'Slipshod financing' is Lutz's accusation

Stuart H. Lutz, the Democratic candidate for mayor of Mountainside, this week pledged to put the tax payer's interest first in preparing municipal budgets.

Lutz, a businessman making his first bid for office, said he believed the Ricciardi administration had caused taxpayers to pay too much in taxes because of slipshod financial planning.

"When I questioned the mayor at a public meeting last month about some of the questionable decisions made during the formulation of the 1979 budget, the answers I received were 'accounting procedures to guard against massive non-payments of taxes.' These are unsatisfactory.

"For example," Lutz said, "I can't understand why $414,000 was set aside as a reserve for uncollected taxes, when the record of the past several years indicates that $271,000 would be more than adequate to protect the borough's best interests. As a result of this decision by the Ricciardi administration, Mountainside taxpayers had to pay $143,000 more than they should have been required to contribute."

Lutz also pointed to the administration's failure to include in anticipated revenue for 1979 the $15,000 in interest that was earned on last year's unexpended surplus. "Nor," Lutz added, "was the $35,000 in interest on the surplus that has been earned during the first eight months of this year included in the anticipated revenues for 1979."

"Additionally," the Democratic hopeful continued, "1979 anticipated revenues from franchise and gross receipt taxes were less than the amount actually realized last year." These revenues consistently increase from year to year.

"I could not accept any explanation for this poor financial judgment that tries to frighten taxpayers.

"I would always be aware of the bottom line for taxpayers, the amount they must pay in tax dollars. I would use every prudent financial step I could to maximize income from sources other than property taxes. I believe the Ricciardi administration has failed to do this, and for this reason does not deserve another term."

Regional board halts payment for field job

By SAM FINNELL

A motion to approve payment of nearly $10,000 for the construction firm renovating playing fields at David Bready High School was withdrawn at the Union County Regional High School District meeting Tuesday night.

Clark board member Virginia Muskus withdrew the motion when she learned that a catch basin on a practice field had not been eliminated. She said she thought the removal of the basin, which, she added, is a hazard, was the purpose of that particular renovation.

Lewis Fredericks, assistant superintendent for buildings and grounds, told the board that the basin had been installed on the authority of M. Disko Associates, consulting engineers. Fredericks said the firm deemed the basin necessary in case of flash-flood or hurricane conditions. According to Fredericks, Dr. Michael Disko, hydraulics engineer, told him a piece of Astroturf could be placed over the basin for safety.

Charles Vitale, board president, asked Harold Burdge, board secretary, to arrange a meeting with Disko at the field.

R. Jones, Inc., which is performing the work, had submitted a voucher for $9,900 to the board.

In other business, Vitale asked John Christiano, director of special services for the high school district, to study possible extra-curricular activities for handicapped students.

In a report to the board, Christiano had questioned the economic feasibility of creating extensive new programs for special students. Vitale asked for "some kind of recommendation for the first step" in increasing activities for these students.

Clark board member Stephen Marcinak, citing figures that show an expense of $1,000 per member of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School swim team, said that there should be money for programs for the handicapped.

Christiano also said that he feels once a program is implemented for one special group, to be fair, other programs must be provided for other special groups.

In another matter, Marcinak criticized the Middle Atlantic States Association evaluation report, calling its suggestions redundant and superfluous.

Dr. Donald Merachnik,

superintendent of the regional board, noting the evaluations are necessary for the school's accreditation, said "The value of the district will be what the staffs will do with the recommendations, whether they are good or not."

The board also heard an update of the district's Title I program from Betty Ruffley, district Title I director. Only two of the four district schools, David Bready and Jonathan Dayton, are eligible for the program, she said, but Arthur L. Johnson School may be eligible next year.

The federal government determines community eligibility using a formula based on the economic need of the children in the area.

She said the State has cited the district's program as a model Title I program.

The board also approved $3,500 in matching funds for the Vocational Work Study program, which is only Absent from picture are Jim Dascoli and Brian Moran.

Man charged in burglaries

A suspect arrested in connection with a shootout with Passaic police last week has been charged with two daytime burglaries in Mountainside July 26, Mountainside police said.

Dennis Cason, 26, of Passaic, was being held in Passaic County Jail, Paterson, last week in lieu of $75,000 bail.

Cason is charged with stealing more than $200 in silverware and jewelry from a residence on Rutgers road, and a car, three guns and other items, valued at more than $5,000, from a residence on Sunrise Parkway.

Cason was reportedly found in possession of one of the weapons, and Detective Sgt. Jerome Rice, who is handling the case, said he matched fingerprints taken at the Mountainside residence with Cason's.

Mountainside view, in Republican eyes

At a recent meeting of the Mountainside Republican candidates, incumbent Mayor Tom Ricciardi, council hopeful Marilyn Hart, and tax collector candidate Joan Nemick expressed views on Mountainside.

Ricciardi stated, "Our borough is in a most desirable position in terms of tax rate, bonded indebtedness, property values, and town facilities. I'm sure these are some of the reasons which influenced people to move to our community and I pledge to continue this tradition."

Suckno went on to say, "Our borough's current status is the result of years of intelligent and dedicated service on the part of citizens who have served on various governing bodies and boards. In many cases, these people have been Republicans. I have been witness to this while serving on both Town Council and the Board of Education."

Council candidate Hart, living in Mountainside for over 45 years, stated, "Growing and maturing in the borough has permitted me the opportunity to witness Mountainside's progress while still maintaining a rural character. I am personally committed to seeing that the Mountainside of 1985 mirrors the Mountainside of yesterday and today."

Tax collector hopeful Nemick added, "A home in the borough represents an investment in the future."

Campaign Chairman Ron Romak summed up the candidates' feelings. "Mayor and Council need and encourage the opinions and assistance of all citizens. Council meetings are held several times monthly and are open to the public."

Ricciardi concluded, "For those who can't come, our phone numbers have always been and always will be available."

Cranford man fined $235

A 23-year-old Cranford man was fined $235 by Judge Robert Ruggiero in Mountainside Municipal Court last week.

Todd Crickenberger was fined $215 for driving while on the revoked list and $20 for driving an unregistered vehicle.

Lewis Cromwell, 39, of South Plainfield was fined $215 for driving while on the revoked list, and Dave Hitt of Cherry Hill was fined $215 and had his driver's license suspended for 60 days for driving under the influence of alcohol.

Marshall gets director's post

Mrs. Willard Marshall of Mountainside was elected to the board of directors of the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross at the organization's annual meeting.

A certificate of appreciation for 1,500 hours of service was awarded to Stuart Moore of Mountainside. A certificate of recognition was awarded to another Mountainside resident, Elizabeth Lennox, former chapter chairman and chairman of volunteers.

Store break-in loss at $350

Mountainside police are investigating the theft of $350 from the Seven-Eleven store on Mountain avenue last Friday. It was the second break-in there in two weeks.

The owner of the store notified police at about 6 a.m. that the store had been broken into. A steel drum had been thrown through the glass front door to provide entry, police reported. The cash register was forced open and the cash removed, and a brown paper bag containing cash was stolen from the display case, police said.

The break-in occurred between 5 and 6:05 a.m., police said. Detective Sgt. Jerome Rice is handling the investigation.

Dem hopefuls pledge to boost state efficiency
Walter Boright and Patrick Cassidy, Democratic candidates for Assembly seats in District 22, this week called for greater government efficiency through detailed cost estimates of various funding bills and through periodic review of state programs, known as sunset legislation.

Freeholder Boright of Scotch Plains and Rahway Councilman Cassidy said they felt it was important that all new bills coming before the Legislature spell out in detail where the money would come from and how it would be raised. Additionally, they indicated that state programs should be subject to review as to their effectiveness to justify continued spending.

"Before a funding bill is considered for passage, revenue sources should be identified and how the money is to be raised should be detailed," Boright said.

Cassidy said that precise cost estimates for each legislative proposal must be prepared to judge its worthiness and cost efficiency.

"The people have a right to know how their money is being spent and for what purpose," the councilman said. "All funding measures that come before the Legislature should be accompanied by a realistic cost estimate. This could be one of the ways the state could keep its finances at a reasonable level and minimize the wastage of taxpayers money."

District 22 includes Springfield, Berkeley Heights, Chatham Township, Clark, Fanwood, Mountainside, Scotch Plains, Plainfield, Kenilworth and Rahway.

EARN ACADEMIC HONORS—Alan Efron (center foreground), a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, has qualified as a semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship Testing Program. Pair to deliver asthma lecture at convention

Children's Specialized Hospital will take an active part in the 1979 annual meeting of the National Association of Children's Hospitals and Related Institutions (NACHRI) to be held Oct. 10-13 in New Orleans, according to Richard B. Ahlfeld, director of administration.

Patricia Watson, R.N., director of inservice education, and Robert Corso, program director of the Central New Jersey Lung Association, have been invited to deliver a paper on the successful family asthma program being held at the Mountainside pediatric rehabilitation facility.

Designed for asthmatic children and their families, the eight-week program is in its second year, with the fall session scheduled to begin Oct. 18.

Letters to the Editor

CUSTODIANS OBJECT

The members of the Mountainside Custodians Association wish to inform the public of a very unfair situation in the Mountainside public schools.

We have been working without a contract since July 1. A tentative agreement was reached with the help of PERC mediator Bob Weakley on Aug. 7. Some weeks later the Board of Education rejected that settlement because it contained a seniority clause.

We wish to call upon the public to support us in our attempt to reach a settlement with the board. We are the lowest paid custodians in Union County. We are the only employees of the Mountainside Board who do not receive tenure of office or even seniority rights. The Board has stated it cannot meet with us again until Oct. 29.

We seek only to get another mediation session scheduled within the next two weeks so that a fair and just settlement can be reached in a reasonable amount of time.

open to students enrolled in vocational programs such as business, cooperative industrial education or beauty culture. Merachnik explained that the terms of the federal grant require the students to be enrolled in the vocational programs.

In personnel items, the board approved the adjustment of Gov. Livingston Regional High School guidance department member Kenneth Bohannon's salary from step 8 of the 1979-80 master's degree salary guide, ($15,600), to step 9 of the 1979-80 sixth year salary guide, ($17,000), effective Sept. 1. Bohannon has submitted evidence of completing 30 credits in addition to his master's degree.

The board also approved reclassification of Maureen Doerfler from secretary to confidential secretary in the office of the superintendent of schools, and adjusted her salary from step 8 of the 1979-80 secretarial guide, ($8,325), to $9,500, effective Oct. 18. She will replace Barbara Lillie, who has resigned.

We Work Wonders With Apples

We have been working with apples for about 75 years. We grow them in our own orchards up in Rip Van Winkle country in the Hudson Valley. We bring them down to Westfield and retail them as fresh fruit; we peel them and make them into a country style apple pie; we press them and make fresh apple cider; we use the cider as an ingredient in our cider donuts. Because we control them from tree to you, our apples are always kept cool and handled carefully so that you will really enjoy them. We are now picking your favorite varieties.

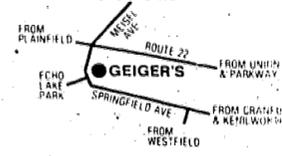

Geiger's Cider Mill and Restaurant is located just off Route 22 on Springfield Avenue, opposite Echo Lake Park. Telephone 233-3444.

Open 9 a.m. till 9 p.m. seven days a week. Remember, your satisfaction is guaranteed or your money cheerfully refunded with product return.
Plan to come for lunch or dinner, either in our Coffee Shop or in the Restaurant.
Hope to see you soon.

THE WIZARD OF AHHS.

Enter the world of Benihana. Feel the warmth of the graceful oriental decor, the soft, relaxing somisen music. And get ready for an oriental masterpiece. Ahhh. Suddenly your chef appears and the feast begins. Prepared on a hibachi grill right before your eyes. For openers, there's onion soup, Japanese salad. Next, crisp, green sashimi. Sizzling, succulent shrimp. Ahhh.

Then the main course: Your choice of entrees. Like tender boneless breasts of chicken. Specialty selected steaks. Plump lobster. Plus fresh bean sprouts. Mushrooms. Zucchini. And onions. Sliced and diced into slender, mouth watering slivers. And rice. And piping hot green tea. Ahhh. It's a complete dinner—all included in a magical experience you'll never forget. Ahhh.

The story of VNHS

Visiting Nurse and Health Services of Elizabeth, a voluntary, non-profit agency sponsored by United Way of Mountanside, dates from an influenza epidemic in 1909 when the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company sent nurses to care for its policyholders. Citizens formed a similar service for those not covered by Metropolitan and by the 1960s many towns had copied the idea.

The agency employs professional nurses, nutritionists, social workers, speech and physical therapists and home health aides. Contracts with four hospitals provide care for patients after release. Care is provided for the ill or disabled patient of any age at home.

The agency uses several means to meet its $2,000,000 budget, which covers 45 nurses and scores of home health aides.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

"Don't Be Wasteful." The "grain" most frequently wasted is bread, every crumb of which should be saved. It can be stored into "loaf" or packed in the oven to dry. When dry, it can be grated coarsely and put in plastic pudding, or flour, or used for making hot water bread pudding.

If you're tired of the monotonous bread pudding with lemon sauce, try this recipe in custard cups with raisins for fruit. Beat the cups flat and then pour them standing in a pan of hot water. Loosen out one with a teaspoon of bright colored jelly and it will no longer be a simple bread pudding, but a rich new dish to be enjoyed with cream.

Officials over-ruled, Minutemen triumph

Springfield's Minutemen B Team gained a hard fought football victory over an outstanding Millburn squad last week. A disputed call appeared to end game in a 14-14 tie but a later ruling by league officials gave the game to Springfield, 14-12.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Millburn Arrows drove 70 yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt hit the goal post upright and the score remained 6-0. On the next play,

Harriers take tri-meet, boost record to 7-0

Bringing its record to 7-0, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross country team outran West Orange and previously undefeated Millburn in a tri-meet at Millburn. Running their best race of the year, the Bulldogs beat West Orange, 25-46, and Millburn, 21-34. Coach Martin Taglienti said that the Bulldogs ran their smartest race of the year.

The top runners for Regional were Jeff Knowles (first against both teams), Steve Wright (third), Jay Bruder (fourth), Adam Silverstein (fifth), Jim Roach (eighth), Scot Conoly, Glenn Eitz, Ken Fingerhut, Jim Melkowitz, Steve Halpin, Louis Salem and Frank Kelly.

Taglienti feels that if the team can stay injury-free, it has a good chance of going all the way.

Springfield's Reed Jones, behind the blocking of Dan Klinger, Ed Hayes, Jim Ruban and Don Larzleer, broke off tackle for a 60-yard touchdown run. The extra point attempt was made by Glenn Scheider, giving Springfield an 8-6 halftime lead.

In the third quarter Reed Jones, who finished with 160 yards for the day, plunged over from the five, giving Springfield a 14-6 lead. The extra point attempt was blocked.

With one and a half minutes remaining in the game the Millburn Arrows completed a long fourth-down pass for a touchdown, making the score 14-12. The extra point attempt was blocked by Dan Klinger but the game officials awarded Millburn another attempt at the conversion due to a misunderstanding of a rule. League officials later concurred with Springfield that a player can leave his feet in an attempt to block the extra point once the ball is kicked. The score remained 14-12.

Defensive standouts for Springfield include Tom Kisch (three unassisted tackles), Reed Jones (four unassisted tackles and a fumble recovery), Dan Klinger (three unassisted tackles) and Glenn Scheider (a pass intercepted).

Offensive standouts for Springfield includes running backs Frankie Romano, Levent Bayrasli and Kevin Bower. Anthony Boffa did a good job on the offensive line.

Springfield's B Team will face the Mountainside Jets Sunday at Meisel Field following the Springfield C Team game against Mountainside, which starts at 12:30 p.m.

Gymnasts swing close, but fall short

By PENNY LEVITT
After two weeks of competition, the Jonathan Dayton High School gymnastics team record stands at one victory, four losses. The squad traveled to Bound Brook last week for a night meet. Vaulting, the first event, enabled Dayton to take a quick lead. Paige Carter scored 8.6 while Hannah Reimann and Penny Levitt, respectively, contributed a 6.0 and a 5.95.

Bound Brook pulled ahead during the uneven bars and the Dayton gymnasts were unable to regain the lead. But they placed first on the balance beam with Carter's 7.95. Sue Feig received a second place on floor with 6.3, and Reimann's 6.0 took a close third. Suzy Baker and Trisha Federico made sincere efforts to increase the squad's final score. Jonathan Dayton totaled 65.20, but Boundbrook had 69.25.

On Sept. 26, the girls were hosts for a meet with Westfield High School. For the first time this year, Dayton was beaten in vaulting, in spite of Carter's first place. Reimann also placed first on the uneven bars with a 6.85, but, Westfield's combined scores topped Dayton's. The balance beam was dominated by Carter's 7.65. Levitt, Feig and Reimann each performed well on the final event, floor exercise. Contributing to the team score were routines by Baker, Vicki Sarricino, and Jodi Ruff. At the meet's end, Dayton had accumulated 71.80, and Westfield had 73.90.

Coach Ele Soisson and assistant Gina Kish noted the team had three meets in a row.

Tomorrow the gymnasts will travel to Kearny at 3:45 p.m. On Tuesday they will host Scotch Plains in the afternoon meet.

Cheerleading squad selected

The Springfield Recreation Department has chosen cheerleaders for the 1979-80 season. The squad includes JoAnna Circelli, Lisa Schlager, Donna Schwerdt, Carmella Carpenter, Angela Chrichello, Linda Anagnos, co-captain Karen Apicella, Allison Keehn, co-captain JoAnna Fusco, Geri Pecoraro, Carol Carpenter, Lori Pohlman and Donna Commarato. The girls will be cheering at the Midget football games and at the Minutemen basketball games. Angela Wioland is the supervisor.

Dayton, 35-6 loser to Hillside, will play at Madison Saturday

By PENNY LEVITT
The Jonathan Dayton High School football team, unable to maintain the momentum of its opening week tie with Arthur Johnson High School of Clark, lost to Hillside, 35-6, Saturday. The Dayton score came on Ed Francis' 45-yard run.

The Bulldogs had several opportunities to take control of the game but let them slip away. Twice during the first half the squad had a first down with less than 10 yards to go and did not score. With 1:08 left in the second quarter, Dwayne Franklin of Hillside scored on a 96-yard run for a 14-0 lead.

"Our specialty teams," said Coach Senese, "cost us very dearly." Hillside took the kickoff after Francis' TD and returned it 75 yards for a score. A 62-yard return set up another scoring drive. Hillside's Dwayne Franklin, rushed for 167 yards and Daryl Perry accumulated 129 yards.

Dayton's determination never faltered. The new option offense was able to move the ball consistently—Anthony Circelli had nine carries for 48 yards, Ed Francis nine carries for 82 yards, Robert Irene 11 carries for 75 yards and Ken Klebous 10 carries for 50 yards and a completed pass to Billy Ventura for 30 yards.

Senese was impressed with the fine job of blocking on the offensive line by Robert Dooley, Jack Parent, Paul D'Andrea, Nino Parlaveccio and Rich Seifer. Defensively he cited Robert Dooley, Anthony Circelli, Tyrone Hayes and Billy Ventura, who intercepted a Hillside pass.

The future looks promising for the Bulldogs. Monday, Sept. 24, the JV squad defeated Clark, 18-6, on touchdowns by Ed Francis, Kevin Iaione and a Mike Carricato pass to Ron Wilhelm. The freshmen defeated Roselle last Friday, 20-6. Charlie Kachulis scored twice for the Bulldogs and Ronny Fusco once.

Dayton will begin conference play with a 0-1-1 record when travels to Madison Saturday to face one of the finest teams in the state. The Bulldogs are stressing defensive work as they look forward to the battle of option offenses.

Booters shade Madison, 3-2, for Cozza first

By DAVID GOLD
Joe Cozza earned his first victory as a Dayton coach last Thursday as the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity soccer team won at Madison, 3-2, in double overtime. This brings the record to 1-3-1.

Scoring for Dayton were John Clonimus, Steve Tenenbaum and Don Meixner. The defense was solid except for momentary lapses. Cozza hopes to correct. The team looked relaxed and worked well together.

Dayton last week lost to Caldwell, 4-2, at home.

This afternoon, Dayton will face a tough West Orange team at Dayton.

Jets win, 7-6; Souders stars with TD sprint

The Mountainside Jets lightweight football team won its opening game against Chatham Borough, 7-6.

The first half was a defensive struggle with Mountainside holding Chatham to minus yardage. Enzo Pallitta, Chris Dooley, Jim Clifford, David Martignetti, Joe Castelo, Joe Ventura and Duane Connell led the defense.

Chatham came out strong in the second half and moved the ball to the 45. On first down, the Chatham halfback circled end and scored for a 6-0 lead. Mountainside came back behind the running of Steve Souders, Marc Costello and Michael Wood. On second down from midfield, Steve Souders went around end to score the tying touchdown. Michael Wood passed to Chris Dooley for the winning extra point. Key blocks during the drive were made by Jeff Stoffer, Bart Barre, Walter Heckel, Brett Stoiz and David Martignetti.

Mountainside's defense, outstanding in the last quarter, was spearheaded by Enzo Pallitta, Kevin Rogers and Jim Clifford.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD
There was a full slate of game in the Junior Divisions of the Cosmopolitan Soccer League last weekend.

The Union Lancers downed the Silver Lakes Deacons, 4-0 in the Midget Division.

It was a different story in the Boys Division as the two Union teams in this division split. The Union Kickers defeated the Wayne Sportsfriends Runners, 4-1, while the Union Lancers dropped their first away game to the Silver Lakes Americans, 2-1, to bring their record to 1-1.

In the Youth Division, the Union Kickers downed their own Union Lancers, 3-0.

This Saturday is shaping up to be a big day at Farcher's Grove. The matches will start around noon. The Union Lancers will meet Adriatic and Union County SC will host the Silver Lake Deacons in the Midget Division. Both boys teams of the Union Lancer program also will play home. The Lancers will meet the Silver Lakes Strikers and the Union Kickers will go against the Silver Lakes Americans. The Union County SC Boys Clubs will play each other. This means you can watch six of the local team in action in one afternoon of soccer.

Soccer took another step forward on the high school level last Friday. I took a walk to the Union High School soccer field to watch the Union-Linden soccer match. I noticed that there were a few more policemen around and many more Union High soccer fans at the game. Then I found out that someone had painted a Linden slogan on the new field overnight and a little trouble could be expected. It was nice to see that many students in the stands for a soccer game. The students were there for another reason other than the soccer game, but as the game went on this large body became interested in the game and started to cheer. They were not soccer fans when they came, but they were fans when they left. The game ended in a 2-2 tie but the new soccer fans were cheering every good play. Even in midfield and all defensive plays.

LEAF-RELIEF FOOTBALL SEASON IS NEAR AGAIN. BUT IF YOU DON'T HAVE A SNAPPER, THE RAKING SEASON IS HERE AGAIN.

SNAPPER "High Vacuum" riding mowers not only do a good job of cutting grass, they pick up the cuttings, leaves and litter in a hurry. Depending on the size of your spread, optional catchers are available with six and thirty bushel capacities. That means you may be able to mow and vacuum your entire area without stopping to empty.

If your lawn area doesn't require a riding mower, there's also a SNAPPER walk-behind mower to get fall chores out of the way in a hurry. With an optional Snapperizer attached to the bottom of a SNAPPER mower, you can shred leaves so the bag holds over twice as many and you have to empty it less often.

Ask for a demonstration of a SNAPPER. You'll see why SNAPPER owners are able to enjoy more of the games.

Sickle cell anemia, symptoms

Sickle cell anemia, a hereditary ailment which primarily afflicts black Americans, is a ravaging disease causing frequent illness and death by the age of 50 in its severest form, according to Dr. Murray Nussbaum, professor of medicine and director of the Hematology Division at the College Hospital, New Jersey Medical School of the College of Medicine and Dentistry.

The history of sickle cell anemia—so named because the red cells at certain times become rigid, assuming an elongated sickle shape—goes back thousands of years. An area in Africa was riddled with malaria and those persons with this cellular effect were protected from the malaria parasite. But too much of a good thing is not good either and those suffering with the severe form of the disease have inherited the factor from both parents. Those with the sickle cell "trait" have inherited it from only one parent.

To understand how the disease affects its victims, one must understand that the red blood cell transports oxygen to various tissues and removes the waste products (carbon dioxide) from those tissues.

Red blood cells are uniquely adapted to this function because they are pliable and can squeeze into the very smallest blood vessels. The transportation of the bound gases is done by hemoglobin molecules contained within the red cell. Although the range differs for men, women, adults and children, the "norm" is some five million red blood cells per cubic millimeter.

In the case of sickle cell anemia, the inherited defect in the structure of the hemoglobin involves a minute change in the protein part of the molecule. This change involves the substitution of a single amino acid (amino acids are building blocks of protein) at a critical position. Much as water changes form when under zero temperature, sickle hemoglobin becomes more crystalline, rigid and insoluble under physical conditions which deprive the red cell of oxygen. Thus the cell cannot traverse narrow blood vessels, depriving some tissues of oxygen. Pain is the result, usually triggered by infections or stress. When this happens, it is called a "crisis." Any area of the body may be affected.

A painful crisis may affect a joint, simulating arthritis. Or it could be abdominal pain, sometimes confusing the examining physician into thinking that surgery is called for. It could be chest pain, headache, back pain, etc.

Usually, these crises occur more frequently in children, anywhere from once or twice per year to nine or 10 times yearly. Treatment is aimed at the precipitating cause, i.e., antibiotics for bacterial infections, etc. Pain killers, although not aspirin, and hydration are part of the treatment. Intravenous fluids are often required, necessitating hospitalization, especially in children. Painful crises usually subside in 24 to 72 hours.

Adults have learned how to take care of themselves a little better and in any case are inclined to fewer infections. They take appropriate pain killers and increase their consumption of liquids. Their problems are the long-term effects of excessive blood destruction and anemia which occurs because of the abnormal structure of the red blood cell.

Some of the complications which may occur to adults with this disease are jaundice and gallstones; impaired kidney function; impaired circulation to skeletal structures causing collapse of vertebrae or collapse of bones in the hip area. Excessive amounts of iron also are released from the destroyed sickled cells. The iron deposits in the tissues of the heart, liver, etc., interfere with the proper function of these organs. Very often, patients die of heart or liver failure.

In some circumstances, the patient who has a crisis will at the same time destroy his blood at a much faster rate. This is called a "hemolytic crisis." Under other circumstances, the crisis may have associated with it a complete shutdown of red blood cell production, called an "aplastic crisis." Transfusions are necessary, in addition to the previously mentioned measures, for both of these types of crises.

Supportive measures, important in caring for the patient with sickle cell anemia, include:

- 1—Adequate nutrition
- 2—Prompt treatment of infections.
- 3—Appropriate vaccination against infections including the recently introduced vaccine against pneumococcal pneumonia.

The recently introduced treatments such as cyanate have not yet been proven safe. The results show some improvement of the anemia and a decrease in the frequency of crises but, in some instances, the crises are more severe when they do occur.

While there is as yet no medication to cure sickle cell anemia, research has given us a firm understanding of its mechanism. Research continues, and the prospects of an eventual breakthrough are encouraging.

Nuclear Energy Forum

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has invited distinguished scientists to participate in this forum of views on nuclear energy. No personal fee or payment of any kind has been made to individuals expressing their opinions here. In lieu of personal payment, PSE&G has made a contribution to Scientists and Engineers for Secure Energy.

RADIOACTIVITY

"Grand Central Station releases far more radiation than a nuclear plant"

By the routine operation of a nuclear generating station, the release of radioactivity is negligible—far less than the normal levels around us all the time. In fact, the granite in Grand Central Station releases far more radiation than a nuclear plant at level of under current regulations.

The American Medical Society also tells us that an equivalent number of coal-burning plants release more natural radioactivity in smoke than do nuclear plants.

One unit of measure to indicate the effect of radiation on man is the millirem/1/1000 of a rem. New Jerseyans get about 125 millirems of natural radiation a year from food, buildings, air and cosmic rays. During the Three Mile Island plant accident in Pennsylvania, which was far from contaminating the population, the average exposure of the population was only slightly above the normal level. This is less than you get from the television set or from watching TV, or from using a hair dryer or a hair curler.

The nuclear industry is already complying with the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, but it is not clear that the radiation levels from these plants are being kept to the minimum level, especially if you compare them with the radiation levels from other sources.

I think we should keep these facts in mind in order to evaluate the energy in proper perspective.

Alexander von Szevalny

Scientists and Engineers for Secure Energy is a society concerned about incorrect, confusing and untrue information being spread by organized groups against nuclear technology. The efforts of these groups are designed to scare, bewilder and mislead Americans in abandoning a domestically available nuclear resource that's been thoroughly tested and proven over the past thirty years. Nuclear energy has kept the lights on in much of the country during coal strikes, oil embargoes and natural gas shortages.

The scientific community, including the nuclear energy industry, has a long and distinguished record of safety and reliability. Bayside Villa won awards for design

As the ads state, "Something totally unique is happening in Perth Amboy."

Rosengarten Enterprises' new 25 home Bayside Villa, which offers unusual single and double patio home residences, is already reporting eight sold, and the official grand opening is two weeks off.

A beaming Barry Rosengarten notes, "What is so noteworthy is not the early volume of sales but the type of sales we are getting. Most so-called 'real estate experts' told us that most of our buyers would be from Perth Amboy itself. It turns out that most sales are coming from the suburbs, one as far away as Lake Hopatcong."

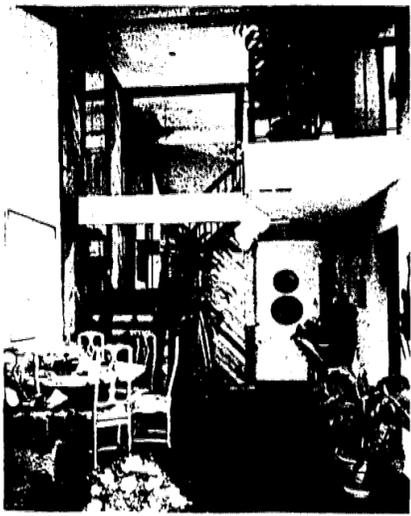

want the commuter convenience of a city like Perth Amboy and the proximity to a fine marina. Our buyers are professional people—lawyers, bankers, doctors and businessmen who are tired of the suburban hassle and the energy wasting aspect of living too far from their work."

The new community offers a unique design concept in addition to its in-city location. Buyers select from a number of floorplans to custom design their own residences. Thus, homes with two to four bedrooms, one to three baths and three car garages are available. Introductory prices range from $89,990 for the single family units to $139,990 for the two-family units. Taking special care with architecture won Rosengarten's first community national recognition in the form of awards from both Better Homes and Gardens and the National Association of Homebuilders.

"The most topical feature of Bayside Villa today is its energy-consciousness. Some housing ads talk about a particular community as a one car location. Bayside Villa can actually be considered as New Jersey's only 'no-car' location, even though three-car garages are provided. Yes, you can survive quite nicely here in Perth Amboy without a car. Shopping, trains, buses, schools—everything you need is right here within walking distance. Bayside Villa is truly a community for the seventies," states Rosengarten.

Among the first buyers at Bayside Villa are people from as far away as Deal, Lake Hopatcong, Colonia and Holmdel. "They recognize the wisdom of living close to work, transportation, recreation and shopping," says Rosengarten.

STATEN ISLAND HOME—Shown is the living area of the Donnington model at the Glen, a new condominium being built on Staten Island by the Esposito Brothers. The Glen offers a choice of 13 designs, priced from $42,600 to $67,100. Sales are under the direction of the JPS Sales Organization.

Builder offers behind-scenes view of 'Glen'

A lot more goes into creating a private condominium community than meets the eye. "It takes a lot of planning, organization and coordination to meet the growing demand for quality housing in quality neighborhoods at affordable prices," says Mario Esposito, whose family has a long and successful history of commercial and residential development, exclusively in Staten Island. "We were born here, build here and live here," says brother Sal, "so we know what people are looking for in new homes, and we know how to make it happen." Their latest venture is the Glen, a community of one and two story condominiums in New York City's only non-metropolitan borough.

But even before the ink on the designs and plans for the Glen was dry, a notable construction firm was brought into the picture, one whose expertise and experience could be relied on to transform a concept into a physical reality. The firm of J. Baranello was chosen because of its 30-year reputation of successful construction projects in Staten Island, including residences, schools, universities and public works and health care facilities. "We've always been on top of the latest technology, while maintaining strict controls on costs, quality and completion dates," assures J. Baranello, the firm's founder.

Barclay Woods will probably be sold out before it's ever built

Barclay Woods is a private condominium community that offers a haven from the everyday pressures of the world. And over the last several weeks many, many people have come and fallen in love with the spaciousness... the value, the peace and tranquility... the 35 rolling acres of trees and wildlife. They came and decided that Barclay Woods was everything they wanted.

Because Barclay Woods offers everything: huge master bedrooms... woodburning fireplaces... comfortable dens... individual garages... full basements... wall to wall carpeting... private pool, tennis, and clubhouse. Everything... in a friendly seaside town that is a sportsman's and naturalist's paradise.

The setting is as perfect as you can imagine... and Barclay Woods offers you the many advantages of condominium ownership... including the convenience of having landscaping and exterior maintenance handled by a professional staff. But you must come and see it now... Because luxury and value like this tells you we'll be completely sold out... before it's completely built!

Models open daily, 10-6 p.m. 1 & 2 bedroom condominium country homes, currently priced from $78,900.

Tri-Centennial offers four new homestyles

Four new homestyles will be displayed this weekend during the preview opening of Phase II at Tri-Centennial Estates in the woods of Old Bridge off Highway 9 on Rt. 516 west.

The four new models include the Westwood three-bedroom ranch, the Colony three-bedroom colonial, the Alpine three-bedroom bi-level and the Woodland four-bedroom colonial. All homes will use natural gas service to eliminate residents' dependence on home heating oil availability.

According to Harry Rosenblum, developer and builder of the wooded community, Tri-Centennial Estates includes within the base price of all homes wall to wall carpeting, dishwasher, paneled family room, attached garage, paved driveway, double hung wood windows, custom kitchen cabinets, graded and seeded homesites, city water and sewers, underground utility lines and other features.

Optional features expected to be very popular are a skylight in the Colony's family room, cathedral ceiling, full wall-width brick fireplace and central air conditioning.

Prices range from $69,990 to $79,990 with a limited number of 9 1/2 percent, 30-year mortgages available to qualified buyers.

Rosenblum commented that 22 homes are on cul-de-sacs and that he personally supervises the clearing of homesites to insure that the maximum number of trees remain before construction begins.

A Tri-Centennial sales representative is available at the company's office located on Rt. 516 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and on weekends.

The Woodland, a 4-bedroom colonial home, will be unveiled this weekend during the preview showing of Phase II at Tri-Centennial Estates just off Highway 9 on Route 516 west in Old Bridge. The Woodland, priced at $79,990 is one of four new models available to qualified buyers.

Crestwood fair turns into annual attraction

The Crestwood Communities Arts and Crafts Fair, started in 1973, has mushroomed into an event which attracts visitors from all over New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

More than 200 exhibits, representing leisure activities of residents of all five Crestwood Villages, Whiting Village and Pine Ridge were on display in the seventh annual fair recently at Hilltop, Clubhouse V on Schoolhouse road.

Crestwood is located on Rt. 530, eight miles west of Toms River Exit 80 of the Garden State Parkway.

Included among the exhibits were dozens of paintings, ceramics, Christmas decorations, embroidery, needlework, knitting, crocheting, and decoupage, handmade quilts, wood inlays and dried flower arrangements, porcelain painting, collections of dolls, china shoes, stamps, combs, sculpture and doll furniture. Previous fairs included model airplanes and racing yachts. The main auditorium of the clubhouse was entirely devoted to the show, with giant booths to provide special illumination. Many of the displays are unique and valuable and so guard and insurance protection was provided.

"Many of our 12,000 residents participate in arts and crafts classes, clubs and workshops, others pursue their hobbies at home," explained Marge Sullivan, resident organizer of the project. "We believe their collections are so interesting that everybody should have an opportunity to see them, most particularly mature people who haven't yet retired and don't realize just how full and rich life can be in retirement."

"We entertained more than 1,000 visitors per day during the fair," Mrs. Sullivan continued. "For the first time this year, many of the items on display were offered for sale. We charge no admission, and refreshments are free," she added. Every day exhibitors were on hand to demonstrate how they do their work. We're eager to meet folks who appreciate the beautiful things in life, and maybe even be helpful to them. A pioneer among Ocean County retirement communities, Crestwood Communities near Whiting, is now showing 12 model homes from the low 20s to the 60s.

Sunburst Hills shows home investment

Over the years, due mainly to lack of clarity of various real estate regulations, builders and developers have avoided promoting the investment potential of their new homes.

According to Lou Cyktor, president of Wick Builders, the developers of the Sunburst Hills Twin Homes in East Brunswick, "Even when the promise of significant appreciation of values was obvious, we always tried to avoid suggesting to the homebuyer that he could make money with his purchase as well as having a nice place to live. With the spectacular price increases in home prices in the past decade, this old restriction seems almost silly today. Everyone knows that real estate is a good investment—perhaps the best investment—in a time of inflation. We, at Wick, believe it is a good investment anytime." Cyktor's Fords-based firm has built hundreds of homes and townhomes as well as commercial properties in East Brunswick, Edison and Sayreville over the past 20 years. The newest of these offerings is Sunburst Hills, a highly-suburban version of the side-by-side duplex home. Designed in Tudor and Colonial motifs, the new "Twin" homes are surrounded by 11 acres of common or green areas. Bicycle paths meander through the community and the overall look of spaciousness is evident due to the low density—only five homes to the acre. Prices range from $58,490 to $67,490, moderate for a brand new 3 bedroom home with attached garage and basement.

"The evidence is overwhelming," declares Cyktor excitedly. "Sunburst Hills is the best investment of all the current offerings in the residential market today—and that includes any townhouse or single-family home now on the market. Whether a family decides to buy a single unit or two—to live in or to rent out—stands to see tremendous financial benefits in very short order. It will be astounding from any point of view—taxes, equity or appreciation. If the economy experiences even half the inflation in the next 10 years as it has in the last 10, the Sunburst Hills resident will wind up with quite a nestegg. And its no secret; our sales in the past few months dramatizes the fact that buyers know this and are responding."

Sunburst Hills is located on Sunburst drive, off River road in East Brunswick. It is close to the Old Bridge Turnpike, Rt. 18, and is convenient to the New Jersey Turnpike, Rt. 9 and Rt. 1. Bus and rail connections are convenient to the commuter. The finished community will include 134 homes, which are surrounded by some of East Brunswick's finest single-family residential neighborhoods. Graceful knolls and ridges set off the community from the surrounding areas. The homes themselves include three bedrooms, large equipped kitchens, family rooms, formal dining rooms, luxurious living rooms, full basements and attached garages. Energy efficient materials are featured. Exclusive sales agent is the Wick Agency of Fords.

157-unit Manor

Tom Kapp, owner and operator of Pine Acres Manor in Manchester Township, reports strong interest in his 157-unit manufactured home community with 12 recent sales.

Pine Acres Manor is located on Rt. 37, a few minutes drive from the ocean with a local bus stopping at the door to major shopping malls in Toms River. Mini shopping malls and banks are within five minutes of the community.

Homes at Pine Acres Manor come complete with carpeting, draperies, all major appliances, screens and storm windows and doors.

Homes at Pine Acres Manor are priced as low as $19,900.

Phone call can save trip to Social Security office

Most people can take care of nearly all their Social Security business by telephone, according to Robert E. Willwerth, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth.

Using the phone spares people a trip to the office, a possible wait and allows Social Security personnel to serve the public in a more efficient manner.

Willwerth listed some of the matters that can be taken care of by calling 800-272-1111.

—Applying for Social Security or Supplemental Security Income payments

—Applying for Medicare

—Requesting a change of name or address on Social Security records.

—Reporting events that may affect receipt of checks, such as starting or stopping work —Requesting a statement of earnings reported to a person's Social Security record.

—Finding out if a particular health facility takes part in Medicare.

—Getting help in requesting a review of the decision made on a claim.

—Getting the answer to any question on Social Security, SSI or Medicare and requesting copies of free publications on these programs.

Early state poll shows 31% of voters unsure

Early poll results show that New Jersey voters favor Democratic Assembly candidates over Republican candidates, but a large portion of the electorate is still undecided.

The latest Eagleton Poll, conducted in September, found that among those who report being registered voters, 41 percent favored Democratic candidates, 27 percent favored Republican candidates and 31 percent had not yet made up their minds. When the undecideds were asked which way they "leaned," the Democratic margin over Republicans became 50 to 33 percent, with 17 percent still expressing no preference.

Both bond issues also were favored by New Jerseyans. The $95 million bond issue to improve higher education facilities was favored by a 50 to 27 percent margin with 23 percent undecided. When the undecideds were asked which way they "lean," the margin favoring the higher education bond issue became 60 to 34 percent, with 5 percent still undecided.

The $475 million transportation bond issue was supported by the state's unregistered voters by 45 to 32 percent, with 24 percent undecided. When "leaners" were included, 53 percent favored this bond issue, 40 percent were opposed, and 7 percent were still undecided.

Interest in this year's election is the lowest in four years, with only 25 percent saying they are "very interested." An additional 55 percent said they are "somewhat interested" while 18 percent expressed no interest at all. Last year at this time in the campaign, 32 percent said that they were "very interested" in the Senate election. The year before that, 48 percent were "very interested" in the gubernatorial election, and 67 percent expressed high interest in the 1976 Presidential election.

Voting preferences in this year's Assembly elections closely reflect partisan divisions in the state's electorate. Democrats strongly favor Democratic candidates by a 76 to 3 percent margin with 21 percent undecided. Similarly, Republicans almost unanimously favor their party's candidates by 82 to 2 percent, with 16 percent undecided. Independents who stated a preference were evenly divided, with 26 percent supporting Democrats and 24 percent favoring Republicans. However, 50 percent of the state's independent voters were still undecided.

Stephen A. Salmore, Eagleton's associate director, noted, "The low level of interest in this year's election probably reflects low levels of information. In such low-information situations, voters tend to fall back on their basic predispositions. Democratic voters favor Democratic candidates and Republican voters will favor Republican candidates. Since, in New Jersey, Democrats outnumber Republicans by two-to-one, the Democratic candidates are starting off with a natural advantage.

"However," Salmore said, "since Republicans are more likely to actually vote in a low interest and low-turnout election such as this one, the present Democratic advantage will probably be much reduced on election day."

The public was most supportive of the provisions of the higher education bond issue which would make college and university buildings more accessible to the handicapped. Almost half, 49 percent, felt this was the most important element in this bond issue while 29 percent said that making college buildings more energy efficient was most important. Only 12 percent felt renovating and repairing college buildings was the most important element. Supporters and opponents of the bond issue differed little on these priorities.

By a two-to-one margin of 61 to 31 percent, New Jerseyans felt it was more important to improve mass transit in the state rather than highways and roads. Supporters of the transportation bond issue were slightly less likely than opponents to favor improving mass transit.

In commenting on these results, Salmore said, "This early indication of support for the two bond issues indicates only that the public is generally favorably disposed toward them. However, given the low interest in the election, the public probably knows little of the details of these bond issues. As election day approaches and more information becomes available, the margin favoring these issues is likely to decline." Salmore added, "Vocal opposition to either of these issues could still turn public sentiment around."

The latest Eagleton poll was conducted between Sept. 10 and 21 when a scientifically selected sample of 1,005 New Jersey residents, 18 years and older, were interviewed by telephone. The sample included 829 respondents who reported they were registered to vote.

Schonzeit paintings on display at UC

Union College's Tomasulo Art Gallery, Cranford, will open a one-month exhibit of paintings by New York artist Ben Schonzeit on Friday.

The show will feature several Schonzeit works that have never before been shown, as well as four self-portraits. Schonzeit's paintings, known as photo realism, are executed with an airbrush in acrylics on canvas and are based on photographs. The Union College exhibit closer on Oct. 26.

Schonzeit's work is represented in permanent collections at 15 museums and galleries, including the Museum of Contemporary Art in Chicago and the Nationalgalerie in Berlin, West Germany. He has been featured in eight one-man art shows over the past eight years and has been included in over 50 group shows in the same period.
