SECTION B

From The Editor's Notebook

By Tom Canavan
Editor in Chief

Tuesday is National Night Out, the time of year when citizens across the United States are asked to participate in their municipality's efforts to fight crime.

Usually, those efforts include a police department's crime prevention unit making itself available to the public and distributing literature detailing ways a person can protect their property from break-ins and themselves from criminal harm. It also includes asking residents to sit on their porches with their lights on during National Night Out to show channels they have joined the fight against crime.

Call me a pessimist, but a once-a-year effort in the fight against crime hardly seems enough to win the battle. This certainly is not a knock against police departments, which, I am sure, would love to see an end to crime and would be willing to put all their effort into the fight to end it once and for all.

But incidents of criminal behavior never will go away. Does that mean we should abandon events like National Night Out? Of course not. These events should be starting points for a year-long effort by police departments to enlighten residents about how they can protect themselves and their property.

Recently, I was talking to someone on our way out of the house. She was leaving a window open in the rear of the house to let some air in while we were out. I told her I've written and read too many police blotters during the last eight years and know that leaving a window open even a crack, especially at the rear of the house where there is nothing but a yard, is enough for someone to get into the house.

Fighting crime must be a conscientious effort on the part of the resident as well as the police department, and it must be given more effort than one can spare in one night. Reading the police blotter in your local newspaper is one way to learn how homes are broken into, or when and how automobiles are stolen. Police blotters also offer information such as where muggings occur most frequently, and they alert residents to be careful when walking in those areas. But it takes a large effort on the part of police departments to share that information — public information — with the public they are sworn to protect.

What is your opinion about National Night Out? How can police better serve residents? Call us at (908) 686-9898, Ext. 8000. We'll publish your comments in a future edition of this newspaper.

I've had some inquiries about my vacation. "I hate to ask this, but..." or "Since you're back to work, I guess everything went well," are two of the remarks made by readers who read my column two weeks ago, when I described my vacation periods being synonymous with tragedy.

I'm happy to report that the week of July 10-14 came and went without a hitch. I had a great vacation.

Freeholder Frank Lehr, left, thanks Mary Van der Mude of Summit for giving 100 hours to the Master Gardener program. Looking on is Agriculture program Associate for Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Union County, Madeline Flahive.

Gardeners master art of helping

Summer, a time when folks are busy with their gardens and harvesting the tasty results of many of them is also a time when the Master Gardeners of Union County get a lot of calls for "help" from the public.

It's also when Rutgers Cooperative Extension and the Union County freeholders say "thank you" to the Master Gardeners program volunteers.

"What you do is really essential," Freeholder Frank Lehr told the volunteers during their ceremony of recognition recently. "I represent all the citizens in the county and for them I thank you."

Also speaking during the ceremony was Assemblyman Richard H. Bagger, R-Union.

"Volunteers like you really make a difference," Bagger told the gardeners.

"I'd like to add my expression of appreciation to Freeholder Lehr's," noted County Manager Ann Baran.

"You provide an amazing array of services and I must say thank you."

Volunteers were honored for having donated time to activities including: The Master Gardeners Hotline, landscaping, horticulture therapy, clerical work, newsletter publication, Spring Garden Fair and Plant Sale, demonstration garden, speaker's bureau, State Master Gardener Advisory Board, a crafts committee and the hospitality committee.

Those who were honored for donating a total of 100 hours are the following: Don and Elaine Auer, Harriet Bloch and Louis Stiglitz of Springfield; Henry Banta, Katherine Sabatino and Carole Smillie of Westfield; Alvina Bella of Fanwood; Ed Goldstein of Mountainside; Ed Hawley of Scotch Plains; Eleanor Heimstaedt and Mary Van Der Mude of Summit; Walter Pommnitz of Clark; Lois Schmieder of Union; Jules Stang of New Providence and Beverly Warmbrand of Cranford.

Those who generously donated a total of 500 hours are the following: Al Hannemann of Berkeley Heights; Minna Sherling of Linden; Dick Hewitt of Mountainside; Ralph Klopper of Scotch Plains; Joanne Kreuger and Ed Petz of Westfield; Glenn Owens, Wes Philo and Len Storch of Cranford; and Roselle-Nancy P.

Those who have given a total of 1,000 hours to the program are the following: Warren Lowell and Roy Bowman of Cranford; and Caryl Hannemann of Berkeley Heights.

The Freeholder Board and Rutgers Cooperative Extension also thanked several local businesses and a major corporation for all they had done for the program.

"How can anyone thank these commercial 'Friends of the Master Gardener Program' for all their help," asked Lehr. Exxon Company, USA awarded the Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Union County Master Gardeners program $3,000 in grants from its Volunteer Involvement Fund for the "Garden Hotline" which enabled an upgrade of the equipment, he noted.

"While I'm thanking our unselfish 'Friends,' I want to thank Bartell's Garden Center of Clark for donating a reference book to the hotline office and for a good discount on tools purchased for the programs, Williams Nursery of Westfield for donating nursery stock and liberal discounts given for plants by Dreyer's Farms of Cranford and for vegetable plants by Miele's Greenhouse of Clark...all for our Annual Master Gardeners Spring Garden Fair and Plant Sale — the program's sole fund-raiser," he added.

County residents may call the Garden Hotline at 654-9852 Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m., Monday through Wednesday, Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

Samples of plant problems, insects or ticks may be brought to the Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Union County Office at 300 North Ave. East, Westfield, for identification. Insects or ticks should be submitted in a small container. Samples may be brought to the office weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Anyone who wishes to speak to a master gardener, should bring the sample during hotline hours. Anyone unable to come during hotline hours, may leave samples in the lobby on the agriculture table, marked for that purpose.

Anyone interested in joining the Master Gardeners program should call 654-9854 for an application. Training programs, held at Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Union County office begin Sept. 15. Classes are Friday mornings from 10 a.m. to noon through the end of April.

Anyone looking to escape the sun and heat can enjoy a stellar experience in the air-conditioned planetarium at Trailside this summer. The center, located in Mountainside, is offering special Thursday shows in the planetarium in addition to its Sunday shows.

Down-to-Earth program presented

"Down to Earth Astronomy" can be seen today at 1 p.m. This show will have its audience discovering constellations, meteors, the moon's phases and planets under a brand-new stary canopy thanks to a recent star projector upgrade.

On Aug. 3 at 11 a.m., "Rock and Roll Rocket" for 4- to 6-year-olds with an adult, will take kids on a "tour" of the planets and beyond. Participants will hear about Mr. Moonrocks' capture by astronauts, look for aliens and rock to the "Planet" songs. Fee is $3 per person.

A 1 p.m. show on Aug. 3 will feature Laser '50s — a laser light tribute to the music of the 1950s. Visitors should come dressed for the sock hop planetarium. No dancing in the aisles, but "hand jives" are allowed. For ages 10 years and up. Fee is $3.25 per person.

"Shooting Stars" on Aug. 10 at 1 p.m. will educate visitors on the differences between meteor showers and random meteors. "Shooting Stars" also will prepare those who wish to observe the Perseid meteor shower in August on their own or at Trailside's "Night Out with the Stars" on Aug. 11. For ages 6 years and up with adult. Fee is $3 per person.

"Night Out with the Stars" on Aug. 11 from 9:30 to 11 p.m. will have participants viewing constellations and looking for "shooting stars" in the real night sky. Pre-registration is required by phone or in person and the fee is $3 per person. For ages 6 years and up with adult. Planetarium show tickets are sold only at the door.

For more information, call Trailside Nature & Science Center at (908) 789-3670. Trailside is a facility of the Union County Division of Parks and Recreation.

Deer committee data on display at library

The county has been dealing with the issue of overpopulation of the white-tailed deer for the past two years, and management of this type of wildlife has become of utmost concern, particularly in the Watchung Reservation and the municipalities surrounding it.

Since June 1994, a 21-member Watchung Reservation Deer Management Subcommittee, a Union County Freeholder-appointed council, has been meeting in order to study the issue and recommend a long-term management plan. One of the proposals made by the committee in its interim report, issued in November, was to implement a more extensive program of public education on deer-related issues.

In response, freeholders have placed copies of the research materials and correspondence of the subcommittee at various locations in order for the public to have access to it.

"Many people have requested these documents," stated Freeholder Chairwoman Linda Di Giovanni. "By placing it in locations around the county, and two sites which are also very involved in this issue, we hope to enable everyone who wishes to view the materials, to do so."

Based upon the majority recommendations of the Subcommittee, a controlled hunt was held in the reservation in 1994, while in 1995 a sharpshooting program was implemented. The subcommittee is deliberating about a future course of action.

The public may view the subcommittee's documentation at the Trailside Nature & Science Center, Mountainside; the libraries of the Borough of Mountainside, the townships of Berkeley Heights and Scotch Plains, and the cities of Summit and Scotch Plains; and the Animal Damage Control Center of Rutgers University in New Brunswick. The library of the Morris County Park Commission's Haggerty Education Center in the Frelinghuysen Arboretum, Morristown, also will have a complete set of the materials in the near future.

For those interested, Trailside Nature and Science Center also will have videotapes of presentations made to the subcommittee by experts in wildlife management. The first is the presentation made by Jay McAninch of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, while the second is the proceedings of the American Association of Botanical Gardens and Arboreta held at the Frelinghuysen Arboretum, Morristown, in August 1994. There will be a deposit required to borrow either videotapes.

Members of the public are encouraged to contact the specific sites they intend to visit for exact hours and directions.

Fall training sessions planned for rape center

The Union County Rape Crisis Center, located at 300 North Ave. East, Westfield, will hold its annual fall training for volunteers beginning in September, announced Freeholder Chairwoman Linda Di Giovanni.

"Individuals will receive 40 hours of training dealing with the many areas of sexual assault, trauma reactions of survivors and family members, legal and medical aspects and related areas. Volunteers may also work on the Speakers Bureau or distribute information to the community," stated Di Giovanni.

The Rape Crisis Center is a program under the Division of Planning, Department of Human Services and was established in June 1984 to provide services to meet the needs of survivors of sexual assault in the county.

Crisis information workers on the hotline also may provide emotional support to accompany a client to the hospital or through the court process, noted Union County Manager Ann Baran.

"The volunteers for the county's Rape Crisis Center do more than answer a phone," said Baran. "The emotional support they give to the victims of sexual assault has a value which is beyond measuring. I hope that we are fortunate in getting more volunteers of the caliber of the ones who are volunteering now."

The center provides services which include: individual and group counseling, a 24-hour hotline, a speakers' bureau, in-service training to hospital personnel, law enforcement and mental health professionals, consultation to professionals working with survivors and information and referral. All services are free and confidential.

Individuals interested in becoming volunteers may contact the Rape Crisis Center from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for an interview by calling (908) 233-7273.

The next training dates are as follows: Sept. 26 and 28; Oct. 5, 10, 12, 17, 19, 24, 26, and 31; Nov. 2, 9, 14 and 16.

Training sessions begin at 6:30 p.m. and end at 10 p.m.

Speedy outshines the rest

It's located in an industrial area on Lehigh Avenue — not exactly the kind of place you might expect to find a car wash; but somehow the Speedy Car Wash has managed to do quite nicely over the past 20 years.

At Speedy Car Wash, an exterior wash goes for about $2 less than the average car wash, a competitive price in a business where customers can be charged $7 simply for an exterior wash, not to mention amenities such as hot wax.

Rooney, though, at his totally "brushless" operation, provides more than just a lower price, while providing personalized service in what can be a very impersonal, high volume business.

In addition, the Speedy Car Wash offers free, self-service mat washing equipment, something many other car washes dispense only for an extra charge. Speedy also offers coin-operated, self-service vacuum cleaners.

At Speedy Car Wash, Rooney's employees take time to wash off excess dirt from every vehicle before it even enters the conveyor — and the workers must greet each customer courteously because it is their job to do so.

When the car wash is not operating, Rooney is still busy keeping all equipment in working order. "We've really done a lot of maintenance on our equipment," he said.

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

School offers summer fun

By Lisa Ann Batitto
Arts and Entertainment Editor

A five-week summer theater program culminates tonight when free performances of "Sleeping Beauty" and "Godspell" are offered at Union High School.

The Union Musical School allows students with an interest in the arts, drama, instrumental music and vocals to work toward the staging of a play. This summer, the school is presenting two pieces: "Sleeping Beauty," with an 87-member cast of students from Union County elementary and middle schools; and "Godspell," which features 20 students in the newly-offered high school division. Teacher Nancy Schoenberger is the director of "Sleeping Beauty," while teacher Candy Caponegro and her husband, Sam, direct "Godspell."

"The program introduces children to the joys of being on stage," Caponegro said. "You can see certain kids develop a skill they didn't know they had. And, it's fun."

Since a large number of students signed up for the programs, the teachers had auditions to determine who should get what roles.

"I spent the first three days auditioning each student by having them get up and sing," Schoenberger said. "I had a call-back the following week and then we spent three solid weeks rehearsing the show. Whoever signed up got a part — regardless of talent. Not all the parts are singing roles."

"I had the students do a series of open theater exercises and improvisation," Caponegro said, adding her group is called the Chameleons. "Then they had to audition for Nancy — she's the musical director for 'Godspell' — and she listened to them sing. That's how we decided on the main parts."

In addition to acting, students also are involved behind the scenes. Students designed and constructed the sets and have their hands in technical roles.

David Dein of Union leads the cast of "Godspell" in the role of Jesus. While this is his first year at the music school, it is not his first time in front of an audience.

"I played in 'Sleeping Beauty' at Kawameeh Junior High School and I also appeared in high school plays," Dein said.

"The character of Jesus is hard to play because he is a perfect man. I did some religious training to understand how he worked. But he's a blast to play; he likes to play games. I had to learn to trust the people around me to carry me through — literally. This is far from anything I ever played — I had smaller parts in school productions. There is a lot of improvisation with the script," he said.

Prince Charming in "Sleeping Beauty" is being played by five-year music school veteran Steel Burkhardt of Union. This is his first leading role, although he had parts in last year's presentation of "Barnum" and "Hello, Dolly!" He also had a role in "South Pacific" at Kean College.

Like Dein, Burkhardt found his character challenging. However, his reasons are a bit different.

"Prince Charming is supposed to be a romantic type of person," said Burkhardt, 11, his voice trailing off.

"This hasn't been a part of his life yet," Schoenberger said. "He has to relate to girls in a loving, compassionate way."

Burkhardt's inexperience in romance caused him a bit of difficulty in some of the play's key scenes.

"It's hard to be a man in the waltz sequence because I have to lead," he said, noting that while he practiced dancing with his mother, he followed her steps. "There was a garbage can and a tree stump on the stage and I kept running into it."

"Sleeping Beauty" 's core scene, of course, is when Prince Charming awakens the princess with a kiss. As of Friday, Burkhardt hadn't smooched his "beauty" — played by Meghan Haies — and he wasn't very excited at the prospect. However, Dein reminded the young actor that he, too, has a kissing scene in his play and it is far worse than Burkhardt's.

High school students will perform in 'Godspell' at Union High School, North Third Street, Union, today at 8:15 p.m. The show will be preceded by 'Sleeping Beauty' at 7 p.m. Admission is free. Top row, Karen Kentrus of Union; middle row, from left, McKenzie Burkhardt of Union, Tina Snyder of Clark, David Dein of Union, Laura Walsh of Union, and Susan Walsh of Union; bottom row, from left, Melissa Castro of Union, Julie Gardner of Union and Kate Sullivan of Elizabeth.

"At least you get to kiss a girl. I have to kiss Judas," Dein said. Union Musical School will present "Sleeping Beauty" at 7 p.m. and "Godspell" at 8:15 p.m. today at Union High School. Admission is free and refreshments will be available for purchase.

Big band sounds will fill Echo Lake Park

The Union County Summer Arts Festival concert series is presenting "Swing and Sway with the Sammy Kaye Orchestra" during big band night on Wednesday at Echo Lake Park. In addition to the county's Board of Chosen Freeholders, the sponsor for the evening is United Counties Trust Company.

"We are pleased to welcome United Counties Trust as a new supporter of the Summer Arts Festival series," said Freeholder Chairwoman Linda DiGiovanni. "They could not have picked a better way to become associated with the festival! The Sammy Kaye Orchestra is nationally-known for its rich tradition and fine musicianship."

An evening with the Sammy Kaye Orchestra includes the singing group the Three Kaydets, and vocalists Ray Lamere and Karina Keene. Under the direction of Roger Thorpe, the orchestra will take the audience for a trip down memory lane with such Sammy Kaye classics as "Daddy," "It Isn't Fair," "The Old Lamp Lighter," "Room Full of Roses," "Chickery Chick," and the most requested hit of all, "Harbor Lights."

Another highlight of the orchestra's performances will be the fun-filled feature, "So You Want to Lead a Band." Originated by Sammy during the big band era, it is when the band invites four members of the audience to compete for the title of best band leader.

"I hope everyone will give themselves a treat and attend this concert," said County Manager Ann M. Baran. "The Sammy Kaye Orchestra is sure to add a nostalgic touch of elegance and class to the county's Summer Arts Festival concert series."

The public is invited to all the Summer Arts Festival concerts which are in Echo Lake Park, located off Route 22 East in Mountainside. The next concert in the series will be the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra on Aug. 9.

All performances are free of charge and begin at 7:30 p.m. Patrons should bring lawn chairs or blankets. The rain site is Cranford High School, West End Place, Cranford. Rain information is available the day of the concert after 2 p.m. by calling the Division of Parks and Recreation at (908) 527-4900, or its 24-hour hotline — (908) 352-8410.

The Union County Summer Arts Festival is presented by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Division of Parks and Recreation in cooperation with many community-minded businesses and organizations such as United Counties Trust Company.

SUMMER AND THE EATIN' IS EASY!

Work showcased

Art often asks something or shows something about life that is maybe otherwise not ever thought about, noticed or understood. This is the way local artist Shiela O. Barrera — aka: Wind Mills — of Rahway sees it anyway.

Barrera, a member of the Westfield Artists' Association, will have several paintings and some poetry on display at the Midlantic Bank on 128 Elm St., Westfield, for the summer, starting Friday until Sept. 28.

Barrera likes to look at life from the spiritual side, at times wondering what life could be like in a world where nothing material existed, but only ideas, light and colorful energy. She has done a series of more than $100 paintings based upon a poem she wrote in 1985 called "Without Matter," expressing these ideas. Several of these works and the poem will be displayed at the bank. Her surrealistic colorful semi-abstract pieces are painted in watercolor and/or acrylics.

Barrera also recently finished writing a book of poetry with a writing partner, James Saldutti — aka: Gym Nasium — of Lansdale, Pa., who she met via an online computer service. The book was written back and forth between the two poets via e-mail and is now being sold through the Internet; also it is under consideration with a publisher in Chicago. The book is called "Viewpoints: His & Hers..." and is a collection of 50 poems — 25 each — on such subjects as cooking, love, housecleaning and money that men and women sometimes see differently. They plan to have some of their works displayed in a restaurant in his hometown.

Barrera, a graduate of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, has had her work featured in several galleries over the years including, the Les Malamut Gallery, Union; the Ward-Nasse in New York City; Kensington Studio Gallery in Md.; Blue Heron Gallery, Ludington, Mich.; the Willowtree Gallery in Idaho Falls, Ind.; and White Collectibles in Clearwater, Fla.

Without matter
By Wind Mills
Was there ever a time when there were no words to rhyme another's ideas would just be here without the aid of an ear?
Was there ever a place where one needed no face to know another as you know your mother?
Was there ever a way to do nothing by play with color and light and everything bright?
Folks could say,
"This be madder than the mad hatter!"
It might be argued that consequences were without matter.
Others would complain,
"There'd have been nothing to do!"
At least, dear friends, you would always have been you.

Dining Review July 27, 1995

By Cynthia B. Gordon
Staff Writer

You won't go hungry at Villa Rosa, located on 482 Boulevard in Kenilworth. Feasting on the special Italian buffet, served at both lunch-time and dinner Monday through Saturday, was a real treat and a great bargain.

There's plenty of dishes — eight — from which to choose — including eggplant parmigiana, sausage peppers and potatoes, mussels marinara, chicken in garlic and vinegar sauce, meatballs, rigatoni marinara, ziti and peas with Alfredo sauce and grilled cauliflower and broccoli.

To start off the eating extravaganza, I selected a tossed salad, marinated tomatoes and Italian bread from the wide assortment of fruits and salads available.

The tossed salad was filled with a mix of fresh, crisp vegetables and the marinated tomatoes were very tasty as well. And the bread was exquisite.

Ready for the main feast, I tried the ziti in marinara sauce with the meatballs, along with the eggplant parmigiana. The meatballs melted in my mouth; they were not too meaty or too hard, but just the right consistency.

Although I'm not an eggplant lover, their eggplant parmigiana was out of this world. The breading was not too heavy as it sometimes can be, but was very light and airy and filled with scrumptious tomato sauce.

I also tasted the sausage, peppers and potatoes. The sausage was delicious; cooked to perfection. And the delicately sliced, moist potatoes had a sweet flavor to them, making them even more addictive than potato chips.

Although my stomach could

July 30-August 5

ARIES — March 21/April 20
Slow down, Aries. Yes, there's a lot to do, but take it one day at a time. Prioritize work-related projects. Good news heads your way in terms of romance. Money is tight over the weekend. A half-hearted invitation from an in-law is best ignored. You'll learn something new on Friday.

TAURUS — April 21/May 21
Don't let your stubbornness get in the way of good sense. Give in to the advice of a good friend. Lay low on Tuesday. A compliment to a female family member goes a long way. Stay close to home as the week ends. Keep track of spending and remember upcoming financial obligations.

GEMINI — May 22/June 21
Both sides of your personality surface this week. Keeping things in their perspective puts you in control. Challenges at work try your patience on Wednesday. Keep calm. A romantic weekend helps ease your mind. Showing only part of the story can make you look suspicious.

CANCER — June 22/July 22
The summer heat brings you out of your shell. It's a good time to flaunt your quiet charm. Dress to kill on Wednesday and a Libra will take notice. A Leo offers good advice as week closes. An upcoming celebration will require advanced planning. Don't leave things until the last minute.

LEO — July 23/August 23
Stop talking and start doing. This is a good week to put plans into action. A Gemini or Taurus brings you good news at work. Choose your friends carefully. What you see is not necessarily what you get. A new romance may be just around the corner for single Leos.

VIRGO — Aug 24/Sept 22
Tell an old friend that you miss her. You'll be glad you did. You must choose between two romantic prospects. Look to a Libra for guidance and support. Honesty goes the distance over the weekend. A work project may be more of a burden than you had anticipated.

LIBRA — Sept 23/Oct 23
Stay physically active this week. It will ease stress at work. Planning a move? Don't forget the people at home. A Leo and Scorpio team offer stability through chaos. Good news comes via the mail over the weekend. Risky financial investments should be avoided this week. You may want to curb spending altogether.

SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22
Having second thoughts about romantic commitment? Don't be afraid to take the plunge. A Capricorn friend will be there to break your fall. Money matters look good midweek. Show a partner that (s)he is important with a special gesture on Saturday. It will go a long way.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov 23/Dec 21
It's time to mend fences with a Leo. Let your true feelings shine through. Down-time at work allows you to reflect on past mistakes. A new love interest brightens things up on Saturday. Let your guard down. Something big coming up? Remember, careful planning is key.

CAPRICORN — Dec 22/Jan 20
The dull-routine syndrome has started to set in. It's a good week to take a day off. Indulge in outdoor activities over the weekend. Watch your pennies. Unexpected expenses head your way on Saturday. If you're artistically inclined, now's the time to pick up that paintbrush.

AQUARIUS — Jan 21/Feb 18
Fight the urge to rug-pull and play. It's a good week to concentrate on overdue work. Try to get ahead if you can. Your creativity is overflowing. Focus it in the right direction. Don't lose sight of short- and long-term goals. A Cancer friend will offer solid advice.

PISCES — Feb 19/March 20
Control your emotions this week. Pisces. Nothing is as bad as it seems. A romantic quarrel might get you down on Wednesday. Stand your ground. Giving in will only make things worse in the long run. An Air sign sees things your way. Steer clear of routine this weekend.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
The next 12 months:
Changes are approaching slowly. Sit tight; you'll start to settle around December. A boss or associate pushes you to your limits by spring. Strive to meet his/her needs; it will pay off doubly later.

Get it clean with Brite Solutions

Wouldn't it be great if your deck looked the way it did when it was first built? Well, it can, thanks to a company named Brite Solutions, which uses a new environmentally safe cleaning system that eliminates the need for high pressure washing.

Brite Solutions will clean, brighten and restore your deck, roof, siding and cedar shakes to their former natural beauty using a non-toxic, biodegradable cleaning system.

And unlike high pressure washing that use high PSI levels 2,000-plus to surface clean, Brite Solutions uses a deep-cleaning solution that penetrates the surface, removes contaminants like mold and mildew, and lifts failed stain and sealers. The system cleans gently, but deeply and is rinsed using a low-volume, low-pressure 500 PSI to facilitate rinsing only. The Brite Solutions method restores your deck, roof or siding to like-new natural beauty and is USDA-approved.

But that is not all Brite Solutions can tackle. Whether working in the office, dining at your favorite restaurant or relaxing at the local pub, sooner or later we all look up and see some type of acoustical or metal tile. And many times it will not be clean. Why? Because most people have difficulty finding an acceptable, economical and effective method of cleaning these difficult surfaces. There is a way to do it safely and economically.

Brite Solutions uses a newly introduced state-of-the-art dry cleaning and sanitizing system, formulated specially to restore acoustical and metal ceilings to a fresh, like-new condition.

The experienced staff of Brite Solutions offers an environmentally safe, state-of-the-art cleaning system.

Cool Communities is kicked off

Trees play a major role in helping conserve energy and reduce air pollution. Because trees make such a difference, the Environmental Protection Agency, American Forests and several other agencies and organizations are sponsoring "Cool Communities," a five-year tree planting and surface color lightening demonstration project.

In the "Cool Communities" projects taking place in seven cities across the United States, home and business owners are planting trees and repainting their homes and offices in lighter colors to reflect solar radiation.

The reason for the "Cool Communities" project is simple: even small and medium-sized cities can be from two to 10 degrees Fahrenheit warmer than the surrounding countryside. This is called the "urban heat island" effect, and it is caused by the vast amount of heat-absorbing surfaces — streets, buildings, homes and driveways — that characterize today's modern cities.

As much as 3 to 8 percent of the current electricity demand is used to compensate for the urban heat island effect. Through "Cool Communities," however, individuals and businesses are changing that. One can join the "Cool Communities" participants to help reduce the "urban heat island" effect — it's as easy as planting several trees in the yard.

In colder climates, coniferous trees are an excellent choice along the north and west sides of the house. Since they keep their leaves all year round, they're particularly helpful as a wind-break. During the winter months, coniferous trees shelter the home from icy blasts.

Deciduous trees are best placed on the south and west sides of the house. Since they retain their leaves during the summer, they'll shade the house and help lower cooling bills. When they lose their leaves in the winter, the sun can shine through, warming the house on even the coldest day.

Embracing the concept of "Cool Communities" also involves selecting exterior paint colors wisely. When it's time to repaint the house, choose lighter colors that reflect, rather than absorb heat, and consider replacing dark roof shingles with lighter colored ones.

By planting trees and opting for light colored exteriors, one, like those officially participating in the "Cool Communities" project, can help conserve electricity and reverse the effects of the "urban heat island."

'The Country Wife' on tap at Shakespeare festival

The New Jersey Shakespeare Festival continues its 33rd season with William Wycherley's look at social mores and sexual innuendo, "The Country Wife." Directed by Robert Kalfin, founder of the Chelsea Theater Center, "The Country Wife" opens on Friday and runs through Aug. 12, with a low-priced preview today. Performance times are Tuesday-Saturday at 8 p.m., Sunday at 7 p.m., with matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Bowne Theater on the campus of Drew University in Madison. For tickets and information, call (201) 408-5600.

Widely considered one of the finest Restoration comedies, "The Country Wife" follows the exploits of Harry Horner, a notorious womanizer who spreads the false rumor that he has been rendered impotent so he can gain the confidence of London's noblemen and, more importantly, easy access to their wives. Margery Pinchwife and her obsessively jealous husband prove the ultimate challenge. This biting and witty satire will receive an elaborate and stylish production, with a cast of more than 20 actors.

Peter Bradbury makes his NJSF debut as Horner. Bradbury was a company member at the American Conservatory Theater in San Francisco where he appeared in "King Lear," "The Three Sisters," "American Buffalo" and "Saved," among many others. He is a founding member of the New Rose Theater Co. in New York, where he directed Pinter's "The Collection" and appeared in "The Real Inspector Hound" and "Strange Snow." Most recently, he was seen at the Repertory Theater of St. Louis in "Man and Superman" and at the Walnut St. Theater in "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Margery Pinchwife, the country wife of the title, is played by Allison Daugherty who returns to NJSF after appearing in "Macbeth," "Much Ado About Nothing" and "The Comedy of Errors." Her regional credits include "The American Clock" and "Autumn Elegy" at the Williamstown Theater Festival. On television, she created the role of stand-up comedienne Rae Rooney in "The Guiding Light" and was a featured comedienne on HBO.

The ridiculously jealous Mr. Pinchwife will be portrayed by Howard Samuelsohn. Most recently, he appeared in "Kiss Me Kate" at GeVa Theater in Rochester. He was also seen as Dromio in the "The Comedy of Errors" at the New York Shakespeare Festival. In addition to being an actor, Samuelsohn also works as a dialogue coach, working on films starring Demi Moore, Jean-Claude Van Damme and Jennifer Jason Leigh.

The subplot provides a striking contrast to Pinchwife's jealousy, as his sister Alithea finds herself engaged to Sparkish, whose trust is so great he literally pushes her into the arms of Harcourt, his chief rival for her affections. Returning to the festival to play Sparkish is Paul Mullins, who just portrayed Lenny in the festival's production of "The Homecoming." Mullins' other work at NJSF includes "The Importance of Being Earnest," "Merry Wives of Windsor" and "Diary of a Scoundrel."

Alithea will be portrayed by Elizabeth Van Dyke. Van Dyke most recently played the title role in "modette" at Aaron Davis Hall and Ortensia in "Mirandolina" at the McCarter. She conceived and wrote a one-woman show about Lorraine Hansberry entitled "Love to All," which she has performed at theaters across the country. It was filmed for cable and won an ACE Award and a Gold Award at the Houston Film Festival. For her one-woman show "Zora Neale Hurston," she won the Audelco best actress award.

Harcourt, the chief rival for Alithea's affections, will be played by Kevin Henderson. Henderson has appeared in "Beyond Therapy" at Studio Arena, "Twelfth Night" and "As You Like It" at Yale Rep, "Voice of the Prairie" at Centenary Stage and "Charles II" at the East Lynne Co. He currently attends the Yale School of Drama and will receive his M.F.A. next spring.

Also appearing in "The Country Wife" are June Ballinger, Sue Brady, Greg Derelian, Danielle Duvall, Sylvia Gassell, Thomas O'Connell, Larry Swansen and Allison Weller.

The sets for "The Country Wife" are designed by Andrew Hall, costumes by Austin K. Sanderson and lights by Scott Zielski. Due to the elaborate nature of the production, specialized designers and two composers have been added: W. Sydney Briscese will design the make-up, Deborah J. Eddeman will design hair and wigs, and Brooke Lieb will be the movement coach and choreographer. John Clifton will compose the score and Bryan Spencer has written a song called "My Lady Fidget."

"The Country Wife" runs until Aug. 12 at the Bowne Theater on the campus of Drew University, 36 Madison Ave., Madison. For tickets and information, call (201) 408-5600.

Summer Home Improvement

Nurserymen association offers gardening suggestions

Do you need to climb a ladder to prune the trees in your home landscape? Play it safe and call a professional instead, recommends the American Association of Nurserymen. This way, you'll not only benefit from healthy trees, you'll avoid the risk of injury.

Mulch is good for your garden, right? Not if you buy poor quality, "bargain" mulches containing woodchips made of scrap lumber, unwanted wooden furniture or dead and dying trees. Good mulches consist of hardwood bark, pine bark, composted leaves, buckwheat, cocoa hulls, salt hay or pine needles, and they can be found at your local retail garden center.

Most people aren't fond of insects, but there are several that are beneficial to your garden or landscape, says the AAN. These include fireflies, ground beetles, spiders, praying mantis, wasps and ladybird beetles. Put simply, these "good" bugs eat the "bad" bugs who chew up your plants.

If you want to celebrate an old-fashioned Christmas and benefit the environment at the same time, purchase, and later plant, a live Christmas tree. After enjoying the tree indoors, extend your holiday fun by planting the tree in your lawn or garden, recommends the American Association of Nurserymen. If you don't have an appropriate place to plant the tree, call a local tree planting group or check with your retail garden center to find someone who does.

Looking for a career change? Consider the opportunities in horticulture. There's a wealth of interesting and meaningful roles you can play, whether you're interested in working for a wholesale grower, landscape firm or for a retail garden center.

Some flowers bloom only at night, releasing their rich scent and adding color to a moon-bathed garden. If you'd like to build a beautiful and mysterious night garden to enjoy after the sun goes down, ask the experts at your local garden center for advice on choosing the best plants.

Build your backyard compost heap with leaves, grass clippings, plants, leftover vegetables and other organic material, advises the American Association of Nurserymen. Make sure you don't include diseased or infested plants, fats or meat scraps.

When buying plants in containers, avoid those with roots that are circling out of the drain holes at the bottom of the pot. These plants are "root-bound" and need a bigger container, explains the American Association of Nurserymen. You're less likely to find root-bound plants, or those with other problems, when you purchase plants from the professionals at your local retail garden center.

If you're tired of unattractive views from your kitchen window, or even your front door, use plants, flowers, shrubs and trees to create a more scenic landscape. Screen your patio from your neighbor's trash cans by installing an inexpensive lattice and training ivy to grow across the frame. Spruce up your bedroom vista by planting colorful flowers in a windowbox and mounting it outside your bedroom window.

According to the American Association of Nurserymen, plants and trees improve water quality by reducing soil erosion. Each year, more than 3 billion tons of topsoil erodes from croplands across the country. The extensive root systems of trees and plants hold soil in place, creating healthier fish and wildlife, and ultimately, healthier people!

Do good gardeners grow only perfect flowers, fruits and vegetables? Luckily, the answer's no! In fact, this myth of the perfect garden can be environmentally damaging, cautions the American Association of Nurserymen. When people seek blemish-free vegetables and perfectly formed flowers, they may use too many fertilizers and pesticides. Even worse, they may use too much water. Make gardening more fun — and go easy on our natural resources.

When you mow this summer, leave your grass clippings on the lawn. According to the American Association of Nurserymen, this not only saves valuable space in local landfills, it provides your lawn with extra nutrients.

Want to do something different with your home landscape this year? Start an "heirloom" garden, suggests the American Association of Nurserymen. Heirloom gardens consist of plants, flowers and vegetables that were popular many years ago. Ask the experts at your local garden center for heirloom plants that grow well in your area.

Theater professionals join together for 'Forever Plaid'

The nostalgic musical hit, "Forever Plaid," brings together three local personalities whose paths have crossed but who had never worked with each other until this season at Summerfun Theater: director Maurice J. Moran, Jr., Rahway resident and Verona High School faculty member; Billy Hipkins, professional actor from the city and a graduate of Verona High School; and musical director Barbara Hegner Leutz, music teacher at Edison Middle School and Verona resident.

In a scenario that plays like a soap opera, Kismet has placed this trio together after years of crisscrossed tracks down the same paths. Moran is a Summerfun Theater veteran of some 18 years, but has never worked with Leutz who has been a frequent musical director for the company over the past five years. Hipkins was a student at Verona High School, but graduated just prior to Moran's arrival on the faculty. Leutz, who has played for numerous shows in the Essex County area, has never worked with Hipkins, who performed on various local stages before becoming professional.

Jazz festival planned

The Riker Hill Art Park Jazz Festival is part of the Essex County Parks Centennial Celebration. Featuring artists from New Jersey, it will run from noon to 10 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday at the park, located on Beaufort Avenue off Eisenhower Parkway in Livingston.

There will be arts and crafts, vendors, food and activities for the entire family. For further information, call (201) 992-8806 or (201) 268-3500.

Each anticipates the opportunity to work together in the raucous revue, "Forever Plaid."

"Forever Plaid," the blockbuster musical revue, closes Summerfun Theater's 24th season. Come out of the heat into the air-conditioned Weiss Arts Center as the pop tunes of the late '50s and early '60s come alive in the trip down musical memory lane with "The Plaids."

Broadsided by a bus load of Catholic school girls on their way to see the Beatles live on the Ed Sullivan Show, "The Plaids" career was ended before it began. Harmonizing in heaven was just the ticket for a trip to planet earth for their one night stand — the perfect gig to immortalize them as "Forever Plaid." The show reels with the best of a not-so-long-ago golden age. Tunes include "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "Three Coins in The Fountain," "Moments To Remember" and

"Lady of Spain."

The Weiss Arts Center is located on Lloyd Road just off Bloomfield Avenue in Montclair.

"Forever Plaid" plays Tuesday through Aug. 5, and Aug. 8 through Aug. 12 at 8 p.m. Additionally, there will be a matinee on Aug. 3 at 2 p.m.

Tickets are $18 and $22 with discounts for students and senior citizens. They can be reserved by phone at (201) 256-0576.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

DR. DONALD ANTONELLI

"SOFTNESS" IS NOT COMFORT

Your posture can make quite a difference where your health is concerned. That's why you should avoid "posture traps."

Soft, sagging chairs. Soft, lumpy mattresses. Low feet-in-front auto seats. Chairs with no backs, or backs that make you sit too rigidly. These are just a few examples of furniture that can put your body out of whack. Result: fatigue, irritability, muscle strain, unhealthy pressure on nerve centers.

Softness is not comfort. A chair or mattress should be firm enough to properly support your spine and all the muscles and joints in your body. A chair that's too soft, for example, can crowd your abdomen, press against your chest cavity, and interfere with the healthy functioning of your body. The true test of chair comfort is being able to sit for long periods without feeling fatigue or unwelcome pressures on any part of your body.

Seek second opinions

Second opinions are commonly sought today. In fact, thousands of patients seek them each year. Clearly, you do not want to get another doctor's opinion on every ailment or problem, but there are definitely times you should seek out a second opinion.

Dr. John Connolly, former president of New York Medical College and author of the "Castle Connolly Pocket Guide: How to Find the Best Doctors, Hospitals, and HMOs for You and Your Family," said, "In many cases, insurance companies will pay for second opinions, but check ahead of time to make sure your insurance plan does cover them. In an HMO, you may have to be more assertive because one way such organizations control costs is by limiting second opinions."

Pru offers med program

The Prudential Degnan Boyle Realtors announces that Prudential Referral Services, PRS, the broker-to-broker referral network of the Prudential Real Estate Affiliates, Inc., — has implemented a program to provide residential real estate services to members of the American Medical Association, AMA.

Developed in association with AMA Financing & Practice Services, a subsidiary of the AMA, the program is called PRS "Easy Moves" and offers a special rebate to physicians when they buy or sell property in states where permissible by law. As part of the program, PRS provides a consultant who monitors each buying or selling transaction, which eliminates most of the red tape and difficulties usually associated with the purchase or sale of a property. The consultant will also provide a variety of useful material, ranging from cost-of-living comparisons by state/city to comprehensive relocation kits and a special marketing strategy designed to attract qualified buyers.

Eligible participants can also save up to 50 percent on state-to-state moves through PRS EasyMoves' special program with Bekins Van Lines.

"The services that AMA members will receive through their relationship with Prudential Referral Services will greatly improve their homebuying or selling experience," said Peter J. Degman, president of the Prudential Degnan Boyle Realtors. "We're pleased that the AMA has recognized the quality of PRS and that they have selected our network to handle their real estate business."

For more information on PRS EasyMoves, call (800) 732-7391, or contact your local Prudential Degnan Boyle Realtors office.

Prudential Degnan Boyle Realtors has been an independently owned and operated franchise member of the Prudential Real Estate Affiliates, PREA, since November 1993. PREA is one of the nation's largest and fastest growing real estate networks, with over 1,100 affiliate offices, over 33,000 sales associates and brokers, and 1994 sales of more than $52.4 billion.

PRS is an international relocation network that specializes in homefinding and homeselling services for people making national or international moves. It links more than 1,600 real estate offices and 38,000 real estate associates across the country, and generated a combined total of more than 100,000 referrals in 1994.

Source One scores with customers

Customer satisfaction is something every company talks about, but very few have the statistics to back it up. However, Source One Mortgage Services Corporation recently was named the number one mortgage lender in the country in the areas of service and customer satisfaction.

This honor was the result of a nationwide survey conducted by Dalbar, Inc., an independent research company that has conducted customer satisfaction surveys for almost 20 years.

Source One's senior vice president in charge of residential mortgage lending, Lawrence Brady, said the company is extremely gratified to be recognized as a leader in customer service. "Even though we remain one of the largest mortgage lenders in the country, we have always trained our employees to give high quality personal service. Judging by the results of the survey, that effort has paid off."

Joe Sinisi, manager of the Source One branch at 25 Commerce Drive,

Cranford, said that everyone in the branch takes great pride in this achievement. Sinisi said, "We like to think that, through the service we provide our customers in the Cranford area, we have made a major contribution to Source One's national ranking."

Founded in 1946, Source One Mortgage Services Corporation has another retail branch in New Jersey serving the Marlton area. Source One has approximately 350,000 customers comprising a mortgage servicing portfolio in excess of $31 billion. The company and its subsidiaries have more than 150 offices and 2,000 employees nationwide servicing and originating conventional, FHA and VA residential mortgages.

Driving while sleepy is as dangerous as driving drunk

Most people know how drugs and alcohol affect a driver — slowed reaction time, decreased awareness and impaired judgment. But many drivers are unaware that sleepiness can have the same effects, making driving drowsy as dangerous as driving drunk.

It is difficult to attribute accidents to sleepiness because there are no tests or standardized criteria to clearly determine the extent of the problem. Still, Federal Highway Transportation officials estimate that drowsy drivers are involved in anywhere from 60,000 to 240,000 accidents each year. Drowsiness, they say, contributes to about 10,000 auto deaths a year.

"The groups most at risk for drowsy driving are young people, shift workers or those with non-traditional work schedules, commercial drivers, and people with undiagnosed sleep disorders," says John Tiene, executive director of the New Jersey Insurance News Service.

Young people under the age of 25 account for 55 percent of all sleep-related driving accidents, he notes. They are typically sleep-deprived from staying up late and sleeping too little, and they do much of their driving at the time of greatest risk, at night. Shift workers, 20-30 percent of whom reported having a sleep-related driving mishap in the last year, find the morning drive home from work especially risky.

"Commercial drivers are also especially susceptible to sleep-related accidents," adds Tiene. "In addition to the high number of miles they drive each year, much of their driving is done at night, when the body is sleepiest."

What times and situations put drivers at the most risk for sleepy driving? "Between the hours of midnight and six a.m., or in the middle of the afternoon between one and four p.m. during the 'afternoon lull' are prime times for drowsy driving accidents," says Tiene. Drivers are more likely to fall asleep at the wheel when driving alone or when on a long, monotonous drive. Waking up early to start a journey, or staying up late the night before a trip to prepare, also puts drivers at a greater risk, he reports.

The New Jersey Insurance News Service offers the following advice to help drivers prevent drowsy driving:

1. Recognize the danger signals for drowsy driving. If your eyes close or go out of focus by themselves, if you have trouble keeping your head up, cannot stop yawning, have wandering, disconnected thoughts, cannot remember driving the last few miles, drift between lanes, tailgate, miss traffic signs, or have a difficult time maintaining constant speed, take these as warning signs that you could fall asleep at the wheel.

2. Coffee and other stimulants are substitutes for sleep. They may help you feel more alert, but the effects last only a short time and you may still experience "micro-sleeps", brief naps that last about five seconds.

3. Pull over frequently. Schedule a break every two hours or every 100 miles. During your break take a nap, stretch, get some exercise. If you pull over for a nap make sure you park in a safe spot and lock your doors.

4. Don't get hypnotized by the road. Drivers frequently get hypnotized by the lines on the road. Make a conscious effort to keep your eyes moving every few seconds from the road to the side and rear mirrors and back to the road again.

5. Keep your body relaxed. A tight grip on the wheel and tense neck and shoulder muscles add to fatigue.

6. Vary the seat control settings in your car. A cool car will keep you more alert. Rolling down the window for fresh air also helps.

7. Play games or find activities that keep you awake. Make sure however, that they do not interfere with your driving.

8. Listen to the radio, or cassette tapes.

9. Talk to your passengers; ask your front seat passenger to stay awake.

10. Switch drivers.

11. Plan to drive during the hours of the day when you are normally awake. Avoid driving during your body's down time, at night and during the mid-afternoon.

12. Have your car checked for exhaust system problems. Carbon monoxide emissions can cause fatigue.

Oldsmobile improves on a winner

How do you improve on a winner? The answer is with utmost care and concentration. Oldsmobile customers have made it perfectly clear that the Ciera SL sedan and station wagon models are excellent solutions to their transportation needs. So any attempt to help a sales leader in the Oldsmobile lineup must be accompanied by profound deliberation. For ten solid years, the Ciera has meant "Oldsmobile" to more customers than any other model. Repeated strong showings in independent surveys and consumer magazine reviews only reinforce what Ciera fans have known all along: this is one well-built and dependable automobile.

Last year, the lineup was streamlined to one model per bodystyle, four door sedan and wagon. This year the nameplate is SL instead of S. Oldsmobile's successful simplified pricing strategy will continue to offer retailers and their customers a special package of options in two levels of standard equipment with an attractively priced window sticker. This strategy has accounted for over 90 percent of retail Ciera sales and it has helped these mid-size models show a sales growth approaching nine percent from a year ago.

Last year the Ciera sedan and wagon got twonew engines, one new transmission, ABS, programmable automatic door locks, speed-variable power steering, and a driver's side air-bag. In 1995, all Ciera models feature the shift interlock system as standard equipment. Also, seats and door trim receive fabric design changes.

Ciera customers are interested in value, reliability, durability, and safety in a comfortable package. Nearly two million Cieras owners are currently on the road as a testament to the careful engineering that went into their design. During the 1995 model year, the ranks of satisfied Ciera owners will surely swell by more than 100,000 customers, as usual.

Sweden's Volvo has many changes in store with a new wave of autos

Things are changing at Sweden's largest car maker and chances are you will like the changes. Since the beginning of the 90's, there has been a continuous flow of new products. While these new models were true to Volvo's reputation for safety and durability, they were also noticeably more stylish, and a great deal more fun to drive. Volvo has kept the changes flowing for 1995, offering a new 960 Series, the world's first Side Impact Air Bags, and an illuminating idea to improve daytime driving safety.

The new 960 retains the distinctive overall appearance people have come to expect from Volvo's larger rear wheel drive cars. But wait, while the strong character of the car is still there, the lines are much softer, bumpers and trim more integrated, and the front-end visibly lower and sleeker. The smooth and flowing exterior design theme has been carried over to the redesigned interior, where an extensive array of luxury features tell you that you are sitting in a top-of-the-line automobile. Even the shortest test drive in the new 960 will let you know the changes are not limited to cosmetics!

Power for the 960 comes from Volvo's 2.9 liter in-line, six cylinder engine with four valves per cylinder. For '95, the engine management system has been recalibrated to put out significantly more torque at speeds below 4,200 rpm which means more performance where you can use it to enter freeways and accelerate into traffic.

Intent on making the value of the 960 as impressive as its appearance and handling, Volvo is introducing the fully equipped new 960 sedan at a suggested retail price of only $29,900. The elegant wagon will be $31,200. These cars require virtually no options. Standard equipment includes: deluxe leather interior with wood accents, alloy wheels, glass sunroof, and a custom audio system. Like all Volvos, the 960's also have four-wheel disc brakes with ABS, SRS with driver and passenger air bag, CVC-free climate control, and an all welded steel body with roll cage like construction. The 960 has been designed and priced to please its owners and frustrate its competitors.

Safety and the name Volvo are interchangeable in many people's minds. Volvo engineers have always worked to expand the frontiers of automotive safety and that is exactly what they have done with the introduction of the world's first Side Impact Air Bags on the 1995 Volvo 850's. Volvo is the only car company offering this added level of protection! It will be standard equipment on 850 Turbo sedans and wagons and a $500 option on other 850 models.

Because the air bag is mounted in the seat, it is always in the proper location relative to the occupant. This means the bag can be much smaller than a bag mounted in the door, which would have to be big enough to cover both tall and short operators. The bag itself has a 12 liter volume and is roughly six inches in diameter and twelve inches long. Volvo believes the Side Impact Air Bag is a true safety breakthrough and will help to save thousands of lives in the years ahead. It is an idea you will likely see offered by virtually all car manufacturers at some future date. While not required by law, it could well become the new standard of the industry and Volvo pioneered it.

The benefits of Daytime Running Lights may appear obvious at dawn, dusk, or in foul weather. But they have also been shown to enhance the visibility of oncoming cars in extremely bright environments like the desert. DRL's help oncoming traffic to be aware of you. Their ability to reduce the frequency and even the severity of accidents has been proven again and again.

The new 960 from Volvo — A sharp package with round corners.

You have the option to lease. Actually, you have the option to do just about anything.

The Discovery gives you freedom of choice. And right now, for a limited time, we're giving you the opportunity to drive this authentic Land Rover at a lease price of just $495 a month with no acquisition fee.
