5-0 Vote Passes Zone Amendment —As Amended

Architectural Board, Garden Apartment Sections Eliminated

On unanimous vote the Township Committee passed an amended version of an amendment to the zoning laws Tuesday night. Dropped from the law was the planned Architectural Board of Review and all reference to garden apartment zones.

The balance of the amendment remain the same. Mayor Arthur M. Falkin explained that the two items will be dropped for the present.

Richard Montanino was the only voice raised in protest, and that was not in the new version of the amendment. But a suggestion by the mayor that zones for garden apartments might be considered at some future time.

Mayor Falkin said the committee was studying that section of the amendment and hoped to introduce another more acceptable version at a later date.

Protested July 9
Silence at the continuation of the hearing on the zone amendment was in contrast to the protests raised at the original hearing on July 9. At that meeting major objections were raised to the now-deleted sections of the amendments to the zone laws.

Among the objectors at the July 9 meeting were Robert C. Miller, Architect and chairman of the Board of Adjustment, who opposed the creation of the Architectural Board of Review; Montanino, who had objected to the garden apartment section; and Edward Schwartz, who objected to both sections.

Miller said at the first hearing that however idealistic the implementation of the law might be, it would lead to highly arbitrary decisions by a non-professional board, which in certain instances and by certain acts would be practicing architecture.

Editorial Standards
The Architectural Board of Review had, it was pointed out, would have been drawn from members of the Planning Board and the Township Committee. It could have served according to the zoning laws, maintaining the building in the township.

Montanino was concerned with the garden apartment section, maintaining that he had both been a member of the committee considering the amendment planned to "square" the apartments into tighter units. Montanino said he was afraid that in a squeeze the apartments might go up rather than out.

At the meeting time drew close to 11 p.m., however, and some 20 persons remained in the audience, the only comment came from Montanino.

Plan To Eliminate Access To Homes By Boarding Up

Advertise For Bids
Soon For Demolition
Of 28 Properties

The State Highway Department announced yesterday an all state-wide property bought in Springfield for the right of way for Rt. 78.

Properties are to be secured by boarding windows and doors on first floors to halt access to the houses by youngsters and others, and general maintenance of the property, such as clearing up debris and mowing of lawns will be instituted.

The highway department will advertise for bids for demolition of the 28 state-owned houses on Aug. 15 and bids will be received three weeks later.

This, Edgar Y. Corson, assistant director, Division of Roads, State Highway Department, told an open conference headed by the Township Committee Tuesday night.

The committee, headed by State Senator Nelson Stambler, has been attempting to have the highway department move on cleaning up some 28 houses and 80 parcels of land that they maintained is the property of the state.

Corson said that there are 28 state-owned houses involved. He listened as Mayor Arthur M. Falkin and Stambler presented the plan for the township. Stambler said he was making the appeal to the highway department under the "attractive nuisance" law. Falkin pointed out that the properties left alone had caused vandalism and emphasized that they were an attraction to youngsters in entering and leaving the area.

Falkin emphasized that although the committee was determined that demolition contracts would be let within the two-month period, he was concerned with getting the area cleaned up.

Corson said he thought that State Highway Department Commissioner Dwight J. Palmer would agree that boarding up the property was the job of the local police. The mayor indicated his satisfaction when the highway department would take action on securing the property from entry while action on demolition was being instituted.

Stambler also predicted that the highway department was taking large fees down in order to remove a house with a minimum of effort. Corson explained that some of the removal of houses was done by the occupants, by private contract or other by the department. He said action on the abandoned houses would come under township rules.

Action by the township committee was instituted about two weeks ago when Mayor Falkin and the committee took the matter up with the highway department and secured a remedy to the situation.

The mayor then asked Senator Stambler to help with the township with the highway department. The senator met with Committee members and laid out 20 photographs showing conditions of state-owned houses.

'Fair Housing' Committee Formed

3-COULDN'T VOTE Elks Given Variance By 2 Committeemen

Special exemption use was granted to the Springfield Lodge of Elks to maintain a clubhouse on Old Coach rd. off Baltusrol rd. at Tuesday's Township Committee meeting.

The matter almost failed to get to the floor because of a preponderance of Elks members on the Township Committee. Only after legal advice and a conference between lawyers did the measure reach the voting stage.

The measure had been recommended by approved by the Board of Adjustment. The committee had, however, voted to deny the request. Vincent Bonadire and James C. Gurnea, both Elks Lodge members, secured exemption from taking up the matter and had the matter.

Whether Committee member Philip Del Vecchio, an Elks member, could take any part in the matter, Township Prosecutor Joseph Seldel, sitting for Township Attorney James M. Crowley, also an Elks, ruled that Del Vecchio, as a member but not an officer of the club, could remain under the "rule of necessity." Seldel explained that this would allow him to remain only so that action could be taken, but that he could not vote on the matter.

Del Vecchio continued to speak the motion to bring the matter before the committee but abstained from voting. The motion was carried by a 2-1 vote. The 2 in favor were Arthur M. Falkin and Committee member Vincent Bonadire. The 1 against was Philip Del Vecchio.

Philip's vote was joined by a legal representative of the Elks, William J. Gurnea, representing himself, the Elks and Mrs. Harry D. Williams, who objected to the several paragraphs of the Board of Adjustment and that objections from area residents received around the belief that the club's location in the area would change the character of the neighborhood.

Would Draw Traffic
He said he did not object to the clubhouse being equipped with a septic tank designed for one family dwelling and questioned whether the clubhouse would be a "nuisance" to the club especially with a bar.

Max Sherman, representing the Elks, said that many of Gurnea's points were not proper at the meeting. He said the issue of the septic tank was one for the Board of Health and not the Township Committee.

Mayor Falkin and the committee voted in favor of granting the special exemption use for the property. Gurnea said that he would like the area to remain as it is, but pointed out that Rt. 78 when it goes through the township will change the character of the area in question as well as many others.

CAR WASHING, SPRINKLING OF LAWNS BANNED

No resident of Springfield may water his lawn or wash his car during the current water emergency. This ruling to be enforced by the police department, was passed by the Springfield Township Committee at Tuesday night's meeting.

Committee member Robert Hardgrave, in setting the regulations said that the supply of water in the reservoir of the Commonwealth Water Co. was at 30 per cent of capacity.

Committee OKs Variance For 72-Unit Motel

A 72-unit motel complete with swimming pool will rise at 22 and Dundee rds. following approval of a variance by the Township Committee Tuesday night. The variance was granted by a 2-1 vote.

Committee member Vincent Bonadire, in setting the variance, said that the motel would be a "nuisance" to the neighborhood. He said that the motel would be a "nuisance" to the neighborhood.

The information that this was a "nuisance" was given by the prospective builders. Bonadire had re-negated the activity to lessen the kindness of the turn into the motel.

Approval of the variance was given subject to moving the pool 20 feet nearer to Rt. 22 and relocation of the driveway in the westerly end of the property.

"Fair residents of Dundee rd. objected to granting the variance on property which was once farm land and is now zoned business and industry on the side of the road and light industry on the other."

The objections said they did not want a well opposite their property and objected to the motel which might come from the motel.

75 Attend Parley, But Only 38 Vote; Announce Goals

A permanent Fair Housing Committee for Springfield was formed Tuesday night in St. James Church auditorium by clergy and laymen from various local religious organizations. Approximately 75 persons attended the meeting, at which an eight-point resolution was adopted—enumerating the goals of the new group.

In the vote on making the committee permanent 38 persons voted in the affirmative. The remainder abstained, while only one hand was raised in the point against the motion. A total of 30 persons voted to send the various religious organizations of the community for their consideration.

Alfred J. Decker, pastor of Temple Church of Christ, who acted as secretary, emphasized that the clergy and the representatives of the various religious organizations were acting as individuals and not in their official capacities at the meeting.

Decker, who has been in the forefront of civil rights drives both in the North and South, called for an "open Springfield, a Springfield where religious and ethnic groups do not exist."

The other speaker, in addition to Decker, was Rev. Gerald Murphy, a vice-president of the New Jersey Commission against Discrimination in Housing. Father Murphy, who is also a professor of sociology at St. Peter's College, Jersey City, said that in many areas in this state, "prejudice and racial hatred" still exist.

He asserted that in the eventuality of instances where churches have failed to act across the area that "discrimination is a sin." Father Murphy suggested that clergy give simultaneous sermons on the subject and that the cooperation of realtors be sought in breaking down housing barriers.

In addition, the priest urged that an attempt be made to secure adoption of a local ordinance making it unlawful to refuse to sell or rent to anyone on the basis of race, religion or ethnic background.

In response to a question whether members of the audience knew personally of any discrimination in the sale of homes in Springfield, a man who mentioned himself as Joseph Marshall said he knew of a Negro who was told that he would have to pay $5,000 more than a white person for a home and that he would be forced to wait for two years. "So this Negro bought a lot and built a home in the Negro area," Marshall added.

Several members of the audience spoke in favor of the establishment of a fair housing committee.

Membership Limit Up To 5,200 At Pool

The Springfield Municipal Swimming Pool is now in a position to accept 400 new members for the current year. Possibility for the Township Committee to increase the membership of the pool was an amendment to the pool ordinance during the meeting of the Utility Board.

Catapano reiterated his position taken at the last meeting that he thought it was best to establish whether the pool could accommodate a larger number of members.

The mayor also called for re-negotiation of the Swimming Pool Committee that had acted in an advisory capacity prior to the construction of the new pool.

Palmer said that the state has been unable to agree on a price with the Erius.

Fallen Branches Block Sewers, Causing Flooding

Power was reported out in Springfield for four hours, streets were awash, trees were felled and the Municipal Building was an island, as a tornado-like storm struck the township Saturday night.

Power was reported out from 10:15 p.m. to 2:15 a.m. in three sections of the community, the worst of the storm seemed to cut a swath across the southern part of the township.

Township Engineer Walter Kozub reported that Dayton court, Caldwell pl., Briar Hill circle and Colonial terr., were inundated due to the blocking of storm sewer pipes by fallen tree branches and other material.

Caldwell pl. and Maple ave. were blocked off by fallen trees and Morris ave. was partially blocked by two large trees which cut off one lane of traffic.

Wires were reported down on Maple ave. and Rt. 22 was reported under three feet of water with two-way traffic confined to the west bound lane.

The Municipal Building sat as an island in the midst of swirling waters as brook water from across the road swelled over the banks. Kozub said conditions around the building were the worst he has ever seen.

High winds came up and driving rain began to fall shortly before 10 p.m. The storm continued at full fury for an hour during which most of the damage was done.

Police reported that the "raw and wet" weather might have been the cause of an accident at Milltown rd. and Meisel ave. in which a Springfield resident drove her car onto a lawn where it struck a tree.

Police said the woman was driving west on Milltown rd., attempted to make a U-turn and drove onto a lawn at 204 Meisel ave.

Kozub reported that pipes were blocked up in the brook that runs through Briar Hill Circle and that the reason for the flooding of Dayton court was that debris had collected at the bridge of the brook.

Most of the flooding was caused by the fury of the storm and the amount of rain that fell in a relatively short time, he said.

Charles Vobitzer, 20, of Scotch Plains and Paul Kozub of Morristown were each fined $20 for speeding.

Others fined and their violations included: Eric Nelson, 19, 30 Clinton ave., Springfield, failure to signal, $5; Paul J. ## FRUITS & VEGETABLES ARE THE FRESHEST THINGS YOU'VE EVER MET

You ain't ate nothin' till you taste Fruits and Vegetables from GOOD DEAL! Sam Aidekman (Good Deal's president) isn't called "Country Boy" just for fun. Sam was raised on a farm in New Jersey, and he sure knows how to pick 'em! Picking farm produce at the peak of luscious firmness is just what Good Deal does—and oh, what a DIFFERENCE that makes! Peaches, melons, corn and berries that spurt pure sweetness; beans, carrots, celery, lettuce that crunch crisply; milk-

white mushrooms, ruby tomatoes, golden bananas—everything DAYS fresher than anywhere else. Fruits and vegetables STAY perfect long after you get them home—you ENJOY them instead of WASTING them! Good Deal inspects 300 cases for every 100 cases it buys—only ONE in THREE is good enough for Good Deal. Best of all, Good Deal's regular prices are lower than the sale prices of many other supermarkets. Your TOTAL cost for produce is always LOWER at Good Deal—and you get TOP QUALITY!

GOOD DEAL'S Quality FRUITS & VEGETABLES ARE THE FRESHEST THINGS YOU'VE EVER MET

You ain't ate nothin' till you taste Fruits and Vegetables from GOOD DEAL! Sam Ardekman (Good Deal's president) isn't called "Country Boy" just for fun. Sam was raised on a farm in New Jersey, and he sure knows how to pick 'em! Picking farm produce at the peak of luscious firmness is just what Good Deal does—and oh, what a DIFFERENCE that makes! Peaches, melons, corn and berries that spurt pure sweetness; beans, carrots, celery, lettuce that crunch crisply; milk-

white mushrooms, ruby tomatoes, golden bananas—everything DAYS fresher than anywhere else. Fruits and vegetables STAY perfect long after you get them home—you ENJOY them instead of WASTING them! Good Deal inspects 300 cases for every 100 cases it buys—only ONE in THREE is good enough for Good Deal. Best of all, Good Deal's regular prices are lower than the sale prices of many other supermarkets. Your TOTAL cost for produce is always LOWER at Good Deal—and you get TOP QUALITY!

3-Way Tie Looms In Springfield Softball League

Minutemen Lose To Verona Nine; Record Now 1-5

The Springfield Minutemen lost their fourth straight game Monday night when they bowed in Verona and Jack Bethney, 3-0.

Verona, defending champions, were led by the bats of DeMilio who rapped out three for three and Silva who collected two hits and drove in two runs.

It was all Bethney Monday night, however, as the Springfield man was allowed to reach base until two men were out in the last inning. Blazing a fast ball by the Minutemen for seven innings with pin point control, Bethney weakened and allowed two hits in the seventh before retiring the side.

The Minutemen, whose bats have been very quiet of late, and in the last game seemed to just talk to themselves, are in the throes of a four game losing streak and now have a record of 1-5. Pitching was not a strong point in the last few games either, but the relief chucking of Stu Falkin was an encouraging sign for coach Scott Donnington.

The leading hitter on the Minutemen going into Monday night's game was Dennis Lies. Lies has had three hits in eight trips to the plate for an average of .375.

Stu Falkin and Frank Haydu led the batters in the number of hits with four. Falkin, however, picked up another hit in Monday night's game to stand alone as the hit leader. Falkin also has collected the only homerun the Minutemen have managed to bang out.

Kurtz Downs Zora To Take Tennis Title

Gary Kurtz, a 13-year-old eighth-grader at Gaudinier School, climbed to the top of the boys' singles ladder, this week by upsetting defending champion Gene Zora in straight sets, 6-1 and 7-5.

Junior-lads, 16 or under, can challenge the current champion by applying to John Svedlich, track and program director.

LONGFELLOW HANDICAP

The 20th running of the Longfellow Handicap will be the one of Monmouth Park July 27. This is the first year the race, previously held at the mile, will be run at a mile and one-eighth. The race was added to the one-mile handicap on the turf. Tickets and race have been nominated for the event.

A.A.U. Divers Gird For Championship Monday

TWO OVER LIGHT — Les Gerber of Springfield, New Jersey, state high school diving champion, does a double somersault, practicing for the A.A.U. high diving championship, which will take place at the Springfield Municipal Pool Monday.

Four national diving champions have registered to compete in the New Jersey State A.A.U. high diving championship, to be held at the Springfield Municipal Pool Monday.

Along with the four national champions, one state champion and one former national finalist have registered for the event.

As of Tuesday, eight divers had registered to compete in the meet.

Kathy Flicker of the Summit YMCA is the junior national champion in the high diving event. Kathy, who is also the state senior champion in the one-meter dive, will be attempting to garner the state title in the high dive.

Jacqueline Linder, who will represent the Princeton YMCA in the meet, is the junior state champion in the one-meter event as well as the district title holder.

Steve McCoy of the Westfield YMCA, who holds the district highboard title, is a previous winner of the National Senior one-meter championship.

Bob Prince of the Summit YMCA, David Bush and David Saldy are other entrants.

Registration will close tomorrow. Entries are expected to submit entries before the registration closes, according to Fred Brown, a member of the state AAU Board.

Leslie Bush, junior national platform champion and state senior three-meter finalist, will be defending her championship on the high board. Leslie is from Princeton.

Rutgers University will open its 1963 football season against Princeton on Sept. 28. This will be the seventh consecutive year that football's original opponents will meet on opening day.

HIGH SCHOOLERS INVITED TO JOIN NEW CAGE LEAGUE

Opportunities are available for the eight team basketball league being formed at Lewis and Clark High School. High school boys and those over 17 years of age are invited to join the "oldtimers" in this new night league being formed by the Recreation Department, according to Scott Donnington, assistant recreation chief.

The league which will be made up of eight teams will play one game every night, thus completing one round each week. Teams may enter as units but individual applicants may also register. The league will run the entire month of August.

Softballers Vote For Playoff Tills

Post season, double elimination playoffs have been scheduled for the top ten teams in the Springfield Adult Softball League. The decision to hold the additional contests was determined Tuesday night at a meeting of the league membership.

Prior to the beginning of the playoffs, single eliminations will be played by the last four teams in the league standings to determine the two teams which will enter the ten-team double elimination rounds.

The qualifying contests will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, with the double elimination rounds scheduled to begin Aug. 5.

Players also voted to present two trophies at the conclusion of the season. One will go to the winner of the scheduled play and one to the playoff champion.

Attendance at the 1963 summer meeting will be held at Monmouth Park is holding most of the early games made this season and at the moment, attendance is running 18 percent ahead of last year and wagering is up 54 per cent.

Fischer Drops 2; Katz Shares Lead

Fischer Brothers Travel lost their Tuesday night game to the Wesley Jewellers 4-1, but they were able to finish in second place for first place with the Katz Squad in the Springfield Adult Softball League.

After winning their first game, the Fischermen have gone into a tailspin and been defeated in their last two outings. Scott Donnington, league manager, said the Fischermen were "out of their minds" Tuesday night to pick up the victory.

Tuesday night's loss by the Fischermen also opened the doors for a possible three way tie, as Erhardt with a 6-2 record, still has an opportunity to throw the league standings into horizontal order by winning their Friday night contest against the Sun Publishers team.

If it is the case that the top spot is split three ways at the end of the regularly scheduled season, Erhardt will play Katz Monday night in a single elimination playoff, and Fischer who drew a bye in the present playoff, will play the winner of the Katz-Erhardt game next Friday, Aug. 2. However, if Erhardt loses their Friday night game against the Sun Publishers, Fischer will play Katz in the Monday night skirmish to determine the winner of the league.

The Travel team had the opportunity to clinch first place last week when they met the Katz nine, but in a game which went all the way down the jets and two extra innings, the Fischer team succeeded to a professional hazard — errors, losing the game on an unearned run.

Pitchers Bob Roth for Katz, and Bill Savarin for Fischer, both Tuesday night games. Sal DeAngelo was the winning and holding star for the Katz team.

In other games last week:

Erhardt Electronics, who doubled to left, Ron Gocher followed with a bunt single, stole second, and crossed the plate to force the Jewellers' team.

Erhardt's rally in the sixth was started by Donny Lee who doubled to left, Ron Gocher followed with a bunt single, stole second, and crossed the plate to force the Jewellers' team.

Curt Merz Reaches Kansas City Prepared To Play -- But Where?

By LEW FISHERMAN
Arriving in Kansas City last week, Curt Merz, Springfield's contribution to professional football, did not seem concerned about playing in the few surroundings of the Kansas City Chiefs, the club with the newest franchise in the American Football League.

In a conversation with his parents, Curt's only reaction to his new base of activities was "It's hot." Not after a year of playing for the Dallas Texans in weather that gave the thermometer a good workout.

Can change affect a man who has displayed his gridiron talents in such varied ranges as Springfield, Canada, Iowa and Texas?

Possibly.

But can the transfer of a franchise from Dallas to Kansas City affect a man who has been switched from end to tackle to guard, from offense to defense in the rough American League -- most likely not.

The versatile "utility man" of the Chiefs was not always a utility man, and here follows the story of Curt Merz and sports success.

THE MERZ FAMILY, which moved from Newark to Springfield when Curt was six years old, enrolled their son in Caldwell School. And it was here that the career of one of the most acclaimed athletes this area has ever produced was launched.

Curt played baseball in the Police Benevolent League. And his team won three championships in five years.

Graduating from Caldwell School, Curt moved on to Jonathan Dayton Regional High. He hung up his baseball spikes in favor of track shoes and also slipped into a pair of football cleats when fall rolled around. But his father claims "everyone expected Curt to be a basketball player" so 6'4" Curt donned the sneakers and the colors of Dayton High as soon as he doffed his shoulder pads.

Winning seven letters in three sports in his stay at Dayton, Curt was named to All-County and All-State football teams. He was given honorable mention on an All-County basketball team, and he broke area records in both the shot-put and the discus, winning the state shot-put title in his senior year.

He was more than an athlete for Dayton, however. He was a member of the National Honor Society and was graduated with the highest honors. He wanted to be an engineer and scholarship offers came in waves from such schools as Princeton, Renne-lair Polytechnic Institute, Syracuse and Iowa.

IT WAS LOVE at first sight when he saw the Iowa campus, his parents said. There was no romance on the part of the lawless to enroll in the big brother as a member of their class of 1940.

No it was on to Iowa and the tutelage of Forest Evashevski. The big end learned his lessons well and in his sophomore year he was a starter on one of the Big Ten's top squads. The year of experience was just what the 240-pound engineering student needed. Already receiving recognition as one of the top linemen in the conference, both offensively and defensively, Curt was being added by the workings of sophomore quarterback Hardy-Dunn.

Not the change to Kansas City will not affect Curt Merz. He is, of course, unless the change of scene of a solid linebacker fullback. If so, no change.

Continuing his studies, Curt completed four years of the five-year engineering program with a B.S. degree, before changing to a B.S.E.T.E. degree.

Curt Merz, who was known in football fans across the country, Curt Merz who was to make the Life Magazine All-American team, as well as the Football Writers' All-American squad was the Curt Merz who used to don the outfit of a line backer.

and an Illustrated cover. Curt's work, outstanding in the end of passes thrown by 1940's number one NFL choice in the National Football League, Rudy Dornan.

In his junior year at Iowa, Curt's work, outstanding and along with Dornan and Willie Fleming led the Hawkeyes to the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl.

INJURIES doomed Curt to sit out most of his senior year. In one of the few games he did play, Curt was awarded the lineman of the week award by Sports Illustrated.

In this game, against Northwestern, Merz caught six passes for 88 yards and two touchdowns.

Curt was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL and the Titans in the AFL, but rejected contracts and in the fall of 1940 accepted an offer from the Winnipeg Blue Bombers to play in the Canadian League.

According to his parents, Curt accepted the offer because he received a $2,000 bonus which enabled him to finish his studies the following year.

After he earned his degree, Curt had the choice of picking up his draft rights with New York, Philadelphia or returning to Winnipeg. He selected the Titans. Merz was later traded to the Texans for two backfield men. Once again he was with Rudy Dornan and once again the scoring machine began to power his way past opponents. In the middle of the season Curt was asked to try his hands at the guard position -- and, after his first attempt, won the starting left guard post for Dallas. But when a tackle was alling Curt became a tackle.

TIM VERSATILITY of this 25-year-old Iowa alumna, prompted one of the sportswriters in Dallas to coin the phrase "Someone had, call on Curt." Injuries occurred frequently and the call became a matter of form, but when someone had, the call was Curt. The line did not suffer, thanks to a Springfield boy named Merz.

Not the change to Kansas City will not affect Curt Merz. He is, of course, unless the change of scene of a solid linebacker fullback. If so, no change.

Football Tilts Won By Bulldogs, Mels

The Mels downed the Killers, 10-6, in the Municipal Stadium Football League last week. In the opening minutes, Steve Lager passed to end Title for the Mels' first score. Title ran for another touchdown to lead the Mels' offensive attack. Tom Campbell, who caught Title in the end zone for a safety and scored the series' only touchdown, stood out both offensively and defensively.

In the other game played last week at the Municipal Stadium, the Bulldogs trounced the Titans, 14-0. Janssen scored both touchdowns for the Bulldogs.

Standing out on defense for the Titans were Melanes and Lins in the backfield and Simpson and Anderson on the line.

Hunters To Have Extended Season

New Jersey hunters will have additional days in which to hunt this fall, according to the New Jersey Division of Fish and Game. Woodcock hunters will also enjoy a larger bag limit as well as the ten more days of hunting. The daily bag limit will be five as opposed to four last year.

The woodcock season will run 30 days, from Oct. 12 to Nov. 30. However, a special woodcock license is required in addition to the regular hunting license.

The Wilson Game season will run 20 days, from Oct. 31 through Dec. 31. A 15-day license is required over last year's figure.

Hunting hours for all these species be sunrise to sunset, according to the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

My daughter lives in an old neighborhood, surrounded by eccentric old women.

To all appearances, she is a rather healthy-looking young lady, but only on the surface. She is plagued by a series of chronic illnesses and cannot keep up the fast pace of these elderly ladies. They criticize, scold, and nag, and snicker about her. She's clean, neat, and hasn't a lax bone in her body. These ladies go out in the morning and dig, prune, water, cultivate, and gossip in their yards.

My daughter is quite miserable because she has to put up with these characters.

Frankly, I feel there is so much to do in one's own yard that there is no time to criticize others. How does one answer these fanatics?

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Agent

Green ears of corn overflowing the baskets at roadside stands and the market. What a gladdening sight for Northwesterners as midsummer rolls along! Most of us would agree that one of the special pleasures late July brings is sweet corn.

Long centuries ago, corn was important in the lives of the people in Indian civilization — the Inca of Peru, the Maya of Central America and the Aztec of Mexico. Corn was served as food, currency, fuel, and even as building material. It was used for playing taxes, decorating temples, for ornaments, toys and musical instruments.

To this day corn plays a part in certain Indian festive and religious ceremonies.

The corn we know today enjoyed chiefly for eating pleasure, is infinitely tastier and better than that valued so highly by earlier peoples in the western world. And we are enjoying more fresh corn on our tables.

Our use of fresh corn has increased while our use of most other fresh vegetables has either stabilized or declined. Extension marketing specialists tell us. The improvement in the quality product is one reason for its greater consumption. Corn has an elusive fresh, sweet flavor greatly affected by exposure to high temperatures. Producers and marketers aim to keep the corn cool from time of harvest to sale.

Then, too, we have a greater chance to buy corn year around than 30 years ago. During the year, the average American eats eight pounds of fresh corn, twelve and a half pounds of canned, and three pounds of frozen corn. This means the canned corn available all year round and the most economical has the widest use. But as long as the fresh product is in season, it is usually preferred.

Fresh corn on the cob is the superlative corn offering, whether served indoors or outdoors. And there is no problem about using left over cooked corn if there should be any. The cooked corn can be used in a variety of ways: fritters, muffins, or a colorful vegetable in meal, one-summer casseroles. Corn fritters and pancakes make tempting early morning fare. You can use the cooked kernels, too, in casseroles and in cream-of-fresh-corn soup.

Corn fritters are one of the company dinner specials in many families and corn pancakes with bacon, syrup and apples added, makes a scrumptious family luncheon or supper. Both can be made with cooked corn cut from the cob or canned corn.

Dear D. J. B.:

They are not to be answered—Your daughter would be healthier and happier if she ignored them and tended to her own affairs. Then they will realize they are barking up the wrong tree and look for another. This hen-party should be persuaded to put their free time into a more fruitful endeavor.

Dear Amy:

Recently you said there are few homes today that do not have liquor on hand for special occasions. That is what you people who have liquor on hand think. I know very few homes that have liquor or serve it on any occasion. It all depends on who you choose for your friends. How very true the old saying, "Birds of a feather flock together."

Sorry to see you advocate liquor in the home!

Distilled

Dear Amy:

I'm an active and honorary member of many national organizations that oppose alcoholism. But I see nothing wrong in having a bottle of something stronger than tomato juice on hand to toast a special occasion, for a gourmet recipe or for medicinal purposes. You are being naive, madam, or you are not accustomed to custom!

Dear Amy:

Last month I was given a surprise when I received three more two trailers and two milk-masters.

I want to know if it's proper to take back one of each of these after because I can't use two of them. If it's all right to take them back, should I mention it to the people who gave them to me?

Dear Amy:

It's perfectly all right to exchange the double for something else you can use if the people are frequent visitors, you should tell them. They'll understand.

Dear Amy:

I am 12 years old and in the 7th grade. My 7-year-old cousin (living with us since her mother passed away) shares a bedroom with me. She has half an hour to get dressed and leave the room. Yet she stays in the room with phony excuses. Don't I deserve some privacy?

Crowded

Dear Amy:

It's very big of you to give her a whole extra hour. And rather than of you to be an inconsiderate, stop fussing, complain, and give her equal time.

For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, very clearly and please address all letters to AMY ADAMS c/o THIS NEWSPAPER

Gas Co. Planning To Help Sponsor Pavilion At Fair

The Elizabethtown Gas Co. announced this week that it will participate in the New York World's Fair as one of the companies sponsoring the "Festival of Gas" pavilion.

John Keen, president of Elizabethtown Gas, inspected progress on the construction of the gas company's exhibit last week and reported that steelwork on the pavilion has been completed and that workers are now putting on the building's roof.

The gas company exhibitors were the first to sign a contract for a commercial exhibit at the fair, the first to break ground, and they expect to be among the first exhibits to be completed early next spring.

Coordinated by the American Gas Association, the gas pavilion will be located near the main transportation entrance to the fairgrounds. The exhibit area will include a carousel ride during which visitors may view the entire central portion of the exhibit, a "fun" house showing the gas appliances of the future, continuing demonstrations by master chefs, and displays showing industrial and commercial uses for gas.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schroeder, of 21 Midvale dr., Springfield, entertained at a party Sunday in honor of the 60th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Schroeder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Vonah, of Carteret.

Guests came from as far as California and Florida to attend the get-together, the first for the family since the Vonahs' golden wedding anniversary.

In The Social Spotlight

Approximately 50 members of the Springfield Senior Citizens Club gathered yesterday at the new municipal pool for a combination meeting and pool-adjacent. The group, which met at 10 a.m., watched the youngsters participating in the Red Cross learn-to-swim program currently being conducted at the pool by instructors from the township's recreation department.

Mr. Vonah and the former Anna Rapp were married Nov. 24, 1902, in Elizabeth. The party was postponed until the summer to make sure the guests from distant spots would not be hindered from coming by bad weather, Mrs. Schroeder said.

Another member, Joseph Kell, conducted a "memory" quiz among members attending the meeting. The quiz was given in the same manner as the same. Other prizes, donated by shareholders and members, were also awarded.

Facilities were led by Mrs. Raymond C. Mitchell, chairman of the golden age group, which is sponsored by the recreation commission of the township.

Two young friends, Karen Garbar and Ellen Gelfand, will leave Sunday for a two-week stay at Camp Wawaymunc, Oshkosh, N. Y. Both girls will be in the fifth grade at Sandmeier School in September.

Goldwater Fans Hit Rockefeller

Governor Nelson Rockefeller's recent attacks "dividing the Republican Party" might cause the GOP to lose New Jersey in 1964 and may have a "destabilizing effect" on the party, according to this fall, Robert R. MacPherson, spokesman for the Union County "Draft Goldwater" Committee, said this week.

The Republican leader said Rockefeller's attacks on the conservative wing of the GOP "were most unfortunate and untimely, particularly when we need a united Republican Party here in New Jersey to take advantage of the opportunity to make major gains in the legislature this fall."

"There is no reason why any aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination has to resort to tactics that result in dividing the party," he said.

Motorcyclist Injured

Leonard Dusey, 24, of 838 Thompson Ave., Roselle, suffered a possible fracture of the right leg Monday when he fell from a motorcycle he was driving on the grounds of the State Teachers College in Union, police reported. He was taken to Union Memorial General Hospital.

Specifications Now Complete For 50-Bed Runnells Addition

Architect's sketch shows complete motel-type unit at the John F. Runnells Hospital, Berkeley Heights. Freeholder Mary C. Kanane of Union announced this week that specifications have been drawn up on new section at left. Area of building at right is nearing completion.

There will be two single bedrooms and 24 two-patient rooms. One wall in each room will contain full-width aluminum frame windows providing a cheerful view of the woody site of the hospital. The rooms will have vinyl-laminate tile floors, acoustical ceilings and masonry walls painted in attractive colors.

Doors in the patient rooms also will be wide enough to accommodate wheel chairs. At each end of the structure there will be solariums. In addition, the building will include utility rooms, working rooms and a central kitchen.

The watchman, James H. Dalton, described the man as a Negro, about five-foot-ten-inches tall, wearing a T-shirt and dark pants. He said the intruder broke a seven-by-seven foot window in the office and pushed it into the room early Saturday morning, but fled when the watchman called.

The watchman discovered the register in the store had been tampered with and a refrigerator door left open. He said the shattering of glass woke him.

John Fitzsimmons, 18, of 118 Linden Ave., Springfield, was held under $3,000 bail for the night of a "Union County grand jury Monday night on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to steal. He entered his plea before Magistrate Thomas Argyris.

Fitzsimmons' twin brother Joseph, of the same address, is now serving 48 days in the county jail following an appearance before Magistrate Argyris July 8. Four and a half years ago, Joseph was charged with a charge of breaking and entering. He was fined $55 and sentenced to 30 days. He failed to pay the fine, and 28 days were therefore added to the sentence. The case is being appealed.

John Fitzsimmons, who had been wanted by police here for one month prior to his arrest, was apprehended by Crawford police June 24, after Springfield police spotted off-Crawford detectives that he might be going to that municipality to visit a girl friend.

Crawford detectives waited in Centennial Ave. for approximately 90 minutes that night before the youth appeared on foot. He tried to run when he spotted the detectives, but was captured, pulled aside and taken to the Springfield Police Station. Springfield was notified by Patrolman George Hessel, who arrested John Fitzsimmons while on Route 23 June 20.

The youth originally was confined along with a 16-year-old Springfield boy, but was released June 24, after Springfield police notified Centennial Ave. that they were picked up. They were wanted for questioning in connection with a break-in at the Echo Club March 14.

The 16-year-old boy turned himself in the next day, but Fitzsimmons is wanted in Montclair for suspicion from police that he had been involved in a break-in at Springfield. Detainers also have been filed by police of Westfield and Scotch Plains in connection with breaking and entering jobs in which they suspect he is involved.

War will disappear, like the dinosaur, when changes in world conditions have destroyed its survival value.

WARM WEATHER COOKIES
Children expected? Oatmeal cookies are in order. And a party setting of some kind. Glass cups, holding red fruit flavored gelatin, set on a slant are the party surprise. Stack a circle of oatmeal, mixed with these heavy oatmeal cookies. Use the stick to store the cookies as well as to serve them, because the recipe bakes up soft and tender, and the flavor seems to improve in the humid air of July. Breakfast cereals are excellent for ingredient use in recipes and make nutritional contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy.

Lemon Peppermint Oatmeal Cookies

1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup hot shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 1/2 cups rolled oats

Combine flour, soda, and salt; sift into large bowl or electric mixer. Add shortening, sugars, egg, lemon rind and juice. Beat at medium speed with electric mixer or by hand until smooth, about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats and pecans. Mix well. Turn level tablespoonfuls onto well-greased baking sheet 2 inches apart. Bake a hole about 1 inch in diameter in center of each cookie, using the back of a small spoon or the handle end of a washed wooden spoon. Shape into ring with fingers. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) until done and lightly browned, 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from baking sheet at once and cool on wire rack. Yield: About 35 dozen cookies.

Commentary on a recent "Country Newspaper Study Mission to Africa"

by TRUDINA HOWARD

Nineteenth Of A Series ZANZIBAR: ALL SPIES AND EVERYTHING A-OK!

Zanzibar is the land of spice. It is a warm, genial, lazy, contented island where everybody laughs. It is Africa's sunlit, tropical island of paradise.

It is everybody's idea of Arabian Nights, exotic mystery, romance and adventure and it happens about 75 percent of the world's share. If the wind is right, you can even tell by the smell that it does.

It doesn't alter at one bit. It stays all that. The easiest way to get to Zanzibar is to fly from Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika. And that is exactly what our "Newspaper Study Mission" party did.

ANYWAY, ZANZIBAR was a joy. It is sort of unbelievable to really be there. The Sultan, the Sultan's son, expects him to be real. No one is expected to visit to Zanzibar in a week.

It is a flat coral island but it is only about half the size of Rhode Island and look how little it is. It is all mineral wealth at all times. It has soft health and so it has those heaps of clove and also coconut. Did you ever wonder what a heap of cloves looked like when it was growing? Well, it's the unopened flower of an evergreen tree, which grows to the height of 30 to 40 feet. It is picked green or red and spread out on square sheets on the ground in the sun until it turns dark brown. A sun-burned baby flower, by the way, it grows on the tree in clusters of hundreds. The trees are planted in rows on plantations; and most of the large ones are owned by Arabs.

Out of the approximately 151,000 people on Zanzibar, only about 250 are Europeans. Some are Arabs and East Indians but most of them are of mixed negro stock. Almost all of them are Shiite Moslems. There are many of these Moslems from all through East Africa, and when we arrived in Dar es Salaam, the holy month of Ramadhan was starting. This is similar to our Lenten season, but for the Moslems it means no smoking, eating or drinking (even water) during the daylight hours, or watching someone who does, so it contained activities a bit.

BECAUSE OF THIS holy season, we received the following notice from the American Embassy: "You will find the Protectorate of Zanzibar warm, hospitable, leisurely and very strict in its observance of Mohammedan customs. The latter aspect may be particularly interesting on this visit, as Sunday probably will be the first day of the Holy Month of Ramadhan, a period of fasting contemplation and prayer. You know the Moslem calendar is a lunar one and the ighting of the new moon on Saturday evening will mark the opening of Ramadhan. If it is not sighted, the month of fasting will not start until Sunday at sunset.

During the Holy month of Ramadhan, Mohammedans do not eat, drink or smoke during daylight hours. This strictly prohibits the usual hospitality, and it is customary to reduce formal or informal business as far as possible. The plans for your all-too-brief visit to Zanzibar therefore may involve some stretching of your budget. If you can help your hosts through a forest situation, you will certainly be appreciated.

WHEN OUR HOT ROD pilot set us down, it was in the capital city and the port city of the island, also called Zanzibar. We were met by a smiling people who took us in their hands and entertained us all day. The ladies were met by what I'm sure was the Women's Club of Zanzibar to be driven by two in private cars wherever they wanted, and the men were whisked to a meeting with the shikhs to talk politics.

The charming lady who was my hostess, was the first wife of a doctor who had three other wives. They were Moslem and the "sons" were school teachers, three children all had gone to European or American schools, and one daughter who was about 18. The other women from our study mission group who was with me in the car, happened to be Mrs. Shirley Howard of Newark, N.Y. When our hostess asked us our names and Shirley said, "Howard," and I said, "Howard," our Zanzibar lady burst into peals of delighted laughter and said, "Oh, I didn't know they had two wives in the U.S.!"

WE TRIED to explain, but I'm sure she never believed us or had fun pretending she didn't. She took us to her home which was like a small bungalow. It had American type furniture and pictures in picture frames of 7 and 8 children. There was a mother figure. In was sitting on a stone wall outside the house and gave us into a survey. With a twinkle in his eyes, he made some comment which she laughingly refused to translate but she said he was in a good mood for he was about to get married. In the fourth wife, a 10-year-old girl.

THEN WE WENT shopping and saw the narrow, winding streets and the old, old stone-type buildings and the beautiful brass studded doors. The streets are so narrow, you have to move over to let a small size car go by. The houses have thick walls for it is very hot and the doors are usually double doors of a dark, rich wood studded all over with brass points which are about two inches long and about an inch and a half in diameter. We wondered why they were so, but the only theory we received was that it was to keep enemies from going through the doors. Only those who are clean were. When we were there, there was a huge estate where we were served and then they went to lunch at the Zanzibar Hotel. For a hot day it was a heavy meal, but this is the way it is done apparently. There were cocktails in the patio, first and then a luncheon of fish, soup, meat, potatoes and dessert. Afterwards there was the choice of swimming in the five lagoons, more sight-seeing, a visit to the U.S. Project Mercury tracking station which is located 20 minutes out of the city in Zanzibar, or just do nothing—a popular activity in Zanzibar.

In the afternoon there was a most-entertaining party in the garden of the Public Affairs Officer of the U.S. Information Service and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lillico. Before we left we were given coat hangers stuffed with cloves, so despite the heat, we were a sweet smelling bunch when we climbed back on that plane with Tom Swift for the flash back to Dar es Salaam.

NOTE: Zanzibar, along with several small nearby islands, and the island of Pemba, form the British Protectorate known as Zanzibar. The head of government is the Sultan of Zanzibar, and the subject of independence is on the agenda of the UN currently.
