Council OKs Bell compromise

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Mountainside Borough Council on Tuesday approved a compromise between New Jersey Bell and a Mountainside couple regarding an application by Bell to install a telecommunications station on property owned by Our Lady of Lourdes Church on Central Avenue in Mountainside.

The council's decision was rendered during a public hearing held in response to an appeal filed by Dr. Robert Potok and Penelope Johnson, a Central Avenue couple, of a decision last April by the Mountainside Board of Adjustment approving a variance for Bell to build an above-ground station.

Bell had sought to construct the brick "hut" at Our Lady of Lourdes to house various types of equipment designed to increase telecommunications service to Mountainside residents. Company representatives said the Central Avenue site was chosen because it was best suited to Bell's "core service area."

In their appeal, Potok and Johnson argued that an above-ground structure was inappropriate for a residential area, and that frequent visits to the site by Bell maintenance people would be disruptive to neighbors living within the vicinity of the hut. They also maintained that it would have a detrimental effect on property values in the area.

The couple recommended that Bell construct an underground station rather than an above-ground model, stating that a subterranean facility would be less subject to expansion and maintenance checks.

The compromise reached between Bell and Potok and Johnson on Tuesday, and subsequently approved by the council, gave approval to Bell's variance application with several conditions attached.

These include having the station be located underground; that Bell conduct no more than 12 maintenance visits per month; that professional landscaping be done to screen the entrance to the station; that borough personnel be provided with access to the station in the event of an emergency and that Bell carry out a fire safety program with the Mountainside Fire Department.

The last of these conditions was prompted by Councilman Robert Wyckoff's concern for the safety of firefighters who would have to enter the subterranean facility. He emphasized that local firefighters would likely be the first ones on the scene if a fire were to start in the station.

Bill Jaeger, manager of Loop Electronics for Bell, responded that Bell would conduct an instruction and training program with the Fire Department to familiarize them with station equipment, how to deal with a fire in the facility and what emergency numbers to call.

"It's nice to see there is a system of checks and balances and that it can work in local government," Potok remarked after the compromise was approved by the council. "The Board of Adjustment listened to some reasonable arguments. The United States telephone service is based on demand and this station will expedite Bell's abilities to provide immediate service." "The impact on the neighborhood will be mitigated somewhat," Johnson agreed, though she predicted that it would now be easier for Bell to win approval for any future expansions the company may want to implement.

"Once they get there, they may have to go before another Board of Adjustment for something else and their chances for getting it would be greater because they would already have everything in place," Johnson concluded.

Attorney Raymond Ryan, counsel for New Jersey Bell, addresses the Mountainside Borough Council during a special meeting Tuesday night concerning Bell's plans to build a telecommunications station on property owned by Our Lady of Lourdes School in Mountainside. The council approved Bell's proposal after several conditions were agreed upon.

Regional Board of Education OKs tentative 1991-92 budget

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1 unanimously passed a tentative $39,689,118 budget for 1991-92 last week, calling for a 5.51 percent increase in spending. The district includes Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which enrolls Mountainside students.

The board has forwarded its proposed budget to the office of Union County Superintendent Dr. Vito Gagliardi for his review and is scheduled to conduct a public hearing on the spending plan April 9 at Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

"This is a straight and prudent budget in that there are very few new things in this budget," stated Regional Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Merachnik following the board's regular meeting March 19. "The major component is to maintain existing programs and to complete only the most serious building projects."

Board Secretary Harold Burdge pointed out that the proposed budget comes in at almost $1.7 million below the state-mandated spending cap.

The Regional District includes Jonathan Dayton, David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson in Clark and Governor Livingston. Altogether, some 2,132 students from Mountainside, Springfield, Kenilworth, Clark, Berkeley Heights and Garwood are enrolled in the four high schools.

The budget process was delayed this year — voters will consider the budget April 30 — due to the late arrival of state aid figures as Trenton legislators made changes to the Quality Education Act.

During the 1991-1992 school year, state aid to the district, excluding pension and Social Security costs, will rise to $2,988,954 — up $121,441 over the previous year. This state funding includes $1,220,219 in "transitional aid," a new category.

From the district standpoint, unless additional amendments are made to the QEA, the crunch will begin in the 1992-1993 budget since District 1 has been designated, as a relatively affluent community, a "minimum aid district."

During that year and for the following three, the state's transitional aid will be reduced 25 percent until it is phased out entirely.

"The QEA is roughing us up pretty good," explained district spokesman Thomas Long, following the board meeting. "It's apparent we'll have to continue in this cost-containment mode."

The actual proposed budget that the board members approved last week provides for $36,049,840 in spending, which is a hike of $1,882,293 over last year.

The state this year mandates that district pension, $2,429,880, and Social Security, $1,209,398, costs, which the state is slated to pick up for two years, be tacked on to provide a "grand total" district budget of $39,689,118.

The largest proposed increase in the district's budget is targeted for fixed charges, with almost a 15 percent hike. Long explained that these expenses include liability insurance, hospitalization and workmen's compensation.

Stable stays with county for now

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Union County officials denied this week that concrete plans are being made to convert the Watchung Stables in Mountainside from a county facility into a private one, a transformation which some area residents feel would deprive children of the opportunity to participate in various programs currently offered there.

Elmer Ertl, vice chairman of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, confirmed on Monday that although the freeholder board had contemplated turning over the stable to private ownership during recent budget talks, "it's nothing that's been getting a lot of attention up front right now.

"During our budget processing we have been looking at different areas where we could save money, and the stable was just one of them," he explained. "Our county manager has been looking at many areas where we could save money, including in county government."

A group identifying itself as "Residents and Voters of Union County" recently drew up a petition against any proposal to privatize the facility. Copies of the petition were made available to parents who came to the stable in February to sign up their children for the Spring Troop riding program.

The petition writers pledged not to vote, and to discourage friends and acquaintances from voting for any freeholder "who acts to convert Watchung Stable from its present status." Ertl said that he had not seen any signed copies of the petition as of this week.

Chuck Sigmund, assistant director of Union County's Department of Parks and Recreation, added that the county could never sell the stable because the county purchased the land where the stable is located through the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection's Green Acres program, which prohibits sale of the land to private ownership.

Sigmund maintained, however, that county government might consider leasing the stable to a private individual or company which would charge a fee to people using the stable and pay the county a lease fee while deriving revenue from the arrangement as well.

A 32-acre spread on Summit Lane, Watchung Stable offers a variety of riding programs for children and adults. In addition to the Spring and Fall Troop riding programs, Watchung Stable also offers a Summer

Trailside to feature New Jersey wildlife

Trailside Nature and Science Center, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside, will present its second annual Wildlife Sunday on April 7 from 1-5 p.m., featuring demonstrations, workshops and exhibits designed to promote awareness of New Jersey's diverse wildlife.

The all-day event will kick off at 1:15 p.m. with a bird banding demonstration, weather permitting, conducted by Susannah Graedel. A New Jersey Audubon member, Graedel will demonstrate how birds are safely captured in "mist nets" strung across woodland areas, then tagged with numbered metal bands as a way of tracking migration patterns.

Stellar Menagerie planetarium shows will be held for children age 6 and older at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Planetarium director Wendy Ackerman will explain about the constellations which represent animals such as Ursa Major and Ursa Minor, the "Great Bear" and the "Small Bear"; Canis Major and Canis Minor, the "Great" and "Small Dog" and Leo the Lion.

"We'll also be touching on the importance of the zodiac," Ackerman said this week. "There are 12 constellations of the zodiac, and the word zodiac itself comes from the same origin as zoo. The constellations of the zodiac are said to resemble animals, and in the band of the zodiac lie the apparent paths of the sun, the moon and the planets."

A "Beginner Bird Walk" program led by Watchung Nature Club member Dana Knowlton will begin at 2:15 p.m. Participants will be shown how to use binoculars to study birds and their habits, according to Trailside Director Hollace Hoffman. A "Family Sing-Along" with Tanya Oznowich of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection will also begin at 2:15 p.m.

"Snakes of New Jersey," beginning at 3:15 p.m., will include a slide show and discussion by Hillsdale naturalist Ross Knapp, featuring live snakes from Trailside's collection. Wildlife films will be shown at 4:15 p.m.

Wildlife Sunday will include exhibits from Turtle Back Zoo, West Orange, with live zoo animals; the Marine Stranding Center, Brigantine, with T-shirts and mugs for sale; Pequest Trout Hatchery; Trailside Rangers and the Watchung Nature Club.

In addition, quality nature-related and space souvenirs will be available for purchase in Trailside's Natural History and Planetarium Shops. Wildlife woodcarver Fred Ruckriegel of Watchung will demonstrate his talents and sell his craft. The Nature Company of Bridgewater Commons will also have merchandise for sale at the event.

School district seeks to help disabled kids

The Mountainside school district is involved in a statewide program, titled Project Child Find, to identify pre-school-age children who are handicapped and in need of special education programs or services.

The program has been initiated to identify children, ages 3 through 5, with delayed development in speech or language, cognition, fine or gross motor coordination and behavioral patterns.

This project, mandated by the New Jersey Department of Education, is designed to locate those children whose condition would have a high predictability of seriously impairing normal educational development.

Free consultation, screenings and program services are available to district residents. More information about the evaluation procedures can be obtained by calling Margaret Greydanus, supervisor of special services, at 232-3711.

MATH MASTERS — These students at Deerfield School in Mountainside were recently named the sixth-grade top scorers on the New Jersey Math League Contest. Camp program for children age 9 and up.

The camp program, in addition to providing riding practice, also teaches youngsters how to care for horses through grooming, tacking and untacking and other chores. Young people participating in the camp program also have an opportunity to enjoy other outdoor summer activities.

"County government can provide operational cost savings not available in private operation," the residents' petition stated. "No private owner will demonstrate the concern for the care, safety and welfare of our children to the degree shown by current county management."

"The children of Union County presently enrolled and expecting to be enrolled in Troop and Summer Camp should not be deprived of the opportunity to enjoy the same benefits enjoyed by their older brothers and sisters, and by their parents," the statement continued. "We'd prefer to see these programs expanded rather than be reduced or eliminated."

Plastic surgeon to be speaker

Dr. Richard D'Amico, FACS, board-certified plastic and reconstructive surgeon and recognized authority on both plastic surgery and international charitable plastic surgery relief work, will be the guest speaker of the Foodhill Club of Mountainside on April 4 at the Tower Steak House, Mountainside.

D'Amico's lecture, "Aesthetic Surgery: Looking Your Best," will examine ways to surgically enhance the body.

A slide presentation will cover such procedures as eye and face lifts, breast augmentation and reduction, post-mastectomy reconstruction, "tummy tucks" and suction-assisted lipectomy, sometimes known as body contouring.

D'Amico, a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons, is uniquely qualified to discuss plastic surgery with the public.

He has lectured extensively, been interviewed frequently by the print media and appeared on television and radio to discuss plastic surgery. As a member of the ASPRS Select Committee to Set Standards, D'Amico appeared on CNBC to discuss the government hearings on abuses in this field.

In addition to his concentration in aesthetic surgery, D'Amico also donates his time and surgical skills to assist the work of several international charitable organizations, such as Healing the Children, the Armenian Relief Fund and the Afghan Refugee Assistance Fund.

Regional Board OKs budget

The board has also earmarked a 6.22 percent hike in instruction expenses. Long noted that this figure takes into account a projected settlement with the Union County Regional Federation of Teachers, whose three-year contract expires June 30.

The board is hoping to avoid a repetition of last year's budget process when district voters from the six Regional municipalities as a whole turned down the "no-increase" spending plan. That was the first time since 1976 that the district budget plan had been rejected.

After the budget rejection, the governing bodies of the six communities convened a joint session and trimmed the budget by approximately $100,000, a relatively small amount.

Despite the proposed 5.51 percent increase for 1991-1992, Long noted that "we are definitely in a cost-containment mode. Since last June we've eliminated three administrative positions through attrition, and we've been able to combine positions as we follow our policy of consolidation."

Prior to the budget resolution, in a related development, Board President Natalie Waldt announced that the board's Long-Range Planning Committee received and was reviewing a consultant's study on "Factors of Efficiency."

She said in the spring the board will begin surveying district residents on "Preferred Procedures to Reduce School Costs." The process is slated to culminate in the implementation of procedures to cut school costs beginning in September 1992.

Holy Cross Christian Nursery School, Mountain Avenue, Springfield will be holding an open house on April 12 to provide information on nursery school programs and enroll children for the 1991-92 school year.

Holy Cross is fully licensed by the state of New Jersey and its staff maintains an average student-to-teacher ratio of 8:1.

The school will begin its 32nd year of providing a Christ-centered program with developmentally appropriate activities designed to meet each child's needs: physically, socially, intellectually, emotionally and spiritually.

Anyone interested in visiting the school can call 379-7160 to make an appointment to attend the open house.

The overall winners in the science fair which was held recently at St. James School in Springfield are, from left, Carl Wagner, who won second place for his project on canals; Erin Wagner, who won first place for her project on hydroponics; and Piper Smith, who was awarded third place for her project on physical changes in matter.

Models are wanted

A Union-based promoter will be holding a statewide model search at the Ramada Hotel, Clark, for young women on May 16 from 7 to 11 p.m. Interviews for participants between the ages of 19 and 27 are currently being held.

Mark Magliaro of Magliaro Enterprises has announced that models are being sought. He is asking interested applicants to call for an interview. The show will consist of swimsuit and formal wear competition.

There is no entry fee for the show. The winner will receive $1,000 in cash. Consolation prizes will be awarded to the other entrants. The evening will include the show and dinner. Tickets are $30 each.

For more information, one can call 687-3385.

Just a reminder:

With three candidates running for two Board of Education seats, and a $3,982,691 million school budget being proposed, Mountainside should be motivated to vote in the April 30 school board election.

But you can't participate in the election if you're not registered. And the statewide deadline to register is Monday — just four days away.

If you're new to Mountainside and you were registered to vote in your former town, that's not good enough. You must be registered here.

You can register at the township clerk's office in the municipal building. You must be at least 18 years of age, be a citizen of the United States and have your main residence in Mountainside — but that's all that's required.

Even if you will be out of town on April 30, you can still vote by applying for an absentee ballot and then filing it by April 23 through the Office of the Union County Clerk. The office is located in the courthouse on Broad Street in Elizabeth.

Limit spending, but clear the way for private investment

New Jersey's heavily industrialized counties are continuing to lose jobs and businesses in the shift from an industrial to a service economy.

Advances in computer sciences and in telecommunications have accelerated the trend of moving jobs from old industrial centers to the suburbs.

The situation is not unique to New Jersey. The percentage of manufacturing jobs as a share of the total jobs in the economy has consistently declined since the early 1950s, although the actual number of manufacturing jobs is greater today. New jobs in health, construction, retail trade and services have grown more rapidly. The share of manufacturing employment has fallen from 33 percent of total jobs to 18 percent today.

A variety of factors have contributed to the decline in manufacturing jobs. Unfair trade practices by our competitors have hurt our exports of autos and electronics.

U.S. companies have fallen behind in making commercial applications of our research, and short-term management planning has discouraged new manufacturing investment. High interest rates also have dampened borrowing for new plants and equipment, and the lack of savings has shrunk the pool of capital for industrial expansion.

The temptation is to accept the erosion of our manufacturing base and concentrate on service industries and jobs. That would be a grave mistake. Manufacturing jobs generally pay better than other kinds of work. Once we lose touch with state of the art manufacturing, it can spill over into the design and application of a broad range of high-tech products. Without a strong manufacturing base, we become more dependent on expensive imports that further drain money from our economy.

A strong manufacturing base can provide jobs for many of the unemployed in our inner cities, and would allow the United States to compete with the European economic community, Japan and other countries.

Report From Washington

By Matthew Rinaldo

Unfortunately, small manufacturers who provide most of the new products and jobs often find it difficult to obtain the financing they require. The capital requirements of small manufacturers exceed the resources of small community banks, especially during the present credit crunch in which many banks are reluctant to make new loans.

One solution is the tax exempt industrial development bond program, which accounted for more than 20 percent of the total private bonds issued last year. Unfortunately, this program is due to expire this year unless Congress reauthorizes it for another five years. I am sponsoring a renewal of the program with certain reforms. Under the proposed legislation, funds would be targeted to firms that show the most promise of offering new jobs.

By qualifying at the state and local level for IDB financing, many companies strengthen their position to compete for scarce private investment funds. In New Jersey, for instance, the state provided $15 million in IDB funds for 11 projects that were then able to attract another $30 million in leveraged private investment.

It is crucial for industrial states like New Jersey that Congress should vote to extend the bond program as part of an anti-recession effort that would limit government spending while clearing the way for private investment in manufacturing growth.

Rep. Matthew Rinaldo is congressman of the 7th District, which includes Mountainside.

L.A. racial beating has message for us all

Screening New Jersey

By Steve Aduabato Jr.

L.A. Police Chief Darryl Gates absurdly points out that the beating took place after cops stopped King, who had been driving more than 100 miles per hour — as if that's some sort of justification for what his out-of-control cops did.

While four of the city's finest proceeded to smash King's cheekbone, break his leg, damage his internal organs and fracture his eye socket, possibly as many as 21 other cowardly white cops stood by. The pictures once again brought horror, shock and shame to millions of television viewers. There have been calls for Gates' resignation, which he adamantly resists.

Some of you might wonder what this much-publicized Los Angeles incident has to do with New Jersey. The answer is everything.

The issue is much larger than whether Darryl Gates should resign as police chief. It's bigger than the court case of the four criminally-indicted cops who perpetrated this injustice. This issue is one for every American to take a stand on regardless of where you live or the color of your skin.

Citizens should demand that their local PBAs and other police organizations speak out against their Los Angeles brothers. It is especially important in places like Teaneck, Vineland, Perth Amboy and Plainfield, four New Jersey communities that in the past few years have experienced highly-publicized incidents involving white cops allegedly beating, and in some cases killing, minority youths. Unfortunately, most cops have kept quiet on this issue. One must assume they think it's not their business because it happened on the West Coast, or that it's somehow an issue of loyalty. They're wrong. Their silence is deafening.

There are those like Chief Gates who will argue that this is not a racial incident. He calls it an "aberration." He is being modest. He fails to mention the time Jamaal Wilkes, a former basketball star with the Los Angeles Lakers, who is black, was handcuffed by cops because his auto registration was about to expire. And how about the case of Hall of Fame second baseman Joe Morgan, another black, who was thrown to the ground by L.A. cops and handcuffed because they thought he looked like he was a drug dealer. The cops later apologized, but a court awarded Morgan a $540,000 settlement.

To make matters worse, a few days after the Rodney King videotape, a police recording was released exposing the fact that racial slurs were made by several white cops when reporting the incident. Nothing racial? Guess again.

To be honest, over the years I had grown somewhat skeptical of the constant charges of "racism" that seemed to surface every time a minority was arrested or convicted. But these "L.A. stories" should force all of us, especially whites who can never imagine what it must be like to be a young black male in America, to re-examine our positions. Can you imagine what it's like always to be under suspicion and to live in daily fear of a white cop with a gun? I can't.

A couple of years ago when dozens of black professionals were stopped on the New Jersey Turnpike, asked to get out of their BMWs and searched for drugs because they fit a certain profile, it was recognized and stopped by incoming state police superintendent Justin Dintino. If it happened in the South and in L.A., it can no doubt happen in New Jersey.

Let's be clear on this. Cops, especially in our drug- and weapon-infested cities, have an almost impossible job. Showing restraint and proper judgment in all circumstances is a lot to ask. Second guessing, especially by those of us who never face these realities, is easy. Most cops are heroes as far as I'm concerned. But what went on in L.A., and what is surely going on in other American communities, is an outrage. The question remains: What are we going to do about it?

It's time for serious re-examination of how our police are selected, trained and monitored. It's time to address the need for racial sensitivity and awareness. It's time for cops, whether they be in L.A. or in Long Branch, to speak out when a minority suspect becomes a victim of obvious harassment and abuse. It's time to take charges of police brutality and civil rights violations more seriously. We shouldn't have to wait until the next powerful television picture shocks us on the evening news. By then, it's a little too late.

Watershed lands in state need protection

The State We're In

By David F. Moore

development of water supply protection areas.

Such land sales have been rationalized on grounds that since we have the technology to treat water for drinking purposes, land-saving to protect water supplies from non-point pollution isn't needed anymore. That's nonsense, for at least three different reasons.

First, water treatment, no matter how technological, cost money; the dirtier the water, the more the expense.

Second, dirtier water fails to meet the water quality goals we've set for the nation under the Clean Water Act. Remember, that law aims for swimmable and fishable waters.

Finally, just because water is called safe to drink doesn't mean it is free from problems. Salt, the ubiquitous material applied to slippery winter roads, can kill stream organism, and isn't usually taken out by water treatment processes. We have the same trouble with viruses. Ordinary sewage and water treatment doesn't faze them at all.

We haven't yet learned to run rivers into and out of treatment plants to clean them up. Only nature can do that. The sale of those watershed lands, or their development, results in the inability of nature to clean and keep clean our water supplies. It also invites salt applications in vulnerable areas when development brings roads.

While there is proposed legislation to deal with part of the problem, we need much stronger regulations. Indeed, watershed lands, those owned by both utilities and towns, are public trust lands, acquired by public eminent domain authority, and should be treated just like other parklands we've thoughtfully protected all these years.

David F. Moore is the executive director of the New Jersey Conservation Foundation.

Springfield teachers honored

The Springfield Board of Education has recognized three local teachers for their achievements and contributions to Springfield's public school system.

The teachers — Glenn Brown, James Guinee and William Vetter — accepted this year's Governor Teacher Recognition Awards from Springfield Board of Education President Myrna Wasserman before an audience of more than 100 people during the board's last meeting.

The Governor's Awards honors teachers who have distinguished themselves through exceptional contributions in the following areas: use of effective instructional techniques and methods; establishment of productive classroom environment and rapport with students and development of feelings of self worth and love of learning in students.

Springfield Superintendent of Schools Dr. Gary Friedland announced to the public that the awards are given to faculty members "who have served unselfishly in guiding children through one of the most important stages of their lives."

"The recipients of these awards are special people who exemplify the qualities of all outstanding teachers," Friedland said. "They have demonstrated exceptional leadership by their involvement in serving on numerous district committees dedicated to the improvement of programs of the school system."

Teachers who receive the Governor's Award are nominated by community members, parents and teaching staff.

These nominations are reviewed by a nine-member panel that includes the superintendent, principals, community members and past award recipients who select finalists to represent the Springfield public schools at a convocation in May at Princeton University.

Wasserman and other members of the board commended the staff for their accomplishments and recognized each teacher by formally adopting a resolution proclaiming the contribution of each.

Red Cross seeks to aid military kin

The Westfield-Mountainside Red Cross is seeking to help meet the needs of U.S. military personnel, their families, refugees, people made homeless by the conflict and prisoners of war, as well as other war victims, by continued support of its $30 million Gulf Crisis fund campaign.

In addition, the organization needs volunteers to meet continuing domestic needs and to replace resources which have gone to the Persian Gulf, according to Gail Moffett, executive director of the Westfield-Mountainside chapter.

Moffett said the American Red

Cross is also supporting the humanitarian relief work of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, which is helping thousands of refugees and people made homeless by the war.

One can call the chapter at 232-7090 about serving as a Red Cross volunteer. Red Cross volunteers are not being sent to the Persian Gulf, Moffett said, but their help is needed in working with military families and other people.

One can also call the chapter to donate blood or to keep a blood donor appointment if they already have one. Although the Red Cross is not sending blood to the Persian Gulf at this time, Moffett said, there is a continuing need for blood donors for domestic needs.

In addition, one can call the chapter to request a tissue donor card. The Persian Gulf conflict alerted many people to the need for skin tissue and bone donations for reconstructive surgery on those wounded in the war.

Cleanup bill moves in Assembly

The Assembly approved legislation that would require the state Department of Transportation to reimburse local governments for highway cleanup costs.

The bill (A-978), sponsored by Assemblymen Neil Cohen (D-Union), and Joe Mecca (D-Essex/Passaic), applies to the cleanup of any debris, construction or otherwise, on all state roads.

Cohen drafted the bill in response to the Route 22 debris cleanup by the township of Hillside. The Union County municipality was forced to shut down part of the state road to clear off dangerous debris that impaired the safety of the roadway.

"Local governments are under the same financial strain as the state," said Cohen. "The DOT must begin to clean up after itself because municipalities do not have enough money budgeted for cleaning up debris that is not on their roads."

Under the legislation, local governments could bill the DOT for personnel and other expenses incurred during a state road cleanup.

According to the bill, the DOT would pay the cleanup bill within 30 days of receipt of a work completed statement.

Municipalities would be prohibited from initiating their own cleanup of state roads if the DOT makes other arrangements for cleanup.

According to the amended bill, the money for reimbursement to local governments would come from the Clean Communities Fund or the hazardous Spill Cleanup Fund.

The bill, approved by a 75-0 Assembly vote, now moves to the Senate for approval.

Crop Walk planned

Back in 1973, it was reported by the First Presbyterian Church of Roselle, that the churches of Roselle and Roselle Park determined "not only to be concerned about the problem of world hunger but also to do something very specific about it." It was out of that commitment that the CROP Walk for Hunger began, and it has continued to be held each year since then. In the 18 years that "we have been walking for the hungry, we have raised nearly $60,000 for this cause."

The local churches work through the national offices of Church World Service, an arm of the National Council of Churches, whose work in world relief dates back to the 1940s.

This year, the walk will be held tomorrow morning on Good Friday morning. Registration will begin at 9:30 at the Church of the Assumption, Westfield Avenue, Roselle Park, and will conclude about noon.

It was announced that the walk will be approximately 10 kilometers (six miles) and will start from the Church of the Assumption, then follow a route through the two boroughs, passing by each of the constituent churches. It will finish back at the starting place, where refreshments will be served.

Merle Murphy of the First Presbyterian Church of Roselle has a supply of "sponsor envelopes" for those who "wish to walk that day." If one cannot walk, but would like to sponsor one of the church walkers, the walkers will be wearing red CROP buttons from now until the Crop Walk and "will be happy to take your pledge."

The benevolence committee has announced that it will sponsor each church member who walks at a rate of $1.50 a kilometer.

Maundy Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church will be held tonight at 8 p.m. "in grateful remembrance of the Last Supper that Jesus shared with his disciples. We will gather in the chapel to celebrate the sacrament." Tomorrow at 8 p.m., a devotional service will be held in the chapel.

The traditional Church Family Easter breakfast will be held in the fellowship hall Sunday from 8 to 9:15 a.m. The menu will include scrambled eggs, ham and potatoes. The board of deacons will be in charge.

Festival service set

Calvary Lutheran Church, 108 Eastman St., Cranford will "proclaim the good news of the empty tomb" at festival services of Holy Communion at 8:30 and 11 a.m. on Easter Sunday, March 31.

The Rev. Christine Regan, assistant pastor, will preach at the 8:30 service, and the Rev. C. Paul Strockbine, senior pastor, will preach at the 11 o'clock service.

Both services will begin with the Calvary Choir singing "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson. The Senior Ringers Handbell Choir also will play an arrangement of "Lift High the Cross" by Cynthia Dobrinski. In addition the Teen Choir will sing at the 8:30 service, and the Alleluia and the Junior Choirs, young children's choirs, will sing at the 11 o'clock service.

"Following a tradition of the past few years, any member of the congregation who would like to join Calvary Choir at the end of the service in the singing of the 'Halleluja Chorus' from Handel's Messiah is invited to do so, it was announced.

Music will be under the direction of Mary Lou Stevens, director of music at Calvary.

The public is invited to all services. Nursery care for children 5 years of age and under is available in the education building for the 11 o'clock service.

Chairman appointed

Allan Roy Bardack of Mountain-side has been appointed chairman of the executive committee of the greater Hudson County Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Bardack has served on the executive committee for the past five years.

He received the chapter's 1987 Humanitarian Award for his civic and charitable activities in Hudson County.

Holy Week events

The final events of Holy Week will be observed in St. Stephen's Church, 119 Main St., Millburn, where 40 percent of its congregation is from Union, Springfield and Mountainside, with a Maundy Thursday service of Holy Eucharist tonight at 8 and special observances tomorrow, Good Friday, from noon to 3 p.m. and also at 8 p.m.

On Easter Sunday, two services of Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 and 10 a.m.

Tonight's Maundy Thursday service of Holy Eucharist will commemorate the Last Supper shared by Christ with his disciples. The Rev. Gordon Hyde Tremaine, rector, will give "a dramatic interpretation of the impact of Jesus on a servant at the inn where the Last Supper took place." At the offertory the choir will sing "Behold the Lamb of God" by Healey Willan.

On Good Friday churchgoers can attend all or part of the observances of the traditional hours of Christ's crucifixion from noon until 3 p.m. Beginning at noon, a passion pilgrimage for children, The Way of the Cross, will be led by the rector and members of the Church School. From 1 to 3 p.m. Tremaine will preside at an open service of passion observance, using a series of Biblical readings and meditations. For those who cannot attend the afternoon service, the traditional Good Friday liturgy will be observed at 8 p.m.

The festival of Easter will be celebrated on Sunday with a service of Holy Eucharist at 8 a.m. and a Festival Choral Eucharist at 10 a.m. Tremaine will celebrate the Eucharist and preach the Easter sermon at both services.

As the organ prelude to the 10 o'clock service, Dr. John Eric Floreen, organist and choir director, will play George Frideric Handel's Concerto in F. As the choral introit, the children's choir under the direction of Donna Monteleone will sing "That Easter Day with Joy Was Bright" by Michael Praetorius.

Two anthems will be sung at the 10 o'clock service by the Senior Choir under the direction of Floreen: Johann Sebastian Bach's "Sing Praise to Christ" and "Christ the Lord, the Lord Most Glorious" by John Antes. During communion Miriam Koenig, soprano soloist, will sing "Alleluia"

Easter message

"The Cross" — what does the Cross mean in your life? "Then Jesus called the crowd and his disciples to him." "If anyone wants to come with me," he told them, "he must forget himself, carry his Cross, and follow me." For whoever wants to save his own life will lose it; but whoever loses his life for me and for the gospel will save it." Mark 8:34-35 TEV.

The Cross upon which His body hung on that event filled Friday soon became empty with His burial. The empty Cross remained silhouetted against the sky. Thoughts turn away from that Cross until Easter Morning when they would return to the empty Cross as the Risen Saviour is greeted. We find ourselves standing in awe before that Cross silhouetted against the sky. We find ourselves greeting that empty Cross with sounds of rejoicing. The empty Cross has a new meaning for us. It once meant death. It now means life.

We bear many crosses in our lives. Yet, those crosses become empty when we give our lives to Christ. We as believers are reminded of our hope when we stand before the empty Cross. The Cross which held Christ who bore the sins and burdens of all now means life.

I invite you to make the empty Cross the center of your life. Worship the Risen Saviour this Sunday and every Sunday. Attend your House of Worship. "The Lord is Risen! He is Risen indeed!"

Jeffrey D. Gehris, pastor
Battle Hill Community Moravian Church

of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. For the postlude Floreen will play the Toccata from Symphony V of Charles-Marie Windor on the Beckerath organ.

Frontier Night set

An invitation has been extended the public to a presentation about Northern Frontier, Christian Service Brigade summer camp in the Adirondack Mountains.

Union's first bank is still first

▪ First in safety ▪ First in earnings

WNBC-TV RATES UCNB AS THE BEST BANK IN UNION. In 1923 a group of life-long Union residents formed The Union Center National Bank to satisfy the increasing financial demands of a residential and business community. Since that time The Bank has been a pillar of strength and a safe haven for its depositors. Our bank remains strong today, in spite of present economic conditions, with solid earnings, no non-performing loans, a high equity ratio and a very liquid position. Our dividend has remained unchanged and represents 55% of the 1990 earnings, which amounted to $2,523,000.

Simply put, we're the best bank in town for safety and performance as evidenced by the ratings we've received from Veribanc, a leading bank rating service, from Sheshunoff Information Services, Inc., a leading bank analyst firm, and from WNBC-TV.

We're proud of the results of our operations, particularly in light of ever-increasing competition from the "Johnny Come Lately Banks". We'll continue to remain prosperous while keeping to that original goal from 1923 of "service to the community".

Things looking up for local teams

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

With the return of spring comes the return of baseball, that greatest of American sports which coincides with Easter, Passover, chirping birds and everything else that relates to springtime.

The following is a preview of what you can expect to see when the 1991 high school baseball season begins on April 2.

BREARLEY

Always cheery and optimistic, Brearley coach Ralph LaConte simply loves the game of baseball, and enjoys teaching it to his players.

And with a large handful of returning lettermen back in uniform, LaConte feels that 1991 could be a promising season for the Bears.

"I think that we have a lot of returning lettermen," explained LaConte, whose team went an impressive 16-8-1 last year. "There is the makings here for a very good season."

"As for the young players, it's going to be a learning process. But some of the seniors are going to be pushed by the younger kids and that's good. We just have to play good baseball, that's all. We just have to play our best and the pieces will fall in."

And with enough luck, so will a lot of hits. Leading the list of returning senior letterwinners is second baseman Peter Accomando, who batted .381 and drove in 10 runs in 1990 as the number nine hitter, while also fielding a cool .935.

Look for senior Luan Ahmetaj to replace the hard-hitting Jeff Barr at first base, and definitely count on Chris Parkhill to play third base. Another senior, catcher Mike Archibald, is returning for his third year in a varsity uniform; and Don Dayton, who was terrific as Brearley's quarterback in football last fall, will begin his second varsity season in center field.

Baseball

Two more seniors — Tim Kaufmann and Don Sammet — are good pitching candidates for LaConte, who will likely have both in the outfield when they're not on the mound. And Chris Carey and Kevin Bell lend both pitching and infield experience to Brearley as well. Carey, who is now in his third varsity season, had a strong first half last year, but after hurting his arm in a 2-0 shutout victory over New Providence in county tournament competition, he had to sit out the rest of the way.

A "key utility man" for the Bears, LaConte feels, is junior Ron Cagno, who can play at second base and in the outfield, and if necessary, fill in at designated hitter, too.

Other names to look for include juniors Joe Corbo, Mike Emery, Jose Rodriguez and Dan Russoniello; and sophomores Brian Kasprzyk, Patrick Knierim, Bill Picone, Jon Ciravolo and Lou Kruk.

Brearley, which has new T-shirts announcing that baseball at the Kenilworth-based school is in "full swing," will begin its '91 season with away games at St. Mary's and St. Patrick's on April 2 and 4, respectively, before returning home to face Academic High of Jersey City on April 6.

DAYTON

For a while last spring, the Bulldogs had a lot of people surprised with a 4-1 start, one that was based primarily on clutch hitting and some nifty pitching, too.

This year, with two of last year's key hurlers — Billy Hart and Matt Gallaro — lost to graduation, Dayton cannot assume that it will get off to another big start.

But if some of last year's returning starters can come through, it is quite possible that Dayton could surprise a few people, while hopefully avoiding the kind of fade that brought about a 9-12 finish last year.

"Last year, we started 6 to 7 sophomores a game, and many of those kids are back," explained Dayton skipper Rick Iacono. "So we think we're going to be a stronger team than we were."

"We're definitely a bigger team defensively."

The pitching staff shows much in the way of promise. Iacono's big trio will be senior Craig Hauelsen and juniors Jay Desai and Clayton Trivett, with the probable catcher being senior Mike Reddington.

The infield appears set with junior Mark Nadzan replacing the graduated Dale Torborg at first base, Trivett and David Bernosky competing for the starting job at second, Andy Huber settling in at shortstop, and Terrence Young playing third.

As Dayton followers know, Huber owns a quick bat and a quality glove at short. He should bat third in Dayton's lineup.

Senior Peter Gittich will likely start in left field, followed by junior Anthony Palermo in center and David Tazacki in right. Archie Guilas, another junior, is slated to play as a backup in both the outfield and infield — and depending on who pitches, he may well get a few starts at one position or another.

ROSELLE PARK

The Panthers may not always dominate, but they're usually competitive. That was the case in last season's 10-12 record, and should be the case this spring once again.

"Well, hopefully we can improve our record and gain a winning season," said Panther coach Jack Shaw Monday. "It's hard to tell because we haven't been outside yet, but we have good enthusiasm and hopefully, we'll be back on the winning track this year."

One player who figures to have a good year is senior Scott Bermingham, the likely opening day starter for Park this coming Tuesday, April 2, in Manville. A strong and durable 6-foot-2, 200-pound pitcher, Bermingham will play in center field on days he's not on the mound. Look for him to bat cleanup in Shaw's lineup.

And when Park returns home to take on Middlesex on April 4, senior Chris Kelly will likely be the man on the mound for Shaw. When he doesn't pitch, Kelly can play left field.

With Ray Jankowski lost to graduation, both Mike Baker and Joe Arena are battling for the job as starting catcher. Baker can also serve as designated hitter, while Arena can play third base, depending on who does — and doesn't — earn the starting job behind the plate.

Chris Hartzler, Tom Baylock and John Nitcher are working for starting infield positions, as well as senior Dan Cerretti, who is a good bet to return to shortstop. Rich Huxford is set to be the first baseman, while junior Andres Alarcon can either play second or pitch, as of press time, he was set to bat in the leadoff position for Park.

Junior Derick Vanderkooy, who came up from the junior varsity ranks late last season, will look to play right field this spring.

Other pitching help should come from senior southpaw Jon Price, who can also play the outfield when he doesn't pitch. Hartzler and freshman Mark Leonardis can pitch as well.

Boro outpoints seniors

Senior bowling tournament promotor Charles Vitale offered no apology for the recent narrow loss to the Kenilworth Boro Employees team. Vitale said the "youngsters" could not field a full three-team contingent as required by the rules, and the senior citizens could have claimed a victory by default.

Instead, the Seniors gave the Boro team two of their bowlers in order to balance the teams. It also helped the Boro team, consisting of coach Albert Testa and other council and boro officials, to victory.

Senior citizen member Frank Amirano, bowled the single game high of 200.

Kopelman places first Paul Kopelman of Roselle Park placed first in the Second Thursday 0-2000 Swiss Teams during the recently-held Spring North American Bridge Championships in Atlantic City.

More than 7,000 bridge enthusiasts ranging from novices to World Grand Masters competed in this 10-day event. Competitors from more than 12 countries participate in the spring championships every year to decide nine major championships and many lesser titles.

Lady Owls set to go

Three night games in Warinanco Park and 11 doubleheaders will highlight the 1991 schedule of the Union County College's second-year women's softball team. The schedule was announced recently by athletic director Fred Perry.

The night contests are scheduled for April 11 against Lackawanna Community College of Pennsylvania, April 15 against Bergen Community College and April 23 against Raritan Valley Community College.

Coach Sue Harms will send her Lady Owls into action at Nomahegan Park in Cranford on April 5 against Bucks County College of Pennsylvania.

In away contests, the Lady Owls will face Orange Community College of New York, Ocean County College, Brookdale, Middlesex County College, County College of Morris, Camden County, and Northampton Community College (Pa.).

By Mark Yablonsky and Susan Krakowlecz Sports Editors

The 20-5 record he posted makes Erik Wnuck the winningest freshman wrestler at Rahway High School. His list of accomplishments also includes a second-place finish in the UCT, the District 11 title and a fourth-place finish in the Region 3 Tournament.

"Erik is one of the hardest-working kids I've had at any weight," coach Fred Steuber said. "He's always the last one out of the weight room."

Dante Puorro may not have had quite the season that he did in last year's 27-6 campaign, but at 26-5 this year, the hard-working 112-pound senior still is among the state's elite wrestlers.

After an injury prevented Puorro from winning a second straight Union County title, he gained revenge by defeating Rich Orteaga of Governor Livingston in Region 3 competition to help earn a return trip to Princeton.

Senior Bob McCafferty was a very big man for Roselle Park this winter, going a sparkling 26-6 to earn a fourth straight varsity letter.

Four of those losses were at the hands of Cranford's Willie Carpenter, who won county, district and regional titles. McCafferty, who won a District 10 championship, leaves Park with a career total of 79 wins.

"Bobby's probably one of the hardest workers we've ever had here at Roselle Park," Panther coach Sam Appello said.

Quietly and without much fanfare, John Petrosky of Roselle Park went out and did his job, constantly picking up points early on to send the Panthers on to victory in most cases.

When it was all over, this two-year starter and letterman had piled up a 22-8-1 record with nine pins, as well as a runner-up spot in District 10.

"Over the two years, John has done everything we asked of him, and now he's become one of the better wrestlers," commented Appello.

After his first season of varsity wrestling, Rahway junior Dan Rivera has made quite an impression. "He put together a great season for someone who's never wrestled at the varsity level before," Steuber said.

Rivera posted a 14-9-1 record at 130 pounds. He also recorded a fourth-place finish in the Union County Tournament and a third-place finish in the District 11 tournament.

By any standard, Andy Troczynski had a great season. Wrestling at 135 pounds for Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, he finished with a 23-6 record and placed third in the Union County Tournament, fourth in the region and he won the District 11 title.

"Andy wrestled as a freshman but got hurt," his coach Richard McSorley said. "He's a great kid and he really works hard."

Dan Lilley went about his senior year in typical fashion for Union, going 33-5 with 22 pins and a Union County Tournament championship, not to mention first runner-up during the District 10 tournament.

Unfortunately, a knee injury two days before the start of the Region 3 tournament limited him to a third-place finish, and the last available state tournament slot. Once there, Lilley posted a fourth-place finish to cap a lifetime mark of 110-17-3.

Mike Francesca very nearly went unbeaten to win a state championship, but Matt Suter of Paulsboro ended up with the title by winning, 8-5, over Francesca in the 145-pound title match in Princeton.

But all told, Francesca went 32-1 with 20 pins, winning county, district and regional titles along the way.

And unlike last season, there were no illnesses interfering with Francesca's senior year.

"When he was healthy, he was unstoppable," said Lilley.

For the second straight year, John Ranieri was able to stay healthy. And that was a big factor in Park's sectional championship.

Fashioning a spectacular 32-4 record, Ranieri also notched 23 pins, including a handful of technical falls. Most impressive is the fact that his 97 career wins at Park leave Ranieri as the school's all-time victory leader.

"John worked awfully hard this season," explained Appello. "He was a team leader in many aspects."

For the second straight year, Brearley's Vic Verno is a member of our All-County wrestling squad.

This year, Verno claims our 160-pound spot with a 29-4 mark.

A Region 11 champion, Verno recorded some lop-sided victories, including a 19-6 win over Brian Martin of Brick Memorial during the state tournament.

Steve Marcantonio of Rahway High School leaves the Indians as the fourth-winningest wrestler in school history. The 171-pound senior posted an impressive 25-5 record this season. His career mark at Rahway is 61-19-1.

During the season, Marcantonio gave some of his best performances in his biggest matches. He finished third in the UCT, second in the District 11 Tournament, second in the Region 3 Tournament, and he placed in the top 12 in the recent state tournament.

As good as he is in football, Dave Patterson is also something else in wrestling.

One of three 171-pounders to share this space, Patterson rolled to a 26-2 record and 17 falls. That includes Union County and District 10 titles.

"He gave his much-needed strength in the upper weights," said Appello in reference to his co-captain.

Brearley's Bob Taylor Jr. is quite a wrestler.

His hard work brought him a first-ever District 11 title, as well as a trip to the state tournament.

The junior recorded a 26-4 record and 10 pins. Taylor placed second in the county tournament to Patterson, and ahead of Marcantonio. And Taylor won his regional crown by beating Marcantonio, 11-7 — just two months after Marcantonio had defeated Taylor in December's Woodbridge Tournament.

And Jose Rodriguez, who is also active for Brearley in football and baseball, went 22-3 this past winter and came in second in the District 11 tournament. Only by a small margin did he miss qualifying for the state tournament.

Scott DuBeau had a big year for the Bears, despite facing tough foes such as Rahway's Daryl Furr-Bell and Elizabeth's Ed Perez, both of whom lost to DuBeau (19-5) when the latter won a first-ever District 11 championship.

"Scott had a successful year and he really wrestled well this season," said Brearley coach Ron Ferrara.

Finally, Union's Scott Platt did everything for Union. Going 22-3-1 with county and district titles, the senior heavyweight helped the Farmers win the Watchung Conference championship.

Who's on 1st?

This week's question: When Ramon Martinez of the L.A. Dodgers went 20-6 last year, he became the second-youngest pitcher in team history to win 20 games. Who was the first?

Last week's answer: Rod Gilbert remains the leading scorer in Ranger history. Gilbert, who played his first NHL game in the 1960-61 season, holds many team records. But his lifetime total of 1,021 points (406 goals, 615 assists) stands as the most notable achievement of his brilliant 19-year career with the Broadway Blueshirts.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi, Peter Caggiano of Berkeley Heights and Stephen Reithinger of Union submitted correct answers.

Merlin performs 'Magic'

What does the Union County Arts Center on Irving Street in Rahway have in common with the White House, the Smithsonian, Kennedy Center and the U.N.? On April 7 it joins these prestigious sites on the list of places at which the versatile Jack Adams has performed.

Actor, illusionist, pantomimist, storyteller and quick-change artist, Adams will be portraying fabled court magician Merlin. The Theatreworks USA Production of "Merlin Magic" will have a one-time-only matinee performance at the theatre that has become one of New Jersey's most talked-about restoration projects.

Though "Merlin Magic" is aimed mainly at kids, parents may find Adams a departure from what usually passes as "family entertainment." He has tread the boards with the best of the headliners — James Earl Jones, Jack Lemmon, Liza Minnelli and Dudley Moore, to name a few — and has performed his magic throughout the world.

Showtime is 2 p.m.; doors open at 1 p.m. Tickets are $5 and may be purchased at the box office at 1601 Irving St., at the junction of Main Street and Central Avenue in Rahway; or call 908-499-8226.

Pushcart tells its tales

Pushcart Players, the Verona-based professional theatre ensemble for young and family audiences, will perform "Stone Soup And Other Stories" on April 6 at the Roosevelt Intermediate School in Westfield at 11 a.m.

"Stone Soup And Other Stories" — Pushcart's spring mini-production — is an excellent introduction to theatre for children from pre-school to fourth grade. It contains story favorites from Africa, India, Eastern Europe and the United States and is filled with humor, fantasy, color and wit. Tickets are $5, and for more information, call the school — located on Clark St. and Cowperthwaite Place — at 908-789-4401.

Pushcart Players is available to perform in schools and performing arts centers and is also offering "Three Cheers For America" — a salute to 20th Century America in song, dance and story — in the spring. All Pushcart performances are accompanied by a comprehensive study guide for each classroom teacher and an optional discussion period with the cast immediately following the show.

Pushcart programs are made possible through grants provided by Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc., New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, DeLuxe Check Printers, Inc., Metropolitan Life Foundation and Mutual Benefit Life.

For further information regarding any of Pushcart's programs or to book one of the shows, call 201-857-1115. Or write "Pushcart," 197 Bloomfield Avenue, Verona, N.J. 07044.

NJSO set for season as faces change

Music director Hugh Wolff has announced plans for the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra's 69th season, 1991-92. The season will include 56 subscription concerts throughout New Jersey, as well as performances at Carnegie Hall and Avery Fisher Hall in New York City.

It will be Wolff's final season leading the NJSO. The orchestra will also enter the season with a new face at the helm; executive director John Hyer stepped down last week after more than 10 years with the NJSO.

Subscription concerts will be heard at Symphony Hall in Newark, the State Theatre in New Brunswick, John Harms Center for the Arts in Englewood, the Count Basie Theatre in Red Bank, the Pingry School in Martinsville, the War Memorial in Trenton and Richardson Auditorium in Princeton. The season will open Oct. 3 in Englewood with a program of music by Beethoven, Berg and Brahms, conducted by Wolff and featuring violinist Midori.

Guest conductors leading the NJSO next season include Kazuyoshi Akiyama, Jahja Ling, Michael Morgan, Carl St. Clair and Christopher Wilkins, all making their NJSO debuts. Returning to lead the orchestra will be Leon Fleisher, conductor/violinist Joseph Silverstein and NJSO assistant conductor Peter Rubardt.

Returning guest artists featured in the 1991-92 season will be pianist Joseph Kalichstein and Andre Watts, violinists Cho-Liang Lin, Midori, Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg and Joseph Silverstein, violist Kim Kashkashian, cellist Carter Brey, soprano Rebecca Copley, mezzo-soprano Laura Brooks Rice, tenor Gary Lakes, baritone Sanford Sylvan, bass John Cheek and the Westminster Choir, with Joseph Flummerfelt, director.

Making their NJSO debuts will be pianists Jon Kimura Parker and Helene Wicket, violinist Daniel Phillips, guitarist Christopher Parkening and the traditional music group, the Chieftains.

The NJSO's Major Concert Series will continue to present 10 programs

Hugh Wolff

in Newark, and eight programs each in Englewood, Trenton and New Brunswick. The Red Bank series will include six programs.

Highlights include performances of Verdi's "Messa da Requiem" with the Westminster Choir and soloists Rebecca Copley, Laura Brooks Rice, Gary Lakes and John Cheek. The NJSO will present the world premiere of New Jersey composer George Walker's "Poeme for Violin and Orchestra," to be performed by Cho-Liang Lin, both in New Jersey and at Carnegie Hall; and the New Jersey premiere of John Harbison's "Remembering Gatsby: Foxtrot for Orchestra." Other highlights include Alfred Schnittke's "Star Isle."

Symphonies to be performed in the Major Concert Series include Beethoven's fourth, Brahms' second, Rachmaninoff's second, Shostakovich's tenth and Sibelius' first. Also to be heard are concerti by Berg, Schumann, Beethoven, Elgar, Mendelssohn and Tchaikovsky; and works by Mussorgsky-Ravel, Britten, Copland, Bartok, Rossini, Ives and Respighi.

The NJSO's Chamber Orchestra Series will continue to present four concerts each in Princeton, New Brunswick, Englewood and Martinsville, featuring works of the 18th through 20th centuries. Jahja Ling, resident conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra, will open the Chamber Orchestra Series in November with a program of Respighi, Mozart, Kodaly and Haydn, featuring violinist Daniel Phillips in Mozart's Violin Concerto No. 3.

Two New Jersey premieres to be presented on the Chamber Orchestra Series: John Adams's "The Wound Dresser," to be conducted by Wolff, and Michael Rusczyński's "Serenade," to be conducted by Michael Morgan. Other highlights of the Chamber Orchestra Series will include Helene Wicket performing Mozart's Piano Concerto in D Minor, K. 466; and guitarist Christopher Parkening performing Rodrigo's "Fantasia para un gentilhombre." The series will offer symphonies by Beethoven, Mozart, Haydn and Shostakovich, and music by Barber, Copland, Milhaud, Bach and Kodaly, among others.

The NJSO box office is currently selling subscriptions for both the Major and Chamber Orchestra Series. The box office can be reached at 624-8203; or call toll-free at 1-800-ALLEGRO.

The orchestra's schedule also includes several non-subscription concert appearances. The NJSO and Wolff will return to Carnegie Hall on Nov. 7 with the New York premiere of the full orchestra version of Harbison's "Remembering Gatsby: Foxtrot for Orchestra;" the world premiere of Walker's "Poeme" and Chausson's "Poeme," both performed by Cho-Liang Lin, and Rachmaninoff's "Symphonic Dances." This concert will mark the seventh appearance by NJSO and Wolff at Carnegie Hall.

In addition, the NJSO and Wolff will make a second New York appearance next season on Jan. 15, 1992, at Avery Fisher Hall. The concert, entitled "Absolut Concerto," is sponsored by Absolut Vodka and will feature the New York premiere of David Diamond's "This Sacred Ground" and the world premieres of works by American composers commissioned for the occasion by Absolut Vodka.

Two special St. Patrick's Day weekend performances next year featuring The Chieftains will be presented in New Brunswick March 20 and Trenton, March 21.

The NJSO will continue to present programs for schoolchildren throughout New Jersey, Young Artists Auditions, summer pops concerts and concerts at the Garden State Arts Center. Details on these performances will be announced at a later date.

New Jersey Symphony Orchestra is supported in part with major grants from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Springfield in the hi-tech age

If everything in the 1980s wasn't done by computer, then a computer in the 1990s will find out what hasn't been done by computer yet.

Springfield Computer, at 261 Morris Ave., provides all the tools necessary to computerize a home or office so that no one gets left behind by the times.

"Everything these days is computers," Joseph Chioi, owner of Springfield Computer, said. "The hi-tech war in the Persian Gulf was fought by computer and 25 percent of all homes have a computer today."

Chioi is encouraging people to put computers in their homes so that children can start using them at an early age. He sells several brands of IBM-compatible computers including Packard Bell, NEC, Leading Edge, and his own brand. In addition, Springfield Computers provides peripherals including Hewlett Packard and Epson printers, and a variety of VGA and Super VGA monitors.

"In the real world, all companies use IBM or compatibles," Chioi said. "It is important that kids learn on these kinds of computers."

Springfield Computers is the retail end of a business which began in January 1985. According to Chioi, the wholesale portion of the business, now located in Orange, grew and the company realized it needed to expand into retail.

Chioi has done business with the federal government and also holds large corporate accounts. He added that prices are constantly coming down on computers and that some systems can be purchased for less than $500.

All employees at Springfield Computers have backgrounds in computer science, and in addition to knowledge of how the inside of a computer works, they are able to provide consulting so that systems are user-friendly.

The consultants help diagram local area networks for small businesses and recommend software which will help businesses and individuals efficiently accomplish their goals. In the past only expensive minicomputers and mainframes could be used to link several users in an office, but in the past few years technology has improved so much that similar tasks can now be performed by linking simple personal computers together for a fraction of the cost.

People can use computers for word processing, planning a home budget and preparing tax returns. They also may be used to tie into large public databases for doing research at home, or advertising goods and services on bulletin boards.

With developments in desktop publishing, projects such as newsletters, magazines and reports that integrate graphics and text can also be prepared in someone's home.

Chioi may be reached at (908) 376-8833 or (800) 762-1212.

horoscope

For week of Mar. 31-Apr. 6
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Are you feeling more serious than usual? Do not worry about it. Rely on your experience instead of hunches. Release those old fears and habits. Old friends will help you.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Do not waste your time on idle pursuits. Forge ahead in life with a sense of ambition. A psychological block is removed. Learn to rely on yourself more than others.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Take the conservative approach when it comes to business. A sense of humor will serve you well. Break down large tasks to a manageable size. Express emotions without guilt.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Plan to take a pleasure trip. Spend time socializing with dear friends. Recent pressures will be released. Painful emotional encounters will prove to be fruitless.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) A time of new beginnings is approaching. Take some risks. Break away from the past. Superiors will see your changes. Rewards are imminent. Keep your love life on track.
VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Try a new approach in an effort to solve an old problem. The past is not necessarily a prologue. Lighten up at work. Pressure is only what you make it.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Pay close attention to your dreams. Strangers will bring you glad tidings. Share your good fortune with others. Keep your relationships friendly, as opposed to sexual. You need to take it slow.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Are mental gymnastics causing you to worry? Let it rest. Physical exercise is the way to release tension. Plan a hiking trip and get out in the world. Hobbies will help, too.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do not get into arguments over minor points. See the bigger picture. Your enthusiasm will motivate others around you. Lay the groundwork for advancement.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Career ambitions really start to zoom ahead. What is this renewed confidence coming from? It is inside, of course. Be the "goo humor" man. Spread the wealth among friends and associates.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Say goodbye to your secure, but ultimately dull, work. Do what you love. The travel bug will bite you again. Take advantage of it. Be yourself in relationships.
PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Learn more about the power of your subconscious mind. Personal projects will get the green light. Remember that patience is a virtue. Do not waffle on important issues.

'Merry Widow' waltzes into Paper Mill in new version

"The Merry Widow," Franz Lehár's liting and romantic Viennese operetta, waltzes on to the stage of the Paper Mill Playhouse April 3 through May 12.
 Judy Kaye stars as the young and charming Hannah Glawari of the Kingdom of Marsovia, who has been widowed by a very wealthy American. Richard White co-stars as the Marsovia playboy Prince Danilo, who has been ordered by his government to woo and wed the wealthy widow in order to save his bankrupt kingdom from ruin.
 Kaye, who last appeared at the Paper Mill in "Annie Get Your Gun," received a Tony Award for her performance as the opera diva Carlotta in "The Phantom of the Opera." She received the Theatre World Award and the L.A. Drama Critics Circle Award for her role as Lily Garland in "On the Twentieth Century," both on Broadway and on tour with Rock Hudson.
 White most recently performed the role of the Phantom in a new version of "The Phantom of the Opera" by Maury Yeston and Arthur Kopit in Houston. He was seen on two PBS "Great Performances" presentations; New York City Opera's production of "New Moon" and Paper Mill's "Show Boat." He is a favorite leading man at both New York City Opera and at Paper Mill, and Playhouse audiences will remember him as Frank Butler in "Annie Get Your Gun" and as Ace

Gruver in the world premiere musical, "Sayonara."
 "The Merry Widow" is directed by Robert Johanson, who also has written a new English adaptation for the Paper Mill production. Musical direction is by City Opera's Jim Coleman, choreography is by Sharon Halley and the turn-of-the-century costumes are by Greg Barnes. Paper Mill's resident designer Michael Anania has designed the sets, including Maxim's famous restaurant in Paris.
 Performances are Wednesday through Sunday at 8 p.m.; Thursday matinees, 2 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday matinees, 3 p.m.; Tickets range in price from $22 to $36; group rates are available and Visa and Mastercard are accepted. Call the box office at 376-4343.
 Audio-described performances for the visually-impaired are May 2 at 2 p.m., May 4 at 3 p.m. and May 5 at 8 p.m. Sign-interpreted performances for the hearing impaired are slated for May 5 at 8 p.m. and May 10 at 8 p.m.
 The Paper Mill Playhouse production of "The Merry Widow" has received funding from the Howard Gilman Foundation, the E.J. Grassman Trust and the NJ State Council on the Arts/Department of State.

Realtors give thanks by donating blood

The Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood has announced a change in the theme of its April 11 area-wide blood drive. With Operation Desert Storm now a chapter in the nation's history books, Realtors at the Oranges-Maplewood Board, in thanksgiving for the limited loss of American lives in the Gulf area, have updated the blood drive's theme to "Give Thanks, Give Blood."

The drive, conceived by the Community Service Committee of the New Jersey Association of Realtors as part of its Realtors Care program, was originally developed so Realtors could show their support for Operation Desert Storm. "With the successful completion of the conflict in the Gulf region, we have modified the umbrella theme to Give Thanks, Give Blood," said Gloria Costello of Millburn's Raymond Connolly Realtors, the board's 1991 president. "Even the loss of one life is a tragedy," she continued, "but we have much to be thankful for with so many of our men and women returning safely."

The North Jersey Blood Service has chosen the board headquarters,

Freedom of Speech!

You've decided to buy a home, and the search is underway. You understand the process, that not every home will suit your tastes. You are prepared to see a number of homes before locating the one that best suits your lifestyle and personal tastes.

In the first home, you note that the color scheme combines greens and brown, while you prefer soft blues and mauve. You comment that "the colors are not right."

The second home you see has three bedrooms with a small loft study, but because you are a free-lance writer, you require a spacious and secluded fourth bedroom to house your desk and computer in privacy. You comment "the loft area is not large enough."

The third home has an eat-in kitchen and a dining area. Because you often give formal dinners for friends and associates, you comment "the dining area is just not adequate."

Your three comments reflect your personal needs and tastes, and take nothing away from the value of the ones you've rejected. Nevertheless, imagine how "by owners" would feel as you remarked: "the colors are not right, the loft area is not large enough, and the dining area is just not adequate!"

From the owners' point of view you have disparaged their home, taken something away from it, and they may become defensive.

That situation can be avoided by selecting a REALTOR® before you begin your home search. When viewing homes listed for sale, the owners will often be absent. Because the REALTOR® has no ownership interest in the homes you will be shown, remarks can be made (and taken) objectively.

Free to discuss both the pros and cons of each home, you and the REALTOR® may find alternative benefits which outweigh any negatives encountered. A home you may have avoided initially could become the home of your dreams.

Finding the right home is a process requiring patience, creativity, and vision. First discuss your needs and desires with REALTOR®, then enjoy your home buying experience!

IF YOU'RE PLANNING TO SELL YOUR HOME SOON AND WOULD LIKE INFORMATION ON ITS CURRENT VALUE, GIVE ME A CALL AT 686-1340 EVES. THERE IS NO COST OR OBLIGATION.

Now Families Can Beat The Rising Cost Of Medical Care

NBA Brings Group Rates For Hospital Expense Coverage Home

A $100,000 hospital bill ... most families would be overburdened with an unexpected expense like that. It happens! More frequently now than ever before. Medical costs continue to rise and many insurance programs have not kept pace.

Now, through the National Business Association, you can apply for up to date health care coverage at group rates that only an organization the size of the NBA can secure. Individuals, self-employed, families ... everyone is eligible for membership!

Protect Your Family

- The plan pays 100% of your eligible hospital and doctors' expenses while hospital confined, up to the policy maximums.
- Doctor's office visits, clinics, out-patient benefits and even home care can be included in the plan.
- The program rewards your good health, through our vanishing deductible feature, by reducing your deductible by 25% each year that no claims are paid.
- All at Group Rates.
- The insurance plan described contains exclusions and limitations. A reduction of benefits occurs at age 65. These features help keep your monthly premiums affordable.

Underwritten by: American National Insurance Company or American National Life Insurance Company of Texas, depending upon where you reside.
