Board slates referendum to raise $1M

BY PHILIP HARTMAN

There will be a public referendum in October to raise $1,012,435 lost by the Union County Regional High Schools in state minimum aid cuts made by the legislature this past June.

The Regional Board of Education unanimously approved the referendum Tuesday after discussing other options, which included withholding from the state monies earmarked for reimbursement of non-public school transportation.

Board member James Conlon, who introduced the referendum, said that between now and the fall the board would attempt to inform the public of the adverse consequences should the money not be reinstated. In particular, he cited possible program losses as a result.

"It's not misleading them, it's informing them," he said.

The board also agreed that, until the referendum is approved or voted down, selective cutbacks in equipment should be made.

Board member Virginia Muskus expressed concern that highly taxed areas of the district may not favor the board asking for reinstatement of the funds, which would affect the 1983 tax rate.

However, board member Charles Vitale contended: "You're concerned because you should go out on referendum — they can say 'yes or no.'"

The referendum would cost the district about $10,000, unless Springfield or Mountainside, two local districts which also lost aid, decide to appeal to the public and share the expenses.

On the alternative proposal, withholding non-public transportation monies, board President Stephen Marcinak said it would "draw attention to the irresponsible actions of the legislature."

Those funds are paid to private districts to support busing in lieu of the public schools providing their transportation. Public districts are later reimbursed by the state.

"We have to draw attention, like civil disobedience, or something," Marcinak said. He also reminded the board that the regional district lost more aid than any other district in the state.

Conlon agreed with Marcinak's concept: "It should be put on the lap of the people where it belongs, in Trenton."

However, he called the referendum a better method. "We need the input of citizens who in past shortfalls have been responsive."

Vitale agreed that private schools should not bear the effects.

"The people you're hurting or depriving didn't cause that problem; you're asking them to carry the football for us."

Should the public approve the referendum, it would give the go ahead for the district to borrow the reinstated funds.

In other business, the board approved the board secretary's report with one deletion and removal of a second item for further discussion.

A request by the Springfield Board of Education to use the school cafeteria was withdrawn and dropped from the report.

Renovation of the Jonathan Dayton clock tower was held for further discussion because of budget uncertainties, mainly caused by the aid cuts and a possible teachers strike in the fall, according to Harold Burdge, board secretary.

The board already had authorized

Trojan Builders to restore the tower at a cost of $81,300. Two others bid for the contract.

The board also received state approval for several special education programs.

The Auditorily Impaired Program at Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights will receive $115,000. The Trainable Mentally Retarded Program at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School will receive $17,280. The Learning Resource Center at Governor Livingston will receive $17,280. The Neurologically Impaired Program at Jonathan Dayton will receive $14,400.

In addition, the board authorized that its members be allowed to attend the New Jersey Education Association Convention in November in Atlantic City and The National School Board Conference, also in November. That conference is entitled "Concentrated Curriculum for School Board Members."

Submission of the revised 1982-1983 basic skills improvement program budget also was approved. Final allocations are: Chapter I program, $83,000, and state compensatory education, $55,550.

A one-day basic skills improvement workshop for thirteen staff members also was approved. The workshop will discuss implementing instructional materials developed this summer which will be used in all basic skills improvement instruction.

Bids due on Rt. 78

Bids for the construction of the final section of Interstate Route 78 will be received Sept. 2, the state Department of Transportation (DOT) has announced.

The initial contract will be awarded to cover excavation costs of the 2.2-mile section between Glenside Avenue and Shunpike Road in Springfield, Summit and the borough of Mountainside, John P. Sheridan Jr. transportation commissioner, said.

Sheridan also said that the department will advertise a series of excavation and construction contracts during the coming year so that work will be in progress along the entire length of the missing segment between Berkeley Heights and Springfield townships.

Plaintiffs in opposition to the construction recently filed an appeal in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, challenging U.S. District Court Judge Frederick B. Lacey's June decision okaying the highway's completion.

About 70 acres along the northern edge of the 2,000-acre Watchung Reservation will be needed for construction of the six-lane interstate roadway.

In contradiction to opponents of the construction, Sheridan contends that the completion of the 5.5-mile link "will significantly reduce existing congestion on Route 22." When this portion of the highway is completed, I-78 will extend from the Holland Tunnel to Still Valley, near the Pennsylvania border.

Inspections resume part-time Saturdays

UNION—The state Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV), "to further ease the burden of long waiting lines at motor vehicle inspection stations," last weekend resumed limited Saturday hours at 26 of its 37 inspection stations, according to Clifford W. Snedeker, DMV director.

The Union station on Route 22 east-bound and Westfield stations are among those which will be open from 7 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

"It is our hope that the additional hours, coupled with the new odd-even system, will eliminate the long waiting times at the inspection stations," Snedeker said.

"We expect waiting times of no more than 35 minutes at peak periods during August, and those waits should shrink to no more than 20 minutes throughout the rest of the year," Snedeker added. In addition, the stations will continue to operate for an extra hour-a-day during the week.

Under the odd-even system, motorists whose cars are due for inspection after the first of this month and whose license plate numbers end in an even number will be required to have the car inspected this year. Odd-numbered plates and all personalized plates without numbers will be inspected in 1983.

Motorists with additional questions concerning the odd-even system can get instant answers by calling either of the DMV's three hotline numbers between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. They are all area code and exchange 609-292 numbers — 3566, 3540 and 0383.

Dixon plays key role at the Girls' Institute

Elaine Dixon of Brookside Road recently attended the Girls' Citizenship Institute held at Douglass College sponsored by the New Jersey Federation of Womens' Clubs.

As the Mountainside delegate, Elaine described her attendance at the Institute as "a great privilege and an important learning experience." The theme was "Care, Dare, and Share" and the girls were exposed to many activities that followed the theme. Of the speakers on many timely issues, Dixon chose Adam Levin, Director of New Jersey Consumer Division, as the most interesting. All talks were followed by student discussion.

This fall Elaine will be a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. During the past year, she was involved in many extracurricular activities including student council representative, spring track, Latin Club, choir and stage crew for musicals. She is also president of the Sub-Junior group of the Mountainside Woman's Club.

Her main fields of interest are computers and engineering. Future college plans include application to Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy.

State Senator

Donald DiFrancesco

By next fall you will begin to see dramatic changes in the way juvenile offenders are treated.

These changes are long overdue. They are the result of an exhaustive study made by the Legislature in response to growing juvenile involvement in the crimes, particularly violent offenses.

The statistics speak for themselves. In 1980, juvenile arrests for violent crimes increased 12 percent in New Jersey over the year before. Minors were responsible for 25 percent of the violent crimes in which arrests were made. Juveniles accounted for close to half—46 percent—of all the arrests for non-violent crimes that year in New Jersey.

Clearly, the present juvenile justice system, which was enacted at a time when the prime concern was stopping petty theft and vandalism by juveniles, is inadequate.

For instance, under present laws, the toughest penalty a juvenile can receive for a crime, even murder, is an "indeterminate" three-year detention term.

The reform package signed into law by Governor Kean last week provides for longer detention terms for violent crimes. Murder carries a detention sentence of 20 years and other serious crimes up to four years.

The new juvenile justice system, which will go into effect next

The five year review shows upward trend

A five year review of the Minimum Basic Skills Tests results of the Union County Regional High School District '1 shows an excellent pattern of student achievement. The review of basic skills tests results for the period of 1978-1982 conducted by the New Jersey State Department of Education resulted in State approval of the basic skills instructional programs of all four high schools of the Regional District.

Included in the five year review report is a statistical comparison of 1982 MBS tests results with 1980 results. In these analyses David Brearley Regional High School showed a significant gain in communication skills; and Arthur I. Johnson Regional High

Rinaldo amendment approved

The House Energy and Commerce Committee has approved legislation authorizing the creation of Radio Marti to transmit news to Cuba, and in the process adopted a key amendment offered by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo of New Jersey permitting the station to broadcast on the AM band.

Radio Marti is a government project aimed at countering Fidel Castro's propaganda offensive in Cuba by setting up an independent station to inform listeners in Cuba about their government's activities in Cuba and throughout the world. Planned for location in the Florida Keys, it would be patterned after Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty.

The Rinaldo amendment, approved 24-18, is intended to allow Radio Marti to go into operation on the AM band next year as planned. Had it been rejected, the station would have been subjected to lengthy regulatory proceedings that would have taken many years and would likely have killed the project, Rinaldo said. The amendment had the support of Cuban-American organizations and the State Department, which sees Radio Marti as an important instrument of U.S. foreign policy toward Cuba.

Opponents of the amendment expressed concern that Castro would retaliate against Radio Marti by broadcasting on the same frequency from a 500,000-watt station. It was feared that this signal also could have serious consequences for domestic U.S. stations, particularly WHO in Des Moines, which shares Radio Marti's proposed frequency. Rinaldo rejected that argument, telling the committee that it "fails to take into account that Cuba has been interfering with AM radio broadcasting in this country for more than a decade, and it is pure speculation whether it would increase its interference activities."

He went on to say, "If we appease Castro by abandoning Radio Marti, Castro will see our action as a retreat. He will be more likely to interfere with U.S. broadcasting in the future if we let him dictate our frequency allocations today."

Radio Marti could be on the air as early as next year if it wins final Congressional approval during this session.

'Y' offering assortment

Of interest at the Westfield YWCA are the following programs:

HOUSING LIST — Because the YWCA has been receiving many inquiries from women about locations of rooms or small apartments available in the area, the association is compiling a list of such facilities. In addition, the Y also plans to retain a list, available upon request, of mature women who would be willing to accept overnight or day-long babysitting posts. Those interested in being placed on the list are asked to call the main desk at the Y, 233-2833.

CAMP RUNAMOK — A two-night overnight trip was completed today and the Y's first two-nighter, several weeks ago, was hailed by the youngsters who were participants. The camp, open to youngsters four through 12 years old, offers such extras on an optional basis. Regular activities are conducted at the Y pool and at nearby camp sites.

Blood drive is slated

The Summit Area chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a community blood drive at its Chapter House, located at 695 Springfield Avenue, Tuesday, Aug. 10, from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. The drive, which is co-sponsored by New Jersey Blood Services, will be open to the public.

According to Ann Farrow, blood services director for the Summit Red Cross, the present blood shortage in New Jersey may well extend into the Labor Day weekend. "Unless we are able to reverse the trend of fewer summer donations, blood will remain in short supply," said Mrs. Farrow.

"Types O Negative and B Negative blood are still dangerously low, and are still being delivered to hospitals on a case-by-case basis. We want to encourage area residents to make an extra effort and take the time to donate."

The donation process generally takes less than an hour, from registration through to refreshments. Each donor is given a mini-physical prior to their donation and normal activity can be resumed shortly after the donation.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66, weighing at least 110 pounds and in good health, can donate. Seventeen-year-olds require the written consent of a parent or guardian to give blood. For further information or to schedule a time to donate, contact the Summit Area Red Cross at 273-2076, or call New Jersey Blood Services at 828-8101.

for our children. We feel, however, that the Board of Education is more concerned with the cost than the quality.

Other communities in Union County have recognized superior educators by compensating them for the 1982-83 school year beyond what the Springfield Board of Education has offered. Being proven leaders in the educational community for many years, we feel we are entitled to the same consideration.

Former POW choice for position with VA

James R. Purdy, Director of the Newark Veterans Administration (VA) Regional Office, announced that a former prisoner of war in Vietnam, Everett Alvarez, Jr., will be nominated by President Reagan to be Deputy Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

He will succeed Charles T. Hagel, who has resigned. Alvarez, 44, will join the VA Administrator, Robert P. Nimmo, in leading the Government's largest independent agency. He comes to the VA from the Peace Corps where he has served as Deputy Director since being appointed by the President in 1981.

A native of Salinas, California, Alvarez currently oversees the day to day management of more than 5,000 Peace Corps volunteers serving in over 60 countries. The former Navy pilot received his bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of Santa Clara in 1960, the same year he entered the Navy, beginning a 20-year career.

He received his master's degree in Operations Research and Systems Analysis in 1976 from the Naval Post Graduate School in Monterey, California, and in December 1982 will receive his J.D. Degree from the George Washington University National Law Center in Washington, D.C. From November 1976 to July 1980 Alvarez served as Assistant Program Manager for the U.S. Naval Air Systems Command, and Director of the U.S. Naval Air Production Management Project Office in Washington, D.C. As Assistant Program Manager, he managed the Navy's $200 million A-4 aircraft program, accountable for management of development, testing, evaluation, and production of A-4 systems involving 15 models and more than 2,000 aircraft. As Director of the U.S. Naval Air Production Management Project Office, he established and implemented production readiness procedures and managed Government contracting and procurement processes.

According to Purdy, Alvarez' numerous military awards include: The Silver Star, two Legion of Merits (with combat "V"), two Bronze Stars (with combat "V"), a distinguished Flying Cross, and two Purple Hearts. Upon his retirement from the Navy in 1980, Alvarez went to work for a Washington, D.C. law firm.

In 1973, following his release by the North Vietnamese, after eight and one-half years as a prisoner of war—the longest held American POW of that conflict—he established the Everett Alvarez, Jr., Scholarship Foundation, "to help youngsters get ahead and develop a sense of responsibility and positive feelings toward being an American." The Foundation is administered by the University of Santa Clara.

As VA Deputy Administrator, Alvarez will assist the VA Chief in carrying out the agency's numerous responsibilities in serving the nearly 30 million living veterans and overseeing the agency's $25 billion budget.

Alvarez and his wife, the former Thomasine Ilyas of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, reside in Rockville, Maryland, with their two children, March and Bryan.

Narcolepsy creates hazardous condition

"Some drivers fall asleep at stoplights. Others arrive at destinations not remembering the drive. Undiagnosed sleep disorders can present major traffic safety hazards."

So claims Matthew J. Derham, president of the New Jersey Automobile Club (AAA), in reference to narcolepsy, a chronic sleep disorder which causes attacks during which it is physically impossible for victims to stay awake.

In other words, said Derham, narcoleptics may experience an overwhelming desire to sleep—anywhere. Driving, then, is the most potentially dangerous situation for the undiagnosed narcoleptic.

According to the American Narcoleptic Association, roughly one in every 500 drivers suffers from this illness. Even though the ANA estimates that over 250,000 Americans have narcolepsy, 50 to 80 percent of these sufferers remain undiagnosed.

Treatment for the narcoleptic is available through medication or evaluation at sleep disorder centers.

Union College plans open house Aug. 21

Union College will hold an open house on Saturday, Aug. 21, for adults who are considering returning to school, either to begin or continue a college career. The free open house will be conducted on the college's Cranford campus beginning at 10 a.m.

Patricia Kurisko, director of admissions and records, said the open house will be conducted in an informal manner so that college administrators can answer questions about admission procedures, programs of study, career counseling, financial aid, and the role of an adult student in the community college.

Various programs offered by the college for those who might need to "catch up" include seminars on how to study in college, developmental courses, and special sessions for people who want to prepare for GED (high school equivalency diploma) testing or CLEP (College Level Examination Program) testing.

The open house will be followed by a CLEP Orientation at 11 a.m.

In addition, adults who want to prepare for testing the collegiate waters may benefit from a special course to be offered by Union College in August.

"Preparation for College Study for Adults" will be conducted in two sessions on Tuesdays, Aug. 24 and 31, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The course — which is being offered free of charge by the Division of Continuing Education — will help participants to take notes, develop study

Profs selected for task force

Dr. Anthony Signorelli, acting dean of the faculty, and Prof. Normal Will, a member of the English Department, have been appointed as Union College's representatives to the Teaching Learning Task Force of the New Jersey Consortium on the Community College. It was announced by Dr. Leonard T. Kreisman, vice president for academic affairs.

The task force, formed in 1971, was organized to provide the two-year colleges with a cooperative approach toward solving problems of mutual concern. The task force established a transfer policy between the two- and four-year colleges of New Jersey and successfully encouraged the introduction of a graduate program at Rutgers University directed at the preparation of community college staff. Several seminars have been held on development of leadership, directed at the role of academic administrators.

skills, eliminate concerns about writing, learn how to conquer tests, utilize the resources of the library and, in so doing develop a confident feeling about doing college-level work, according to Dr. Frank Dee, division dean. Enrollment is limited to adults who have been out of school for several years.

Dr. Donald Anderson, professor emeritus of Union College, will be the instructor.

For registration information, those interested can call Union College, 276-2600, ext. 206 or 238; for additional information about the open house, they can call 276-2600, ext. 367.

STUDYING MALL IMPACT—Former Union County Freeholder Chairman Walter E. Boright reviews plans for Lenape Park Flood Detention Basin at entrance to basin area. Boright said he fears possible adverse impact of run-off waters from proposed 52-acre mall development in watershed area of the flood basin.

Boright urging study of mall flood impact

Former Union County Freeholder Chairman Walter E. Boright, who described himself as one of the principal proponents of the Lenape Park Flood Detention Basin for the Rahway River, this week questioned the possible adverse impact of large volumes of run-off waters from a mall development proposed in the watershed area of the Lenape Park Flood Detention Basin.

A developer has proposed an 85-store mall to be constructed on 52 acres of mostly farm land located in Springfield off Route 22.

Boright, a Democratic candidate for Union County freeholder, noted, "When the Lenape Park Flood Detention Basin was proposed in the 1970s, I don't recall the freeholder board envisioning such wide scale blacktopping and overall land development in the watershed area of the flood basin. The communities of Cranford, Kenilworth, Rahway, Springfield, Union and the county, as well as state bond monies, contributed to the construction of the $2.7 million dollar project. When one takes into account other non-developed lands in the region, a sense of the deepest concern must arise in one's conscience. If the other vacant lands end up being developed in the same manner as the proposed mall, the amount of flood water run off directly rushing into the flood basin could be enormous. I am concerned if such surges of additional waters could adversely impact upon the capacity of the flood project."

Boright continued, "Therefore, I am hopeful that each governing body of the affected communities will follow up my letter to the Union County Department of Engineering and Planning, requesting that its hydrological engineer and flood staff conduct a study to determine the impact of the 52 acre mall construction upon the Lenape Park Flood Detention Basin. I would also like that survey to take into account similar mall developments in other regions of the watershed."

Boright stressed, "This particular mall, the survey may show, does not adversely impact the flood basin. But this proposed mall, when coupled with any others that may be built in the future, could be cause for alarm. That's why I have called for the county to intercede and to conduct its own review of the matter."

During Boright's service on the freeholder board, he said, the county body undertook some of its "most ambitious" intermunicipal flood projects. Agreements were worked out between the five participating communities and the county. The Lenape Park Basin "became a showcase for the northeastern United States," he said. The state's participation in the project with recently approved bond issue monies came after the accord was struck and helped reduce each community's financial share to the project, he added.

Boright concluded, "I am hopeful that the county survey will alleviate my fears and those of many residents in the central Union County area. If the report should show cause for flood alarm, then the county must act swiftly and forcefully to protect the interests of its investment and the investments of the five communities as well as life and property."

Boright is seeking a freeholder seat along with his running mates, Thomas Long, an incumbent, Charlotte De Filippo, and Jerry Green.

Community projects to be aided by funds

Teenagers who have an idea for a project that will improve their neighborhoods are eligible to apply for a Metropolitan Community Improvement Youth Grant.

That is the advice of Edward R. Lisicki, district sales manager of the Metropolitan Insurance Companies office located at 2444 Morris Ave., P.O. Box 246, Union, 07083.

Metropolitan's 1982 youth grants program is designed to encourage young people to make positive changes in their communities, giving their towns and cities the benefit of their ideas and earning them recognition for their efforts. Metropolitan will make a number of grants to groups of teenagers who submit the best proposals. The project might improve the appearance of a neighborhood or provide a product or service not available to the community.

Grants will be based on funds needed to complete the project up to a maximum of $250 for any one grant.

Any group of five or more young people between the ages of 12 and 18 is eligible to apply through a sponsoring non-profit organization such as

Seminar to be held Wednesday on treating hearing-impaired

An intensive one-day seminar to provide information for health care professionals who treat deaf or hearing-impaired patients will be conducted at Union College on Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The special program will be held again at Brookdale Community College, Lincroft, on Thursday, Aug. 12, according to the same schedule.

Participants, including physicians, nurses, therapists, health technicians and health institution administrators, will learn methods of identifying hearing loss, care of hearing-impaired patients in the office or hospital, and systems of effective health care delivery. Interpreters will be provided for hearing-impaired participants.

The event will be sponsored jointly by Union College's Division of Continuing Education, Brookdale Community College's Community Services Department, National Academy of Gallaudet College, and the New Jersey Association for the Deaf. The faculty will include Eileen Forestal of New Providence, coordinator, interpreters for the Deaf Program, Union College; Dr. Frank Carden, director of mental health services for the Hearing Impaired, State of New Jersey; George Karras, consultant for the New Jersey Association of the Deaf; and Connie H. Knight, coordinator for professional training programs at the national academy of Gallaudet College.

The all-day program, titled "Health Care Delivery for Deaf Patients," will include the following topics: Deafness—The Disability vs. the Handicap; Non-Verbal Communication; The Deaf Patient in the Health Care Setting; Deafness, the Psychological Impact; Community Resources for the Deaf Patient; Practicum of Case Studies, and classes in medical signs and fingerspelling.

4-H Fair open to craftsmen

Craftsmen are invited to show their work at a 4-H Fair on Sunday, Sept. 12, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. at Trailside in Mountainside.

Last year, the fair drew an attendance of approximately 5,000. Craftsmen may display or demonstrate their wares but will not be allowed to sell anything.

Traditionally, delivery of services to handicapped people, including the deaf and hearing impaired, has been haphazard and compounded by needless barriers resulting from lack of accurate information about disabilities and disabled people, according to Forestal. With the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Education of All Handicapped Children Act, the federal government has recognized the urgency of remedying this situation, she said.

Union College, the only college in New Jersey to offer an interpreters for the deaf curriculum, has a program leading to either a two-year associate degree or to a one-year certificate. In the fall of 1980, satellite programs were begun at Camden County College, Salem Community College and Brookdale Community College.

Peake has been a Rotarian since 1957, and is a past president of the Linden Club. Previously he was a member of the Elizabeth, Gary, Ind. and Belleville, Ill., Rotary clubs.

Elizabethtown Gas notes prosecutions

Elizabethtown Gas has announced that it has successfully prosecuted three customers for stealing gas since the company initiated a campaign design to crack down on gas thefts.

Frank T. Bahniuk, vice president of operations and engineering at Elizabethtown, said the campaign hopes to discourage gas theft attempts, encourage reports of thefts and prosecute when needed.

"It's a criminal offense to tamper with a gas meter in attempt to show less consumption or to bypass the meter entirely," Bahniuk said.

The New Jersey criminal code states that any person who tampers with gas company equipment in an attempt to steal gas, whether or not any gas is actually stolen, is guilty of a disorderly persons offense, a criminal offense, he said.

"It is also dangerous and costly to all honest, paying customers," Bahniuk added.

Two municipal court complaints are pending, according to Susas T. Covino, senior attorney at Elizabethtown. In addition, the company has tried four civil complaints seeking, among other things, damages resulting from gas thefts and/or attempted gas thefts.

The company also attempts to get honest customers involved by explaining that they pay higher bills when gas is stolen. By showing them that they are "paying for a gas thief's energy," Elizabethtown hopes to encourage honest customers to report known cases of tampering. Bahniuk stressed.

While the company hopes that the campaign is succeeding in discouraging potential gas thefts, employees will continue to be alert for signs of equipment tampering.

Elizabethtown gas intends to eliminate gas thefts and will continue to protect its customers by actively seeking out thefts and taking subsequent legal action if necessary, Bahniuk said.

Elizabethtown Gas, based in Elizabeth, serves 194,000 customers in 69 communities in Union, Middlesex, Hunterdon, Warren, Sussex, Mercer and Morris counties. The toll-free number to call to report suspected tampering is (201) 289-6400.

BACK TO THE STATES

By RON BRANDSDORFER

The tension was driving Harry Weinerman and his players crazy. This was the ballgame Legion Post 228 had to win to capture the Union County championship and Springfield was leading Clark by a 1-0 score in the sixth inning. And Weinerman was pacing back and forth, back and forth...

Then Post 228 exploded for four runs. Just as pitcher John Baumgartner was heading to the mound to put the finishing touches on Clark and to send the Legion into the state tournament for the second straight season, a DC-10 came roaring in over Ruby Field.

"That's the plane to Boyertown, Pa.," Weinerman chirped.

And his players busted up. Boyertown, Pa.?

That's the site of the 1982 American Legion national championships. Weinerman and his players know the location but aren't thinking that far ahead. Or are they?

"When I started getting things together on February 1st," began Weinerman, who will take his team to Lyn-hurst tonight for a game against Bergen County champion Rutherford. "I was hoping we could win the Union County League and qualify for the states once again. To be one of the top 18 teams in the state is great. Anything after that is icing on the cake."

Including a state championship and, possibly though just a dream, a national title.

But Weinerman doesn't want his players dreaming about championships just yet. The Legion boss is making sure his players take the double-elimination state tourney very seriously.

"The confidence is there," he said, "but we have to try to keep everything in the proper perspective. Once you've been there, you never want to be anywhere else in August than in the New Jersey state American Legion championship ships."

Springfield has indeed been there. Last year, Post 228 qualified for the first time in the township's history and lasted four games before getting bumped out.

And Weinerman thinks that may be his team's biggest asset entering this year's tourney.

Confidence, experience may help Legion Post 228 in annual tournament

"We've been there before and that makes a big difference," said Weinerman, who has seven of nine starters back from last year's club. "We've learned that we won't meet a weak club. Everybody is tough and very good, and that should keep our players on their toes."

Weinerman and assistants Mel Vargas and Larry Small are still fiddling around with a starting lineup for the tourney, but there's no question that John Baumgartner (14-0 over two years) will be on the mound in the opener and Dave Crane will be behind the plate. Joining Baumgartner on the starting staff will be Jeff Kopyta; Frank Gagliano and Doug Torborg, while Larry Zavadny and Fran Broskoskie will be the bullpen aces on a staff that went through 38 games (21 6-1) with a sparkling 2.24 earned run average.

Springfield's coaches will then take a few from Column A and a few more from Column B after that. Infielders are Dave Roche, Paul Clarke, Vin Cocchia, Kopya and Broskoskie, while Pat Esemplare, Gagliano, Tom Ard, Kirk Yogy and Tim Black are the outfielders.

"All the kids are talking about is winning the state championship," reported Weinerman, who has a hint that Union, the second best team in Union County, may be one of the teams to beat for the title. "Coming down the stretch and winning the games that we had to win showed us how good we really are."

But there are other powerhouses in the tourney. In the North bracket, for example, Springfield will meet Rutherford tonight at Breslin Field in Lyndhurst and a victory would mean a Friday night (8 p.m.) game with Paterson. Another victory would boost Post 228 into a Sunday (5 p.m.) battle with either Bloomfield or Kearny. A loss anywhere along the line would drop Springfield into the losers' bracket.

It's a complicated affair, but Weinerman and Company can't wait to get started.

"We believe," Weinerman concluded, "that this is our year."

It won't take very long for Post 228 to find out for sure.

Future stars

Views On Dental Health

By SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D.

QUACK DENTAL CURES

According to the American Dental Association, Americans spend an estimated $2 billion a year on health quacks and quack products. Dentures (false teeth) construction and repair is one of the areas abused by quacks.

Dentures fitted by unqualified persons and mail order dentures, if not properly fitted, can damage mouth tissues. Some damage, such as excessive bone loss, is irreversible. Constant irritation from an ill-fitting denture, if continued over a long period of time, may contribute to the development of open sores and other serious lesions such as tumors.

Persons in extreme discomfort from the ill-fitting dentures tend not to use them. This is not only a waste of good money but could lead to shrinking gums which will make the fit even worse and eating without teeth can lead to digestive problems.

Poorly fitting dentures can cost you more in the long run when the damage they cause has to be corrected. For your health, comfort, pleasure and appearance, go only to professionals when it comes to your dental health.

Sharks swallow WO, Fairfield

The Springfield Sharks had an easier week this time against West Orange and Fairfield.

The West Orange meet represented the second victory in the North Jersey Summer Swim League for the Sharks, and it was won with 25 first places and a final score of 208-110.

The Fairfield swim meet was the third win for Springfield. The Sharks ran away with it, getting 29 first places en route to a 208-146 decision. One relay stood out, and that was the 15-17 boys' freestyle relay, which exploded with Tony Deha, Greg Lalevee, Glenn Aitelli and Hal Levine and received a super time of 1:57.41.

In that victory over Fairfield, Springfield had a good freestyle score. First place winners were Levine, Marianne Branco, Jon Simon, Rusty Simon, Laine Levine, Greg Gomes,

MCP powers past Cedar Grove as Dowdle, relay squads shine

The Mountaineer Community Pool's swim team registered its biggest victory of the season last Saturday with a resounding triumph over Cedar Grove.

Determined to avenge an earlier loss, Coach Dana Zoneyville's swimmers took the lead in the freestyle events, increased it throughout the meet and finished with an impressive final score of 233-169.

Fifteen swimmers scored first places, and two MCP records were broken. Mike Dowdle set a new 11-12 boys' 50-meter butterfly record with a time of 34.62, and the 13-17 boys' 200-meter freestyle relay team of Rick Van Benschoten, Walt Kempner, Todd Richter and Peter Jaffe now hold that record at 1:58.99.

In addition to the record-setting 13-17 boys' relay, three other freestyle teams captured first places—the 9-12 girls' team of Beth Post, Susan Higgins, Colleen Higgins and Amy Doten; the 9-12 boys' team of Mike Dowdle, Allen Gardner, Scott Marinelli and Stephen Fowler; and the 13-17 girls' team of Lisa McCarthy, Lisa Jackson, Lisa Dowdle and Sara Post. The only winning medley relay was the 13-17 boys' team of Fred Filler, Mike Barisoniek, Fred Ahlholm and Russ Picut.

In individual events, double first-place winners were Beth Post, Lisa Debbie Kornfeld and Andrew Broad. There were seconds and thirds to Janis Netchert, Mike Lippman, Missy Peterson, Dee Stearns, Rob Kolmel, April Peterson and Lori Hart. Summer swimmers picking up their best time were Dana Magee, Jon Burger and Courtney Benner.

Springfield then doubled Fairfield's score in the backstroke by again taking firsts in all age groups but two. There were two sweeps in the 9-10 and 11-12 girls' events. The 9-10 team was very sharp as Netchert did her best time, beating teammate Laura Schaedel by only .02 seconds and Kathy Fanning by .48 seconds. The 11-12 girls' team of Laine Levine, Katie Oxx and Lora Condon took the sweep in that area.

In the breaststroke, Springfield took a 99-point lead by again taking firsts in three age groups. First place ribbons went to Magee, Broad, Jennifer Schaedel, Lippman, Ann Leddy, Haliee Arnold, Jon Simon and Dom Giovannone. Seconds were picked up by Aitelli, Eddie Fanning, Mark Pribracha and Kornfeld. Thirds went to Kristin McLeer, Missy Peterson, Walter Boraczek and April Peterson.

Springfield scored its final points in the butterfly before making a move in the relay events. Kathy Fanning took a first, Danny LaMorges and Kornfeld nabbed seconds, and Broad was third. The 11-12 girls again swept with Oxx in first and Leddy and Dawn Knox a close two-three.

Eddie Fanning and Bernard Leddy took second and third in their age groups, while winners in the other groups were Stearns, first; Fran Boraczek and Arnold, third, with a time of 45:67; and Kolmel and Lori Smith, firsts. Levine and Aitelli finished the meet with a one-two punch.

Overlook Hospital program places people on treadmills

It's an unusual sight for a hospital: people in gym shorts and t-shirts working up healthy sweats on stationary bicycles, motorized treadmills and rowing machines. Afterwards, they retreat to comfortable locker rooms for a shower, and then change into street clothes before heading for home or work.

This collective huffing and puffing on the lower level of Overlook's Center for Community Health is hardly a leisure-time diversion. It's part of the hospital's Cardiac Rehabilitation Program—a newly launched outpatient effort that puts Overlook squarely in the business of keeping people healthy by shaping their habits and lifestyles. Exercise is only part of it.

Overlook also conducts classes and individual counseling on stress management, dietary control, smoking cessation and the other types of things people need to know about staying well.

The rehabilitation program is specifically aimed at reducing cardiovascular risk. Its participants include those who have already suffered a heart attack, had coronary bypass surgery, angina pectoris, or have shown the kinds of risk factors that could earmark them for future problems unless corrective steps are taken.

For those patients who are hospitalized, the program begins even before they are discharged, and intensifies once they have

A TASTE OF HONEY

Pick of The LPs "Ladies of the Eighties" by A Taste of Honey (Capitol).

If the 1980s aren't held sacred for any other reason, at least in the annals of pop music the decade will be recalled as the one in which A Taste of Honey, Janice Marie Johnson and Hazel Payne, forged ahead to solidify their stake in the competitive world of contemporary music. Thus, it's only fitting that the duo's fourth Capitol album be titled "Ladies of the Eighties."

On this project, songwriters-musicians Janice Marie Johnson and Hazel Payne expand the formidable streak of success ignited with their splashy debut five years ago. By bassist Janice Marie Johnson's own standards, "Eighties" stands as "our best album to date. The singles potential is stronger than it's been for any of our other projects. We feel it's got something for everyone."

In 1978 Johnson and guitarist partner Hazel Payne received a crash course on the potential of a single. That was the year their very first recording, "Boogie Oogie," written by Johnson, hit the top of the charts, becoming an international smash. In the states the single and its album, A Taste of Honey, were both certified platinum by the RIAA, and went gold in both the United Kingdom and Japan. The record also nabbed the group a prestigious "Best New Artist of the Year" Grammy Award.

In July of '79 the group released their second LP, "Another Taste." Again produced by the Mizells, and the group, with Johnson and Payne writing and arranging most of the material, the LP was a victim of disco's backlash in the United States, but it climbed to the top of the charts in Japan, and the LP and its single, "Do It Good," both went gold. The record also won the Gold Prize in the 8th Annual Tokyo Music Festival. The group supported the honors with a tour of Japan and plenty of television promotion. They even did a Japanese commercial for Toshiba's Bom-Beat stereo cassette player, a popular item in Japan.

If there seemed to be a marked absence of A Taste of Honey on American charts in 1979-80, Johnson and Payne changed all that in 1981. The departure of ATOH keyboardist Perry Kibble and drummer Donald Johnson left the responsibility for the band's musical direction solely on their shoulders, and for their third LP the duo went into the studio with George Duke. The result, Twice As Sweet, was released in September of '81.

The third single released from the LP, "Sukiyaki," a revitalized re-make of Kyu Sakamoto's 1963 international hit, went to Number One on the national charts, selling itself all the way to gold status. "We never doubted that song," says Janice, who had the 1963 version translated and then re-wrote the lyrics.

"It's a romantic song with a great arrangement; I knew all it needed was the chance to be a hit." "Eighties" is chock full of contemporary music, such as the synthesizer-laden syncopation of "Savonara," the festive "We've Got The Groove," the thunderous rock-flavored "Lies," the seductive mid-tempo of "Never Go Wrong" and the splendid reworking of "I'll Try Something New," the cover of the Smokey Robinson classic that became a smash hit single right out of the box.

Hot smorgasbord warms Union Plaza

By GAIL CASALE
Little did you know, my friends, last week while everyone was working diligently at their professions, I was enjoying the comfortable sea breezes and basking in the hot summer sun of the Jersey shore. But as all you good people know, vacations are only temporary and although everything seems somewhat more pleasurable when you're away, there are still some things you miss back at home. One of these is the tempting hot smorgasbord offered at the Union Plaza Diner-Restaurant located on Route 22's center isle in Union.

Variety and taste are two of the main ingredients mixed into Union Plaza's smorgasbord. You rarely know what to expect from day to day regarding the types of dishes displayed. Four different specials are spotlighted daily at the buffet-style smorgasbord including Greek, Italian and American favorites.

Allow me to describe some of them for you. Maybe eggplant parmigian, shrimp creole, barbecued spare ribs or a famous Greek dish known as pastichio, made of macaroni stuffed with ground beef and topped with a creamy sauce, will be the day's four-some.

There are other interesting combinations as well. Sample some mousaka, lasagna, shrimp chow mein or baked fish featured occasionally on Fridays. The possibilities are numerous and you'll undoubtedly want to try all of them. Ask your server for that day's specials.

The best news is yet to come! Union Plaza's hot smorgasbord is priced at a reasonable $5.45 per person and you can go back for seconds and even thirds. Go ahead, help yourself to another juicy spare rib or whatever. The management won't mind. Included in the package is a cup of soup and a round or two at the refreshing salad bar. The cold goodies are just as bountiful here, too. Choose from among fresh cucumber and Russian salads and cole slaw.

The smorgasbord complete with all the above trimmings is offered daily from 5 to 10 p.m. except for Wednesdays and Saturdays.

As has been said, we must give credit where credit is due, and in this case the reward is bestowed on a team that has been in the restaurant business for some time. Partners Nick Pappas and Pete and Nick Dedes run the operation from corner to corner, supervising each detail from kitchen preparation to the customer's final consumption. Incidentally, Nick, Pete and Nick have individually managed restaurants throughout the state before establishing the Union Plaza five years ago.

There's lots more to select from on the rest of the menu, too. Another area that the Union Plaza prides itself on are the various house specials. Among them are the chicken liver saute and beef shish kebab-oriental.

Seafood lovers can have a field day at the Union Plaza. Twenty styles of fried and broiled fish are offered for the taking; meat and poultry eaters have a host of favorites to order as well.

The lunch listings are full of surprises. Certainly there are burgers including one fashioned on an English muffin. With 3-D movies once again the craze, Union Plaza sets the trend with hearty 3-D decker club sandwiches, not to exclude you waist watchers, choose from a slew of delights from the calorie corner.

For breakfast, over 12 kinds of omelettes are available including cereals and several kinds of pancakes served fresh from the griddle.

Further conveying the Union Plaza team's aim for quality, all baking is done on the premises including luscious desserts like banana cream pie and ever popular napoleons.

The Union Plaza makes ordering food for the youngsters a sheer joy itself. Complete dinners featuring grilled frankfurters or spaghetti and meatballs are more amusingly known as Snoopy's Delight and Fred Flinstone's Treat. The kiddies are sure to love this clever angle.

The diner is open daily til 2 a.m. Especially for you late night weekenders the Union Plaza stays open 24 hours on Friday and Saturday. Visa and Mastercard are accepted.

Bring the whole family to the Union Plaza Diner-Restaurant, where its plentiful hot smorgasbord is one of the best deals in town. You only have yourself to blame if you come away hungry from the Union Plaza.

'Friends' aid pets

Before the end of the year, some 450,000 unwanted dogs and cats in New Jersey will die in public pounds and animal shelters at a cost of about $18 million. The cost is borne by municipal taxpayers and by contributors to private humane societies.

Those figures were announced by Alice Herrington, president of Friends of Animals, a non-profit animal welfare group with national administrative offices in Neptune.

Herrington said that the organization's low-cost spaying program in 13 New Jersey counties "is designed to curtail the unprecedented puppy and kitten production this year."

"Breeding control can prevent the unrestrained mating that leads to such tragedy," she added.

Animal abandonment and overpopulation is of special concern this time of year in vacation areas of the state, Herrington said. Thousands of vacationers adopt pets in the summer but leave or lose them by the end of their stay, contributing significantly to the suffering of animals as well as the animal control problem.

The spaying program operated by the Friends of Animals is now being offered in Bergen, Burlington, Camden, Essex, Hudson, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Ocean, Somerset, Union and Warren Counties.

Information on the service can be obtained by calling 922-2600.
