'Satellite' recreation expanded at Sunrise

A fifth recreational center has been erected in Sunrise Lakes Phase III, an adult condominium complex in Sunrise, Fla., that is swiftly approaching total sell-out.

While construction of the satellite neared completion during May, Phase III experienced more than $4 million in apartment sales for the month.

Satellite IV joins satellites I, II and III and the main clubhouse in a concentrated effort to provide the utmost pleasure for its active community. W.B. Homes, a subsidiary of Development Corporation of America, has successfully initiated the satellite concept in Phase III of Sunrise Lakes. Satellites are designed to provide many of the same recreational features as the main clubhouse but in scattered strategic locations convenient to all residents.

A final satellite is in the blueprint stages and planned for construction near the anticipated completion of Phase III by 1980.

With forerunners Phase I and II sold out, Phase III is projected to sell out by the end of the year. All but 10 buildings are already completely or partially purchased, a sell-out of more than 84 buildings to date. Figures reflect that more than 100 apartment units were purchased in May alone, generating $4,356,000 in volume sales for the month.

Phyllis Chernoff, director of sales for Sunrise Lakes, revealed that May sales were substantially ahead of total sales for the same month last year. "Year-to-date sales through May were also ahead of year-to-date sales for this time last year," she added.

Recreation and a relaxed lifestyle are primary goals of the Phase III developer. A spacious main clubhouse in addition to the satellites offer residents easy access to pools, lounge and card rooms, billiard rooms and kitchenettes.

Satellite IV, however, is larger than its successors and offers a fully equipped darkroom for photo enthusiasts. The satellite's central lounge card room is larger than those of earlier satellites, able to accommodate 16 card tables and 64 card players. Five conversation areas will surround the card area, each with comfortable chairs, tables, lamps and a couch. An airy, open effect has been achieved by installing glass on two sides of the room.

The airy look and earthtone colors have been carried from the Satellite IV central lounge area into a kitchenette, a small card room and a billiard room. The billiard room and card room each contain one complete wall of windows. The card room will accommodate 24 players at a time and is equipped with large tables for groups of eight.

A main attraction of all satellites is the pool sauna area, and Satellite IV has been patterned after the successful layouts of I, II, and III's pool sauna areas. Adjacent to the lounge card area are the men's and women's bath areas, complete with vanity rooms, showers, restrooms and saunas. These lead out to the pool patio area where ample matching lounge furniture and conversation tables are located. Beyond the pool patio area is a shuffleboard court.

It is anticipated that Satellite IV will be open or residents' use by mid-to-end July. It will be available to all condominium owners and their guests.

"Because of their strategic locations, satellites are a convenient source of recreation for our residents," Berta Dee, spokesperson for W.B. Homes, said. "While satellites cannot afford all the features of the main clubhouse, they provide a social center for small groups of people." It is not uncommon for friends to meet daily at a favorite satellite rather than joining a larger group of people at the main clubhouse.

Nothing, however, can quite compare to the multi-million dollar main clubhouse, complete with a 1,000-seat theater auditorium, a spacious lobby, racquetball court, two card rooms, meeting rooms, a sewing room, arts and crafts rooms, a billiard room, an exercise room and saunas, and a golf pro shop adjacent to the clubhouse on the first tee of a spacious golf course.

Beyond the glass-enclosed clubhouse lobby, an outdoor pool and shuffleboard area overlooks one of the many Sunrise Lakes waterways where courtesy paddle boats are located.

Fourth brings warning: fireworks are harmful

An estimated 6,139 Americans were treated in hospital emergency rooms for fireworks-related injuries last year, according to the National Society to Prevent Blindness. With the Fourth of July approaching — the prime time for use of firecrackers and other pyrotechnics — the society has warned that all kinds of fire works are a threat to life and limb, especially to eyesight. "Eye damage accounted for some 20 percent of last year's reported injuries from pyrotechnics," Alan B. Goetz, chairman of the Eye Safety Committee of the New Jersey affiliate pointed out. "This figure represents only a fraction of actual injuries since there is no way to estimate how many were treated in doctors' offices, at home or by direct hospital admission," he added.

"All fireworks — ranging from bottle-rockets and firecrackers to punks and sparklers — are harmful to the eyes. Seemingly harmless sparklers burn at heats exceeding 1500 degrees, F.," Goetz said.

Since children are most often the victims of injuries from fireworks, the society advises parents to keep even the smallest firecrackers away from them. "Almost 60 percent of the fireworks related eye injuries reported last year were suffered by children under the age of 15. With the cooperation and supervision of concerned parents, such unfortunate — and needless — accidents can be avoided this year and in the future," Goetz asserted. For many years, the NSPB has urged that the use of all fireworks be restricted to licensed public display. This recommendation has already been enacted into law in many states and municipalities. Still, bootleg fireworks regularly appear. "What seems like fun to the unsuspecting public can result in painful burns, injuries — even blindness. Enjoy the holidays, safely, in public," Goetz advised. The National Society to Prevent Blindness, established in 1908, is the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in preventing blindness through community service programs, public and professional education and research. The New Jersey Society to Prevent Blindness is at 303 George st., New Brunswick.

SBA issues alert on sham

The Newark District Office of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is instructing New Jersey business people to be wary of solicitors on the telephone or in person offering low-interest rate SBA loans.

People who have received such calls have paid finder's fees in advance and then never heard again from the caller. SBA does not solicit loan business never charges fees to borrowers. To report an incident of this type contact SBA in Newark, 645-2434.

NJIT minority program set Newark Mayor Kenneth A. Gibson has pledged support for a new educational format which allows industrial firms to support outstanding minority talent at New Jersey Institute of Technology. Gibson called the plan "dramatic and enterprising" in its approach toward minority education support.

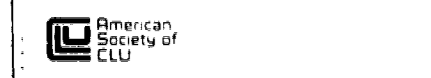

A comprehensive civil or chemical engineering education at no cost to the student and offers the potential for continued employment with the sponsor after a degree is earned. Program candidates will become employees of Killam Associates and have the opportunity to engage in engineering-related assignments with the company.

The Minority Scholar Program, which begins in the fall with the enrollment of four minority students, is a venture between the Institute and Killam Associates, an environmental and civil engineering firm located in Millburn. The program provides each scholar with Gibson, an alumnus of NJIT, strongly praised the MSP concept and offered personal assistance in helping the institute expand the program to include more corporate sponsors and a larger number of talented young people.

How do you recognize Chartered Life Underwriters?

They may appear to be like any other businessman with whom you come in daily contact, but they are especially qualified professionals, persons who have earned the CLU designation by completing five years of intensive college-level studies and have met the national professional and ethical standards required to become a Chartered Life Underwriter. The objective of the CLU program is not only to help life underwriters gain the subject knowledge that is needed to serve their clients' life and health insurance needs well, but to instill in them the attitude of placing the clients' interest above their own.

There is a Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters in your area. Get to know them better so that they can better serve your life insurance needs.

BLAZING SADDLES
Oh, God!

Sanford changes

The new Sanford Theater, 1269 Springfield ave., Irvington management has announced that beginning tomorrow, the theater will provide "the best in current movie releases" for 79 cents a ticket. The movies will come to the Sanford "only a week after their showcase appearances" and there always will be a double feature.

Opening tomorrow will be "Norma Rae" and Gene Wilder's "Sherlock Holmes" Smarter Brother," in the air-conditioned theater, which seats 1,400 people.

Future pictures will be "Hair," "The Deer Hunter," "Alien,"

'Good Guys' for Linden II

"Good Guys Wear Black," starring Chuck Norris, James Franciscus and Dana Andrews, opens tomorrow at the Linden Twin II Theater.

Travolta films due tomorrow

"Saturday Night Fever" and "Grease", both musical films, starring John Travolta (and both rated PG) will open tomorrow at the Five Points Cinema, Union, and the Strand Theater, Summit.

"Saturday Night Fever" also stars Karen Gorney and features a score by the Bee Gees. The picture was directed by John Badham. Olivia Newton-John and Stockard Channing co-star with Travolta in "Grease," based on the hit stage musical. "Grease" was directed by Randal Kleiser.

A double bill

Mel Brooks' "Blazing Saddles" arrived yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park, on a double bill with "Oh, God!," starring George Burns and John Denver. Both pictures, in color, are rated R.

Elmora holds Jane Fonda

"The China Syndrome," starring Jane Fonda, Jack Lemmon and Michael Douglas, is being held over for another week at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth.

The second feature, Neil Simon's "The Cheap Detective," starring Peter Falk and Ann-Margaret, also is being held over.

Bassano decries lack of action on bill

The power to regulate the construction of mausoleums and crypts individual municipalities in the state to avoid a repetition of the controversy which has arisen in Union Township where a large mausoleum is under construction in a residential area, Assemblyman C. Louis Bassano, R-Union, said.

Bassano said legislation under his sponsorship to remove such authority from the Department of Community

Affairs and place it at the local level has been awaiting action since its release from an Assembly Committee last November.

"The speaker of the assembly has consistently refused to schedule the bill for action, despite the unanimous committee approval," Bassano said. "Moreover, there has never been an adequate or reasonable explanation offered for blocking the bill from consideration."

HELPING KIDNEY PATIENTS—Dr. Seymour Ribot, director of nephrology at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, explains the function of an AMP automatic peritoneal dialysis machine to (from left) Sara Michaels of Irvington, president of the Nephrosis League of New Jersey, Ann Adikman of Irvington, financial secretary and treasurer, and Bert Rubin of Union, recording secretary. The dialysis machine was purchased with funds donated by the league.

Center lists events

The fascinating world of the outdoors is revealed in five upcoming programs offered through the Center for Environmental Studies in Roseland.

On July 13, a free program entitled, "Snakes in Fact and Fiction" will be given at the center by Les Pilkington the New York Herpetological Society. Live specimens will be exhibited. The program begins at 8 p.m.

A Mini Safari, designed for the photography buff is planned for July 14. The program begins with a discussion of close-up photography techniques and will lead participants on a field trip photography expedition.

Nutrients in nature is the subject of a program scheduled at 2 p.m., also on July 14. Participants will meet at Becker Tract, at the end of Locust avenue in Roseland.

On July 15 a twilight canoe trip will leave from the center at 6 p.m. Participants, led by a center staff naturalist, will explore the nocturnal side of nature on the Passaic River.

A mid-week program, "After Dinner Gardening" will be hosted July 17 at 7:30 p.m. The 90-minute discussion will explore methods of growing indoor plants from the seeds of fruits and vegetables. The program is free; pre-registration is required.

Reservations and information about programs are available by calling 228-2210.

Open house set by NJIT

New Jersey Institute of Technology will hold its Octobertech event a campus-wide open house program, on Oct. 20.

Admission to the all-day activity is free. On display will be examples of college-level experiments and demonstrations in architecture, engineering, management and the related technical degree programs at the institute. Visitors will be welcome to take general tours of the campus and to spend as much time as they like.

Award given to Rosenbach

Simon Rosenbach of Cranford has received the young leadership award of the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey, Union. The award is presented annually to a person who exemplifies the spirit of the Jewish community through the federation.

Rosenbach, a graduate of Rutgers University and Rutgers Law School, is a deputy attorney general for New Jersey. A member of the board of directors of the federation, is chairman and advisor to the 1979 young leadership development group, member of the young leadership subcommittee and overall leadership development committee. He served as chairman of the educational agencies subcommittee and is an active member of the Jewish community news board.

ARKANSAS ADMITTED Arkansas, formed from a part of the Louisiana Purchase, was admitted to the Union on June 15, 1836, as the 25th state.
