

Five new shows dot local TV fall season

SPRINGFIELD—Channel PA-2, the local community video access center, has five new shows on the air this fall. They are:

"Two on the Aisle", reviews of the performing arts in the metropolitan area.

"Architecture, Art & Antiques," a show with an interview format and slides for novice and knowledgeable buffs.

"From Teaneck to Tokyo", going new places, seeing new things, the how-to's and where-to's of traveling.

"Welcome Women," easing the transition for those who have recently moved to our area of New Jersey.

"The Week at Central," previews of the events and activities each week at Central Presbyterian Church.

This expansion in programming more than doubles last year's schedule. Channel PA-2 will cablecast six days a week this fall. Returning programs include: "This Week in Summit", "TV Millburn", "30 Legal Minutes", "30 Medical Minutes", "Senior Scene" and "PA-2 Magazine".

These new and continued programs provide cultural and informative subjects to viewers in this area. All programs are produced by volunteers.

Since its founding in 1979, the volunteers of Communities on Cable have produced over 300 programs, trained 130 volunteers and won several national awards. Channel PA-2 offers Springfield, Millburn, Summit, Berkeley Heights and New Providence the opportunity to utilize television by bringing matters of local public interest to residents.

Residents of the viewing area who are not cable subscribers may see the programs at the public libraries in Millburn, Springfield and Summit; and in the Sarah Bailey Senior Citizens Center in Springfield.

The television station is located at 70 Maple Street, Summit, in Central Presbyterian Church. Volunteer opportunities are available for those who would like to produce shows, write copy or transmit programming. For more information about television training classes and the access center call Lynda Stauderman, coordinator, at 277-6310.

United Nations trip is set on Jersey Day

SPRINGFIELD—The Summit YWCA, in conjunction with the United Nations Association, will sponsor a trip to the United Nations on Sunday to celebrate "New Jersey Day."

Each year, during United Nations week, residents from all over the state of New Jersey assemble at the U.N. for a program with distinguished guest speakers and for tours of the Complex. Because New Jersey is the only state in the Union with its own day at the U.N., it holds a unique position.

This year's speakers are Fahmi Alem, Senior Political Affairs Officer for the U.N. Center for Disarmament; and Swadesh Rana, Expert Consultant on Disarmament Affairs for that same organization. The topic for discussion is "Disarmament and the U.N."

The bus leaves the Summit YW's Prospect St. parking lot at 12:15 p.m. A snack bar is available. Price for transportation, program and tour is $8 for adults and $6.75 for children. Further questions can be forwarded to Lelia Crowders at 273-4242.

Also, in recognition and celebration of United Nations Day, the Summit YWCA has planned an evening of international eating and fellowship. This event, called an International Festival is planned for Friday, Oct. 22, 6:30-10 p.m.

If there are persons who wish to loan an exhibit to the affair, do a demonstration, or contribute an ethnic dish, they should contact Crowders by tomorrow.

Cookie sale in full swing

SPRINGFIELD—This is the opening week of the Girl Scout Cookie Sale in town. The cookie sale is the primary source of funds for individual troop programs and for the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council's support to troops.

The cookies are priced at $2 per box and include such delectables as: Kookaburras, Hoedowns, Dutch 'N Such, Chocolate and Vanilla Cremes, Scot-Teas, Thin-Mints, and Savannahs.

Each box sold represents a $1.32 contribution to Girl Scouting, a portion of which goes to the troop treasury and the rest to the council, which provides the training, program and facilities to make Girl Scouting available to 25 towns throughout the area.

Fong Yee, cookie chairman for Springfield, has announced that cookie orders may be placed directly by calling 467-2895. Payment will be collected on delivery.

11.5G shortfall hits local board

An unanticipated loss of $11,574 in state funding for the Mountainside School District—and 84 other minimum aid districts in the state—now appears to be a reality for which there is little hope of relief, according to local Board of Education members.

A statewide coalition which had hoped to achieve restoration of the funds is now concentrating efforts on finding new sources of revenue.

The total $83 million shortfall was announced by legislators this summer in a last-minute attempt to balance the state budget. The funds had been included as anticipated income in 1982-83 school budgets which had been approved by local voters in April.

The blow was devastating for some districts, causing financial havoc which resulted in some cases in closing schools or cutting back on staff.

Its impact has been minimized in Mountainside, largely because of the consolidation into one school building this fall.

“Although the loss of anticipated state revenue certainly hurts, we can make it through the school year on our available funds without any detrimental effect on the quality of the educational system,” says Art Attenasio, Board of Education President. “That would not have been the case had Beachwood remained open this year. If we were supporting the two buildings to maintain two schools, the quality of education would have suffered from the loss of state money.”

“Direct educational expenses are to be given first priority this year,” notes

Attenasio. “Given the history of state support of public education in recent years, I believe we’d better not count on any state aid when we prepare the 1983-84 budget.”

The Board of Education has already begun preliminary work on the budget, which has to be submitted to the county superintendent in January.

“We will be making some painful choices,” comments the board leader. In preparing a budget proposal that is economically acceptable to the community without shortchanging the children, it’s likely that the Board will consider additional staff cutbacks. The largest part of the budget over which the local board exercises control is in the area of salaries.

Minimum aid funds were threatened once before in 1981, when Governor Brendan Byrne wiped them out of the state budget. Under pressure from an aroused public, the legislature voted to restore the money. Other changes in funding from the state have not been as dramatic, but have steadily eroded local school district budgets over the past few years.

The Mountainside Board of Education is a member of the New Jersey School Boards Association, which joined a coalition of parents, school administrators and teachers to pressure the legislature to restore the funding.

Failing that, in a special delegate assembly in mid-September, the NJSBA voted to throw full support behind finding new state revenue sources for full funding of public education.

UNICO MERGER—Past presidents, Joseph Chieppa (left) of Mountainside UNICO, and Bill Cieri (right) of Springfield UNICO, and past national president, Harold Farnese, formally announce the merger of the two chapters. The merger was planned to thrust a greater impact for UNICO activities such as mental health, cooley's anemia, various scholarships, and other charities. Women are invited to join the auxiliary.

Kennedy boosts Rajoppi group before 350 at inaugural dinner

With dozens of police and a contingent of anti-abortion demonstrators outside, and some 350 Democratic party faithful inside, Sen. Edward Kennedy dropped in on the Town and Campus last Thursday night to give a boost to the inaugural dinner of the Joanne Rajoppi Civic Association.

Rajoppi, who has served as mayor of Springfield, chairperson of the Union County Board of Freeholders and assistant secretary of state for New Jersey, received citations during the evening from both the county board and the State Legislature.

Kennedy's stop at the dinner honoring her came at the midpoint of a swing through the state that began in Trenton and ended in Morristown. In Trenton, he made a campaign appearance on behalf of Joseph Merlino, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 4th District; in Morristown, he was the featured speaker at a Democratic State Committee fund-raiser.

The Massachusetts Senator was accompanied by a delegation of New Jersey Democrats that included Senator Bill Bradley, Rep. James Florio, former Gov. Brendan Byrne and Adam Levin, candidate for Congress in the new 7th District.

In Union, he was the guest of party leaders at a private reception before making his brief pre-dinner public appearance.

He crowded plugs for Levin, Bradley and Byrne into a 10-minute speech in addition to a tribute to Rajoppi.

Citing such Watergate era notables as Archibald Cox and Judge John Sirica, Kennedy emphasized, “Individuals can make a difference.”

As he left, surrounded by party leaders and Secret Service men, Assemblyman Tom Deverin, master of ceremonies at the dinner, sparked one of the biggest rounds of applause of the evening when he said, “The next time we see the Senator, he’ll be the President of the United States.”

Outside, meanwhile, Pro-Lifers lined the edge of the Kean College campus, across Green Lane from the Town and Campus, chanting anti-Kennedy slogans and waving picket signs — including one which said, “Save the unborn Democrats.”

A similar demonstration met him later in the evening when he arrived at the State Democratic Committee reception in Morristown, where he called for the election of Democrat Frank Lautenberg to the Senate in November.

Rinaldo is accepting academy applicants

Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-12th District) has announced that he is accepting applications from high school seniors interested in competing for an appointment to a U.S. military academy for the 1983-84 academic year.

Rinaldo said applications, including test scores and other required information, must reach his Washington office by Nov. 30. Applications are being accepted from young men and women who are seniors in high school and reside in the Congressional District.

Fifty candidates will be nominated by the congressman for appointment to either the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.; the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.; the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.; or the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y.

The congressman's nominations will be based on the applicants' test scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test or the American College Test. Besides test scores, applicants must complete a questionnaire and submit their high school transcript.

While each congressman is normally limited to one appointment to each academy per year, usually more than one is accepted per school, Rinaldo said. He explained that this is because after the initial appointments are made, the academies look at those who narrowly missed and select several “qualified alternatives” to fill vacancies.

Eligible students interested in obtaining additional information may do so by writing to Rinaldo, 2338 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

A 19-14 Brearley Bear victory ... by three inches

By WAYNE TILLMAN
Three inches. Whoever said that football is a game of inches knew what he was talking about, because it was those three inches that spelled victory for Brearley and defeat for Roselle Park in last Saturday's 19-14 Bear triumph in the annual rivalry.

Roselle Park used the running of Jamie Shriner and Mike Corrigan to get down to the 12, where they faced a fourth-and-10. A pass from quarterback Jim Coan to Jim Steiger gained almost the yardage needed to give them a shot at the win, but when the measurement took place and showed Park those three inches short of a win, the Bear players exploded with joy and the Panther players could only shake their heads at what might have been.

The Bears ran out the clock and won, but they knew they were in a ballgame, unlike last year's 35-6 drubbing of Park. And what the coaches said reflected it. "It was a classic," said Brearley coach Bob Taylor. "A thriller. It was the typical way these teams play against each other."

"It was a great game for TV," noted

Park Coach John Wagner, what with the cameras of Suburban Cablevision on hand for the all the fireworks.

Brearley almost scored on its first possession, but Lospinosa missed a 23-yard attempt after the Bears had driven 47 yards.

Park took the lead on its first drive, with the help of an unnecessary roughness penalty on the Bears, when Coan scored on an eight-yard sneak up the middle on a fourth and less than one play. Shriner's kick finished the 80-yard drive.

Then came a big play. Lospinosa took the ensuing kickoff, broke up the middle and into the clear, scoring on the 85-yard return. The PAT was good, tying the score and gave Brearley needed momentum.

"We spend a lot of time on kickoff returns, and we've become very strong at it," said Taylor. "We have emphasized it since the Dayton game two weeks ago."

"Once again, we got hurt by the big play," Wagner countered.

But Park came back with just over a minute before halftime. Quarterback Rob DeMayo's pass was intercepted by Coan and he scampered 60 yards to give the Panthers a 14-7 lead at intermission.

When the second half started, the Bear defense stiffened and shut Park down. The visitors pulled within 14-13 on DeMayo's 34-yard pass to Scott Reuter.

Dennis Miller then intercepted a Shriner option pass, setting up a 37-yard drive capped by Lospinosa's one-yard plunge.

After that, it was grind-it-out football with both teams trying to get the better of the other. And it proved to be a nail-biter until the end.

"We made some basic mistakes in the first half," said Taylor. "But we made some minor changes and that did the job."

"We made no mistakes in the second half," added the Bears' all-everything tackle, Ed Miller.

"We knew we could execute, so we just went out and did it," said Miller's linemate, Steve Benko.

But winning by those three inches made the victory an especially good one for the Bears, who have now won two in a row after losing to the Dayton Bulldogs in the opener.

"Dayton was the catalyst for us," said Taylor. "And we have just been getting better all the time."

Last week's win was a team effort, Taylor said, and when it was time for a post-game TV interview, the entire team joined in.

BEAR BITS—Next up for Brearley is a Saturday game at Monroe Township at 1:30 p.m. Monroe warmed up for the game by shutting out South Brunswick, 14-0, last week.

As for the other future Bear opponents: MANVILLE lost to IMMACULATA, 10-7; BOUND BROOK lost to Dayton, 20-7, and NORTH PLAINFIELD edged GOVERNOR LIVINGSTON, 22-20.

Sports this week

The situation was this: Brearley led 19-14 late in the game when a high snap eluded punter Joe Lospinosa and was downed at the Bears' 22-yard line. There was time for Park to pull out the victory by scoring a touchdown.

Fenwick holding sizable lead over Lautenberg

Republican Fenwick holds a commanding 18 point lead over Democrat Lautenberg with less than a month of the campaign left for the U.S. Senate, according to the latest Eagleton Poll.

Eleven percent say they know "a lot" and 32 percent "some about Fenwick." Fenwick has remained a popular figure with all segments of the electorate throughout the campaign. In June, favorable opinions of Fenwick outnumbered unfavorable ones by 40 to eight percent. The September survey finds 45 percent with favorable opinions and seven percent with unfavorable ones, with the remainder not expressing an opinion. Favorable opinions outnumbered unfavorable ones by 54 to seven percent among Republicans, 50 to seven percent among Independents, and 32 to eight percent among Democrats.

Fewer registered voters expressed opinions about Lautenberg, but he too is popular among those stating a view. Overall, 17 percent hold a favorable view and six percent unfavorable. Lautenberg is especially well regarded among Democrats, with 23 percent expressing favorable and 1 percent unfavorable opinions. Independents offered more favorable than unfavorable opinions of Lautenberg by a margin of 16 to 5 percent; 12 percent of Republicans hold favorable and 8 percent unfavorable impressions of Lautenberg. In June, only 11 percent had opinions about Lautenberg—9 percent favorable and 2 percent unfavorable.

In assessing the results, Zukin commented that Lautenberg faced a very difficult task in catching Fenwick. "Fenwick has many of the advantages of an incumbent. She is a widely known and well liked person running against a little known newcomer. When voters are far more familiar with one candidate and hold positive views of the candidate, that is likely to be the lever most will pull."

The Eagleton figures show Lautenberg continuing to do well among traditionally Democratic groups. Lautenberg holds large leads among blacks, liberals, those earning under $15,000 a year and those with less than a high school education. He does less well among blue collar workers, leading Fenwick by only two points. The base of Fenwick support is the reverse. She holds a strong lead over Lautenberg among whites, conservatives, high school graduates and those having attended college, middle and upper income households, and among white collar and self-employed workers. Fenwick also enjoys leads in all areas of the state: in northern New Jersey by 47 to 35 percent, in central New Jersey by 57 to 27 percent, and in the south by 49 to 31 percent.

Support for the candidates is also clearly divided by evaluations of the President and by financial conditions. Fenwick holds a 53 percentage point lead among those saying Reagan is doing an excellent or good job and a 14 point lead among those saying Reagan is doing an "only fair job." Among those rating Reagan's performance as poor, Fenwick leads Lautenberg by 29 points. Those saying their family's financial situation had gotten better over the past year divide their vote 77 percent for Fenwick to 10 percent for Lautenberg. Those saying things had gotten worse prefer Lautenberg by a margin of 46 to 37 percent. Fenwick has a sizable 51 to 28 percent lead over Lautenberg among those reporting no change in their financial status over the past year.

The Rutgers University survey of 756 registered voters, found Fenwick leading Lautenberg by 50 to 32 percent with 18 percent undecided. An Eagleton survey conducted in June found Fenwick leading Lautenberg by a margin of 41 to 24 percent, with 35 percent undecided.

Fenwick's lead is based on her popularity among independent voters in the state and ability to attract a significant proportion of Democrats. Independents preferred Fenwick over Lautenberg by a margin of almost two-to-one. Where Republicans divide their vote 82 to 7 percent for Fenwick, Democratic support for Lautenberg is a much weaker 60 to 27 percent.

Cliff Zukin, the poll's director, noted that voters gave very different reasons for their support of the candidates. "Just under half of those planning to vote for Fenwick cited her personality and character as their main reason, compared to 19 percent giving this reason for supporting Lautenberg. The Lautenberg candidacy is largely party-based, with 53 percent saying they support him because he is a Democrat."

Zukin also noted there was a great potential for change in the last month of the campaign as fully half of both Lautenberg and Fenwick voters said they might change their minds before the election.

Interest in the Senate election is lower than in last year's gubernatorial contest. Only one in three of New Jersey's registered voters reports being "very interested" in the election, with 40 percent being "somewhat interested" and one in four expressing no interest in the Senate election. An Eagleton survey conducted last September found 40 percent very interested, 37 percent somewhat interested and 21 percent not very interested in the gubernatorial election.

Recognition of Lautenberg is up substantially from early summer, but Fenwick has increased from 70 to 88 percent. Despite these increases, voters feel they know little about the candidates. Only two percent feel they know "a lot" about Lautenberg and 11 percent say they know "some" about him.

"Serving Union County"

October 14, 1982

Appearing in the Union Leader, Linden Leader, Springfield Leader, Mountainside Echo, The Spectator, Kenilworth Leader.

Runnells: 70 years of caring

One of the most important institutions in Union County for almost three-quarters of a century savored a special moment last night.

The John E. Runnells Hospital of Union County celebrated its 70th anniversary last night with a gala benefit dinner at the Town and Campus in Union.

George J. Albanese, New Jersey Commissioner of Human Services, was honorary co-chairman of the affair, as was John E. Runnells, son of the late Dr. John E. Runnells, first superintendent and medical director of the hospital that now bears his name, and Anthony C. Cicatiello of Rahway.

Co-chairmen were Virginia McKenney, county freeholder and Norman Rauscher. Other committee members were: Nancy Andrews-Lessner, Attridge, Angela Badalatto, Joseph Coleman, Prescott Crane, Dr. Edward Goodkin, Arthur Z. Grisi, Allan Kapkowski, Michael Kenney, Clifford Peake, Dell Raudelanus, Dr. Ward Schultz, and current hospital administrator William Stilwell.

To completely understand its place in Union County today, it is necessary to trace the hospital's history and relevance to area communities as it developed over the years.

In its first 40 years, Runnells Hospital had the treatment of tuberculosis as its primary concern. Throughout the years, additions and improvements were made and the bed capacity increased.

A Children's preventorium was built in 1916. Laboratory space, as well as housing for the hospital's employees, was erected and a swimming pool was added for children. By 1933, there were 370 beds, 100 for use by pre-tuberculosis children.

With advanced drugs and treatments, patient's hospital stays began to reduce and the demand for beds lessened. In 1955, the State Legislature responded to the changing needs of the public by passing legislation which permitted

CHILDREN'S PREVENTORIUM—To meet the growing needs of area children stricken with tuberculosis, a children's preventorium with a swimming pool was constructed in 1916. Today, services for youngsters include the Dube' Children's Shelter, for abused or abandoned children, and the JINS (Juveniles in Need of Supervision) Shelter, which was established in 1968.

OLD DAYS—Patients in one of the early wards of what was then known as Bonnie Burn Sanatorium. From its humble beginnings as a tuberculosis sanatorium, the facility soon expanded its services to meet the needs of the greater Union County community.

county hospitals to admit patients suffering from non-tubercular diseases. This action gave Runnells Hospital two units, a T.B. unit and a non-T.B. unit.

The admissions policy was further expanded in 1961 when the hospital was authorized to admit chronic patients such as stroke victims and cancer sufferers. Construction of two 50-bed units was begun and they were opened in 1963 and in '65.

Admission to the Tuberculosis Unit continued to decline until 1966, when the Board of Managers at the hospital and the Freeholders closed the T.B. wing, transferring the remaining patients to the state sanatorium.

Meanwhile, the need for beds for the chronically ill resulted in Rose Hall, a doctors' and nurses' residence, being converted for patient use in 1967, the same year the Dube' Children's Shelter opened.

A consulting firm surveyed the hospital and the needs of the community in 1967. Their recommendation was to close the facility, but the Freeholders decided there was an urgent need in the Union County community for the facility and continued operation with a final change in the name of the facility to the John E. Runnells Hospital of Union County in 1969.

Ninety-three additional beds were added in 1971 and the long waiting list of nursing home patients began to dwindle. At the same time, two new primary needs among Union County residents became apparent—treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics and inpatient and outpatient services for the mentally ill. Approval for these new programs was granted in 1973.

Today, Runnells operates 22 buildings on 146 acres in the Watchung foothills and is licensed by the New Jersey Department of Health as both a hospital and a nursing home with 343 beds. The bed complement is composed of 108 hospital beds, 89 intermediate care beds and 146 skilled nursing beds.

For some four decades, John E. Run-

JOHN E. RUNNELLS, M.D., for whom the facility was renamed in 1955. Runnells was considered a frontrunner in the field of modern tuberculosis treatment in the early part of the 20th century. His untiring work and dedication served as a credit to both the hospital and modern medicine.

nells Hospital of Union County has been fully accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals and is a member of the American Hospital Association, the New Jersey Hospital Association and the Union County Hospital Society.

The facility offers a wide range of specialized health care services in the following areas: medical and nursing care for the chronically ill; restorative and rehabilitative services, including speech, occupational, recreational and physical therapy and social services; intensive nursing care for the terminal-ly ill.

Also, alcoholism rehabilitations; inpatient psychiatric care; emergency services; outpatient chest clinic; psychiatric outpatient rehabilitation and alcoholism follow-up; outpatient senior citizens clinic and employee clinic.

Union County Manager Arthur J. Grisi, in referring to last night's dinner celebrating the 70th anniversary, said, "This dinner's dual importance must be emphasized. We were not only celebrating Runnells' glorious past, but we wanted to establish a mechanism to ensure that adequate health care will be available for county residents in the future."

The entertainment at last night's gala added to the festive mood. Susan Edelman, currently a pianist with the Plainfield Symphony and the New Jersey Ballet, has appeared in seven states and holds a Masters in Piano Performance. She has also worked in the Arts Administration and has been associated with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. Shining along with Edelman was Janet Stewart, recently appointed artistic director of the Opera Theater of New Jersey. Stewart has appeared as Cio Cio San in Madame Butterfly in the Opera Festival Production at the State Theater in New Brunswick, and on tour.

See men's fashions at fund-raising gala

SPRINGFIELD—The models are fitted and the runway readied as the American Cancer Society Union County unit, prepares for the premiere fund-raising gala of the year tomorrow night. Saks Fifth Avenue in Springfield is the host for a "Gala Showing of Fall and Winter Fashions for the Town and Country Gentleman."

This event, resplendent with the elegance of Saks, deluxe hor'd'oeuvres, and unlimited spirit as well as guests believing in the work of the American Cancer Society, will prove to be an exciting and worthwhile evening for all who attend.

Among those sporting the latest in fashion as models will be William Biunno, President of the Union County unit; Steve Norton, vice president of Resorts International; Ron Posyton, a member of the unit's board of managers; Jerome Hines, renowned opera star, as well as many other community leaders.

"Due to a revision in our calendar of events," Biunno noted, "this year the gala men's fashion show will replace our traditional crimson ball which has been held in early Spring. The next ball will be in Oct. 1983. We at the unit are just as excited about this event and hope that it will be our biggest and most elegant fund raiser of the year."

Tickets for this affair are $37.50 per person. The evening begins with the hor'd'oeuvres and open bar at 7 p.m. Reservations are limited. Those interested in attending can call the American Cancer Society at 232-0641 or 354-7373.

AIMS TO PLEASE—Happy is a nine-month old collie mix. She has beautiful brown, black and white markings on her face and through her fur. Happy is medium in size and loves people and other animals. A little on the quiet size, she enjoys to run and have her cheek nuzzled. Happy may be adopted from the Pets Adoption Waiting Station in Linden. It is a non-profit, volunteer-run organization. Located off of Lower Road, near Route 1, the shelter caters to Union County's homeless dogs. The shelter is open from 6 to 9 p.m. on weekdays and on weekend mornings. Anyone interested in Happy may leave their number on the answering service by calling 499-9300.

Noted microsurgeon speaks at workshop

William Wei-Lien Shaw, M.D., world renown microsurgeon whose widely publicized operation reattaching the hands of the 17 year-old flutist, Renee Katz, brought him public and professional acclaim, will be the speaker at the American Cancer Society's Seventh Annual Reach to Recovery Workshop entitled "Breast Reconstruction." The workshop will be held on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church on Elm St. in Westfield.

Shaw is currently the Director of Microsurgery and Replantation at Bellvue and New York Hospitals. He and his team hold a remarkable record of success using a variety of techniques. In the case of the reconstruction of a woman's breast following a mastectomy, Dr. Shaw uses tissue from the gluteus maximus and rebuilds arteries, veins and nerves with microsurgery.

"This program provides an excellent opportunity for area people to hear about the latest in breast reconstruction from one of the foremost authorities in the field," remarked Nettie Baser, Coordinator of the Union County Unit's Reach to Recovery Program, made up of volunteers who assist in the rehabilitation of women who have undergone breast cancer surgery. "I encourage all who are concerned about this disease and some of the most remarkable work done in the field to attend this important program."

Film gives area citizen look at police work

UNION—What would it be like to be in a police officer's shoes for a day, facing a series of life-or-death situations?

The average Union County citizen may be able to gain some insights into the use of deadly force by doing just that, being placed in life-threatening circumstances, through a film recently acquired by the Union County Police Training Academy at Union County College, according to Dr. John Wolf, academy director and chairman of the College's Criminal Justice Department.

"Shoot/Don't Shoot" is a thought-provoking investigation into law enforcement's use of deadly force. Narrated by Peter Falk, the film explores the conflicts, mistakes and dangers brought on by that issue, and gives viewers the opportunity to find out what it is really like to face the deadly force dilemma.

The film was given to the Police Training Academy by the Union County Firearms Training Officers Association for use at the Academy's firearms classes on the Cranford Campus. The film is also available for screening by local civic organizations, senior citizen groups, PTA's and any group interested in the issue.

A series of incidents in the film "test" viewers' shooting judgment and allow them to compare their results with those of an on-screen test group of citizens as well as with those of police officers who had to shoot, or were shot, in the line of duty. Also examined are the physical and emotional after-effects of shooting incidents and various alternatives to shooting.

Joseph Powers, program supervisor of the Academy, said he thinks the film is significant and worthwhile viewing because "it shows the public the problems confronted by the average police officer in his day-to-day duties, the decisions he must make as to whether to use this type of force or not."

The incidents into which the viewer is thrust in the film include an armed robbery in a grocery store, a burglary in progress, a sniping scene, and a man with a gun and a family fight in progress.

Any groups interested in viewing the film should contact their local police department.

The Police Academy, operated jointly by the Union County Police Chief's Association and Union County College, provides basic training for new recruits in law enforcement agencies. Since 1965, the training has been a legal requirement for new police officers in New Jersey.

UCC Board gives OK in associate degrees

The Board of Trustees of Union County College last month authorized the offering of 39 programs with 29 options leading to an associate degree, certificate or diploma at a meeting at the Cranford Campus.

Sixteen of the programs have been offered previously by Union College and 23 by Union County Technical Institute. All were previously approved by the State Board of Higher Education for the State Department of Higher Education.

Under the resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees, the college will officially offer the following programs leading to an Associate degree: biology, business, criminal justice, engineering, liberal arts, physical science, liberal studies, professional nursing and radiography with Elizabeth General Medical Center and Muhlenberg Hospital, chemical technology, civil technology, data processing accounting, data processing/computer science, dental hygiene, dental laboratory technology, electromechanical technology, electronics technology, fire science, human services, mechanical technology, medical laboratory technology, medical records technology, secretarial science, physical therapy assistant, respiratory therapy, and occupational therapy assistant.

In addition, the college will offer the following programs leading to a certificate or diploma certificate—basic studies, clerk/typist, gerontology, intensive English language learning, interpreters for the deaf, practical nursing, respiratory therapy technician, and ward clerk/unit secretary, and diploma—dental assisting, medical assisting, and travel and tourism.

The Board also ratified an 18-month contract with the Union College Employees Association, which is the collective bargaining unit for non-supervisory professional personnel on the Cranford campus. The contract provides for salary increases equivalent to about 8.5 percent, which is similar to those provided other bargaining units affiliated with the college.

Social Security expands efforts to collect debts

The Social Security Administration is actively engaged in expanding efforts to collect all debts owed it. John H. McCutcheon, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth, said recently.

A debt to Social Security usually arises when a person receiving retirement, survivor, or disability benefits, or supplemental security income (SSI) payments, receives more money than is authorized by law.

These debts, or overpayments, generally are caused by the person's failure to report an event that has an effect on the amount of the benefit that is due. These overpayments can amount to many thousands of dollars, McCutcheon said.

A person is first asked to repay the entire amount of the overpayment. If this is not possible, arrangements can be made to make the repayment over a period of time, either by withholding a portion of the benefit check or by making monthly installments.

Social Security also is contacting people who failed to repay past overpayments as well as those currently incurred. Many offices have set up special units whose purpose is to contact people about the money they owe Social Security.

People can avoid overpayments if they promptly report any happening that could affect the amount of money they are due. For people who receive Social Security retirement, survivor, or disability benefits, there is a complete list of events to be reported in the "Rights and Responsibilities" booklet they received in the mail. For people who receive SSI payments, there is a list of events to be reported in the booklet, "What You Have to Know About SSI..." which they received.

More information about overpayments and how they can be repaid can be obtained at the Elizabeth Social Security office. The people there will be glad to explain about the various repayment procedures. The office is located at 342 Westminster Avenue and the telephone number is 800-272-111.

Summit Nature club launches new year

The Summit Nature Club, which welcomes all residents of Union County, will open its 1982-83 meeting year with Dr. Edward Degginger and his new program "The Canadian Arctic," a result of his trip to that region this summer.

Degginger, a nature photographer, will present his program at 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 21 at the Lincoln School, Woodland Avenue, Summit. The program is open to the public at no charge.

Also, naturalist Tom Diez will present two of his films, "African Adventures" and "Adventures in the American West," at 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 28.

The screening is part of the Audubon Wildlife Film Series, sponsored by the Summit Nature Club, the local chapter of the National Audubon Society. Tickets are $3 and may be purchased at the door or in advance from Martin Page at 464-6297. Student tickets are $1.

Diez's two 40-minute films explore regions so different in appearance, yet similar in the natural cycles they illustrate. "African Adventures" is a trek to the most remote wilderness in the dark continent—the bush country of Uganda and the Congo, where wildebeests migrate toward the plains of Tanzania and native peoples live untouched by civilization as we know it. "Adventures in the American West" penetrates the more familiar world of cowboy, rattlesnake, pronghorn antelope, and prairie.

A lifelong resident of western Pennsylvania's hill country, Diez has combined his two major interests—photography and wildlife. His films have appeared in National Geographic, Wildlife Federation, Carnegie Museum, and Pennsylvania Fish Commission products.

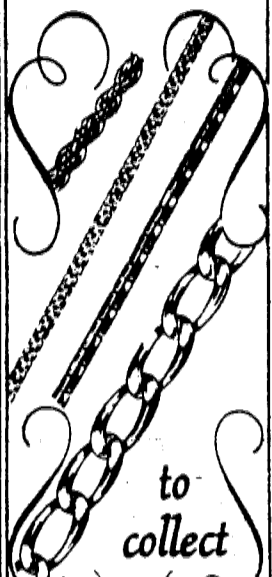

The Audubon Wildlife Films are scheduled through the National Audubon Society, headquartered in New York City. Others in this season's series include: Nov. 10, Kookaburra Country; Feb. 10, Wild and Wonderful Alaska; March 15, Saguaro Country; and May 4, Vancouver: Isle of Wonder. Season tickets for the series of five films are $9.

The National Audubon Society, which recently celebrated its 75th year, has more than 435,000 members, 10 regional offices, and some 450 chapters nationwide. The Audubon Wildlife program is just one of the society's many education and conservation projects across the country.

Doris Rosenthal, a career and human development consultant and the instructor for the course, will use videotape, lecture and discussion in her teaching.

The workshops cover such questions as: Where are the jobs? What are the jobs? What training do you need? What is the outlook?

Pick of the LPs—"Candy" (MCA Records).

Halfway through the debut album Candy, as the song, "Indiscretions," starts off, one comes to the realization that Candy Edwards is an extraordinary and diverse talent; she is a young woman with an instinct and maturity far beyond her years. She also is at the point, with her first solo album, that other singers often don't reach until their fifth or sixth.

Candy is Candy Edwards in both her heart and soul.

Also a lead vocalist with world famous One Way, she strikes out on a different path with this MCA Records' release. While Irene Perkins, Kevin McCord and ADK produced the LP, the same people who also put the polish to One Way's albums, this is definitely Candy's album as she sings such killer tracks as "My Man," the first single; "Leading Lady," "Indiscretions" and "Love Is Here," which she co-wrote with McCord.

While working as a secretary at the Board of Education in Detroit, she happened to be performing at a talent show when Cortez Harris, formerly of One Way, heard her. They talked and decided to team up musically; shortly thereafter though, Harris joined One Way again, and when Alicia Meyers left the group to develop a solo career, Candy was asked to audition, which she did, and the rest is now musical history.

Candy has always sung, first starting in church where both her father and grandfather were ministers, then eventually in various talent contests and clubs in both her hometown of Lexington, Ky., and then later in Detroit. She obviously also gained some of her musical talent from her mother, one of the original Ikettes.

And now she's concentrated all that talent on Candy, an exquisite album that shows the depth of this young woman who will quickly become familiar to millions.

For the sweetest music of all, try Candy. You'll keep going back for more.

'Snoopy' due on Y stage

The stage musical, "Snoopy," will be presented Oct. 29 through Nov. 14, Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., and Sundays at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the YWCA Theater (formerly the New Jersey Theater Forum), 232 East Front St., Plainfield. It will be sponsored by the Unicorn Productions Repertory Theater Company of Plainfield.

Bill Perlach of Linden is among the cast members.

Concert slated at Middlesex

Russian-born violinist Eduard Glishkin will perform at Middlesex County College, Edison, Oct. 20 from noon to 2 p.m. in the College Center. The event is free and open to the public.

Glishkin will appear with his ensemble, Randia, an authentic Polish gypsy, now living in the United States, and Eddie, a keyboard player from the Ukraine, who also was a conductor of the Ukraine Symphony Orchestra.

Glishkin left the Soviet Union two years ago as a political emigre.

The concert is sponsored by the College Center Planning Board Fine Arts committee.

Musical staged at Y in Summit

The Metropolitan Musical Theater, 67 Maple St., Summit, will present its second musical this season, "Dames At Sea," written by George Haimsohn and Robin Miller. The musical score was written by Jim Wise. The show will be staged Oct. 15 and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., Sunday at 3 p.m., Oct. 22 and 23 at 8:30 p.m., and Oct. 24 in 3 p.m. at the Summit YMCA auditorium.

Among the members of the cast will be Paul Farinella and Chris Ferericko, both of Mountainside.

The Who rocks arena in last tour

By MARIANNE ASTALOS

Sunday night will probably be marked in New Jersey history as the night The Who came to town, and the earth shook at the Meadowlands in the Brendan Byrne Arena, Rutherford.

The crowd of 20,000 plus was on its feet when the 20-year-old British rock group, made up of Roger Daltrey, lead vocals, guitar; Peter Townshend, lead guitar and vocals; John Entwistle, bass guitar, and Kenny Jones, drummer, took to the stage at about 9:30 p.m. Leading off with "My Generation," the band went into several cuts off of their latest lp, "It's Hard," and it was up and down for the crowd during the next two hours.

The Who has never sounded better.

The members played the best of the new album and all of the old favorites which make the band the resounding, world-famous musical group that it is.

From the rock-opera "Tommy," the "Feel Me." The stage turned shades of light and dark as Daltrey crooned the melody.

The crowd could not sit down during most of the performance, and through several of the songs, the excited fans sang and danced. The tingling fever was contagious and energetic.

One of this reviewer's favorites, "Teenage Wasteland," was met with a roar from the crowd. The lyrics, echoing the frustration of two British youth groups, the Mods and Punks, during the early 1970's, is still applicable to the problems we continue to face in the 1980's. The crowd joined The Who, in unison, as they screamed "we're wasted," over the roar of the keyboards and bass guitar.

Daltrey sparkled in "Who Are You," and kept the crowd standing when the band went into "Behind Blue Eyes."

Keeping with the mellow tone, the group performed the ballad "Love Reign O'er Me." Daltrey belted out the lyrics, and the moving, haunting tone of the melodic strains were etched across his face. Going into the final lines of the music, the lead singer got down on his knees and bowed his head. Standing up for the last note, Daltrey's voice never sounded stronger or better.

The climax of the performance came during "We Won't Get Fooled Again." The instrumentals were in perfect synchronization with the drums and the vocals. The stage darkened during the drum and guitar solos and, as Daltrey group played "Pinball Wizard" and slowed down to move into "See Me, belting out his final scream, the stage was lit with a tremendous burst of flame as a flash pot exploded behind Jones. It left a lasting impression.

Townshend, one of the world's most creative and talented guitarists, played with an energy that charged the audience as his hand swept across the chords with his usual sweeping circular motions.

The last encore, "Twist and Shout," a Beatles classic, again brought the frenzied crowd to its feet and, it seemed, everyone was dancing the twist.

Jones was perfect with each drum beat and the band was so tight and so good that it seemed a perfect storybook ending to the bands' touring days.
