Mayor outlines accomplishments, challenges

To an audience of about 40 persons, Mountainside Mayor Thomas Ricciardi outlined the borough's accomplishments and the challenges it faces in his speech at the borough's annual organization meeting held last Thursday. Most important, the mayor mentioned the borough's continuing problem with the impending closing of the Hackensack Meadowlands dumping sites.

I consider it a privilege to again assume the office of mayor, and I assure you that I assume the obligation fully prepared to do the very best I can. I must, at this time, talk about some people who will be sorely missed. First, Nick Bradshaw who has served on council for seven years. His advice and counsel will be missed, and on behalf of the community let me now thank him for the many hours of devoted service he has given to our Borough to make it a better home for all of us.

Another man, whom I have known for almost 20 years, is Gene Simpson, who was appointed to the library board by former Mayor Fred Wilhelms. Gene has advised me that he will no longer be able to serve on our library board. I know that his assumption of duties as executive vice-president of McGraw-Hill will be time consuming, and I thank him for all of us in Mountainside for his devotion, as a library board member.

As long as I am talking about people, let me first congratulate Marilyn Hart as the first woman member to be elected to council, and I assure you that I will have no problem working with her, as I have had more than 30 years experience working with another fine woman, my wife.

Abe Suckno, who has served with me for the past six years, I am confident will continue to make a strong contribution to our government. I congratulate them both on their election. I know first hand, it was a tough campaign.

To all of the people who serve on the boards, and there are just too many to list by name, I thank them on behalf of the community for their individual drives which make all of these boards such an asset to our government. At this time, let me thank our volunteer Rescue Squad, our volunteer Fire Department, and all of the paid employees of the borough who do such a fine job.

The financial situation of the borough is an excellent one. I say again, as I have said in the past, that we are a fortunate community, as well as a rich one. Our bonded debt at the community level is approximately $2 1/2 million. The local Board of Education has a debt of approximately $600,000. Mountainside's share of our Regional Board has a debt of approximately $1,400,000.

During this past year, I estimate that we have collected between 98 and 99 percent of our taxes, which is unusually high, and was not anticipated. During this year we have earned over $50,000 in interest; some of this, of course, is due to the high interest rates during this past year. We have also added in excess of $2,000,000 in new construction to our assessed valuation. This has also produced unanticipated income. In short, the financial position of the borough is very, very strong.

We hope to start some of the projected storm sewer projects, during the coming year. The storm sewer project in the area of the Children's Specialized Hospital and New Providence Road, westward toward Mountainview Drive, is in the final stages of acquiring easements. Construction is scheduled to start, by both the borough and the county, this year on the bridge and on the open channel between the bridge and Mountainview Drive. The Borough Engineer advises me that in the area west from Route 22 to Old Orchard Road, Force Drive and Pembroke Road, the borough is in the final stages of acquiring easements.

During this year funds will be made available for engineering feasibility studies to reduce flooding problems in the Old Tote-Birch Hill area. The Briar Hills Circle-Charles Street flood control project is a joint project with the Township of Springfield. I am happy to say that application has been made with Springfield for 50 percent state aid. This application was made late in August.

Sanitary sewer construction is proceeding in the High Point and Mary Allen Lane area of the borough. Funds for engineering feasibility studies for sanitary sewers in Summit Lane and Prospect Avenue area of the Borough will be made available.

A real plus in new construction this year is a subdivision which was approved on Summit Lane and New Providence Road, which resulted in the removal of the old barn and home, and a new plan for six new homes.

Solid waste disposal continues, as I have stated for the past three years, to be a serious problem for the borough, as well as the State of New Jersey. There is complete confusion as to when the Hackensack Meadowland dumping sites will be closed, and how we will negotiate for dumping rights in the Middlesex County area. The council, I am sure, will continue to maintain vigilance in this situation. It is my impression, however, that the cost to us as individual taxpayers for the removal of our solid waste is as low as any community in the county.

Let me conclude by telling you that all of the people who we have serving on the council, and on all of the boards, do so without receiving one penny in compensation.

Let me also make this observation, it has worked very, very well and as a result this well-planned community has been a town which gives the appearance of a rural suburban area, and yet it is in one of the most densely populated areas of the world. We are very, very fortunate.

Sad time, happy time: government regroups

The Borough of Mountainside's annual organization meeting last Thursday had its sad moments and its happy moments.

The meeting opened with a farewell speech from retiring Councilman Nicholas Bradshaw. In his deliberate, deep voice, he said, "There are few times in one's life one makes pleasant associations, and these truly have been pleasant." Bradshaw was appointed in May 1973 to fill the unexpired term of Louis Parent.

Sworn in to the new government by Municipal Court Judge Robert Ruggiero were Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, council members Marilyn Hart and Abe Suckno, and Tax Collector Joan Nemick.

Bruce Geiger was unanimously re-elected council president. Referring to the sometimes heated allegations by Democratic challengers in the last election, charges that Geiger called "trials," the council president said, "It forces on them (the new council members) the reality that they are representing the whole town."

One of the lighter moments of the meeting occurred during the first roll call. Borough Clerk Lee Vorhees called for "Councilman Hart." There was silence followed by a few laughs, and Dr. Hart said, "I'm a woman. Hart. Here."

Geiger was appointed by the mayor as the council representative to the Planning Board. Other representatives named are: Hart, Board of Health; Thomas Spina, Board of Education; Ricciardi, Library; Timothy Benford, Rescue Squad; Suckno, Tax Board; Spina, Civil Defense; Robert Vigilanti, Welfare and Shade Tree commissions, and Hart, Recreation.

Geiger, Hart and Vigilanti will serve on the Engineering, Public Works and Building Department committees; Spina, Geiger and Benford on Fire, Water, Civil Defense and Lights committees; Hart, Vigilanti and Suckno on the Recreation Committee; Benford, Hart and Vigilanti on the Buildings and Grounds Committee; Suckno, Benford and Spina on Police, Licenses, and Laws and Rules committees; Vigilanti, Spina and Geiger on the Finance and Executive committees, and Vigilanti, Hart and Suckno on the Welfare Committee.

The mayor will serve as ex-officio member of the Planning Board. Robert Koser, borough engineer, was appointed by the mayor as the municipal official to serve on the board. Both terms are one year.

Public members of the board serving three-year terms are Theodore Nugent and Michael Sgarro; two-year terms, Melvin Lemmerhirt, George Ramsey and Donald Jeka, and a one-year-term, Shirley Horner.

John Ament and George C. Novitt were appointed to the Board of Adjustment for four-year terms; Michael Sgarro and Frank Torma, three-year terms; Ronald Heymann and John Hancock, two-year terms, and Gerald Dillemoth, one-year term. William McNamara will serve as alternate for one year.

Football coach rapped for 'worst record ever'

By SAM FINNELL

The Union County Regional Board of Education listened for more than 40 minutes Tuesday night to a Springfield resident state his case against rehiring or granting tenure to the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Springfield, football coach.

George Doty, a former officer of the high school's booster club said about Angelo Senese, the Bulldogs' coach for the last two years, "I strongly recommend that he not be considered for tenure and that he not be rehired."

Doty stated that he was speaking as an individual and not as an official of the booster club. He is a former member of the Springfield Board of Education.

Senese, whose teams have compiled 0-16-2 record over two years, teaches English. Doty told the board of instances in which, he claimed, Senese neglected an injured player, failed in his job to keep files on his players for college applications, spoke disparagingly of his team's play to a local newspaper and failed to represent his team at the 1978 selection meeting for All-Suburban Conference teams.

Reading from longhand notes that filled up several pages and using copies of articles from area newspapers to support his point, Doty said, "Since he's been there, we've had the worst record ever. That's the only thing I can evaluate him on."

Board member David Hart said, "I think Senese handled his boys very well." And board member Margaret

Hough said that, after talking with parents about not only the coach's actions on the field but also his teaching in classroom, "I got (heard) nothing against him."

In other business, the board made official an increase in the cafeteria student a la carte selling price for half-pint of white milk to 7 cents and the price of chocolate milk to 8 cents.

Pennsylvania ski trip slated next Thursday

The Mountainside Recreation Commission will sponsor a one-day ski trip for adults Thursday, Jan. 24, to Shawnee Mountain in Pennsylvania.

The bus will leave the parking lot at the Mountainside municipal building at 7:30 a.m. and return at 6:15 p.m. The registration fee ($11) includes bus and lift ticket. Rentals are available for an additional $4.50, lessons for $3. A first day on skis package (bus, lift ticket, rentals and two lessons) is $17. The trip is open to those 18 and older. Non-residents are eligible to participate. Registrations are currently being accepted at the Mountainside Recreation Office weekdays from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. Payment must accompany registration.

Additional information is available at the Recreation Office, 232-0015.

effective Jan. 2. Board member Roland Hecker dissented because the increase was approved earlier by a phone vote after Harold Burdge learned the 1-cent rise in the wholesale price of milk, effective Jan. 1. Hecker said, "That was an illegal vote, and I'd like the record to show it. Telephone votes are not legal."

The board also accepted a bid from the Vogel Bus Company for the transportation of the Dayton swim team. The cost for 32 days is $2,400. The contract is subject to the approval of the county superintendent of schools.

In personnel matters, the board accepted the resignation of Dayton assistant girls basketball coach Susanne Hurley, effective last Nov. 15. The board also accepted the resignations of James Appello, Title I mathematics teacher at Dayton and David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, effective Jan. 28, and of Carol Forsman, drama director at Dayton.

In another matter, the board approved a request for Maureen Vanderbrande of Seton Hall University to serve a school psychologist internship at Dayton for two days per week from Jan. 21 to March 31. She will be under the supervision of Charles Drewee, Dayton psychologist. And the board approved the adjustment of the salary of George Scheer, special education teacher at Brearley from $13,900 to $15,150. The adjustment comes as a result of his earning his master's degree.

TO PLAY CHOPIN — Gary Steigerwalt, pianist, will present a Chopin recital at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Community Presbyterian Church, Dixie Park, Mountainside. The major work will be the Sonata in B minor, opus 38. In 1974, Steigerwalt became the first American to win major prize at the Liszt-Bartok International Piano Competition in Budapest. He has also appeared with the Hungarian State Symphony, the Seattle Symphony, the Juilliard Orchestra, the Chateaux Orchestra, and the Hudson Valley Philharmonic. He has recorded for Vox Productions and ORTF, Paris. The recital is part of the Mountainside Concert Series and is open to the public. Donations will be received at the door.

CHECKING FOR TWO WAYS-OUT — Bill Muter Jr. of the Tower Steak House and Mountainside Assistant Fire Chief Ronald Muter place on an exit at the restaurant stickers that remind employees that they should always know of two exits from the building in case of fire. The Two Ways program recommends that everyone check for a second exit wherever he or she eats, entertains, works, sleeps, shops or plays. The program also recommends exit drills in the home.

District featuring vocational courses

The Union County Regional High School District is conducting a series of tours of the vocational facilities of its four high schools for teachers, guidance counselors and administrators from its sending districts. Educators from Berkeley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield are participating.

The purpose of the tours is to familiarize elementary school and non-public school staff members with the vocational programs, shops and labs available to students in the Regional High Schools. The program includes visitation and discussion. On four dates in December and January, groups of educators have the opportunity to observe students at work in the various vocational shops and labs.

A special open house will be held at each high school in the spring. At that time eighth grade students and their parents will have an opportunity to meet teachers, see the shops and labs and obtain more information about courses available. Vocational education choices will be stressed.

Stanley Grossman, coordinator of industrial education and home economics and director of this project, said he is pleased with its apparent success. "The program, thus far, has been well received. Most of the participants had not previously realized the scope of vocational offerings in the Regional District, and feel they are in a better position to counsel young people. I feel that this is going to help the youth with their course selection upon entering the Regional school system."

Clark, for making this night a most enjoyable one.

In these troubled times it's nice to know that people still take time out to do things that bring pleasure to others. Thanks again, Mr. McSweeney, and to his helpers and to his two dogs, Midnight and Sunshine, and his cat Shanghai.

PUPILS THANKED

To the students of Our Lady of Lourdes School in Mountainside, I would like to thank them for the wonderful toys and gifts they gave me for the needy children in the area.

On Dec. 19, I put on an animal show for Our Lady of Lourdes School and asked the students to bring in a toy or gift for the needy children in exchange for admission. The student response was so overwhelming I was unable to distribute all the gifts that were collected at the show. In fact, I'm saving some of the gifts for a party to be given in one of the local hospitals for either Valentine's Day or St. Patrick's Day.

A special thanks to Nancy Rau, president of the Home and School Association, for making all the arrangements for collecting all the toys and gifts. Also to Sister Gladys for giving up part of the school Christmas party to let us have our show.

Thanks also to Tim Wallace, owner of the Rahway Bus Co., and his driver, Richard Craig, who managed to transport my animals through the snow in time for my performance.

I would also like to thank my assistant, Christopher Wallace, for helping me make my performance a big success.

So "Thanks" to everyone for a job well done.

IT'S NICE TO KNOW

Once again the staff and residents of JINS (Juveniles in Need of Supervision) Shelter and the children of the Margurite Dube Children's Shelter would like to take this way to thank Frank McSweeney of Roselle for the wonderful party he put on for us on Christmas Eve. We all appreciate the fact that he gave up his own Christmas Eve to be with us. We were told this was his 10th time he has appeared here on Christmas Eve.

His animal show was enjoyed by everyone. His thoughtfulness and generosity will always be appreciated. He did so much for us to make our Christmas Eve a very pleasant one. We all loved the gifts, candy, soda and homemade cookies. It was the next best thing to being home. His animal show was a real delight and the animals did some very amazing tricks.

Mr. McSweeney is a school-bus driver for the Mountainside public schools, and we understand that's where all the gifts and goodies came from, so thanks to all of you in Mountainside.

We would like to thank Mr. McSweeney's three assistants, Colleen Delaney and Kelly Attenasio, both of Mountainside, and Eileen Didgeon of

Burglars take 6 typewriters from offices

Mountainside police are investigating the theft last weekend of at least six typewriters from the offices of the First Commercial Corporation on Sheffield Street.

Some time between 1 p.m. Saturday and 10:34 a.m. Sunday, police said, entry was gained by breaking the lock on the office door. The entire office was ransacked. The machines are IBM Selectrics.

Police also are investigating a daytime burglary of a Central Avenue home last Friday. A neighbor watching the house for the owner, while he was away on vacation, reported to police that the rear porch door was discovered open at about 7:30 p.m. Police reported they found empty jewelry boxes on a bedroom dresser.

A car, possibly a black 1970 Cutlass with a "For Sale" sign in the right front, was seen parked in front of the house by two neighbors at about 12:30 p.m., police said. Two persons, described as a white female with dark hair, in her 30s and wearing dark clothing, and a white male in his mid 20s with a tall, thin build and dark complexion, also were seen walking to the car from the house, police said.

Know Your Government

N.J. Taxpayers Association

The economic outlook for New Jersey is not a particularly optimistic one as the state enters the decade of the '80s, observes the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. Few if any of the numerous problems of the state and its local governmental units were solved in the past year, which is not a necessarily surprising fact since their magnitude is such that often it takes a decade or more to find a remedy.

The economic prognosis involving the severity of the recession and its duration is one best left to professional economists. Governmental officials are experiencing frustration as they are confronted with declining intergovernmental revenues, inflation-fueled budgets, statutory spending limits and an increasing tax and cost conscious public. Unless local taxpayers are willing to settle for service reductions, one of two principal options, the property tax can be expected to continue its upward swing.

No significant progress was made in 1979 towards any permanent solution of the financial problems of New Jersey's aging larger cities. One significant non-property tax revenue source which has increased gradually as fuel prices have risen in the gross receipts and franchise tax. Many municipalities benefited in 1979 from a one-time speed-up in payment of the tax. As the new budget year begins, officials are urging revision of the distribution formula to provide additional funds for the large cities without too great an adverse fiscal impact on smaller municipalities.

Recommendations of the legislature's Joint Committee on Tax Policy in its June report intended to modify aspects of the municipal and county spending limitations failed to be enacted so local officials currently have no additional latitude in making spending decisions in 1980 except use of various loopholes which exist in the cap law.

Local public school education continues to come under increased criticism, despite the thorough and efficient law. Whether broadening high school curriculum requirements and setting minimum standards for high school graduation will improve educational quality may take a long time to be determined.

The state's financing problems have again come to the forefront as the governor proposes increased taxes to finance a projected 1981 budget deficit and to expand some of the property tax relief programs to individuals. This occurred despite warnings to the legislature by the Joint Committee on Tax Policy of the inadequacy of state revenues to finance continued budget expansion even at the current inflation rate.

The state's capital needs seem to grow increasingly as inflation erodes the purchasing value of voter-approved bond funds and physical plant deterioration continues because of inadequate funding for maintenance.

Young patients are learning car safety

Beltman has come to Elizabeth General Hospital.

Elizabeth General is one of 10 New Jersey hospitals involved in the Beltman Child Passenger Safety Program, which seeks to prevent unnecessary injury and death of children in motor vehicles through a program emphasizing instruction, demonstration and positive reinforcement.

"The entire program lasts about 20 to 30 minutes, Patricia Bobko, hospital child life coordinator, explained, "involving five to ten children at a time." A question and answer period and seat belt demonstration follow the film, and pictorial worksheets illustrating the "do's and don'ts" of safe riding habits are distributed.

Those children who successfully demonstrate the proper way to wear a seat belt and who identify the safe riding illustrations receive a Beltman iron-on and a certificate.

"The children are receiving the program very enthusiastically," Bobko said. "Using a super-hero character makes it more fun and easier for children, especially the younger ones, to relate. And the decal and certificate provide an incentive to participate.

"Since it's presented as an educational game rather than a formal lesson the patients are more receptive to the program and they look forward to it since it breaks up the routine of their hospital day."

One month after discharge, Beltman participants are sent a Beltman Brigade membership card and a survey postcard asking whether they are buckling up and if they are encouraging their friends to do the same.

"This not only helps us determine the success of the program," explained Bobko, "it also serves to reinforce what they learned."

The program was developed jointly by the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles, the Office of Highway Safety and the Health Research and Educational Trust of New Jersey, an affiliate of the New Jersey Hospital Association. Funding is provided by the Office of Highway Safety.

In Assembly
DONALD T. DiFRANCESCO

The message from the governor's office at the start of a new year appears to be "politics as usual" as the administration rushes to push a hastily and ill-conceived tax plan through the remaining sessions of a lame-duck legislature.

If you wonder how anyone, particularly a politician, could even mention the word "tax" during a period of double-digit inflation and worsening recession, keep in mind that Gov. Brendan Byrne does not face reelection and does face a $280 million budget shortfall.

Thus the recently announced proposal to levy an unprecedented 5 percent sales tax on professional services (which will affect legal, architectural and accounting fees) and a plan to increase New Jersey's corporate income tax from 7 1/2 to 9 percent. All of this in a state with a reputation for having an unpleasant business climate to start with; and a state which has seen, over the past decade or so, the enactment of a sales tax, an income tax, lottery and gambling taxes and an increase in motor vehicle registration fees, which amounts to a tax on motorists.

By announcing his new taxation plan at session's end, the governor hopes to bypass the committee process, avoid public hearings and force a vote without sufficient time for study of alternatives which involve cutting state spending. The new budget is not due until July, so the timing of this presentation is purely political.

Space does not allow me to list everything wrong with this plan. Let me enumerate just a few of the most outrageous defects.

1. By increasing the costs of professional services, the governor guarantees that consumers will be paying even more for housing and other items—at a time when inflation has eroded our spending power so that most budgets are strained to the limit.

2. In highly-competitive fields such as architectural engineering, clients will simply cross the borders to Pennsylvania and New York to hire firms to work on New Jersey's buildings. The result is further damage in the building trades—at a time when economic growth already is slowing.

3. An increased corporate tax will add to our reputation as a state where it is difficult to conduct business, thus accelerating the rush to the sunbelt and other more "friendly" areas—at a time when the Department of Labor and Industry is undertaking an expensive public relations campaign to attract business to New Jersey.

4. The haste with which this new tax plan was announced to a lame-duck legislature that will not have to face its consequences is an indication that the governor must resort to political maneuvering to sell a proposal that is not accessible to rational argument. The last time this happened we were left with a penal code with glaring omissions that took many months to correct.

5. Further, the governor and a large entourage have spent tax dollars making forays to West Germany, England and Japan to encourage foreign businessmen to base their operations in New Jersey. Must future junkets be scheduled to explain that the cost of doing business here has just gone up?

I am strongly opposed to the Byrne tax package. To balance the budget, we must cut spending, not create new "nuisance" taxes. Spending decisions are too important to be rushed for political purposes.

2 cars looted in parking lot

The cars of two out-of-town residents were burglarized last Friday in the Echo Lakes parking lot, Mountainside, police reported.

A 23-channel citizens band radio and various hand tools, valued at $850, were stolen some time between 6:30 and 8:45 p.m. from a Summit resident's car, police said. The right-vent window was forced open to provide entry.

Two men's suits, a camel's hair coat and other clothing, valued at $700 were taken from a Brookside resident's car some time between 5:45 and 8:40 p.m. Police said the owner told them their car was locked.

All residents and employees in Westfield and Mountainside are covered by the Red Cross-New Jersey Blood Services for their blood needs. Donors may transfer credit for their blood donation to a patient in any hospital in the United States, Canada or Puerto Rico. Alzheimer's Disease victims don't have to be old to be senile

By CY BRICKFIELD

There was a teach-in at the Bethesda (Md.) Public Library the other night. Several hundred interested and concerned people filled every seat in the meeting room, squatted on every available inch of floor space, stood four-deep along the walls, and spilled out the open door into the hallway.

It was neither a political rally nor a protest meeting which sparked such intense interest, but an ailment about which doctors know relatively little and about which the general public is just beginning to become aware. It's called Alzheimer's Disease, and it produces the kind of symptoms which too many people automatically associate with old age and senility as if the two are somehow inextricably intertwined.

The catch—and possibly the main reason so many people were at the meeting in this Washington suburb—is that Alzheimer's Disease is now known to affect not only the elderly, but to strike down younger adults in the very prime of their lives. If you're an Alzheimer's victim, you don't have to be old to be senile.

Originally, the meeting had been initiated by the clinical staff of the National Institutes of Health as an opportunity for families of Alzheimer's patients to learn more about the disease and how they can deal with its ravaging effects upon the lives of them and their loved ones. Thus, a small turnout was expected.

At the same time as the meeting was being announced over Washington's most popular morning radio show, Newsweek magazine was running an article headlined "Epidemic of Senility" in which science writer Matt Clark pointed out the possibility that a person's genes may play a role in determining whether or not he or she is to suffer from Alzheimer's Disease.

"The close relatives of its victims," he noted, "run four times the risk of getting the disease than anyone else. Families with the chromosome abnormality that causes Down's syndrome, or Mongolism, as well as those with a history of cancers like Hodgkin's disease, also seem to have a higher risk."

Consequently, the crowd at the meeting included older people who feared for themselves or whose mates were already suffering from the ailment, middle-aged people who were either worried about their parents or alarmed by the sudden realization that they too were in danger and a large number of young people who appeared to be both curious about this seemingly new-found ailment and genuinely concerned about all aspects of aging.

What they learned was not encouraging. The disease was first discovered and described in 1906 by Alois Alzheimer, a German neurologist. Nearly three-quarters of a century later, modern medicine knows more about the disease and its effects, but doctors are still helpless to prevent, cure or alleviate it.

Alzheimer's symptoms, which doctors refer to as dementia, include demoralizing losses of memory, serious intellectual and speech impairment, disorientation, some loss of physical control, and such personality disruptions as confusion, irritability, restlessness and agitation.

Complicating the situation is the fact that these symptoms often apply with equal accuracy to other neurological and vascular disorders. It is known, however, that nearly two million middle-aged and older Americans suffer from Alzheimer's Disease (a figure which some experts expect to double by the year 2000), and approximately 100,000 people die from it each year. It is thus among the nation's five most fatal ailments.

As the existence of this insidious ailment becomes more widely known, the families of Alzheimer's patients have begun to band together to help each other share the crushing burden the illness imposes. Alzheimer associations already exist in Boston, Columbus, Minneapolis, New York, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Seattle and Toronto, and more are expected to be formed in the near future.

Information about these self-help organizations can be obtained from Marian Emr of the National Institute on Aging, a division of NIH, Bethesda, Md., 20205. A free pamphlet on Alzheimer's Disease is available from NIA c-o Expand Associates, 860 Fenton St., Silver Spring, Md., 20910.

There is, of course, always hope in research, and a considerable amount of research has been going on for years, but much more is needed. Ironically, it is possible that adequate funding will finally become available as more and more of us realize that senility and dementia are not necessarily confined to old age, but are part of a disease that can strike adults at almost any age. Dayton falls to Clark five in title game

BY STEPHANIE COHN
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team placed second in the Union County Tournament held during vacation week.

In the opening game, Dayton defeated David Brearley Regional High School, 58-51. The team trailed, 13-10, after the first quarter and 27-25 at the half. Dayton tied the score in the third quarter and then pulled ahead for good. Coach Ray Yanchus said the team's defensive play and superior foul-shooting enabled the Bulldogs to overcome a nine-point deficit. This turn-about, in which Dayton scored 10 consecutive points, was spurred by Tyrone Hayes.

Dayton was led by Adam Joseph with 20 points and seven rebounds. Anthony Circelli added 14 points and captain Craig Clickenger 12 points and 10 rebounds. Larry Walker, Mitch Toland, Ken Klebous, Ricky Marech, Bill Ventura and Tyrone Hayes scored two points apiece.

In the championship game, Dayton lost, 92-61, to Arthur L. Johnson High School of Clark. The Bulldogs again had a slow start, finishing the first quarter trailing 22-13. In the second quarter, however, the Bulldogs narrowed the gap to three points. In the third period, the Crusaders pulled ahead Dayton never caught up.

Joseph, named to the All-Tournament Team, scoring 22 points against Clark with 11 rebounds. Circelli had eight points, Walker eight points and two rebounds. Albert Gargiulo added six points, sophomore Bob Steir five points and two rebounds, Klebous and Toland four points each and Don Meixner and Marech two a piece. Clickenger had two rebounds, fouling out in the fourth quarter. Jeff Engelhardt had three rebounds.

Bulldogs shock West Orange in conference opener, 55-47

By PENNY LEVITT
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team opened its Suburban Conference season with a surprising 55-47 victory over West Orange last Friday.

The Bulldogs maintained a steady, organized drive throughout the first half of play and during the second half was able to keep the Cowboys in check.

Adam Joseph, who was named to the 1979 Holiday Basketball Tournament all-star team, led the Bulldogs with 17 points. Albert Gargiulo added 11 and Anthony Circelli had four points and four assists.

Craig Clickenger, named "defensive player of the week" for his 10 rebounds, scored four points. "Substitute of the week" Billy Ventura and Kenny Klebous had five points each, Larry Walker added four and Don Meixner one.

Coach Ray Yanchus, pleased with the team's defensive performance, commented, "We had numerous strong offensive spurts yet gave up several good scoring breaks in the first half. The team could save itself work on the court by concentrating on foul shots and utilizing offensive opportunities."

The junior varsity squad, now 3-0, scored a 62-37 victory over West Orange as John Sivoletta finished with 16 points.

The freshman team, coached by Art Krupp, also won Friday, 82-29. Kyle Hudgins had 17 points.

Tomorrow, Dayton will travel to Summit, a traditionally tough opponent in the Suburban Conference. Next Tuesday, Dayton will be host to Millburn in an afternoon game.

Bulldogs blank Summit, 3-0, in pin play

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity bowling team opened Suburban Conference League play at Madison Lanes last Thursday by defeating defending champion Summit, 3-0.

Coach John Swediah used three different lineups to post the victory. Mike Suchomel (207), Steve Klein, Mike Pine, Rich Zirkel and Mike Steinberg opened the match by rolling an 830-891 victory. Ron Zirkel and Tedd Nugent substituted for Suchomel and Zirkel and came through with 243 and 175 games to lead the second game, 861-791. Rich Popper (231) substituted for Klein in the final game to highlight an 892-733 sweep. The Dayton Keglers racked up a 2583-2215 total pin edge.

The Bulldog bowlers take on Caldwell today and bowled against West Orange Monday.

In other league results: West Orange, over Millburn, 3-0, New Providence over Caldwell, 2-1, and Verona over Kenilworth, 2-1.

Improving girls' five falls to West Orange

By David Gold
The Jonathan Dayton girls' basketball team, showing much improvement, was beaten, 53-36, last Friday in West Orange. Dayton is 0-4.

"It was really much closer than the score showed," commented coach Ruth Townsend. "This was the team's best game so far. The Bulldogs are very young but they are learning."

Townsend said the offense, which has been having problems, looked much better. Dayton was paced by Linda Graziano (17 points), Kathy Clarke (13), Debbie Brahm (four).

Dayton, shooting more, was down only by three at the half. Townsend still feels that the team needs work on shot selection.

Dayton's defense showed improvement but momentary lapses and turnovers stymied Dayton, which was hurt by the fast break.

Townsend is pleased by the way the team is improving and its attitude. "The girls know they're getting better," she said.

By CRAIG CLICKENGER
The Springfield Junior Minutemen (4-2) fought off a third quarter rally to defeat Warren, 65-50.

Down 12-11 in the first period, the Juniors spurted to a 29-21 halftime lead. In the third, Warren capitalized on Minuteman foul trouble and cut the deficit to two. The Juniors responded by holding Warren to six points in the quarter.

Peter Petino had his most productive outing of the season with 21 points, 13 rebounds and four steals. Carlos Hernandez, five for six from the foul line, had a 17-point, 10-rebound performance. David Cole had 11 points and four assists.

Couple happy with location of Glen Arden

One reason the U.S. Home Corp. community of Glen Arden, off Aldrich Road in Howell Township, is so successful is that another U.S. Home Corp. community—Candlewood—in Howell has been sold out.

Take Joseph Poliks, for example, who recently moved to New Jersey from Connecticut with his wife, Henrietta, upon being named chief of labor and employee relations at Naval Weapons Station Earle in Monmouth County.

"Neighbors of ours in North Stonington, where we lived for six years when I was supervisor of ship conversion and repair for the Navy at Groton, Conn., had moved to New Jersey and bought a home at Candlewood," Poliks explained. "My wife and I thought we'd like to live there, too, but we learned the place had been sold out."

"Well, our friends told us about Glen Arden. They said we couldn't find better value or better craftsmanship than U.S. Home offered and I must say they've proved quite right. We've been very happy here and, of course, quite occupied landscaping the property and fixing it the way we want."

They purchased the Greenway, a split-level model, one of 5 models offered at Glen Arden priced from $67,490. Their large living room-dining area "is for entertaining friends," they say. When alone, they dine at the table in their spacious kitchen, whose windows overlook the back lawn, and spend most of their evenings in the family room they've converted into a den-library.

Poliks started his career working for the government, then enlisted in the Marines in World War II. Wounded on Iwo Jima, he spent several months in hospitals in the Pacific and Rhode Island, went into a business of his own, then became a civilian employee of the Navy responsible for labor relations, civilian employee benefits, retirement plans and other personnel administration services.

As vice-chairman of the Labor Relations Committee for Southern and Central New Jersey, he serves U.S. bases at Fort Dix, Maguire, Lakehurst and Cape May.

"Glen Arden is ideally located, just off Route 9 near both the Garden State Parkway and I-195," Poliks explained.

The New Jersey Division, one of 22 divisions of U.S. Home Corp., has already constructed more than 6,000 homes in the state. Model homes at Glen Arden may be viewed by taking the Garden State Parkway to Exit 123 and continuing south on Route 9 to Aldrich Road in Howell. Turn right for one-quarter mile and the model area will be on the left.

Pick Of The LPs... IMPROPER ATTIRE: by Billy Falcon (UNION ARTISTS-LA967-H).

Bruce Springsteen once wrote, "and the poets down here don't write nothin' at all, they just stand back and let it all be..."

Born with the same streetwise sense of importance and exploding with the energy of a runaway stallion, Billy Falcon returns with his new album.

When his fellow New York City street poets had given up and "let it all be," Billy moved onward. Taking the pain and immediacy of the streets he transformed those emotions into his debut album, Billy Falcon's Burning Rose, 'Improper Attire,' however, comes along at a time when sensitivity and emotion are once again the prime motivations of rock 'n' roll.

Billy can be as thought-provoking ("Girls," "Burnin'") as he can be raucous ("Someday," "The Fire") as evidenced on Improper Attire.

Falcon has been singing and playing with various bands since he was 10 years old, always moving on when the people around seemed to be standing still.

At the age of 16, he left high school to play rock 'n' roll. "I knew what I wanted to do, so I figured the last thing I needed was school." Billy's father is a New York City cop, and one would think the youngster's father would have given him a hard time about dropping out.

"My parents supported me wholeheartedly."

THE WIZARD OF AHHS.

Enter the world of Benihana. Feel the warmth of the graceful oriental decor, the soft, relaxing samisen music. And get ready for an oriental masterpiece. Ahhh.

Suddenly your chef appears and the feast begins. Prepared on a hibachi grill right before your eyes.

For openers, there's onion soup, Japanese style. Next, crisp, green salad. Sizzling, succulent shrimp. Ahhh.

Then the main course: Your choice of entrees. Like tender boneless breasts of chicken. Specially selected steaks. Plump lobster. Plus fresh bean sprouts, Mushrooms, Zucchini, And onions. Sliced and diced into slender, mouth watering slivers. And rice. And piping hot green tea. Ahhh.

It's a complete dinner—all included in a magical experience you'll never forget. Ahhh.
