Council votes to cut board budget by $50,000

By SHAWN EVANS

The Mountainside Borough Council Tuesday voted to approve a resolution to cut $50,000 from the $2.26 million portion of the Board of Education's proposed 1985-86 school year budget to be raised in taxes.

The decision was not unanimous however, with the council reaching a 3-3 deadlock on the proposal, broken by Mayor Bruce Geiger. The motion to reduce the spending package by that amount was introduced by Council President Bob Viglianti.

The council deliberated with board members in a special open meeting held at the municipal hall for over three hours, to decide on an amicable budget reduction after more than 700 voters opposed the $2,754,123 budget in the April 2 school board election.

Out of the total proposed budgeted figure, $2,262,62 was to be raised in taxes for current expenses, with no amount for capital outlay. Thus, council members were only concerned with that particular portion. At the beginning of the meeting, attended by roughly 25 residents, Borough Attorney John Post emphasized to council members they could not dictate to board members where to make reductions.

"You are not free to tell the board how the reduction is to be implemented, you can only indicate what the amount of the reduction can be," Post said. "If the board is not happy with the governing body's decision, they do have the right to appeal it."

Viglianti said the cut would not affect the quality of education offered the Deerfield School children if the board made its reductions from its surplus.

Prior to Viglianti's motion, Councilman Bart Barre recommended a reduction of $29,062 which would reduce the current expense portion to be raised in taxes to $2,233,000.

Viglianti said Barre's figure was "too conservative" and the motion was rejected by a vote of 4-2.

At the start of the meeting, Geiger opened the floor to comments from the public.

"I don't think this budget says we're spending a lot of money," said Ann Hose of Knoll Crest Road. "I think the reason it (the budget) was a big 'no' vote is because there were so many misleading issues, it was not an informed mandate," Hose said.

Resident Richard Kress said, "One of the reasons I moved into Mountainside was because it had a good education system. Look at the areas of increase - salaries, fixed expenses - areas with which the to keep that plant going," Kress said.

"If you start cutting, you're going to have to start cutting into educational programs and if you start doing that, you're going to lose the quality of education," Kress added.

Another Mountainside resident stated, "School systems in the U.S. are the biggest business in the U.S. and they should be run like a business. The voters have already expressed their opinion. There is

"I moved to this town and not only bought a house, but a school system; I believe that a budget defeat this year and any other year throws a red flag to the state."

board has no control. The cost of operating the plant (the school), whether you have 800 or 200 students, it's going to cost the same quite a bit in this budget that can be cut."

"You have to cut this budget," said William Vetter, who was defeated in the April 2 board elections. Vetter contended throughout his campaign that the budget was too high and stressed that too much money was being used for administrative costs.

"I'm going to speak for everyone on the board," said former board President Camie Delaney. "We have worked very hard on this budget. When it was given to us we only had 15 percent of the budget in which we had control over and we did already cut $100,000 and unfortunately most of the citizens were not at these meetings to hear us make the cuts," Delaney said.

Echoing her predecessor, newly elected President Linda Schneider said, "We are right in line and I feel we are being conservative. If the people carefully dissect the budget, they will see it is reasonable," Schneider said.

Newly elected council member Dorothy Unchester said a budget defeat creates the perception outside the borough that the board cannot handle its money.

"I moved to this town and not only bought a house, but also a school system. I believe that a budget defeat this year and any other year throws a red flag to the state and to the region," Unchester said.

Board member Pat Knodell, an outspoken opponent of the budget, said she felt that at least $200,000 could have been cut from the proposed spending package. Knodell, who is a teacher, said, "I would never do anything to harm the quality of education."

The council has until Monday to certify the board's budget, and from that date, board members have 15 days to act on the decision or appeal it.

Board officials will conduct a special meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the board office meeting room to discuss the issue. Officials said no other items will be discussed at that time, and no action will be taken at the meeting.

DEFENDING CHAMPIONS — The 1984 Mountainside champions shown here will be among some 300 children in Union and Middlesex counties who will take part in the upcoming annual Tournament of Champions, set for this Saturday at the Cranford Track and Field from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The tournament, in which 22 students from Deerfield School will compete, is a track and field event for learning disabled and orthopedically handicapped youngsters. Joining the children are Deerfield School instructors Julie Weiss, left, and Rhonda Green. In the event of rain, the event will be reset for May 4.

County offers $122.5M budget

By PHILIP HARTMAN

The Union County Board of Freeholders will attempt to adopt a $122.5 million dollar budget after a public hearing on May 9.

The budget, which is about $2.3 million more than the executive appropriations recommended in late March by Union County Manager Louis Coletti, imposes a 10.6 percent increase in the amount to be raised by taxes. Coletti's proposal translated into a 9.5 percent tax rate increase but also called for layoffs of about 100 county employees.

The tax rate from the county tab would increase from 53.3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to 54.2 cents if the budget is adopted as proposed.

A special meeting on Wednesday will also give members of the Municipal Advisory Board, composed of Union County mayors, an opportunity to comment about the proposed finances.

Paul O'Keefe, chairman of the board's fiscal affairs committee, said the additions are the result of increases in three areas.

O'Keefe said $500,000 more will be allocated to insurance premiums.

Union County College will receive another $500,000 for expanded programs, primarily to draw students from Elizabeth and Plainfield, he added.

The other $1.2 million, including $178,000 added to the salary adjustment account for contracts yet to be negotiated, will go toward salaries, the fiscal affairs chairman said.

Although the budget is much higher than the one previously recommended by Coletti to conserve money, the freeholders thought it best "to minimize the number of layoffs," said Freeholder Robert Gonor of Linden.

Coletti said Tuesday that restoration of those 100 positions in the new proposal was not unexpected by him and "they had made it clear to me very early that" that job cutbacks would be refused. Coletti said he had supported the layoffs "on the premise... to minimize a tax hike and continue services as best as we could."

The new proposal calls for less than 10 layoffs exclusive of those which may occur at the John E. Rannels Hospital in Berkeley Heights, where laundry, pharmacy and laboratory services may be contracted to outside firms, said O'Keefe.

O'Keefe stated that other job eliminations are those of the director of public information, an assistant of public information post and a secretary/clerk typist in that department. He said that the county would try to relocate those employees to other departments.

But with other job cutbacks, O'Keefe said, "That's not always going to be possible, but at least we're getting rid of those 100 layoffs."

Gonor criticized the elimination of jobs in the public information office, and said he would not support such a move. He called it "a little foolhardy" to remove the most experienced personnel in the office and said there "is an underlying motive for the elimination of that position."

Group 'bears' symbol of love with the teddy

By SHAWN EVANS

"What I have found, is that when you start talking about teddy bears, a lot of people become nicer," says Barbara Dyer, New Jersey state representative of the Good Bears of the World.

Dyer, a "chair bear" member of the international organization which proclaimed 1985 as the "Year of the Teddy Bear," has been appealing to individuals and members of various organizations since January to donate Teddy Bears.

The purpose - to distribute throughout hospitals in Essex County for sick and abused children. Employed with the Turtle Back

Zoo in West Orange, Dyer explains the organization's purpose or philosophy is to "spread love and understanding through the teddy bear."

Dyer says out of some 375 recently donated bears that she now has, 200 were contributed by the Mountainside Woman's Club.

Mountainside resident Phyllis McLeod, a member of the local woman's group, says she "asked everyone she knew" to donate a bear because the cuddly stuffed animals are the best medicine for the little children.

"The teddy is often the best medicine against loneliness," McLeod says.

"I appealed to all the people I knew for the bears - friends, relatives, storeowners, everyone; my goal was only 100 people, but I ended up getting 200," McLeod says.

Although the project is ongoing for this year, McLeod set her particular deadline for April 10.

"The Mountainside Woman's Club really helped and because of their generous efforts, I now have a good start," Dyer says.

"But the thing is, I can't do the program without the bears," she explains, noting the bears will go very quickly and she must have a surplus to count on.

"We've got to keep that bear bank going, we've got to keep it full," she emphasizes.

Dyer explains that once a certain amount of the bears are received, they are tagged with a form which indicates the individual or group that donated the stuffed animals.

"Then, I personally go into the hospital with a bear helper, Mike Merwin. We have special bear bags, similar to huge laundry bags; a clown comes with us from Clowns Galor and we literally match the bear with the child," she says.

Arrangements are made in advance with hospital officials, Dyers notes, then the various facilities are visited several times a month.

"I like to do things to help make people's lives a little better, especially with children in the hospital, it can be pretty frightening," Dyer says.

Dyer recalls that she became interested in the lovable toys after visiting Theodore (Teddy) Roosevelt's birthplace because of his interest in conservation.

She says the group honors Roosevelt (after which the Teddy Bear was named) each year on his birthday.

Dyer is the only representative of the organization in New Jersey, and the Turtle Back Zoo is the first such zoo in the world to become a "den" or member organization to the Good Bears of the World.

Dyer says anyone wishing to donate a bear to add to the joy of a child in the hospital, may do so by sending the package to the zoo located at 560 Northfield Ave., West Orange, 07052, or by calling 731-5800.

"Those bears actually light up the faces of those children. We need to keep them coming in," she adds.

Local Red Cross chapter holds drive

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross is conducting a community blood drive next Thursday, at the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain Ave., Westfield.

Mountainside retirees meet

The Mountainside Active Retirees meet every Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Municipal Building. Line dancing is held every Tuesday from 1-2:30 p.m. at the Deerfield School All-Purpose Room. New members are welcome.

On May 7, there is a general meeting scheduled for elections, with an installation meeting on May 14 followed by a discussion on PSE G lighting banks on May 21.

The drive will be open to the public from 2 to 7:30 p.m.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66, who weighs at least 110 pounds and is in good health is eligible to give blood every 56 days. In New Jersey, anyone 17 years of age must have written permission of a parent or guardian.

According to Red Cross officials, those who have never donated blood would be surprised at how easy it is to give blood.

The donation procedure consists of four simple steps:

Registration, where the donor fills out the necessary forms; medical history, which includes a mini-physical that checks the donor's current state of health; the actual donation, which takes about 10 minutes and the center, where the donor relaxes and is served refreshments.

Officials said the entire procedure takes about one hour and normal activities can be resumed shortly afterwards.

Jack L. Cohen, chairman of Blood Services for the Red Cross, said he anticipates a good turnout for the drive.

"There is always an urgent need for blood in our area," Cohen said.

"The community continues to respond to this need but new donors are always needed to keep up with the continual demand for more blood."

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the America Red Cross is a participating agency of the United Fund of Westfield. Further information is available from the Red Cross at 333-7000.

Nutrition class set

"Better Eating for Better Health," a new nutrition course is being offered by the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The course will be held on Thursday evenings from May 2 to June 6, from 7-8 p.m. at the Red Cross Chapter House, 331 Elm St., Westfield.

Mayor reacts to nomination

Kenilworth Mayor Livio Mancino issued a statement last week following his nomination as one of two Democratic candidates vying for the election to the State Assembly in the 21st District.

"I am very honored to have received the total endorsement and support of the nine community Democratic Committee chairmen in my endeavor to seek the Assembly seat in the 21st District," Mancino stated.

"I also wish to commend them for the selection of my running mate, Andrew Ruotolo, for I feel his new and fresh ideas, along with my years of experience and achievements can certainly bring a strong choice to the voters of this district."

selection of just who should be representing them in Trenton.

"It has been said by many, especially by the opposing party, that a Democrat can't win in this district. Drew and I aim to prove them wrong," Mancino said. While he noted that he and Ruotolo "agree that the late Republican Assemblyman (Edward K.) Gill and his Assembly mate did a good job," he said, "we feel that is not enough for the voters in the 21st District."

"That is precisely the reason my running mate and I are running, we feel the voters deserve more, and if the voters see fit to elect us, our performance will certainly be rated as excellent or even outstanding."

Mancino noted his track record, claiming the reconstruction of Garden State Parkway Exit 138 "was a one-man effort." He said, "The record also shows that this and other accomplishments in Kenilworth and throughout many parts of this district, and even the efforts in Trenton," have been result of his "persistent effort and hard work, all directed to serve the voters."

"My running mate and I promise this same effort and hard work in our campaign, so that people will know who can best serve their individual needs, be they Democrats, Republicans or Independents, and the needs of the total district," Mancino said.

Preschool pilot is a success

The Springfield Preschool Program - an informative pre-kindergarten experience - has successfully completed a pilot year.

Last fall, the Preschool Committee distributed surveys to all elementary and local nursery schools informing parents of a preschool program to orient the children with their elementary school building and acquaint them with those with whom they will attend school.

The response to the survey revealed that 45 youngsters were interested in the program. With approval of the Board of Education and the Sandmeier and Caldwell PTAs, the program began in January.

The program met for four monthly one-hour sessions and will conclude in May with Kindergarten Roundup. The classes were supervised by two professional preschool teachers and two assistants.

At Sandmeier School, teacher Ellen Fischbein and assistant Jackie Schuyler supervised 25 youngsters. At Caldwell, teacher Iris Diamant and assistant Carrie Greenberg supervised 23. The children participated in many school oriented activities.

The Preschool Committee is confident that the children who participated in the program will make the transition from nursery school to kindergarten more easily.

A controversial novelist's short life

By ROSE P. SIMON

The following are reviews of books currently available at the Springfield Public Library.

A CONTROVERSIAL NOVELIST
"Thomas Wolfe," by Elizabeth Evans.

One of our most controversial novelists and short-story writers of this century was Thomas Wolfe, whose comparatively short life yielded at least several works of merit. The youngest of seven children, he was born in Nashville, N.C., in 1896, into a financially secure, middle-class family. He was the family's only child to attend college and graduate school, at the University of Carolina.

In Manhattan and Brooklyn Heights, Wolfe supported himself by teaching, and writing fiction. From 1924 until his death in 1938, he moved his residence frequently and traveled to Europe seven times, seeking new experiences, yet returning home because of his eternal loneliness.

His closest relationships were with Alice Bernstein, whom he married — a successful designer with whom he was deeply in love, and Maxwell Perkins, distinguished editor, adviser, confidant. Both left their mark on him and his work.

Some critics have faulted Wolfe for the overuse of autobiography, and rightly so, for most of his fictional characters were drawn from members of his family, their friends, their experiences. In his writings, he was careful about speech patterns, he used comedy freely, he was adept at describing details clothing, food and imitating sounds and rhythms. His fiction is marked by rhetorical questions, sheer poetical passages, contemporary and literary allusions.

One detects Wolfe's admiration of America — its cities, towns, plains, mountains, people — and his scorn for the superficiality and greediness of the wealthy. The plight of the underprivileged and the poor troubled him, as did the horror of Nazism. His novels were "Look Homeward Angel" the best; "Of Time and the River," "The Web and the Rock" and "You Can't Go Home Again." The last two were published posthumously.

TRAGEDY IN CAMBODIA
"The Quality of Mercy," by William Shawcross.

How the world responded to the tragedy of Cambodia, and how the Holocaust of World War II influenced the world's attitude toward other catastrophes are the chief themes of this work. Especially stressed are the responses of humanitarian organizations, and the political barriers which hampered their work.

The author's second visit to Indochina — he had been in Vietnam during the early '70s — was in 1980 when he was invited to Phnom Phen, now controlled by Vietnam. He was to see food distribution to the peasants. First he toured Phnom Phen and the South, viewing the devastation of the past decade, including the shocking mass graves, attributed to the Khmer Rouge.

During the Khmer Rouge terror inside Cambodia (1975 to 78), news of atrocities and great famine reached Western news agencies, reminding them of the Holocaust. Governments were slow to respond. But the international relief agencies, in spite of delays, self-serving ambition, restrictions, secrecy, lack of cooperation, money, and authority, were able to supply some aid (food, seed, machinery, etc.). Shawcross praises especially the work of the International Red Cross and UNICEF, although smaller organizations made some contributions.

However, after meticulous investigation, the author discovered that the reported famine had been somewhat exaggerated by those who felt that such reports would be beneficial to them. Shawcross gives details of the hostilities which devastated Cambodia (and continues to do so), the participation of neutral Thailand (helpful to the author), and the waning interest of the Western world in an intolerable and insoluble situation.

Drinking man nabbed

A Mountside man was charged with illegal consumption of alcohol in a Route 22 parking lot Friday, Springfield police reported.

According to reports, William Carthy, 20, of Rolling Rock Road, was arrested in Benningan's parking lot for consuming alcohol while being under the legal age.

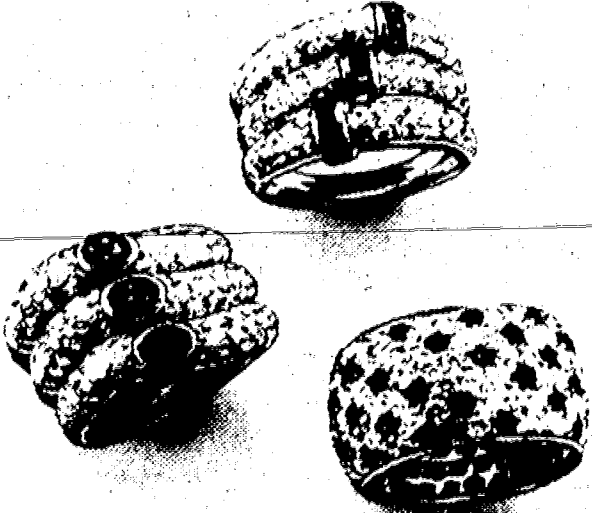

A Springfield woman was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, after her car was forced off Shunpike Road April 18. According to reports, Marnie Fromkin, 22, was traveling east on Shunpike when an oncoming car swerved into her lane and forced her off the road. Fromkin was transported by the Springfield First Aid Squad and treated and released at the hospital.

A car driven by a Monmouth woman traveling north on Mountain Avenue Monday left the road and struck a utility pole, police said. Ellen Erlandson, 29, and a 2-year-old passenger in her car were transported to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Springfield First Aid Squad. The child was treated and released and according to hospital officials, Erlandson did not require treatment. Police said she was issued a summons by for not having a safety restraint on the child.

Police reported an Escort radar detector was stolen Monday from a car parked in the Echo Plaza Shopping Mall.

In Municipal Court Monday, Jeffrey Griffin, 25, of Irvington, was fined a total of $575 when he pleaded guilty to driving while on the revoked list, having fictitious plates, and driving an unregistered vehicle.

Chipping away

In a decision that opens a continued chipping away of press freedom, early this month, a federal appeals court reinstated a jury verdict against The Washington Post for libeling William P. Tavoulaareas when he was president of the Mobil Oil Corp. In its decision, the appeals court relied heavily on the Post's reputation for "hard-hitting investigative stories" in reinstating the verdict. Should the ruling stand, the press, of course, will be hurt, but it is the public which will be hurt the most in the long run.

The Post had implied that Tavoulaareas had used his position to steer Mobil business to a company partly owned by his son, Peter. Three years ago, a jury found that Tavoulaareas had been libeled, but the federal judge who presided over the trial threw out that verdict saying that there was no evidence that the article contained "knowing lies or statements made in reckless disregard of the truth." Such a standard is the test established by the Supreme Court for a finding of libel.

Writing for the majority in the 2-1 decision which reinstated the libel judgment, Judge George E. McKinnon of the U.S. Court of Appeals said that The Post and its reporter had set out to get Tavoulaareas "and had deliberately slanted, rejected and ignored evidence contrary to the false premise of the story..." The judge noted that Bob Woodward, who broke the Watergate story along with Carl Bernstein, was an editor of the Tavoulaareas story. The judge implied that Woodward's reputation — and the newspaper's — was that of muckraking journalism, and inferred that because of this reputation, the newspaper would be inclined to publish reckless falsehoods.

Should this verdict stand — The Post is filing an appeal — news organizations will be quite timid in reporting critical stories about public figures. In a sense, the reporter's job would be a lot easier — it is a lot less taxing to write a "puff piece" full of only "good news" than an investigative story. The real loser in all of this would be the reader. Newspapers full of "good news" don't serve a democracy or its citizens. With the protection of eased libel standards, public figures will be free to abuse their public trust. Without a vigorous press to report on these abuses, no one will ever be the wiser.

Children had holiday treat

Once again, we would like to thank Frank McSweeney of Linden for the party and animal show he gave to us on Good Friday. Mr. McSweeney has been donating his time and talents for the past 17 years to the delight of all who are here at both centers.

We really appreciate the fact that he gave up his time on such a special night. There aren't too many people who would do this. All of us at the center really enjoyed the dog and cat show. We loved the toys and chocolate rabbits and the food and drinks he gave us. His kindness has been noted and appreciated by not only the residents, but by the entire staff. It's a wonderful feeling to know that we have friends like him to help us make the holiday season a little brighter.

We would like to thank Mrs. Roger Bunting and her two daughters, Lynn and Mary, for making over 200 sugar cookies for the party. We would like to thank Mr. McSweeney's helpers who assisted at the show and helped serve the food. Jennifer and Nicole Allen of Cranford, Katherine Wychoff of Mountainside and Carolyn and Ann Mari Augustyn of Linden.

Thanks from all of us.

Legislature lauded for legislation

Members of the American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division commend the state Legislature for passing Assemblyman Herman's measures designed to control smoking in places of employment in some public places. In view of the deleterious effects of second-hand smoke, these measures doubtless will contribute to improved health and human welfare in our state.

By signing the legislation, Gov. Keane can only strengthen his record of serving the best interests of the people of New Jersey.

New Jersey report

N.J. takes steps to protect 'defenseless'

By GOV. TOM KEANE

I think most of us would readily agree that New Jersey's most precious resource is her children. We have recently taken several significant steps to enhance the protection of our children and I think it's important that parents are aware of them.

Earlier this month, I signed legislation which will add more than 500 people to the staff who guards the interests of our most unfortunate children — those who are the victims of abuse by other members of their families. It is a sad commentary on our society that the number of child abuse and neglect cases more than doubled from 1982 to 1984, when nearly 45,000 such cases were investigated.

This is a disturbing and alarming trend in a critical social problem that must be attacked on many fronts. But our chief goal must be the protection of these defenseless children.

In my annual budget message to the Legislature, I called for substantial increases in the staff of the Division of Youth and Family Services, the agency charged with investigating allegations of child abuse and taking the necessary actions to protect the children who are victims of this crime.

I am happy to report that the Legislature responded quickly, and I was able to sign the necessary legislation to put 354 new case workers, 69 new supervisors and 84 additional clerical staff out in the field where their services impact most directly. The bill will also allow us to increase funding for foster care services and the rate paid to foster parents, and will also help fund subsidized adoption, the cost of group residential home care and other social services for families.

Another important bill I recently signed will allow the state, for the first time, to establish a voluntary fingerprinting program for children in grades kindergarten through nine. The program will combine the resources of local school districts with county sheriff's departments to provide interested parents with a record of their child's fingerprints.

Such a record can be invaluable to law enforcement authorities trying to locate a missing child.

The program, of course, is totally voluntary, and takes great pains to protect the privacy and rights of the children who participate. The law absolutely forbids the sheriff's department, local law enforcement authorities and the school to keep copies of the prints.

Schools will provide orientation programs for the children before the printing program begins. Certainly, we don't want to frighten our youngsters, but I believe that children can understand the idea behind such a program without creating fright, resentment or doubt.

If we can do anything to identify the missing — and to end the anguish of the people that by standardizing the idea, and using both education and law enforcement professionals to implement it — we can make this worthwhile program available to every interested parent in the state.

Finally, we have also set in place a program for detecting lead poisoning in young children, and authorized the Department of Health to establish a program to control lead poisoning.

Lead poisoning is an insidious risk which is most threatening to very young children who live in older housing where lead-based paints may still be present. The bill I recently signed presents an excellent opportunity for the Health Department to set up a meaningful and effective program to detect this danger.

The testing program will be administered by various agencies which serve children ages 1 through 5. It will include municipal and county health departments, hospitals, clinics, doctors, day care and pre-school centers and other special health programs.

The blood test, taken with a simple finger prick, will be analyzed for lead content. When lead is found, the Health Department, coordinating with appropriate local agencies and health care professionals, will be able to take remedial action.

The new program also directs the commissioner of Health to devise a lead poisoning control program, and authorizes the department to make loans to local boards of health to assist in the abatement of lead poisoning sources.

Column 'provides appropriate service'

As an avid reader of your newspaper, I was very pleased to see the recent edition of a column entitled, "Ask the teacher," written by the Misses Giordano and Sullivan, which appeared on the editorial page April 11.

As a former school board member, and a mother to school-age children, I was interested to see the inclusion of a column which devotes itself to educational issues affecting our youth. I hope that we can look forward to this column being a regular feature of the newspaper because I think that it provides an appropriate service to your readers.

Keeping pests from fruit trees

By STEPHEN BACHELDER

That gummy, jelly-like mass you find on the trunk of a fruit tree near the soil line is caused by a caterpillar-like insect called the peach tree borer. This is a common pest in New Jersey that attacks peach, cherry and plum trees and can kill trees if not controlled. Don't confuse the clear gum deposits caused by bark cracking or pruning cuts with the gum containing reddish-brown larval droppings and sawdust caused by the borers.

PDB (para-dichlorobenzene) moth crystals applied to the soil around the trunk will destroy borers, advise entomologists at the Cook College Cooperative Extension Service at Rutgers University.

It is recommended that you remove grass and weeds from the base of the tree for a distance of one foot. Distribute the crystals in a band one or two inches wide, at least two inches away from the tree trunk. Cover the tree base and crystals with four to six shovelfuls of soil and pack with the shovel. Crystals placed against the tree may cause injury.

For trees 1 to 2 years old, use one-fourth ounce of crystals; trees 3 to 4 years old, one-half ounce; 5- to 6-year-old trees, three-fourths ounce; and trees 7 years and older, one ounce.

Although this treatment is normally recommended during the fall, emergency measures can be applied during the spring, provided temperature at the five-inch soil depth is at least 55 degrees in late April and early May.

Remove crystals and the mound of soil from around the trunk after two weeks. The PDB crystals could then injure the tree.

GOP, Dems trade jabs on jail

By KEITH A. DRUMBORF
 Republican Union County Freeholder Chairman G. Richard Malgran charged the freeholder board's Democratic members with "raising inaccurate points" and "politicizing" the issue of proposed alternatives to building a new $40 million county jail.

Malgran's comments came April 17, 15 days after Democratic members circulated a letter among Union County municipal governments that attributed several of the proposed alternatives to Republican members of the board. The most notable of the alleged proposals was the placing of county prisoners in trailers that would be situated in 21 communities throughout the county.

Possible sites for the trailers included John E. Rannels Hospital in Berkeley Heights, the Linden Airport and county-owned land near the County Administration Building in Elizabeth.

The letter asked local governments not to support the proposed alternatives.

Republican members of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders include Malgran, Vice Chairman Edward Slomkowski, Alan Augustine, Robert Gonor and Paul O'Keefe while Democratic members are Walter Boright, Michael Lapolla, Brian Fahey and Charlotte DiFillipo.

Malgran pointed out what he saw as inaccuracies in the Democrats' criticisms.

At no time was it ever suggested that county prisoners be "sprinkled about the county," Malgran said. Nor was it ever suggested that trailers be used to house prisoners, he added.

"No one is contemplating the use of trailers for housing prisoners in any community, nor is anyone contemplating the placing of prisoners at Rannels Hospital," Malgran said.

Malgran said that the idea of placing prisoners at Rannels was first brought up in 1981 when the then-Democratic controlled board was examining alternatives to building the new jail. That board eventually voted to build the jail at an estimated cost of $18 million.

"Another alternative brought up at that time was to place prisoners on a ship in the Elizabethport harbor," Malgran said. That proposal was finally decided to be unfeasible, Malgran said.

Malgran added that the Democrats were only making the jail matter an "issue" because his, DiFillipo's and Boright's terms expire this year.

"This was not intended to become a matter of derisiveness," Malgran said. "It is an unfortunate point that because of the upcoming elections that it has become politicized."

The recent flurry of freeholder criticisms and retorts has occurred in the wake of a 5-4 freeholder vote March 28 to establish a task force "to seek alternative methods of housing for minimum security inmates housed in the Union County Jail and other inmates incarcerated for less than acts of violence."

The vote was strictly along party lines. The Democrats then circulated their letter April 2.

In the letter, the Democrats specifically criticized the Republicans for proposing that inmates be housed in trailers, empty schools and vacant industrial buildings in 21 communities throughout the county.

The Democrats called the entire proposal "ill-conceived" and "irresponsible."

They added that security measures would be lessened, community safety endangered and that no "economies would be realized" in sprinkling prisoners throughout the county.

The Democrats also criticized Malgran on the same issue in a written release April 17.

"The costs of shuttling prisoners back and forth from all over the county to the court house to stand trial, for classification, for depositions, for medical treatment and other reasons, is inept and insane," Fahey said in the release.

"Public parks, schools and industrial buildings cannot and should not be used to house prisoners," Boright added. "The public safety and sound economies dictate that prisoners should be kept in jail."

The Democrats suggested that the board review current construction plans for the proposed new jail "with an eye toward cutting out the frills." The Democrats also suggested that the board look into the possibility of renovating the present jail to comply with existing codes.

Malgran said that these were the same suggestions that the Republican faction on the board was putting forth.

"The task force was originated to explore new alternatives to the jail situation," Malgran added. "One alternative would be to scale down the proposed $40 million county jail."

Malgran speculated that with a debt service, the cost of a new jail could run as high as $80 million.

"Another alternative would be to move out some of the officers in the present jail," Malgran said. "We could house the officers in other quarters. This would give us about 15,000 square feet of space which could be used as a recreation area for the inmates."

Malgran added that the abandoned Singer building in Elizabeth could be a possible site to house inmates.

Lapolla said that turning the Singer property into a site for inmates would be counterproductive to the city's efforts "to lure business and industry" into this area.

"What we are looking for is a way to save the taxpayers some money," Malgran said. "I am putting out my hand in the hope that the Democrats will join the Republicans in working together on this matter."

Rinaldo plans student art contest

A congressional arts competition for all high school students in the 7th congressional district is being sponsored by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo.

The winning entry will be displayed this summer, along with art from other congressional districts across the country, in the U.S. Capitol complex. The winners in each congressional district will be invited to Washington in June for a ceremony opening the national exhibition.

Rinaldo said the contest is part of "An Artistic Discovery," an annual competition sponsored by the Congressional Arts Caucus to promote the creative talents of young Americans. The competition is conducted at no cost to the government.

The local competition is being conducted in cooperation with secondary schools in the 7th congressional district, each of which will be invited to submit three entries. The art work will be exhibited at the Schering-Plough Corporation building in Kenilworth through mid-May when the winning entry will be announced at a public reception for the artists and their teachers. Communities in the district include Kenilworth, Mountainside, Roselle Park, Springfield and Union.

Rinaldo said the art work must be two dimensional and no larger than 30 by 30 inches (unframed). Eligible categories include paintings, drawings, collages and prints.

The competition is being coordinated at the local level by Arlene Schor, art supervisor for the Union Township Board of Education, assisted by Albert Tucher of Bridgewater-Raritan High School West, Edward Carew of Middlesex High School, Roberta Krasner of Solomon Schechter Day School, Cranford, Thomas Tyler of St. Patrick's High School, Elizabeth, Katherine Davitt of Bound Brook High School, and Joan Haggerty of Union.

High school art instructors and students are urged to contact Rinaldo's district office, 687-4235, for further information.

Psychology. They will discuss new thoughts in diabetes.

JDF urges diabetics to attend these hearings to let officials be aware of various problems encountered by the diabetic community.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss. Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree? Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that? It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95 30 day supply, or $35.95 60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNALABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-31) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hr. a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. You really do deserve to be thin.

THE FIRST Presbyterian Congregation of Connecticut Farms, Union, will hold a "Family Night Loyalty" dinner May 3 at 6:30 p.m. at the church. It was announced by the pastor, the Rev. R. Sidney Pinch, that a catered chicken dinner will be held to celebrate "the rich heritage of Connecticut Farms Church and its ongoing witness to the world." Reservations are being received and transportation will be arranged "for those who need it." The dinner will serve as the launching event of the new building capital campaign which has been given the slogan "C.F. Drive '85." The congregation "accepted the challenge to participate in this campaign by approving the plans at a special congregational meeting on March 3." The drive will raise funds "to restore the tower and belfry, replace worn shutters in the sanctuary, install rest rooms near the sanctuary, refurbish the kitchen in Fellowship Hall and renovate the stage area of Westminster Hall."

The pastor, with approval of the session, appointed the leaders for "C.F. Drive '85." They are Lou Magliaro, general chairman; William Morris, capital gifts; Delores Glaser, promotion; Shirley Adorna, arrangements; Marilyn Deckert, visitation; Linda Duffy, brochure; Ruth Forrest, mailing coordinator, and Bernard Hanson, financial secretary. The work on the projects will begin "with the erection of scaffolding to gain access to the tower of the 255 year old building." The Church was founded in 1730, burned down by the British during the Revolutionary War, and rebuilt between 1780 and 1800. The total cost of all the projects is anticipated to be $300,000. Of this amount, two-thirds will be raised by pledges from members and friends of the congregation, and the balance will come from reserve funds. Magliaro, has announced that "it's so important for members to attend the Loyalty dinner, so that we'll learn that each of us can be part of this important project in the life of our historic church. Involvement and commitment are essential to the success of the campaign. This is our opportunity to show our love for the Lord as we respond to God's Call to keep this church in mission. This building is a great resource for Christ's Mission. This is where people come to know Christ, where we reach new people with the Good News; where they grow in faith; and go forth into the world to witness to that faith. Many people have already shown their enthusiasm and support by making advance capital gifts to the drive. Obviously they believe in the projects that have been approved for their church. One of the nice things about giving to new construction is that you can see your gifts taking shape. There's tangible evidence of their use. The visitation committee will visit church families to receive their pledges starting on May 5.

MAY FELLOWSHIP Day, sponsored by Church Women United in Irvington, will be observed May 3 in the Reformed Church, 132 Elmwood Ave., Irvington. A worship service will be held at 11 a.m., followed by a brown bag lunch. Dessert and beverage will be served by the women of the church. A cake sale and "white elephant" sale will be available "to raise funds for the local unit's work with the hungry in Irvington." May Fellowship Day "is an annual event, sponsored by Church Women United, that brings together Christian women from many traditions in an ecumenical worship experience to address their social concerns."

This year's theme, "Our Piece of the Action," will "challenge church women traditionally involved in caring for victims of social inequities to deal with root causes and become directly involved in action that brings about social change." Developing the theme at the local celebration will be Marilyn Russell, president of Church Women United in Irvington, and Ann Herrick, who will share the story of the Irvington Food Pantry. The Rev. Gregg Mast, pastor of Second Reformed Church, will discuss the Biblical mandate of the theme.

Others assisting in the service will be Eleanor Brower, Ruth Wood, Gertrude Hoffman, Frances McCallum, Mickie Schmidt and Corky Deckert. Ethel Rubsam is chairman of the celebration. Church Women United "has a long history of addressing the causes of social injustice and taking part in the political process to accomplish its goals of empowerment of women, economic justice, human rights, and peace. It is a national movement and the catalyst that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one 'community of caring.' Representing a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background, these church women work ecumenically through a national unit, 51 state units, and 1800 local units, one of which is the Irvington unit."

THE CHURCH WOMEN United of Roselle-Roselle Park will celebrate May Fellowship Day May 3 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Galloping Hill Road and Park Avenue, Elizabeth, at 12:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Alma Hill of the Henry J. Austin Health Center, Trenton, one of the New Jersey Church Women United State Projects. Ethel M. Pulley, president of the local Church Women United Unit, will welcome the group. Louise Fitzgerald is in charge of the program, and the women of St. Paul's are in charge of the luncheon. The Rev. Frederick W. Spreen, pastor of St. Paul's, will give the invocation.

THE GRACE LUTHERAN Church, Vauxhall Road, Union, will hold a paper drive May 4. A trailer will be parked on the lot for the papers.

Stewart impressive at Rutgers Relays

Union's Tony Stewart made his presence felt at last week's Rutgers Relays in Piscataway. He was the only high jumper in New Jersey to place in the top five in the event, winning a medal for a 6-4 jump, good for a fourth place tie. Also, Eric Renkoff placed fourth in the pole vault with his best vault this season, 12-6.

The Farmer tracksters placed fifth out of a 26-team field at the Morris Hills Relays with 15 points. The shuttle hurdles relay team of Stewart, Andre Bowers, Gary Mobley and Dan Waldron won the event in 1:03.6.

Bowers, Mobley and Waldron also teamed up to finish second in the intermediate hurdles relay in 2:58.7, while Stewart, Mobley and Todd Simonson finished third in the high jump relay at 17.2.

Fifth places went to the discus team of Phil Vigeant, Jeff Barber and Joe Jelovcich, and to the javelin team of Simonson, Vin Rosano and Sean Dillon.

Union's 4 x 800 meter relay set a school record of 8:42, with Bowers, Chris Rinaldi, Joe DiNapoli and Chris DiGesù competing.

In the lone dual meet last week, the Farmers took first place in all but four events in an 89-42 romp over Cranford. UHS is now 4-0 in dual meets.

Waldron won the 400 intermediate hurdles, Les Dixon the 100 and 110 high hurdles, Rob Trinkler the 400, Steve Kraus the 3200, Barber the shot put, Price the discus, Dillon the javelin, Renkoff the pole vault, and the 1600 relay team of Rinaldi, DiGesù, Waldron and Eric Frenchman also came out on top.

The boys team met Linden this past Tuesday and will meet Scotch Plains this Monday in dual meet, and in between is a trip to Philadelphia's Franklin Field for the prestigious Penn. Relays tomorrow and Saturday.

The Union girls team also came up big last week, setting two school records. At last Saturday's Morris Hills Relays, a new record was set by the 4 x 800 relay team of Alicia Hennessy, Liz Sokalski, Julie Zilberberg and Tara Knighton in 11:36 (the old mark was 11:51).

Also falling was the record in the distance medley, when Union's team of Sokalski, Knighton, Zilberberg and Hennessy ran the event in 15:17 at last Thursday's Rutgers Relays.

In the lone dual meet, Union lost a 75-23 decision to Cranford. Knighton was the only first place finisher for the Lady Farmers, winning the 100 meter hurdles. UHS now stands 3-1 in dual competition.

Union met Linden this past Tuesday and will compete at the Summit Relays this Saturday.

Other girls relay teams did well last weekend. Roselle's intermediate hurdles relay team of Cheryl White, Altiece Rogers and Angela Williams captured first in 3:38.4 at the Highland Park Relays, while Dayton's girls finished eighth at Morris Hills, with the javelin team of Lorraine Macias placing first with a combined throw of 201-5.

Local runners shine at UCC mini marathon

It was a perfect day for running, and more than 300 persons took advantage of it as they participated in Union County College's first annual mini-marathon and fun run held recently at the Cranford Campus and Nomahegan Park.

The course proved to be a delight to all who ran, but Mariann Zaranka of Rahway liked them most of all. The 29-year-old runner won the women's division of the one-mile "Fun Run" and placed second in the women's five-kilometer race, trailing 13-year-old Tracy Smith of Newark.

The 3.1 mile men's race was won by Carlos Martin of Newark, while Ronald Fritz of Roselle placed first in the "Fun Run."

Martin, the fastest runner in the 5k field, covered the course in 15:48 followed by Roger Price of Piscataway and Michael Ruggio of Princeton. The 13-year-old Smith, winner of the women's bracket, finished the course in 19:35.

The course was no stranger to the women's division third place finisher, Traci Karr of Springfield. Karr is a student at Union County College and a member of the College's cross country championships in Twin Falls, Idaho, earlier this season.

Fritz, a senior at Abraham Clark High School, Roselle, headed the field in the one-mile event with a time of 4:12.

The race was the opening event in the week long Community College Week at Union County College.

EHS top seed in UCT baseball

With a strong offense and good pitching, there was little doubt that Elizabeth would receive the top seed for the upcoming Union County baseball tournament. And they did.

The Minutemen received the nod at Tuesday's seeding meeting, followed in order by New Providence, Johnson, Rahway, Westfield, Union, Cranford and Summit.

Preliminary round action begins this Saturday with St. Mary's playing at Linden and Brearley at Hillside, both at 1 p.m. On May 4, all local teams swing into action with the St. Mary's-Linden winner playing Elizabeth, the Brearley-Hillside winner playing New Providence, Roselle at Westfield, Dayton Regional at Union and Roselle Park at Cranford.

Action continues each Saturday until May 18, when the semifinals will be played at 5 and 8 p.m. at Union's Swanstrom Field and the finals will be May 26 at 7:30 at Memorial Field in Linden.

In last week's action: BREARLEY REGIONAL. Roselle Park's Gene Mirabella pitched a four-hitter, striking out eight Bears for the 8-1 win. Dennis McCaffery belted a three-run homer in the fifth inning for the Panthers. Phil Laferrera, who smacked two hits, smashed a solo homer in the fifth for Brearley.

On Saturday, Brearley lost its first game of the Glen Ridge Tournament when Glen Ridge rallied for two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to beat the Bears, 2-0. Paul Vinges singled home Brett Crabtree and Rob Kelly for the game-winning RBI's. Laferrera was the hard luck loser. He allowed just five hits, striking out five and walking two. On Sunday, the Bears lost a close one to West Orange, 4-3, in eight innings. Rick Levens clubbed a leadoff homer in the bottom of the eighth to give his team the victory. Freshman Mike Chalenski, who suffered his first loss in three decisions, struck out eight and walked two. Chris Cordoso, Kevin Cullen and Chris Coccia each had two hits for the Bears. The Bears played at North Plainfield this past Tuesday, play host to New Providence today and play at Middlesex this Tuesday.

ROSELLE. Immaculata scored seven times in the seventh inning to defeat Roselle, 16-8. Angelo Parenti and Mike Frauenheim each belted a two-run double in the frame. Roselle played at home against Roselle Catholic on Tuesday, plays at Hillside today and at Edison Tech on Monday.

DAYTON REGIONAL.

Vinny Sabba belted a two-run homer and Al Moller a solo shot to spark Johnson Regional to a 5-0 victory over the Bulldogs. Todd Richter cracked two hits for Dayton. On Monday, the Bulldogs lost to North Plainfield, 17-4. Last Tuesday, Dayton played at Hillside, today at Governor Livingston. Monday and Tuesday the Bulldogs play host to Madison and Roselle, respectively.

IRVINGTON.

The Campers lost a tough contest to Kearny last Wednesday, 6-4. Steve Stuart hit a sacrifice fly in the third inning which put Kearny on top for good. Irvington managed six hits, including two each from Mike Dixon and Solley Sellers. On Saturday, the Campers played host to Seton Hall Prep and lost, 12-8. The two teams combined for 20 runs on 19 hits and 14 errors.

Lasher did not allow Irvington a hit over the final three innings, fanned six and walked two to earn his first win of the season.

UNION.

Last Wednesday, the Farmers were upset by Linden, 6-5. Mike Zdziarski led off the game with a home run for the Tigers. The ball bounced on the top of the fence and out of the park. Winning pitcher Anthony Principato, who struck out six and walked four, survived Union's three-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning. Fran Gallagher pitched a six-hitter to lead the Farmers to a 8-2 victory over Irvington last Monday.

ROSELLE PARK.

Paul Mirabella fanned eight and walked two to lead the Panthers past Brearley, 8-1. Dennis McCaffery hit a three-run homer in the fifth inning to pace the attack.

LINDEN.

Bill Hasko singled in a run in the seventh inning to give the Tigers a 6-5 upset victory over Union. Zdziarski led off the game with a home run. Brian Tevlin also homered for Linden. Last Monday, the Tigers were shutout by Union Catholic, 2-0.

UCT softball tourney begins Saturday

It's that time of year again for local softball followers. The Union County Tournament officially begins this Saturday with the preliminary round, and will continue every Saturday until the semifinals May 17 and the finals May 24, both under the lights at Linden's Memorial Field.

And the local teams expected to challenge for the top honors are Union, which won the tourney two years ago and is currently undefeated; Roselle Park, county titlist in 1982 and always considered one of the county's top teams and Dayton Regional, which upset Union in the semifinals a year ago before falling to Westfield in the finals.

Those three, along with Westfield, have to be considered the early favorites to reach the county semifinals this year. The seedings, which took place last night, will determine the pairings. Also ready to see action in the UCT are Roselle and Brearley, both of whom are likely to play this Saturday in the prelims. It should be another good tournament.

In last week's competition: UNION HIGH. The Lady Farmers upped their mark to 6-0 by winning three times last week. In a 14-0 romp over Linden last Wednesday, Dianne Lutz fired a three-hitter for the win. She had LHS hitless until the fifth. Andrea Peters led the Union attack with a single, double, triple and three RBI's.

Union also defeated Scotch Plains and then this past Monday, rolled to a 12-2 victory over Irvington. Peters fired a two-hitter, walked five and struck out eight. The Lady Farmers broke open a tight game in the seventh by scoring eight runs, three on Kim Miller's triple with the bases loaded.

This week, Union met Plainfield yesterday and will host Rahway tomorrow at home at 3:45. Then comes a key Watchung Conference showdown at Westfield this Monday before the week concludes with a home contest with Kearny next Wednesday.

DAYTON REGIONAL.

The Bulldogs had a tough week, capped by a 4-2 loss to North Plainfield this past Monday. They also fell 5-1 to Clark's Johnson Regional as the Crusaders scored five times in the sixth off Sharon Kutsop to overcome a 1-0 deficit. Michele Coddington's single in the fourth scored the only Dayton run. The only win last week was a 5-0 decision over Roselle Catholic.

BREARLEY REGIONAL.

The Lady Bears also had a difficult week, losing twice. They lost to Bound Brook, 13-1, as they were held to three hits by Robbie Pazen. Then Brearley was defeated by Roselle Park, 10-2.

After playing at New Providence today, Brearley will be at Johnson this Monday and then host Middlesex this Tuesday at 4 p.m.

ROSELLE.

The Lady Rams dropped both contests they played last week, 9-1 to Governor Livingston and 13-1 to Immaculata. They met Roselle Catholic this past Tuesday and will end the month with three straight home games: today against Hillside, tomorrow against St. Mary's and this Tuesday against Dayton, all at 3:45.

ROSELLE PARK.

The Pink Panthers remained on a tear last week, winning all four of their games: 18-0 over St. Mary's, 22-0 over Hillside, 10-2 over Brearley and 9-0 over Johnson. Park has now won nine in a row since losing the opener to Cranford.

Against St. Mary's, sophomore Lisa Dragon fired the third no-hitter of her career, walking two and striking out four. Karen Antonucci, Paula Goldberg, Carolyn Hazlehurst and Cathy Finizio each drove in two runs.

Park hosted New Providence this past Tuesday, then will entertain Manville today and Bound Brook this Tuesday, all at 4 p.m.

LINDEN.

After opening the season with a win over Plainfield, the Lady Tigers have struggled, losing six straight.

IRVINGTON.

Losses to Kearny (15-5) and Union (12-2) made last week a difficult one for the Lady Campers, who saw their record drop to 2-5.

Hannisch coach of year

Pat Hannisch, coach of the Kean College women's basketball team, was named coach of the year for Division III by both the New Jersey Collegiate Basketball Coaches Association and the New Jersey Basketball Writers Association. This is the third year in a row that Hannisch received both honors. In addition, her squad was named the team of the year by the coaches association. That award was also for the third year in a row.

"I think all these awards reflect well, not only on the basketball program, but on the players individually," Hannisch said. "We are fortunate to have players who are talented and have the desire to excel." The team, which was 23-5 this season, has a record of 73-10 over the past three years.

Gymnastic meet slated for Rutgers

The superb artistry of rhythmic gymnastics will be coming to the Rutgers Athletic Center in Piscataway this weekend when the nation's best compete at the 1985 United States Gymnastics Federation (USGF) championships of the USA.

On the line will be national titles for junior and senior rhythmic gymnasts in the all-around and individual events in rope, ball, clubs and ribbon. The all-around national champion in the junior and senior divisions will be determined this Saturday, with the top eight seniors and top six juniors in each event meeting for the individual event titles on Sunday, as well as the national group routine winners.

A group routine is composed of six rhythmic gymnasts performing a synchronized routine with three balls and three hoops. Because of the different levels of group routine skills in the United States, groups with varying degrees of skills have been placed in separate developmental categories. The highest level groups will be placed in category A and the national group routine champion will be determined from this category.

Every two years the five competition apparatus (rope, ball, hoop, clubs and ribbon) are rotated because only four are used in the all-around competition. This year, the rope will be brought back into the all-around and the hoop will be dropped. In group competition this year, the rope has been replaced with the ball.

Tomorrow's sessions begin at 2 and 7:30 p.m., as does Saturday's. Sunday's finals will begin at 2. Ticket prices are $3 per day for adults and $2 per day for students, children and senior citizens.

Season tickets for all seven days (three practice, four tournament), plus a possible playoff, as well as coupon books, are available through the championship office at Baltusrol. Clubhouse tickets are still available. Further information may be obtained by calling 467-4653.

Exciting contests in Suffragette league

In Union Suffragette Softball League play last weekend, most of the games were either very close or decisive. But the one thing all of the games had in common was excitement. Here's what happened:

SENIOR DIVISION

ARIES 11, COMETS 10

For the second week in a row the Comets lost in extra innings by the score of 11-10, this time to the Aries, who had to come from behind twice to claim the victory. The Aries' Michele Karabin belted a grand slam home run and also had the game winning hit. Liz Robinson, Laura Poland, Marcy Nagel, Jody De Sena and Kathy Anderson all come through with key hits in helping the Aries to their second win of the season.

The Comets' Amy Kinder had a good day with three hits and Marlena Montes de Oca also had three hits, including a triple. On defense, Debbie Bulwin made four outstanding plays.

AQUARIANS 12, CAPRICORNS 2

Carrie Collins pitched a great game, holding the Capricorns to just seven hits. Collins also made a great fielding play in the fifth inning to rob Tracy Garbinsky of a hit that would have scored two runs. Tracy Ahern and Kira Baskerville each had two hits for the Aquarians.

For the Capricorns, Connie Barsky had three hits including a double and a triple and Kelly Kuldaneck had two hits and scored a run. On defense, Sue Detjen played an outstanding game at shortstop, while Debbie Catino was excellent at first base.

IN OTHER SENIOR DIVISION GAMES:

SCORPIONS 22, GEMINIS 9

PISCES 26, VIRGOS 11

ZODIACS 16, LIBRAS 0

JUNIOR DIVISION

POLITICIANS 11, HOMEMAKERS 10

Robin Powell hit two home runs, including a three-run homer in the bottom of the sixth to tie the score as the Politicians came from behind for the victory. Barbara Bonardi also homered for the Politicians and Beth

BONARDI DROVE IN THE WINNING RUN. FARMERS 29, PROFESSIONALS 4

Shannon Schmitt struck out 10, hit a home run and drove in seven runs to lead the Farmers to victory. Bridget Kubis also drove in seven runs with three triples, while Lisa McMahon had a triple with five RBI's and Marilyn Jacobs went five-for-five with seven RBI's and played an outstanding game at first base. For the Professionals, Michele Espiritu went three-for-four and Alfie Grasso three-for-three.

SCHOLARS 22, COMPETITORS 4

Linda Binder homered and pitched a strong game for the Scholars' first victory. Sue Edwards and Nicole Petkov also homered for the Scholars, while good defensive play by Carol Restivo and Chris Gerrity prevented the Competitors from having big innings. For the Competitors, Jane Caruso had four hits, Ellen Robinson and Jenny Barnes two each, while Cheryl Brown and Donna Lloyd played well on defense.

INVENTORS 11, EXPLORERS 5

Pitcher Nancy DiGesù won her second game for the Inventors, while Kristin Alvarez and Karen Mollach both hit triples and Michelle Simonini had a double. Jaime Frank, Jennifer Currid and Jennifer DeJura played well defensively. For the Explorers, Carol Cifelli struck out five and had a home run, Alison Heady had a triple, while Stefanie Gatto three singles and combined with Suzanne Bove on a double play.

RESEARCHERS 12, DIPLOMATS 11

For the second week in a row, the Researchers had to come from behind to win. In an exciting game, Michelle DeMarco started the game, but Andrea Liento came on in relief to save the victory. A grand slam home run by Patti Brooks and home runs by Nancy Novobilski and Julie Liloia provided the offense for the Researchers. Heather Wishart, Nicole Cavanaugh and Tracy Smith each had four hits for the Diplomats.

JUDICIARIES 30, ENTERTAINERS 24

Kelly Brandyberry, Michelle

Segal and Raquel Segal each had five hits to lead the Judiciaries to victory. Brandyberry also made an outstanding catch to squelch an Entertainers rally in the top of the sixth inning. Christina Bianchi knocked in three key RBI's in the bottom of the fifth, while Jennifer Goodman, Frieda Behrens and Diane Collins each had four hits to contribute to the win. For the Entertainers, Adrienne Vibbert had a triple, Christine Caravano a double which knocked in three runs and played well in centerfield.

Girls cage camp set

The ninth annual Kean College girls basketball camp will be conducted from June 24-28 on the grounds of the East Campus in Hillside. The week-long event, which will be under the guidance of Kean coach Pat Hannisch, will be available to girls age 10 and over.

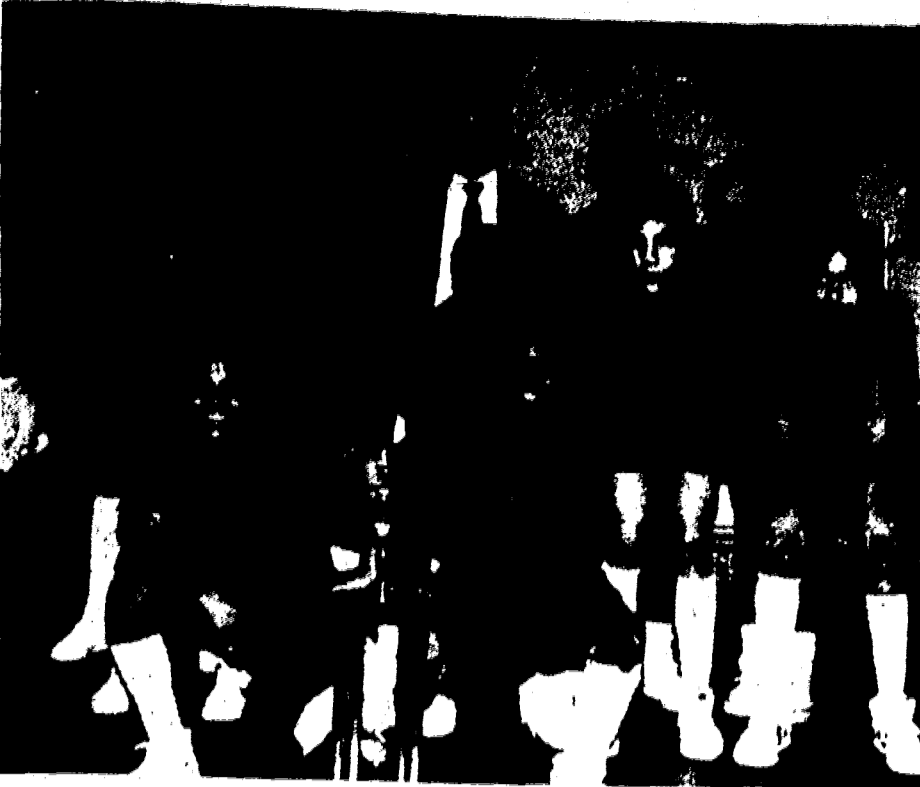

Hannisch, who led Kean to three consecutive Jersey Athletic Conference and two Atlantic Regional titles, will be joined by former Kean standout Angela Mazella, Rich Wilson and Kathy Matthews.

Mazella is presently the associate director of athletics and coaches basketball at Wagner College in Staten Island, while Wilson is returning for his eighth year of participation in the camp. The former Kean player is also an assistant coach under Hannisch. Matthews has compiled a nine-year record of 180-54 as head coach of the Union Catholic girls.

"Our camp has been very successful and we're looking forward to working in the newly renovated facilities at the East Campus," said Hannisch, who is also the associate director of athletics at Kean.

The camp, which has been filled to capacity during the past few years, will focus on mastery of the fundamentals through individual instruction. Further information may be obtained by calling Hannisch at 527-2435.

Third row, Reggie Webb, Reggie Jackson (tournament MVP), Clinton Beriont, Antoine Allen and Brian Settle.

Union's Tracy Young gains top court honors

The awards keep pouring in for Tracy Young of Union, Union County College's basketball player. The sophomore sensation for the Lady Owls added the 1984-85 District Six Kodak all-district team award to her collection.

The Kodak all-district team is comprised of players from New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The award is given by the Executive Board of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

Young joins one other Garden Stater on the squad, Lisa Brown of Essex County College in Newark.

The sophomore transfer from Stetson University in Deland, Fla., averaged 12.3 points and 13 rebounds per game for the Lady Owls. Young was also credited with 44 blocked shots in 23 games for UCC. The women's basketball team posted a 22-8 record and reached the semifinal round of the Region 19 tournament.

Young was named to the all-Region 19 first team, the Region's all-tournament team, and cited for her fine play when she was named to the first team all-Garden State Athletic Conference, plus the New Jersey College Basketball Writers and Coaches Association all-state team.

The voting for the all-district team is done by the Executive Board of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association of which Fred Perry of Union County College is a member. Young becomes the first UCC player ever selected to the team.

Campaign opposes aid to Contras

The Springfield-based New Jersey Jobs with Peace Campaign has expressed strong opposition to President Reagan's avowed intention of continued funding of $14 million to support the Contras in Nicaragua.

The organization was supported by the N.J. Coalition for Peace Jobs and Justice at a recent press briefing in Elizabeth on the federal budget priorities. The Rev. David Burgess, former Foreign Service officer, cited prior knowledge of how the CIA operated. "The death, rapes and mutilations of the civilian population by a bunch of brutal terrorists should not be funded by our tax dollars. As in Vietnam, civilians, including women and children, cannot be separated from their armed defenders. This is a tragic reminder of the futility of using military means to solve political problems."

"The specter of ever-expanding involvement of U.S. resources and armed services in funding elements in Nicaragua who violate human rights diverts our tax resources and the attention of the American public from the problems which threaten the real security of the nation — unemployment, industrial decline and cutbacks in education, health care and human services.

"We call on our government to take heed of these domestic priorities and in foreign policy to promptly adhere to international law and the principle of non-intervention in the internal affairs of other countries."

The Jobs with Peace Campaign offers the citizens of the state alternatives to create jobs by eliminating those funds now being used to fund intervention abroad as in Central and South America.

As part of the "peace budget" for New Jersey, according to the campaign, more than $600,000 could be diverted from aid to repressive governments known to violate human rights into job creating programs and services to help the elderly, poor and homeless who now number 10,000 to 20,000 in New Jersey.

"This would be part of a total of $3 billion as New Jersey's share of savings of a 20 percent cut in military spending (also eliminating fraud, waste and abuse and first-strike nuclear weapons)," said Burgess.

"Furthermore, if deficit reduction were to be achieved through reduced military spending, we would have a more humane foreign and military policy and more money for people in the middle and lower end of the economic spectrum."

Dance, dance, dance

The Kathleen Louise School of Dance on Mountain Avenue, Springfield, was the site of the taping of a cable television series last week. Clockwise, from left, are Debbie Ferentchak of New Providence, rear, and Jennifer Keating of Summit, front, showing some basic dance steps; Julie Vergamini of Westfield, Holly Keehn of Springfield, Elva-Marie Nugent of Mountainside and Debbie Ferentchak of New Providence, going through a dance routine; Jill Stambaugh of New Providence, an assistant instructor reminding the dancers to 'smile'; and the whole crew on the TV monitor at the end of the show. The show, 'Kathy's Cable Kids,' made its debut Tuesday. See story on Page 2.

'Cable Kids' step out

National Dance Week, to be observed next week, has special meaning this year for 21 students at the Kathleen Louise School of Dance on Mountain Avenue, Springfield. "Kathy's Cable Kids" made their debut Tuesday on Suburban Cablevision's Channel 32 and will be seen every Tuesday at 7:05 p.m. for the next several weeks.

Kathleen Renna, owner of the studio, designed the instructional show, which includes dance exercise from fundamental through completed dances with a cast of 21 beginner to advanced students between the ages of seven and 17.

"Each show was filmed with an original concept directly from the dance studio in theatrical, entertaining style while still being educational," Renna said.

"For some it's a hobby and an after-school activity. Others aspire to be professional."

The TV series was taped at a Manhattan studio as well as at the Springfield studio, where the final segment of the series was taped April 16.

The dance students are featured in each show as performers as well as demonstrators for Renna's instruction. The purpose of the series, according to Renna, is not to encourage kids to become professional. She said her objective is to inspire children of all ages and economic backgrounds to gain "a positive and self-confident approach to other life endeavors.

"The shows inform, entertain and motivate," she said, adding that "belief in their achievements adds further dimension to a child's growth. The program encourages and motivates children to enjoy and participate by watching children just like them."

The project is sponsored by the Kathleen Louise School of Dance and the parents of Cable Kids under the direction of Renna's Theatrical Enterprises. Renna, the owner of Dancewear Unlimited on Stuyvesant Avenue, Union, plans to apply for a 1986 cultural grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Included in the TV series will be the three numbers from the play "Annie" which Kathy's Cable Kids performed in front of the Union Township Municipal Building during the Christmas holidays.

Kathy's Cable Kids are Springfield residents Holly Keehn; Tifane Visitation, Jodi Kloud and Tanya Levi; Elva-Marie Nugent and Patty and Paula Kukan of Mountainside; Pam Nehler of Union; Debbie and Nancy Ferentchak of New Providence; Summit residents Jennifer Cohen, Lisa Hatem, Blythe Henwood, Jennifer Keating and Meghan McLynn; Shannon Meyers of Maplewood; Short Hills residents Dana Middlemark, Lyssa Lyles, Kristyn Naporano and Amanda Riedel, and Julie Vergamini of Westfield.

Astronomers plan 'to have their day'

Presidents have their "day" and so do patron saints. Astronomers will have theirs Saturday when International Astronomy Day will be observed by astronomers around the state, including members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., at the Sperry Observatory at Union County College. Astronomy Day's purpose is to make the public more aware of astronomy and space science and to call attention to the observation facilities available in local areas.

In their 36th year of promoting interest in the science of astronomy, AAI invites all skywatchers—experts and budding astronomers alike—to join them at the observatory between 1 and 9 p.m., according to Frank Biribauer of Chester, president of the amateur group.

"It is a fine opportunity for you to learn about your local observatory, the only one in New Jersey that is open to the public on a regular basis," Biribauer said.

"Many people don't realize that daytime observations of the skies can be most memorable through our refractor telescope which is now fitted with the Daystar 75 Angstrom Solar Filter, and, come evening, there is a variety of planetary and deepsky objects available to all who wish to look through the reflector 'scope,'" the AAI president pointed out.

The Sperry Observatory, located on the College's Cranford campus, will be open to the public during the afternoon and evening to welcome friends and guests, according to Barry Malpas of Warren, vice president and program director for AAI.

Members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc. who jointly operate the Observatory with the college, will be on hand to give brief talks on various celestial topics, answer questions and present slide shows on eclipses, comets and meteors.

A "Star Party" is planned at dusk, if the evening is clear, for viewing through the 24-inch reflector and 10-inch refractor telescopes. There also will be viewing through AAI members' telescopes set up on the observatory grounds as well as through the giant 'scopes in the observatory's twin domes. Qualified observers, who have completed intensive training on the equipment, will assist visitors with the telescopes and describe to them what they are viewing. Those who come are invited to bring their own telescopes and learn how to more fully use them.

In addition to star gazing, there will be a number of computer displays on view as well as exhibits of astrophotography, astro-art and new equipment. There will also be astronomy books, pamphlets and literature available for purchase.

Demonstrations will be conducted on mirror grinding and telescope making, astronomical arts, astrophotography, meteorites, computer astronomy, photometry, historical astronomy and Halley's Comet.

AAI's program is in keeping with the national observance which began in 1978 and was later expanded into an international observance.

Visitors will receive a printed program of events scheduled throughout the afternoon and evening. The program will include a sky chart of what to look for in the evening skies that night.

For further information on Astronomy Day '85, especially at the Sperry Observatory, call 276-STAR, the observatory's 24-hour "hot-line."

PTA Players slate yearly stage show

"It's All Relative," this year's original production by Union's PTA Players, will be presented May 3 and 4 at the Livingston School auditorium on Midland Boulevard beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets, at $3.50 each, can be obtained at the door or by calling 687-8374 or 688-3419. All proceeds from the program are donated to the Union High School scholarship fund.

Members of the cast are amateur actors residing in Union and surrounding communities.

Dance Guild plans program

In celebration of National Dance Week, New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild, Inc. will present a program of various dances on Sunday at 2 p.m. at Union County College in Cranford.

Tickets are $5 and may be obtained at the door or by calling the Guild Business Office at 750-0233.

New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild Ballet Company members, under the direction of E. Laura Hausmann, will present a variety of ballet pieces.

Hausmann is a soloist with the Kathryn Posin and Rod Rodgers Dance companies and is an assistant professor of classical ballet at New York University. She has performed in more than 18 countries throughout the Mid-East, Africa and Europe as a guest of the U.S. State Department of Cultural Exchange. Hausmann received a B.F.A. from the Boston Conservatory of Music and has performed principal roles with the Radio City Music Hall Ballet Company, Anna Sokolow Repertoire, the Boston Dance Theatre and currently dances with Linda Diamond and Co. She currently has more than 600 students in four states and is the recipient of the 1984 President's Award for teaching of the performing arts at New York University. Hausmann is working on the premiere concert of her own dance company to be presented in New York City.

Also on the program is the premiere performance of the newly-formed New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild Jazz Company, under the directorship of Sal Pernice. Pernice is a jazz teacher who is a graduate of the High School of Performing Arts in New York City. He has appeared in many Broadway shows with Joel Gray, Alan Alda and Kaye Ballard as well as national touring companies. Pernice is artistic director of his own "All That Jazz Dance Company" in New York City.

Kitchell cast in '2 Masters'

Patricia Kitchell of Remer Avenue, Springfield, has been cast as "Clarice" in the Major Theater series' production of "The Servant of Two Masters" by Carlo Goldoni and adapted by Jerry Rockwood Wednesday through May 3. The comedy will be staged in Memorial auditorium at Montclair State College, Upper Montclair.

Kitchell has appeared in the college productions of "Uncommon Women," "Fifth of July" and "Beyond Therapy."

Additional information can be obtained by calling 746-9120.

Contest slated for stray pets

A contest for stray pets, sponsored by People for Animals, Inc., will be held on May 5 at 3 p.m. at the Trailside Museum in the Watchung Reservation. The contest and pet fair are being planned in conjunction with "Be Kind to Animals Week."

Only pets adopted from a shelter or pound and rescued strays are eligible to enter.

Registration forms are available by writing to People for Animals, 1052 E. Elizabeth Ave., Linden, 07036, or by calling 374-1073. Deadline for entries is May 1. Registration is limited.

TONY PIEGARO, an experienced groomer, has joined the staff of Club-Pet Kennels, Roselle.

Piegaro was graduated in 1978 from the International School of Animal Arts, and since then has developed his skills as a groomer with a wide base of knowledge and experience of animal care services.

Because of Tony's wide experience, Club-Pet's grooming department now offers standard, custom, and show clipping of all breeds, together with large and hard-to-handle dogs. Cats are also welcome. Piegaro noted that "we never use tranquilizers, only lots of tender loving care and understanding."

THE ERUPTION OF SPRING brings with it a cornucopia of puppies and kittens, a phenomenon which is the focus of two appeals from members of Friends of Animals, Inc. the national animal protection society.

PETiculars

Alice Herrington, president of the group, appealed to all those who have a female dog or cat to have it spayed to avoid producing unwanted animals. "There are not sufficient homes to house litter after litter of puppies and kittens. And in nine cases out of 10 the people who take a pet at the request of a friend abandon the animal in a few months," she said.

A survey conducted by Friends of Animals found that about 14 million abandoned dogs and cats are killed each year in dog pounds and shelters and an equal number die homeless on the streets, according to Herrington.

The second appeal was for the public to stop "impulse acquisition of pets." "The responsibility of pet care is expensive, time consuming, and troublesome," Herrington warned, "and all factors should be considered by the entire household prior to adopting or purchasing a pet."

The non-profit organization offers help with the cost of spaying and wants all prospective pet owners to read its pamphlet "So You Think You Want a Pet." It is available free-of-charge by telephoning toll-free 800-631-2212 or writing to Friends of Animals, Inc., One Pine St., Neptune, N.J. 07753.

TENDER LOVING CARE—Tony Piegaro of Club-Pet Kennels, Roselle, puts the finishing touches on the latest new wave hair style for one of the fussiest of canine customers, a French poodle. Piegaro says that the kennels provides 'tender loving care and understanding' in the handling of pets, without the use of tranquilizers.

Tips on writing from the pros

BY ALAN CARUBA

Who among us does not believe they have a great novel or nonfiction book within us? In truth, America is facing a growing crisis of illiteracy as many among us cannot write or read to effectively undertake any job requiring a basic understanding of written instructions. I believe the number cited is as high as one in four. Still, for the rest of us, a host of books exist to aid us on our way to fame as authors.

"How To Write Like a Professional" ($12.95, Arco) by my friend J.L. Barkas is a good place to start if you have aspirations of being published. It is brief, based on her own extensive experiences as well as interviews with many other professionals and can get you started in the right direction without making the typical start-up mistakes.

"The Hardest Parts: Techniques for Effective Non-Fiction" by Thomas French, a colleague of mine, ($15.95, Lander Moore Books, 13006 Sherbourne, Round Rock, TX 78729) is a bit steeply priced for a softcover, but it too will get you through the questions you'll have on essential elements of writing marketable articles and books. A good beginner's book for sure.

Or are as crazy "as two waltzing mice"? What fun!

On a serious level, more and more of us, not just writers, work from our homes and the ultimate guide to this is now available. "Working From Home" by Paul and Sarah Edwards ($11.95, Tarcher/Houghton Mifflin) is truly an encyclopedia reference for both full and part-timers which covers all aspects of how to do this successfully. This book is a real treasure of information. This one gets four stars from me because I've worked from home for many years now.

An interesting biography of one of America's great authors is John P. Hayes' "James A. Michener" ($17.95, Bobbs-Merrill) who is too often dismissed as second-rate because of his great success with the American reading public. Hayes' biography provides rich insights and for fans of Michener will provide an even greater appreciation.

Three other short biographies are available and deserve mention. They are Jhan Robbins' delightful story of actor Jimmy Stewart's life, "Everybody's man" ($14.95, Putnam), which is surely long overdue. Robbins shows how Stewart's character and integrity flowed throughout his life and his work, lifting him to greatness. "Nat King Cole" ($16.95, Stein & Day) by James Haskins with Kathleen Benson is a wonderful tribute to this gifted singer who died all too soon at age 45 in 1965. Just as with his song, "Unforgettable," Cole's legacy remains with us to today.

Lovers of wine will enjoy Cyril Ray's biography of "Robert Mondavi of the Napa Valley" ($14.95, Presidio Press) which tells the story of this man's devotion to the vintner's art. Mondavi was recently featured on television and has clearly demonstrated that Americans can rival their European predecessors.

Reviews

Probably the best book on non-fiction writing is from Writer's Digest Books ($24.95), the encyclopedic "Complete Guide to Writing Non-Fiction" produced by the American Society of Journalists and Authors. As a contributor I may be a bit biased, but once you've passed the beginner stage, this would be the book to read. Of course, you'll also need your annual edition of the Writer's Digest "Writer's Market" ($19.95) which lists all the many markets to which you can sell your work.

The subject on everyone's mind is always how to get published. Two softcovers cover this subject well. They are "Getting Published" by Gary S. Belkin ($14.95/8.95, John Wiley & Sons, hard and softcover) and the alternative method as covered in "The Self Publishing Manual" by Dan Pynter ($14.95, Para Publishing, POB 4232-57, Santa Barbara, CA 93103-0232).

If you're well along on your career as a writer, you're probably thinking about computerizing and "Magic Writing: A Writer's Guide To Word Processing" by John and Dorothy Stratton ($12.95, Plume/NAL) is surely worth reading before pouring two or three thousand into these infernal machines and their software. This is just a first class review of all the options and problems to be encountered and overcome.

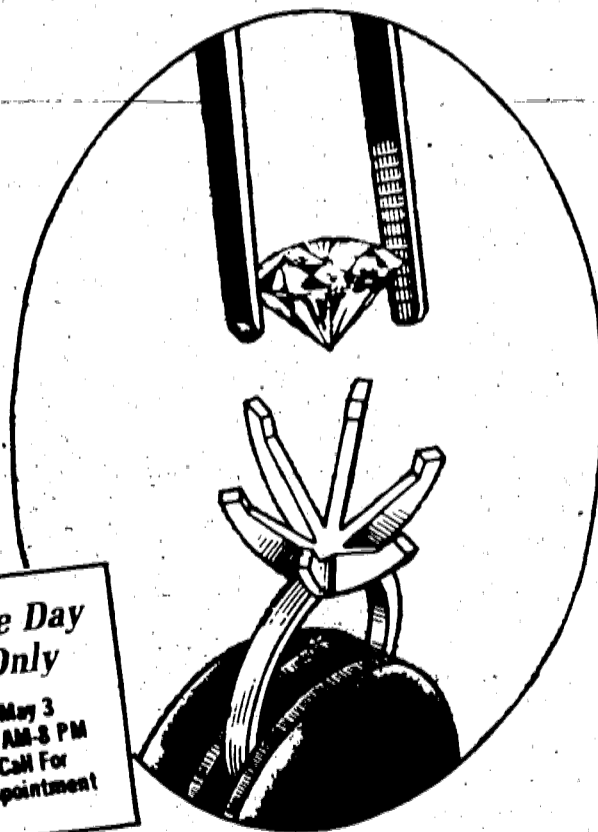

All writers are always looking for similes to describe things. "The Book of Similes" ($7.95, Routledge & Kegan Paul) is a delightful compilation. Instead of saying somebody's agile, why not say they "make a conter feel look arthritic"?

ANTHONY AMALFE of Roselle has been named 'Man of the Year' by the Boys' Town of Italy Inc. Committee of Union County and will be honored tomorrow evening at the group's fund-raising dinner-dance at the Town and Campus, Union. Amalfe, a former mayor of Roselle and Union County freeholder, is chairman of the Union County Democratic Committee. He is a businessman in Elizabeth. The dinner-dance begins at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Disc 'n' Data

By MIL HAMMER

Pick of the LPs. "Body By Jake Don't Quit" (MCA Records).

Brooklyn-born body builder Jake Steinfeld arrived in Los Angeles with a dream of becoming a successful actor. His first performing assignment was with the popular Universal Studios Tour, where he performed "live" as the Incredible Hulk. To help finance his acting dream, Jake formed a small, private company, Body By Jake, Inc., which, for the first time, offered intense personal workouts without sophisticated equipment in the privacy of the home. Needless to say, Jake's revolutionary 30-minute workouts became the rage, making Body By Jake the most successful home exercise service in history, with a star-studded clientele that includes Harrison Ford, Bette Midler, Melissa Manchester and Steven Spielberg, among others.

The company's success opened doors in the entertainment world in more ways than one, including inspiring an album full of powerfully rhythmic songs, "Body By Jake: Don't Quit." While Jake did not compose or perform the music, it is his buoyant spirit and philosophy that guides the record's energetic music. Furthermore, this is not just

Opera scheduled

The Jersey Lyric Opera will present Donizetti's "L'Elisir d'Amore" Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School auditorium, Westfield Road, Scotch Plains. It will be conducted by Fedor Kabalin, directed by Alan Mann and produced by Calire Salcher.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 548-4259 or 233-6825.

an exercise album! "Don't Quit" is a strong, all-star affair, featuring original music written or co-written by the likes of Brit-blues rocker Frankie Miller plus vibrant up-datings of Jackie Wilson's classic "Baby Workout" and Jimmy Cliff's reggae masterwork, "You Can Get It If You Really Want." The title song, with Bobby Caldwell on lead vocals, has already garnered both video and radio airplay, with Jake and brothers prominently featured in the humorous, uplifting video. Also appearing on the album are such renowned Los Angeles musicians as Michael ("Flashdance") Sembello, Andre Fisher, Maxayne Lewis, Kamau Peterson, Joseph Williams and Mark Hudson of the Hudson Brothers.

Jake's original success found him landing roles in the movies "Americathon" and "Cheech and Chong's Next Movie." He will co-star with Jeff Goldblum in John Landis' comedy-thriller, "Into the Night." On television, Jake had starring roles in NBC's "Mr. Success" and the ABC series, "Shaping Up." On the other side of the coin, Jake became instrumental in helping film and television companies keep actors in top shape for such films as "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom," Brian DePalma's thriller "Body Double" and, most recently, the Disney Channel's "Still The Beaver," keeping Jerry Mather's youthful face thin.

Of course, with so much happening, it is only natural that a "Body By Jake" fitness book he released, and the Simon and Shuster publication, a companion to the new record, has quickly climbed to the top of the bestseller lists, hailed by many reviewers as the best of its kind. The book, in turn, inspired an MCA exercise video cassette.

Shawls on exhibit

Twenty-five large, elegant, wool, silk and challis paisley shawls will be on exhibition at the Montclair Art Museum from Sunday to July 31. The paisleys are a recent gift to the museum from Dr. Charles Marshall Robertson Jr. in honor of his parents, Charles Marshall and Anna Marie Robertson.

Between 1808 and 1870, Paisley, a small weaving center southwest of Glasgow, became the principal producer of the shawls. It was here that the finest and most costly of the Kashmir styles were manufactured and sold throughout Europe.

There are three types of shawls in the exhibition: those with a plain center, those with a small pattern of "pips" in the center, and the overall design with elongated multicolor patterns covering the whole shawl. Several of the shawls in the exhibition will be displayed on mannequins dressed in elaborate hoop skirts from the 1860s. In that period, the shawls were worn as outdoor garments, since they were ideal covering for the voluminous hoop skirts, as well as beautiful adornment. The mannequin display is being designed by Julia Berrall, consultant for the museum's costume collection.

Dr. Robertson is dean emeritus and professor of art education emeritus in the School of Art and Design at Pratt Institute, New York. He has been a collector of paisley shawls for many years, largely, he says, because his father and his ancestors lived near the town of Paisley. He has acquired his best shawls in shops in northern Scotland and London and in Hunterdon County, (N. J.), and Bucks County, Pa.

Now's the time for lawn care

Homeowners whose lawns were unsatisfactory last year and wish to improve it this year, should start their care program now, according to Cooperative Extension specialists at Rutgers University's Cook College.

Bare or thin spots in the lawn can be seeded in early spring even if the soil is still frozen. This is commonly known as "frost seeding."

Sowing seed on top of the frozen ground will eliminate the necessity of raking to prepare a desirable seedbed. Mother Nature will do the job. The alternate freezing and thawing of the soil will work the seed into the soil.

As soon as the weather becomes warm, the seed will germinate, and the new grass seedlings will be off to an early start. They will have a better chance with an early start, when they will not be faced with as much competition as they would from later seeding.

Frost seeding is best used on thin lawns or bare spots or on lawns that were seeded in late fall and show need for improvement. It is essential that the bare soil be exposed. If a mat of dead grass covers the soil, it must be penetrated or removed for the frost seeding technique to succeed. Frost seeding is not designed for establishing a new lawn.

Shrub landscaping

Not everyone, however, has time available for maintaining the landscape and grounds around the home. To cut time spent on garden chores, the Extension Service recommends the use of more shrubs.

Shrubs can be planted in many areas around the home. The more you plant the less work that area of your property will need. Once they are established in the landscape only occasional pruning is necessary. Also, in contrast to annuals such as marigolds and geraniums, yearly replacement is not necessary. The average shrubs will thrive in the home landscape for 20 to 30 years.

The following lists describe which shrubs do well in this area and the purposes and places in which they can be used.

Poorly drained areas—Rhodora azalea, swamp azalea, American cranberry bush, European cranberry bush, Red osier dogwood, Tartarian dogwood, Inkberry, Winterberry.

Easy care shrubs—For those who don't have green thumbs, Arborvitae, Barberry, Chokeberry, Red osier dogwood, Tartarian dogwood, junipers, (several types), Mock orange, Common Flowering Quince, Privet, Spirea, Viburnum, Winged Euonymus, Yew.

Garden spots

Ground covers—Japanese barberry, Compact inkberry, Creeping Juniper, and Japanese White spirea.

Shade tolerant—Azaleas, Red osier dogwood, Tartarian dogwood, Euonymus, Holly, Hydrangea, Privet, Rhododendrons, and Yews.

Information on shrubs and landscaping is available by sending a stamped-self addressed business size envelope to Union County Cooperative Extension Service, Attention: James Niehnadown, 300 North Avenue East, Westfield, N.J. 07090.

Gardening workshop

The second annual Complete Workshop for the Home Gardener, sponsored by The Reeves-Reed Arboretum of Summit, will be held Saturday, May 4. The day-long event offers a spectrum of 20 courses on gardens and gardening from which area residents may choose four.

The New York Botanical Garden, Old Westbury Gardens, the Tyler Arboretum, Rutgers University, and Summit area experts will conduct the courses.

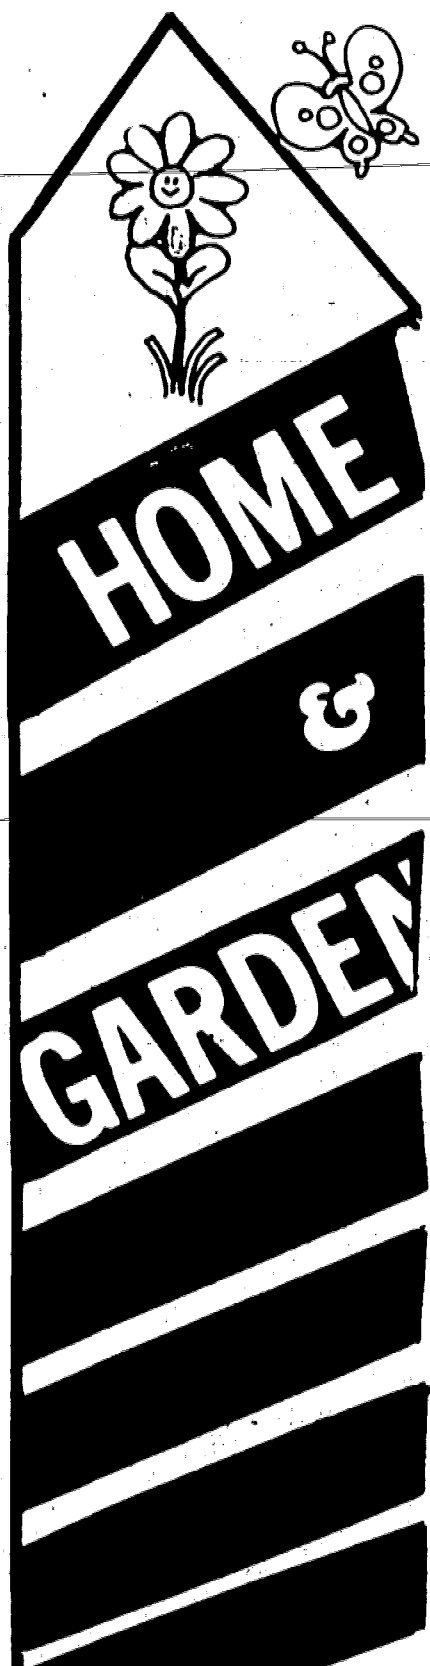

Container gardening, gardening in limited space, joys of designing a garden and selecting plants for the small, more intimate garden will be discussed.

Other courses range from the cultivation of herbs to the natural beauty of the flora of the Pine Barrens, from the practical skills of pruning and use of herbicide to the delicacy of bonsai pruning and Japanese flower arranging.

An extended lunch period will allow time for tours of the gardens and grounds and examination and purchase of gardening books and the latest in gardening tools.

For a brochure detailing the course offerings and a required preregistration form call the Arboretum on Tuesday or Thursday mornings at 273-8787.

UCC exhibit makes a 'winning play'

"Diamonds," the musical revue about baseball that opened in December at the Circle in the Square Theater in New York, is making winning "plays" with the use of photographs, memorabilia and information from a Union County College exhibit on black baseball.

The college's program entitled, "Before You Can Say Jackie Robinson: Black baseball in New Jersey in the Era of the Color Line, 1885-1950," which ran at UCC's Cranford Campus for two weeks last September, was used as the basis for one of the segments of the new off-Broadway show. "Stay In Your Own Back Yard" includes a media show with material supplied by the college. "In my biased way I think it's the piece that clearly holds up the best," Dr. Lawrence Hogan of Fanwood, director of UCC's black baseball project and member of the economics government/history department at the college, said. The number "Stay in Your Own Back Yard" deals with the Negro leagues and the exclusionary line that existed before it was historically broken by Jackie Robinson in New Jersey's Roosevelt Stadium. "The atmosphere created in the theater is very authentic," Dr. Hogan said. "The audience even sits on seats from Roosevelt Stadium," he said. "Diamonds" includes 35 different segments that deal with baseball in a variety of ways. "There's everything from a piece about the idyllic, old-time America of the 1890's and the fascination of that world with baseball, to a Freudian examination of baseball lingo," Dr. Hogan said.

Builders say cost of state's housing spurs 'crisis'

H. Daniel Pincus, president of the New Jersey Builders Association described housing conditions in New Jersey as being in a state of crisis last month at the builders' convention in Atlantic City. He stated that it is the responsibility of all citizens of the state to convince government of the seriousness of this problem.

Pincus blamed the escalating costs of homes on government over-regulation. He quoted a Rutgers University Professor, saying that "redundant and over-regulation accounts for 25 percent of the sales price of our homes today. We've got to tell government that we are tired of these rising costs," he said.

Pincus expressed the fear that the next generation of homebuyers - his children and his children's children - will be unable to purchase homes due to a serious shortage of housing when they enter the market in a few years. "There are places in this state where housing costs are so exorbitant that the people who work in these communities, school teachers, nurses, professors, sales people and others, cannot afford to live there," he said. "I can tell you that people will not remain in this state if housing costs continue to escalate."

In the Rutgers University report, it is stated that over-regulation adds approximately 1 billion dollars a year in consumer spending. "When a builder is delayed and has to consult with many different agencies, for example to build around an area that has wetlands designation, this translates to additional costs for the homebuyer. These delays cost money and it is the consumer who suffers in the end."

The builders association has proposed to the Department of Environmental Protection, that allowance be made for the on-site burial of vegetative and inert construction debris. Pincus maintains that this proposal would serve a dual purpose - it would help to solve New Jersey's critical need for more landfill space, saving up to an estimated 2.5 million cubic yards per year as well as saving homeowners and communities large sums of money. "Transporting and dumping these wastes to landfills is an expensive operation. We have estimated that the wasted space is costing the consumer over one million dollars per month," he said.

The association president stated that the responsibility of housing people in the state is not a "special interest" problem as builders are often described, but rather a problem that every citizen in the state should concern himself with.

Pincus plans to visit civic, community, church and other organizations throughout the year to discuss this problem and other housing-related issues. Any interested organizations may arrange for a speaker by contacting the New Jersey Builders Association at (201) 636-6100.

Condominium sold out

Douglas R. Doerr, vice president of Queen City Savings and Loan Association, has announced the complete sellout of Section 1 of Spring Ridge at Bernards, a condominium now under construction in Bernards Township.

According to Doerr, Section 1 consists of some 72 condominium homes priced from $89,000, all of which were sold before construction. "It happened practically overnight, considering that our pre-construction sales office was open less than three weeks," Doerr said.

Queen City Savings, with over $800 million in total assets, is lead lender for the 1,220-unit townhouse project which is being developed jointly by Lamid Corporation of Parsippany and Lawrence Zarinsky and Affiliates, New York-based real estate investors.

Spring Ridge, which will feature a collection of one and two-bedroom condominium homes in eight separate but architecturally complementary villages, is situated on a 326-acre parcel located on the northwest quadrant of I-78, approximately one mile north of exit 36.

Section 1 is scheduled for completion later this year. Construction has already begun on the next section. Non-binding reservations are being taken.

Hours are 6 to 11 p.m. today; 6 p.m. to midnight tomorrow and 1 p.m. to midnight Saturday and Sunday. Student groups will benefit the booths they run. Thomas Baggstrom of Union, a junior, is chairman of the carnival.

200 Club offering grants

The 200 Club of Union County, a non-profit organization founded in 1968, is offering free scholarships to the sons and daughters of public safety officers in Union County who are high school seniors.

While federally-funded scholarships and loans have been slashed, the 200 Club of Union County is expanding its fund to aid the children of uniformed protectors. The scholarship program was instituted in 1983 to help the children of public safety personnel.

Applicants' parents must be actively serving in the following branches of public safety: police and law enforcement, fire department (including volunteers), volunteer ambulance/first aid squad or state police, in Union County only.
