PUC Report Asserts Water Need Could Be Satisfied In Springfield

Joint Meeting Set Next Week To View Facts

The Board of Public Utilities Commissioners in a report to the Township Committee, has given the governing body assurance that the Commonwealth Water Co. is capable of supplying the water needs of the township.

Mayor Arthur M. Farkin said that the Township Committee and representatives of the Commonwealth Water Co. will meet at an executive session next week, at which time, he said, the company is expected to go over facts and figures to show that they do have the facilities and equipment to meet the township's water needs.

Appeal to the PUC for investigation of the operation of the water company came after what the committee termed an "acute water shortage" this summer, and after appeals to both the company and the State Water Policy Commission failed in the committee's opinion, to explain the shortage adequately.

GET ASSURANCE

Mayor Farkin said he had not had time to go over the report from the PUC, but that it had submitted the report giving the committee assurance that the company could produce.

In August, following nearly a month of shortage during which "outside watering" of lawns and car washing was banned in the township, and lack of water was reported at times in some homes at Hallsford way, Mayor Farkin told a meeting of the committee that a "detailed report asking Commonwealth just what they are going to do about the shortage is in order."

WATER SHORTAGE

At the same time, the committee requested a report on the situation from the State Water Policy Commission. In a report submitted last month, George H. Shattell, chief engineer of the State Water Policy Commission, told the committee that "permanent shortages and entanglements" were going on at Commonwealth, and were expected to be completed this year. He said the township need never again face a water shortage as was experienced this summer.

Government Study Urged By Blackman

A study of the adequacy of Springfield government has been recommended by Alex Blackman, Democratic candidate for township committee.

Blackman said this week that the cost of government in the township is too high, and that it should be studied, despite the fact that there has been reduction of school costs in one of those years, and no sign of capital improvement.

He said that the problem to be considered is what can be done about it, and suggested that the starting point is a study of the adequacy of the form of government.

"If I don't get them," he said, "I will request that the township committee form of government meet the complex problem of planning and zoning."

Opens Campaign For Support Of School Addition

The League of Women Voters of Springfield opened its active campaign in support of the $850,000 school referendum for the addition to Florence Gaudineer School.

The League last week announced that it would endorse and work for passage of the referendum, and began distribution of "fact sheets" throughout the community.

Mrs. Stephen Beato, League president, said the pamphlets were being distributed by members, and although all citizens are urged to read them prior to the vote, the group hoped to provide information in all sections of the community.

In a letter to the Leader, Mrs. Beato said that these "fact sheets" are being distributed to the members of the League to improve the educational climate of the community.

Wreckers Begin Salvaging Work In Highway Path

Interstate Wrecking Co. of Springfield, awarded a contract by the State Highway Department for demolition of homes in the township in the path of I-76, has begun salvaging operations in preparation for removal of the structures.

Interstate was awarded the contract on the low bid of $24,000 for removal of 20 buildings in the path of I-76 and to other buildings in the I-76 area.

The contract was awarded to Interstate after the bid was opened by the State Highway Department. Interstate is expected to begin work on the demolition of the homes in the path of the highway.

The spokesman for the Highway Department pointed out that included in the work will be the demolition of above-ground structures and the removal of foundations and basement floors.

For the safety of motorists, the department pointed out, precautions will be taken to assure that streets and sidewalks are not blocked and that potential hazards are eliminated.

Cost of the project, which is expected to take 30 working days to complete, will be shared by the federal government and the state.

Bee Man Has Honey Of A Job Something Always Buzzing At Home

By MARIAN BROWN

"They're really very tame," said the Bee Man of the swarm of buzzing creatures which swarmed about him.

His name is August Semon, but he's called the Bee Man because people call upon him when they have a bee, just when they want to get rid of, and he comes and takes it away for a fee.

He stands smiling beside one of his own four hives, which he carries for the honey, and another he likes best, "mountain," he said, "when I say they're tame. Come and see the honey."

"They didn't look tame," they looked like bees.

"Come closer," he insisted. "You can't look inside the hive if you don't stand beside it. The bees won't hurt you if you don't take a crack at them. You won't take a crack at them, will you?"

"No," we replied bravely.

"There," he said, smiling with approval. "Yes, but it, and they didn't hurt you. You going to make them angry now?" He took a puff from his cigarette and blew smoke into the hive. "That makes them nervous."

HE OPENED THE lid of the hive, and the droves of bees flew out and joined the other bees, flying in swarms, drowsy or wild.

It was possible then to breathe through the holes and when he pointed out the words they came out with honey.

There are not all Semon raises in the back yard of his home at 28 Hallsford way. He has approximately 1000 pignons, honey and white clover. The 600 clover, which lives with his wife and children in Maplewood, used to raise the honey, and the white clover Semon sells to confectioners in China Town for use in candy making.

"The bees are four kinds of white clover, which he sells to the owner of a pet store in Kew York, who feeds them to his snakes. He doesn't keep a couple of how many he has, because a mouse has about 10 young to one litter, and the number keeps increasing. He has guinea pigs, too, which he sells to hospitals for experiments."

And curious birds, ducks. Sometimes he sells the chicken eggs, but usually he just gives them to his five children to serve for breakfast to his 16 grandchildren. There are only two ducks and there is no reason for their presence except that they are friendly and attractive. They were given to him by a friend who once kept the pair in a room in his house, and you know what a mess ducks can make of a house.

Besides Frank Semon's other children are Mrs. Molly Knox of Newark, Leonard of Berkeley Heights, Mrs. Kathleen Gerdes of Florida, and Thomas of Elizabeth. His wife is the former Kathleen Kerwin of Newark.

School Dismissed But Only Kids Were Off

School was out at Jonathan Dayton last Monday, but only the kids had the day off.

Over 250 teachers and administrators were on hand at the Dayton school to participate in the first in-service training session held by the Union County Regional High School District.

Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools, said that teachers and principals at Arthur L. Johnson High School in Berkeley Heights, and members of the Dayton staff were joined by County Superintendent of Schools William West and Superintendents Dr. Levin Hainigan of Mountlake and Thomas Shugart of Roselle, who brought members of their staffs.

A demonstration of audio-visual techniques and equipment by four representatives from Syracuse University opened the meeting. Dr. Davis explained that this was particularly useful for new teachers who may not have had audio-visual training. The group is one of six teams of demonstrators, he said, who operate on a regional basis covering the entire United States from a grant from the United States Office of Education.

The entire team was experienced by representatives from Syracuse and Van Ness College in California and was so successful that other universities were invited to participate in the demonstrations of movie projectors, tape recorders, overhead and opaque projectors and other audio-visual equipment.

The team was headed by Walter J. Mars, acting director of the program.

IN-SERVICE PROGRAM

22 CONGREGATIONS TAKE PART Jehovah's Witnesses Opening Bible Meeting Here Tomorrow

Twenty-two congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will unite to become one this week end as the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield is temporarily converted into a Kingdom Hall for a three-day Bible convalescence.

It's a back to school week end, according to Marshal DeCristofano, presiding minister of the Springfield congregation. "We'll be going with Bibles, textbooks, pens and pencils and returning with practical ideas and us in carrying on our doorstep ministry."

The assembly, with its theme "Feed My Little Sheep," will also feature a series of Bible studies, lectures, plays, and demonstrations.

Mr. DeCristofano said more than 1,800 area residents are expected to attend the gathering. The Witnesses feel that it is their obligation to follow Christ's example of going to their neighbors rather than the reverse, and they find this an easy task, but apparently a rewarding experience, according to Mr. DeCristofano. "You just go to your neighbor and help him unless you are trained for this service," he said. "Getting people to realize that our message is pure and not selfish is hard. People are so on guard today, having been taken in so many ways, that trust in fellow man is becoming a forgotten thing."

"This assembly will not only increase our familiarity of the Bible and its teachings, but show us how to speak clearly, coherently and how to teach by using short sermons."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

A 'Yes' Vote On School Referendum

Next Thursday the voters of Springfield will have an opportunity to vote for better education on the junior high school level in the township. For in approving the referendum asking for $850,000 for an addition to the Gaudineer School, this and this alone will be the issue.

A vote in favor of the appropriation means the end of overcrowded classrooms, the beginning of realistic consideration for the handicapped.

A vote opposed will mean the continuation of a situation which is not in the best interests of education, and approval of double sessions which will result in the pupil load of the school increasing to a projected 800 by 1967 — just two years after the proposed addition is scheduled to be ready for use.

The Board of Education, in making its decision to ask for the $850,000, consulted experts; listened to the opposition and evaluated plans submitted by at least one honest critic of costs. From plans presented for consideration, ranging from $1,000,000 to $850,000, it made its decision on the lowest figure without compromising its belief that all the improvements to the school are essential.

Inclusion of an elevator calculated at $20,000 and a ramp at an estimated $30,000 figure has been termed a necessity by the Board. We agree. The idea was

BOARD OFFICIAL THANKS CITIZENS

John Gates, vice president of the Springfield Board of Education and Coordinator of its expansion program, expressed this week the board's "sincere appreciation to all public spirited citizens who attended the Florence Gaudineer referendum meeting."

In a prepared statement he said, "It was extremely gratifying to all members of the school board to know that a large number of those present were in full accord with the expansion proposal."

Our thanks is also extended to those organizations in Springfield which have publicly endorsed the referendum.

Driver, 35, Suffers Possible Neck Injury

A Springfield man suffered a possible neck injury last Friday in a two-vehicle collision on a road at Rt. 22, Springfield, police reported.

He was identified as Murry H. Teitelba, 35, of 37 Cypress street in the rear by a Nucleo Cab Co. vehicle driven by William B. Brady of Westfield.

Elder Residents Now Requesting Tax Exemptions

About 100 Springfield residents aged 65 or over, are expected to apply for annual tax exemptions this month, according to Wilbert W. Lavin, tax assessor.

He said that this is the number of letters mailed out to Springfield's senior citizens last month. The exemptions are granted annually under state law since 1961.

Most applicants have reached the age of 65 and that since annual income does not exceed $5,000.

Lavin said that in Springfield, where property is assessed at 40 per cent of true value and the tax rate is 8.87, the $800 exemption comes to $4.96.

A state referendum will be held at the Nov. elections, he said, which would fix the amount at $80 for all senior citizens. This is because the percentage of true value at which property is assessed differs with the community, he said.

Another item on the referendum would fix the $500 property tax exemption for veterans at a $50 reduction on their tax bill.

Senior citizens who are not able to go to Lavin's office to fill out forms qualifying them for the exemption, he said, should telephone and a member of the department will visit their homes.

sell, designing them to suit his own special needs. One, a two-story structure, seems to be a cross between a barn and a coop. The other is just a coop, and when he opened the hatch to let the pigeons out, they swooped up into the air, forming a magnificent arch over the horizon.

Semon — not only crosses larvae with pigeon coops, he does the same thing with trees and also with canaries. There are two fruit-laden apple trees in his yard. One of them he grafted to produce both Baldwin and Winesap; the other, delicious and russet apples.

He used to cross-breed canaries and goldfinches. "That was when he lived in a three-story house in Newark and the entire third floor — five rooms — was given over to canaries. He also raised Scotch lancy canaries and sold them for $45 each. He earned enough this way to buy his present home in Springfield 39 years ago. "I'm the only original property owner left on this street," he says.

Charter Study

to high studies of the form of government.

"I am certain," he said, "that even if they thought the form of government adequate, they would find many areas capable of improvement and better efficiency."

The idea of charter change is not new to the township. In the late 1950's a charter study commission, was created and advocated a council-manager form of government. The recommendation was subsequently rejected.

Last November a petition to change the form to Mayor-Council, Plan D, which proposes election on a non-partisan basis, was circulated in the township by a group of five citizens, according to Mrs. Ruth Miller of 114 Jefferson, a member of the group.

According to Mrs. Miller approximately 1,600 signatures are needed, but she said, the effort has slowed to a walk. "We gained 1,200 signatures within a period of two months," she said, "then, personal considerations slowed the progress."

She said, however, that the effort was not halted and the group planned to continue to work for the necessary signatures.

YWCA Classes

Three of the newest YWCA classes that begin next week are Group Fitness for Beginners, Group Ballet, and Bridge. Registration should be made at the YWCA in later this month. The classes will be available to mothers attending classes.

Data Shows Many Residents Renewing Pool Memberships

Memberships in Springfield's Municipal Pool is not likely to drop below last year's figure according to incomplete returns of a questionnaire sent to township residents.

According to Pool Committee Chairman Ed Schwartz, of the 4,000 questionnaires mailed to both members and non-members, at least 1,500 had been returned. Of the number, he said, better than 900 families had indicated that they would renew memberships for the coming season. Last year 200, said Schwartz, would not renew, he said.

Schwartz said that the committee was awaiting final recommendations, kindling and planning for next year. Reiter, Township Committee Chairman Phil Reiter, pointed out that statistics had proved that only 30 per cent of the membership renewed the facility over the season's thirty months. The number of youngsters in the pool in the evening hours, he said, had increased.

The committee is scheduled to meet on Oct. 15, Schwartz said, to study the comments on the remainder of the questionnaires and to make recommendations based on the comments. The municipal pool, which opened in June to a membership of 4,000, closed in September. Originally planned for a maximum of 4,000, an amendment in the Township Ordinance allowed the additional membership.

Schwartz pointed out that only a few persons had complained of overcrowded conditions at the facility. He said that some adults complained that they could not swim because of said that the complaint would be taken into consideration in

LEADER PROFILE

(Continued from Page 4) R. J. Goerke of Elizabeth. She was a charter member of the Home-Fashion League, a national organization of women buyers, decorators and designers, which maintains local headquarters in New York. Drug Aide Outlines Industry Progress

The United States is currently in the midst of a "pharmaceutical revolution," a drug company spokesman told a meeting of the Millburn-Springfield Kiwanis Club last Wednesday. Hayden C. Brown, local representative for Schering Corporation, said that health care has advanced more in the past 20 years than in the preceding 20 centuries. Because of these medical advances, 3 1/2 million people are alive today who would have died if 1937 death rates had continued. Brown outlined the progress of medicine and pharmacy which achieved these advances. Research successes of the pharmaceutical industry against odds of 2,000 to one "are one big reason," he stated. The industry spent more than $215 million in its efforts to discover new drugs in 1960, and even more in 1961.

Hold Paper Drive

Collins Claims Many Voters Right To Elect

A preponderance of law-abiding homeowners are written by officials who are elected in off-year elections, and yet many home owners relinquish their right to choose these legislators by not voting.

This observation was offered by Loren "Big" Collins, Republican candidate for State Assembly, at a reception given in his honor at the home of Mrs. Adolph Greve, 1702 Spruce St., Union. Her friends and neighbors heard Collins speak on the importance of off-year elections.

PTA Council Sticks To Bond Opposition

The board of managers of the Union County Council of PTA's last Thursday reaffirmed its stand in opposition to the proposed $70,000,000 bond referendum.

The action was taken after a lengthy discussion, through which the group decided that the bond issue is "primarily a highway program, with some 64 percent planned for that use."

The resolution with which the board concurred favors a broad-based tax and asks for a "reasonable tax program on a pay-as-you-go basis, with reasonable consideration for educational and welfare needs of both the state and local governments."

It also expressed "genuine concern for the economic welfare of the children" who would be left with "the burden of paying for what we are buying today."

The statement characterized the bond issue as "a five-year delay," and said:

"This contains no guarantee, as is implied, against taxes levied against the same overburdened and worn-out sources now providing revenues."

In a schedule of approximate allocations, the statement showed: 50 per cent directly for state highways, with an additional 14 per cent for county roads and bridges, eight per cent for institutions and agencies, 17 per cent for colleges, 10 per cent for aid to local school.

Ten-Pin Program Starts Next Month For Dayton Boys

How do young fellows like Bob Shrove develop a bowling game? Shrove, who is now averaging 202 for Springfield Bowl in the Garden State Classic League, had a good taste of bowling when he attended Jonathan Dayton and Shrove is not the only one who has benefited from the annual bowling program at the high school.

From 50 to 60 boys turn out each year to participate in an instructional program. Five bowlers will be transferred to varsity status and will compete in the dual matches and tournaments scheduled for the varsity team.

Dayton began its bowling activity seven years ago, and Pete Stocca has been the coach and manager since the program began. Stocca, in this year, the chairman of the Union County Junior-Scholastic Athletic Conference's Bowling Division.

Stocca, who teaches Driver Education and American History at the Springfield school, is the manager of Echo Lanes during the summer months. And, according to the coach, "bowling is big in Union County."

Enthusiastic about the activity that he helped to build, Stocca last year inaugurated a tournament between the three Regional Schools plus Hillside and four schools from Jersey City. This match is "fun for the kids," Stocca says.

The varsity team at Dayton plays 12 dual matches and also competes in the Montclair State tournament. A junior varsity team schedules the same amount of games. Home matches for the Dayton team are played at Echo Lanes, and the boys must play their own fees. "But each year the boys turn out for what could be considered one of the most popular programs at the high school."

Stocca, who averages 171 in the Echo Lanes Thursday Nite Mixed League, has never had a losing season at the helm of the Dayton bowlers. He built a team in 1960 that was undefeated throughout regular season play. The year previous, the team's record was 10-2. Dayton has finished lower than third in the county only once in the seven years it has been competing.

The team, which will meet in the 4th quarter of the 1963-64 season, has three letter men and two promising boys from the junior varsity returning.

Richard Freedman will, a 176 average lead, and the veteran, followed by Wise, Nierson, 165; Joe Castrovina, 165 and Nick Zagar and Dave Hayes up from the jayvees.

Bulldog Booters Earn First Victory; Gird For Pingry

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team will face its toughest opponent next Wednesday when it matches with Pingry. Pingry's booters boast a 26-game winning streak and haven't been playing as well as they were in the last week.

Springfield Coach John Palfi was headlined by his team's initial victory Monday. The Bulldogs edged Pingry, Scotch Plains 2-1, at Scotch Plains.

Three Bulldogs looked particularly good in Palfi's Monday's victory: Carl Hoettger at half-back, Dave Dropkin at center half and goalie Keith Neigel. Neigel is a junior, Hoettger and Dropkin are in their senior years.

The team is equally divided between seniors and juniors, and, according to Palfi, will improve greatly as the season progresses. Dayton was scheduled to face Linden yesterday.

Concerning Friday's 5-0 defeat at the hands of Edison Tech, the coach said that he had expected a little more from the boys but that they were still learning and there were "a lot of bugs that have to be worked out."

There is a program, according to Palfi, in attempting to develop a group of "green" players into a winning team. "We play on the average of twice a week," the coach said. "This gives us only three days to correct some of the mistakes that are being made."

This becomes even more of a problem when you have a game on Friday and one the following Monday, as Dayton did this week. Palfi claims that the team was scheduled against the three toughest teams in the county in their first three outings. "Of course, they will all be tough, but these teams were really powerhouses," the coach continued.

Although the team had not been able to develop a scoring punch in its first three games, Palfi was sure that once they got "that first goal," it would give them a boost of confidence, and this would show in future play. "It is not the inability of the team to score, but a psychological factor that can work either for or against you," the manager continued.

Noting that "there's a potential scoring threat but not coming near a goal by the first three outings," Palfi said, "You can't be sure when you don't have the ball and we just haven't been able to get the ball to Palfi. This is one of the things we will have to work on." The positioning of players and the timing of being at the right place at the right time is something that has to be developed, said the coach.

Palfi thought a lot of the play of the Dayton brothers, Jim and Frank, who between them accounted for three of Dayton goals. That had made a tremendous impact for Dayton.

The Dayton coach said he wants to use as many youngsters as he can, and teach them the game. He is attempting to break these players in now. With the young team that he has and the depth of the squad, Palfi is still confident that by the end of the season he will have built himself a soccer team.

RICH RITTLE

Limp To Victory Over Livingston

The major change for the Springfield football picture this week is that Coach Herb Palmer will travel to Clark with a team that is healthy.

Both Drew Westmann, Dayton's lumbering fullback and Frank Monticello, Bulldog tailback, alternately absent from play in Saturday's session with Governor Livingston, have been given doctor's approval and will be in the lineup against A. L. Johnson this Saturday.

Operating with a "make shift" backfield alignment Dayton managed a 19-7 victory over the Governors in last week's play.

Westmann suffered muscle spasms a week before the opening and was able to see only limited action against the Governors. When Westmann did enter the game, Monticello was sidelined with a minor injury, allowing Dayton to use its first-string backfield only sparingly.

With the backfield back at full strength, Palmer is developing his time this week to sharpening up the defense.

He said that the scouting reports received on the Clark eleven show that they can throw the ball pretty well so naturally we will spend our time on pass defense.

The mentor said he was satisfied with the first game showing. He said there would be some changes in the defensive setup, but that he could not say who would be inserted into the lineup.

The tackle spot still presents a problem on defense—the coach said, but who can take up the slack remains to be seen.

Palmer praised the playing of Bob Reiss. "He played a whole of a game, both passing and receiving the attack. This was the first time that Reiss had called a game, and yet he needed very little assistance," the coach said.

Looking forward to the prospect of Monticello receiving more of an opportunity to run the ball, the coach said he thought that this year's team has shown the best backfield that he has seen in a long time.

"We saw some real good things Saturday," he said, "but haven't seen in a long time," said the coach, also admitting there were plenty of mistakes made. "We will have to work on this, a young club and completely inexperienced," but they can learn," he continued.

"Our play execution was off," attributed Livingston, but a month ago, the Bulldogs were off to a winning start in the Governor's first game. The Bulldogs' defense, however, allowed the Governor's first and last on the Springfield field.

The Governor's first pick-off away with short gains on the sideline. They worked the ball down to the Dayton line, when George Hubert completed a pass to Mark Kelly in the end zone for the Governor's only score. This attempt for the extra point was blocked by the Bulldogs.

Toward the end of the first half, Livingston began to sharpen its aerial attack and moved the ball from their own 20 yard line deep into Springfield territory. Hubert was mixing his plays, but when he attempted to leave for the score Bob Blythe intercepted and Dayton took possession on the two-yard line.

The score remained 13-6 until the Bulldogs' Livingston punt on the 50 yard line. Reiss then began to cut on Westmann, and the Bulldogs piled up gains on the line. Westmann was pinned for 14 yards. Then Yaras kicked the punt for 42 yards. The Bulldogs took the ball on the first play of the first session and picked up seven more. Blythe carried for six before Westmann broke through on a dive play. The conversion failed.

Dayton showed a balanced attack, gaining well on the ground and in the air. They did miss out on another score early in the first half when Reiss called a fourth down punt play from the Governor's 25. The quarterback found a large, rich Blythe, but the big end was about a foot past the end zone, and Livingston took over on downs.

Beginning the game at the fullback slot in the place of Drew Westmann, Yaras switched to his regular halfback position in the second half. Westmann, who did not start due to a minor injury, was used sparingly. However, the big senior piled up yards, and wound up the game as the second leading ground gainer.

"The game got off to a quick start when Berkeley, after taking the kickoff, converted on its first play from scrimmage. Ray Figueroa recovered the football for Dayton on the Livingston 15-yard line. An off-sides penalty against the Bulldogs set the ball back to the 20. Reiss then faded back and caught Frank Monticello in the flat, for a 15 yard gain. Monticello took the ball on the next play, and went over the goal line, the play only to be rerun because of penalties on both sides. Reiss then called a dive play and Yaras broke into the end zone for the score. Reiss converted the extra point.

Yanks Dominate 'Series' Record Books

Longest game, by time, dougout on for 3 hours 28 minutes for the 12 inning game between the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago Cubs in 1946. But a longer Yankee game in 1906 was only two minutes shorter — and it did not go over nine innings. Longest game by innings was the 14 inning marathon between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees in 1916.

Most shutout games in total Series competition: 4 by Christy Mathewson of the Cubs in 1905 and 1913. Whitey Ford of the Yankees holds records for most Series innings pitched (128 2/3), most Series strikeouts (82), and most Series victories (10), and most strikeouts by a pitcher in one game: the 15 by Sandy Kousser of the Dodgers yesterday. The only no-hitter in Series history was pitched by 1958 by Yankee Don Larsen (71 of his 93 pitches were in the strike zone) against the Dodgers.
