Thief who struck cop is given 17 years

By SUZETTE STALKER

A Newark man convicted of running down a Mountainside police officer during a stolen car chase on Route 22 almost two years ago was sentenced in Superior Court last Friday to 17 years in state prison.

Archie Worthy, 20, acquitted Feb. 7 of attempted murder charges, was convicted of aggravated assault, two counts of burglary, one count of theft, one count of attempted theft and one count of possession of stolen property.

Superior Court Assignment Judge Edward W. Beglin in Elizabeth ordered that Worthy must serve 7½ years of his sentence before becoming eligible for parole. Newark attorney Roxanne Gregory, who represented Worthy, could not be reached for comment this week.

On July 8, 1988, Mountainside police had established a roadblock on Route 22 east in an attempt to apprehend Worthy and a juvenile companion, who were fleeing down the highway in separate stolen cars.

The Porsche driven by Worthy managed to evade the roadblock and struck Officer Thomas McCartney, who was standing near the highway divider while attempting to halt traffic in the eastbound lanes so that fellow officers could catch up with the suspects.

"I am very pleased with the sentence because when something happens to a fellow law enforcement officer...it's good to know that Judge Beglin cares..."

— Union County Assistant Prosecutor David J. Hancock

McCartney, who was catapulted 12 feet in the air by the impact, landed on the cement divider 100 feet away. The officer, the father of a 16-month-old son, sustained serious head, leg and internal injuries.

After seeing McCartney hit, Officer Dennis Tassie fired three shots at Worthy's vehicle, one of which ricocheted off the Porsche and struck Barry Muster, 43, of Berkeley Heights, who was traveling westbound on Route 22 at the time.

Worthy escaped and fled to Georgia, but turned himself in to New Jersey authorities a week later.

Muster suffered brain damage, including partial paralysis and speech and cognitive disabilities, and is currently undergoing rehabilitative therapy. A civil lawsuit has been filed on behalf of Muster and his wife, Anna, which names the borough, Mountainside Police Chief William Alder and Officers Tassie, McCartney and Todd Turner as defendants.

"I am very pleased with the sentence because when something happens to a fellow law enforcement officer, since we are a close-knit organization, it's good to know that Judge Beglin cares and that someone like Archie Worthy will be off the streets for the next 7½ years plus," remarked Union County Assistant Prosecutor David J. Hancock.

Worthy is currently serving a four-year sentence in Garden State Prison in Yardville for having committed several motor vehicle thefts in Somerset County in April 1988. He had also been on probation for having committed a car theft in Essex County in May 1988.

Hancock reported that Worthy will not begin serving his sentence for the Mountainside incident until he becomes eligible for parole on the other convictions. Hancock stated that he believed that last week's conviction would represent a violation of Worthy's probation in Essex County.

Townhouse bid referred to plan board for review

By SUZETTE STALKER

The Mountainside Board of Adjustment on Monday announced that a proposal to construct two townhouses on a Mountain Avenue lot would be referred to the borough Planning Board for review before any formal action is taken.

The board had been expected to vote on whether to grant a land use variance to Westfield contractors Joseph Scalzadonna and Vincent Marvosa, who have applied to the Board of Adjustment for a land use variance to build the townhouses at 940 Mountain Avenue.

The townhouses, if ultimately approved by the Board of Adjustment, will be the first multi-family units to be built in Mountainside. There are currently no regulations in the borough codes regarding townhouses or other such dwellings.

A conceptual site plan which the contractors submitted to the Board of Adjustment in March calls for the two separate, 2½ story buildings, one of which would contain five units and the other four units.

The Mountain Avenue property, on which a single-family house is presently located, is slightly larger than one acre. A variance is required to build the townhouses because the property is only zoned for a single-family residence.

The property is bordered on one side by a machine shop and on the other side by 3½ acres of vacant land. The adjoining land has given rise to speculation that if the contractors are successful in building the initial two townhouses, other multi-family dwellings may be added in the future.

Westfield attorney James Flynn, who is representing Scalzadonna and Marvosa, after learning the townhouse proposal was going to be referred to the Planning Board expressed concern that borough officials establish "time perimeters" so that a decision on the land use variance would not be delayed for several months.

"We want to move this along as quickly as possible," agreed Board of Adjustment Chairman George Hancock, "so we will do everything in our power to expedite this as quickly as possible."

The Planning Board, which is scheduled to meet on April 19, may discuss the townhouse proposal at that time. The board will then submit a written report to the Board of Adjustment containing recommendations and suggestions, which will subse-

BOE nominees air views

By SUZETTE STALKER

The Mountainside PTA held its annual Board of Education Candidates' Night last Wednesday, April 4, during which the three nominees discussed their personal qualifications, as well as key issues affecting the school district.

Board President Linda Schneider and board member Patricia Knodel, both longtime incumbents, and newcomer Josephine Colicelli, are competing for two vacant seats on the seven-member body.

School board elections, as well as a vote on the school budget, will be held on Tuesday, April 24.

Scotch Plains resident Phyllis Buck, representing the League of Women Voters, served as moderator for the 90-minute-long event, which was held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the cafeteria of Deerfield School in Mountainside. The program was attended by approximately 80 borough residents.

Each of the board candidates was allotted five minutes to present their opening statements to the audience, and two minutes to answer each question that was put to them, plus one minute of rebuttal time. They were each also given three minutes to make their closing remarks.

All three candidates discussed their qualifications and various accomplishments, and defined what they believed were the characteristics of quality education in a school district. They also fielded about 20 questions from members of the audience.

Schneider, who is seeking her fourth term, has been president of the board for five years. She is also a special education teacher in Union County Regional High School District 1, which includes Mountainside.

An 18-year member of the board,

Knodel is running for her seventh term. She has taught fourth grade in several school districts, including Mountainside, as well as Sunday School at Our Lady of Lourdes School in the borough.

Knodel is third vice-president of SHARING THE SPIRIT — Rev. Terry Ruth Culbertson, standing at center, conducts religious services for residents of the Manor Care Nursing and Convalescent Center in Mountainside. Culbertson, who is the new chaplain at the facility, recently held Passover services at Manor Care and will hold Easter services this weekend. Culbertson explained that she focuses her religious activities around all Manor Care residents and their families. See story in the Lifestyles section on Page 9.

Health officials issue rabies alert

By SUZETTE STALKER

The recent outbreak of rabies among New Jersey wildlife has prompted health officials to begin preparing for the expected arrival of the potentially fatal disease in Union County by the end of 1990.

Health Officer Robert Sherr, whose jurisdiction includes Mountainside, has advised that the rabies threat is a serious one for area residents. Rabies is generally transmitted through a bite or scratch from an infected animal.

The state Department of Health believes that the virus was brought by rabid raccoons across the Delaware River into Hunterdon County late last year. Sixty-eight cases of infected wildlife have been discovered in Hunterdon and Warren counties since last November.

All but nine of these incidents involved raccoons. The others included six skunks, a fox and a cat. No incidents of humans being infected by the virus have been reported.

Authorities fear that rabid wildlife will spread the rabies virus to people and domesticated animals as it moves across the state. Rabies had previously not been present in New Jersey for 20 years.

Health officials are especially concerned about cats because cat licensing and inoculation is currently mandatory in only three Union County communities, including Summit, New Providence and Hillside, according to Marilyn Riley of the State Department of Health.

Cats, because of their tendency to roam, are also more likely than dogs to come into contact with wildlife and are therefore considered to be more vulnerable to the rabies virus.

Rabies, if left untreated, can cause brain damage and paralysis and is generally fatal. People who have contracted the disease also frequently experience such unpleasant symptoms as nausea, vomiting and fatigue, according to Sherr.

"We will need to take appropriate measures for when rabies hits our area because it definitely will," Sherr commented last week. "I think our area will be very susceptible because there is a lot of interaction between people and and wildlife."

Sherr reported that the Union County Health Officers Association, comprised of area health officials, is developing a special rabies program within the next month to educate local police departments, school districts, civic organizations and local authorities about the dangers of rabies.

He warned that although Mountainside does not fall within the Rabies Alert Area, as defined by the state Department of Health, area residents should avoid contact with all wildlife, particularly raccoons and skunks, which are most frequently associated with the rabies virus.

Sherr emphasized that petowners should make sure that their dog or cat is inoculated against rabies and that the vaccination is current. For pets who are more than one year old, each vaccination is good for three years. For those under one year old, the vaccination is good for only a single year.

He also urged area residents to keep garbage containers securely covered to discourage raccoons and to avoid leaving pet food outside. People have also been advised not to feed or harbor strays unless they plan to take

Filing deadline is today

The filing deadline for people seeking to run for two vacant seats on the Mountainside Borough Council ends today, April 12. Borough Clerk Kathleen Toland confirmed that all petitions must be received by her office by 4 p.m.

The three-year terms of Republican Councilmen Louis Maas and William T. Jackson will expire this year. No candidates, including Maas and Jackson, had submitted petitions to the borough clerk's office by Tuesday.

Candidates seeking to run for the Borough Council must be Mountainside residents, at least 18 years of age, United States citizens, and must not be involved in any litigation with the governing body.

The borough clerk's office is located on the first floor of the Borough Hall. Candidates must obtain 25 signatures on their petitions before submitting it, according to Toland.

 the Union County School Boards Association and was recently appointed to the Federal Relations Network of the National School Boards Association. She has also been a member for eight years of the Legislative Committee of the New Jersey School Boards Association.

Colicelli, who is vice principal of the Deron School in Plainfield, is making her first bid for a seat on the board. She previously taught elementary and special education in Newark and Hazlet.

A key topic among the candidates concerned their positions on the $3.8 million Mountainside school budget, which marks an 11 percent increase over last year's total, and which was adopted by the board on April 2 following a 4-3 vote.

Schneider voted in favor of the budget following last week's public hearing. Knodel voted against it, explaining that she felt that further reductions could have been made. Colicelli stated during the candidates' forum that she also opposed the budget.

"I support the 1990-91 school budget," Schneider remarked. "While this budget is higher than in the past few years, there were several mitigating factors the board faced when preparing the budget that necessitated the larger than usual increase."

She explained that these factors included the pending removal of asbestos from Deerfield School, the installment of a new fire prevention system at the Vail Deane School, and additional renovations at Deerfield, all of which are state-mandated.

Schneider also cited salary negotiations with all staff bargaining units; a 30 percent increase in insurance premiums for school district employees, and reduced state aid.

"It's my hope that the taxpayers will understand the unusual circumstances of the 1990-91 budget and will come out and support it," she concluded.

Knodel explained that she voted against the 1990-91 budget "because I believe we have gone beyond what the citizens can afford."

"Washington and Trenton alike are telling us that the solution is not to raise taxes — it is to reduce spending in all areas. We cannot continue to spend as usual and pass the bill on to the taxpayer."

"Some of the items in the budget have already been bid and come in at a much lower price than the budget indicates," she added.

"Also, there are a number of items that I object to in the proposed budget, such as extra secretarial time, a superintendent/board secretary raise, a community relations consultant and curriculum supervisor."

In her address, Colicelli called for continuation and enhancement of quality education in the Mountainside school district. She specifically expressed a desire to see the Deerfield School library transformed into a multi-media center to encourage students to make even greater use of it.

"We had a very good turn-out, considering we don't have any burning issues here. I was very pleased," Mountainside PTA Executive Vice President Judi Segall remarked following the program. She added that "we actually ran out of time" before all questions from the audience could be addressed.

RECYCLE PETE — Recycle Pete, who acts as a friendly reminder to people to recycle their newspapers, glass and aluminum, makes friends with Lisa Eathshor of Mountainside during 'Wildlife Sunday' last weekend at the Trailside Nature and Science Center in Mountainside. The event featured various workshops and programs throughout the day geared toward preservation of the environment.

Traps to be suspended

The Westfield Board of Health, which covers Mountainside, will be temporarily suspending the practice of lending Havahart Animal Traps to residents under its jurisdiction.

This action is being taken based on the recommendation of the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection/Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife, in response to the approaching rabies threat in area communities.

Any resident experiencing difficulty with an animal should contact a Pest Control Service or contact the Union County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (S.P.C.A.) for assistance.

at the library

The Mountainside Free Public Library has announced that the following new books are now available at the library:

"Memoirs" by Andrei Gromyko. For more than 50 years, Gromyko held high office in the Soviet government, serving under every leader from Stalin to Gorbachev. As his country's foreign minister, he met and negotiated with almost every leader throughout the world. In his memoirs, he provides a behind-the-scenes look at the Kremlin leaders, as well as the events that dominated his political life.

"Palace Walk" by Naguib Mahfouz. The Cairo Trilogy is recognized internationally as Nobel Prize-winning author Naguib Mahfouz's most important work. With the translation of "Palace Walk," the first volume of The Cairo Trilogy, originally published in Arabic in 1956, English-language audiences may discover Mahfouz's unforgettable epic for the first time.

"Palace Walk," the novel, transports readers into the lives of a Muslim family in Cairo during Egypt's occupation by British forces in the early 1900s. Palace Walk, the street, becomes a powerful metaphor for a society moving from tradition to modernity.

"New Jersey Eats Out: the Insider's Guide to New Jersey Restaurants." Not only does this small book rate New Jersey restaurants by cuisine, it also has important facts rarely noted, such as which restaurants have no smoking sections, have handicapped facilities, or are near major highway locations, water views, etc.

Anyone who has been bitten by a wild animal or an unfamiliar domesticated one should alert the local police so that an attempt can be made to capture the animal for testing. The incident should also be reported to the local health department or animal control warden.

Sherr emphasized that people who have been bitten or scratched should also seek medical attention at once. He noted that the current treatment for rabies involves a series of shots in the arm, which he explained are far less traumatic than in previous years.

Area residents may contact the health department at 789-4070, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., to obtain information regarding new rabies clinic dates and locations.

 quently become part of the Board of Adjustment record.

The Board of Adjustment is expected to take up the matter once again at its May 14 meeting.

Hancock recently confirmed that the contractors' proposal is in compliance with borough regulations regarding single-family residences, including a 30-foot frontyard and backyard and a sideyard which is 10 percent of the lot's width.

The only exception, according to Hancock, is that the townhouses would occupy 20 percent of the property, while borough regulations allow only 15 percent building coverage.

School elections on the way

The school election being conducted by Union County Regional High School District 1 on Tuesday, April 24, is just one of 550 school district elections being held on that day.

These elections will decide the fate of school budgets for the 1990-91 school year and, in many districts, there will be contests for seats on the local Board of Education.

These include Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

This figure represents a zero-percent increase over the current regional district school budget. All six regional district communities share in the total budget appropriations.

The regional school budget vote is different than the elections being held by the elementary school districts, which cover kindergarten through Grade 8, of the six constituent communities which are served by the regional high schools.

Therefore, regional district residents vote in the two school elections — regional and local.

Voters in Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights, and Clark will also be asked to choose one person to fill a three-year term on the regional board of education. The incumbent from Kenilworth, Frederick J. Soos, is running unopposed.

The Union County Regional Board of Education consists of nine members, elected for three-year terms. Springfield, Berkeley Heights, and Clark are each represented by two board members, while Kenilworth, Mountainside, and Garwood send one representative each to the board.

The polls will be open from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. on April 24, for the annual school election. A list of polling places in each regional district municipality follows:

Springfield: Districts 1-6: James Caldwell School, Caldwell Place; Districts 7-10: Florence M. Gaudineer School, South Springfield Avenue, and Districts 11-14: Thelma L. Sandmeier School, South Springfield Avenue.

Mountainside: All districts go to Deerfield School, located on School Drive at Central Avenue.

Kenilworth: All districts go to Harding School, located on the Boulevard.

For more information, one can call 376-6300, extension 328.

WE ARE THE WORLD — The Foreign Languages Department of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield recently sponsored a poster contest for students in the Spanish, French, Italian and Latin language classes at the school. Following the theme of 'Opening Ways of Communication,' Jonathan Dayton students created posters which expressed the importance of learning a foreign language. The winners of this contest were, from left, Rachel Gorelik of Springfield, first place; Jeanne Minieri of Springfield, second place, and Christine Sterenczak of Mountainside, third place.

Hospital volunteers are cited

Several residents of Springfield, Mountainside and Kenilworth were among more than 375 volunteers at Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside who were honored during a special tribute which was held on April 1 at the hospital's outpatient center in Fanwood.

Volunteers honored during the tribute included:

Mountainside residents who were recognized included Betty Anson, Jean Gallagher, Susan Haase, Albertine Kuebler, Peggy Lott, Betty Ann Naulty, Sue Scott and Bette Wintermute.

Springfield residents Isabelle Bosman, Barbara Pulis and Amalia Terry were also honored, as well as Viola Coppola of Kenilworth.

"Our volunteers are an important part of the care we provide to our young patients," commented Richard B. Ahlfeld, president of the pediatric rehabilitation hospital. "We are very proud and appreciative of the volunteers' on-going dedication and service."

Over 60 area residents were honored for volunteering over 500 hours each at Children's Specialized Hospital.

"Our volunteers are men and women of all ages who devote part of their busy weeks to our patients," explained Shirley Biegler, community resource coordinator for the hospital.

"They perform services in all areas of the hospital and outpatient center, and their efforts are felt daily by the patients and the staff. We truly thank them for their tireless devotion."

Children's Specialized Hospital is a comprehensive pediatric rehabilitation hospital with 60 acute rehab beds and 25 long term care beds. In addition, the hospital provides extensive outpatient and community services at its outpatient center in nearby Fanwood, and has received state approval to develop a 30-bed inpatient facility in Ocean County.

In 1991, Children's Specialized Hospital will celebrate 100 years of caring for children and adolescents.

Boy Scout troop garners third place

Boy Scout Troop 82 of Kenilworth recently won third place at the annual Klondyke Derby in Watchung. The troop received a plaque for their efforts, as well as the "Best Ribbons" award for the KIMS game, which is a memory test, and first aid.

Those scouts participating in the Klondyke Derby were Frank Krazer, Andy Fletcher, Eric Chasse, Chris LoAlbo, John Fugett, Jr., David

Rosen, and Jimmy LaPrete. In the Klondyke Derby, scouts simulate a sled trip through the Yukon and are judged on various skills, among them being first aid, compass use and knot tying.

Bill Broeg, scoutmaster, was governor, and Rich Chasse, assistant scoutmaster, was one of the mayors. Fathers present to prepare lunch for the boys were assistant scoutmaster Curt Krazer and Bob LoAlbo.

Bill Broeg expressed his appreciation to the Kenilworth Volunteer Rescue Squad and John Fugett, Sr. and Dawn Scharinger for giving their time to be at the Derby all day for any emergencies.

The troop also had a weekend camping trip from March 9 to 11 at Camp Winnebago.

Society to hold open house

The Union County Medical Society of New Jersey will hold an open house on Wednesday, April 25, from 3 to 8 p.m. at its new address, located at 1164 Springfield Avenue in Mountainside.

Dental health poster winners are named

The winners of the Children's Dental Health Month Poster Contest recently received their grand prizes. The county-wide contest, sponsored by the Union County Dental Society, was held in celebration of Children's Dental Health Month.

All fourth-grade public school students in Union County were eligible to enter the contest.

Schools in Springfield, Mountainside and Kenilworth were among those which participated in the contest, and more than 1,000 children entered altogether.

Winners from Springfield included Tony Santarella, Julia Rudakov, Keesha Simmons and Neil J. Jesvele. Mountainside winners included Nanci Doorley and Jason Grunberg. The winners from Kenilworth were Kathryn Vogler and Michael D'Andrea.

All the winners received big ribbons and gift certificates redeemable at Herman's Sporting Goods.

Nanci Doorley, who attends Deerfield School in Mountainside, was one of two grand prize winners selected. The other was Bethany Karl of the Mountain Park School in Berkeley Heights.

In addition to the ribbons, these two girls each received $100 U.S. Savings Bonds and four tickets to see the Nets play a basketball game. At half time, they were to be brought to center court for additional special presentations.

In conjunction with the state-wide celebration of National Children's Dental Health Month, Dr. Lee Kaswiner, a Springfield orthodontist, and Dr. Douglas Chester, a general practitioner in Union, have been co-chairmen of Children's Dental Health Month in Union for the past five years.

Dr. Kaswiner and Dr. Chester coordinated the contest and awarded the prizes to the grand prize winners at a special gathering of all the winners at the Tower Steak House in Mountainside.

Couple chairs radiothon

Jeff and Susan Torborg of Mountainside recently served as co-chairmen of "Operation Heartbeat," sponsored by WERA 1590 AM of Plainfield for the fifth year.

Jeff, who is manager of the Chicago White Sox, and Susan, a former Miss New Jersey, assisted by making public service announcements during the radiothon.

"Operation Heartbeat" has been held by the radio station for the past eight years for the benefit of the American Heart Association of Union County. "Operation Heartbeat" raises funds through phone-in pledges from the station's audience.

To encourage listeners to donate, WERA offered a variety of gifts to be given away to donors based on the amount of money they pledged. Prizes were donated by local businesses.

Additional donations to "Operation Heartbeat" are always welcome. To make a donation, one can contact the American Heart Association located at 1 Bleeker Street, Millburn, 07041 or call 376-3636.

Jill L. Hogan of Kenilworth was awarded a master of business administration degree, and Alexandra Johanna Gebhardt of Mountainside received a bachelor of arts degree in February from the Florham-Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University, the university announced recently.

INFLAMED ARCHES

By Dr. Michael Eglow

Do you know what the strongest ligament in the human body is? Well, it happens to be the plantar fascia, a ligament that starts on the bottom surface of the heel bone and extends forward to the bottom of the foot to just behind the toes. It acts to maintain the integrity of the foot structure, as well as protecting the softer muscles and tissues on the bottom of the foot from injury.

If this powerful ligament becomes stretched or strained—or in some cases actually torn—this is called PLANTAR FASCIITIS. The arch area becomes tender and swollen, and will likely cause some pain from the heel through the arch.

This is an injury common to athletes—though by no means exclusive to them—and the key to treatment of plantar fasciitis is to reduce movement of the foot in such a way as to allow functioning while ensuring that it fully heals. In most cases, your podiatrist can keep you on your feet-and-running-while treating this condition.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

Dr. Gary Weisman

WORKER'S COMP COVERS

For injuries which are job-related, Worker's Compensation will compensate the patient. This applies to chiropractic treatment as well as other types of health care. In fact, because of the savings in both time lost and costs, insurance companies are very favorably disposed to chiropractic treatment of injuries.

What kind of savings? Well, for every day a worker is off the job because of a job-related injury, it costs Worker's Comp, the company, and the individual money. Anything which can reduce the amount of time lost is a money-saver; and, over the years, chiropractic treatment has proven itself extremely effective in returning workers to full activity after certain types of injuries.

Of course savings in money may not be your primary interest, but it should be in your interest to be returned to full and vigorous health in the shortest possible time, and with the least chance of complications.

The Seton Hall Preparatory School in West Orange has announced that several Kenilworth and Springfield residents have attained scholastic honors for the second trimester of the academic year.

Anthony Amitrano of Kenilworth received first honors, for which students must have an average of 4.0 or above. Theodore Loya and Mark Kazemi of Springfield each earned second honors, for which students must attain an average of 3.5 or above.

Paul DeRose and Thomas Szaro, also of Kenilworth, and Christian Schwarzbek of Springfield were each named as commended students for having attained a 3.0 average or above.

Robert M. Fried of Springfield was recently named to the honor's list at Union County College in Cranford, with a cumulative grade point average of 3.531. He is a sophomore majoring in business at the school.

Professor Judith Mayer of Mountainside was recently elected as vice president of the Union County College Chapter of the American Association of University Professors for the 1990-91 academic year. Mayer teaches English.

Eric Schobel, an accounting major from Springfield, is one of 670 undergraduate students who have been named to the dean's list at Rider College in Lawrenceville.

Mountainside resident Veronika Bellezza, an eighth grader at the Morristown-Beard School in Morristown, is among the students who achieved academic honors at the school during the second trimester.

She was named to the honor roll, which includes those students who have an overall average of at least 85 and with no grade less than 80. Veronika is the daughter of Elizabeth and Donald Bellezza.

Joanne Esemplare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Esemplare of Woodland Avenue in Mountainside, was recently named to the Pace University dean's list for the 1989 fall semester. She is an accounting major at Pace's Pleasantville campus.

Esemplare is a 1988 graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

Pace University, founded in 1906, is an independent co-educational university offering programs in the liberal arts and sciences, computer science, business administration, law, nursing, education and continuing education for an enrollment of over 26,000 men and women its several campuses.

Hospital seeking memorabilia

Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside will be celebrating 100 years of caring for children and adolescents in 1991. To celebrate the centennial, a committee has been formed to plan special events and activities to be held throughout 1991. Headed by hospital trustee Kay Reeves of Summit, the committee is comprised of area business leaders, volunteers and staff. Currently, information is being sought for centennial materials. The hospital would appreciate hearing from anyone who may have photographs, letters, or other items concerning the history of the facility. The facility was founded as the Children's Country Home in 1891 in Mountainside. Throughout its history, treatment and care has been provided by skilled medical professionals. "The centennial provides Children's Specialized with a wonderful opportunity to take a look at our past and a peek into the future," Reeves commented. "The hospital has been a part of the community for 100 years, and we're proud of the role we've played in various aspects of area development." If area residents have any materials they would like to share, they can call the hospital's foundation office at 233-3720 ext. 310. Children's Specialized is a comprehensive pediatric rehabilitation hospital with 60 acute beds and 25 long term care beds. In addition, extensive outpatient and community services are provided at the hospital's outpatient center in Fanwood.

CHAIN STORIES — Second-grade students in Alice Ortolf's class at Deerfield School in Mountainside make 'chain stories' after reading 'The Story of Jonny Appleseed.' They made the chains by identifying the main ideas in the story and linking them together in a chain. The students are, in front row from left, Robyn Juba, Christina Ferraz and Erin Watson, and in back row, from left, Craig Trano and Evan Chiswick.

Dayton student honored

Jason Yee of Springfield, a senior at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, has been named as the school's "Student of the Month" for April.

Yee is the youngest of five children of Joseph and Fong Yee.

The student has attained a grade-point average of 3.3 on a scale of 4.0, and is ranked 17th academically in this year's senior class at Jonathan Dayton. He serves as the president of the Jonathan Dayton Student Council, business manager of "The Regionologue," the school yearbook; and is an active member of the Dayton Key Club.

In addition to being a top student, Yee is also an accomplished athlete. He was a three-year member of both the Jonathan Dayton varsity soccer and wrestling teams. A two-time All-Mountain Valley Conference performer in wrestling, Jason served as the captain of the Bulldog Wrestling team during the 1989-90 season.

After graduating from Jonathan Dayton, the 17-year old is planning to attend the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, where he intends to major in civil engineering.

Senior citizen trips scheduled

The Senior Citizens Council of Union County has announced its upcoming trips for 1990.

The highlight will be a 29-day cross-country coach tour, leaving on July 16 and returning on Aug. 13.

The tour will also take in sights in western Canada, including Banff, Lake Louise and Vancouver. It will include many U.S. national parks, including Yellowstone, Rocky Mountain, Bryce Canyon, Grand Canyon, Zion, Sequoia, Glacier and Jasper national parks.

San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Vancouver, Denver, St. Louis and Rapid City will be toured. The tour will also stop at the casinos of Las Vegas and Reno.

Frank commented on this trip, "This is chance of a lifetime. The package will include transportation, accommodations and luggage handling. Meals are not included, so you can choose what you want on your own special diet."

The cost per person for a minimum of 20 passengers is $1,995, which will be reduced if more than 24 passengers are signed up. A deposit of $200 is requested.

An orientation party will be held a few weeks before departure so details can be given and questions answered.

Also announced was a new tour to Bardstown, Lexington, Louisville and Frankfort in Kentucky on June 18.

Some of the features of this six-day vacation will be the musical drama "The Stephen Foster Story," Churchill Downs, the Red Mile Race Track, dinner and entertainment with souvenirs at "The Stable," and a trolley tour of Bardstown. The package will include transportation by deluxe coach, accommodations, admissions, five dinners and five breakfasts.

The cost will be $425 per person for double occupancy and $535 for single occupancy. A deposit of $25 per person must be forwarded with the reservation.

Other trips also scheduled for 1990 include separate three-day tours to Albany and Saratoga Springs, to Boston, to Amish Country and to Baltimore; four-day Washington, D.C., and Vermont trips; five-day trips to Cape Cod and Cape May; a 10-day trip to Nashville and Memphis; and a 14-day Florida trip to Sarasota, Longboat Key, the Everglades and Key West.

Seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

For further information, interested persons may contact the council office at 2165 Morris Ave., Union 07083, phone number 964-7555.

A LOOK AT THE LAW — A Suburban Cablevision special titled 'Kids Talk,' which was produced and taped recently by Deerfield School students, featured an interview with Union County Sheriff Ralph Froehlich, center. Froehlich discussed his career with the sheriff's department, and also brought along various breeds of dogs which are used by law enforcement officials. From left are co-host Nanci Doorley, Froehlich, co-host Tracy Saladino and Kasandra Ciasulli, who read a public service announcement during the show, scheduled to air on Wednesday, April 18.

YWCA to offer spring courses

The Summit YWCA, located on 79 Maple Street in Summit, has announced that its spring term of classes and programs will begin on Monday, April 16. These activities will cover a wide range of topics and interests, according to the YWCA.

People who would like to "get in shape" for the summer or want to learn a skill, take a trip or learn "tricks" to help one look better will have an opportunity to pursue their interests at the YWCA'S spring programs.

The Adult Fitness classes will feature a wide range of aerobics classes, a completely-equipped weight room, which is open all day from early morning to night, dancing and swimming.

New this term are two Fitness Combo packages: one can sign up for swimming plunges and the Aerobics Extravaganza, and receive unlimited plunge visits and the aerobics classes for 10 weeks for one low fee; or combine weight training in the weight room and the aerobics classes for a complete exercise workout with unlimited visits for the term, also for one price.

In-the-pool exercise classes will include Aquacise, an ideal class for people with back problems; Aquanatal for the pregnant woman; Water Walking, using water resistance to improve muscle tone, and Arthritis Therapy for those who need a therapeutic program.

Also featured this term will be the YW's regular classes in Pre-Natal and Post-Partum Fitness, Yoga and Back-care, Jazz Dancin' and Tapaerobics, and, for older adults, Silverobics and Weight Training for Women 50 plus.

The younger set can take a cooking course, learn proper behavior, learn tumbling and apparatus in the YW's complete Gymnastics Center at Wilson Center, take a ballet or jazz dance class, learn to dive, improve their swimming strokes in the Strokes Clinic or Competitive Clinic, learn basic water safety or advanced lifesaving and learn karate.

"Kids in the Kitchen" is a cooking and nutrition series for children ages 7-10, where they'll learn about good food and healthy eating. "The Proper Place" will teach behavioral skills for social situations. The YW's ballet class follows the strict standards of the Royal Academy of Dancing in London, where the instructor was trained; the Jazz Dance program features the basics for beginners and the Lynn Simonson technique for the more advanced.

In the pool, the older children and teens can improve their strokes and learn flip turns, starts and racing techniques in the "Comp Clinic." Water Safety teaches prevention of aquatic accidents and encourages safe water recreation, while Advanced Lifesaving, for teens 15 and older, is the American Red Cross-certified "lifeguarding" course.

Young children can take the Y's Tots and Live Y'ers — a craft, gym and movement series; Kindergym and Swim; Pre-School Dance, including tap, ballet and creative movement; and Kinderdance and Dance Combo for the more advanced. In the pool, the little ones can learn to adjust to the water in Tiny Tots and Water Tots, before they move on to Flippers and Kinderswim and the Graded Swim Classes.

In the non-physical area, adults can learn French in Conversational French with Mme. Forbringer, a native of France; English As A Second Language in day and evening classes; Needlework; Cooking With Taste and Thrift, and sewing in "A Stitch in Time."

For those who wish to look their best, Judith Kane of East Coast Images is offering "What Looks Good on You?", Scarf Tying, and "Color Analysis For Women."

Trips are planned to the theatre, Baltimore and Kutztown, Pa. One can also take a trip "down memory lane" with the YW through a trip to the Kean-Brown Centre Stage for its production of "Williams and Walker," a look a Black vaudeville in the early days of theatre.

Baltimore's Inner Harbor and the Kutztown Pennsylvania Dutch Folk Festival are the other offerings this spring.

For the career woman — or those who wish to be — the YWCA's TWIN program is offering four workshops this term. Developing Volunteer Leadership is set for April 17, Managerial Techniques for Office Professionals is an all-day seminar on April 27, Alternatives for Teachers will take place May 3, and the Myers-Briggs seminar is planned for May 5.

Scholarships for all classes are available; requests are confidential and can be handled by any program director.

Registration is being held now at the YWCA. One may register by phone with a Visa or Mastercard during the morning hours only from 9 a.m.-noon or in person at the front desk between the hours of 8:30 a.m.-8:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. For additional information, one can call the YW at 273-4242.

dence Road, which is division of the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation.

In celebration of Earth Day's 20th Anniversary, the "Earthday Birthday Party" will encourage children and their families to take an active role in the fight to save the earth from pollution and neglect.

Activities for children will include: a half-hour Home Box Office presentation, "The Earthday Birthday," an animated special which utilizes a whimsical cast of baby dinosaurs, magical fairies and forest animals, to teach kids about preservation of the environment; a tree-planting ceremony, and a craft activity related to nature.

"Earthday Birthday Party" is free and open to the public. For more information, one can call 789-3670 or 672-1928.

SWORN IN — Garrett Maney, center, of Kenilworth recently took the oath of office as he rejoined the Board of Managers of John E. Runnells Hospital in Berkeley Heights. Maney previously served a partial term on the board of the Union County-operated institution. At left is Union County Freeholder Walter Bright, the board's chairman and freeholder liaison to the board, and at right Board of Managers members Florence 'Pat' Risden holds the Bible during the swearing-in ceremony.

Businessman to be cited

On April 26, Our House, Inc. of Berkeley Heights, will honor Henry Freudenberger, president of Springfield Tool and Die, as Employer of the Year for his hiring of developmentally-disabled employees at his company.

Our House will be celebrating its 10th year of service to people with developmental disabilities. The evening's festivities, commemorating a "Decade of Devotion", will honor the founder, past presidents, residents, employees, employers and volunteers of Our House, Inc.

Henry Freudenberger, a Berkeley Heights resident, will be honored as Employer of the Year. The family-run business, which manufactures pet products, has been employing people with developmental disabilities for one year.

Eight mentally retarded adults have been working at Springfield Tool and Die as either permanent employees or members of a job sampling crew.

Freudenberger and the non-disabled employees have made the employees from the OHI Employment Services Program feel at home. The workers do packing, assembly work, and operate machinery.

"When they started, I wasn't sure how much they would be able to do, but I have been pleasantly surprised. They have far exceeded my expectations. They are dependable and hard-working," said Freudenberger.

"I hope to add additional disabled employees to my payroll."

Johanna Soimseen, an OHI client added, "I like machine work; I not only like it, I love it."

OHI's Employment Services Program offers on-going training and support to employees in group and individual job placements. Those in group settings such as Springfield Tool and Die are trained by an employment specialist, and enjoy the benefits of insurance coverage, transportation, and long-term follow-up services.

All of this is offered at no extra cost to the employer.

For further information about the Our House, Inc. Employment Services Program, one can contact Ellen Ball Nalven at 464-8008.

Pap smears will be available

The Kenilworth Board of Health, in cooperation with Union Hospital, will be providing free Pap smears for female residents over 16 years of age who are living in Kenilworth, announced Dr. Edmund A. Johnkins, M.D., board president.

The dates for the screening program are Tuesday, April 17, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Thursday, April 19, from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Participants must call for an appointment between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, at 851-7014.

"The Pap smear is a simple, painless test for uterine cancer," explained Dr. Johnkins. In the test, cells that the body sheds from the uterus are collected on a cotton swab and examined under a microscope.

If any abnormal or suspicious cells are found, further tests are conducted.

"Early detection in uterine cancer is very important," according to Dr. Johnkins. "If left untreated, the abnormal cells may multiply and spread to other parts of the body, eventually causing death."

Breast examinations will also be performed in conjunction with the Pap smears. Cancer of the breast, if found early and treated properly, is curable in most cases.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DR. SEUSS — These children enjoy a 'Happy Birthday Dr. Seuss' party which was held recently at the Springfield Public Library, honoring the children's book author who created such memorable characters as 'The Cat in the Hat' and 'The Grinch.' The youngsters were treated to a Dr. Seuss book and video, followed by refreshments.

History program is due

The annual spring assembly of the History Societies of Westfield will be held Wednesday, April 25, at the First Baptist Church on Elm Street in Westfield.

The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) Planning Committee has decided that the program will feature a presentation on the Lenape Indians of New Jersey, and is engaging Herbert Kraft of Seton Hall University for the occasion.

The yearly assembly brings together the DAR, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Westfield Historical Society, the Genealogical Society of the West Fields, and the Miller-Cory Museum Volunteers. The meeting will be open and free to the public.

people in service

Navy Seaman Recruit Jolanta E. Walentek, a resident of Elmwood Road, Springfield, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command in Orlando, Fla.

During Walentek's eight-week training cycle, she studied general military subjects designed to prepare her for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Walentek's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for partial college credit in physical education and hygiene.

Marine Lance Cpl. Laura K. Hinkes, whose husband, Barry, is the son of Phyllis Hinkes of Bernadette Court in Springfield, recently reported for duty at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

She joined the Marine Corps in January 1987.

Camp registration noted

The Camp Committee of the Jewish Community Center (JCC) of Central New Jersey has announced that registration for the summer 1990 camp season is now underway.

The JCC Day Camp is for children ages 2-11 and runs for two sessions — June 25 to July 20, and July 23 to Aug. 17.

Scholarships from the Larry Goldberger Memorial Scholarship Fund are available. Applications for counselors and junior counselors, as well as for staff qualified in specialty areas, such as swimming, arts and crafts and sports, are being accepted.

All young groups are led by nursery-school teachers and assistants. Openings are available in each area.

For further information, interested persons may contact Susan Bennett at the JCC, 1391 Martine Ave., Scotch Plains, phone number 889-8800.

Health programs slated

A new "Systematic Stress" program will be held at Overlook Hospital in Summit beginning on Thursday, April 19, at 7 p.m.

Health officials report that stress can be hazardous to one's health and can be a factor in cardiovascular disease, digestive problems, headaches and even cancer. One can learn to manage stress, however, so that it doesn't control one's life.

"Your Back — How Healthy Is It?" will be the subject of a free health education symposium at Overlook Hospital on Monday, May 7, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the hospital's Wallace Auditorium.

Speakers will include Dr. Steven Dorsky, an orthopedic spinal surgeon and Carol List, a registered physical therapist.

To register for the stress program, to attend either one or to receive additional information, one can call Overlook's Department of Health Education at 522-2963.

Environmental fair slated

Union County College's annual open house celebration will also ring in the 20th anniversary of the nationally-designated Earth Day as it conducts an environmental fair, featuring some 30 exhibitors, on Sunday, April 22, on the college's Cranford campus.

Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo, R-7, will speak at the event. His address will be part of a full schedule of activities.

As part of the open house, a five-kilometer race at 11:30 a.m. and a related one-mile "Fun Run" half an hour earlier will be held.

In addition, an International Festival offering foods, crafts and ethnic entertainment will be conducted from noon to 4:30 p.m. in the gymnasium and theater.

The environmental activities will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., under the theme, "Think Global, Act Local."

Rinaldo, an author of the Clean Air Bill, will speak at 2 p.m. in the theater regarding environmental concerns and problems facing the nation, particularly in Union County.

During the day, the college's Sperry Observatory also will be open as members of the Amateur Astronomers, Inc., based at the college, will help the public view sunspots through its telescope. Sub-topics to be discussed there include "Fragile Earth," and "Weather and Air Pollution."

The college's greenhouse, additionally, will be open for touring, as well as the Tomasulo Art Gallery.

The Peppermint Puppeteers will perform at 3 p.m. with a theme of "Don't Waste a Minute" in the recycling and environmental preservation effort.

Among the public, corporate and charitable exhibitors at the environmental fair will be Schering-Plough, Procter and Gamble, Public Service Electric and Gas, Alcoa Corp., New Jersey Transit, Bellcore, American Lung Association, Cranford Fire Department, McDonald's, Elizabethtown Gas, AT&T and Merck. Other exhibitors will be local civic and environmental groups and schools.

Exhibit topics will cover energy conservation, solid waste, source reduction, wetlands, hazardous waste and air pollution.

Those interested in further information may call 709-7124.

TEEN ARTS FESTIVAL — Back row from left, Union County Freeholders Elmer Ertl and Walter McLeod observe a teacher and students at the Union County Teen Arts Festival. Young people between the ages of 13 and 19 from 40 schools performed, exhibited work and studied with peers in workshops at the county-sponsored festival, held at Union County College in Cranford.

Earth Day celebration slated

Listener-sponsored New York radio station WBAI, 99.5 FM, will present an Earth Day celebration at the United Auto Workers Hall in Cranford on Sunday, April 22, starting at 3 p.m.

Celebrants from canoeists checking pollution on the Passaic River to the Clean Sludge Coalition advocating the use of sewer sludge as compost, instead of dangerous ocean dumping and incineration, will report on their day's activities.

Primary speaker Michio Kaku, Ph.D., famed nuclear physicist and critic of nuclear-powered electricity, will speak on "Jobs and the Environment — Setting the Agenda for the '90s."

Kaku, professor of nuclear physics at the City University of New York and visiting professor at the Institute of Advanced Studies in Princeton, is the author of "To Win a Nuclear War" and "Beyond Einstein." He produces the Wednesday evening program, "Explorations," on WBAI.

Bill Kane, area director of the United Auto Workers, will present "New Jersey Labor Perspectives" — a report on labor's activities to mobilize opinion and action against industrial pollution and restoring jobs lost in recent layoffs.

Stuart Hutchison, award-winning producer and actor, will present a "Report from WBAI" and remind the audience of the continuing danger of the "trickle-down" destroyers of the environment.

An award to WBAI will be presented at this Earth Day celebration in recognition of its long-standing commitment to providing a medium of expression for those who do not have a ready forum elsewhere.

The Ray Korona Band, headed by Jersey City attorney Ray Korona, will play its recently-recorded hit, "Safe Harbors." Also, folksinger Bennet Zurofsky, a Newark attorney, will sing various Earth-celebrating songs.

Union County College plans events to commemorate Remembrance Day

Union County College will commemorate Remembrance Day, a national designation to acknowledge the memories of those killed during the Nazi Holocaust and other world genocides throughout history, on Tuesday, April 24.

A committee consisting of UCC staff, faculty and students has arranged several events honoring martyrs from such events as the Nazi Holocaust and Armenian genocide of 1915, plus an acknowledgement of Nelson Mandela's liberation and leadership, and the continued Afro-American struggle.

Highlighting the day's events will be a play, "The Righteous Gentiles," at 12:15 p.m. in the Theatre of the Campus Center on the Cranford campus. Continuous television viewings of appropriate videotapes will be shown during the day in Nomahegan Hall on the Cranford campus, and a display of books in the MacKay Library showcase will feature relevant literature. Speakers on the subject also will appear in individual classroom discussions.

Committee members are Irwin I. Phillips, dean of student affairs; Professor Judith Mayer of Mountainside, who teaches English; Professor Vartan Abdo, who teaches mathematics; Sharon Johnson, assistant director of the Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF); Professor Oscar Dishtein, director of the Learning Is For Ever (LIFE) Center; and students Sirena Herbert and Dana Malette Murray, members of the Black Organization of Students (BOS).

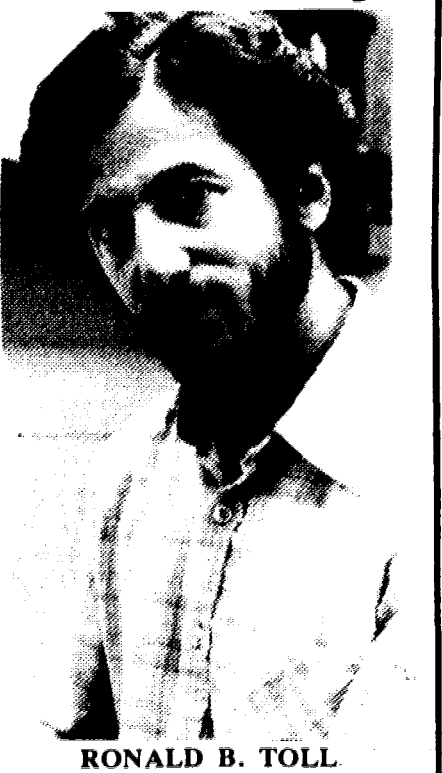

Local resident to speak of shipwreck discovery

Ronald B. Toll, Ph.D., a native of Springfield and discoverer of a $400 million cache from a shipwreck, will be the guest speaker at the Union County College Alumni Association meeting on Thursday, April 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Cranford Campus Counseling Center.

Toll, a graduate of Union County College and an assistant professor of biology at the University of the South in Seawee, Tenn., will speak on his experiences upon discovery of the shipwrecked side-wheel paddle steamer, the S.S. Central America, and its cargo of $400 million in gold coins and bullion.

Toll was involved last year in the exploration and study of deep-sea animals found at the shipwreck site, more than 8,000 feet beneath the ocean's surface.

The S.S. Central America sank in a hurricane off the East Coast in 1857.

RONALD B. TOLL

Youth fishing derby planned

Newark Bait and Flycasting Club and the Union County Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a youth fishing derby on Saturday, April 21.

The derby will be free and open to children 16 years of age and younger.

Trout will be stocked at Echo Lake Park in Mountainside and the Rahway River from Springfield to Cranford. Stocked in the waterways will be 500 trout between 11 inches and 21 inches in length.

Registration will be at the pavilion at lower Echo Lake between 7 a.m. and 11 a.m. Many prizes are available to win.

Also, an adult contest will also be held, with a $5 entry fee. Contest rules, regulations and entry forms will be at the Echo Lake Park or at the following weigh stations:

Dave's Sport Shop, 1354 Stuyvesant Ave., Union; Charlie Brenner's, 344 St. Georges Ave., Rahway; Linden Sports Den, 218 North Wood Ave., Linden; Sportsmen's Outfitter, 327 South Ave., Westfield; and Joe Spinazzola's Sport Shop, 1630 Springfield Ave., Maplewood.

"Sponsor A Trout" forms have been placed at all the above tackle shops for anyone who would like to donate more trout for the derby. Donations can be sent to the Newark Bait and Flycasting Club, c/o Robert Jones, 322 North Ave. East, Cranford 07016.

Antique telescope lecture scheduled

Deborah Jean Warner, curator from the history of physical science department of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, will speak about her research on antique telescopes from the 19th Century at the Amateur Astronomers, Inc. (AAI) monthly lecture on Friday, April 20, at 8 p.m. at Union County College's Cranford campus.

The program will be held in the Campus Theater and will be followed by a tour of the Sperry Observatory, operated by AAI members, where the public may view astronomical objects via a high-powered telescope.

Union County College site of eldercare talk

The Union County Department of Human Services, Division on Aging, will sponsor a video conference entitled "Eldercare: Employer Options and Strategies," on Friday, April 20, from 11:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., at the Scotch Plains campus of Union County College.

The conference, co-sponsored by Union County College and the United Way of Eastern Union County, will be produced by and broadcast from Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Va.

The teleconference, telecast by Old Dominion's Center for Gerontology and Academic Television Services, will broadcast to a nationwide audience of employers and employees, who will examine eldercare issues from their perspective and discuss options open to employers.

The program will also present details of employer-sponsored activities in support of caregiving employees and will cover the community resources which are available to meet caregiver needs.

For registration information, interested persons may call Joann Maslin at the Union County Division on Aging at 527-4870, or Arlene Patrusевич at 527-4871. The cost for the teleconference is $15, which covers a refreshment break and resource materials.

Legislative breakfast scheduled

The Union County Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual legislative breakfast for its legislative delegation on Tuesday, April 17, at 8 a.m. at the Coachman Inn at Cranford State Parkway Exit 136 in Garden.

The charge is $25 per person. For more information, interested persons may call the chamber office, 135 Jefferson Ave., Elizabeth, phone number 352-0900. Reservations must be made and paid for in advance.

Nature Club slide show scheduled

The Watching Nature Club will host a slide show on "Garden State Wildlife" on Wednesday, April 18, at 8 p.m. in the United National Bank Building, 45 Martine Ave. South, Fanwood.

Guest speaker for the evening will be nature photographer Chris Sturm. The public is invited to this free program. For more information, interested persons may phone 580-1650.

Aides sought to assist beauticians at hospital

John E. Runnells Hospital of Union County, located in Berkeley Heights, is in immediate need of volunteer aides to assist beauticians in preparing patients for shampooing and other functions.

"Volunteers have always been an integral part of our programs at Runnells," said Union County Freeholder Walter Boright, who is freeholder liaison to the Runnells Hospital Board of Managers.

"We desperately need about six volunteers to aid our beauticians, or some of our residents will not be able to use the beauty shop services," said Boright.

Beauty shop volunteers are needed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to approximately 1 p.m., and must be able to push wheelchairs, assist ambulatory patients, and stoop and bend.

Interested persons may call Wendy Hall at 771-5848.

Fitness program for arthritics offered

To answer the need for safe, inexpensive exercise classes especially designed for people with arthritis, the New Jersey Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation has developed a fitness program, to be held at the Westfield YMCA, beginning Wednesday, April 18, from 12:15 p.m. to 12:45 p.m.

"Arthritis Fitness" is a weekly class of gentle stretching, strengthening, and relaxation exercises led by health professionals trained by the New Jersey Chapter.

Pre-registration and physician consent is required. For information and an application, interested persons may contact the Y at 233-2700.

Blood drive set for tomorrow

A blood drive will be hosted by the Calvary Tabernacle, 1155 East Jersey St., Elizabeth, tomorrow, April 13, between 4:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

The Eastern Union County American Red Cross will co-sponsor the event along with New Jersey Blood Services in an effort to ensure an adequate community blood supply which will be available to anyone in need.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 76, who weighs at least 110 pounds and is in general good health, is eligible to donate.

For further information, interested persons can call the American Red Cross at 353-2500 or New Jersey Blood Services at 828-9101. Donors planning to give blood should call the Red Cross in advance to confirm site, date and time.

Spaghetti dinner fund-raiser set

A spaghetti dinner fund-raiser for Union County Prosecutor's Office Sgt. James S. Arbes will be held Saturday, April 21, from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, 250 Gallows Hill Road, Westfield.

Police Benevolent Association Local No. 250 of the Prosecutor's Office is sponsoring the benefit for Arbes, who is suffering from a terminal illness.

Tickets at $10 per adult and $5 per child are available from Investigator Frank Miterotonda at 527-4619, Lt. James Durkin at 527-4746 or Capt. William Jagusak at 527-4688. Donations are also welcome, and may be made payable to the James Arbes Fund.

HEALTH TALK — Union County Freeholder Walter McLeod, far right, chats with Gladys Kearns, far left, director of the county Council on Alcoholism and Other Drug Addictions, Inc., and several students participating in the sixth annual "Go to Health" Conference held for high school students at Union County College in Cranford. Nearly 400 students from schools across the county attended the two-day conference, co-sponsored by the county and the state Department of Higher Education Consortium on Drug Prevention.

CLEP tests to be administered at county college on Saturday

College Level Examination Program (CLEP) tests will be administered in a variety of subject areas on Saturday, April 21, beginning at 8:30 a.m. at Union County College's Cranford campus.

Current and soon-to-be college students may earn up to 32 credits through such tests, administered nationally and recognized as a means to obtain advance college credit. Subjects include English, mathematics, languages, social sciences, and natural sciences.

Tests are available in both general and more specific subject areas.

Testing will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 1:30 p.m.

The college recommends that participants take only two tests during each test session, but more than two tests may be taken by special permission only. Each test is 90 minutes in duration.

Other upcoming test days for CLEP examinations will be on Saturdays, May 19 and June 16.

Those interested in further information may call 965-6023.

Two levels of instruction in tennis offered at UCC

Beginning and intermediate levels of tennis instruction will be offered starting on Saturday, April 21, through Union County College's Department of Continuing Education.

Beginner instruction will cover basic grips, forehand and backhand strokes, service and volley. The intermediate clinic will review ground strokes, serves and volley, with an introduction to singles and doubles strategy.

Classes will be conducted on four outdoor courts on the college's Cranford campus.

Students should bring a racket and wear sneakers. Tennis balls will be provided.

The beginner class will be held from 9 a.m. on five Saturdays, April 21 through May 19. The intermediate class will be held from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. on the same dates.

Those interested in further information may call 709-7601.

Seminar on how to start child-care center slated

Individuals who may be interested in starting child-care operations in Union County are invited to a free seminar titled "How To Start A Child Care Center" on Saturday, April 21, from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. at the Westfield YMCA.

There will be a $15 fee for materials distributed during the workshop, and enrollment will be limited.

The seminar is offered by Community Coordinated Child Care (4C) of Union County as part of its mission to improve the quality and quantity of local child care.

A non-profit, United Way member agency, 4C offers information and referral services to parents, a child-care job bank, recruitment and training of child-care providers, and technical assistance to individuals who start child-care operations.

For more information, or to register for the workshop, interested persons may contact Community Coordinated Child Care, 60 Prince St., Elizabeth, phone number 353-1621.

Chaplain sets special events for Holy Week

By BEA SMITH

While many people will be observing Holy Week and Easter in their churches and with their families at home, the residents in the Manor Care Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Mountainside will be involved in similar activities. In fact, their Easter observances will be especially appealing to them because the center's new chaplain, the Rev. Terry Ruth Culbertson, has all sorts of events planned.

Culbertson, who has been with the center for the past year, says, "This is going to be my first Easter service here in Mountainside, and I'm hoping it's going to be one that the residents participate in, enjoy and remember for a long time. You see," she explains in a kind but firm voice, "one of the problems that people have when they're in an institution is just not being at home. And when they pray in a chapel in an institution, it seems strange to them. They come to a room that doesn't have stained glass or any of the little things that make up a church.

"That's why," she sighs, "I'm going to have a whole group of lilies on the altar. And we'll have an outside service, weather permitting." Culbertson laughs. "I'm inviting the whole community to come to the 11 a.m. service. We need volunteer singers and musicians. And we have some residents participating as a choir. We could have such a good service!" The minister says that many of the residents enjoy being a part of the planning and the actual service. "I'm having the residents make banners out of felt to decorate the chapel and make it really look festive — to make it more of a sacred space."

Culbertson is seriously concerned about how the residents feel about

"what it's like to have Easter inside a place where people don't want to be. People get fearful and it can be scary. When you make everything appear more familiar, and you see the light in their eyes, you can get transformed by the people. You see God's love shining for them, and we are transformed by the change.

"My motto is 'When we care for people — that's how we experience God's love.'"

The pastor has conducted a Palm Sunday service and a Passover week service and has planned events for Holy Week. On Maundy Thursday — today — she says she will have "a foot-washing service and communion. I'm going to wash the feet of some of the residents." And on Good Friday, tomorrow, she will conduct the Stations of the Cross.

"I have a lot of plans for the whole religious time. I'd like to help it to be more like what you experience at home. And families have been invited to participate," says Culbertson. "The families are part of the unit of care. We see families and residents together as a unit of care.

"For example," she says, "we had a St. Patrick's night, and families came out and had a wonderful time. We like to include everyone in what we do."

On April 9, the chaplain conducted a model Seder and a Passover lunch at the center. "One of the residents, who is Jewish, helped me to coordinate the lunch," Culbertson says. "Twenty percent of the residents are Jewish. And we have two volunteers who come faithfully every week for a Sabbath service. They're from Temple Emanuel in Westfield. They are George Lieberberg and Fred Penziner. They did a model Seder and Passover lunch. They're very good men," beams Culbertson.

SPECIAL SERVICES — The Rev. Terry Ruth Culbertson, chaplain at the Manor Care Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, Mountainside, conducts Holy Week services for the residents in holiday-decorated chapel. Family members also attend services.

"We have some wonderful volunteers. And we have a great Rosary group. People come on weekends to do volunteer work."

Manor Care, says the chaplain, "is a really new home. It's not even 2 years old. We have three different types of units. We have a nursing home unit, a rehabilitation unit for people 18 to 65 who have spinal cord injuries, head traumas, people with chronic disabilities, and a residential unit for older people, which is an independent kind of situation. It's called assisted personal care unit, and it's for people who can take care of themselves for the most part. We have very mixed groups," she says. "There are 150 beds, and we have about 100 people here. It's still filling up."

Born in Baltimore, Md., Culbertson at first decided she wanted to be an illustrator. She was graduated from Towson State College in Baltimore, where she received an art degree. Then she decided to go into the chaplaincy, and was graduated from Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, where she received her master of divinity degree in 1977.

"I had been in the ministry since 1976, when I was ordained by the Church of God, which is considered a movement of the Church of God Reformative Movement. The church, which is definitely Protestant, was created in the 1890s.

"I have specialized training in the chaplaincy," she says. "I had two years of what is called clinical training, and I learned how to work with institutions. I am a fellow in the College of Chaplains. I've worked in different places in nursing homes in Washington, D.C. In Syracuse, I was a director of pastoral care in the area for Syracuse Area Interreligious Council. I had 18 chaplains on my staff — people of all faiths...Catholic, Jewish, Moslem, Protestant," she says. "It was all quite remarkable. Here is an example of how good people work together in causes for others. We serviced one of the county jails, and we all did a Thanksgiving service...for after all, there is one God...it was a symbol to the inmates that we could do some sharing together."

Before coming to work in Mountainside, Culbertson worked "in a variety of chaplaincy jobs. I worked in Brooklyn Methodist Hospital for a year, then in Overlook Hospital, Summit."

Although she is married to Mark Savad, she has retained her maiden name. "And he understands. After all," she says, "I'd been ordained for a long time before we were married." She and her husband, who is an executive at the New Israel Fund in New York City, reside in South Orange and have a little daughter, Miriam Savad, 3.

"She helps me with my work," says the pastor with pride. Several weeks ago, she helped me to sell daffodils for cancer research. And she helps me in my ministry."

Right now, Culbertson is doing a variety of things. "I'm starting a little gift card project for UNICEF cards. I'm working with the Boy Scouts building patio boxes. I'm chairman of Pastoral Care Network for Social Responsibility, and we meet in my home in South Orange. The organization is composed of volunteers...of chaplains and pastoral counselors who are committed to social justice. We have an international membership. Last year, we had a meeting in Czechoslovakia. We're going to the Netherlands next year. We do regional activities," she says. "We have some kind of social justice event at our meetings, such as a speaker to give a talk on a responsible, non-violent life."

Culbertson explains the compassion she displays in her work. "You see," she says, "I have a disability. I have rheumatoid arthritis...the inflammatory kind. I got it when I was 8 years old in my joints and in my eyes as well. I learned that God loves us especially when we hurt. I had to accept my limitations when I was a kid. I knew that God couldn't make me better. And it took me a long time to understand this.

"My illness has taught me, hopefully, a little bit of compassion."

And perhaps that is why the compassionate chaplain, the Rev. Terry Ruth Culbertson, reaches out a little farther when she walks among the residents of Manor Care.

'Fanny' is a joy

By BEA SMITH

Leave it to the Paper Mill Playhouse and Angelo Del Rossi, its executive producer, to elaborate on an elaborate musical play, "Fanny," revived for the first time in many years on the stage. The enchanting production in Millburn has so much going for it that it's no wonder it packs the theater at every performance.

The S.N. Behrman-Joshua Logan musical play, based on a trilogy by Marcel Pagnol, with music and lyrics by Harold Rome, offers such top veteran and award-winning actors as Jose Ferrer and George S. Irving. It also overwhelms with an unusual array of scenery with three-dimensional depth and authenticity, a la Michael Anania, and a spectacular circus that engulfs the entire audience.

Over and above these attributes are the musical numbers, among them, the memorable title song, "Fanny," "Restless Heart," "Never Too Late for Love," "Welcome Home" and "Love Is a Very Light Thing."

The story, a universal one, is set on the Marseilles waterfront and concerns the simple people who live and work there, selling fish in a fish market, selling spirits in a waterfront cafe to the townspeople and the seamen who stop at the port. It tells of a young woman, Fanny, who is in love with Marius, the son of Cesar, a cafe owner. Marius is shyly in love with Fanny, but his love for the sea is greater, and so, he, unknowingly, leaves her with child and sails out to sea.

Fanny's hair-tearing mother is ultimately subdued when Fanny agrees to marry an elderly widower, who also is a wealthy sailmaker, Panisse. He is ecstatic about caring for his young wife and bringing up her son, Cesario, as his own. Marius' father, who is in constant disagreement with Panisse, calls a temporary halt to their strife when he is asked to be the baby's godfather.

Ferrer, who plays Cesar, has a stage presence that makes the Paper Mill a very special place to be. He underplays his role but shows a versatility long displayed in his many plays and films. Ferrer, surprisingly, has a very good singing voice and can turn a head or two when he sings "Welcome Home," or "I Like You" with Panisse. He is no Cyrano de Bergerac or Toulouse Lautrec, but he's an absolute delight as Cesar.

Irving, who is the stronger of the two characters, does a marvelous job as Panisse. He effortlessly sings and dances through his numbers, and he captures the audience's complete attention with his warm personality

A winner

Winifred P. Phillips of Union, a senior at Union High School, has been selected one of five winners statewide in the 1990 New Jersey Young Playwrights Festival for her one-act play, "Waiting for the Ride," which will be staged along with the other winning plays at the State Theater, New Brunswick, May 17.

Emily Mann, McCarter Theater's new artistic director, will be honorary chairman for the festival, produced by the Playwrights Theater of New Jersey, Madison, in association with the New Jersey State Teen Arts Program.

Culmination of the New Jersey Young Playwrights Program in-school playwriting residencies and statewide playwriting competition for students ages 13 through 19, the festival "provides a unique opportunity for junior high and high school students interested in creative writing and/or drama to hear the voices of their peers speaking for their generation."

Phillips and the other playwrights, who come from high schools in Madison, West Long Branch, Metuchen and North Haledon, also will be honored with Governor's Awards for excellence in the arts.

About 200 one-act plays from around the state were submitted for consideration in this year's competition, according to co-ordinators Julia Craven and Jim Peskin, both of whom are staff members at Playwrights Theater of New Jersey.

Selection of the winners was made by theater professionals from American Stage Company, South Jersey Regional Theater, Paper Mill Playhouse, Whole Theater, Foundation Theater, Loaves and Fish Theater Co., Passage Theater, McCarter Theater, George Street Playhouse and the New Jersey Theater Group.

Admission to the 1990 New Jersey Young Playwrights Festival is free and performances will begin at 10 a.m. at the State Theater, New Brunswick. For reservations one can call Lian Farrer at 247-7200.

theater review and his thoughtfulness, kindnesses and overpowering love for Fanny and son Cesario.

Teri Bibb, a very fine and talented young actress, who plays the title role, has a splendid singing voice, and is completely believable as the forlorn, love-sick girl who against her feelings follows the advice of her anxious mother, and ends up living a comfortable, but somehow, disquieted life of wealth.

Marius, the young man who loves and leaves Fanny for the sea and returns to find his first love unavailable to him, is charmingly played by John Leone. Leone gives the role of Marius a sensitive portrayal, and as a result, one feels more sympathy than contempt.

Karen Shallo is excellent as Honorine, the fish-selling mother of Fanny, who provides most of the show's comedy, particularly when she sings "Oysters, Cockles & Mussels."

The others, young Jonathan Gold as Cesario, Mitchell Greenberg as M. Brun, Paul Kandel as The Admiral, and K.C. Wilson as Escarifique, offer strong supporting roles.

This is Robert Johanson's 22nd play at the Paper Mill Playhouse, and he, once more, has outdone himself as a director. If it isn't enough to offer such a fine, fun-loving, truly entertaining musical, with Jim Coleman as musical director and Sharon Halley as choreographer, Johanson has added a spectacular circus attraction as one of the birthday scenes. It is reminiscent of "Barnum," with colorfully funny clowns, trapeze artists climbing ropes right in the auditorium of the theater, swinging on swings high above the stage, and generally singing and dancing away to the awe and delight of the audience.

It cuts into the tragedy that is part of "Fanny," and one doesn't walk away from the production with the sadness that is inherent in the final scene. That is the magic of the Paper Mill's version of the more than 30-year-old musical.

It has been revived with a verve, and it will remain with audiences as a truly fine offering...one of the best in many seasons. "Fanny." It's a winner!

B'NAI B'RITH Linden-Roselle Lodge 1986 and Women's Tabor Chapter will present its annual "Citizens of the Year Award" for outstanding community volunteer service to Margaret Coloney at 8 p.m., April 19 at the Suburban Jewish Center, Academy and Deerfield Terraces, Linden.

Coloney co-founded the Center for Hope Hospice in Roselle in 1983, which is expanding throughout Union County, "fulfilling the long-neglected needs of the terminally-ill and their families."

Coloney was born in Pennsylvania, but spent most of her adult life in New Jersey. As a member of a family of four, her coal-miner father "impressed upon his children that caring brings with it responsibility and commitment."

A strong advocate of the hospice movement, she studied with Dr. Kubler-Ross and participated in seminars on death and dying. She is an adjunct professor at Kean College of New Jersey, Union, is mentioned in "Who's Who in American Nursing," Society of Nursing Professionals, Washington, D.C., and received the Human Services award from the Advisory Board of Catholic Community Services in 1987.

Coloney spent 20 years at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth, as a nursing supervisor. She founded the Crisis Intervention Program together with the Rev. Charles Hudson, where they worked for seven years.

In 1983 they co-founded the Center for Hope Hospice in Roselle in a home donated by one of her patients. Its main purpose was "to care for patients at home where they could feel independent and secure in familiar surroundings." Over the next few years she formed a nucleus of personnel to carry out her mission, often "spending all night with dying patients, and reporting for work next day. At that time there was no provision for financial remuneration."

Her work impressed "every level of government and hundreds of private and public organizations in subsequent years." In 1985 she opened a hospice center in Scotch Plains for volunteer training and bereavement counseling, all free of charge. At present, due to her vision, the center is leasing a home-like building in North Elizabeth, which will provide care within its walls for those who have no one to care for them or no residence.

Coloney is forming long-range plans for larger modern buildings, and contractual links with Seton Hall and Rutgers University's schools of nursing to provide clinical nursing experience in hospice work for their students.

She and her husband, Jack, have five children, three grandchildren, and live in Kenilworth. He is retired and involved in the center.

The mayors of Linden, Roselle and Kenilworth, in addition to other public officials will be present, it was announced.

The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

THE MOUNTAINSIDE Woman's Club Inc., member of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will meet at L'Affaire, Route 22, Mountainside, Wednesday, at noon.

Each woman has been requested to wear a hat. Prizes will be awarded for the "prettiest, funniest and most weird."

A Creative Arts Day will be held with all departments participating. Mrs. Edward F. Kaczka will be chairman. Reservations can be made before tomorrow with Fritz Walcher at 233-9396.

A FISH DINNER by Thistles will be held by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 229 April 26 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Post, 115 Grove St., Roselle. Take out dinners will be available for purchase, it was announced.

THE SUBURBAN MOTHERS of Twins and Triplets Club will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the First National Bank of Central Jersey, 105 East Fourth Ave., Roselle. Election of officers will be held.

All mothers of multiples and prospective mothers of multiples are invited to join the informal discussion group. Light refreshments will be served, it was announced.

New Sunday School

Congregation Beth Shalom of Union has announced the opening of a new creative Sunday School for unaffiliated Jewish children in Union County and the local area.

For families with children between the ages of 7 and 9 years, the Sunday morning program will integrate first grade level Hebrew, holidays through arts and crafts and Biblical stories with their relevance for today. The school hours will run from 9:30 a.m. to noon, and there will be sessions where parents and their children "will learn and experience Jewish living and practice together." The academic year will begin in September. The program and course of study is being coordinated under the leadership of Rabbi Howard Morrison.

For further information, one can call the rabbi at 686-6773.

Holy Week events

On Good Friday, tomorrow, Grace Lutheran Church, 2222 Vauxhall Road, Union, will have a spoken liturgy worship service at both 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The message for this service will be "Signs of the Cross...Finality."

On Saturday from 1 to 2 p.m., the Board of Education and youth will hold an Easter egg hunt and party for their Sunday School children and friends.

Easter morning will begin with an outdoor Sunrise service at 6:30, followed by a breakfast in the Fellowship Hall. At 10:30 on Easter morning, the church will celebrate "Jesus' resurrection" in a Communion worship service. The message for the service is "Signs of the Cross...Power." All children in attendance at either service will be given a free Easter balloon, and all adults will be given a free pocket cross.

Fish, chips dinner

Grace Lutheran Church, 2222 Vauxhall Road, Union, will hold its annual fish and chips dinner, catered by The Thistle Restaurant, April 20, from 5 to 7 p.m. in the church fellowship hall. Along with the dinner, coffee and homemade desserts will be served. Take out dinners also will be available. The dinner is open to the public.

A Singles program

The Singles Planning Committee of the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey has invited Jewish singles of all ages to participate in a spring Lishma program — courses for singles — on Wednesday evenings, April 25, May 2 and May 9 at the YM/YWHA of Union County Green Lane, Union.

Courses to be offered and their instructors include, "The Kabbalistic Personality," Rabbi Samuel Rosenberg of the Elmore Hebrew Center, Elizabeth; "The Yiddish Express," Rabbi Shawn Zell of Temple Beth O'r, Clark; "Heroes and Scoundrels in the Biblical Book of Judges," Rabbi George Nudell of Temple Israel, Scotch Plains; "What Does Judaism Say About Reproductive Choice?," Rabbi Robert Rubin of Temple Mekor Chaim, Linden; "Jews Around the World — Jews of Romania," Rabbi Ronald Hofferberg of Temple Beth-El, Cranford; and "What is Midrash?," Rabbi Howard Morrison of Congregation Beth Shalom, Union.

Courses begin at 7:15 and end at 9:30 with a break for a complimentary "nosh" and socializing.

For further information one can call Debra Greenberg at 351-5060.

7 p.m. Take-out dinners also are available.

One can call 686-2914, 376-6192 or 376-1695 for reservations.

Jewish immigrants

"If you are a young single professional, 22-39 years of age and want to meet interesting people, help incoming Jewish immigrants from the Soviet Union, use your sorting, organizing, painting and fix-up skills and have fun," then one can join the Young Single Professionals Group of the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey. A "Warehouse fix-up party" will be held April 29 from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The group will meet at 11:30 a.m. at a warehouse on Rt. 22 in Union which stores furniture and furnishings for incoming Jewish immigrants from the Soviet Union. To sign up or for further information one can call Debra Greenberg at 351-5060, days, or Rich Walters at 821-2453.

Holocaust Memorial

Congregation Israel of Springfield, 339 Mountain Ave., Springfield, has extended an invitation to members of surrounding communities to attend a Yom Hashoah — Holocaust Memorial — program April 22 at 8:15 p.m.

Special guest speaker will be Martin Mendelsohn, who has spent time and effort in bringing Nazi war criminals such as John Demjanjuk, Feodor Fedorin, Karl Linas and many others to justice." He has been a consultant to the governments of Canada, Israel and Australia and serves as legal counsel to Simon Wiesenthal of Vienna and The Simon Wiesenthal Center of Los Angeles.

A candle lighting ceremony will follow. Admission is free.

For further information one can call 467-9666.

Easter observances

The Rev. Matthew E. Garripa, pastor of Mountainside Gospel Chapel, 1180 Spruce Drive, has announced the Easter observances at the chapel, tomorrow services will be held at 7 p.m., with a Good Friday service. Communion will be served.

On Easter Sunday morning at 6:30, there will be a sunrise service, followed by a free continental breakfast. The Sunday School hours from 9:45 to 10:45 will be a combined Easter special for all children and adults rather than the usual individual classes.

The Resurrection Sunday morning praise service at 11 o'clock will feature the chapel choir and the newly-formed chapel band, both under the

Easter message

The song, "Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down," by Kris Kristofferson tells the story of a man whose loneliness is reflected by an emptiness felt on Sunday morning. He awakes, pulls on his clothes and stumbles out to meet the day. He's met with the smell of "Sunday chicken" cooking. He pauses to hear the sound of singing in a church; he hears a church bell ringing and reminding him of that which he wishes he could recapture. Sunday serves to remind him that he has lost something, and it echoes the emptiness he feels which he describes as "Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down."

For many, that feeling is magnified on Easter morning. Remembered Easters can echo painfully for those who are not part of a church family. Bunnies and egg hunts only serve as band-aids covering a deeper longing for meaning remembered in lilies adorning the cross proclaiming God's love, of hearts swelling and singing "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today," and hearing with hope the story of the God who loves us, accepts us, and calls us together as a family.

Easter is the gentle explosion of God's love for us. It's an invitation to experience "oneness in God" rather than loneliness. It's a celebration of God saying, "I care." If you have been feeling "Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down," let this Easter turn it around. Find a church to attend and experience again the remembered joy of letting God touch your heart. Let that be a step towards never again feeling "Sunday Mornin' Comin' Down."

Holy Week services

Holy Week and Easter will be observed at St. Stephen's Church, 119 Main St., Millburn, at special services on Maundy Thursday, today; Good Friday, tomorrow, and Easter Sunday. The rector, the Rev. Gordon Hyde Tremaine, will officiate at all services.

Tonight at 8, the traditional Maundy Thursday service of Holy Eucharist will commemorate the Last Supper shared by Jesus Christ with his disciples, at which he introduced the sacramental bread and wine of Holy Eucharist.

On Good Friday, tomorrow, during the traditional hours of Christ's crucifixion from noon until 3 p.m., St. Stephen's Church will offer a special passion observance. The traditional Good Friday liturgy will be observed at 8 p.m.

Children are invited to attend from noon until 12:45 p.m. on Good Friday and to participate in a passion pilgrimage, which will be led by members of the Church School. Based on a traditional Lenten devotion, The Way of the Cross, the pilgrimage will trace the events of Good Friday, using symbols to help children understand its meaning and significance.

From 1 until 3 p.m., the rector will lead a more adult-oriented service of passion observance, using a series of Biblical readings and meditations which explore the meaning of the life and death of Jesus. This open service is structured to allow churchgoers to come and go, and anyone who wishes to attend for all or any part of the service is welcome, it was announced. The church will remain open from noon until 3 p.m. for those wishing to observe the three-hour vigil.

On Easter morning, "the great festival of Easter" will be celebrated with a service of Holy Eucharist at 8 o'clock and a festival Choral Eucharist at 10. Tremaine will celebrate the Eucharist and preach the Easter sermon at both services.

Babysitting will be provided in the nursery during the 10 o'clock service. Children old enough to attend church will take home Easter symbols created on the first Sunday in Lent by the Church School, it was reported.

Special music at the 10 o'clock Easter service will be under the direction of Dr. John Eric Floreen, organist and music director. The service will open with the "Allegro" from Handel's Concerto II played by Floreen on the Beckerath organ.

Following the organ prelude the Children's Choir will sing "Christ the Lord is Risen Today" by Jones for the Choral Introit. For the offertory anthem the Senior Choir will "Sing Praise to Christ" by Bach. Closing the service Dr. Floreen will play the Toccata from Symphony V by Widor as festival organ postlude.

Singing in the Children's Choir for Easter will be Beth Boegershausen, Kyle Daley, Jon Likarish, Jill Sieffert, Laura Spersert, Christopher Wells and William Weidman.

Rabbi Rubin to talk

The Sisterhood of Temple Mekor Chayim, Suburban Jewish Center, Linden, will meet April 25, at 7:45 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Rabbi Robert Rubin of Temple Mekor Chayim, whose topic will be "In Spite of Everything: A History of Modern Israel Through Political Cartoons."

A question and answer discussion will follow the presentation.

Husbands and friends are invited, it was announced. More information can be obtained by contacting Carolyn Schiff at 245-2867, or Ruth Gunther at the temple office at 925-2283.

Mass, Communion

Court Our Lady of Fatima 1546 of Linden's Catholic Daughters of the Americas, CDA, will hold its annual Mass and Communion Breakfast April 29 at 9 o'clock in St. George Church, Linden.

The Rev. Ferdinand Miller of St. Michael's Church, Lyndhurst, court chaplain, will be the celebrant and guest speaker. Gloria Griffith of St. John's Church, Linden, is regent of the court. Doris Wojtowicz of St. Elizabeth's Church, Linden, is chairman.

Tickets can be obtained by calling Wojtowicz at 862-8020.

Joint services set

The First Presbyterian Church of Roselle will join people from St. Luke's Episcopal and First Baptist churches, Roselle, on Maundy Thursday. "Maundy Thursday commemorates the Last Supper that Christ ate with His disciples, immediately before his arrest, trial and crucifixion."

This year, the service will be held in fellowship hall beginning at 8 p.m. The ministers are preparing a new liturgy that will tell the story of that evening in a different way.

The congregations of First Presbyterian and First Baptist once again will worship together tomorrow on Good Friday evening. The service will be held in the chapel beginning at 8.

The liturgy for the service, "The Symbols of the Passion," was written by the Rev. Max Creswell, pastor of First Presbyterian. With scriptures, music and devotional readings, the story of Christ's "last hours will be retold, visible symbols relating to the story will be placed on a special banner as the liturgy progresses until at last the banner and the sacrifice is complete.

"Both the Rev. Harkless and Dr. Creswell will lead the liturgy. A number of others from the two congregations will participate."

The senior choir also will sing the anthem, "O Perfect Life of Love," during the service.

The First Presbyterian Church has announced that CROP is the name given to local community efforts for hunger education and fund raising through Church World Service. It is the relief and development agency for more than 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations in the United States.

This year, the national CROP office has established a special telephone number, 800-456-1310, that presents a recorded three-minute message about areas of need in different parts of the world and ways in which CROP/Church World Service is meeting this need. "It is a way to learn first hand how the money which you contribute is being used."

Back in 1973, First Presbyterian was instrumental in organizing the first CROP Walk for Hunger in Roselle and Roselle Park. Since then, the walk has grown both in the number of participants and "in the amount of money we've raised." It is an annual event held on the morning of Good Friday to emphasize "the sacrificial aspect of our endeavor," it was reported.

This year, tomorrow, "we'll be walking again. The walk will be about six miles. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Church of the Assumption, Roselle Park. We will begin walking about 10 a.m. and generally conclude the walk about noon with refreshments at the Assumption Church."

Lenten services set

Lenten worship services will be held during Holy Week in St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Hillside and Colonia roads, Elizabeth. On Maundy Thursday, tonight at 7:30, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be held.

Good Friday Tenebrae will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

On Saturday morning, the church will be open for quiet meditation and prayer.

Easter Sunday morning at 10:15 will begin seven weeks of celebration of the Resurrection of the Lord. The church office can be contacted for additional information at 352-5487.

Council's services

The 63rd annual Good Friday services, sponsored by the Elizabeth Area Council of Churches, will be held tomorrow from noon to 3 p.m. in the Second Presbyterian Church, 1161 East Jersey St., Elizabeth.

A complete service each half hour will celebrate the Seven Last Words of Christ from the Cross. Twelve area clergy will participate.

4 healing services

The Rev. Gerald P. Ruane, director of the Sacred Heart Institute, will celebrate a series of four healing Masses after Easter. Each county in the Archdiocese of Newark will be the site for one healing Mass.

In Union County, he will be in St. Mary's Church, Planfield, at 2 p.m. "A Healing Mass," explains Ruane, "is a Eucharistic celebration carried out exactly as the church prescribes, but with a greater emphasis on its healing aspects. Usually there is more time for the celebration so that we can have longer periods of prayer, praise and silence."

For further information one can call 226-7077.

Festival service due

Calvary Lutheran Church, 108 Eastman Street, Cranford, will proclaim the "good news of the empty tomb" at Festival services of Holy Communion at 8:30 and 11 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

Save the Earth

"All things are interconnected. Whatever befalls the Earth befalls the people of Earth. Man didn't weave the web of life; he is merely a strand in it. Whatever he does to the web, he does to himself." — Chief Seattle.

Hope for future life on Earth depends on our taking decisive action now to manage environmental resources. With Earth Day 1990 only 10 days away, more and more groups are forming to spread the word about ways to save our planet, not only on April 22, but for the future.

The composition of the groups is no longer limited to professional environmentalists and scientists who have studied the Earth. There are groups made up of people who are simply concerned about the changes that have occurred to our planet — changes that are reducing our tropical rain forests, depleting our ozone and forcing us to recycle. They are taking their awareness campaigns to schools, colleges, churches and businesses in an effort to enlighten others about what we can do to save our planet.

This year is the 20th anniversary of Earth Day, and its importance has never been so evident.

In 1970, when former U.S. Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin spearheaded a campaign that created the movement, it became a way for people to send a message to their politicians that it was time to clean up the environment.

It may have taken 20 years, but now politicians are listening to the people and recognizing that our home — Earth — is in need of spring cleaning.

Global warming is creating a greenhouse effect on the planet. Scientists have determined that unprecedented amounts of greenhouse gases, such as carbon dioxide, methane, chlorofluorocarbons and nitrous oxide, have been released into the atmosphere and have increased the global temperature by 1 degree Fahrenheit. By the middle of the next century, they predict a further increase of between 4 degrees and 9 degrees Fahrenheit.

When President Bush signed a resolution last year proclaiming April 22 as Earth Day 1990, he also declared the 1990s as the "decade of the environment."

On the state level, former governor Tom Kean in 1987 mandated that every municipality devise a recycling program.

Three years later, recycling, which was once met with much opposition, is now being accepted as a way of life. Some municipalities in the state have even devised innovative programs in order to make the routine of separating recyclables and waste disposal creative.

In municipalities themselves, the Global Cities Project, which was formed in response to the growing trend of municipal activism, has recruited cities and counties that want to develop local solutions to global environmental problems.

Close to home, Kean College, Union County College and listener-sponsored radio station WBAI are planning many programs next week in Union and in Cranford to heighten environmental consciousness.

These proclamations, mandates and projects were not created so that we can recognize their intentions for one day, and then go back to being careless about our environment. We need to incorporate into our daily routine the best information that is being disseminated about our planet and how to save it.

Take part in this year's Earth Day activities in and around Mountainside. Make recycling a part of your daily routine, and don't stop once Earth Day has passed. The Earth and its future must be in our minds, if life on it is to survive and prosper.

Vote down budget, close two schools

So Superintendent Donald Merachnik doesn't know any other way of running Union County Regional High School District 1, which includes Mountainside, with $873,012 less in state aid than to raise our taxes!

Is this solution worth our paying him more than $100,000 in salary? Well, I will tell him and the entire regional school board how to solve their dilemma: Close two schools!

The four regional schools once held 5,500 students. Today, there are only 2,200 students. Isn't the answer obvious, taxpayers?

If Merachnik were running a private company, he would have been in Chapter XI years ago.

It is waste like this that gives us no choice but to vote "no" on the school budget.

And where is the state? They went after Jersey City for its no-show jobs, etc. What about us, with two no-show schools?

I understand that three principals are retiring this year. What better time to close two schools?

Citizens of the regional school district, get smart. Vote "no" on the school budget!

Treat Parkinson's victims naturally

The month of April has been designated as "Parkinson Awareness Month," a month in which we should give special thought to victims of Parkinson's and any other debilitating disease.

As a caretaker of a victim of Parkinson's, I know the tension and anxiety associated with this condition, to the caretaker and particularly to the victim, and how he or she is perceived.

Friends and relatives who have been constant associates of a victim of Parkinson's or any other debilitating diseases tend to avoid contact with the victim, because of their uneasiness in facing and conversing with a disabled person whom they have known to be healthy and independent before the illness struck.

The manner in which a disabled person desires to be treated is naturally. Give your whole attention, make eye contact and be patient when speaking to a disabled person. Offer to help a person with a disability if you want to do so, but wait until your offer is accepted.

When speaking to a person in a wheelchair, get down to the level of the wheelchair users' eye and speak directly to the victim, not to their companion. This will spare both of you a stiff neck.

Above all, be relaxed and patient in the presence of a disabled or handicapped person.

Please be kind, but not oversolicitous, to disabled individuals and be grateful for your own good health.

Alcoholism is biggest drug problem

A great deal has been said lately about America's "war on drugs." But the discussion seldom includes our number-one drug problem which, as hard as it may be for many of us to admit, is alcohol.

While no one can deny the catastrophic consequences of illegal drug use, we should not turn our eyes away from the toll exacted by a substance that is both legal and heavily marketed.

And what better time than April, Alcohol Awareness Month, to examine the impact alcohol consumption has on this country.

The Seventh Special Report to the U.S. Congress on Alcohol and Health, released in February, contained this startling information:

- Although U.S. per-capita consumption of alcohol is at its lowest level since 1970, alcohol is used by more Americans than any other drug, including tobacco. Even with the decline, this represents 29.8 gallons — approximately 318 12-ounce cans — of beer; 3.0 gallons — 77 five-ounce glasses — of wine; and 2.1 gallons — 179 1.5-ounce drinks — of spirits for each person age 14 and over!

- An estimated 10.5 million U.S. adults exhibit some symptoms of alcoholism. An additional 7.2 million abuse alcohol, but do not show symptoms of dependence.

- Despite a downward trend during the past decade in alcohol use by high school seniors — for whom alcohol, like marijuana and cocaine, is an illegal drug — they still use alcohol at disturbingly high rates. In 1988, 92 percent had tried alcohol, nearly two-thirds were current drinkers, and more than one-third were occasional heavy drinkers.

- Nearly half of all deaths from motor vehicle crashes are related to alcohol. It has been estimated that the risk of a fatal crash per mile driven is at least eight times higher for a drunk driver than a sober one.

- It is estimated that 25 percent of all hospitalized persons have alcohol-related problems.

- The economic cost of alcohol abuse and dependence was estimated to be $116.9 billion in 1983, and the cost is estimated at $136.3 billion in 1990.
- Untreated alcoholics and their families have higher general health care costs than non-alcoholics and their families. These costs tend to decrease following alcoholism treatment.

- Fetal exposure to alcohol is one of the leading known causes of mental retardation in the Western world. Treatment costs associated with such exposure total nearly one-third of a billion dollars annually.

- The damaging effects to offspring of maternal drinking during pregnancy are long-lasting. Although a follow-up study of fetal alcohol syndrome cases showed some improvement, learning deficiencies persisted.

The next time your readers drink to somebody's health, I hope that they will remember a few of these facts.

Only when Americans begin to re-evaluate their attitudes about alcohol and put this legal drug into proper perspective can we expect to make any progress in treating the epidemic of addiction now destroying the very fabric of our society.

Enforce law and save on car insurance

A lot is being said about the auto insurance problems in New Jersey, but nothing is being said about an area that can have a significant impact in reducing premiums. That area is law enforcement.

We all know that the major reason for the increased cost of insurance is the amount of money that is paid out in claims. The major reason we have claims is accidents.

Experts agree that in nearly all accidents, at least one driver had been violating a traffic law.

It seems obvious to me that to decrease accidents and decrease insurance costs we could enforce the traffic laws. Yet no one seems to talk about law enforcement as contributing to the solution.

As an example, at least half the people on the Garden State Parkway go 10 mph to 35 mph over the speed limit, which is 55 mph.

The speed is not the problem, though. The problem is that the other half of the people are still doing between 55 mph and 60 mph. Now you have the situation where the people doing 70 have to weave between the people doing 55 in order to maintain their speed, and this creates very unsafe conditions.

The condition gets even worse in the posted 45 mph zones in Essex and Union counties and on the Raritan River Bridge. The people doing 70 continue to do 70 mph, while law-abiding citizens drop down to 45 mph or 50 mph.

I'm sure this speed differential has contributed to the majority of accidents on the Parkway, especially the multi-car accidents that occur in good weather. Those accidents increase my insurance rates and yours.

The state and local police departments can quote figures on how many speeding tickets they issue. The fact is that the number of tickets issued means nothing if more than 50 percent of the people still speed.

I feel that enforcement of traffic laws by local and state police by considered a major part of the effort to reduce accidents and insurance rates in New Jersey. We need to give out enough tickets to encourage at least 70 percent to 80 percent of the people to drive within the law at all times of the day, including rush hours.

Chain president visiting fellow

Marcy Syms, president of Syms Corporation, a 22-store clothing retail chain, will be the New Jersey Visiting Fellow at Kean College of New Jersey in Union next week.

The visiting fellows program is administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation of Princeton and is funded by the state Department of Higher Education to demonstrate the value of the humanities and liberal arts as preparation for careers.

Syms said some of the issues she would like to address for Kean students include how to succeed in a family business, what consumerism means to them, the history of her company, and how to keep up with the competition.

Syms joined the Syms Corporation in 1978. In early 1979, she joined her father, Sy Syms, as the second spokesperson for Syms on TV and radio. She became president of the firm in 1984.

James Jandrowitz, assistant to the dean of the Kean College School of Liberal Arts, is coordinating the visit.

Hartnett to be feted

A testimonial dinner honoring Joseph Hartnett, a member and past chairman of the Union County Utilities Authority, will be held on Thursday, April 19, at 6 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, Garden State Parkway Exit 135, Clark.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Good Government Committee of Union County. Interested persons may contact Winfield Mayor David Wright, treasurer of the committee, at 72 Seafoam Ave., Winfield 07036.

Dems choose candidate

The Regular Democratic Organization of Union County has selected Springfield Democratic municipal chairman Bruce H. Bergen to run for the 7th Congressional District seat now occupied by Congressman Matthew Rinaldo, R-7.

The district includes Kenilworth, Mountainside, Roselle Park, Springfield and Union.

Bergen is expected to run unopposed in the Democratic primary in June.

"I am proud to have been chosen for this position," Bergen said.

"In the general election, I intend to run an issue-oriented campaign. I believe the voters will see a clear difference between myself and my opponent," he said.

"There are many important issues facing this country, including our environment, social equality and justice, a realistic foreign policy and an economic policy that does not mortgage our children's future," he said.

Bergen is a partner in the Linden law firm of Kaplowitz and Wise. He formerly served as attorney for the Springfield Board of Health and was associate counsel to the Union County Board of Social Services, now the Division of Social Services, for four years.

Bergen is also past president of the Cranford Rotary Club, and is currently a member of the board of directors of the Union County Legal Services Corporation.

Kean to mark Earth Day

Students at Kean College of New Jersey in Union will mark the 20th anniversary of Earth Day next week with a clean-up of the campus woods, an exhibit, lectures, a film and discussions.

Earth Day is Sunday, April 22.

All activities are free and open to the public, according to Joseph J. Mahoney, Ph.D., co-ordinator of the environmental studies program and director of Earth Day activities. He is an assistant professor of biology at Kean.

Students will gather on Wednesday, April 18, at 12:15 p.m. at woods' edge near the residence halls for the clean-up.

On Thursday, April 19, a PSE&G energy conservation exhibit will be on display from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the College Center.

The film, "In Our Waters," will be screened on April 19 at 9:25 a.m. in the O'Meara Auditorium in Hutchinson Hall. It will be followed at 10:15 a.m. with a lecture on toxic waste and grassroots movements, to be given by Madelyn Hoffman, director of the Grassroots Environmental Organization of New Jersey. A discussion will follow the film and lecture.

Also, "Global Warming: Fact or Fiction?" will be addressed on April 19 at 1:40 p.m. by Charles H. Murphy, associate professor of geology and meteorology, in the Little Theater in the College Center.

Jail space is leased to feds

By SHARON CATES

Since the new Ralph Oriscello Correctional Facility opened in October, Union County had been faced with the dilemma of operating two jails.

Now, due to a county Board of Freeholders resolution authorizing the county to lease space to the U.S. Marshall's Office, that dilemma has been resolved.

In what the resolution's sponsor, Freeholder Neil Cohen, called "a win-win situation for the county and the federal government," the freeholders voted unanimously last Thursday to approve the leasing arrangement.

Cohen explained that the county would house a maximum of 180 federal prisoners in the old county jail, and the U.S. Marshall Office would compensate the county with an estimated annual payment of $5 million.

"The agreement is a substantial monetary benefit," Cohen said. "The federal government will provide us with a certain amount of money for each federal prisoner incarcerated in the old jail. Plus, we are eligible to receive federal grant monies to renovate the old jail.

"It is believed that this is the first county-federal partnership initiated by a county in the state," Cohen added.

"There will be no cost to the county, as it will save hundreds of thousands of tax dollars that will be used to offset the costs of extra employees and overtime in our present correctional system," the freeholder explained.

Cohen explained that the federal government will also save money under the agreement.

"It will be more convenient and cost-effective for federal authorities to house prisoners locally while they are awaiting action in federal court in Newark," Cohen said. "Federal tax dollars will be saved when the costs associated with transporting inmates are diminished."

The county is expected to hire approximately 100 correction officers to operate the old jail under the agreement. The old jail is expected to accept the first federal prisoners on May 1.

"We have a phase-in plan to hire the staff, starting this month," Salem explained. "Then we will begin to phase in female federal prisoners in May and male federal prisoners in June."

In addition to the maximum of 180 federal prisoners that would be housed in the old jail, the county will be allowed, under the agreement, to put approximately 200 municipal and county inmates there. The additional cell space that the county will still be able to use in the old jail is expected to alleviate the jail overcrowding problem that is facing Union County and most of the 21 municipalities in the county.

ROBERT E. STONE

The Robert E. Stone general insurance agency of Springfield ranked seventh in sales in 1989 among Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance's 106 general agencies.

The Stone agency increased sales 24 percent over 1988 to tally its best year ever.

Northwestern Mutual is the nation's 10th largest life insurance firm, with assets of more than $28 billion. In 1990, for the eighth time in as many years, Northwestern was ranked by Fortune magazine as "the most admired" among the nation's 10 largest life insurers.

Ruth Gober, interventionist at Washington and Livingston schools in Union, has been selected for inclusion in the National Distinguished Service Registry (NDSR): Counseling and Development.

Counseling professionals are chosen for this honor on the basis of their dedication, achievements, and contributions to the profession. The NDSR identifies and documents the achievements of those individuals who strive for a higher quality of life for others.

In addition to her intervention position, Gober has served as a counselor/consultant with the Union County Rape Crisis Center and Women for Women of Union County, both in Westfield, and has been guest speaker for community agencies and organizations. She was recently appointed member of the Advisory Board of the Commission on the Status of Women of Union County.

MARK KATZ

Mark Katz of Hillsborough has been appointed vice president, director of marketing, for the Office and Charlie Brown's Restaurant Group, based in Union.

Reporting to Dan Andrus, president of the restaurant chain, Katz will manage the marketing and advertising programs for the 33 restaurants in New Jersey and New York.

A 10-year veteran of the food service industry, Katz has held key marketing positions with several restaurant companies, including Denny's, Red Robin and Shakey's.

AN ATHLETE REMEMBERED — Patrice DeCastro, left, of Mountainside receives a special recognition plaque from Brearley Regional High phys. ed. teacher Diane Erdmann, in recognition of DeCastro's 'superior athletic achievements' during her days at Brearley nearly 20 years ago. Active in athletics before girls' formal interscholastic athletic competition had been established, the award is, in one way, retroactive for DeCastro, who is also a member of the Kean College Athletic Hall of Fame.

R.C. squads gain splits

By MARK YABLONSKY
If this past week is any indication, then the spring of 1990 should prove to be a most interesting time for both the Roselle Catholic High baseball and softball teams, win, lose or draw. Both Lion squads went 1-1, and in both instances, the wins were something to remember.

BASEBALL
It was, to say the least, two of those days at the friendly, cozy confines of the Lions' Den for the Roselle Catholic High baseball team last Thursday and Friday.

With home runs coming in bunches at their home field, the Lions found themselves supplying two dozen balls in both games. And after dropping a tough 7-5 decision to Immaculata in the delayed opener on April 5, the Lions rebounded with a 6-5 win over visiting Governor Livingston the following day on a throwing error.

"I'm happy," said R.C. skipper and baseball enthusiast Jeff Ryan, whose team also beat Hillside, 5-3, Monday, and is now scheduled to face North Plainfield at home today, and then Roselle at Arminio Field on Saturday. "Because I've already had two pitchers throw complete games. And I'm just hoping that continues."

Against Immaculata, the decisive blows were two-run homers to left by both Bill Micelli and Joe Hoffman that created a 7-0 lead by the fourth inning off of an unfortunate Nick Koman, who had been victimized by three unearned runs in the top of the first inning. Koman, though, hung on to pitch a complete game.

In the bottom of the fourth, Tim

Sadowski scored R.C.'s first run on a dropped third strike and throwing error by Carich, and it remained a 7-1 game until the bottom of the seventh. Loading the bases with one out, the Lions scored four times: on a bases-loaded walk to Mark Benedetti, a hard-luck, hard-hit RBI grounder to the hole on the left side by Luke Monsorno, and then a two-out, two-run single to right-center by Koman on an 0-2 pitch.

But after Chris Van Vliet walked and Tim Zawacki singled to refill the bases, Ralph Limaldi popped out to end it.

The following day, however, it was Limaldi's solo homer to left that tied the game at 5-5 in the fifth against G.L. In fact, not only did the ball clear the creek behind the short left field fence, but it ended up across the street on somebody's front lawn.

Two innings before, Van Vliet had belted a solo homer to dead center, and shortly afterward, Chad Hensler smashed a solo shot past the creek in left. G.L.'s final lead came about when Ken Regenye smashed a two-run homer to left in the fourth.

In the bottom of the sixth, the Lions pulled it out. Mike Donnelly led off with a single to center, took second on a balk and eventually ended up at third on a stolen base with one out. Then, Monsorno walked and stole second.

With the infield in, Jim McFadden went for a low 1-2 pitch on a suicide squeeze, but whiffed. Worse yet, poor Donnelly appeared to be a dead duck in a rundown between third and home — until the catcher's throw ricocheted off of Donnelly's helmet and out toward left, permitting the relieved baserunner to cross home plate with the decisive run.

SOFTBALL
Having already lost a tough 8-7 decision to Immaculata the day before in Somerville, Mary Kate Schiller's Lady Lions were about to go down to an equally-tough 9-8 loss last Friday afternoon to Governor Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights. They were about to. But they didn't.

Instead, the "comeback kids," as Schiller told it, averted defeat — and in a very big way. In fact, by the time R.C.'s turn at bat in the top of the seventh inning had ended, 18 batters had come to the plate, and a total of 14 runs had scored. Winning pitcher Robin Powell retired the side in order in the bottom of the frame, and it was a 22-9 final.

What happened? First, Maureen Kelleher and Powell delivered singles to start the inning, and then Jeannine Devillieres reached on an error to fill the bases. Then, Schiller ordered two squeeze plays, and both Patty Kelleher and Tara O'Brien responded perfectly, bringing in Maureen Kelleher and Powell for a 10-9 R.C. lead.

Then, Marilyn Jacobs and Jen Adlassnig singled in runs to make it 12-9, and, as a well-know sportscaster would say, "you could have turned your sets off right there."

The day before in Somerville, R.C. had erased a 6-2 deficit with four runs in the top of the fifth, and later took a 7-6 lead with them into the last of the seventh before the Lady Spartans tied it.

'Dawgs pound Central

By MARK YABLONSKY
Once the rain abated, the Dayton baseball team rained hits and runs all over Newark Central on opening day last Friday in Newark. The volleyball team is off to a 3-0 start, and while the tennis team lost to Immaculata last Thursday, four of the five matches were close all the way.

The following is this week's rundown on Jonathan Dayton Regional High School sports.

BASEBALL
It was quite an opener for the Bulldogs, to say the least. With eight runs coming in during an explosive first inning and seven more following in the second, this one was over quick. Technically, the 10-run rule shortened the contest to just five innings, but it still took some two-and-a-half hours to decide.

Although everyone had a hand in the big win, the two biggest performances were from sophomore center-fielder Jason Mullman and pitcher Clayton Trivett. Mullman went 2-for-2 with four RBIs and four runs scored, while Trivett allowed just three hits in his five innings of work. The pitcher, now 1-0 on the year, struck out nine and walked two.

Also, Newark Central did just as much damage to itself by committing 14 errors.

It was Trivett who began the romp by leading off with a walk against losing pitcher Eric Canadas in the first. Trivett stole second and continued to third on a single to left by Andy Huber, who also stole second. A run-scoring grounder to second base by Dale Torborg brought in one run, and another soon came in when catcher Matt Gallaro reached on a fielder's choice.

Bases-loaded walks to both Mullman and Trivett later followed, and the inning was climaxed by a two-run single to center by Huber. Mullman, after lining a two-run double to right field in the second inning, then blooped a two-run triple to right in the fifth to cap Dayton's scoring on the afternoon.

The Bulldogs, who were scheduled to play at North Plainfield yesterday, will face Arthur L. Johnson Regional this afternoon in Clark.

BOY'S TENNIS
It may have been a loss, but first-year Bulldog coach Jack Drury isn't at all disappointed with the way his young team played in a 4-1 defeat to Immaculata in last Thursday's season-opener in Somerville.

"Well, I think we did pretty well," Drury said, "considering we don't have too many returning players and a lot of underclassmen. I think the boys were pleased because it was very competitive."

Dayton's only win came at first singles from returning senior Eric Rauschenberger, who defeated Chris Keneally, 6-1, 6-2. Things stayed pretty close at second singles, where senior Mike Shapiro lost, 2-6, 6-love, 4-6, to Mike Ippolito. Immaculata then pulled ahead to stay when Kevin Francis beat Dayton freshman Brian Costello, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

The Spartans got their only decisive win of the day when the first doubles tandem of Mark Undercoffler and David Gorleski blanked Jeff Lippman and Roger Ayres, 6-0, 6-0. At second doubles, Dayton's David Hollinster and Bindul Tumkhia lost, 3-6, 1-6, to Philip Schwalge and Scott Longo.

The Bulldogs were scheduled to play at Ridge yesterday afternoon in a 3:45 p.m. start.

VOLLEYBALL
The Lady Bulldogs are 3-0, following wins over Chatham, Mother Seton and Millburn. The win at Millburn took place last Thursday, April 5, with Dayton prevailing, 2-1, on the strength of a hard-fought 18-16 decision in the third and deciding match.

Leading Dayton to victory were seniors Helene Nathan and Irene Waslyk, who play at spiker and setter, respectively.

Dayton is scheduled to face Madison in an away match this afternoon at 3:45.

Tigers lose to Rahway, 2-0

By MARK YABLONSKY
The Linden High baseball team lost a 2-0 decision to Rahway last Friday afternoon the hard way, via a two-run homer by sophomore first baseman Brad Edwards with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning. The game, played in Rahway, was the season-opener for both teams.

After six-and-a-half innings of scoreless ball, Rahway got its leadoff batter on when Lou Romeo reached on an infield hit. Pitcher Pat Jackson bunted into a pop out, but Edwards drove a 1-0 pitch from Reinaldo Morales over the fence in right to send everyone home.

Morales had been set to start against Scotch Plains on April 2, but, of course, did not because that original opening day contest was postponed due to inclement weather. So he came on in relief of starter Ariel Lopez, who, after throwing 70 pitches in chilly weather, Linden coach Tony Picaro explained, was taken out of the game prior to the start of the fifth inning.

Linden's best scoring opportunity came with one out in the top of the fourth inning when centerfielder George Doney tripled to left-center. But when Picaro ordered a squeeze play with Dan Kuczynski at bat, the player bunted a pop-up that resulted in an inning-ending double play.

"He's one of our best bunters," Picaro said. "It just backfired on us."

Also, with two out in the seventh, Linden had runners at the corners and seemed ready to score when senior shortstop John Cubala smashed a "bullet" toward third base. But the fielder was there to make the stop, as well as the subsequent throw to first for the out.

Both teams had six hits, with Doney collecting a double and triple.

"We've got nothing to be ashamed of," said Picaro, whose team is scheduled to play a makeup game at Scotch Plains this afternoon at 3:45 p.m. "We played hard, we played intense, we just didn't get any breaks."

Dayton coach resigns

Ray Yanchus, who has served as head coach of the Dayton Regional boy's basketball team for the past 27 years, has announced his retirement from that position. He will, however, continue to teach Social Studies at Dayton and also coach the varsity golf team.

During his 27 seasons behind the Dayton bench, Yanchus compiled 317 wins. His three finest seasons were in 1968-69, 1969-70 and 1970-71, when Dayton won three straight conference titles: the Watchung in 1968-69, and then the Suburban the following two seasons. Also, Yanchus coached his 1970-71 squad to a North Jersey, Group 2, Section 2 championship; that team went on to the state semifinals before losing to Cliffside Park.

The final title for Yanchus came in the 1983-84 season, when the Bulldogs won the Mountain Valley Conference, Mountain Division crown.

League parade slated

More than 500 youths are expected to participate in the Roselle Park Youth Baseball League's opening day ceremonies on Sunday, April 29. Ceremonies will begin with a parade starting at 1 p.m. near the Middle School on W. Grant Avenue. There will be a cake sale, and orders for baseball jackets will be taken.

Bears rally, win opener

By MARK YABLONSKY
 Experienced or not, young or old, solid or developing, Ralph LaConte's Brearley Regional baseball team always is ready to play.

And play the Bears did in overcoming an early 7-0 deficit on opening day last Thursday to defeat St. Mary's, 8-7, in eight innings. It was the first game at newly-renovated Ward Field since May 14, 1988, when the Bears defeated Scotch Plains, 9-3, in Union County Tournament play.

Oddly enough, however, LaConte felt his team gave a better accounting of itself in a 4-3 loss at Bound Brook on Friday.

"We didn't play well in victory, but we played well in defeat," said the Brearley coach, who was pleased nonetheless with the comeback against St. Mary's. "Sometimes you don't win games, you lose them, and that's the difference. I think St. Mary's lost the game on Thursday. I think we lost the game on Friday."

"They showed me a lot coming back on Thursday," LaConte added, also saying his team is going through a "maturity process" right now. "It was probably one of the biggest comebacks at Brearley in my four years (as coach)."

The first hero was reliever Chris Parenti, who took over for starter Brian Moleen, after the latter had been reached for seven runs in the top of the third. With two out and two on, Parenti walked his first batter, Tony Freitas, to fill the bases, but then retired St. Mary's hurler Chris Arencibia on a fly ball to right to end the inning.

The next hero for Brearley was junior leftfielder Luan Ahmetaj, who belted a bases-clearing, three-run triple to left-center in the bottom of the inning, during which time the Bears scored five times to get back into it. Chris Carey walked with the bases loaded prior to the triple, and Don Dayon singled home a run after it for the other two runs.

In the bottom of the sixth, Jeff Barr doubled home pinch-runner Tim Caufmann, and later scored himself on a sacrifice fly by Carey, another of Brearley's heroes on the day.

For Carey, you should know, hurled 2 1/2 scoreless innings of hitless relief, while striking out six and walking none to earn the victory. And that came about with two out in the bottom of the eighth.

Following walks to Carey and Ahmetaj, pinch-hitter Don Sammet was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Then, Peter Accomando, with a full count, took a pitch that was high for ball four and the winning run, in the person of pinch-runner Bill Durow, came in.

The following day, the Bears held a 3-1 lead going into the bottom of the sixth inning against Bound Brook, but a fellow by the name of Bob Hurley — no, not that Bob Hurley — slammed a long three-run homer to left off of Carey, who had come on in relief of starter Parenti.

"There was no doubt about that one," LaConte said. Sammet, by the way, went 2-for-4 against Bound Brook, and also came on to get the final out of the sixth inning — but the damage, of course, had already been done.

Park diamond squads open

By MARK YABLONSKY
 It was a mixed bag for the start of the spring season in Roselle Park. The baseball team was held to three hits in a loss to Middlesex last Thursday, while the softball team couldn't stop hitting against Newark Tech one day later.

And after being shut out twice, the boy's tennis team rebounded to shut out Green Brook, 5-0, last Friday in Green Brook.

BASEBALL
 The Panthers, who victimized so many teams with top-notch pitching performances last season, this time were the victims. Middlesex, behind a neat three-hitter from Roger Nepton, took a 9-2 decision over Park on opening day last Thursday in Middlesex, two days after the scheduled opener had been washed out in Manville.

Nepton also singled, was hit by a pitch and reached base on a walk, but the real damage was done by catcher Jay Lalid, who went 3-for-4, including a two-run single to center in the sixth that finished all scoring on the afternoon.

The Panthers did close to within a 3-2 margin of the Blue Jays in the top of the fourth, during which time Park got its first two hits. Catcher Ray Jankowski delivered a sacrifice fly to short right field to score Jim Freeman, who had singled. Park's second and final run soon followed when Scott Bermingham, who had also singled, crossed home plate on an error by Lalid.

Scott Perrette had Park's other hit.

SOFTBALL
 It was absolute party time for the Lady Panthers, who slugged 21 hits and scored literally at will in a 19-1 romp over Newark Tech. last Friday at Herm Shaw Field in a delayed season-opener.

Leading the barrage was sophomore Jenna Gallicchio, who stroked four singles and drove in two runs, while sophomore Nina Lott added three singles and an RBI.

Winning pitcher Kim King had two hits and drove in four runs. Leftfielder Michelle Hazlehurst, freshman second baseman Kim Harms and sophomore third baseman Gina Antonucci all had two hits and two RBIs. King belted a two-run triple in the second inning, and then slammed a two-run homer in the third.

From the mound, King permitted just two hits in four innings of work, while walking two and striking out five. She struck out the side in the first inning, as did reliever Jennifer Smith in the top of the fifth — at which time, the 10-run rule sent everyone home early.

Following yesterday's home makeup game with Middlesex, the Lady Panthers will visit New Providence in a 4 p.m. start this afternoon. And then ace pitcher Meiko Saito and the rest of her Westfield teammates will be in town for an 11 a.m. start on Saturday.

"It was a good opener from the fact that we hit the ball," R.P. skipper John Wagner said. "And defensively, we played errorless ball."

BOY'S TENNIS
 The score of 5-0 may have been wild for the Panthers, but after being blanked against both Johnson Regional on April 2 in Clark and North Plainfield on April 5, the Panthers did the same to Green Brook one day later.

Endler among MAC leaders

Four members of this year's Moravian College women's basketball team were among the top statistical leaders in the Middle Atlantic Conference, including Amy Endler of Roselle Park.

Despite sustaining a knee injury toward the end of the season, Endler, a freshman guard, led the MAC's South Division in three-point field goal percentage (.364), while placing second in three-pointers a game (1.5).

Endler also finished third on the team in points (372), free throws (45) and assists (55), and second in scoring (14.9). In 10 different games this past winter, Endler was the leading scorer for the Lady Greyhounds, who finished at 23-4 and a seventh consecutive MAC Southeast Section title.

Badges ready

The Springfield Recreation Department has announced that tennis badges are now available for the 1990 season. They are free of charge, but all township residents are required to obtain one.

They are available tomorrow, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at 30 Church Mall.

Martin selects Fairfield

Craig Martin, who recently ended an outstanding high school career as a member of the Abraham High boy's basketball team of Roselle, was expected to sign a letter of intent last night to attend Fairfield University in Fairfield, Conn. on a full basketball scholarship next season.

As of press time, Martin, who scored 485 points and averaged better than 10 rebounds a game for this year's 23-2 Roselle squad, was expected to sign last night at 8 p.m. at his home.

Martin recently scored 15 points while playing in the Schoolboy Classic, an annual showcase event featuring the top senior high school players in both New Jersey and Connecticut. That game was played in Bridgeport, Conn.

DeGennaro 1st

Union resident Michele DeGennaro, 23, won the 139-pound title at the American Drug-Free Power Lifting Association's national championship meet this past Sunday at the Indianapolis Hilton in Indianapolis, Ind.

DeGennaro, who has placed first in her weight class in New Jersey during each of the past three years, handled a total of 925 pounds in all three main events — dead lifting, bench pressing and squatting — to win the 139-pound national crown.

Also, DeGennaro placed fifth in last year's national event, and third the year before.

Written releases concerning high school sports should be typed, double-spaced and in our Union offices by the Monday before publication.

horoscope

For week of Apr. 15-Apr. 21

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are the spring child, and others take a hint from your exuberant energy. Shine the spotlight on your career, but do not trample others underfoot.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your cycle is high this week for social and romantic notions. Clean your closet — both mental and physical — because it is time for you to play.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Concentrate on dispatching letters notes and bills. "Why haven't you been in touch with me?" seems to be the war cry among your friends. Try a phone call as a reply.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Home is where the heart is. Highlights this week are on spirituality and physical attraction. You are ripe for a connection. People will see your playful side.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Become a psychic archaeologist as messages from afar give you pause for thought. Do not be royally stubborn, though. Your will to win requires a little bit of temperance.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) It is time to let your hair down. Cast perfectionism to the wind this week; the dance floor has your name on it. Money woes fade. An unexpected gift fires up your tepid waters.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Your romantic inclinations resemble a bouncing ball. So what else is new? You want everything to be so right. Let it go; you will get what it is that you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your hunches and intuition pay off in aces. You know exactly what to do and where it needs to be done. The spotlight is on career, finances and speculative deals. Watch were you lay anchor, however. Your sparkling energy intoxicates others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The itch to hit the road needs scratching. Plan a spring vacation or a long weekend out of town. Talk to someone about an inoculation for the workaday willies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) People have been saying to you, "This is your year." Your skepticism reigns. Let it go; you can join the party, too. Try some of your sardonic humor to make things roll.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Normally fleeting impressions stick in your craw this week. Do not brood about it. Write it down; talk it out. Even a stranger will bring revelations for self-discovery.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Increased psychic sensitivity may make you wonder, "Is it me or them?" Put up a force field. Others will benefit from your compassion, but it drains you. Escape with books and movies, especially the classics.

Play opens

Act One's "Other Side of History" series, with a partial grant from the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, New Jersey Regional Office, opened its new play, "Break the Silence!" last month. It is a one-act play about the Allied Forces who liberated the concentration camps of World War II.

"The play is a tribute to our friend Jack Coulston," says Isaac Dostis, co-author and editor with Diana Sunrise. "He urged us to write about these heroes the way we wrote about the Christians who saved the Jews during the Holocaust. I'm just sorry he is not here to share it with us."

Also in repertory, in its fourth year, is "Lives to Save: Righteous Gentiles," which is about those Christians who risked their lives to save the Jews during the Holocaust.

"Break the Silence!" will be staged April 20 in Temple Sha'arey Shalom, 78 South Springfield Ave., Springfield, and May 24 in Abraham Clark High School, 122 East 6th Ave., Roselle.

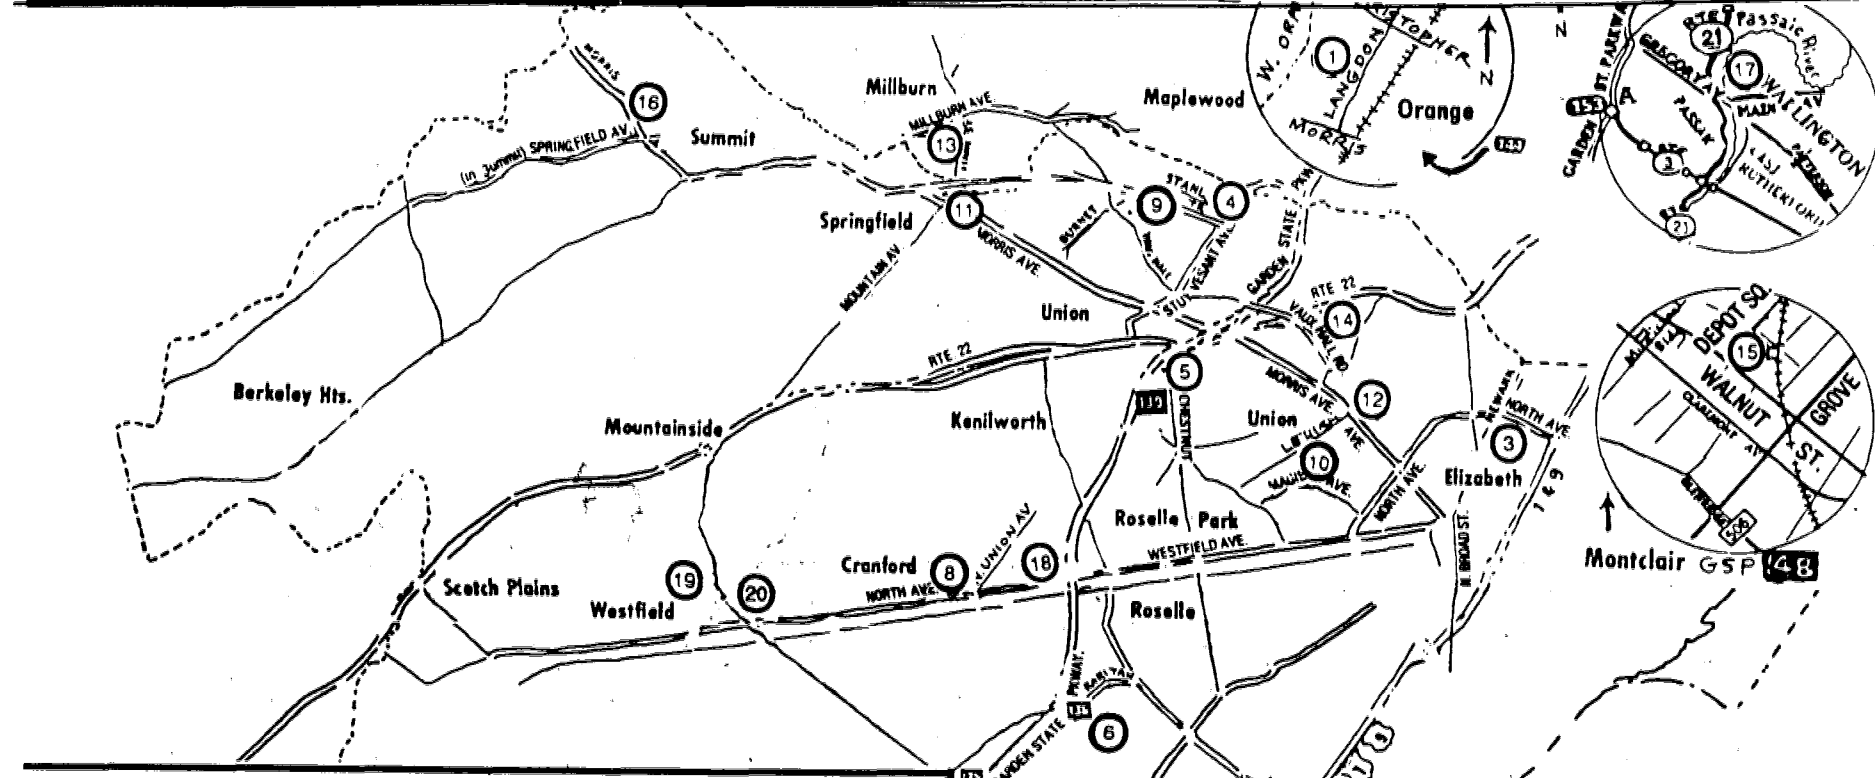

More information about either play can be obtained by calling Dostis at 299-1675.

Restaurant review

Ferraro's

By KATHERINE BROOKS
 This is where the locals dine!
 For years, patrons have enjoyed Ferraro's reputation as a fine restaurant of moderately-priced northern and southern Italian cuisine.

Whether your mood is relaxed — they also own the pizzeria next door — or more formal, Ferraro's can match your mood and satisfy your appetite.

Practically all of the waitstaff has worked for Ferraro's for years, always a sign of a successful restaurant! The staff is very conscientious as well as knowledgeable of all menu ingredients.

Our waiter was always looking out of the corner of his eye at every table in his station. Even when he knew that he couldn't get to a table upon its immediate call, because he was very busy, our waiter came through with savoir-faire.

Using a runner system, plates of hot food were delivered without delay, fresh out of the saucepan to the table.

To my delight, my appetizer of spiedini alla Romana, at $6.25, actually was served with an anchovy sauce. Unfortunately, most restaurants do not know any better and accompany the spiedini with some sort of red sauce. The true way to serve it is as Ferraro's did, with an anchovy sauce that was not overpowering and was delicious.

The mussels Possillipo, at $7.50, were as savory as the remaining sauce, which was eagerly scooped up with fresh Italian bread.

Baked clams, clams Cassino, and stuffed mushrooms, all priced at $5.50, were also tempting. Several chilled appetizers such as the clam cocktail at $5.25, shrimp cocktail at $7.95, prosciutto and melon at $6.50, and roast peppers and mozzarella at $6.50, were available. So were the hot appetizers, as a mixed assortment for one at $8.50, and appetizers for two, either chilled at $13.95 or hot at $15.95.

Ferraro's pastas are homemade. Most are priced between $11 and $12. The gnocchi, homemade fuscilli alla Ferraro, capellini Puttanesca — pasta served with sauteed garlic, black and green olives, capers and anchovies in a light marinara sauce — and the linguine mala Femmina — white sauce, shrimps, clams, lobster tail and black olives — for $18.95, all would have been equally as nice to share as appetizers or to have for dinner.

Although Ferraro's 11 different seafood dishes looked tempting, I chose one of their veal dishes.

The saltimbocca alla Romana — sauteed in butter and Marsala wine with prosciutto and cheese on spinach — for $14.95, offered a little too much spinach, but was great, as it was not too salty.

An addition to the menu that evening was flounder Florentine, tastefully rolled with spinach in a light sauce.

What better way to top off a dinner at an Italian restaurant than with a tirami su. Although it was rich and on the heavy side — usually it is a very light dessert — it was just enough to satisfy my sweet craving.

The white chocolate mousse cake was just a little too sugary for my liking.

Parking is readily available across the street at the Westfield train station. A lovely touch, however, is the valet parking, with attendants on duty.

A place I will definitely visit again, Ferraro's is a great New Jersey restaurant, proving once again that New York does not have it all.

TRAVELING THERAPEUTIC GROUP — Performers, who are nursing home residents of the New Jersey Geriatric Center of the Workmen's Circle in Elizabeth, are seen in a scene from 'The Sound of Music,' which they have been staging. They will be seen Wednesday at the Robert Wood Johnson in Plainfield, the Victor Mravaleg School 21 in Elizabeth May 9, the Ward Homestead in Maplewood May 23 and the Garden

Residents travel to work in play'

The Traveling Therapeutic Theater (TTT), composed of residents of the New Jersey Geriatric Center of the Workmen's Circle in Elizabeth, is performing its ninth musical under the direction of its creator, Laura Paulman, director of Music Therapy Services. The musical is "The Sound of Music." The musical theater is by and for nursing home residents and the public.

Paulman, who started working at the home 10 years ago, "realized that a musical production would give the residents a goal toward which to work."

With funding made possible in part by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts through a grant administered by the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, the troupe is assisted by a choreographer, a costume designer and extra personnel which enables TTT to travel to other nursing homes, schools and centers.

In addition, Paulman is assisted by Catholic Community Services and volunteers. Marshall I. Goldberg, executive director of the home, is the producer. Altide Alerete, a nursing assistant at the home, created the costumes.

Last year, Paulman called Ann Galvin, the administrator of the Egenolf Early Childhood Center, Elizabeth, to invite her students to play the parts of the King of Siam's children in "The King and I." This year, she has invited the pre-schoolers to play the Von Trapp children in "The Sound of Music."

The children and residents were coached by Maryann Batell, choreographer, who also dances in the show.

Among those in the chorus are Freda Atterman of Springfield, Sadie Carolin of Linden and Sadie Green of Roselle.

The players entertained the residents at the Cornel Hall Convalescent Home, Union, on April 4. They will entertain Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at Robert Wood Johnson in Plainfield, May 9 at 1:30 p.m. at Victor Mravaleg School 21 in Elizabeth, May 23 at 1:30 p.m. at Ward Homestead in Maplewood, and Sept. 11 at the Garden State Arts Center, Reception Center, Holmdel.

'Kean in Concert' to be presented by College Choir on Tuesday

The Kean College Choir will present a concert Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Wilkins Theater on its Union campus. A special feature of the program, "Kean in Concert," will be the participation of two faculty artists. Pianist Herbert Golub of Mountainside and lyric soprano Karen Shipp will join the 40-voice choir, under the direction of Stephen Allcock, in a performance of the cantata, "Hear My Prayer," by Felix Mendelssohn.

The program also will include works by Britten and Borodin and feature soloists from the Kean College Division of Voice. Admission is free, and the public is invited to attend.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 527-2107.

Teachers' concert slated

The Department of Music Education of the Union Township Board of Education has announced that the 1990 Music Teachers All-City Chorus, Jazz Ensemble and Concert Band Scholarship Concert will be conducted by Jack Trager. The chorus will be conducted by Yvonne Rago. The Jazz Ensemble will be conducted by Ron Rago.

The concert, featuring Union's music students and teachers, will take place April 27 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Union High School auditorium.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to subsidize student private music lessons and tuition for music study. Tickets can be purchased at the door, from any Union Township music teacher, or by calling or writing to Edward Klisuz, supervisor of music, Kawameeh Junior High School, David and Golf terraces, Union, 07083, or by calling 851-6583.

Replacement windows at B&M

Having been in business since 1955 installing replacement "windows, siding, storm windows, doors and so forth," B & M Aluminum, located at 2064 Morris Ave., Union, has gotten a pretty good idea of what its customers want.

"We offer expert installation, service and guarantee reliability," said Ira Schwartz, who has taken over the business from his father, Max. "We've been serving the public for 34 years on Morris Avenue, so we must be doing something right."

Taking over a business started by his father when he needed to replace storm windows in his own home, Ira Schwartz prides himself on the quality work offered by B & M.

Selling two types of window and door frame products at reasonable prices, Schwartz likes to give his customers throughout the Union County area an honest and efficient job for their money.

"We start and finish a job," he said. "The time element is between four and seven days approximately for siding." For replacement windows, most jobs take one day or less, he said, and all merchandise is guaranteed.

"Our suppliers guarantee them to the homeowner," said Schwartz.

And, once a particular job is started, the customer gets the best in punctual and professional service.

"Each one of our installers knows his job very well," said Schwartz.

Over the past 34 years, that kind of attitude has built B & M a steady clientele, with customers coming not only from Union and neighboring Kenilworth, but from farther-away towns like West Orange and Bloomfield. Almost all of B & M's business comes from referrals.

With that clientele, Schwartz maintains a personal relationship, somewhat of a novelty in an age when hi-tech is the buzzword for many businesses.

B & M uses no answering machines, instead preferring to deal with each customer directly and personally to determine what each wants and needs.

"The customer is buying the quality of the dealer here," he said. "We have no machines or answering equipment. We're the place of business and people rely on that."

As such, B & M installs nearly 100 percent of all the merchandise it sells. B & M is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. So for professional service and quality merchandise at an affordable price, make B & M Aluminum the only stop.

PRAYER & SUPPLICATION To The Holy Spirit. "Holy Spirit you who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even and in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine".
The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor requested will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials should appear at the bottom. L.M.S.
