Capital outlay budget still remains in doubt

By SAM FINNELL

No meeting had yet been scheduled earlier this week for working out the differences in the recently defeated Union County Regional Board of Education capital outlay budget.

The $310,000 capital outlay portion was defeated in last week's elections, 2,024-1,913, excluding absentee votes. It passed in five towns, but was voted down in Clark, 829-399.

A meeting now must be arranged within two weeks of last Thursday at which the governing bodies of each town will decide on what changes, if any, will be made. Each group must then pass resolutions approving the amount to be raised by taxes. After the groups make their decisions, the regional board has 20 days to appeal the verdict to the state Board of Education.

According to Harold Burdge board secretary, coming to agreement on 1980-81 capital outlay probably will be easier than in 1975 and 1976, when both current expense and capital outlay were defeated. The amount to be raised by taxes for 1980-81 current expense is

James Kehoe, president of the Clark Taxpayers Coalition and elected to the township's Board of Education last week, said the negative vote may have been in response to what taxpayers saw as a contradiction: dropping the almost $75,000 expense of summer school, but budgeting $66,000 for renovating the Arthur L. Johnson soccer field. "That may have sounded like an awful lot of money for a field that's already there," Kehoe said.

He also said that Clark voters were upset over the cutting of summer school and that the board's decision to restore summer school for seniors was not made clear enough to Clark voters. Had the board "highlighted" the makeup classes, which is what Clark voters were more interested in than the enrichment summer offerings, the budget might have passed, Kehoe said.

Kehoe also said that pressure by his coalition to defeat the local budget may have carried over into the regional voting booth. Clark's current expense budget was defeated by about 350 votes.

According to Burdge, the 1980-81 capital outlay figure includes $162,000 for the Arthur L. Johnson School, or more than half of the total. In addition to the soccer field work, capital outlay includes remodeling of automotive shop hydraulic lifts at David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, and Johnson, renovation of the heating system at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield; alterations to locker rooms and remodeling of the ventilation system in a gym at Johnson; handicapped student facilities improvement at Dayton and Brearley; installation of smoke detectors at Brearley; installing fencing around the softball field at Johnson; partitioning of the computer room at Brearley; cable television equipment for Johnson; remodeling of door hardware at Johnson; replacement of lavatory windows at Dayton; installation of a heating system control clock at Brearley; and installation of computer processing equipment districtwide.

Rajoppi has other interests: won't run, blasts party head

Joanne Rajoppi of Springfield, chairwoman of the Union County Board of Freeholders, this week announced that she will not seek re-election in November.

Rajoppi said her decision is based on "other interests I will pursue" when her first three-year term on the freeholder board expires on Dec. 31. She declined, however, to discuss her plans for further political activities.

She coupled her announcement with a strong attack on William Maccarelli, county Democratic chairman, for his "incredible lack of leadership." Rajoppi charged, "He has made no attempt to unite the Democratic Party, protect its image or involve new, qualified people in our party."

Rajoppi first held public office when she was elected to the Springfield Board of Education in 1973. She was vice president of that body before her election to the Springfield Township Committee in 1976. She was mayor of Springfield in 1977.

Stressing that her disagreements with Maccarelli "made my decision easier," Rajoppi said that efforts had been made to have her vote for his appointment as county counsel.

She declared, "Although I have thoroughly enjoyed my service on the board of freeholders and I believe I have effected changes in critical areas, it has been made clear to me that to seek re-election I would have to acquiesce to the dictates of the county chairman, which, quite simply, involves feathering his own nest."

Rajoppi went on to say, "Through innuendo and direct statements these past several months, I have been threatened and told I would not receive the nomination (for another term) unless I do as I was told. Only the naive believe that politics is without compromise. However, I will not be party to a compromise that is dishonorable nor one that does not bring credit to our government or its constituents."

She reviewed developments in Elizabeth, where the county organization has endorsed attorney David Conti to run against Mayor Thomas Dunn in the June 3 primary.

Pointing to Maccarelli's "disregard of the leadership within the City of Elizabeth," Rajoppi stated, "The chairman has slapped the face of Democrats of Elizabeth who speak through their elected leaders."

She also declared, "Maccarelli's threats to Assemblyman Raymond Lesniak that he would be expelled from the party if he runs for mayor are unconscionable, but a familiar tactic to me. I was told the same thing when there was a disagreement on who the director of the freeholder board would be in 1980. I challenged his threats then and will continue to do so."

Rajoppi last January opposed Democratic efforts to elect Freeholder Thomas Dillon of Elizabeth as chairman. She was finally elected to the top post with the support of the four Republicans on the nine-member board.

She concluded her statement, "The Democratic Party has been very good to me over the years and I will continue to support my party. It still remains, in my mind the party of the people and one that must be supported."

Asked to comment on the statement, Maccarelli noted that he had been Rajoppi's campaign manager in 1977. He added, "We don't dictate to anybody."

She decided to quit, and that was her own choice." He declined to discuss the matter further until he could speak with her.

As a freeholder, Rajoppi has served on the Union County Planning Board, Advisory Board on the Status of Women, board of Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside, Union County Employment and Training Council and Board of School Estimate.

She headed the Tri-State Regional Conference on Domestic Violence and helped form the county Advisory Board on Domestic Violence.

12th district residents invited to help choose Dem delegates

Selection of delegates to the Democratic National Convention will commence April 13 at Union College, Cranford, when residents of the 12th

Congressional District meet for a Democratic mini-convention. The 12th district includes all the towns in Union County, except Hillside, Linden and Winfield.

Advance registration for the convention is not necessary. Any registered Democrat or anyone who signs a party affiliation statement at the door will be eligible to take part.

Arthur Wendland, chief clerk at the Union County Board of Elections, said that although he has not yet tallied the party affiliation changes in the county, there seems to be a Democrat-to-Republican trend.

Lee Voorhees, deputy borough clerk and business administrator in Mountainside, said that as of the end of last week "only a handful" of persons had requested the change forms.

At the convention, participants will be put into separate caucuses, one for each presidential candidate and one for an uncommitted slate.

Each caucus will select four men and four women whose names will go on the ballot along with their presidential choice in the primary election, when voters will select delegates to the national convention in New York Aug. 11-14.

Five of the eight will be delegates, three will be alternates.

They will be among 113 delegates and 64 alternates who will attend the national convention from New Jersey.

Mini-conventions for Congressional districts throughout the state will select 77 state delegates and 45 alternates. Another 10 delegates and five alternates will be chosen from among elected party officials by the district delegates June 14. The remaining 26 delegates and 14 alternates will be

Deadline at hand in Easter contest

Youngsters equipped with paints and crayons have been swamping the office of this newspaper with entries in an Easter coloring contest announced last week.

Contestants still have time to color the cartoon published last Thursday and send it in. Entries must be postmarked by today or dropped through the mail slot at Suburban Publishing Co., 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, by tomorrow.

The contest is open to children 12 years of age and under. Eighteen prizes will be awarded.

Vial of Life program to begin in borough

A free program that provides life-saving information in a plastic vial in case of emergency is being made available to all Mountainside residents.

The program, called the Vial of Life, has been developed by the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP). It involves use of a four-inch plastic vial containing health, medical and personal data.

Participants are supplied with a black and white Vial of Life decal to be placed on the outside of their refrigerator at home.

The decal indicates to rescue personnel that the person is a participant in the program and vital information can be found in a vial taped under the top shelf, on the right-hand side.

Inside the vial is a data sheet containing: date the information was recorded, age and name of person, doctor's name and phone number, hospital preferred, known diseases, allergies, medications, emergency phone number and blood type.

A Vial of Life committee has been formed in Mountainside to implement the plan with approval from Mayor Thomas Ricciardi and the Mountainside Board of Health. Funding for the program was made available by a grant from the Schering-Plough Corporation.

The Vial of Life Committee set Sunday, April 27, as the date when the Vials of Life will be distributed. Local clubs and religious organizations have offered to participate. A final meeting of the volunteers who will distribute the vial will be held on Thursday, April 17, at 7:30 at Borough Hall.

Anyone who has not been contacted and would like to participate in the project may contact Elaine Graff, public health nurse, at the Mountainside Borough Hall on Route 22.

Police plan workshop on fighting burglaries

As part of an effort to improve cooperation between Mountainside residents and the borough police department in fighting burglaries, members of the police department will conduct a crime prevention program at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 23, in the Deerfield School cafeteria, Central Avenue.

Residents are urged to attend, according to Detective Steve Semancik, who is running the program along with Detective Sgt. Jerome Rice and officer Richard Osieja.

"The program is based on cooperation," Semancik said. "We're offering something to the community. We hope that the residents in town will take an interest and attend."

Among the subjects to be covered, Semancik said, are suggestions on how residents can keep identification records of their property, a program geared to the spotting of suspicious vehicles and security checks of homes.

The program also may include referring residents to experts on alarm systems if the residents request it, Semancik said. "Whatever information they want, we'll give it to them," the detective said, "or find someone who can."

Similar crime prevention programs have been adopted in other communities, Semancik said. "It's not new," he said. "It's going on all over, and it's been very successful."

"What we're looking for is a good exchange of information," Semancik said.

Information on the event is available from the police department.

FOR THE BIRDS—Andy Tully of Scotch Plains, whose hobby is making bird houses, fashioned 20 of the houses for Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside. The bird houses, mounted on trees surrounding the rehabilitation facility, are visible from all the patient rooms. Here Andy and two young patients, Marco, left, and Mark, think they see a winged visitor heading for one of the houses in the hospital's courtyard.

WHAT'S FOR LUNCH?—The problem of food waste was demonstrated by sixth grade students in the gifted and talented workshop at Deerfield School. Measuring the leftovers from one lunch period are (from left) Steven Birnhak, Kris Raamot and Danny Bell. Working under the direction of enrichment coordinator Irene Buchner, the students measured lunchtime throwaways of bread, milk and meat.

Liquor counts result in fines

Three persons were fined in Mountainside municipal court last week for possession of alcoholic beverages in the Watchung Reservation.

James W. Cole, 21, of Union was fined $40 for possession of alcoholic beverages, $40 for interfering with police, $65 for possession of a knife and $125 for possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. Cole pleaded guilty to committing the offenses on March 18.

Kevin Mahon, 18, and Joseph Bellerio, 18, both of Union, were fined $40 each for possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in the reservation March 11.

Offices closed

The editorial and business offices of this newspaper will be closed tomorrow, Good Friday. All offices will reopen at 9 a.m. Monday.

Holy Thursday, the Office of Tenebrae and Holy Communion, will be observed in a special candlelight service in the sanctuary of the Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside. The Requiem by Gabriel Faure will be performed by members of the Senior Choir of the church and students from the Pingry School. Soloists will be Peg Olson, Fred Stietle and Jud Graham. James Little, organist and choir director, will lead the choir.

The confirmation class will be received into the church before the communion service when the traditional Easter bread with the whole egg baked into it "symbolizing the resurrection," will be distributed.

Members of the confirmation class are Laura Bailey, Lisa Barre, Curtis Graham, Heide Groiss, Glen Bass, Jeffrey Briggs, Barbara Cromarty, Peter Grett, Elizabeth Kappe, Jacquie Kelk, Thomas Laustsen, Nancy Pracht and John Seeman.

VOTERS ARE THANKED

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people in Mountainside who supported my successful candidacy for the Board of Education. To the many people who helped with my campaign, I give special thanks.

It is very heartwarming to know that so many citizens really care about the school system in a constructive way, which will benefit both the children and the community. I look forward to meeting the challenges of the job ahead of me.

DiFrancesco: funds due from Port Authority

State Senator Donald T. DiFrancesco (R-22), called for "immediate action" by the state in obtaining more than $120 million in Port Authority funds earmarked for New Jersey.

The 22nd District legislator said that New Jersey is entitled to additional mass transit funds resulting from toll increases several years ago, but that the administration has made no move to obtain the monies.

"For over a year, millions of dollars for the improvement of our commuter bus lines have been sitting in Port Authority coffers," said DiFrancesco. "Meanwhile, our bus services continue to deteriorate and the Port Authority earns interest that is rightfully ours."

DiFrancesco noted that New York State has already applied its share of the funds to the purchase of new buses. "Had we moved long ago toward improving our commuter equipment, the $120 million expenditure would have qualified us for federal matching funds for additional mass transit upgrading," said DiFrancesco.

DiFrancesco, a member of the Senate Transportation Committee, said plans are being made for committee members to meet with Port Authority officials regarding New Jersey's use of the funds.

HOSPITAL HELPERS—Virginia Cooper (seated), June Riley (center) and Carol Hancock of Mountainside prepare at a recent training session for Overlook Hospital's coming 'phonathon.' During late April the campaign committee intends to call on more than 5,000 friends of the hospital to seek pledges towards the completion of the new Center for Community Health.

Mountainside Scout receives Catholic award

Eagle Scout Erich Wolz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Wolz of Chipmunk Hill, Mountainside, was a recipient of the Pope Pius XII religious award for Catholic Scouts at a special consecrated Scout Sunday Mass in Sacred Heart Cathedral in Newark.

Bishop Jerome A. Pechillo was the principal celebrant and presented the award. The Scout Sunday Mass marked the 70th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Pope Pius XII Award is the second of two religious awards a Catholic Scout can earn by fulfilling requirements relating to the knowledge and practice of his religion.

Similar religious awards have been developed for Scouts of other faiths.

Fourth-graders debate draft, Olympics boycott

Students in Gertrude Rockett's fourth grade class at Deerfield School, Mountainside, took part in two recent debates.

"Resolved: That women be drafted into military service" was the subject of one debate. The team for the resolution consisted of James Downey, Craig Carson, Stephen Heckel and Eric Weinstein. An all-female team argued against the proposal. It consisted of Jañet Wilson, Robin Mishkin, Amy Rose, and Lurlene Harrison. Lauren Bruschi and Karen Lueyk served as timekeepers, and the moderator was Leigh Magnolia.

Mrs. Neil McLaughlin, a Mountainside parent, brought in video-taping equipment and taped the debate.

In the earlier debate, Carson, Downey, Eric Incandella and Jason Rubovitz argued that the United States should boycott the summer Olympics in Moscow. Opposing the boycott were Mishkin, Rose, Wilson and Anne Hollister. Kevin Lake served as moderator, and timekeepers were Eric Weinstein and Ted Roth.

Superwalkers afoot April 20

The Union County chapter of the March of Dimes has called upon all men, women, boys and girls in the Union County area to join in the March of Dimes Superwalk, slated for Sunday, April 20.

Walkers will begin their 30-kilometer (about 18.6 miles) trek at 9 a.m. from Kean College Green Lane parking lot, Union.

Dr. Edward Goodkin, chapter chairman, says that more than 3,000 residents are expected to take part in the Superwalk to demonstrate their support for March of Dimes efforts to prevent birth defects.

"Birth defects are the nation's number one child health problem," Goodkin says. "Each year more than a quarter-million infants are born with mental or physical damage. This nationwide figure includes our own community."

Pledges from the walk will assist March of Dimes programs of research, medical service and education, according to Goodkin. Monies collected will help in the treatment of birth defects incurred by Union County residents.

Further details, are available from the March of Dimes offices at 520 Westfield Ave., Elizabeth, telephone, 351-0320. After 5 p.m., call 355-1686.

GOP duo hits school bus cut

Assemblymen William J. Maguire of Clark and Bob Franks of Berkeley Heights, both 22nd District Republicans, said Gov. Brendan Byrne's recommended budget cut in school transportation aid is "punitive and regressive" and will increase local property taxation if the cuts are not restored.

"Every school district in our legislative district would be penalized under the governor's plan," Maguire said. "A total of $378,995 would be lost if the Joint Appropriations Committee fails to restore the cut." He said Plainfield will lose more than $245,000 and the smallest town, Kenilworth, would lose nearly $2,000.

Franks called the governor's cut "false economy" because it shifts the burden for transportation directly to the property tax. "Our school districts have no discretion in this matter," Franks said. "The transportation must be provided and, with the loss of state aid, the districts have no alternative but to raise property taxes or to cut programs, both undesirable results."

The two Republicans said that Mountainside would lose more than $4,000; $25,000, Scotch Plains; Springfield, $9,000, and the Union County Regional District, almost $14,000.

40 participate in math contest

Questions on the test were based primarily on the fifth and sixth-grade mathematics curriculum.

Cancer drive to start

Byron Dimmick, residential chairman for the 1980 American Cancer Society Crusade in Mountainside, has announced that the crusade will get under way on April 12, when neighborhood volunteers will seek to reach every household in the community.

They will distribute life-saving information about cancer and how to combat it, and will at the same time ask for money to help the society continue its accelerating program of research, education and patient services. Early detection followed by prompt and effective treatment is the most certain existing cure for cancer, Dimmick said.

Area captains who will be supervising the fund-raising and educational drive in Mountainside include Earl Gillman, Mandy Johnson, Ben Juliano, Bill Kennedy, Stuart Lutz and Isabel Patik.

The chairman added that "eight or nine" people have expressed interest in running to succeed Rajoppi. April 24 is the filing deadline for candidates planning to run in the June 3 primary.

Dayton golfers meet Roselle at Baltusrol

By PENNY LEVITT
After an impressive 1979 season—a 11-7-1 record, placing second in the Conference Tournament and qualifying for the States—this year's Jonathan Dayton Regional High School golf team has a tough act to follow.
Captain and three-time letter winner Martin Swanson will lead the squad this season, backed by Jay Davis and Tod Leonard, experienced, knowledgeable golfers. Newcomers working towards positions on the team include Glen Baradack, Frank Kelly, David Luckenbach, Tedd Nugent, Tim Nugent, Robert Schwabb, Brian Silbert, Linda Telscher, Chuck Van Boaschtens and David Wheeler.

Coach Ray Yanchus feels the team has been hampered by two factors so far—adverse weather conditions have allowed only five practices in a month and the golfers are working out on a new course since the U.S. Open is scheduled at Baltusrol Country Club this summer.

Dayton's opening match is scheduled this afternoon at the Baltusrol Golf Club, against Roselle. Monday, the team will compete in a tri-meet with the team will travel to Metuchen Country Club for its third match of the season.

Signups slated in girls softball

The Springfield Recreation Department will hold registration for girls' softball Wednesday, April 16 from 6 to 7:30 and Friday, April 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, 30 Church Mall.
All girls in grades 4 through 8 are eligible. There will be a registration fee of $5 per girl.

Anyone interested in coaching or being an umpire should attend one of the registrations or call the recreation office (376-5884).

Volleyballers debut Tuesday

The Jonathan Dayton Volleyball team will open its season Tuesday afternoon at home against Irvington, as Coach Steve Fenton's squad bids for a .500 season.

Dayton's strengths are speed and quickness but, say Fenton, "players must work on discipline to be competitive."

Dayton has a good team spirit and Fenton is optimistic about the season.

Fenton will be relying heavily on Mary Joe Scuderi, Terry Brand, Caroline Cupido, Sue Sutil, Barbara Goldner, and Dorothy Sullivan. Scuderi, Brand and Cupido are seniors.

Softball squad opens practice

A young Jonathan Dayton softball team has commenced practice for the 1980 season. Under the direction of coach Hope Vallenti, the Bulldogs will be stressing basics.

Valenti expects a lot from Theresa Young, Kathy Clarke, Linda Graziano, Debbie Brahm, Sue Ellen Huelbig, Lyn Zeoli, Kathy Price, Karen Wyszynski, Dorine McCrossen and Jody Sassyway.

JANET GUTHRIE
The first woman to win the Indianapolis 500 race, Guthrie is a professional race car driver. She has won several other major races, including the Daytona 500 and the Talladega 500. She is also a member of the NASCAR Hall of Fame.

Soph starter is hurt in pre-season game

By DAVID GOLD
The Jonathan Dayton baseball team met its first challenge last Monday by playing a 1-1 tie with Governor Livingston in its first scrimmage of the year, but John Sivolella broke his leg on the last play of the game. John would have been one of two sophomores to start for the Bulldogs.

Despite the loss of Sivolella, Dayton coach Bob Lowe was pleased with the game, commenting that his team made good contact at the plate and displayed strong pitching.

Lowe will be relying heavily on his pitching—Joe Policastro and John Baumgartner—citing this as the team's main strength. The Bulldogs' other strong point is morale. "It is tremendous," stated Lowe, who noted that Dayton has acquired not only the ability to pull together and help each other but a winning spirit as well.

The team's inexperience probably is Dayton's major weakness. The Bulldogs only have two returning lettermen.

Thus far this season Lowe has been stressing conditioning and fundamentals. "Each player will be expected to be in, and stay in, shape throughout the season. We demand 100 percent at all times," Stated Lowe. Most of Dayton's practices have been inside where, with the aid of a netting tunnel and a pitching machine, they have worked on such basics as making contact at the plate and bunting.

Bulldog track teams to face Linden today

Only a week away from their first dual meet, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Girls' track and field team was host to an exciting scrimmage with Plainfield last Friday. Head Coach Bill Jones was pleased at the way many of the younger athletes reacted in their first competition. He noted many mistakes yet, he said, "that is what scrimmages are for."

Turning in commendable performances last week were Judi Hockstein, Kathy Rickerhauser and Karen Rickerhauser in the 440 relay; Shirley Salemy and Maureen Kelly in the 880-yard run; miler Janis Levine, twomiler Dana Levinson and hurdler Penny Levitt. Kathy Kelly outstanding in the 880-yard run, Laura Clarke performed superbly in the quarter-mile and long jump and Trish Taylor jumped exceptionally well.

Dayton's boys' coach, Martin Taglienti, discovered last week in a scrimmage against Middlesex that the team still is far from achieving its full potential. There are many changes to be made and lots of work is needed, particularly in the weight events and sprints. The team is battling terrible weather conditions and the track is constantly under water, yet Taglienti feels, the positive attitude and good spirit of the runners will carry them into a winning season.

Dayton's first meet of the season is scheduled today at Linden High School. The boys' squad has beaten Linden and is looking forward to a close meet.

The girls' squad will have the "home court" advantage against Linden. They are up against the Group IV sectional champions in one of their toughest meets of the season.

Netters to face Union Catholic on Wednesday

The Jonathan Dayton boys' tennis team had been working hard in preparation for its opening games against non-conference rivals at Union Catholic Wednesday and Berkley Heights at home next Thursday.

In the past two years, the Bulldogs have beaten Union Catholic by 5-0 scores, and Berkley Heights by 4-1 scores. The netmen are hoping to continue that pattern.

Coach Rick Iacono will probably start: first singles, junior Alan Berliner, who was thirds singles last year; second singles, senior Mark Dooley, first doubles last season; third singles, senior Michael Pine, an active reserve last year; first doubles, sophomore Danny Schlager and junior Steve Bloch, both inexperienced in varsity play; second doubles, sophomore Robert Steir and freshman Michael Berliner. Steir did not compete for last year's varsity; Berliner, following in his brother Alan's footsteps, started at second doubles in his freshman year.

Matysek earns spot on Glassboro roster

Paul Matysek, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, will throw the javelin for Glassboro State's outdoor track team.

Glassboro hasn't lost a dual meet since 1977 and has posted 18 straight victories in the last two seasons. Matysek is a freshman.

Doty on track team

Sophomore Kevin Doty of Springfield is one of nine Susquehanna letterman returning to the university's track and field team this spring. He is a high jumper.

Three matmen all-conference

Three members of the Jonathan Dayton wrestling team have been named to Suburban Conference all-star teams. Named second team all-conference at 129 pounds was Dayton co-captain Steve Tenenbaum, who finished the season with an 18-5-1 record.

Also named second team all-conference was Dayton's other co-captain, Ben Scaturro (141 pounds). Ben's season record was 15-6-1. Ron Butman, who wrestled heavyweight for Dayton, was named to the conference third team.

Anglers invited to help stock, fish for trout

The oldest fishing club in New Jersey, the Union-based Newark Bait and Fly Casting Club, is planning a brook trout bananza. The club will stock the Musconetcong River in Stephens State Park with 200 12-inch brook trout on Saturday, May 3. The public is invited.

In the past, the 73-year-old club was known for its championship casting teams. In recent years it has gained recognition for stocking large trout in public waters. In 1979 the club released nearly 600 large trout. The club stocked trout at Stephens State Park, Saxton Falls and Oak Ridge Reservoir.

The club will stock big brookies in conjunction with its annual trout outing as it has for the last three years. The club will receive its fish from the Musky Trout Hatchery at 8 a.m., May 3, at the main parking lot in Stephens State Park. Anglers are invited to view the big fish and help club members stock them. After stocking chores are done, everyone is invited to enjoy fishing for the big trout.

Trout fishers can help the club make a bigger bonanza by making a donation to the club's trout stocking fund. Checks should be made payable to the club and sent to its treasurer, Al Scott, 105 Milligan Place, South Orange 07079.

STOCKING TROUT—Conservation Officer Glenn Hawkswell of the New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife and volunteer helper Larry Strang release the first trout to be stocked in New Jersey waters for the fishing season, which opens April 12. The first of the 610,000 fish to be stocked in the state's lakes and streams were liberated in Sussex County's Little Swartzwood Lake.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD
With a little luck it will be called the Garden State Women's Soccer League. It will include teams from Bloomfield, Scotch Plains-Fanwood, Westfield, Elizabeth, Bricktown and Union. Yes, I said Union. All the teams are in the building stage of operation and are looking for players who are 18 and older. Beth Dorch of Scotch Plains is trying to have the league kick off its first set of games on April 20. Each squad will play the other five teams once this first season.

If the league gets the sanction it is seeking it will be able to send two teams to a national tournament to be held in Washington: one regular team and an over-30-years-old squad.

The Union team is looking for players. Anyone interested can call Mike Barber at 352-6333. He has taken on the job of coaching the team. Mary Rzepecki of Union is the team manager.

All the cup and league games scheduled for last week were washed out.

In baseball, when the ground is wet you know the game will be called off. Soccer is a little different. Soccer games go on in the rain or snow, if the field is dry or wet, so the Union Lancer boys' team was packed into a van and a station wagon and headed for Staten Island to take on the Silver Lake eleven.

Just at game time it started to pour, and the air still being a little on the cold side, the game was scrubbed. Can you imagine 22 kids on a field ready to play a game when someone comes up and tells them they can't play. It was a noisy trip back to Farcher's Grove.

Hospital sets run for public

The Hospital Center at Orange will hold a Three-Mile Run for Health through Orange Park and Seven Oaks in the City of Orange on Sunday, April 13. The run will begin at 10 a.m. outside the Center's New Jersey orthopedic hospital unit on Central Avenue and will kick off Health Fair '80 at the Center.

Participants can register by calling the Hospital Center, Public Affairs Department, at 266-2025.

Permanent site vital for Olympic survival

By JOESTEIN
While an American boycott of Moscow undoubtedly would spell doom for the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles, the power brokers in Los Angeles act as if the Games are a sure thing four years from now.

The Los Angeles theory is that what happens in 1980 shouldn't have any effect on 1984, that the Afghanistan crisis undoubtedly will be forgotten by then. Perhaps, but you don't suppose that the Russians would merely shrug off having their Olympics undermined, do you?

The first threat to the Los Angeles Games would come from the International Olympic Committee, which hasn't taken kindly to talk of a boycott this summer. The IOC just might strip Los Angeles of the Games out of spite.

Then there's the potential of Russian mischief in 1984—everything from boycotting Los Angeles outright to leading a last-minute pullout of nations within the Soviet sphere of influence.

Now, there's nothing wrong with Los Angeles hoping that all will be sweetness and light in the future and making tentative plans. There's a great deal wrong with spending the profits from something that might never take place and, if it does, probably will run deeply in the red. But that's exactly what's happening in Los Angeles, where, millions of dollars that supposedly will come from 1984 Olympics receipts are being promised to the Oakland Raiders in hopes of luring that club into the Coliseum.

Oh, well, even if the Los Angeles Games don't come off, the taxpayers always can pick up whatever tab the big spenders run up. The Los Angeles power brokers don't really require a means to pay the bills. They just need an excuse to toss around the money.

The Olympics has given them carte blanche.

In face of the withering inflation, it's impossible to know what financial conditions are going to be 12 months from now, let alone 48 months in the future. Yet, most of the planning for the 1984 Olympics is being predicated on 1980 costs.

There can be no accurate estimate of profits when, for example, no one knows what the cost of security will be. In view of the unsettling conditions in the world today, can you imagine how impossible the task would be to protect the athletes and fans if the Olympics had been scheduled in Los Angeles this summer?

A totalitarian state such as the Soviet Union is in a position to provide much tighter security for the Olympics than that which a free society could offer because the Russians don't have to concern themselves with civil rights. Anyone who even looks half-way suspicious in Moscow is in big trouble.

In the United States, suspicions aren't enough. Complicating matters even more is the fact persons of all nationalities, with myriad grudges, move about freely. You can be sure the Russians know who is coming and going in the Soviet Union.

The crackdown on Iranian students in this country underscored how lax our immigration service is at keeping track of aliens. If terrorist networks aren't already active in the United States, what's to stop the gradual infiltration of foreign dissidents as the Los Angeles Olympics grow nearer?

If the Games are to live on, they should be designated for a permanent site, a nation such as Greece, where the facilities are standardized and security methods can be imposed and perfected over the years. Besides the political advantages and added safety, there would be a practical athletic advantage if the Games were held in the same site every four years.

The efforts of athletes competing under the same Olympic conditions could be weighed against each other more accurately. Can we really compare marks achieved in Mexico City with those in Munich or Montreal? Of course not.

A permanent site for the Olympics is the only way to go if the Games are to survive.

NURSING EXPERT — Rosemary Cuccaro, director of the Visiting Nurse and Health Services, shows slides and speaks to members of the union counseling course. The course is sponsored by the United Way of Union County and the Union County AFL-CIO Council Community Services Committee. The course introduces union members to human service agencies in the county so they will be able to refer family or friends to them.

United Way counsels area union members

The United Way of Union County and the Union County AFL-CIO Council Community Services Committee, in a joint effort, are sponsoring the union counseling course.

This course is designed to acquaint union members with the public and private health, welfare, recreation, and character building agencies in our area. The basic knowledge they will receive will enable them to refer a fellow union member, family member, or friend to the right source of help when they need assistance during such emergencies as lay-off, disasters, prolonged strikes or personal problems.

At the last course meeting, union members learned about the Visiting Nurse and Health Services. Rosemary Cuccaro, director, gave a presentation including slides, and answered questions. Union members heard about the services the agency provides. If a friend, family member, or fellow worker should need one of these services, the union member will be able to refer to them.

Visiting Nurse and Health Services is a United Way member agency. It serves residents of Elizabeth, Clark, Cranford, Garwood, Hillside, Kenilworth, Linden, Mountainside, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield, Union and Westfield.

County Chamber to hold reception for legislators

Harry Busch, president of All-State Legal Supply Company, Mountainside, and vice chairman of the governmental affairs department of the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce, this week announced final arrangements for the Chamber's legislative reception on Wednesday evening.

The annual program gives Chamber members, who act as hosts and hostesses, a chance to become better acquainted with city, county, state and federal legislators and discuss pending legislation and-or governmental problems.

All members of the Chamber are invited to serve as hosts and invitations are extended to the state's two U.S. Senators, and three U.S. Representatives, four state senators, eight assemblymen, nine members of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the 15 mayors of Eastern Union County.

The reception will be held at the Holiday Inn-Jetport, Routes 1 and 9, Elizabeth, beginning at 6 p.m. A buffet dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

Assisting Busch in the arrangements are William J. Faella of GAF Corporation, chairman of the county affairs committee; Arthur Cushman of Wilson Jones Company, chairman of the local affairs committee, and John K. Cunningham of Exxon Research and Engineering Company, chairman of the state-federal affairs committee.

Members of the Chamber's Women's Division will serve as official hostesses under the direction of Anne Kinnell of Phelps Dodge Copper Products.

UC sets gerontology unit

A 17-member advisory committee has been appointed for Union College's new gerontology program, it was announced by Dr. Leonard T. Kreisman of Westfield, vice president for academic affairs.

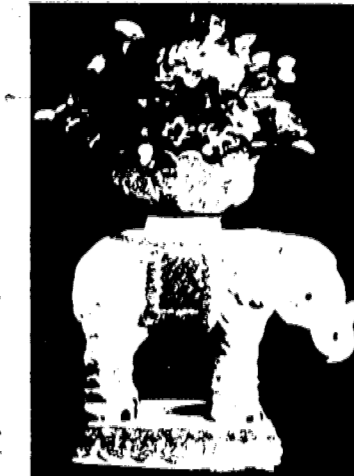

Beginning with the Summer Session, Union College will begin offering a two-year gerontology program as an option in its human services curriculum. The program will train students, who will be graduated with an associate in applied science degree, for work with elderly in social, health, recreation and community organizations serving the needs of the elderly.

Members of the committee include Mona Judge of Linden, Linden-Roselle Multi-Service Center; John Murphy of Roselle Park, Senior Citizens Council of Union County; Evelyn Frank of Union, Senior Citizen Council of Union County and Dean Cynthia Niv of Springfield, Union County Technical Institute.

The committee will advise faculty and staff on the specific needs of the elderly that can be handled by the graduates produced by the college's gerontology program. It will assure that these experts, who relate to the elderly daily, are able to inject on a continuous basis their first-hand knowledge of what students who work with the elderly should be learning.

The Union College degree program, which consists of 64 credits in gerontology, human services and liberal arts, begins with the College's two Summer Sessions.

'Silver lining' in real estate seen by K&B

Judging by the sounds of anguish from home-builders and homeseekers alike, today's real estate market is a forbidding and inhospitable place. Inflated prices, inflated energy costs and inflated mortgage interest rates — when mortgages are available at all — put financial obstacles in the way of new home purchases. And attempts to control costs by cutting corners or compromising quality almost invariably run afoul of home-seekers' expectations.

But the fact is, there are bright spots in the marketplace. And since a good number of these bright spots bear the signature of Kaufman & Broad, America's largest multi-national builder, there may be some lessons to be learned from examining a few of K&B's current offerings.

Michael Gordon, K&B's director of sales and marketing for New Jersey, explains his company's continuing good performance by insisting that "homebuyers still realize that real estate is their best hedge against inflation. Nobody seriously expects a miraculous end to the price and interest spiral, and an increase in the value of a home purchased today is a far more attractive prospect than the increase in shelter costs which a non-buyer will have to face tomorrow. This means that a builder who's got the resources to maintain quality, and the financial strength to obtain favorable mortgage commitments, can do very well indeed — even in today's 'tight' market."

Evidence supporting Gordon's point of view can readily be found in such K&B communities as Sands Pointe, Hanover Commons, and Settler's Landing — all located in the desirable residential area of Barnegat. Homes in all of these developments are selling briskly, and this can be attributed to certain characteristics they have in common.

They are all realistically affordable by the kinds of families for whom their designs are targeted. Prices at Hanover Commons and Settler's Landing are much more modest than the homes to which they are attached. The $43,900 models, for example, offer over 1,400 square feet of well-designed living space, including three bedrooms, 1½ baths, formal dining areas, eat-in country kitchens, family rooms and attached garages.

At Sands Pointe, which offers more luxurious colonial homes at prices starting at $54,900, living space is even more abundant, and a good deal of custom detailing, extra features and appliances are included. Considering the fact that today's average new home purchase has reached the area of $60,000, these residences are clearly exceptional values by present market standards.

And it is equally clear that K&B's enormous purchasing power, experience, and other corporate resources have enabled it to provide a product that few other builders could emulate without adding thousands of dollars to the cost.

Secondly, K&B has obtained the "favorable mortgage commitments" referred to by Gordon, including VA mortgages which require no down payments... F.H.A. guaranteed "graduated" mortgages which enable young families and other individuals with good prospects for income advancement to start out with rates as low as 8½ percent... as well as conventional mortgages with rates several percentage points lower than prevailing levels in New Jersey.

Third, K&B has taken unusual pains to reassure its new home prospects that they will not face burdensome energy costs. In all three communities, superior insulation is provided, together with insulated windows and doors.

And finally, every purchaser is protected by K&B's 10-year Homeowner's Warranty.

Lend sparkle to sweaters by beading them

By ELLEN APPEL

Why not sparkle, quite literally, in glittering beaded sweaters, blouses and dresses.

Beading is especially beautiful in floral patterns. It's also easy to learn, even if you can't bead a straight line. In fact, there aren't any straight lines in the flowers described below. They consist of a circular center and petals made of short, parallel rows.

One beaded flower on a bodice, neckline, shoulder or collar is all you need. Just one flower turns an ordinary garment into a jewel.

Here are directions for the beaded flower.

MATERIALS: Skinny needle, manicuring scissors, embroidery hoop (optional but recommended), thread and tiny beads. You'll find the right beads at craft, sewing and special bead shops. Purchase "seed," "bugle" or "rocaille" beads.

If you're a thrift store shopper, look for an antique beaded garment the next time you shop...preferably one in bad enough condition to give it a low price tag. When you take it home, remove the beads and recycle them for this project. You'll find that antique beads are often more beautiful than beads generally available today.

PREPARATION: Slide embroidery hoop over the area to be beaded. Don't stretch fabric in the hoop. Otherwise, beads will distort the fabric when the hoop is removed.

CIRCLES, OR FLOWER CENTERS: 1. Stitch one bead to the fabric. This is the flower's exact center. 2. Bring needle through the fabric. Thread seven beads onto the needle. 3. Bring needle back through the first bead (a). 4. Pull thread to tighten circle of beads. 5. Lay circle on fabric. 6. Stitch circle in place by taking tiny stitches between the beads (b). 7. If desired, stitch a larger circle, using about 12 beads, around the first circle.

PETALS, OR LEAVES: 1. Bring needle through the fabric at petal bottom. 2. Stitch three beads along petal outline (c). 3. Stitch a three-bead row above the first row. Keep the new row approximately parallel to the first row. Be sure the outside bead in the row is on the petal outline. 4. Stitch rows of three beads along the petal outline. Make rows appear parallel, but adjust each new row's angle slightly to help it bend around the petal (d). If desired, stitch beaded leaves beneath the flower. Beaded leaves are made the same way as beaded petals.

Shadow-quilted pillows can be elegant sculpture

By ELLEN APPEL

Shadow-quilted pillows are truly elegant. Dark shadows outline the designs and turn otherwise ordinary pillows into dramatic, soft sculptures. "Shadow-quilting" is a version of "trapunto," which in turn is a version of quilting. The difference is as follows:

In traditional quilting, you'd stitch through three layers: two layers of fabric, with a flat sheet of stuffing sandwiched in between. In trapunto, in contrast, you'd stitch through the two fabric layers only. Stuffing takes place after stitching.

To stuff a trapunto project, the bottom fabric layer is slit open, stuffed, and then sewn shut. With each section puffed up separately, the effect is soft, yet sculptural.

Shadow-quilting is a three-dimensional as trapunto. What makes shadow-quilting unique is the darkness around each stuffed area. The shadows result from the choice of fabric.

In shadow-quilting, you'd use sheer fabric on top, and dark, opaque fabric beneath. With white stuffing inside, the puffy areas look light through the sheer fabric. At the same time, because the fabric beneath is dark, the unstuffed areas near the stitch lines remain dark. As a result, the outlines appear to be in deep shadow.

Each line, in fact, is so clearly defined that designs show up from across the room. However, because a single layer of fabric actually covers the pillow, color changes are gradual. The overall effect: Elegant.

Shadow-quilting is also perfect for faces. The sheer fabric softens the features. Stuffing creates unique realism.

No matter how intricate or simple your design, you can expect your shadow-quilted pillows to look beautiful on a sofa, bedspread, or anywhere in your home. Here are the directions:

MATERIALS: Two 18-inch-diameter, dark-colored, opaque fabric circles, one 18-inch-diameter, light colored, sheer fabric circle polyester fiberfill, pencil standard scissors, manicuring scissors, knitting needle and sewing supplies.

PREPARATION: 1. Draw your design on the wrong side of one opaque circle. For a flower, draw circles at the center and stylized petals all around. If desired, copy the flower design illustrated. 2. Baste the opaque circle, design side up, to the sheer fabric, right side down.

STITCHING: 1. Machine-stitch design. 2. Pull loose bobbin threads to the opaque side. 3. Knot loose threads together.

STUFFING: 1. With manicuring scissors, slit each stitched section (a). Keep slits small, and far from stitching. 2. Stuff small amounts of fiberfill into the slits. Use less fiberfill for small sections than for large sections. Hint: Don't overstuff any sections. 3. Push fiberfill into corners with the knitting needle. 4. Close slits with slip-stitches (b).

ASSEMBLING THE PILLOW: 1. With right sides together, pin pillow front to pillow back. 2. Stitch one half-inch seam all around. Leave eight inches open for turning. 3. Turn right side out. 4. Stuff pillow. 5. Turn under raw edges. 6. Slip-stitch pillow closed.

THE TRUE WAY TO SAVE MONEY IS SIMPLE...

Buy what you need when you need it... do not take second best because a store is out of stock or cannot get it for you! Don't buy it just because it's on sale or "cheap"... if you do you probably won't be happy with it anyway.

Mostly, look for knowledgeable advice in making your purchase if it is something you are not familiar with. CURTAINS, BEDSPREADS, DRAPERIES AND BATH TOWELS are something you do not buy every day. Use the experience and help our sales people will give you... and then decide if YOU like it. Then, and only then should you make your purchase, knowing that you are getting the correct sizes, colors and styles that will enhance your home, at prices that are usually lower than department store, so called, "sales."

PICK OF THE LP'S, TRIOLOGY, one of the most unique and ambitious recording projects of Frank Sinatra's career released by WARNER-REPRISE RECORDS.

The deluxe three-LP features all newly recorded material, and is the first release by the legendary performer in more than five years.

Record one of the set is titled The Past (Collectibles of the Early Years). With orchestral and choral arrangements and conducted by Billy May, the album's ten selections include such classics as "The Song Is

'CHAPTER TWO' — After whirlwind courtship, recently widowed James Caan and divorcee Marsha Mason tie the knot in Neil Simon's movie, derived from his stage play. You." "It Had To Be You." "Let's Face The Music And Dance." "More Than You Know" and other standards popular when Sinatra was first emerging as a singing talent in his own right after leaving the Tommy Dorsey Band. Most of the tunes on this LP, as well as the other two albums in TRIOLOGY set have been recorded by Sinatra for the first time.

The Present (Some Very Good Years) follows popular music during the period when Sinatra rose to international stardom, the '50s through the emergence of the rock generation. Material recorded by Sinatra for the first time includes Billy Joel's "Just The Way You Are," Jimmy Webb's "MacArthur Park," the theme from "New York, New York," Neil Diamond's "Song Sung Blue," Elvis' "Love Me Tender" and five others. The Present (Some Very Good Years) features orchestral and choral arrangements and conducting by Don Costa.

The third record of TRIOLOGY is titled The Future (Reflections on the Future in Three Tenses). For this unusual glimpse into the possibilities of tomorrow, famed composer Gordon Jenkins, best known for Manhattan Towers, wrote the music and lyrics as well as arranged and conducted this segment of the album set.

'THE BLACK STALLION'—Kelly Reno races his horse across the screen in film with Mickey Rooney, Oscar-nominee. Picture continues at the Strand Theater, Summit.

Beth Israel unit aids critically-ill children

The critically-ill child so vulnerable, so quiet-lies in a narrow white bed, watched over by anxious parents, alert nurses and flickering monitors which record his vital signs.

Medical science reaches its full potential in the new Pediatric Intensive Care Unit at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center (NBIMC), where a team of highly-trained nurses and physicians directs its skills toward the five young patients in the ultra-modern facility which opened officially Feb. 25.

"The variation of problems is incredible; we have everything here you see in medical textbooks," said Dr. Jules Titelbaum, director of pediatrics at NBIMC.

The young patients, from infants to 21, are referred to NBIMC from private physicians and other medical centers in the area. Care begins the moment the youngsters are transported to the Intensive Care Unit in either of two mobile units equipped with life-sustaining machines.

"This unit is the first of its kind in New Jersey to be designed from the beginning, specifically for pediatric intensive care," Dr. Titelbaum explained. "Physical and emotional problems in the critically-ill child are vastly different from those of the critically-ill adult," he noted. "A child's metabolism, response to medication, physiology and endocrinology are different and therefore the medical treatment, technology and equipment we utilize in their care is all different, too," said Dr. Titelbaum.

What is intensive care? According to E.J. Stoner, R.N., coordinator of the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit, it means constant observation and nursing care. "The intensive-care nurse represents a special breed, a professional who knows what to look for in terms of symptoms, someone who can think and act fast," she explained.

In the open, bright unit with sunlight streaming in through every window, there is constant activity as the nursing team administers medications, monitors heart beats, respiration, temperature and blood pressure and performs a variety of special procedures.

The unit also has such special features as humidity control for respiratory infections, procedural lighting, modular monitoring systems with constant readouts at the nurses' station and electronic bed scales.

The patients, who are in full view of the central nurses' station, range from a two-year-old with Reye's syndrome to a four-year-old who aspirated a hot dog. Other patients include a child recovering from major surgery and a youngster who suffered severe injuries in an automobile accident. There is also an isolation room containing a teenager with bacterial meningitis.

But all this medical excellence does not tell the whole story, because the emotional care of the patient is a critical ingredient.

"We emphasize family involvement here and the parents are an integral part of our efforts," said Dr. Robert Werblin, director of the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit. "Parents may visit any time of the day or night, and we have some sleeping accommodations in the pediatric wing as well as chairs that convert into lounges. We want parents to visit often and to play a key role in the emotional care of their child," he noted.

Dr. Werblin and Dr. Titelbaum emphasized the importance of play therapy for the critically ill-child. "As long as the child is conscious, play therapy counts," said Dr. Werblin, who is a pediatric cardiologist. Two highly trained play therapists are available days and some evenings.

The concept of highly-trained specialists is reflected in the wide variety of other professionals who are involved in the new intensive care facility. Pediatricians, pediatric surgeons, pediatric urologists and a full social service staff contribute their expertise at NBIMC. Other areas of special focus include neurology, ear, nose and throat, pediatric infectious diseases, pediatric nephrology, pediatric hematology-oncology, epidemiology, adolescent medicine, pediatric allergy, toxicology, neonatology, pediatric psychology and neurosurgery.

"From the public's point of view, a unit such as this means that children with medical, surgical or traumatic problems, potentially life-threatening situations, can get the expert medical care they need. This means that critical problems can be managed with a high probability of success," commented Dr. Werblin.

Or, as one intensive care nurse said softly, "It all looks so technical and efficient, until your eyes focus on that little form alone in the bed."

TEDDY STANDS WATCH—A four-month-old infant, in traction as part of orthopedic procedures required to treat a congenital urinary anomaly, takes a short nap in the new Pediatric Intensive Care Unit of Newark Beth Israel Medical Center.

'Alcohol' films, seminars

The Union County Council on Alcoholism Volunteers will show four films in April to highlight "Alcohol Awareness Month."

The films to be shown in the first floor auditorium of the Union County Administration Building, 300 North Ave., East, Westfield, include:

"Guidelines," Thursday, April 10, 10 to 11:30 a.m.; "Time For Decision," Monday, April 14, 10 to 11:30 a.m.; "If You Loved Me," Wednesday, April 23, 1 to 2:30 p.m.; and "99 Bottles of Beer," Monday, April 28, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

The Union County Council on Alcoholism (233-8810) has scheduled a series of three Friday seminars for professionals and paraprofessionals in the field of alcoholism promote awareness of alcohol as a drug and alcoholism as a disease.

Pulaski Skyway closed northbound

The state Department of Transportation has announced that the Pulaski Skyway in Newark, Kearny and Jersey City will be closed to northbound traffic through Sept. 30 for deck resurfacing and installation of aluminum barrier curb.

The department suggested that motorists use Route 1-9 (truck) as an alternate route. The southbound lane will remain open at all times.

Kean schedules free film festival

Historical "theme movies, heralded by an art department poster contest, will be shown April 14 to 17 in the sixth annual spring film festival at Kean College, Union.

The festival is free to the public. The opening event coincides with a day-long program marking the college's 125th anniversary.

The films to be shown in J-100, a Hutchinson Hall studio, are: April 14, "Stanley and Livingston" at 1:40 p.m.; "Khartoum" at 7:40 p.m.; April 15, "Aguirre, the Wrath of God," at 1:40 p.m. and 7:40 p.m.; April 16, "SEAT EJECTED IN '42"

The first emergency use of an airplane pilot's ejection seat occurred Jan. 13, 1942, when a German aviator left his plane at 7,875 feet over Reclin, Germany, and landed safely.

Flea mart scheduled

The Parents Club of Union Catholic Girls High School will sponsor a flea market Saturday, April 12, at the Fanwood Train Station, North and Martine Avenues from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

More than 50 vendors are expected to offer collectibles, plants, toys, clothes, etc., for sale. Admission is free. The Parents Club will serve lunch and refreshments. Funds will be used to benefit student athletes.

School store adds hours

The retail store operated by special needs students at Union County Vocational Center in Scotch Plains has expanded hours.

Facing big tax bill? Adjust withholding

Taxpayers facing an unexpectedly large tax bill or receiving a large refund may want to file a new Form W-4 with their employers to adjust the amount of tax withheld from their paychecks, the Internal Revenue Service said.

One of the most frequent causes of insufficient withholding is the two-income family. This is due to the fact that withholding rates are based on the projected taxes due from each individual wage earner. Working couples find that when they combine their income at the end of the tax year on a joint return, the combined income places them in a higher tax bracket.

ALASKAN CHOICE
When Russia sold Alaska to the United States in 1867 for $7.2 million, native residents were told they could move to Russia within three years and become Russian citizens or remain in Alaska and automatically become American citizens.

On the other hand, taxpayers who pay alimony, have large itemized deductions, or are eligible for tax credits, may find that too much is being withheld from their paychecks, resulting in an unusually large refund.

To correct either of these situations, employees should request a new Form W-4, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," from their employers. If not enough is being withheld, taxpayers may claim fewer allowances or request that the employer withhold an additional amount from each paycheck, or if married, indicate that they wish to be treated as a single individual for withholding purposes.

If too much is being withheld, additional withholding allowances may be claimed based on payments of alimony, large itemized deductions, and tax credits such as the credit for child care expenses. The computation of the additional allowances is explained on the Form W-4.

A special withholding allowance may be claimed by taxpayers who have only one employer, or who are married, have only one employer and a spouse who is not employed.

More information on this subject can be found in IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax," available free at local IRS offices or by calling the IRS number listed in the telephone directory. If more convenient it can be picked up at most IRS offices.

Piano recital at UC May 2

The 13th annual recital by Dr. Thomas Richner, concert pianist, will be given at Union College Friday, May 2, at 8:30 p.m. in the theater of the Campus Center.

The event is sponsored by the Friends of the College of Union College.
