Time limit set for contractor

By PAUL PEYTON

The borough council has granted the contractor of the Hetfield House project, R. Welsh of and Son of Florham Park, 30 days to complete the project which began when the house was moved, in June of 1985, from its original site on Route 22 westbound to its present site near the Mountainside Public Library.

Borough attorney John Post said he told Welsh that if the project is not completed by the Nov. 1 deadline, any additional charges for completion of the work would be charged to Welsh.

"The serious negative consequences that would result if it became necessary for the governing body to finish the work Mr. Welsh has been obligated to complete under terms of the contract," said Post.

Viglianti pointed out in a construction history report distributed at the meeting, that on Feb. 21 of this year a progress report by Harry Kolb, borough land use administrator, was completed to determine the progress made in regard to the furnace on site and a gas line on the property.

"As of this day nothing has been completed," said Viglianti.

Written correspondences of concern to the council began with a letter to borough administrator James Roberts from Welsh dated March 9 in which the contractor said delays were the result of time needed for project approvals by the council.

"Now that we have the necessary approvals, we can complete the work as soon as weather permits," the letter concluded.

In an April 15 letter from Welsh to Roberts in anticipation of the dedication ceremonies, it was noted that several items would be completed if weather conditions did not interfere.

"If the weather cooperates, I will complete the exterior, painting, including shutters, complete the basement, all pipe work, water service, spread and rough grade the top soil, complete the side porch, remove all debris and have the property cleaned-up for the dedication," said Welsh.

Chairwoman of the Mountainside Historic Preservation Committee, Fern Hyde, said that comments about the contractor did not mention any of the positive things Welsh had done for the project.

"Would you tolerate this in your home?" Viglianti asked.

"The reason I voted no is that Mr. Welsh forced this borough into a contract. In nine years on this council I never would get into a prepaid contract," said Viglianti.

Hyde said Welsh cleaned the entire house in addition to providing a flat bed for the project. She said he also gave the committee a flag to be used for the house.

The council approved goals presented by councilwoman Marilyn Hart to help with the completion of the project. Hart's recommendations included a time line for completion of the house including heat and utilities, building code requirements such as fire and handicapped access and the appointment of an official liaison to represent the committee at the council's January reorganization meeting.

Other recommendations by Hart included lines of communication between committee and council. The councilwoman said she wanted to know who would be in charge of an emergency situation involving the house, to which it was determined that Roberts should be contacted in such a situation.

Another suggestion by Hart included the delineation of areas of responsibility for the council and the committee which would include monthly maintenance, repairs, utility bills, care of grounds and alarms by the council. The historic committee would be responsible for furnishings, interior decorating and record-keeping.

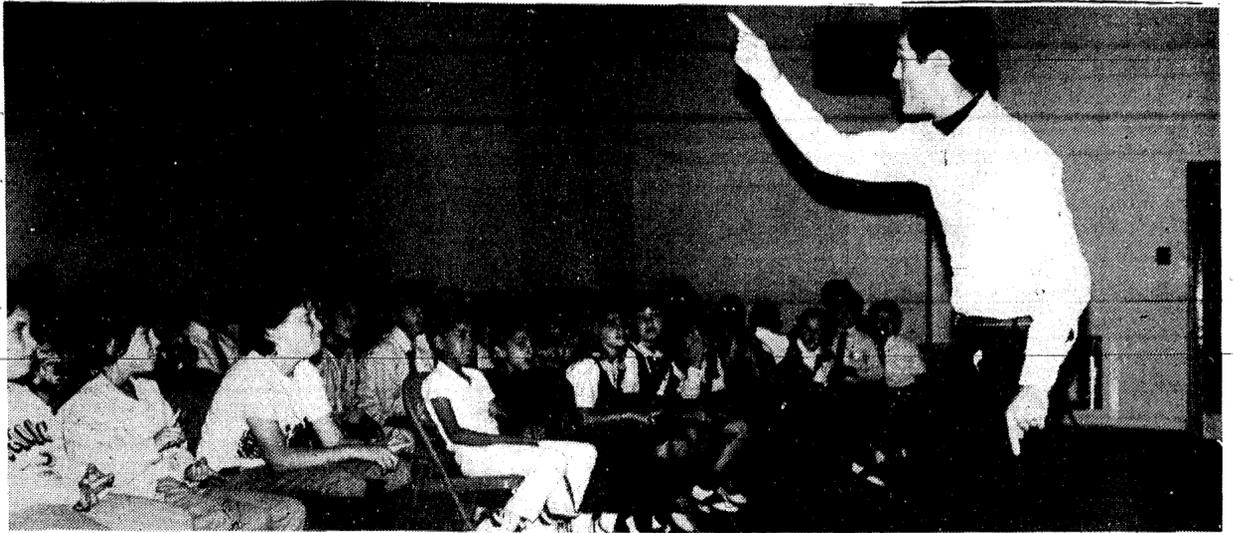

The other two recommendations by Hart included forming a method of handling requests for use of the house for events such as meetings, weddings and boutiques. The suggestions included having the committee give future plans for the house.

Councilman Viglianti suggested that members of the committee should prepare written correspondence for future review by the council.

In other business, the council met with its computer consultant Joe Massin of Datamate Systems Inc./First Byte Corp. located in Englewood, to discuss recommendations for the development of a computer system for the borough.

The council agreed to go ahead and seek state contract prices from the two companies which do business with New Jersey, IBM and NCR, before deciding on whether to open up bidding to outside vendors.

The council agreed to seek figures on only phase one of the project which includes the front office operations of the borough clerk, treasurer and tax collector.

MAESTRO INSTRUCTS—Children from Our Lady of Lourdes and Deerfield schools were given a lesson in perceptual skills in music Friday by the music director of the Westfield Symphony Orchestra at OLL's auditorium. About 120 children from grades 4,5,6 of OLL and grades 4 and 5 of Deerfield participated in the workshop which was taught by Maestro Brad Keimach. The presentation was designed to help develop listening skills in music using a hands on approach. The program gave the children an opportunity to compose and perform a "fugue" using simple themes and variations. The program concluded with the students listening to a Bach 'Fugue' and identifying the themes. Similar programs have been performed by Keimach in elementary schools in Westfield, Plainfield, and Elizabeth and was, also, featured on Cablevision during the past two years. The borough's presentation was made possible by a grant from the Frank and Lydia Bergen Foundation, a First Fidelity Bank trustee. Keimach, who was formerly a member of the Lincoln Center Institute developed aesthetic education programs for schools throughout the metropolitan area.

New sixth grade writing course OK'd

By PAUL PEYTON

The Board of Education has approved a new sixth grade writing course which will be taught as an addition to the regular language arts program presently offered in the sixth through the eighth grades.

At Tuesday's meeting Deerfield School teachers Patricia Kobasa and John Theis, both of whom helped prepare the new program, spoke about the new writing course.

Kobasa said while preparing the new program they took into consideration the High School Proficiency Test standards as well as the present steps of writing taught to children in kindergarten through eighth grade. These steps include: pre-writing skills, revising and proof reading leading up to the final product. Lesson plans were also considered while the course was being drafted.

In addition to these areas, activities involving reinforcement for a writing test or enrichment extension were included in the new course, according to Kobasa.

"We'd rather see this course implemented so that the board can delete things as the board sees fit rather than not having enough material," said Kobasa.

She said writing assignments and general activities could be used as extensions to the course.

Theis said the writing curriculum was written on a day to day basis so that not only would the regular teachers be included in implementing the course, but substitute teachers as well would be able to follow the program.

"We think it's very well diagrammed. It's simple to follow and yet by the same token there's more than ample material and good activities, we believe, written there," said Theis.

The sixth grade writing curriculum reviewed by the board was divided into sections as follows: philosophy, goals and objectives of the program, the actual curriculum, suggested pre and post test for the students, suggestion and lesson plans, writing assignment ideas, additional enrichment activities and a prepared bibliography.

According to the writing curriculum, the goal of the course is for students to "develop the ability to communicate effectively through the use of written language."

"At the end of each grade level 85 percent of the students will demonstrate their ability to write a logical, grammatically correct composition, as measured by tests and composition scored holistically," states the course's writing objective.

Board members expressed their positive feelings about the writing curriculum.

"I'd just like to complement you on this curriculum. I think it's excellent and I was particularly impressed with the enrichment activities and the integration of all physical activities. I think it's a job well done," said board member Dorothy Unchester.

"I find it a very rich curriculum and the size of the bibliography shows their was a lot of research that went into it," said Susan Beasley.

Board president Linda Schneider said she and the board were happy with the course description and said it ought to bring successful results.

"Our thanks to you for what we hope will be a fine implementation of what seems to be a fine curriculum," said Schneider.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Sharon Katz as community relations consultant for the 1986-87 school year effective as of Sept. 20 and appointed Dori Zarr at a salary of $7,000 per year as the new consultant.

Regional board seeking publicity rep

By MARK HAVILAND

Members of the Union County Regional High School Board of Education voted unanimously Tuesday to immediately hire someone to engage in public relations for the board and the district's four high schools.

At the meeting held at David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, board member Fred Soos of Kenilworth made the recommendation to hire someone based on discussions by members of the board's communications committee, of which he is the chairman.

"The committee feels it is very important that we go ahead and hire a full time public relations person," Soos said at the board meeting.

Board member David Hart agreed, noting that several local districts employ someone in that capacity either on a full or part-time basis. After initial discussion that the position be placed on next year's school budget, Hart suggested that the person be hired immediately, explaining that there is money available in this year's budget to do so.

"I think that this is a position that is vital to our school system," Hart said.

After the meeting, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Merachnik said the recruitment search would be turned over to Charles Bauman, the district's assistant superintendent of personnel and administration, who would be accepting applications and who would advertise the position in area newspapers.

Merachnik indicated that there were already applications on file from people who had unsuccessfully sought a public relations position that was recently available in the Mountainside school system.

The regional district encompasses four high schools and six communities. In addition to David Brearley, the other regional high schools are Jonathan Dayton in Springfield, Arthur L. Johnson in Berkeley Heights, and Governor Livingston in Berkeley Heights. Students from Mountainside attend Dayton, and those from Garwood enroll at Brearley.

In other business, the board gave their blessing to 18 students from Brearley to attend an oceanography field trip to Fairleigh Dickinson University Oceanography Laboratory at St. Croix in the United States Virgin Islands.

Students and their parents would foot the $585 per person bill for the trip, which would be from Dec. 11-14. The only cost to the board would be bus transportation to and from Brearley and Kennedy Airport in New York City. The students would be accompanied by Michaela Komarow, Brearley's science department supervisor, and Jerome Mandel, the oceanography instructor at the school.

Several months ago, the two teachers presented a slide show of last year's trip for the board members. Brearley principal Joseph Malt said that several meetings had been held between the teachers, the students involved and their parents, and that the reaction was positive.

Board member Virginia Muskus objected to the resolution on behalf of the students in the class, about 18, who were unable to afford the trip.

She asked Malt why there could not be more fundraising for the trip.

"I am very much concerned about this kind of trip," Muskus said. "This is a lot of money for parents to put out for a trip."

Malt said, "There just is not time for that kind of fundraising. We have never had any objections from parents about this trip."

After the meeting, Merachnik said, "It's a fine opportunity for the kids, we'd like to see them all go."

John Hutchinson, who served as principal for the district's summer school held this past summer at Brearley, reviewed the summer school program which ran from June 26 to Aug. 1. The program is comprised of both original course offerings, and courses for review for students who might have failed one or more classes during the year. Over 425 people enrolled in the program this year, Hutchinson said.

Hutchinson recommended to the board that summer school be continued and that it be held again next year at Brearley.

Freeholders view new hospital plans

By MARK HAVILAND

Architects for the new John E. Runnells Hospital in Berkeley Heights presented drawings and a scale model of the new facility to the Union County Board of Freeholders at their Sept. 25 meeting.

Several representatives of the New York City architectural firm that is designing the new long-term health care facility outlined what health care programs will be available and said that construction of the new facility is slated to begin in May.

"We still have a lot of approvals to go through, but if all goes well, we hope to begin work on the site in May 1987," said Richard Clark, president of Ferrenz, Taylor, Clark and Associates, Inc.

The 175,638 square-foot facility will be built on a 44-acre site owned by the county north of Route 78, although there will be no direct access to the hospital from the highway. It will replace the existing, aging hospital that is located on 65 acres on the south of the highway. The architects and Kathleen Hoza, the hospital administrator, said construction is expected to take 22 to 24 months, and is expected to be completed in spring 1989.

The project cost for the 375-bed facility was set at $16,811,470. The freeholders sold the land of the existing hospital to Connell Rice and Sugar of Westfield to help finance the new hospital.

"This project is going to cost virtually nothing with the land sale," said Freeholder Brian Fahey. Nelson Nordquist, vice president of the architectural firm, said the second stage of the project has been completed and the architects are awaiting the approval of the state Department of Health. Nordquist is personally supervising the new Runnells project.

The architects said the next step is to submit the final working drawings of the project for review to the state.

The facility will include 300 long-term care beds, 25 acute care beds for rehabilitation, a 20-bed psychiatric unit, and 30 beds in an alcohol rehabilitation unit.

News briefs

Free flu clinic planned Tuesday

The Mountainside Board of Health will conduct a free flu immunization clinic Tuesday from 2 to 3 p.m. in the court room of the municipal building.

Annual flu vaccinations are strongly recommended for children and adults who are at increased risk of infections at the lower respiratory tract due to pre-existing health conditions.

Individuals suffering from the following health conditions are urged to receive a vaccination: acquired or congenital heart disease, chronic disorder or condition affecting respiratory function, chronic kidney disease, diabetes, chronic anemia, and conditions or therapy which may lower an individual's resistance to infection.

Those citizens 55 years of age and older who are at an increased risk to medical problems as a result of flu infection are also recommended to attend the clinic.

Cheese, flour distribution tomorrow

The borough's welfare director and coordinator of the commodity distribution program of Mountainside, Fern Hyde, says surplus cheese and flour will be available tomorrow at the Resque Squad Building between 2 and 4 p.m. for eligible residents.

Residents should bring proof of income or participation in the Food Stamp, SSI, Medicaid, AFDC, or GA program. Seniors who do not have proof of income will be allowed to sign a self-certification form attesting to their income.

Guidelines for income have recently been increased. They range from $9,916 for one person to $13,394 for a couple and increased by $3,478 for each additional household member.

Participation in the program is open to all, regardless of race, color, creed, sex, or handicap.

Franks lauds Civil Service reform

A major Civil Service reform measure designed to promote productivity and efficiency in government has been approved by the Assembly and signed into law by Gov. Thomas Kean.

The new law, sponsored by Assemblyman Anthony Villane Jr., replaces the Department of Civil Service with a new Department of Personnel run by a commissioner and a Merit System Board.

"The passage of this bill represents one of the major accomplishments of the Kean Administration," said Assemblyman Bob Franks who represents Mountainside in the N.J. General Assembly. "I strongly supported this bill since it was introduced and, as majority conference leader of the Assembly, worked hard to ensure its passage."

"I am proud that this Legislature has acted to reform an archaic system that has been riddled with disincentives for too long," said Franks. "All sides worked together to identify the problems and the solutions. It was an example of the art of compromise at its very best."

The key provisions of the Civil Service Reform Act include the following: protection to employees from reprisals if they report mismanagement or abuse of authority which does not exist in current Civil Service law; the ability to remove a person from an employment list because of a criminal record; and extending employment lists to a period of three years with a one-year extension to be granted by the president of the state Civil Service Commission if good cause is shown.

"The simple fact is that the old system allowed for chronic absentees to get the same raises as hard-working employees who show up every day," said Franks. "This practice is not tolerated in the private sector. State workers should be judged on a basis similar to that which is used in the business world."

"Similarly, competent managers should not suffer the frustration of having their hands tied in overseeing a staff because incompetent persons are frozen in their positions," Franks continued.

"Morale is an important factor in any worker's performance," said Franks. "Civil Service reform will ensure that our state employees are given the opportunity to perform at optimum levels through a system that recognizes and rewards them for their efforts."

Flagler biography is topic

By ROSE P. SIMON
Florida's Benefactor

One day in 1859, a well which was drilled beside Oil Creek, Pa., changed the flowered meadows into fields of derricks and black scum. Surveying the scene was the young handsome Henry Flagler, who, with John D. Rockefeller, established the Standard Oil Company — America's first industrial giant. By 1879, the company controlled more than 90 percent of the refining capacity in the world — an awesome achievement.

Born in Hopewell, N.J. (1830) into a large family, Henry worked at odd jobs before joining his company in Ohio, when he went into the distillery business. Two important people entered his life: Mary Harkness, whom he married, and John D. Rockefeller — a successful grain merchant for whom he worked for a time.

Flagler bought his way out of the Civil War — a common practice then and lost all the money in the salt business before finally becoming Rockefeller's partner in Standard Oil. He, not Rockefeller, was the wily one whose ideas were influential in making advantageous deals and absorbing smaller competitors. Both were ambitious, pressing on to monopolize the refineries in the East. Their critics made them uneasy, but using some ruthless maneuvers, Standard Oil survived and the "robber barons" became noted millionaires.

During those years, Flagler, whose life was Standard Oil, spent very little time at home where his wife lay ailing. He tried taking her to Florida where it was warmer, but he felt the need to return home to New York City. Mary's illness and loneliness continued until her death in 1881. Then, a new Flager appeared: a bon vivant, partygoer, theater buff, he soon married his wife's ex-nurse, Ida Alice. Now feeling financially secure, he distanced himself from the oil business and was ready to explore new fields. This time he would visit Florida with a new purpose.

Some say that his development of Florida's East coast — a monumental achievement, was his most noteworthy accomplishment. Yet, his modesty never permitted his name to be used in remembrance of his works. The author recounts in detail the results of his vision. He used his own wealth to create an efficient railroad down to Key West, attractive sandy beaches, beautiful hotels — the first — the Ponce de Leon — lovely town, a productive agricultural county, with a self-supporting population, out of an uninhabitable wilderness and noxious marshes.

As he grew older, Flagler became very frail. An accident in his Florida home was responsible for his death in 1913. Celebrated as he was during his life, Henry Flagler was scarcely remembered outside of Florida, this being only his second biography.

Bills to improve foster child care

The Senate Children Services Committee has released two bills, sponsored by Sen. Donald T. DiFrancesco, R-22, which are aimed at improving the quality of care children receive in foster homes.

DiFrancesco said, "New Jersey has 3,000 families who share their homes with approximately 7,000 foster children. The children placed in foster care come from some of the most difficult situations imaginable.

"These are the children of broken homes. They are the victims of physical or sexual abuse or severe neglect. They are infants born addicted to alcohol or drugs. Some of them have AIDS. The parents who take these children in under foster care receive only mandated pre-service training and orientation.

This training just is not enough to ensure that the foster parents are prepared to deal with the magnitude of behavioral problems they will be facing."

"One of my bills would establish a mandatory ongoing training program for all foster parents. The additional skills learned through in-service training would help stabilize placements and reduce the number of foster home failures."

"Children placed in foster care need stability. Placing a child with difficult problems with an inexperienced, untrained foster parent is doomed to failure right from the start."

The bill provides $500,000 to finance the training program, which would include instruction in dealing with an emotionally disturbed or sexually abused child, building a child's self respect, constructive methods of discipline and working with the child's biological parents.

The other bill released by the committee would increase the money the state designates for foster care by $2 million.

"Statistics tell us that people in New Jersey pay more to board their dogs than the state pays for the care of a foster child," said DiFrancesco. "I, as a legislator and father, am not willing to live with that kind of statistic. We owe these children more."

"Compared to what other states pay for foster care, New Jersey is sorely lacking. For example, for a child under five in foster care, New Jersey pays $231 per month to New York's $288. For a child over 12, the New Jersey rate is $289, while New York is $415."

Under the bill, New Jersey's rates would increase so that they are the same as those paid to parents in New York and Pennsylvania.

"Raising our rates would also encourage people to participate in the foster care program. Inadequate reimbursement means that foster parents continue to pay out-of-pocket costs of between $1,000 and $2,000 a year for the foster child in their homes. The foster care program may be losing good people because they cannot afford to spend that kind of money."

Children in foster care are in desperate need of our help, both financially and psychologically. With my legislation, I am trying to give them that assistance."

Red Cross hails volunteers

The American Red Cross held an annual luncheon last month to recognize volunteers with service ranging from one year to 35 years.

Ronnie Costello was honored for 35 years of service, Beryl Marsh for 30 years and Madeline Lauer and Dagmar Finkle for 15 years of service.

Guy Sunny, American Red Cross Field Manager, spoke on the directions Red Cross will be taking this year with the emphasis on health services in the marketplace. Gail Cassidy, executive director, congratulated the staff and volunteers for their excellent service, specifically citing the contributions of Ernest Winter and William Lonsdale, two mainstays of the Westfield-Mountainside Red Cross Chapter.

Tazaki named to vice president post

Victor Tazaki of Springfield was recently named vice president of Brother International, one of the world's largest manufacturers of business, industrial and home-use typewriters, and microcomputer printers, as well as knitting and sewing machines.

Tazaki first joined the worldwide organization in Japan in 1963, before transferring to the firm's Piscataway location two years later as an executive assistant. He is a graduate of Chuo University in Tokyo, Japan.

Koldorf art in East Brunswick show

During October, the East Brunswick Public Library is presenting a unique exhibit of the works of sculptor Irene Koldorf and portrait artist Lawrence Koldorf, both of Springfield. Mrs. Koldorf was artist-in-residence at The Library in February 1985 as part of a project sponsored by the artists' League of Central New Jersey. Her wood, stone and metal sculptures have been seen in numerous shows including the Short Hills Mall and the Summit Art Center annual juried shows and the Washington Square Annual Outdoor show where she has won six awards.

About her own work Mrs. Koldorf says, "To me the excitement of sculpture is in trying to create a movement or feeling in stationary materials. I am most interested in people, in their variety of expressions, stances, movements and shapes. The variety is never ending and I try to catch an instant in time in my sculpture. Each piece is different because I let the original shape of the stone or wood show through."

Exhibiting with Irene Koldorf is Lawrence Koldorf, her son, a portrait artist. Koldorf has had solo exhibitions at the NJIT Center Gallery, Middlesex County College, and the University League of Princeton University. His paintings have been exhibited widely in juried and invitational shows throughout the state and he has completed numerous commissions for private collectors in the New York-New Jersey region.

The library is located in the Civic Center complex off Ryders Lane in East Brunswick. Exhibit hours are Mondays-Thursdays from 9 a.m.-9 p.m., Fridays from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Saturdays from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sundays from 1-5 p.m.

Flu vaccine in Kenilworth slated

The Kenilworth Board of Health will conduct a flu vaccine clinic Wednesday from noon to 3 p.m. at the Recreation Building, 575 Boulevard.

The clinic will be for Kenilworth residents only who are 55 years of age or older. Anyone with chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and chronic disease will be immunized also.

Anyone who is allergic to eggs, egg products, feathers or chickens is advised not to participate in the program.

A donation of $1.00 will be requested.

Dayton notes Poetry Week

Poetry Week in New Jersey is being observed at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School during the week of Oct. 6 to Oct. 12.

The observation was launched on Monday in English classes with the reading of the proclamation signed by Governor Thomas H. Kean declaring this week to be Poetry Week. Among other reasons for setting aside this special time, the proclamation cites that "language is the centerpiece of human culture, and poetry is language in its most exalted, wrenching, delightful, and concentrated form."

Joan Baranow, a poet and resident of New Brunswick, will be at Dayton on Thursday morning, October 9, to discuss how poetry is created. She will also do readings of poems, both hers and those of other poets.

Attendance at the Geraldine R. Dodge Poetry Festival at Waterloo Village will be the culminating activity on Friday, October 10. Such luminaries in the field of poetry as Galway Kinnell, Carolyn Kizer, and Gwendolyn Brooks will present workshops for student poets, do readings, hold discussion sessions, and be generally available to high school students from all over the state.

Dayton students attending the Poetry Festival, believed to be the first event of its kind in the country, include: Kelly Attenasio, John Benigno, Lynn Dahmen, Charlotte Jaffe, Ondine Karady, Amanda Maxemchuk, Elizabeth Post, Susan Lynskey, Nate Zonerach, and Matt Zucker.

Sharpe Realty sells Hersh Towers

Ron Sharpe, president of Sharpe Realty, Inc. of Springfield, has announced the sale of Hersh Towers, an office building at 125 Broad St. in Elizabeth, for $3,350,000. Sales Representatives James Smith and Carol Roman handled the transaction for the Sharpe office.

Sharpe also disclosed that the increasingly active commercial department of the firm closed over 5 million dollars in commercial transactions thus far in 1986.

PEDRESTRIAN SAFETY—The Borough of Mountainside has joined a list of over 50 local communities that have been honored by the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club for achievement in the prevention of pedestrian fatalities and injuries. Mountainside Police Chief William Alder, right, is presented with the 1986 Pedestrian Safety Achievement Award by the auto club's president, Matthew J. Derham. The borough has not had a pedestrian fatality in the past seven years.

It's sale time at the library

It's booksale time again at the Mountainside Library. This year the annual fall sale sponsored by the Friends of the Library will be held Oct. 23, 24 and 25 during the regular library hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. plus 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday.

Thousands of books, paperbacks and records covering subjects from art to zoology and music from baroque to swing will be offered for sale in the library's meeting room. After 2 p.m. on Saturday the public can purchase a paper bag for $2.50 and fill it with as many books as it can hold.

Area residents who have good used books gathering dust on the shelf are urged to donate them to the Friends. Books can be left at the library. Especially needed are recent fiction, mysteries, cookbooks and children's books.

The Friends of the Library voted at their annual meeting in September to apply the proceeds from the booksale and annual memberships to the purchase of a word processor for the library.

Firm taps Augustynowicz

Cryodynamics, Inc. of Mountainside has announced the appointment of Dr. Stanislaw D. Augustynowicz as director of Cryomedical Products, a newly created position.

Dr. Augustynowicz has over 30 years of extensive experience in the fields of refrigeration and cryogenics. Prior to joining Cryodynamics, he was in charge of the product development department of Andonian Cryogenics, Inc. His responsibilities included the research and development, engineering, quality control, promotion and marketing of new products. Dr. Augustynowicz's credits include over 160 technical papers and publications, 12 patents and many scientific awards including two fellowships from the United Nations World Health Organization for the study of the medical applications of cryogenics at the U.S. Public Health Service and both Oxford and Cambridge Universities.

Dr. Augustynowicz received his master's degree in mechanical refrigeration and Ph.D. in technical sciences from the Wrocław Technical University in Poland. He is a member of many professional and honorary societies and is the deputy president of the International Institute of Refrigeration and Commission on cryobiology and medical applications.

Tax course set Nov. 3

The Union County Regional Adult School has announced that it has added an additional course offering for its 1986 Fall Term, a seminar entitled "Tax Reform and You".

The course will be held on Nov. 3, at the David Brearley Regional High School on Monroe Avenue in Kenilworth, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. John Tarantino, currently associated with Merrill Lynch in Westfield, will conduct the seminar.

The seminar will focus on those revisions and regulations that will comprise the new tax code, and will discuss the implications of those changes on individuals. The cost of the seminar is $3, plus a $2 registration fee. Arrangements to participate in the seminar can be made by calling John Hutchinson, Union County Regional District Director of Adult Education at 376-6300, Extension 276.

Rare machinery on display

Harry O'Neil, a collector of rare tools and machinery of New Jersey, will display and demonstrate his collection of 1800s woodworking machinery at the Third Annual Woodworking: Tools Of The Trade Exposition in Westfield.

O'Neil will transfer many of his items from museums to feature at the show Friday through Sunday at the Westfield Armory. The exhibit includes demonstrations of manually operated wood tools and machinery dating back to the period of the Civil War.

Retired, O'Neil dedicates his time towards the finding and restoration of antique woodworking tools of New Jersey. He is a member of the statewide group, Collectors of Rare and Familiar Tools (CRAFT) of New Jersey, whose efforts are dedicated towards the acquisition and restoration of such tools which originated within the state.

The exposition, sponsored by the Force Machinery Company in Union, highlights the best of the old and the new in woodworking, with exhibits and seminars geared towards the industry, contractors, homeowners, and hobbyists. One of the many features of the show include a complete, working cabinet shop on display and in operation. Portions of the proceeds from the show are being donated to the Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside.

Auditions slated

Auditions for active membership in the Musical Club of Westfield will be held Nov. 5, at the home of Marie-Danielle Mercier, 925 Mountain Ave., Mountainside.

Anyone unable to audition on this date or in need of further information, should contact the membership chairman, Elizabeth Gray, 425 Summit Ave., Westfield.

Free advertising?

Every year around this time we are bombarded with campaign releases from candidates for public office.

These releases always pose the same questions: Just how much space should be allotted to them? How much time should staff members spend checking, confirming and clarifying charges made by the candidates? Do our readers depend on these articles when deciding for whom to vote? Do our readers view our campaign columns as a community service or a waste of space?

This year, like many before, we have been faced with cases in which we believe the candidates have "manipulated" us into turning campaign releases into news stories which make them look good; we have been accused of giving certain candidates larger headlines than others, and we have been charged with failing to use certain press releases in favor of others.

Rather than go on and on, we have come up with a policy on campaign releases which we will enforce during the remaining weeks before Election Day. This policy is a compromise between not running the releases at all or doing what three Oklahoma newspapers are doing: charging candidates for space used!

While the news value of a political campaign cannot be disputed, political press releases also qualify as free advertising.

As in the past, all press releases must be in our Union office by noon Monday in order to appear in that week's issue of the paper. Next week's issue, Oct. 16, will be the last issue in which candidates may make charges that warrant a response from an opponent. On Oct. 23, candidates may make their final statements, answering charges they believe must be answered before Election Day, but making no new allegations.

On the following Thursday, Oct. 30, this newspaper will publish interviews with candidates for local office. That issue also will carry our endorsements for local office.

To avoid confusion, Campaign Corner will be labeled as such. It will be noted that statements are those of the candidates, not the staff members of this newspaper. To avoid giving one candidate a bigger headline than another, only the candidate's name will appear at the top of the statement. Only one press release per candidate per week will be published. Releases should be no longer than two typed pages, double spaced. We reserve the right to edit all copy.

Coverage of local elections is an important part of our service to the community. As a community newspaper we have a responsibility to give our readers a fair and objective presentation of candidates for public office, but we will not be forced into giving more time and space to political news than the public wants.

We urge readers to let us know just what they'd like to read about — at election time and any other time of the year.

We believe this policy concerning political releases will result in a fair presentation of the campaign.

Readers — let us know your opinion.

Candidates — we'll gladly publish your releases, if you follow our guidelines.

Ask some questions before selling

By JOEL J. SPITZ

Investors in many equity mutual funds find themselves in the pleasant position of having substantial "paper" capital gains that have grown over past years. Constantly changing market conditions, however, often cause some investors to wonder whether they should sell and realize their profits, rather than risk seeing those gains disappear.

Less fortunate are investors who consider selling because they are actually losing value. Capital dwindles when the fund's net asset value is less than the average price you paid for the shares. Whatever your situation, think about several things before you sell:

First, why did you buy this fund? Presumably it met an investment goal—to provide current income, say, or to produce significant capital growth over the years. If it has been serving that purpose, a cyclical downturn should not be cause for alarm. Moreover, if you've diversified your portfolio, only a portion of your assets are in equity mutual funds. Your other investments — such as CDs, bonds or real estate — were intended to cushion you against a stock market decline.

Keep in mind that a mutual fund investor should be a long-term investor. The average holding period of a fund is seven years. If you are not prepared to invest for at least one full up-and-down market cycle — two to three years, on average — you probably should not be in equity mutual funds. More liquid investments, such as money-market funds or short-term CDs, are a better choice for you.

The most important consideration is the fund's management. If you bought a fund with a good track record in both bull and bear markets, that is evidence that the fund managers weathered previous storms. If you believe the managers can do so again, stay in the fund. You may look upon this as a good opportunity to put more money into it, thus lowering your average price per share. What you should not do is stand pat.

To help yourself make a decision about selling:

Review your investment objectives and goals. If they have been met or if they have changed, you may want to consider selling or exchanging to another fund.

Compare your fund's performance to that of similar funds. You'll find performance rankings in Forbes and Money every few months, or ask your financial consultant, who has access to more frequent rankings. If, for instance, you've invested in an international fund and all international funds are declining at about the same rate, that's less cause for concern than if your fund is dropping much faster.

If your fund has a diversified stock portfolio, compare its performance to the broad market indexes, such as the S&P 500 and the NYSE Composite. If it under-performs the averages frequently, that's a warning signal.

Check your fund's net asset value regularly, but not every day. Checking the price quotations daily is appropriate for someone trading stocks, but not for a mutual fund investor. It's better to look at the price every month or quarter.

Set some loss limits. If the fund retreats 25 percent from its high, either sell — or be very clear about why you're holding on. Remember, a positive decision to hold on means you should consider buying additional shares at the lower prices. Once a fund declines 10-25 percent, start keeping fairly close tabs on it, check its performance against other funds and the overall market, and begin to think about an alternative investment.

If you decide to sell all or some of your shares in a fund, the easiest way is to switch into a related fund. This is one of the strongest arguments for choosing a "family" of funds, which gives you maximum flexibility to move into other funds with no additional sales charge.

State we're in

State turns up new problems daily

By DAVID MOORE

Sometimes I wonder why the New Jersey Legislature ever gets anything done. You'd think that by this time in our state's long history all the laws that need to be invented would already be on the books.

But not so; we keep turning up new problems almost daily with which we must deal. Who would have thought that toxic waste and garbage would take up so much legislative time and attention? At last count, I estimate that some 75 proposed bills on those issues alone have been introduced in either the state or assembly since last January.

Ideas for new legislation comes from all kinds of places. Sometimes legislators think of them. But mostly it's constituents or special interests seeking something advantageous to them that fill up the legislative schedules!

However, some good ideas sometimes poke up through the sea of legislation. Take, for example, a bill (A-2755) by Assemblyman Harry McEnroe of Essex County to deal with the protection of urban aquifers. In this case the area of interest is quite small, just a portion of Essex County. But the fact is there's plenty of water beneath some of our cities. The trouble is we've polluted it, so that it cannot be used.

Some years ago we here at the New Jersey Conservation Foundation studied the natural resources of Newark and made some planning recommendations, should the city decide to revitalize itself. One of those ideas was to put the streams running through the city, now confined to pipes, back on the surface so they would flood in parks instead of in streets and basements.

Another was to study cleaning up a buried aquifer under Newark, so it could be used again. At one time, old-timers may recall, wells tapping that ancient glacial river bed provided the water for a number of Newark breweries. But the brewing industry faded with the water quality.

In any case, we should be paying a lot more attention to ground water resources in this state we're in, be they urban or rural.

Another good idea has been introduced as a bill (S-2233) by Senator John Ewing of Somerset County. It's an amendment to the existing Farmland Assessment Act, and it works like this: So-called rollback taxes are collected when farmland which has been taxed at a preferential rate gets converted to some other use. When that happens, two years of "normal" taxes are collected. The tax is sort of a mild developers' penalty for growing houses on farmland.

Ewing's bill provides that the funds thus garnered be dedicated to open land acquisition in the town in which they were collected. I think that's putting rollback money where it should go—into permanent parkland or farmland. It's a simple idea; why haven't we thought of it before?

Then there's another McEnroe bill (A-2720) which is designed to reinforce the commitment of local governments to the concept of recycling. This one would prohibit the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) from making low or zero-interest loans from the Resource Recovery and Solid Waste Disposal Facility Bond Act of 1985, toward construction of a resource recovery facility, to any county which has failed to demonstrate enough recovery facility, to any county which has failed to demonstrate enough commitment to recycling and the implementation of the State Recycling Plan.

Have you ever thought of a good idea for legislation? If you have, you should let your elected legislators know. Even better, let them know what you like or don't like about any proposed legislation. Legislators say they get surprisingly few constituent viewpoints in the mail.

That's the only way we can keep the vested interests—with all their Political Action Committee (PAC) money—at bay!

David Moore is executive director of the New Jersey Conservation Foundation, a private, non-profit organization.

Yom Kippur Message

Of Rosh Hashanah, our prayerbook says: "Today is the birthday of the world. Today all creations are judged." But the truth is, this birthday begins not on the first month of the Jewish year, but on the seventh month. In the middle of the year. A fact that the ancients did not miss when they assigned "scales" as the Zodiac sign for this season of judgment."

There's much to judge this year. Racial violence in South Africa, the drug epidemic in this country, the specter of nuclear catastrophe which became a reality in Chernobyl, the homelessness and hunger that haunts our affluent streets, and now the renewed passion for terrorism as reflected by the outrage in the Istanbul's largest synagogue. And closer to home, there are the marriages in trouble, the broken families, the loneliness, emptiness, all the broken fragments of our lives — and all the cups which overflow with sweetness.

Everything needs to be judged. For the judging of the Days of Awe provides perspective. It allows us to gain the critical balance we require to make sense and blessing out of our lives. That's why the ancients set this New Year in the middle of the year. Wisely, they choose to do a midway calculation so that they could achieve a mid-course correction. That's our challenge as well.

May 5747 be a year of healing for our troubled world, and of rich fulfillment for all of us.

Howard Massler and Stanley Fink

Howard Massler and Stanley Fink, Republican candidates for Springfield Township Committee, have detailed the "sound management" plank of their 1986 campaign platform. In addition, Massler and Fink jointly called upon the voters of Springfield to elect them so that "the Katz-Pieper platform overwhelmingly endorsed by the voters of Springfield last year can be put into action with our votes."

Massler explained, "Unless we get elected, everything Katz and Pieper were elected to do will be to no avail because they cannot, with only two out of five votes, implement our platform."

Fink stated, "Our first priority if elected will be to put into action sound management practice." Fink cited as an example the proposed expansion of City Hall.

"We all agree we need additional space for the proper functioning of the Police and Fire departments. That is why," Fink said, "Katz and Pieper demanded a written project plan, a project timetable and a cost schedule. Unfortunately," Fink continued, "the Democratic majority did not do their homework and Katz and Pieper refused to give them a blank check." Fink said, "We must expect our Township Committee to do their homework or we pay for their mistakes with our tax dollars."

Fink also warned the voters against what he termed "voting for the personality and not the ability of the candidate." Fink explained "The Township Committee bears the ultimate responsibility for management of Springfield; however, because the members of the Committee have full-time occupations, they only serve as part-time managers." Fink continued, "If a part-time manager does not have the right qualifications, the job will be bungled and mismanagement will result. There is no time for on-the-job training as with other public service activities."

"Only Massler and I," Fink added, "have the background, ability and experience to join the Township Committee and be productive from day one." Fink concluded by stressing that "our qualifications as compared to the Democratic candidates is one of the key issues in this campaign."

"Implementing sound management practice," Massler noted, "starts at the top with the candidates whom the voters put into office. And we," Massler continued, "have already shown the Township what Stan, myself, Jeff and Jo-Ann as a team can do with our initiative and ability." Massler pointed to "our securing on Aug. 7 a commitment from the Republican majority of the Board of Freeholders that no garbage dump or amphitheater would come to Springfield." Massler continued, "After that commitment became law, we went to our state legislators to secure their support." Massler cited the "widely reported stand by Hardwick, Genova and Bassano reported in last week's Springfield Leader keeping our town free of garbage." Massler continued, "If we can accomplish all this now with only two out of five seats on the Township Committee, think what we can do with a Republican majority."

Massler explained what would be implemented by a Republican majority after the Nov. 4 election. "We will prepare job descriptions for every position of municipal employment. We will prepare performance evaluation programs for all positions. We will manage by objective all Township departments."

Massler and Fink jointly called "upon all the voters to examine with care the experience and qualifications of the candidates." Both asked the voters to "read with care our resumes which you all received in the mail. Compare our resumes with those of our Democratic opponents. We are all nice guys, but to manage the town takes proven ability."

Sy Mullman and Bill Welsh

Sy Mullman and Bill Welsh, Democratic candidates for the Township Committee, have examined the state of Springfield's recreation department and its programs. Welsh pointed out that the recreation department has been under the direction of Republican Township Committee people for the past seven years. "It was Bill Ruocco's department, then Joanne Tedesco's and most recently, Joanne Pieper has been in charge of recreation," Welsh said. "During that time we have had a steady decline of properly planned programs."

Mullman, who has a degree in managing municipal recreation programs and experience as the former superintendent of recreation in Orange, observed that "Springfield is light years behind other communities. Our programs are extremely limited, our facilities underutilized. They simply don't service the needs of the entire community."

Mullman was particularly critical of the day camp at the pool which he feels has become "nothing but a baby sitting service." He stated "I would propose a full day camp for children three through 12 years of age. Many children stopped attending the pool by the first week of August because they were bored. There were no scheduled activities and children can't swim four hours a day despite the best efforts of the counselors. We have excellent facilities at the pool but we need a professionally-planned program."

Mullman also pointed out that "Chisholm School is a recreation director's dream. The challenge to set up a new program in a facility this size is enormous. I would have adult activities such as aerobics, slimnastics, volley ball, basketball, golf lessons, tennis lessons, dancing lessons, nautilus and weight room, day care, movie night. I would also work to bring back the Springfield Players. This group put on many entertaining performances in the past, but had to disband in part for lack of a facility. For children there are football, basketball leagues, roller skating, gymnastics. The list is endless."

Mullman and Welsh did agree that our senior citizens program is already exceptionally good. "It is an efficiently run program that the seniors should be proud of," Welsh stated.

"We must get our children off the streets," Welsh and Mullman concluded. We have a great bunch of kids in this town and they are reaching out to us to provide programs so they can use their leisure time constructively. Recreation is defined as anything you do in your leisure time. Recreation is a great way to unite the family in activities that are fun and entertaining."

Information on housing available

Free housing information is available for Union County residents through the CHISS, Consumer Housing Information Service for Seniors, a program jointly sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons and the Union County Division on Aging.

Volunteers trained by AARP are available to meet individually with older consumers and their families to discuss ways to solve their housing problems.

Philip Pearlman, director of the Union County Division on Aging, said the service is designed to help older persons understand the various housing options and services available in the community.

"Our housing information volunteers have been specially trained and provided with specific information on solutions older renters and homeowners can use to solve housing issues," Pearlman said.

According to Pearlman, past experience has indicated that many older persons are unaware of the range of housing options available or services that can help a person remain in their own home. Some may not have considered ways of using their home to increase their income while still living there. Others may need assistance in finding appropriate housing because they can no longer stay in their home.

Five Union County volunteers have received the special CHISS training and are ready to respond to calls received from the community. Persons utilizing the CHISS service may request that the volunteer meet with them in their home or in any other location that might be convenient for the older person.

Hospital sets Food Day TV

Union Hospital will participate in the 1986 World Food Day Teleconference Oct. 16, according to Neil Hudes, hospital director of Educational Services. The teleconference, which will be held in the hospital's Classroom A from noon to 3 p.m., will be open free to the general public.

The three-hour teleconference will include three cable television-broadcast segments, Hudes said. The first one-hour segment will be a discussion on world hunger reported by an international panel of experts.

The discussion will be followed by a one-half hour presentation by Gov. Thomas Kean, who is scheduled to make public the most recent findings from the New Jersey Commission on Hunger. A look at local hunger problems in Union County will follow Kean's report.

The final hour will be an open segment during which the international panel of experts will take questions from the general public.

"The teleconference is a great chance for the community to increase its awareness on hunger, not only on a worldwide scale but also as to what is happening in our own backyard," Hudes said. "We must realize that over 500 million people in our world are categorized as 'severely undernourished.'"

To participate in the World Food Day Teleconference at Union Hospital, one can contact Hudes by calling 687-1900, ext. 2210. It was requested that response should be made as quickly as possible, and that seating is limited.

Parade scheduled

The 16th Annual Columbus Day Parade, sponsored by the American-Italian Cultural Society of Union County is scheduled for Sunday at noon, it was announced by Mike Guarino, parade chairman.

This year's grand marshal, Joey Giardello, former world middleweight boxing champion, will lead the parade that will commence at Elizabeth High School located on Pearl Street at the bridge.

Cherry Hill resident Giardello, now employed by the State of New Jersey, held the world championship from 1963 to 1965. He dethroned Dick Tiger of Nigeria, and at that time brought the title back to the United States of America.

Giardello defended his title successfully against Paterson's Reuben "Hurricane" Carter, winning a unanimous 15-round decision. He also defeated former champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Ralph "Tiger" Jones.

Giardello, born Carmine Tilelli in Brooklyn, N. Y., fought out of Philadelphia most of his career.

In 1964, Giardello started the Special Olympics for retarded and handicapped children with the assistance of President John F. Kennedy's aide, Sargent Shriver.

That year Giardello, then the middleweight champ of the world, fought Gil Diaz in a 10-round non-title fight and donated the entire purse, his entire share, to help begin St. John of God School for the retarded in Westville Grove. The school began, under Father Damian of Ireland, with 19 children, and now has 120.

In 1968, Giardello and many former fighters staged another benefit for the children. This event took place in the Spectrum in Philadelphia. Most of the fighters were now retired like Giardello, but before the regular bouts, they staged "The Ole Good Time Fights." Jake LaMotta, Rocky Graziano, Billy Graham, Charlie Fusari, Jersey Joe Walcott, Chico Vejar, Fred Russo and Ernie Durando all were on the boxing card.

Giardello has a son that suffers from Downs Syndrome and has dedicated a portion of his life to the retarded and handicapped children.

DMV assists motorists

To assist motorists in resolving suspension and insurance surcharge problems, the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles will continue to offer extra hours of service at its Trenton headquarters this month.

The first floor visitors' area at 25 S. Montgomery St. will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, except for Columbus Day, Oct. 13, when all DMV offices will be closed. In addition, it will be open Saturday mornings from 8:30 a.m. until noon, with the exception of this Saturday, when the office will be closed.

Any motorist arriving by 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday or by noon on Saturday will be assisted, no matter how long it takes, said DMV Director Glenn R. Paulsen.

The DMV will continue to maintain normal hours for resolving these problems on Thursdays and Fridays. Those hours are 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The extra telephone hours previously offered in August and September have also been extended through October. Motorists can contact the Division for help with a suspension or insurance surcharge problem by calling (609) 292-7500, Monday through Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m., Thursday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until noon, Paulsen said.

Raise price of beer, not drinking age

The lives of more young drivers could be saved by higher beer prices than by higher drinking ages, according to a Kean College of New Jersey economist in Union and two colleagues who co-authored studies on the subject.

Dr. Henry Saffer, an associate professor at Kean College said that a uniform national drinking age of 21 would save 555 lives a year. "However, if the tax on beer had increased with the rate of inflation, than 1,022 lives would be saved each year," he said.

Saffer, Dr. Michael Grossman of Fort Lee, a professor at the City University of New York, and Dr. Douglas Coate of Rutgers University in Newark, prepared the studies for the National Bureau of Economic Research, Inc. It was funded by the National Institute of Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse.

It is noted in the study that the federal tax on beer has not been adjusted to reflect 320 percent inflation since 1951 when it was set at $9 a barrel. State taxes, however, vary. The differences in state prices gave the economists a chance to study how young drinkers respond to different prices and how prices affect different age groups.

Saffer noted that higher drinking ages do not discourage drinking among older people, but higher taxes would. In addition, he noted that higher taxes are non-discriminatory and can not be challenged by the old-enough-to-go-war/old-enough-to-drink argument. Fake IDs also would be a non-issue along with the practice of sending older friends in to buy the beer.

The professor said the enforcement is built into the price. It would be a deterrent because beer is the alcoholic beverage of choice for young people; young people are less likely to be addicted to alcohol than older people, and peer pressure involved in drinking would be diluted when all those involved can not share the expense.

Saffer and his co-authors say they are not advocating one policy or another, but concluded in the study that increasing the beer taxes could be as effective as raising the legal drinking age.

It should be noted that brewers responded with outrage last spring to a Senate Finance committee plan to raise excise taxes on alcohol to a level far below the quadrupling needed to restore beer taxes to the 1951 level.

Saffer, who resides in the Greenwich Village section of New York City, said his study will be published in 1987 in the Journal of Legal Studies at the University of Chicago.

Chesley's work on behalf of the unit has been done in honor of her mother and the terminally ill patients at the hospital.

Ad Agency wins award from H.U.D.

Gallagher Advertising, Westfield, New Jersey-based agency, has been awarded the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development advertising account for the State of New Jersey.

The H.U.D. (Housing and Urban Development) is a Newark-based federal agency responsible for the sale of more than 700 homes in New Jersey in the past year. John L. Evans, H.U.D.'s Newark director, announced the appointment of Gallagher Advertising effective Sept. 1, 1986. The contract calls for the implementation of an advertising campaign that will reach all sectors of the community with emphasis in the major newspapers in the area.

Man charged with car theft

A Newark man accused of stealing a car last Saturday afternoon from the Holiday Inn parking lot on Route 22 in Springfield was later apprehended by out-of-town authorities after a short pursuit. According to police, John Henry Davis was observed stealing a motor vehicle from the parking lot of the motel sometime during the afternoon Oct. 5. The suspect was later observed in Union with the vehicle and was arrested after trying to flee from authorities, the report said. Charged with theft of a motor vehicle by Springfield police, as well as other charges in Union, Davis was remanded to the Union County Jail on $5,000 bail. In other matters, Carlo Cardaci and Marie Elaine Caporelli of Livingston and Joseph Guerrero of New Providence were arrested by Springfield Patrolmen David Hartong in front of the Holiday Inn late last Wednesday night on charges ranging from receiving of stolen property to possession of a hypodermic needle. All three were remanded to the Union County Jail, with bail of $10,000 imposed on Cardaci. Guerrero and Caporelli received bail terms of $5,000 and $2,500, respectively.

Blood drive set Oct. 20

In an effort to bolster blood supplies in local hospitals, the Westfield Education Association will hold a community blood drive Oct. 20, at the Presbyterian Church, located at 140 Mountain Ave., Westfield. Co-sponsored by the Westfield/Mountainside chapter of the American Red Cross and New Jersey Blood Services, the drive will be open to the public from 2 to 7:30 p.m. in the church's lower level hall. Anyone between the ages of 17 and 66, weighing a minimum of 110 pounds and in good health, is eligible to donate blood.

A single pint of blood may, after processing into components, be used to treat as many as five patients in local hospitals. Cardio-vascular procedures, cancer therapies, treatments for disease and infection are only a few ways donated blood may be used. New Jersey Blood Services in conjunction with the American Red Cross supplies blood to 65 hospitals in northern and central New Jersey. For more information, call the Westfield/Mountainside chapter of the American Red Cross at 232-7090.

Director is named for crisis program

ALLAN BOYER

Allan Boyer has been named program director for the Crisis Intervention Program of the Center for Clinical and Behavioral Medicine at Union Hospital, according to Patricia Lynch, executive vice president.

Prior to joining the hospital in Union, Boyer served as executive director for the Richmond Fellowship of New Jersey, a Morristown-based psychiatric halfway house for adults, and as program director for Project Youth Haven, a treatment program for homeless and runaway youth in Paterson.

In addition to his administrative and treatment background in crisis intervention and inpatient therapy, Boyer has a master's degree in psychology from the New School of Social Research. He is a member and a former officer of the Garden State Coalition for Youth and Family Concerns, Inc.

The Center for Clinical and Behavioral Medicine is a 16-bed medical unit at the hospital designed to serve as a crisis intervention center for the surrounding communities.

Dr. Boyer resides in Oceanport with his wife, Lisa.

Yao art exhibited

Paintings and works on paper by C. J. Yao will open tomorrow at the Tomasulo Gallery, Union County College, 1033 Springfield Ave., Cranford. The show will run through Oct. 31 and can be seen Monday through Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. and Monday through Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Open house due tonight

Mother Seton Regional High School, Valley Road, Clark, will hold an informal open house tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 for all seventh and eighth grade girls and their parents.

The program will offer information to girls who are planning to enter high school in the near future.

Parents and students will tour the school, examine the curricular and co-curricular programs, investigate transportation and meet with administration, guidance and faculty members.

Visiting students "will experience life" at Mother Seton Regional High School through contacts with students in various activities within the school. New time schedules, new uniforms, and expanded computer activities will be seen.

An informal social will follow at which parents and daughters can visit with faculty and students of the school.

"Why do I want a health plan that limits my choice of doctors!?"

Because it gives you unlimited confidence in choosing your doctor.

And that's important, because how satisfied you are with your personal physician plays a very big part in determining how happy you are with a health plan. And how healthy you'll stay with that plan.

The Rutgers Community Health Plan (RCHP) is a special kind of health plan: a group practice HMO. Our multi-specialty physician group gives you the security of knowing you and your family are receiving high quality care. Here's why.

At RCHP, our doctors examine your doctors, before they examine you. Our physicians examine hundreds of doctors, put them through a rigorous selection process, and carefully evaluate both their medical qualifications and their "bedside manner."

A handful of the most highly-qualified finalists are invited to join the Group. So you can choose your own personal physician with unlimited confidence.

The professional setting that attracts our doctors benefits you. RCHP offers you the exclusive advantages of our affiliated Central New Jersey Medical Group's high medical standards, ongoing peer review of doctors, ease of consultation and continuing medical education.

Our doctors admit RCHP members to some of the area's finest hospitals and many are on the teaching staff of the Robert Wood Johnson Medical School.

It's just one part of our total plan to care for you. Over ten years ago, RCHP created a plan to care for your health and your budget—with comprehensive coverage, reasonable premiums, no claim forms or confusing paperwork, and no deductibles.

And we care for your personal convenience, by maintaining our doctors' offices in modern, centrally-located health centers throughout Central and Northern New Jersey.

Our plan even cares for you when you're well. RCHP Wellness Works™ programs help keep our members healthier, wealthier and wiser.

It all adds up to truly exceptional and personal health care.

See for yourself. Call 1-800-233-RCHP to schedule a special Health Screen at absolutely no charge.* Experience our care firsthand, before you choose a health care plan. Visit one of our health centers, meet our staff and discover just how much better our plan can care for you.

See how our plan will care for you.
Call 1-800-233-RCHP to schedule a special free Health Screen.*

Computers in classes

The New Jersey State Department of Education has completed a statewide technology plan, Educational Technology in New Jersey: A Plan for Action, in order to assist school districts in effectively using educational technology in the classroom.

"The age of the computer as a classroom tool has arrived. Nearly every New Jersey school district offers students educational experience with computers," said Commissioner of Education Saul Cooperman.

"It is important that these tools be used effectively," the commissioner added. "The Department of Education has written this plan for local districts to use as they develop, or expand, their own technology plans and programs."

The statewide technology plan offers educators specific information on the effective use of computers and other forms of educational technology.

The plan provides the rationale for technology use in the classroom as well as a review of current practices and research on computers, instructional television and emerging technologies. The plan focuses primarily on computers and instructional television because these are the forms of educational technology most widely used in New Jersey classrooms.

RICH MAN AND LAZARUS

There was a rich man who dressed very well and did not want for anything. There also was a very poor man Lazarus, who had many sores on his body. He would sit in front of the rich man's home desiring the crumbs from his table, which he had to fight the dog's for.

One day, the poor man died and was carried by the angels to Abraham's comfort. The rich man later died and was buried, while in hell the rich man opened his eyes and being in agony and extreme pain, he could see Abraham from a distance and Lazarus in his bosom. He realized that he was in a place called hades which consisted of two divisions. The divisions or places were for the saved and the lost. They were called Abraham's Bosom and Paradise; the other was called Hell.

The rich man cried out in agony and asked Abraham to have mercy on him and to send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water so that he could cool his tongue. For the rich man was in torment and agony from the flame.

Abraham responded to the rich man by telling him to remember the good things he received during his lifetime and how Lazarus received evil things during his lifetime. But now Lazarus receives comfort and the rich man receives torment. Abraham went on to tell the rich man that there is a separation between the lost and the saved, and neither can pass over from either side to the other.

The rich man asked Abraham to send Lazarus to his father's house where his 5 brothers lived, so that he could bear witness to what had happened to him. The rich man feared his brothers coming to that place of torment where he now was. Abraham denied the request and stated to the rich man that his brothers have Moses and the prophets that can inspire them. The rich man responded by saying, "If one went from the dead, my brothers will repent." Abraham stated that if they do not listen to Moses and the prophets, they will not be convinced by one who rose from the dead.

Proverb of the Week: 11:4 Riches do not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from death.

Are you trusting in uncertain riches as this rich man did? Are you storing treasures on earth where moth and rust destroy and where thieves can break in and steal? Learn how to store up a good foundation for yourself where you can have eternal life just by trusting in the living God who gives us riches. Send your inquiries to:

NJEA intervention

The New Jersey Education Association (NJEA) has reported that it has long recognized the state's responsibility to make sure each child receives a thorough and efficient education. That responsibility, part of the New Jersey Constitution, is what led NJEA to support the landmark Robinson versus Cahill school finance lawsuit.

"We believe the state must do everything in its power to make sure a thorough and efficient education is offered to every student in New Jersey's schools," says NJEA President Dennis Giordano.

"NJEA does not believe legislation is necessary. The authority to intervene in local school districts has already been vested in the State Board and Department of Education. However, the commissioner has asked for clarification of the law to prevent long and costly legal challenges, and some argue that this legislation will help develop a broad-based consensus validating the state's right and need to intervene. The NJEA can accept such clarification and consensus-building as valid goals," says Giordano.

"The NJEA is aware that certain school districts have not met the state's standards. Many of those districts are in our poorest urban centers.

"The causes are many. A principle cause is that the state has not lived up to its responsibilities to ensure a thorough and efficient education for all our children. A key example is the financial neglect shown these districts by the state as local ability to raise revenues diminished through the years. Cutting budgets to save tax rates and applying increases in education support to reductions of municipal tax rates are further examples.

"Finally, the declining socio-economic status of many urban population centers, combined with all the other negative influences of poverty, have accelerated the decline of some urban school districts."

NJEA recognizes that a "state district superintendent" as called for in the plan needs broad powers. "But to give that one person the power to hire and fire, make all decisions, set all salaries, and tax the local community, is to create a dictatorship controlling the schools, all school personnel, and to a large measure, the entire community. That is simply too much power in a single pair of hands."

The disenfranchisement of the teaching and supportive staffs from even an advisory capacity, and the abrogation of employee rights by abolishment of positions and terminations make the power vested in the "state district superintendent" a move to complete authoritarianism, Giordano indicated. "It establishes something close to martial law in the schools and community.

"Yes, strong action is needed to protect the rights of our children. No, the state must not be permitted to simply cancel, law, contracts, due process rights, and the citizenry's ability to govern and tax itself. These powers must be tempered if the state intervention plan is to be supported or to succeed," said Giordano.

Religious artist to speak at church luncheon

LECTURER-STEAMSTRESS—Florence Degenhardt of Mountainside will share her 'Patches and Praise' as a special speaker at the Mountainside Gospel Chapel 'Ladies Outreach' luncheon Oct. 16 at noon.

The "Ladies Outreach" of the Mountainside Gospel Chapel will hold its first luncheon of the new season Oct. 16 at noon at the church. Florence Degenhardt of Mountainside will be special speaker at the luncheon. Mrs. Degenhardt, a "gifted quilt-maker," who has lectured in four states and in churches, will present her special "Patches and Praise" message. She will bring along many of her artistic designs that can be seen on her quilts along with a message of "faith and inspiration" as she shares her own personal testimony of what God has done in her own life. A nursery will be provided for women with babies and small children, it was announced. Reservations and additional information can be obtained by calling the chapel or 232-3189 or 233-3842.

INTERFAITH MINISTRIES of Union will sponsor a concert Saturday featuring gospel singer Danniebelle Hall. The concert, part of InterFaith's "Praise 86" effort, will be held in the Theater of Performing Arts of Kean's College of New Jersey, Morris Avenue Campus, Union. Tickets for "Praise 86" can be obtained by calling 686-7770 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

THE CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS of the Americas (CDA), Court Immaculate Heart of Mary 1360, will hold its fifth annual dinner and dance Saturday in St. Michael's auditorium, Union, at 6:30 p.m. The theme will be "Hawaiian," and the event will feature Hawaiian dancers. Chairman will be Rose Marie Milana and co-chairman, Kay McDonald. The committees will be led by Gerri Grosso, ticket chairman; Lena Proccasini, contest chairman; Eleanor Partly and Helen Kantor, decorating chairmen; Rose Cosenza, hostess chairman, and Rose Santangelo, service chairman. Dancing will be featured. "Attire for the night will be Hawaiian," it was announced. Tickets can be purchased by calling Gerri Grosso at 964-1799, Kay McDonald at 688-6275, or Rose M. Milana at 687-5377.

TEMPLE 'SHA'AREY' SHALOM of Springfield recently appointed Irene Bolton as director of education. Mrs. Bolton, a graduate of Brooklyn College, also has a degree from the Caledonian School, Brooklyn, as well as the Midrasa Institute of Jewish Studies. Mrs. Bolton has announced that Temple Sha'arey Shalom "maintains a fully accredited religious school curriculum encompassing a nursery program through Confirmation." Further information is available by contacting the temple office at 379-5387.

ST. ADALBERT'S CHURCH, Elizabeth, with members from Union, Linden and the Roselles, will sponsor a trip to Las Vegas, Nev., Oct. 26 to Oct. 30. Reservations can be made by calling Sophia Concavage at 486-5948.

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH, 2222 Vauxhall Road, Union, recently installed its officers and board members. A dinner followed in the parish hall. Installed were Gus Wist, president; Stephen Sipe, vice president; Lois Rockefeller, treasurer; Deb Keppler, director, and Penny MacIver, Board of Education and Youth; Anita Erickson, and John MacIver, director, board of evangelism; Anita Brand, director, and Trudy Stieglitz, board of fellowship; George Cousens, Paul Keppler and Marlene Ranck, director, board of lay ministers; Pamela Henning, Jim Rinaldi and Don Rockefeller, director, board of properties, and Bob Burkhardt and Karla Rathjens, director, board of stewardship. Outgoing officers and board members also were honored. They are Glen Meyer, Irene Bartosh, Paula Ransdell, Rose Ford, Nancy Grossmann, Carlyn Engelken, Charlie Henning, Dorothy Grossmann and Lorraine Phillips.

THE ANTIOCH AME Zion Church, 900 Baltimore Ave., Linden, will celebrate its 25th anniversary Dec. 15, 16, 17, 18 and 21 at the church and at a banquet at the Coachman Inn, Cranford, it was announced by the Rev. D. D. Harried Jr.

JOY CORBY, who has completed her first four-year term with The Christian and Missionary Alliance, will serve as guest speaker at the annual missions conference of the Orchard Park Church C&MA, 1264 Victor Ave., Union. She will share her experiences as a missionary in Africa tonight at 7:30 at the women's tea and tomorrow at 5 p.m. at the family international dinner. After attending Nyack College and the Alliance Theological Seminar in New York, Corby spent one year studying French in France. Upon completion of that study she was sent to Moanda, Gabon, West Africa, to learn the Obamba language. French is the national language. She worked as a leader to the local youth group. More than 200 youths took part in a mobile youth seminar on discipleship that she presented in each of the major church centers.

The Rev. Carl Measell, pastor of the Hamilton Alliance Church in New Zealand, is scheduled to speak at the annual missions conference of the Orchard Park Church in Union on Saturday at 9 a.m. at the men's breakfast and at 7:30 p.m. at a family gathering. He will discuss his adjustment to cultural differences and all that is involved in pastoral ministries. During the four-year-term, Measell introduced the Alliance Lay Pastors Training Program to New Zealand. The Alliance launched its year-long Centennial Celebration in May, 1986. It was founded in 1887 as a missionary-sending society and later developed into a worldwide denomination with more than two million members. Today, it continues to place a major emphasis on increasing the pace of world evangelization. Churches in the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada support 1,134 missionaries working in 231 languages and dialects. The Alliance Centennial will culminate at its General Council to be held in St. Paul, Minn. from May 18 to 24, 1987. Several thousand people are expected including guests from 51 nations.

THE POLISH CULTURAL Foundation of New Jersey of Clark and Irvington, in cooperation with the Rev. Walter J. Gorski, pastor of St. Theresa's of the Child Jesus Church, Linden, will offer an organ recital with international organ-master Marek Kudlicki. Kudlicki, who resides in Austria, will be on a United States tour and through the efforts of the Polish Cultural Foundation, will give his only performance in the Metropolitan area tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Church of St. Theresa, 131 Edgar Road, E. Linden. St. Theresa's Church has an "excellent organ and acoustics, lovely stained windows and newly commissioned sculptures."

Kudlicki, who was born in Poland in 1948, finished his studies at the Lyceum of Music in Lublin and began studies at the Academy of Music in Cracow which he completed in 1972. In 1973 he won first prize and the special prize of the Polish Ministry of Culture and Art in the Organ Competition thereafter taking a course in Belgium and continued postgraduate studies at the Vienna Academy of Music. He has given concerts in European countries, the United States and Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Columbia, Argentina, Mexico, Hong Kong, Japan and Korea. He has recorded for radio and television and has given lectures on Polish organ music in the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

The program will include Polish music from 1530 to 1946. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Polish Cultural Foundation 382-7197 or 654-7634.

THE ROSARY ALTAR Society of Holy Spirit Church, Union, will hold its 23rd annual Communion Breakfast in the Parish Hall following the 8 a.m. Mass on Sunday. The men of the Holy Name Society will cook and serve the breakfast. Chairman for the breakfast is Anne Klaus, toastmistress is Judy Arnold and ticket chairman is Rosarie Mayer. Guest speaker for the event will be sister Rose Thering, professor of education at Seton Hall University, who received her doctor of philosophy degree from St. Louis University in Missouri in 1961. She is a lecturer on education issues, race relations, Catholic-Jewish relations, Israel and Soviet Jewry and an author of articles for scholarly magazines. The nun has served as appointed consulor and adviser to the U.S. Bishops Secretariat for Catholic-Jewish relations since 1968, is a committee member of the Leadership Conference of Women Religious on Ecumenism and Catholic-Jewish Concerns since 1972, is a board member of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice from 1973 and is a member of the Newark Archdiocesan Subcommittee on Catholic-Jewish Relations since 1975. She has received the 25th Anniversary Award from the Israeli Government "for recognition of work done in behalf of Israel" in 1973, and the "Eleanor Roosevelt Humanities Award" given May 7, 1978 "for your countless contributions to all human beings irrespective of race, color, creed or nationality." Sister Rose Thering also was appointed by Gov. Thomas Kean to serve on the Governor's Advisory Council for Holocaust Education in the Schools, December 1982 to December 1985. Tickets for the breakfast are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children 12 and under, and

Occupational therapy aide is needed

The Westfield Foundation, a community foundation, has furnished a grant of $1,250 to Children's Specialized Hospital for an occupational therapy aide, who turned out to be so good that the hospital staff wishes it could keep her.

Ranjini Vernugopal, an 18-year-old 1986 Westfield High School graduate, headed for Duke University this fall to study biology, did such a good job at the hospital, according to occupational therapy director Claire Daffner, "that it will take some adjusting to get used to not having her here any longer."

The position which Ranjini held this summer was in addition to those which the hospital has budgeted for occupational therapy and will not exist without outside funding.

Daffner described Ranjini as "a very mature person who fit in and worked well with the older staff members." She said the summer aide "would do very well in occupational therapy if that's the career she chooses."

Hospital President Richard B. Ahlfeld noted that Daffner has recently received the distinction of her professional association as a Fellow, and that "her guidance was a rare opportunity for a Westfield youth to experience."

Ranjini worked under the direct supervision of assistant director of occupational therapy, Sadako Vargas, and assisted the other occupational therapists who are connected with how each patient performs tasks that the environment demands and identifying deficits in sub-skills necessary to perform these life-task skills, various tasks of every day life, to each patient's fullest potential. The goal of occupational therapy is to produce readiness for the demands of school, social readiness and emotional stability in the patient.

She assisted the occupational therapists by performing various clerical duties, keeping the activity areas clean, and participating, when appropriate, in patient treatment sessions under Vargas' direct supervision.

"Ranjini has stamina, the ability to learn things very quickly and good organizational skills. She adjusted very quickly to the fast pace of the department and helped the therapists keep on schedule and find more time for therapy planning and evaluation," Daffner said.

The teenager monitored file drawers for completeness of all supplies of photocopied materials and testing protocols, filed and organized materials as requested and assisted the therapists in organizing and maintaining the treatment rooms. Upon the therapists' request she transported patients back and forth between their rooms and activity areas, sewed together sections of rehabilitation aids and devices and worked on a computer.

"I learned about pediatric occupational therapy principles and approaches as well as testing materials and their purpose."

Brearley terrorizes No. Plainfield, 9-0

By MARK YABLONSKY

Bob Taylor is a man of his word. When the Brearley Regional football coach said that his team was ready for action despite the sudden cancellation of the season opener with Governor Livingston two weeks ago, he wasn't fooling. And neither was his team.

In a manner strongly reminiscent of the famed "Steel Curtain" defense of the Pittsburgh Steelers a decade ago, the powerful Bears punished North Plainfield for a 9-0 win last Friday in what turned out to be the unofficial season opener for Brearley, now 2-0, due to a 2-0 forfeit win awarded for that lost game. For the Crusaders, it was just a lost day, period.

Rising to true form despite a layoff and a soggy, chilly field, the hungry grizzlies limited an outclassed North Plainfield squad to a paltry 69 yards of total offense for the afternoon, with just 26 of it coming on the ground. Behind the strength of a 29-yard field goal by Mike Vergura and a 42-yard touchdown run by quarterback Gary Faucher, both in the second period, Brearley dominated its way to a convincing, bruising victory that left a few Crusader players with injuries.

There was just no mercy whatsoever. "We had a pretty wet field and a difficult ball to handle," acknowledged a pleased Taylor, whose defensive unit allowed Crusader quarterback Mike Gomez four completions out of 14 attempts for just 43 aerial yards. "It was a very slick field and it kept the game a little closer than we would have liked it to be. But our defense was very strong."

"Yeah, we were pretty tough," he continued, praising Faucher for what was his first start as the varsity signal-caller. "We played a pretty physical game. I think we were out of sync a bit and we didn't get over the goal line as much as I thought we should. But our defense was very sound."

So, too, was the Brearley ground game. In what can only be interpreted as a strong message to upcoming opponents who don't care much for defending Group I champions, the Bears enjoyed solid performances from running backs Mike Chalenski and Joe Capizzano, who ran for 142 and 109 yards, respectively, with both runners carrying the ball 20 and 21 times, also respectively. To be sure, they gained a lot of respect with their two-man show.

But the most telling message of all belonged to the likes of Brett Hubinger, Mike McCoy and Co. on defense. Now listen to Taylor tell a message of his own.

"We'll play a lot better," he predicted, attributing Faucher's minute passing statistics — 2-2 for only 10 yards — to the weather conditions. "We're going to get better each week."

On that, you can be certain.

'Dawgs crush Hillside, 41-14

By MARK YABLONSKY

When Dayton Regional football coach Tony Policare predicted that his club's game at Hillside last Friday would be a "pinball game," with the scoreboard constantly lighting up after each score, he was absolutely right. Funny thing is, his team did most of the lighting.

Enduring a steady, chilling rain on a slick Woodruff Stadium turf, the Bulldogs used an impressive array of blocking, running, solid defense and sheer determination to register a stunning 41-14 romp over the Hillside Comets, last year's Section 2, Group 2 champions, who were simply outplayed.

It was that simple. Despite another dazzling display by Comet halfback Tony Tucker, who has rapidly joined a class all by himself, the 2-0 Bulldogs held an otherwise explosive Comet offense in check, allowing a mere eight points in the final three quarters of play after falling behind, 6-0, early in the opening period. Tucker, who had gained 310 yards in Hillside's opening night victory over Immaculata a week earlier, was "held" to just 154 yards in 17 carries, which included touchdown runs of 31 and 4 yards, respectively.

Leading the way for Dayton offensively once again was senior tailback Robert Fusco, who bulled forward for 172 yards on 23 carries, outperforming even Tucker. Fusco, who ran for 111 yards two weeks ago against Clark, was even more dominant this time around, as his powerful sweeps and off-tackle smashes played prominent roles in Dayton's first three scores, including a 13-yard scamper that gave the Bulldogs a 21-6 lead with 8:23 left to play in the third quarter.

Sharing the limelight with Fusco was tight end/outside linebacker John Lusardi, who helped account for two Bulldog scores, and quarterback Tony Policare III, who threw three touchdown passes, including an eight-yard bullet to Lusardi that forced a 6-6 tie with less than a minute gone in the second quarter.

As it turned out, the day was gone for Hillside.

"Our people are well-coached," yelled a rain-soaked, but exuberant Bulldog coach Tony Policare as his team boarded the bus for a joyous ride home. "My coaching staff did a great job. We ran movement blocking. They wanted to block Lusardi so we would line up on them based on blocking schemes."

"My son Tony called half the game from the line," he added, crediting the younger Policare with numerous audibles. "They wanted to get our quarterback. They didn't lay a glove on him."

After Tucker's first TD burst in the first quarter, however, the Bulldogs started laying it on the Comets. On the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Fusco launched a seven-play drive with a 17-yard run that ended just two yards shy of midfield, but ended up stretching to the Hillside 37, thanks to a face-mask penalty. The drive ended on the first play of the second quarter, when Policare hit Lusardi at the goal line on a roll-out to the right. Although Fusco missed the extra point, the best was yet to come.

Just two plays after a 72-yard touchdown pass from Comet quarterback Tat Tucker to split end Mike Kicera was nullified via a backfield-in-motion call, Lusardi rendered a savage hit that caused Hillside's Howard Bennett to cough up the ball into the grasp of Dayton nose tackle Chuck Saia at the Hillside 15. After Fusco was stopped for no gain, Policare opted for a right bootleg call that led to tight end John Saraka catching his first TD pass of the season with 9:07 remaining in the half. Fusco then ran straight up the middle for a two-point conversion and a 14-6 Bulldog lead that lasted until halftime.

With the rain falling harder, the Bulldogs opened the second half with an eight-play drive that culminated with Fusco's 13-yard TD run. The stocky tailback, who also had gains of nine and 13 yards earlier in the drive, then added the extra point.

"They're getting blocked by smaller guys," barked an angry Hillside assistant coach over his headphones to his colleagues at field level, in response to Dayton's offensive line that encumbered a larger Hillside defense. "They're making an easy game hard. The defensive line is not giving us the game."

Although Tucker capped a 12-play drive over the next 5:25 to bring Hillside within 21-14 with his four-yard run and subsequent two-point conversion, the game was sealed when Policare, who completed seven of eight passes for 126 yards, lofted a 56-yard touchdown pass to split end Mark Williams on the ensuing drive two plays into the final period. When a blitz led by Saia caused the 6'4" Tat Tucker — the brother of the star running back — to throw a desperation pass with his back nearly touching the ground, Lusardi was there to grab it and run the remaining 25 yards that ended all doubt of the game's final outcome.

The powerful Tony Tucker, of all people, made the final costly mistake for his team by fumbling at his own 25, with Jeff "Man Mountain" Stoffer recovering. Policare himself put the icing on the cake with a two-yard quarterback sneak with 5:30 left on the clock. It was that kind of day for Hillside.

It was a much happier one for Dayton, which will gun for its third straight win Saturday against Roselle in a 1 p.m. match at Meisel Field.

"Tony who?" asked Policare rhetorically when asked whether or not the Bulldogs would be in awe of perhaps the county's finest running back, who had earlier received the praise of the Dayton coach. "We outtraded him. Our line did such a great job with our trap schemes. It's like baseball; you hit 'em where they ain't — we ran where they ain't."

Wee Willie Keeler himself wouldn't have been able to put it any better.

Minutemen 'B' top Chatham

On Sunday, September 21st at Meisel Field the Springfield Minutemen "B" Football team opened its season by registering a 37-0 victory over Chatham. Springfield's "mean machine" defense opened the scoring for the Minutemen, as safety Clayton Trivett fielded a punt at the Springfield 35 and raced 65 yards for the score behind the superb blocking of special team aces Bill Woodruff, Jay Desai and Ryan Huber. It only took the Minutemen offense three plays to register their first score of the day when Dante Puorro, with two touchdowns on the day, took a handoff and ran around left end 25 yards with key blocks thrown by Spit End Bob Tranquilli and Guard Andy Huber. Pat Conte and Kamal Brown each scored touchdowns on five-yard blasts up the middle. Back Rich Roche led all runners with 78 yards rushing on 15 carries. Quarterback Mike Reddington had an outstanding game, scoring one TD and passing for the first two TD's to Dante Puorro. Mike ran for 48 yards and was five-for-eight in passing. Tight end Pat Reddington led receivers with two catches for 52 yards.

The "mean machine" defense was led by Tackles Mark Nadzan, five unassisted tackles and Veteran Kevin Scholla, who caused one fumble and recovered two. Defensive End Chris Schwartzbek and Scott Kornfield, with help from cornerbacks Marc Rizzolo and Kamal Brown, did an excellent job of sealing off Chatham's outside ground game, while Springfield's version of Joe Klecko, Mean Dejohn Cataldo and Inside Linebacker Mike Yurochko plugged up the middle. Neil Lynch, a veteran offensive lineman who suffered a fractured arm in a practice in the beginning of the season, cheered his team on from the sidelines.

On Wednesday night, October 1st at the Municipal Pool field, over 100 spectators watched the Minutemen battle an evenly matched Berkeley Heights team under the lights. The Minutemen won by a score of 6-0. The game was a defensive battle. Both sides were just unable to get things going. Then with under two minutes left in the 1st half, quarterback Mike Reddington pitched to Rich Roche, who behind the blocking of Dejohn Cataldo, Scott Kornfield, Any Huber, Chris Schwartzbek, Kevin Scholla, and Pat Conte, found Patrick Reddington for a 25-yard completion down the right sideline to the Berkeley Heights 30-yard line. After two strong runs by Rich Roche, the ball was on the 12-yard line with 37 seconds left in the half.

On the next play, the offensive unit ran the Dallas Reverse with the ball given to the swift-footed wing back Dante Puorro for the score. Bobby Tranquilli made a devastating block. The extra point failed.

Berkeley Heights tried an air attack late in the 4th quarter, but the excellent defense coverage by Marc Rizzolo and Clayton Trivett stopped their attack. With one minute left in the game, a Berkeley Heights running back broke around right end, but was stopped by Kamal Brown, who made the game-saving tackle.

The Minutemen will play their next night game on Wednesday, October 15 against Westfield.

ANOTHER SCORE for Union in its 55-0 win over Plainfield Friday. The victory brings the Farmers' streak to 24.

Girls run record to 3-1

On Sept. 30, the Union High School girls' cross-country team brought its dual meet record to 3-1 by defeating Irvington 15-50 and Plainfield 22-38 at Irvington Park.

Alicia Hennessy won the race in 21:47, her personal best. Senior captain Annie Killon was the key performer for Union, as she passed three opponents during the second half of the race to finish third in 23:32.

Sophomore Gina Calleo finished seventh 26:05, in her first varsity start. Manisha Desai, 26:33 and Gretchen Behrens, 26:25 were fourth and fifth for Union. Anne Lidor, 27:31 and Jiganasa Parikh, 28:26 rounded out the scoring for Union.

"I was very happy with the girls' performances. They ran very competitively and their times are improving. This was the first time we ever beat Plainfield."

On Oct. 4, the team finished 11th out of 18 teams at the Stewart Memorial Cross-County Meet at Warinanco Park. Union's top performers were Hennessy, who set a junior class record by finishing 39th in 23:24, and Calleo, 60th place in 24:27.

Booters boost record to 3-4-1

The Union soccer team bounced back from its rugged scheduling last week with a gift victory due to a forfeit by Eastside of Newark and a tie to New Providence.

The New Providence game was like a chess match as Union, 3-4-1, controlled the ball well throughout the game.

Mike Floria, who shared goalie duties for the day, played his usual tough game throughout the first quarter and saved three shots on goal, as both teams went scoreless.

In the second quarter New Providence did manage to record a goal with an attempted shot from 20 feet away that oddly sneaked past Florio to give Providence a 1-0 lead.

Union would not be denied this day, having went scoreless in their previous two outings, as they matched the Providence goal with their own.

Attacking from the left side of the field, Mike Shaw dribbled behind the Providence defenders and spotted teammate Eric Kruszner, who also cleared defenders. Receiving the ball from Shaw, Kuszner fired on goal to score his first goal of the season to knot the score at one.

In the second half Shaw took over at goalie and shut the New Providence team down. Unfortunately, Union was unable to score again.

In the Eastside game Union was awarded a 1-0 victory due to a no-show.

Union will go to Union Catholic on Friday and then to Pingry on Tuesday.

We won't treat and run!

If you went to one of those eye care "supermarkets", chances are you'll never know who treated you. Or see them again. They probably saw you as just a number. And a payment.

To us, you're a person who deserves to be treated personally, professionally and precisely. Especially when it comes to something as precious as your sight. Which is why we're proud to be members of the New Jersey Eye Care Council, a complete organization of eye specialists pledged to provide professional care in a personal setting. Because we think you and your eyes deserve nothing short of the best, our training in advanced eye care techniques is as current as today's news. Judge for yourself. Visit the nearest optometrist listed below and discover what it means to be treated the way you deserve.

Russo run to be held Sunday

A total of $5,000 in prize money will be at stake in the Mayor Russo Five Mile Run Sunday. Race director Dean Shonts said the prize money is attracting some outstanding runners. "Spectators will be able to watch some of the premier runners on the east coast," Shonts said.

In addition to men's and women's awards, age group awards will also be presented.

Runners interested in participating can pick up applications at the Union Municipal Building and Union Center National Bank at the corner of Morris and Stuyvesant avenues. Interested parties can obtain applications by calling 964-4205.

Minutemen 'C' lose on road

The Springfield Minutemen C Team lost their away-season opener to Berkeley Heights despite an outstanding effort from the defense. Chris Gomes registered four solo tackles, two assists, one fumble recovery, and caused one fumble. He was helped by Bucky Basile and Scott Driscoll, each with three solos and two assists. Other standout defensive players included Victor Worthington, Joe Ficchi, Gordon Morrison, Ryan Driscoll, David Crosby, and Jim Pedersen.

The offense, led by quarterback Dave Nittolo, had numerous opportunities but failed to connect for yardage in critical third down situations. Offensive linemen Matt Policare, Oscar Lima, Brian Greenspoon, Anthony Masi, and Jimmy Miller, along with split end Brian Costello, were up against strong pressure all day from a tough Berkeley Heights defense. Minutemen Defensive Backs Chris Colatruglio, Brad Mullman, Phil Marchetti, Vinny Costa and Wally Brown were kept busy by the Berkeley Heights passing attack.
