Council mulls request for state

BY SUE SWEENEY

The Mountainside Borough Council discussed the possibility of asking for emergency funds from the state to cover legal bills at the meeting Tuesday night.

Councilman Robert Vigilanti estimated that the borough will be short $35,000 at the end of the year due to unexpected legal expenses.

When the budget was constructed in January, there was no anticipation of the use of extra legal help. The Raymond Della Serra hearings in June employed two attorneys in addition to the regular council attorney.

The council will vote at the meeting Tuesday night to decide on whether or not to approach Trenton on the need of emergency funds.

The discussion on legal fees was added to the resolutions on the agenda as a result of a concerned citizen's letter. Stuart H. Lutz of Raccoon Hollow requested from the mayor and council an account of all legal expenditures.

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi expressed that these documents are open to the public and Lutz can review them at any time. However, Ricciardi will not permit the borough clerk's office to spend time on preparing the copies of the records and mail them out, as was requested by Lutz.

In other business discussed at the meeting, Robert Kosier, borough engineer, suggested that there be a raise in the amount of the bid being offered for solicitation of snow removal vehicles. The guaranteed minimum amount of $6,000 has remained the same for the past 10 years. Kosier suggested raising it to $8,000 to $10,000 to make the offer look more attractive to prospective bidders.

The council reviewed the ongoing problems with the new bus shelter located in the Diamond-Head building.

They voiced their concern to the complaints by the neighbors in that area. The neighbors have commented on the littering problem by the commuters while waiting for the bus.

Councilwoman Marilyn Hart suggested raising the littering fine in Mountainside from the present fine of $25 as a deterrent.

A discussion on the new mall that is being proposed in Springfield may soon see opposition by the council. The estimated added traffic of over 17,000 cars per day is seen as a probable road hazard for the Mountainside community.

Councilman Louis Maas foresees some ramifications in Mountainside as far as increase in cars on the roads and possible accidents.

The Sanitary Sewer Meter bids are expected to see an addition of $40,000 due to the added expense of engineering fees and legal costs. The council had asked for bids last month and received $77,900 as the lowest. The expected price was much less. The council had originally appropriated $47,500.

An added resolution to the agenda was submitted by Hart on concern for the new Westbound turnaround on Route 22.

Police Chief William Alder said that there had been as many as three accidents in four nights involving the barriers on the new turnaround. Since then, new lights were added to make it safer.

The turnaround is in an area which makes it difficult to see oncoming traffic.

The council discussed the possibility of a new police patrol car. They will sell one of the old cars that has over 60,000 miles on it. The council will hold off until next month on any decision involving the purchase of a new car until reports have been made by Alder and Maas.

Board decides to cut budget

Last week the Regional Board of Education rescinded its proposal for a public referendum to raise $1,012,435 lost in state aid cuts and, instead, decided to make budget reductions to partly make up for that sum.

The budget cuts will save the district $490,215 and were made in three areas: buildings and grounds items, transportation and staff.

The board decided that the cuts will be made immediately.

"Although the total does not reach the loss of minimum state school aid of $1,012,435, the Board of Education wishes to wait until the fall to see whether the state legislature might provide full or partial restoration of these funds," the board announced.

According to Superintendent Donald Merachnik, there are several bills pending in the legislature that might provide full or partial restoration of funds.

The board has stated it will do "all in its power to exert influence upon the legislators of New Jersey for restoration."

Should the legislator fail to give back the monies, the board will consider further budgetary reductions or use of surplus funds to continue programs for the coming school year.

If surplus funds are used, 1983-84 tax rates may increase because of fewer school dollars available to offset district costs.

The board has maintained, however, that curriculum will not be affected.

"The Board of Education, despite the irresponsibility of the state legislature for eliminating state minimum aid at this late date, does not wish to jeopardize the instructional programs of the district for students. Therefore, the majority of the budgetary delays and reductions listed at this time will not directly affect instructional programs," the board stated.

Some of the largest money saving cuts were: the decision to wait another year to resurface parking lots at Jonathan Dayton and Governor Livingston regional high schools cut $67,900 from the budget.

The district saved $21,000 when it held back on remodeling the combination locks and doors on lockers at Jonathan Dayton and Governor Livingston.

An additional $70,000 for renovating the soccer field at Governor Livingston was saved. Also, the district will not be installing a sprinkler system in the soccer field at David Brearley which will save $23,100.

A new telephone switchboard at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School will be installed one year later for a cost of about $50,000. Television studios at Governor Livingston will be installed one year later for about $30,000.

Those buildings and grounds items along with others totaled $326,245 in savings.

In busing, the board decided not to transport students who reside less than two-and-one-half miles from the school. That $100,000 cut means that eight Springfield students will lose the transportation that they received in the past.

In the funding and positions of staff, the board decided not to fill a vacant assistant principalship, which will save $27,500. The coordinator of mathematics will not be replaced when that position becomes vacant in January 1983. That is a $19,150 savings.

Also, the position of school dentist was eliminated and funds set aside for staff conference trips and guidance visitations to colleges were taken from the budget.

WATER BUGS—Jerry Britt of Mountainside and his three-year-old son Michael enjoy the water's cooling effects at the Mountainside municipal pool. With the recent warm temperatures the pool has become a popular spot for borough residents.

District unaffected by family-life edict

The Union County Regional High School district will be unaffected by a 1980 state Board of Education mandate, upheld by the state Supreme Court in May, requiring all school districts to implement family-life programs in grades nine through 12 by September.

For about the past decade, Jonathan Dayton and the three other regional schools have been including these family-life programs in their health education programs, according to Dr. Martin Siegel, director of curriculum.

"(Family life-courses) have been part of the program for a long time," Siegel said.

He added that the courses "meet the law's intention."

Since health education has been taught in the regional schools the district has done a periodic updating of the curriculum. The programs have been reviewed the past two summers and a committee is being formed to continue updating those programs and their materials.

Siegel said the committee will be comprised of staff, teachers and community representatives and the review will be district-wide in scope.

Hagel, Kakel earn college scholarships

The Mountainside Women's Club presented two college scholarships recently to Ellen Hagel of Short Drive and Jayne Kakel of Forest Hill Way, both of whom are June graduates of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Hagel, who was awarded the nursing scholarship, will attend Wilkes College where she plans to study for a Bachelor of Science and Registry degree in pediatric nursing. She was a member of the high school Chorale, and also worked as a candystriper at Overlook Hospital. Kakel will continue her education at Boston College's school of management, Chestnut Hill, Mass., where she will major in accounting. Her activities in high school included track and cross country, Spanish Club, and Business Club.

She is also active in the Search and Crossroads retreat programs and was a Lector at Our Lady of Lourdes Church where she was inducted into the Eucharistic Ministry in June.

Ire raised over proposed mall

BY PHILIP HARTMAN

Since February, as the Planning Board and Bamberger's-Alexander's people have bantered about evidence on the proposed shopping center off Route 22, audience members at the hearings, residents of the surrounding area and local merchants have been forming their own opinion groups which were evident at the meeting last week.

In one corner of the school cafeteria at the Florence Gaudineer School sat about 50 pro-mall people donning "I'm for the Mall" buttons.

Surrounding them, and dominating the crowd of about 250 people, were the anti-mall forces, armed with "Stop the Mall" buttons. In their arsenal that group also has funded a campaign to buy lawn signs objecting to the project, has distributed petitions, and, has taken a post office box for contributions toward their literature.

Outside the township, the Westfield Town Council appropriated $20,000 last month to aid what it called "mounting community opposition" to the shopping center. According to reports, that money will probably be used to hire expert witnesses to plead the town's case before the Springfield board.

In addition, the Westfield Chamber of Commerce and the towns of Kenilworth and Cranford have publicly opposed the mall.

Among individuals, some of the strongest comments have come from shop owners who operate near the mall site.

"Of course I'm against it; it could put me out of business," complained Frances Rothman, owner of the Bookstore of Springfield.

Rothman, who operates out of the Echo Plaza shopping center across Route 22 from the property, added that she was against conglomerate chains which are "very destructive."

"All these people who are tax paying and independent would be out of business — it's preposterous." She said that those people, the property owners, are the ones most disturbed by the possibility of a mall being built.

Diane Witkowsky, manager of Carol Lane Card and Gift Shop in the plaza, agreed that a mall would damage businesses. She also said that most people seem to be against construction of the mall.

"Everybody (store owners) is against it here. We go through so many petitions, which is about 10 sheets with 30 spaces."

Witkowsky said, however, that the card shop would probably be moved into the mall if asked to by the developers.

"From what I've heard, most of the store owners are against it," according to George Pappadopoulos, the owner of the Plaza 22 Restaurant and Coffee Shop.

"I could move into it, but why should I? — I'd vote against it."

Seymour Dychiwald, owner of the Dress Rack in the plaza, said the community "would have to have its head examined" if it allowed the center to be built.

"There is no question, two of the stores (Bamberger's and Alexander's) are two of the world's worst — from every angle and for what little they do for a community."

State Senator Donald DiFrancesco

With the legislature in summer recess, I thought it was a good time to keep you up to date on what was accomplished during the first seven months of the session.

While the lengthy budget deliberations captured most of the headlines during the first half of the year, other significant pieces of legislation were making their way through the Legislature.

The Republicans carried through two major campaign promises—reinstatement of the death penalty for premeditated murder and tax breaks to businesses to help stimulate economic development.

The phasing out of the corporate net worth tax, considered by many economists as a major obstacle to economic growth, will be especially helpful to small businesses.

Other legislative accomplishments include:

The long-awaited reform of the juvenile justice system to make the penalty fit the crime. In addition to stiffer detention terms for juveniles who commit violent crimes and repeat offenders, the new law provides for parental involvement in the rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents.

New incentives for promoting the fastest growing industry in the state—tourism. Under a new law, municipalities can charge businesses that benefit from tourism additional fees to pay for expanded advertising.

An increase in the drinking age from 19 to 21. This bill, which passed the Senate and awaits Assembly action, was in response to the alarming rise in traffic fatalities attributed to drunk teenage drivers.

A ban on teflon-coated bullets, which can penetrate a bullet-proof vest.

A legislative study into the spending limitations on local and county governments, which are due to expire later this year.

Tougher penalties for chronic violators of New Jersey's traffic laws. A new law provides for the three year suspension of driving privileges for anyone who has had his license revoked three times in three years.

A ban on the use of decompression chambers to destroy animals.

Flea market for Westfield

The National Council of Jewish Women Greater Westfield Section will hold a fall flea market on Sunday, Oct. 10, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., (rain date Oct. 24). The price is $15 for triple car space, $18 after Oct. 1 or at the door.

Refreshments will be served and the location is the Westfield Train Station, South Avenue Parking Lot. For more information call Mrs. Edwards 388-7841 or Mrs. Kooper 654-5946.

The proceeds from this event will support the community services the NCJW supports such as Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation, Battered Women's Speakers Bureau, Telephone Reassurance to Senior Citizens, Parents Anonymous, Pre-school eyescreening and Speech and Hearing Testing. For more information write NCJW, c/o Cotten, P.O. Box 202, Colonia, N.J. 07067.

Babernitsch cited

Jean Marie Babernitsch of Woodland Avenue was named to the dean's list at Penn State University for the spring semester of the 1981-82 academic year.

LL Stars bow in Invitational

The Mountainside Little League All Stars had hard luck in their own tournament but came on strong in regular season play to clinch a divisional crown and run their record to 9-6.

In the Mountainside Invitational Tournament, darkhorse Clark trounced previously unbeaten South Orange, 12-1, to emerge as champions behind the three hit pitching of George Visconti and a two home run, six RBI onslaught by Vinnie Gulbin. They were named co-most valuable players.

A Mountainside rally fell just short as the consolation game went to Springfield, 12-10, despite two hits by Frank Tennaro and fine fielding by catcher Tom Logio, shortstop Jamie Downie and right fielder Eric Incandella.

Mountainside had rallied from a one run two out last inning deficit to top West Orange in the opening round, 3-2, before a fielding letdown allowed Clark to come away with a 6-2 verdict in the semi-final game. In the West Orange game, Joe Hurley walked, and stole second to set up the last gasp rally and Joey Castelo, John Saraka, Marc Castelo and David Martignetti followed with consecutive singles to pull the game out. Saraka hurled a five hit route going effort to pick up the win.

The Mountainside Pony League All Stars also enjoyed a successful season, completing their schedule with a 7-5 log while finishing in the first division of the Tri-County All Star Pony League.

In its most recent outing, Mountainside got a strong pitching effort from Todd Richter and upset Milburn, 5-3. Trailing 3-1 in the bottom of the 6th, Jim Clifford hit a Baltimore chop over the third baseman's head for a two run double and Rob O'Neil lined a single up the middle to break open the game. Steve Burton handled 10 chances flawlessly at first base.

Earlier in the week, Myles Carter had three hits and three RBI's and Brian Dailey had two hits and two RBI's to spark the Pony Leaguers to an 8-5 verdict over Summit. Richter had a shutout going into the last inning but tired in the severe heat and Mike Wood came in to preserve the win.

Carter named Phys Ed Director

Charles J. Tracy, Chairman of the Vail-Deane School Board of Trustees, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Marian Carter, Deer Path, Mountainside, as Director of Physical Education for the coeducational, college preparatory school.

Mrs. Carter joins the Vail-Deane faculty after 24 years of professional experience in health and physical education. She is equipped to supervise and teach a wide variety of individual and team sports, with a goal of helping students establish a life sport for maintaining good health.

Marian Carter earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Health, Physical Education and Recreation at West Chester State College, and a Master of Arts degree at Columbia Teachers' College. During the fifties she was a student at the Connecticut School of Dance, New London, and gained performing experience with the Henry Street Playhouse.

From 1957 to 1960, Carter was a physical education teacher at Westfield High School, where she taught folk and modern dance, and coached field hockey and softball, fencing and gymnastics. In 1959 she married J.A. Carter, Jr., who is presently Vice President, Stone Webster. From 1960 to 1962 she was assistant professor at Goucher College, where she taught modern dance, golf and tennis. She returned to Westfield High School from 1962-65.

While the Carters raised two children, Mrs. Carter taught part-time at St. Elizabeth College, Hartridge School, and the Westfield YMCA. She was a supervisor for health and physical education teachers working towards New Jersey certification at Kean College, and for a junior methods course at Rutgers College. In 1974 she was Assistant to the Senior Vice President, Prescott, Ball & Turbin, Investment Bankers, New York. For the past six years she has been project consultant for the "Moppett" dance and movement program for the Woodbridge Board of Education.

Library: kids given vote

What's your all-time favorite book? Candace Bowers, Mountainside Children's Librarian, is asking all children who have completed kindergarten through eighth grade to come into the Public Library and let her know.

Bowers will tabulate the votes received and send the titles of the top 10 choices to "Booklist" magazine. "Booklist" editors would like to know what young readers like.

The editors have invited librarians across the country to send in the top choices of the children they work with, and the national results will be published in the autumn. Mountainside Library's juvenile patrons are urged to come in and express their opinions by Aug. 15.

Bowers also would like to announce that Anne and David Hollister have successfully solved the summer's first "Mystery at the Library," which concerned storybook animals. Every two weeks a new mystery puzzle, which tests children's knowledge of books, is presented in the Children's Department. Throughout her career, Carter has served as board and committee member for various agencies. She was dance chairperson for the New Jersey Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the Eastern District Association, Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and for the Eastern District Association.

She was advisor to the Somerset County Title III Program sponsored by the North Plainfield Board of Education, and a member of the Westfield Task Force on Athletic Facilities. She holds a national official's certificate for the U. S. Gymnastics Federation for the purpose of judging gymnastic competition. She has volunteered, as a member of the Westfield Service League, at the Westfield Child Health Center, the Rescue Squad, and the College Resource Center at Westfield High School.

Children can pick up their clues at the library and then work alone or with a partner to solve the mystery. These games are just for fun, and anyone who finds the correct solutions is a winner (it is not necessary to be the first one with a solution).

Come in and investigate the library this summer.

Midget football

Registration and uniform registration for the Mountainside Jets midget football program will be Aug. 16 and Aug. 30, 7-9 p.m., at Boro Hall. Any boy aged 9-14, and in grades 4-8 can join. ## Kean holding registration for 2 programs

The Center for Continuing Professional Education at Kean College is accepting registrations for two separate fall programs, one geared to hospital central service employees and the other to RNs.

An intensive 90-hour training program for central service technicians in hospitals and nursing homes will begin Sept. 13, although pre-registration closes one week earlier. Courses deal with microbiology, infection control, inventory, supply distribution and equipment maintenance.

Sessions will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. each Monday and Wednesday.

There are two dates for each subject area, as follows: Sept. 13 and Sept. 27, maternity; Oct. 4 and Oct. 18, child; Sept. 21 and Oct. 5, psychiatric; Oct. 6 and Oct. 20, medical; and Oct. 14 and Oct. 28, surgical. There is no requirement to sign up for all of the workshops, each of which will cost $20. Registration is required one week before the desired workshop.

Further information is available by calling 527-2163 or writing to the Center for Continuing Professional Education, Kean College, Union 07083.

ON THE AIR—In the first production of its kind in the state, Saint Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston will be featured in a 26-week television series, 'Health Matters,' on New Jersey Public Television starting Nov. 4. Medical staff, health care professionals and patients will take part in the series now being taped.

Ukrainian Festival

Action Park will be host to its first Ukrainian Festival Sunday, Aug. 29, in conjunction with the facility's sixth annual International Folk Festival, which begins Aug. 28 and lasts until Sept. 6.

The festival will feature leading Ukrainian entertainers, including "Iskra" and "Dnipro" and the Volya Ukrainian Dancers, the Bandura Ensemble of New Jersey and the Ukrainian Youth Association Dance Group.

Three alumni cited by Seton president

Seton Hall University has elected three alumni to its Board of Regents, according to Dr. Edward R. D'Alessio, president.

Joining the board are William J. Eyres, the owner of a chain of Avis Rentacar franchises in New Jersey; Leslie A. Hynes, a New York attorney; and Rosemary A. Judge, secretary of the board of the Mobil Corporation and president of the Mobil Foundation, Inc. In making the announcement, D'Alessio said, "I am particularly pleased to have these outstanding alumni return to their alma mater to contribute their knowledge and skills to the governance of Seton Hall University. We are indeed fortunate in having their expertise made available to the Board of Regents."

Eyres, who lives in Colts Neck, received his bachelor's degree from Seton Hall in 1958 and subsequently served as an officer in the U.S. Army. The owner and operator of 10 Avis franchises, he is also an elected member of the Avis Advertising and Policy Committee.

A sports enthusiast, Eyres joined with a small group in 1972 to establish the Seton Hall Winners Circle, whose purpose is to assist the university basketball program and to acknowledge the accomplishments of the team in that sport. Married to the former Carol Hedenburg, he is the father of two daughters and has two sons who are presently students at Seton Hall University.

Hynes, who is a resident of West Orange, graduated from Seton Hall in 1949 and subsequently was awarded a law degree by Fordham University. He is a partner in the firm of Hynes, Diamond and Reidy, P.C. in New York City. He is also affiliated with Metropolitan Steel Industries of Reading Pa., and Buffalo Crushed Stone, Inc. of Buffalo, New York.

Married with four children, Hynes is a member of the American, New York County, City of New York and State of New York Bar Associations.

Judge, a native of Jersey City, received her bachelor's degree from Seton Hall in 1941 and joined Mobil in 1944. She held a variety of positions in the company until 1969, when she became secretary to the chairman. She was appointed administrative assistant to the chairman in 1970 and was named secretary to the executive committees in 1972. She assumed her present responsibilities in 1976.

The Mobil Corporation is the holding company for Mobil Oil, Montgomery Ward and Company, Inc. and Container Corporation of America. Judge is also secretary of the executive committee of both Mobil Corporation and Mobil Oil Corporation; assistant to the chairman of Mobil Corporation, and chairman of the Contributions Committee of Mobil Oil Corporation. She resides in Hackensack.

A fashion show and dinner is being presented by the Springfield, Summit and Greater Westfield chapters of Women's American Organization for Rehabilitation through Training (ORT) Monday, Aug. 16, at 7:30 p.m. at L'Affaire, 1099 Rte. 22, Mountainside.

Proceeds from this event will support ORT's maintenance training project which helps ORT operate, develop and maintain high level vocational education programs which create highly skilled technicians and technical workers in top level schools, junior colleges and technical institutions.

Featuring fashions will be from After Five of Millburn, Fashion Gallery of Watchung, La'Marque Furs of Westfield and Great Expectations maternity shop of Westfield. In addition to the full course dinner, door prizes will be awarded throughout the evening.

Donations are $20 per person and may be obtained by calling 654-3748 or 654-6565. This fun-filled evening is open to all.

Library sets registration

The children's department of the Public Library will begin registration Monday for fall story hours.

There will be two story hour sessions: a three year old class (limit 20 children) and a four year old class (limit 20). Registration (in person or by phone) is limited to the first 20 children registering in each group.

The story hours for four year olds are scheduled for 10-11 a.m. Tuesday mornings. They will be held Sept. 21 and 28 and Oct. 5, 12, 19 and 26.

Story hours for three year olds will be from 2 to 2:45 p.m. Thursdays on Sept. 23 and 30 and Oct. 7, 14, 21 and 28.

Masons schedule family picnic

Members of Continental Masonic Lodge No. 190, F.M., will hold a family picnic Saturday, Aug. 14, 10:30 a.m. at Echo Lake Park, Mountainside, in the Locust Grove picnic area near the boathouse.

Norman Banner, junior warden of the lodge, is in charge of arrangements for food and refreshments. Donation is $6 for adults and $1 for children. Families should arrange to provide their own chairs.

All Masons and their families who reside in the area have been invited by

Connor enthused by D.C. trip

Jeff Connor, the Democratic contender for the newly-apportioned 12th Congressional seat, this month completed a two-day visit to Washington, D.C., where he met with top Democratic leaders to discuss the state of the economy and to develop support for his campaign.

"I came away greatly encouraged. I was repeatedly told that my strong position in favor of fiscal responsibility and common-sense budgetary discipline were essential to avoid national economic disaster," said the son of the former US Secretary of Commerce and retired Chairman of Allied Chemical Company, John T. Connor.

Senator Bill Bradley and Representative James Florio, among others, pledged their help, staff and personal assistance during meetings with the candidate.

Connor, a strong advocate of Sen. Bradley's flat tax-rate proposal, said, "This is precisely the type of forward, imaginative thinking which our country needs. The proposal promises to establish fairness and efficiency in our tax system by eliminating loopholes favoring narrow special interests, while promoting economic activity and rational investment by reducing the maximum tax rate to 28 percent."

Connor favors balancing the budget by sharply curtailing flagrant cost overruns in the military procurement process and by cutting pork-barrel public works projects and subsidies to special interests that do not benefit New Jersey.

Connor is a corporate banking attorney with the Morristown law firm of Shanley and Fisher, and is bond counsel to the state Economic Development Authority.

Now is the time to bring back your old flame

Believe it or not, the best time for you to make sure your gas heater will be ready when the fall weather suddenly turns cool is right now.

Waiting could cost you money. After Labor Day and up until October 31, there's a service charge if PSE&G has to turn on your unit. Also, you may experience delays in receiving service because of the increased workload during this time period. Of course, if you're a new customer there's no charge for an initial gas turn on and inspection.

Checking your gas heating unit is easy and will take you only a few minutes. Simply follow the checklist.

If your heater doesn't come on, move the thermostat back to its lowest point and call PSE&G with your specific problem. You'll find the number on your bill and in the telephone directory.

GAS HEATING UNIT CHECKLIST

START-UP TEST

- If gas heater pilot is on, set thermostat five degrees above room temperature. Your heater should come on.
- If pilot light is off, follow the instructions located on heating unit to turn it on. Let it burn a few minutes, then raise the thermostat.

STILL WON'T START? CHECK THESE:

- Thermostat is set above room temperature.
- All heater electric switches are in the "ON" position (usually located on or near the heating unit or at head of basement stairs.)
- All fuses and circuit breakers are ON and OK.

INSPECT YOUR HEATING SYSTEM

- Steam System — Check water in sight glass. If low, turn on the water supply valve to bring the level of water up to the halfway mark. Then turn the valve off.
- Hot Water System — Listen and make sure the circulating water pump is operating.
- Warm Air System — Check to see if blower is operating. Clean or replace clogged air filters.

Please don't call for a routine heater inspection during this busy period. We provide this service on a scheduled basis at other times during the year. So, save money now by checking your gas heating unit before Labor Day.

Cantor Koenig to serve at Congregation Israel

Cantor Samuel Koenig of Brooklyn will serve as chazan at Congregation Israel of Springfield this year, it was announced by Dr. Leonard Strulowitz, congregation president.

Cantor Koenig has served at Congregation Israel every year since 1975 with the exception of last year. The services will be conducted by Rabbi Israel E. Turner according to the traditional Hebrew liturgy with English interpretation and readings.

According to Dr. Strulowitz, reservations for the services are available

To Publicity Chairmen:

Would you like some help in preparing newspaper releases? Write to this newspaper and ask for our "Tips on Submitting News Releases" without charge to seat-holding members. Others may reserve seats at a moderate charge with reduced rates for senior citizens. According to Dr. Strulowitz, the permanent pews for the Sanctuary are scheduled for installation before the High Holy Days.

Preparation for the High Holy Day services were made by the congregation's synagogue arrangement committee, Avi Borenstein and Allen Penn, co-chairmen, and Rabbi Turner and Dr. Strulowitz, ex-officio members.

Reservations for the High Holy Day services may be made at the synagogue Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. or Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 467-9666.

Mercury covers 51-degree span

The mercury jumped up and down the thermometer in July, covering a 51-degree spread with a low point of 46 degrees and a high almost reaching 100 degrees, according to weather data collected by the Cooperative Weather Station at Union College.

The temperature extremes were a low of 46 degrees, recorded on July 3, and a high of 97 degrees on July 18. Neither temperature, however, was a record breaker.

The highest July temperature on record at the Union station is the 102 degrees reached in 1980. The lowest is 38 degrees, recorded in 1978. The Union College station has been keeping weather data for the area for the past 22 years.

The mean temperature for the month was 73.5 degrees, which is only a fraction of a degree warmer than usual. The month was about one degree cooler than July of last year, which had a mean temperature of 74.9 degrees.

The month was a drier one than normal for July, with a total of only 3.7 inches of rainfall—1.2 inches less than average for the month. In terms of the year's accumulation, though, this area has seen more precipitation than it had at this time last year. The accumulation through the end of last month was 28.4 inches, compared to 23.3 inches by August 1, 1981. The greatest precipitation accumulation for the first seven months of the year occurred in 1975, when 39 inches had collected by mid-summer.

The 3.7 inches of rain that fell compares to the record high July rainfall of 14 inches in 1975 and the record low of .8 inches in 1966, a drought year.

The relative humidity reached a maximum of 82 percent on July 3—also the coolest day—and a minimum of 30 percent on July 4 and 24. The average relative humidity per day was 48 percent.

Baumgartner stops Montville, 6-2

Six is the Magic Number for Post 228

By RON BRANDSDORFER
Pressure? What pressure?
Just because they know they have to win six straight games to stay alive in the state's American Legion baseball tournament...

The players are obviously aware of the situation.
This team has never lost a game it has had to win.
Weinerman said proudly...

ple, the tourney began with a 7-1 victory over Rutherford, as John Baumgartner and Fran Broskoskie split the pitching duties.

But a 4-0 loss to Saddle Brook followed, as Bob Sudo no-hit the Legion and drove in all four runs with a pair of two-run triples down the right field line.

That loss really put the pressure on Post 228 in the double-elimination tourney. One more loss and the season would be over.

Kearny, 12-1, as Frank Gagliano and Torborg combined their pitching talents. Springfield broke open a 1-1 game with a six-run inning and added five more before it was all over...

Post 228 felt awfully confident entering Tuesday night's showdown with Montville, since John Baumgartner (15-0-1 in Legion play) was on the mound.

Center fielder Tom Ard enjoyed a big, big day when Post 228 needed it most. The Seton Hall Prep star pounded a triple, double and single and drove in three runs.

brought Ard around and Post 228 was a bit closer to the finals.
Weinerman said.
Most important, perhaps, was Post 228's laid-back approach to the big game.

"After the game, the Montville coach came over to me and said that before the game, he knew his team was in trouble," said Weinerman, whose Legion team took part in the state tourney a year ago.

Which is a big advantage for Post 228 as it goes down the final stretch. Weather permitting, Springfield was slated to play a game last night against either Wayne or Bloomfield and was slated to come back with either Saddle Brook or Paterson tonight.

Schaedel sets pool record

Sharks knock off Cedar Grove

For the first time in 15 years, Springfield's swimming team beat Cedar Grove in the New Jersey Recreation Swim League, 232-166.

The Springfield Sharks compiled a 5-6 record for the 1982 summer season.

Tennis team rolls

The Springfield Recreation Department's junior tennis team warmed up for the upcoming New Jersey State Youth Tennis Tournament at Rutgers University by shutting out North Plainfield, 8-0, at Dayton Regional last week.

Around the playgrounds

It was another busy week of fun and games for local youngsters at the township's playgrounds.

COHN PARK

On Wednesday, Cohn Park welcomed Dayton coach Bill Jones, who coached the children on their running. According to Karen Telsler, outstanding runners were Kristin McLearn, Bobby Leiszner and Anthony Cohen.

Friday's track meet was a great success for Cohn Park children. Dana Magee won three blue ribbons for coming in first place in the standing long jump, 60-yard dash and the 100-yard dash, while Kristin McLearn also won a ribbon for the 60- and 100-yard dash.

On Monday, the children had a party. The participants were Chris Laveeve, Karen and Patty Ziemian, MaryAnn McCarthy, Bobby Leiszner, Katie Dougherty, Dana Magee, Andrew Broad, David Broad, Susie and Chrissy Heelan, Debbie Malamud and Sayaka Yoda.

On Tuesday, the children played tag, kickball, Spud and steal-the-bacon.

IRWIN PARK

Throughout the past week, the children at Irwin Park have enjoyed a variety of activities. In particular, the children have become interested in board games. Besides daily games of kickball, Lynne Dahmen, Vinnie and Pat Conte have been playing "Hi-Q" to test their intelligence.

Participating children included Paola, Vinnie and Pat Conte, Eric Gruszecki and Lynne Dahmen, while Anthony Cohen enjoyed playing the game "Carrers." Lynne Dahmen has remained undefeated in the game all week. Also this week, park leader Amy Louton was unable to overcome the skill of Anthony Cohen and lost eight games of no-k-hockey.

The children took part in a scavenger hunt, and the winning team was Lynne Dahmen and Andrea Stein, with Alan Gross and Josh Bloom finishing in second place.

The children look forward to a no-k-hockey tournament, three-legged races and a pizza party.

DENHAM PARK

Denham Park has been busy with various activities. Recently the children enjoyed a kickball game. The teams were Keith Babiarz, Steven and Daniel Marcus against Kristin Franko, John Catallo and Kathy Edwards. Later in the game, Matt Nitto replaced Kristin Franko. Keith, Steven and Daniel won the game with a score of 9-6.

In a game of no-k-hockey, Matt Nitto beat Daniel Marcus, 20-14. Backgammon was played by Steven Marcus and park leader Valery Peterson.

Each child showed his or her talents by making forts out of popsicle sticks. The talented boys included John Catallo, Gregg Gebaver, Robert Hunter and Brendon and Michael Middleton. Finishing touches were added to the forts with paint.

At a pizza party, the hungry eaters were Robert Hunter, Shannon Farrell, John Catallo, Brendon and Michael Middleton, and Sarah and Keith Babiarz.

ALVIN PARK

The past week at Alvin Park included many fun activities, reports Mari Ann Boogar. Alvin Park's annual Pet Show brought many beautiful animals to the playground. First place winners included Jaime Feeley's dog, Brandy; Tommy Fazio's cat, Mai Tai; and Ryan Feeley's cat, Baby. Those pets coming in second place included Joey Fasolo's fish, Ned, Ted, Zed, and Fred; Samantha Martin's parakeet, Pete; and P.J. Martin's hamster, Weasel. Third place winners included Cheryl McSweeney's cat, Mousey, and Joshua Autenright's dog, Marcus.

Alvin Park also held a Hobby Show. Tommy Fazio was the overall winner with his outstanding rock collection.

Alvin Park's aspiring artists are continuing to produce masterpieces. Future artists include Heather and Megan Smith, Tara Mcnair, Caroline Guerrero and Sara and Rebecca Yorn.

Future events at Alvin Park include obstacle races and an Unbirthday Party.

CHISHOLM PARK

On Monday, Chisholm Park had a Bubble-Gum Blowing Contest, according to Billy Bjorstad and Debbie Scelfo. In the 5-7 age group, Jeff Appgar came in first place for the largest bubble. Missey Colello was second and Pat Pan was third. Pat also came in first place for the smallest bubble. Amy Wisnie was second and Lauren Wisnie was third.

In the 8-10 groups, Leo Gravina was first for the largest bubble and Sean Weinerman was second. In the 11-15 age group, Jason DeLorme was first for the largest bubble. Staci Weinerman was second, and Liz Pabst was third. Lenny Saia, Dana Williams and Chuck Saia also participated in the event.

On Tuesday, the park had a Pretzel-Eating Contest. Leo Gravina came in first with a time of 1:15, Nick Cataldo was second, Liz Pabst was third and DeJohn Cataldo was fourth. After the contest, the children had arts and crafts. Liz Pabst, Leo Gravina and Jason DeLorme made tissue paper flowers.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Chisholm Park made Decoupage pictures, reports Sondra Nieman. Children participating were Jason DeLorme, Staci and Sean Weinerman, Nikki Miller, Chris Calabrese, Trace Calabrese, Patty Pan, Hilary Raj and Liz Pabst.

Triple winners shine in local track meet

Triple winners were the heroes in last week's ninth annual Track and Field Day at Meisel Field.

Under the direction of Recreation Department head Joseph Rapuano, playground director Joseph Blanda, Dayton coach Bill Jones and Bill Bjorstad, the meet featured talented youngsters from all the Springfield parks and playgrounds.

And a number of future track stars shined the brightest in the meet.

In the bantam division, for example, exciting Danny Marcus won the 60-yard dash, the 100-yard dash and the long jump, while second places went to Gregory Bauer, Robert Hunter and Brendon Middleton.

Other ribbon winners were John Catallo and Greg Gebaver.

Dana Magee dominated the girls' action with first place finishes in the 60 and 100 yard dashes and the long jump.

Anthony Cohen won the same triple in the boys' section, although he was closely pursued by Pat Conte, who collected three seconds.

Steven Marcus owned the junior division, winning the 100-yard dash and the long jump and teaming with Kristin McLearn to grab first in the mixed 200-meter relay.

In the girls' section, Kelly Hartman won the 100-yard dash and the long jump and then teamed with Paolo Conte for a second place finish in the relay. Conte also won several other ribbons.

And in the intermediate division, Richard Kot captured a triple: 100 and 200 yard dashes and the long jump. Elizabeth Pabst also had a terrific day.

Views On Dental Health
By SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D.
DRY SOCKET
Normally, following the extraction of a tooth, the wound in the jaw usually heals within a few days without complications. However, in every life, there is always an exception. One of those rare complications that can follow an extraction is known as a dry socket.
As the name (dry socket) implies, the clot that normally forms shortly after the tooth removal, fails to develop or is lost. This leaves a bare and unprotected socket exposed to bacteria, saliva and food debris. The lining of the socket is sensitive and when bared to this irritating environment, a great deal of pain can develop.
About all that can be done is to keep the area as clean as possible and the patient as comfortable as possible with medication and place an anesthetic dressing into the open socket until nature develops a protective covering for the exposed socket.
The reason why a dry socket forms is not fully known. Some believe it results from a rapid bacterial action, others because of a fault in the blood clotting mechanism.
A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D., 134 Elmer Street, Westfield, Phone: 232-2652.

Star back again in 'Rocky' film

A two-time Oscar nominee, actress Talia Shire is one of Hollywood's versatile talents, and along with the other members of the original "Rocky" team, is back again portraying Adrian Balboa in the new "Rocky III" movie, which continues its run at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

The film was written and directed by its star, Sylvester Stallone, who plays the title role of Rocky Balboa.

Miss Shire, who won an Academy Award nomination as Best Actress for creating the role of Adrian in "Rocky," had already been nominated as Best Supporting Actress for her role as Connie Corleone in "The Godfather, Part II." She has been busy in films and television since then.

The "Rocky" films are not her first experience with film sequels, since her first important screen role was as Connie Cor-leone in "The Godfather," and for her work in "The Godfather, Part II," she earned a 1974 Oscar nomination as Best Supporting Actress.

In 1976, Miss Shire was nominated as Best Actress for "Rocky." She also became a television performer in such television shows as "Rich Man, Poor Man," in which she played Nick Nolte's girlfriend; "Kill Me If You Can," as Carly Chessman's attorney, and "Daddy, I Don't Like It Like This," as the wife. She also was top-billed in such feature films as "Old Boyfriends," "Prophecy" and "Windows."

Miss Shire says "It seems very strange, five years later, to be playing Adrian once again. One of the things I most enjoy about it is that both she and I have gone through such major changes in that time. I feel audiences will identify with that, too, in relation to all the characters."

Music series now in Park

"West Side Story," the final production of the 1982 20th anniversary season of Plays-in-the-Park, which was scheduled to open Aug. 11, will continue nightly at 8:40 through Aug. 21 in the Roosevelt Park Amphitheater, Rt. 1, South, Edison. There will be no show Sunday.

The series is sponsored by the Middlesex County Department of Parks and Recreation and the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders. There is no charge for performances, and audiences are requested to bring their own lawn chairs for seating.

'Caravan' set this Monday

The Vanaver Caravan, a Monday night special series of guest attractions, sponsored by Shakespeare Festival, a repertory company in residence at Drew University, Madison, will be presented in one performance only Monday at 8 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 377-4487.

Continging at the festival are three current plays in repertory. They are Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" and "Timon of Athens" and John O'Keefe's "Wild Oats."

State Opera event slated

The New Jersey State Opera Orchestra, under the direction of Alfredo Silipigni, will present a program of operatic highlights Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Waterloo Village.

Soprano Joanna Brunno will be soloist in a program that will include arias from "Carmen," "La Traviata," "La Boheme," "Faust" and "Tosca."

Rock, roll night set

A "Doo-op Night," featuring music from the 1950s, is scheduled Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. as part of the 1982 Summer Arts Festival at Echo Lake Park, Westfield and Mountainside.

Providing the music will be the Drifters and the Mello Kings.

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, which sponsors the events at the park, has announced that those planning to attend may bring picnic baskets and blankets. There will be a platform dance floor.

There is no rain date for the concert. In the event of rain, the show will move to the Trailside Nature and Science Center, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside, in the Watchung Reservation.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the special events hotline at 352-8410, 24 hours a day. Detailed information can be obtained by calling the Parks Department at 352-8431 Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Open audition slated Monday

The Studio Players, 14 Alvin Place, Upper Montclair, will hold one open audition Monday at 8 p.m. for a children's show, "The Unwicked Witch."

It was announced that rehearsals will begin after Labor Day with performances scheduled for Oct. 16 and 17. There will be two performances on each day.

The play, which was written by Madge Miller, will be directed by Ann Marie Hattersley.

The Studio Players is an all-volunteer community theater, which produces five major and three children's plays each season.

The audition is open to the public. Membership in the Studio Players is open to any one over the age of 16.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 744-9752.

Pick Of The LPs: "Love Has Found Its Way" by Dennis Brown (A&M Records).

Even when he was a kid in Kingston, Dennis Brown's singing won him certain "advantages." In school, girls used to treat him to lunch if he'd agree to sing for them. Brown's statement, "I have always loved to sing," is no oversimplification. Moreover, it goes without saying that lots of other people love to hear Brown sing.

Getting to be reggae's acknowledged crown prince is not an easy business. Dennis' childhood included not just the lunchtime vocalizing, but serious professional work with Kingston's popular Byron Lee & the Dragonaires. By the time he was out of his teens, he'd performed extensively throughout the West Indies and developed one of the freshest and most distinctive styles in reggae music.

DENNIS BROWN

By 1979, Dennis Brown was ready to take on the world. In that year, he starred at Montreux's prestigious Jazz Festival and followed it up with his first English smash hit, "Money in My Pocket." Its success led to Brown's signing with A&M and the January 1981 release of his first LP, "Foul Play."

"My first album brought me recognition in the states," says Brown. "I had the opportunity of doing a nationwide headline tour. Then we went on and played in the Netherlands also. Last September, we got together with Joe Gibbs (legendary Jamaican producer) and started working on this new record."

The new record, "Love Has Found Its Way," is a subject close to Brown's heart. "I think it's the greatest thing I've done," he claims. "Most other records, I've spent two or three weeks recording. This one took us eight weeks. We penetrated the songs' lyrics better, put much more into the production. It's different from 'Foul Play,' and better."

The extra effort shows. "Love Has Found Its Way" gives a much fuller demonstration of Brown's unique abilities as both an expressive singer and a thoroughly modern pop composer. His writing range encompasses the smooth-grooved appeal of "Halfway Up, Halfway Down" and "Why Baby Why," as well as the more hard-edged realities of "Blood, Sweat and Tears," and the political "Handwriting On the Wall."

Best of all, there's the title track, a musically-stunning blend of reggae with pop/R&B. Sax, guitars, and Brown's compelling vocal draw the ears right to the heart as he intones, "When the sun comes tomorrow, and I'm blessed with another day. At Least I have found life's middle ground/Halfway up and halfway down..."

GOODIES GALORE - are offered plentifully at Stuff Yer Face located on Rahway and Elmore Ave. in Elizabeth. Home of the scrumptious stromboli, vegepizza, onion rings and salads are also featured at this well-known restaurant.

Stromboli sparkles at Stuff Yer Face

By Gail Casale

Watching the sun rise against the ocean's surface, a gooey marshmallow sundae overflowing with whipped cream, and Woody Allen movies. These are a few of my favorite things.

However, certainly one of the most favorite, starting at the top of the list, is a freshly baked, scrumptious stromboli served at Stuff Yer Face located on Rahway and Elmore Avenue in Elizabeth.

My dear friends, if you have never tasted a Stuff Yer Face stromboli, you have been denying yourself one of life's greatest pleasures. No matter if you are a meat eater or a strict vegetarian, Stuff Yer Face has a string of strombolis designed to satisfy your overactive appetite.

Allow me to acquaint you with the likes of a stromboli, if you are new to this dining experience. A stromboli is a closed sandwich with the bread freshly baked around your favorite filling along with yummy mozzarella cheese, tomato sauce, onions and peppers. Don't be fooled; a stromboli is not just a sandwich. It's a hearty meal in itself that comes in either two sizes—large or huge.

Something you can also be assured of at Stuff Yer Face is fresh ingredients. Only the ripest vegetables are used and the dough is baked twice daily on the premises for the tastiest strombolis in town.

It's interesting to note that even if you have tried a stromboli, you probably haven't eaten all the delicious kinds Stuff Yer Face has to offer. There are over 15 different fillings to choose from so each time you visit this casual eating establishment you can look forward to enjoying another.

What could she possibly be talking about, you may wonder. To appease your curiosity, let me give you a quick rundown of what you can expect. Choose from meatball, veal, or even sausage and broccoli bolis. For you spicy food lovers, try the Tex-Mex Boli composed of chili and onions. I recommend the chicken breast type with tender poultry cooked inside.

Vege lovers, try some of these on for size. Sample vegetobolis like spinach, broccoli or eggplant bolis. Incidentally, the eggplant is also prepared deliciously on the premises.

Rick Hathaway, the boss behind the bolis, has successfully owned Stuff Yer Face in Elizabeth for 15 months. He knows how to please his customers with a specialty that has become synonymous with the restaurant's name. People throughout the state are talking about strombolis as a result of the eatery's well-deserved reputation.

There's even more to enjoy at Stuff Yer Face like the juicy hamburgers ground fresh to order, made of 100 percent beef and served on a hard roll. A side order of golden brown onion rings is another noted suggestion to accompany your boli or burger.

Several varieties of pizza, a snacking favorite, are also featured at Stuff Yer Face. The critically acclaimed vegepizza, topped with your choice of eggplant, mushrooms, onions and peppers, broccoli, or cauliflower is another delight worth sampling.

Hot and cold sandwiches, salads, take-out orders and daily blackboard specials are also offered at Stuff Yer Face. The casual, laid-back Western atmosphere appropriately compliments the down-home menu chocked full of fun-to-eat foods (like strombolis). Hanging plants displayed in the draped windows, antique lanterns, wooden floors and upraised booths give Stuff Yer Face a rustic, comfortable feeling inviting you to sit back and relax.

There is also a downstairs room equipped with tables and a piano, and video games upstairs allow you to amusingly pass the time while waiting for your delicious meal. By all means, bring your own wine or beer to further enhance the mood.

Stuff Yer Face is open daily from 11 a.m. to 12 midnight. Good news for the weekenders — the restaurant remains open until 1 a.m. on Thursday and until 2 a.m. on Friday and Saturday. Visa and Mastercard are accepted.

If you're travelling outside the immediate area, there are also Stuff Yer Face locations on 43 Easton Ave., New Brunswick; 94 Ocean Ave., Long Branch; and 525 South Orange Ave., South Orange.

To show everyone that you too are an avid stromboli lover, you might want to purchase a colorful T-shirt. Just another element that makes Stuff Yer Face a one-of-a-kind place.

Simple pleasures are the best like a stromboli from Stuff Yer Face. Round up the family and treat them to this dining experience, too tasty for words to describe. Look for the jolly old Westerner with the puffy cheeks signifying the joy you will have eating a stromboli or whatever at the famous Stuff Yer Face Restaurant.

Social workers help patient and family

Therapist, advocate, educator, listener—social workers at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center (NBIMC) take on a wide variety of responsibilities as they help patients and their families cope with illness and hospitalization, often the most traumatic disruption in their lives.

According to Lois Staffin, director of social work services at NBIMC, the impact of a hospitalization on both the patient and those closest to him cannot be minimized.

"An individual who is suddenly confronted with a highly stressful present and uncertain future can react in any number of ways," she said. "Patient and family are often overwhelmed, lacking in experience and knowledge, looking for clues."

Staffin explains that each of NBIMC's 11 social workers receives case assignments based on acquired expertise in the psychological effects and concrete needs of a particular illness or condition. The department boasts eight master's degree level workers in counseling positions and three "discharge planners" whose responsibility it is to smooth the patient's transition from the medical center to home, or in some cases, to another health care facility.

Familiarity with government and community resources is an important facet of the social worker's repertoire, explains Staffin. Often the patient's anxieties during hospitalization are exacerbated by his fears for the future: how will I take care of myself at home? ...pay my bills? ...get to my doctor's of...fice? A social worker can intervene with links to financial aid agencies, as well as with visiting nurse and homemaker organizations, and thus be able to help the patient deal more and more confidently with his situation.

For Rose Allen of Springfield, Patricia Skerko of Bloomfield and Christine James of Roselle, satisfaction can be found in counseling the geriatric patients at NBIMC and their families.

According to Allen, whose 14-year experience at NBIMC includes almost every medical, financial and emotional situation familiar to the elderly, illness is often more difficult on the independent.

"These are people," explains Allen, "who made it through the Depression, raised families, worked all their lives and who suddenly find themselves dependent on their children and the medical center staff."

James agrees, adding "In many cases, such as cardiac conditions, diabetes and stroke, symptoms will remain long after discharge from the medical center."

Ideally, she states, the social worker would like to restore the elderly individual to his home community and sometimes an occasional visit from a public health nurse or a home care aide is sufficient. A large part of the job, however, in the case of medically-dependent patients, is nursing home placement.

Skerko explains that today's economy prevents most families from freeing an adult member from the job market to provide the necessary full-time care at home.

A HELPING HAND—Social worker Christine James of Roselle (right) shares concerns of elderly patients at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center.

Census to take survey on jobs

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of Aug 16-21, William F. Hill, director of the bureau's regional office in New York City, announced this week.

The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 71,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in June the survey indicated that of the 110.2 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.8 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 9.5 percent, the same as in May.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Buy what you need when you need it... do not take second best because a store is out of stock or cannot get it for you! Don't buy it just because it's on sale or "cheap"... If you do you probably won't be happy with it anyway.
Mostly, look for knowledgeable advice in making your purchase if it something you are not familiar with... CURTAINS, BEDSPREADS, DRAPERIES AND BATH ITEMS are something you do not buy every day. Use the experience and help our sales people will give you... and then decide if YOU like it. Then and only then should you make your purchase, knowing that that you are getting the correct sizes, colors and styles that will enhance your home... at prices that are usually lower than department store, so called, "sales".
