Schneider begins new role as BOE president

By SHAWN EVANS

The sturdy, wooden gavel which rests on the conference room table at the Mountainside Board of Education Building, has been placed in the hands of a new president—Linda Schneider.

Schneider, whose term expires in 1987, was elected to the board last year. She replaces outgoing President Camie Delaney who stepped down from the board.

Schneider officially presided over Monday night's reorganization meeting, in which newly elected board member Dorothy Unchester was sworn in, along with re-elected incumbent Linda Esemplare by Board Secretary John McDonough.

Esemplare is entering into her seventh year on the board, and her new term will expire in 1988 with Unchester's.

The two defeated William Vetter and Elizabeth Bellezza in a tightly contested race which pivoted primarily around the issues of the proposed 1985-86 budget and the administrative structure.

Schneider was placed in the seat after receiving four of the six votes from board members. Pat Knodell, who entering her 13th year on the board, was also nominated.

Vice President James Pascutti, was renominated to serve in the same capacity until 1986, after a rather unusual election.

The absent Pasutti was nominated on the fourth ballot following successive 3-3 ties which resulted on three other ballots.

In other action, the board adopted all policies, rules and agreements of the previous board and decided on the May meeting dates which were set for the first and second Tuesdays of the month, or May 7 and 14 at 8 p.m.

They also agreed to hold a special meeting on April 30 to discuss and implement the necessary steps to revamp the proposed 1985-86 school board budget, which was defeated by the voters on April 2.

Since the budget was rejected, the board must meet in a joint session with the Borough Council, which is the agency that must review the budget and decide on how much to cut.

The council has until April 29 to certify the budget, and the board then has 15 days to comply or appeal the council's decision.

The board agreed to meet with members of the governing body next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the council chambers. The meeting is open to the public.

The two members, who were sworn in at Monday's reorganization meeting, pledged to do their best to assist in implementing a quality education for Deerfield School students. The two will hold seats on the board until 1988.

Fire horn arouses public's ire

By SHAWN EVANS

Several members of a group of 30 in attendance complained to the Borough Council Tuesday night about an ear-piercing noise disseminated from the fire horn attached to the volunteer Fire Department used to alert the men of emergencies.

Residents pleaded with the council to take immediate measures to move the fire horn, preferably near the borough offices as opposed to the residential section.

The volunteer department is located on the westbound side of New Providence Road.

The citizens all agreed they are being affected to the point that the noise is "making them crazy."

Mayor Bruce Geiger invited the residents and others concerned with the constant noise to the council's next work session on Tuesday, May 14 in an effort to come up with a workable means of restraining the sound without interfering with its sole purpose—to alert the fire men.

While many of the residents at the meeting had turned out to learn about developments on an ordinance pertaining to commercial vehicles, Geiger said the ordinance would not be discussed until sometime in June, after the council has completed the task of reviewing the Board of Education budget.

Geiger said the council will meet with members of the board of education next Tuesday at 8 p.m. to discuss the board's defeated 1985-86 school year budget.

Geiger said the first portion of the meeting will be open to public input, but it must be restricted to the first segment of the meeting only. The council has until April 29 to certify the board's budget, and in turn, the board has 15 days to act on the decision or appeal it.

There was no official vote on the adoption of the council's proposed 1985-85 municipal budget due to the fact the state has not completed its review of the tab, according to Borough Administrator Jim Roberts.

Roberts said he expects the budget to be adopted at the council's next meeting.

Geiger told the public there is enough money in the budget to take care of the "usual happenings in the community" as well as anything "unusual."

"I think the tax burden on the community is really not that much," Geiger said. The council opened the meeting to the public for comments on the budget, but no response was made.

The council also approved a resolution authorizing the governing body to implement a consent agenda.

Stemming a mounting problem among teens

By VICTORIA VREELAND

"My kid said he wished he wasn't born, but I didn't take him seriously."

This is an all-too-familiar lament heard by Dr. Rosalie Greenberg, adult and child psychiatrist, who counsels teen-agers who have attempted suicide.

When problems are mounted and solutions are scarce, suicide can seem like an appealing idea. "All people think of it," Greenberg said, "at least long enough to dismiss it."

Greenberg, the director of Child and Adolescent Out-Patient Services at Fair Oaks Hospital, Summit, said the problem starts when the notion is not immediately dismissed. For in those cases, the act takes on a more glorified appearance.

Greenberg finds that most people who welcome the idea of suicide are suffering from depression or suicide idealism.

In the past 30 years, the suicide rate among teen-agers has tripled. According to statistics, about 400,000 suicide attempts are reported each year nationwide, and about 5,000 of those attempts are successful.

According to Greenberg, the statistical breakdown indicates that for every one teen-ager who does not attempt suicide, 30 to 100 do. Attempts are more common by females; about three of every four attempts are made by girls, however, three out of every four attempts made by teen-age boys are successful.

According to Greenberg, statistics are generally underestimated because many suicide attempts are not reported as such. The attached social stigma moves many parents to beg family physicians to report their child's suicide as an accident.

Greenberg, a graduate of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, is currently enrolled on the faculty there as an instructor in clinical psychiatry.

Suicide follows automobile accidents as the leading cause of death for teen-agers, but even in that domain there is room for doubt. Greenberg suggested that many single-vehicle accidents may be suicide attempts.

She said others are also misunderstanding because many times teen-agers do not tell anyone they attempted suicide.

Unfortunately, the warning signs of suicidal behavior often go undetected because of their resemblance to adolescent "growing pains."

Greenberg advises, however, that if blue down-in-thedumps, irritable moods persist for any length of time, "you have something more there."

The psychiatrist said physical cues usually accompany moody behavior. These may include changes in sleep patterns or a drop or increase in weight. School grades may also take a dive.

Verbal cues are usually the most frightful, but because of their sometimes dramatic delivery, people tend to shrug them off—statements like, "I won't be around for that," or, "I wish I wasn't born." Greenberg said many times a teen-ager contemplating suicide will begin to give away his or her possessions.

"You have to listen and watch your child. Listen, not tell. First you have to listen, although they may make it hard to hear," she emphasized.

If parents do suspect their child may be thinking of suicide, it is better to push the panic button and seek help, than to wait for a "stage" to pass, she advised.

Some teen-agers are more prone to suicide than others. Family history and family structure play integral parts in behavior, Greenberg explained.

Teen-agers with a history of suicide in their families have greater suicide leanings than those who do not. Greenberg said a number of theories attempt to explain why children emulate the act, including, wanting to join someone in the family who has killed himself, an inherited tendency toward depression, and believing suicide is an acceptable solution in their family.

Teen-agers who have had a number of disruptions in their lives, such as numerous moves, a parental divorce, or the loss of a loved one, are also prime candidates. She added that not all children who experience a traumatic change attempt suicide, providing the structure of the family is maintained. "Parents need to provide structure, not be rigid, but be in control. They are not the pal, but the parent," Greenberg said.

According to Greenberg, adolescents who suffer from depression feel like they have no one to talk to and to share problems with, at least no one who really listens. She said many of these cases become alcohol and drug abusers as a way to escape their problems. However, such a "solution" only increases inhibition, which could be the thing that pushes them over the edge," Greenberg said Friday night in a telephone interview.

Depression can be inherited or acquired. Teen-agers who actually suffer from hereditary disabilities that were not picked up in school, may become depressed because of their chronic under-achievement level.

Psychiatrists say a number of varied and complex reasons are responsible for the present staggering teenage suicide rate. Cognitively, younger children may not be able to plan the act as well—although there are cases of suicide in children as young as 10—Greenberg said, but fundamentally, the common factor is that all teen-agers enter a "less protected" environment.

According to Greenberg, a child is well-protected by their family in the first 12 years of life. As children get older, they are exposed to a greater number of people and experiences. This is the point when social pressures begin.

Some of those who attempt suicide Greenberg counsels claimed an unhappy event such as a girlfriend-boyfriend break-up or a family crisis, triggered their suicide attempt, while others plant the seed and sow it carefully, waiting for the right time.

However, Greenberg commented, "Both types are equally lethal."

In break-up situations, many times parents, without offering to listen to the child's tale of woe, give the pat advice handed down to them, "You'll get over it, you'll live."

"Sure, they will get over it," Greenberg commented, "if they live long enough. They need to talk, not a lecture, but an open dialogue."

Some of her patients claimed thoughts like "I'm never going to be anything," or "No one needs me, no one will ever need me," motivated them to attempt suicide. Adolescents experience a "tremendous helplessness" and feel "trapped," she explained.

As statistics show, in too many cases, a teen-ager's cries for help go unnoticed. Sometimes the most devoted, diligent parents miss the signs. In those tragic situations, Greenberg said blame "does not do anyone any good."

"It's easy to try to blame, but you really can't blame. In hindsight, of course you think of things you could have done differently," she explained.

"Some kids look so superficially and you would never know the pain they're inside. They are very good at hiding it," she said.

"You've treated your kid totally," she tells parents. She stressed the importance of talking in on suicidal cues. "When a child sees suicide as the answer, there has to be a problem. If a kid takes five aspirins for attention, there's something wrong. They should be able to find another way of getting attention. Even if they weren't seriously trying to kill themselves, kids can kill themselves by accident."

Greenberg believes most education systems are afraid to combat the epidemic head-on through discussion and education. "People are afraid that if you talk about it, they are more likely to do it. On the contrary, they may feel understood. We are already exposed to the idea, we do more detriment to not talk about it."

She urges parents to seek help for their child if they believe a problem exists. "An evaluation will open the problem up, don't ignore it," she warned. "Depression is a very treatable illness," she said.

She also advises teen-agers to look out for each other. "If you care, you tell. You are better off losing a friend than losing a friend's life," Greenberg said.

No curbs on water use

Although a drought emergency has been declared in Northern New Jersey, residents of Mountainside, serviced by Elizabethtown Water Co., will not immediately be affected.

Henry Patterson III, assistant vice president of public affairs for Elizabethtown, said yesterday that the water supply is adequate at reservoirs supplying the water company.

With major reservoirs less than two-thirds full, Gov. Tom Kean yesterday declared an emergency restricting the use of water in most towns in Bergen, Passaic and Morris counties.

A dry spell has left the state's major reservoirs at 61.7 percent of capacity. At this time of the year, reservoirs are normally 90-percent full.

Elizabethtown does not own its own reservoirs, but is supplied by the state-owned Water Supply Authority, which gets its water from two Hudson County reservoirs, Round Valley and Spruce Run.

"Round Valley Reservoir is 86 percent full and Spruce Run is 84 percent full," Patterson said, adding that while the supply at those two reservoirs is lower than normal, there is no emergency at this time.

Genova to keep office in Cranford

Newly-elected 21st Legislative District State Assemblyman Peter J. Genova will keep the district office in Cranford at 23 North Ave., East. This office was formerly occupied by the late Assemblyman Edward K. Gill, whom Genova succeeded.

Genova, 40, a Union Township committeeman, was sworn in Monday. He was elected to fill the vacancy in a special election held March 26.

Genova said the decision to keep the office where it is "was based on some very important considerations. There is no justification in spending additional taxpayers' monies on a relocation to another office and community. Cranford, geographically, is centrally located among the nine communities in the 21st Assembly District, and it is accessible.

"With State Sen. Louis Basano's office in Union, Minority Leader Chuck Hardwick's office in Westfield, and mine in Cranford, this will allow for easy access and accommodation for the people of the 21st district to contact their state representatives," Genova continued.

"Additionally," Genova concluded, "the Township of Cranford is the third largest community in the district, and when I am re-elected in November to a full two-year term, I pledge to keep Cranford as my legislative home in an effort to provide a continuity of legislative and constituent services."

Drivers fined in town court

In Springfield Municipal Court Monday, Judge Robert Weltchek fined a Union man for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The man, Fernando Goncalves, 31, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $1,015 and a $100 surcharge, in addition to 90 days in jail, 90 days of community service, and a 10-year revocation. Goncalves also pleaded guilty to driving while on the revoked list and was fined $1,015, 10 days in jail, and a six-month revocation. He received a year's probation when he pleaded guilty to possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana.

Bruce Pinelli, 34, of Warren, was found guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was fined $265 and a $100 surcharge, in addition to a six-month revocation and 12 hours in the Intoxicated Drivers Resource Center.

Another Warren man was $515 when he pleaded guilty to driving while on the revoked list. The man, Valentino Cavallaro, 20, also received a 10-day revocation.

Russo gets wings

Air Force Reserve 2nd Lt. Kevin J. Russo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Russo of Oak Ridge, Springfield, has graduated from U.S. Air Force pilot training and has received silver wings at Williams Air Force Base, Arizona.

Russo is scheduled to serve with the 732nd Military Airlift Squadron at McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey.

Junior gains dance award

Yiana Kiriakatis, a junior at David Brearley Regional High School, won third prize at a statewide dance competition for a performance of a jazz number from the hit musical "Fame."

Kiriakatis recently performed at the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, Westfield, in the annual Sights and Sounds Show which fielded competition from some 800 youngsters around the state.

She also received a third-place award for group singing and folk singing, a fourth-place honor for flower making and an award for oil painting.

Kiriakatis, the daughter of Avi Kiriakatis of 140 Boulevard, Kenilworth, will perform the same musical number for the Gifted and Talented Program at David Brearley in May.

Grossberg named chairman

Randolph D. Grossberg of Springfield has been elected chairman of the registration committee for Mini/Micro Northeast-85.

Grossberg who is employed by the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, is one of more than 500 industry professionals who have volunteered to help stage Mini/Micro Northeast, the northeast's only computer conference and exhibition dedicated solely to the OPM. More than 10,000 engineers and scientists are expected to attend the three-day event in the Sheraton Centre Hotel, New York City, Tuesday through April 25.

As chairman of the registration committee, Grossberg will help guide attendees through the registration process.

Town students earn honors

Three Springfield residents have earned honors at the DeVry Technical Institute, Woodbridge.

Glen Logan of Chimney Ridge Drive has been named to the school's president's list. To be eligible for the honor, students must have between a 3.5 and 4.0 grade point average, out of a possible 4.0, for the last term of study. Logan, a student in the Electronics Technician program, has a 3.6 average.

Frank Pulice of Irwin Street and Scott Monticello of Cypress Terrace have been named to the institute's Presidential Honor Society.

To be eligible, students must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5 after two terms of study. Monticello, a student in the Electronics Engineering Technology program, has a 3.9, and Logan, a student in the Electronics Technician program, has a 3.6 average.

Hospital speaker to discuss women's financial planning

YWCA to begin summer recreation

Plan a fun, busy and safe summer for your child—reserve a spot at the Summit YWCA's Camp Littlefoot. The YWCA's trained staff will blend indoor and outdoor recreation, arts and crafts, local trips and swimming recreation and instruction to keep the children productively active and entertained.

There are morning and afternoon sessions. The morning session, 9 to 12:15, is open to girls and boys ages 4 to 6, girls only ages 7 and 8. Afternoon sessions are for girls and boys ages 4 to 10 from 12:15 to 3:45.

Monday through Friday. All sessions are held at the YWCA, 79 Maple Street, Summit, with ample indoor and outdoor recreation areas.

The morning camp runs in two-week sessions beginning June 25 and ending August 16. Reservations for the afternoon camp may be made on a two-week or a daily basis.

The YWCA, a member agency of the United Way of Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, offers scholarship aid by arrangement.

"We're looking forward to another fun-filled summer at Camp Littlefoot," says Patricia Cronin, Director of the YW's Healthy, Physical Education and Recreation Department. "The children especially enjoy our theme weeks which will include Circus Week, Nature Week and Indian Week. The themes are carried out in arts and crafts projects, games, cooking and special events."

Registration forms are available at the YWCA, 79 Maple Street, Summit. For more information, call Pat Cronin at 273-4242.

Kordower faces jail sentence

Sylvia Kordower-Zetlin, feminist activist, was sentenced last week to 120 days in jail for contempt of court.

Kordower, a former Irvington resident who was founder and president of a women's legal rights group, is currently serving a seven-year prison term for aggravated assault, as well as a four-year term to run concurrently, for stabbing her former divorce lawyer, Edward Bertele of Mountainside, in the back.

Kordower's sentencing came shortly after she apologized to Superior Court Judge Richard Muscatello for the outbursts that led to the charges during her trial last fall.

She was also arraigned on a charge of bail jumping for her alleged three-month flight to avoid sentencing in which pleaded innocent to the charge.

Kordower, who had maintained a defiant attitude during the five-week trial last fall which led up to her conviction of aggravated assault, appeared to be unusually subdued during her latest court appearance.

She had been cited for contempt of court four times during the trial.

Judge Muscatello dismissed one of the contempt charges, which was lodged against Kordower for tape recording an interview with a state psychiatrist.

However, he did fine her $100 for showing up late for court on Oct. 5.

He sentenced her to 60 days in Union County Jail for calling her trial a "lynching" on Oct. 10 in the presence of the jury, and another 60 days for refusing to stop speaking and disrupting court proceedings on Oct. 15.

The sentences are to run consecutively, and she must serve them after her current prison term expires.

Kordower, was represented by attorney Arthur Penn of Montclair who said Kordower was under extreme pressure from the work involved in representing herself during the trial.

Kordower had previously fired two other attorneys who represented her.

The woman was wearing handcuffs as she sat between two guards in the jury box.

Kordower was convicted last fall, but then failed to appear for sentencing Nov. 24. For three months police sought her, until she was arrested outside the New York City apartment of her husband, Valentine Zetlin.

Tourney is set

Twenty-two students from Deerfield School will compete in the second Tournament of Champions on Saturday, April 27 at Cranford Track and Field from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The tournament is a track and field event for learning disabled and orthopedically handicapped youngsters.

An estimated 300 children in New Jersey's Region 5, which includes Union and Middlesex counties, will compete.

"I have found that the children love participating in this tournament," said Rhonda Green, regional meet director and Mountainside resource room instructor. "Not only do they gain a sense of competition but also a sense of pride in winning. To watch the children compete is worth all the endless hours of preparation," Green says.

The meet includes running races and relays, a softball throw, foul shooting, long jumping, an obstacle course, and more.

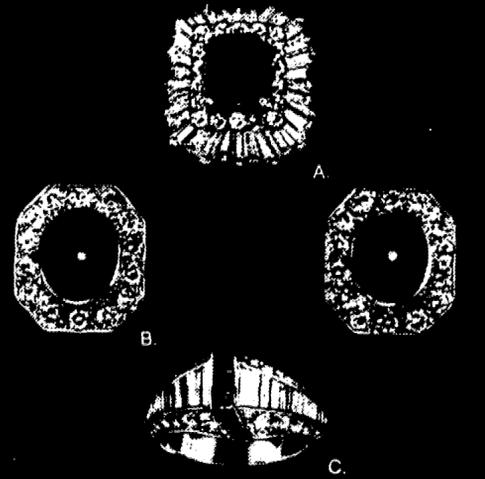

The event is being co-sponsored by the Benevolent Protective Order of the Elks (BPO) District 4, East Center Division; McDonald's, Friendly's and Burry Baking Company.

"Ultimately, it is a day filled with laughter and fun," Green says.

From the upcoming regional meet, qualifying students go on to compete in the New Jersey State meet on June 1 at McGuire Air Force Base.

Line for line

How many people work for the ever-expanding bureaucracy in Union County? No one really knows for sure. Estimates have placed the number as high as 2,500, but county officials say the total number of county employees changes from day to day, and maybe even from hour to hour.

The reason for all the uncertainty is that up until now, the determination of the county work force has been left to individual department heads, and to a certain extent, the county manager. Unfortunately, the structuring of the county payroll has been carried out without the usual checks and balances and painstaking inventory that is considered standard operating procedure in the private sector. In past years, when each county budget was struck, individual departments would be allotted a block sum of appropriations for salaries, without position-by-position delineations, and loosely based on the staffing needs of the previous year. But in the event a high-paying management position was vacated as a result of a retirement or resignation, funds would be freed to create two or even three other lower-salaried positions within the same department. The result: at the end of every fiscal year, there would be the unwelcome shock of learning that scores of additional workers and staff positions had been added to the payroll without the full knowledge of the elected officials of the governing body of the county — the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Now at least, there is good reason to believe that all of this may be changing. After years of fruitless discussions, which all but ignored the problem, the freeholders have finally taken the bull by the horns, demanding the formulation of a budget which will include all county jobs as line items in the proposed 1985 budget. The revamped budget, which follows the freeholders' rejection of an earlier spending proposal, presented by County Manager Louis Coletti in January, would enable the freeholders to pinpoint their staffing costs position by position, in the interests of streamlining county government. While this change in procedure was expected to involve considerable reprogramming of the current fiscal management procedures, the freeholders indicated this change could be implemented in time for tonight's introduction of the 1985 budget.

Certainly, it would not be a waste of breath to argue that since past freeholder boards were well aware that this fiscal albatross existed and could have been cured, they should have instituted a change in the budget procedure years ago. Nevertheless, the fact that the present board has taken the proper initiative represents a hopeful sign. With the development of a more elaborate budget, there should be a resultant increase in monitoring the work force and improved government accountability to stem the tide of expansion of a bureaucracy that has grown out of control.

Chapter expresses 'sincere appreciation'

The Central New Jersey Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America, Inc., would like to express our sincere appreciation to you and your co-workers at County Leader Newspapers for helping us with our news release on a Clap-a-thon event to be held Monday.

The Central New Jersey Chapter covers the counties of Union, Middlesex, Mercer, Monmouth, Somerset and Hunterdon. We are a very small office, but our job is to raise the needed funds for research, patient aid, public and professional education. It is very important for us to let the public know that we are here whether it is because we offer a new booklet on leukemia, on our financial assistance to people that have leukemia or on a special event to help to help raise the needed funds for research.

Once again, thank you and your co-workers for your help in our fight against leukemia — the number one child killing disease.

Early detection is cancer treatment key

By NANCY P. SULLIVAN
Mountainside Board of Health
Next to heart disease, cancer is America's leading cause of death. Hundreds of thousands of people will be diagnosed as having cancer this year. For every six who get cancer, two will be saved, one will die needlessly of a cancer that might have been cured if it had been treated in time, and three will die because they can't be cured with the present medical knowledge.

Cancer isn't caused by a virus or bacteria you can catch. Cells that are cancerous are normal cells that for some reason have gone haywire. They multiply much faster and tend to crowd out and overrun healthy cells. But the basic cause of most cancers is still unknown.

Scientists have discovered, however, several conditions often connected with normal cell growth: —Mechanical — the chronic irritation of warts or moles, excessive rubbing of the mouth tissue from pipestems and badly fitting dentures are examples.

—Chemical — the substances that have been proved to be carcinogenic (cancer causing) in government studies; coal tars, the irritants in cigarette smoke, asbestos and vinyl chloride, some kinds of dyes, and any kind of pollution fit into this category.

—Radiation — prolonged exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays and overexposure to X-rays, radium, radioactive isotopes, etc. The effects of these conditions are long-term and vary from one individual to another. Researchers haven't figured out what triggers a cell to become cancerous although cancer does tend to run in families. There's no proof that cancer is actually hereditary, but the strength of your immune system is, and oftentimes so are elements of your lifestyle like smoking, sunning, diet, occupation and resistance. Any cell can become cancerous, which means any body part or system can develop cancer.

Cancer can manifest itself as a tumor or characteristic lump of abnormal cells. The term malignancy refers to a tumorous growth of cancer cells. (Tumors can also be benign, which means the cells are not cancerous and can be surgically removed without reappearing). Only a physician can tell the difference. Cancer detection, however, is not that easy. Any cell can become cancerous, but not all cancers produce tumors or lumps. Leukemia, cancer of the bone marrow, and lymphatic cancer — cancer of the body's defense system — are examples.

Metastatic cancer is a cancer that has spread to another location from where it started. Cancer that has metastasized is far more difficult to treat — making early detection of cancer essential for successful treatment.

Before getting into detection, let's talk about prevention. Since cancer's cause is largely unknown, 100 percent prevention is impossible, but you can reduce the possibility of cancer. First of all, try to avoid those three categories of conditions that are connected with cancer growth: mechanical, chemical and radiation. Particularly, don't smoke and moderate your exposure to the sun (and study up on sunscreens). Eat a diet low in fat and high in fiber. Your diet should also have generous amounts of naturally occurring vitamin C, vitamin A in the form of beta-carotene (the vegetable form) and vitamin E. These three have a lot to do with the strength of your immune system. You should maintain your correct weight.

The early detection of cancer is crucial to its treatment. The American Cancer Society has devised a list of seven warning signals that everyone should know. They're not a sure sign of cancer, but if you develop one and it persists for two weeks, contact your physician.

The seven warning signals are an unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; a change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and a change in the size or color of a wart or mole.

Remember, pain is usually a late symptom of cancer. Don't wait until it hurts. The conventional treatments for cancer are surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, alone or in combination. Surgery is the most common and effective method of curing cancer because it aims to completely remove all the cancerous tissue. The newer techniques of "freezing" make surgery faster and more painless.

Radiation, aimed directly at the cancer site, attempts to stop cancer cells from multiplying. High-powered, narrow-beam betatrons and cobalt units can zero in on deep tumors and careful studies have established exact dosages so there is less damage to normal tissues.

Chemotherapy uses drugs to block chemical changes in cells and "starve" the cancer, prevent cell division, or produce radiation-like effects. None of these treatments is a whole lot of fun so it's important for everyone to practice a little preventive maintenance. Have annual checkups which include cancer tests such as a breast exam, a Pap Smear test, and a colo-rectal exam, (women should conduct monthly breast self-exams, too), and be on the lookout for any of cancer's seven warning signals.

There are no wonder drugs, no miracle cures, and lives are lost because of delay and quick treatments. Like the American Cancer Society poster says, "When your body talks, you'd better listen."

Weeding yields a tale of resurrection

By GERRI DIGESU
I yanked and tore at the large weed which would not let go of its hold in the earth. Finally, I got it half way out, but it was so stubborn that I was exhausted from the struggle and quit trying.

My father had died two weeks earlier. It was the first week of November and I was clearing out his beloved backyard garden. I thought of leaving the dead plants and unharvested, rotted vegetables until spring, but ached each time I saw the wasted plants. My mom must have felt the same because she asked if I could find time to "clean up the garden." She couldn't bear the constant reminder of Dad each time she looked out her kitchen window.

"Oh, Lord, what happened to Daddy's fig tree? It looks as if the frost has heaved it out of the ground." Mom had come out of the house to check on my progress. She gently touched the "weed" I had been struggling to pull out a few minutes earlier.

A sick feeling in my stomach pushed into my throat as I knelt beside the plant. I hadn't known. It looked like a weed. Dad's friend had given it to him two years ago. My father had nursed it and checked its progress daily because he wanted a fig tree the same as his father had when he was a boy growing up. It had grown only a few inches but had produced some leaves with the promise of more growth.

"Wait til next year," he would laugh when we teased him about it.

"The kids were probably digging out here, Mom," I choked. Never could I tell her how I had struggled to pull it out. The dirt around it was loose, so I patted it back around the exposed roots.

"We'll see how it is in the spring." I took Mom inside for a cup of tea. Sick and guilty, I couldn't continue my work.

I never finished the garden that fall. Through the winter, every time I visited Mom, my eyes were drawn to that solitary stick in the middle of the garden. Unspoken guilt and shame engulfed me. I knew it was dead.

During May, I returned to the garden which was now overrun with weeds. At least they hid the tree from my view. Mom had sold her house and was moving in another month. I couldn't leave the mess for the new owners. Dad would want his plot to look neat and well kept.

Furiously, I ripped and tugged at the strong, healthy weeds. Although the sun shone brightly, I felt as cold as stone. I was saying goodbye to my dad, my yard, my childhood.

I reached to pull out the last row of brush and stopped. In front of me stood the fig tree. The tiny stick was covered with leaves and new shoots reached up from the ground.

Tears rolled down my cheeks as I stroked the leaves. One word sprang into my mind — resurrection. Dad was here with me in his garden. God had given new life to this stick I had yanked from the ground and left for dead last winter. The core of bitterness inside me slowly dissolved and was replaced by a warm feeling of acceptance and hope.

I dug out the tree and carefully wrapped it in burlap to transplant it into my garden. That was almost 10 years ago. Today, I picked the first fig of the season and knew Dad was with me as I savored the sweetness of the fruit.

Washington report

Strong ocean dumping regs are needed

By SEN. FRANK LAUTENBERG
For over 10 years, New Jersey's beaches have been threatened and fisheries contaminated by sewage sludge dumped at a site just 12 miles offshore.

New Jersey's economy is heavily dependent on clean and healthy coastal waters. The state's tourist industry, with a $1 billion a year commercial and recreational fishing industry, cannot tolerate continued abuse of coastal resources.

The 12-mile dump site area is a major commercial fishing zone. Concentrations of toxic compounds from the sludge have reached levels warranting immediate action. Sludge dumping is partially responsible for the closure of shellfish beds and for fish contamination.

After I pressured the federal Environmental Protection Agency

(EPA), the agency decided to close the 12-mile dump site. A new, temporary site 106 miles offshore was designated until permanent disposal alternatives are found.

To ensure the EPA's decision is not overturned in court, I introduced the Ocean Revitalization Act on the same day the EPA made its announcement. It would permanently ban sewage sludge dumping at the 12-mile site and make it significantly more difficult to delay closing through litigation. New York City has threatened suit to block closure in the past, and refuses to give ironclad assurances that it will not sue now.

The 12-mile site off New Jersey's beaches is the only ocean sewage sludge dump site nationally. Over the last decade dumping at this site has doubled in tonnage, and it is estimated that this amount will triple in the next few years unless stopped.

My legislation is intended to send a clear signal to those who might sue to overturn the EPA's decision that Congress will not stand for continued degradation of our oceans from sewage sludge. It is time to turn away from litigation and join in a regional effort to revitalize our common waters.

Nearby ocean waters must not continue to serve as an unregulated waste dump just because the ocean is a cheap place to dump.

Service to honor township librarian

A memorial service for Miss Phoebe M. Briggs, one of the first librarians of the Springfield Public Library, will be held at Springfield's Emanuel Methodist Church at 2 p.m. April 27.

Miss Briggs, a descendant of a family that settled Springfield before the Revolution, died March 17 at Francis Asbury Manor in Ocean Grove. She was 96 years old.

Born May 23, 1888, in Brooklyn, N.Y., she was raised in Springfield and received several honors for her interest and work in the township's civic life and history.

In 1958, she was named "Citizen of the Year" by the Springfield-Millburn Chapter of UNICO, which commended her for efforts to improve library services, both as a paid worker and a volunteer, and for her devotion to the welfare of the community.

In 1966, she was given a testimonial dinner by the Springfield Historical Society in recognition of her work for that group. She was a charter member and former librarian for the Historical Society and almost became a legend in Springfield for her work as a guide at the Cannonball House dressed in authentic Colonial costume which she made herself.

In 1976, during the Bicentennial, the Springfield Public Library began preparation of a booklet on Miss Briggs' reminiscences of growing up in Springfield. The booklet, entitled "Phoebe's Notebook," was published in 1978.

Miss Briggs joined the Springfield library in 1939 as an assistant to B.M. Woodruff, the township's first librarian. When Mrs. Woodruff resigned in 1944, Miss Briggs became acting librarian. After taking courses in library science at Trenton State College, Miss Briggs started the first story hours for children in the Springfield library.

In 1952, she was assigned to oversee all operations involving service to the public. She retired from the library at age 75, but remained a volunteer.

For several years, she served as treasurer of the Millburn chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star and, in 1951 together with Mrs. Eva Brown, organized the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Besides the Emanuel Methodist Church of Springfield, of which she was a lifetime member, her abiding interest was genealogy.

She traced her lineage as far as 1548 in England. Her ancestors fought in the Battle of Springfield during the Revolution. A great-grandfather, Daniel Mulford, and a grandfather, George Mulford, both served as members of the Springfield Township Committee.

Mulford was also a justice of the peace and held trials in the living room of his home at 493 Morris Ave., which was next door to the home where Miss Briggs lived in her later years.

Ann Kitzing, bookkeeper at the Springfield Public Library, recalled Miss Briggs was a "hardworker" and very devoted to children. She was a "lovely little lady," Kitzing said.

Surviving are Springfield residents, Robert M. Briggs, her oldest nephew and owner of the Springfield Garage; another nephew, G. Harvey Briggs; a great-nephew, George W. Briggs, and a great-niece, Lois Briggs Peterson.

Advice offered on coping with personal tragedy

By ROSE P. SIMON

The following are reviews of books currently available at the Springfield Public Library.

COPING WITH LOSS

"Living Through Personal Crises," by Ann Kaiser Stearns.

In the happiest of families there are all sorts of sorrows. We are subject to some losses during our lives, and each of them is painful. It may be the loss of a parent or sibling, a friend, a husband, a lover, a child. It may be caused by an abortion, a desertion, a mentally ill person, a broken family, an alcoholic, loss of health, or a job. What ever it is, your loneliness or sorrow is often followed by one or more of these: anxiety, intense anger, fear, depression, loss of interest or preoccupation with one's self — all normal reactions if they are not prolonged.

In this highly readable book, the author presents countless anecdotes concerning individuals who have experienced stressful events in their lives, and she tells how she approached each problem. She indicates how the strong emotions accompanying a tragic situation can be turned around to bring understanding of one's self, and an altered attitude. Her discussions are also meaningful to those who wish to be helpful: they provide sympathy and common-sense approaches.

Dr. Stearns stresses the subject of guilt/blame and how (whether realistic or not) we can and should make peace with ourselves. She also discusses finding professional help when required (emotional or physical). She concludes with guidelines for evaluating the grief and healing processes, and with an appendix covering commonly asked questions.

MARKETING KNOW HOW

"Fat of the Land," by Fred Powledge.

Compared to the rest of the world, we Americans enjoy food that is plentiful, varied and nutritious. But food can and should be cheaper and better (more nutritious, tasteful and safe). Powledge finds our food system confusing and deficient in several ways. It has become big business, and the trend of this administration has been to encourage the industry even at the expense of consumers.

Food marketing (or processing, manufacturing, transporting, wholesaling and retailing) is the province of middlemen. Each one, whether the use of additives (some good, some unnecessary even harmful) or packaging or transporting the commodity, raises the cost to the consumer. In 1982, farmers received a little more than a quarter of $300 billion spent on food, the remainder went to the middleman.

Among topics covered are farms and farmers, processing and manufacturing (canning, freezing, labeling, advertising, structuring, texturing, adding chemicals, etc.), "natural" and "fresh" foods, new (not really) foods, competition, delivery (great distances), promotion (TV, radio, print media, coupons), supermarket (shrewd promotion methods are used).

The author criticizes the industry for its successful efforts to deceive the public by false claims and its use of additives to detract from nutritionally quality disguising foods. He also charges that the administration, although it has done much to control food production, provide research, etc; has nevertheless made appointments to critical positions who have injured consumers economically and nutritionally, while enriching leaders of industry. Poultry inspection was reduced, anti-trust cases were dropped, consumer literature is no longer available

Campaign presses for bottle bill vote

The Can and Bottle Bill Campaign has called on the state Assembly to vote on A-2606, the Can and Bottle Bill, Monday, the 15th anniversary of Earth Day. The "Call for Assembly Consideration" was signed by more than 250 leaders of environmental and community groups, public works and recreation directors, and environmental commissioners.

"Enough is enough," said Cameron Johnson, president of the New Jersey Environmental Lobby. "The legislature has avoided the Can and Bottle for 14 years. It's time for a vote."

The bottle bill was first proposed in the wake of Earth Day in 1970. The first Can and Bottle Bill was introduced in the New Jersey Legislature a year later. "It was a good idea when everyone returned their bottles in the '60s. It was a good idea when the bottle bill was first proposed on Earth Day, and it is an even better idea now," said Gloria Jones, president of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey.

In the 14 years that the bottle bill has been considered by the New Jersey Legislature, the bill has never received a vote in either house. On Dec. 12, 1983, following an unusual hearing before the full Assembly, the bill was tabled by a vote of 33 to 25.

The bill has been staunchly opposed by a coalition of beverage and container manufacturers, distributors and retailers. "The beverage industry has had the clout to kill the bottle every session for 14 years," said Ian Walker, chapter chairman of the Sierra Club. "But the people of the state of New Jersey won't stand for this abuse of process any longer."

A recent poll conducted by the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group (NJPIRG) found that New Jersey voters support passage of the Can and Bottle Bill by a 5-1 ratio. "This is a classic example of a well financed special interest squashing a good idea which is supported by the majority of people," said Tracy Galligan, chairman of the board of NJPIRG.

"This is not a radical idea," said Ralph DiPaolo, president of the Public Works Association of New Jersey. "The Can and Bottle Bill is supported by every environmental group in the state. It has been endorsed by over 250 municipalities, 70 mayors, and 10 Boards of Freeholders. It is, in every sense, an idea supported by the mainstream of the New Jersey community."

"The Can and Bottle Bill is the single most effective means to increase recycling of beverage containers. Rates of glass and aluminum recycling are higher in bottle bill states than anywhere else, and the only significant plastic recycling in the country is happening in bottle bill states," said David Moore, executive director of the New Jersey Conservation Foundation.

Recycling experts to gather Tuesday

Recycling does pay for business, as many firms, large and small, are proving throughout New Jersey.

On Tuesday, the second annual state-wide business recycling seminar, co-sponsored by the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce and the New Jersey Department of Energy, Office of Recycling, will demonstrate how.

The comprehensive seminar will be held at the Holiday Inn, Garden State Parkway exit 82, in Toms River. The Ocean County-Toms River Chamber of Commerce will serve as host.

The recycling seminar brings together business and experts in the field of waste collection including technical advisors, materials markets, recycling brokers, and other professionals with hands-on experience. Panel sessions provide participants with an opportunity for discussion and consultation.

Leonard S. Coleman Jr., commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Energy, will open the session with Ocean County Freeholder Director James F. Mancini welcoming the participants.

The program will consist of concurrent workshops and panels, which include the following:

-Paper Recycling: Blanche Taradash, president, Taradash Recycling Company, Teaneck; John Koelble, Building Maintenance manager, N.J. Bell Telephone Co., East Orange; and Gilbert Carlson, Public Works director, Lakewood Township.

-Business benefits from recycling: Mark Bassett, Distribution Center manager, Green Giant/Pillsbury, Vineland; James Schmid, Facilities manager, Ceasars Casino Hotel, Atlantic City; Donald Sanderson, president, Woodbury Township Council; and Edward Langbein, manager, ShopRite, Edison.

-Glass and aluminum containers: James Bowby, president, Glass Cycle Systems, Butler; Mark I. Griswold, Northeast manager, Alcoa Recycling, Fairway; and Paul Emrick, manager, Environmental & Government Affairs, Brokway Inc., Brockway, Pa.

-Used motor oil: John J. Cunningham, president, Petrocon Corp., Modena, Pa.; Clifford Heath, president, N.J. Asphalt Pavement Association and William Babek, vice president, Mid-Atlantic Retreaders Association.

-Services and Sources for Recycled Materials: Norman Pietres, National Sales manager, Homestore Company, Ewing; and Sylvester Fletcher, president, Ecologan, Inc., Newton.

-Group Discussion: representatives of various agencies and industries will lead a brainstorming session to stimulate new ideas, methods and programs. These include Jean Clark, president, New Jersey Recycling Forum, Montclair; Barbara McConnell, president, New Jersey Food Council, Trenton; and Dorothy Strauber, director Consumer Affairs, Foodarama ShopRite, Freehold.

Moderators for this session will be William E. Payne, director, Administrative Services, New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce and William Malone, executive vice president, Ocean-Toms River Chamber of Commerce.

Other participants include John Hass, Ocean County Recycling coordinator and James Doyle, Marketing manager, American Hoechst Corp. Additionally there will be various other recycling experts.

The program will run from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with the luncheon session featuring keynote speaker Brian Mahoney, Materials management manager for Bell Atlantic Company, who will illustrate how recycling pays for business. Also, featured will be Mr. R.E. Cycle, the working symbol for the New Jersey Department of Energy, Office of Recycling. He will demonstrate "The Magic is Recycling Pays!"

Registration information is available from the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce in Newark, 623-7070.

Activists set for rally

The Union County Chapter of S.A.N.E. (The Committee For A S.A.N.E. Nuclear Policy) and N.J. S.A.N.E., based in Montclair, have chartered buses to take peace activists down to Washington, D.C. Saturday to participate in a nation-wide rally against the arms race and for conversion of the economy away from military ends.

In addition to the all-day demonstration, which is expected to draw hundreds of thousands from all over the country, some peace advocates will remain in the nation's capital until Monday, to visit their congressmen and make their views known in person.

According to Bruce Nielsen, chairman of Union County S.A.N.E., "Our participation in this national act of conscience is in line with a resolution passed March 14 by the Union County Board of Freeholders. This resolution endorses the program of the New Jersey Jobs With Peace organization, which wants to cut unnecessary military spending and shift the savings back to the state to meet human needs in a variety of areas."

Buses, chartered by the Union County group, are leaving from the Westfield and Summit train stations at 6 a.m. Saturday. Cost for the one-day roundtrip to Washington is $15 per person. Information is available from Sue McNevin, 665-2141.

Buses from Essex County will leave from the Bay Street parking lot on Pine Street off Bloomfield Avenue, Montclair. They will leave at 6:30 a.m. Saturday and leave Washington at 5 p.m. Interested individuals may contact Coordinator Alan Swenson, 744-3263, tomorrow to make reservations.

Lerner opens Union office

Dr. Michael B. Lerner, son of Samuel and Lillian Lerner of Cambridge Drive, Union, currently associated with the Jersey City Podiatry Group, has recently opened an office for the practice of Podiatric Medicine and Foot Surgery at 445 Chestnut St., Union.

Lerner was graduated from Union High School in 1975 and received his bachelor's degree from Rutgers University, New Brunswick in 1979. He then attended the Illinois College of Podiatric Medicine, where he earned his doctorate degree cum laude in 1983.

Lerner completed his residency training in Podiatric Medicine and Surgery at Peninsula Hospital Center in Far Rockaway, N.Y.

He is a diplomate of the national Board of Podiatry Examiners and has been declared board eligible by the American Board of Podiatric Surgery.

Lawyer info series to begin on April 25

"Ask a Lawyer," a series of public information sessions, will be held Thursdays at 7:30 p.m., beginning April 25, at the Caldwell/West Caldwell School of Continuing Education. Classes will be held in room 406 at James Caldwell High School, Westville Avenue, West Caldwell.

The series will cover buying a home, going into business, topics in family law (including adoption), and the use of trusts in tax planning. The sessions feature experts from the Essex County Bar Association, the largest county bar in New Jersey. A question-and-answer session will follow each presentation. "Ask a Lawyer" is one of a variety of programs offered by the Essex County Bar Foundation as a public service.

The series topics are as follows:

April 25 - Buying a home - From contract to closing, the entire process of buying a home, condominiums, co-ops, mortgages, title insurance, etc., will be discussed.

May 2 - Going into business - A must for anyone thinking about buying a small business, going into business for themselves or with others. The advantages and disadvantages of incorporation and partnerships will be discussed.

May 9 - Family Law: the legal answers - A discussion with a matrimonial law practitioner on what one can expect from the "system" when one has a family law problem. Separation, divorce, equitable distribution, property settlement, custody (including joint custody), visitation, alimony, child support, adoption, and pre-nuptial agreements will be discussed.

May 16 - Trusts and Tax planning for 1985 - Learn the advantages, disadvantages, flexibility and limitations of setting up irrevocable trusts for children and other dependents. An experienced tax practitioner will discuss incorporating trusts into financial planning. Uniform gifts to minors, Clifford trusts and annual gift-giving programs will be discussed.

"Ask a Lawyer" sessions are free, but the Center for Continuing Education will charge a one-time registration fee of $3. Further information is available from the Center for Continuing Education, 226-4400, Ext. 277, or the Essex County Bar Association, 622-6307.

Vo-tech to hold open house

Demonstrations of activities related to programs offered at Union County Vocational-Technical Schools will highlight the school's open house Tuesday, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., at the school's Scotch Plains campus.

The Vocational Center will open its doors to give visitors insights into student training in automotive fields, appliance and vending machine repair and other offerings. The beauty culture program will spotlight work done in a salon, and food service and baking students will demonstrate their wares. Baked goods prepared by the students will be on sale.

The Food Service and Baking students will once again prepare the buffet supper that has been so popular in recent years. A steamship roast, baked ham, roast turkey, various hot and cold finger foods, cold salads, fruit platters and a Viennese table will be featured. Cost is $4.75 per person. The buffet will run from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

"The open house is designed to acquaint the public with the variety of programs available for Union County residents," said Phil Sosis, coordinator of the event. "More than 25 programs will be demonstrated."

JWV breakfast set

The Jewish War Veterans and the Ladies Auxiliary of the State of New Jersey will hold its fourth annual Legislative Breakfast May 5, at 9:15 a.m., at the Quality Inn Motel, Route 1, North Brunswick.

Sen. Bill Bradley and Rep. Robert Torricelli will be honored for their efforts in obtaining the group's Congressional Charter. Tickets are $8.50 per person and are available by calling George Vice at 686-3569.

Pros offer the tool of the '80s

The austere, professional facade of Westwood Computers in Springfield may mislead the average computer shopper. For behind the doors of what resembles an office building, a computer-seeker will be treated to the largest variety of computer systems and equipment on display in the area, as well as to a discount.

Sandwiched between the billboard businesses of Route 22, Westwood Computers, which stretches some 17,000 square feet, is the site of the retail store, warehouse, repair center, and a training center for both customers and Westwood sales personnel.

In business for 20 years, Westwood moved from one highway location to its present, but remained in Springfield.

The company stocks products from major computer distributors such as Texas Instruments, Hewlett Packard, AT&T, Olivetti, and Esprit, along with some specialized products developed in its own engineering department.

Reed Porter, national marketing manager, said Westwood has been successful in computer interfacing — using different brands of equipment together. Porter said the Westwood engineering department steps in to determine workability when customers want to purchase equipment separately from different manufacturers.

The customer-support department plays a key role in the business, Porter said. Not only do customers need advice and guidance at the time of a purchase, but they also rely on the department for assistance with follow-up questions.

"Professionals" make up the sales team at Westwood. Each sales representative boasts a background of 15 to 20 years of computer experience. Porter said the first question customers shopping for computers at Westwood are asked is, "What do you want to do with it?" Then, we offer the solution.

After the customer's needs are determined, the sales staff helps to find the tailor-made computer. Customers are also offered free computer instruction. In Westwood's training center, the staff receives the same training on new models because "no two computers are exactly the same," according to Porter.

Westwood offers more than 61 types of printers, personal computers, business computers, modems, software, paper peripherals, cables and discettes. It also sells used equipment.

The company runs a full service department and will repair any computer brand and regardless of where it was purchased, either on site or at the Route 22 headquarters. It keeps a fleet of servicemen on the road who are dispatched expeditiously by computer.

Westwood's service department covers New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Delaware. It ships computers to sites across the nation and across the ocean.

Westwood's clients include the U.S. Army and Navy, major universities and colleges, and local school systems. It also has been awarded a number of Government Service Administrative contracts to equip government agencies with computers.

Westwood features specially designed programs and office management systems for architect and realty firms. It has also developed its own software for insurance brokerage firms.

Computer leasing is also available at Westwood. Agreements range from a one-year minimum to a flexible maximum, with average agreements running one to five years. Leasing arrangements include free servicing for the extent of the contract.

New equipment is guaranteed for a minimum of 90 days and extended warranties are available.

In 1982, Westwood won a $16,000 award from Texas Instruments for the highest sales record in the country. Lou Tischler, founder and president of the company, proudly reported the bonus was distributed to Westwood employees.

Other executives include David Micales, vice president, and Arthur Jones, vice president of engineering.

Westwood Computers, located next to The City on Route 22 East, Springfield, is open 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays.

Clubs in the news

The Past Presidents' Club of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Michael A. Kelly Post 2433, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held its alternate month meeting recently at the home of Dorothy Medvecky of Orange Avenue, Union. Ann Marzloff, chaplain, opened the meeting. Reports were made by Ella Manning, treasurer. Fund-raising programs were considered by Jean Schwartz, ways and means chairman. Plans were made for an annual pot luck supper. The group announced that its next meeting will be held June 12 at the home of Clara Andersen of Vauxhall Road. Among those present at the recent meeting were Irene Faella, Emma Stein and Gertrude Kennedy of Springfield. A social hour followed. Mrs. Medvecky served homemade cakes and coffee. Gertrude Kennedy received the club's surprise package.

THE SPRINGFIELD and Westfield chapters of Women's American ORT will hold a benefit auction tonight at 7:30 at the Gaudineer School, South Springfield Avenue and Shunpike Road, Springfield. More than 150 prizes will be awarded. Women's American ORT is a non-profit organization, which provides vocational training to "needy students throughout the world." All proceeds from tonight's event will go toward the construction of the Los Angeles ORT Technical Institute (LAOTI). Additional information can be obtained by calling Gilda Karp at 376-0262 or Linda Kirsh at 467-5778.

AN ANNUAL CARD party for the benefit of the Home for Aged Women, a sheltered-care residence offering temporary and permanent accommodations in Elizabeth, will be held today from 1 to 4:30 p.m. in the parish hall of the Third-Westminster Church, North and Westminster avenues, Elizabeth. A food sale and craft table will be featured. Tickets and reservations are necessary. It was announced, and can be obtained by calling 354-5209 or 351-3882.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY to Union Lodge 1583, BPO Elks, will hold its 55th annual installation event Saturday evening at the Elks Lodge, Union. Officers for the new season are Pat Kubik, president; Bea Bauer, first vice president. Gail Bummer, second vice president; Janice Swenson, secretary; Barbara Gates, treasurer; Pat Millin, conductress-flag bearer; Josephine Heckel, chaplain, and Linda Di Giovanni, five-year trustee.

Standing committee chairmen will be Edith Corea, membership; Agnes Germano and Ruth yeleck, sunshine; Terry Albecker, publicity, and Laura Reif and Elsie Reif, bulletins. The installation committee is led by Kathy Kareivis, general chairman and toastmistress. The decorating committee includes Mary Vasta, Minnie Pepitone, Louise Chicarielli, Helena Zymroz and Mollie Schuster. Gifts were purchased and will be distributed by Joanne Reider and Linda Marangi. Installing officers will be Rose Higgins, Mildred Wigert and Helen Heiss, past presidents. A rose ceremony honoring Linda Di Giovanni, outgoing president, will be part of the evening's program conducted by Olga Czerwinski and Shirley Weber, past presidents, with musical accompaniment by Edward Deresh. Mrs. Di Giovanni also will be presented with the past president's pin. Also taking part in the evening's festivities will be Ferman De Hart, newly-elected exalted ruler of the Men's Lodge, and Carl Reider, past exalted ruler.

THE DEUTSCHER CLUB of Clark, 787 Featherbed Lane, will celebrate Bayern Abend, a dance with music by Norbert Ludewig and entertainment by the Schumplattler Dancers from Bayern Verein, Newark, Saturday at 8 p.m.

THE RUTH GOLDBERG Memorial for Cancer Research group will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Springfield. Guest speaker, Nancy Hedinger, a representative from the New Jersey Environmental Lobby, will discuss "The Effects of Environmental Toxics in the Work Place and the Environment." Rita

Stein of Springfield, program chairman, designed the program to "tie in with the organization's observance of cancer month."

THE BCM CHAPTER of Deborah Hospital will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Temple Israel, 2372 Morris Ave., Union. Further information can be obtained by calling 964-0642.

A FISH DINNER will be sponsored by the Linden Lionesses International Wednesday from 5 to 7 p.m. at the PAL Building, Maple Avenue, Linden. Take-out orders will be available. Tickets can be purchased at the door or by calling 925-3816 or 862-8808.

THE MARION Rapoport Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will hold its annual installation of officers Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Cedars Restaurant, 1200 North Ave., Elizabeth. Florence Hausman, past president of both the Northern New Jersey Council and the Marion Rapoport Chapter, will serve as installing officer. Geraldine Gorfman will be installed for a second term.

THE SPRINGFIELD Chapter of Hadassah will meet April 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield. The program will start at 8 p.m. Frances Ostrofsky, program vice president, will present a panel discussion, "Paths to Judaism," on conversion to Judaism. Panel members will include Rabbi Joshua Goldstein of Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Pat Werschulz, Marian Kurtz, Chris Becker, Brian Opitz and Sorala Reily. Edith Callen will report on a donor dinner scheduled May 9 in the Clinton Manor, Union. It was announced that all monies for the event should be turned in at the meeting. Dorothea Schwartz, life membership chairman, has announced that annual members, who wish to become life members, "are reminded that the deadline before the raise to $250 is July 1." Shari Dorfman will report on an art show scheduled May 11 with the Ma'ayan Gila Group at the Short Hills Mall.

Iris Segal, president, has reported that "With the Absorption of the Ethiopian Jews, Israel needs funds desperately, and it is important that members participate in raising these funds by attending our functions and contributing whenever possible."

THE LINDEN CHAPTER of Hadassah will hold its annual donor dinner April 25 at the Clinton Manor, Union. Irene Rubin, president, will greet the members. She will honor Mrs. Irving Schwartz, who was chosen as "Woman of the Year" by its members. Mrs. Schwartz is a life member of Hadassah and has served several terms as president. She also served as big gifts chairman and fund-raising vice president. Mrs. Simon Yellin and Mrs. Perry Leib, co-chairmen, have invited Mrs. Charles Sobel of Fort Lee to be guest speaker. Mrs. Sobel has served on the executive board of the Northern New Jersey Region of Hadassah and has served as education chairman. She is a past president of the Paterson Chapter.

The evening also will feature a special tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Factor of Philadelphia. They have been benefactors of the Linden Chapter for several years. A presentation will be made by Mrs. Factor's niece, Mrs. Herbert Olarsch, also a past president of the chapter. She is vice president of the Northern New Jersey Region of Hadassah. Mrs. Leon Puller, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Paul Gershenson, will entertain members and guests with songs.

THE PAST PRESIDENTS' Club of the Seventh District, New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, will hold its annual meeting, election and luncheon at noon April 25 at the Robin Hood Inn, Clifton. Helen Burgess, president, will preside, and Marjorie Fallon will install officers. Ron Owens will present "Music With A Touch of Magic." It was announced that reservations must be made with Ruth Pinney of South Orange by today.

WINNING CONNECTION will be the theme for the B'nai B'rith Women Conference Cluster 1985 April 28 and 29 at the Resorts International Hotel Casino, Atlantic City. Two hundred delegates and members representing chapters, units and councils within the New Jersey Region will participate with 500 delegates and members from New York.

The Senior Choir of the First Presbyterian Church of Roselle will join the choir of the First Baptist Church of Westfield for the third consecutive year in presenting a major choral work during the worship services of the two congregations. The combined choir will sing in the Roselle sanctuary this Sunday and the following Sunday in the Westfield church. The choirs are under the leadership of George Lachenauer, who will serve as organist, and William Mathews, who will serve as director. This year marks the 300th birth anniversary of J. S. Bach, and the choirs are chosen of his best known cantatas to celebrate the event. "Christ Lay in Todesbaden (Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison)," is one of the most unified of all his church compositions.

THE HOLY NAME Society of St. Catherine's Church, Hillside, will hold a Polish night Saturday at 8 p.m. with music by Lukaschewski's Polka Melodies. Ticket information can be obtained by calling 354-1040 or 355-5175.

THE ANNUAL CHURCH World Service Clothing and Blanket Appeal conducted by Church Women's organizations throughout the eastern United States will be coordinated on a local level by the Rev. Nancy E. Forsberg, who serves as area chairman. It was announced that donations may be brought today and tomorrow to her church, the First Congregational Church, corner of Burnet and Doris Avenues, Union, between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Church World Service, which distributes clothing and blankets throughout the world, in many countries overseas as well as in the United States of America, assists people of all races, creeds and nationalities at the time of natural disasters and war.

"Because of the current situation in the countries of Africa," says Rev. Nancy, "the current needs are for light-weight and medium-weight wearing apparel for children and adults. There is a special urgency for layette items and infant's clothing, yard goods, yarn, nurse's uniforms, blankets, afghans and towels."

S & H Green Stamps can be sent to Rev. Nancy, who will forward them to Church World Service, which has an arrangement with a blanket manufacturer to redeem the stamps for "sturdy, warm blankets." Contributions toward the purchase of new blankets at $5 each may be made by sending money to the pastor for this purpose.

Monetary donations also are needed for "processing costs, so those who bring in bags of clothing should enclose an envelope with 15 cents per pound for the weight of

It was reported that "blankets are especially important because they are used in so many ways in addition to being a cover for warmth. They also provide a tent-like shelter for homeless persons and they are 'first aid' when a disaster strikes. Sometimes they are used to bundle-up the few belongings that can be salvaged by a family in the aftermath of a disaster."

The clean, used clothing will be sorted and packed by volunteers at the local church and then transported to New Windsor, M. D. to the eastern region Church World Service Center. There they are baled and shipped out through the port of Baltimore to depots around the world so that blankets and clothing can be distributed "whenever and wherever there is a disaster."

'Dedication service' slated in Springfield

The First Presbyterian Church at Springfield will celebrate the restoration of "the historic church" Sunday at the 10:15 a.m. morning worship with a "Service of Dedication." The Rev. Jeffrey A. Curtis, pastor, will lead the worship of celebration and praise. The Rev. Bruce W. Evans, pastor emeritus, will preach the dedication message. Special music of joy will be presented by the Senior Choir along with special instrumental selections.

Thanksgiving and appreciation will be expressed to all who helped to make the restoration possible "through their contribution of time, talent, energy and financing." The "outstanding work of Lewis A. Winkler and Harold E. Bishof in overseeing the work for the congregation" will be recognized. Special acknowledgement also will be given to Ove Hansen, carpenter, "whose skilled craftsmanship and dedicated attention to detail provided the expert quality of the project."

The worship will dedicate the restored church building "to the work of God in the community of Springfield and beyond and rededicate the members called to worship, minister, work and fellowship as a congregation" at the First Presbyterian Church at Springfield.

All are invited to this celebration of restoration of tower and church and to the coffee hour which will follow. Nursery for infant-to-4 year-olds and Children's Church for 4-to-10 year-olds will be provided.

New Japanese 'Super Pill'
Insures Rapid Weight-Loss
No Dieting — Eat All You Want,
Pill Does All The Work
BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.
"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"
What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.
Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!
Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.
And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is

Sports awards banquet slated for May

By RICK BARBA
The fifth annual March of Dimes Sports Awards Banquet, sponsored by Citizens First National Bank of New Jersey and the North Jersey and the North Jersey Chapter of the March of Dimes, will be staged on May 22.

The gala event, which last year raised more than $100,000 for the fight against birth defects, will take place at the Loews Glenpointe Hotel in Teaneck starting at 6:30 p.m.

Among the notables slated to be honored this year include: Freeman McNeil, Jet of the Year; Phil Simms, Giant of the Year; Maurice Carthon, General of the Year; Horse Racing's Man of the Year, Angel Cordero, Jr.; John Condon, Boxing's Man of the Year; Gordie Howe, the Hall of Fame Award; Dave Winfield, Yankee of the Year; Mike O'Koren, Net of the Year; David Brcic, Cosmo of the Year; and the Outstanding Achievement Award to Doug Heir, Gold Medalist in the Wheelchair Olympics.

The Sports Award Banquet has been a large part of the North Jersey Chapter special events calendar since 1981. These banquets have honored sports celebrities, both professional and amateur, male and female, who have proven outstanding in their field. The success and income generated by these banquets have increased tremendously, due primarily to the active role played by the volunteer committee, comprised of business men and women and sports celebrities.

According to Bill Petzinger, Public Relations coordinator of the North Jersey Chapter, "the award winners are chosen strictly on their performance from the previous year."

Many of the athletes, including some of the award winners from previous years have remained active in their work for the March of Dimes.

Ali Haji-Sheikh, who was the Giant of the Year in '84, is now a member of the Sports Award Committee and does other work for the North Jersey Chapter.

The Jet of the Year, Freeman McNeil, said, "It's an honor just to be involved with the March of Dimes." He is active in the North Jersey Chapter and finds the work very rewarding. "It's hard to explain what I get out of it, but it's a special kind of feeling."

Every year in the United States more than 250,000 babies are born with birth defects, both mental and physical. A large percentage of the children, as well as their parents, will suffer the effects throughout their lives.

The courage that it takes for a gifted athlete to come through with a winning effort in a championship contest, admirable as it is, rates a notch below the courageous attitude with which these people face everyday life.

The sports stars themselves recognized this and some of them mentioned it while others have showed it in their manner as they have greeted the March of Dimes children who were thrilled to meet the heroes of athletics that they admire.

Tickets and additional information for the event can be obtained from the March of Dimes at 882-0700.

GRID STARS HELP MARCH OF DIMES—Melissa Betkowsky, Union County's March of Dimes poster child, poses between Freeman McNeil of the Jets and Ali Haji-Sheikh of the Giants as they look forward to the upcoming Sports Awards banquet, which will be held May 22 at the Loews Glenpointe Hotel in Teaneck.

Summit YMCA set for April 29 classes

The Summit area YMCA is now registering for an 8-week session of classes to begin the week of April 29. The YMCA offers an extensive schedule of affordable programs for children and adults.

New afterschool classes for grade school children include lacrosse, softball, outdoor soccer, and a special Competitive Swim Clinic taught by Hank Buntin, coach of the Summit Seals and New Providence High School swim teams. Other youth classes include gymnastics, karate, art appreciation, fitness and weight training, a variety of recreational sports and games, and swim instruction for all skill levels.

All afterschool classes are available with an optional pick-up service, Y ON WHEELS, from all elementary schools in Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, and Springfield. Children are transported by van to the Summit YMCA for a class of their choice followed by a supervised recreational activity or a free swim period. At 5:30 PM youngsters are either returned to Berkeley Heights or Springfield or may be picked up at the Summit Y.

The activities for pre-schoolers are tumbling, kindergymnastics, indoor soccer, crafts, and swim instruction. MOMMY AND ME and AQUA-TOTS are two classes available for 1-3 year-olds with a parent, and a half-day action oriented nursery program, KIN-DEACTION, is offered three mornings and afternoons for 3-6 year-olds.

Adults may enroll in a variety of physical fitness classes or can develop a highly personalized exercise plan under the guidance of the Y's Physical Director, John DeBisco. JOY, aerobics for women, and Y's WORKOUT, high-level exercise for men and women, are in progress but available to new participants. Hapkido/Self Defense, Y's Way to a Healthy Back, Smoking Cessation and Weight Reduction Seminars, Water Exercise, Learn-to-Swim classes, and Dog Obedience are other options.

YMCA membership permits use of the building facilities including the indoor swimming pool, racquetball and squash courts, the steam room and sauna, weight training equipment, the gymnasium, and the indoor running track. A fully equipped Nautilus Center is open to men, women, and students 14 years or older for an additional fee. For new members only, the YMCA is currently running a special introductory membership offer. Stop by or call the YMCA at 273-3330 for details.

Drew riders headed by local resident Ward

When sophomore Kathy Rook placed first in novice flat in a recent horse show at Warwick, N.Y., she became the seventh Drew University rider to qualify for the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association Region 1 Championships at Pace University, Pleasantville, N.Y., recently.

That number ties 1984's record number of Ranger qualifiers for the team currently second in the region's standings.

Rook in novice flat will have company that includes team captain junior Sue Corsa and sophomores Robin Warnik and Stacie Dianni, all three of whom qualified in two separate classes. Corsa will compete in intermediate flat and fences, Warwick in novice flat and fences and Dianni in novice fences and intermediate flat.

Senior Kathy Nazar and sophomore Phillip McFarland both qualified in novice flat, while junior Mike Ward of Mountainside will ride in intermediate fences.

The regional show is the stepping-stone to the national championships, to which Drew has sent a rider three consecutive years, with a fourth place in 1984 the highest finish. This season, the national championships occur in Louisville, Ky., over Derby Weekend.

Softball loop seeks players

The James Dombrowski Softball League, Northern New Jersey's largest, is opening registration for new teams. The JDSL fielded 52 teams last year and is looking to expand.

League fee is $125, which includes balls, bases, trophies a picnic and an end of season party. The JDSL is divided into two leagues, which play on Sunday evenings and conclude with an All-Star Game, playoffs and a World Series. Individual players are also needed.

Further information may be obtained by calling 997-2689.

Kenilworth LL parade April 27

A parade will mark the opening of the 1985 Kenilworth Little League season on April 27. It will start at 1 p.m. from St. Theresa's School playground and follow up 23rd Street to the Boulevard, then proceed on the Boulevard to 14th Street and end at the Little League field.

Ceremonies will take place at the field after the parade. The first ball will be thrown out by Gren Lyon, former league president. The new Little League queen and her court will be presented with trophies and there will be an exhibition baseball game.

In case of rain, all activities will be held April 28, with the parade starting at 2 p.m.

INSTALL AN ENERGY-EFFICIENT GAS WATER HEATER AND GET A $50 REBATE.

To encourage energy conservation, we're giving $50 rebates to Elizabethtown Gas customers who purchase (from any retailer) and install energy-efficient automatic gas water heaters in existing residential dwellings by December 31, 1985.

The efficiency of gas water heaters is measured by an energy factor (EF), which is based on overall performance in recovery efficiency, standby loss and energy input. What this really means is you can have more hot water for less money. Rebates will be provided for units with energy factors of: 56 (30-gallon unit); 54 (40-gallon unit); or 51 (50-gallon unit.)

For more information, mail the coupon on the right or call toll-free:

High school clubs gear up for county tourney

With the Union County Tournament just around the corner, area baseball teams are battling to get the best possible seed. And the action on the diamonds is getting more intense.

Here's what happened last weekend:

IRVINGTON
In a very exciting game, the Campers edged Plainfield, 6-5. Irvington jumped out to an early 6-2 lead when Harold Padilla walked, stole second and scored on a single by Jim Fitz. Plainfield closed the gap in the fifth inning when Irving Gray doubled home one run and Craig Venson and Darren Felton each singled in a tally.

Dan Andren struck out nine in his first start as Rahway defeated the Campers, 11-5. Mark Hutchinson drove in four runs with a bases-loaded triple and a single for Rahway.

Last Saturday, Irvington lost to Newark East Side, 4-3. This past Monday's game against Westfield was postponed by rain. The Campers played against Kearny yesterday, are scheduled to play Elizabeth tomorrow. Seton Hall Saturday, Union on Monday and Cranford on Wednesday.

UNION
Paul Cifelli pitched a seven-hitter and struck out seven as Union defeated Cranford, 5-2. Neil Kurtz tripled and then raced home when Art Lange followed with a double in the sixth as the Farmers broke a 2-2 tie. Saturday, the Farmers lost to Linden returned to action yesterday against Union, plays Cranford at home tomorrow, Union Catholic on Monday and Colonia Wednesday.

BREARLEY
St. Mary's beat the Bears, 15-3, as pitcher Ed Banasiak struck out 10 and scattered nine hits. Ken Halleck had three hits and three RBIs for the Hilltoppers. Chris Coccia led the Bears with a two-run double in the fourth inning. Monday's game against Colonia was rained out, and on Tuesday the Bears played Bound Brook, today Coach Ed Ward's team is at Roselle Park. This weekend, Brearley plays in the Glen Ridge Tournament, and visit North Plainfield on Tuesday.

DAYTON
Jeff Vander Roef fanned nine and tossed a four-hitter to lead Ridge to victory over the Bulldogs, 5-3. Tom Kisch, a junior righthander, suffered the loss. He allowed seven hits, struck out nine and walked four. Immaculata pounded the Bulldogs, 18-4, as Glen Gardner's three-run homer and Peter Anderson's two-run shot highlighted a 13-hit attack for Immaculata. On Tuesday the Bulldogs played at Roselle Catholic, then host Johnson Regional today, then travel to Newark East Side tomorrow. The week concludes with games at home against North Plainfield Monday and Tuesday at Hillside.

ROSELLE
In a close, exciting game, Roselle edged Johnson Regional of Clark, 3-2. Kelvin Grimsley doubled in a run and Dan Wise knocked in another with a squeeze bunt in the sixth inning. Bob Puzadore threw a two-hitter, striking out five and walking one. Tuesday, Roselle played at Governor Livingston, and will host Immaculata today and Edison tomorrow (both at 3:45), and entertain Roselle Catholic this Tuesday.

ROSELLE PARK
The Panthers lost a squeaker to Middlesex, 5-4, as Tony Toto hit a sacrifice fly to score Craig Yannuzzi in the bottom of the eighth inning to snap a 4-4 tie. Coach Jack Shaw's team met St. Mary's this past Tuesday, and will host Brearley today and then visit New Providence this Tuesday.

Local softball roundup

Area squads prepare for UCT

Softball action continued hot and heavy last week as the local teams vie for position for next week's seeding in the Union County Tournament (which begins a week from Saturday). Close games and top pitching performances highlighted the week.

In last week's local action:

UNION HIGH
The Lady Farmers began last week with a 25-3 romp over Nutley as Chantay Strickland and Rosemary Degelman each drove in four runs and Sue Zymroz rapped a two-run single to pace a five-run first inning. Andrea Peters allowed three hits while gaining the mound victory.

Then came what had to be the most unusual game last Friday against a tough Cranford squad. Although they were held to just one hit, UHS took advantage of two Cranford errors to post a 3-0 win. The lone safety was an RBI single by Degelman, and Peters stopped the loggers on six hits.

In a 13-3 romp over Union Catholic this past Monday, Sharon Mulvihill and Kim Miller each had two hits and drove in two runs, while Peters kept UHS unbeaten with a three-hitter.

Union will be busy this week with four games. After playing at Linden yesterday, the Lady Farmers will host Scotch Plains tomorrow at 3:45, then play at Irvington on Monday and at Plainfield next Wednesday.

DAYTON REGIONAL

After opening the week with a 14-3 romp over Immaculata last Tuesday, Dayton tangled with one of the state's top teams in Ridge last Thursday. Sharon Kutsop tossed a three-hitter, but lost a tough 1-0 decision in eight innings as opposing hurler Diane Yonker was just as brilliant, also allowing three hits.

But coach Howard Cushnir's team bounced back nicely last Saturday with a 7-2 win over Scotch Plains as Kutsop again was tough, allowing only four hits while striking out eight. Carmela Carpenter had the big blow, a two-run triple in the second inning.

After hosting Roselle Catholic this past Tuesday, the Bulldogs play today at Johnson Regional, then host Brearley tomorrow in a 3:45 game. The week concludes at North Plainfield on Monday and at home versus Hillside on Tuesday.

BREARLEY REGIONAL

The big highlight for the Lady Bears came last Thursday, when junior pitcher Barbara Legg fired a no-hitter in Brearley's 20-0 victory over St. Mary's. She walked one and struck out four. Sandy Vitale drove in five runs with three hits, one a triple with the bases loaded. Kathy Carrea and Mary Ann Drone each contributed two hits.

Sports this week

The other game was an 8-7 loss at Manville in eight innings. After playing at Bound Brook this past Tuesday, Brearley will host Roselle Park today in a 4 p.m. contest, then play at Dayton tomorrow. North Plainfield comes to town for a 4 p.m. game this Tuesday.

ROSELLE

After hosting its opening games against Hillside and Dayton, the Lady Rams were defeated by Ridge, 12-1, getting only one hit (a single by Jody Adams) in the game.

Against Johnson Regional, Roselle was able to get some more offense, but still lost a 7-5 decision. Maria Barroqueiro and Wanda Morales drove in runs with singles for Roselle.

After hosting Governor Livingston this past Tuesday, the Lady Rams will be at Immaculata today and Roselle Catholic this Tuesday.

ROSELLE PARK

The Pink Panthers began the week in impressive style, posting a 14-3 romp over North Plainfield. Park scored nine times in the second, keyed by Carolyn Hazlehurst's two-run triple. Mary Hyland scattered five hits for the win.

Roselle Park then defeated Middlesex, 8-2, as Paula Goldberg drove in two runs with a single and Cathy Finizio homered to back Lisa Dragon's seven-hit pitching. It was Park's fifth straight win after an opening loss to Cranford.

After playing at St. Mary's this past Tuesday and at Hillside yesterday, Park will be at Brearley today and host New Providence this Tuesday.

LINDEN

It was a tough week for the Lady Tigers as they dropped a pair of contests. They were the victims of Nancy Kasko's no-hit pitching in a 20-0 loss to Westfield, then were defeated 14-6 by Kearny. A scheduled game with Elizabeth this past Monday was rained out.

After hosting Union yesterday, Linden will be at Cranford tomorrow, host Union Catholic on Monday and travel to Edison Tech next Wednesday.

IRVINGTON

After beginning the week with a 6-5 victory over Plainfield, the Lady Campers dropped a 7-6 contest to Rahway and saw a game with Westfield this past Monday get washed away by the rain.

IHS met Kearny yesterday and will tangle with Elizabeth tomorrow and Union on Monday, both at home and at 3:45. The week concludes with a game at Cranford next Wednesday.

Baseball roundup

J.P. Stevens, 4-1. This past Monday's game against Union Catholic was postponed by rain. Union played Linden yesterday and plays Scotch Plains tomorrow, Irvington on Monday and Plainfield on Wednesday.

LINDEN

The Tigers celebrated their first victory of the year with a 13-8 win over Kearny. But on Saturday, Summit jumped out to an early 4-0 lead and went on to defeat Linden, 8-2. Paul Almont held the Tigers to eight hits. This past Monday's game versus Elizabeth was rained out.

UHS track squads topple UC

The Union High boys and girls track teams both came up with strong efforts last week in a dual meet against Union Catholic and in the Union County Relays.

The Farmer boys rolled to a 119-8 win over the Vikings as UHS took first in every event. Personal marks were set by Tony Stewart in the 100 meters and 110 high hurdles; Eric Frenchman in the 100; Rob Veglia in the 800; Larry Des Rochers in the 3,200; Jacob Kessler in the shot put; Dennis Liloia in the discus; Gary Carleton in the pole vault; Jim Dell'omo in the 1,600; Joe Gelb in the 400; Dan Waldron in the 200; Gary Bullock and Charlie Petrosky in the shot; Petrosky and Jerry Twardowsky in the discus and Joe Dillon and Tony Sicoli in the javelin.

At the County Relays in Plainfield, Union finished third out of 21 teams, with only Plainfield and Elizabeth finishing ahead of them.

The lone first place finish came in the high jump relay (Stewart, Gary Mobley and Les Dixon), while school records were set in the shuttle hurdles relay (Dixon, Mobley, Stewart and Andre Bowers in 59.7), 4 x 1,600 meter relay (Steve Kraus, Rob Schmidt, John Helfant and Art Picado in 19:17.5), distance medley (Bowers, Chris DiGesù, Picado and Kraus in 11:30.5) and in the 4 x 200 meter relay (Dixon, Frenchman, Waldron and Rob Trinkler in 1:33).

Second place went to the shuttle hurdles, while thirds were garnered in the 4 x 1,600, 4 x 200, pole vault, javelin and discus. Finishing fourth were relay teams in the shot, 4 x 400, while the 4 x 800 was fifth, long jump was sixth and the sprint medley seventh. The 4 x 100 team did not finish to due a dropped baton pass.

After meeting Cranford this past Monday, Union will compete in the Rutgers Relays today at Piscataway and in the Morris Hills Relays this Saturday.

The Union girls were just as impressive in a 69-52 win over UC. Tara Knighton won the 100 and 400 meter hurdles, while Crystal Jackson took the 100, Ulla Johanson set a personal mark in the 400, Traci Barnes won the 200 and Alicia Hennessy the 3,200. Field event winners were Joy Beall in the shot, Wendy Sampson in the discus and Toni Frenchman the javelin.

At the County Relays, despite the Lady Farmers scoring only one point in the record medley, two new school records were set.

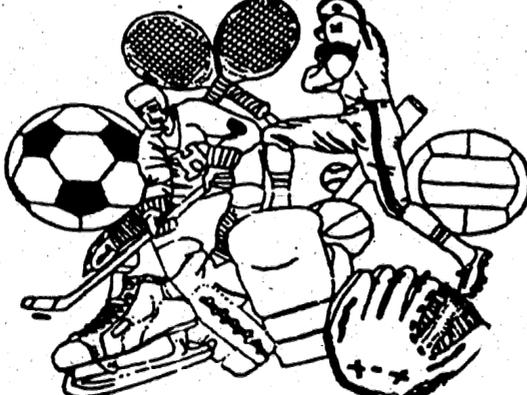

One was in the 4 x 800 meter relay in which Hennessy, Liz Sokalski, Julie Zilberberg and Amy Carter ran the event in 11:51, and the other came in the distance medley in which Sokalski, Johanson, Hennessy and Shona McMahon set the new mark of 15:18.

The highest Union finish came in the shot put relay, in which Marcy Benson and Beall finished fifth. Both school record setting finishes placed sixth and the sprint medley was seventh.

UHS also met Cranford this past Monday and will compete in the Rutgers and Morris Hills Relays.

MS golf tourney to be played May 6

Paul Zuckerman, chairman of the 12th annual Multiple Sclerosis Spring Golf Classic, has announced that this year's tournament, benefiting the Mid-Jersey Chapter of the National MS Society, will be sponsored in part by Doyle, Dane and Bernbach, one of the most prestigious advertising agencies in the country.

This year's all-amateur tournament will again be held at Plainfield Country Club in Edison on May 6 and will be limited to 54 foursomes.

The events of the day will include the challenge of playing at one of the top 100 courses in the country as rated by Golf Digest magazine. Prior to the 8 a.m. shotgun start, a continental breakfast will be served starting at 7 for the morning round golfers.

A buffet luncheon will be served between 11 a.m. and 12 noon, followed by the 1 p.m. shotgun for the afternoon round. A cocktail hour, followed by the awards dinner, begins at 7 p.m.

The $200 entry fee covers greens fee, cart or caddy, continental breakfast, buffet, cocktail hour and dinner, favors and prizes.

Those participants who elect to golf during the morning round, will have full use of the club's facilities for tennis, squash and paddleball for afternoon relaxation. Arrangements can be made to play an additional nine holes of golf on the public course adjacent to the club for those who wish to do so.

Because of last year's enthusiastic response, all 1984 players have priority. All reservations must be received with checks by tomorrow. Contributions are tax deductible and will be individually acknowledged.

Further information may be obtained by calling 681-2322, 828-1455 (both 201 numbers) or (609) 586-5406.

Nets game aids education program

When the Midlantic Bank, as part of the New Jersey Nets Corporate Education Program, donated a block of tickets to the New Well Rehabilitation Center for the March 8 game against Seattle, it was not a typical game at the Meadowlands Arena.

On top of the exciting night out as a professional basketball contest, which for many of the kids was their first ever, the New Well Rehabilitation Center was a big winner.

As it turned out, the Nets were holding a special promotion that evening where they gave away 10 gift certificates worth $200 from Flemington Furs and a grand prize of a Flemington Fur Coat, retailed at $7,500. When the ticket stubs were selected, the grand prize winner was a representative of New Well and the organization won the fur coat.

"It was a blessing, winning that fur coat," said an ecstatic Ken Jones, youth organizer and controller of New Well. "We were simply delighted being able to attend the game. We owe Midlantic Bank one big 'thank you.'"

New Well's appearance at the Nets game came through the popular Corporate Education Program. Midlantic, one of the 19 corporate sponsors in the program, donates tickets to various schools and organizations throughout Northern New Jersey. In this particular case, they asked Nets Corporate Education coordinator, Minnie Bottiglia, to donate their tickets to a worthy cause.

Holding a letter from New Well requesting tickets, Minnie Bottiglia donated tickets to this group.

New Well, founded in 1967 and located in Newark, is the oldest rehabilitation center in New Jersey and relies heavily on such donations. Much of its funds are provided by Federal and State Grants with help coming from United Way. According to Delora Jones-Hicks of New Well, the funds from the coat will be used to launch a couple of programs.

"Among our options are to start an art therapy program, buy a van which we sorely need, or add to our already ongoing programs for women. We may even spread the money around into all three areas," Ms. Bottiglia is also very thrilled everything has worked out for New Well.

"It's a great feeling to see them win the coat," said Bottiglia. "Our Corporate Education Program has been a great success and has helped thousands of youngsters. In this case we were able to help the group a little extra bit. It just makes you feel great."

Senior Olympics set for June

RP Run for Pride to be held Sunday

This Sunday is a big day in Roselle Park, for the sixth annual Run for Pride will be held in the borough. The two-mile run will be held at Roselle Park High School at 9:30 a.m. and the five-mile at 10:30.

The Roselle Park Trust Company of RPHS, with the cooperation of the Board of Education and Mayor and Council and Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey, sponsor the event.

It is done so with the intention of combating alcohol and drug abuse in the community, as well as violence and vandalism. It also helps various programs such as the Peer Leadership/Relations classes, Elementary Self Esteem project, Big Brother/Big Sister, Foreign Student and Children of Divorced Parents Support Groups, Transition, New Student and Senior Citizens Workshops.

Registration fee is $6 up to and until 9:15 a.m. on race day. Medals and a Masco Sports gift certificate will be awarded to the top male and female finishers in both races.

Plaques will be awarded to the first male and female finishers from Roselle Park, and there will also be a merchandise raffle between races.

Further information may be obtained by calling 851-9049 or 687-0157.

Paleys win Union bowl

The father-son team of Bill and Harold Paley took top honors with a gross total of 1275 in the sixth annual Union Recreation Department Youth-Adult Bowling tournament held recently at Four Seasons.

Jeff Kimak was high scorer with a 668 net series and a 243 high game, while the second high individual game was rolled by Joe Curcio with a 227. The high individual gross series was by Stephen Szardenings with a 719.

The high gross game honors went to Curcio with a 248, followed by Szardenings with a 243 and Kimak, also with a 243. A trophy will be awarded to Dorothy Gigantino for her 233 gross game, since only one trophy is awarded to each individual in these categories.

Trophies will be awarded April 20 at 1 p.m. at Four Seasons.

On the same evening, the recreation department's Get Acquainted tournament was also conducted. Winning the event were Doris Forgeron and Lou Bate, with a 1277 gross total. Mike Mrykalo rolled the tournament's high game of 243 and Ed Spillmann took the high series trophy with a 559.

Finishing second were Lorraine Popola and Ruth Wittich with a 1229; third were Sally Meicharek and Spillmann with a 1218; fourth were Iris Rispoli and Carol Osti with a 1215 and fifth were Doris Taylor and Don Williamson with a 1204.

Tennis classes set in Linden

The Linden Recreation Department is now accepting registrations for Adult Tennis Classes for beginners.

Lessons for beginners will start April 29, 30 and May 1 at the Wilson Park courts. Lessons will be given on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for six weeks, one hour per week for a total of six lessons. Classes will be limited to six students each.

There will be classes at 6 and 7 p.m. at a cost of $20 per student, an average of $3.33 per lesson. Registration for the beginners will continue through April 19.

Intermediate lessons will be given, starting June 11. Other dates are June 17, 18, 24, 25 and July 1. This course will be for those who have tennis experience and wish to refine their playing techniques.

There will be two classes starting at 6 p.m. Classes will be limited to six students each. A fee of $25 per student will be charged, averaging $4.25 per lesson. Registration for intermediate lessons will open April 29 and continue through May 17.

Pre-registration is necessary for both classes, beginners and intermediate. Linden residents will be given preference. Those interested may register at the recreation office, located at 605 South Wood Ave., between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Giants, Jets meet at UHS

Football stars from the Giants and Jets will be in action tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Union High School. The cost is $5 per person. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 687-1900, ext. 2253.

Proceeds to benefit the Oncology/Hospice Program at Memorial General Hospital. There will also be a raffle, refreshments and a special autograph session with the players.

Tripucka cage school to be held in June

The third annual Kelly Tripucka Basketball School, which is for boys and girls ages nine to 16, will be held the week of June 24-28 at Bloomfield High School from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

"The past two years have been extremely successful and I look forward to coming home and working with the youngsters from this area once again," said Tripucka, leading scorer for the Detroit Pistons and one of the top forwards in the NBA. "There is nothing better than a week of basketball where learning becomes exciting, enjoyable and most of all beneficial."

The school includes individual instruction covering all phases of the game, daily lectures by Tripucka, demonstrations by visiting pro athletes and major college coaches, and instructional basketball movies each day.

St. Joe's league

"Baseball Fever" is brewing in Roselle, and it comes to a head April 27 when the St. Joseph's Boys League begins its 33rd season.

The league emphasizes competitive spirit, as well as good sportsmanship for all the boys in Roselle, regardless of their athletic abilities.

Andy Klein is the league president, responsible for the 19 teams and 240 boys that play in the league, as well as a Saturday afternoon clinic for eight-year-old boys.

The league also operates a newspaper recycling station on Chandler Ave., adjacent to the Borough. Papers may be dropped off on Thursday evenings and Saturday mornings year round.

April 13 will be the date of the league's annual booster sale, with the boys selling candy bars bearing a free food coupon for a local fast food store. Bob Trenery and Ed Zalinkanskas will chair the sale.

And before the opening day games begin April 27, there will be a parade which will travel up 2nd Avenue and down Chestnut St.

Stragalas stars

For Union's Dean Stragalas, his last season on the basketball court at Stevens Tech proved to be a memorable one.

The 6-1 small forward, who shot well from the outside and whose jumping ability helped him rebound, had his best scoring average this past season with a 12 point per game norm. In all, he ended up with 693 career points, ninth on the all-time list at Stevens.

And his play was instrumental in the Ducks ending with a 15-10 record, their best mark in many years. The 15 wins, along with five in a row at one point, either set or tied a team mark.

Stragalas also ended up on the second team all-Independent Athletic Conference.

He is one player Stevens coach Wally Whittaker will sorely miss in the future.

UHS golfers split

The Union High School golf team opened its season recently and split two matches, losing to Summit (227-254) and defeating Montclair (241-252).

Summit, coached by Unionite Ray Ostrowski, was undefeated last year. Chris Sabath had the low score for Union with a 47 for the nine-hole match.

In the win over Montclair, Bill Schau tallied a 45 and Joe Scaneli a 46.

Fishing derby set

The Newark Bait and Flycasting Club will hold its third annual Children's Fishing Derby on Saturday at Lower Echo Lake Park, Mountainside. Further information on the derby is available by calling Oscar Ressler at 991-1725.

Also, there are foul shooting contests, stations, league and one-on-one tournament play and one-on-one tournaments.

Tuition is $105 per camper for the full five days and includes camp t-shirt and shorts, an autographed photo with Tripucka, an official souvenir from the Pistons and camp awards.

For a free brochure, write to the Kelly Tripucka Basketball School, 18 Brook Street, Belleville 07109 or call Joe Napolitano at 450-0471.

"When I went to camp as a youngster, it was to learn the basic fundamentals and skills which helped me to be successful in basketball," remembers Tripucka.

"Now, I look forward to working with these young players to help them achieve those same skills that are fundamentally necessary for them to advance their goals and to be successful in basketball."

Lehigh camp set for summer

The Lehigh Valley Basketball Camp begins its 18th season this summer with three specialized sessions being offered for boys ages 10 through 18. The camp is located on the campus of beautiful Allentown College in Center Valley, Pa.

Every basketball topic presented is prepared and thoroughly planned in easy to understand formats designed to sharpen basketball skills. Game situations and three-on-three and two-on-two are emphasized with the following areas stressed: defense, ballhandling, dribbling, shooting, passing and cutting, rebounding and offensive moves.

The specialized session are as follows: July 14-19 for ages 14 and 15; July 28-Aug. 2 for ages 10-13 and Aug. 4-9 for ages 16-18.

Union High varsity boys basketball coach Ted Zawacki is the camp director, and he can be reached for further information by calling 688-2412.

Linden girl cagers struggle

By PETER SALMON

First year coach Santa Goleme experienced a tough first season as head coach of the Linden High girls' basketball team, going 7-14.

The starters were juniors Janet Tuohy, Sheri Kranick, Dori James, Christa Weiss and sophomore Stephanie High. The bench consisted of three freshmen: Jackie Wall, Shonda Smith and Isabella Smalera.

"Our season was disappointing in perspective, considering the youngsters," said Goleme. "There were five games I believe we should have won. We improved and the players got better during the season. It was my first year and it was hard for the girls to get used to the new team rules."

Goleme does see a bright future, especially with all her starters coming back next year. Tuohy led the Lady Tigers with a 13.4 scoring average, while Kranick was the top rebounder, averaging 10 a game.

They've got 'heart'

By RAE HUTTON

Why would an otherwise typical teen-ager want to spend an extraordinary amount of time at school — even when classes are not in session?

One reason might be that he or she is a member of Linden's award-winning Madrigal Singers, 10 talented and dedicated high school students who have sung their hearts out during this past year, bringing cheer to area senior citizens, civic groups and the hospitalized.

Formed by Tom Pedas, vocal music director at Linden High School, the Madrigal Singers will represent Union County at Talent Expo '85 at the Garden State Arts Center in Holmdel April 27. The group won the county Talent Expo earlier this year.

Members of the group, who say they see more of each other than they do of their families, often stay at school until 9 or 10 p.m., rehearsing, participating in extracurricular activities and even eating a quick dinner with each other and Pedas, who has affectionately come to be known as "Uncle Tom" to his family of singers.

The original Madrigal Singers consisted of five students from the Concert Choir who performed at the high school's spring concert. After the concert, Pedas held auditions and chose 11 students from the 40-member Linden High School Concert Choir to become the Madrigal Singers.

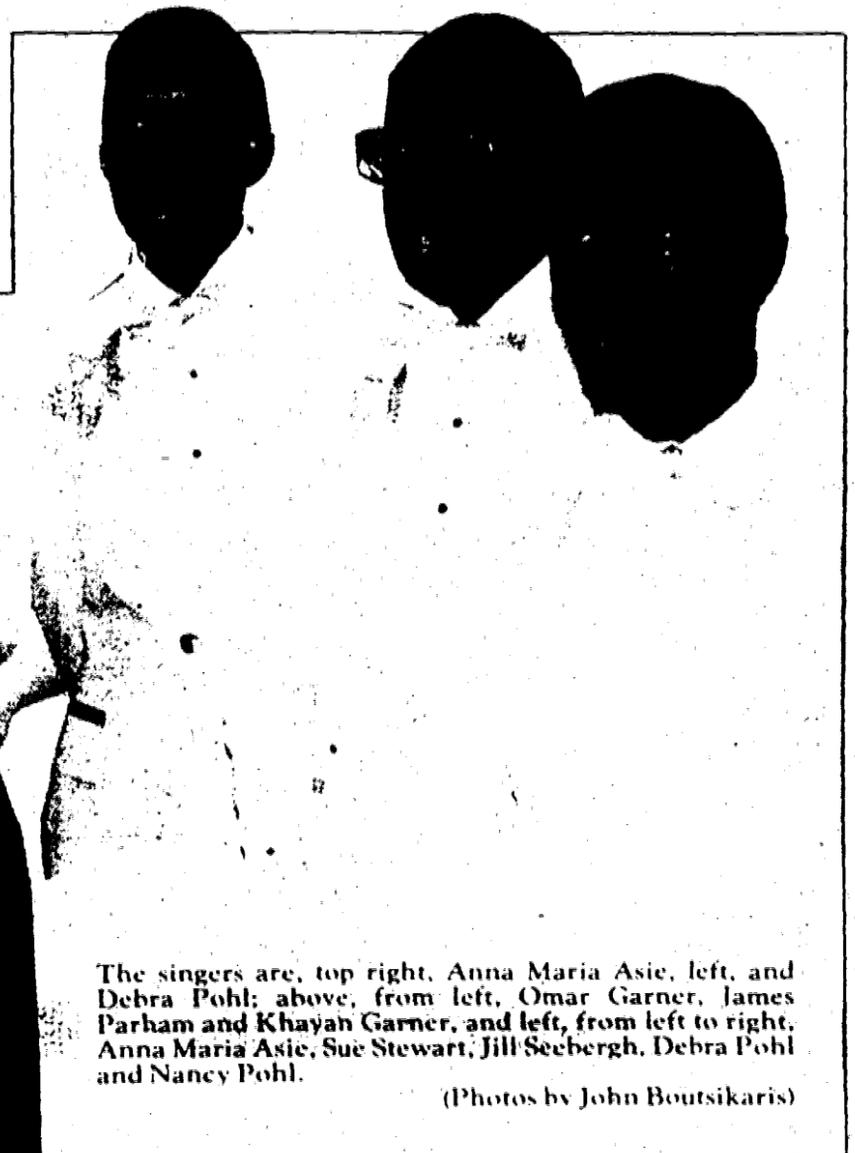

Three of the original five, Sue Stewart and Nancy and Debbie Pohl, have been joined by brothers Khayan and Omar Garner, brothers James and Jonathan Parham, Andy Pekosz, Anna Maria Asie and Jill Seeburgh to form the present "family" of madrigals. The 11th member, Stacy Hays, was forced to drop out because of a lack of time, something on which Pedas and the others are also running low.

Since there are only 10 members in the group, each must be a gifted and talented musician and must be able to read music well in order to learn a large variety of music quickly, according to the director.

They've all got 'heart'

Pedas explained that the singers' large repertoire consists not only of the difficult madrigals, which are non-religious vocal pieces sung without accompaniment, but also current show tunes performed with choreography. Cheri Gonor, who has worked with Pedas on Linden Summer Playhouse productions, is the choreographer.

In the repertoire are a 1920s' medley, "Somewhere" from "West Side Story," and "Over the Rainbow" from "The Wizard of Oz." The less well-known madrigals, Pedas explained, are the songs sung in the Elizabethan era, in King Arthur's Court.

Each member must be totally independent in his part. At times, the singers are in motion while singing. Many of the songs sung by the Madrigals are in French, Hebrew, Polish, German and Latin.

The singers must be extremely dedicated since all rehearsals are held after school and on weekends. In addition, the singers get no compensation for their efforts and must provide their own transportation to and from performances. Dante's Tuxedos in Linden provides tuxedos for the boys, and Linden's Choir Booster Club bought material for the girls' dresses.

Debbie and Nancy Pohl noted that "We don't see our families very often. And they often get mad because we forget to tell them where we're going."

The sisters recalled the day they were at the Linden Library and spontaneously sat in on a children's program which began while they were there.

Nancy, who is ranked first in the junior class, said with rehearsals, performances, Concert Choir programs and other school activities, she is sometimes up until "all hours" doing homework.

The group's performing schedule has steadily increased to the point where it must now turn down requests. During this past Christmas season, the Madrigal Singers gave 25 performances at nursing homes, hospitals, senior citizen complexes, basketball games and various church and civic organizations in the county.

Despite a heavy exam schedule during December, the Madrigal Singers performed to a standing ovation at Peach Orchard Towers Senior Citizens' Complex in Linden, where they remained after the show for dancing and socializing with the residents. On Jan. 1, they performed at swearing-in ceremonies for the Union County Freeholders.

"We sometimes get three or four requests a night," said Pedas. "It's impossible to go everywhere. They've gotten so popular, they have to say no."

Although Pedas is in charge of booking the singers' engagements, Pekosz remembers one evening when the high schoolers took it upon themselves to do their own booking: "We were performing for one group and when we were finished, we went over to another room in the same building to sing for another group that was there," he said.

All 10 members are involved in a variety of activities and the fact that they have any time at all is amazing.

"We do it because we love to sing," said James Parham, who also is president of the Concert Choir. "We've gotten really close. We like to spread cheer."

Perhaps the best answer to why the high schoolers do what they do comes from the 11th member of the group who dropped out earlier this year. "It takes a lot of dedication, a lot of time and energy. You have to make personal sacrifices. Each and everyone of them loves what they're doing or they wouldn't be in the group," said Hays, adding with a smile that "they're all entertainers, all hams."

"They give 100 percent of themselves," she added. "It's a healthy competition. They push each other to do their best."

"They really do care for each other," echoed Pedas, recalling that joy suddenly turned to tears when some members of the madrigal "family" were chosen for All-State Chorus and others were not.

"It's a healthy atmosphere," the director said, "and I'm proud of that."

In addition to their singing talent, each of the Madrigal Singers is an honor student and a member of the Linden Summer Playhouse. All but one had roles in this year's school play, "Annie."

Four of the singers — the two Garner brothers, Stewart and Debbie Pohl — performed in Atlantic City with the All-State Chorus. Nancy Pohl, an accomplished flutist, was selected for the Central Jersey Region II Band and the Garner brothers, Stewart, Pekosz and James Parham are members of the Central Jersey Region II Chorus.

Stewart, who played the title role in "Annie," attended the Governor's School for the Performing Arts last summer and also was selected for the All-Eastern (United States) Chorus. Both Seeburgh, who also serves as the group's accompanist on the show tunes, and Pekosz, "Annie's" Daddy Warbucks, attended the Governor's School for Science last summer. In addition, Seeburgh and the Pohl sisters serve as teacher aides for the school district's Gifted and Talented Saturday program. The five male members of the group also have their own band and hold practice sessions on Saturdays.

The Madrigal Singers will travel to Canada May 25 to take part in the Montreal International Music Festival. On May 11, they will compete with some 10 or 12 other show choirs at Jersey City State College in a "tough" competition for the eastern United States.

Where do these teen-agers find the time to take part in so many activities?

"If you want to do something badly enough, you do," answered Pedas, who recently had to give up his spot with the New York Choral Society because the Madrigal Singers had become so popular.

Perhaps Nancy Pohl's answer wraps up what the group is all about: "You have to set your priorities."

Paper Mill 'shows off' with some old friends

By BEA SMITH

It's a wonderful feeling to be transported from the harsh music of today into yesteryear's era of romance through the lovely musical tunes of Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein 2nd — even if it's only for a few hours. And the transportation can be considerably heightened by the magnificent voices enhancing the Kern-Hammerstein offerings.

One can experience all this and more at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn, which can proudly boast that its current production, "Show Boat," is one of the best musicals it has ever presented to the public. Just imagine listening dreamily to such songs as "Make Believe" (and believing) or "You Are Love" or "Why Do I Love You?" or "Bill." And when you've had your fill of the romantic tunes, how about something more robust, such as the classic "Ol' Man River," or the bouncing "Goodbye My Lady Love," "Life Upon the Wicked Stage" or "After the Ball." Then, of course, there's the famous "Can't Help Loving Dat Man of Mine."

"Showboat," which is a show with so much appeal, is based on Edna Ferber's novel of the same name, and it is set down south on the Mississippi from 1880 to 1927. It stars veteran actor Eddie Bracken as Cap'n Andy, whose showboat, "Cotton Blossom," is the theme and backdrop of the story. And seeing Bracken on stage is almost like greeting an old friend from the movies of the 1940s and 1950s. He's amazingly unchanged; his style of comedy happily has endured all these many years, and his physical appearance is virtually the same. (Great to see you again, Eddie, old friend!)

And speaking of old friends, some of the stars of the Paper Mill's "Show Boat," Judith McCauley, Richard White and Leigh Beery, are old friends of the Playhouse's patrons. And they are quite fantastic in their respective roles of Magnolia, Cap'n Andy's daughter; Gaylord Ravenal, the handsome gambler, who sweeps Magnolia off her feet, and Julie, the unhappy mulatto, who is driven away from the showboat when her identity is discovered.

With so much excitement and goes-on at the Paper Mill, the one truly outstanding performer, who probably brings the house down at every performance (He certainly did on press night) is Raymond Bazemore as Joe, whose marvelous voice can make the theater's walls shudder when he sings "Ol' Man River."

The featured cast of this huge production is equally wonderful, particularly Alyce Webb, who plays Queenie; Isabelle Farrell as Ellie and Buddy Vest as Frank, and Marsha Bagwell, Larry Grey, Phillip Edward Hall, Kenneth Kantor and Sam Kressen.

Robert Johanson, another old friend of the Paper Mill, does a fantastic job of directing such a huge production, and credit must also go to Jim Coleman, musical director, Sharon Halley as choreographer, and Michael Anania, scenery supervisor. The realistic scenery, especially the huge show boat, and the company's method of maneuvering it on stage, has an appeal all of its own.

Despite the fact that the first act runs a bit over long, "Show Boat" makes up for this flaw by giving its nearly-sold out houses with its hungry audiences a fulfilling gift of the kind of music and entertainment that is much sought-after these days, and not often, if at all, found.

Parenting

Newsletter to aid working parents

The 1980 census revealed that there are 300,000 children under the age of six years in New Jersey who have employed mothers. The same census also reported 40,000 children living in single parent male headed households. The movement of large numbers of women into the workplace has placed additional pressures on parents raising children today.

To help parents cope with their dual role of work and parenting, a newsletter series, "Working Parents of Pre-Schoolers," has been developed. This series is available free to the public without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap.

Topics included in the newsletter series are as follows:

Letter I, Why Are More Parents Working Today? Letter II, Who's Watching Our Children? Letter III, Time Management Letter IV, Mealtimes; Letter V, Money Management; Letter VI, Which Comes First—The Child or The Job?

The letter series is being made available by calling the Cooperative Extension office at 233-9366.

THE RESOURCE CENTER for Women in Summit is planning a four-week discussion workshop series for those women who have recently had a baby and are now mothering more than one. Discussions will include some specifics on growth and development, dealing with the emotional needs of the expanding family, what are realistic expectations of your loved ones and anything else you may want to share with the group.

The group leader will be Anne Keyser, R.N., M.S.N., with training in family therapy. The series will be at The Women's Resource Center April 25, May 2, May 9 and May 16 from 3-5 p.m. The series will cost $35. There will be babysitting for older children and babies will be welcome in the room with mothers. Space is limited, so early registration is recommended by calling the Center at 273-7253.

Treatment can prevent heartworm

By DORIS S. BENSCHAR

Summer is just around the corner and the blood thirsty mosquitos are ready for their prey.

Heartworm disease is becoming a very serious problem in dogs in almost every area in the United States. Because the infection is transmitted from dog to dog by mosquitos, the disease was initially prevalent only in the warm southern coastal states. However, with the free movements of dogs today, due, largely to a more mobile human population, the disease has become rampant throughout the country.

Now is the time to take your dog to your veterinarian for a simple heartworm blood test. If the dog test is negative, your vet will recommend a preventative medication to be given to your dog daily from April to December. By law this drug is only available from a licensed veterinarian.

The treatment of heartworm disease, if found in your dog, is costly and most of all very harsh, unpleasant and can be fatal.

Total elimination of heartworm disease is not possible as long as infectious mosquitos are left uncontrolled to transmit them. But you can prevent your dog from falling victim to this dreaded disease through a continuous treatment-for-preventative program under the direction of your veterinarian. For more information, consult your veterinarian or write to Club-Pet Kennels, 135 East Highland Parkway, Roselle, 07203.

Astronomers to hear talk

"The Search for Gravitational Radiation" will be the topic at the monthly lecture/meeting of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., at Union County College tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Prof. Steve Boughn of the Princeton University Department of Physics will relate his experiences in Cryogenic Gravitational Wave Detection while at Stanford University. He will also describe his present project, which is finding background gravity radiation using the sun and earth as detectors.

Following the program, there will be an informal social hour at the Sperry Observatory, which is jointly operated by the College and AAI.

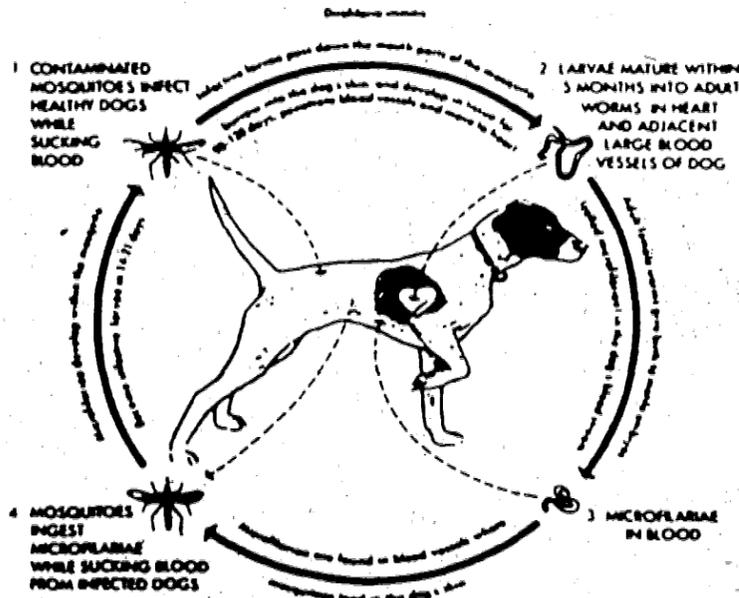

Amateur Astronomers meets on the third Friday of each month at UCC. Visitors are welcome to view the heavens every other Friday evening through the Observatory's two giant telescopes in the twin domes. All functions of the amateur group are open to the public free of charge.

LIFE CYCLE OF THE HEARTWORM OF DOGS

HEARTWORM CYCLE—The four major stages of the heartworm disease are shown in above diagram, clockwise from upper left. Mosquitos infect healthy dogs by sucking their blood; larvae are then produced which mature within five months into adult worms in heart and adjacent large blood vessels of dog; microfilariae then form in the blood and in the final stage, mosquitos ingest microfilariae while sucking blood from infected dogs beginning a new cycle of the disease which will be carried on to other canines.

Theater district trip

"Theater Walking Whirlwind," a one-day walking tour of the theater districts in New York City, will be presented for the third time Saturday through Union County College's Division of Continuing Education and Community Services.

The tour will concentrate on the Times Square and Lincoln Center theatrical districts. Registrants will meet at the New York Port Authority at 10 a.m. where they will be met by Harry Joyce of Winfield, tour guide, and Don Gretzinger, producer of several Broadway shows, including "La Cage Aux Folles," "Noises Off," "Sunday in the Park with George" and "Sweeney Todd."

According to Joyce, the group will tour the Troup Theatre, the Meat and Potatoes Company, the Irish Repertory Theatre, and the Quagh Theatre. Also on the program is the Museum of Broadway and the Museum of Performing Arts, Songwriters Hall of Fame, Lincoln Center, the Royal Court Repertory Theatre, the official theatre of the ruling house of England, Luigi's dance studio to sit in on a class being taught by Luigi, the Eaves Costume Company, the Theatre Development Fund, and the

Correcting errors

Errors on previously filed tax returns can be corrected by filing an amended return, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

This does not include addition or subtraction errors, however. These are automatically corrected by computers at IRS service centers when the returns are processed.

Form 1040X, Amended U.S. In-these original forms. Form 1040X also may be used to claim a refund of individual income taxes.

If tax is owed, it must be paid in full with the Form 1040X, the IRS said. The tax owed will not be subtracted from any refund not yet received or from any amount credited to 1984 estimated tax. A refund will be sent to the taxpayer separately from any refund related to the original return.

The IRS cautions taxpayers to check the completed form 1040X carefully to make sure that it shows all information called for, the year of the original return being amended and explanations for all changes made.

Taxpayers living in the New York Metropolitan area and the State of New Jersey should mail Form 1040X to Brookhaven Service Center.

An amended return must be filed within three years from the date the original return was filed or within two years from the time that the tax was paid, whichever is later.

Finally, the IRS noted, if a taxpayer's federal return is changed for any reason, it may affect state income tax liability. Taxpayers should check with their state tax agency for details.

County plans arts festival

The Union County Teen Arts Festival will take place at Kean College of New Jersey tomorrow and Saturday. Teens from all over Union County will come to the campus to share their art with one another and to take part in professionally led workshops and critiquing sessions.

Adults are needed to staff registration desks, information stations and performance sites around the campus from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days of the Festival.

"Volunteers will have a chance to see students perform and to view their art works, as well as meet one another and our artists in the hospitality room," said Louis J. Colleti, Union County manager. "We hope to have enough adult volunteers so that no one will have to work for more than three hours."

Interested adults should contact the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs by calling 233-7906.

This year's Union County Teen Arts Festival is sponsored by the Union County Buick Company; the National State Bank; the Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, Union County Department of Parks and Recreation; Kean College of New Jersey; the Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board, Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders; and the New Jersey State Teen Arts Program in cooperation with the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

MAJOR STRIDES—Lawrence Lau, Spaulding for Children's STRIDE-A-THON 'celebrity strider' will be at Tamaques Park, Westfield, from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Sunday to greet participants in the adoption agency's fund-raising event. Lau appears as Greg Nelson opposite Westfield's Natalie Ross, who plays his mother, Enid Nelson on WABC-TV's 'All My Children.' Walkers and runners are encouraged to pick up STRIDE-A-THON sponsor forms at Spaulding's office, 36 Prospect St., Westfield.

Klem in New York play

Kenneth Klem of Roselle will open in "Cheese In the Crisper, Apples in the Bin," a new drama mystery play by Janet Bruders of Irvington. The play will run in Eccentric Circles Theater's annual festival of one-act plays tomorrow through Monday at 158 West 23rd St., New York City.

Klem has been active in community and college theater, including the Cranford Dramatic Club, the Ethical Players of Maplewood, the Revelers of Rahway and Seton Hall University, from which he was graduated last year.

Among the plays in which he appeared are "Camelot," "Lion in Winter," "Charley's Aunt" and Agatha Christie's "Go Back For Murder."

Klem met Bruders, one of the four producing directors of Eccentric Circles Theater, four years ago when she was teaching drama at the Ethical Culture Society in Maplewood. After writing the play, she discussed him with her director, and after one audition, Klem was chosen to play a supporting role in the show.

Rebecca's forecast

For week of April 18 through 25

ARIES (3/21-4/20) The emphasis begins to shift early in this week to money matters for most. Pay careful attention to your longterm security in making decisions in the weeks ahead. Later, local dealings escalate, short trips are on the agenda and everyday people may get on your nerves. Be tactful!

TAURUS (4/21-5/21) Your new birthday cycle begins this period, put your best foot forward and prepare yourself for a pleasant surprise perhaps a long awaited pay back. Later, know your own limitations, important relationships continue to generate tension and final agreements of some sort are indicated.

GEMINI (5/22-6/21) The coming weeks will intensify private health and career matters. Expect to be doing your share of probing, questioning, thinking. Personal obligations also seem to mount for many and others may find they can no longer duck important decisions. Later, misunderstandings are more than likely.

CANCER (6/22-7/23) Social, creative or romantic aims will be high on your list of priorities now and in coming weeks. The key to success lies in being selective and sticking to your true priorities. Avoid too many irons in the fire. Later, you may be feeling rather low. Are you over sensitive right now?

LEO (7/24-8/23) This is no time to disregard the rules of fair play, steer clear of schemes especially in career or community regards. Guard your public reputation scrupulously, others may be watching more than you realize. Later, the need for more personal freedom overtakes many and changes are imminent.

VIRGO (8/24-9/23) It seems likely that much activity will center around legal, in-law or personal aims in the coming weeks and none of these areas will be smooth sailing. Relatives, friends or neighbors could provoke conflicts and maybe it's time to clear the air once and for all. Later, work matters erupt!

LIBRA (9/24-10/23) Coming weeks will intensify matters related to financial, tax, insurance or pension issues and many longterm changes are in the air. Later, in-laws are irksome, postpone travel and look for good news in property matters. Many will have to remain conservative financially a while longer.

SCORPIO (10/24-11/22) Important alliances, marital interests and contracts or agreements will assume importance for many in the weeks ahead. You may have to iron out differences in any of these areas. Later in this week, another's feelings come to the surface and certain partings will result for some.

SAGITTARIUS (11/23-12/21) You will have to focus attention on health, employment and professional relationships now and in coming weeks. Dealings with medical personnel are slated for some and others may have to seek help for emotional problems or dilemmas. Later, romantic alliances are cold and distant.

CAPRICORN (12/22-1/20) The coming weeks will intensify interests related to children, romance and creative ventures and easily aggravated situations will surround these areas. Steer clear of instigating or meddling in these areas. Later, you may have the opportunity to settle an ongoing problem once and for all.

AQUARIUS (1/21-2/19) You may need all the tact and diplomacy you can muster in domestic, family or property matters in coming weeks. Any of these areas could see sparks fly easily. Later in this period, avoid emotional outbursts; romantic ties strengthen, and another may just push you a bit too far!

PISCES (2/20-3/20) The coming weeks will intensify matters related to financial issues, other resources and joint assets. Complications or confusion may arise in any of these areas if you're not careful. Later in this period, transportation troubles may dictate a change in your schedule so keep it flexible.

Women's talk on sales jobs

National Volunteer Week will be celebrated in Union County with an address by Joan M. Wright, director of the Division on Women of New Jersey's Department of Community Affairs. The talk will be sponsored jointly by the Junior League of Elizabeth-Plainfield, the Greater Westfield Section of National Council of Jewish Women and the Westfield Area League of Women Voters. National Volunteer Week runs from Monday through April 28.

Wright, who was appointed to her position by Governor Kean in March 1983, will speak on "Working Together to Effect Change" at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Union County College's Campus Center Theater, Cranford.

HIGH-PAID CAREERS for women in sales will be the subject of a program from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday being offered by Adult Advisory Services at Kean College of New Jersey.

David King, president of Careers for Women Inc., will speak on "The Best Way in the World for a Woman to Make Money: A Career in Sales," which is the title of a book he wrote.

Registration is through the Services office, 201-527-2210. The fee is $20.
