WORRALL COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

VOL.33 NO.18—MOUNTAINSIDE, N.J., THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1991—3*

TWO SECTIONS — 50 CENTS

SNACK TIME — Members of the Mountainside Newcomers Club, from left, Sue Walsh, Jane McDermott, Diane McCurdy, Marie and Sean Scofield, Janet O'Sullivan and Laurie Kaplan prepare packages of goodies to be sent to Americans stationed in the Persian Gulf. The project, titled "Operation Desert Cookie," was conducted as a way to let local servicemen know that their families and friends were thinking of them.

Boro Board of Education approves tentative budget

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Mountainside Board of Education on Tuesday approved a tentative budget of $3,982,691 for the 1991-92 school year, which will now be submitted to Union County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Vito Gagliardi for his approval. A public hearing on the budget has been scheduled for April 15 at 8 p.m. in the Deerfield School cafeteria.

The board announced its tentative budget following the long-awaited release Friday of state aid figures to New Jersey school districts. These figures had been withheld since last December while a special committee appointed by Gov. Jim Florio studied the impact of the Quality Education Act of 1990, which will reduce aid to districts over the next four years.

In 1991-92, Mountainside will receive $763,919 in state aid, which is actually an increase over last year's figure of $728,929.

Deerfield School Superintendent of Schools Leonard Baccaro advised members of the board and the public, however, that effective July 1, $494,538 would be diverted by the state to its Division of Pensions for teacher pension and social security costs, leaving only $269,381 in "new" state aid.

Under its revised QEA plan, the state has skimmed $360 million from its original state aid package to be distributed to New Jersey municipalities as taxpayer relief. Mountainside is targeted to receive $212,000 of that amount. A borough resident owning a $150,000 home could therefore expect to have a $200 reduction in their tax bill, Baccaro said.

The superintendent emphasized that "the thrust of this budget has been to maintain the quality of education and any costs which had to be frozen or cut were intended to have the least impact on education." He noted, however, that certain costs were beyond the board's ability to control.

A key component of this category is fixed charges, which covers employee retirement funds, insurance, rental of land and buildings, interest on loans and tuition. Baccaro noted that insurance costs, including hospitalization, dental and prescription plans, increased 28 percent from $338,000 to $410,000.

Baccaro did report, however, that the board has been able to decrease some of its expenses as well. The board plans to remove two oil tanks from Deerfield School and subsequently switch over to gas, which will save on heating bills. Removal of the oil tanks, as well as repairing the leaking Deerfield School library roof would be covered by surplus funds.

Board President Linda Schneider noted that the delayed arrival of state aid figures, and its impact on the development of local school budgets "certainly puts all boards in an awkward position. The budget has always been done in a routine manner and this year we had to roll with the punches."

Borough Council to hold telecommunications station hearing

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Mountainside Borough Council is expected to hold a public hearing Tuesday regarding a variance which would allow the construction of a telecommunications station.

The hearing is in response to an appeal filed by a borough couple opposed to the variance, which was recently granted by the Mountainside Board of Adjustment allowing New Jersey Bell to build a telecommunications station on property owned by Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Central Avenue, Mountainside.

The Adjustment Board had originally granted New Jersey Bell a variance in April 1990 permitting the company to build the structure at Our Lady of Lourdes. The small brick building would serve as Mountainside's telecommunications hub, containing various types of equipment designed to improve telecommunications within the borough.

Dr. Robert Potok and Penelope Johnson, a Central Avenue husband and wife, subsequently appealed the decision to the Mountainside Borough Council, which referred the matter back to the Adjustment Board for the latter to study other options. The Adjustment Board upheld the variance again last Nov. 12 and formally approved it Dec. 10.

Borough Administrator James Roberts confirmed on Monday that New Jersey Bell must obtain a variance in order to build the structure at Our Lady of Lourdes because the Mountainside Land Use Ordinance, while not specifically prohibiting such a facility, also does not permit one in an R-2 residential zone.

Potok, a member of the technical staff of AT&T Bell Laboratories, which manufactures the equipment which would be used by the telecommunications station, stated Monday he and his wife believe the station would be better located within Route 22's commercial district.

He argued that the station's location within a residential zone could have a detrimental effect on property values in the area, and recommended that the facility be installed underground rather than above ground. He maintained that a subterranean station would be less subject to expansion and frequent maintenance.

"This is a residential area," remarked Johnson, noting that several of her neighbors support the position held by her and her husband. "We paid for our house for that reason and that's why we pay our taxes.

Last fall, William Jaeger, a New Jersey Bell employee for 17 years and a manager of its fiber optics system, testified before the Adjustment Board that the new station was necessary because of a greater demand from Mountainside customers for the company to accommodate them for their use of home computers and other telecommunications equipment.

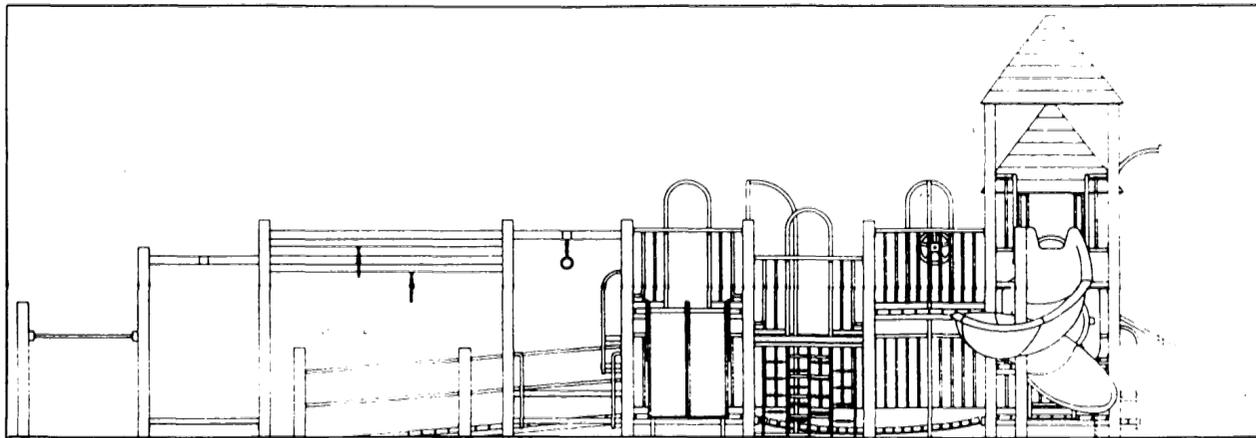

He said the types of phone lines and system which would be required to improve telecommunication services to Mountainside residents could not be provided from Central Switching Station in Westfield, explaining that the range of the lines was too far from Central Switching to accommodate local customers.

Jaeger reported that studies and surveys performed by New Jersey Bell indicated that the Our Lady of Lourdes property was the "optimal location" for the station considering the "core service area" it would accommodate.

He maintained that 90 percent of Mountainside residents would benefit from increased service, and testified that the location and size of the station would eliminate the need for two more sub-facilities to be located within close proximity to the main station and on residential properties.

An above-ground facility is preferable to an underground vault, Jaeger offered, because the former would be able to maintain 6,400 connections or lines while a subterranean facility would only be able to accommodate 1,200 lines.

This schematic drawing, provided by Willie Weisz of Wooden Environments Inc., Long Island, N.Y., shows how the Mountainside Community Playground will look upon completion. A committee comprised of local residents is attempting to raise funds for the playground, which will feature numerous activities for borough youngsters and will be located on Deerfield School property on Central Avenue.

Playground promotes community spirit

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

A volunteer group comprised of Mountainside residents will soon be rolling up its sleeves to provide the borough with a community playground at the rear of Deerfield School, Central Avenue and School Drive, if the necessary $30,000 can be raised to take the project from blueprint to reality.

The Mountainside Community Playground Committee is planning to kick off its fund-raising campaign with a pancake breakfast to be held Saturday from 8:30-11:30 a.m. at the Mountainside Elks Club, Route 22 East, Mountainside. The Elks have volunteered their hall and their cooking skills for the event.

Tickets for the pancake breakfast may be purchased at the Mountainside Borough Hall Recreation Department or by calling Mini Fenton, chairwoman of all fund-raising done by the Mountainside PTA for the playground.

"We never had a playground per se for the kids," said committee spokeswoman Nancy Lauricella. "It definitely will give the community a sense of pride. I also think since it's a project which will involve the whole community, it will bring people closer together. It's something that we will all be able to be proud of."

The Mountainside PTA has already raised more than $5,000 of the total sum required to build the playground through several fund-raisers it has conducted since last September, including a candy sale, a Thanksgiving pie sale, a holiday gift wrap sale and a fish fry.

For the past several years, the PTA "had been receiving recommendations and assessing the growing needs" of borough children and last spring established the long-term goal of developing an innovative community playground, said committee chairwomen Jean Pascuiti and Barbara Kiley.

The unique modular design of the playground, the committee leaders maintained, will encourage "imaginative, healthy play" and will be available to all borough children. It will also be larger and more diverse than conventional school playground equipment.

The playground, which will be accessible to handicapped youngsters, will feature numerous activities, including spiral, tandem and banister slides; ladders and fire poles; a clatter-bridge and fixed bridge; a ring beam, alternating loops and a glide ride; a tube crawl and a steering wheel wall, among other things.

The playground is expected to take two days to build, with Oct. 4 and 5 as

"We never had a playground per se for the kids. It definitely will give the community a sense of pride. I also think since it's a project which will involve the whole community, it will bring people closer together. It's something that we will all be able to be proud of."

the target dates, and the committee is seeking local volunteers to help with the project. Many Deerfield fathers, as well as other residents with children not enrolled in the Mountainside school district, have already offered to pitch in.

"It's a very nice feeling being involved and having people participate in this," Lauricella commented, noting that the idea for the playground grew out of a recommendation proposed in a 1989 report by the Mountainside 2000 Committee, which called for a revival of community spirit.

Lauricella reported that the committee recently held discussions with Deerfield School students to find out what their preferences were regarding playground design and equipment and said that "their input was incorporated into the plan."

The playground will be predominantly made of wood, Lauricella confirmed, with much of the structure to be formed from pre-cut pieces which just have to be connected together by volunteers.

Mountainside Mayor Robert Vigilanti, who has been named honorary chairman of the committee, described the playground as being "typical of Mountainside's commitment to our youth," and added that the borough has applied for a $7,500 grant from the state's Community Development Fund to help defray the cost of the project.

Contributions are urgently needed to help make the project a reality, Lauricella emphasized. Tax deductible checks or money orders can be made out to Mountainside Community Playground, P.O. Box 1431, Mountainside, 07092. All contributors will be acknowledged for their efforts.

Businessman seeks school board seat

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Frank Geiger of Robin Hood Road, a local parent and businessman, will be among three candidates vying for two vacant seats on the Mountainside Board of Education when school elections are held on April 30. The newcomer will be challenged by incumbents Linda Esemplare and Raymond Fisher.

A native of Springfield, Geiger, 35, was educated through that township's school system and graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield. He later earned a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from Nathaniel Hawthorne University, New Hampshire.

For the past six years, Geiger has been the owner of Geiger's Bakery, Westfield, which has been part of the family business for more than 70 years. He and his wife, Lynn, have three children, Paige, 11 months, Adam, 3, and Frank John, 6. Frank John attends first grade at Deerfield School.

The candidate explained that he decided to run for the school board because "I have deep roots in this town and we intend to see our children through the entire local school system."

Frank Geiger

Geiger said he believes that the Quality Education Act, which would reduce state aid to New Jersey school districts, as well as increased enrollment in the primary grades at Deerfield School, are the strongest issues facing the Mountainside Board of Education right now.

"We're also concerned about the status of our elementary school within the regional school system," remarked the candidate, referring to periodic rumors that Jonathan Dayton

Teacher recognized

After nearly two decades of teaching social studies classes to Springfield and Mountainside students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, David Cowden still finds his job to be as exciting and enjoyable as ever.

Cowden has been selected as the "Outstanding Teacher" at Jonathan Dayton for 1990-91, in accordance with the Governor's Teacher Recognition Program.

He has been chosen for this honor based specifically on his "use of effective instructional techniques and methods," as well as his "development of feelings of self-worth and love of learning in his students" during the 1989-90 school year.

"I enjoy teaching as much now as I did when I first started," explained Cowden, who began his career in education in September 1972, as a teacher at Jonathan Dayton. "Perhaps the main reason for my feeling this way is the ever-changing nature of this field."

"The subject matter is always evolving and the students change from year to year," Cowden continued. "This has also necessitated an adjustment in my classroom techniques over the years. Because of this constant sense of change, I have been periodically refreshed as a student."

"Also, because I enjoy teaching so much, I have never really viewed it as being just a job," he added.

As the "Outstanding Teacher" at Jonathan Dayton, Cowden will receive a certificate of commendation from Gov. Jim Florio and will participate in the annual Governor's Convocation on Excellence in Teaching, to be held in May at Princeton University.

In addition, the Union County Regional High School District will receive a $500 grant in Cowden's name, which can only be used for an educational purpose as designated by the "Outstanding Teacher" program.

A native of Miamisburg, Ohio, Cowden earned a bachelor of science degree in social studies from Miami University of Ohio in 1970. Two years later, he received a Master of Arts degree in American History from the University of Denver. Shortly afterwards, he began teaching at Jonathan Dayton.

Cowden currently teaches students in two different courses, United States History Survey and Global Geography. In the past, he has provided instruction in courses such as American Social History, You and the Law, Sociology and American Government.

During his career in education, Cowden has also served as the head coach of the Boys' tennis team at Jonathan Dayton and as the head coach of the Girls' tennis team at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark.

"I have always enjoyed social studies," explained Cowden. "I love the relevancy of the subject; it was something which always seemed alive, while I was studying it in school. I started entertaining the idea of teaching history or social studies when I was in the 11th grade, so I stuck with it."

Dayton grads to hold party

The senior class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will conduct its second annual "Project Graduation" program, an all-night drug-free and alcohol-free party for this year's graduates.

This year's "Project Graduation" party, to be held June 20-21, will feature dancing, sports, games, food and fun for everyone, all in an environment free of drugs and alcohol. The event was a great success last year, according to school officials.

The Jonathan Dayton senior class and the school's Parent-Teacher-Student Organization are hoping for an equally successful program this June, but they will need the help of the communities of Springfield and Mountainside.

For further information on contributing to the program, one can contact Jonathan Dayton Regional High School at 376-6300, extension 328.

Spring flower sale to benefit hospitalized children

"Tulips For The Children," a special holiday flower sale sponsored by the Mountainside Twig of Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside, will be held on Saturday from 9 a.m. to sellout at Mountain Center, Mountain Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside.

This marks the second year that the Mountainside Twig will sponsor "Tulips For The Children." All proceeds will benefit Children's Specialized Hospital, a comprehensive pediatric rehabilitation facility which houses 60 rehab beds and 25 long-term care beds as well as a Fanwood outpatient facility.

Potted, foil-wrapped plants will be sold for various prices. No advance orders will be taken. The rainedate for "Flowers For The Children" is Sunday.

"I look forward to the community's support in our tulip sale, which was such a success last year," commented Sallie Rivecchio, president of the Mountainside Twig. "By helping us, everyone will be helping the young hospital patients."

The Mountainside Twig is a volunteer organization comprised of local residents who provide services to Children's Specialized Hospital. For more information, one can call the hospital at 233-3720, extension 276.

The class has also written to Sam Leedy, a Springfield resident stationed in the Gulf.

Legion programs discussed

The American Legion Department of New Jersey Commander Mickey Kuzbyt recently visited with Union County Commander Ed Cwirko and past Union County commanders, including Ray Schramm of Springfield Post 228, at the Fulton Inn, Rahway, for a dinner meeting to discuss programs for the remainder of the 1990-91 year.

Kuzbyt briefed all present on the programs the American Legion leaders are concerned with and the impact they will have if they do not act on them. He expressed his concern for those serving in the Persian Gulf and urged those at the meeting to get involved in the Family Support Program.

The American Legion toll-free hotline number is 1-800-786-0901 and will allow callers to connect with local Legion posts or units. The veterans and their families are ready to help meet a variety of needs, according to Kuzbyt.

"Those left at home won't feel alone with the American Legion holding the line," he said.

He also noted that he is asking Union County to support his Alzheimer and Korean War Memorial projects.

THE PROTECTION YOUR DECK NEEDS! NEW OR OLD

The misconception that pressure-treated wood does not require any additional protection has caused many problems. Homeowners have built beautiful decks only to watch the wood crack, split and warp as it weathers.

What many home owners with decks are discovering - often too late - is that pressure treatment protects lumber from rot and insects but it needs help periodically to battle the elements effectively.

Chilling effect

Most small New Jersey towns, like Mountainside, have a tough time finding qualified people to run for local elective office or sit on appointive boards.

It's common in these towns for candidates for elective office to be unopposed, or for vacancies in municipal positions to exist for extended periods. That's because few people want to devote long hours to jobs that pay little or nothing and subject their actions to constant public scrutiny.

Now along comes the Local Government Ethics Law, signed last month by Gov. Jim Florio.

The law's intent is certainly admirable — to encourage honesty in government by requiring financial disclosure statements from municipal officials. But its principal achievement could be a chilling effect on the desire of citizens to assume public office.

Despite New Jersey's image as a densely populated state, most of its municipalities have fewer than 10,000 people. Still, just like their larger neighbors, these towns must fill the positions of mayor and council, as well as those on school boards, planning boards, zoning boards, library boards, recreation and park commissions, environmental commissions and so on.

The Local Government Ethics Law — patterned after the spate of Watergate-era laws that require financial disclosures from people on higher governmental levels — mandates that most of the aforementioned local officials file similar statements. It means that those who are running for mayor or council, or even who intend to serve on a planning or zoning board, would have to publicize their salaries, rental incomes, the values of their securities and properties, the names of the companies in which they own stock, and all other pertinent financial data — as well as those of their respective spouses.

It's unlikely, we think, that these statements are going to turn up many obvious conflicts of interest. Crooked officials will only find ways to disguise their questionable interests, and honest ones will simply divest themselves.

Moreover, most local officials are far from rich and don't own thousands of shares of the biggest industry in town. Most have nothing to hide — so, in these cases, financial disclosure is an annoyance to them and of no real benefit to the electorate.

Financial disclosure is desirable and even necessary for officials who routinely make decisions on multi-million-dollar matters, but not for those who vote on the nuts-and-bolts issues affecting the vast majority of New Jersey's municipalities.

Maybe the Local Government Ethics Law will put an end to some corrupt practices. But what it will certainly accomplish is to convince people who are considering public service to forget about it.

BON VOYAGE! — Sophomores and juniors at the Vail-Deane School congregate around their luggage before departing for a three-week exchange with Lycee Saint-Cyr in Nevers, France. Accompanied by French teacher Jane Butcher of Linden, the students spent four days in Tours, a small city on the Loire, before traveling to Nevers, where they spent the next 2½ weeks in 'homestay' with French families. Twelve French students will be arriving in late April to take part in the exchange program at Vail-Deane and to experience living in the United States.

Strong foundation will assist state's future

To build a house, you must first lay a foundation.

On this foundation, you then build a framework — walls which will provide strength and support for the structure. A house will not stand alone. Each part must be carefully joined together to form a solid structure.

Like the rest of the nation, New Jersey finds itself in a recession. News from our neighboring states such as New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut is troubling. While the past 14 months in New Jersey haven't been easy, I am confident that we have taken steps to push our state ahead into the '90s on solid footing. We've laid the foundation.

Now, we've got to look ahead. To build on the foundation. To put up the framework that will give New Jersey strength to weather the months ahead. To make the kinds of investments that will reap far-reaching dividends. To stimulate the economy. To rebuild our roads and schools. To create jobs. To give people relief from rising costs — especially car insurance and property taxes.

I'd like to use this space to highlight some ways we're fighting back in New Jersey.

I recently signed a law raising the cap on the Transportation Trust Fund, which will pump more than $1 billion into transportation projects across the state during the next two years. The money is there; we just weren't allowed to spend it yet. But we need help now.

By lifting the cap on the trust fund, we will help this state build its way out of this national recession. Not only will we step up our efforts to repair our roads and highways, we will create jobs — lots of them. Every $100 million invested in a project yields 6,000 to 7,000 jobs.

I also made a promise to the people of New Jersey to listen and to find new ways to meet people's needs. New ways to put a good quality of life back within reach of middle class

State Of The State

By Gov. Jim Florio

families; and new ways to make New Jersey work.

When I went to college in the late 1950s, I was able to help pay for my education through the G.I. Bill, following my service in the Navy. Things used to be a lot easier then, but that's not the case today.

Parents want to help their kids. They want their children to go further than they did — just as their parents tried to do for them. It used to be a lot easier, but that's not the case today. If we're going to be a state of opportunity, then we have to make opportunities available for the middle class.

We recently created a new $100 million student loan and savings bond program that will help make the dream of college a reality for middle-class families. It will provide new ways to help pay for college. We want college to be a part of our children's future. Because all of our futures depend on them having the best chances, the best opportunities and the best education possible.

Currently, federal student loan programs are targeted toward low- and moderate-income families earning less than $45,000. Middle-class families earning more than $45,000 have no direct financial assistance available to them. Some rely on personal or home equity loans to put their kids through college. So we're helping the folks who aren't rich enough to go it alone — or poor enough to get the traditional help. In other words, the forgotten people in the middle.

NJ CLASS — New Jersey College Loans Assisting State Students — reaches out to those families. NJ CLASS will provide families earning less than $85,000 with up to $5,000 per school year. While the interest is payable while the student is in school, full repayment won't begin until after graduation.

Garden State Savings Bonds will encourage families to start saving now for their child's education. Garden State Savings Bonds will provide $50 million in tax-free, low-cost savings bonds. A $1,000 bond can cost as little as $275 for a 20-year maturity or $600 for a 10-year maturity. Under the bond program, families will not only be encouraged to invest in state-issued bonds, but will also receive a financial bonus if their child attends a state public college or university. Both programs should be up and running within a year.

I also made a promise to help make the American dream of home ownership a reality for more New Jerseyans. I remember when I bought my first home in Camden in 1964 for $9,600. It made me feel like I was part of something but today, a lot of other families who would like to experience that aren't getting the chance.

That's why we have just announced a new first-time, homebuyers program in which thousands of middle-class families will be eligible for $250 million in mortgages. This new program represents the single largest investment ever made to promote home ownership in any state.

Nearly 100,000 New Jerseyans are eligible for the new homeownership opportunities for New Jersey Buyers Program. This program is specially tailored for New Jersey's diverse counties with income limits up to $66,285 depending on the size of your family and where you wish to buy a home. In addition, homeownership opportunities requires a low down payment — 5 percent — as opposed to the standard 10 percent, which will relieve another burden on first-time buyers.

We will help put the American dream squarely in the hands of middle-class families in New Jersey. The program is the result of a joint effort among the New Jersey Housing Mortgage Finance Agency, the Federal National Mortgage Association and the General Electric Mortgage Insurance Companies. Information on the program can be obtained by calling 1-800-NJ-HOUSE.

A home isn't just four walls and a roof. It's a place of security, family and warm memories. It's having a real stake in what happens to your communities and in improving the quality of life. We know it's not easy and that's especially true for those trying to buy a home for the first time — the people in the middle. The ones who make too much to qualify for assistance, but too little to qualify for a mortgage. They're the ones we're going to help.

Owning a home in New Jersey is the best way to build communities. It's the best way people can move up and give a better future for their children and their grandchildren. We're committed to making that happen. Not just with programs such as these, but through fighting back against the real enemy of home ownership — property taxes. We've changed the system and begun to reverse the trend that allowed property taxes to double in just eight years.

New Jersey has always been a state of opportunity. If we want to keep it that way, then we have to make the opportunities available. That's what we are doing today and it's what we are going to keep on doing.

Investment. Jobs. Opportunity. Building for the future.

These are the walls. This is the framework that will provide strength and support to pull New Jersey through these tough economic times. If we want to make sure New Jersey works in the next century, we have to make it work today. I am confident that our house will stand in the next century.

State of the State is monthly column written and submitted by Gov. Jim Florio.

Kean shows his mettle on family leave bill

It was vintage Tom Kean testifying before the House Education and Labor subcommittee on a recently-reauthorized "parental leave" bill: "As a Republican, I see no particular conflict between a minimum federal labor standard for family and medical leave in a climate that fosters business expansion and productivity."

By publicly opposing the Bush administration and the majority of the business community on the issue, Kean was sending a message to our high-flying president that his veto of the parental leave bill last year was short-sighted and ill-advised. It was a message to Bush that in spite of his masterful performance in the Persian Gulf, he'd better get to the difficult and unglamorous business of fighting some critical battles back home. In making such a strong public statement on an issue he has long shown sensitivity to — New Jersey has one of the most comprehensive family leave laws in the nation thanks to Tom Kean — our former governor was demonstrating that he is still capable of being a smart, pragmatic and occasionally gutsy politician.

His recent Capitol Hill performance was a marked change from the final years of Kean's governorship, when his performance was mediocre at best. He appeared to have lost interest in the day-to-day operations of state government, consumed by the national political limelight. He diligently avoided risking any political capital. His handling of the state's finances was highly questionable, leaving Jim Florio with a giant budgetary mess. And when he did get his chance as a national star, he blew it. His pandering keynote address at the 1988 Republican National Convention was embarrassing and beneath him. He used this extraordinary "prime time" television opportunity to bash his supposed friend and gubernatorial colleague Michael Dukakis as a weak-kneed "liberal," when in reality, Dukakis and Kean's progressive politics were not that much different.

Screening New Jersey

But then again, being a Republican Party cheerleader was never what Tom Kean did best. Kean shines when he takes positions and charts out territory that few in his party have either the vision or the guts to. He did it when he led the effort with Democratic Assemblyman Willie Brown to divest state pension funds in South Africa. And unlike George Bush, who wants to be known as the "education president," Kean did what it took to become an "education governor." And in his recent visit to Capitol Hill, Kean demonstrated his ability to lead again.

Srenuously opposed by most Republicans, conservative Democrats and the business lobby, the parental leave bill sponsored by New Jersey Congresswoman Marge Roukema guarantees workers up to three months of unpaid leave to care for a new baby or sick family member. It is a critically important mainstream family issue. If enacted, employers would have to provide health coverage to employees while on leave. In addition, they would be required to restore returning employees to their previous jobs or to an "equivalent job."

After Bush's 1990 veto of the original bill, Congress failed to override him and the bill died. Roukema and Kean are hoping Bush and Congress are more receptive this time around, but things don't look good. In opposing the bill, the president argued that the federal government shouldn't force companies to enact such policies. He also argued, to the delight of many in the business community, that such a bill would get in the way of creating and keeping jobs as well as hurt American business's ability to compete in the global marketplace.

Kean countered the president by saying the family leave bill is an "investment in people" which would turn into "an investment in business growth and economic opportunity."

The Drew University president insisted that this issue is one in which the federal government must act to put an end to the "crazy quilt of state laws" by establishing one federal law that sets forth a standard for reasons of "fairness and sound public policy."

Currently, there are 24 states that give "maternity leave," but those laws vary widely in their scope and enforcement. Kean's argument for strong federal intervention on the family leave issue is consistent with the federal role during the 1950s and 60s on the issue of racial segregation in public schools, employment and housing.

And while the family leave bill covers about half of all those working, sponsors say 95 percent of all employees would be exempt because businesses with fewer than 50 employees are not included.

For those who argue that Tom Kean and other supporters of parental leave are espousing "liberal, anti-business policies," Roukema said, "Family leave is not a radical idea; it is just plain common sense. The arguments against it do not hold water."

Roukema is right and so is Kean. Their position on this issue is progressive and sound, particularly for a Republican Party that in recent campaigns has demonstrated expertise at ideological and political rhetoric along with cynical pandering to public opinion. A federal parental leave law is long overdue, especially if we are to do a better job addressing the multitude of complex issues facing the American family.

BACK TO THE PAST — After reading several stories set in early America, students in Teri Craddock's reading class at Florence M. Gaudineer School in Springfield came prepared for school in colonial dress. Besides wearing frontier attire, students used slates and sat on benches, similar to what was done in America's first schools. ## County given state aid Transportation Commissioner Tom Downs has announced a $2,312,000 grant has been awarded to Union County for the FY91 state aid portion of the county's FY91-95 Capital Transportation Program.

The CTP is a five-year program of projects prepared by the county and submitted to the department for funding from a $35 million program under the Transportation Trust Fund.

"I know that this annual allocation will be especially important to you now with federal, state and local financial resources particularly constrained," Downs said.

"These funds will help you advance critically needed county transportation projects at a time when the economic benefits of these projects will be especially welcome," he added.

Downs added that "renewal of the Transportation Trust Fund provides for continuation of this program through 1995."

honor roll

The Vail-Deane School in Mountainside, recently announced the names of those students who made its honor roll for the first semester of the 1990-91 school year. Vail-Deane enrolls students in kindergarten through 12th grade from numerous area communities.

To qualify for the honor roll, students must maintain a grade of B or above throughout the semester in every subject, including art, physical education and music.

Springfield residents named to the Vail-Deane honor roll include Mandie Forman, Michelle Frank and Rajitha Vinnakota. Mountainside residents are Lina Ferraro, Jacob Mentlik, Clotilde Mercier and Chad Vigilanti.

POEM FOR PEACE — Jill Latora, a seventh-grade student at Deerfield School in Mountainside, recently wrote a poem supporting American troops stationed in the Persian Gulf and expressing her wish for world peace. Many Mountainside students showed support for American servicemen and women during the war by sending letters, packages and gifts.

lege Demedic in Florence, Italy.

Serratelli, who was valedictorian of Roselle Park High School Class of 1986, was the recipient of a four-year Garden State Distinguished Scholarship.

She also earned the four-year Engelhard Corp. Scholarship in 1986 and the Montclair Art Museum Scholarship for the fall 1990 semester.

She was on the Dean's List for four years while pursuing her bachelor's degree in fine arts.

Serratelli was female student fine art representative for the Montclair State College fund raisers for scholarships for the fine and performing arts. She received a third place award for Calcas Last All School Art Show in 1989.

In 1988, she was named a Martin Luther King Scholar at New York University.

Students earn degrees

Darren P. Marcantune and Alfredo M. Saurini, both of Springfield, were among the graduate and undergraduate students who received degrees from Fairleigh Dickinson University's Florham-Madison Campus in February.

Both students received their bachelor of science degrees.

Kassel is on list

Stacey Kassel, a senior at Seton Hall University and a resident of Springfield, has been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester.

This is the third consecutive semester that she has achieved such recognition.

Kassel is expected to graduate in May.

General manager named at Worrall Newspapers

John (Jack) O'Rourke was named general manager of Worrall Community Newspapers, announced David Worrall, president.

O'Rourke said that his main thrust will be the marketing and sales promotion of Worrall Community Newspapers. "Worrall Community Newspapers has the hometown advantage for the advertisers and we must get this message out to our new and old customers," he said.

"The future of the newspaper industry depends on community newspapers to provide real and timely local news for its communities. Worrall Community Newspapers is and will continue to enhance this quality of local news to 21 communities in Essex and Union counties. We definitely have the hometown advantage and now is the time for Worrall Community Newspapers to position itself for community service in the '90s," O'Rourke said.

O'Rourke has been involved in the newspaper publishing field for 24 years. His experience ranges from large metropolitan dailies to community weeklies. In addition to being a publisher, O'Rourke has worked in various management capacities including advertising, marketing and promotion. The newspapers he has worked with include the Wall Street Journal — daily-community newspaper division, Philadelphia Bulletin, Princeton Packet Publications, and Suburbante of Cresskill.

O'Rourke also has been involved in marketing and sales for a start-up direct mail company in Philadelphia and has spent time in the restaurant field. He was past chairman for the New Jersey Press Association and for a variety of local chamber boards.

He resides in Ringoes, where he owns and operates a quarterhorse farm as a hobby.

Completed applications must be returned to the above office by April 16, 1991

Michelle Weinberg, left, a student at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, and Nancy Michenfelder, R.N., display a poster encouraging area residents to participate in a blood drive Tuesday at the Springfield high school. A steady supply of all blood types is vital for hospitals and other medical facilities to be able to treat accident victims, patients with blood illnesses and others who require transfusions. The drive is being sponsored by the North Jersey Blood Center.

Rabies clinics will be offered

The Westfield Board of Health will conduct a free rabies clinic from 3:30-5 p.m. on April 4 for the inoculation of both cats and dogs owned by residents of Mountainside, Westfield, Garwood and Fanwood. The clinic will be held at Westfield Fire House Station 2, Central Avenue, Westfield.

On April 6, the Garwood Board of Health will conduct a free rabies clinic from 10 a.m.-11 a.m., which will also be offered for the inoculation of both cats and dogs owned by residents of Mountainside, Westfield, Garwood and Fanwood. It will be held at the Garwood Public Works Building, South Avenue, Garwood.

Appointments are not required for either the Westfield or Garwood rabies clinics.

Due to the recent rabies alert, area health officials have advised that it is increasingly important to have both cats and dogs immunized. These clinics give pet owners the opportunity to protect both their pets and the community against the possibility of a rabies outbreak at no cost to the resident.

Pet owners are advised to bring all animals on either a leash or have them contained as to prevent them from running away.

Any resident under the jurisdiction of the Westfield Regional Health Department who is unable to attend the above scheduled clinic can contact the department at 789-4070, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., to obtain information regarding additional rabies clinic dates and locations.

Blood drive slated

The North Jersey Blood Center will conduct a blood drive on Tuesday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Mountain Avenue, Springfield, from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. A free cholesterol screening will be provided to each blood donor.

The NJBA is urging area residents to participate in the blood drive so that there will be a sufficient supply of blood to those who need it. There is currently a need for all blood types, but particularly A Negative, B Negative and O Negative.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

YOUR VITAL FORCE

You may not realize it, but your vital force is expressed through your nervous system, extending from the brain and spine to every gland, tissue, organ, and muscle in your body.

That's why the health of your spine is so essential to the health of your entire body. Any spinal strain or shock, even an awkward move, can sometimes affect the vertebrae and discs, causing irritation to the nervous system. Irritation of the nerves can disturb the body's normal function, causing pain and many other health problems.

Treatment of spinal disorders is essential to good health. Pain-killing drugs won't do the job. They can dull the pain or hide the symptoms for awhile. Painkillers are not curative in themselves. Given a chance, the natural healing power of the body is often sufficient to return you to good health.

If you are bothered by back pain, headaches, or other symptoms related to disorders of the spine, seek the help you need from a specialist trained to treat these disorders.

he gave his life

Because we are a community of faith, we look and yearn for your participation with us in the Holy Week Liturgies and devotions. Our common experiencing of the sufferings and death of Jesus will help us to grow together in the understanding of His resurrection.

The Church is His resurrection community and, as such, a symbol of hope to the world. This is the essence of the Easter message and the task of the Easter Faith.

Best wishes for a Blessed Easter!
The Pastoral Staff of St. Michael's Church

Holy Week agenda

Battle Hill Community Moravian Church, 777 Liberty Ave., Union, will begin celebrating Holy Week on Palm Sunday, March 24.

During the 10:30 a.m. service of worship, five young people will confirm their faith. Kenneth and Randy Brunner, sons of Carol and Ron Brunner; William Remm, son of Linda and Carl Remm; Brian Schmitt, son of Carolyn and Gary Schmitt, all of Union; and Elizabeth Maurizio, daughter of Janice and Frank Maurizio, will be received into Communicant Membership through the Rite of Confirmation. "We celebrate with them and their families upon their Profession of Faith," it was announced by the Rev. Jeffrey D. Gehris Sr., pastor of the church.

Palm Sunday with a special worship service beginning at 10:30 a.m. The service will begin in the fellowship hall with everyone processing into the sanctuary together, somewhat re-enacting Jesus' entry into Jerusalem the first Palm Sunday. Leading the procession, carrying palm branches will be the church's choir.

The sermon for the occasion, delivered by the Rev. Donald L. Brand, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, will be "What Do the Palms Say?" At the conclusion of the service, everyone will be given a palm branch. The church has extended an invitation to the community to "this special day and service." It also will observe Maundy Thursday, March 28, with a worship service at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., in which the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

The sermon for these services, delivered by Brand, will be "A Taste of Heaven on Earth."

Penitential service

The St. Paul the Apostle Church Parish Council Spiritual Development committee has planned a penitential service to be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the church in Irvington. Leading the service will be Sister Celine of Holy Spirit Church, Union. During the service, a film strip, "Pardon and Peace," will be shown. Spiritual Development chairman is JoAnn Demcak of Union and moderator is the Rev. Venantius Fernando. The community is invited, it was announced.

by Ellie and Bill Mezekian. Donations for the Holy Angels Nursery and gifts for the Union County Catholic Community Services were collected. Emily Schoenknecht, "once again, donated the creche as a special prize." Jennie Bizon accepted and delivered all donations.

Last fall the Rosary Society held its annual Communion Breakfast. Bob Hampp prepared the breakfast served by the men of the Holy Name Society. Sister Patricia Daly of the Dominican Order from Genesis Farms in Blairstown, discussed environmental ecology. Chairmen for the event were Maureen Hopkins and Millie Adams. Toastmistress was Esther Marius, and ticket chairman was Anne Klaus. At the November meeting Diane Smith, RN, of the Center for Hope Hospice was guest speaker.

Fish, chips dinner

The Presbyterian Women of Connecticut Farms Church, Stuyvesant Avenue and W. Chestnut Street, Union, will sponsor a fish and chips dinner Saturday, April 6 from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

The fish will be prepared by Argyle's of Kearny. Dinner will include fried fresh fish, fried potatoes, cole slaw, pickled beets, rolls, butter and beverage. Homemade desserts prepared by the women of the church will be included in the ticket price, it was announced.

Tickets can be purchased in advance or at the door. Take out dinners and meat pies also will be available. Additional information can be obtained by calling the church office at 688-3164.

Easterday worship

The Community United Methodist Church, 455 Boulevard, Kenilworth, with The Rev. Carol Spelman will celebrate Easterday "as a day of many experiences — hope, memory, senses — it is a time when many come out for worship for each of us has the hope no matter how deeply buried, that Jesus is risen and we want to join in the celebration of Easter."

The church will celebrate Palm/Passion Sunday with a worship service at 10 a.m., Good Friday worship service at 7:30 p.m. and Easter Sunday worship at 10 a.m.

The Easter Sunday anthem sung by the choir will be "The Stone Has Been Rolled Away." The words were written by choir member Doris Finck and the music was written by Jeffrey R. Spelman, son of the pastor.

Holy Week events

The events of Holy Week will be commemorated at St. Stephen's Church, 119 Main St., Millburn, in services on Palm Sunday, Wednesday, Maundy Thursday, March 28 and Good Friday, March 29. The Church has members who reside in Union, Springfield and Mountainside.

On Palm Sunday two services of Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 and 10 a.m., and palms will be distributed at both services. The 10 o'clock service on Palm Sunday will begin in the Parish House. "Reenacting Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem," the congregation and choir will follow the processional cross into the church, carrying palms and singing the traditional Palm Sunday hymn, "All Glory, Laud, and Honor to Thee, Redeemer King." Preceding the sermon by the Rev. Gordon H. Tremaine, a dramatic reading of the passion narrative from St. Mark's gospel will be given by the lay readers and the rector, with the congregation responding as the crowd.

At the offertory, the choir will sing a chorale from the "St. Matthew Passion" of Heinrich Schuetz, "Christ, be Thine the Glory."

During communion George Oldroyd's "Prayer to Jesus" will be sung as a duet by Miriam Koenig, soprano, and Richard Cole, baritone. The organ postlude, played by Dr. John Eric Floreen, organist and choir director, will be Max Reger's "Benedictus." Babysitting will be provided in the nursery during the 10 o'clock service, it was announced.

The regular midweek Wednesday noon service of Holy Eucharist on March 27 will include "appropriate Holy Week scripture readings and meditations." A special Maundy Thursday service of Holy Eucharist on March 28 at 8 p.m. will commemorate the Last Supper shared by Christ with his disciples. At the offertory the choir will sing "Behold the Lamb of God" by Healey Willian.

On Good Friday, March 29, during the traditional hours of Christ's crucifixion from noon until 3 p.m. there will be an opportunity for churchgoers to observe all or part of the three-hour period. "Beginning at noon there will be a passion pilgrimage for children, 'The Way of the Cross,' led by the rector and members of the Church School. From 1 to 3 p.m. Tremaine will preside at an open service of passion observance, using a series of Biblical readings and meditations to focus attention on the meaning of the life and death of Jesus. The structure of this service "allows churchgoers to come and go as they see fit. For those who cannot attend the afternoon service, the traditional Good Friday liturgy will be observed at 8 p.m."

Special Easter services of Holy Eucharist are scheduled for 8 and 10 a.m. on Easter Day, March 31.

County women to be honored

Joan Papan, a Scotch Plains councilwoman and president of the Union County Women's Political Caucus, invites members and prospective members of UCWPC's March 27 dinner meeting in honor of the county's elected women officials.

Sen. Leanna Brown will be the keynote speaker at the reception, which will be at the Town and Campus restaurant in Union. Featuring a buffet dinner and prizes, the 6:30 to 9:30 event carries a donation request of $19. For reservations, call Sophie Kauchak at 298-1126.

Women being honored that night are Jeanne P. Viscito of Berkeley Heights; Carolyn J. Vollero of Cranford; Linda Lee Kelly, Elizabeth Kotarski and Iris Brown of Elizabeth; Elizabeth Uguhart of Plainfield; Helen Ryan of Roselle Park, Papan and Irene Schmidt of Scotch Plains and Nancy Salaiga of Rahway.

Brown has been in the Legislature since 1980. She sits on several key legislative committees, including Transportation and Public Utilities as well as the Governor's Commission on International Trade.

Kelly, a county freeholder, will present a resolution by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders in honor of the occasion.

County to receive transportation aid

Transportation Commissioner Tom Downs announced a $2,312,000 grant to Union County for the fiscal year state aid portion of the county's 1991-95 Capital Transportation Program.

The CTP is a five-year program of projects prepared by the county and submitted to the department for funding from a $35 million program under the Transportation Trust Fund.

"I know that this annual allocation will be especially important to you now with federal, state and local financial resources particularly constrained. These funds will help you advance critically needed county transportation projects at a time when the economic benefits of these projects will be especially welcome," Downs said.

In a letter to Union County Freeholder Chairman Gerald B. Green confirming the award, Downs added that "renewal of the Transportation Trust Fund provides for continuation of this program through 1995."

Essay contest open to county students

Alan J. Schnirman, Linden attorney and chairman of the Union County Bar Association Law Day Committee, announced that the Union County Bar Association is sponsoring Law Day ceremonies May 1 at the Union County Court House in Elizabeth.

The essay contest is open to all Union County high school students, both private and public.

The writers of the five best essays will be selected by the Law Day Committee and each winning essayist will receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond. A total of $500 in U.S. Savings Bonds will be presented by the Union County Bar Association.

The deadline for submitting the essays, which must be submitted through the student's high school, and which is limited to one essay per high school, is April 8. Each high school in the county has been notified of the details of the contest and any interested student should contact his or her principal.

Wrestlers among the best

Eight wrestlers from our area traveled to Princeton over the weekend to compete in the state wrestling tournament and turned in some very strong performances.

Vic Verno of Brearley took third at 160 pounds. He decided Karriem biggs of Paterson Eastside, 9-6, in the first round wrestleback, won by forfeit in the second round wrestleback, decided Brian Martin of Brick Memorial, 18-7, in the third round wrestleback, won by forfeit in the fourth round wrestleback and pinned Jody Crouse of Phillipsburg in the consolation round. He finishes with a 29-3 record.

Mike Francesca of Union finished second at 145 pounds. He decided Nikos Pavlides of Eastern Regional, 15-6, in the quarterfinal round, Todd Garriques of Hackettstown, 15-2, in the semifinal round. He was decided by Matt Suter of Paulsboro, 8-5, in the final. He finishes with a 31-1 record.

John Ranieri of Roselle Park competed at 152 pounds. He was decided by Larry DeVault of Paulsboro, 5-4, in the quarterfinal round, Justin Mayer of Wildwood, 3-2, in the second round wrestleback, and by Steve Czarnuchick of Somerville, 10-7, in the third round wrestleback. His final record is 32-4.

Steve Marcantonio of Rahway finishes with a 25-6 record. In the 171-pound competition, he was decided by Anthony Horning of Ridge, 11-3, in the quarterfinal round and by Matt Thompson of Hunterdon Central, 9-8, in the second round wrestleback.

At 112 pounds, Dante Puorro of Dayton pinned Dave Valentino of Somerville in the first round wrestleback, and was pinned by Doug Detrick of Warren Hills in the second round wrestleback. He finishes with a 26-6 record.

Bob McCafferty of Roselle Park was decided by Clint Matter of Delran in the first round wrestleback at 119 pounds. He finishes with a 26-6 record.

Dan Lilley of Union took fourth at 140 pounds. He decided Brian O'Donnell of Kearney, 16-1, in the first round wrestleback, Jacoby Kinchen of Manchester Township, 5-4, in the second round wrestleback, Lapell Crank of Madison Central, 10-7, in the third round wrestleback and pinned Dan White of Millville in the fourth round wrestleback. He was decided by Fran Durso of Ridge, 7-2, in the consolation round. He finishes his season with a 31-4 record.

Bob Taylor of Brearley finished with a 20-5 record at 171 pounds. He was pinned by Jim Rodgers of Delsea in the first round wrestleback.

Kenilworth little league signup

The Kenilworth Little League will be conducting its annual tryouts on Saturday at the Little League Field on 14th Street. Eleven- and 12-year-olds should report at 9 a.m., 10-year-olds at 10 a.m., and nine-year-olds at 11 a.m.

In case of rain, the tryouts will be held in the high school gym. Registration will also be accepted for all children, ages 5-15, at the field on Saturday.

There will be a senior league tryout for 13-year-olds on Sunday at 2 p.m. at Black Brook Park.

For more information, contact Warren Reino at 272-2249.

Endler scores from 3-point range

Roselle Park resident Amy Endler, a sophomore starter for the Moravian College women's basketball team, is among the Middle Atlantic Conference leaders in three categories.

Endler is third in three-point field goal percentage, with 40 percent. She is also third in three-pointers made per game with 1.8. Endler ranks ninth in the conference with a 49 percent free throw completion average.

Moravian College, located in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, has a 22-2 overall record and recently clinched its eighth consecutive MAC Southeast League title. The Lady Greyhounds are currently ranked sixth in Division III. Their 20-game winning streak is the longest in NCAA Division III.

Kean wrestlers take eighth place

Thirty seconds into the third period of the 142-pound final match, Kean College wrestler Frank Croce of Roselle Park injured his shoulder. Clinging to a 6-3 lead, Croce ran out the clock to escape with a 6-5 win and gain the school's first-ever national championship of any kind.

"He's amazing," Kean head coach Craig Spencer said. "The things he did during that match you can't teach a kid. He's a very mature, focused young man."

Croce's heroics earned him All-America honors for the fourth straight year and helped lead the Kean squad to an eighth-place finish at the nationals, which were recently held in Augustana, Illinois. Also gaining All-America honors for the Cougars was Ives Viola, who placed third at heavyweight.

The 142-pound final was one completely contrasting styles. Croce's opponent, Dave Weiland of Thiel College in Pennsylvania, overpowered the opposition from the top position. Croce's strength is his explosiveness from the bottom.

Weiland rode Croce for the first 1:55 of the second period, not letting him up. Then, in a five second span, Croce exploded. Two quick moves got him an escape, a takedown and a 6-3 lead going into the final period. "That was the match right there," Spencer said. "Frank wanted to do it his way, and that's his way."

Croce has a 29-1-3 record this season and a 66-5-5 record in his two seasons at Kean.

Croce, seeded third in the tournament, dominated his first-round match, whipping Wayne Heller of Muskingham, 10-3. In the second round he held off Mario Springer of the University of Chicago, 4-2, and then stopped Van Franhofer of Albany State in the semifinal, 6-3.

"It's great to finish my career on top," Croce said. "I have been working for four years to reach this moment."

Viola also provided excitement in his final match for third place. He was wrestling Dan Bobish of Mount Union College of Ohio. Bobish and Viola had met one previous time during their years in the junior college ranks with Bobish dominating 11-0.

This time around it was a completely different story. The two wrestlers were tied at the end of regulation and had to go into sudden-death overtime. Fifteen seconds into the overtime, Viola made a beautiful duck under and Bobish went down to bring Viola third place.

"Ives wrestled superbly," Spencer said. "It's harder to take third place than it is to win it all. Fighting your way through the consolation round is extremely difficult and shows how much heart Ives has."

In the consolation round, Viola defeated Alan Gordon of Albany, 7-6, Matt Randolph of Heidelberg, 8-2, and Bob Goller of Upper Iowa, 10-2, before his showdown with Bobish.

Other cougar wrestlers who competed in the national tournament were Troy Terlizzi at 177 pounds, Chris Steinbacher at 134 pounds and John Gagliano at 118 pounds.

Who's on 1st?

This week's question: Let's stay on the subject of local hockey teams. Here's a question about that team across the Hudson, the New York Rangers. Who is the leading scorer in Ranger history?

Last week's answer: Billy MacMillan was the lucky man picked to lead the Devils through their first season in New Jersey in 1982. He posted a 17-49-14 record during the 1982-83 season for a winning percentage of .300.

MacMillan began the 1983-84 season as the Devils' head coach, but lasted only 20 games. He was fired on November 22, 1983 after the team got off to a 2-18 start. He was replaced by Tom McVie, who guided the team to a 15-38-7 mark over the remainder of the season.

McVie was relieved of his duties as head coach of the team at the end of the season. He was reassigned to the Devil's Utica minor league affiliate, where he was very successful. He was recalled a few weeks ago to take over as head coach for the fired John Cumuff.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi and Stephen Reithinger of Union submitted a correct answer.

Please have your responses in our Union offices — at 1291 Stuyvesant Ave. — by no later than noon each Monday.

Lift-Master The Professional Line OF GARAGE DOOR OPENERS

Linde Gases, located at 43 Commerce St. in Springfield, is a highly technical, state-of-the-art producer and distributor of compressed gases.

Linde Gases of the Mid-Atlantic is a subsidiary of the Linde Division of Union Carbide Industrial Gases Inc., which is one of the world's largest producers and distributors of industrial and specialty gases.

For more than 80 years, Linde has kept its customers satisfied by supplying them with quality products at affordable prices. Linde has been in business since 1907, and Linde Gases has been a part of Linde since 1968.

Linde Gases, therefore, offers the resources and stability of a major industrial corporation, while at the same time offering the flexibility and responsiveness of a small, local company. Close contact with its customers allows Linde to cater to the specific needs of each and every customer and enables the customer to put its trust in a company with a strong, respected history of customer satisfaction and dependability.

Linde Gases is a heavily "backward integrated" company. That is, Linde actually produces the majority of the products it markets. This is somewhat unique in an industry where the majority of companies in the field simply repackaged products produced by others.

This high degree of backward integration allows Linde Gases to offer not only complete reliability of supply on these products, but also total quality-control procedures.

Linde Gases distributes its products via a fleet of 15 delivery trucks and two flatbed tractor trailers from three major locations within the New York-New Jersey area. When customers are in need of a product, they can rest assured that Linde will deliver just what is needed quickly and efficiently.

Linde Gases offers a complete line of products used within the analytical instrumentation market, including carrier gases, fuel gases, oxidizers, argon, helium and oxygen.

In addition, Linde supplies industrial gases for maintenance, repair and general welding, and carries a full line of related welding equipment, including power supplies, electrodes, welding helmets, welding curtains, gloves, chipping hammers and the like.

Linde Gases is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Customers are invited to stop by or call the store at 485-2000.

'Y' hosts spring break

The youth department of the YM-YWHA of Union County, located on Green Lane in Union, will once again host a spring school vacation program from March 28 through April 4.

This program, which can be enjoyed either daily or as a full package, will include trips to the Newark and Morris museums, The Staten Island Children's Museum, Turtleback Zoo, bowling, ice skating and movies. In addition to outside visits, time will be spent at the "Y" enjoying sports, swimming, arts and crafts and games. A special, kosher Passover lunch will be served daily to the children.

The cost of the program is $17 per day for "Y" members; $22 per day for non-members. The day extends from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., however fuller hours are available for working parents, with the exception of March 29 and April 4.

Payment and registration for the spring vacation program must be received by the "Y" office by Friday. Further details and registration forms can be obtained by calling the "Y" at 289-8112.

Stage set for 'Godspell'

See the lessons of Jesus Christ come alive in song and dance as "Godspell" continues its run at the Union Catholic Regional High School auditorium this weekend.

"Godspell", a musical re-enactment of the Gospel according to Matthew, presents the life and teachings of Christ to modern theater audiences. The play is produced by the Union Catholic Performing Arts Company, currently celebrating a decade of acclaimed performances. Past audiences have enjoyed productions of "Annie," "Anything Goes" and "Mame."

This year, the company features David Robertson, Megan Robertson and Marianne Shaffer of Scotch Plains, Lia Quagliarello of Plainfield, Kristin Cicero and Christine Wischusen of Westfield, Bea Reaud of Union, Joanna Koszrzewa of Linden, Chris Cogan of Clark, John Dwyer of Fanwood, Lorissa Besson of Watchung and Jessica Clayton of Springfield.

Performances are Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults, $4 for students. Call the high school, located at 1600 Martine Ave. in Scotch Plains, at 908-889-1600.

Temple seeking artists

Exhibitors are being sought by the Sisterhood of Temple Sha'arey Shalom of Springfield for its 4th annual Crafts Show and Boutique scheduled to take place on April 21 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will be held in the temple's newly expanded facility.

Artisans and merchandisers featuring jewelry, stationery, accessories, knitted and crocheted items, pottery, ceramics, leather goods and personalized gift items are being sought. There is a $15 application fee per table, plus a charge of 10 percent of sales and orders.

Space is available on a first-come, first-served basis. For information and an application, contact the temple office on weekdays by calling 379-5387.

Villella celebrates a history of dance

By Dennis C. Dougherty
Entertainment Editor

When the New Jersey Ballet takes to the stage on Saturday — as part of the month-long series of events celebrating the 25th anniversary of the founding of Wilkins Theater at Kean College in Union — it will be a celebration of another kind as well. Joining the company as host for the evening will be international ballet star Edward Villella.

During the theater's first year, Villella danced on the Kean College stage. In addition, he has served as the artistic advisor to the New Jersey Ballet, resident company at Kean, for 20 years.

While the name Villella may not be as closely identified with the world of ballet as, say, Rudolph Nureyev or Mikhail Baryshnikov, but he may be more important to the role of the male dancer in the professional world of ballet; and certainly to the history of ballet in America.

Long before either of those famous Russian names broke through the Iron Curtain to international stardom and recognition, Villella was making his mark here.

Born in Bayside, New York, in 1936, his biography has its own list of notable points: He was the first American male dancer to perform with the Royal Danish Ballet. He is the only American ever to be asked to dance an encore at the Bolshoi Theater in Moscow. He danced at President John F. Kennedy's inaugural celebration; and performed for Presidents Johnson, Nixon and Ford, as well. He won a 1975 Emmy Award for his CBS television production of "Harlequin." He was presented with the National Society of Arts and Letters Award for Lifetime Achievement; he is only the fourth dance personality to receive the gold medal.

In 1968, NBC produced a special on Villella — "Man Who Dances" — which, according to dance and theatre critic Clive Barnes, "did an enormous amount to dispel prejudice against the male ballet dancer in this country."

Edward Villella

He is, by many accounts, one of the first important American male dancers.

For those who know or have heard of Villella because of his association with the New Jersey Ballet, it may seem surprising to find that he is an important figure in ballet. But it was dancers like Villella that paved the way for the Baryshnikovs of the dance world to become "pop icons," as well as ballet dancers.

He entered the School of the American Ballet at age 10, but interrupted his dance training to finish his academic education. A graduate of the New York Maritime Academy, he earned his bachelor of science degree in maritime transportation; in addition, he lettered in baseball and was a championship boxer. Not the expected background of a noted ballet star. But many have offered that it was this "masculinity" that allowed the male ballet dancer to become an "acceptable" artist for the general public.

Villella returned to the School of the American Ballet in 1955 and two years later was invited to join the New York City Ballet. He was promoted to soloist in 1958 and then to principal dancer in 1960. His career there took him through roles in "Tarantella," "Jewels" and the revival of Balanchine's 1929 masterpiece, "Prodigal Son." He also created the role of Oberon in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

From 1983 to 1986, he served as artistic director of Ballet Oklahoma, after which he became artistic director of the Miami City Ballet; a post he still holds. But his association with the New Jersey Ballet predates all of those. And those involved with the New Jersey Ballet realize the important role Villella has played in the history of the company and ballet in America.

"Mr. Villella will unquestionably go down in history as one of this century's greatest dancers, and certainly one who has had a great influence on dance in the United States," Carolyn Clark, executive and artistic director of the New Jersey Ballet, said.

She went on to say that "It is a great tribute to the work of the New Jersey Ballet that Mr. Villella is celebrating his 20th anniversary as artistic advisor to the company."

This presentation at Kean College marks a celebration for the school, the company and the host. Beginning at 8 p.m., the Wilkins Theater performance will feature the company premiere of Balanchine's "Concerto Barocco." This classical ballet in three movements was one of Balanchine's earliest works. The ballet has no subject matter beyond its treatment of Bach's glorious score. Staged by former New York City Ballet soloist, Susan Pilare, it is considered to be one of Balanchine's greatest ballets.

Other Balanchine works on the program include "Glinka Pas de Trois" and the delightful "Who Cares?" set to the tunes of George Gershwin.

Special gala tickets for the event — which include a reception with Villella and the company — are priced at $75 for couples and $40 for individuals; they may be purchased through New Jersey Ballet at 201-736-5940. Other popularly-priced tickets for the performance only are $15 for single tickets, $10 for senior citizens. These tickets can be purchased through Wilkins Theatre box office by calling 908-527-2337.

Funding for New Jersey Ballet's extensive performance schedule has been made possible in part by support from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, Department of State, and by generous corporate, foundation and individual contributions.

NJB dances 'Sleeping Beauty'

As part of the special series of events for children at Kean College, the New Jersey Ballet will follow up its gala performance of works by Balanchine on Saturday with a special presentation of "Sleeping Beauty." The company will perform at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday on the stage of the Wilkins Theater, Kean College campus in Union.

Tickets for this performance geared toward younger viewers and their families are priced at $5 each. To reserve tickets, call the theater box office at 908-527-2337. The final offering in this series will take place next month.

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining in New Jersey

By Suzette Stalker

It is rare to find a restaurant which can be described as the perfect dining experience, but there is no other way to define my recent visit to Ristorante Amato, 4 Peach Plaza, 1500 St. Georges Ave., Avenel, where an announcement of "La Cena e Servita," Italian for "dinner is served," is cause for celebration.

Restaurateurs John Amato and his

Restaurant review

welcome all visitors like members of their own family, and their attentive and friendly demeanor made us feel welcome the moment we entered the establishment. Our waiters were equally cordial and patient in helping us make our dinner choices.

The decor of the restaurant, a blend of beige walls and pastels, is warm and inviting as well. Soft lights and candles on each table, along with Italian background music gently wafting through the dining room, make it the ideal setting for a romantic rendezvous or a relaxing family dinner.

Ristorante Amato offers a tantalizing array of hot and cold appetizers, salads and soups. My companion and I chose the generous Caesar's salad for two, featuring fresh romaine lettuce decorated with croutons, Parmesan dressing and pepper.

For my entree, I selected the succulent Filetto di Blue all' Aglio; grilled tender filet mignon with a light garlic and brandy sauce, accompanied by fresh roasted potatoes and a creamy carrot soufflé.

My companion chose the equally tasty Paglia E. Fieno, commonly called "hay and straw," which consisted of green and white noodles prepared with a light seafood sauce and served with clams, mussels, scallops and shrimp.

For dessert, I had the pleasure of trying the Tiramisu, a cool and delicious blend of imported marcapone cheese, lady fingers, Marsala, Kahlua and espresso. My companion enjoyed the "Night and Day" cake, a mouth-watering chocolate cake with white chocolate mousse, topped with a truffle layer.

Chef Steve Reader, a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America, spent six months preparing the restaurant's menu, researching traditional meals from both northern and southern Italy. All items on the menu are listed in Italian, with a complete description in English directly underneath.

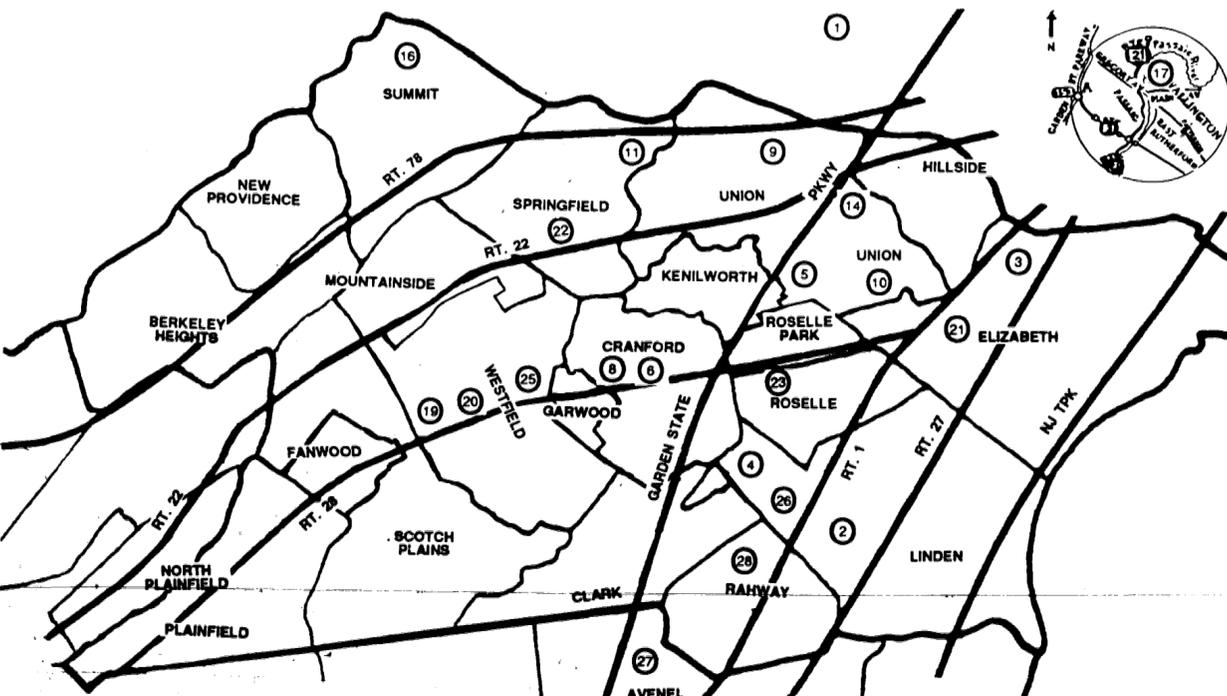

The menu offers patrons a diverse array of pastas, seafood, steak, poultry and veal entrees, all professionally prepared and attractively served. All desserts are made fresh and homemade on the premises. The restaurant has no liquor license, but patrons are invited to bring their own alcoholic beverages.

The Amatos, who opened the restaurant six months ago, all participate in the running of their debut establishment. John Amato Jr. does all the sauteing, while his brother, Gregory, is a dessert waiter. John Amato Sr. explained that he wanted to provide the same quality Italian food one would find in New York restaurants without the New York prices.

Come and enjoy this truly wonderful restaurant where Old World hospitality, charm and cuisine are still very much in style, and where you'll always feel as though you're a special guest at a big family dinner. Buon appetito!

Open six days a week. Closed Monday, except for private parties. Tuesday through Friday, lunch 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.; Tuesday through Thursday, dinner 5-10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, dinner 5-11 p.m.; Sunday, dinner 3-8 p.m. Banquet services for 40-50 people.

horoscope

For week of Mar. 24-Mar. 30

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A revolutionary tide is about to roll in. Work off your tensions in the gym. Put those credit cards in a deep freeze. Take time to reorganize your working space. Go out art hunting.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be sure to follow through on your hunches. Wage a personal war on laziness and obstinacy. Articulate your feelings with enthusiasm. Your "love boat" is entering tranquil waters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Enjoy a reunion with relatives. Take the time to finish those letters and long distance communication. Negate dangerous liaisons. Move slowly on the business and commerce front.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Let the creative side of your imagination run wild. Asking questions will gain allies. Hold the line when it comes to spending. Hard work and discipline will bring you a jackpot.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Turn the tables on stagnation. Invite your friends over to share glad tidings. Movies and amusements are in vogue. Initiate the monthly plans. Try out a new hairstyle.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) A little soul-searching will help clear out the psychic cobwebs. Locate misplaced items. Shop for values. Your written words will command some attention. Be jovial.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Gain access to important, secret information. With bad news, do not shoot the messenger. A love relationship will be rekindled. Play a waiting game on the work front. Rewards accrue.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your intuition will serve as a steady guide. Penetrate the darkness of mysteries. Applause is headed your way; do not forget to take a bow. Nurture your relatives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) It is time to make some savvy business moves. Wave your magic wand. Give a helping hand to those in need. Everything appears to be shiny and new. Fill up your social calendar.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Communication channels are opening wide. Be optimistic about things. Paint your personal masterpiece. Invest in some art; buy some fresh-cut flowers. Reveal your personal charm.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Make plans for an exotic vacation. Stock up on health foods. Try a new tactic on the romantic front. Stress your compassionate side when it comes to your so-workers.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Eliminate your old fears and roadblocks. Examine your motives. Say no to things that are extravagant. Bite the good humor bar. Generosity will reward you doubly.

Roselle revives that musical orphan

"Annie," the little red-headed orphan who lived a "hard-knock life" at mean Mrs. Hannigan's orphanage, will be telling her story at the Roselle Park Theater during this year's spring musical, sponsored by the Roselle Park Board of Education and Roselle Park Council On The Arts.

The play, with a cast of 70 school and community members, will feature Mary Antonuccio as Annie and Sydney as Sandy — a real live local canine talent. Several community citizens, including Councilman Joe DiIorio, will play supporting roles. A live orchestra with professional musicians will provide musical accompaniment.

The play's director, Ray Hymen, is very excited about the enthusiasm shown by all concerned. "This is the same play presented on Broadway. The cast is having a great time rehearsing and I am sure that all who come will have an enjoyable time" Hymen said.

"Cathy Karosick is choreographing the project so the audience is in for a treat" Hymen continued. Karosick, owner of Cathy Karosick's Dancers' Pointe, has choreographed "Wizard of Oz," "Barnum," "Grease" and "Little Shop of Horrors." Frank Ferlazzo, director of the award-winning Roselle Park High School marching and jazz bands, is musical director with Nick Florio as set director.

Save Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. for this classic piece of family entertainment. The general admission price is $5 for all ages. Tickets may be purchased at all public schools, Casano Center and the public library in Roselle. Organizers noted that many tickets have been sold already; buy early to be guaranteed admission to this one-weekend event.

This production of "Annie" is supported in part by a grant from the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs through funding made possible by the New Jersey State Council On The Arts/Department of State.

The Roselle Park Council On The Arts invites anyone interested in promoting the Arts in Roselle Park to attend the meetings which will be held April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school faculty cafeteria.

Beck, Winograd accompany symphony

Guest conductor Michael Beck will lead the musicians of the Plainfield Symphony, along with violinist Peter Winograd as featured soloist, in the fifth subscription concert of the 1990-91 season on Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church in Plainfield.

Beck is the music director of the Wuppertal Symphony Orchestra in what was — until last October — known as East Germany. He was invited to conduct the Plainfield Symphony under an international arts exchange program in which he and Sabin Pautza, music director of the Plainfield Symphony, are given the opportunity to work and perform with each other's orchestras. Pautza recently visited Wuppertal, near Dusseldorf, where he conducted the Wuppertal Symphony Orchestra in a program that included "Sortilegus" by contemporary German composer, Anthony Zeman. The program Beck will conduct in Plainfield will include Zeman's "Sortilegus," along with the Sibelius Violin Concerto in D Minor and the Dvorak Symphony No. 6 in D Major.

For the concert, the Plainfield Symphony will be welcoming back its former concertmaster, Winograd, who will be performing the Sibelius Violin Concerto in D Minor. Since leaving the Plainfield Symphony, Winograd has been gaining acclaim in his career as soloist and recitalist. He has performed recitals in Brussels, Helsinki and the Great Hall at the Moscow Conservatory and as a soloist with the Toscanini Orchestra in Parma, Italy. Winograd is first violinist of the American String Quartet. He studied at Juilliard as a scholarship student with Dorothy DeLay.

Ticket prices for the concert at $17 for reserved section seating, $12 for general seating and $8 for seniors and students. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by calling the Plainfield Symphony Office at 908-561-5140.

For further information about the upcoming Plainfield Symphony concert, call the Plainfield Symphony Office at 908-561-5140.

'Cruise' to the YM-YWHA

The entire community is invited to enjoy "Cruise Night" at the YM-YWHA of Union County on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Diamond Room. This evening will provide an opportunity to gather information and ask questions regarding the agency's upcoming fundraising cruise to Bermuda aboard the Queen Elizabeth II from June 6-10.

The "Y" is sponsoring the Bermuda cruise in cooperation with Ruth Diamond Sandler of A to Z Travel, 137 Elmer St. in Westfield. Sandler will be available on "Cruise Night" to personally address the group. Refreshments will be served.

Sandler reported that both indoor and outdoor cabins are available on the ship, and that reservations are being accepted on a steady basis. "The 'Y' will continue to accept registration on a first-come, first-serve basis until our quota is met," Sandler explained.

The price for inside cabins are $850 per person, double occupancy; outside cabins will cost $895 per person, double occupancy. A deposit of $200 per person made payable to the YM-YWHA and sent to the attention of Sheila Nashofer will hold the reservation. All deposits must be received by March 15.

Sandler boasted of the many luxuries aboard the legendary QEII, better known as a "City at Sea" which includes late-night floor shows, discos, European casino, kosher dining, paddle tennis, golf, lectures, movies, ballroom dancing, shuffleboard and more. She encourages everyone to participate in this event.

Shakespeare fest plans 'revels'

The new season of the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival will begin this year with "Moonlight Revels," the first gala fundraiser to benefit the NJSF, artistic director Bonnie J. Monte and general manager Michael Stotts announced. Now entering its 29th year, this is the first event produced by NJSF under its new administration.

"If you patiently dance in our round and see our moonlight revels, go with us," invites Titania in William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer's Night Dream," one of five productions being produced at NJSF this summer. Dancer/choreographer Marge Champion, wife and dancer partner of the late Broadway director and choreographer Gower Champion, and Thomas H. Kean, former governor of New Jersey and current president of Drew University, are the honorary chairpersons of NJSF's "Moonlight Revels".

The black-tie event will take place in the Grand Ballroom of the Madison Hotel in Madison. Champagne and cocktails begin at 7 p.m., followed by dinner at 8 p.m. Later, the spotlight will shift to the Alan Quinn Big Band — playing hit songs of the Tommy Dorsey, Count Basie, Glenn Miller and Benny Goodman bands. "Dance Card Chances" will be sold for a chance to dance with a star.

Members of the benefit committee include: Mrs. Robert Bailey of Morristown, Mrs. Russell Culin of Madison, Susan Earley of Madison, Mrs. Hugh Francis of Morristown, Mrs. John Zeller Gage, Mrs. Len Hartshorn and Mrs. Howard Hirsch of Basking Ridge, Gene P. Kaplan of Morristown, Perry Arthur Kroeger of Mount Olive, Brenda MacDowell of Chatham, Tom O'Leary of Montclair, Mrs. Craig Oscarson of Bernardsville, president of the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival's board, as well as the full board of trustees of the NJSF.

As the new artistic director, Monte said she was enthusiastic about the gala and felt the event will be a way to generate excitement about the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival's upcoming season, in addition to raising much-needed funds.

Individual tickets are $125; benefactor tickets are available for $200 and include a 1991 season subscription. Corporate tables of 10 are available for $1,500. "Dance Card Chances" will be sold at a price of $10 each. Tickets are available through the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival office on the campus of Drew University in Madison. For reservations, call 408-3278 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Board of Realtors to hold fund-raiser dinner and fashion show for hospital

Discussing the Charity Dinner and Fashion Show, which will benefit Children's Specialized Hospital of Mountainside, are Monica Cavanagh of the hospital, center, and Theresa DeCarlo, left, and Marie Rivera, members of GEUCBR.

The Greater Eastern Union County Board of Realtors will sponsor a charity Dinner and Fashion Show to benefit Children's Specialized Hospital of Mountainside. The event is one of many fund-raisers sponsored by the board to benefit CSH, an organization which caters to the special needs of disabled children. It will cap off GEUCBR's Union County Trade Show, which will take place April 12 and 13 at the Holiday Inn Jetport in Elizabeth.

Media representatives and board members will model ladies fashions from The Narragansett of Westfield, LaFeminique Boutique of Linden, and Furs by Severyn of Linden. Stars DJs will provide music during the show and afterward for dancing. Tickets are priced at $50 per person, including admission to the pre-show cocktail party and buffet dinner. For more information, call Bobbie Bogard at 245-3155.

Your Rights & Obligations!

Whether buying or selling real estate, the first step towards completion of the transaction is the signing of a "contract", an agreement of sale. A contract spells out both the "rights" and "obligations" of the parties to the contract, usually the buyers and sellers.

For buyers, the most basic "right" would be the right to expect marketable title, a clear deed, to the property. The most likely "obligation" would be to pay the purchase price by a certain date named in the agreement.

For the sellers, "rights" would include the right to expect payment by the date set forth in the contract, while "obligations" would include the obligation to give a clear deed to the buyers.

A contract is simply a written version of the verbal agreement arrived at after negotiations between buyers and sellers. It clearly spells out all items of agreement. Some additional points covered might be: 1) a possession date, 2) an itemized list of personal property to be conveyed to the purchasers, 3) the type financing to be secured and terms for repayment, 4) a settlement date, and 5) agreement on the proration of taxes, interest, insurance, etc.

Most contracts contain additional paragraphs of conditions, some required by law, others by local custom. When selling your home, it would be wise to ask your agent for a blank contract form at the time you list the property for sale. This will give you time to review and analyze the preprinted portions of the agreement you will be asked to sign later.

The same advice holds true for buyers. Ask for a sample contract during your first visit to the agent who will be showing you homes. If you have questions about the meaning of the agreement, you will have time to consult an attorney for interpretation and advice before being asked to sign a completed agreement.

The contract, or agreement of sale, assures both buyers and sellers that their intentions will be carried out upon final settlement of their real estate transaction. It is an integral part of every purchase and sale.

MECHANICAL TRAINEES PETROLEUM REFINING

Exxon's Bayway Refinery in Linden, New Jersey is recruiting Mechanical Trainees for the following "Sections":

EQUIPMENT SECTION-electrical, instrumentation, and machinist work.
METALS SECTION-boilermaking, pipefitting, rigging, transportation, and welding.
STORES SECTION-primarily shipping, receiving and carpentry duties.

Experience is preferred, however, training will be provided to successful candidates. The starting rate of pay is $13.19 per hour during the 6-month probationary period. After 36 months, the craftspersons rate is $17.87 per hour, if qualified. Prospective applicants must:

- Be 18 years old (at the time they start working)
- Have a valid driver's license & high school diploma or equivalent
- Have legal status to work in the United States
- Be available to work long-term rotating shift assignments

Exxon requires that all candidates take a four hour test battery

- Includes Reading, Mechanical, and Chemical Comprehension tests, and a Mathematics exam.
- Results of Interviews, Medical Examinations, Drug and Alcohol Screening, Background Security Checks, and other relevant data will also be considered before final offers are made to qualifying candidates.

You can obtain additional information and complete a Job Interest Form by coming, in person, to the:

BAYWAY REFINERY
MAIN GATE RECRUITING TRAILER
Monday, March 18, 1991 through Friday, March 22, 1991 from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. daily.

Telephone calls and mail requests will not be honored. All completed Job Interest Forms must be submitted to the staff at the recruiting trailer no later than 7 p.m. on March 29, 1991.

Call 908-474-6084 for pre-recorded directions.

NEWSPAPER POSITIONS OPENING

Did you major or minor in journalism or communications while in college? If you are a recent college graduate, a homemaker who desires to get back into the work force or just plain unhappy or bored with your present situation, we might have a job for you with one of our award-winning newspapers.

We are considering applications for the following positions:

EDITOR/Writers: The need here is for a person with skills in writing, editing and page design. This is a full time position.

REPORTERS: Our need is a person to cover a municipal beat and write features. This is a full time position.

EDITORIAL ASSISTANT: A good opportunity for someone who wants to do a variety of newspaper "chores" such as typesetting, research, filing and even writing feature stories.

SPECIAL SECTIONS EDITOR WRITER: Here's an opportunity for someone to write features on a variety of subjects and design their own section. A fun position with some extra perks. Looking for a full time person.

We're a group of weekly newspapers with editorial offices in Bloomfield, Maplewood, Orange and Union. We offer competitive salaries and full benefits. Now that you know about us, we would like to know about you.

Send a cover letter and resume to: Executive Editor Don Veleber, Worrall Community Newspapers, Inc., 425 Main Street, P.O. Box 849, Orange, NJ 07051.
