Beechwood classes create own books

A year-long, school-wide emphasis on writing at Beechwood School has led to a natural conclusion: at least two classes have created their own books.

The Beechwood Publishing Company was formed in Alice Orloff's first-grade class. The children wrote their own stories, with the opportunity to try their hand at the different kinds of literature read during the year: stories, fantasies or informational articles. Their titles are version of "My Book of Stories."

Once the books were written, the students learned the process of bookbinding by doing it themselves, putting together their cover design, table of contents, and stories with illustrations.

Margie Pfeifer's fourth-grade class wrote their books as part of a Young Authors Project. Their subject matter was more varied, with representative titles "Up Up and Away," "My! My! Purple Hair," "The Spider in the Refrigerator," "The Risky Present," "The Super Duper Shrinking Child," and "Suprise!"

Dedications of the fourth grade authors were warm and loving: "Dedicated to my dad for working so hard," "Dedicated to my mom and dad who help me when I'm scared," "Dedicated to my friends who always help," and "Dedicated to my mom and dad, who may not be perfect, but I love them anyway."

This year's focus on writing was labeled "W.I.N." (Write It Now) by its proponent, Principal James Johnson. In their professional improvement plans, teachers zeroed in on a variety of activities designed to improve student writing.

Aware that practice is an aid to writing improvement, the Beechwood teachers made sure each class worked through the process of writing at least twice a month, following the procedure of writing a rough draft, working to improve it, and then preparing a final copy. Throughout the process, student writing would be read aloud and discussed.

Samples of creativity, good work, or individual improvement were given a place of honor on the principal's bulletin board outside the office. Each month, different classes displayed their writing on the main hall bulletin board.

Additional inspiration for the staff came from Johnson and fourth grade teacher Jean Kimak, who attended a workshop in the writing process and then shared ideas with the other teachers.

A visit from a "poet-in-residence" in the fall sparked a new awareness of avenues of writing other than the traditional report or story.

Della Serra takes stand

The Mountainside Borough Council Tuesday night listened to the testimony of Sgt. Raymond Della Serra, who took the stand in his own defense.

The council had unanimously voted to deny the dismissal of all charges brought against Della Serra by Chief William Alder, on the premise that it would not be fair to the community or to Della Serra that only one side of testimony be made. William Wertheimer, defense attorney, had not, up to that point, submitted any defense witnesses, the reason being, he said, that Alder was prejudiced in his charges and that the hearing should be stopped at this point. "You are people who represent the fair Borough of Mountainside and you have the power to stop this from going any further. We have already gone six days too far," said Wertheimer.

Della Serra, who has been on the Mountainside police force for 19 years, stated that his obtaining firearms was for his own personal collection. "It's a hobby that I've been interested in since the age of 5 or 6," said Della Serra.

"Have you ever sold a firearm for a fee or profit?" asked Wertheimer. "No, never," replied Della Serra.

Della Serra went on to state that he had received permission from a former chief (Mullin) to have the guns mailed to the police station instead of his home for "security purposes."

Wertheimer asked Della Serra to express his feelings at the time of his arrest and indictment to the council. "I was shocked ... bewildered ... numb. I was brought to Warren Township headquarters and finger printed. It was demoralizing. I was apprehensive and wondered what had I done to be in such a circumstance," said Della Serra.

Wertheimer went on to ask him what Alder was doing while this was going on. "He appeared to be enjoying himself. He had a smirk on his face," said Della Serra.

"People in the department told me to watch what I did because Chief Alder was out to get me and that he kept track of things to be used at a later date," added Della Serra.

During the testimony by Sgt. Steve Semancik, a member of the force, Wertheimer asked whom the PBA was supporting in this trial. The PBA was behind Della Serra, according to Semancik. When Alder had received word of this he confronted Semancik and said, according to Semancik, "I hope you know what you guys are getting into. The mayor and the council are behind me. I hope you know the consequences..."

"I felt that it was intimidating to myself and the PBA," said Semancik.

In proceedings held June 10, Defense Attorney William Wertheimer painted a verbal picture of what he called the "slanted world that Chief (William) Alder has in regard to the Della Serra case" as he reasoned why each of the 30 charges brought against police Sgt. Della Serra "fails."

Point-by-point, Wertheimer reviewed the charges and asked Mayor Thomas Ricciardi and the council to dismiss the charges. "Do the right thing for yourselves, the citizens of Mountainside and Della Serra by not proceeding one moment past deliberation on the dismissal of these charges.

"Don't let yourselves become pawns in a vendetta," Wertheimer urged.

Wertheimer discussed the "reasonableness" of Della Serra's actions in several of the charges dealing with the misconduct of a police officer.

He pointed out in each situation Della Serra acted on his "common sense."

The defense argued there was "no burden of proof" established by the prosecution (Attorney John Philips) and therefore the charges were "invalid."

"There has been no burden of proof in this case that Sgt. Della Serra has conducted a private firearms business," Wertheimer said.

Of a charge dealing with Della Serra's knowledge and disregard of correct procedures and permits needed to sell firearms, Wertheimer contended: "You can't find knowledge. You can't find criminal intent. The very testimony and evidence in front of you belies the charges."

In discussing Alder, Wertheimer said: "The man has demonstrated that he is blind when it comes to Sgt. Della Serra ... He admitted right before you his desire to get Sgt. Della Serra."

During the continued testimony of Lt. Joseph Mazur, a Mountainside police officer for 23 years, Mazur said he did not take disciplinary action against Della Serra for refusing to perform a road assignment during 1980 (when Mazur was the "acting police chief"). The refusal was one of the charges Alder brought against Della Serra. "You would agree then that it is obvious the alleged incidents took place before Chief Alder was chief?" Wertheimer asked. "Yes," Mazur responded.

Wertheimer continued to ask Mazur if he had had any conversations with Alder about the incident that triggered the 30 charges against Della Serra — that of receiving a package at work. "Did you tell him (Alder) that you believed the packaged contained a long gun or some type of firearm?" Wertheimer asked. Mazur answered: "No." According to Wertheimer, Alder's testimony before the grand jury stated that Mazur said to Alder he believed the package contained a long gun or some type of firearm.

The hearing was to continue last night and will continue tonight from 6 p.m. to midnight.

Regional draws up ordinance

BY J.W. BURNETT
The parking lot of David Brearley Regional High School will soon legally be considered a street for safety reasons as a result of action by the Regional Board of Education and the Borough of Kenilworth.

The action, to control traffic on the school driveway and in the lot, is being taken because, according to Joe Malt, principal of David Brearley, "we're afraid someone will get hit."

During Tuesday night's board meeting, Franz Skok, board counsel, presented an ordinance that will be sent to the Kenilworth Borough Council for action.

"The borough is willing to go ahead and pass the ordinance for us," said Malt, "so that the parking lot and the roadway can be patrolled. They are just waiting for the board to approve this."

Questioning Malt, Charles Vitale, board member, asked: "If my memory serves me right, wasn't one of the original motivations for this proposal the fact that students were loitering with their cars and parking on weekends?" Malt responded: "That's part of it."

"Well now is this ordinance going to correct that problem?" Vitale asked. "It should," responded Malt, "(the police) can come in now and enforce loitering laws and anything else just like they could on the Boulevard. In effect our driveway becomes a street."

"Mr. Skok, do I hear a yes from you also? Will this ordinance correct the problem with students and the people park their cars here on the weekend and loitering and causing a nuisance?" Vitale asked the board attorney.

"Well, it will provide a tool for the borough police to attempt to correct the problem. It can only be as effective as their enforcement," responded Skok.

"But will it give the police the authority to come in here and say you must leave?" asked Vitale.

"It will give the police the authority to regulate the movement in terms of speed and the movement in terms of where they park," said Skok.

"It will not permit the police to ticket a vehicle that is coming through here on a Saturday in the right direction and would like to park in the right area," he said.

Vitale asked about people who might be making a disturbance on school grounds and Skok responded that they would fall under the borough's loitering laws. Skok said that such laws apply on school grounds as well as in other parts of the borough.

"They have the authority to enforce all laws on school property. This is not a sanctuary like a church was in medieval times where if someone gets on our property they are exempt from the law," Skok said.

Skok emphasized the proposed ordinance would only make the driveway and parking lot of the school the legal equivalent of a city street and therefore make all traffic on it subject to traffic laws.

In other business, the board heard a report from Lewis Fredericks, superintendent for Facilities and Maintenance, on plans for repair of the Jonathan Dayton tower.

Fredericks said the board had received only two bids on the job and both were too high according to the architect. The specifications will now be modified, certain decorative elements of the tower will be cut out and the project will be put up for bids again.

Mets force playoff with 6 straight wins

The Mets continued their hot streak in Mountainside Little League play as they ran their winning streak to six games and moved into a season ending tie and playoff with the Blue Stars, each team concluding their regular season with an 11-3 record.

The Mets routed the Dodgers, 17-6, scoring 14 runs in the first inning. Peter Kozubal pitched two strong innings in relief to run his record to 5-0 and also had a double and a triple to account for five RBIs and Dale Torborg had three RBIs. Mike Burke with a two-run paced the Dodgers.

The Mets next caged the Orioles, 23-1, as Jimmy Kellerk came up with four hits and Brian Delaney had two. Pat Attenasio also starred in center field. Greg Barisonok was the run producer for the Orioles.

The Braves got timely hitting from John Saraka, Eric Rauschenberger and John Maxemchuk and overwhelmed the Orioles, 24-12. Steve Baumgartner hurled well in relief to pick up the win. Scott Boyd of the Orioles had a perfect day at the plate and Gelge Serio played well in the field.

The Vikings rallied from a four-run deficit to defeat the Blue Stars, 10-4. Joe Hurley came in to pitch with the bases loaded no out and four in to strike out the side and get the Vikings rolling and went on to hold the Blue Stars scoreless for the remainder of the game. John Creran made two outstanding catches in right field and Mike Sabatino provided the power for the Vikings. League leader Jeff Stoffer had a three-run homer for the Blue Stars and Joe Ventura came up with a solid three innings in a fireman's stint.

Defense was the name of the game in the Pony League as the Colts combined an airtight defense the effective pitching by Kevin Everly and Todd Richter to defeat the Broncos, 6-2. Left-fielder Chris Dooley, shortstop Brian Daily and second baseman Tom Genkinger were responsible for the fielding gems and Jim Rau lead the offense with two hits. Robbie O'Neil and Steve Burton with a strong relief stint led the Broncos.

In American League play the Phillies outlasted the Yankees, 9-5, as Charlie Dougherty belted a two-run homer and pitched well in relief for the winners. Gordon Chupko, Lauren Merklinger and Michael Logio also were effective offensively for the Phillies. Eric Dowdle and Richard Antonacci each hit home runs for the Yankees and Tom Szymborski came up with two hits.

The Yankees bounced back with a six-run first inning and went on to orbit the Astros 6-3. Rafael Quintana delivered a key two run double in the first inning to spark the Yankee offense with help from Kenneth Bradley and the Yankee pitching tandem of Richard Antonacci and Peter Gritrich then kept the clamps on the Astros to preserve the win. The Astros got a balanced effort from Danielle Coddington, Jason Feldman and Lewis Rubovitz.

Ad director named for area newspapers

Michael J. Kazala has been appointed advertising director of the Union Leader, Irvington Herald, Kenilworth Leader, Linden Leader, Mountainside Echo, The Spectator, Springfield Leader, Vailsburg Leader and The Suburbanaire.

MICHAEL KAZALA

The announcement was made by Asher Mintz, publisher.

Kazala, who will be responsible for all display and classified advertising, returns to Suburban Publishing after serving as marketing services manager at The Herald-News of Passaic.

He originally worked for this newspaper for four years, starting as an advertising sales representative, was promoted to the position of advertising manager in October of 1980, and served in that capacity for one and a half years before moving to The Herald-News.

Kazala has worked as an account executive for WJRZ-FM in Manahawkin and WJDM in Elizabeth as well as with WKEN in Dover, Del., where he was an on-air personality.

He attended Montclair State College in Upper Montclair, where he majored in communications, and is a graduate of Irvington High School.

He is a member of the Union Rotary Club, Advertising Club of North Jersey, ADAM Club of New Jersey and International Newspaper Promotion Association.

Kazala resides in Kenilworth with his wife, Susan, and their one-year-old daughter, Kristin.

Chief quits PBA

A letter of resignation from Mountainside Police Chief William Alder was voted into acceptance by the local Policemen's Benevolent Association during action taken Friday night.

The borough's PBA voted to "accept with prejudice" Alder's resignation from the organization, which followed action taken by the police group in which six charges were brought against the chief on May 21. Alder quit the organization a week later.

"The judiciary committee, to whom the charges go to be investigated, found them to be valid. As he had already handed in his resignation, we voted to 'accept with prejudice,'" Alan Kennedy, president of the PBA, said. "He was removed from the PBA without receiving the benefits that one leaving in good standing would receive."

According to reports, Alder was charged with allegedly intimidating members of the police force with "threats of financial retribution" and attempting to remove Sgt. Raymond Della Serra from the force in what has been described as a "personal vendetta."

"There are (PBA) by-laws, of which he (Alder) is a member. He has pledged and vowed to the organization and has intentionally gone against the PBA," Kennedy said.

Alder refused to comment on the charges brought against him by the PBA but said his action to quit the "fraternal type organization" should not affect his status as chief and that he resigned because it "became apparent that being a member of the PBA will conflict with my duties."

Alder is currently involved in hearings before the mayor and council in connection with some 30 charges he filed against Della Serra, a 19-year member of the police force.

The PBA has barred Alder's reinstatement into the organization,

KINDERGARTENERS GRADUATE—Michael Lobozzo and Susan Cho are dressed for the occasion during the graduation ceremonies held for kindergarteners at Our Lady of Lourdes School.

Our Lady of Lourdes presents diplomas

The All-Day Kindergarten class at Our Lady of Lourdes school, Mountainside, marked the close of its school year by a graduation ceremony June 9. The students received their diplomas from Monsignor Raymond Pollard, the church pastor.

Recipients of diplomas were: Alex Bird, Krystene Boyle, Brian Burke, Susan Cho, Tricia De Rosa, David Falk, Kari Gerhardt, Keith Kennedy, Michael Lobozzo, Rebecca Perez-Santalla, Andrew Ruggiero and Kevin Sauer.

As part of the celebration the kindergarten class presented a medley of song and poem selections.

The graduation celebration was combined, this year, with the annual spring concert of Our Lady of Lourdes school. The theme of this year's presentation was "Broadway in Revue."

Grades three, four and five performed selections from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma," "The King and I," "South Pacific" and "Carousel," with solos by Karen Geraghty, Krista Oberding, Susan Higgins, Katie Oxx and Catherine Uytendaele.

Grades six, seven and eight enacted scenes from the current Broadway hit "Joseph and The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." The soloist was sixth-grader Ann Vetter, who sang "Close Every Door."

Grades one and two performed selections from "The Great Gatsby M," including "I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy," and "You're A Grand Old Flag."

For the finale, the entire student body sang "Give My Regards To Broadway" and was then joined by the audience for a second chorus.

The entire program was developed and coordinated by the school's music director, Carol Ann Willenbrock.

Registration for Our Lady of Lourdes school is now being accepted or the 1982-83 school year. Students may register for Pre-K, All-Day Kindergarten, and grades one through eight. Information may be obtained from the school office, 233-1777.

Graduation slated

The Deerfield School Class of 1982 will be graduated in a commencement program to be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the school.

Eighth-grade diplomas will be awarded in ceremonies conducted by Arthur Attenasio, Board of Education president, and Dr. Margaret H. Kantes, superintendent of schools, assisted by Allan Shapiro, Deerfield principal.

Featured speakers of the evening will be the class honor students. Valedictorian Julia Smith will deliver the farewell address, and Salutatorian Gregory Torborg will give the welcoming speech.

A highlight of the evening will be the presentation of awards honoring class members' accomplishments. Traditionally, the names of recipients are kept secret until the time of presentation.

Other participants in the program will include Student Council President Darren Iaione, who will lead the pledge of allegiance; the Rev. Raymond J. Pollard, who will deliver the invocation, and the Rev. Elmer A. Talcott, who will deliver the benediction.

The graduating class will present a choral selection, "Times of Your Life," under the direction of Charles Guinta.

Commencement set

About 270 seniors will graduate Tuesday from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in ceremonies beginning at 7 p.m. on the school grounds. In the event of rain, the commencement will be moved inside to the main gym where limited seating will be available.

Chairwoman named to lead cancer study

Marian Villani, an occupational health nurse for Airco, Inc. in Murray Hill, has been named unit chairwoman of a cancer prevention study for the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Study II is slated to begin on Sept. 1. Like a study conducted from 1959 to 1972, it will follow a million Americans for a minimum of six years to learn how lifestyles and environment may relate to cancer and other diseases.

In announcing the appointment of Villani, Al Lehner, president of the Union County Unit, spoke of her record of service to the community.

"Her work in our upcoming environment and lifestyle study will be another example of continuing public service for the Union County area. We are fortunate to have the benefit of her leadership in organizing the community's participation in this vital research study."

Villani, along with being in charge of health related services at Airco, is a member of the American Cancer Society's Board of Managers, Public Education and Nurse's Education Committees.

"From information provided by Union County residents, and study participants all over the United States, scientists at the society's national office will try to find factors related to cancer and possible prevention," said Villani.

More information on the study is available from the American Cancer Society, 354-7373 or 232-9641.

County blood drives to aid senior citizens

Four Union County chapters of the American Red Cross have scheduled blood drives today and tomorrow to benefit the senior citizens throughout the county.

The "Blood Donor Days" are supported by the county Board of Freeholders, who have encouraged residents to donate a pint of blood before the start of their summer vacations.

The Red Cross chapter drives are scheduled as follows:

•From 2 to 7 p.m. today in the Westfield-Mountainside Red Cross Chapter House at 321 Elm St. in Westfield, 232-7090.

•From 3 to 8 p.m. today with the Summit Area Red Cross in the Central Presbyterian Church at Maple and Morris avenues in Summit, 273-2076.

•From 2 to 7 p.m. tomorrow in the Greater Union County Red Cross Chapter House at 203 W. Jersey St. in Elizabeth, 353-2500.

•From 4 to 9 p.m. tomorrow with the Plainfield Area Red Cross in St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church at Clinton Avenue in North Plainfield, 756-6414.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66, weighing at least 110 pounds and in good health, can donate blood. Seventeen-year olds require the written consent of a parent or guardian to donate; donors 66 and older must have permission of a physician to give blood. Further information can be obtained from any of the above Red Cross chapters or from the N.J. Blood Service at 828-9101.

Runnells is seeking teenage volunteers

John E. Runnells Hospital in Berkeley Heights is seeking candy strippers and junior volunteers for its summer program. The program, open to boys and girls 14 to 18, offers an opportunity to take an inside look at careers in health service.

Orientation classes will begin June 28. Tours of the facility and interviews are currently being held after school hours. Appointments can be made by calling the Volunteer Services office at 322-7240, Ext. 293 or 314.

CYO summer camp to open on June 28

Union County Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) is now accepting registration for its summer day camp, according to the Rev. George Gillen, county director. The CYO's Camp Seton will open on June 28 and close Aug. 20.

The camp, which is for boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 14, offers arts and crafts, swim instruction, sporting events, special trips and lunch.

Camp Seton is held at Mother Seton High School in Clark and has been directed for the past 16 years by Rudy Fender. The assistant to the director is Donna Macciachera and the swim director is Cathy Davey; both are seniors at Seton Hall University. Kathy Rush, a sophomore at Syracuse University, will be the arts and crafts director.

A state appeals panel has upheld the constitutionality of a law I sponsored banning the sale of drug paraphernalia.

However, the drawn-out legal challenge to this important law, which has delayed its enforcement for more than a year, may not be over yet.

The owners of stores specializing in drug accessories have said they plan to ask the state Supreme Court to hear the case.

In the end, however, I am convinced the ban will be upheld. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that municipalities and states have the right to control the sale of drug accessories.

New Jersey's law was carefully worded to outlaw only those items intended to be used with illegal drugs. It is based on a federal model statute drafted by the Drug Enforcement Administration.

I hope the constitutionality of the law is resolved quickly, so we can begin to remove drug paraphernalia from store counters.

The recent proliferation of head shops, stores specializing in drug accessories, is an invitation to youths to experiment with illegal drugs.

Drug abuse, especially among the youth of this state is a serious problem.

A study by the state attorney general found that drug use was common among high school students. The 1980 survey of students at 29 high schools throughout the state revealed that three-quarters of the students had used illegal drugs at least once.

Although marijuana was the most frequently used drug, about four out of every 10 students reported using other illegal drugs, such as amphetamines (30 percent), cocaine (17 percent) and hallucinogens (16 percent).

Perhaps even more alarming was the number of students using illegal drugs on a regular basis. About one out of every eight students surveyed used marijuana regularly.

Closing down every head shop in the state will not stop youths from taking illegal drugs. But perhaps the temptation to experiment with drugs will be reduced once drug paraphernalia is taken off the shelves.

Besides, it does not make sense to outlaw dangerous drugs and continue to permit easy and legal access to the accessories needed to use these drugs.

OAK KNOLL GRADUATES—Rachel Reisdorf, left, Karen Genkinger, Mary Fran Ward and Lynn Bunin, all of Mountainside, graduated June 8 from the Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child, Summit. Ward received the school's highest honor — the Dr. Yvonne Imbleau Award.

Ward is recipient of school's top honor

MOUNTAINSIDE—Mary Frances Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Ward of Deer Path, has been awarded the highest honor at Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child in Summit. She received the Dr. Yvonne Imbleau Prize, given annually to a member of the senior class.

The prize is named after an alumna of the school whose generous and dedicated life as a medical doctor in Kenya and Appalachia inspired the award.

Ward was selected by the faculty for this honor because she has demonstrated what is called the "Holy Child spirit," said Richard Ahmes, principal of the Oak Knoll Upper School in reading the award from Sr. Geraldine Kelly, headmistress of the school, at the annual commencement ceremony.

Ward, who has been at Oak Knoll since her first-grade days, was class representative on the Student Apostolic Council, photography editor for the student newspaper, and treasurer for the Computer Science Club. She is a lieutenant in the Watchung Troops, and treasurer of the Watchung Junior Hunt Club. One of her hobbies is miniature buildings.

She was named to the second class honors list at her school for achieving grades of not less than B- in all subjects.

She has received a scholarship from Drew University, which she will enter in the fall.

Rachel Reisdorf, Karen Genkinger and Lynn Bunin, all of Mountainside, also graduated from the school.

Other residents to be honored by Oak Knoll School are Wendy Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Schmidt of Holly Hill, who was awarded the science prize for 7-8th grades, and Kim Genkinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Genkinger of Creek Bed Road, who won the Most Valuable Player Award for junior varsity field hockey. She is in the 10th grade.

'Mystery' to be theme at library

Mystery is the theme of this summer's activities at the Children's Department of the Free Public Library of Mountainside. Children can begin their investigation of the library by coming to see the film "The Case of the Elevator Duck" on Friday, June 25, at 2 p.m. Registration for the Supper Sleuth Summer Reading Club will begin immediately afterward.

Those children entering grades one through three also can enjoy stories, games, filmstrips and movies during the "Mixed Bag" program, either July 19-23, 9:30-10:30 a.m., or Aug. 9-13, 9:30-10:30 a.m.

The "Now and Then Writers" will be composed of students entering fourth grade and up who are interested in putting together a paper to be published "now and then" at the library. The paper will include original works as well as reviews and library news, and no experience is necessary. The first meeting is Monday, July 12, 3:30-4 p.m. Children must be registered at least three days in advance for all of these programs. Space is limited and registrations are now being accepted, by calling 233-0115 or visiting the library.

Lecture on tests slated for parents

MOUNTAINSIDE—An Iowa Basic Skills parent workshop has been scheduled for 7:30 tonight in the Deerfield School cafeteria with a featured guest lecturer from the test publishing company.

Dr. Cornelius Patterson will be available to answer questions and explain the meaning of the tests and the test results.

The test was administered to first-through eighth-grade students in April. Test scores will be mailed along with a detailed explanation to the families of all tested students.

Earns B.S. degree

MOUNTAINSIDE—Debbie Graham of Meeting House Lane has received a bachelor of science degree in hospitality management from Johnson & Wales College, Providence, R.I.

Weiner grad of Annapolis

MOUNTAINSIDE—Brad Weiner, the son of Kay and Herbert Weiner of Ridge Drive, graduated in May from the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.

Weiner was selected by Admiral Herman Ricketover for appointment to nuclear power school in Orlando, Fla. He received a B.S. in management resource and also is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Back up noted in time needed to get passport

Union County Clerk Walter G. Halpin has been informed officially by the United States Passport Service that because of the increase in requests for U.S. passports, manpower cutbacks and computer overload, the time for execution of an application for a valid U.S. passport has been extended from a two week waiting period to six to eight weeks.

Anyone contemplating a trip should act immediately to start the passport application procedure through his offices in Elizabeth or Westfield, he said.

Halpin noted that this back up comes at a time when schools and colleges are closing and when most students travel abroad — in addition to the normal family vacation months of June, July, August and September when entire families travel abroad.

Since all passport applications Halpin's office executes must go to the Philadelphia Passport office (which serves New Jersey, Delaware and all of Pennsylvania) Halpin urged people planning a trip abroad in the next four months react to proceed immediately to obtain a valid passport.

Trailside activities planned for summer

The Trailside Museum at the Watchung Reservation in Mountainside has planned a number of children's and family activities for the summer.

On Sunday at 2 p.m. there will be a family scavenger hunt with prizes for the winning group. Registration is $1 per family. There will be an annual tour of Feltville, a former factory town on the bank of Blue Brook, on June 27. For the tour, participants should meet at the visitor parking lot to form a car caravan to the site.

The museum also has scheduled a series of planetarium shows for children at 3:30 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday during the summer.

"Natural Beginnings," a program of discovery and fun in the out-of-doors for 4- to 7-year-olds will begin in July. The purpose of the program is to heighten the child's awareness of the natural world using all five senses. Each day's activities will include field excursions, crafts, storytelling and games.

Each session will last for four classes and registration for a child is $15. Enrollment in a session is limited to 10 and pre-registration is required.

Also in July and August, the museum will sponsor Junior Scientist, Junior Naturalist and an overnight camping trip.

Junior Scientist for first- and second-graders will be July 5-7, Aug. 2-4 and 16-18. The fee is $8. Grades three and four will be Aug. 8-11 and 23-26. Grades five and six will be August 2-5 and 23-26. The fee for grades three through six is $12.

Junior Scientist is a series of experiments with combustion, water, chemicals, food and other materials that will demonstrate the excitement of discovering some basic science principles.

Junior Naturalist for grades three and four is July 5-8, 26-29 and Aug. 9-12. For grades 5 through 7 the dates are July 12-15 and 9-12. The fee for both groups is $10.

That program examines and identifies the plants and animals inhabiting the Watchung Reservation.

Further information about these and other programs can be obtained by calling 232-5930, the Trailside Nature and Science Center, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside, 07092.

WALKERS THANKED

Winners All. They are all winners as far as Spaulding for Children, the free adoption agency, is concerned.

The 130 walkers in Spaulding's Walk-a-thon, April 4, who slogged through 15 miles on a miserable day, were championed by Mrs. L. Harvitt of Mountainside, Margaret England, 11, of Westfield, Andrea Sengel, 13, of Westfield, Grand prize winner, Arlene Holzmueller, 13, Westfield, will be able "to do" a one-hour talk and disc jockey spot on WKNJ of Kean College.

The runners who were graced with a warming sun on May 2 also all were winners. They came from more than 20

New Jersey communities and some represented their individual corporations, such as Allstate, Merck, Overlook Hospital, etc.

And last, but not least, was Ann Hyde, Bound Brook, who was the lucky recipient of the beautiful hand-stitched quilt which had been on display at the Westfield Sewing Center.

The ultimate winners are the children, who, because of the efforts of so many, are placed in loving and permanent adoptive homes.

Winners All. FLORENCE EHMANN And the staff and Volunteer Auxiliary of Spaulding for Children Westfield

Views On Dental Health

PRECAUTIONS FOR PARTIAL DENTURES

A partial denture is a removable appliance that substitutes for one or several missing natural teeth. It is held in place by clasps that grip the natural teeth adjacent to the partial.

Good oral hygiene habits are particularly important for wearers of partial dentures. If food residue and film are allowed to accumulate on clasps (which are food traps) the important abutment teeth may decay. Therefore, partials should be cleaned after each meal and special attention should be given to cleaning the inside of the clasps. While you're at it, clean your regular teeth to remove any food debris that could accumulate under the cover afforded by the partial denture.

If a partial denture breaks or becomes damaged in any way, it should be taken at once to the dentist for repair. Attempts to wear a damaged appliance can be dangerous. A shift of a fraction of a millimeter in the form of the partial can cause destructive forces on several teeth. Also, an improper amateur adjustment could possibly render the partial completely useless and irreparable by anyone.

Senators taking applications for military schools

U.S. Senators Bill Bradley (D-N.J.) and Nicholas Brady (R-N.J.) have announced that young men and women interested in seeking nominations to the United States Air Force, Merchant Marine, Military and Naval Academies as members of the Class of 1987 should apply no later than Oct. 29.

Candidates must be citizens of the United States, legal residents of the State of New Jersey, unmarried and have no children, and be at least 17 years of age but not have passed their 22nd birthday on July 1, 1983.

All applicants must take either the ACT or SAT examinations. The Nov. 6 SAT is the last examination whose results can be considered in evaluating the potential nominees. SATs may be taken more than once; the highest scores in the math and verbal section will be used in the consideration of the applications.

Bradley and Brady said they will base their selections on the following criteria: SAT or ACT scores; class rank; overall high school record; extra-curricular activities (athletic and non-athletic); leadership potential; motivation, and recommendations.

Young persons interested in seeking nominations should write to their senator or congressman. The addresses for the U.S. senators from New Jersey are: Bill Bradley, Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510, and Nicholas Brady, Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

College sets instant entry

Bloomfield College will hold "Instant Admissions Days" Monday and Tuesday from noon to 8 p.m. in the college admissions office, 1 Park Place, Bloomfield.

Applicants who provide the proper documentation will meet with admissions counselors and receive "instant decisions" on their applications to the college.

Required documentation is a high school transcript, SAT scores and two academic references. A $20 application fee also is required.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the college office of admissions, 748-9000.

Exhibit on handicapped now featured at Rutgers

A free month-long exhibit observing 1982 as the National Year of Disabled Persons has opened at the Newark campus of Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey.

Posters, photographs and directories of organizations for the handicapped will be displayed daily, except Sundays, in the John Cotton Dana Library, located on the campus plaza. A limited exhibit of equipment, including a braille-knob television set and cassette, will also be shown.

The library is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mondays through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Fridays and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

Terry Powell, the library's circulation department supervisor and coordinator of the exhibit, said materials were supplied by national and local organizations, including the Mt. Carmel Guild, the Salvation Army, the N.J. Veterans Association, the Newark Public Library, New York Rehabilitation International and Just One Break (JOB).

Free Sterling Interest Checking

You can't afford to be without it!

Investors Savings believes everyone should earn the maximum allowable interest on a checking account and shouldn't have to pay service charges or maintain a high minimum balance.

And minimum balance requirements can be incredibly high; some financial institutions demand that customers keep as much as $1,000 or even $2,000 in a checking account in order to earn interest.

That's why Investors created Sterling Interest Checking. With it, you can have a free checking account that pays 5 1/4% per annum with only a $50 monthly minimum; and the very same $50 also earns you interest.

Sterling Interest Checking is truly one of the most exceptional offers in the country. So the question becomes not whether you can afford another institution's checking, but whether you can afford to be without the truly fine benefits of Investors' Sterling Interest Checking.

Illnesses, accidents come with summer

"Summertime, and the living is easy." The Gershwin lyrics, rhapsodizing the season, disregard the illnesses and accidents which often accompany the relaxation and recreation of the warmer months.

The emergency room of Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, has compiled a list of aids to be administered in the minutes between the call to the police for the first aid squad and its arrival.

"After calling an ambulance - or a family physician for less severe problems - it is most important to stay calm, keep the injured person as relaxed as possible and, above all, use common sense," said Pat McMahon, R.N., emergency room head nurse.

Swimming and diving injuries - Notify life guard immediately. Move victim as little as possible to prevent further injury to neck and back. For scuba diving accidents, 24-hour help is available seven days a week at Saint Barnabas. The medical center is the regional treatment center for decompression sickness and arterial gas embolism. There is a helipad on site.

Burns - Apply cool water and keep clean. Do not use vaseline or oil. Overheated automobile radiators and liquid starter added to barbecue grills when fire is lit can cause severe burns. For severe burns, the Burn Center at Saint Barnabas is the only certified burn treatment center in New Jersey.

Sports injuries - For arms and legs: immobilize injured area and apply ice. For severe head injuries: immobilize and keep person calm.

Heat stroke or heat exhaustion - Move from sun and cool victim down with wet compresses. Loosen clothing. Symptoms may vary from faintness, headache, nausea, loss of color, clammy skin. Do not give fluid or food to anyone who is losing or has lost consciousness.

Note: The general prevention for heat symptoms is to stay indoors, cool off with air-conditioning or cool bath, rest and drink fluids.

Bee stings - Remove stinger by scraping with back side of a knife. Wash area with soap and water and apply cool compresses. If bites on other parts of the body or difficulty breathing develops, patient should be transported promptly to a hospital.

External chemicals - Flush eyes or affected areas with large amounts of water.

Internal chemicals - The Poison Center at Saint Barnabas maintains a 24-hour-a-day emergency information phone service at 201-533-5161. Accurate information is essential for proper instruction. Provide name of substance ingested, quantity taken, time of ingestion, age and weight of victim. Do not induce vomiting unless directed because the chemical may be caustic.

To induce vomiting - Place finger in throat or administer one tablespoon of syrup of Ipecac followed by water. Bring the container of the poison or medication with you to the Emergency Room.

More women found in ranks of veterans

The number of female veterans has increased significantly during the past 11 years, according to a report prepared by the Veterans Administration.

The report says that while the number of male veterans has dropped recently, the female veteran population is growing rapidly.

The report is the first in a new series of brief studies prepared by the VA's Office of Reports and Statistics.

VA Administrator Robert P. Nimmo said these studies are essential to allowing the VA to address the needs of all veterans. "Effective management of the wide range of VA programs is greatly enhanced when a detailed profile of the veteran population is available," Nimmo said.

According to the study, the number of women on military active duty is also on the rise, indicating there will be more female veterans in the coming years.

The study found that women veterans totaled 742,000 on September 30, 1981, or 2.5 percent of all living veterans, an increase of 26 percent in five years.

Other findings include:

Age - The median age of female veterans was higher than that of their male counterparts each year until 1979, after which the relative age pattern was reversed. As of September 1981, the median age for female veterans was 46.2 years compared to 50.3 years for male veterans.

Period of Military Service - The distribution of female veterans by period of military service was fairly similar to that of males at the end of 1981. The major difference, and the one which largely explains the variances in the overall age structures of these two subgroups, is that a much greater proportion of women (17 percent) than of men (4 percent) had served in the armed forces during the post-Vietnam era only.

Expectations for the future - The number of women in the armed forces will very likely continue to grow by significant numbers, and the female veteran population will maintain a course of steady growth in future years.

June 20 is date of Israeli Expo

An Israeli Expo will be presented Sunday, June 20, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the grounds of the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel, according to Renee Balaban of Old Bridge, chairperson.

The highlight of the day will be the 10th annual, Jewish Festival on the Arts Center stage from 3 to 5 p.m. featuring Jack Carter, Molly Picon, Israeli vocalist Sonny Zadok and Safam, a young vocal-instrumental group.

Tickets can be obtained from 72 Knollwood Drive, Cherry Hill N.J. 08034, or the Garden State Cultural Center Fund, 442-8600, ext 221.

The Israeli Expo and Festival of the Arts are being sponsored by the Jewish community of New Jersey in association with the Garden State Cultural Center Fund.

Rainfall during May was below average

Despite two rainy weekends in a row in May, precipitation in this area was below normal for that month, according to Raymond J. Daly of Peapack, director of Union College's Cooperative Weather Station.

The rainfall accumulation was 3.3 inches, which is approximately an inch less than normal for May. Most of that rain fell on the last two weekends of the month, with the greatest amount in any 24-hour period — 1.3 inches — falling on May 29.

The 3.3 accumulation compares to the greatest May rainfall on record of 8.4 inches in 1968 and the lowest May rainfall of 1.3 inches in 1965.

Total precipitation from Jan. 1 through the end of May is 19.2 inches, approximately 3.2 inches more than the 16 inches that had accumulated at this time last year. The greatest precipitation recorded by the Union College station for that five-month period is the 29 inches that accumulated in 1979.

Though the month was lower than usual in precipitation, it was higher than normal in temperature. Mean temperature for the month was 61.5 degrees, which is .8 degrees warmer than normal for May and two degrees warmer than May of 1981. The mercury covered a 50-degree range, dropping to a low of 35 degrees on the 7th and hitting a high of 85 degrees on May 20. No temperature records were broken however, as the 85 degrees was 12 short of the record 97 degrees recorded in May of 1962 and the 35 degrees was 20 degrees warmer than the record low of 15 degrees in 1978.

May had 135 degree days, compared with last year's 202. This year's and last year's accumulation totals, which begin on Sept. 1, are within three degrees of each other. By May of 1981 there were 5,644 degree days, while this heating season had 5,647.

The relative humidity reached a maximum of 84 percent on May 23 and a minimum of 5 percent on the 5th. The average relative humidity per day was 48.2 percent.

Secretaries slate meeting

The Union County Legal Secretaries Association will hold its next meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at Beninato's Restaurant, 1204 E. Grand St., Elizabeth.

Robert Vitolo, field representative of the Department of Health and Human Services, Social Security Administration, will speak on new Social Security laws.

Information on attending is available from Helen Hansen at 353-5959.

In other association business, the annual installation of officers was held at the Clinton Manor, Union.

Judge William DiBiunno was guest speaker.

Officers for 1982-83 are Jane Hassom, president; Mary Boshier, first vice president; Betty Czaby, second vice president; Helen Michaelson, recording secretary; Carol Major, corresponding secretary; Frances Petrocelli, treasurer; Maryrose Sawicki, governor, and Doris Morganti, NASL representative.

NEW FEDERALISTS—Attending a meeting of the recently-formed Citizens Committee for a New Federalism are, from left, William Magalhães, trustee of the Union County Republican Conservative Club; Paul Brislin, president of the Conservative Club; Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R.-21st District), and Stephen Sipe of Union, chairman of the new group.

Tuna fish recall

The Department of Human Resources' county Division of Consumer Affairs has announced a recall of Bumble Bee Tuna because some cans have small holes in them.

"There have been no reports of illness, but a can with a hole could permit illness-causing bacteria to enter," according to Ellen Bloom, director of consumer affairs.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) advises that "consumers should not eat the suspect tuna, but should return unopened cans to retailers."

The cans being recalled were packed in only the Bumble Bee Seafoods Honolulu plant. They were distributed under Bumble Bee labels in 3 1/2, 3 1/2, 6, 6 1/2, 7, 12 1/2 and 13-ounce size cans, the Mid Pacific labels in 6-ounce cans and under the Coral label in 12 1/2-ounce cans. The recall does not affect tuna packed in the firm's other plant.

Stamped on the lids are the numbers 21 or 22 on the top line followed by two or three other numbers. The first number "2" identifies the Honolulu plant. The number "1" or "2" which follows indicates which year, 1981 or 1982, the tuna was packed.

The bottom line, consisting of numbers and letters, can be ignored for purposes of identification, according to the Department of Human Resources.

It added that "although the possibility of contamination is small, FDA determined that an immediate recall was necessary to protect the public health..."

An inspection of the Honolulu plant revealed damaged wire baskets as the most probable cause of the problem. The wire baskets hold cans during heat processing. The damaged baskets could puncture holes in some of the unlabeled cans. The company says these baskets no longer are in use.

Alumni unit plans dinner

The Union College Alumni Association will conduct an awards dinner at the Westwood Restaurant, Garwood, tomorrow at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner will honor a number of Union College alumni, according to Dorothy Gasorek of Elizabeth, association president.

Further information on the dinner or other alumni activities is available from Linda Leifer, director of alumni affairs, 276-2600, ext. 208.

Class set for moms

New mothers may learn some helpful parenting tips by participating in Overlook Hospital's "Mothers' Exchange."

The Parentcraft program will offer five afternoon get-togethers to enable mothers to share experiences and information about teething, traveling with children, toys, nutrition and other topics of interest. The meetings also will include instruction in CPR and obstructed airway techniques for infants and small children.

To Publicity Chairman: Would you like some help in preparing newspaper releases? Write to this newspaper and ask for our "Tips on Submitting News Releases."

The group will have its first gathering today from 1 to 3 p.m. The fee is $25; interested persons may call 522-2963 to register.

Hundreds attend hospital open house

Hundreds of area residents turned out at an open house last month to see the new Center for Community Health at Overlook Hospital in Summit.

Visitors observed many of the center's departments at work, from a computerized admissions area to the Health Sciences Library specially designed for consumer use, where the public can join the library and check out books on a variety of health subjects.

Health and CPR (cardio pulmonary resuscitation) instructors also offered demonstrations and information about upcoming courses to be offered in the new center, including an infant and child CPR program and courses in the management of stroke and diabetes.

The center offers all primary outpatient services, formerly scattered throughout the hospital, under one roof.

The center also provides expanded hours. "Many people find it more convenient to schedule their pre-admission testing or their stress test during the evening or on Saturday," according to Richard Proctor, director of professional services at the hospital.

Other outpatient services available at the hospital are: EKG and stress testing, cardiac rehabilitation, laboratory testing and X-ray. A specially designed, five-suite same-day surgery unit also is operating in the new center.

The center also contains classrooms for health education. These classrooms also are used by doctors in training in one of Overlook's primary care residency programs, by the hospital's professional nurses as part of their in-service education, by other professionals and by the public.

TRADE UP TO SNAPPER DEPENDABILITY

Only Snapper mowers and riders have the patented Hi-Vac® cutting chamber and contoured blade which create a powerful vacuum to stand grass up for a smooth cut, and air flow to blast clippings into large grass catchers. The Snapper 19 and 21" Hi-Vac® push mowers both feature strong full length solid steel axles, convenient durable cutting height adjustments from 1 to 3", and folding handles for easy storage. The 21" self-propelled model has a heavy duty 6-speed transmission to go 1-3 mph. Options to mulch grass, shred leaves and remove thatch* add versatility. The Snapper Hi-Vac® riding mower features on the go shifting, easy cutting height adjustment, quick response steering and rear mounted engine. Heavy gauge steel construction and exclusive drive system with sealed chains and gears make the rider tough and durable. Options like the rear mounted grass catcher, Thatcherizer, dozer blade and new snow blower attachment offer 4-season versatility.

Twill blanks Rahway, 12-0

Legion team rolls to 9-1 record

By BOB BRUCKNER
To be the No. 1 American Legion baseball team in the county and perhaps the state, a team must have depth. And lots of it.

And Springfield coaches Harry Weinerman and Mel Vargas believe that the local Post 228 team is solid all the way up and down the lineup and has the potential to be among the top contenders in the county, if not the state.

"Basically, this team is very deep," Vargas said. "We have two or more excellent players at every position, including a good pitching staff."

Former Dayton ace John Baumgartner and current stars John and Vinnie Cocchia, Kirk Yogy, Larry Zavodny, David Crane, Tim Black, Pat Esemplare, Rich Policastro, Doug Torborg (son of Yankee coach Jeff) and Danny Klinger, the youngest on the team at 14, form the nucleus of the club.

Also on the team are Fran Broskoskie, Frank Gagliano, Laurence Twill, Barry Blackwell, Jerry Conroy, John Liberato, Dave Roche and Tom Ard.

And thus far, Post 228 has lived up to the advanced billing. The locals are 9-1, with the only loss being a 4-2 decision to a very strong Irvington team in a non-league matchup.

In the Union County League, Springfield is 2-0. They jumped all over Rahway on Tuesday, as Pingry's Lawrence Twill fired a three-hitter and fanned 11, while John Cocchia, Yogy, Ard, Baumgartner and Blackwell provided the offensive punch.

There have been other big victories, too.

Against Millburn, for example, Kopyta pitched six innings and allowed only two hits in a 9-2 victory.

And against Greenwich Village, Klinger pitched Springfield to a 12-3 win. Larry Zavodny relieved Klinger and allowed only two hits in two innings.

Springfield has also bombed Livingston twice. In the first game, Baumgartner tripled and homered and Vinnie Cocchia scored three runs. Twill was the starting pitcher and allowed only one run, and Conroy and Zavodny came out of the bullpen to stop them the rest of the way.

In the second meeting, Baumgartner started and stopped Livingston on eight hits, striking out three. Gagliano, Torborg and Zavodny came on to keep the opposition at bay. Twill, Esemplare, Policastro and Zavodny delivered the key hits.

"Our main goal is to win the Union County American Legion Baseball League," said Vargas. "It will be much tougher this year, but we have the ingredients."

Tonight, Post 228 will play at Cranford, then host two games Saturday: Secaucus at noon and South Amboy afterwards. On Sunday, Springfield travels to Westfield for a 10:30 a.m. game and will again meet Millburn on Tuesday and Linden on the road on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

And Weinerman can't wait for the tough stretch.

"My philosophy is that the only way you get better is to play," he said. "And we have a true all-star team."

A 9-1 all-star team, that is.

Dayton athletes receive Booster Club top awards

The 22nd annual All-Sports Award Dinner was given by the Jonathan Dayton Booster Club at the high school for all lettered senior athletes. Each senior was awarded a plaque for their sports efforts in high school.

The Bladis Memorial Award was given to Jack Parent and the Kurz Memorial Award to Paige Carter. Matt Eick, Scott Connolly and Nino Parlavocchio each received a $300 award from the Booster Club.

To receive an award, a student must maintain a 2.0 average from grades 9 through 12, be an accomplished athlete, possess leadership qualities and participate in student and community affairs.

Parent finished 13th in his class and was a three-year starter on the football and wrestling teams and was a captain on both teams. He was all-conference and all-metro football this past season and has been invited to participate in the North-South football game at the Meadowlands this month. Parent was a member of the Varsity Club and the National Honor Society, receiving a letter of commendation as a National Merit Scholar. He will attend Stanford University.

Carter ranks in the top half of her class and is a three-year letter winner in gymnastics and cheerleading. She was a captain of the gymnastics team for two years. She won all-county first team honors for three years and was all-around champion in gymnastics for Union County this year. She placed sixth in the state sectionals and 11th in the state meet. She is a member of the yearbook staff, secretary of the Varsity Club and secretary of the Latin Club. She also teaches gymnastics in area gym clubs. Carter will attend Rochester Institute of Technology.

Eick ranks 30th in his class and holds the county records in both the 200 and 500-yard freestyle in swimming. He placed third and fourth in those distances in the state championships and ninth and 17th in the YMCA championships in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., this year. He was captain of the swim team, a member of the cross country team, Varsity Club, National Honor Society and a delegate to Boys' State. He will attend Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Connolly ranks in the upper half of his class and has been a three-year letter winner in cross country, winter and spring track and served as captain of all three sports this year. He was named to the all-county team and the all-conference team in all three sports. He was the county champion in indoor track for the two-mile run and third in state sections and fifth in the state group championships. He was treasurer of the Varsity Club, vice-president of the Mountainside Presbyterian Fellowship and was named Mr. Regional this year. Scott will attend the University of Scranton.

Parlavocchio finished in the top 25 percent of his class and is a three-year letterman in football and wrestling. He was a captain for both sports this year. Parlavocchio earned All-County, All-Area and All-Conference as well as State Group II honors this past football season. He was the recipient of the Springfield-Mountainside UNICO Athlete of the Year Award. He will attend the University of Delaware.

Playoff Fever in town softball

Playoff Fever is in the air in the Springfield Girls Softball League, while the teams in the Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League are beginning to eye post-season play.

In the first round of the Upper League playoffs in the girls' league, the Angels beat the Indians, 15-8, to advance to the finals against the Royals.

The Angels, coached by Lance Bartel and Stuart Simon, led throughout behind the hitting of Lauren Sueskind, Felice Bartel, Stacey Byrd, Crissy Clark, Gori Gittes, Jody Simon and Beth Manes. Cheryl Graham, Lori Larzler, Kim McMillon, Jackie Pedro and Laura Talarsky played well on defense.

The Tribe, coached by Janet Hoffman and Debbie Behr, rallied in the late going on hits by Stephanie Ruelke, Catherine Cameron, Kristin and Kim Jelinek, Michelle Tomie and a fifth inning homer by pitcher Deanna Campos. Inconolata Quaglietta made a fine defensive play.

The Royals, 9-1 and coached by Jeanne and Jackie Glassen, now meet the Angels while the Red Sox meet the Yankees. Bob Wasserman and Tina DeRonde coach the Sox and Mari Ann Branco and Ann Eckmann the Yanks.

In the Lower League playoffs, the Cardinals will meet the Astros and the Mets play the Braves. The winners will meet for the title.

Over in the men's league, Ehrhardt TV scored six times in the fourth inning to surprise Shallcross-Creative, 8-5, last week.

Rob Dempster, Al Critelli, Jamey Ehrhardt, Bobby Hough and Mike Gagliano hit safely in the big inning. John M. Ehrhardt hit a two-run homer. Hough and Terry Franklin each had two hits for the winners, while Lou Gizzi, Roy DeVries and Bob Brandt had two hits each for Shallcross. Brandt homered in the sixth inning. John J. Ehrhardt was the winning pitcher and Ben Di Palma the loser.

The Bombers nipped Libco, 4-3, with a three-run rally in the bottom of the seventh. The winners scored once in the fourth on hits by Bob Day and Johnny Kronert, but Libco grabbed the lead in the fifth with three runs, the key hit being a triple by Glen Kehler. Two errors and John Noce's double pulled the win out for pitcher Bob Hydock. Kronert finished with three hits.

Mill-Spring defeated Shallcross, 17-6, with an 11-run explosion in the second inning with the help of five walks and eight hits, including doubles by P.J. Burns, Greg Lies, Steve Baldascare and Mike Johnson. Rich Johnson had four hits, and Mike Johnson and Burns three each. Kevin Karp had three safeties for the losers, and with two each were Roy Devries, Bob Brandt, Joe Shallcross and Gil Kopoz. Tom Burke was the winning pitcher.

Bezik leads 6-0 Maples

Steve Bezik of Springfield led the Maplewood Maples of the Essex County Baseball League to their sixth straight victory by going 3-3 in a 14-0 win over the Union Jayhawks.

Bezik drove in two runs while scoring another during a game in which he increased his team-leading batting average to .571.

Bezik is tied for the lead in hits with 8, while leading the teams in doubles (4).

Summer term registrations

The New Jersey Public Theater Studio of Acting has announced that registrations for the summer term will be held Monday and Tuesday from 4 to 8 p.m. at the theater at 118 South Ave., Cranford. The term begins June 26 and runs through Sept. 2.

Special two-week workshops will be offered this summer for the children and teenage classes. One workshop will run July 12 through 23 and the other, Aug. 9 through 20. They will feature creative acting for children and will meet once a day for the two-week period.

All regular classes for adults will meet as usual, once a week for the 10 weeks. Classes in acting techniques for stage, improvisational acting, speech, musical comedy and television acting will be offered.

David Christopher, star of "The Royal Family" at the NJPT, will teach all of the classes this summer. Private singing lessons also will be offered by Angel Intili.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Christopher at 276-0276.

Jef Left is serious about having fun. The 24-year-old singer, songwriter, guitarist has taken what he calls "the surfnik approach" on his self-named vinyl debut. "The songs combine elements of surf music with rock," he exclaims. There's a spirit in the lyrics that's derived from the beat culture of the fifties — that Bohemian lifestyle, that irreverence, that kind of wacky hipness.

"But the most important thing," he emphasizes, "is the element of fun. After all, that's what rock 'n' roll is all about."

Left's 12-inch EP features five new pop rockers that reflect this philosophy. The songs incorporate everything from social issues concerning the plight of the common man ("Street Survivor") and alienation ("Wound Too Tight") to less problematic dilemmas like a 16-year-old kid who needs wheels so he can score with the girls ("Girls In Cars"). But even on a serious issue like gun control, Left manages a dash of reckless whimsy: on "No Security," he takes a teenage surfer's point of view on the handgun controversy, instilling the subject with an arch irony.

"Jef Left" was recorded in a furiously fast three days. It was produced by Ron Moss and boasts A/M recording artist Robert Williams on drums and percussion, along with Peewee Hill on bass. Everything else was in Left's hands. The southern California native is firm believer in not wasting time:

"You've got to get in there and have fun. You can't sit in the studio for a couple of months and belabor the issue."

Jef's EP reflects that sense of spontaneity and professionalism. His voice rings out with keen Anglo pop precision, his guitars chime with an alacritous energy. The result is a surge of swift, crashing tunes that are easy to feel good about.

Says Left: "I wanted the record to be something you can sing along with when you get up in the morning. I mean, who feels like listening to heavy metal when you're eating Rice Krispies?"

Amateurs sing in rehearsal

The Diamond Hill Summer Chorus has started its ninth season of providing amateur singers of all ages with the opportunity to sing during the summer months.

This season, Garyth Nair has returned for his seventh summer season with the group.

It was announced that membership is open to the general singing public without audition. Rehearsals will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays, June 29, July 1, 6, 8, 13, 15, 20, 22, 27 and 28 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church, South Street and Springfield Avenue, New Providence. The group's annual summer concert will be held July 29 at 8 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by calling co-managers, Betty Merriek at 635-5548 or Ginger Nadel at 522-1686.

Disney on ice to premiere

The world premiere edition of Walt Disney's "Great Ice Odyssey," a new concept in summertime family fun and entertainment, will bow next month at three metropolitan area locations.

The first show will be held July 20 through Aug. 1 at New Jersey Byrne Meadowlands Arena; the second, Aug. 3 through 8 at Long Island's Nassau Coliseum, and the third, Aug. 3 to 8 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Tickets may be purchased at each arena.

'Theater Things' set on Irvington stage

"Theater Things," two evenings of theater, mime, song and dance, will be presented June 18 and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Second Reformed Church of Irvington, 132 Elmwood Ave., by the Theater Workshop, The Peppermint Players.

For the past four years, the non-profit organization has brought professional theater training to people from five years of age to 17 years of age. The Peppermint Players consists of children performing for children and has received funds from the Essex County Department of Parks and Recreation.

As part of "Theater Things," the Peppermint Players will present "Troubled Souls," a play about runaways, developed by the children and Marie Thomas, artistic director. Miss Thomas has played Laura James on the television soap opera, "The Doctors" and Elizabeth Archer on "One Life to Live." She recently appeared in "The Three Brothers" at the American Place Theater, off Broadway.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Linda Cane in the education department at 744-2933.

COZY CORNER—The familiar emblem pictured above bears the name of the Drop Zone Restaurant located on 121 E. 2nd Ave., Roselle. This casual spot features reasonably priced Italian/American cooking, cocktails and plenty of Frank Sinatra music.

Good food, low prices make Drop Zone tops

By GAIL CASALE

You don't have to be a paisano, or know even the meaning of the word to know where to go for delicious Italian food at rock bottom prices. The comfortable Drop Zone Restaurant, 121 E. Second Ave., Roselle, is the place.

One of the things I like best about this spot is its quite casual atmosphere. You can wear jeans and feel right at home. The Drop Zone encourages you to sit back, relax and enjoy the plentiful courses that it cordially offers its customers.

For openers, soothe your taste buds with a refreshing wedge of cantaloupe served during the warmer months. Anyone who has ever eaten at the Drop Zone raves about their garlic bread. Slightly toasted and topped with cheese and sweet butter, it melts in your mouth. Most likely you'll reach the bottom of the basket before your main course is served, but your waitress will gladly bring you another generous helping of this delightful treat.

There's still more to come: A deep bowlful of tossed salad, made of the finest ripe vegetables, seasonings and oil and vinegar dressing, follows.

All of the above is served before every entree. Allow me to share some of my favorite Drop Zone specialties with you. I recommend the parmigiana flounder—a tender piece of filet smothered with tasty tomato sauce and gooey mozzarella cheese. The fish is not breaded, alleviating the dry batter dipped taste that you often find with seafood dishes of this type. Try a famous "D.Z. Special," featuring veal, chicken and sausage sauteed in a spicy tomato sauce. There are also your standard pasta and American dishes to choose from. Check the papers for weekly specials.

Last, but certainly not least, luscious cream puffs and hot coffee finalize the Drop Zone meal.

Needless to say, the restaurant has succeeded in fulfilling your appetite without burning a hole in your pocket. The Drop Zone has been in existence for almost seven years and is still one of the only local places where you can get a complete dinner at unbelievably low prices. That, my friends, is utterly satisfying.

You know, it's not only the quality of the food, service or prices that make a restaurant special. Many times those added touches allow a place to stand alone among its competitors. Drop Zone's tribute to Frank Sinatra in song and decor commands almost as much attention from its customers as the delicious food and ridiculously low prices do.

Nunzio Cupo, a bartender in this family-run establishment, is the proud collector of Sinatra memorabilia that adorns the Drop Zone walls. Brother Pete Jr. commented that the Sinatra theme happened merely by accident. Nunzio was looking for a place to store his hundreds of photos, and luckily enough the Drop Zone became the ideal spot.

While listening to your favorite Sinatra tunes, why not order a bottle of wine or champagne to enhance the mood? Drop Zone's wide variety aptly complements the dinner menu.

The restaurant opens weekdays at 11 a.m., Saturday at 4 p.m. and Sunday at 1 p.m., and has its own convenient parking lot.

Here's a little history lesson for Drop Zone newcomers. The name originated from owner Pete Cupo, who served as a paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne Division in World War II.

Treat dad to this unique dining experience. Let me borrow a phrase from an "Old Blue Eye's" classic to express my sentiments about the Drop Zone: It's "Top of the list, king of the hill. A-number one."

Caution urged for sunbathers

Elephants never forget. Neither does your skin. When skin has been acutely burned by the sun, its memory for damage cannot be erased. This recall makes proper protection against overexposure to the sun, especially the strong summer sun, essential.

"The major concern of sun damage is the capacity for producing growth changes in the surface layer," states Dr. Brodtkin. "This can cause benign or malignant tumors of the skin, freckles, brown spots, wrinkling or premature aging."

He suggests:
 • Limit time outdoors during peak sunlight hours (10 a.m. to 3 p.m.) when atmospheric conditions cause the most harmful radiation.
 • Wear a hat and proper clothing. Head coverage is extremely effective for protection.
 • Use a sun screen with SPF (sun protective factor) of approximately 15. Sun screens give a false sense of security because they can be washed or sweated off. Caution: sun screening lotions sometimes cause skin problems.

Incidence of skin cancer is directly related to the intensity of radiation reaching the earth at any point, states Dr. Brodtkin. The closer one is to the sun, skin cancer becomes more prevalent. This is demonstrated latitude for latitude and also applies with respect to altitudes. The warning signs: Any marks that appear newly on the skin of an adult and grow or persist should be examined by a physician for skin cancer. The marks can appear in a variety of colors and be rough or bleeding. Repeated bleeding is an absolute warning sign of the possibility of skin cancer.

Sunlight is injurious to the skin in two ways, according to Dr. Roger Brodtkin, attending in dermatology at St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston. Acute burning results in pain, ill feelings and, occasionally, systemic problems. These symptoms pass within days or weeks. But sunlight can also produce cumulative damage with chronic injury to the skin and, in time, can cause skin changes of a more serious nature.

The sun emits many kinds of radiation, including heat, ultraviolet rays and X-rays, to name a few. Obviously, it is not possible to completely avoid sunlight, nor would it be desirable if it could be done. Sun and sun-related activities are important for physical and psychological well-being. The key is to be aware of the dangers in order to prevent harmful effects. Children and elderly people are particularly at risk.

Trees, umbrellas and haze or light clouds offer little protection from ultraviolet rays, which are reflected by water and sand or diffused across the entire dome of the sky and known as "sky shine." Certain conditions — such as breezes on beaches or boats, riding in convertibles, or leaning arms from car windows — tend to mask the dangers of direct sunlight.

Window glass provides complete protection by totally screening out in-

Boys State starts Sunday

Beginning on Sunday and extending through June 26 inclusive, 935 boys — the largest number ever — from every corner of New Jersey will meet at Rider College in Lawrenceville to attend the 37th session of the American Legion Jersey Boy's State program.

This announcement was made by State American Legion Commander Margaret M. Malone, who stated, "The Boy's State program was begun to develop good citizens by inspiring youth to take a more active and intelligent interest in the operation of our State and Nation and in the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship.

While at Rider College, the young men will learn of the functions of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial branches of government, conduct campaigns and elections and learn how our government operates through direct participation in the democratic process."

This year's speakers include: New Jersey Secretary of State Jane Burgoyne; John Carlone, executive assistant to the attorney general; Donald C. McCabe, public information officer for the NJ Department of Civil Service, and William H. Wells, director for the school of Law Information. Also invited to attend is Governor Thomas H. Kean.

PARCOURSE FROM BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD

"She never jumps when I ask her to."

Lots of New Jerseyans are jumping at the chance to shape up the fantastic "Parcourse" way. A joint effort by Blue Cross and Blue Shield and local governments, the Parcourse exercise trail has fitness down to a system—a scientifically designed system consisting of 18 exercise stations along a 1 to 2 1/2 mile trail. It includes warmup, stretching, muscle strengthening, cardiovascular conditioning and cool-down exercises, with jogging and walking between stations. The result is a balanced exercise regimen that's free. Easy. And, most important, fun!

We at Blue Cross and Blue Shield are jumping for joy over the enthusiastic response to our Parcourse endeavor—and will continue to co-sponsor more and more trails throughout New Jersey. It's one of the many ways we're working hard to make staying healthy easier for you.

Keep an eye out for the Parcourse trail nearest you. Then jump to it! Your health is far too precious to take for granted.

Jersey Central lists tips to avoid outdoor injury

As warm temperatures lure people outside and into summer activities, Jersey Central Power & Light Co. (JCP&L) warns that overhead electric wires are the source of potential danger that can result in serious and fatal injuries.

This is true whether the wires are the ones that run from a pole to a house, along the street, across fields or over water.

"The primary rule for outdoor electrical safety is to stay away from lines when working around the house with ladders, poles, tree trimmers and other equipment," according to C.D. Cudney, vice president of JCP&L.

The best site for flying kites and model airplanes is an open field away from trees and power lines, he advises. "If a kite or airplane gets caught (in power lines), it's safest to leave it there," Cudney said.

He added that tree climbing, although a great adventure, can be a fatal one if there are electric wires running through the tree. Trees that have electric lines running through them and those near power lines should not be climbed.

Cudney also suggests caution when boating, especially in a boat with a mast or fishing outriggers.

Special care should be taken when installing citizen band or television antennas. "Let an expert do the job if you are not familiar with the equipment," Cudney said. The individual should be familiar with grounding and lighting protection.

"If you do the job yourself, and if you use a ladder, make sure it can't touch or brush up against an electric line, and make sure that the antenna is placed away from possible contact with electric wires," he said.

Upsala station raises $53,500

The most successful fundraising marathon in the 24 year-history of WFMU of Upsala College has been announced by station manager Bruce Longstreet.

WFMU 91.1 on the FM dial rang up $53,500 in pledges during its marathon and has already received $33,000 of the pledge total in cash. Longstreet revealed.

"Last year, we had $40,000 in pledges and received $33,000—a little over 80 percent of what was pledged," Longstreet said. "Considering that the national average for on-air fundraisers is between 50 and 60 percent, getting 80 percent of pledges is tremendous. This year our projection is over $40,000."

Longstreet attributes WFMU's fundraising success to the station's diversity in programming and freedom from sponsor pressure.

"Since we have no sponsor pressure, we're not obliged to go for mass appeal and we can be an alternative to commercial radio. We're running 20 hours a week with public affairs programming, including a Hebrew and Jewish program in the morning, contemporary poetry programs and Lutheran worship service, plus virtually all types of music, including live music with local independent bands and interviews with musicians."

"There's a unity in spirit that exists between the station and our audience. They feed on each other and keep both of us going," Longstreet said.

Court creates task force on translations

Chief Justice Robert N. Wilentz has announced the creation of a 13-member Supreme Court task force to evaluate existing interpreter and translation services in the court system, and make recommendations to ensure equal access to the courts for those who do not speak English or who have an auditory handicap.

The Task Force on Interpreter and Translation Services is composed of judges, other court officials, representatives of legal services and the public defender's office, language translators, interpreters for the deaf, lawyers and academics. A majority of the task force members are bilingual.

"This is an area of concern for the court, particularly in light of the recent increase in New Jersey's non-English speaking population," said Wilentz. "We have been able to obtain the services of an outstanding group of people who are extremely knowledgeable on these issues and I look forward to their report and recommendations."

Kean planning new program

Kean College in Union has announced it is accepting students for a new minor, the collateral program in training and development, which no other college in the state offers on the undergraduate level.

Designed for fields other than teaching, the 22-credit program will be given Thursday nights at 5 starting in the fall. Factors in adult learning situations will be studied in such courses as educational psychology.

According to Dr. Marilyn Hart, one of those who prepared the program, the responses from 300 companies in a survey indicated a need for the program. She said graduates will be able to deal with new employee orientation, upgrading of skills, retraining, personnel development, and leadership and supervision.

During the fourth year, an undergraduate student at Kean will be able to participate in specially designed internships.

Interested persons may call 527-2264 for further information.

TRIP warning: Resurface roads

New Jersey could save more than $583 million if it begins a program soon to resurface its badly worn, paved main roads, according to a study released last week.

An estimated 830 miles (37 percent) of New Jersey's 2,236 miles of state-maintained roads need resurfacing at a cost of $250 million, according to The Road Information Program (TRIP) of Washington, D.C.

If these roads are not resurfaced within the next eight to 10 years, they will become so deteriorated that they will need to be rebuilt, TRIP says. That would cost $833 million, or more than three times the cost of resurfacing, TRIP estimates. TRIP recommends spending $250 million over the next decade to upgrade the Garden State's deficient main roads.

The New Jersey Department of Transportation (DOT) plans to spend $5 million in 1982 for resurfacing state-maintained roads and proposes to spend $16 million in 1983.

"New Jersey finances its roads strictly from the state's General Fund. And although the state collected more than $550 million in gasoline taxes and other road-related user fees last year, the DOT was only budgeted $310 million," said John R. Mullen, chairman of the New Jersey Alliance for Action, which requested the TRIP study.

"Unless more work is done on our roads the New Jersey public and its entire business community have reason to worry about the future of our road system," said Mullen.

TRIP points out that in addition to the 830 miles of state roads that need resurfacing, another 1,130 miles of roads were not resurfaced in time, and now need to be rebuilt at an estimated cost of $1.13 billion. These roads could have been resurfaced a few years ago for $338 million — a $792 million savings.
