Tanker, truck collision stymies eastbound 22

By David Brown
Managing Editor

A mid-day collision between a gas tanker and a delivery truck occurred in Mountainside Monday, with safety precautions and cleanup operations hampering eastbound traffic on Route 22 for approximately six hours.

According to witnesses, the 8,950-gallon gasoline tanker was struck by the smaller truck as it was making its turn into the Amoco gas station on Route 22 in Mountainside, destroying a lamp post and damaging a portion of the station's sign in the process. The two trucks came to a stop in the Amoco parking lot, with the delivery truck locked under the tank of the gas truck. No gas was spilled, and both drivers escaped injury.

"He came straight over that curb," said Alva Richardson, the driver of the tanker, pointing to the flattened shrubbery and damaged sign. "When we stopped I got the truck quick and well out of the way," he said, still visibly shaken. "I was afraid that it might explode."

Richardson said he had his flashers on signalling the turn, and was "more than half-way" into the station at the time of the collision. "I don't know the reason he hit me," he said.

According to police, the other vehicle's driver, Vincent Wilkie of Saddle Brook, said his brakes failed to respond, causing him to slam into the tanker's side.

More than 35 firefighters, emergency management and safety personnel from neighboring towns responded to the scene. "Upon arrival we evacuated the area, set up hand foam lines and waited for the safety representative to arrive," said James Sanford, Mountain'side's assistant fire chief and incident commander.

"A layer of foam was layed down as a pre-emptive measure," said Sanford, coordinating the cleanup. "One spark could have caused a serious explosion." The two vehicles were separated only after the tanker's load of gasoline was transferred into a second tanker.

According to a representative of Island Transport Inc., which owns the tanker, more substantial damage was prevented by a safety bar along the tanker's row of valve heads.

"It could have been much worse," said John Fury, the company's safety coordinator. "There are additional safety features, but that bar saved the truck from a lot of damage." Also visible were two large dents in the tank's right side.

Council criticizes actions of state

By David Brown
Managing Editor

Despite its adoption of a budget that will significantly decrease the municipal portion of the local tax bill, the Mountainside Borough Council remains wary of the state's role in the budget process.

"They (the state) are literally fooling the taxpayers into thinking they're getting lasting tax relief," said Mayor Robert Vigilanti, after adopting the budget by unanimous vote Tuesday night. "The taxpayers are going to pay dearly for what the state has done," he said.

According to Borough Administrator James Roberts, Mountainside's 1991 municipal budget escaped the tinkering by the state's Division of Local Government experienced by many neighboring municipalities. "Mountainside traditionally has not dealt in extravagances," Roberts said, describing the borough's financial practices as fiscally conservative. "No major changes were made to the budget," he said.

Though later than usual, the state approved the total municipal budget of $5,336,944, a 10-point decrease over last year. The municipal, county and two educational budgets are expected to combine for an overall decrease of about 15 tax points, or $226 for an average home assessed at $151,000.

According to Roberts, many municipalities that are experiencing decreases in their budgets this year are in for a "shock in the near future. The increased income and sales taxes combined with decreasing state aid is going to leave most municipalities in the hole," Roberts said, predicting the financial crunch would hit within the next few years. "There's no effective way to combat what they're doing down there," he said. "It's all smoke and mirrors."

Several items played major, if not counter-balancing, roles in the borough's budget. While Mountainside received and applied approximately $212,000 and $498,000 in property tax relief and state mandated use of surplus respectively, an 86.5 percent increase in sewage fees cost the borough an additional $181,000.

"That increase in fees to the Rahway Valley Sewage Authority alone accounted for about half of the budget's increase," Roberts said. The RVSA has increased its fees since dumping sludge in the ocean was banned in March.

"There are many costs over which we have little or no control," Roberts said.

According to Roberts, the borough's 1991 budget, only 17 percent of the $5 million expenditures are controlled directly by the municipality — "discretion concerning whether service will be offered or not." Conversely, Roberts said the borough's "mandated, committed or necessary" expenditures, such as the sewage costs, amounted to about 52 percent of the budget. Items of which the borough has "some discretion over the level of expenditures," for example civil defense, debt service and snow removal, accounted for about 13 percent of the budget, according to the report.

The Florio administration has been under fire for what has been widely perceived as a politically motivated manipulation of finance formulas. Critics particularly point to the state's mandating of many municipalities to use more of their surplus to further reduce property taxes. The administration is also under attack for returning a significant portion of Quality Education Act funds to the municipalities for property tax relief. "This is all political," Vigilanti said. "It's all for the sake of appearances, and it's going to cause some big problems because they're not lasting solutions."

Board awards contract

By Chris Smith
Staff Writer

During a meeting on Tuesday night, the members of the Board of Education for Union County Regional High School District 1 carried a motion to accept a bid from an outside bus contractor that provides transportation to two non-public schools, for the 1991-1992 school year.

Although the bid was received and subsequently accepted for both non-public schools, under the plan some youngsters within the district will not have access to the service.

As Harold Burdge, the board secretary, explained in his memorandum, "To award (the bid) on this basis would exclude some communities in the District from transportation services to the private and/or parochial school of their choice while offering these services to other citizens who have chosen to send their youngsters to the very same school. This would not conform to the board's long-standing past practice of ensuring identical services to all taxpayers in the Regional District."

Under the accepted bid package, the residents of Berkeley Heights, Springfield, Mountainside and Clark would not receive bus service to Solomon Schechter School, and neither the residents of Kenilworth nor Garwood would receive service to Union Catholic.

In his memorandum, Burdge announced that he will notify all parents adversely affected by the accepted bid package of their responsibility to make "their own arrangements for 1991-1992 transportation to private and parochial schools." Burdge will also notify parents of their eligibility for a transportation-cost subsidy. According to Burdge, these subsidies will "not exceed $675 (or $3.75 per day)," and will be made in two payments during the 1991-1992 school year by the Regional District. "These funds will be reimbursed to the Regional District by the state Department of Education in 1992-1993."

County earns top bond rating

By Alec Schwartz
Staff Writer

One of the reasons tax responsibility to budgets on all levels is so high, is that large portions of taxes pay for debt service on loans taken out for capital improvement projects. Politicians tend to point to debt service when taxes are increasing and say that the reason is because of a large base which is compiled of debt service and state-mandated costs, which they have no control over.

Once interest rates are set for loans, it is true that a governing body must make payments, but it is not entirely true that members of a governing body have no control over the amounts of the payments before they are established.

Whenever a governing body issues bonds for capital projects, rating services such as Moody's Investors Service and Standard and Poors, rate the economic strength of the community and determine how well the government is run.

Recently, Moody's gave Union County the highest rating possible, "Aaa," which means that when the county issued bonds it received the most favorable interest rate possible.

According to Freeholder Jerry Green, when the county went out to bid with $40,880,000 worth of General Improvement Bonds, the rate was 6.43 percent. If the county had dropped one level, the rate would have increased to 6.53 percent. The 0.1 percent increase translates to a savings of $463,923 in debt service over the next 20 years.

The bonds which the county issued will be used to refinance $30 million in notes for capital projects, and around $10 million for new projects. The new projects include Rumlens Hospital, the County Jail, Union County College, and the construction of the county's police facility.

Union County is among just five counties in New Jersey, and 29 in the nation, to be triple-A rated. The county has maintained the highest rating since 1976.

"What Moody's report said is that this county is on sound fiscal footing," said Freeholder Chairman James Cunnally Walsh. "It is certainly gratifying to have such a well-respected and independent third party continue to give Union County the highest rating. When you consider that we began the year looking at a $12 million budget shortfall, this is truly high praise."

Rating services such as Moody's do not determine ratings on a year-by-year basis, but look at long-term trends and progress. According to Green, Moody's evaluates four areas. The service looks at the economic climate and includes indicators from the housing market, the possibility of development, diversity of area industry, and age and income of a population. Moody's also looks at debt burden per capita from municipal and school budgets as well as the county government. Thirdly, the county budget is analyzed for surplus trends, and fallback plans in the case of major emergencies. The last area reviewed is the management and administration to determine if people are working in harmony.

According to Moody's Municipal Credit Report: "The county's substantial and diversified tax base represents a key reason for its high-quality credit rating. The report cites the county's success in New York City's sewerage privatization, and the county's ability to manage its resources. The report also notes that the county's financial position is strong and that the county's management is highly rated."

Trailside announces pet contest

People for Animals, a not-for-profit animal welfare organization, has announced its annual Stray Pet Contest.

The event is scheduled for Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Trailside Nature & Science Center, located at Coles Avenue and New Providence Road in Mountainside.

To register a pet for the contest, one can call Trailside at 908-232-5930 or can register in person on the day of contest from 1 to 2 p.m. Pet owners under 18 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

All pets that were rescued as strays or were adopted from a humane organization are welcome to enter the contest. Cats must be in well-ventilated carriers and dogs must be on a leash.

Ribbons and prizes will be awarded in many categories for both dogs and cats.

People For Animals also will exhibit many cats and dogs which are in need of permanent or foster homes. Adoption information can be obtained by calling 908-241-4954 or 908-355-6374.

Despite Fury's assessment of the scene as uncommon, the driver said the scenario was all too familiar. "This happened to me a few months ago," said Richardson, who has been driving for the New York-based transport company for eight years. "I guess I seem accident prone, but both times I'm sure I was not at fault." According to Richardson, the last incident resulted in a gasoline spill of about 3,900 gallons. "That one was too close," he said.

The eastbound lane was not fully opened until about 7:30 p.m.

The Mountainside Borough Council addressed the issue at its meeting the day after the incident.

"This could have been a disaster," said Borough Administrator James Roberts. "I think it is appropriate to recognize the outstanding efforts of our volunteer firefighters and rescue workers, and those of all the other towns that responded to the call," he said.

"They did an outstanding job," Mayor Robert Vigilanti said. "We will be notifying each of the towns and services involved of our gratitude for their quick and effective response to the scene," he said.

expressed concern over the incomplete reimbursement provided by Trenton in recent years, and initially leaned toward a negative stance on the proposal.

"How can we vote on this tonight, if we're not sure of the dollar figures," Soos asked. "How can we vote on this package, if we are not sure we are going to get all of our money back? We know from the past that we don't get a 100 percent refund from the state, so we should wait until we're sure of their reimbursement formula. Do we have to vote on this tonight?"

Burdge responded by stating that the parents needed to know about the transportation figures as soon as possible, and that any delay in its release was not proper or feasible.

Springfield representative Natalie Waldt said that the board did not have a "crystal ball" before it, and that it could only vote upon the facts at hand. After subsequent discussion the proposal was carried unanimously, without alteration.

In other board business, Waldt relayed information concerning the amended agreement between American Federation of Teachers Local 3417 and the Union County Regional Board. Certain elements of the language within the document were changed, and each member of the board received a copy of the new wording. The recently ratified agreement will run from 1991-1993, and will have an 8.2 percent salary increase the first year and an 8 percent increase in the second.

'Cranberry' series now available for viewing from borough library

Wende and Harry Devlin, creators of the "Cranberry" stories and "Old Black Witch" juvenile book series, have been spinning their collaborative tales for many years.

Long-time residents of Mountainside, the Devlins have written numerous books for children, all available in the Mountainside Library's children's department. Now the library is offering the "Cranberryport" series in video format.

How did the Devlins arrive at their cozy New England town, Cranberryport? Wende writes, "As a boy, Harry went to a camp in the New Jersey Pine Barrens, located on a cranberry bog. Its isolation and the very independent people of the locale made a lasting impression. The characters of our series exhibit the same kind of independent thinking of the real Cranberry people."

All of the Cranberryport stories evoke the tactile sensations of a small rural community. At the end of every story is an easy-to-prepare recipe, made mostly with cranberries.

The "Cranberryport" video includes the holiday stories: Cranberry Halloween, Cranberry Thanksgiving, Cranberry Christmas and Cranberry Valentine. Other recent additions to the children's video collection include: "Very Funny, Charlie Brown," "Sesame Songs," "Paddington Goes To School" and the Dr. Seuss series, "Halloween is Grinch Night," "The Grinch Grinches the Cat in the Hat," "Cat in the Hat," "Lorax," "Hooper-Bloob Highway," and "Pon-toffel Pock." Videos may be checked out for one week free of charge.

Students learn to be leaders

By David Brown
Staff Writer

The fifth-graders at Gaudineer School got a lesson in leadership from peers who have been studying the skill for several months and from elders who have been practicing the skill for years.

In an effort to pass on some of tools and "secrets" of leadership to their fellow fifth-graders, participants in Gaudineer's Gifted and Talented program designed and staged the 1991 Discovery Leadership Convocation, the second seminar of its kind at the school.

"We thought we would try to pass some of what we've learned about leadership to the rest of the fifth grade," said Adam Steele, one of the program's coordinators and a participant in the Gifted and Talented Program. "We've been studying leadership qualities as part of our program," he said. "We're learning about the qualities and characteristics it takes to be a good leader."

As living examples of successful leaders, Springfield Mayor Marc Marshall and Superintendent of Schools Gary Friedland were invited to speak at the seminar on the role of leadership in the field of education, the political arena and on a day to day basis.

"Some people say leaders are born," Marshall said. "But I don't believe that. I was a product of these schools. It was here that I was taught to rely on myself, to believe in myself and to become a leader," he said.

Leadership conference coordinators Adam Steele, Eric Fishman and Stephen Downs with guest speakers Springfield Mayor Marc Marshall, left, Superintendent Gary Freidland, right, and Pamela Gray.

"Like reading or writing or mathematics, leadership is something you learn through hard work and practice," Marshall said.

"First," Marshall said, "it takes the ability to listen. Leaders spend a lot of time talking to groups and into microphones, but listening is very important." Together with a specific goal, a belief in oneself, and of course, a sense of humor, Marshall told the class they could accomplish virtually any goal.

Friedland addressed the topic from a slightly different angle. "I run a multi-million dollar business," he said. "I am also the chief spokesman on all educational matters for this school district. I supervise over 150 employees and manage over $40 million worth of properties and buildings," he said. "My role requires me to be a good salesman."

Friedland and Marshall apparently succeeded in selling their theories on leadership to the students, who, being divided into two groups, came up with both simple and creative solutions to very real problems posed by their leaders.

Through encouragement, communication and, at times, a little prodding, Marshall's group came up with a comprehensive outline to reduce the amount of trash produced in the school. Similarly, the second group grappled with the dilemma of increasing the variety of classes without increasing the length of the school day.

"This is what is possible through effective leadership and teamwork," Marshall told the group. "You have come up with some very practical solutions to the solid waste problem, and I challenge you to implement these ideas we have listed here," he said. "I challenge the entire fifth grade to take the lead in protecting your own future and that of the community."

July 4 fete to honor war heroes

July Fourth celebrations this year will have additional significance as Mountainside and Westfield honor local service people who served in the Desert Storm conflict.

The mayors and councils of both communities are inviting the service people and their families to attend a special ceremony at 7:30 p.m. on July 4 (rain date July 5) at Deerfield School on Central Avenue in Mountainside. Families of military people still serving in the Middle East or who have been stationed elsewhere since Desert Storm also are expected to attend.

Nearly 70 service people have accepted the invitation. The two communities are working through various channels to ensure that all military personnel and their families are contacted. Honorees and families should call Judy Osty, Mountainside Borough Clerk, at 908-232-2400 to be sure their names are on the list of service people from this area.

Following the ceremony led by Mountainside Mayor Robert Vigilanti and Westfield Mayor Richard Bagger, there will be a fireworks display sponsored by the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Company.

GOP hopefuls express concern over quarry

Jeffrey Katz and Harry Pappas, Republican candidates for Springfield Township Committee, expressed their "urgent concern" regarding the Legislature's decision to shelve pending legislation that would permit the transfer of the Houdaille Quarry to Union County.

The two candidates, while encouraged by the prospect of direct negotiations between the state and county, are greatly concerned that the county would use the negotiations to further delay its 1989 commitment to the people of Springfield.

Katz and Pappas cited the 14-point host benefit agreements that Union County signed with Springfield in return for locating the county's leaf-composting facility at the former quarry.

Katz, who was mayor in 1989, secured the county's written commitment to donate five acres of land to Springfield as part of the host benefit agreement. The five-acre parcel has been earmarked by the township as the relocation site for its Department of Public Works and expanded recycling center. To date, the freeholders have failed to honor that commitment.

In response to questions about the lawsuit filed against the state, county and township by Jerry Pecaro, a Northview Terrace resident, the Republican candidates were emphatic: "We oppose any attempt by Pecaro or any others to acquire and develop the land for any purpose. To this we are totally committed."

Pappas and Katz continued, "The quarry is the largest remaining parcel of open space in Union County. We must do everything we can to preserve it for recreation and conservation."

The Republican candidates again called upon the freeholders to take immediate action to implement the recommendations in the 1987 report of the ad hoc Task Force on the Houdaille Quarry. The report recommends that the quarry be preserved for a combination of conservation and recreation uses.

Pappas and Katz also commented that the Pecaro lawsuit is without merit and is not in the best interests of Springfield. They called upon the state, county and township to vigorously fight the action. In addition, they called on the freeholders to honor their commitment and take all necessary steps to convey the five acres of land to the township.

The Democratic candidates declined comment on the issue as of press time.

Wasserman earns degree

Springfield resident Dana Wasserman was among the 4,968 students at Michigan State University who received degrees during the spring commencement exercises.

Wasserman received her bachelor of arts degree in communications.

The university stated that there were 3,656 candidates for bachelor's degrees, 860 for master's degrees and 176 for doctoral degrees.

Commencement ceremonies for bachelor's degree candidates were held June 8 in the Breslin Student Events Center with Michigan Gov. John Engler speaking.

Maltzman has diploma

Charles M. Maltzman of Springfield received his diploma during Wardlaw-Hartridge School's 108th commencement June 6.

The Wardlaw-Hartridge School is an independent coeducational institution with campuses in both Edison and Plainfield. The school serves more than 50 communities in central New Jersey and welcomes students of all races, religions, national backgrounds and economic circumstances.

Franzoni earns degree

Springfield resident David F. Franzoni received a bachelor's degree from Fairfield University during the school's 41st annual commencement exercises.

Fairfield University is a Jesuit university in Fairfield, Conn.

Keehn is on list

Holly Keehn of Springfield, a sophomore at Metropolitan State College in Denver, Colo., was named to the Dean's List for the 1991 spring semester.

Gansler earns degree

Springfield resident Andrew K. Gansler was among the 1,235 seniors and graduate students who were awarded degrees from Lehigh University during commencement exercises June 2.

Gansler earned a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering.

U.S. Sen. Bill Bradley delivered the commencement address. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree at the ceremony.

Meisner makes list

Stacey Ann Meisner of Mountainside was among the students at the College of Wooster who have been named to the second semester Dean's List. Students earning this recognition maintained a grade point average between 3.5 and 4.0.

The College of Wooster, founded in 1866, is an independent liberal arts institution with a tradition of academic excellence. Wooster has an undergraduate enrollment of approximately 1,800 men and women and a student-faculty ratio of less than 12 to 1. The college is nationally regarded for its curriculum, which emphasizes independent learning and features one of the few required independent study programs in the country.

Beltran elected

Susan D. Beltran of Mountainside, has been elected to the student government at Boston University.

Beltran, a junior who is majoring in finance and business, will serve as vice president of student affairs for the Student Union. A 1989 graduate of Mother Seton Regional High School in Clark, she is the daughter of Fabian and Barbara Beltran of Summit Road.

Of Boston University's 28,000 students, only 130 are elected each year to the student government. Activities and responsibilities include allocating funds to student groups, organizing student services and furthering a sense of community on the university's campus.

Hartung earns degree

Heather Anne Hartung of Mountainside received a bachelor's degree in music during commencement exercises June 2 at Moravian College.

Two earn degrees

Mountainside residents James J. Kellerk and James T. Turney received bachelor's degrees from Fairfield University during the school's 41st annual commencement exercises.

Fairfield University is a Jesuit university in Fairfield, Conn.

Ryan, Ray graduate

Nearly 600 graduate and undergraduate students received degrees at Rider College's 126th commencement exercises on June 2. K. Baran Lendata, Rider president, conferred the degrees on students from the college's schools of business administration, continuing studies, education and human services and liberal arts and science.

Receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree was Helen F. Boehm, chairman of the board of the Boehm Porcelain Studios in Trenton and Malvern, England.

Among those who received degrees were Mountainside residents Jean M. Ryan, who received a bachelor's degree in accounting, and Yvonne M. Ray, who received a bachelor's degree in history.

Oxner excels

April M. Oxner, daughter of Robert and Serafina Oxner of Mountainside, received degrees during commencement exercises May 25 at Johnson & Wales University.

Oxner received a bachelor of science degree in merchandise management and an associate in science in marketing, which she earned magna cum laude. She also was named in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities & Colleges.

D. Wayne Calloway, chief executive officer of Pepsi Co. Inc., and John W. Teets, chairman and president of The Dial Corp., delivered the commencement address.

The university graduated a total of 2,827 students, conferring bachelor of science degrees on 921 students, while 1,123 students received associate in science degrees and nine received diplomas.

Ehrhardt makes list

Julia Claire Ehrhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ehrhardt of Mountainside, was named to the dean's list with distinction at Duke University for the 1990-91 academic year.

To make the dean's list with distinction, a student must achieve an average of 3.6 or above.

Kozubal earns degree

Mountainside resident David Kozubal was among the 1,235 seniors and graduate students who were awarded degrees from Lehigh University during commencement exercises June 2.

Kozubal earned a bachelor of science degree in computer science.

U.S. Sen. Bill Bradley delivered the commencement address. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree at the ceremony.

Oxner is on list

Mountainside resident April Oxner was among the 2,298 students who were named to the Dean's List for academic achievement during the spring trimester at Johnson & Wales University.

To receive Dean's List commendation, students must earn a cumulative point average of 3.40 or above.

Oxner is majoring in retail merchandise management.

Founded in 1914, Johnson & Wales University is a private, co-educational institution offering undergraduate and graduate degrees in business, food service, hospitality and technology.

Cukier earns degree

Ithaca College honored its 1,350 graduates at commencement ceremonies on May 18. Emmy and Peabody award-winning journalist Charlayne Hunter-Gault delivered the keynote address to the largest graduating class in the college's history.

Hunter-Gault has been affiliated since 1978 with the "MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour," the hourlong nightly news program syndicated on public broadcasting television stations.

Ithaca College is the largest private residential college in New York State, with 6,400 students and 550 faculty. Ithaca College offers more than 100 degree programs in traditional and professional disciplines through its five separate schools — Humanities and Sciences, Business, Communications, Health Sciences and Human Performance, and Music.

Renee E. Cukier received a bachelor of science degree in marketing from the School of Business. She spent one semester abroad studying at the Ithaca College London Center.

A graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Cukier is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Cukier of Mountainside.

Two graduate from Prep

Springfield residents John Clayton and Theodore Loya graduated from Seton Hall Preparatory School in West Orange on June 8. The commencement exercises were held in the South Mountain Arena in West Orange.

Halpern graduates

Scott David Halpern, son of Arlene and Richard Halpern of Springfield, was among the 111 seniors who graduated June 9 from The Pingry School.

Addresses to the Class of 1991 were made by Valedictorian J. Kevin Sachs and Student Body President Peter Londa, followed by the presentation of diplomas by Chairman of the Board of Trustees Warren S. Kimber Jr. and Headmaster John Hanly.

While at The Pingry School, Halpern belonged to the Cum Laude Society, was a Garden State Distinguished Scholar and National Merit Finalist, and was winner of the Antoine duBourg Physics Award.

Fanning earns degree

Edward J. Fanning, son of Ed and Anne Fanning of Springfield, was awarded a bachelor of arts/magna cum laude at the 115th commencement of Boston College on May 20.

The commencement speaker was New York Public Library President Timothy Healy. Healy was among those awarded honorary degrees by the university which were presented by Rev. J. Donald Moran, 24th president of Boston College. More than 2,000 graduates received degrees.

Fanning is a 1987 graduate of Seton Hall Prep. His undergraduate activities at Boston College included membership in The National Economic Honor Society.

He plans to pursue a law degree at Georgetown University in the fall.

Heuer earns diploma

Brian Heuer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Heuer of Springfield, was among the 30 Oratory Prep seniors who received diplomas on June 1.

While attending Oratory, Heuer participated in soccer and tennis, achieving First Team All County honors as well as First Team Parochial State honors.

Heuer will be attending LaSalle University in the fall.

Dayton's graduation party nets federal funds

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School is among 38 schools statewide which has received federal funding for Project Graduation.

Last year the Division of Highway Traffic Safety awarded grants to 46 high schools, and for the 1988-89 school year, 38 schools received funding.

Project Graduation was started during the 1984-85 school year.

New Jersey's First Lady, Lucinda Florio, James A. Arena, director of the state Division of Highway Traffic Safety and The Bernards Township State Community Organization Program, recently held a press conference to premier the videotape "Victims of a Foolish Game," at the State Museum Auditorium in Trenton.

Florio is the honorary chairwoman of the division's Project Graduation program for the 1990-91 school year. The program consists of all-night substance-free graduation celebrations for high school seniors.

"I'm happy to be a part of this important program," Florio said.

"Project Graduation helps keep our teens safe during prom and graduation time by helping them celebrate their achievements without drugs or alcohol."

The National Football League will also be a part of this year's program. Representatives will visit schools and help students with fund-raising efforts.

Robert (Kool) Bell, founder and member of the music group Kool and the Gang, added his endorsement to the program.

Bell acknowledges this program as an important vehicle to parent/teen awareness and says, "Project Graduation provides our youth with an alternative to substance and alcohol abuse. The positive message of this program will motivate them to enjoy their experiences and live to be able to reflect on the memories."

"Victims of a Foolish Game" was produced by the Bernards Township SCOP with the help of a $6,200 grant from the division. The tape opens with dramatic clips of a teen-ager's drunk-driving accident in which the driver is responsible for the death of her boyfriend. The film also includes music by a Somerville band, Krakerjak, and clips from four Project Graduation parties.

"We are committed to the safety of New Jersey's young drivers, and what better way to get the message across about the dangers of drunk driving, than a film produced by young people, for young people," said Arena.

The premier was attended by students and staff from more than 150 high schools across the state.

This year federal funds totaling $91,500 were awarded to 61 New Jersey high schools to promote the alcohol- and drug-free graduation celebrations. Each of the schools receive a grant of $1,500 to purchase promotional items, such as T-shirts, buttons and bumper stickers to publicize Project Graduation. The grants are designed to get schools and communities started in establishing a tradition of chemical-free celebrations.

"Project Graduation continues to represent one of the state's most effective programs in reducing fatal and serious injuries to our young people during graduation time," Arena said.

Rottenberg appointed at Shearson

Shearson Lehman Brothers, a division of Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc., has announced the appointment of Springfield resident Hank Rottenberg to the firm's Chairman's Council for 1990, a recognition group for Shearson's Financial Consultants.

Rottenberg is a financial consultant at Shearson's Bloomfield office.

The Chairman's Council is comprised of the top 20 percent of Shearson's domestic sales force. Approximately 1,570 of the firm's 9,000 financial consultants were awarded the designation for 1990.

"The Chairman's Council gives the firm an opportunity to recognize that select group of financial consultants who have displayed outstanding performance in offering quality service and products to our clients throughout the year," said Joseph Plumeri, president of Shearson Lehman Brothers' Private Client Group.

A 1981 graduate of Rutgers University, Rottenberg has been with Shearson since 1984. This is the second year he has served on the Chairman's Council. Rottenberg lives in Springfield with his wife, Ilene, and daughter, Haley.

Our best wishes

For 147 students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, tonight is the first day of the rest of their lives.

When all the pomp and circumstance of graduation night is over, the students will embark on the first phase of their adult lives — some entering the work force, others continuing their education at colleges and universities across the nation.

Before leaving each other, the students will have the opportunity to spend one last time together in an alcohol- and drug-free environment, as Project Graduation commences at the Westfield YMCA following the ceremony.

The students who attend should realize the significance behind the post-graduation event. While it may be the last time the graduating class will be together, they should understand the meaning and reason behind the party.

Drinking and driving don't mix. It's that simple.

Many lives have tragically ended because teenagers experimented with alcohol behind the wheel of a car. Their experiment has, in many cases, cost their lives and the lives others. In Mountainside, the school district is attempting to emphasize the dangers of drinking and driving by sponsoring an event such as Project Graduation.

Our best wishes go to each of the students, with the hope that they achieve all their dreams during a very long future.

Pols should 'catch on' on gay rights issue

It's an age-old question in a representative democracy: Should politicians do what they politically or morally think is right, or should their votes reflect the will of the majority? The answer most often given is that "it depends" on the issue in question.

While the answer to this complex question will always be unclear, there is little doubt that the overwhelming number of politicians simply "react" to public opinion rather than attempt to lead or shape it. This is true especially with thorny, controversial issues that don't lend themselves to symbolic appeals to universally-accepted beliefs or values ("Read my lips," "No new taxes," "The education president," "Let's clean up the environment").

Such is the case with gay rights. Politicians across the country, including legislators in New Jersey, have never been anxious to deal head on with the question of how gays and lesbians are treated with respect to employment and housing opportunities. This reticence was heightened during the 1980s as the AIDS virus spread and people pointed at homosexuals as the main culprits rather than as one piece of a complex and deadly health dilemma.

However in the last couple of years, there has been increased speculation that voters' attitude toward the volatile issue of gay rights has softened somewhat. There has been genuine evidence of this changing attitude on the national level, but as for voters' attitude on gay rights in New Jersey, information has been non-existent until now.

In a recently-released poll conducted by the respected Eagleton Institute at Rutgers University, "An overwhelming majority of New Jersey residents, 70 percent, said they 'believe homosexuals should be protected by the same civil rights laws as other minority groups.'"

The poll was commissioned by the Campaign to End Discrimination, an organization consisting of 70 gay rights and anti-discrimination groups. The poll also found that 83 percent of those surveyed believe that homosexuals should have equal job opportunities.

According to Leon Gellman, president of the New Jersey Gay and Lesbian

Screening New Jersey

By Steve Aduato Jr.

bian Coalition, the results of this poll are good reason to be hopeful. "The people of New Jersey are out in front of their leaders," he said. "They are sending a clear message to Trenton that lesbians and gays are victims of discrimination and this must stop."

Granted, the Eagleton Poll didn't ask whether respondents would support the rights of gays and lesbians as tenants in their homes or apartments or the rights of homosexuals to teach children in schools, however, the results clearly demonstrate that New Jerseyans are more open-minded about homosexual rights than they were a few years ago.

So what does all this mean?

Gay rights leaders and civil libertarians say it's time New Jersey politicians take some action on these issues to reflect the changing public mood. Specifically, they are urging the Legislature to act on a bill in Trenton that would ban discrimination in employment, housing and credit based on sexual orientation.

The bill, introduced in 1984, has been stalled for seven years in committees, both by Democrats and Republicans. The bill has never received a public hearing or debate. It just sat there, originally, with 23 co-sponsors, now with only a couple. The reason? The fear that support of gay rights was tantamount to political suicide. Some legislators said they personally supported the concept, but their constituents would never buy it. Supporters of this long-overdue "civil rights" legislation say that was then, this is now.

Assemblyman Bennett Mazur, the bill's original sponsor and a longtime supporter of gay rights regardless of its level of public acceptance, is hopeful that the Eagleton Poll will give new life to his old bill. "I will strongly urge my colleagues to become familiar with it," he said. Adds Gellman, "We are not a political liability. We are part of the mainstream."

DEERFIELD DESIGNERS — Samantha Mason, left, and Lori Andric, students in Steve Gimson's eighth-grade art class at Deerfield School, wear shirts bearing the logo they designed for the Mountainside Community Playground. The logo will be used on T-shirts, stationary and other items related to the project.

Summertime: cleaner season at the shore

As all the roads once led to Rome, this summer, all roads will lead to the Jersey Shore.

Summer at the Jersey Shore always conjures up memories of summers past. The diving horse at Atlantic City's Steel pier. The carousel at Asbury Park. Cape May's Victorian treasures. Saltwater taffy on the boardwalk in Seaside. When I was growing up in Brooklyn, my memories of the Jersey Shore are the summer days my family spent in Keansburg, when my father took us out of the city for a visit to the "country."

More recent memories, however, harbor reminders of beach closings, garbage slicks and fouled waters — events which threatened not only the economic vitality of our Shore communities, but the environmental well-being of our ocean and marine life.

This summer should be an exception.

It should be the biggest, cleanest summer at the shore because we're doing everything we can to make sure the Jersey Shore is safe, clean and attractive. We've cleaned up the past

State Of The State

By Jim Florio

mistakes and have taken steps to avoid future ones. Our hard work paid off in a great summer at the Shore last year and, already, the upcoming summer promises to be another great season.

The realtors will tell you that summer rentals are up by 30 percent. That means people believe that the Jersey Shore is the best place to vacation.

The fishermen especially will tell you that the ocean is the bluest and cleanest it's been in a long while. They can see it as they troll the waters daily. They can see it in the catch they haul in.

And that's a testament not only to what the state has done, but to the efforts of towns and, most importantly, people, who were concerned about the condition and future about our ocean and were determined to do something about it.

And we did.

Last March, New Jersey ended ocean dumping of sludge. For 77 years, we've abused our oceans, but we can't afford to use it as a septic tank any longer. But while New Jersey has stopped ocean sludge dumping, we still face a threat from New York, which has another year to continue dumping. The ocean knows no borders. We must continue to be vigilant to protect our beaches and water.

Last year, I signed a package of laws which impose stiff penalties of up to $10 million and toughen industry procedures to prevent oil spills along New Jersey's waterways. These deadly oil spills poison not only the fish and wildlife in their wake, but threaten the delicate ecological system along the entire coastline. We need to do all we can to stop these spills before they happen or take steps to ensure they never happen again.

I recently flew aboard a Department of Environmental Protection helicopter to mark the seasonal start-up of coastal monitoring. These daily flights will be an important defense against pollution. We'll also be testing the water daily, using the highest standards in the nation, to ensure that the water remains clean and safe to swim in. Operation Clean Shores is in full swing already to remove any potential floatable debris from the Shoreline. Last year, the program removed 9.6 million pounds of debris from 48 miles of shoreline, including Sandy Hook.

Storm-water runoff is one of the most serious contributors to potential ocean pollution. It's not enough simply to clean our water if we can't provide adequate protection from runoff that empties into the ocean from overburdened sewer systems every time it rains. We provided grants to 88 of 92 shore communities to help them map out their storm and sewer systems. Once we've got good maps, we can work to stop the sewer overflows that can pollute our waters. An ounce of prevention is still worth a pound of cure.

We've provided millions of dollars in bond money for new sewage treatment plants. Our cities' antiquated systems can no longer be counted on to do the job adequately.

We also put in place emergency regulations to stem inappropriate development along the coast. Everyone likes a view, but in some areas, a boon of housing and offices further strains community water and sewer system, and in some areas, can infringe on the environment. Although the state Supreme Court overruled the regulations, we are actively working with the Legislature to enact permanent rules on coastal development to close loopholes in the law and to help further protect the Shore. It's a top priority.

We passed the Clean Water Enforcement Act, which is the toughest in the nation. We're serious about protecting the Jersey shore, just as we're serious about safe, clean drinking water. Everywhere I go in New Jersey, people tell me that these things are very important to them. They want something done for their children's sake. We're listening and we're acting.

We mean business when it comes to our Jersey Shore, because a clean, safe shore means business, lots of business. Tourism is a $13-billion industry, which last year attracted more than 50 million people to our state. Tourism also means jobs and opportunities for our towns and communities.

Just as the Jersey Shore has provided millions of memories for generations, we need to make sure that our children can enjoy the beaches and the ocean as much as we did. If we don't step up to our obligation to provide for our children's future, who will? The ocean is a treasure that must be preserved and protected for each new generation and can no longer afford to be threatened by ignorance and greed.

Renewed confidence in the water, fish and the Jersey Shore means not only a place to spend a vacation or to live and work, but a place to build lasting memories of summertime.

State of the State is a monthly column written and submitted by Gov. Jim Florio.

Thanks all for birthday party

To the Editor:

On behalf of Children's Specialized Hospital, I would like to thank all who joined in our spectacular 100th birthday party celebration on June 8 — a once in a lifetime experience.

Special thanks to the Exxon Chemical Company in Linden, the area restaurants and entertainers whose contributions added so much to the party, and to all the people who worked hard to make it a success.

Children's Specialized Hospital, proud of its centennial heritage, looks forward to the next 100 years.

The height of hypocrisy

To the Editor:

Once again, Jim Florio is trying to mislead the public regarding the state's fiscal condition.

Florio and his minions want New Jersey's citizens to believe that unless the public workers unions agree to what amounts to a 20 percent cut in pay for most state workers (and more for the lowest paid workers), there will be thousands of layoffs and cuts in services.

The truth of the matter is:

1. The money is there for a balanced budget without any cuts in services to the public.
2. The Florio administration continues to employ and is still hiring hundreds of political appointees at outrageous salaries.

3. Cuts to state worker health benefits will lead to more citizens in the uncompensated care fund and will send a terrible message to private employers to cut workers' health benefits. In the end, this means higher health premiums for everyone.

4. The Florio administration is trying to break the union contracts for political reasons and not for economic reasons.

For Florio to threaten massive cuts in services to the disabled while his cronies feast at the public trough is the height of dishonesty. For Florio to complain that the public worker unions should sacrifice our members' standards of living for his re-election ploy is the height of hypocrisy.

Many to thank for successful walk

To the Editor:

This is a public thank you to the 730 of our neighbors who walked in the March of Dimes annual WalkAmerica at Kean College in Union, to the generous sponsors and to the dozens of dedicated volunteers who made sure that everything went smoothly at Kean College. Not only did everyone have fun, but they did a lot of good at the same time.

As chairman of this WalkAmerica committee, I thank everyone who made it such a successful event and encourage others to call the March of Dimes to see how they can get in on the fun and the satisfaction, or call me at 908-289-5000.

Union County Utilities Authority files suit against Rahway

By Sharon Cates
Staff Writer

After receiving notice that the city of Rahway is being sued by the Union County Utilities Authority for attempting to place a referendum on the proposed garbage incinerator on the ballot in November, the Rahway City Council has agreed to stand fast on its position and is allocating funds to fight the battle.

The situation began in May after Councilwoman Katherine Fulcomer sponsored a resolution calling for a non-binding referendum to be placed on the ballot. At that time, going against the advice of Assistant City Attorney Louis Rainone, the council approved Fulcomer's motion, 6-3.

Then, last Wednesday night, only hours after they learned of the UCUA lawsuit, Fulcomer sponsored another resolution that would allocate $15,000 for legal fees so that the city could fight the UCUA.

Several city residents and members of the Concerned Citizens of Union County were critical of the manner in which the resolution was added to the agenda after the public portion of the meeting was closed, which meant that residents were not able to voice their opinion on Fulcomer's motion.

Members of the Concerned Citizens group noted that to their surprise the resolution was passed 5-2-1-1. Fulcomer and council members Michael Esposito, Jim Jones, Sal Mione and William Wnuck voted in favor of the motion. Council members Nancy Saliga and F. Alex Shipley voted against the proposal. Council President Chester Holmes abstained, since he is a member of the UCUA advisory board. Councilman Dennis Hemenway was not present at the meeting.

If approved, this will be the second advisory referendum on the incinerator to be placed on the ballot in Rahway. The question will read, "Should the mayor and the City Council of the city of Rahway continue to support the siting of the Union County Resource Recovery Facility (waste to energy garbage-burning incinerator) in the city of Rahway?"

The first question on the incinerator was placed on the ballot and approved by the voters in 1985.

UCUA's position
The UCUA, however, contends that the city's actions are illegal and announced their intention to sue in a press release on June 11.

"The Union County Utilities

Authority filed suit in Superior Court today to ensure that no further obstacles are placed in the path of its resource recovery project..." the release read. "The suit is in response to a resolution adopted by the City Council of the city of Rahway on May 13 to place an advisory referendum on the general election ballot of Nov. 5 concerning the location of the facility in that municipality."

UCUA Chairman Angelo Bonanno noted that the authority opted to sue the city because the referendum is not permitted by state statute and because "if allowed to go further would be counterproductive to our efforts to resolve the long-standing and serious solid waste problems in Union County."

Other UCUA officials were also against placing the referendum on the ballot.

"The referendum would cause further debate on issues pertaining to the plant and its location which have been fully answered in the formal permitting process as well as informally in countless public meetings," UCUA Executive Director Joseph Kazar noted. "The site selection process was previously completed and certified by the state of New Jersey. The authority has spent millions of dollars to complete detailed scientific studies which have convinced the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection that the facility will operate as proposed, and will be safe for the environment and the residents."

The lawsuit

Rainone noted that the city has allocated $15,000 to fight the UCUA lawsuit. He also noted that Rahway is asking the Rutgers Environmental Law Clinic to assist the city, free of charge.

As of last Wednesday night the assistant city attorney has 10 days to file an answer with the county showing cause for permitting the referendum to be placed on the ballot. He then must file a brief with Superior Court Judge Edward Beglin by July 1. A hearing on the ballot will be held on July 10.

The Concerned Citizens

Most members of the Concerned Citizens are viewing the council's willingness to fight the UCUA as a victory, and noted they were pleased that Fulcomer's resolution was approved.

Bob Carson of Rahway, vice chairman of the Concerned Citizens, congratulated the council for passing the resolution and "standing behind their decision to have the referendum put on the ballot."

Mack Williams of the Rahway NAACP also congratulated the council and informed the council of the NAACP's position.

"We want to continue to encourage you to stand behind the people who you were elected to represent," Williams said.

The Concerned Citizens have actively been attempting to block the construction of the incinerator. While UCUA representatives insist that the incinerator will not affect the quality of life for Rahway residents, members of the Concerned Citizens have been contradicting that assertion.

They have printed a pamphlet explaining why they think the incinerator is "dirty, dangerous and expensive."

In the pamphlet the group addresses how incineration poisons the air and planet. It explains why incineration is not the best way to dispose of garbage. The Concerned Citizens have consistently stated that upscaled recycling efforts and composting are safe, economical alternatives to incineration.

The facility

Before the $156-million facility can be built on the proposed 22-acre, county-owned Route 1 site, the UCUA must receive final approval from the state Board of Public Utilities.

Under the terms of the agreement, Ogden Martin Systems Inc. will design, construct and maintain a 1,440-ton-per-day incinerator. A total of 437 tons of municipal solid waste is anticipated to be brought to the incinerator annually.

Rahway will receive a one-time fee of $800,000 under the host municipality agreement. The city will also receive $1.6 million a year. That rate will increase by 10 percent annually.

Once the facility is operating, Ogden Martin will receive approximately $30 for each ton of garbage brought to the facility. In addition, they will also receive approximately 10 percent of the energy sales, which are expected to reach $10 million a year.

AMICO WINS IT ALL — Amico won the Springfield Little League's Major League championship Saturday by defeating United Counties 5-4 in a double elimination contest. Chris Cariello, Josh Goldfarb and Vinay Viswani each had RBI for Amico, which finished the season undefeated. Amico's top pitchers were James Guilas, Ryan Schwartzbad, Mike Jorda and Cariello. United Counties received excellent pitching performances from Adam DeJohn, Jeff Miller and Matt Grady. Driving in runs against Amico were Mark Pinhasovich and Miller.

Up and down year so far for Springfield legion club

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

It's been an up and down season to date for the Springfield American Legion baseball team, but on Saturday the team handed Union its only loss to date, counting games played through Monday.

Springfield topped Union 11-8 in a game that featured 21 hits. Union, which was 4-1 entering a doubleheader Tuesday, scored five runs in the top of the seventh to make the game interesting.

Right-hander Craig Hauelsen pitched six innings plus for the mound victory, his first of the season against no losses. Pete Kucharski finished up in the seventh inning.

Jason Gibson and Joe DiGrado each belted two hits for Springfield, which is now 3-3. Gibson went 2 for 4 with one run and one RBI and DiGrado went 2 for 4 with a single, triple and three RBI.

Union was paced by Dave Melia who was 2 for 3 with a solo home run in the third inning and a three-run triple in the seventh. He scored three runs and drove in four.

Steve Giordano went 4 for 4 for Union with one run and teammate Ken DeHart was 3 for 4 with two runs.

"We scored 11 runs and really spread it out among our players," Springfield coach Tom Long said. "We also ran the bases well."

Springfield was topped by Watchung Hills 6-5 on Friday and split a doubleheader with Scotch Plains on Sunday. On Monday Springfield was bested by Elizabeth 5-3.

In Sunday's doubleheader at Springfield, Scotch Plains won the first game as the visiting team 9-3, while Springfield rebounded to win the second as the visitors 8-2.

Ed Barlow scattered nine hits in going the distance for the victory for Scotch Plains in the first contest.

Scotch Plains' bit hit was a first-inning grand slam by Al Scarpa.

Clayton Trivett took the loss for Springfield, pitching 3½ innings. Springfield was led at the plate by Vinnie Cocilovo and Terence Young. Cocilovo was 3 for 3 with an RBI, walk, double and triple. Young was 2 for 4.

Cocilovo hurled a seven-hitter to lead Springfield past Scotch Plains in the second game. He struck out nine and did not walk a batter.

Trivett was 2 for 5 with four RBI on two run-scoring singles. He delivered his run-producing hits in the third and fourth innings. Gibson went 3 for 5 and scored one run and Young went 3 for 5 with one run and one RBI.

Springfield banged out 15 hits, 14 of which went for singles.

Springfield has two games this weekend with a home contest against Cubanitos on Saturday and a road game with Westfield on Sunday.

Four-Mile Run set for July 4

The 12th annual Cranford Jaycees Firecracker Four-Mile Run is set for July 4th in Cranford. The race will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will start and finish at Nomahegan Park on Springfield Avenue.

A one-mile "Fun Run" will precede the main race at 9 a.m.

Registration for both events begins at 7:30 a.m. at the Springfield Avenue entrance to Nomahegan Park, directly across from Union County College.

More than 900 runners participated in the 1990 edition of the Firecracker Four-Miler. Lomnyaki Loiboku of Newark finished first in the men's division with a time of 19:45. Margaret Koontz of New York City took the women's crown with a time of 23:14, fourteen seconds off the course record set in 1988.

A trophy—the Frank Krause Cup—and $100 will be presented to both the first female and the first male finisher in the race. The prizes are named for Dr. Frank Krause of Cranford, sponsor of the first-place awards. All race preregistrants will receive a commemorative T-shirt; runners who register on the day of the race will receive T-shirts while the supply lasts. Watches donated by Casio, a corporate sponsor of the race, will go to the top three finishers in each age group, first place teams in the partners categories and winners in the heavyweight divisions. The Office Bar and Restaurant of Cranford will provide discount coupons for all race participants and post-race fruit refreshments for all finishers.

The Central Jersey Chiropractic Society, another race sponsor, will host a running clinic to coincide with Firecracker Four-Miler. The clinic will begin at 8 a.m. in Nomahegan Park and will conclude at noon. Area doctors of chiropractic will speak on the following topics: choosing proper running shoes, correct running techniques, proper stretching and warm-up procedures, and avoiding injury. The clinic is open to all, free of charge. For more information, call Dr. Edward Burdulia at 276-4971.

Other organizations sponsoring the race include: All-State Legal Supply, Elizabethtown Gas, First Fidelity, FrozeFruit, Gold Medal Fitness of Cranford, McDowell's Oil Heat, Meeker-Sharkey-MacBean, United Counties Trust Company and United Jersey Bank-Central.

Cranford Girls Scouts and Boy Scouts will assist at the race. The Girl Scouts will staff the water station at the half-way mark and the Boy Scouts will man the finish line water station.

The Firecracker Four-Miler is being coordinated by Jack Martin, Westfield High School track coach. The course is newly certified by The Athletics Congress. Timing will be kept by Mogendorf Timing Systems and the instant race results will be available from Compuscore. Following the race, all winners will receive a mailing verifying their individual performance.

Entries can be obtained locally from Gold Medal Fitness of Cranford or from the Cranford Community Center on Bloomingdale Avenue. For more information or for entries, call John Bashaw at 276-4818.

Golf team ties school mark for most victories in season

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

With one senior and a handful of juniors, coach Ray Yanchus anticipated that his Jonathan Dayton High School Golf team would be good this year.

But would his team be able to better last year's 19-11 mark? Well, that depended on many things.

Now looking back on the 1991 campaign it's easy to see that Yanchus had the talent necessary to complete another top-notch season.

And that talent was led by senior Scott Byrd. Headed to Yanchus' alma mater — Wilkes (Pa.) University — his 41 average sparked the Bulldogs to a 20-10 record. Jonathan Dayton managed to win 20 matches on just one other occasion, that coming in 1983.

"We were expecting to do well because of our record last year," said Yanchus, who just completed his 21st year at the helm. "The kids performed consistently to win a lot of matches. We also have some carry over for next year with eight letter-winners returning."

Byrd, the team's No. 1 player, lettered all four years and earned second-team All-County and All-Conference honors this season.

"He was very steady for us this year," Yanchus said. "He didn't have much support his first couple of years, but the other guys came along and developed to the point where they could help him. He played his best golf this season."

Byrd was a silver medalist in the Mountain Valley Conference Tournament, one of only two golfers that broke 80. He shot 79 for second place.

"His strength is in his long shot," Yanchus said. "He was taught how to play at an early age, so his local knowledge of greens is good. He has patience when needed."

Pre-camp program Monday

The YM-YWHA of Union County, located on the Green Lane in Union, is proud to offer its annual pre-camp vacation program on Monday and Tuesday.

The program fills the gap between school and camp, which is especially useful for working parents.

On Monday the children will be going bowling and getting prizes and on Tuesday they will participate in a seasonal field walk and nature presentation at the Trailside Nature Center in Mountainside. Their time at the "Y" will be spent swimming, doing arts and crafts, playing sports and games and even seeing a movie if time permits.

The program is open to children ages 6-10 years of age and runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The fee is $15 for members and $20 for non-members.

For more information and to request a registration form contact Lynda Friedman at the "Y" at 289-8112.

Baseball added

Union County College will add a baseball camp to its list of activities in its "College for Kids" program this summer.

The week-long camp is designed to teach youngsters, ages 8-16, the fundamentals of baseball. The camp will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., July 15-19. For more information call 709-7601.

The Bulldogs' No. 2 golfer this year was junior Steve Kleinman. A two-time letter-winner, Kleinman was the low man in the Union County Tournament at Rutgers and state tournament at Echo Lake in Westfield. He shot an 84 on the course at Rutgers and a 90 at Echo Lake.

"He seemed to play better in tournaments," Yanchus said. "I think he bore down and concentrated more."

Other juniors included Brett Winter, Ryan Feeley, Bob Johnson, Chad Oberhauser and Mark Bowen. All were letter winners with Feeley and Oberhauser gaining their third and Winter and Johnson their second.

The team was rounded out by sophomore David Santos and freshmen Paul Santos, David's brother, and Brian Anderson — all letter winners.

"Brett was our most consistent golfer over the last half of the season," Yanchus said. "He wasn't spectacular, but he consistently turned in scores between 40 and 44."

Jonathan Dayton finished third in the Mountain Valley Conference Tournament and fourth in the Mountain Division of the Mountain Valley Conference. The Bulldogs also finished fourth in the 11-team Union County Tournament field.

The Bulldogs having a successful season is in direct correlation to their relationship to the Baltusrol Golf Club, which allows them to practice and hold matches at its famous layout.

Byrd was the only one to shoot an even par on the Upper Course at Baltusrol this year. His 36 helped Jonathan Dayton top both Roselle and West Orange in a tri-match.

Angels capture title

The Mountainside Little League season ended last week with the Angels of the American League taking the league championship and the Astros claiming the playoff title. The Major League Champions were the Mets and the playoff champions were the Cubs.

In playoff game results, the Astros topped the Yankees 4-3. The Yankees lead 3-0 after three innings. Yankee batters Jason Guidiciopetro, Tice Gunther and Nick Mancinelli each singled and Derrick Whitenour had a single and double to drive in two of the runs. Shaun Kroon, Ryan Farhion and Mark Cantagallo all had hits for the Astros. Eric Cantagallo pushed the Astros ahead in the bottom of the third with a three-run home run to give them their first playoff game win.

In their second playoff game, the Astros topped the Indians 6-0. Mark Cantagallo, Brandon Cantagallo, Tim Britt, Shaun Kroon, Ryan Farhion and Andrew Dubno each singled for the Astros. Eric Cantagallo doubled twice and finished with three RBI. Mark Cantagallo recorded three strikeouts on the mound. Mike Debbie had six putouts at first base, including an unassisted double play. Philip Statile doubled and Evan Chiswick singled for the Indians.

The Cubs' Shaun Farhion struck out 17 Pirates and allowed only one hit, to Chris McPhearson, as the Cubs defeated the Pirates 19-0. Kevin McDonough had two singles and a triple for three RBI. Adam Benninger singled twice, Tom Tancred doubled in two runs, Shaun Farhion went 4 for 4 with three singles and a double, Pat Collins had two singles and a triple that drove in three runs, Joe Leone had a three-run double and Sal and Jimmy Russo each singled.

Swim team goes 6-2

The Swim Team of the YM-YWHA of Union County, Green Lane, has just completed its session for the 1990-91 League Season.

The group finished a very successful season under the direction of Michael Frost. Having merged with the JCC of Middlesex County, the team ended the year with a 6-2 record. For the League State Championships, the boys finished in first place and the girls came in third.

Currently, the JWB Swim League of the Union County "Y" consists of Adam Fineman, Sarah Cohen, Tzipora Kaplan, Merisa Vinnick, Michael Ann Regan, and Michelle Steiner. The team is anticipating continued growth and is currently seeking out new members. The first series of try-outs will be during the summer, and then again in early fall.

Requirements are "Y" Family membership and the child must know how to swim. Practices are held on Thursdays from 5-7 p.m., and again on Sunday mornings.

More information is available from Michael Frost, aquatics and physical education director, at 289-8112.

Kean Soccer Camp

The Kean College men's soccer program will conduct its eighth annual summer soccer camp for boys and girls, ages 6-17, on four different sessions, beginning in late June and lasting until early August.

Kean head soccer coach, Tony Ochrimenko, last fall's New Jersey Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, will direct the camp.

There are four different sessions beginning June 24-28. The other sessions will run July 14-19, July 21-26 and July 28-August 2.

Ochrimenko led the Cougars to a 17-6 record and a berth in the NCAA Tournament last season. The squad was voted the top team in the state and won its fifth NJAC crown.

Further information is available by calling Ochrimenko at 527-2936 or 761-0625.

Steindecker on TV

Jerry Steindecker, general manager of the professional tennis team the New Jersey Stars, will appear on Suburban Cablevision's "Eye on Sports" program tonight at 6:30 on TV-3.

Steindecker will discuss this year's tour and players with host Matt Loughlin on the weekly sports show. "Eye on Sports" will be repeated at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Track star honored for academic efforts

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

Two things every high school upperclassman looks forward to are going to the prom and graduation. And for seniors that are recognized for their academic or athletic distinction, there are moments in between that can be just as satisfying.

Union's Kahsime Simmons experienced a few of those precious moments in one recent weekend.

The talented sprinter who finished third in the state this year in the 100-meter dash, was recognized for his classroom excellence by being the recipient of two academic scholarships, receiving one on Saturday, June 8 and another the following day. His prom was on that weekend's Friday evening.

As Kahsime was getting ready to go to his prom at the Birchwood Manor in Whippany, he already knew that he would have to make a speech the next day at the Marriott Hotel at Newark International Airport to receive one of three scholarships awarded by The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc.

And later that Friday his mom Florine was notified by phone that Kahsime was one of five seniors awarded the J.G. Bryant and Lillian Carter Memorial Scholarship. This honor would be bestowed upon him on the Sunday of that weekend at the First Baptist Church in Union.

So, Simmons went to his prom on a Friday night and received scholarships each of the following two days. Not a bad 48 hours.

Simmons became the first male to receive the Phi Delta Kappa scholarship, worth $2000 towards his college education.

That will be spent at Kutztown University, a small liberal arts college in Kutztown, Pa.

"I saw the scholarship posted on the school bulletin board and decided to give it a shot," said Simmons, who, as the youngest, will be the first of four children in his family to attend college. "I didn't realize that I was the first male to receive the scholarship until I got there."

Simmons was the second-place scholarship winner with the first and third-place award winners being girls from other New Jersey high schools. The three were honored at a luncheon at the Marriott.

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc. is an organization of black educators whose purpose is to assist young black men and women who plan to enter college for training in the field of teaching or other related fields.

Dancer's life mirrors her role in 'A Chorus Line'

By Ben Smith
Lifestyle Editor

If anyone knows about life as a chorus dancer in a chorus line, it's Jan Leigh Herndon. The curvaceous, attractive performer, who made her Broadway debut as Sheila, the sardonic, sarcastic dancer in "A Chorus Line," recreates her role in the current Paper Mill Playhouse production in Millburn. She was with the musical since 1980 in road shows, national tours and on Broadway.

Herndon knows what it's like to be a hooper, to dance her heart out. . . she knows what the hoofers in "A Chorus Line" are all about, because she's one too. " 'A Chorus Line' is very much a show about the Broadway gypsy," she said. "And these days, there's a definite fear among the gypsies."

Gypsies? "A gypsy," she explained, "is really someone who makes a living dancing or working on Broadway for a long time. . . and mainly makes his or her living at it. And that's what we all are. Also," Herndon said, " 'A Chorus Line' is really a show about survival."

Herndon joined "A Chorus Line" about five or six years after its inception. "I did several touring companies of the show before they brought me in off the road to replace someone. That was about a year and a half ago. I did the part of Sheila in New York for about three months. It was a short gig but it was a great time."

"I had a chance to work with the national tour in 1982, which was a bus and truck company. I played only cities and one-night stands in towns I never even heard of before."

"During the national tour, producer Michael Bennett tried to update the show, which had been running for about six or seven years. But after touring for about five or six months, he decided to change everything back to the original."

Herndon admitted that there is a lot of truth to this particular show. Before it was written, she said, "Broadway was at an all-time low. That was in the mid-1970s. A lot of dancers got together with him and asked, 'What are we going to do?' That was when Bennett had a talk session and brought people together to talk about their lives in the theater. He developed a concept through the workshops which were held to try stories out and see if they could materialize into a Broadway show."

"Bennett," she said, "was responsible for a whole new world of thought behind producing Broadway shows."

Herndon mused, "Michael was really a very interesting character. He was brilliant in conceiving ideas and putting them into action. He had a brilliant vision — a real eye for how to set the tone and mood of people. And he was a wonderful collaborator. He managed to get the best people to work together — all with a common cause."

"In addition," she said with awe, "he originated a commercial show with no stars! And the show has a much better appeal for people who are not in the theater industry."

Herndon sighed. "I've been with the show for a long time — from 1980 off and on for the last 11 years. I also spent some time where I played Cassie. Actually," she said, "just last summer I got to play Sheila after eight years. Robert Longbottom, who is assistant to the director in the Paper Mill production, was the director of the production in Long Island. That's when I got to play Sheila again. Sheila is actually a very vulnerable woman with a steel-plated personality. She hides her vulnerability through her sarcasm."

Herndon, who was born in North Carolina, came to New York in 1977. "I did a lot of dinner theater, much of it out of New York." She played Rita in "Educating Rita," Eva in "Evita," Fastrada in "Pippin," Lola in "Damn Yankees," Masha in "Hollywood/Ukraine," and Diane in "Lend Me a Tenor." She also has studied at the North Carolina School of the Arts and with Uta Hagen.

" 'Chorus Line' was my first big break," she said, "and my first connection with Broadway and a Broadway production. I must admit," she smiled, "that 'A Chorus Line' is my mother show. I would like to do more acting, but I will dance as long as I can. I'm actually living this role more closely because I've been a dancer for so long. I'd like to act more, and I'm singing a lot. But basically, it's the same career."

Outside of the role of Sheila, Herndon said she loved doing Lola in "Damn Yankees." "I love those spitfire roles, and I've done a number of them. I've played a lot of outspoken women with red hair."

"And in this show, I came to the role of Sheila with brown hair. It was Mr. Bennett's idea to change the color of my hair. 'You're playing the vixen,' he said, 'and you need to draw a little more attention. You can't do it with brown hair.'

"So, I became a red head," she chuckled. "And I have been ever since."

Fashion students bring show to Cranford

More than 160 people packed the Coachman Inn in Cranford to watch the "International Festival, 1991," a fashion show presented by European Academy of Cosmetology students.

All of the fashions, created and presented by students of EAC, reflected 37 nations from around the world. Clothing, make-up, hair and nail artistry were all designed by European Academy students. Master of ceremonies, Santo Trapani, presided over the evening's presentations, as well as giving insight into each fashion category.

In addition to fashions, there were on display artifacts and curios from the countries represented. This allowed an even more in-depth insight into the fashions and cultures of the various countries.

Commenting on the festival, Antonio Trapani, director of education for EAC, said, "This fashion show is created, designed and produced entirely by European Academy students. Our curriculum is designed for the hands-on training of our students combined with classic classroom instruction. The fashion show enables our students to combine these two methods of teaching into one unit and actually apply what they have learned. Not only is it the best education, it's also fun for the students."

In attendance at the show were parents, teachers and friends of the students, as well as many salon owners. Also attending were Richard Griswold and Jay Malanga, secretary and chairman of the board of cosmetology, respectively.

For more information, contact the European Academy of Cosmetology at 1126 Morris Ave. in Union at 908-686-4422.

Glenn Miller Orchestra

Paper Mill welcomes orchestra

The Paper Mill Playhouse opens its Summer Festival 1991 season with the Glenn Miller Orchestra. The orchestra was formed in 1956 to carry on Miller's original swinging style. Today, the band, led by trombonist Larry O'Brien, is made up of 19 musicians and the "Moonlight Serenaders" singing trio. Their entire repertoire exceeds 1,700 compositions, including original Miller arrangements of "In the Mood," "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" and some modern selections in the big band style. The performance is on July 9 at 8 p.m.

The New Jersey Ballet, Paper Mill's resident ballet company, will appear on July 11 at 8 p.m. This year, the company finished a historic tour to Moscow, performing for more than 50,000 Russians at the Kremlin Palace. The Paper Mill performance will premiere Balanchine's "Concerto Barocco" and Gray's jazz ballet, "Three Derivations," to a score by Morton Gould. The company will also perform the popular Robert North work, "Entre Dos Aguas."

Preservation Hall Jazz Band of New Orleans will be at Paper Mill for its sixth consecutive year on July 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. Their musical form grew out of the sounds of the streets, the saloons and the music of the Mississippi riverboats. When not on tour, the band still plays at the old Preservation Hall in the French Quarter of New Orleans.

Tickets for each of the events are $24, orchestra, and $20, mezzanine. Mastercard and Visa are accepted and group rates are available. Call the box office at 376-4343.

Guide helps families deal with pet's death

Frisky Jones died at 9 p.m. on May 22, 1991, just three hours shy of his 24th birthday. The pet dog would have been almost 168 years old in human terms. Having truly lived a full and enriched life, the dog's death was hard on the family, and much harder on the younger children, as grief is natural, and because their parents could not answer all the important questions such as why Frisky had to die, whether he went to heaven and more.

"Death of A Pet" is an informative awareness guide for children and animal lovers, which has been created to answer the questions most commonly asked by children about pet death. The pet could be any kind, large or small, lost by death or disappearance, or through the need to remove the pet from the household for any reason.

Inquiries regarding the "Death of A Pet" guide should be sent to the USCQCN Survival Associates Network, P.O. Box 350, East Orange 07019. Inquiries are requested to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for complete details.

Bolge named arts center director

The trustees of the New Jersey Center for Visual Arts in Summit have appointed George S. Bolge as executive director.

Bolge served as executive director of the Museum of Art in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., between 1970 and 1988, when the trustees appointed him Director Emeritus in recognition of his administrative, educational and academic achievements. During his tenure at the Museum of Art, Bolge was instrumental in fostering the center with an operating budget of $100,000 and a staff of eight and developing it into a nationally accredited fine arts museum with a $1.8 million annual budget, a professional staff of more than 50, and a statewide, recognized multi-discipline education and fine arts exhibition program. Bolge led successful fundraising efforts for three complete building campaigns which culminated in the opening of a new facility in 1985 designed by the eminent architect Edward Larabee Barnes.

In addition, Bolge organized, designed and installed more than 200 major regional, national and international exhibitions including Pierre-Auguste Renoir, (complete graphic oeuvre), Matta, Leon Kroll, Alice Neel, Conrad Marca-Relli, Emilio Sanchez, Andrew Wyeth and Norman Rockwell. Bolge has written and published more than 150 exhibition catalogs and contributed more than 100 scholarly essays to regional and national art publications. Under Bolge's leadership, the Museum of Art's Permanent Collection grew from less than 100 objects to more than 3,000 works valued in excess of $27 million; he expanded areas of the collection to include photography, Pre-Columbian and Historic American Indian Art, Oceanic Art, West African Tribal Art, Indonesian Art, International Structuralist Art and Cobra Art.

Since 1988, Bolge has been involved in fine arts management consulting in the areas of Modern, European and American Art; among his recent projects are a cultural arts and fiscal development plan for Mercer Community College in Trenton; a Fine Arts Program for the recently opened, new Broward Center for the Performing Arts, and an appointment as curatorial consultant to Broward

County for its art in public places program.

Bolge also brings a formidable academic background to his position as executive director of New Jersey Center for Visual Arts. He holds B.A. and B.S. degrees from Rutgers University, where he was a Henry Rutgers Scholar in art history. He also earned an M.A. from the Institute of Fine Arts, New York University (in Greek and Roman archeology, with a minor in Primal Art) and was conferred an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from Nova University in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. In addition, Bolge was a Fellow of the National Trust for Historic Preservation at Colonial Williamsburg; he was also assistant curator in ancient art department of the Brooklyn Museum of Art.

Bolge is a member of the Appraisers Association of America, Inc., and has served as a consultant to the American Association of Museums in the Museum Assessment Program for Collections Management. Bolge's involvement in community service through the years includes membership in the following: Downtown Arts Committee, Community Redevelopment Agency for the city of Hollywood, Fla.; Art in Public Places Professional Advisory Committee, Metropolitan Dade County, Fla.; Broward Cultural Affairs Council; Art in Public Places Committee, Broward County, Fla., and the city of Ft. Lauderdale Community Appearance Board.

Commenting on the appointment, NJCVA President Evelyn Powers said, "We look forward to Bolge's arrival. His credentials and extensive background will be very valuable to the future growth of NJCVA. Ann Stein, chair of the NJCVA board's Secret Committee adds, "I'm confident that the center will benefit greatly from George's enthusiastic and innovative leadership."

Bolge said, "The most exciting aspect of my appointment as the executive director of New Jersey Center for Visual Arts is the opportunity to work with such a knowledgeable and motivated volunteer corps. These dedicated men and women constitute an invaluable resource to NJCVA. With their active participation and support, the professional staffs will be able to construct and to deliver meaningful programs to the community."

Stagework sets the stage for summer entertainment

For serious entertainment-seekers, the play's the thing. And Stageworks/Summit has put together a season of plays guaranteed to tickle funnybones and send shivers up spines. Sometimes at the same time.

The company will open with Richard Nelson's "Jungle Coup," a black comedy. The second production will be Orson Welles' stage adaptation of "Moby Dick," Melville's tale of adventure and revenge.

Both dramas have been directed by Robert Pridham. Past seasons have displayed Pridham's vision in productions of "Talk Radio," "Frankenstein," "Total Abandon," and the American premiere of Stephen King's "Ghost Stories."

"Jungle Coup" has not been seen since a Playwright's Horizons 1978 production which starred Michael Moriarty. The play explores a journalist's effect on the news — and its effect on him — as he reports on a military uprising taking place largely in his imagination. Nelson also penned "Some Americans Abroad," which has been playing to full houses in London's West End for more than a year. "Jungle Coup" opens June 28. Other performances are June 29, and July 5, 6, 7, 10, 11, 12, and 13 all at 8 p.m.

"Moby Dick" opens July 18 and runs Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings through Aug. 10.

Stageworks/Summit is the area's only professional Equity company in operation during the summer. All performances are at 8 p.m. at the Arts Center Theater, Kent Place School, Summit. General admission is $15. Student and seniors, $12. Bargain subscriptions are $25.50 for adults, and $20.50 for students and seniors. Parking is free. Reserve seats by calling the box office at 908-273-9383.

Pet pageant is slated

"People For Animals," a non-profit animal welfare organization, has announced its annual Stray Pet Contest, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Trailside Nature and Science Center. Trailside is at Coles Avenue and New Providence Road in Mountainside. To register your pet for the contest, call Trailside at 908-232-5930 or register in person on the day of the contest from 1 to 2 p.m. Pet owners under 18 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

All pets that were rescued as a stray or were adopted from a humane organization are welcome to enter the contest. Cats must be in well-ventilated carriers and dogs must be on a leash. Ribbons and prizes will be awarded in many categories for both cats and dogs.

People For Animals will also exhibit many cats and dogs who are in need of homes. Permanent homes or foster homes are needed for these animals. Call 908-241-4954 or 908-355-6374 for adoption information.

1990 Stray Pet Contest prize winner with owner Kristen Pasterczyk of Mountainside. Enter your pet in the 1991 contest or adopt a pet on Sunday at Trailside in Mountainside.

Hakoshima is featured on local stages

The New Jersey Shakespeare Festival artistic director, Bonnie J. Monte, and Michael Stotts, general manager, presented Yass Hakoshima's "Imaginary Journey," on June 17 as one of its Monday Night Specials. "Imaginary Journey" was presented in association with Apollo Muses, which will feature Hakoshima in a workshop performance on Sunday at the Lu Shan Farm south of Chester.

Born and educated in Japan, Hakoshima combines the intensity of the Noh Theater of his homeland with the drama of classical mime and the athletic elements of American modern dance. His work is a fusion of East and West, a blending of music, art and literature. The New York Times, said "To watch Yass Hakoshima is to be captured and captivated. . . Unlike traditional mimes, he is less involved with reproducing exact movements than with drawing his audience. . . into a realm where dreams can be seen."

Hakoshima's career as a professional mime began in 1958, when he became a member of the first western pantomime group in Tokyo. Having taught mime at institutions throughout Europe and North America, Hakoshima has also choreographed plays by Jean Cocteau and Thornton Wilder, and completed several projects for film and television. In 1976, Hakoshima formed the Yass Hakoshi-ma Mime Theater, which has since received several grants from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

Apollo Muses brings a wide spectrum of visual and performing arts to New Jersey audiences, either at major public facilities or at its home base, the Lu Shan Farm.

Now entering its eighth year, Apollo Muses aims to assist young emerging artists and foster a continuing dialogue among the arts by providing an intimate, supportive environment. Past programs have included chamber and vocal concerts, theater presentations, demonstrations by dance companies, visits to artists' studios and various lectures and exhibitions exploring different artistic disciplines.

Hakoshima's workshop presentation will take place at the Lu Shan Farm on Sunday at 3 p.m. Tickets are $10 and available by calling 908-879-2428.

Presentation of Hakoshima's "Imaginary Journey" at NJSF was made possible in part by a grant from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation. The "Monday Night Specials" series is co-produced by Schering-Plough, Inc., with additional funding provided by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey

By Debbie Jordan

An extraordinary experience in variety is the best way to describe my recent visit to Finnagel's restaurant, located at 254 N. Broad St. in Elizabeth. The unusual array of menu items is perfectly complemented by the diversity of Finnagel's extensive beer and wine selections.

My lunch companion and I began with a pair of Canadian beers from a list of more than 60 bottled and draft choices, many of which we had not seen before.

Restaurant review

Although the restaurant specializes in steak and seafood, the menu includes many other specialties. Deciding what to order was difficult. Lunch items range from omelets to quiche, honey-dipped chicken and a wide assortment of sandwiches, all competitively priced.

Finnagel's

We chose two unfamiliar appetizers, which were as tasty as they were unique. The Pizza Skins combined the classic taste of potato skins with a zesty twist of marinara sauce and mozzarella cheese; and I can't say enough about the Nacho Pockets, which had a taste all their own. Neatniks will appreciate how easy they are to handle and the spicy flavor is out of this world.

We received excellent and friendly service from Teicia Joffe, who was very knowledgeable about the menu items. Her timing was just right — our steaming entrees were served seconds after our appetizers were cleared.

My lunch companion ordered Prime Rib and savored every tender bite. Even the french fries were noticeably delicious with their crispy outside and hot middles. Being a seafood lover, I chose one of the day's specials, Sherried Red Snapper, prepared to perfection by Chef Tito Herrera. It was absolutely delectable, and I strongly recommend it to anyone who enjoys the succulent flavor of fresh snapper.

My companion topped off his meal with a selection from the restaurant's wide dessert list. For people who don't have room for dessert — a more-than-likely possibility after diving into Finnagel's generous portions — a choice of after-dinner drinks and coffees is offered.

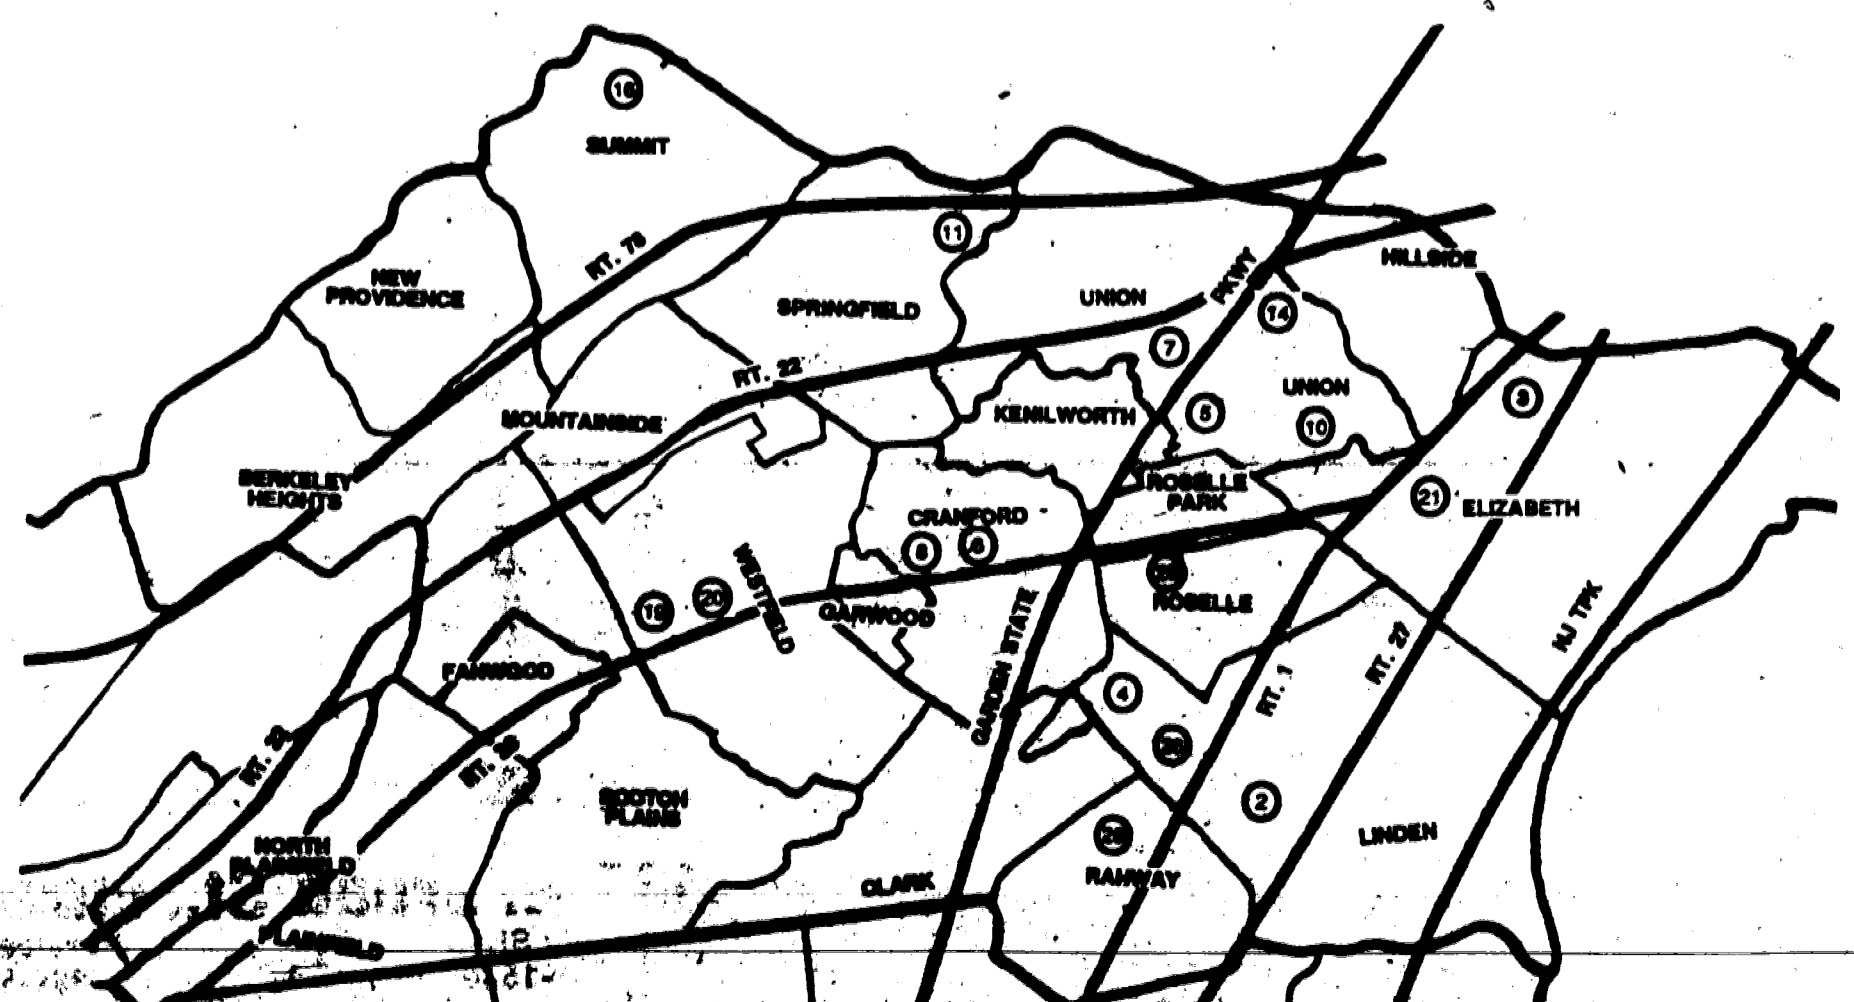

Finnagel's extensive dinner menu features many of the same items available on the lunch menu. The casual dining room atmosphere welcomes patrons into a relaxed setting in which to leisurely enjoy an exquisite meal. Couples might enjoy sitting in front of the fireplace in Finnagel's cocktail lounge. Those who prefer a more lively setting can listen to their favorite modern or classic rock music in the lavern, which is open until 3 a.m. Thursday through Saturday. A late-night menu is available, and the game room is well-furnished.

Bob Finne and Gary Nagel have owned the restaurant since 1981, and provide patrons with a number of offers too good to pass up. Monday through Wednesday, Mexican combinations are available for $7.95. Monday through Friday from 11:30 to 2:30, Philly Cheese Steaks are $3.95. Thursday and Friday's shrimp festival includes barbecue, cajun, scampi, kabobs or alfredo variations for $7.95. All-you-can-eat Prime Rib is available every Sunday for $10.95, and Monday through Friday happy hours include 50 cents off drink prices and a complimentary buffet.

Finnagel's is open seven days a week. Lunch Monday through Saturday 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dinner Monday through Friday 5 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Sunday dinner 1 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Located at 254 N. Broad St., Elizabeth; 289-5250.

American values are reflected in today's Peugeot

From Wall Street to Main Street, America's values are changing. As the race succumbs to the human race, people are making time for family, friends, personal interests and community affairs.

Global concerns have taken precedence over self-fulfillment and conspicuous consumption with disregard for the environment is downright crass. Back-to-the-basics is back in vogue and high-quality products with an affordable price tag are on America's shopping list.

According to Daniel Petit, national marketing manager for Peugeot Motors of America, Inc., the European automaker builds cars that embody this changing attitude. "As the world's second-oldest automaker, Peugeot has thrived on substance over flash for more than 100 years," he said.

Today, the Peugeot 405 sedan and Sportwagon are intelligently engineered and reasonably priced to meet the high standards of value-conscious consumers. A long list of standard features, extensive warranties, and affordable leasing and finance programs make the Peugeot 405 an uncommon value among European imports.

"Caring consumers know that responsible ownership and a deep-rooted concern for the environment are essential to our future well-being," Petit said. To that end, the Peugeot 405 was designed to be fuel-efficient and clean-burning without sacrificing performance.

A state-of-the-art engine management system with oxygen sensor optimizes the air to fuel mixture and reduces harmful emissions. A specially designed combustion chamber and three-way catalytic converter ensure faster, more complete combustion.

At the automaker's main production facility in Sochaux, France, painstaking measures are taken to protect the environment from industrial pollution.

In the hermetically-sealed paint shop, computer-controlled, electrostatic paint nozzles that rotate at 40,000 RPM are used instead of air guns to apply paint. In addition to ensuring a flawless finish, this method prevents harmful paint particles from "flying" through the air and reduces the need for toxic paint thinners.

On the home front, Peugeot Motors of America, Inc. recently introduced a battery replacement program designed to help protect the environment. "Junk" batteries are disposed of at smelters, approved by the Environmental Protection Agency; hazardous materials are then extracted from the batteries and recycled.

In France, Peugeot S.A. is embarking on an experimental car recycling program designed to reduce solid waste, provide cost-effective reuse of automotive parts, and convert non-recyclable components into clean fuel which will power cement plants and minimize pollution.

Having spent the last 10 years in the fast lane, where a volatile stock market and deepening recession left an indelible mark, baby boomers are reevaluating their priorities. So, it comes as no surprise that the birth rate is up and family time is, today's blue-chip commodity. Consequently, automotive safety is a household concern, said Petit.

The Peugeot 405 reflects this concern with "active" safety features that help drivers avoid an accident and "passive" safety features designed to protect occupants in the event of an accident.

The 405 has front-wheel-drive to maximize traction and dynamic stability under all road and weather conditions. Four-wheel disc brakes, vented in front and load-sensing in the rear, enhance stopping ability. An anti-lock braking system, which helps drivers maintain directional control during "panic" stops, is standard on the 405 Mi 16 and S series.

Four-wheel independent suspension with front and rear anti-sway bars also enhances directional stability and driver comfort. Power-assisted rack-and-pinion steering responds precisely and quickly to driver input while offering good road feel.

Specially engineered front and rear "crumple" zones absorb impact at a controlled rate while keeping the passenger compartment intact. Reinforced lateral supports in the doors help absorb the forces of a side impact.

In the cockpit, the well-padded steering wheel is designed to collapse progressively to absorb the energy of a severe impact. The heavily padded dashboard and three-point rear safety belts also help protect occupants.

Peugeot offers several station wagons for America's growing family. The 405 Sportwagon, available in DL and S versions, is the ideal car for families with two small children. "It offers flexible cargo space without sacrificing the safety, style and handling characteristics of the 405 sedan," Petit said.

The Peugeot 405 is intelligently engineered and reasonably priced to meet the high standards of value-conscious consumers.

For families with at least two children from six-years-old to teenage, the larger Peugeot 505 station wagon is the vehicle of choice. The five-passenger 505 DL has more cargo space than any other European station wagon.

Watch children during the summer months

Summer weather is here and school's almost out. While our thoughts are on making the most of warmer weather, now is also the time to take extra care to watch out for the "kids."

"When school's out, more children are out and about all day instead of just before or after school. Watching out for kids requires us to re-adjust our attention," said Paul Kielblock, safety manager for the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club in Florham Park. "In January when we commute home in the dark most of us can safely assume that most children are inside. But now that the sun is out in the early evening, so are kids.

"We have to be extra careful at all times, not just during our commute. A child's summer time plans usually involve all day fun. And, that means his attention is far from basic traffic safety rules."

AAA's Kielblock offers the following advice to help motorists "Watch Out for the Kids:"

- Be extra alert near parked cars. You never know when a child will dart into the street.
- Drive at or under the posted speed limit in residential areas (25 mph unless posted otherwise).

- Use extra caution near playgrounds, school yards and ball fields.
- Never speed through parking lots. Small children can't be seen around cars.

□ Watch for children near recreation areas, parks and pools. Safety isn't a child's top priority when he's intent on cooling off in the pool or playing in the park.

□ Be alert for children on bicycles. They can appear out of nowhere and dart in front of you car.

□ Conduct a safety check before backing your car or truck out of a driveway or parking space. Walk completely around your vehicle to be sure there isn't a small child playing behind or near it.

To help promote the "School's Out — Watch Out for the Kids" safety message, the New Jersey Automobile Club Foundation for Safety is making posters available free of charge to post near your home or business. Posters can be picked up at the AAA offices located at 1 Hanover Road in Florham Park; 191 Mountain Ave. in Springfield; or 486 Route 10 West, Sterling Plaza Mall in Randolph.

Dealer earns accolades

Thomas Lincoln-Mercury has been awarded Ford Motor Company's highest honor for customer satisfaction, the Chairman's Award, which recognized the top 2 percent of its dealer body.

With 5,400 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers nationwide, Thomas Lincoln-Mercury ranked among the top 129 dealerships in the country.

"You have demonstrated outstanding dedication, enthusiasm and a tireless commitment to the total satisfaction of your customers," said Ford Chairman Harold A. "Red" Poling in comments at the award ceremony.

The Chairman's Award honors the dealer's scoring highest on customer satisfaction surveys. Customers rate dealers in all areas of sales, service, technical proficiency and convenience. Five dealers have received the award each year since 1985.

Thomas Lincoln-Mercury, located at 369 South Ave., East, in Westfield, has won the Chairman's Award for the third time.

CONDOMINIUMS

217 Prospect Ave., • Cranford, N.J. 07016

IN 2 YEARS...

DON'T BE CAUGHT SAYING —

"I should have bought a condo at English Village when"

- English Village prices were low.
- English Village provided low sponsor.
- I could have been receiving tax benefits as a homeowner.
- I had a chance to build equity and appreciation with each mortgage payment.
- I wouldn't still be paying off my landlords mortgage with my exorbitant rent.
- My after tax payment would have probably been less than my current rent.
