Deerfield to undergo gas heat conversion

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

The Mountainside Board of Education has undertaken the initial steps to remove two underground oil tanks at Deerfield School, Central Avenue and School Drive, Mountainside, in a move to thwart the potential danger of soil contamination.

The school, which enrolls approximately 480 students from preschool through eighth grade, currently uses oil and electric heat. Once the tanks are removed, the facility will utilize gas and electric heat.

The school board was prompted to begin the conversion due to a state Department of Environmental Protection provision which mandates that all school boards either remove the underground oil tanks or recondition them to avoid soil contamination.

The board, at its March 19 meeting, unanimously adopted a resolution to hire Energy for America Inc. to prepare the preliminary "scope of engineering services."

The company, which has performed similar tasks in Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights, will prepare preliminary design and final design documents, as well as assist during the bidding and construction processes.

Funds for the project are being allocated from a surplus in the current budget. The total cost of the job is estimated at $13,800. The resolution stipulates that Energy for America will collect 9.3 percent of the total project cost for its services.

One school board member, who declined to be identified, stated that the project will go out to bid once Energy for America completes the design work.

The boilers at Deerfield, the borough's only public school, have the ability to be set up for either oil or gas. The plan now is to convert to gas and electric heat, but administrators will retain the ability to go back to oil at a later date, if necessary.

In the event that the school system would want to fall back to the oil option, portable above-ground tanks could be brought in — thus avoiding the potential hazard of contaminated soil.

Energy for America has also been charged with the responsibility of overseeing the actual removal of the tanks and the construction work involved in converting to gas. One section of the school currently uses electric heat — and this area will not be affected by the conversion to gas.

The company has also taken on the responsibility of providing assistance to the school district during the operational phase of the project.

An on-site inspection of the soil surrounding the tanks is slated to be carried out and, once the tanks are removed, a more extensive laboratory analysis of the samples will be conducted.

Mountainside, of course, is not the only district coping with the problem of oil tank leaks. School boards throughout the state have been mounting similar programs to meet DEP regulations.

Funding for the tank removal does not come under the purview of upcoming Board of Education budget discussions since the monies are being appropriated from a surplus from the 1990-1991 budget.

Asked how she felt about the project, one school board member familiar with its details noted, "We had no choice. We had to do it."

First confirmed rabies in county sets off new alert

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Westfield Regional Health Department, which covers Mountainside, has renewed its warning to area residents to avoid contact with any wildlife, such as raccoons, skunks, rabbits, as well as stray dogs and cats which are suspected of carrying the rabies virus.

The latest advisory was issued March 26 after the New Jersey Department of Health verified a case of raccoon rabies in Cranford. It marked the first confirmed case of rabies to occur in Union County since a statewide rabies alert was issued nine months ago.

The wildlife rabies epizootic — an epidemic among animals — first arrived in New Jersey in November 1989. Health officials theorize that the virus was brought from Pennsylvania across the Delaware River into New Jersey by a raccoon.

It has since spread to nine counties, including Union, Hunterdon, Middlesex, Morris, Passaic, Mercer, Somerset, Sussex and Warren, with a total of 620 rabies cases having been reported since the epidemic began. Prior to 1989, no rabies cases had been reported in New Jersey for 40 years.

Regional Health Officer Robert Sherr reported on Monday that the Cranford case was brought to light after a raccoon became involved in a fight with a dog owned by a resident of that township during the week of March 18.

Police and animal control services dispatched to the scene captured the raccoon, which subsequently tested positive for rabies. The dog, which had been vaccinated against rabies, was given a booster shot and is currently under a 90-day quarantine, according to Sherr.

"The primary animal of concern has been the raccoon, followed by skunks, cats and foxes," Sherr explained. "It seems that the raccoon is the most susceptible. They're nocturnal animals and so they're likely to come into contact with other animals which have the rabies virus. The same goes for skunks."

He noted that of domesticated animals, cats are the most susceptible because of their tendency to roam and because cats are generally not vaccinated as regularly as dogs are. Sherr emphasized that it is just as important for cats to be inoculated as it is for dogs.

The Regional Health Department has also cautioned police departments and public works officials about the rabies epizootic. Police officers were warned since they would be responding to calls about stray animals or wild animals on private property and elsewhere.

Sherr added that public works employees, since they work on roads and parks, are more likely to come into contact with an infected animal than people who have indoor occupations.

He urged area residents to avoid contact with all wildlife, as well as with any unfamiliar dogs or cats. He advised them to contact their local police or health department to secure the animal and not to make any attempt to apprehend the animal.

The health officer reported that an animal infected with rabies is likely to behave in either an aggressive or sickly manner. It may be vomiting, having difficulty walking or appear lethargic, he added.

Library to offer art, music, magic

By Suzette Stalker

The Mountainside Public Library will be celebrating National Library Week April 14-21 with a series of special events for children and adults, highlighting the many services offered by the library. The library, located on Constitution Plaza, recently expanded its collection of materials and its programs.

Library Director Miriam Bein announced that an art exhibit by students at Deerfield School in Mountainside would be on display throughout the month of April, with an opening reception scheduled for April 11. The event is being coordinated by Deerfield art teacher Steve Gimson.

A variety of artwork by students in kindergarten through grade 8 will be displayed on the walls, in the twin showcases on either side of the library entrance and with mobiles suspended from the ceiling. The types of artwork to be presented are expected to include wood sculpture, mobile art, watercolors, drawings and possibly some ceramics, according to Bein.

The public is invited to come to next week's reception, which will also be attended by Gimson and some of the Deerfield School students who will be exhibiting their work at the library. The reception will be held in the library's Emma Weber meeting room from 4-6 p.m.

A "Magic Workshop" for children will be held April 13 at 2 p.m. in the meeting room, featuring magician Michael Healy, a teacher in East Orange who has been performing magic for more than 16 years. Healy is a member of both the International Brotherhood of Magicians and the Society of American Magicians.

Healy will demonstrate a variety of magic techniques to his young audience, including close-up magic, stage magic, escape magic and mind reading, as well as a demonstration using live doves. He is also expected to discuss additional magic tricks using books on magic available at the Mountainside Library.

"It's unusual because it's not just a traditional magic show," Bein explained last week. "He entertains and teaches tricks to the children and invites them to participate step-by-step in some of the tricks."

The program is recommended for school-age youngsters, although preschoolers are welcome if accompanied by an adult.

On the same day, the Friends of the Mountainside Library will be holding an antique appraisal from 10 a.m. to noon. Vena Sharer of the Attic in Westfield will give verbal appraisals of such items as antique lamps, jewelry, clocks, silver, small tables, vases, crystal and other collectibles.

All proceeds from the event will be used to support programs sponsored by the Mountainside Library.

Finally, on April 14, "The Jazz Babies," a jazz and Dixie Land band, will make a return appearance at the library beginning at 5 p.m. in a concert co-sponsored by the Friends of the Mountainside Library and the Union County Council of the Arts, which provided a grant for the performance.

The library director described the various Mountainside Library programs being planned for National Library Week as being "a good opportunity to see the changes at the library and to get reacquainted. Everyone is welcome."

Notary service available

The Mountainside Public Library is now offering free notary public service to Mountainside residents as well as library patrons who work in Mountainside and to those who have purchased out-of-town library memberships.

Those wishing to use this service must provide proper identification and bring their own witnesses for document signatures. Notary service is available by appointment only at the following times: Tuesdays, 6-8:30 p.m.; Wednesdays, 10 a.m.-1 p.m.; and Fridays 2-4:30 p.m.

One can call the Mountainside Public Library at 233-0115 for further information or to set up an appointment.

Adult High School to close by 1992

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

The Union County Regional High School District 1 Board of Education unanimously decided March 26 to close the Adult High School, headquartered at the David Brearley Regional High School campus in Kenilworth, on June 30, 1992.

Faced with the September end of state aid specifically targeting the Adult High School program, the board weighed the option of closing the degree program in June — but decided to give the program a final, one-year lease on life.

"It's unfortunate that a program like this has to go by the wayside," explained Charles Serson, the region's supervisor of adult and vocational education.

The Regional Board includes Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which enrolls Mountainside students.

In other actions at Tuesday's meeting, which took place at Dayton, the board decided to operate the Summer Evening Cultural Arts Program for one year on a non-tuition basis through the Adult School Program.

The Regional Board, which operates four high schools for students from Mountainside, Springfield, Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights, Clark and Garwood, unanimously opted to consolidate the Adult School Program from the four regional high schools into two.

Beginning in September Dayton and ALJ will hold all the Adult School classes. They already house the majority of the offerings.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Merachnik posed the context for these program decisions at the start of the session.

He noted that when the state, under the Quality Education Act, turns over responsibility for pension and Social Security costs in two years, the region will still have to present budgets within the 7.5 percent cap, "which makes it difficult to have a decent expense budget."

Several board members and administrators noted that the region will have to start making the difficult decisions now about which programs to slice. The emphasis, they said, will have to be for district high school students, rather than adults or out-of-district students.

The board decision on the Adult High School means that the degree program for the 65 district and 179 out-of-district adults slated to return will run from September through June at a budget of about $88,000 less than the $302,000 generated from 1989 enrollments.

Serson explained that no new students from outside the district will be allowed to begin the program and that the only district students that will be allowed to start in September must be able to complete the program by its phase-out in June 1992.

In its decision to continue the Summer Cultural Arts Program this summer, the board set aside a proposal to charge participants an average of $118 for the Fine Arts, Crafts, Vocal and Music Theater programs. The extension will cost the board about $14,600 plus supervisory costs.

Board member Joan Toth of Garwood suggested that a survey be conducted of the roughly 125 participants concerning whether they would be willing to pay tuition to keep the program going the following year.

Board member Burton Zitomer of Berkeley Heights summed up the sentiments of several representatives who successfully pushed the move to keep the Summer Cultural Program going for another year without tuition.

"I hate to see these kinds of programs go," Zitomer said. "This is just a fly in the overall ointment of this budget."

Superintendent Merachnik summed up the dilemma of a board that will increasingly have to wield a reluctant budget knife.

"At some point in time this board has to bite the bullet," he said. "At what point the board's going to start to do it is a policy decision."

Rabies sparks alert

Sherr cited three factors which will be the most effective in helping to keep the rabies virus under control.

The first is to ensure that all pets are vaccinated against rabies and that these vaccinations are up to date. Second is a general public education program about rabies, and the third is what he called "a more aggressive campaign" by municipalities in picking up stray animals.

Cal Deckert & Sons Celebrate 50th Year In Business

FIFTY YEARS IN BUSINESS — Cal Deckert & Sons, Inc., celebrate their 50th year in the window, shade and awning business. The company, located on Morris Avenue, started business in 1940 with little more than sheer determination and a crew of four. Today, however, the company is much larger. The businessmen are, from left, Rick Mattia, Marilyn Deckert, Carl Deckert, Robert Deckert Sr., Mayor Anthony Russo, Robert Deckert Jr., Hans Hirdes, Hector Rivera, John Padula and Ray Donegan.

THE ENTIRE DECKERT FAMILY WANTS TO SAY "THANK YOU" TO THE PUBLIC FOR HELPING US REACH OUR 50TH YEAR

In 1940 John Calvin Deckert Sr. founded "Union Window Shade & Awning Company" with nothing more than sheer determination and a crew of four. His loving supportive wife, Mary, and their three sons, Cal Jr., Bob, and Carl, helped him launch his new business venture. Many long hours helped this hard working crew pull together at all times making their family business "One that works," an accomplishment rarely seen today.

Now, three generations later, they are celebrating their "50th Year" in business and still servicing the public at the same location, 1873 Morris Avenue, in their hometown of Union. And they are still serving the public in the same caring way that Cal Sr. began doing 50 years ago. This attests the fact that, "No job is too big or too small for the Deckerts."

All of the Deckerts invite you to see their large beautiful showroom filled with many home improvement products that they install including vinyl replacement windows, garage doors, storm doors, vinyl and aluminum siding, vertical blinds, and, aluminum and canvas awnings. This does even begin to touch the number of products that Union Window Shade & Awning Company sells and installs.

Along with Cal Deckert Sr. (1st Generation), Cal Jr., Bob and Carl (2nd Generation), Robert T. Deckert Jr. and brother Chris Deckert (3rd Generation) are all serving you in the same traditional way that has been the Deckert's success, dealing with the public in an old fashioned, friendly and honest way. Their motto is, "Giving the best service they can."

The Deckerts look forward to seeing you and your new generation of family members since so much of their success is based on repeat business passed from family to family. Please drop in and say hello to the Deckerts and their business family."

Two new fitness classes are available this spring, including Teen Aerobics on Monday and Wednesday afternoons; Cheerleading Clinic on Tuesday afternoons, Creative Movement on Wednesday and Saturday, Dancelot for pre-schoolers with a parent on Saturday, Jazzercise and more.

The YWCA offers a well-balanced selection of exercise and fitness classes to meet the needs of women and their families. Classes run the gamut from dance to swimming to aerobics to a fully-equipped Fitness Center.

If one is looking for cardiovascular conditioning, one can look into the YW's Aerobics Extravaganza program where, for one low fee, one can choose from eight different classes offered several times throughout the week.

Class times range from 7 a.m.-8 p.m. Another class recommended for those interested in cardio-respiratory endurance is Tapaerobics, a dance class for women.

For those who need to strengthen and tone their muscles and increase their flexibility, the Fitness Center is fully equipped with free weights, treadmill, Eagle cybex circuit equipment, bicycles, a stairmaster and more. The YW trainers will design a program appropriate for each participant.

Expectant and new mothers can firm up their muscles in the Pre-Natal and Post-Partum Fitness classes.

Pre-Natal Fitness combines calisthenic and strengthening exercises to promote muscular strength and flexibility before delivery. Post-Partum adds stretching and aerobic exercises to tighten and re-strengthen muscles. Babies are welcome.

Participants have the option of taking these classes one, two or three times each week at different times.

Fitness Combos offer "super bargain" combination packages of Aquatics and Aerobics classes, Fitness Center/Yoga, Fitness Center and Aquatics and Fitness Center/Aerobics classes for those who are looking for over-all fitness.

The YWCA also offers exercise classes for children of all ages. These include the Rollerbeats program, gymnastics classes, karate, dancing and swimming. New this term are Intro to Dance and Intro to Modern Dance, Dancelot and Creative Movement.

All of these classes have Saturday sections to accommodate working parents. Children and a parent can begin swimming lessons at age one and continue through the Red Cross series of classes. Classes are offered many times throughout the week and on Saturdays as well.

For more information about keeping fit at the YWCA, one can call Carol White, director of Health Promotional Services, at 273-4242.

For non-physical YW members, the spring term offers English as a Second Language classes, French, a decorating workshop and "Kindergarten — Fun or Fear," a workshop for parents of pre-schoolers.

In addition, the YW will be holding a course called "Divorce, NJ Style," with area attorneys, for those who are separated or just thinking about it, and "Dollars and Sense in Hard Times," a workshop on budgeting and making money.

For more information about these classes, one can call Diane Gallo, Women's Program director, at 273-4242.

New for children is Handweaving, a direct, hands-on class for young elementary-age youngsters. Also offered this term is "Be A Better Babysitter," a Red Cross-certified course for young teens.

Day camp registration is continuing now at the YWCA. Campers can sign up for Camp Littlefoot in the mornings, a new extended Day Camp, an all-day program and Karate Camp.

For more information, one can call the YWCA at 273-4242. One can register by telephone with a major credit card or in person at the YW. The YWCA is a United Way Agency.

Workshops to establish parent-child interaction

Trailside Nature and Science Center will be offering Saturday morning and afternoon sessions of its already popular preschool and parent program titled "Two Of Us," which are nature-related workshops for ages children aged 2½-4 accompanied by an adult.

The workshops are designed to promote an awareness of the natural environment while encouraging parent and child interaction and learning.

The program is currently being offered on Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. but due to an increased demand for preschool programs, the center is offering the additional Saturday sessions at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Programs for April include "April Fool," "Wet and Wonderful," "Forests are More Than Trees" and "Buzzzzz."

"Working parents have expressed a desire to participate in quality-time programs on the weekends," explained Trailside assistant director Betty Ann Kelly.

"We're very proud of our preschool program offerings. We have received a tremendous amount of positive feedback from parents and the preschoolers as well," she added.

In 1987, "Two Of Us" received an award from the National Association of Counties Organization. Preschool naturalist Debbie Stein, mother of two and a former preschool teacher and scout leader will be leading the workshops.

Stein also instructs "Small Fry Days," another NACO award recipient, a drop-off program for four and five year olds offered on Thursdays and Fridays.

"Baby Makes Three" is a more flexible program which often includes hikes or "strolls" led by Kelly on alternate Tuesdays at 1 p.m. for 2½ to 4 year olds with younger siblings accompanied by an adult.

This program not only allows interaction between parent and children but "sibling team-work" is also encouraged.

Trailside's primary goal, according to Kelly, "is to instill respect for life, nature and the environment through our programming."

Pre-registration is required for these programs. Parents can contact Trailside at 789-3670 for space availability and registration information.

Artists exhibit their oil paintings at local hospital

The public is invited to view a special two-person art show by Carol Balliet and Dorothy Wilkenson which will be on display at Children's Specialized Hospital, New Providence Road, Mountainside, throughout the month of April.

The artists' exhibit of oil paintings will focus upon wildlife of Milton Lake, Rahway.

Balliet, a resident of Westfield, works in various media, including oils, watercolors, prints and lithographs. She is the winner of many juried art shows over the past 18 years throughout New Jersey, Virginia and North Carolina.

A member of the Westfield Art Association, she has studied with master printers Anthony Kirk and Michael Pallettieri and at schools in London and Wales.

Balliet's etchings are included in many private and corporate collections including AT&T, Knight Publishing, Bell Communications Research and Tenneco.

Wilkenson, a resident of Clark, has taught oil painting and has received numerous prizes for her works. She is a charter member of the Clark Art Association and served as that group's first president. She is also a member of the Westfield Art Association and the New Jersey Center of Visual Arts.

Wilkenson is a graduate of the DuCret School in Plainfield and many of her paintings are included in private art collections.

If an individual or group would like to view the display between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekly or on weekends, one can contact Shirley Biegler, the hospital's community resource coordinator, at 233-3720, extension 379.

The artists' works are for sale, with a portion benefiting the hospital.

The Parent-Teacher-Student Organization and the senior class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which enrolls Mountainside students, are planning to hold a "Project Graduation" party for Dayton graduates on June 20-21.

The purpose of the party, which made a successful debut last year, is to provide graduates with an evening of fun to share with their classmates without the presence of drugs or alcohol.

Teens can enjoy dancing, refreshments and other activities in a safe, relaxed environment.

Drugs and alcohol have been responsible for many graduation night tragedies — because of alcohol, many young lives have been lost and as many dreams ended. It is uplifting to see young people turn away from a potentially-fatal one night "high" in favor of a celebration they will remember and a future they otherwise might not see.

We encourage the Mountainside parents, teachers, municipal officials and members of the business community to once again show their support for "Project Graduation," and urge all Jonathan Dayton students to take part in what has proven to be one of the most worthwhile projects ever developed by the high school.

Budding journalists

The Pulitzer Prize, which recognizes excellence in writing, has been bestowed on a select group of writers each year since its inception in 1917.

The namesake of the prize is Joseph Pulitzer, one of America's most respected journalists, whose birthdate is April 10. This year on that date, "Encourage a Beginning Writer Day" has been designated to give a boost to high school and college writers who someday aspire to be among the working press in New Jersey and across the nation.

He endowed the Columbia University School of Journalism before his death in 1911, and with this gift, the school established the Pulitzer Prizes, which recognize outstanding writing in the areas of fiction, poetry, biography, history, drama, music and various categories of newspaper work.

Like Pulitzer, we at the Mountainside Echo would like to share our resources to encourage writers on the high school and college levels. In that spirit, we are resuming our summer intern program and are seeking aspiring journalists to cover feature articles, and possibly board of education and municipal government meetings for the newspaper.

If you are interested in writing for the Mountainside Echo's summer intern program, write to Tom Canavan, Editor, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., P.O. Box 3109, Union, 07083.

Need action so citizens are not scapegoats

There is no doubt that the taxpayers and county employees are relieved that the Board of Freeholders along with the county manager found the better part of $12 million to close the budget gap. For this they are to be congratulated — maybe.

The full impact of the details on how they found the $12 million and/or what means they used will surface shortly. Only then will it be determined if it was done with smoke and mirrors or through sound and practical measures that will have a lasting effect.

Before Freeholder Chairman Welsh, Vice Chairman Ertl, Freeholder Finance Chairman Green and County Manager Ann Baran break out the caviar and champagne, I suggest that the following questions be answered or looked into.

If Union County government was truly facing 400 to 600 layoffs, as first reported in December 1990, what is there to prevent the same problem in December 1991? What safeguards are being put into effect today for tomorrow? Has anyone thought of developing a master plan, or who in county government is even thinking past the next headline, contract or election? Ms. Baran is blinded by her three-year contract and Freeholders Welsh, Green and Ertl are looking at Trenton for a possible run for the Assembly or a position in state government.

Be Our Guest

Unless these answers are developed or found, the county employees and every taxpayer will relive the same scare tactics or confusion in government as witnessed over the past several months. Had this been the private sector, the pink slips would have been issued to the freeholder chairman, vice chairman, finance chairman and the county manager first.

Ms. Baran stated the administration was able to save jobs, in part, by not filling vacancies "that aren't critical to governmental operations." What about reviewing many existing positions to see if they "aren't critical to governmental operations" as well?

Does Union County need expensive part-time employees, some with full benefits; a deputy county manager at $80,000; an ombudsman/county spokesperson at $41,000; a fist full of confidential aides with salaries ranging from $26,000 to $50,000 or the positions that are held by the family members of some of the freehol-ers? Is it politics or business as usual?

Why does Union County continue to pay a couple of insurance brokers in excess of $250,000 yearly in insurance commissions, while refusing to place the insurance needs of Union County out for public bid? Is it because the brokers are the largest contributors to the Democratic Party and/or because one of the brokers is the treasurer of the same party? Perhaps the freeholders will tell us soon.

Why the refusal, by Ms. Baran, to place $2 million worth of furniture for public bid? Was there a conflict of interest on her part? Was her action responsible and professional on her part not to ensure that Union County received the most competitive price? Perhaps Ms. Baran will answer some of these questions soon.

Why has there been no movement to reduce the size of the county motor pool and cut back on portal to portal use of county cars and the consumption of expensive fuel that is used to bring any given employee to work and back home?

There must be some indication from Freeholders Welsh, Ertl, Green and Ms. Baran, as the leaders, that they are thinking ahead to 1992 and beyond. I firmly believe that concern and action must be taken in 1991 to cut positions "that aren't critical to governmental operations," revamp or correct the current purchasing practices, reduce or eliminate the many change orders that pop up on a weekly basis, review the use of expensive cell phones, and remove in total the expensive trips to conventions or conferences around the country.

It is a matter of common sense that every effort be made by the current freeholders and administration to develop the master plan mentioned above, that will ensure that the scapegoat in 1992 will not be the taxpayers or the county employees again. The taxpayers and voters will judge the freeholders and their county manager on Election Day Nov. 5. If it is anything like last year's election results, those incumbents or Democrats running have a great deal of work ahead of them and so does their county manager, Ann Baran.

Smokers' issue betrays misplaced priorities

The override of a governor's veto is a very big deal. It takes two-thirds of the state Legislature to undo the actions of our powerful chief executive. In fact, it's been nine years since the last override of a New Jersey governor. An override allows a bill to become law without the governor's signature.

It takes a very important issue to bring democratic and republican legislators together, especially in an election year.

Was it the environment? Property tax reform? Auto or health insurance? Nah — it's smokers' rights. That's right, smokers' rights.

Recently, both houses of the Legislature overwhelmingly passed a bill prohibiting employers from firing or refusing to hire or promote workers if they smoke at home. This bill's sponsor, cigar-smoking Sen. Francis McManimon, said it is a question of privacy.

This so-called smokers' rights bill was promoted by the tobacco lobby as an extension of New Jersey's current civil rights law, a law that protects people regardless of race, color or religion, especially with respect to employment. The American Civil Liberties Union supports this "bold" civil rights bill protecting smokers. Even non-smokers like Sen. Gerry Cardinale, who refuses to allow smoking in his office, supported the bill. Virtually everyone agreed that this was more of a constitutional issue than a smoker/non-smoker issue.

So, when Jim Florio vetoed the bill, saying that smoking shouldn't be elevated to the status of a civil right, the reaction was swift and clear. As if our governor needed to be publicly embarrassed more than he's already been, on Feb. 14, the Senate overrode his veto by a whopping 32-4. The Assembly is expected to follow suit. So, for the first time since 1962, a New Jersey governor's veto is about to be overturned to protect the rights of smokers.

Screening New Jersey

To be totally honest, smoking disgusts me. In restaurants or meetings, it drives me crazy. It's an ugly habit. I do believe, however, that people have a "right" to destroy their lungs and take a few years off their lives if they want to.

So what's my problem with the smokers' rights issue? Simply put, it's a matter of priorities. It's an issue of what the Legislature chooses to put its emphasis on. One must question why a smokers' rights bill is elevated to such a top priority while other civil rights issues are ignored by our legislative leaders like the plague, such as the seven-year effort to protect from job discrimination any person, regardless of that person's sexual orientation.

Seven years ago as a state legislator, I was one of 22 cosponsors of a bill to protect lesbians, gay men and bisexuals from the same kind of treatment from which smokers seek to be protected today. Back then, at the beginning of the AIDS hysteria, there was no legislative groundswell to protect the civil and human rights of this population. In fact, the opponents, many of whom now champion the smokers' rights bill, accused those who were not married at the time of not supporting "mainstream family values." There were innuendoes and whispers, especially as the 1985 legislative elections approached.

The bill's supporters were urged to give up their efforts or risk their political careers. Needless to say, the opposition won. Since 1985, there hasn't been a peep on the issue. The two remaining sponsors of the bill don't push for its passage very hard for fear of political reprisals.

The case of Assemblywoman Marlene Lynch Ford, chairwoman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, is revealing. According to Peter Jewell, former president of the New Jersey Lesbian and Gay Coalition, "Her political career was cut short three years ago because of her previous support of lesbian and gay rights. She was re-elected last year, but has distanced herself from our cause. The bill hasn't a chance in her committee."

I served with Ford in the Legislature. We sponsored that bill together. In 1985, we lost together. She is a fine legislator, but her actions in this instance are most disappointing.

And for those who fight so hard for smokers' rights of privacy and job protection, while adamantly opposing the same protection for people regardless of their sexual orientation, your position screams of hypocrisy.

In a recent letter to all state legislators who supported the smokers' rights bill, the Campaign to End Discrimination said, "If individuals wish to continue this practice (smoking), they should have that right within the privacy of their own homes — it is their choice. It naturally follows, then, that you should move as swiftly to protect the privacy of an even larger group of citizens who have suffered a longer and more brutal history of discrimination. New Jersey's 750,000 lesbians and gay men have absolutely no basic civil rights under current law, and sexual orientation is something one is born with. Unlike smoking, it is not a choice."

So, in New Jersey, if you're a smoker who chooses to destroy your health and, potentially, the health of others — fear not. Your civil rights will be protected by a heroic act of our state Legislature. But if you choose, in the privacy of your own home, to live a particular lifestyle without infringing on others — too bad. Not only won't the Legislature override a governor's veto to protect your rights, the public discussion of your rights is seen as tantamount to political suicide.

It simply doesn't make sense. Most Americans say they support people's rights of privacy. We say we believe in civil rights for all. Now is the time for legislators to stand up for the civil rights of all New Jersey residents, regardless of sexual orientation, the way they stood up for smokers. A little consistency and courage are in order.

Merit Pay for Teachers?

Marty Connors is executive director of the Southern and New England Republican Exchange, a Birmingham, Ala. based research organization founded by Gov. Lamar Alexander that has held numerous forums on education issues.

YES

Should teacher pay be based on merit?

Absolutely. We do not pay teachers enough today. Next to our parents, teachers are the most important and influential mentors we will meet in a lifetime. It is time we professionalized teaching and respected it with the same standards we apply to other professions. Good teachers are not afraid of scrutiny. As nominated Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander has said, "Let's pay teachers more for teaching well."

What effect would this have on our educational system?

Merit pay is another form of restructuring. It pulls power away from the whims of state legislatures and puts it back where it belongs — with the local school system. It gives teachers greater financial incentive to take more time with individual children and gives educators more personal control of their destinies. Merit pay significantly improves the recruitment of specialty and high-powered teachers. We can rejuvenate the near extinct physics teacher, the endangered chemistry and foreign language teachers. Finally, merit pay will improve the general quality of those entering the teaching profession.

What are the benefits/problems with merit pay?

Those who oppose merit pay for teachers cite certain operational difficulties. They wrongly assume that teachers can't be tested and that political bias would prevail. All such arguments would crumble if an evaluation system based on five principles were enacted: experience and educational background; continuing education and extracurricular activities; personal portfolio of each teacher's assignments, tests, etc.; student progress testing; and review and judgment of a teacher by master teachers outside of the applicant's school district to eliminate bias. The goal of some teacher unions is collectivism, not excellence. The best of the best are thwarted for the protection of the least competent. Ultimately, their objections are purely political. Merit pay gives real power to the people who educate, not those who legislate.

NO

Should teacher pay be based on merit?

No. Teachers reject the notion of merit pay largely because it fosters competition — rather than cooperation — among educators. It sets up a system that allows for winners and losers. Teachers' attitudes are framed not by the concept of merit pay as much as by what they know of its long history of failure. Merit pay plans have been hampered by arbitrary limits and scarce funds.

Teachers often ask: What do you mean by merit pay? If you view merit pay as part of an overall increased compensation system, you'll get their attention. But if you're talking about a compensation system that does nothing to generally elevate what teachers already consider "low pay" for important work in our society or one that sets a limit on the number of teachers eligible, you'll be talking to a deaf ear.

What effect would this have on our educational system?

Merit pay, as we know from our past experiences, results in dissension, misunderstanding and lowered morale among teachers. These can have a negative impact on what happens in the classroom. Effective student learning results when teachers work together as teams.

What are the benefits/problems with merit pay?

It's hard to see any benefits. Teachers see problems with "merit pay" because it generally isn't what it sounds like. Historically, merit pay plans have been underfunded, leading to random quotas on participants, recognizing a few teachers at the expense of other qualified professionals. In short, merit pay is viewed as arbitrary and capricious. Teachers have also seen what's happened in past efforts where policy makers adopt a merit pay plan, then find that it's a lot costlier than they thought and begin to renege on their promises. It's not always what merit pay is; it's how it's practiced that makes the difference.

Moving costs may be deductible

If you meet certain criteria, you may be able to deduct the cost of moving your family and household goods, as well as some of the costs associated with buying your new home and selling your old one.

The first rule to keep in mind is that moving expenses are itemized on Schedule A of Form 1040. But moving expenses are not subject to the percent floor that applies to most miscellaneous itemized deductions.

What's more, your move must be connected with a new job or new position with a current employer. Your new place of employment must be at least 35 miles farther from your old residence than your former job was. For example, if your former job was 10 miles away from your old home, your new job has to be at least 45 miles away from that old home. If you are moving to take your first job, you must show that your new job is at least 35 miles from your old home.

Incidentally, for IRS purposes, your home means your principal residence — it may be a house, apartment, condo, trailer home, or even a houseboat, as long as it meets this requirement.

In addition to the distance test, you must also meet a time test. If you are an employee, you must be employed on a full-time basis for at least 39 weeks during the 12 months immediately after the move. Those weeks do not have to be consecutive and you need not work for the same employer. If you are self-employed, you must work at your business full time for at least 78 weeks out of the first 24 months (including at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months). If you are married, and both you and your spouse work full time, either of you can satisfy the full-time work requirement. But you cannot add the weeks you worked to the weeks your spouse worked to arrive at the necessary number of weeks.

If you qualify to deduct moving expenses, your deductions may include:

- The cost of trips to the area of the new job to look for new housing.
- The cost of moving your furniture, household goods and personal effects, including the cost of packing, insurance and storage for up to 30 days.
- The cost of getting yourself and your family to the new home, including travel costs, lodging and 80 percent of meals paid for en route.
- The cost of temporary lodging and 80 percent of meal costs for up to 30 days in your new hometown — if these temporary living expenses are necessary because you have not yet found a new home or it is not ready when you arrive.

Certain costs associated with the sale of your old house and purchase of the new one. If you prefer, you can choose to use these expenses to reduce the gain on the sale of your previous residence or to increase the basis of the new one.

Travel and moving expenses are fully deductible. There is no limit on how much you can deduct for reasonable expenses associated with moving household goods or travel expenses for yourself and your family. But there is a dollar limit on the amount you can write off for certain expenses. Ask your CPA to help you determine the exact deductibility of your specific moving expenses.

Finally, keep in mind that if your employer reimburses you for all or part of your expenses, you must report that amount as income on your tax return. Generally, the reimbursement is listed on your W-2.

Polluters should pay for their sins

I believe that polluters should have to make up tangible for their environmental sins. Now two new and different ways of getting this to happen are emerging.

Both ways put money directly into the hands of agencies providing for remedies, rather than simply having dollars disappear into state or federal treasuries.

One method is via the Federal Clean Water Act, which allows citizens or citizen groups to sue polluters. Resulting fines or settlement dollars can be contributed to charitable organizations to do projects that result directly in cleaner water.

Another way is called mitigation. It too results from laws calling for keeping resources from diminishing, such as those for wetlands protection. It works like this: If a wetland must be sacrificed for a development that is judged to be in the public interest, replacement wetlands nearby must be established.

Sometimes that means reclaiming a former marsh destroyed by fill, or creating a wetland where none existed before. It can even assure protection of a large wetland area in perpetuity through purchase or easement.

One of my favorite examples of such a project is along the Delaware bayshore. The public-private partnerships, including the citizen-supported New Jersey Conservation Foundation, for which I serve as executive director, have secured land along the beaches and in the marshes behind them so that thousands of shore birds can continue to find safe haven when they feed on horseshoe-crab eggs in their arduous spring migrations.

The State We're In

By David F. Moore

Much of the funding for this operation came from Public Service Electric and Gas Company, which provided dollars both to restore marsh and to buy bayshore land and manage it, through the auspices of the state Natural Lands Trust. This is an exchange for the filling of marsh to build the access road to the Salem nuclear plant.

Another project resulted from a Clean Water Act violation suit lodged against United States Metals Refining Company by the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group. NJCF received an award of $1.1 million to acquire lands to protect stream corridors flowing into the Arthur Kill, where the pollution occurred.

A study to find the highest-quality lands to be protected is being paid for with the interest earned by the award money. Matching dollars are being offered to towns and counties in the 26-municipality area, buying the best quality streamside lands, or buying and repairing damaged lands with the fund.

Most of the dollars will go to endow loans offered to local governments through the state Green Trust, a part of the state Green Acres Program. By spending dollars in that way, towns can more than double their money.

Such settlement money is carefully monitored by NJPIRG, and by the U.S. attorney's office, through a periodic reporting system. NJPIRG doesn't get to keep any of the settlement money; they're in it to keep the water clean.

Charitable donation dollars are harder and harder to find because of growing competition among private nonprofit groups assuming responsibilities formerly shouldered by government. This situation results from budget cutbacks and tax law changes, making it less advantageous to contribute to charities.

The resulting bottom line is that mitigation and money from settlements are essential if society is to stay even in the struggle to maintain the environment.

David F. Moore is the executive director of the New Jersey Conservation Foundation.

Regional Board plans budget hearing

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1 will conduct a public hearing on its tentative proposed 1991-92 school budget Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Instructional Media Center of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Watchung Boulevard, Berkeley Heights.

The Regional District includes Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which enrolls Mountainside students; David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston.

At this public hearing, residents of the Regional District communities of Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth, Clark, Garwood and Berkeley Heights may air their questions, concerns and comments regarding the district's tentative proposed budget of $36,049,840.

This proposed spending plan reflects an increase of 5.51 percent from this year's budget, yet it is still nearly $1.7 million under the state-approved budget cap for school districts.

Residents of Union County Regional High School District 1 will have an opportunity to vote on the amount to be raised by taxation for the current expense portion of this budget, $29,650,073, on annual school election day, April 30.

Residents of Springfield, Mountainside and Garwood are also invited to elect one member each to the Regional Board of Education for a three-year term. All polling places will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. on that day.

The Friends of the Kenilworth Library are asking for donations of books for its annual book and bake sale scheduled for May 3. The books may be brought to the library, 548 Boulevard and North 22nd Street, during regular library hours. The library is opened from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays.

However, the ongoing book sale will still be in effect. All proceeds are used to obtain needed library material.

Roselle Park Middle School's Students of the Month are Lesley Klaus and Michael Kiselow.

Roselle Park Middle School names Students of the Month

Students of the Month for February at Roselle Park Middle School were announced by faculty members using the following criteria: excellence in grades, leadership qualities, special projects or accomplishments, conscientiousness, citizenship, behavior around the school, school spirit, and involvement in extracurricular activities.

Student of the Month in grade six is Lesley Klaus, who said she enjoys tennis, swimming, cheerleading, and collecting shells.

Klaus plays clarinet in the Middle School band, is secretary of her homeroom and a member of the Junior Great Books club. She has received academic honors with all A's and a B on her report card. She said she wants to be a lawyer or a veterinarian.

In grade seven, Michael Kiselow was named Student of the Month. Kiselow enjoys baseball, soccer and basketball. He plays trumpet in the band. He is a member of the Council of Ten and is in the gifted and talented program.

Kiselow received academic honors with all A's and a B. He said he would also like to be a veterinarian.

Assembly acts on day remembering vets

Legislation which would designate May 7 as "Vietnam Veterans' Remembrance Day" in the state of New Jersey was approved by the Senate State Government and Federal and Interstate Relations Committee.

The measure is sponsored by Assemblymen Fred Scerni (D-Atlantic) and Neil Cohen (D-Union) who noted that May 7 marks the anniversary of the day that the Vietnam conflict officially ended.

"New Jersey's Vietnam Veterans have not received the recognition that they deserve for the courage they displayed and the hardships they faced," Scerni said. "The men and women of New Jersey who served in Vietnam deserve recognition and tribute for their heroism and sacrifices."

Under the measure, A-3327, May 7 of each year would be designated as "Vietnam Veterans' Remembrance Day" in New Jersey and Gov. Florio would be called upon to issue a proclamation calling for New Jersey citizens to recognize the day with appropriate observances.

"It is only proper and fitting that this day be set aside as a time to honor Vietnam veterans and to especially remember the heroic New Jersey men and women who lost their lives defending their country," Cohen said.

Scerni and Cohen noted that more than 300,000 New Jersey residents served during the Vietnam conflict and more than 1,473 died and 62 are still listed as missing in action.

The measure now goes to the full Senate for consideration.

Pap smears offered by R. Park board

The Roselle Park Board of Health, in cooperation with Union Hospital, will be providing free pap smears for female residents over 18 years of age living in Roselle Park, announced Janet Landis, president of the board.

A breast examination will be conducted with the pap smears.

The dates for the screening program are April 24 and April 25. Appointments are required for the testing and may be made by calling Union Hospital at 851-7014 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The pap smear is a simple, painless test for uterine cancer. In the test, cells that the body sheds from the uterus are collected on a cotton swab and examined under a microscope.

If any abnormal or suspicious cells are found, further tests are conducted. Early detection of uterine cancer is important.

Adult School offers ESL evening classes

Tax-deferred annuities reduce taxes and build assets.

You'll earn retirement income that's guaranteed. A Tax-Deferred Annuity* is a powerful way to build your assets for the future. It postpones taxes until you make withdrawals, so your money grows faster. In fact, in twenty years, it can yield almost twice as much money as a fully taxable investment opened at the same time. †

In addition, a Tax-Deferred Annuity can offer guaranteed monthly income that starts and ends when you choose . . . 10 years, 15 years or for life. And your principal and interest are fully guaranteed by one of the highest rated insurance companies in America.

Special Bonus Rate

You'll get a high rate on your opening balance . . . plus a 1% bonus for the first year. For example, as of April 1, the current annual market rate†† was 7.95% which makes your bonus rate 8.95% for the first year. After that, your opening balance will earn the current annual market rate. What's more, every time you add $50 or more to your annuity you'll receive a 1% bonus over the current annual market rate, guaranteed for one year.

How things shape up for '91

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

Baseball, or any variation of it, is indeed an enjoyment of the best kind. So now that we've taken a look at the baseball teams in our area, it's time for a word or two about our high school softball teams as well.

BREARLEY

Like Dayton, Roselle Park and other area schools, the Lady Bears have been hurt by graduation, too. Tracy Hoefling is among those no longer in uniform.

So Brearley coach Marge Egan has been "juggling" her lineup during the pre-season, even though it sometimes means shifting her better players to different positions in order to compensate.

"I've lost a lot through graduation," Egan said. "I'm looking to rebuild and right now, we're rebuilding through a lot of inexperience."

But not everywhere. There's still junior Karen Savage, who would normally be stationed at first base but might have to switch over to the outfield if necessary. Joann Cheeka, another senior, will likely "flip-flop" with Savage between first base and the outfield, Egan said. Meanwhile, junior Sharina Western has been used at catcher, but she may also be needed in the outfield from time to time.

And, of course, there's senior Kim Egan, who despite a finger injury should be the starting shortstop for Brearley.

As of press time, sophomore Tina Kaufman was slated to pitch for Brearley, which is scheduled to open at home tomorrow afternoon against Pingry at 4 p.m.

DAYTON

In most seasons, Arthur Krupp, like many other coaches, has patiently gone about the business of fielding competitive softball teams at Dayton. And like other coaches, he's had to deal with smaller turnouts, too. But this year, the number of girls out for softball in the Springfield-based school has begun increasing, and that definitely has Krupp in good spirits. "Overall, we have a lot more depth from top to bottom," explained Krupp, who, with the exception of 1989, has coached the Dayton varsity for five of the last six years. "First off, we have 40 players out, and we'll have three teams.

"But our overall depth has improved, especially at the younger levels. I think we'll be very competitive for most of the teams we'll be playing. Our enthusiasm is up, and we have five or six freshmen who will be pushing our depth way up.

"Things are looking up." The one down note is that Lauren Meixner, the team's standout, slugging left fielder in both '89 and '90, has been lost to graduation. And at least partly because of Meixner's absence, there — as of press time — was quite a battle underway to determine Dayton's starting lineup in time for the scheduled season opener with Roselle this past Tuesday in Springfield.

In fact, just three positions had been locked up by late last week. Senior Sheri DeRonde will play second base and bat leadoff, sophomore Laura Leyrer and her "gun for an arm" will play shortstop, and another senior, Sally Kisch, will likely start in right field.

DeRonde and Kisch are the team's co-captains, and Krupp is confident in the abilities of all three of the above. Kisch, by the way, equaled Meixner's .444 batting average last spring, which was the third best in the local coverage area.

As far as pitching is concerned, junior Holly Olarczuk, who did most of the pitching for last season's 7-12 squad, is back. And in junior Jennifer Minieri, sophomore Debbie Netschert and freshman Michelle Lopapa, there's plenty of pitching around for Krupp to turn to this spring.

"There's more competition than we've ever had," the coach commented in reference to pitching.

Third base, meanwhile, remains "wide open," Krupp said. To begin with, there are freshman Christine Salisetti, and seniors Marni Cure and Karen Venes all vying for the job at third, and then there's also Wendy Saladino, Krupp's sophomore "jack-of-all-trades" standout who can play just about anywhere if needed.

"She will be a starter," Krupp promised of Saladino. "Where we'll fit her in, we don't know."

Also, senior Laura Sexton will see playing time in the Dayton outfield.

ROSELLE PARK

Gone is Kim King, along with her .532 batting average and her 14-5 record of a year ago. Obviously, that's quite a bit for Park skipper John Wagner to replace.

But, as Wagner pointed, "the nice thing is our entire infield is back.

"I really feel we'll be very strong on defense," commented Wagner. "We're young with experience, let's put it that way. We're looking to stay real experience."

With as many as five freshmen on the roster, staying competitive could be a challenge for Park. Or maybe not. The freshmen ranks include pitcher Jessica DeLuca and outfielders Kristine Vordran and Tara Bogota. As of press time, all three were slated to start in the home opener against Manville two days ago.

But the infield is composed of senior Dawn Skebeck at first base, sophomore Kim Harms at second, junior Jenna Gallicchio at shortstop and Gina Antonucci, another junior, playing third base. Then there's senior catcher Maura Geoghegan, who returns this spring, along with her .362 average of a year ago and her 99 putouts, too.

Among the substitutes Wagner will turn to include sophomore outfielder Laura Milligan, senior Chris DeLuca, Jessica's sister, and another freshman, Jennifer Fuzo.

"Again, Jessica has shown a lot of maturity and she's thrown a lot of strikes," Wagner concluded. "Obviously, the question is how you're going to hit the ball."

UNION

In Union this spring, there won't be the unforgettable Carrie Collins, Union's star righthander from 1988 to 1990, to handcuff opposing batters anymore.

But somehow, Union always manages to turn out competitive teams. And even without Collins, there's no reason to believe that last season's 20-7 record won't be equalled, or maybe even surpassed.

"Well, defensively, I think we'll be pretty sound," explained Lady Farmer skipper George Hopkins prior to a scrimmage with South Brunswick last Thursday afternoon. "It depends on how well we pitch — and hit, of course."

Well, with senior Karen Mollach around, you'd better believe that the Lady Farmers are in good shape, at least in the infield. Mollach, who batted .364 and drove in 10 runs from the number eight spot in Hopkins' lineup last year, appears ready to bat much higher in this spring's Union lineup — as in cleanup, which the personable senior did in the scrimmage with South Brunswick.

Also, keep in mind that Mollach committed just a lone error in 43 total chances, for a cool .977 fielding average in 1990.

Junior Donna Milia, meanwhile, who batted .376 in '90 as a designated hitter, should be the starting shortstop this year. And remember, Milia drove in a team-leading 32 runs a year ago.

KIM EGAN

What's more, she also scored 28 more.

More than likely, Doreen Olivo will play second base, while sophomore Kristin Alvarez should play first when Shannon Schmitt pitches. When Schmitt doesn't pitch, look for her to play first instead.

Schmitt, Union's emergency backup hurler who stepped in for Collins and pitched superbly in the Lady Farmers' 2-0 defeat to Westfield in last year's Union County Tournament title game, appears ready to do plenty of pitching this spring. Hopkins also has two freshmen, Kelly McDonald and Coleen Brehm, around as pitching candidates.

Kristina Jacob is a most talented player, one who can play just about any infield position, including catcher. But as of press time, Jacob was still recovering from a recent finger injury.

Finally, don't forget about Marcie Blank, a strong-armed right fielder, who, like Jacob, is a backup catcher to starter Sunny Montas. Steffie Gatto will likely be in center, and either Nancy DiGesù, Lorene Cutrino and Jennifer McDonald will get the job in left.

Collins wins 2, saves 1

Carrie Collins of Union, a pitcher for the Georgia Southern University Lady Eagles, picked up two wins and a save in three recent games. She pitched five innings, allowing four hits and striking out five in a 12-0 victory over Augusta College. Collins faced only three batters over the minimum and recorded her 12th complete game.

In the second game of a doubleheader against Augusta, Collins pitched one and two-thirds innings to pick up her third save in a 6-3 Lady Eagle win.

Collins then won her fifth game of the season in an 8-3 victory over Stetson University.

The Lady Eagles increased their winning streak to six consecutive games. Their season record stands at 13-12-1 overall and 3-2-1 in the New South Women's Athletic Conference.

Liloia hurls 5-hitter

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

Mike Liloia got what he wanted, which was the season-opening assignment against Elizabeth this past Monday in Union. And that made the rest of his teammates very happy, because the Farmers and every other Union baseball observer got what they wanted: a season-opening, 3-2 victory over the Minutemen.

Liloia, a hard-throwing junior righthander, fired a gutsy five-hitter to halt the powerful Minutemen in front of some 200 spectators, many of whom were active participants, to say the least. And Liloia, who first came on the varsity scene with a brilliant one-hit shutout against Irvington last May 24, this time served notice that his pitching abilities are for real.

"He wanted the game," explained Union's long-time coach, Gordon LeMatty, shortly after the game was called after six full innings because of impending darkness. "He really wanted the game. And that's the difference."

For the record, it was Steve Fernandez's clutch, two-out single in the bottom of the fifth inning that made the difference. Fernandez, who had walked and struck out in his previous two trips to the plate, cracked a hard single to center off of Elizabeth starter and loser Pat Migliore to plate Farmer teammate Anthony Lanzi, who had walked earlier in the inning.

Particularly interesting was the fact that the previous hitter, catcher Dave Melia, had also singled to center, but a hustling Pete Simko, after rounding third and getting the hold sign from LeMatty, simply could not get back to the bag in time. The out call, which angered many of the Union supporters, left Lanzi on second and Melia on first, thus setting the stage for Fernandez's heroics.

Liloia, who worked the full six innings, then hung tough and survived a scare in the top of the sixth by striking out the last two hitters to face him, Migliore and catcher Joe Clemente. Stranded at third for Elizabeth was Jason Scavalla, who had led off with a double to right-center, and then crossed over to third on a 6-3 groundout by Mike Wansaw.

In all, Liloia struck out seven and walked three to support his five-hitter. The game was called following Union's turn at bat in the bottom of the sixth inning.

"It feels great," a proud Liloia said after the game. "I could have waited all week for this game. I could not wait for this day (in school) to go by. "I felt better, (with) a little composure. I like challenging batters."

Owls start off with Casalino

James Casalino, the head coach of Union County College's newly-established baseball team, believes he has recruited the talent necessary for the Owls to qualify for the Region 19 National Junior College Athletic Association tournament.

It's a seemingly lofty goal for players who have never competed in college-level competition. But the Owls recently found themselves as owners of a 2-1 record.

Casalino, a Union resident, was hired last May to develop a 1991 spring semester baseball team from scratch. The head baseball coach at Irvington High School for the past five years, Casalino's experience stretches back 18 years as assistant coach at Newark's Barringer High School and also at Essex County College in Newark, which has since disbanded its baseball team.

Throughout his years in baseball, Casalino has developed numerous contacts in Union and Essex counties, many of whom gave him the leads to his current 22-member team. Others were recruited from play on American Legion teams throughout the area. Casalino also heads a post team in Irvington that is sponsored by that town's Police Athletic League.

"I like working with young men because I serve as a father figure to many," Casalino said. "I use baseball to teach them principles that are useful to them in later years."

Among these values are discipline and punctuality, he noted. The coach shares his dinner meals, his car and even his home with promising players. As a result, he has seen at least one of his players make it to a major league team. This youngster had "no home life at all," and Casalino believes that his outreach in letting the player become part of his own family helped boost the young man to success.

Casalino knows that coaching a college team is somewhat different. "The college kids pick up a lot quicker," he said. "They already have the fundamentals and really enjoy playing for their college."

He approaches baseball by developing a strong defense, coupled with an aggressive offense and players' ability to "run, run, run."

"It's hard to sell a new program, but UCC has high academic standards and the players like the opportunity to play here rather than at another college where there is already an established team," said Casalino. "They're excited to be the first, curious to see how we'll do."

The new team will play on fields in Nomahegan Park across the street from the Cranford Campus and night games at Warinanco Park.

Casalino is being assisted by Robert Bruno of Westfield and George Harris of Union.

Union duo wins

Two members of the Union Wrestling Club earned the title of state champion at the recently-held state tournament at Union High School.

Union's two champions were David Bubnowski at junior 85 pounds, and Greg Francesca at junior 100. Taking second-place finishes for Union were Eric Swick (Jr. 75), Ron Bubnowski (Intermediate 133 pounds) and Jason Alatorre (Intermediate 168).

Matt Marshall came in third for Union.

To compete in this tournament, wrestlers had to have placed either first, second or third at a previously-held qualifying tournament.

Zawacki wins

Union's Tracy Zawacki recently moved to number one doubles for the Wake Forest University women's tennis team, and that has helped resulted in an 11-3 record for the Deacons.

Zawacki joined Celine Meinain to win a three-set match in Wake Forest's recent 5-4 victory over Florida State University.

ALL WOUND UP — And ready to go are Roselle Park pitchers Andres Alarcon, left, and Scott Bermingham, seen here loosening up during a team practice last week. Birmingham, a 6-foot-2, 200-pound senior, was slated to be the starter two days ago when the Panthers opened their 1991 season in Manville. Alarcon, who is a junior, will also pitch quite a bit this season when he isn't playing second base. The Panthers' weather permitting, will play their home opener today at 4 p.m. against Pandersex.

All-Mountain choices named

Daryl Purnell of Hillside and Tim Zawacki of Roselle Catholic were recently named to the Mountain Valley Conference's Mountain Division boys' basketball team by the conference coaches.

Scott Sexton of Roselle Park and John Anglim of Brearley were named to the Valley Division team.

Dwayne Arrington of Hillside,

Mike Fullman and Eric Magazine of Roselle and Aaron O'Hanlon of Roselle Catholic were second-team Mountain Division selections. Frank Pasquale of Johnson and Scott Birmingham of Roselle Park were named to the Valley Division's second team.

Farmers set to run

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

Of course, Union competes in a tough conference. But it's because of schools like Union that the Watchung Conference is so tough each spring in boys' track.

And this year, Union followers may be assured that Bill Soranno's representatives are going to give WC competitors such as Westfield, Elizabeth and Newark East Side a run for their money.

"We probably have one of the better sprint-hurdle teams we've had in years," explained Soranno, who is beginning his 11th season at the Union helm. "Because of that, we should do real well in the sprint and hurdle-relay events at the invitational championship meets."

"That's our strength," reaffirmed Soranno. "The jumping events, the sprints and hurdles are our strong events right now."

And with athletes such as Chris Jackson and Abdul Osborne around, how could the sprints and hurdles not be among Union's strengths? Both members of Lou Rettino's football team last fall, Jackson and Osborne should provide plenty of points for the Farmers in areas such as the long jump and any of the various sprint events.

Boys' Track

And look out for senior Brian Leschinski, this past winter's Union County champion in the 55-meter high hurdles. Also, don't forget about Kalsime Simmons, another senior who happened to win the county's winter 55-meter dash title, as well as place fifth statewide in the 60-yard dash.

The 100-meter dash and other sprint events for the Farmers this spring.

On hand for the field events include Rob Schiffl, Nick Karadimas and sophomore Giorgio Alfano at the shotput and discus. Look for junior Spencer Mell to contribute plenty as the team's top distance runner.

"We run a tough schedule," noted Soranno, whose team was slated to open at Westfield two days ago. "Our division (American) of the Watchung Conference is really tough with Westfield, Elizabeth and East Side. They're going to be our toughest rivals in our division."

Just as Union figures to be among the toughest rivals any of the fore-named schools will face. Count on it.

This week's question: With the Stanley Cup playoffs now officially under way, we thought it appropriate to ask you this: who holds the NHL scoring record for a single season of post-season play? In scoring, we mean both goals and assists.

Last week's answer: Sure, the Dodgers have had a lot of brilliant rookie pitchers throughout their history, but it is Ralph Branca who holds the distinction of being the youngest pitcher in Dodger history to win 20 games when he won 21 in 1947. Of course, Branca is much better known as being the hurler who surrendered Bobby Thompson's dramatic three-run homer in the third and final game of the 1951 National League playoffs.

But up until that "shot heard 'round the world," Branca was actually a pretty good pitcher. From that point on, however, his numbers dropped off noticeably until his retirement after the 1956 season.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi and Bob C. Dilly of Springfield submitted correct answers.

Family plays together

Toby and Gary Hoffman are known to their audiences as members of Musica da Camera, and as first-rate artists; but few people are aware that they come from a family of first-rate artists. On Sunday, they will be joined by their mother, Esther Glazer on violin, Deborah Hoffman on harp and Joel Hoffman, pianist and composer, for a unique chamber music concert.

Glazer first started her career by winning first prize in the Naumberg Competition. She has performed with major orchestras and has toured extensively.

Deborah Hoffman is the winner of several harp competitions and was soloist with the St. Luke's Chamber Orchestra at Carnegie Hall. She is currently principal harpist with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. Joel Hoffman has been commissioned by groups such as the Cleveland Quartet and the Tanglewood Festival. He recently was appointed new music advisor to the Buffalo Symphony.

The concert will be held on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church, 170 Elm St. in Westfield. Tickets are $15; students, $8. They can be reserved by calling 762-8486.

Spaulding set to swing

"Spring into Swing" at the "Thank God It's Friday Big Band Concert" Friday at 8 p.m. with The King's Road Swing Band. The stage is set at Cranford High School Auditorium to benefit Spaulding for Children, the free adoption agency.

A total of 15 musicians — including Ron Spinella of Clark — and vocalist Jill Vache of Rahway will feature arrangements made famous by the great name bands of the '30s and '40s.

Socialize and mingle with the musicians and friends and have dessert in the high school cafeteria after the concert. The donation for adults is $10, and $7 for senior citizens and students.

Advance tickets are available at Off-The-Record in Cranford and The Music Staff and the Spaulding office in Westfield; as well as at the door. Arranged by Spaulding for Children Volunteer Auxiliary, the event benefits the non-profit agency, enabling it in continuing to find parents for homeless children.

Spaulding has three offices: in Westfield, Haddonfield and East Orange. For information on adoption or the concert, call 908-233-2282.

Choruses join voices

The long-established Saenger-Chor, a German men's chorus based in Clark Township, together with Vocal Point, an internationally-known vocal swing ensemble, will present an international songfest at the Union County Arts Center on Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10.

In addition to traditional American and European folk songs, the songfest will feature music by Duke Ellington, Cole Porter, George Gershwin and others. In a rousing finale, the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" will be sung in honor of the U.S. troops who fought in the Persian Gulf.

The Union County Arts Center is located at 1601 Irving St. in Rahway. To reserve seats, call 908-499-8226.

Artist exhibits progress in her work

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer

If Union artist Hannah Horowitz-Mastrolia stares intently at a person during a conversation, she is not being impolite. She is merely "studying one's facial expressions for some mysterious quality."

The habit stems from her early interest in art. "I started drawing at an early age because I was prompted by a fascination with the human face. And even on the subway in New York City on the way to school, I would search my fellow riders' facial expressions for some mysterious inner quality," she explained.

Mastrolia, who will show her work at the Les Malamut Gallery in the Union Public Library starting Sunday and ending May 16, maintains her own studio at the Ethical Cultural Society, 516 Prospect St. in Maplewood. Her exhibit will feature oils, portraits and abstract oils, some sculpture and a mixed media and pastels. "And everyone can see how I feel about what I see and how I explore the human face," she said, as she explored this writer's face.

The Mastrolia display will be the 25th exhibition since the gallery was first opened as the Wheelchair Gallery in February, 1988. She has been exhibiting her work and winning awards since 1973, including two first place prizes in the Festival on the Green in Union in 1976 and 1977 and other awards in South Orange, Plainfield, Westfield and Cranford. Mastrolia has had juried exhibitions in Murray Hill, Summit, Elizabeth and Cranford.

The amiable, versatile, talented woman was born in Perth Amboy. "But I grew up in New York City. I had been drawing at a very young age," she said, "and I believe it really is innate. I would go to school and stare at faces to try to get something behind those features. In high school, I was doing portraits of my fellow classmates.

"My son says he does the same thing," she noted. Mastrolia's son, David Reiss, is 37 and owns a software business in Park Ridge. She also has a daughter, Jane, 42, who is an industrial developer in the Buffalo area.

"It's in the family," she said. "I have two sisters, Ethel Perin, a professional water colorist, and Roselle Sperling, a non-professional fiber artist. The feeling for art and creativity is quite prevalent in the family."

Mastrolia also has two stepchildren, Elizabeth Shaw of Scotch Plains, who teaches sixth grade at Central Six-Jefferson School in Union, and Mary Ann Golaszewski of Pennsylvania.

After she was graduated from high school, she took courses in oil painting at the New School for Social Research.

"Then I got married to my first husband, Everett Reiss. I put my husband through school. He was rather ill during our marriage. He died, and I subsequently remarried. That was in 1966, when Tony Mastrolia, a retired pharmacist, and I moved to Union. We moved from Great Neck, New York. And I had an opportunity to get back to my art and to follow my bliss.

"He's very supportive. And I know I've been very fortunate. And he takes a lot of pleasure in what I do," she said of her husband.

Mastrolia studied drawing and painting at Union College in Cranford, Kean College and with Patricia Lambert, a color theorist in Greenwich, Conn. She also studied sculpture with the Salem Craftsmen in Union and Upper Montclair, the Artist's and Craftsmen's Guild in Cranford, the Summit Art Center and with Giselle Mauer, metal sculptor, in Baltimore.

"After raising my family, I decided to express my creativity through the medium of sculpture," she recalled. "I felt I had a three-dimensional mind. As an artist you have a vision, and if you can do both sculpture and painting, you can portray the vision you want.

"It's nice to have a fun technique at your fingertips," she said, "so you can elicit the vision that you have in your gut. Yes, I said gut. That's where it all is basically."

She said that "with the cooperation of my teachers, I would study a medium, such as metal or stone, and work in my own studio where I had the solitude I required to solve the problems of taking a work from one step to the next. I would then bring my work to class for the professors' critique and instruction. Using what I had learned of balance and the illusion of movement, I went on to a concentration on the interplay of two forms in the medium that would best express my idea."

Mastrolia explained that in 1977, "I decided to take courses in drawing. My professor saw that I work very totally and he felt that I should paint again. I got as involved in painting as I did in sculpture. I became intrigued with creating the three-dimensional reality of everyday life on a two-dimensional canvas, or plane, depicting space, light and the figure. That fascinated me. I began to get commissions for portraits, some of which will be in this exhibition."

Three years ago, said Mastrolia, "I went on a vacation to Tucson, Arizona, where I would visit the canyons. It was just amazing. It was like staring in a space — like being in the midst of a primordial cataclysm. It was like the See ARTIST, Page B10

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey

By Debbi Agins

I was just telling a friend the other day that I was looking for a good Italian restaurant. The opportunity presented itself in timely fashion when I was asked to try Cortina Restaurant. Cortina is a special restaurant; a place where Old World charm and New York sophistication come together in a unique and inviting manner.

The restaurant conveniently has

Restaurant review

two entrances, with ample parking near the front entrance after 5 p.m. and a large parking lot at the rear. The interior of Cortina is inviting, with fresh, homegrown roses on every table. The lighting is dim enough for a romantic evening, while still light and cheerful enough to accommodate lively parties. Beautiful paintings by a talented local artist fill the walls. Owners Frank and Janice Romanelli have taken a lot of time and effort to make dining at Cortina a pleasant experience.

Immediately upon our arrival, Janice approached my companion and me, introduced herself and personally escorted us to a perfect table. I watched her do the same for every party that came in to Cortina that night. The moment we were seated, Frank approached the table to offer his services. It is rare these days to find service as attentive as the Romanellis provide. While Frank chatted with us, we were brought delicious warm bread before ordering.

The selection at Cortina is quite impressive. There is a full page listing appetizers alone, including three different types of soup ($1.95-$3.95) and a Caesar salad for two ($7.95). Since all entrees include a tossed green salad, we ordered appetizers. Mine was the Funghi Ripieni Ai Granchi ($5.75), large mushrooms stuffed with crabmeat and topped with a creamy bearnaise sauce — delicious and filling. My companion chose the Antipasto Gamberi e Vongole ($6.75), shrimp in a light sauce and stuffed clams. I tasted both and found his to be equally as good as my mushrooms, particularly the shrimp.

By the time our entrees arrived, I was slightly more proficient in Italian, and a lot more full. I had chosen the Gamberi Portofino ($14.95), which, as promised, was shrimp baked in butter, garlic and herbs. There were a number of large, tender shrimp and the sauce was divine. My meal included a side order of either the vegetable of the day or the pasta, Baked Ziti, which I chose. The tomato sauce was nice and light. My companion chose one of the specials, Gnocchi, which was topped with a choice of marinara sauce or a meat sauce. He was quite pleased with the blend of beef and veal in the meat sauce. Other entrees included Chicken Parmigiana ($13.25), Veal Marsala ($14.75), and a large selection of pasta dishes.

Though quite full after our plates were cleared, I willingly allowed myself to be coaxed into dessert. My companion, showing great restraint, ordered the fresh honeydew melon. I, on the other hand, could not resist the lure of the Homemade Chocolate Mousse Torte ($3.75) and was glad I gave in. I consider myself a chocolate mousse connoisseur, and Cortina's was definitely one of the best. Other desserts include Homemade Cannoli ($3.25), Homemade Cheesecake ($3.75), and the Cortina Grand Marnier Souffle ($3.50). Be sure to try either the espresso or cappuccino along with your dessert.

Before leaving, the Romanellis thanked us for coming, and I assured them we would return soon. We walked out full and content, and the best part is that I can now tell my friend that I found great Italian food at Cortina Restaurant.

Artist exhibits her progress

(Continued from Page B1) world was just beginning," she said. "And the colors are so different from the colors of the east. And the size of the boulders. For the first time, I really had a great desire to work — abstractly — with nature. And I really call it 'pushing color.' It's very exciting."

"It is painting how I feel about what I see, and like any new adventure one embarks on, the journey can be painful and frustrating, but always filled with thrilling new discoveries and insights. And," she noted, "when you're working at your best in this medium, you're painting how you feel about what you see. And it's not easy to reach that, and that's the process I'm going through now."

Mastrolia also takes time out to be active in the League of Women Voters in Union. "I've been on the board for a long time, and I'm still a member," she said. "I'm very active with the Ethical Cultural Society and I belong to the Art Center of New Jersey, which is based in Upsala. I'm also a member of the Art Gallery of South Orange and Maplewood."

How did Mastrolia arrange to show her paintings in Union?
 "Well, the Les Malamut Art Gallery space is really very lovely," she

Teens sought by theater troupe

The Union County Music Theater, a project of the New Jersey Workshop for the Arts Inc., will audition for its summer stock production of "Once Upon a Mattress" Tuesday.

Auditions, at 7:30 p.m. at Roosevelt Intermediate School, 301 Clark St. in Westfield, are open to all Union County residents entering grades 9-12. Registration fee is $50.

"Once Upon a Mattress" is a slightly "fractured" version of "The Princess and the Pea" fairy tale. The cast includes a variety of noblemen and women as well as ladies-in-waiting, knights, soldiers, servants and musicians. There is one non-speaking male leading role.

Each person auditioning should prepare an upbeat song and bring music. Those interested in leading roles are asked to prepare a short one- to two-minute monologue.

Entering its second season, Union County Music Theater offers high school students training in every facet of the theater and takes them through the process of creating and presenting a full-scale production. The training includes music and voice, blocking and stage movement, acting, costume and set design, makeup, lighting, sound, marketing and public relations.

The project culminates in performances for the entire family. This summer the performances will be held on July 25, 26 and 27 at Roosevelt Intermediate School.

Professional leadership is provided by Dr. Theodore K. Schlosberg, project director; Peter Bridges, music director; and Anne King, drama director.

Rehearsals will be held on Monday through Thursday, from 7 to 10 p.m., and will begin June 24. According to Bridges, rehearsals are scheduled in the evening "to allow participants to hold jobs and meet other daytime commitments. The program also gives students an organized and worthwhile activity for five weeks of their summer vacation."

In addition to receiving theater training, King said UCMT students gain another benefit. "Students from different schools and communities throughout the county get the opportunity to meet, and they form close-knit relationships," she said.

Directed by Schlosberg, NJWA serves as an umbrella organization for the Westfield Workshop for the Arts, Union County Music Theater, The Music Studio and the Westfield Fencing Club. For information about auditions, tickets to the production or the NJWA programs, call 908-322-5065.

Acting Studio registers

Registration for the spring term of The Acting Studio is now underway. The two days when the studio will be open for personal registration will be Monday and Tuesday, 4 to 8 p.m., at The Acting Studio, 189 North Ave. East in Cranford. However, registration can be done by phone or mail as well. The spring term will run from April 15 to June 29.

The Acting Studio will offer classes in acting, musical performance and television for adults, teens and children, from beginners to experienced professionals.

The adult class that most students begin with, a class in basis acting technique, is called "The Actor Prepares." Through theatre games and improvisation, this class helps actors become less inhibited and develop communication. Several lessons are taught on the use of objects, which can help the actor develop his character and become more at ease and more interesting on stage. Basic acting skills are taught that must be mastered in order to get any acting jobs, whether musical, dramatic, comedy or television commercials.

From this basic class, students have the choice of moving in many directions. They may continue the "technique" classes, which include working on scenes, learning rehearsal techniques and character work, or study television acting, or move to musical performance classes.

Other skills that can be strengthened at the studio are speech and diction or singing voice training, both of which are private classes. Private classes for actors are available, to work on specific problems or monologues.

A new class that is offered this term is "Acting In Dialects," which is taught in private lessons, where actors can choose the dialects they wish to study and work with a text, audio tapes and the teacher to perfect these dialects for stage.

For children, the basic class is "Creative Acting," which stresses the use of the imagination. The students are taught to create objects, characters and stories from their own imagination, and they learn to improvise scenes with each other. Communication is an important goal of these classes, making the children work together, not separately. The classes are grouped by age, the youngest being 7 years old. Children may also take "Musical Performance For Children" and "Children's Television Acting."

What is a Listing?
 Listing your home for sale can be an important first step towards its eventual sale. But, what is a listing and how does it work?
 A "listing" is an employment contract in which property owners authorize a licensed real estate broker to act on their behalf by procuring a buyer for their real property for a fee. Listings contain various basic elements such as: 1) duration of the listing, 2) price and terms, 3) property description, and 4) commission or compensation.
 The duration of the listing is a time period agreed upon by sellers and the real estate broker. The listing period can be any length of time, and may be based on the average selling time for the property being listed.
 A listing should also contain the price at which the owners are willing to sell, as well as any other terms of sale required by the seller. The broker can then work to procure a buyer "ready, willing and able" to make the purchase at that price and on those terms.
 In order to properly identify the real estate covered by the listing, the legal description of the property is included. This spells out precisely which parcel of real estate the broker is authorized to represent.
 The commission or compensation to the broker will also be a part of the listing agreement. It is most commonly stated as a percentage of the final sale price or as a flat fee, and is usually payable at settlement. Fees are not fixed by the government or real estate licensing authority, but are negotiable between the broker and the property owner.
 When property owners give a listing to a licensed broker, a new relationship is created between them, called an "agency relationship." The real estate broker, the "agent," becomes authorized to act on behalf of the owner, known as the "principal," for the sole purpose of procuring a buyer for the property.
 Choose your broker carefully. To make an informed decision about listing your property for sale, ask for a detailed explanation of the listing process!
