2 board seats to be filled mark Tuesday's elections

Mountainside voters will be asked to approve a school budget requiring fewer tax dollars for the 1982-83 school year at the polls Tuesday. In the annual school election, residents will also choose two members for the Board of Education from a field of four candidates.

The total budget of $2,415,982 reflects what is needed to continue the quality educational offerings of the schools and will mean a tax reduction of $129,834 for elementary school purposes, according to a board spokesman.

The budget figure is a reduction in the total proposed in a budget summary sent to residents in February. Following the Board of Adjustment's granting of the Certificate of Occupancy to Vail-Deane School, thus clearing the way for Vail-Deane to rent Beechwood School, the Board of Education acted on March 9 to reduce the budget accordingly. A newsletter, "School Update," to be mailed this week, reflects the new figures of the budget as they will be presented to the voters Tuesday.

The primary reason for the reduction in taxes for next year is that the state has returned $113,623 in minimal aid state funding, which was withdrawn last year and then reinstated by the legislature last summer. This money is being "credited" to the taxpayers by applying it to the expenses of next year's budget.

At the public budget hearing, earlier this month, board members presented the budget as one offering educational value at a reasonable cost. The expenditures increase is well under the state mandated cap and the current inflation rate, but gives the chance to maintain and even improve educational programs with a decrease in taxes.

The budget also reflects a decline in student enrollment, with a reduction in the number of teaching positions and the savings generated by reorganizing into one school building.

The four candidates vying for the soon-to-be vacated Board of Education seats, in order of drawing, are: George F. Serio of Short Drive; Camie Delaney of Pembroke Road; Linda Esemplare of Woodland Avenue and T. Wayne Treece of Longview Drive.

The polls will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, April 6, in the Deerfield School cafeteria.

Regional Board of Education elections will be held from 2 to 9 p.m. April 6. In a field of five candidates, three are incumbents running uncontested for a seat each in Springfield, Mountainside and Garwood. Two first-time candidates are vying for a one-year unexpired term in Berkeley Heights.

Natalie Waldt of Mountain Avenue in Springfield is seeking a sixth three-year term, David Hart of Summit Road in Mountainside, a second term, and John E. Conlon of Hemlock Avenue in Garwood, an 11th term.

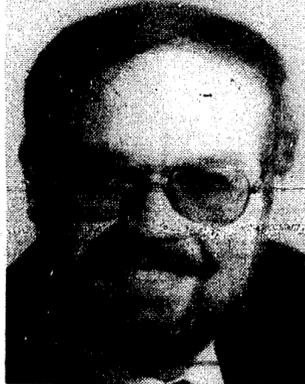

Harold E. Donaldson of Regent Place and Alfred M. Di'Emilio of Crest Drive, both of Berkeley Heights, are seeking the one-year unexpired term left open after the death of a board member.

The current expense portion of the 1982-83 regional budget is $14,627,193. Capital outlay funds are $294,300.

Four vie for pair of board seats

The following statements are based on information submitted by the four contenders for two seats on the Board of Education which will be voted on in the April 6 election. The candidates, in order of drawing, are: George F. Serio, Camie Delaney, Linda Esemplare and T. Wayne Treece.

T. WAYNE TREECE

"I was born and raised in the Midwest and have a B.S. degree in economics and accounting from Missouri Valley College. I have been employed by Chubb & Son Inc. for over 13 years and am currently assistant national manager of the Commercial Inland Marine Department. My wife, Dayle, and I reside on Longview Drive with our sons Steven and Jeffrey, who have graduated from Deerfield, and Todd, who is in the seventh grade at Deerfield.

"I have been active in various groups in town, serving as Parent Participation Chairman in 1981 and 1982 for the Mountainside Little League, Games Chairman for the PTA Fair in 1980 and 1981, and am a member of the Mountainside Music Association.

"If elected to the Board of Education, my goals and objectives are continuing to provide a positive educational environment, a business-like approach to financial matters, opposition between the Board of Education and the community as a whole.

"Quality education is of vital interest to all residents of Mountainside, not just parents. It is important that our educational programs be continued and, where possible, improved, to help our children deal with the complex problems they will face as adults. All of this must be accomplished in the most cost effective manner. Further, quality, local education will help maintain the real estate values in Mountainside.

"The state of New Jersey continues to tell us how to run our local school programs. I will devote all available efforts to fighting against this intrusion by the state.

"Improved communications between the board and all interested parties is essential. This vital link has improved over the past years, but more needs to be done. I will encourage all citizens to take an active interest in the Board's decisions.

"The Board of Education is called upon to make difficult and complex decisions which affect not only our children but the future of the entire community. These decisions require members with sound business judgment. We must continue to streamline the operation of the board whenever possible to promote efficient operations in our school system. I feel that my business experience in management and financial planning, along with my educational background, qualify me for a position on the Mountainside Board of Education.

GEORGE F. SERIO

"I have been a resident of Mountainside for four years. I attended Jersey City State College where I majored in Elementary Education. I was a student teacher in the Hillside, N.J., school system before leaving to take my present position. I am a professional administrator for a multi-million dollar employer's health and pension fund.

"As an administrator for the past 11 years, I have been involved with employee personnel, contract negotiations, investments, purchases, benefit payments and budgets. Most importantly, I know how to operate effectively and efficiently within a budget. I understand the importance of operating a business in our fluctuating economy. I believe with my experience, I have something very special to offer our board, our community, and most especially our children. I believe my qualifications are important assets that are needed in a board member today.

"I have been involved in our community since first moving to Mountainside in 1978. I have been a manager and vice-president of the Mountainside Little League for the past three years. I also coach the Mountainside Football Club. My wife, Carole, and I are the 1982 Co-Chairpersons for the Mountainside Bestowers Organization. We are also involved in the Cub Scout program. I have continuously dedicated my time and energy to our community. I not only take an interest, I participate. I get involved. I accept responsibility. I care what happens in our community.

"I have a vested interest in the Mountainside educational system. We have two children in the school system. George Jr., 9, is in the fourth grade; Eric, 5, is in the kindergarten. I am in favor of maintaining our present level of quality educational instruction. I am proud of our school system. I believe we must try to improve on our current curriculum to meet the needs of our changing world. Society is constantly placing new demands on our children when they leave our schools. We must be sure that they are ready to meet these demands when confronted. We must continue to offer our students the best possible curriculum. We must continue to challenge them with new ideas and concepts. We must stimulate their learning skills. We must continue to educate all our students."

LINDA EEMPLARE

"The Mountainside Board of Education must guarantee all our children a quality education. They must guarantee our community a cost efficient school system, in the face of continued dropping enrollment," according to Candidate Linda Esemplare.

"In September the Mountainside," she says, "the Board of Education will operate one school for a projected enrollment of 510 students. The average class size will be 19. The cost per pupil will be $4,000 based on the 1982-83 proposed budget," according to the board secretary.

Esemplare, a Mountainside resident for 20 years, has supported smaller class size and new programs that were beneficial to the children. Since approximately 20 percent of the homes in Mountainside contain elementary-age children, Esemplare says she believes the Board of Education must carefully analyze the programs, teachers, and materials needed to continue the borough's quality of education. They should evaluate new and existing complementary programs as to the benefits derived by the children. Board members should be knowledgeable about these programs in order to make changes when necessary.

Esemplare has been active in the Mountainside School System, attending board meetings for 14 years before her election to the board in 1978. She worked for the PTA for 11 years — from classroom mother for eight years to Beechwood Vice President for two years. She helped initiate the first PTA advisory councils. Three of her six children completed kindergarten through eighth grade in the Mountainside School System and three are presently attending.

Esemplare says she has the experience, knowledge and dedication to continue "our fine educational system at a reasonable cost."

Board to fill vacant seat

The appointment of a person to fill the one-year unexpired term of Dr. Arthur Williams as a member of the Mountainside Board of Education will be considered at a special meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the board office.

The Board of Education will interview interested persons at the meeting, with a decision expected to follow that evening.

Qualifications for board membership

CAMIE DELANEY

Since moving to Mountainside five years ago, Camie Delaney has been involved in the Mountainside school system. In 1978 she was program chairwoman for the PTA. In 1979 she was executive vice president and was elected president of the organization in 1980. During this period she participated in a range of programs including the T&E (thorough and efficient education) committee that deals with the assessment needs of our district and curriculum, co-chairperson of special educating and a member of the gifted and talented steering committee endeavoring to meet the special needs of children, mini-grant committee to decide on money spent for innovative teaching programs, representative to advisory councils in both schools, and county PTA liaison, which gave her experience with state legislature. She also was co-chairperson for the PTA fair in 1980, the major fund-raiser for this organization. Regular attendance of both agenda and Board of Education meetings, she says, has familiarized her with the intricate working of the budget and other major issues confronting the board. She feels this experience has given her a broad background and understanding of the working of the Mountainside school system on the municipal, county and state levels, and makes her a better informed candidate.

The candidate, her husband, Patrick, and sons, Sean (13) and Christopher (10), live on Pembroke Road in the Beechwood School area. Both Delaney and her husband have been active in the community since moving here. They have been involved with the Cub Scouts, midget football, and Newcomers.

"I care about the children and our community," she says. "I have the energy, the interest and the experience to be an effective and informed member of the board."

Candidates' night fails to spur debate

By J. W. BURNETT

The candidates for Mountainside's Board of Education went before the public Tuesday night and a fairly large assembly of residents came to meet them.

Mountainside's four candidates for the board, Wayne Treece, Linda Esemplare, Camie Delaney and George Serio, went through their opening statements at the public forum in rapid succession, then sat down for questions.

The audience before them, in the Deerfield School cafeteria, nearly filled the room. The moderator for the evening asked the audience if it had any questions, and an ominous silence settled in.

Just before the supposed question and answer period, the candidates gave short speeches on why they wanted to be elected to the Board of Education. Each spoke in turn with the same amount of time given to each.

Candidate Delaney, in her remarks, warned the audience about apathy and said she cares about the community. "I care enough to have been involved with the school system for the past five years," she said, adding, "I know the system and how it works."

"I will bring to the board the knowledge and background necessary to make the difficult decisions facing our schools," she said, noting her involvement on the Thorough and Efficient Education, Special Education, and Gifted and Talented committees.

She concluded by saying "I care about the children and our community; I have the energy, interest and experience to be an effective and informed member of the board."

Esemplare, who is the only candidate who has served on the board before, followed Delaney by reminding the people that she had been first elected in 1978 and told them that at that time she had several goals in mind.

"I wanted a viable alternative to the foreign language program for seventh- and eighth-graders," she said, "who are unable to take a foreign language. In 1980 the board adopted a literature program for those students."

"I wanted compensatory education and supplemental instruction," she continued, "to be given in addition to regular math and English classes, rather than in place of them."

"I believed then, and I still believe now, that all students must be challenged, no matter what their level of learning is," Esemplare said.

"The Mountainside Board of Education must continue to face two important issues: they must guarantee our children a quality education. They must also guarantee our community a cost-effective educational system."

She warned of a developing problem, the dropping enrollment of Mountainside schools, and said the board will soon have to face major staff cutbacks if the decline continues.

Candidate Serio told the people he believed the upcoming election to be of extreme importance and the right person, someone who will "get involved, confront the issues, consider the facts and listen to other points of view" is needed.

"I believe my qualifications are important assets," he said, "that are needed for a board member today. I believe that with my experience I have something very special to offer our board, our community, our school and most especially our children."

"As an administrator for the past 11 years, I have been involved with employee personnel, contract negotiations, investments, purchases, benefit payments and budgets. Most importantly, I know how to operate effectively and efficiently within a budget."

Finally, candidate Treece spoke. "My goals and objectives, if elected to the board, are continuing to provide a positive, quality educational environment, a businesslike approach to financial matters, opposition to state mandates and improvement in communication between the board and community as a whole."

"The state of New Jersey continues to tell us how to run our school programs," Treece said, "I promise to devote as much time as possible to fighting this intrusion from the state."

"We must continue to streamline the operations of our board wherever possible," he said, "to promote efficient operations within our school system; I feel that my business background in management and planning, along with my educational background, qualify me for a position on the Board of Education."

PBA vows to stand behind Della Serra

Sgt. Raymond H. Della Serra, a 19-year veteran of the Mountainside Police Department who was "conditionally" reinstated, three months ago, after being indicted for the illegal purchase of firearms, is being recharged by Police Chief William A. Alder.

In what was described as a "personal vendetta" on the part of Alder, John Olock Jr., Mountainside P.B.A. president, stated in a letter: "The Chief feels that it is his mission to prosecute Sgt. Della Serra, at the taxpayer's expense, for such ridiculous charges as parking in the wrong parking space."

Olock continued: "The most ridiculous charge of all is that Sgt. Della Serra is the reason for the lack of moral in the department. It is this type of unjustified accusations against members of the department by the Chief that have totally destroyed the moral of this department and its effectiveness, not Sgt. Della Serra."

Olock described Alder's practice as "incompetent, unjust leadership." He said the P.B.A. was stifled in their attempts to correct the Della Serra wrong in the past. "When we have asked to speak to the Police Committee we have been refused. When we have gone to the press because no one on council would listen, we are accused of creating a conflict. If we try to talk to council people we are threatened by the Chief with charges for talking to council members. In this new situation created by the Chief it is impossible for us to remain silent."

"This organization, the Mountainside P.B.A., must inform you that we have no choice but to back Sgt. Della Serra legally, financially and morally," Olock continued.

In his attempts to discharge the 49-year-old Della Serra, Alder has brought 29 charges against him, according to Bill Werthiemer, Della Serra's attorney. "He was granted a pre-trial intervention because the charges were not worth major recognition. Although there may have been a criminal violation, it is of such insignificance. The police are not necessarily out of their element despite the fact that he was not arraigned," Werthiemer said.

A Union County court hearing, scheduled for March 29, was postponed until after a hearing before the mayor and council. The borough hearing may commence in April, depending on the schedules of participants. "The hearing is to be open to the public as requested by Della Serra," Werthiemer said.

Alder refused to comment on the situation.

Key Club is sponsoring bike-a-thon on Saturday

SPRINGFIELD—A bike-a-thon to benefit cystic fibrosis will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday at Echo Lake Park in Mountainside. The event is being sponsored by the Key Club at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

A bicycle safety program given by township detective Edward Kisch will begin the proceedings, which will be held near the S. Springfield Avenue entrance to the park.

Prizes for most money raised by participants are: 1st place, an Atari video console; 2nd place, a Sony F.M. Walkman, and 3rd place, a Polaroid camera.

Prizes for riding the furthest include:

1st place, a Sony F.M. Walkman, and 2nd place, an A.M.-F.M. portable stereo.

Mack Camera, United Counties Trust Co. and Federated Electronics have funded the prizes.

Refreshments will be served to participants, who will be raising money through their sponsors for research to help combat cystic fibrosis; the nation's most common genetic killer of children and young adults. Cystic fibrosis is a lung damaging disease characterized by wheezing and persistent coughing.

The rain date is May 2. Further information or sponsor sheets can be obtained by calling Mr. Silverman at 379-4643.

Moore to face charges in court

A three-year veteran of the Mountainside police department who was arrested last week on charges of being in possession of stolen property must answer those charges in court next week, according to reports.

Wesley Moore Jr., 35, of Bayberry Lane, was arrested on charges of the possession of two stolen automobiles at 3:45 p.m. on March 26, after what was described, by David Hancock, Union County Prosecutor's office, as a "fairly quick investigation" by Chief William Alder and Detective Sgt. Jerome Rice of the Mountainside police department and two investigators from the Union County Prosecutor's office, according to reports.

Moore was allegedly in possession of a 1982 B.M.W., valued at $28,000, which was reported stolen about one week ago; and a 1982 Lincoln Continental, valued at $20,000, missing since the latter part of January, Hancock said.

Moore, who was suspended from police duty pending future grand jury action, was arrested at his home. He was released in custody of his attorney and will appear in Mountainside Municipal Court Wednesday, according to reports.

Hypertension clinic set

The Mountainside Board of Health will conduct a blood pressure screening clinic from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. tomorrow in the court room of the municipal building on Route 22.

Of the 23 million Americans who have high blood pressure, at least 30 percent are unaware they have it. Persons should be screened for high blood pressure if they:

- Have not had their blood pressure checked in a year or more.
- Are not under the care of a physician for high blood pressure.
- Have a family history of high blood pressure.
- Have stopped taking blood pressure medication without their physician's approval.

This is a screening test only, noted the board office. A confirmed diagnosis can only be made by a physician. Anyone found to have an elevated reading will be referred to his family physician for a confirmed diagnosis and follow-up examination.

Drowning 'suspicious'

A funeral for Mark Demarest, the 17-year-old Edison youth discovered Monday drowned in the bottom of Surprise Lake in the Watchung Reservation, will be held tomorrow morning.

Demarest's body was recovered from the lake after a near 14-hour search which involved about 20 patrolmen and divers from the Union County Police recovery unit.

According to reports, Demarest was on a Sunday outing with a group of his friends. He was last seen at about 7 p.m., about 30 to 40 feet from the lake's shoreline.

"The death was labeled suspicious. No one saw him go in (to the lake)," Det. Carl Bracaglia, Union County police, said.

The fully clothed body was recovered from 12-feet of water. An autopsy disclosed the cause of death was drowning.

Campaign holds coffee

The Committee to Elect George Serio to the Mountainside Board of Education held its first coffee of the campaign at the Mountainside Elks Club on Route 22.

Campaign holds coffee

Serio express his views and concerns regarding his candidacy.

A broad cross-section of the community was in attendance and took part in a question and answer period, according to a spokesman.

Refreshments were donated by friends and supporters.

Boosters to meet

There will be a meeting of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Booster Club at 8 p.m. today.

Business will include the election of 1982-83 officers and a discussion of the Senior Awards dinner. All members have been urged to attend.

Letter

DELANEY HAS KNOWLEDGE OF SCHOOLS

We sincerely urge the voters of Mountainside to elect Camie Delaney to the Board of Education on April 6. Her extensive knowledge and background of our school system will be a tremendous asset to the board.

Mrs. Delaney has proven her leadership and decision making qualities. It is important in this time of change for our schools, that we have people on the board who are familiar with the operation of our school system. Camie is such a person. Those of us who have worked with her know her to be a fair and honest individual who is always ready and willing to listen.

If you care about your schools and their place in the community, vote for someone who shares your concerns.

CAROLE AND JOHN KOVACS

Rajoppi appointed to national Dem unit

Joanne Rajoppi, former New Jersey assistant secretary of state, has been appointed to the Democratic National Committee's Commission on Platform Accountability.

JOANNE RAJOPPI

Rajoppi, a member of the Democratic State Committee in New Jersey, was appointed by Charles T. Manatt, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

"The Platform Accountability Commission will review the platform process for the purpose of reporting and making specific recommendations to the Platform Committee of the 1984 convention," Manatt said. "Ms. Rajoppi's extensive background in government will be an asset to this commission."

The commission will consider the following:

- Methods of using the platform as a tool to improve the relationship between the National Party, state parties and the electorate.
- Party-building involving Democratic office holders and constituencies in the platform process.
- Using the platform to inform the electorate of the party's ideological and programmatic commitments.
- Encouraging elected officials to share in the platform process and participate in the Democratic National Convention.
- Implementation of a clear expression of party policy.
- Development of a platform that defines Democratic goals.
- Utilizing the platform and its processes to implement the Democratic legislative agenda.
- Evaluating accountability at all levels of the party.

Rajoppi, who served as the mayor of Springfield and freholder director in Union County, said: "I am looking forward to working on this important commission. There is little doubt that what is accomplished by the Platform Accountability Commission will help lay the foundation for the 1984 Democratic Convention and presidential election."

Among those serving with Rajoppi on the 52-member commission are former Congresswoman Yvonne Burke, who will chair the commission; Congresswomen Linda Boggs and Shirley Chisholm; Congressmen Thomas Downey and Mervyn Dymally; Senators Thomas F. Eagleton and Howell Heflin; Governors William Winter, Joseph Brennan and Lt. Gov. Nancy Stevenson, and Executive Director of the National Education Association Terry Herndon.

Fire Tips

Editor's note: The information on home fire prevention and fire safety in this column is provided by the Springfield Fire Department and the Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association Local 57 for the benefit of the homeowner. The following article, the fourth of a series, warns homeowners to be careful when storing gasoline and other fuels that present the danger of an explosion.

Is it worth risking your life, your home and your car just to avoid running out of gasoline?

Now, during spring clean-up time, is a good time to ask yourself that question.

Every consumer who "stockpiles" gasoline exposes his family and his possessions to the real danger of deadly explosion and fire. Household and motorists are hoarding fuel without thinking about the tragedies they could cause.

The more fuel stored in the house and car, the more fuel there is to give off vapors — and to explode and burn in case of fire. It takes just one lit cigarette, one electrical spark or one pilot flame on an appliance to ignite gasoline vapors. And in a flash a vapor filled room or car becomes a flaming death trap.

Be alert to gasoline's danger signals.

Any smell of gasoline in a storage room or automobile trunk is good evidence of a vapor leak in the container and should be taken care of immediately.

If you must store gasoline at home, use only a tight container or safety can — never a glass jug, discarded bleach bottle or other makeshift container.

Store Gasoline Carefully

Keep the gasoline in a well-ventilated area where it can't be tipped or damaged accidentally. Never store it in the basement or in the same room with hot water heating equipment, where a pilot light or sparking switch could set off an explosion of accumulated vapors. This means that home storage areas such as utility rooms and garages shouldn't be used for gasoline if they are the location of heating equipment or of electrical sparking equipment such as freezers, clothes or dryers.

Carrying extra gasoline in the trunk of the car also can create an explosive situation. Gasoline vapors can filter into the trunk where the striking of a match or sparking of the electrical system can set off a powerful explosion.

Use Vapor-tight Container
If spare gasoline must be carried on the road, use a heavily constructed container that is absolutely vapor-tight — again, never a breakable or makeshift container. Approved safety cans, which should be used elsewhere, are designed to vent vapors; this makes them not only unsuitable but absolutely hazardous in an automobile.

Blue, white, yellow? It's new phone book

By LYNN JOFFE
What is blue, white and yellow, has 1,164 pages, instructs people on things from A to Z and includes such helpful details as a survival guide and money saving tips?

Why the 1982 Elizabeth and vicinity telephone directory of course.

The new phone books, compliments of New Jersey Bell, are being delivered now, according to a company spokesman. Inside its covers is a Pandora's box of interesting facts and helpful guidelines to get readers through most any situation by simply letting their fingers do the walking.

an alien phone book is issued to quickly thumb through the pages and make sure their name appears in the right place. However, in doing so they run the risk of overlooking much of the special customer service sections.

The customer service sections, devised and enlarged in last year's directory, was such a success in its first edition that the phone company decided to include it once again. An interested reader may pick up information on how to read phone bills, how to reach Bell System management, area codes, time zones and customer rights and responsibilities in the first 31 pages of the book. A customer service table of contents is located on the first page of the book.

The second section of the book is known as the familiar White Pages — an alphabetical telephone directory. Here is where private residents as well as various companies declare their public call numbers. This year the first entrant is A A Advanced Sewer Cleaning Inc. and the final listing is for Augustus Zzyyquasplikkir.

Following the home listings are the Yellow Pages, which is 16 pages longer this year than last. In fact, the new phone book is 21 pages thicker this year.

In addition to phone listings, the Bell Telephone book, named for Alexander Graham Bell (the inventor of the telephone), outlines nearby communities in a map and offers readers a listing of local postal Zip Codes on the last page.

The book's blue cover is done by the golden dome of New Jersey's State House in Trenton. According to a short history, located on the first page, the first State House was a two-story building erected in 1794. Between 1863 and 1865 some 71 additions to the building changed its structural face. But in 1885 fire damage changed the building's frontal exterior. Four years later as a new wing was completed, the golden dome was added to pinpoint the State House as New Jersey's capitol.

Steckler book helps children learn about rules and laws

"A town is like a big family. People in a town need laws to help keep them safe and healthy...name some things town leaders should make a law about."

That quotation is from "Learning About Rules and Laws," a book for 6- and 7-year-olds by Gail Steckler of Mountainside. Steckler's book was published this year by Judy Skillbooks Division of Silver Burdett Company, which also has published Steckler's "Direction and Location."

Forty-eight pages of activities and exercises tie concepts of rules, laws, directions and locations to the daily experiences of children in first and second grade. The book includes games, puzzles, poems, contracts and maps for use in conjunction with any classroom textbook.

Steckler has experience in education, journalism and advertising. She has been associated for the past two years with Fran Maher Inc., a public relations and advertising agency in Stirling.

Sussko honored

MOUNTAINSIDE—Roger Sussko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Sussko, has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

EXPLANATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR "OTHER EXPENSES"
The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries and Wages."
Some of the items included in "Other Expenses" are:
    - Office supplies and non-automobile equipment
    - Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.
    - Contractual services for garbage and trash removal, fire hydrant service aid to volunteer fire companies, etc.
    - Printing and advertising, utility services, insurance and many other items essential to the service rendered by municipal government.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT
Chapter 68, Public Laws of 1976, places limits on municipal expenditures. Commonly referred to as a "5% CAP," it is actually calculated by a method established by the law.
The budget for 1982 is somewhat complex but, in general, it works as follows. Starting with the figure in the 1981 budget for Total General Appropriations, certain 1981 budget figures are subtracted including the reserve for uncollected taxes, debt service, state or Federal Aid, cash deficit, expenditures mandated per N.J.S. 40A:4-3.3g, etc. Take the resulting figure and multiply it by .05 and this gives you the basic "CAP" or the amount of appropriations increase allowed over the 1981 Total General Appropriations.
In addition to the increase allowed above, other increases are allowed: increases funded by increased valuations from new construction or improvements and from new or increased service fees. Appropriations for the items subtracted in the above list may be set at any necessary level and are not subject to the CAP.
Also, the "CAP" may be exceeded if approved by referendum.
The actual "CAPS" for this municipality will be reviewed and approved by the Division of Local Government Services, Department of Community Affairs, but the calculations upon which this budget was prepared are as follows:

"CAP" CALCULATION

	1981	1982
Total Appropriations for 1981	$2,486,748.72
Modifications:
Less: Total Expenditures Mandated Per 40A:4-3.3g per Certifications on File	$3,745.00
Total All Other Operations - Excluded from 5% "CAPS"	156,050.00
Total State and Federal Programs Off-Set by Revenues - Excluded from 5% "CAP"	36,677.44
Total Municipal Debt Services - Excluded from 5% "CAP"	210,974.00
Total Capital Improvements - Excluded from 5% "CAPS"	20,000.00
Reserve for Uncollected Taxes	4,282,000.00
Total Modifications	900,471.44
Amount on which 5% CAP is applied	$1,786,277.28
5% CAP	$89,313.86
Allowable Operating Appropriations before Additional Modifications per 40A:4-3.3g	$1,875,591.14
Assessed Value of New Construction 1981-900.00 X Local Purpose Tax 5% per hundred	5,805.01
Total General Appropriations Allowable for Municipal Purposes	$1,881,396.15
RECAP OF SPLIT FUNDS
In order to comply with statutory and regulation requirements, the amounts appropriated for certain departments or functions have been split and their parts appear in several places. Those appropriations which have been split add up as follows:
Streets and Roads:
Other Expenses	$4,092.00
Operations within "CAPS"	30,908.00
TOTAL	$34,900.00
Board of Health:

Mandated Expenditures	10,000.00
TOTAL	$16,527.00
Police and Firemen's Retirement System of N.J.:
Operations within "CAPS"	$39,381.00
Mandated Expenditures	$1,619.00
TOTAL	$40,999.25
Maintenance of Free Public Library:
Operations within "CAPS"	$1,800.99
Proceeds from Sale of Municipal Assets	$1,182.00
Offset with Revenue Sharing Interest	$1,182.00
TOTAL	$1,800.99

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT
It is estimated that the 1982 tax rate will be $4.04 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. Following is a comparison of the 1982 estimated rate with the 1981 actual rate:

	1982	1981	Decrease*
County Tax	$ .99	$ .91	$.08
Regional High School Tax	1.25	1.30	-.05
Local District School Tax	1.18	1.14	$.04
Municipal Rate	$3.42	$3.35	$.07
	$4.04	$3.34	$.70

*The County, Regional High School and Local District School Taxes are estimated. The final rates will be established when the Union County Tax Board certifies the rates.

Treasure in old teen magazines

By CHARLES WEBB
If you are a teen-ager, or ever were one, chances are you have read at least one teen-ager magazine, publications such as American Girl, Coed, Right On, Tiger Beat, Teenbeat, Seventeen, Rave and others.

If you still have old copies of such magazines, you could be in luck. At recent auctions, a 1957 copy of Rave sold for $14, a 1962 issue of Dig went for $12, a February 1956 issue of Hep Cats Review brought $17 and a 1956 copy of Elvis Presley Speaks was bid to $79.

The most valuable teenager magazines are the "fan" type. These prominently feature movie and/or recording stars. For example, the November 1972 issue of Teens Now and articles on the top recording artists of the day. Fans of David Cassidy, Tony Orlando and Dawn, Michael Jackson and the Osmond Brothers would find it interesting reading about (and seeing photos of) their favorite singers.

They might also enjoy some of the advertisements. For $2, a person could order four posters of teen-idol David Cassidy. The ad claimed you could put them together to make "the largest David Cassidy poster in the world." A copy of actress Susan Dey's book "For Girls Only" was available for a dollar. Or for the same amount, one could get 500 small stickers which featured a smiling photo of Bobby Sherman. (All of these items might one day become collector's items themselves.)

The most valuable "fan" teen-ager magazines are usually the one-shots. These typically feature a single personality. Those concerning Elvis Presley and/or James Dean tend to be worth the most. Because only one edition is made, they are scarcer than monthly magazines.

Some teen-ager magazines cover more than young celebrities. These "general interest" type deal with concerns of adolescents which can range from skin care to career planning. They are usually NOT as valuable as the "fan" variety.

However, sometimes they contain articles that can increase their potential worth. For instance, movie memorabilia collectors might be interested in the November 1947 issue of Calling All Girls. It featured an article by dancing great Fred Astaire entitled, "The Case Against Jitterbug."

A good place to find buyers for general interest teen-ager magazines is in collector publications such as The Antique Trader Weekly. Buyers for the "fan" type are likely to be found in Goldmine (a record collector's publication) and Film Collector's World.

For a list of publications that purchase romance novels and a few tips on how to submit a manuscript to them, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1 to: Charles Webb, Route 5, Box 367, Black River Falls, Wis. 54615.

Overlook lists rules

New smoking regulations announced for Overlook Hospital are consistent with the two new state laws banning smoking in certain hospital areas.

Overlook's new policy clearly defines those designated areas for patients, visitors, physicians, volunteers and staff members. New signs have been posted throughout the hospital to identify the areas where smoking is permitted.

In the interest of safety, a patient may not smoke in bed without the written consent of the attending physician, and a staff member or a visitor must be present. Smoking is prohibited in semi-private rooms unless both patients smoke. Visitors may not smoke in patient areas, which include hallways, stairways, elevators and waiting rooms.

They may smoke only in the designated areas. George Solovay, chief respiratory therapist, and Mary Arnold, patient relations coordinator, spearheaded efforts for a more effective set of regulations at Overlook, starting their work long before the state enacted the laws.

"We began to review the policy one year ago as a follow-up to the many complaints we received from both patients and staff members," Mrs. Arnold said.

Criteria listed on benefit

An individual's physical or mental impairment must be the primary reason for inability to work in order to be eligible for Social Security disability benefits, according to John H. McCutcheon, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth.

"Moreover," he added, "the physical or mental impairment must be medically determinable—that is, the condition must be subject to verification by medically-acceptable clinical or laboratory diagnostic techniques." Being displaced from a job as a result of technical changes in an industry or being laid off from work because of adverse economic conditions does not make a person eligible for disability benefits, McCutcheon pointed out. "The impairment must be of such a serious nature that the individual is unable to engage in any substantial gainful work that exists in the national economy, regardless of whether such work is available in the immediate area in which the person resides."

Additional information about eligibility requirements under Social Security disability programs may be obtained by calling 800-272-1111.

5 events listed by Hiking Club

The Union County Hiking Club has scheduled five events this-weekend. Bill Kent will lead the 13-mile Jockey Hollow Double Ramble Saturday. The group will meet at the information center at Jockey Hollow National Park, Morristown, at 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. for the hikes. The first is a six-mile circular and the second is a seven-mile hike walk.

The Agony Grind Circular, led by Marie Hoehn, is also planned Saturday. Hikers will meet at the Essex Toll Plaza of the Garden State Parkway at 8:30 a.m. for this brisk paced 10-mile event which features climbs. Rain will cancel the circular.

Sunday, Marjorie Seymour will lead the strenuous 10-mile Johnsonstown Road Circular. The Essex Toll Plaza of the Garden State Parkway is the 8:20 a.m. meeting site with the old Sloatsburg Railroad Station, Sloatsburg, N.Y., as the 9:15 a.m. alternate.

The Far Hills Railroad Station, Routes 202 and 512, Far Hills, is the a.m. meeting place for the Pancake Breakfast Ride Sunday. Audrey Robertson will lead the 35-mile trek which includes a short ride to Pottersville for the pancake breakfast and a scenic trek back.

The weekend's final activity is the Cedar Grove to Paterson Bike Ride. Leader Helene Black will meet cyclists Sunday at the White Castle parking lot, Bloomfield Avenue and Route 23, Verona, at 10 a.m. Bikers can either bring lunch or buy it along the route.

Information about these and other hiking club activities can be obtained by calling the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, 352-8431.

John Osborne's angry, bitter beginnings

By ROSE P. SIMON
Following are the reviews of the recently popular books for Spring reading at the Springfield Public Library.

AN ANGRY YOUNG MAN
"A Better Class of Person,"

by John Osborne.
Son of an English advertising copy writer and barmaid, Osborne grew up in a lower-middle-class environment filled with bitterness, shouting, quarreling, bewilderment and disappointment. He truly disliked his mother for insensitivity and cruelty; his ailing father was a silent ally. Osborne recalls the picaresque of his grandparents (the Groves and the Osbornes) and their eccentric children. Delicate, oversensitive, subject to fainting fits and nervous attacks, the almost friendless youngster was kept out of school a good deal of the time while his mother kept changing their living quarters all too frequently.

Eventually, Mickey Wall became his first good friend in whom John found a cheerful companion. Their chief interests were collecting records and going to the cinema (a refuge). He describes his years at school—a third-rate establishment where he excelled in English literature. He was expelled after an altercation with the headmaster. Plans for a career in journalism were interrupted by a long illness, after which he became ace reporter for the "Gas Works," then the "Miller."

But John's real interest was in the theater. He recounts his initial attempts to act and to become a stage manager, while playing unimportant parts on tour. He describes also his early efforts to write a play and his affairs with several actresses, one of whom he married. Financially unable to remain together, they went their separate ways. The biography ends in 1965, the year Osborne finished his first successful play, "Look Back in Anger."

COURAGEOUS WHISTLE-BLOWERS
"Truth and Consequences,"

by Gregg Mitchell.
This book is about people "who did not go along," but "broke ranks to expose harmful conditions or malfeasance condoned by others." They are neither informers nor muckrakers, nor public advocates, nor critics-at-large, nor traitors. They were among the few in their vicinity who took a stand on principle, acting primarily in the public interest. In each case, these special persons dared to tell the truth about health hazards, crime or corruption.

Two men, employees of the Virginia Electric and Power Co.'s (VEPCO) nuclear plant in Surry, Va., were unhappy about conditions there, and acted to draw attention to them. Radiation leaks from pumps, valves, and outlets; improper measures of radiation levels; inadequately trained personnel, and faulty plant security were only some of the defects they encountered.

There are other dramatic disclosures about rape in prison, cancer (caused by Agent Orange) among Vietnam War veterans, hazardous chemical dumps, corruption among Virginia's officials, and the battle of the Love Canal. Those who sought to tell the truth were in fact punished for their efforts.

A NEW APPROACH TO LITERACY
"On Learning to Read,"

by Bruno Bettelheim and Karen Zelan.
Bettelheim, director at the University of Chicago's Orthogenic School (for seriously disturbed children), hopes that the methods he applied there also might benefit in the education of normal children. For 15 years, he and his assistant were searching for the psychological reasons for normal children's inability to learn to read in school.

By the end of the first grade, most children expect something more meaningful and enjoyable than playing with words, decoding and doing drills. It is necessary, therefore, to supply books which are interesting and worthy of a third-grader's attention.

The authors are critical of the popular texts (there are fewer words added to the vocabulary, more illustrations to detract from the text). They examine reasons for children who resent reading, the magic art of reading, and the need to concentrate on the corners of the child, and not on those of the educational system. They place strong emphasis on the psychoanalytical import of children's errors (misreadings), and how to perceive, reduce or eliminate them if appropriate. A strong case for meaningful primers is presented.

A GREAT LEADER.

"King of Kings," by Malachi Martin
The title of this Biblical novel refers to King David, of 3,000 years ago, who united the Hebrews into a nation for the first time.

The story begins with the birth of David, son of Jesse, who grew up strong and handsome in Bethlehem. The boy learned to write, to sing, to play the harp, to compose songs, to care for the sheep and to wield weapons of war with strength and skill. Indeed, his life became one of great adventures. He was a fearless fighter, powerful conqueror, (Goliath, the Philistines), majestic ruler-king, passionate lover and devoted believer in Adonai.

The saga concludes with plans for the building of the temple and the death of David.

WOOD FINISHING CLINIC—Homer Formby, whose family has been refinishing fine antiques for three generations, will share his wood restoration techniques in a free clinic Saturday from noon to 2 p.m. at Channel Home Center in Springfield.

Signups under way for spring Y classes

SPRINGFIELD—Registration for late spring classes beginning the week of April 26 will open Monday at the Springfield Branch YMCA in the Raymond Chisholm School on Shunpike Road.

Preschool boys and girls can sign up for monkeys, indoor soccer, three, kindergym and dance. For the 5 to 6-year-old, a beginners baseball class will offer instruction outdoors using the Chisholm school field.

A special "springtime fun" vacation program on April 13, 14 and 15 will be given for 4 to 6-year-olds.

The Y will offer a beginner gymnastics program for grades one through four, an intermediate class for grades three through eight and a trampoline class for grades one through eight.

"Sport 'n Swim" for grades one through three will feature a variety of activities followed by a ride in the Y van to the Summit YMCA for a "dip in the pool." Children will return in the van to the Springfield branch.

Outdoor soccer instruction for grades one through six will be given Mondays after school and classes in puppetry, for kindergarten through grade three, drama for grades three through six and sculpture for grades one through six will continue during the next session. Further information can be obtained by calling the Springfield YMCA at 467-4440.

The Summit YMCA at 67 Maple St. also will be offering registration beginning Monday for late spring programs.

Classes for preschool children include: Wise Wires half-day programs for ages 3 through 6; aqua tots for ages 1 through 3, accompanied by a parent; special tadpole learn-to-swim classes for ages 3 to 6; Mommy and me; Daddy and me; tumbling; indoor soccer; kinder-gym swim, and preschool dance.

"Y-on-wheels," the door to door service for residents of Millburn and Short Hills, will continue to bring preschoolers to kindergym-swim twice weekly.

Classes for adults will include water exercise, fitness, back care, scuba, swim instruction and a new JOY aerobics class for women, scheduled for 4:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays.

The Y will offer lacrosse instruction for the first time this spring for ages 3 through 12. Groupings will be by age, and the fundamentals of the sport will be taught weekdays and Saturdays on local fields in New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Summit and Springfield.

Soccer and baseball programs will be offered after school for grades one through six. Swim instruction for grades one through 12, diving, competitive swim training and scuba for ages 15 and above, will be offered.

Classes in drama, sculpture, creative crafts and music also will be offered. Further information can be obtained by calling the Summit YMCA at 273-3330 or stopping at the Y for a detailed brochure.

Waugh novel topic of discussion group

SPRINGFIELD—"Brideshead Revisited," by Evelyn Waugh, will be featured at 8 p.m. April 6 at the public library's monthly book discussion in the library meeting room.

The basis of the current PBS television series, the book tells the decline during the 1920's and 30's of an aristocratic English Catholic family. Published in 1945, it was the most popular work of its author, a member of a noted English literary family.

Waugh lived from 1903 to 1966 and produced travel books and biographies as well as other novels and some short stories, much of his work is satiric, as exemplified in "The Loved One," a farce about a funeral park in Hollywood, but "Brideshead" is serious in theme. The discussion is free of charge and open to the public.

Honors for Glaser

SPRINGFIELD—Caryn Glaser of Springfield and formerly of Mountainside has been selected to the dean's list at the Fairleigh Dickinson University School of Dental Hygiene.

Glaser is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield and the Forsyth School of Dental Hygiene at Northeastern University in Boston. She is a practicing registered dental hygienist and candidate for a teaching degree.

Two are named to posts with UJA

Two Springfield residents have been named to leadership posts in the United Jewish Appeal of Metropolitan New Jersey.

The United Jewish Appeal supports a variety of local, national and international humanitarian programs. Services are provided in the areas of health, education, vocational guidance and training, care for the aged and emigre resettlement. They are offered locally by the Jewish Community Federation of Metropolitan New Jersey through its network of social welfare agencies.

Janice Ganek has been appointed co-chairwoman of the Young Women's sector of the UJA Women's Division. Ganek served previously as associate chairwoman of the Young Women's Division. She is on the board of the Women's Division of the Jewish Community Federation and a member of its Young Women's Education Cabinet. Ganek serves on the board of the Newark Beth Israel Medical Center Women's Auxiliary and belongs to the Brandeis Women's Club. A member and past president of the Sisterhood of Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Springfield, she also has served on the temple's board.

Dr. Leonard Strulowitz will serve his fourth consecutive year as co-chairman of the UJA Optometrists Division. Strulowitz is recipient of the "Man of the Year" award of Congregation Israel of Springfield, where he currently serves as president and has headed the congregational Israel Bond drive. A past member of the Springfield Ethics Committee and the Township's Rent Leveling Board, he holds memberships in the Springfield Lodge of B'nai Brith. Strulowitz is chairman of the N.J. Optometric Association contact lens committee, vice-president of the State Board of Optometry and has written and lectured extensively on contact lens.

Pre-Passover services planned by synagogue

Two traditional pre-Passover services will be offered to the general Jewish community by Congregation Israel of Springfield, 339 Mountain Ave. They will be Mchiras Chomets (transfer of chomets) and Siyum Bchorim (repast of the first-born).

"Chomets" refers to grain, cereal and other products which are not prepared for Passover. Rabbi Israel E. Turner, spiritual leader of the synagogue, has announced that he will make the transfer without charge. Arrangements may be made by a visit to the synagogue between 1 and 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, at 6:15 to 7 p.m., or by calling the synagogue at 467-9666 between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The repast of the first born will be held Wednesday following the morning minyan service which begins at 7 a.m. The repast is scheduled to "remove the fasting obligation from the first-born males or from fathers of first-born sons younger than 13 years of age. Otherwise, they will be required to fast before Passover (Wednesday) in commemoration of the sparing of Jewish first born sons in Egypt when the Angel of Death 'passed over' them on the way to the slaying of Egyptian first-born sons."

Twin daughters, Ashley Lynn Silverman, and Jessica Ann Silverman, were born March 5 in Howard County Memorial Hospital, Columbia, Md. Ashley Lynn weighed four pounds, eight ounces, and Jessica Ann weighed four pounds, six ounces. They join a sister, Shanna, 11 months old.

Mrs. Silverman, the former Lainey Sinnott, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sinnott of Brevard, N. C. Her husband, formerly of Union and Springfield, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Silverman of Florham Park.

Dr. Levine, a trained art historian, has specialized in Jewish religious art. Mrs. Golub is one of the working artists creating Judaica for whom Dr. Levine has served as consultant. Their presentation will deal with the "creative process involved in giving authentic Jewish quality to works of art and at the same time, giving these works educational and conscious-raising value."

Mrs. Golub is the designer of a triptych needlepointed by Sisterhood members which adorns the temple sanctuary. Her textiles are exhibited throughout the country, and she has received commissions to create Torah covers, ark curtains and wall hangings.

Cheryl Glasser, Sisterhood president, has announced that members and their guests are invited to attend the meeting.

Springfield clubwomen are recipient of awards

The Springfield Women's Club received two awards from the Seventh District Creative Arts and Music Festival last week at the Woman's Club of Maplewood.

Mrs. James Diamond won a third award yellow ribbon for a house plant that she had raised, and she received honorable mention for a crewel shawl.

The annual festival features a display of arts and crafts and musical talents of members of the clubs of the Seventh District of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs. A fashion show was held by members of various clubs who modeled their own

Special program set by Temple Beth El

Temple Beth El, 1374 North Ave., Elizabeth, has arranged a special program for its Rabbi Miller Memorial service tomorrow at 8:15 p.m.

Rabbi Jon R. Haddon, director of the School of Sacred Music of the Hebrew Union College, Jewish Institute of Religion, will be a special guest. He will join the temple choir and Thomas Vasilloff, soloist, under the direction of Ken Abell for the Sabbath service, and in lieu of a sermon, he will present "A Panorama of Jewish Music," accompanying himself on the guitar. Rabbi Arnold Gluck will conduct the services.

The literature department will meet Monday to hear a book review at the home of Mrs. Milton Brown of Meisel Avenue, Springfield.

The music department will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Lancaster of Alvin Terrace, Springfield.

"Oberammergau Passion Play 1980, Hope of the World," will feature a program of slides, Bible readings and Passion Play text, presented at a club meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, Springfield. Guest speaker will be Audrey Boise.

GOING FOR IT ALL—Dayton's John Cocchia swings for the fences in one of the Bulldogs' scrimmages last week. Cocchia and Company will try to get off on the winning track on Wednesday when they host North Plainfield at Meisel Field. (John Shaffer Photo)

Bulldogs now getting respect, thanks to 6-game win streak

By RON BRANDSDORFER

Forget the Rodney Dangerfield shtick. The "We don't get no respect" days are in the past tense now for the Dayton Bulldogs, who turned everything around a year ago with a 10-9 season.

And while that was the first winning campaign since 1970, it was even more remarkable considering that Dayton lost its first eight games of the season and needed to win 10 of its final 11—including the last six in a row—to finish above the .500 mark.

That winning streak has made for a happy spring training camp for Coach Bob Lowe and his Bulldogs.

"Yeah, things have changed a bit," began Lowe, recalling the comeback season of '81. "Not only has our attitude changed, but I think the attitude toward us is a little different. We're starting to gain a bit of respectability."

And that's important to the Bulldogs, who remember the dog days all too clearly.

"After we ended so well last year," he continued, "people started believing in these kids. And the kids saw the way it ended, too."

To extend that positive feeling, Lowe managed to put together a challenging pre-season schedule, featuring a long list of Group IV teams in addition to Linden, the defending Group III state champions.

That means that the Bulldogs aren't even talking about .500 seasons and the like. The goals are much different this time around.

"We feel a .500 season isn't even in our realm of thinking," Lowe admitted. "We plan on going a little further. Our goals are to achieve a certain degree of success in the tournaments, something we've never done before. We're looking for a good showing in the conference and to do rather well in the tournaments."

Lowe has every reason to be confident. Despite the switch from the Suburban Conference to the very tough Mountain Valley Conference, Lowe believes he has the kind of lineup that can match the Bulldogs up with anybody in the conference or in the county.

The pitching staff may lack a superstar pitcher like John Baumgartner from last year's squad, but there's plenty of depth and even more talent.

The acres of the staff will probably be seniors Larry Zavodny and Vin Cocchia, with senior Dave Crane, juniors John Cocchia and Doug Torborg—yes, the son of Yankee coach Jeff Torborg—and soph Richie Policastro slated for spot starting and relief duties.

"As far as our pitching staff is concerned," Lowe explained, "these kids throw strikes. None of our pitchers is overpowering, but we've got thinking, control pitchers."

It always helps to pitch when your team is winning, and the Bulldogs should have enough offensive punch to make it easy on the staff.

Look for Kirk Yoggy (.282 last year) to lead off and play left field, with John Cocchia (.400, 6 homers, 18 RBI) batting second and Vinnie Cocchia (.300, 3 homers, 14 RBI) hitting third. The cleanup spot belongs to Crane (.322), who has already smacked six homers in eight exhibition games. And the No. 5 spot will belong to centerfielder Pat Esemplare.

"We're talking some real home run power at two, three, four and five," Lowe said. "And Kirk can sting the ball, get on base and score some runs."

Defensively, Crane will be behind the plate when he's not pitching, with Geoff Bradshaw at first, John Cocchia at second, Vin Cocchia at short and Zavodny at third. And Ron Fusco will be the key man when any of the infielders goes to the mound. He'll move right in at second, short or third.

And the outfield is set with Yoggy in left, Esemplare in center and Joe Roessner in right. Also look for John Amendola, Mike Lies, Tim Black and Richie Policastro coming off the bench.

"We're looking for a very strong hitting attack, very good team speed and very strong defense," said Lowe, whose team did not commit an infield error through eight exhibition games.

The Bulldogs will need that combination, too, considering a tough MVC schedule. But Lowe thinks his team can handle the challenge.

"In the past," he said, "when we played Summit or New Providence or Caldwell, we were hoping to get a split. Not this year. We feel we can beat any team at any time. And that's never been here before."

Now all the Bulldogs have to do is get off to a good start...unlike last season when they lost their first eight in a row.

And game No. 1 is on Wednesday against North Plainfield.

Tough three-game set for Dayton softballers

By RON BRANDSDORFER

If there is such a thing as the perfect blend of youth and experience, Howard Cushnir may have just discovered it.

He'll know for sure in about a week, when Dayton's girls' softball team completes a back-to-back-to-back season-opening series.

"If we get off to a good start through those first three," explained Cushnir of the three-game set against Summit, North Plainfield and East Side, "we'll have an indication of the kind of season we can expect."

"But even more important than that is the first one against Summit," he added, "because that one could set the tone for us. If we play good defense, get good pitching and do our share of hitting, we should be OK."

Actually, that's not Cushnir's strategy solely for Tuesday's season opener against Summit—or Wednesday's game in North Plainfield or even next Thursday's home clash with East Side. If the girls improve their defense, receive effective pitching from their five hurlers and drill some long balls, Cushnir is sure Dayton can improve on its one-victory total from 1981.

The key word is "improvement," though. Cushnir and assistant coaches Mike Tarashuk and Debbie Dino were thrilled with a 55-girl turnout for softball, and ninth grade, junior varsity and varsity teams were selected.

And Cushnir's 17-member varsity team features seven seniors, five juniors and five soph.

"All the girls have been working hard," Cushnir said. "We've been drilling all the players in the basics: throwing, catching, hitting, running, sliding."

The girls also looked "fair" in a scrimmage against Linden, and that has made Cushnir believe that his will be an improved Dayton club.

The pitching staff appears solid with seniors Nancy Kennedy, who could get the opening day nod, Linda Graziano, Diane Grieco, Julie Klubenspies and sophomore Carol Heymann.

And when Graziano isn't on the mound, the four-year standout will anchor the infield with her play at shortstop. Joining her in the infield will be senior Linda Bongiovanni, sophs Heymann, Lisa Geraghty and Michelle Kennedy, and juniors Karen Flynn, Monica Preiss and Kathy Price.

And the outfield will feature soph Lisa Wood, the team captain, plus senior Karen Rickerhauser, soph Linda Benelens and juniors Amanda Wycoff and Donna Keller.

Wycoff and senior Melissa Monticello will probably split the duties behind the plate.

The batting order will probably begin with Wood, Geraghty and Graziano, and Cushnir thinks his team can score some runs if the trio can get on base.

He'll know for sure after this afternoon's game with Summit.

Baron paces b-ball squad

Cheryl Baron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron M. Baron of Central Avenue in Mountinside, was captain of the women's varsity basketball team at Johns Hopkins University.

Currently a junior at the Baltimore school, Baron is majoring in natural sciences. She has also been captain of the field hockey team. A 1979 graduate of Dayton Regional, she was a member of the National Honor Society, as well as playing on the basketball and volleyball teams. In addition, she was president of the Mountinside Sub Juniors Club.

Together, we can change things.

Views On Dental Health

By SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D.

BLEACHING DISCOLORED TEETH

Discolored teeth can be restored to their original color. The discoloration may be caused by the death of the nerve, the use of certain antibiotics (tetracycline discoloration) or overflouridated water. For whatever reason your tooth or teeth may be discolored, there is absolutely no reason to go through life hiding your smile. Such discolorations can be corrected by a simple process known as bleaching.

Bleaching agents are applied within the tooth to remove the stains that are in the dentin. Techniques employing concentrated oxidizing agents have been successful in most cases. This process is used for internal tooth discoloration and not for the removal of surface stains that may be polished off the enamel.

The bleaching process is usually successful but sometimes the discoloration may reappear after a few years and then another bleaching will be required. The process is quite harmless.

Of course, a more permanent cure for a discolored, or deformed tooth is an artificial crown or jacket (sometimes known as a cap).

DINING GUIDE

A COMPLETE REFERENCE OF FINE RESTAURANTS

Happy customers goal at Holiday Inn North

By JIM LEAHY
When I first met John Fetter, general manager and innkeeper at the famous Holiday Inn North located in Newark International Airport, I was, to say the least, impressed. I immediately knew that I was dealing with a man who is a professional restaurateur and has what it takes to make a restaurant a success. I wanted to learn from him and probed, as much as I could, to find out what made him tick. It didn't take me long to realize that John was something special, and my convictions were confirmed when he introduced me to his restaurant manager, Don O'Mara.

The Holiday Inn chain is known internationally for hiring only the best in their particular fields and The Holiday Inn North is no exception. The credentials of Don O'Mara alone would take up the best part of this column if I were to spell them out. The same goes for John Fetter. Both men are indeed in the business of making their restaurant one of the best in the state of New Jersey if not in the entire chain of Holiday Inns.

To keep pace with this "dynamic duo" would be tantamount to trying to keep up with an "SST" in a Piper Cub! They are constantly planning! Whenever they get together there is only one thought they have in common, one aim, and certainly only one goal, and that is, how best to serve the public. Their conversation in my presence has always been directed toward customer satisfaction: "How can we better serve our customers?" "Maybe we should take this item off the menu and add another?" "Are you sure we're doing all that we can to make our customers comfortable?" These are typical bits of conversations, all directed toward constant improvement, and speaking of improvement, The Holiday Inn North restaurant facilities are in for one heck of a major overhaul. In confidence, I was told approximate costs of the project that will take in the dining and banquet areas in the very near future and, believe me my friends, the cost of the renovations to this already attractive facility are massive and, when finished, promise to be absolutely without comparison. There will be nothing like it in the state of New Jersey!

Aggressive management takes aggressive action and in just a few short months, the Holiday Inn North has taken giant strides in several directions. For one thing they have introduced a Happy Hour from 4 to 7 p.m. and have brought prices down to the level of the 1960s. As a result, the cocktail trade has increased about 25 percent. In addition they have hired some of the finest entertainment to be heard nightly from Monday through Saturday beginning at 8:30 p.m. Two of my favorite entertainers, now appearing, go by the stage name of "O'Henry." There isn't a better place I can think of to take your favorite lady to than the relaxed atmosphere of the Holiday Inn North.

What always interests me when I dine at this fine restaurant, besides their wonderful menu and gourmet quality cuisine, is my fascination with people, my fellow diners. What makes this restaurant extra special in my mind, is the fact that the people sitting next to you could very well have just gotten off a plane from some far-off destination, or are about to board one for heaven knows where? After all, the restaurant is opposite the North Terminal of an international airport and is frequented daily by world travelers, people with money and most of all, people who just don't eat in any restaurant. They don't have to, but at any given time, you'll find them there eating the best food money can buy at prices that fit today's economy-minded residents within our circulation area. The point is, you can always tell if the food in a restaurant is good by noticing the people eating there, and in this case, the food is superior and stands up to the quality of the finest restaurants anywhere.

For example, there is a selection of hot or cold appetizers for your dining pleasure even before you order your roast prime rib of beef au jus served to your exact specifications. If that doesn't interest your taste buds, perhaps a tender filet mignon or shrimp scampi with rice pilaf might get your attention? For those with a heartier appetite, the prime boneless sirloin steak (center cut) might interest you; if not, how about the baked stuffed filet of sole, stuffed with shrimps in a cream sauce to tantalize your gastronomical desires? If all of these aforementioned still don't interest you, there's still plenty to choose from, including a rack of rib lamb chops, fried shrimp, chicken cacciatore and much, much more!

If you're looking for that something extra special and really want to treat your lady to a dinner that she won't soon forget, take her to the Holiday Inn North. Follow route 22 toward Newark and follow the sign to the New Jersey Turnpike. Get off at the last exit before the toll and follow the service road right to the front door.

When you do go, don't be bashful, ask to say "hello" to Don or John. If they happen to be around, I'm sure they'll be more than happy to say "hello." By the way, tell them I sent you; I'm sure you'll be more than satisfied and come back time and again.

also offer a Hot Smorgasbord with 4 different hot items on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. for only $5.45. Sound great? You bet it is and it's only part of what to expect from this fine diner/restaurant operated by three guys who go by the names of Nick, Nick and Peter. No pro-

Kean lists its events

Kean College of New Jersey, Union, has listed its agenda for April. "From Our Hands," an art show featuring 11 candidates for master's degrees in studio fine arts, will be displayed April 12 to May 6 in the College Gallery of the Vaughn-Eames Building. A reception will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. April 18 in the gallery for artists and the public. The gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 5 to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursdays. Additional information can be obtained by calling 527-2307 or 527-2347.

'Das Boot' continues

"Das Boot" (The Boat), a German film released through Columbia Pictures, which continues for another week at the Lost Picture Show, Union, is based on Lothar Gunther-Buchheim's best-selling, semi-autobiographical novel, "Das Boot." The Wolfgang Petersen picture follows a daring patrol by U-96, one of Admiral Doenitz's famed U-boats from his send-off party in the Occupied French post of La Rochelle to its return months later. Known as the "gray Wolves," the fleet prowled the North Atlantic, challenging the British Navy at every turn. Jurgen Prochnow stars as the U-boat captain. Featured are Herbert Gronemeyer, Klaus Wenzmann, Hubertus Bengsch, Martin Semmelroge and Bernd Tauber.

"Blow and Other Dances," a collaboration between Peentz Dubble, a dancer, and Jane Ira Bloom, a saxophonist, will be presented April 14 at noon in the College Center Building. There will be no charge for admission.

Joni Lee Jones, a poet and member of the Collective I Theater Co, will give her interpretations of "Harlem Renaissance Revisited," in the Little Theater, College Center Building, April 16 at 12:15 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

Ron Hudson, international guitarist from Guatemala, will perform free of charge April 29 at 12:15 p.m. in the Little Theater, College Center Building.

Paper Mill close to goal

The Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, recently issued a report on its rebuilding fund campaign. It has announced that the three million dollar mark "has been topped" enroute to the goal of $4.5 million.

Producer Angelo Del Rossi has reported that the theater has received "scores of immediate responses to the playhouse's first mailing of its general public list. It is a major boost."

"Those large corporate and foundation grants we are receiving are vital, and there is a long way to go."

With the major season ticket subscription campaign beginning April 1 and the fall reopening approaching, "successful completion of the rebuilding drive becomes a must!" he says.

Art show set in Cranford

A one-man art show, exhibited by Michael Gallagher, will open April 2 and run through April 26 at the Tomasulo Art Gallery, MacKay Library, Union College, Cranford. It will be sponsored by the fine arts department. The hours are Monday through Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m., and Monday through Friday from 6 to 9 p.m.

It will be open to the public free of charge.

Concert set for Edison

The Park Dance Company of the Middlesex County Department of Parks and Recreation will present its fourth annual indoor concert for 11 performances beginning April 2 at 8 p.m. in the Roosevelt Park Amphitheater, Edison. Additional information can be obtained by calling 548-2884.

Operetta set in Bloomfield

The melodies of Franz Lehár's "The Merry Widow," will be played by the Bloomfield Civic Chorus at the North Junior High School, Bloomfield, April 16, 17 and 18.

The fully-staged, costumed operetta with full orchestra will be the 12th operetta in the 48-year history of the musical chorus. Donald Gage is conductor.

Plays slated

The Aspect Theater, a professional traveling group from Bergen County, will present two plays by August Strindberg, "The Stronger" and "To Have Or Not Have A Wedding," at the Ethical Culture Society, 516 Prospect St., Maplewood, April 2 at 8:15 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Festival due on Ritz stage

Richard M. Stickles, dance program coordinator for the Ritz Theater, Elizabeth, has announced that the company selection process has been completed for the Garden State Dance Festival 1982. The festival will be held May 15 at the Ritz Theater and will feature ballet, modern and jazz dance styles.

This year's festival will feature the Princeton Ballet and the Westminster Dance Theater, the resident company at the Ritz. Other companies participating will be the Irene Fokine Ballet Co., Ridgewood; the Renate Boue Dance Co., Montclair; the Center Dance Co., Somerville; Dance Inc., Teaneck; Acanthus Ballet Co., Paterson, and Kean College Dancers of Union.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 352-SHOW.

Annual state fair slated for Six Flags in Jackson

For the first time in its 94-year history, the annual New Jersey State Fair will be held at Six Flags Great Adventure in Jackson Sept. 10 to Sept. 19.

Gov. Thomas Kean and Phillip Alampi, secretary of agriculture, were in attendance when Larry Cochran, vice president of the New Jersey State Fair Corporation, announced plans to bring the State Fair to the Ocean County theme park.

The fair, which features the state's produce and livestock, has been in the family of George Hamid for nearly 100 years. It was first held in Trenton in 1745. The 1750 fair was under the charter of the King of England.

Six Flags Great Adventure is reportedly the nation's largest seasonal theme park. The 1,100-acre park features more than 100 rides, shows and attractions, including the "largest drive-through safari park (with more than 2,000 animals) outside of Africa."

Older Persons' art

The 10th annual exhibit of arts and crafts, sponsored by the Educational Program for Older Persons at the Florham-Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University April 2 to Tuesday.

All work on display has been created by people enrolled in the educational program. Additional information can be obtained by calling 377-4700.

'Oz' planned in Union hall

"The Wizard of Oz" will be presented by St. Michael's Kelly Street Players in the school hall on 1212 Kelly St., Union, Saturday at 8 p.m.

The special unscheduled performance has been made following a standing room four-performance weekend. The classic musical is the 11th annual production of a major Broadway play by the drama group, which includes more than 75 students from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Tickets may be purchased by calling the school office at 688-1063 or at the door.

Ice show planned

National and world figure skating champions will join the Essex Skating Club of New Jersey in its 23rd annual ice show, "Ice-O-Rama," April 16, 17 and 18 at the South Mountain Arena, 560 Northfield Ave., West Orange.

The show, "Cruise on a Love Boat," will feature United States national champions, Elaine Zayak, David Santee, Caitlin and Peter Carruthers, Carol Fox and Richard Dalley, Eliza Spitz and Scott Gregory and Tiffany Chin. One hundred and twenty club members will skate in "Adventures at Sea." The show, choreographed by 1976 Olympic team members, Susan Kelly and Andrew Stroukoff, is a benefit for the United States Figure Skating Association Memorial Fund.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 731-8703.

Salute slated for writers

Two New Jersey songwriters, Irwin Levine of Livingston and Larry Brown of North Caldwell, will be saluted during the second annual presentation of "Dr. Gordon's Medicine Show." The event will take place April 2, 3 and 4 on the Florham-Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Levine and Brown's best-known work, "Tie A Yellow Ribbon," will be used to highlight the show, which is being arranged by Dr. Louis Gordon, professor of music at the college.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 377-4700, ext. 389.

Puppet show set Monday

The Muppets will retell the story of Passover for children Monday at 7 p.m. at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union. Children, three to eight years of age, are invited to come to the Y in their pajamas to see and hear the muppets' story.

At the conclusion of the puppet show, puppeteers' Treasurer and Richard Cohen will play the guitar and sing Passover and Jewish songs with the children. The program will conclude at 7:45 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Renee Drell at 289-8112.

Competition is scheduled

The Livingston Symphony Orchestra will hold its ninth annual young performers' competition for pianists in April and May. The winner will perform as soloist with the orchestra during the 1982-1983 season.

Applicants, who "have reached the age of 16 but not have achieved the age of 21 as of May 8," will be required to apply by April 8.

The finals will be held at Montclair State College.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Carmela Cecere at 635-2345.

three girls and one guy with years of combined studio and touring experience. The vocals are shared by all four singers. Rebecca Hall is a veteran of the Los Angeles and Las Vegas music scenes. She is the lead vocalist of the delights and the voice of the hit, "General Hospital." Rebecca has previously been chosen Top Female Vocalist by Singout magazine.

Suzanne Boucher has toured with Leif Garrett as background singer and is the voice of the American Red Cross National theme song as well as several national radio and television jingles.

Talented Janet Powell completes the trio of female Delights. Her very impressive list of credits include stints on Broadway in the original version of "Hair," "Jesus Christ Superstar" and "Eubie." Janet, also no stranger to the television audience, did several nationally-shown commercials.

Robalee Barnes, the only male member is a perfect compliment to the group. An accomplished professional singer and dancer, Robalee appeared on Broadway in "Hair," "Pippin" and "Don't Bother Me I Can't Cope."

Robalee also is remembered from his parts in films, "Up the Down Staircase" and "Diary of a Mad Housewife." He also has done several TV shows.

Quartets featured

A swing into spring presentation of the Colonia Chorus, local chapter of SPEBSQUSA (The Society For the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.) will be held Saturday at Westfield High School, Rahway Avenue and Dorian Road.

The show, "Melodies and Memories," will feature the award-winning Madison Hill Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., three quartets, "The Ladybugs," "Patent Pending" and "Stage Four," in addition to the Colonial Chorus.

Tickets can be purchased from Jay L. Reiss of Graymill Drive, Scotch Plains, ticket chairman, at John Franks in Westfield, from any barbershopper or at the door.

The Colonial Chorus meets every Monday evening at 8 at the American Legion Hall, 1003 North Avenue West, Westfield.

Oil paintings are featured

The Middlesex County College Art Gallery will feature oil paintings and acrylics by Sandra Morrison of Bloomfield Monday through April 8.

The gallery in the college center is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 548-6000, ext. 327.

Comedy set in Cranford

"The Hot L Baltimore," an Obie Award-winning comedy, will open at the New Jersey Public Theater, 118 South Ave., Cranford, April 2 at 8:30 p.m. It will run through May 8.

The play was written by Lanford Wilson and directed by Richard Dominick. It has a cast of 23 performers. Additional information can be obtained by calling 272-5704.

The next production is "George S. Kaufman's 'The Royal Family'" and will open May 14.

IRS TAX TIPS To Save You Money

■ If you itemize your deductions, be sure not to overlook any—you may be able to deduct the cost of transportation to and from the doctor's office, the rental of a safe deposit box, union dues, uniforms, and donations to your favorite charity, for example.

■ If your income for 1981 is more than your average income for the past four years, try "income averaging." It could save you money. See Schedule G, Form 1040, Income Averaging.

■ If you have interest and/or dividends to declare on your tax return, you may be able to exclude the first $200, (or $400 if married, filing jointly), from the amount.

■ If you itemize deductions and are using the Sales Tax Tables to find the appropriate amount of sales tax to deduct, remember to use your "total available income" which may include some nontaxable items such as social security and welfare benefits, when reading the Sales Tax Table.

■ Order free IRS publications—over 90 topics in all. Use the handy order form in your tax package.

Holistic center lists schedule for spring

Interweave Center for Holistic Living begins a spring schedule of courses and workshops with a women's support group, stress management, T'ai-Chi and two styles of yoga. Supporting Each Other, an ongoing group where women who are trying to balance the various pieces of their lives can find gentle nurture and support, is scheduled six Saturdays, beginning April 3, from 10 a.m. to noon.

A stress management workshop, Easing Down The Road, will be held Saturday, April 3, from 1 to 5 p.m. Six T'ai-Chi Ch'uan Wednesday workshops will start April 7, from 8 to 9 p.m. T'ai-Chi is an ancient Chinese system of slow dance-like motions which lead to physical and mental harmony. Two Sunday 2 to 5 p.m. workshops are planned on the practice of Kundalini Yoga; April 4, The Heart Center, and May 9, Yoga for Couples and Friends. Morning Yoga Exercise five-week sessions are scheduled Mondays and/or Fridays beginning April 5 or 9, from 8:15 to 10 a.m.

All courses will be held at the Parish House of Calvary Church, Woodland and Deforset Aves., Summit. For information and registration, call 763-8312.

Course set on GMATs

Fairleigh Dickinson University will offer two Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) review courses May 1, 8, 15, 22, June 12 and 19 to prepare residents for the GMAT test on June 23.

The courses, being offered on the Florham-Madison Campus and at the Williamson School in Chester, will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m. The cost is $95 plus a $2.50 registration fee.

Checks should be made payable to Fairleigh Dickinson University, and sent to: Fairleigh Dickinson University, Division of Continuing Education, 285 Madison Ave., Madison, 07940.

For further information, call the Division of Continuing Education, 377-4700, Ext. 390.

If pro does taxes, taxpayer liable

The Internal Revenue Service anticipates that, as in past years, about one-half of all federal tax filers will seek the assistance of a professional commercial tax practitioner during this filing season. Taxpayers who pay someone a fee to prepare their 1981 returns for them should be aware of certain legal requirements.

No matter who prepares the federal tax return, the taxpayer is responsible for what is on the return. The IRS advises taxpayers to make sure preparers have all the correct information available to do the return. Beware of preparers who promise refunds or low tax bills before they even know your situation. And never sign a blank return. The law requires commercial preparers to do certain things with respect to the return. Any person who receives a fee for preparing a return must sign the return in the space provided next to where the taxpayer signs. Preparers must also provide a copy of the completed return to the taxpayer.

The IRS suggests that taxpayers take their tax booklet to their preparer. If a refund is due, the return can be processed quicker if the IRS receives it in the IRS envelope and with the peel-off taxpayer identification label on the front of the return. The vast majority of commercial tax preparers, like taxpayers themselves, make a conscientious effort to do the right thing. Just as people assume the role of conscientious consumers when seeking legal or medical advice, so too should they seek to get the best possible service from their professional tax advisor.

The greatest hope for our future comes not from bombs but from brains... the brains of the children we are educating today.
In their heads and in their hearts lies our greatest defense. Defense against tyranny, poverty, prejudice, and ignorance.
If we give our children a bargain basement education, we will get bargain basement brains. And that would be a tragedy for all of us.
We must prepare them for the future by giving them the best possible education. And that's just what our public schools must keep doing.

Rod Frelinghuysen Republican for Congress

a continuing tradition of service...

This tabloid is inserted in the following papers. Bernardsville News, Observer Tribune, Hunterdon Review, Echoes Sentinel, Hunterdon Democrat, Madison Eagle, Florham Park Eagle, Chatham Courier, Morris Plains News Bee, Chatham Journal, Chatham Press, Summit Independent, Short Hills — Millburn Independent, Somerset Messenger Gazette, Sussex Spectator, Netcong News Leader, Springfield Leader, Kenilworth Leader, Mountainside Echo, Union Leader, Suburbanaire, New Providence Berkley Heights Independent.

Rod Frelinghuysen continues a tradition of service to his community.

Rod Frelinghuysen believes that involvement in community service is a vital factor in assuring a better quality of life for our future.

Over the years, Rod has demonstrated his concern for people by his active involvement and leadership in various community groups.

These activities have included:

- United Way, General Campaign Chairman and Board Member
- Morris County Retired Senior Volunteer Program
- Advisory Board, Morris County Association for Mental Health
- Special Gifts Chairman, Morristown Green Renovation Campaign
- Member, Morris County Board of Social Services
- Governor, New Jersey Historical Society
- Trustee, Morristown Memorial Hospital

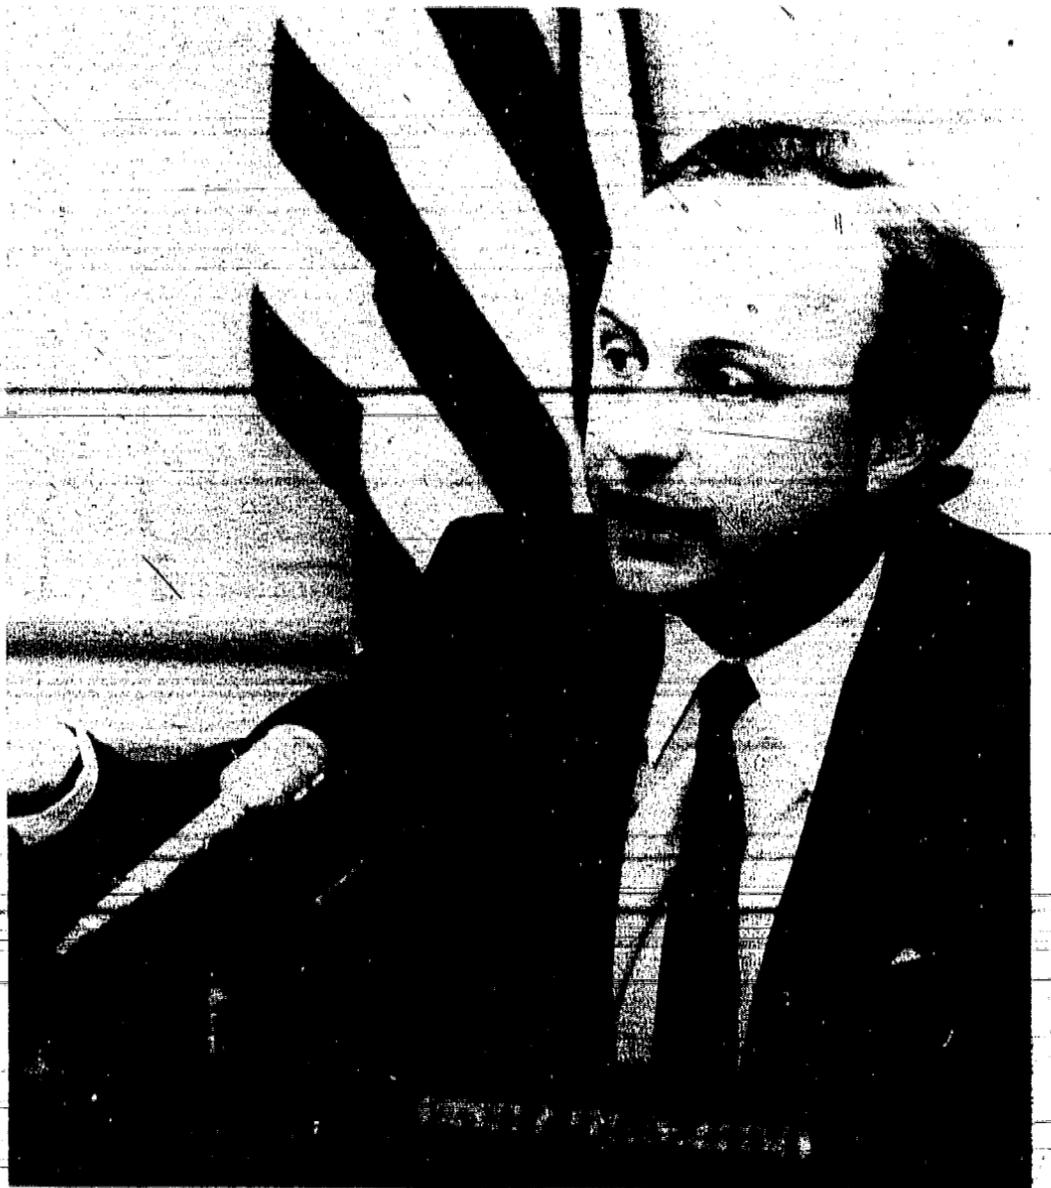

Rod's involvement in community service continues a family tradition and record of concern for improving the quality of life for all.

Rod Frelinghuysen believes in the Republican tradition of a balanced budget.

Rod Frelinghuysen, as a Republican Morris County Freeholder, worked to hold the line on spending and improve fiscal management. The result of Rod's efforts was that Morris County received the first County AAA bond rating in New Jersey.

As President Reagan struggles with the federal deficit problem caused by years of Democratic mismanagement, we cannot expect instant solutions. But Rod believes that a Republican Congress will work to bring the federal deficit under control by cutting unnecessary spending at all levels, including defense. Continued deficits mean higher interest rates, more lay-offs and a sagging and stagnating economy.

As our area's next Congressman, Rod Frelinghuysen will work to bring the federal budget into balance as quickly as possible. Rod will work to get the federal government out of competition with private business for scarce dollars. The same conservative leadership and principles that have stabilized and reduced county spending are needed desperately in Washington. The continued federal deficits will seriously affect both local government and the private sector.

Rod Frelinghuysen believes in the tradition of local control of government programs.

Rod Frelinghuysen wants President Reagan's proposal for a New Federalism to work because ultimately it will return responsibility to the local level where it belongs.

Rod believes that President Reagan's proposals make sense but to implement them correctly the next Congress needs individuals who understand their practical effects on local government.

During the past eight years, Rod has worked as a Morris County Freeholder to coordinate and utilize federal programs effectively. These local control programs have provided effective job training, Senior citizen nutritional sites, support for the open-space program and badly needed assistance for mass transit.

In establishing a new relationship between the federal and local government, Rod believes that we must balance local responsibility for programs with the necessary funding sources to meet those responsibilities. This will require the knowledge and practical understanding that one only acquires through work at the local level. Rod has that experience and he wants to use it to help our area receive its fair share in the next Congress.

Rod Frelinghuysen believes in a tradition of government solving people problems.

Rod Frelinghuysen wants government to tackle those problems that individuals cannot solve for themselves.

Increasingly our Senior Citizens face the financial squeeze of "fixed income" and rising costs. We must assure our Seniors, who have already contributed to the cost of government during their working years, that in retirement they will have decent housing, medical and nutritional care.

Without adequate mass transit, the livelihood of many of our families is in serious jeopardy. The government must continue to find new ways to bring down mass transit subsidies through modernization and improved efficiency. But the continuation of this vital service is a necessity.

Open space once lost can never be recovered. While private resources can continue to do much to improve and expand available land, these efforts will fail without adequate support and help from government.

Rod believes that -

- ... adequate care for the elderly
- ... affordable mass transit
- ... preservation of open space

are just three examples of people problems that government must address.

© 1982 by AMERICAN HARDWARE SUPPLY CO.
American Hardware Supply Co. is a purchasing cooperative for our 3,700 independently owned and operated member-dealer stores. The combined volume purchasing power of these stores enables each store to offer you merchandise at attractive prices. We are able to carry in stock 34 of our merchandise categories over 27,000 items. Despite our modern distribution techniques, factors outside our control, including an unanticipated customer demand may cause any store to be out of an advertised item. But such items or comparable substitutes often can be promptly ordered by the store from our member warehouses in Butler, PA.; Parkersburg, PA.; Greenville, S.C. and Westfield, Mass. The limited availability of any one item may require us to limit the sale of that item. The prices shown are suggested prices to our independent member-dealers; they are subject to change without notice and possession of this advertisement does not obligate us or any store to sell at the listed price.

SAVE WATTS

KNOW how much light you need. Don't use a 100 watt bulb when a 60 watt one will do.

SAVE energy and lengthen bulb life by using a dimmer switch to control brightness.

SWITCH to fluorescent lighting wherever you need bright, glare-free lighting. A 25w fluorescent has the light output of a 100 watt incandescent.
