SECTION B

County Seat

By Chris Gatto

Like so many other disenchanted Major League Baseball fans this year, I figured I'd voice my protest by taking in a minor league ball game. You know, to hell with major-leaguers and all.

On Saturday, having seen the New Jersey Cardinals in Sussex County last year — and the fact that the team was playing a road game — a friend and I decided to head to Trenton for a little "Thunder ball."

We figured we'd leave early — on what was I believe the hottest day I have ever experienced in New Jersey — so that we could get to the waterfront stadium a little early to take in some batting practice. We had hoped to see "Pork Chop" Pough poke a few over the wall during warmups. It may not exactly be the same as watching Mark McGwire, but hey, not only is a Thunder game less expensive, there's also a better chance the team will play a full season.

Anyway, the directions to the ballpark seemed simple. We headed south on the Parkway, hooked up with the Turnpike, then to 195 West, where we got off at Exit 7A. Then, trouble began. There were no signs telling us how to get to the stadium; we were basically on our own. Turns out we took a wrong turn and headed down Route 206 South, traveling several miles out of the way before finally giving in and deciding we had gone too far.

Since my car was running low on gas, we stopped at an Amoco station and asked for directions. Needing gas gave us a good excuse to ask for directions. You know, guys never need to ask for directions. We were caught off guard a bit when the attendant greeted us with an Irish accent. All I could think is, here we are, two guys who have spent our whole lives in New Jersey, asking an Irish immigrant, who admitted he was not "too familiar" with the area, how to get to a baseball park in Trenton. Despite our reservations about adhering to his directions, they were on the money.

When we arrived at the stadium, we found several things not typically associated with a major league ballgame — plenty of parking, short concession lines and a soldout stadium.

We walked into the stadium after picking up our standing-room-only tickets — just $3 apiece — just in time for the singing of the National Anthem. We grabbed a "Thunder Dog" and something to wash it down with, found a seat in right field and soaked in the atmosphere. We also got soaking wet because of the sweltering heat.

Thundering into the lead was the Trenton squad, whose pitchers hurled a perfect game into the sixth inning. We couldn't quite figure out why there was a pitching change for the Thunder after the third inning, but for whatever reason it was a combined no hitter until the Bowie Baysox mounted a comeback. Interestingly enough, the visitors scored their first run without a hit.

Once the perfect game and no hitter had been broken, I started

A police presence

Union County Prosecutor Andrew K. Ruotolo Jr., center, congratulates members of the Union County Emergency Response Team for their efforts in helping to end the June 18 riot at the Immigration and Naturalization Service center operated in Elizabeth by the Esmor Corp. Ruotolo said the 63-member special tactical unit and a county Hostage Negotiations Team helped quell the disturbance when inmates who had taken over the building and destroyed much of its contents were captured after a five-hour standoff without serious injuries or any shots fired.

PA graduates new police officers

The Port Authority welcomed 49 new police officers into the ranks of its police force during a graduation ceremony recently held at the Radisson Hotel in Newark.

Port Authority Executive Director George J. Marlin, who administered the oath of office, was joined in honoring the new officers by Port Authority Chairwoman Kathleen A. Donovan, the graduates' families and friends, and representatives of local, state and federal law enforcement agencies.

New officers who reside in Union County municipalities include the following: Gerald Colligan, Roselle Park; Gary Wells, Roselle, and Jeffrey Hayes, Union.

"These new police officers will be the front line in providing the indispensable ingredient of safety for the hundreds of thousands of people who use our trade and transportation facilities every day," Donovan said. "They will be ambassadors to these customers, who come from all walks of life not only in the New York/New Jersey region but from throughout the country and all over the world. They also will be valuable assets to the regional economy in ensuring that commerce continues to flow, unfettered by crime, through our facilities."

Marlin said: "I know first-hand of the dedication and professionalism of police officers because both my father and grandfather were proud members of the New York City Police Department. Law enforcement takes a special kind of individual — one who is honest, brave, resourceful and compassionate. I'm sure that our new officers possess these qualities and will be a credit to the Port Authority and the region for years to come."

The 49 new officers underwent about six months of intensive training at the Port Authority Police Academy in Jersey City, and other facilities. They were instructed in police science, first responder first aid, firefighting, basic water safety, self defense, the laws of New York and New Jersey, Port Authority rules and regulations, cultural sensitivity, interpersonal communication and other subjects.

"Our new officers are now a part of a police force that is like no other," said Charles Knox, director of Public Safety and superintendent of police for the Port Authority. "Their jurisdiction covers the states of New York and New Jersey in their entirety. They'll be patrolling transportation and commerce facilities rather than neighborhoods. And those assigned to our airports also will perform the dual function of firefighter in their roles as first responders to all aircraft emergencies. Their training, done under the auspices of our fine staff at the police academy, reflects these unique aspects of their jobs."

The new officers were instructed by the police academy's two lieutenants and 14 sergeants, under the command of Capt. Francis P. Carcich, and several guest lecturers with specific expertise.

The Port Authority Police Force, founded in 1928, is the 26th largest law enforcement agency in the U.S., with some 1,400 personnel.

HUD funds help county homeless

By Chris Gatto
Regional Editor

Rep. Bob Franks, in announcing a $500,000 plus grant for county housing projects, declared it a victory for necessity over bureaucracy.

Franks, R-Union, speaking with Union County Republican freeholders, said this week that the Supportive Housing Program grant will be used to help disabled homeless people, marking a change in previous years in which funds would get lost in the web of bureaucracy at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

A staunch proponent of downsizing government, Franks argued on behalf of continuation of the program from which the county will receive $547,882 for housing during the next three years. The county last year had applied for $2 million, but was denied.

The Housing Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee last week voted to consolidate three programs that fund construction of new housing for the disabled, AIDS victims and the elderly. In addition, said Franks, it seeks to cut funding by about $800 million for programs such as the one the county is taking advantage of this year.

"While I recognize that HUD, which oversees these housing programs, has been plagued by mismanagement and excessive administrative costs, this cut goes too far," said Franks in reading a prepared statement during a Monday morning press conference in Elizabeth.

Franks said he and 20 other members of the House met on July 13 with House Majority Whip Tom DeLay to seek his assistance in restoring a "major portion" of the cut "so that we can continue meeting our commitment to provide housing to those with special needs."

This program not only provides shelter for homeless people suffering from AIDS and mental illness, it offers other support services that are intended to help these individuals live independent, productive lives.

The county's application was submitted in partnership with Bridgeway House, Inc. and the Interfaith Council for the Homeless, Inc. The two housing providers are multi-service. See COUNTY, Page B3

Expansion, renovations on horizon for college

Kean College of New Jersey's Graduate Student Council recently donated $20,000 in support of the college's New Horizons Campaign, the first capital campaign in college history which seeks to raise $3 million to expand and renovate the library.

In a June 26 resolution to the college's Board of Trustees, the council recognized the need to make a significant contribution toward the education of graduate students at Kean College and indicated its commitment to providing graduate students with adequate resources for continued research in varied disciplines.

According to Martin Odom, council president, many graduate students expressed interest in more up-to-date journals and other materials that relate to their studies. "It was important for us to become part of a project the entire campus community is working on. As graduate students, we felt we should make a lasting contribution from which students can benefit from in years to come," he said.

The gift represents, to date, the largest contribution made to the college by the council.

County, feds move to house homeless

Officials said that the county's permanent support housing will be increased by 8 units and 25 beds with the additional funding. Of the 5,000 homeless people in Union County, Human Services Director Rosita Fleicher said about 1/3 have some type of disability. Not all, though, meet the grant's criteria, she noted.

Under the project, "Housing SUCCESS," goals are as follows: to provide 75 percent of affected individuals with permanent housing for up to one year, for 70 percent to increase skills and/or income; 100 percent to be linked to appropriate community resources, and 65 percent to achieve greater self-determination through stability and self-sufficiency.

Officials said that if permanent housing allowance expires for affected individuals they still may be eligible for other support services.

Barbara Aaronoff, executive director of Interfaith Council for the Homeless of Union County, said the group will provide four residences, all in Plainfield.

Cory Storch, executive director of Bridgeway House, said his group is responsible for providing four two-bedroom residences in Union County.

His group is in the process of identifying sites, and has made a commitment not to purchase units in Elizabeth or Plainfield. Storch said the highest concentration of homeless people is in urban areas, but there also is a need in suburban areas. Bridgeway House is considering residences in "the middle of the county," said Storch.

According to Storch, HUD requires that no more than 30 percent of the funds go toward rent.

Franks hailed the county's Housing SUCCESS initiative as a "model" program, which brings together government, non-profit community organizations and business leaders to address homeless needs.

In accepting a facsimile check from Franks, during the press conference held at the county's Administration Building in the freeholders' sixth floor meeting room. Freeholder Chairwoman Linda Di Giovanni expressed her gratitude. "Union County thanks Congressman Franks for bringing this to us. It couldn't come at a needier time," she said.

Equally grateful was Freeholder Frank Lehr, who thanked Franks, a "Union County boy," for "not forgetting his roots" despite what is now a national focus for the former state assemblyman.

Aaronoff said there were more than 3,000 applicants for funding nationwide, 818 of which were approved. About $900 million was provided to communities throughout the United States, she said.

In a press statement, DiGiovanni noted that Union County was one of 13 out of 47 applicants from New Jersey which was approved for funds.

The target of Housing SUCCESS, or Housing Services Unified by County-wide Collaboration to Ensure Stability and Self-sufficiency, is to enable homeless participants to live in residences comparable to that of others who are not homeless. Once the condition of being homeless in dealt with, successful participants will have learned which institutions — be they political, economic, religious or educational — exist in their community and learn how to access the local service network for themselves and members of the family.

County Seat

(Continued from Page B1) routing for a triple play, and sure enough, we saw the Baysox pull one off in the eighth. The ball was popped up in front of the catcher, who threw to first, getting the baserunner who broke for second, and the first baseman tossed the ball to second to get the runner who had broken for third. We realized that may be the only triple play we will ever see live at a ball game and will always remember our visit. Oh, by the way, the Thunder gained the victory.

Back to the subject of signs for a moment.

Ever since I began working at Worrall Newspaper's Union County office, I've been bothered by a pair of signs on the Parkway. The signs, which alert travelers of the approaching Vauxhall section of Union Township, every so often fuel a little debate around the office.

On Saturday, as I was driving south on the Parkway, I saw the two signs and again wondered, why? Why do the signs spell Vauxhall one way on one sign, Vaux Hall, and another way on the other, Vauxhall. These are two signs, on the same road, within one-half mile of one another and apparently the Parkway Authority couldn't even decide how to spell it.

This newspaper refers to the community as Vauxhall, and to the street as Vauxhall Road, but that is not the case for all newspapers. The now-defunct Daily Journal of Elizabeth always referred to it as Vaux Hall.

I was wondering if someone could either write to us or call to give their opinion as to what it should be, and hopefully provide us with their reasoning.

Neblett named president for college's foundation

Dr. Richard F. Neblett of Plainfield has been re-elected as president of the Union County College Foundation for the 1995-96 year.

Neblett, who has been associated with the college for the past 26 years as a member of the boards of Trustees and Governors, will be assisted by the following other officers, all of whom have been re-elected: Naomi C. Miroloca of Somerset, formerly of Union, vice president and member of the college's Board of Governors and is a member and past president of the Union County College Alumni Association; Thomas H. Brown of Plainfield, UCC president, who will serve as foundation secretary; Nadine S Brechner of Metuchen, the college foundation's assistant secretary; Frank H Blatz, Jr. of Scotch Plains, who will serve as treasurer. He is a member and past chairman of the college's Board of Trustees; and Dolores A. Bruschetti of Scotch Plains, the college's vice president of finance, who will serve as the foundation's assistant treasurer.

Foundation trustees, all of whom have been re-elected are as follows: Miroloca; William J. Biunno of Mountainside, a member and past chairman of the college's Board of Governors; William E. Collins of Plainfield; Tamzin M. McMinn of Bethesda, Md., and Henry J. Mineur of Cranford, a former member of the Board of Governors, all of whose terms will expire in 1996.

Also, Blatz; Susannie S. Covine of Westfield, a member and past president of the Alumni Association; John A. Griffith of Montclair; Norman Lichtman of Gillette; James M. McGowan of Elizabeth, a member and past president of the Union County College Foundation; and William H. McLean of Short Hills, all of whose terms will expire in 1997.

In addition, Neblett, Eugene H. Bauer of Springfield, John D. Jacobson of Westfield, and Marilyn H. Luster of Watchung, all of whose terms will expire in 1998.

Neblett, a retired executive with Exxon Corp., New York City, is a 26-year member of the Board of Governors, having served on the Educational Policy and Audit committees, and earlier this year was named to the Board of Trustees. He has been involved extensively with the successful creation and execution of the annual Union County College Foundation Golf Tournament, and the Minorities in Engineering program to assist selected minority students attending middle and high schools throughout the county in preparation for college programs and eventual careers in engineering and related fields.

He is president of the National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering and serves on several not-for-profit organizational boards, including the Liberty Science Center, Jersey City, among others.

Shakespeare festival fumbles with new interpretation of 'Macbeth'

By Lisa Ann Batitto
Arts and Entertainment Editor

"Macbeth" is considered by many to be one of Shakespeare's most violent plays, with more slayings than the latest Bruce Willis film. In this incarnation, the play is even more gruesome because it tortures the audience, disembowels the script, and runs the Bard's and New Jersey Shakespeare Festival's reputations over with a Mack truck. "Macbeth," Shakespeare and the NJSF will survive this debacle but the same can't be said about the audience.

ger political context. "Therefore, the relationship between the private — the couple's lust for power — and the political — the repercussions of Macbeth's deeds in the affairs of the state — become more pronounced. 'Macbeth' becomes a political fable about the changes of power within a state by means of murder, intrigue and military force," she wrote.

In addition to its plays on the Main Stage — which currently has the excellent "Julius Caesar" — the NJSF runs the Other Stage on which it presents more experimental work or work by lesser known writers. Therefore, it was a bit of a surprise to read at the beginning of the season that "Macbeth" was being staged there. Subsequent press releases explained this was a new interpretation of the piece and it would include such flourishes as a live musical score.

Also, in the Director's Notes included with the playbill, Ulla Neuberger of Germany writes that her intention was to move the focus of the play away from Macbeth and Lady Macbeth and to put it in a lar-

Duncan, the king of Scotland, and his attendants are done in shadows. So, whenever a character runs in to see the bodies, he is no longer in view of the audience and his expressions and reactions are lost.

The king shouldn't complain, though. The slaying of nobleman Banquo is done in full view but it is quite comical. It is hard to stifle a giggle when Banquo's ghost rises from the dead draped in a white sheet, to haunt Macbeth. It reminds one of when a child tries to scare his parents using the same technique.

Unintentional laughs aside, as anybody who has read Shakespeare knows, he can be quite funny at times. The powers that be must have thought the humor was a bit too highbrow so they turned a bawdy moment with a servant into a tacky, tasteless and unfunny sequence. The few chuckles that are heard in the audience may be chalked up to nervousness.

One doesn't know what the director was trying to do with the Weird Sisters. For some reason, they are dressed like and have the mannerisms of goth girls — in a play that is set in Scotland. In Shakespeare's version, the witches were women with masculine features, making their sex undistinguishable. Perhaps Neuberger, in her infinite wisdom, didn't think this was weird enough, and decided to give them an Asian flavor. This isn't bizarre; it's stupid.

It's hard to tell if the actors are of the high quality usually associated with the Shakespeare Festival because everything around them is so awful. Plus, many of them play two or three parts — Renee Bucciarelli and David Mandell play a whopping five each — making it difficult for the audience to distinguish between characters. One shouldn't attempt a play of this size without a large cast.

It is interesting to note that "Macbeth" is the single biggest commercial success in the history of the festival's Other Stage and it was extended another week. Hopefully, the people who flocked to this show and were disappointed will give the NJSF another chance. They can rest assured that the next production will be better — because there is no way it can be worse.

"Macbeth" performs until July 29 Tuesday through Saturday evenings at 8:15, with matinees on Saturday at 2:30 p.m., with all tickets $15. The Other Stage is located at the Playwright's Theater of New Jersey, 33 Green Village Road, Madison. For tickets and information, call (201) 408-5600.

Patrick Morris plays the title role in the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival production of 'Macbeth,' playing through July 29 at the festival's Other Stage. The Other Stage is located at the Playwright's Theater of New Jersey, 33 Green Village Road in Madison. Performances are Tuesday through Saturday at 8:15 p.m. with matinees Saturday at 2:30 p.m.; all seats are $15. For tickets and information, call (201) 408-5600.

Linden residents in the 17th season production of Linden Summer Playhouse's 'Oklahoma!' are, kneeling from left, Sky Pippin, Erik Hall as Ike Skidmore, Renee Marino, Howard Whitmore as Jud Fry and Snow Pippin. Standing are Calman Green as Andrew Carnes, Nuno de Sousa as Curly, and Gabriel Lopez. 'Oklahoma!' will be performed today, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Linden High School auditorium. Tickets are $5 each. Reservations can be made by calling (908) 272-3582.

'Oklahoma!' is staged in Linden

Linden Summer Playhouse will open its 17th season with the Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical classic "Oklahoma!" This award-winning musical will be performed at the Linden High School auditorium, 121 W. St. George Ave., Linden, today, Friday and Saturday with an 8 p.m. curtain time.

LSP choreographer Alison Dooley and musical director Ruby Robertson team up with former LSP performer Donna Ortiz for her LSP directorial debut. The musical based on Lynn Riggs' book "Green Grow the Lilacs" features classic numbers such as "Oklahoma!," "Oh! What a Beautiful Mornin'," "Kansas City," "Many a New Day," "Pore Jud is Daid" and many other familiar favorites.

The cast of 47 young people are from 13 communities. Representing Westfield are Corinne Liebrich, Sandy Marino, Krissy Del Duca, Rebecca Wilhelms, Lauren Ray and Mike Rodihan in the vocal chorus and dance ensemble with Lauren Mazarrese, a freshman at the New York University Tisch School of the Arts playing Aunt Eller, and Westfield High School junior Kate Hogan playing Laurie. Cranford residents are Michelle Mulvaney, Kate Wilson, Katie Hayeck, Jill Hayeck and Amy Blitz as dancers and in the vocal chorus, while Dan Wiener, a Mason Gross School freshman, plays Ali Hakim. Fanwood cast members are Amy Watson, a University of Delaware junior as Ellen, with Matt and Colleen Price in the chorus. Linden residents in this year's production are Sky and Snow Pippin, Renee Marino and Gabriel Lopez in the dance numbers with leads going to Howard Whitmore, a sophomore at the Westminster Choir College, as Jud Fry; Erik Hall, a Seton Hall University sophomore, as Ike Skidmore; Calman Green, a Kean College junior, as Andrew Carnes; and Nuno de Sousa, a Stevens Institute senior, as Curly.

The Linden Summer Playhouse, founded in 1979 by Tom Pedas, is a non-profit, mainly volunteer organization that has provided area young people, 8-22 years of age, the opportunity to spend the summer months working on and starring in a musical theater production tuition-free. "Oklahoma!" is presented in cooperation with the Linden Board of Education and the Recreation Department of the City of Linden. The program is partially funded by a grant from the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, public donations, corporate gifts and grants. Tickets for "Oklahoma!" are $5 with all seats reserved. Call (908) 272-3582 for reservations or more information on the organization.

'King of Swing' will sing

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer

At the age of 77, Smokey Warren of Linden, who has celebrated his 50th year as the "Eastern King of Western Swing" in radio, television, movies, recordings and on stages throughout the country, is still going strong.

He will appear in the Smokey Warren Concert on Aug. 2 at 8 p.m. in Memorial Park in Berkeley Heights, where he will feature country western, traditional modern western and music that he has recorded in past years.

Warren also will appear in concert on Aug. 11 — with a rain date of Aug. 18 — at Taylor Park in Millburn, in conjunction with the Millburn local fair. "That also will be at 8 p.m.," said Warren during a brief chat the other afternoon. "It will be videotaped and televised in the near future on cable television."

Warren said proudly, "I've celebrated two milestones this year. I've been in country music for 50 years — and plus," he laughed, "and my wife, Gerry and I celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary on May 27."

Although singers have celebrated 50 and more years in the entertainment world with a variety of music, Warren said, "mine has been strictly country western — solely country western from day one."

Every year, for the past few years, Warren has expressed a desire to retire from entertaining, but will continue to produce, promote and book country western artists and shows, which he has done for many years.

Recently, he has appeared in concert at the Union County Arts Center in Rahway. "But," he mused, "I'm thinking seriously that this will be my last year performing. It's kept me as busy as I can be for 50 years. Now, it's time to bow out of entertaining in one graceful moment."

Yes, Smokey — that is, until the next time.

Children's hospital hosts graphics art show

A show of graphic arts created by members of the Westfield Art Association is on view at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, through Sept. 7. Works are exhibited by Fran Azarro, Lydia Brunelli, Vicki Gainsburg, Diane Impellizzeri, Mary Jo Nemeth, Nancy Orr and Annmarie Sabatino.

The public may view the exhibit by entering the ambulance entrance of the hospital. Ample parking is available. A percentage of each sale is donated to the hospital by the artists.

Thomas Booth of Maplewood, the new director of the Westfield Glee Club, practices with the music committee: Howard Dreizer of Westfield, Harfen Smith of Fanwood, Doug Kollman of Basking Ridge, Bob Porta of Westfield and Bill Sterr of North Plainfield.

Glee club names head

Thomas Booth, the new director of the Westfield Glee Club, met with the music committee to complete the music selection and program plans for the Christmas concerts on Dec. 9 and 10. The program will include "Christmas Classics," "Hannukkah Time," "Awakening the Spiritual Within Us," "The Secular Side of the Season" and "Christmas Around the World."

Booth encouraged glee club members to invite male singers of all ages to join the club as it resumes rehearsals on Sept. 11 at the Presbyterian Church in Westfield. Interested singers can contact the glee club members or call Dale Juntilla at (908) 232-0673.

Booth, a resident of Maplewood, was selected as the new Westfield Glee Club director following the retirement of Evelyn Bleeke. Booth has a 30-year music career as a professional musician and teacher.

Dining Review July 20, 1995

By Douglas Miller
Staff Writer

For those who long for fast, convenient food without the question mark of quality, we present for your approval Fuddrucker's, located on Route 22 in Union. Fuddrucker's, which is one of the few institutions where fast food restaurant is not an oxymoron, offers freshly cooked — to order — burgers, chicken, salads and sides without the unpleasant sensation of seeing your food under hot lights or wrapped in paper.

Accompanying this reviewer was an expert in the field of both fast food and hamburgers, namely a 12-year-old named Richard. While Richard indulged in a BBQ burger with bacon, this reviewer ordered what is modestly described as a "works" burger. We shared an order of Buffalo wings, some onion rings, chili and a taco salad. Richard ordered a vanilla milkshake, which he watched them make, while I washed down my dinner with a Budweiser from the bar.

Richard said he enjoyed the chili, which had lots of beans but not too many tomatoes. Not being as big a fan of spicy food as I am, he declared the temperament of the chili to be perfect, while I dug into the taco salad. Served in a light, flaky shell with lettuce, tomatoes, grated cheddar cheese, sour cream and black olives, the taco salad offers you the opportunity to pick out anything not to your liking in advance, as it is up to you to stir the salad yourself. I was tempted to give the olives their walking papers, but was later glad I hadn't. They are rare in proportion to everything else in the salad, they do not dominate any bite full, and they added a little kick to the rest of the dish.

"Yes, we did say bar. In addition to catering to families, and there were plenty in attendance last Saturday night, senior citizens, softball teams and birthday parties are all a part of Fuddrucker's clientele. In fact, the bar is tiny and tucked away in the smoking section, so there is no threat of any disturbances.

While the atmosphere of Fuddrucker's is punctuated by neon lights, video games and televisions, it offers a quality of food rarely found outside of steakhouses with tablecloths, curtains and candlelight. In addition to being able to order your burger to your specifications, it also may be served on soft, fresh, sourdough buns in a basket, not in styrofoam. A complete fixin's bar is available and free refills of soda is the policy. Burgers come in two sizes, large and huge; we both opted for the large, i.e. one-third pound size, but one-half pound burgers are available for a few nickels more.

Richard said his burger, which he ordered medium rare, was larger than typical fast food. "It's not too spicy, which I like, and it tastes more like a homecooked burger than McDonald's," he said.

good, and I was surprised to find such quality.

We also both enjoyed the Buffalo wings, which were served, as nature intended, with celery sticks and bleu cheese dressing on the side.

We did indulge in the bakery after our meal, as Fuddrucker's offers fresh baked cookies and pies. My oatmeal raisin cookie was soft and fresh, but Richard had devoured his chocolate chip cookie and was on to the video games in the back before we could get an opinion out of him.

The burgers, as mentioned before, are better than anything else around, so you get what you pay for. The burgers start at around $4 and depending on size and additions, can range upwards of $5.50. Also on the menu are chicken and fish dishes, steak sandwiches and a children's menu. In addition to the taco salad, a side salad and chicken salad also is offered.

Fuddrucker's is located at 2319 Route 22 in Union on the center island, and is thus accessible from either direction. Fuddrucker's is open Monday through Thursday from 11 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., and on Fridays and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

SUMMER AND THE EATIN' IS EASY!

July 23-29

ARIES — March 21/April 20
A friend from your past will try and contact you this week. You could find out some interesting news about this person. An in-law or distant family member with whom you've had some troubles will surprise you with a kinder, gentler attitude. Perhaps (she) deserves a second chance.

TAURUS — April 21/May 21
Take advantage of an introspective mood. You could learn something about yourself. If work is getting you down, you may just need a day off to recharge your batteries. Go ahead, you deserve it. Kick back, relax and slow down your pace for a while. Good news is on the way.

GEMINI — May 22/June 21
No matter what your line of work, this week you will excel. Your natural creativity combined with your subtle charm will put you ahead of the game. Your love life doesn't look so bad either. Both single and attached Geminis can look forward to attention from the opposite sex.

CANCER — June 22/July 22
A new friendship may be formed with someone who shares a common interest. This could be the start of a lasting bond as long as you're willing to let someone new into your life. Although it is good to be cautious, it also can hold you back. Learn to find a happy medium.

LEO — July 23/August 23
If objectives seem hard to reach, it may be time to reevaluate your goals. Perhaps you're being overly-ambitious. There may be trouble in paradise when it comes to your love life. You may have to put that stubborn Leo pride aside if you want to work things out.

VIRGO — Aug 24/Sept 22
If you're willing to put in the work, high rewards can be yours. It's totally up to you. You will, however, have to sacrifice free time and socializing. After all, everything has a price. An unexpected invitation gives you something to look forward to in the coming month.

LIBRA — Sept 23/Oct 23
Mixing business with pleasure can be beneficial as long as you keep your usual professional demeanor. Otherwise you could be the center of gossip in no time. Watch what you say and be sure to stay away from alcohol. Even one drink is enough to knock down the defenses and say something you'll regret.

SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22
Relying on others to get the job done may be the cause of frustration and delay. You may have to take on more of the load than you had anticipated if you want the job done right. A loved one may want more of your time than you have to give. Try to find a reasonable balance.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov 23/Dec 21
Holding grudges will get you nowhere. A friend who's disappointed you deserves a second chance. Look at the entire picture and you may have a change of heart. A Taurus of the opposite sex may be interested in you. Proceed only if you're ready to settle down.

CAPRICORN — Dec 22/Jan 20
Instead of harboring anger and frustration towards someone, it's better to talk things out. The subject of your anger may not even be aware that (s)he's done something wrong or offensive. Communication could be the answer to a number of your problems. It's worth a try!

AQUARIUS — Jan 21/Feb 18
A spur-of-the-moment, mid-week excursion is what you need to put some spark into your fire. The mysterious behavior of a loved one may be impossible to figure out, especially if (s)he is a Scorpio. Some puzzles are better left unsolved. Conservative spending is your best bet this week.

PISCES — Feb 19/March 20
A new line of study or training may be necessary to proceed in the direction you're looking towards. Even if this seems like a hassle now, it will be well worth it in the long run. On Friday, what seems like an odd coincidence may not be a coincidence at all. Don't be too trusting.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
The next 12 months:
If you have been in a position of authority for some time, it may soon be coming to an end. Don't panic! This could mean retirement or a promotion in a more creative, less managerial position. Either way, your responsibilities will be shifted sometime early this year. Your love life may closely resemble a roller coaster ride for much of the year. This is especially true if you're involved with a Scorpio. If you're not careful, tempers and pride can get in the way of a lot of good times this year. Luck will be on your side during November and February. Those are the times to make big decisions.

UCC stages comedy

"Beyond Therapy," a comedy play about two people who meet romantically through a newspaper personal advertisement, will be performed by students, faculty and others during a summer production at Union County College's Cranford Campus.

The play, written by playwright Christopher Durang, will be performed at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday in the Roy W. Smith Theater, Campus Center, Cranford Campus, under the coordination of Mark Spina of Essex Fells, theater director. It will mark the third production of Spina at UCC in less than a year, as part of the college's Theater Project.

Lisa Alford of Elizabeth, a liberal arts/fine arts-drama student at the college, will play the lead female role of "Prudence," while Gary Glor of Caldwell, a professional actor who holds an MFA degree in theater from Rutgers University, will play the lead male role of "Bruce." Alford performed in the two earlier Theater Project productions, "Six Degrees of Separation," performed last November, and "Open Admissions," performed in March, the latter having also featured Glor.

Oscar Castillo of Elizabeth, a liberal arts/fine arts-drama student at UCC, will play the role of the waiter, "Andrew." He also had performed in both "Six Degrees of Separation" and "Open Admissions."

Professor Andre deSandies of Englewood, who also teaches ESL at the college, will play the role of "Bob," Bruce's roommate. He has off-Broadway theatrical background

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

It's polka time at Echo Lake

Union County's weekly Summer Arts Festival will continue on Wednesday when the Jan Lewan Orchestra will fill Echo Lake Park with the sounds of polka.

"Jan Lewan is one of the top polka performers and composers in the country," said Freeholder Chairwoman Linda Di Gionvanni. "He was a Grammy Award nominee for 'Best Polka Album of the Year' in 1995. The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders is proud to sponsor such a fine act."

"We couldn't be happier that Jan Lewan will be performing here in Union County," added County Manager Ann M. Baran. The public is invited to all the Summer Arts Festival concerts, which are in Echo Lake Park, located off Route 22 East in Mountainside. All performances are free of charge and begin at 7:30 p.m. Patrons should bring lawn chairs or blankets. The rain site is Cranford High School, West End Place, Cranford. Rain information is available the day of the concert after 2 p.m.

The next concert in the series will feature the big band sound of the Sammy Kaye Orchestra on Aug. 2. For concert and general program information, call the Union County Division of Parks and Recreation at (908) 527-4900 during business hours or its 24-hotline, (908) 352-8410.

The Union County Summer Arts Festival is presented by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Division of Parks and Recreation in cooperation with many community-minded businesses and organizations.

Summer theater presented by troupe

Professor presents photography lecture

John Copeland, professor emeritus of philosophy at Drew University, will address the topic "Getting Shows for Your Photography in Galleries and Other Spaces," on Saturday from 3-5 p.m. at the Watchung Arts Center, 18 Stirling Road, Watchung.

The lecture is jointly sponsored by the New Jersey Photography Forum and the center's visual arts committee. Reservations are recommended due to limited space and can be made by calling the center at (908) 753-0190 or by mailing a check made out to the Watchung Arts Center. The fee is $10 per person, $8 for Watchung Arts Center members.

Since 1973, Copeland has been the director and curator of the Drew University Photography Gallery, the third oldest photography gallery in the nation.

He has an extensive background in photography as a student, teacher, historian and lecturer. His presentation will cover: preparation of your portfolio, what comprises exhibition-quality work, getting to know the galleries, alternate spaces for exhibition, tips for the interview, contracts and publicity. He will conclude his presentation with a question and answer period.

This is the second in a series of lectures on the Visual Arts at the Watchung Arts Center this year. The New Jersey Photography Forum is having this lecture in conjunction with a group photography exhibit by forum participants during the month of July at the center. To learn more about the group or for future meeting dates, call the center.

Beth Israel hospital tops in heart care

The Department of Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center recently received two awards during the Emergency Cardiac Care Awards Banquet sponsored by the N.J. Affiliate of the American Heart Association.

The department received an award for being one of the top three training centers in the state for Pediatric Advanced Life Support, as well as an award for being one of the top five Advanced Cardiac Life Support training centers in the state.

To date, there are 68 Basic Life Support centers in the state; 34 ACLS centers; and 13 PALS centers. Newark Beth Israel Medical Center began its BLS training in 1981, ACLS in 1991, and PALS training in 1992.

"At Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, we believe that continuous education for our health care professionals is critical, especially knowledge of basic life support and advanced life support," said Lester M. Bornstein of West Orange, president of the medical center.

"We are pleased to be recognized as a leader in the state by the American Heart Association and will continuously offer up-to-date training to all community members and health care professionals who would like to learn about these techniques," said Linda Sylvester, R.N. of Wayne, the medical center's CPR coordinator.

According to Sylvester, CPR is a survival technique that allows the rescuer the ability to work as the victim's non-working heart and lungs. CPR is effective because it helps maintain brain functioning by providing oxygen to the organ until advanced level care is provided.

The medical center's Department of Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation offers more than 25 BLS classes a month, with at least two ACLS classes offered every month.

Newark Beth Israel Medical Center is a 607-bed, regional-care, teaching hospital affiliated with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. It is the only hospital in New Jersey where heart and lung transplants are performed. Founded in 1901, the medical center is a member agency of the United Jewish Federation of MetroWest. For a referral to a physician affiliated with Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, call (800) THE-BETH, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

DESK WORK DISCOMFORT

If you sit at a desk most of the day, are you sometimes bothered by pains in your back and other muscular discomfort?

Working in a sitting position for long periods of time can cause postural stress. This problem is compounded unless your chair is designed to give you support where it's needed, and unless you sit with the proper posture.

No one likes to go through life with nagging back pains. After a full day's work you want to be able to come home and relax comfortably with family and friends. And when you get up in the morning, you want to be able to feel refreshed and up to the challenge of another day's work.

If you have a posture problem, if your spinal column is out of alignment and causing painful pressure on nerve centers, you may be able to benefit from treatment that brings welcome relief from pain and other discomfort. Don't let nagging back pain get you down. Do something about it.

A Call For Help DEPRESSION

One of the most dangerous symptoms of depression is thinking it's not treatable

Check the symptoms that describe you or someone that you care about:

- Noticeable change in eating habits
- Sleep too much or can't sleep at night.
- Loss of interest in things once enjoyed.
- Loss of energy, fatigue.
- Feelings of worthlessness; guilt.
- Using alcohol or drugs to feel better.
- Recurring thoughts of death or suicide; wishing to die.
- Overwhelming feeling of sadness or hopelessness.

If you check two or more of these symptoms, there is something you should do. Call for a free confidential assessment.

Real Estate

Real estate firms merge

In keeping with the recent business trend towards consolidation, three New Jersey residential real estate firms — East Brunswick's Prudential New Jersey Realty, West Orange-based Prudential Degan Boyle and Prudential Goodman Butler Realtors of Morris County — announced they will merge under the Prudential New Jersey Realty banner.

The three firms are independently owned and operated members of the Costa Masa, Calif.-based Prudential Real Estate Affiliates — a nationwide network with 1,200 affiliate offices, 43,000 sales associates and brokers.

The announcement was made jointly by William O. Keleher, Jr., president of the Prudential New Jersey Realty; Peter Degan, president of the Prudential Degan Boyle; and Bernie Goodman and Bill Butler, co-owners of the Prudential Goodman Butler Realtors.

The new expanded entity — which will rank 78th nationwide in sales volume according to "Real Trends," a Dallas-based industry newsletter — will have a combined 18 offices throughout Essex, Hunterdon, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris and Union counties. The new company will have more than 350 sales associates and boast sales of nearly $700 million.

Under the agreement, Keleher will continue to serve as president, Degan will serve as executive vice president and Goodman and Butler will assume the roles of vice presidents. In addition, Bernard Degan of the Prudential Degan Boyle, will become vice president.

According to the pact, the principals of the three firms — including the Boyle family and Dorothy Degan Hunt — will become stockholders of the new entity. Keleher will remain majority stockholder of the Prudential New Jersey Realty.

The new company will be based in East Brunswick, and according to Keleher, most of the back-office staff from the three entities will be integrated.

The offices of the former 90-year-old, Prudential Degan Boyle will continue under the name of Prudential New Jersey Realty, Degan Boyle Division. All other offices will operate as the Prudential New Jersey Realty.

According to Keleher, the consolidation of business operations associated with the merger will translate into enhanced service for customers. "The new company will be bigger and better," he said. "The Prudential New Jersey Realty will now have a contiguous presence from North Jersey's Morris County to South Jersey's Monmouth County. Homebuyers and sellers will be well served by this expanded web of operations."

"The purpose of this merger is to create a strong, efficient, and progressive organization under the Prudential banner," said Peter Degan. "Our objective is to help every sales associate, and the company as a whole, to compete in the marketplace of the '90s and into the next century. We have every confidence that all will benefit."

Goodman added that, "the company will continue to be served by PREA's nationwide network of 1,200 affiliate offices, multi-media nationwide advertising program, comprehensive and ongoing training programs, and extensive referrals through affiliation with some of the largest and most successful companies in the country."

Butler noted that, "The new company will rank in PREA's top 10 according to sales volume." Butler explained that in 1994 PREA reported sales in excess of $52 billion, making it one of the country's fastest growing real estate networks.

Two realtors join forces

James M. Weichert, president of Weichert, Realtors, announced that Prudential Preferred Properties of Washington, D.C., has merged with Weichert, Realtors in the greater Washington, D.C. marketplace, effective May 26.

In 1994, Prudential Preferred Properties generated $2 billion in residential real estate sales. The company had 22 office locations and a sales staff of 700 associates. Weichert, Realtors, throughout its network of 200 offices in seven states, sold more than $10.4 billion of real estate last year. Weichert has 7,000 sales associates.

The Prudential Preferred Properties office locations in Montgomery County, Md., Washington, D.C., and Northern Virginia will be joined with the Weichert organization there, and will be known as Weichert, Realtors. Weichert has 2,350 sales associates working out of 60 offices in that marketplace. Weichert is the nation's largest independent real estate company, according to an annual survey of the nation's "mega-brokers" by National Relocation and Real Estate magazine.

"We have made the very best possible arrangement for our sales associates and for our sellers and buyers by joining with Weichert organization," said Ray Chappell, former chief executive officer of Prudential Preferred Properties. "Weichert has clearly established a dominant presence in this market in a relatively short period of time; it is an impressive organization with excellent marketing support, training programs, and other support services for sales associates."

Weichert, Realtors first entered the greater Washington, D.C., marketplace in 1991 when it joined forces with the former Mount Vernon Realty. Two years later, another long-established area real estate company, Shannon & Luchs, also joined with Weichert.

The Weichert president said, "We look forward to the associates from Prudential Preferred Properties joining with us in the Capital Region; they are hard-working professionals with an extremely successful track record."

Chappell, who had been the chief executive officer of the Washington-based company for 15 years, has extensive experience in the real estate industry. He joins the Weichert organization as a regional vice president, working out of the firm's Bethesda, Md., regional center.

Weichert, Realtors has offices in Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and Washington, D.C. Weichert's services include residential and commercial real estate, mortgages, insurance, rentals, relocation, new homes and land, estate marketing, property management, and moving services.

Three firms merge

dent of PREA said, "These three companies are among the network's finest. The members of this new team offer the ideal blend of business acumen and strong personal character."

"The new principals of the Prudential New Jersey Realty all share a similar vision for a high quality, high productivity real estate firm," said Keleher, a member of PREA's advisory council. "I am very pleased to have the Degan Boyle and Goodman Butler teams join the Prudential New Jersey Realty family. The know-how, talent and experience associated with this venture is unmatched in the industry."

Keleher went on to say that, "by maximizing all of our resources, the Prudential New Jersey Realty will be better positioned to succeed in today's business environment."

Astro Van sets new standards for 1996

Chevrolet Astro Van, the versatile, mid-size people-mover and cargo-hauler, boasts an all-new interior for '96. Interior features include updated seats, instrument panel and door trim panels to give Astro a fresh, contemporary look. In fact, Chevrolet is overhauling its complete van family beginning with the Astro this fall, followed by the all-new Chevy Van and Chevy Express Van early in 1996 and Chevy's all-new minivan later in the year. Standard dual air bags are an important new safety feature.

The new instrument panel is ergonomically designed with easy-to-operate rotary controls. A redesigned engine cover increases foot room for the driver and front-seat passenger, and also features beverage holders, a map storage net and two accessory power ports. An additional power port is also located at the back of the van.

The glove box has a locking feature that adds secure interior storage space, and new integrated air ducts under the front seats for the heater/ventilation/air-conditioning system improve passenger comfort by moving air to the rear of Astro. A new optional electronic overhead console, standard on LT models, incorporates reading lamps, an electronic compass and an outside temperature readout.

The new Chevrolet family of advanced audio systems is also available for Astro for '96. Thoughtful intermediate-seat radio controls and headphone jacks enable passengers to listen to individually selected audio programs.

Three new exterior colors — Medium Blue Metallic, Medium Lichen Green Metallic and Cherry Ice Metallic — combined with a fresh base model front-end appearance and LS and LT body cladding, enhance Astro's appeal.

Astro offers outstanding power for hauling, towing and trailering. The standard Vortec 4300 VC engine and 4-speed electronically-controlled automatic transmission are improved for '96.

Astro is quieter than ever, with engine blocks and transmission cases redesigned to increase powertrain bending stiffness and reduce noise. A new accessory drive system and composite engine components help silence airborne noise.

For increased passenger safety, Astro has been fitted with a child safety lock on the sliding door. This feature makes the inside door handle on the sliding door inoperable when the safety feature is engaged.

All door locks and the ignition are now conveniently operated by a single, double-sided key. A separate key is provided for the lockable glovebox as an added security feature when using valet parking.

A sophisticated Sequential Port Fuel Injection system precisely delivers fuel to each cylinder, for a smoother idle and improved acceleration. A new mass airflow meter, new straightport cylinder heads, a new two-piece intake manifold, a new hydraulic roller lifter camshaft profile and an enhanced exhaust system give the Vortec 4300 V6 the muscle for trailering, towing and commuting.

The 4300 V6 engine's long-life ignition system is virtually maintenance-free for 100,000 miles.

Astro is popular with families who need a multipurpose van for daily driving and weekend excursions. Cargo van models are ideally suited to commercial uses that require power and dependability. The new instrument panel is ergonomically designed with easy-to-operate rotary controls. The glove box has a locking feature that adds secure interior storage space, and new integrated air ducts under the front seats for the heater/ventilation/air-conditioning system improve passenger comfort by moving air to the rear of Astro.

A redesigned engine cover increases foot room for the driver and front-seat passenger, and also features beverage holders, a map storage net and two accessory power ports.

You have the option to lease. Actually, you have the option to do just about anything.

The Discovery gives you freedom of choice. And right now, for a limited time, we're giving you the opportunity to drive this authentic Discovery is really quite a deal. The Land Rover at a lease price of just $495 a month with no acquisition fee.

With a 3.9-liter V6 engine, all-terrain ABS, a 14-gauge steel chassis, and dual airbags, the Discovery is really quite a deal. Why not come in for a test drive? Needless to say, few restrictions apply.
