Wednesday Set For Morris Ave. Parking Conlab

Township Committee members will meet with all interested in a solution to the Morris ave. parking problem at a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Municipal Building, according to Mayor Arthur M. Fallick.

The mayor said that invitations were being issued to the Chamber of Commerce, Morris ave. merchants who say they have been hard hit by lack of proper parking, owners of the buildings that front on the north side of Morris and all those interested.

Saul Freeman, executive secretary of the Chamber, said that the Chamber had more than a passing interest in the parking problem and felt that an alternative solution to the Urban Renewal proposal put forth by them a year ago is a parking lot to the rear of the stores on the north side of Morris ave.

Parking for customers for the stores, Freeman said, is already hampered by restricted parking between 4th and 6th sts. on the north side of the thoroughfare. This can be changed, he said, pointing out that neither the Township Committee nor the Municipal Council consider this a solution to the parking problem.

Freeman said the Chamber would meet with the Municipal Council on Wednesday to discuss the possibility of changing the zoning of the lot.

At the Sept. 4 meeting of the committee, Mayor Fallick told two members' recommendations that the township had been seeking to establish an access road to the rear of the stores.

He said that some seven sets of plans had been sent to the highway department and all had been rejected. He also explained that construction of a parking lot on Morris would be the business of the township, but that the township could help in whatever way it could.

Freeman said that an access road would be a parallel to the highway and would be a business of the township.

At the Aug. 12 meeting, he explained, Township Committee member Philip Del Vecchio arranged the meeting with the interested group.

Freeman said this week that the only solution for the stores on the north side of the roadway was the creation of the lot. He said that many towns have the same parking problems and that while an Urban Renewal project is the only solution to the overall problem, he felt that this was not the time to undertake such a project.

Freeman said that once the highway situation is settled, perhaps the Chamber will approach the township with Urban Renewal plans.

New Teacher Tour Township

Springfield's new elementary school teachers were taken on a historical tour of the township Tuesday. The tour was arranged for the group of 16 by School Superintendent Benjamin F. Newswinger and conducted by Don Palmer, curator of the Springfield Historical Society.

Traveling by bus, the teachers were shown the Old Revolutionary War Cemetery on Mount Pleasant, the battle site of the Battle of Springfield, and the famous First Presbyterian Church.

Recreation Department Will Seek $15,000 For Improving Playground

Springfield's Recreation Department will ask the Board of Education for an estimated $15,000 for improvement of the Sandmeter School playground, according to Ed Ruby, recreation director.

Ruby says the improvements would include a basketball court, two tennis courts, a building in which to store equipment and provide shelter for children and a picnic area. He did not say when the proposal would be presented.

Public Hearing On Gaudineer Slated Sept. 24

Public hearing on the $850,000 referendum for the addition to the Gaudineer School has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Sept. 24, according to John Gaces, coordinator of the building project.

The meeting will take place in the cafeteria of the Gaudineer School, Gaces said, and participants will be in possession of brochures describing the project prior to the meeting.

Reschures are expected to be mailed either next Monday, or Tuesday, he said.

Plans for the addition have been sent to the State Board of Education, Gaces said, and are being reviewed for educational adequacy. Following the referendum scheduled for Oct. 10, he said, final plans will be submitted for state approval.

The addition to the school will provide 11 classrooms, an auditorium, a gymnasium, a cafeteria, a kitchen, a library, a music room and an industrial arts room. Also planned is enlargement of the cafeteria kitchen to allow more space at the serving counters, and enlargement of the auditorium.

Construction of classrooms and other costs, totaling $800,000 for construction, $7,000 for alterations, $10,000 for architectural fees and $23,000 for equipment.

The board has maintained that Gaudineer School is already running 100 pupils over capacity. Board President August Caprio said in the past that failure of the referendum to be passed will force schools into double sessions.

No 'Blacks, Whites' -- Just People At March On Capital

"It was the beginning of the future," in this way Irving Samuels of 25 Meeker st., Springfield, expressed his feelings about the March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom.

Samuels, who flew into Washington last Wednesday with the 11-year-old son, Ronald, said that the march was one of determination and, although the road ahead might not be exactly easy, "it will have to be walked on all of us can live as free Americans."

The overall impression gained by those interviewed was of friendship, cooperation and determination. Everyone spoke of the orderly fashion in which the peaceful gathering was carried out and of the fact that each man felt he was the next man's brother.

A MARCHER who did not want to be identified, told how she wanted to make an emergency telephone call and she didn't have the correct change. "When I asked if anyone could change a dollar," she said, "at least 10 hands were extended and I gave out change."

She explained that although she is a Springfield resident, she went with an all-city group. "I wanted to be alone in the experience. I didn't want to go with people who knew me and I was attached to that group with the same ideals."

She said that although she is a Springfield resident, she went with an all-city group. "I wanted to be alone in the experience. I didn't want to go with people who knew me and I was attached to that group with the same ideals."

Del Vecchio said that a new pool committee headed by Ed Schwartz had been appointed by the township committee to study the situation. The report of the committee will determine the expansion of the present facilities.

No Home Football To Be Scheduled For This Season

The Union County Park Commission and the Regional Board of Education appear on the verge of signing a contract which is expected to allow the Regional Board to rebuild Meisel Ave. field and, back, the football and physical education field for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

It is anticipated that the board will also agree to maintain the field "over the year" and that both bodies will budget money for improvement of the field house.

This was explained by Mayor Arthur M. Fallick following a meeting Thursday of the Springfield Township Committee, the Regional Board and Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Fallick pointed out that only a portion of the field will be used for high school home football games, and that no home games would be scheduled for the field this year.

The mayor said he felt that Thursday's talks were only the first step in negotiations with the Regional Board and the commission. He said, however, that he also expected future talks between the Township Committee and the commission.

Krestin said this week that he could make an announcement regarding the conference meeting because the commission's revised plan was drawing plans for a final agreement with the Regional Board.

He would not elaborate on the agreement, saying that the news would come after a meeting of the Park Commission on Sept. 17.

DEL VECCHIO REPORTS

Future Doesn't Hold 2nd Municipal Pool

It appears that there will be no need for construction of another municipal pool in Springfield, within the projected future, according to Township Committee member Philip Del Vecchio.

Del Vecchio, chairman of the public works committee, said the pool opened in late June with a total membership of 1,000.

Del Vecchio said that a new pool committee headed by Ed Schwartz had been appointed by the township committee to study the situation. The report of the committee will determine the expansion of the present facilities.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY EVENT OPENS SEPT. 17

Book Sale Planned At Cannonball House

Book collectors will find their pieces in the barn of the Cannonball House, 128 Morris Ave., this month, when the Springfield Historical Society holds its annual book sale.

The event will be held Tuesday, Sept. 17, through Saturday of that week, according to Donald B. Palmer, curator of the society. Hours will be 2 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Proceeds are used to maintain the Cannonball House as a public museum.

"This is an event to which book lovers of this area look forward each year," Palmer said, "as books in good readable condition on a wide variety of subjects are offered at a fraction of their actual value." He said that this year's sale will include a large stock of novels and anthologies as well as volumes on history, science, art, music, business, practice, religion, sets of encyclopedias or family records, and children's books.

There will also be a number of magazines and for collectors of National Geographic, the society has a stock of back issues, some dated as far back as 1917.

"The Historical Society's first book sale," Palmer said, "was held in June, 1939, under the able management of Miss Elizabeth C. DeWitt was an excellent one. It has been repeated each year. Early fall, however, has been found more suitable for the sale than the spring."

Station Attendant Robbed On Road 2 Bandits Sought

Springfield police are looking for two men who robbing a gas station attendant of $100 last week and drew rocks at him as he fled. Answering what he thought was a routine road call, John Del Corp, 28 of Blomfield St., Springfield, went to Edison pl. two blocks away from the station on Springfield ave. He had received a call that a car was stalled there.

The men tripped him, he told police, and took about $150 in service station receipts from his pockets. As he fled back to the station on foot, a rock thrown by one of the bandits struck him on the head, he said, but he was not injured.

Springfield Boy Hurt In Accident

Robert Wittich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wittich, received bruises in a two-car accident last Thursday at Baltusrol way and Bryant ave., police reported.

The boy was a passenger in a car driven by Kevin Sheehan, 17, of 64 Briar Hill circle, Springfield, which was in collision with a car driven by Ernestine B. Murray, 64, of East Orange, they said. He was treated by the family doctor.

Police said the accident occurred on wet roadway during a shower. The Murray car, traveling south on Baltusrol way, hit the Sheehan car, which was traveling west on Bryant ave., according to police. Both cars were towed from the scene.

78 Demolition Work To Start This Month

Demolition of 28 state-owned houses along the path of the proposed Rt. 78 is expected to begin before the end of the month, according to a spokesman for the State Highway Department.

Bids were received last week for the demolition work and a low bid of $23,850 was received from Interstate Wrecking Co., Springfield.

Other bidders on the project were: A. Tomac and Sons, Inc., Newark, $27,120; Wm. M. Young & Co., Newark, $37,999.97; James Petrosello Co., Inc., East Orange, $41,600; Ralph Barone & Sons, Kenilworth, $49,040; Industrial Wrecking Co., Inc., Hoboken, $50,700 and Carlson Construction Co., Chatham, $75,175.

All bids will be studied by the highway department and award of contracts are expected within two weeks, the spokesman said. The project will begin shortly thereafter, he said, because "demolition projects move along swiftly."

Some 28 houses are to be raised in Springfield and an additional 10 in Summit. The project will take place along the path of Rt. 78 and the Rt. 24 interchange with the highway.

Included in the work, the highway department reported, will be the demolition of above ground structures and the removal of foundations and basement floors.

For the safety and convenience of traffic passing through the area, the department pointed out, precautions will be taken to assure that streets and sidewalks are not blocked and that potential hazards are eliminated.

Completion of the project, which is expected to take 60 working days to complete, will be shared by the federal government and the state.

LEADER PROFILE

If you ask Township Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio why he is in politics, he will maintain that he is not a politician in the true sense of the word, and he will add "But you just can't leave politics to the pros."

Del Vecchio, a mild-mannered man with a sharp mind and a keen wit which enables him to lead off an interview with "I was born in Newark of poor but honest Italian parents," makes it apparent that he takes what he does, but not himself, too seriously.

As chairman of the Public Works Committee and Township Committee, Del Vecchio has played a major role in construction of the new municipal swimming pool, and currently is heading a committee to plan a five-year effort to improve sidewalks, curbs and roadways throughout the township.

He says he does not believe that another pool will be needed in Springfield because the average daily attendance at the facility proved to be 28 per cent of the membership. He says he feels that the pool is progressing so well that one of the alternatives could be to amortize the debt in less than the anticipated 20 years.

Asked what would happen if membership dropped beneath that needed for the pool to maintain itself, he said that the township would have to take over the responsibility. "But," he added, "this has not happened once in the 35-year history of municipal pool construction."

ASIDE FROM BEING born in Newark "of poor but honest Italian parents" (and this statement is not exactly correct as both his parents were born in the U. S.), Del Vecchio was project engineer for the Office of the Secretary and other buildings of the United Nations.

A civil engineer, graduate of Newark College of Engineering, who received his New York and New Jersey licenses as a professional after studying at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, he worked as liaison between the Turner Construction Co. by whom he was employed at that time, and a group of American and international architects.

He said that while it was quite a project with so many ideas being presented he wished it could have gone on forever. He was also engineer for the Bell Project at Murray Hill.

Del Vecchio is now secretary of A. Marbo & Son, New York City, a firm which was a sub-contractor on the U. N. project.

A classmate at N.C.E. of both Township Committeemen Vincent J. Bonadies and Robert D. Hargrave, Del Vecchio was graduated in 1941, enlisted in the Air Force, became an aviation cadet, and was promptly sent overseas with the Eighth Air Force. He remained in England for 30 months and became a major at age 23.

It was while in service that he met his wife Gertrude, then a WAC first lieutenant in the Signal Corps. Both were assigned to the staff of General James Doolittle.

"They were subsequently returned to the United States and Del Vecchio was scheduled for Okinawa and Gertrude for Washington. They were married in New York City.

"We spent our honeymoon on a slow train to Colorado Springs," Del Vecchio said, "and made a stop-over in Chicago. We couldn't understand why the town was absolutely dead. Hardly anyone was on the streets and the restaurants were closed. We later discovered we had hit Chicago on V-E Day."

Del Vecchio's unit was transferred to Wright Field, Ohio. The couple's first son, Philip Jr., was born at the Paterson Field Base Hospital at a cost of about $1, he recalled. He was the cheapest baby we ever had."

Today the Del Vecchio's proudly list six others: Valerie, 16; Donna, 15; Peter, 11; Paul, 10; Tony, 6; and Dave, 3.

THE COUPLE has lived in Springfield for 14 years, first on Henshaw ave. and the last seven years in their 17th Point dr. home.

Del Vecchio's interest in Springfield is "to bring order out of chaos to a town that grew like Topsy," he maintains. He has grown in my period of living here," he said, "from 5,000 to 18,000. We now need advance planning which we intend to have."

He said he feels that there is not much room for growth in the township because there is no land available for the town. He would like to see the township sell off its land to help pay off its debt.

PHILIP DEL VECCHIO

WASHINGTON, D. C. — One of the questions asked most often about the March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom was:

"How many votes will it change in Congress on Civil Rights legislation?" The immediate reaction of most is that it will not change a single legislator's mind. Those who were going to vote for the bill will vote for it. Those who oppose it will continue to oppose it.

Senator Williams Reports

As the years go by, we'll see its significance more clearly. We'll become more proud of our democracy. Our country is a demonstration of such dignity at a time of great impatience and tension.

was the same. They wanted to participate. The chairman of the Burlington group, William James, told my office that the participants had worked day and night for three weeks to make the final preparations. Labor unions sent delegations, and many church groups sent envoys and groups of their own.

Text Of Dr. Martin Luther King's 'Washington Address'

I am happy to join with you today in what will go down in history as the greatest demonstration for freedom in the history of our nation. Five score years ago a great American in whose symbolic shadow we stand today signed the Emancipation Proclamation. This momentous decree is a great beacon light of hope to millions of Negro slaves who had been seared in the flames of withering injustice.

'Thar She Blows' — A Call No Longer Heard Off Jersey Shores

Few cries carry so much dramatic impact as the simple "Thar she blows!" for that unmistakable call on men to pit themselves against the mighty whale, that portent of all sea-borne.

Active participation in politics means that the government will exist for the people — not the people for the government. The fact is that politics is the science of government. The fact is also that there is politics in every association of people.

Football's Lively History -- Game Banned In England For 300 Years

No game demands more teamwork, strength, courage and endurance or provides a more thrilling spectacle than football -- king of autumn sports in the United States.

It's a safe bet that few games have as lively a history. Football is an ancient sport. A game called harpastum was played by the Spartans as early as 500 B.C. In this game a ball was kicked, passed, or carried across the opponent's goal line, according to researchers for Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Strikingly similar to a modern game was the romuleus, used in Roman games. It was made of leather and inflated with air, but evidently was propelled by foot, not by hand and arm.

A game called calcio, a modified form of harpastum, continued medieval tournaments in Italy. The players, 27 on a team, used line and backfield formations similar to those of football today. Princes, soldiers, and the noble ladies and the people cheered for their favorite.

A brutal-like kind of football was played in England as early as the 10th century, and by the 12th, it had become a national problem. The game was making London a bedlam. In addition, it was diverting young men from their studies. Hence football was banned by municipal laws and royal edicts beginning in 1385 when Edward III decided to prohibit the game for military reasons.

Football was not fully reinstated until the 17th century when Charles II allowed many diversions formerly prohibited. A survey published in 1802 reported that goals were set three or four miles apart and two or three parties united to play football in games that sprawled over the countryside.

The sport began to take definite form at boys' schools. Some even drew up rules. These allowed the ball to be kicked, but not carried toward the goal.

One December afternoon in 1823, something strange happened at Rugby, a famous boys' school. The score was tied and the game was between two class teams. Duck was settling. Suddenly a player named Ellis "with a fine disregard for the rules of football as played in his time, took the ball in his arms and ran with it across the goal line. The referee was not allowed. The event made history, however, and began rugby football from which the American game is directly descended. A table at Rugby commemorates Ellis' exploit.

By 1863 the new game of Rugby had become very popular. Those who clung to the old idea that football should be played by kicking the ball in London and formed the Football Association. Thereafter this game was known as "Association football" or "soccer," a punning abbreviation of the word association.

Soccer still holds to the primitive style of game and uses a round ball. The ball, after being put in play, may not be carried or touched by the hands or arms, except by the goalkeeper. It is advanced chiefly by kicking and dribbling with the feet. A goal is scored when the ball is kicked underneath the crossbar of the goal-post.

Rugby, the parent of inter-collegiate football, is little played in the U. S. In the British Isles, however, it is so important that disputes over rules are taken before an international board composed of representatives from the Rugby Unions of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. Rugby resembles the American game in that the ball is oval and may be advanced by carrying, passing and kicking. It differs notably in having 15 men to a team and in taking a higher premium on field goals.

Football probably was brought in America by the English colonists who established Jamestown in 1607. Compton researchers point out: An inflated bladder usually served as the ball for these early games. Women played, too, because throwing and passing were more important than kicking.

Early in the 19th century, football games were played at Harvard and Yale. In 1826, a class supremacy between freshmen and sophomores, the "big game," was played more than any other game.

In 1880 authorities at Harvard and Yale ended these brawls and Harvard students held a mock funeral for "Football Fighting."

An important step toward making football a recognized sport was the organization of the Ontario Football Club in 1882. The founder of this "first organized football club in the U. S." was Gertrude Smith Miller.

The first Football Game Between Colleges

The first American inter-collegiate football game grew out of rivalry between Princeton and Rutgers. On Nov. 6, 1869, the contest took place at New Brunswick, and Rutgers won 6-0.

The game was played with 25 men on a side. A few days later Princeton won at its home field, 8-0. To 0, but rivalry between the two colleges became so bitter that school authorities forbade a third and deciding game.

In 1875 Harvard and the McGill University Football Club of Canada introduced the Rugby principle of running with the ball. The two teams played part of one contest under Harvard (soccer) rules and the remainder of the game under the Rugby rule of McGill. Rugby impressed Harvard players so favorably that they decided to abandon what was called the "somewhat sleepy type of game" then played.

By 1876 the right to run with the ball was generally recognized.

Here are other milestones from football's lively history as noted by Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

In 1879, the University of Michigan challenged Cornell and arrangements were made to play at Cleveland, 30 men on a side. The proposed game never took place because Andrew Dickson White, then president of Cornell, ruled: "I will not permit 30 men to travel 400 miles to compete a bag of wool."

In 1880, Walter Camp, the "father of American football" persuaded the rule makers to reduce the number of players on a team from 15 to 11 and to replace "scrum" with scrimmage, whereby the ball was

7 Lettermen Return To Bolster Booters

Seven returning lettermen, all starters on last year's Jonathan Dayton soccer team, bolster the hopes of soccer coach John Palfi.

When 30 candidates took the field Monday, last year's leader

ing scorer, Ron Urquhart, was missing, but the team still managed to battle the field. Palfi is sure that the team will have a better year this year than last, but at this point he still doubts the fundamentals of soccer. "We won't be running any plays for at least two weeks," the mentor continued.

One of the important things at this time is that we must gain use of the field in front of the school, both for our practice sessions and our home games. Palfi, who still is uncertain if he will be allowed to use the field which the team made use of the latter part of last year.

With 15 games facing the Dayton booters, the coach is presently attempting to arrange a few pre-season scrimmage contests.

Aside from the returning lettermen and prospects from last year's freshman and sophomore classes, Palfi believes the team will do better this year because of the appointment of an assistant coach. The first assistant soccer coach at Dayton High, Jerry Sachse, is also high on this year's team.

Returning lettermen include: Carl Roetger, and Lloyd Schaeffer, halfbacks; Bart Phillips, Ken Max, Tony Belmont and Dave Macmillan, forwards; and

Dayton Footballers Begin Sessions At Meisel Field

Academic classes at Jonathan Dayton High School begin today and for 71 prospective football players studies began Monday morning.

The 74 varsity prospects studied their summer drills on a leather sticky morning for several hours, another pack, iron guards, football pants and helmets. The morning was twenty and fitting.

The opening days consisted of stretching, running and blocking and tackling drills. The fundamental instruction was simulated with the use of dummies and machines. Actual body contact is not permitted during the first week of practice according to head coach Herb Palmer.

The point of the season during the first week, Palmer explained, is to build endurance and teach fundamental skills. "This is accomplished," he said, "through morning workouts and afternoon 'skill' sessions. At the end of the first day of practice, the coach said, seven plays have been introduced to the assemblage.

Veterans and rookies alike have until the first scrimmage, Wednesday, to get into shape.

After the first scrimmage, Palmer will know more about his players and their capabilities. "I did say that he has a few nice boys," he said.

The Bulldogs who will have to play without benefit of a home field this year, according to Palmer, have a welcome surprise in store. The team will be made up of players from last year's season.

All applicants must be nine years of age or older.

In addition to instruction, members receive and enjoy rides over the bridge trails of the reservation. They also put on an annual troops horse show, which will be held in October, this year.

SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS
The Junior Jaycees will face the undefeated Wesley Jeweler squad Sunday in the last round of the Springfield Adult League's post-season softball playoffs.

Wesley, the defending playoff champion, has won through the first rounds of the double-elimination tournament, unscathed. Holding a one-game bulge over the Jaycees, who were defeated in an earlier playoff contest by the Kitz squad, the Jewelers can wrap up the crown by taking Sunday's game.

The Jaycees, who are on a streak of four games winning 5-0-0, will Sunday in play in consolation for the semifinal. If the Jaycees do win Sunday's battle, there will be a return contest between the same two teams.

Wesley, which defeated the Katz, Meeker and Springfield Travel squads on their way to the finals, finished third in regular season play. The Jaycees were fifth in the final standings but scored an upset against the present winning franchise, to gain entrance to the playoff finals.

Leading the Wesley team throughout the season have been Scott Dominick, John Kasevich, Vin Altier and Rich Veduta. Dominick, who is slated to hurl the final game for the Jewelers has chalked up seven victories this season. "The Jaycees will be depending heavily on the bats of Frank and Tony Monticelli and Sandy Smith," Tony Sandone is the Jaycees' leading pitcher.

Symphony Group Offers Invitation For Membership

Union area musicians were invited this week to join the Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey.

The 75-piece community orchestra will rehearse every Wednesday starting soon at 8 p.m. in the new Orange Avenue Junior High School in Cranford.

The orchestra will be under the direction of Peter Szabo of Milford for the fourth consecutive season.

Musicians interested in playing this season should contact Mrs. William Beckhuyser, 202 Retford ave., Cranford, (Bridge 8-8032). Szabo said membership in the orchestra is open to all qualified musicians.

During the coming season, four major concerts, including young people's performances in December, are planned. Several concerts will be repeated in other North and Central New Jersey communities.

The orchestra had players from 40 communities in eight North and Central New Jersey counties during the 1962-63 season. Counties represented were Bergen, Essex, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset and Union.

Juliano Sentenced; Indeterminate Term

Michael Juliano, 19, of 112 Buckley pl., Union, was sentenced last Thursday to an indeterminate term in Bordentown Reformatory for the theft of $2,004 worth of television sets, radios, jewelry and cash from six homes in Springfield and Summit.

He pleaded guilty Aug. 8 to six charges of breaking and entering and larceny in March and April and appeared last Thursday before Union County Judge Joseph J. Hopkins in Elizabethtown.

The judge is sentencing the youth to a term of 35 days already served in the county jail.

The judge noted that the youth had his first brush with the law in 1957, that he has been before the courts on numerous occasions, and had had ample chance to rehabilitate himself, the judge said. He also noted that the offenses occurred while Juliano was on parole from a reformatory.

Leola P. Gilek, assistant prosecutor, represented the state at the sentencing and a arraignment.

Four of the burglaries occurred in Springfield and two in Summit.

Teachers Honored For Research Role

Four high school science teachers were honored at a luncheon last Friday at Newark College of Engineering as they celebrated their association—the NCE's top faculty—through a program offered jointly each year by the college and NCE Research Foundation. The stipends which make such participation feasible came from the National Science Foundation.

The aim of the NCE's high school teacher program is to provide actual research experience for qualified persons as a means of broadening their understanding of science and of providing the participants with the skills as teachers. Through the summer they have worked in teams of two on five research projects. The stipends which make such participation feasible came from the National Science Foundation.

Police Car Rammed 4 Times By Boy, 17

A 17-year-old Newark youth was arrested Sunday morning in what Union Magistrate Daniel G. Covine described as a "bizarre" set of circumstances in which he allegedly rammed a police car in the rear four times and attempted to flee on foot, while the truck he had been driving was still moving. The truck had been taken from a Springfield 10th.

Magistrate Covine, before whom the boy was arraigned Monday on four motor vehicle charges, told the boy he was at a loss to know what to do to him as the youth remained mute through most of a half-hour special court session. This was before the magistrate learned the youth had fled when he claimed he was 18 years old.

The matter was then referred to juvenile authorities.

Patrolman Anthony Spano said events began when the truck passed a red light at Morris and Struyvesant aves. in Union Center. The officer gave chase in a patrol car, overtook the truck at Burke pkwy. and drove in front of it. The driver then rammed the rear end of the police car four times, causing considerable damage, the officer said.

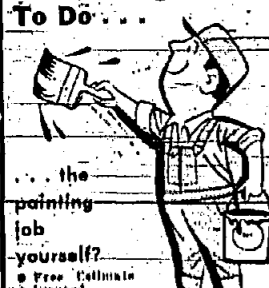

Then the boy abandoned the truck on Morris ave. in front of the Branch Post Office and fled on foot up a ramp onto Rt. 22, meanwhile, the truck rolled backwards down the embankment, car driven by George J. Guadagnolo of Staten Island and continuing another 40 yards onto a lunna at 1781 Morris ave.

The officer chased the lad on foot along Rt. 22, catching up to him near the Alibi Lounge on the highway. He said he had to wrestle with the youth to subdue him, and the youth struck his head on a curb while the officer was later taken to Elizabeth General Hospital, where two stitches were applied to the wound.

Police learned that the truck had been taken from the lot of the Springfield Co., 215 Rt. 22, Springfield. The youth was charged with reckless driving, driving without a license, resisting arrest and unlawful use of a motor vehicle.

Before the magistrate learned that the youth was a juvenile, he had filed him first for reckless driving, and had received a decision on the other two charges for a later court appearance.

CARE IS NEEDED IN SELECTION OF NEW MATTRESS

When your mattress reaches the "hill and valley" stage, it has outlived its normal expectancy. Even the best mattresses wear out. Miss Gena Thames, extension home furnishing specialist at Rutgers University, says.

When is a mattress worn out? You can check for these signs of age. Is it dished in with a flabby, packed-down look? Do the borders sag? Is it itching, broken? Are there lumps and depressions? And how do you feel when you get up in the morning? That's the final test.

"If your mattress doesn't give you the even, equal support that you need for relaxing, restful sleep," Miss Thames said, "then you replace that worn-out mattress, you'll want to buy one that's long enough and wide enough for your sleeping comfort. If you're more than 5 feet 10 inches tall, you'll need a mattress that's longer than standard size. And allow at least 30 inches in width for each adult sleeper."

Long-size twin or double bed mattresses allow extra length; king sizes provide extra length and extra width.

You'll find three basic types of mattresses, says Miss Thames. They are: innerspring, foam and solid upholstered.

Innerspring mattresses consist of strong coil steel springs with insulating material and padding on both sides of the coil unit. There are two types of coil spring construction. In one, they're sewn into separate pockets. In the other, the coils are linked together with steel spring wire.

Foam mattresses are formed from milk of rubber trees or a synthetic into foam of various thicknesses and core constructions. Usually they're sold in combination with a box spring.

Solid-upholstered mattresses are stuffed with cotton, horse-hair, raffia, tall hair, horse mane or hog hair.

Good mattresses have sturdy tickings and borders with reinforced ticking edges. You can't judge mattress comfort by sitting on it or punching it. The only way to test a mattress is to lie down on it. Stretch out and see if it's long enough, wide enough, and firm enough for you, Miss Thames concluded.

Says Hughes Meeting Is Key To Picketing

The resumption of picketing at the construction site of the Union County courthouse annex is dependent upon the outcome of yesterday's meeting between Gov. Hughes and leaders of the construction unions on the job, according to the Rev. Elmer Williams, one of the leaders of the demonstration.

Answer to today's puzzle will appear in next week's paper

Cover Or Reupholster? Depends On Furniture

Whether to slipcover or reupholster a chair or sofa is a question that must be answered individually. Miss Gena Thames, extension home furnishing specialist at Rutgers University, points out that the first criterion is whether the sofa or chair lends itself to slipcovering. Some furnishings with unusual shapes or ornate wood trim cannot be slipcovered satisfactorily because they present such difficulty in fitting and anchoring the cover in place. For these reupholstery is the answer.

For pieces that have simple designs, slipcovers may be the better choice. Slipcovers afford a simple change in appearance—in color or pattern—with a minimum of trouble.

Slipcovers can be kept clean and fresh easily. But they aren't cheap. Labor costs are high, and if you can't tailor, don't attempt to make your own. Slipcovers must be expertly tailored and must fit—a "poor" fit is attractive.

If you prefer slipcovers to reupholstery, it's wise to consider buying furniture in the "ready-to-cover" or "ready-to-reupholster" line, with several changes of slipcovers.

Cost-wise, Miss Thames states that it's more economical to buy a high quality upholstered sofa in the beginning, rather than starting with a cheaper quality upholstery and adding a slipcover later.

Quality upholstery fabrics—they can take abuse and survive cleaning, which, although not the frequent obligation of slipcovers—can last up to three times longer than the life of a slipcover. This involves two or three purchases of upholstery fabric and labor costs each time.

Since labor costs are high, it pays to choose an upholstery fabric that will last over a long period of years.

Satisfactory professional cleaning services are now available in your home so the upholstered piece is out of service a minimum of time.

'New Design' In Girl Scouting
-- 4 New Age Levels Designated

One of the biggest events in the history of the Girl Scout organization will start Monday for the more than 15,000 Girl Scouts of Washington Rock (Girl Scout Council). The reason is the "new design" in the Girl Scout program.

The week will mark the first meetings of Girl Scout troops in four new age levels. New Girl Scout Handbooks, developed in response to the new-age levels, will be distributed during the first week of the new design.

Chas. Louise of Westfield, Levy Brothers in Elizabeth, Minerva in Linden and Teppers in Plainfield, official Girl Scout equipment agencies for the council, will make the handbooks available for purchase in Girl Scout shops.

While the age range for girl members remains seven through 17, Girl Scout troops are beginning to operate in four age-levels with handbooks for each.

Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts, and-8 years old (grades 2, 3), Junior Girl Scouts are 9, 10 and 11 (grades 4, 5, 6); Cadette Girl Scouts are 12, 13 and 14 (grades 7, 8, 9); Senior Girl Scouts are 15, 16 and 17 (grades 10, 11, 12). Each girl will wear the distinctive uniform of her own age level and will use the new handbook especially designed for her group.

All handbooks purchased during the first week of sale will contain special book plates indicating that they were acquired during the first week of the new design.

Mrs. John Foster, Council president, explained that the four books represent successive stages in one continuous program for girls aged 7 through 17. Each was produced by a team of specialists, including a Girl Scout program adviser, a writer, a designer and an illustrator — experts in the age level for which their books were intended.

The teams, incorporated into the books ideas which came from Girl Scouts across the country.

Suburban School Starts 15th Term

A new term—the 15th—will begin at the Suburban School, 18 S. Orange Ave., in S. Orange Center, with many viable alternatives.

The Day School is a highly specialized grammar and prep school, offering a unique combination of individual instruction with class teaching. This helps the student who has educational difficulties. The program is designed to give the student a slow start and a delayed maturity and the consequent lack of interest and application.

Each student is guided individually, and there is no rigid standard rate of progress, so that the slower student has the opportunity to regain some lost ground and his self-confidence.

Specific aids are: small classes limited to ten, supervision of study methods, and homework procedures, remedial reading and remedial instruction in any area requiring it.

Teachers are selected and trained specifically for this type of "directed teaching," where concentration, study methods, fundamentals, and cultural approaches are routine everyday goals.

All programs are fitted to the needs of the student, and therefore many times schedules and curriculums are determined only through a personal interview and analysis of the student's aptitudes, achievement and goals.

Provisions for transportation and lunches are made.

The director, Dr. A. J. Sciaky, will explain in all detail, the reasons for his success in the many years of experience, both in regard to the intellectual and cultural content of the courses and to the learning procedures.

Hensler-Westin Enrollment Opens

Enrollment is open for the Hensler-Westin Conservatory evening courses for adults to be held at 129 Chestnut St., Roselle Park, featuring music theory, applied keyboard, harmony and technique.

Students of all ages may pursue special diploma courses that will introduce new methods of teaching designed by the school's musical director, Dr. Karl O. Westin.

During classes, students have a choice of working on piano or organ, or both. They also undertake the art of transcribing a regular sheet of music copy into a full professional-sounding piece of music.

The latter part of the program was popular last year as was the question-and-answer session on the history of music and music problems that conclude each class.

Service Director Attends Workshop

Myron Caine of 825 Mountain Ave., Springfield, returned this week from a three-day regional workshop in New York conducted by Bellone Electronics Corp.

He is director of Bellone Hearing Service, 11 St. Vincent St., Elizabeth.

The workshop sessions included demonstrations in the latest audiologic procedures, consultation on the technical part of the program, Caine said. Attendance is inevitable because the release of hearing impairment are rapidly progressing to even greater proportions in increasing hearing loss and in selecting the exact instrument which can provide maximum assistance for the patient with a hearing handicap.

we listen to the silent complainers
Your children will rarely complain about shoes that are too tight. This is because they simply don't feel any physical pain—and are unaware that cramped feet can mean foot trouble later on. That's why we often refer to children's feet as "silent complainers," and also why we suggest periodic size checks for your children's feet. They make sure the "silent complainers" are happy all the time.
