurance plan comes with the home and stays with it for the entire ten years regardless of how often ownership may change. HOW covers single family homes, townhouses, and low and high-rise condominiums.

We're about to stop building a legend.

(If you want to share in it, you'd better hurry!)

This is it.

The very last section ever to be built at Shadow Lake Village—the community for people 52 or over that's become a legend in its own time. Many of these magnificent last homes are already spoken for. But if you hurry, you can still share in the glorious quality of life our residents enjoy:

A superb location.

Far north of other adult communities (right off Exit 114 of the Garden State Parkway), making it much closer to all those places you still hold dear and dear in North Jersey and New York. And we're just minutes from buses, trains and marvelous shops. When it comes to location, no other community comes close.

An incredible lifestyle.

It's more than just great facilities like lighted tennis courts, private golf course, huge swimming pool, mile-long Shadow Lake for sailing, and an extravagant clubhouse. More than the security of a gatehouse and guard patrols. More than the ease of professional maintenance of exteriors and grounds. It's our friendly and carefree atmosphere that sets our community far apart from the crowd.

Again, these homes won't be available for long. Nor will these prices: Construction costs are skyrocketing and we don't know how long we can hold the line. So, if you want to share in the remarkable legend of Shadow Lake Village, we urge you to act now. See Shadow Lake Village today.

Caldwell College offers off-campus degree plan

Beginning in September, Caldwell College will offer New Jersey's first off-campus degree program. Working in this program, a student may do all her or his necessary course work at home without ever having to attend a class on campus. The only residency requirement for the degree is one weekend at Caldwell in September, when the study plan will be designed and initiated between student and faculty advisor. Most important to the Coordinated Off-Campus Degree student will be the total personalization of the studies involved. Though the courses will be those now offered by the college, the method by which the student will satisfy the requirements for those courses will be worked out on an individual basis among the student, the faculty advisor, and the faculty member administering the course. Many innovative ideas for satisfying requirements while maintaining Caldwell's academic standards have been suggested by those who developed the new degree program, in order to allow the student to create and control her own learning environment. Past college credit may count toward completion of the degree, as may advanced placement through CLEP tests, and credit given through Life Experience Assessment. Independent studies, internships, television and newspaper courses, and courses on campus (if the student desires them) may all then be utilized in earning credits toward a degree. The new program is open to anyone, male or female, who is at least 23 years of age, and who has a high school diploma.
